feeding graphic targeting that is a true statement and that report on the TTS a website by source is incorrect yeah there are some known discrepancies that are out there you know and some of that is cuz it is significantly past the event go and if someone hits you cold and you're not thinking about it and then they start taking notes on what you're saying you know I guess the reason it's so clear for me is I always thought it was funny and like all my friends knew about this and the story hasn't changed there's nothing to change is what it is I'm not trying to elaborate or make it more interesting or the fish didn't get bigger I just wanted you know to clear all that up it'd be amazed that even people misconception on board of what people thought you know years after what you're told or will be relied to newer people people will put stuff in their mind and they'll believe that over time now I don't think most of the mistakes the discrepancies are intentional at all I just think it's you know how the mine for members and it is what it is there was a New York magazine article it was very unfavorable and it was also facing some of its article off of that tts a document where source is talking where there are inaccuracies we already know about in that article the writer said it seems that to the Stars is trying to shroud favors account in a spooky fog of faux top secrecy this is a dicey strategy giving framers prominence in online UFO circles they're assuming in that article that you were the

and source that you were inexperienced now we know that's not true so the New York magazine article when it said given framers prominence in online UFO circles have you ever been involved with online UFO circles Dave I have not been involved in any you know it could be people talking about the other thing I want to throw is go to the starch is not trying to do anything like that they took some reports that they had gathered there are spin accuracies but they are accounts I was an aircraft mishap investigator so plane crash let strange do that and the first thing you learn it as soon as you get the eyewitness they give you their accounts now their account is not always throw accurate but it's their account what you need to do is you need to take all of them and then get the whole picture before you take one person's story because there's always an accuracies you know so someone would say I thought I heard a bang and then I looked up but what you really did it I know we didn't see it they heard a bang and then I seen you know they find crash where they saw it doing something and they thought it was out of control but it really was out of control the guy was just practicing spins but it was something else that caused the action he over G to pull out broke as far I'm just throwing these things out there there's a lot of things that happen you know the eye is not always 100% you know you could be deceived but you build the picture in your mind and after time the stories will start to change or you just forget some of the detail it's better than stolen just because it says source doesn't mean it's me because it's not I totally respect what Tom DeLonge and his group are doing he's put together an incredible group of people who as part of that Louis heard the stories news talk to everybody he knows what they it is what it is because it's a personality put up so I'm just trying to shine a light on that a prominent publication like New York magazine can have all their facts wrong and then make statements about you such as that you have a prominence in online UFO circles when I know for a fact I'm talking with you you're not involved in any of this you never have been involved in any of this and I think it's important to show that against a magazine like New York magazine that people respect where they get stuff completely wrong and insert absolutely fabricated statements such as the one I just read you this is a perfect example why the military we try and stay away from the press

so you get the partial truce you get one side of the story instead of unbiased reporting even if you don't like what the report is report it you know the news used to be that way but it's not I told you at the beginning that if this goes big people are gonna try to distort it and now we're seeing it physicist Eric Davis who is physicist for OSAP and bass he came on coast-to-coast and Eric said there was testimony being given to government individuals to try to reinvigorate the funding for programs such as a tip AUSA ass are you hopeful for that process that we're gonna begin studying this again yes yeah actually him you know I guess if a flying saucer landed in the middle of the mall in DC and the news people saw it where it became a reality like you'd see a movie then it would instantly go away but because that hasn't happened and you know I I don't see it happening then it takes try physicist Eric Davis he worked for all sap and bass looking at all of this stuff he said there were actually hundreds of tic-tac incidents East Coast West Coast but also other places in the world where he said there were tic-tac style events so my question to you is are you aware of other pilots who have engaged tic-tac style craft a AVS and almost aerospace vehicles or UFOs are you aware that this is not an isolated event that there are other tic-tac events that the united states government was aware of actually the tic-tac I mean you can see in one of the videos that was released and obviously not exact the gimbal you're talking about yes the gimbal video you know so I don't know I think what's unique about Munson in 2000 or our instant

Orlov isn't Italy physically when after I I went after the thing and it was reacting with me based on that but I know when I talked to you so he said that was the most unique thing you know they have other sightings they have other sensors that are tracking these things no one else has really chased or engaged with it like me that I know I mean I have a very limited scope in the big picture unlike some I don't consider myself to be an expert although I do have first-hand account of something that I could not explain after thousands and thousands of hours of flying fighters you did tell me somebody that you spoke with it was a helicopter pilot and there was an event that happened in the night they were picking up pqs because I was a flying drone used for training can you tell me that story I think that's important because it relates to this phenomenon he was picking up um torpedoes when a test from the be here meter asteroid at the flying drone they're painted bright orange ship radar track they can do all kinds of training when they're done a parachute deploys and lands in the water they float and then he gotta go pick him up same thing with the torpedo it's a kilometer around they'll shoot it I thought that it blows ballast that it floats has a locator and you go fight he had went out he was a Puerto Rico he saw this object coming up when they were picking one up came up from blood oh it was big so they were doing it again they were going to pick someone they're getting ready to put the diver in the water he was on lift going down and then right after that the thing was coming up again so they pulled the diver up but procureur the pqm is sitting there and it just could shut down and the object goes not a disappears so there was a USO unidentified submerged object that was bigger than a submarine when they were trying to retrieve this thing hold it under the water and took it it just it sucked out you know things just don't think rapidly either just get and they're not you know these things blow ballots so they don't just don't a flow so something something hold it down okay so to be clear we're talking about a buddy of yours who is a helicopter pilot who relate a story about how a USO to book this object down under the water that's made to float not to be retrieved again is that correct that's correct it happened to him twice twice yeah the first time when he saw it they got their drone up and the second time was when he pulls a diver out of the water and the thing just got sucked down a disappeared different locations different drones different days same location different drones different days I mean that shows us that there's just a lot going on that's just not talked about you report stuff and people do anything and there comes out there's tons of stuff out there I would say there's a very low percentage of stuff that actually makes it do an official investigation or where anyone knows about it it's as you said to me the other day when you report something like this it could be a career killer so there's an aspect of it where you don't want to report it yes Anand I don't had any negative effects career-wise then again you never know because I retired so I mean I guess I didn't stick around long enough to have him say I was nuts but like all my friends you've known this for years they don't they don't look at me like I'm nuts they don't think they look at me like I'm not you are describing from a trained professional observers position exactly what happened and I think people are appreciative of that one more thing that people have been saying who are part of what was going on those days as far as I grade our operators they a number of them say that there were non-uniformed individuals who came on to the boat maybe it was the next day maybe it was the same day and tried to get the tapes and that the tapes were not given to them do you know anything about this that's total bullshit so let me ask you this do you really think guys are going to come on board the USS Nimitz and try and get those tapes that I had and I'm the squadron CEO so what are the senior people on that boat and they're only going to go to petty officer Jones and ask him for those tapes people are actually gonna bite off on that you know I'll raise the flag owing that's probably not happening first of any ones coming up in the ship the captain's going to be informed and I know both the captains that were on there when I was on board so I'm counting that happen and I was really good friends well not without Admiral but the next Admiral who was on there so I would argue the fact I don't think anyone came up and no one ever came to me and asked for those tapes there was a joke that there was people coming out and when I figured out that they were doing this thought it was cute I went and got my tapes back and had a nice one-way conversation with them but you know this is this is exactly how rumors started this is the whole thing when Helene wrote the New York Times article that covered my piece I told her do not mess up the facts because I'm tired of reading stuff that's messed up as a matter of fact I told Chris sent you two stars when when I first saw the press release and I watched it you sent me the list and the dad was wrong and when I talked to them I said look if we're going to do this we're going to do it right but there are some significant issues with what you said that is not true if we're going to tell a story I want the story to come out the exact same way it's been told for the last fourteen years because here's what problem if you get conflicting facts and people go well maybe there's some there's some untruths and they're trying to pull our leg they're making stuff up no we're not making stuff up this is the story and if we sit down and tell it everyone will agree that yep that's pretty much what happens you know but because someone made a mistake it's not necessarily that it's just a mistake thank you for clarifying that because a lot of people are running with that story but it sounds like it was a story that was created as a joke on the ship so all of a sudden there's suited dudes coming in trying to get the footage and being denied so you actually took your tapes back had a one-way conversation with somebody who was starting that rumor well they thought they would play a little joke by that time this is about day two I was about done with the jokes so what was the joke well it was the joke of though someone's coming out this is being investigated so I went and got my tapes down in the intelligence center we actually I told the kid here's our defense for me in about two minutes or I'm gonna have my way in here and I'm gonna find them myself which means pulling drawers out of shit growing it he got him for me really fast told him I said if your boss has an issue he can come in truck no one ever came and talked to me it was never a big deal took him back to my ready room put him in the same they just thought it was funny I didn't have a sense of humor for it at that point I think you put that rumor to bed the idea that there were people that were coming on the ship from an intelligence agency trying to confiscate the tapes however it's kind of sad there wasn't an investigation at that time it took until 2009 for there to be an intelligence investigation the other information I got Rear Admiral DC Curtis at the time he really shelved the whole story that he could have passed it up command and he wanted to go on deployment and he didn't handle it the way other people would handle it or well I will say that it could have been handled better you know I'm not gonna speak for her animal Curtis I don't really understand how he stymied the investigation like people have said to me I don't understand that and I mean he just didn't fucking do anything it I mean I'll tell you so I salute night-vision goggles okay you know you're a pilot you got to grow up but you don't have to grow up sometimes we can be a little bit childish because you're 34 years old and you're flying supercool jet so even if you're 25 when I started applying the real test it's just fun and it's cool and it's a great job so we would pull around I had an I had a mvg no qualms so we would fly around at 200 feet at night with no license because we'd be in the morning here's where we're allowed to do that so we can technically fly around with the lights on so we would and we see you can see campfires you know because people are below us camping you can see campfires from way away because the goggles will pick up that light from way way tomorrow so we even get going really fast and then we pull the power back to idle so we go zing over the top of these campfires and then you just like afterburners and pull up and you leave them on for a minute and then turn them off so think about you're sitting on the ground got a nice campfire it's a pretty starry night and you don't hear anything then all of a sudden there's a lot of war there's fire above your eyes you're like oh my god and then the fire goes out and there's nothing there what is that that's some Top Gun shit Dave that's hilarious so when you do that you know we always think either crazy well maybe they're not crazy and can you explain it now if there was a real investigation you would come and say well the Jets were flying in this area they were doing low training they don't we don't do low training right now at least they weren't I don't know if they're doing it now or not because there's a huge safety factor to it flying into the ground is normally not good for your health but if you've investigated and it was all we were doing everything right which we were they could track and say well that was an airplane in that area doing low trainer he was just messing with you what if people never report it then they're gonna think for the rest of their life they saw something you can't explain and if you're not an aviation person you don't think the Jets are flying around because you're normally not quiet but if you pull up jet idling you've got a bunch of speed on it it'll go for quite a while before it really goes to slow you just turn the burners on and do whatever you want and then turn them off and you still got a bunch of not you're good until you're out of the area and then you just bring the motors back up and slightly so your point is that when you're a trained observer like you are you had a job at one time which made you investigate things like crashes so when you're a trained observer you'd get to the bottom of it but if you're not a trained observer then you're not going to see all the moving parts of an observation so your point is apples to apples we can't compare all observers as the same however your observation of the event has been consistent verified and matches up with all details yeah not all observers are the same and if you're really going to do the investigation which is kind of what Lou is doing and it's what Blue Book did back in the 60s and 70s should go figure out is there an explanation because that's our natural human we need especially from a science standpoint there's always an explanation it's the ones that you can't explain those are the ones that you gotta go okay and those are the cases that are documented and investigate everybody so I was the CEO of a fighter squadron and I chased this thing one of the many that we have been tracking on and off for days and there was never an investigation so I would ask what else is out there you know where that's at issue weaponize your curiosity and go to extraordinary beliefs calm to learn more

my name is Jeremy Korbelt I seek to weaponize your curiosity and if you're ready to suspend your own prejudice welcome to the world of extraordinary beliefs material that has been pulled out of a man's leg that should not exist this sample could not have been made on earth because the isotopic ratios I know there are alien craft here from another planet I was inside one who are we and where are we actually sitting within the architecture of our universe are we alone or is the answer simply stranger than we can think and think all of our I could not we know that it's around us and as we're looking at the Whitewater is when we see the white tic-tac and incredible capabilities as far as aviation goes there's no wings no rotors those that conservatives don't control surfaces of inertia doesn't slow down stops instantly and goes the other direction he was watching us as we were watching they actively tried to jam the radar active generators hostile action this thing disappeared to them in a second it's just gone you almost do this day we don't know that's the voice of commander david flavor a badass Top Gun fighter pilot and in 2004 the commanding officer of EFA 41 the black aces on November 14th of that year began a typical Sunday for commander flavor about a hundred miles southwest off the coast of San Diego it was 70 degrees and clear skies and an average wind speed of 3 miles per hour but this wasn't a typical day not at all the Nimitz Carrier Strike Group was preparing for deployment to the Arabian Sea with routine pre deployment workups starting on November 10th the USS Princeton had been detecting multiple AAA V's anomalous aerial vehicles UFOs operating in and around the vicinity of the Strike Group the vehicles of unknown origin and function were tracked on radar with returns descending from far above the radar scan volume some were higher than 80,000 feet the targets were dropped from above 80,000 feet to hover roughly 50 feet above the water in a matter of seconds an impossibly fast rate of descent and what I've been told at ICBM trajectories on the 14th commander freighter launched with his wso weapons and sensors officer into the clear blue sky their call sign was fast

Eagle oh one his wingman and wso launched after in fast Eagle oh - commander flavor was flying an f-18 F Super Hornet when he received vectors to an unknown contact a controller on the USS Princeton with the callsign poison asked what ordnance do you have on board

due to the fact commander flavor was not in an active combat area a hot zone he replied that he had no live ordnance this was real-world tasking he then proceeded to the location of the contact located it visually and went after it the anomalous aerial vehicle outmaneuvered anything imaginable by modern advanced human technology the craft of undetermined origin and unknown operators displayed flight characteristics far beyond current propulsion technology known to man or even understood within current physics this event has become one of the best documented UFO close encounter cases in history commander David flavor is now willing to talk and his testimony is what you're about to hear now I've been working on this case for a long time years before it became the tip of the spear about government confirmation or acknowledgement on UFOs before this case was publicly known I was hunting for the truth and establishing dialogue with the key witnesses involved most of which I have never spoken about publicly commander David flavor is included in that over that time we have developed a rapport and this interview is an important aspect of my efforts to find detailed clarity on this case extinguishing the noise and raising the signal commander flavor is the primary witness to this astonishing UFO event series over the years I've come to understand and appreciate his integrity professionalism humor and candor we should listen to what commander flavor has to say as his testimony has become part of the fabric of our time commander Faber is the real deal and that's just something you're gonna have to come to terms with what's your name and what was your title and occupation in 2004 David's paper I know is the commanding officer of Strike Fighter Squadron 41 deployed aboard USS Nimitz being the commanding officer of the Black Aces back in 2004 you clearly have a lot of flight experience and you're commanding that squadron I was the guy in charge of over 300 people at 12 airplanes at the time I had Dover uh 3600 flight hours up Congrats literally had every wall that you could have in a 50 and at that time you were flying f-18s super hornets right yep numerous ones in the fleet lot 26 advanced crew station jets were literally branded we've been talking for a while now the reason we're talking today the mass media and Global News have been abuzz about UFOs and you were the pilot in 2004 in that events series that had the closest physical and I on contact with the anomalous aerial vehicle that you've dubbed the Tic

is that correct

it was correct

there were a number of people that were able to see what was going on but you were the closest to the vehicle yeah there was four of us it's thought everyone else was just a radar blip which you can't tell if it's an airplane or why just oh it's there you're getting returned but for the eyes on looks that actually physically watched it for five minutes the report of us I was the closest well be in my back feeder when you got the communication asking what ordnance do you have onboard what were the exact words the controller used in asking that airplane cattle nine to the cafeteria a nine it's a blue tube Blue means nerd so it has no warhead it has no rocket motor it's basically just a mountain tube that's the same size as the real missile the seeker has real and everything behind it is thanks to blue tube came fire doesn't have a motor you can put it on an airplane and take it off with a wrench or a sledgehammer there's no rocket motor there's no nothing it's just it's literally a shape that has a real seeker head on it thought it is did you actually say over radio you could get it off with a sledge hammer

I did and the guy kind of laughed he says well do you and your wing do you guys hear the same controller oh yeah yeah we're the same radio we're at both we have two two radios two UHF radios that we talk on there's the number one radio we're talking to the controller and the number two radio we can talk to each other we also have we have an intercom system in the airplane that allows it's voice-activated so we can talk to our back features without needing any mic it was a male voice that was the controller from the Princeton you were speaking with yeah

I don't think we had a female that old Coker's not on the ship's but as far as goes the Operations Specialist to do the air intercept control there's that document on the TTS a website where there's the pilot record and they have somebody that they call source in that it represents the people that day that we're flying people think you are the one represented as the word source in that but breeding through it I recognize that you're a different person in that document but that person the pilot actually of the other plane with you on that day he said that it was a female controller coming through the radio do you think that's just a mistake that's mistake it was a guy the 13 page document is correct the guy had a call send him poison his name is it was not a female on the radio with you so this interesting you had training rounds on your plane no live weaponry we don't we don't train in the US military with live weapons anytime you have live weapons

we have things called fire breaks where we have to disable a bunch of stuff and we can only do certain things because sometimes people forget they have live weapons and if you put the switches in the wrong position with live weapons come off airplanes if you're pointing at your buddy and you accidentally launch one you know the weapon doesn't care it's it's it's one of those lessons learned in blood because we've done that before and bad things that happen let's jump into the actual experience so you go to this location you get told over the radio roads plot so they give us the vector immediately because we were committed which means we're going to this point we're going to this target that retracting so they start telling us bearing region altitude such as for example and we're going out to the west they call these down until we get to the point where we're not seeing any on radar they're obviously seeing something and when we get where our unit merges with their blip which means we're in the same radar resolution so that's called merged plot and once you get merged plot all of our head start looking up because now we know that it's around us and we need to figure out where at that because the radar can't help us anymore people have heard your story but let's just clarify one time you arrive to the merge plot can you describe what you encountered they start looking around the wingmen that airplane is off my left side or to the south and we're looking around we look down and the initial thing that we see is whitewater it's important to know because it's a clear day there's no Whitecaps it's just a perfect day and we see whitewater which means there's something under the surface like a female and as we're looking at the whitewater is when we see the white tic-tac and the back skater and the other airplane comes up and says hey skipper did you see I'm like dude what is that if we're watching the tic-tac who kind of north-south-east-west like bebop most random loser will the commercial doesn't slow down stops instantly and go the other direction which inner planes and helicopters don't do that because always a you're going fast

Drex you slow down before you can reverse you have to overcome that inertia procreating come back the other direction you know our estimate is about 50 feet above the water and it's moving around left/right up/down you know forward back so it's not going up and down and L just kind of go forward back left right you once said to me a long time ago that it moved like a ping pong ball you know like a helicopter if it's moving to the right it doesn't instantly just go to the left keeping an airplane basically slow down stop and go the other direction we're in control thing pong ball against the wall the force field transferred a bounce effect other racers we would like people you know move stop go left go right foot forward stop hang out no pattern to it you know like it would stick it was kind of jumping around on the white walk like you know what it was doing

Darry say that and at one point you said multiple times the vehicle pointed its its end towards you so everyone around so when we saw it we started writing a turn so not think of a clock we started at six o'clock the objects in the middle so we're to go to nine o'clock we're just watching this thing dude exact you know the ping-pong ball kind of people baby at nine o'clock I say hey I'm going to check this thing I'm going down I said the other airplane stays up high to provide cover and see Joe's get a kind of a God's idea what's going on we go around the circle when I get to the 12 o'clock position the object is actually important relative to the clock it's been pointed at the between 12:00 and 6:00 be long a didactic well that's it when I get to the 12 o'clock position if I start down it turns real fast it just kind of pivots so now it's parallel with me and now it's Mearing me so as I'm coming down from 12 to 3 it's coming up from 6 to 9

I don't know if it knew we were there the whole time or what once I got to 12 o'clock it started coming down it's almost like it acknowledged her presence and it's Hertz mirror like he was watching us your watch so without any live ordnance on board at any point did the consideration go through your mind that you might have to use your aircraft as a weapon so it wasn't it was an austell I wasn't trying to kill it I just wanted to get close to see what at what curiosity

you've mentioned twice and in interviews like both with the Boston Herald and Nightline you said the vehicle jammed the radar the jamming of the radar is from the video that's different that's a different flight we we never picked it up on radar and I could with the systems that we have I can see the radar were looking but we never acquire a lot we never get anything from radar but our entire five minutes plus the thing is visual we're watching the active jamming occurred on the flight where they picked up the video the FLIR video that's when he reported direct he picked up a return he went to attempted a lock it immediately jammed the radar he cast it over to a passive targeting pod the radar going to go stupid if you look at the targeting pod videos it'll say ranging on the top right side says nine nine nine which means it's not getting ranging normally it's like if that was an airplane the radar would be performing arranging to tell you how far away it is you have a range so what's the importance of that statement what's the importance of the idea of active jamming compared to passive jamming what does that mean for people to understand the morning activist game they actively try to jam the radar which you're actually not supposed to do that unless you know you're an award or we're in a training area against each other it provides perception there's a lot of things that happens but this price as good as anyone could get right now that's the most information anybody's going to get right now from you you're saying or yeah I'll have more than most people may accept speculators but okay but I just like to just define the point so what you're saying is that that is a kind of hostile action when you talk about active jamming yeah active generator and the tic-tock actively jigna the radar right so you have a great description of where you were going towards the object when it began mirroring you you were attempting to get a dogfight lock the AAV tight it's turn lift vector on then ass go ahead and clarify if you will it never went behind us it never really tightened its turn it kept pretty much the same radius to turn around the circle as we pulled across from the eight o'clock position towards the three o'clock where he was at to moving to three so you want to kind of go where he's going to he's moving she kind of fell he pointed something where it's at I tend to get there would be gone you know who she got to project yourself in space we projected ourselves to face said here he's going to be over here that's where we pulled to and he pulled nose on it was just slightly off our left side rapidly accelerated across her nose it just disappeared ish what was the closest distance you got physically to the vehicle well some people they would say and that file is oh my god that's far away and I go in the airplane speak to half miles freak was there's false information out there that you were something like 20,000 feet closest you ever got to that that is incorrect information oh yeah yeah when it accelerated me disappeared right in front of us I mean I was a half mile away it was right at the same a looking at it you had once told me that the vehicle had a appendages what did it look like I know no rotors what did it look like we saw it looks like in fact there's no wings no rotors those lifting services no control surfaces so she thinks 40 foot lunch when you look at the high-res video that good luck finding it but the original video that we had so literally right off the jet recorders and putting on our monitors so we're watched it on a like a 21 inch or 20 HTP you can see in the TV mode because they the WIZO the backseat or the other airplane is going between IR infrared mode to a neo it's electro-optical black-and-white when you go to the TV mode is presume did you can see there's two little things that stick out of the bottom of it and the IR mode there's no visible plume there's no heat or show it's just a uniform temperature if it was a 10-inch and there would be you'd see coming out one side you don't see any of that then you know what it rapidly accelerates off the side it shows where the end goes up less I don't see any of that any of the indicators of what's propelling it moves and so you had mentioned to me they were l-shaped appendages underneath the vehicle the tic-tac yeah like if you're looking at it so know about I don't know 20 percent point five percent down and kind of come out make like a little L to the right like a little down 90 degree slope I almost look like little feet sticking up could be antennas we're both of the L shapes going to to one side or the other or were there two symmetric oh yeah what's the right so we're looking at it you know it goes off to the left side a little bit down and up don't for that part I mean the way they're zoomed in there they're pretty close to the object hope that zoom wise was this technology impressive for you in that you usually see heat plumes and that sort of thing through IR to see no traditional propulsion was that technologically impressive to you well very much from when we thought about the water was not washed no rotor wash no nothing and then the ability to climb from the surface upwards about roughly 12,000 feet why we're coming down but then rapidly accelerate and she did an incident to a speed where it disappears even Mach 3 you're gonna see for a period of time till fry at least 10 15 seconds before his peers to go out of sight or come so small you can't see it but this thing disappeared in a second she's gone you said to me it was an impossibly fast speed just like snapping your fingers gone yeah it's very it accelerated across the nose and the next he knows was there an object under the water as far as you know don't know what was under the water but there was something that was causing the way it's great it could have been ten feet down we didn't see anything which out there you don't in the deep blue you know it's it's call you know it's dark earlier right not just see it their feet they even ten feet when we turned around after the thing disappeared to see what was with the service but their servants

if you look on church or something there's nothing in that area as reported that after the tick-tock took off the anomalous error vehicle reappeared at what they said was your tap point he just went back to see what was in the water it was enough to merit we're like alright let's just go back to the cat point cuz I'm a slightly so they kind of do what I say

I said hey we're gonna head to the cap and the kids like okay and then he's like you're not gonna believe I said what's that again and I'm like that's interesting what are the implications and significance of this to you that this vehicle ended up being where you were next going well like I will see if we can find it again but at this point you know you're like what was it it was impressive and incredible capabilities as far as aviation goes but I didn't mean I didn't have eggs they didn't have anxiety I wasn't I wasn't nervous I wasn't out there you know trying to arm to it even I had to weapon I was just more curious of what what he said a fascinating just like if you ever watched a little kid when they see something for the first time like a bird or Pete and they just watch it

wait what is that I've never seen em before it's kind of one of those it really comes down to what actually was it the only way we were going to know is to try and catch one which we weren't going to do an airplane but at least it close with this see you know what is it you know did it have windows did it have antennas did it have landing here what actually did it possess what was Joel was to this day we don't know yeah you were curious that was my job where they tell you to go do something you go do it for 17 years that's what I had done it and you've not been asked to sign any non-disclosure agreements no the 13 page executive summary of the events that journalist George Knapp recently released you said to me that this was the most accurate summary of the events can you comment on it it's pretty accurate depiction of what happened there are some errors in it but you're you know you're talking about something that was years after the fact as far as the ability to recall a flight I've been doing it for years I was an instructor twice yeah we do it all the time to train when we fight you have to record everything in your mind and then come back to recreate it I was the most experienced and that type of airplane thousands of hours behind me because I had been flying Hornets the back seat or any other airplane was probably number two and then the other two were relatively new even with that said I guess it's important to define that that executive summary is the most accurate account to date of those events for the research that went in and tracking down who would sue as far as the battle group and who was on the ships and all that stuff yeah have you recently spoken in any official capacity testifying about your experience to members of any intelligence or government agency and who have you briefed I won't say who I talk to you know I'll keep that to myself but I will say I have talked to people in the government about this since the December article appeared there is an interest there are people trying to figure out is this work you know refunding programs to do this not necessarily you know it could be from a defense posture but I think it's more of you know what are these things how common are they can we advance ourselves from the technologies let's stop looking at these things like they're freakish and let's try and learn from them and then possibly reverse engineer or develop technology to gives us that capability which is a huge leap for really mankind as a whole I mean if you think about it we advanced technology significantly to go to the moon and you know over years I don't think people realize all the benefits that we got from the Apollo missions and so you've recently given briefings on your experience to government individuals

I will say yes I have done that I just won't say who have truck Jake you're quoted as saying the tic-tac vehicle you had the impression it was not of this world what about its maneuverability and propulsion gave you that impression and do you still feel that way oh I do feel that I don't think the technology I don't think we've advanced enough to have the technology for something that can come down from above 80,000 feet hang out for three or four hours and go straight back up to come from a hover with no wash no visible flight control surfaces come onto our LT I would think that if there's a technology out there like that that it would be more proliferated and people would be using it because it's it's too much of an advanced relative to energy sources and everything else that we just you know we're happy to land a SpaceX rocket on the pad you know and we're not even successful debt you've got something that has the capability that's way beyond this so what do you hope will happen from you speaking publicly about your experience um I don't people take these serious I hope people stop no I mean we knew we're gonna get ridiculed it was kind of all in fun you know there was nothing bad about it but to get people to understand that there you know we can learn from these things instead of think of everyone that sees one is crazy gonna be difficult to discredit the four of us that saw it just based on our position on what we were doing the people that say things like you saw a bird you have a mistaken identity that was a conventional military drone it was just radar scatter what do you say to people or what would you say to people that have that opinion well everyone's gonna have their opinion but then again I argue with anyone to come and discredit you know what we saw me or what was going on and the fact that there's a lot of internet experts I call them you know and it is what it is and that's fine everyone has that I don't have time to answer about everyone but after 18 years of flying I would argue the fact that if all you got to do is type on a computer and trying to teach someone and I'm not going to sit argue with you I'm not going to take the time but I will tell you there there are some extremely brilliant brilliant people in the world that are extremely interested in this incident and other incidents to try and do something about it instead of trying to debunk poke holes and say it isn't this it isn't bad it's a spot on the array I mean everyone's an expert

you know because you've seen a ship or you've seen an airplane or you watch men and black does not make you UFO expert I mean I honestly saw one and I don't consider myself an expert and I think really if anyone's gonna be one I think it'd be the four of us that actually chased it do you still want to fly a tic-tac oh yeah yeah yeah I would yeah in a second maybe fun weaponize your curiosity and go to extraordinary beliefs calm to learn more tell us what's in the book and how it's doing yeah well the book is really my experiences as I lived them in the research and development of the army under general to dull target results and they drew me back in upon me and shard that and established a foreign technology division for me and these are the artifacts on a crashed flying saucer which we used the word applied engineering was dr. teller still alive knows he helped you and we fed these things he gave me the job of finding industry or scientists worked close to these items and feed us to to them in normal R&D projects and you're saying these items came from somewhere else they came from a flying saucer how do you know that because they were marked in the files that's coming from New Mexico Roswell yeah it's Roswell well I think something that might be another crash but these where it came from though Mexico and Roswell especially and the general Trudeau gave me the job of putting off working out a program what these things are feed them to industry but there is provisions Phoenix they could have the patents but they had to feed him out back to our house as a competitive edge in the army and to the American people in the world if necessary like the Japanese interviewed me and I call them we put the integrated search circuit out and we also gave it to you and I told the Japanese it's right at the interview at Roswell give me a little laundry list of the things that the technologies that they're at least impartial irresponsible from the Roswell well there's the number one was the integrated circuit number two an importance was laser because I had some laser instruments also then fiber optics came out of this the imaging devices or night viewing devices came from this

some of the work we did electromagnetism and the ICBMs and came from this imagine the the scientists and technicians and the companies that worked on this stuff are not real happy with with your version of it

oh I haven't heard anything in fact I've heard from scientists at least a dozen on since then and they're supporting like everything in the book they say it's true in fact I just got loaded before I left the McDonald's my field is no Sun and he told me that a lot of people come from IBM from the Hughes and from the the wright-patterson Air Force outfit I said I felt some of the holes in which I've been wondering about for many years and I just got this a day I left home a few did two days of yesterday so is there any question I mean that elements of our military our government and have known for a long time that that UFOs are real they're from somewhere

oh sure they do I know certain and 1947 well I did 1947 I'll back up I saw the body then I didn't see UFOs the UFOs came into the picture later years nine ten years later for me and also I worked out the emissions were what morning UFOs in fact George I've even told you I think that I was not interested in seeing UFOs ours all Minister what was in those UFOs you know I told I'm not interested seen something fine the air but I like to know what's inside that thing did you physically handle the artifacts from oh yeah I had them they were in my possession what things did you have what it would it you have I had the greatest circuits

I'd like sizable quarter

I had a bunch of wires colors were coming out I didn't I mean I don't say wires I didn't know what they were I didn't know if they were large any know what they actually well thirds I didn't know what they were they just said we're emitting light I had a piece of metal atoms were lined in it so tough papers did you convert it bend it or anything

I had super tenacity fibers that was they would add onto a lined and he couldn't burn it you can cut it and later on the nearest thing in this world that we found that was a spider web those are spiders spins anatomica lined up well you know people say military can't keep a secret there's no way a secret like this could be kept we kept a secret one way we had to keep the secret for two reasons one was a climate opinion within our own government that people are higher up in a government didn't like the military or the army and if you remember in those days they took NASA took space we did project horizon in 59 it's part that part of it's in the book there's 50 perhaps 300 10 pages long we're gonna put a military a man and what they're calling on the moon they took that away from us they took atomic from us went atomic integument but we still kept developing atomic sand we did the ion engine and some other things because maybe the world could use today like the portable atomic installation went to McMurdo Air Force Base may 10 2010 million in four years then when it came back they destroyed on us we did the first heart pump we did some atomic uh high that took nitrogen year and made a fuel you could run on a bill from it and the Tommy would they used pu-238 what we used and most of the probes that went to Mars and Saturn and so forth and Jupiter were hard oil engine was a nose the Soviets told that some other summer spy in fact I have satellites up there not in space gone right today but they're leaking though they didn't do a good job with him back the idea the cover-up and you've said before it wasn't really an active heifer no because I was telling them and relate to later interviews if you let the government alone little cover itself oh really the way we handle that one was a climate of opinion as I say the other was within our own government we had enemies I would have been glad to destroy all this on us and tell us is cool so what we did I got the job recording and developing a program which is this custom of what car was done and through this program we start feeding it out to industry but this was not no not a put on paper they went out as normal research and development proposals not to name something yeah you didn't put out a report that there are some aliens no we got out we put our regular research and development of poll that came from somebody's brain and also this was known among a select field mostly combat officers head the head it came

we kept us among ourselves because otherwise we were certain that they would have destroyed our organization and we had a good organization general to go pulled it together just a couple years before they were destroyed organization labeled us as cooks and taking our budget away so it had to be we didn't cover because we gave it to industry what the provisions and I'll repeat this the provisions were that can come back to us of what you prove competitive edge the army give it to the people and to the world if necessary and take and take the patents we we encourage you to take the patents and I have this and pad paper written by generals in 1963 but do you think it is now I mean you your organization that organization is gone all the people guess it's gone do you suppose there are still people who are active in this is all I can tell you yes so I had some things happening just a few weeks ago and I won't name where it happened

I had to Carl's come up to me in uniform and say it's true all this house and Lieutenant Colonel came up to me and says I worked at the one true what you seen a focus trophy

I had a captain connection in uniform it was on the military base said he'd been test probably - and what I said in there was true and ever

I have other scientists call me the first one endorsed me was our friend down in Austin he was very probably called me up he said I endorsed you thought oh no thanks and I've had other scientists call me lately and just a few days ago two days ago I got this letter from McDonald's and he's gonna get his father to talk to me because he was a big NASA consultant and the NASA also now has project horizon all 310 pages and they were amazed and help put it out gave a talk and they were me at such a document and also I went to say that win about a year and a half ago and he was in the rest of didn't hit the car the car we made it ran with water that flowed hydropneumatic came from the saucer and also he wanted project horizon which I gave him a coffee and Senator Glenn by the way he's in the news lately I asked him a ton of our fire saucers and he said well Colonel I'm an agnostic and I told her yes but said to you to say you didn't believe and he laughed he sort of snob when he said but that's what he told me actually in his office yeah you've said a couple of other military people have come forward and said yeah oh just a lot of few days any any people from that other era that have come forward to support did said yeah so I was there with you or there's a couple couple people Italy yes not publicly because I say I don't have the right to put their names out in public unless they decide to do it themselves got any grief has anyone from military or governmental J hey you're doing the wrong thing no nobody I haven't had a and I had a few critics but one of the critics that you know about he shook hands with me out there and so and then they said he was afraid to death I don't know what for but anyway he came up short as critics I figure this is a truth what about the press reviews of the book they've been excellent most of the reviews had been excellent I just got one the other day from Michael in demand it was an excellent job in fact the house and it to me has said that amazing erection or only the article I have that outside in my case but they all so far it's all been receptive and there but the biggest thing they're confirming it and the biggest thing that I was impressed with when I was in Roswell knows but in Albuquerque in places where the people coming up to me with her children want me to talk to their young children at Albuquerque a woman Hispanic woman with nine-year-old voice at for three hours I was one while she was sitting there she waited though the line was weak on the sign the books and I got in the Selma Clark I got out of living 30 she waited over three hours so I could talk to her little boy but the people comped me with her children I had my three grandchildren out there and one newspaperman said his grandchildren are here watching him it has to be true were you and your group ever able to determine where these things are from why they're here no we were never able determined although one of the remiss of the things that I've missed out on and I say this but I think the greatest gift God or gateway created man in His image yeah we had the greatest artifact that they gave us was those bodies and we didn't do enough on us that parsley I can take the blame I had the money and the organization and the people do it and we didn't go far enough autopsies were done on bodies no but not enough we didn't do enough how they functioned another brain function and that we came to a conclusion even in those days that easily the reason most flying saucers have failed is because our conclusion was that this being is part

general Trudeau and I made the statement my son must be a little crazy he said Injuns talked to him and general stopped and said don't say that again film because people there are certain relationships with motors and in solid items that humans have which we don't understand now this is goes back to what our discussions on the extra-terrestrial he was part of the guidance system or it whatever it is because it has no sex organizing it was part of the guide system that's why we failed in propulsion a guidance system of these flying saucers but we didn't figure it out we never figured it out we didn't do enough on my body we didn't even knew 10% or wish Anna don't you saw the reports I had the reports see the Walter Reed the laboratory Walter Reed was our laboratory we financed it that was ours and that's a dead guitar that I had in my files but it didn't go near far enough it's the skin marvelous system look at our skin this is one of the wonders of creation our skin where you suppose that stuff is now those reports those kind of reports I have no idea George when I left the army they I was one of the men was supposed to see it that nothing was stolen from the army they were at my fault what happened to him

I've called some friends recently give us some ideas where they might be to try to run them down but I don't know you know how the military operates the burn bag in and the microphone and those days we'd microfilm other stuff we had I don't I have no idea what happened another and gone almost 40 years now what about the few people who are have criticized you the saying or why are you coming out now you're violating your security OHS what do you tell us well I'm gonna have that question many of any kind no number one is I had an oath with a general till we won discuss this a general or ascendant when I die feel you're released from your oath he died three years ago and I started to write it number two is I couldn't talk about people who were with us that I have no right to talk about in intelligence like a newspaperman you don't your source is not named unless he gives you permission to name him I had no right to do that and so my own family curse on my son since 35 years you didn't talk you didn't even tell us so that's right are you not tell anybody I had an old was an honorable man a great man and I wasn't about to betray nettles and not know yet I had never any intention of writing a book or putting it on paper then there were in my mind no nice in the military I never thought I'd write a book or even getting a do a movie on it that never entered my head anything else you want people to understand about this well it's the truth as I lived it and when I say what the young people I met out there and young people have been talking to me and even my nephew called first put the idea of my head in the window got panicky called me lately and he said all the people in his factory now and call for fight he just sent me so booked upon me in the doors that they bought and all I got to say it's it's the truth and I think it's a better world for for this but also those dangerous in this I haven't told the general one day what are we unleashing on the world and listen the great so he said well I hope that people that come later a little recognizing danger he said but not in my lifetime film this isn't a book well he died three years ago I'm 82 years old I happened to be still around and that's what I I think great developments well one thing give you an example or what happened

I had a foul on to that moment von neumann's foul on that artificial intelligence they would call it was called Project rainbow and I did nothing with it and I should have done something with it but I put it in the file left it there but the supercomputer was not developed yet look what's happened the super come look the imaging devices and hospitals those invention rises saved my life just a few months ago and I was operated on for my stomach and his hernia we started a heart pump look what the vote from that so I hope that these developments continue and not they were not as I heard about politics or petty jealousies that they continue with scientists the way they should continue we didn't we happen to do it I think we succeeded in a way but you see how we had to keep why we had to keep it Clark because of the forces interaction the forces of we couldn't deal with the CIA and I say this in the book because we thought it'd get him we had to keep this from a Soviet when world's what happened somebody gave it song gave instructions to get this in from whatever happened there we get the information we were confronted with the KGB and I saw the Union the time and Anatomy and we were confronted like as I say people criticize me they say well cookie I told well I'm in good company general Marshall general Trudeau John MacArthur one brawn Albert Wilbur Smith from what you had to only good company I have to come me I'd rather be in with those coups those are all people that they do about they know about all this

I'd rather be in that company than the ones criticizing me my father had been called out to uh investigate what I thought was an aircraft accident some distance from here on a ranch close by and uh he came back much later one evening about uh maybe 2:00 in the morning uh with a car full of debris like metallic debris mhm and uh he was very excited about it he unloaded a good part of this debris into the house here into the kitchen part and he woke my mother and myself up to come look at this cuz uh he had no idea what this was material that it consisted of was more uh foil like although it was a very strong very tough material uh material that was not easily malleable not not like tin foil that you just been back and forth uh parts of it looked like bols of wood type members but but metal like BTS of wood very light and very strong and

and uh it had a sort of metallic glint to it like a dull aluminum surface I guess the most uh mindboggling or startling feature was uh along the inner surface of some of these members was like a writing oh uh the writing itself was not uh English uh numerals or the Greek alphabet or anything of that nature it looked more like an Egyptian glyphic type writing uh the lettering itself uh was I recall a color was a purplish Violet Hue and it was looked like it was embossed inside the inner surface of some of the uh metallic members the structural frame itself oh I recall the longest piece I found was about uh 18 in in length and maybe a/ inch it's like an ibeam mhm about a half inch in circumference or diameter I think he came to the conclusion that that this was uh probably not anything that was made here at least on this planet oh good morning Mr y nice to meet you sir you got a lot of people I was not out at the ranch at the time and I picked up an Albuquerque paper and here's my dad's picture looking at me and I thought well I wonder what he's done now so I went on to to read the article and I told surle I said well I guess I better go out to the ranch because they said that he the Air Force had asked him to stay in Roswell anyway they swore de to secrecy and I went out to the ranch and stayed until he got back and I asked him what he' got into and oh he says I found a bunch of trash and uh so he went on to tell me it was bunch of sticks and Twine string he says and he said on some of these stick why there was uh oh he says uh Japanese or Chinese figures you know and uh of course he couldn't even start to show me what it was what it was like you know and I kept asking him questions and he said well he said I told the Air Force I wouldn't tell anybody he said you probably better off without knowing he did show me where he had found this wreckage and so and of course riding horseback you see lots of things you know so I'd go back through there and naturally I was been to looking and I picked up a few scraps and uh that the Army hadn't hadn't picked up and I made them in I'd bring them in my Sha's pocket and put them in a cigar box down at the barn with the little scraps I to call it the wood was kind of like balwood mhm real light kind of a neutral color MH and uh pieces of string or something like uh monofil fishing line and then the foil like 10 foil or lead foil but you couldn't crease it and make it stay I only had one little Jagged piece of it and you bend it over make a crease and it straighten right back up and it wouldn't I don't know it had to hit with a terrific Force because you couldn't cut that wood the string or the foil mhm and it wouldn't burn the wood was real pliable oh and uh but it wouldn't break mhm it was something I don't know felt like like bosswood real light you know and of course that was kind of before the days of plastic so it could could have been some type of plastic I don't know an odd shape kind of a jagged piece and uh the whole area wasn't as large as that ashtray maybe maybe half that yes but it was well like you just tear a piece of paper or something you know and but you couldn't do that uh so I say it it must have hit with a terrific Force to have even broken the the frame parts or tore this foil because I couldn't tear I didn't really get pliers or anything and try that hard you know except I didn't try to tear it myself I just picked up like you said I just tried with my my fingers I didn't tear I know my dad said he tried to tear it and try to deform it with hammers but impossible uhhuh and um how was the thick thickness of U well it was pretty pretty thin like uh like what well like U aluminum foil that's used today to wrap um Frozen material was it the same as that the same thing yeah how was the edge of the year the balls are like material The Edge mhm well of course the ends of the pieces I found were kind of jagged but the edge of the these link Plies was smooth oh that's the thing yeah to me resembled an ie beam a small eye beam that was fractured on each end and it was on the in inner surface of that where the writing was located oh I see the longest piece I saw was about 18 in in length I didn't find anything that large minus old maybe 3 in probably the longest piece that I found don't you have any question to Mr pres well it sounds like you and I saw the same thing well I'm sure well I'm sure it was stuff in there that looked like had writing or some kind of inscriptions or something on it but you know nothing like he had seen mhm and uh it seems to me like that he did bring a a small piece of it up but I expect it was hard to you I don't think you could have way he talks you couldn't have tore off a little piece or anything but the the piece of uh wood looking stuff was

oh nearly as big as a pencil and it was kind of oh I'd say now it looked more like plastic or you know hard plastic or something back then we didn't know what plastic was but you know it was just a looked like some kind of wood I don't know just what and then my brother that was in in the Air Force at Roswell that uh was with the crew that flew it out of Roswell he said they couldn't see anything because they had

it all you know had he covered up with tar so what was his name Robert Porter mhm and he's still living in in Great Falls yes but he was in Roswell at that time in the Air Force down there he was he was part of the crew that flew it in the uh some of the wreckage in the aircraft over to Fort Worth yes uhhuh but he said he they didn't know what they had flew out until they was coming back and then they were told that it was a UFO down a little like like to see how this drops and comes back up uhhuh on the other side of that tank there's another drop like that and that's where it is it's about 2 miles out there first came across the information that I was privy to see between the years 1970 and 1973 when I was attached to the commander-in-chief the United States Pacific Fleet as a member of his intelligence briefing team at his headquarters in maaa Hawaii uh the documents in Grudge 13 uh were the history of down craft alien craft that had crashed because the powerful radar that we were experimenting with after World War II somehow interfered with their guidance systems and caused them to crash quite a few alien craft crashed um and uh we were able to recover wreckage and in some cases whole craft that appeared not to be damaged dead alien bodies uh I saw photographs of dead alien bodies of aliens spacecraft what people normally would call flying saucers I saw photographs of live aliens in 1949 the document stated that a live alien was taken from a crash site which occurred in 1949 near Roswell New Mexico two craft had crashed and they recovered five dead bodies and one live alien U they designated this live alien Eva or e

thousands of people claim to have seen UFOs in the sky but most of these sightings are pretty easily debunked but these UFO sightings might actually be real here are 15 UFO sightings that might actually be true number 50 US Navy confirmation 1 unexplained flying phenomena was so remarkable the US Navy had no choice but to confirm that this event indeed showed a UFO more as they prefer to call it unidentified aerial phenomena these incidents were encountered in 2004 in 2015 but the highly secretive and classified information was only made public in 2017 the US Navy confirmation of the fast and quick aerial phenomena was just enough to validate UFO doubts in millions across the globe and a 14 Lebanon sighting in 2008 a call came in to 911 claiming he saw an unidentified flying object in the air even though the emergency department had a few giggles at first last the policeman arrived at the scene they saw something similar as well described as a large triangular shape in the sky that had three smaller aircrafts around it the UFO that appeared in Lebanon Illinois was witnessed by six people who required the experimental to see if I could require it again by the time I backed over 13 New York City footage the city that never sleeps captured a truly magnificent event in an eight-minute video shared on the news multiple flying orbs are seen traversing through the clear day sky as baffled New York City witnesses gathered around to spectate the extraordinary incident many were quick to call in a UFO sighting and all the officials claimed they were just balloons hovering over the iconic Manhattan skylines the proportions of the flying objects seemed to dictate otherwise number 12

Google Maps UFO everyone has tried once in their life to see their home from the Google Maps program people of Texas were scouting through the streets of Jacksonville when they spotted a remarkable object in the sky

Google Maps captured an image that some could only call a UFO spotted above the landmark building this flying object looked like a cartoon version of an alien ship come to life and while the people of Jacksonville didn't witness a change in the usual setting many were left wondering if it was the real thing number 11

Rob Chapman's video Rob Chapman a musician and co-owner of Chapman guitars shared a video on his YouTube channel that received over two-and-a-half million views the musician who usually uploads guitar tutorials couldn't help but share what he witnessed with his own eyes in the video two mysterious flying objects are seen slowly drifting through the gray skies while some firework explosions were created - vanishing and reappearing flying objects raise the question it was actually a UFO the musician saw number ten men at-taubah sightings one province of Canada it has made a name for itself as being a frequently visited place by UFOs is Manitoba the central part of Canada has become a hotbed for UFO sightings dating back to the 1820s the skies of northern Canada are home to plenty of mysterious phenomena but some were so noteworthy tales about the sighting are still told to this day a may 19th 1967

Stefan Michalak who was an amateur geologist at the time was looking for quartz crystals near Falcon Lake when something strange happens suddenly he saw a flock of geese run past him very quickly as if they were running away from something and stefan looked up he witnessed two glowing cigar shaped objects in the sky and while one soon flew away the other landed on a rocky terrace nearby mr. von decided to approach the flying object assuming it was a US military aircraft but before he did he took his time sketching out the mysterious plane when McCulloch came close to the object he heard loud hissing noises coming from within when he glanced inside he only saw a panel of blinking lights before the doors closed as the saucer rotated the ship's exterior sprayed him with hot gas leaving him the first degree burns the geologist was taken to a hospital for both physical and psychological evaluation the doctors and psychiatrists were determined that Stefan was of sound mind and that he couldn't have hallucinating the event to this day neither the Canadian or the US military has been able to explain the event but a few years later a piece of metal was recovered from the same Falcon Lake the UFO landed on number 9 1997 Phoenix lights 23 years ago on a normal March night in 1997 thousands of Phoenix Arizona citizens saw something that looked unordinary to say the least the locals were initially glancing at the skies to get a glimpse of the hale-bopp comet but instead they witnessed something they couldn't have even imagined five bright orbs of light were hovering above the Phoenix skyline the lights were arranged in such a formation that gave the impression of the orbs being attached to a wide v-shaped aircraft this event quickly became the talk of the town and over two decades later it's recalled as the Phoenix lights the US Air Force claimed these bright lights were actually flares dropped at the goldwater range but the unusual arrangement in the sky is what leads the people of Arizona to think otherwise the sightings were first witnessed at 3:00 p.m. and remained for over 24 hours the numerous video footages that were captured by locals were later stabilized to showcase how the flying objects could not have been just flares what makes this unusual case even more intriguing is the fact that the former Phoenix Governor Fife Symington witnessed this event himself even calls these lights as not being of this world and could not belong to a military aircraft now 23 years later and many book releases and TV specials about the Phoenix lights and no one truly knows what happened that night on March 13th 1997 come up with anything logical before we move on be sure to subscribe to top 5s with notifications on number 8 Washington DC Fleming it seemed like a regular hot July evening in 1952 until several large flying saucers appeared above the White House known as the Washington DC flap this unexplainable event became the forefather of UFO sightings from the initial event to several weeks later thousands of humans and even professional pilots and radar operators reported mysterious objects streaking across the skies of the US Capitol these affairs caused a panic like no other when President Harry Truman quietly called for answers from the highly classified UFO investigation team Project Blue Book Air Force officials released a statement that simply blamed the unusual whether credible witnesses and sources claimed the objects look like deep orange spheres that had shades of rust all around the exterior the fast paced flying aircrafts were as silent as death and many even reported floating lights around it the UFO mania of course did not stop with the logical explanation from the Air Force hundreds of conspiracy theories were created around the event many generations are still looking for plausible extraterrestrial explanations number seven

Eskimo footage another part of Canada that witnessed a strange object roaming through the night sky was asked about a municipality in the British Columbia District one couple managed to quickly grab their cell phones and capture the night event that could only be described as a UFO sighting

Bryan Cooper a skeptic at heart claims he had never witnessed something similar in his life while the first sightings were reported at 8:30 one aircraft vanished shortly after but the second remained above the Eskimo land Cooper says the flying object had lights that spun in all different directions the aircraft itself was about the size of a Volkswagen car the couple's neighbor also witnessed this event Lynn Weaver grew up in military bases claims that she had never seen anything quite like the aircraft in the night sky the captured footage was later shown to a professor of astronomy physics and a drone expert hoping for a logical explanation behind the video and while both seemed to agree it was a drone vehicle in the sky neither of them are 100% sure of the fact leaving room for some extraordinary theories in mind number six Westall UFO the Zimbabwe UFO event wasn't the only sighting caught by schoolchildren in April of 1966 almost 200 people including young students and school teachers saw a flying saucer in the sky the flying object was gray with slight purple hues and was twice the size of a large car while some say there was only one aircraft in the sky many witnesses have actually claimed there were three as the interested and intrigued students gathered to watch the monumental affair

the school children and adults that had been part of this incident were told by the Australian officials not to give any comments to the media many were left to believe that the government was actually trying to bury this event it didn't want to add fuel to the fire more than 50 years later witnesses who were once young kids attending school are now grown adults who have come forward with their experience all claiming it was a UFO to this day the 1966 West Hall event remains the most witnessed daylight UFO sighting in history number five caught on live newscast while most UFO sightings are caught quickly by a shaky phone camera or leaked footage this one paranormal event was captured on live TV during the weather broadcast in June of 2018 the Buffalo weathermen Andy Parker was first to comment on the strange move during what seemed to be a usual forecast and he quickly drives the viewers attention at the sudden beam of light coming from the water while I says it might have been a shooting star many denied the theory as shooting stars don't come up from the water apart from the strangest sentence from the water users on social media noticed how the flying object curved as it went up into the sky some comments even suggest pausing the video for a better look at the UFO that takes the form of a disc or a cigar shaped object while no official comments have been made it's always interesting to witness such an event during a live TV broadcast I will flip bet in the next 20 number 4 is in Bob way school children every child has an imagination so diverse and vast that no adult human can compete with and while school children often play make-believe to pass the time of long school hours one event that took place in 1994 was of no regular play the children of the aerial school Andrew was in Bob Way all saw a disc-shaped craft land behind the school

according to 60 young kids who have claimed to have seen the exact same event three flying objects popped up in the sky momentarily until they vanished and reappeared in different places some pupils even claimed to have witnessed a man with rugby ball eyes walk out of the ship but when the extraterrestrial being noticed the children it soon ran away of a ship disappeared these little witnesses were a question for weeks after the initial incident many psychiatrists and journalists quickly appeared at the scene all trying to debunk what actually happened that day

35 out of the group were even taken aside to draw a picture of the incident after a strenuous investigation all came to the conclusion that these school kids were not lying and that something extraordinary had actually happened while many called a mass hysteria episode even more believe the children's story to be true number three

Stephenville sightings on an early cold January afternoon more than 30 citizens of Stephenville Texas reported something unique floating in the sky the witness's first saw beams of light arranged in a single horizontal line then later forming parallel vertical lines across the sky even local newspaper reporters saw this strange occurrence recalling how it was very intense with bright lights

Stephenville locals believed this event was reminiscent of the notorious Phoenix lights sighting in 1997 but the US Air Force was quick to deny such rumors and theories according to the officials these lights were simply F-16s flying in military operating areas but as most UFO sightings go this explanation was not enough for the townspeople the Texas natives claimed to have seen such a highly advanced event that it simply could not have been done by human-made technologies and abilities number 2 Japan Airlines flight 1609 when an airplane pilot who has more than 10,000 hours of flight experience says he saw something strange you know it's a credible source on November 17 1986 a large Japanese Boeing cargo plane was flying from Paris to Tokyo when a sudden beam of light appeared on the left side of his plane the object seemed as though it had glowing nozzles attached what was initially thought to be a military aircraft was soon thought to be not of this world as the flying objects projections changed according to the pilot and the cabin crew this UFO defied all laws of gravity moving in such a way that would be impossible for man-made crafts as the objects flew closer to the Japanese plane the entire cabin was illuminated by sudden light and intense heat

before we move on to number one several celebrities claim to have seen UFOs let's take a look at two quick honorable mentions of celebrity UFO sightings honorable mention one Russell Crowe the Australian actor Russell Crowe who has won an Academy Award for the film Gladiator is adamant that what he saw with his own two eyes could only be a UFO Crowe tweeted a friend that I set up the camera to capture fruit bats rising from Botanic Gardens this was a big surprise and included pictures of a bright yellow red aircraft up in the sky the mysterious object in the sky seemed to be casting a downward light to the ground and while the actor claims the footages of time lapse of the event the evidence seems like regular still pictures even though many speculations arose from Crowe's tweets some even calling it a publicity hoax there is no denying that stranger sightings have been reported in the past I only mentioned to Robbie Williams the energetic and eccentric British singer and former Take That member Robbie Williams is also no stranger to unidentified flying objects while speaking to 60 Minutes Australia the singer opened up about his frequent experiences with the extraterrestrial phenomena not only is Robbie witness strange things in his homeland but he has had a fair share of unusual sightings in the US as well

so close to the ground that if he threw a tennis ball up it would have hit the aircraft then while Robbie has had many experiences with alcohol and drugs in the past the British singer claims there were no substances involved during these extraterrestrial events now I've seen one number one Roswell UFO incident regarded as the most talked-about and famous UFO encounter is the Roswell incident in 1947 in the summer of 1947

Mac Brazel discovered mysterious debris on his New Mexico land after the former reported findings of metallic rods and chunks of paper scraps to nearby Roswell Army Air Force Base headlines were written claiming a flying saucer crashed into the city as national headlines and stories rain havoc amongst the feared public officials statements were soon released claiming the scraps and pieces were from a weather balloon

Jack had made himself these statements weren't enough for the general public to lead this mystery alone nearly 30 years later a 231 page report was released disclosing the truth about the event according to the air force but max saw on his land were parts of a top-secret military endeavor called Project mogul which was set out to detect Soviet nuclear equipment during the Cold War while the enormous report had to be enough evidence to settle the UFO case many eyewitnesses claimed they saw alien bodies being taken from the site leaving even more conspiracy theories open to this day the 1947 UFO incident remains the most talked-about extraterrestrial event

Fighter Pilot Podcast

hey everyone just a quick note before we begin this week's episode we hear on the fighter pilot podcast have several initiatives in store for you in 2019 as you will learn more about later in this episode one is that we are going to begin setting aside a little time at different points in the show to promote various goods or services or even events could be a military aviation themed book or an upcoming air show in your area for example whatever it is in the background you will hear this jingle provided by our highly talented musician Jaime Lopez so if you want to skip ahead until the music stops no worries but as I said way back on episode zero we promise not to promote anything we don't think you'd be interested in hearing about only cool stuff related to military aviation so now you know okay on with the show throughout my career as a Navy pilot and even more so in this past year since launching the show I've often been asked whether I have ever seen anything while flying that I could not identify you know spaceships or a little green man or the like no I have not but I know someone who has someone many of you will recognize and he joins us to tell his story this week on the fighter pilot podcast missing move through the atmosphere like there was no constraints on it it just did what ever wanted to do welcome to the fighter-pilot podcast the internet radio show that explores the fascinating world of air combat the aircraft the weapons systems and most importantly the people now here's your host retired US Navy fighter pilot

Vincent Aiello

well Happy New Year's fighter-pilot podcast friends and welcome to episode 35 we're talking UFOs and we will get to our interview with retired US Navy Commander Dave framer in a few minutes hope you all enjoyed your relaxing holidays and that 2019 is off to a fantastic start that has certainly been the case here in the ILO and Sinclair households in fact it's been difficult to align our schedules so it's just me this week hopefully we'll get sunshine back for episode 36 well we received much positive feedback following our last episode with our spouses called the homefront so we thank you for that and I know the ladies appreciated hearing from all of you if you're wondering why this episode is airing on the second instead of the first as usual then you may have missed our bonus episode released December 31st with my good friend Robert Kibby of the muscle-car place Rob and I took a look back at how far the show was coming our first year since launching a year ago now January 1st 2018 and let me tell you it's been quite a journey many of you have been there for most or all of it Rob and I also discussed what's in store for 2019 which includes a few initiatives such as the opening promotion you just heard episodes series ideas as we've talked about before with different aircraft and a new release schedule which is the second 12th and 22nd instead of the first 11th and 21st we didn't post the bonus episode on our website or YouTube so to find it you'll need to check out your favorite podcast player or our patreon page now speaking of patreon we have several new patreon division leads to announce Phil Brewer Michael Maddox William Loomis and Matt Klein and also we have a new patreon strike lead Kevin Millar now you may have heard of him we have featured his naval aviation themed novels here on the show before and he was a guest on our episode called after the cockpit and a Facebook live session as well and he's generously donated books and some Instagram pictures that we use so thanks for your generosity hoser into all of you new patrons thank you and enjoy the exclusive content you will get only on patreon now this week's episode interview is a little longer than normal but we've been remiss at answering listener questions lately so we'll see if we can squeeze in a few here the first is from Jordan McVeigh is a patreon division lead and he says how did simulators work when you were in basic training in the early 90s did they have early 3d graphics or displays or was it all instrument flying how useful was flying in those more quote primitive simulators well Jordan my first three aircraft as you know if you've listened to the show where the t-34 t2 and ta for Jay and all three of those simulators were instrument only they had no visuals first time I had visuals was in the fa-18 now curiously only the t2 out of those original three had motion the other two were static now how useful were flying these simulators very useful and I'll tell you why number one you could jump in when the simulator wasn't being used and look around and get used to the cockpit and where switches and gauges and dials were and number two you could learn basic procedures and number three you could learn what's called an instrument scan meaning when you're flying on the instruments and you look from the primary attitude reference indicator maybe to the vertical speed indicator or your airspeed indicator or your heading all that is very useful and you have to build a scan where you look from one to the other to the other with a certain pattern to be as effective as possible great question Jordan next let's take a phone call hey guys this is Mike from Brisbane Australia

I just wanted to ask you guys about math formulas that you use while in the cockpit what type of math do you keep in your head or do a pen and paper calculator and what do you do on a mission with those math calculations keep up the good work guys love the show thanks bye thanks for the phone call mark always good to hear from you blokes down under in fact our web designer and graphic guy Yannick Krause is from Down Under so we have a special place in our heart for you guys well the two most used math formula that we have in the aircraft or the fuel ladder

calculations and glide slope altitude backup calculations now the math for the fuel ladder is pretty basic and I think we've talked about it before essentially when you look down at the gauges in an f-18 there's two one for each engine and they tell you the fuel flow in pounds per hour times 100 so if I look down and see a 30 on the left and a 30 on the right then that's 3000 pounds per hour on each engine and that's 6000 pounds per hour and that equates to about a hundred pounds per minute so if I know I'm holding somewhere and I need to manage my fuel and I have to leave let's say Marshall at night in 12 minutes well then whatever my state is now let's call it 6.2 in 12 minutes all burn 1200 pounds so I'll be leaving with about a 5.0 and of course the burn rate changes with your left hand movement goes up when you advance the throttle and goes back when you retard it and so that's just a calculation we do often and on our knee board card we don't use calculators but we do have blocks and we put in what we expect the fuel to be every 15 minutes and then we back it up with updates as we go and then we can also project ahead using the formula we just talked about now another one is the back up on glide slope at night again let's say at the carrier we know that one degree equals 100 feet at a mile and we fly a 3-degree glide slope so every mile we should be 300 feet higher on that three degree slope so if we're coming in which we do at 1200 feet above the water well then 1200 divided by three is four and so we should expect to intercept the glide slope at about four nautical miles and what we do is we'll back ourselves up as we come down the slope so that we know in case the carrier instruments are incorrect or trying to lead us astray which has happened in the past not so much recently but we can back ourselves up so if we intercept the glide slope from 1200 feet up four miles then at three miles we should be at 900 feet except don't forget the carrier flight deck itself is about 60 feet up so we generally look for about nine 60 at three miles six 60 at two miles three 60 at one mile etc and if you want to get fancy at the half mile increments you can even split the difference between say six sixty and nine sixty and try to figure out where you should be at two and a half miles there is one more though I just realized sometimes when we do Stern conversions which is a type of intercept and we'll talk more about those in just a second there are certain things you can do with the radar where it's not really a math formula but you need to know that at certain distance with a certain offset you should expect to see a certain target aspect out of your target and that will tell you if you are set up to do a good rendezvous while they continue in the same direction and I'm purposely not throwing out any numbers here for a couple reasons number one I just don't remember them and number two if people's eyes aren't already crossed from all the math I just threw out they probably would be if I did do the research and remember what all this was but someone once told me when I answered a previous question about math that there are some different formulae they use for doing a stern intercept or a stern conversion where let's say you're heading north and the guy you

we have another question now from Mark Alexander from Montreal talking about intercepts he says as a Navy fighter pilot are you trained to do interceptions or is it only the job of the Air Force fighter pilots similarly are all Air Force pilots trained to do that or only those who join intercept squadrons also is the interception of a civilian aircraft different than the interception of a military aircraft so Marc Alexander the term intercept squadron is no longer used I know it used to be in the 50s and 60s these days any fighter pilot is going to be taught and should know how to do an air-to-air intercept and there are three now we just talked about one and that is the stern conversion or a rendezvous and we do that quite often on let's say aerial refueling tankers but there are other intercepts depending on what you're trying to do we've talked about some of them before on the show some are just pure beyond visual range type missions where all you're trying to do is employ missiles and you may never actually visually see the target and then there is another one where you are looking to arrive at emerge with the target having not shot any missiles and then at that merge you do what's called a VI D or a visual identification and you

civilian don't shoot back generally and so on the military aircraft depending on what it is it might or might not be shooting back or turning into you and try not to be rendezvous Don but for the most part any of the larger aircraft or a civilian airliner the biggest problem with that is just that the large size can create a visual illusion of distance and closure and it's not uncommon to end up arriving on their wing with too much closure in too much speed and you under run or fly pass them and so you have to be careful of that but the nice thing about that is many military tankers are based on civilian aircraft already and so if you're used to joining on a tanker it's not that much different to join on an airliner let's say all right last question from Paul Nitti from Calgary Canada he says when you are training against an aggressor squadron are the aggressors somehow modified to show up as a quote foe or is the iff system ignored also have you guys ever made it out to our local exercise maple flag yes Paul the IFF or identification Friend or Foe modes one through four are used in training to signify whether an opposition player is alive or dead friendly or not and in some cases what type of threat it is for example a mig-29 or an su-27 and so we do have that as part of our training rules and it is part of the adversaries professionalism to make sure he or she is modifying the iff as required depending on what phase of flight they're in and yes that is quite common now personally no I never made it to a maple flag my very first squadron VF 86 attended in 1997 just before I arrived but unfortunately no Paul I never had a chance to participate in a maple flag up in Canada great questions all of you thanks and everyone keep your questions coming we'll try to continue working through them the best we can in upcoming episodes all right let's get then to our interview with commander Dave flavor now you will hear just a little bit of microphone jostling at time did my best to edit it out but we were sitting in his basement holding our microphones and so inevitably sometimes you move and create a slight noise so apologize for that but I know you'll still enjoy the interview so let's get straight to it on UFOs today the fighter pilot podcast is in southern New Hampshire and we are at the residence of retired United States Navy Commander David framer sex welcome to the fighter pilot podcast sir all right thanks jello it's good to be here well it's been a long time it's good to see you well it has looking good thanks

you know first off I never called you sex anyway because I was junior to you I used to call you skipper and sex just has this kind of weird feeling and we'll get to the call-sign thing at the end

I'm gonna call you skipper if that's okay that's fine excellent all right well thank you for having me in your lovely home and we are here today to talk about an experience you had back in 2004 and ever since but we always begin here on the show with a little background on our guests so if you could please tell us where you're from where you went to school a little bit about your career and what you're doing now yeah my name is David flavor obviously and hail from Toledo Ohio actually right on a michigan state line about 40 minutes south of Detroit Michigan okay and I enlisted in the Marine Corps at 17 years old to the chagrin of my parents they weren't real happy about it my dad was definitely not happy about it

I got recommended while I was in the Marine Corps to go to the Naval Academy prep school from there I went to the Naval Academy my first plebe cruise I was on the USS Nimitz in 1985 watching planes land and take off on board the carrier and I thought I really want to do that so being a marine we were guaranteed the ability to go into the marine corps we didn't have to wait till service selection okay because there's a limited percentage of the graduating class actually wave that because I thought hey I think the best opportunity for everything was to fly for the Navy and it was a it was a there was a very tough decision but I ended up selecting the Navy from there I went Jets went to Kingsville got winged in 1990 Ashley two years to the day I graduated the Academy a long story but I ended up getting a sixes I had originally had s three orders I got my orders changed to a six s I went up to Whidbey Island I flew a sixes for about three years total from there I got selected to go to f-18s so I went down to l'amour and flew f-18s through multiple tours until 2003 I selected and went to or 2002 sorry went to Super Hornets and stayed there flying and then in 2003 I screened and went to VF a41 for my XO Co tour and then retired out of l'amour after eighteen years of flying commissioned to go into the corporate world okay and that's what you're doing now is I am I'm I consult in the corporate world okay now for the listeners who are hearing you but not seeing you they might wonder where they've heard you before and that is on the 2005 deployment that you and I had the pleasure to share together you were one of many stars on the PBS carrier special and you make quite a few appearances so I don't know if any of that has ever come back to not to haunt you but you get people asking you about that because I do I only had one short speaking part and I have people asking me all the time I've had you know it's funny when it came out I got told by the director I was doing a proof of the series before it came out they had they had edited it all and said hey we want you to look at this and and I got the I walked into this place down in Hollywood and and everyone knew my name and I had no idea these people were and I'm like it was to me it's very strange and I grew up and she said oh I don't know you're gonna get recognized I said okay so I didn't think anything of it so the the series came out in 2008 and I had just started working down in San Diego and I was in the commissary in Miramar when that thing had come out and you can tell people are whispering and they're pointing in and so I rapidly got my cart and got out of there celebrity yeah sometimes you don't want to deal with it it's it comes and goes as a matter of fact I was just going to one of my best buds his son who live with me got married and we were on the airplane and we were flying into Norfolk and the Air Show was that weekend and I was asking a guy he was from Ohio and I'm like yeah great what are you doing he goes I were here for the air show and when he got all done he like me goes hey can I ask you a question I said yeah sure he goes are you the guy from that carrier show and I'm like yes which my wife just rolls her eyes her back my kids are the same way but yeah it was it still has not died although I wished it would but it hasn't yeah well I don't know about you skipper but my wife rolls her eyes at me quite often comes with the territory for us but all right so we were you did the 2003 deployment as well on Nimitz right yeah halfway through three deployment and then all the entire oh five okay because I was in 97 for the oh three deployment and then vfa 94 for the 2005 deployment all right well so you made headlines earlier this year for an event that took place back in November of 2004 and that's what we'll spend the bulk of our time speaking about today but I'm just curious before we talk about the episode why now why suddenly is all of this coming to light you know it's interesting you asked I had I hadn't really done anything I you know about it and it's it's been pretty quiet it was never secret I want to point out because there's a lot of people that think that this was classified we weren't on to talk about it there were people on the boat that thought that we signed non-disclosures to not discuss this that never happened it was it just it went away and after you know you were out there after about three days you know in the men in black cartoon and the other plant comic of the far side when those went away you know I had a

we mittelwerk up so it just kind of faded away I had got a call from the other pilot and they said hey have you been talked to about the tic tac lately and I said no they said well you know I've been asked to go to pentagon like five times you know and they said we you had you know the most si I'm because I was actually the one that engaged it and I said well just give him my name and I'll talk to him so that was Lou Elizondo who was running the ATM program at the Pentagon so he had called me up said hey we're gonna come up and talk to you I said great no problem and I didn't think much of it I'm like yeah I'll tell you what I got so about I don't know prior a month later I had gotten information on the to the stars that was coming out with Tom DeLonge and I'm watching this clip that a guy had sent me and Lu's on it so I called Lu I go what's going on he goes I left the Pentagon

I said well you guys hey work we'll be there like this weekend to talk to you I said okay so they came up here and talked to me about the whole incident and he told me what was going on and and he actually explained why he had left the Pentagon he was a little bit frustrated with you know basically the bureaucracy he was having to deal with and and what he thought was very important so he called me up about a month later said hey we want to do this article at the New York Times we do it and I said no it's difficult I said I actually said no I'm not doing that and he said no no seriously dude we really need you to do this I said why do you need me to do this he said because we've gotten approval to announce that this program existed inside the US government he says then you're the one piece that will add credibility you know because of our background what we do it gets it gets harder to discredit us for when we see something like that and I said all right and I was actually in DC for work so I met him and Helene Cooper and Leslie Kean at a restaurant and they just started asking a question and when you first start telling the story you know there's kind of like this jaw dropping from the people you're telling it to which I was laughing because the only people that really knew the story cuz my family didn't really know it it was all my buds that would go you know we'd be out you know having a beer or two and they'd say hey Dave what's the coolest thing you ever saw flying and then I would say why I chased this UFO and they'd be like you did what and I said no seriously we you know when I give the whole story and and and they're all like you know people that know me know I'm not totally crazy and they would just go your joke and I go no I'm dead serious you know and the cool thing is there was four of us you know because it was F's you know and then cheeks Kurth who was CEO of the marine squadron he was actually the red air for the event and they had they talked to him before we even they talked to us because he was the first one off the deck he just didn't you know as charlie's didn't have the gas to go play around like we did no so because of that you know the New York Times article hit was at December 17th of last year and then then your world explodes

I completely understand I said you know because the carrier I'm like hey you know I you know I kind of had that 15 minutes of fame I really don't want that 15 minutes of fame and you know I want to just crawl into my little sector of the world and away and they said no no this is gonna be a big deal I'm like I know no big deal well the article hit on hit the Internet this is a funny story hit the internet on Saturday at 2 o'clock so I don't know if you know Jeter he was in Japan guy with me he worked at check 6 with me he literally had hit and he I get a phone call right away dude I'm sitting down to eat my lunch and and I see your ugly mug on my screen you're an idiot

this what would you expect from a fellow aviator a told him he said what are you doing I said well I was asked by the guy at the Pentagon to do this and and he said holy cow so the next day I'm not thinking and my son-in-law was here visiting and we were taken to the airport Sunday morning when the paper hit and we're literally getting ready to leave the house and my phone rings and it's a number that I don't know it's from Jersey of course my wife goes I answer it she goes I want to see who it is I'm like ok so I answered the call and I'm like yeah yeah well it ends up being Good Morning America which was followed by multiple CNN which was Fox News which was the Washington Post which was the Boston here I mean I had a guy literally the Boston Herald guy tracked me down on Sunday and found me in a coffee shop on the north end with my wife and daughter and yeah never mind the men in black it's the journalists that oh my god me they can find you anywhere it's it is amazing because you know I'm not you know it's not like I'm publicized this I haven't actually tried to hide from a lot of people and they find you now it makes it easy because there's not a lot of David flavors running around the United States I won't say how many but it's very few and but I asked the girl I said how did you find me and she said oh she goes it wasn't it wasn't hard she goes we have this database we can go to it did work out a little bit you know the Today Show

and but I take my why I'd never been in New York City my wife has been there Bunch so I said I went down there with her and I said I you know let's get a tour so I called up NBC the girls that had worked with me and I said hey I'm gonna be there can I get I told you guys when I first talked to you that you know I want to go see the Today Show and stuff and they did they we got through the little VIP tour the Today Show and and got to go see The Tonight Show the Jimmy Fallon's we got to see cool so it was really that's the one benefit actually that's like the benefit I got out of this whole thing I called and said hey can I we get a private tour okay all right well if people are wondering what it is we're talking about that brought you you're a second 15 minutes of fame you're up to about a 30 minutes baby I'll give you another 15 45 so it was November 2004 you and I and all of our Air Wing Bubba's were on the USS Nimitz off the coast of Mexico south of San Diego and we were doing what we call work ups which are just exercises at sea to prepare ourselves for deployment which ended up being the 2005 deployment that was chronicled in the PBS carrier special and we are out flying on a beautiful day we have the USS Princeton Cruiser operating with us as an air intercept control provider or air defense commander I suppose you would call it and so you launch on a mission and just if you would give us a quick summary of what happened that day that then blew up on you earlier this year and caused so much attention from the press okay so 2004 or were in one of the early goes I think we were actually the first go we're gonna do an air defense exercise so we're gonna we're gonna turn not only we're gonna get training cuz we're gonna be the good guys the Marines are gonna take off they're gonna be the bad guys and we're gonna actually work with the controllers on the Princeton to do the air defense of the carrier battle group okay so it's a 2v2 out over the ocean yeah so we launch we join up we're in obviously VF a41 we're flying F so I have a whizzo in my back seat and the other pilot and the other WIZO or in the other jet so they join up we're driving out you know we hear a little calm on the radios we're checking through all you know going through strike and getting all checked in all of a sudden the Princeton comes up and says fast Eagle hey say your loadout and I actually laughed I said well I got a Khadem nine and with a sledgehammer you can get it off the airplane because you know they're locked on it's just a big it's a hollow tube it's no row motor but it does have a real seeker head and it's for training only right and they said well we're gonna cancel the the air defense exercise training right now we have rude world tasking and we were preceded about forty miles south of the carriers so you were right on so if you draw if you look at a map and go from San Diego down to Ensenada we're kind of working around that area closer to Ensenada than San Diego okay so we start pressing out and they give us a vector two seven zero at about sixty miles so we start driving out towards the west I'm the lead so my wingman the other airplane gets on my left-hand side so they're sitting to the south so I'll start referencing a clock cuz it makes it easier to go so as we start driving out they're calling you know 40 miles 30 miles 20 miles 10 miles we're not seeing anything on the radar but we're both clean which means we see nothing and all of a sudden the cruiser calls merge plot which tells us that now the blip that they were looking at and us are in the same resolution cell so it just looks like one blob they can't sure just they can't be the same vertical column of air that's exactly right okay so as we're looking out you know you know you know the head start coming out because we're looking to see where this thing is at and as we look down off the right side of the airplane we see so we'd be at the six o'clock position of a clock and this object would be in the middle we look down and what it looks like is there's something like a seamount under the water we're because it's a no Whitecaps beautiful clear day and there's just this white water and if you've seen a seamount which I know you have where the waves come in they just break over this in the middle of the ocean and it tells you there's probably something onto the surface you know your stay away so we kind of see this and as we're looking the backseater and the other airplane chumps like clean mm-hmm goes hey skipper do you and right about he gets the do you I'm looking and I see this little white object it's kind of randomly moving around the disturbance under the water now it's important the disturbance think of it as what we first thought is you know hey look kind of like a 737 size-wise pointing to the east alright so it looked like it had kind of wings you know like shapes like a cross hmm

setup and a little the little white tic-tac is what we refer to it as because that's what look like was kind of going north south and an east-west but it wasn't changing its direction it was elongated to the north south so the longitudinal axis of this thing was pointing north okay so the first thing you think is oh it's a helicopter right so we're looking at it and he goes hey do you see what the and I go yeah what the hell is that and we're looking what's your altitude at this point we're at about 20,000 feet okay so we're looking down there's no rotor wash

there's no wings it literally looks like a tic-tac and it's just flopping around right mm-hmm

so we're like it's kind of weird so as we move around towards about the nine o'clock position I decide hey I'm gonna go check that out oh hey so the other the other pilots to say I'm gonna stay up high I said that's perfect just stay up here just me Russ I'm gonna I'll go down so we're having all this comms I'm also talking on the intercom to my back seater and we're both you know kind of like do what is that and we have no idea so at about the nine o'clock position we start that slow descent and as we get around to the 12 o'clock we're watching this so this whole evolution is gonna take about five minutes because you know if we're only doing about 300 knots we're just kind of saving gas so we could do about the 12 o'clock position and the thing which is we had been pointing north south basically just turns so now that kind of the longitudinal axis is kind of pointing to the west and it start smearing us so we're in a slow descent clockwise flow and it's coming up the same way so it said this thing's been in a hover right over the water with no rotor Washington and all of a sudden goes and starts climbing so we're kind of looking at it and we go around you know all the way around so as we approach about that six to eight o'clock position we actually weird six and we're you know we can watch it it's coming up below us at about the eight o'clock position we're at eight o'clock and it's over towards about two o'clock and there's probably about maybe about 3,000 feet altitude between us so we're probably about you know somewhere around the 15 ish thousand and then he's probably around the thing is prior around that eleven twelve thousand somewhere around there so I go well best way to fix a two circle fight so he's on the outside a circle is cut across the middle of circle so I go nose low and cut across a circle and pull lead on it so I found at the eight o'clock think of it as I point my nose down I'm gonna cut across the bottom I'm gonna make a big scoop out of the bottom of it I'm going kind of over towards three o'clock because I want to kind of be over there when he get

and as we start pulling those up the thing rapidly accelerates like from just this nice easy kind of mirin our speed to poof it's gone as across learners it just disappears so we're like I go I asked the other airplane hey do you guys see that and they're like it's gone

we have no now keep in mind they're still above us so it's not like you know that we have different perspectives of the object and the object we both see it just take off and disappear so we're like all right now I'm pretty weirded out so I said hey well let's turn around and see what was in the water because we're right there so we basically just turned the airplanes around real quick and there's nothing there's no disturbance there's no white water as far as you can see there's nothing so we kind of turn and I'm like well you know look at the clock but we got to get some training done and I told my backseater I said dude I'm I'm pretty weirded out

I said that's that's odd so and the controller's hearing all this so I remember telling the controller I said hey please tell me that you guys are gonna strip the radar tapes and throughout this he's been telling us hey sir we've been tracking these things for like two weeks since we got out here we got out beginning at a month remember we got out beginning November was a two-month that see I was fighting to get home for Thanksgiving yeah so he says yeah we've been tracking these things they've been coming from basically eighty thousand feet or above eighty thousand feet coming straight down and hanging out at like 20,000 feet and they had been tracking like up till them you know multiple you know I think it was like up to ten and then they would hang out for a little bit and then they would go back up and this this was this was the first time that they had ad m-- and airplanes airborne when these things showed up which was you know it happens to be us you know I know if that's lucky or unlucky but my life would have been just fine if this never happened so I said well hey we're gonna go back to the cap which is our whole point for the exercise and and meanwhile the Marines are still hanging out you know they're they're 100 miles south of the ship just kind of doing circles in the sky and the controller comes let me says sir you're not going to believe this but that thing is back at your cat point no more like a grade so we end up getting to the cap we don't see it we do the exercise and we go back and land when we had landed we were in the PR shop and one of our cruisers getting ready to launch and we're telling them this and they're like so at Underwood nuts goes hey I'm gonna because I'm gonna get video this thing and that's actually the video that you see the video is taken by him we chased it visually the one regret of the whole side from my point of view was that because we never used the helmet cam on the joint helmet because it was just nauseating to try and watch on a screen I never had it on because had I had it on you'd probably got tons of video of this thing flying around right you know and then the other side is is because nothing was done and a lot of the stuff is lost like we had the tapes we had the radar tape and the FLIR tape and the FLIR tape is what you guys have seen but it's been degraded so many times because it's been copied right but on the high-res monitors it was pretty good and then the radar tape actually showed you know the thing is we hit it with the radar it started jam went a to jam extrapolate in the aspect vector started spinning around because it didn't to be locked up and and chance audio you know that's what he had seen when he did it and then obviously the video but all the radar tapes from the Princeton there's a bunch of stuff that's missing that they can't find matter of fact in the archives I was talking to someone that has access to this stuff that the the the logbook someone has taken that page and sometimes it's just you know the sailor that wants thinks it's cool like buddy of mine saved the airplane from that day and when this broke sends me a text gone dude I saved this for all these years going because this was just such a strange event and sent me the airplane comic right so so that's crazy so I want to talk about after you landed what if anything happened as far as the debrief but it might be worth mentioning that the USS Princeton is what we call an Aegis Cruiser and correct me if I'm wrong but that technology is probably about as good as it gets for detecting and tracking air contacts isn't that true yeah it's it's it's one of the most sophisticated if not the most sophisticated radar in the world and with that whole system I mean I think it was a spy 1d at that time there there beyond it it's just incredible technology that we possessed right I mean they can track incoming ballistic missiles and target them with other missiles which is a miracle on its own right but and then also you said it was occurring for the two weeks prior to that was there other than nuts is encounter after the event of yours was there any more that you're aware of in the knows or weeks that followed not that I know of now you know supposedly the the ships had seen stuff and then when we came back off that at sea period he said we got back you know right before Christmas January I'm we have Comcast you know so I'd had the Comcast homepage and the the top video of the year and for the 2004 year which came out in January 2005 for Comcast videos there was the Mexican Air Force tracking like six of these things with a FLIR in the same area hmm so it wasn't just us I think we're the only ones because there was a lot of people that you know hey we had radar contact on something odd

you know we saw FLIR video of stuff in the distance but I don't think anyone else has actually visually chased the thing like we did okay that was that's why it's unique so when you land it as we usually do you probably run down a Civic combat I don't remember what it's called anymore but carrier Intelligence Center okay thank you and you're probably talking about it and I mean I'm just curious so the Air Wing Commander or ships command or anyone come in and ask you about it or okay this is this is the this is where it gets at first we thought okay this is this is kinda odd we've got something that we have we can't control we can't you know for the performance of it you know anything that hovers like that does not accelerate like you know and you've seen you know I've seen airplanes doing 1.8 going by me doing the high fast like a Top Gun where guys are you know you just see the cons coming but to see something that literally accelerates because even if you go to Mach 2 think of a rocket that takes off you watch it and those things accelerate relatively quickly watch them for a significant period of time this thing literally disappeared in a matter of you know less than a second it was in front of me and it was gone so we think oh yeah someone's gonna come and talk to us so we we had the tapes the my back seater went down because he was junior he did the debrief in civic you know when you got to tell him would you do well he chased this thing we have no idea what it was and then of course they're laughing because they think it's funny mm-hmm and he comes back to the ready room and there's some other stuff that went on so we're like okay maybe someone's gonna come and next thing you know the Intel guy comes down to say we want to we need your tapes you know they're gonna

problem was it wasn't a big deal because we figured out there was they thought it was a big funny joke that they would do this

so I remember going down there and I told I told my I told Dell I said I'll be back but I'm gonna go get those tapes Dell was your ex oh yeah and I went into the I went into Civic and I said hey I need my tapes and they're just looking mean I said I'll tell you what you got about two minutes to give me those tapes or I'm going to tear this place apart there's not a damn thing you're gonna do about it and the lieutenant that was in there and I said you can get your boss if you want because I'll have the same talk with him and within about 30 seconds I had the tapes in my hand and we took those back to the ready room because they're actually our property right and the classified equipment so we we copied them believe it or not because we use those tapes again so we copied them and we wrapped him up and and stuffed them in the safe they were gonna they were wrapped on PC yellow paper said for CEO and they stayed there we came back from crews they were in the ready room safe and then somehow they disappeared no one knows where they went and I don't know if it was you know it's been several CEOs since then you know probably about eight different CEOs so no one knows where they went you know how it is when you co 2 and from crews some of those what are these hey they look like blank 8 mil tapes hey we'll just use them because it's consumable so no one knows where those tapes actually went did you end up with a copy of anything I did not actually the guy that was in my back seat had sent me I was working I had retired in about 2008 he had sent me a link to a website which is you know I would say not suitable for work but he sent it to me and it was on there he and it was hey skipper does this look familiar and I'm like holy shit that's the FLIR video that we had taken it then it ended up on YouTube and it was on YouTube for quite some time and then it disappeared so you go well how how did people actually find out about this because it was never reported well what had happened is I was working and I had met some people and and sheikhs had called me at the same time and says hey we're doing some stuff and we have a customer that likes to investigate stuff like this can we do it and I said yeah yeah yeah and I had had another friend that I had talked to and said hey because of the phone call that was prompted by cheeks

I was talking to her and I said hey I had this incident you know is there anything he can find out she said let me see didn't think anything of it and about a month later I had got a call from a guy and said hey we're gonna and we're gonna investigate this thing so they actually did there was a report that just got released that Harry Reid released the former senator from Nevada mm-hmm which was actually I like to call it the unofficial official report because it wasn't an official report it was just done to be to try and capture some of this - I look at his more as exercising the system I don't know what the whole purpose was so they did it and that became the unofficial official report it's actually pretty well done there are a few inaccuracies in it because you know it's a lot of people's story and it's at the time it was five years after the event so people start forgetting stuttering and I'm not saying that my recall is perfect but I used to have pretty pretty good recall just from training and you know teaching BFM for so long so you know the report came out and and I think that's what helped prompt a bunch of the stuff and then and then since last year when the article hit you know that they're trying to prove that this stuff is out there it just went completely out of control so you said a moment ago clear video did you mean from nuts the second wave or did you guys get full wheat we did not get any FLIR video nuts went out and took it and he did when he if you look at the video when he watches cuz everyone there's all kinds of naysayers out there out it's a blemish on the array he goes between multiple sensor modes he's a neo IR which is TV black-and-white TV and then he uses IR which is infrared right or he and he intentionally goes all through the zoom lenses narrow medium wide you know and you see that happen you know he does an auto track on it which is the bars on the side and on all of a sudden it breaks and goes zooming off to the other side so there's just for us it's like you know we saw it when he brought the video back we're like oh that's it I mean and when you you know we could see the high-res because it was the original tape right off the the airplane which is digitally pulled from the back it's not like through cameras or anything like that so for all the internet experts out there you know don't talk about what you really don't know just because you heard it from a friend's cousins friend's sister a college roommate you know doesn't make it real that's right so skipper I ended up flying most of my 25 years accrued

3,800 flight hours I know many people with similar amount hours you probably have what several thousand 3,800 3,800 and apart from November 14 2004 I'm sure you would say the same thing I have and people have asked me since I began this show I have never seen anything in the air that I could not identify what do you feel based on your experience and having spoken to the other people that were there that day what did you see we have no idea what it was you know there was unidentifiable yeah we have no there's there's nothing I had seen nothing in 18 years and at the point it was 16 years of flying so I was at about 3,600 hours and I never got out of the cockpit as you know I didn't go to the Pentagon or anything like that we saw it and literally we're all looking at each other and I'm talking to the guy in my back seat and I'm just like dude I have I have no idea what that was and I had I'd been around the block so it wasn't you know I wasn't the new person like right out of the the rag that just got in the jet and went oh my god I saw something like now as a weather balloon you know because we would see people do that you know and you're like when we would go and practice bombing down by like Yuma and you'd be on the downwind away from the target they have the balloons the border balloons yeah that are in the restricted and people would see and go hey you got a contact and you got to tell them no that's actually just a balloon it's on the tether it's all day long so stuff like that sure but to see something that could go from a hover with no rotor wash no wing there's no discernible propulsion and you can see that on the IR there's no plume coming out of it it's just sitting there in space and then to back that up with the coverage of what the radar was seeing we don't have at least in modern reactive propulsion you know suckers and blowers jet engines we don't have the ability to react that quick and counter drag I mean this thing move through the atmosphere like it just did like it there was no constraints on it it just did whatever it wanted to do so that was the biggest deal which is funny because the other pilot had a different you know the other pot was relatively new and so as they're going out there the initial thing is when they cancel it you go real world and you're off the coast of Mexico what do you think drug runners right right hey there's there's somebody there's an object out there we got to go check it out well when you get out to the area and you look down and all sudden it looks like there's something in the water you know that's that's causing this disturbance under the water now it goes from excitement to search-and-rescue you know are we gonna have to do this and then the next one is you see something that you've never seen and you can probably hear it in our voice you know the experienced people in the airplane you know that are out there and it goes to you know what is that you know we haven't been told we had no idea what we were going at no one ever gave us this no one told us there was no brief as you know there was no Civic brief said hey we've seen these objects out there like kind of that you had on the other video that came out it was the gimbal video or it rolls that had been on the East Coast there's actually NOTAMs out there that these objects were out there and just to know they're out there because one of the airplanes in a squadron almost hit one

I think he's ghost yeah I went about like a hundred feet down the side they were in section and it went down the side and they just came back and said it looks like a ball with a cube inside of it it's how you it's like almost like a square that has an aura around it so at what point do you go and maybe we ought to check this out because someone goes well maybe it's a test maybe it's some maybe it's some test of a new system that no one wants them to know and I said well that's great but they typically don't go test new systems where we're actually doing training with other aircraft because if this is some really expensive toy that you're playing with out there and it gets hit by a fighter well when you lose the fighter possibly kill the aircrew and to your toy is destroyed right so you know normally they do those in areas where you know they'll take it out to one of the ranges like Fallon or something like that and they'll just you know they'll have exclusive use of the restricted areas you know but taking one to the warning area which is not a restricted area and allow you know because a warning area anyone can fly through that you can take a Cessna and go fly through it all it is is no military training in this area you know you know proceed at your own caution sure well maybe the idea was that being out in the middle of the ocean they would be away from any prying eyes which even over Fallon arguably you've got highway 50 and some other stuff where people could catch a glimpse if you really didn't want anyone to see it and maybe they just didn't you know check who else was going to be operating in that area at the time and you know how it is with government it's hard enough to coronate anything let alone between secretive programs but I guess I'm just amazed to hear that there's something on the East Coast as well I mean why do you think this isn't more publicly spoken we society loves movies and conspiracy theories I'm surprised that this isn't getting more press you know I my opinion and it's not just my opinion Lu who did the ran the Pentagon program who and I have talked extensively about this it's just there's an or in the United States that when you see something like this you know normally the dude on TV that's talking about it I just saw UFO he lives out in the middle of nowhere and and you did immediately people discredit him you know he's he's an alcoholic or you know he's kind of crazy or this or that so there's always this perception that it's better just to make fun of it because if it's not real or we just ignore it then it'll just go away and it's not a big deal and and I think now there's a point of because you don't know where it's from I mean I don't know if it was from China or Russia and I always joked because you know right after we had that workup I think it was Akane was out there working up when a the sub surfaced in the wake and the whole world was like he was a big deal you know and I said I guess maybe if the tic-tac would have had like you know a symbol from a foreign country on it and we saw it then it would have been got paid more serious attention and there's a technology out there that we can't do much about because these things were coming for two weeks that will and even if you go what were they doing monitoring watching observing prepping the battlefield you know you don't know what they're doing all right but if you look at it and go and for two weeks these things were showing up they were coming from areas that we can't do and then all of a sudden they're disappearing you might want to spend a little time to go god what what is that what performance she's got just what performance would it cost to you to be able to do that right

I mean we're happy right now that SpaceX can land a rocket motor back on a pad well if you had that technology that we saw would you really need you know make everything like that obsolete it would make almost every propulsion mechanism we have obsolete so based on that in your gut where do you think this thing came from I don't think honestly I don't I don't believe that the technology was developed here and I mean like earth and this planet no I don't want it I don't like to talk about aliens cuz I don't know what it was you don't even know what maybe it was unmanned I don't know because there's also the theories that accelerated so fast that a normal human you know a body system with force but I just don't I don't think I think honestly if we had that technology especially now that it's been 14 years since it happened honestly if we had that technology in the last fourteen years something with a leaked out I just to hide that for that long what it could benefit so many people my mom you know or maybe it wouldn't you know I don't know but if you assume that they've got some revolutionary new propulsion that

well so is I would argue assuming that and I'm not challenging you on this but you know you saw what you saw I didn't but I have to think seeing something that you can only explain is coming from somewhere else I mean does that change your core belief in our existence and the universe I mean what does that do to you well for me I've always kind of believed and I asked my astrophysics prof when I was at the academy we were going up to the thing and I said hey you're astrophysics right she said yeah I said you believe in like extraterrestrial life you know not from this planet and she looked at me and she said absolutely not and I said really and you're an astrophysicist yeah I said but we're to this point where the universe is infinite it goes on forever right and you know we have one galaxy but we know for a fact that there's more galaxies out there and that there's they're investigating the Goldilocks belts and all this and that's this is multiple galaxies we still haven't even really thoroughly looked at our own galaxy and we're the only ones that's honestly what you believe and she said yes it doesn't make it really like lonely did I mean even even if there was like you know kind of Seinfeld the bizarro world you know or maybe there's a whole nother world it's just like us but we're kind of the opposite so we are in real life yeah I do that in humor but just just because it makes it easier to talk about but you go and that's it I go I don't know I go because I would say because if you know if you're religious and you go hey God created the earth and I go okay I'm totally on board that because that's what I believe but who's to say that he only created one that's right argue that point

I mean God created Earth but what about maybe he made ten of them just to see and he made them a little bit different just to see what happened you know right and they all have their own version of the Bible well you're right and we we have a hubris about our own selves you know as human beings that we are it we're all that we're the smartest were the best you know it would be terrible for us to realize that maybe we weren't you know we do that with animals we figure out that you know some of these animals that are out there the more we study there are actually really really intelligent right and can do some pretty amazing things that we can't yeah and we could never do so well it's a it's a very deep topic and certainly I didn't intend to go there but I appreciate you bringing it up I will tell you I have a college friend who was on one of the last space shuttle flights before it retired and I visited her as I was delivering an airplane across the country in my last capacity at the Depot and I asked her about her space flight I said because she had grown up in the church as well and and I said does that change your outlook on anything and she took it from a slightly different nuanced perspective than apparently you're your professor did she said when you consider like you said the amount of galaxies and the Goldilocks belts and everything else that that's out there but if you just think statistically it's almost impossible that there's not other life or something because if you flip a coin a hundred times it's virtually impossible that you're not going to get ahead at least once now multiply that I mean that's obviously a poor example I'm sure mathematicians will holler at me but you flip it a thousand times a million times and there's how many billions and trillions of galaxies so I'm not using this podcast as a platform to suggest that you know we're going to sit here and tell our listeners that we think there's life outside of the earth but you know certainly Hollywood likes to venture into that and here you are a very clear-eyed sober publicly trained person who knows what you know from that day and it has left you to believe that there's no other explanation I mean is that a fair summary Oh Mary much you know there's a funny story that I said I'm gonna throw it out here get my mother-in-law kudos but four years literally from one time I started flying my mother-in-law had asked me have you ever seen UFO have you ever seen UFO yeah no no no

last year my wife and I had went home and everyone had kind of left after Thanksgiving and were sitting around the table and I said hey I said I got to tell you guys something cuz there's gonna be an article that comes out in the New York Times and it's gonna be big and I'm in it and they're like of course she's looking at me like oh god what did you do and I said I said I chased a UFO that's literally what I would say and they go and she goes hi she looks at my father I goes hi I told you she goes you never told us I said no a matter of fact when the article hit my sister you know because it was all over Google my sisters like why why didn't she ever tell us I said I'm it's not something we normally talked about I never really got into details with my wife or my kids they kind of knew the story cuz they mean hear me tell it but it was really just like I said it was a great story when you're hanging out with your friends having a beer what's the weirdest thing you saw and you tell him and then he go yeah that's that's really what it was until the article came out how have people responded to you I know you said you had people your friends and Here I am chasing you down for that matter but have you had wackos trying to find you you're like okay I've been trying to say this forever I maybe shouldn't call them wackos let me ask this again I mean have you had people that you have somehow now solidified in their minds what they've known all along and so they're looking for you to help corroborate that UFOs are among us or or aliens or I mean what kind of responses have you received you know because you think all right you're gonna get called a whack job and there was some good advice my daughter gave me don't ever read the comments below the article don't ever do that and so I've avoided that most of the time but for the most part I've been treated extremely well the press guys that have talked to me because I've been very vocal that you know as I told them when they first came out with stuff that when they did the new york times i told helene because she actually did the story of me i said don't mess up the facts I'll be really upset because it gets twisted right and so the articles that were well done that I can just name right off the top of my head are the New York Times The Washington Post article was very well done because Eli had called me multiple times there was an article in the sun-times in London that was extremely well done and most of that is it wasn't a drive-by like 15 minute type article it was a there was an iteration as they wrote the article and then a to make sure that they had a try

so that stuff you know that helps because if you take there's a lot of people out there that'll look and they'll look at all the articles and they'll find one thing and I'll assume that you know maybe you're changing your you know you guys are changing your story and it's not it's just a misinterpretation by the media when they do it it's not intentional it's just it's the way they write it and I'm a big you know don't embellish stuff just just tell it what it is the story if you talk to us the story is the same it's always been the same it hasn't changed it's the same story that we told in 2004 after it happened - the same story that went into the New York Times are there people out there that have tried to track me down oh yeah I'm thinking of like the independence day character Dennis Quaid it was a very quaint Randy Quaid thank you who maybe would be a real-life guy like that perhaps trying to find you to pile up with you or something I mean anything like that um no some of that happened with the carrier documentary this one has been I've gotten letters from literally all around the world I mean this thing's global I just did I'm waiting for the magazine to show up but I did an interview for I can't pronounce it because it's that it's basically the Dutch version of GQ magazine the article just hit we're not going to see a picture of you and your underwear are we so it's I mean it's literally all over but it's funny is because the media has a very short attention span so would have happened it was like exponential or move out of control yeah the news dies really fast the old news goes away then then rolls in the the documentary people and the TV people like right now I've gone rolling around like four different TV shows because they don't want to interview me because it's important and I did one with Lou is doing a set with to the stars on this whole thing that one I like because the girl that's doing it did chain-of-command which was on the History Channel where they actually went around with the generals okay and what really sold me believe it or not with her is Jesse had we were talking and she goes oh yeah I was out on the bush well you know skids was the captain of the bush and and Kenny was the battle group commander when they were doing all the Isis work so I wrote Kenny and I said hey you know these people were out on the boat with you you know what can you say about you know Jesse and he basically wrote back and said you know really good group very professional did a nice job so that's important to me because that's a that's an instant credibility you know if I talked to you know if Kenny tells me hey they're good they're good Dave and I don't I don't need to ask anyone else you know cuz that's you know if I get it from a source like that like if I call you up and go hey are these good people and you go yeah there you can trust them they're good I don't need to call anyone else I don't need to go do research your word is more than enough for me to go it's you know how the network works I know so you know when that came out I said okay and they asked me to do it we'll see how it comes out all right well sounds like you're going to be very busy with some various projects I do want to thank you for adding in the fighter-pilot podcast your a list of projects for explaining not easy guys like you it's well it's good to see each other again it's been probably almost as many years as when we were on that deployment yeah but what does the future hold for you I mean you've got a great gig going here in southern New Hampshire and got a beautiful house and families all doing well what's what's the future hold honestly you know as I tell my wife my next job is retirement yeah I'm a big family so you know sherry and I have been married for thirty years mostly because Sherry's awesome and she puts up with you you know and then obviously my daughter just got married in June both of my kids are in med school so that's my future I mean you know hanging out you know got a lot of friends but to me you know you know friends and family are the most important sure and there's we want to travel around like we lived in Houston you know we definitely want to go back down there and see our friends down there we'd like to get back to California so it's just you know yeah what do you do well so I think we earlier added it up you're up to about 45 minutes of fame it's gonna be probably closer to two hours here sex when you get done with the documentaries and everything you'll be doing but any thought of going out on the speaking circuit or you know it's funny you say that I've been asked about I've been told to you know get on the public circuit

I am you know like the spotlight no you know it gets old really really fast because you realize that there's you know 99% of the people are awesome

it's the 1% that wants to pry and get into your life that just you know and I am NOT I would be say I'm far from famous I've just you know I like to joke that I'm more like Forrest Gump that just happens to get put in situations that's like not like how that guy end up there yeah you know it was bad enough because carrier came out no I was never intended to be in that movie ever you know it just happened that they were filming two of the pilots in our squadron and a bunch of the troops right so I had to work with Pam like nightly to talk to her you know it was never my intent matter of fact my neighbor who was the Ojo on the carrier was actually one of the key players and when the thing actually hit the street he had a very minor role in it but he's in it and I end up in like seven of the episodes and you know an IMDB credit and conjoins sag and I'm like you know and I was in Hollywood with a friend of mine and I've ever been out you know like Beverly Hills in Hollywood go in someplace everyone looks because I got to kind of check out who's coming in and don't give you a second of do I know this person or not it's exactly and what can he do for me all right so I've walked in a bar to meet my buddy from college and and and everyone you know does the ER and their heads turn and then they go back and I go what is up with this man I don't get he goes because you know the sad part is Davy goes this you have what they wanted what do you mean I have what they want he goes you have screen time that's what they want they want to be on TV they want that recognition he goes and you have it and you just don't care

I go honestly I don't if that whole thing just got erased and went away I would be more than happy I think my entire family would be more than happy it was a well done I think you know there's a lot of people that don't agree but you've seen it I think it was a pretty realistic depiction of what life on a carrier really is mm-hmm and it wasn't all as Pam we used to say boys and their toys of guys flying off the deck but you actually got to see what was going on on the other side but yeah it was never I was never supposed to be in that thing it was never intended I found out afterwards I had no intention when they filmed that they would interview me because they would talk about stuff and then when it all comes out they go oh you're one of the major characters and I'm like because it came out three years after Cruz I'm like one of the major characters I go yeah yeah you're in there my god well if you had any more ambition to be in the public eye you would certainly have the various venues to get there so hey you lead the life that makes you satisfied and if that means being here and doing your thing quietly that's that's good by us I'm yeah I'm pretty simple like you know I like to go up to the lake and stand on the shore and fish there you go you know we hike a lot that's just you know I have a good life you know God has blessed me I haven't I have no complaints you know it's probably way better than I probably ever deserved if you really want the truth but you know it's it is what it is and then you know these things are they pop up so sure you know if it if people want to talk about it I'll talk about it I'm pretty open but you know I just I asked for that you know when they do these don't don't prod me cuz people will find you like I had notes in my mailbox oh gosh how so stalkers hum yes and and we can talk we can talk later about some others okay we'll cut tape here in a second but the last question before we let you go as always here on the show is how did you get your callsign so I think this one sounds like a play on names but give us the quick background on David sex flavor if you would please so actually the true story is Kingsville going on weapons net there's a marine captain neck Rallo if they were naming us all the students and he said sexual sexual favor get it and everyone thought it was funny so we've actually started off as sexual and then memory used to use your call side when you checked into flight so I was leading as a student you get to lead weapons hops at least in Kings what he did huh so I was leading a hop and I had the Commodore which is actually how I got my orders changed from s3s to a sixes okay was flying with us and he said you can't use sexual it's too many so uh so I changed it to sex it got shortened to sex so it was the sex flight check-in 1 2 3 4 because at that time you know it wasn't politically incorrect to say the word sex and normally you know how did you go to your fleet squadron get a new one

friend vet goes his real cost side you don't pick me yeah yeah he goes he's real callsign is sex and and and you know and it's kind of tough to top and then you know now you can't even have that callsign yeah you know all call signs are scrutinized which is you know it was never bad it never had a you know it's not there was nothing bad it was just tied to my last name right you know you know so I was suggested I suppose but I remember on that carrier deployment I want to say was o5u had already mentioned Chad Underwood we name dropped him on episode two with Ferg when we talked about call signs didn't you guys have to change his callsign that was painted on the jet from nuts because nuts Underwood to like stun or something yeah yeah we actually did I had it on in matter-of-fact years on when I was at 122 as an instructor mmm it was they used that ink to put it on so it wasn't just paint you could actually erase it that goofy erasers I could take it off and my buddy term had called me from the east coast it was right after Brian Cooney callsign Lingus did the press and it went to chin phone oh that's when the callsign police came out okay and I literally got a call going dude if your names on a jet get it off right now cuz Admiral Vice Admiral own was on the you know he was out he was mad right and then we had the whole dog balls on the witch hunt yeah yeah so there's some good ones out there so but most of them were you know you either got it for your name or you got it because you did something stupid you know like Boff and our squadron was blew off first flight because that's how he got it didn't show up he was fine with me ball flew off for flight sighs they're always kind of funny that's why we did it as episode two everybody wants to know about call signs for myung it was that was it okay alright sex well thank you skipper for allowing the time for me to come and join you in your beautiful home here and speak about this episode I know the listeners will find it fascinating I certainly learned a lot I want to thank you for your how many years of service 24 total 24 between the Marine Corps and the Navy thank you for your service and thanks for your time today unless you got any parting shots I think we can wrap this up

I don't man it was great seeing you as well thank you no for stopping by you bet alright let's get out of here bye

I'd like to thank commander flavor again for taking the time and opening his home to conduct that interview greatly appreciated that and for you dear listener I leave this open I don't know what to tell you prior to this interview I would have told you there is no such thing as UFOs or extraterrestrial activity here in our atmosphere but after listening to command a favor story and I was even on the ship that day I don't remember why I didn't get more involved with it but after looking him in the eye and hearing his explanation as you just did I don't know what to think so I'll leave it up to you could be from somewhere else it could be from another government or maybe our own there was one thing though I wanted to explain further and that was when he mentioned the sub surfacing in the Connie's wake that was an Oscar class submarine from the Russian Navy that surfaced behind the USS Constellation in workups just off the west coast so you never know what you may find on workups apparently also some acronyms that we did not explain fully a tip that is the advanced aerospace threat ID program a pentagon program to look into UFOs NOTAMs are notices to Airmen those are just updates that you can check Airport navigational and other informational type updates for pilots that is the ordnance handling officer a high-ranking ordnance 'men on the carrier and then of course FOIA is the Freedom of Information Act we will include these acronyms on the glossary page of our website just as we do for all the new terms we learn every new episode well I want to remind everyone the views expressed in this presentation are the personal views of myself and my guests and you not necessarily represent the position of the Department of Defense or its components I want to thank you for tuning in to the fighter pilot podcast we'll see you back here next time hopefully with sunshine and until then you take it easy see ya all right well i just want to welcome everyone who is listening to this because today i'm here with some very special guests who have just caused a bit of a media sensation for the ufo subject so for some time now the rumor mill has been churning within the ufo community regarding an apparent investigation and plans for a subsequent article by the new york times regarding ufo crash retrievals programs and more now this is something that a few of us have been directly aware of in relation to the investigatory efforts of the two new new york times journalists we are going to hear from both of these individuals regarding their investigation and subsequent publication of their latest article that touches on the idea of ufo crash retrieval programs hidden within the us government or within private contract to world of aerospace and defense after being aware of this investigation ever since these individuals reached out to my lawyer michael hall earlier this year it is a great relief to myself to be able to speak transparently on this topic with the two journalists responsible for bringing this information into the mainstream and so it is with the greatest pleasures that i welcome both leslie kane and ralph blumenthal onto the channel leslie ralph how are you great jay thank you great to be with you jay thanks for having us on well i want to thank you both for coming on and taking the time to speak with me since we are at the beginning of this discussion my first question for both of you would be how long ago did you start this investigation can you give us a date at all and has it been a tough nut to crack so to speak well when you say this event investigation you mean specifically for this article because there are we've done a series and they're all kind of connected they kind of flow from one to the next so as you know our first story was in 2017 of december so i don't know if that's what you mean or if you're talking about this specific article but i was going to say we should leave some time to discuss the origins of our collaboration because that's it really is crucial to the discussion uh it does go back to um 2017 which shows you how long you know things can take but the first story which did prove a great sensation that the pentagon had a ufo investigation unit despite uh claims to the contrary over the years that really goes back um three years so you know we can talk about two different time uh you know periods the original story which led to the story that we produced this week um and then uh the actual story this week which as leslie said goes back a few months well i think um that will probably be the most sensible place to start

so if either of you want to try and uh give us a bit of a backtrack on how this all started beginning with the initial publications yeah i can start with that because um the way it all started was you know i as you know i've been reporting on ufos and now it's been about 20 years that i've been reporting on ufos and i wrote a book about it so i had a lot of contacts uh in the ufo world and um in october of 2017 which was when luis elizondo the head of the pentagon program resigned literally the day he was resigned i was invited to washington to meet with him i was invited by a few of his colleagues there were four people at the meeting and as we've reported on before um that's how it all began i was i spent maybe three hours there in a hotel with this group of people i met elizondo for the first time and was shown uh extraordinary information i mean i had no idea there even was a program and here i was sitting in front of the director and was shown you know his his background papers were shown the videos were shown a bunch of other documents and since you know ones that we've since reported on but at the time i wasn't allowed to take anything with me it was just like they were showing it all to me and then i came back and and got ralph involved right away because ralph has worked at the new york times for a long long time and he's a link to the new york times he's a reporter for the new york times i had never done anything for the times at that point so i brought the story to ralph and we had a meeting uh with uh the head of the investigations i think he was ahead of a a journalist mark mazzetti from the washington bureau who does investigations and we just pushed this you know uh pitched the story to the times and they said let's go for it and that's how it all started i don't know if ralph you want to add anything to it you gave a good account leslie when um i i know leslie for many years and when she told me that she had been at this meeting in washington with uh louis elizondo and the others uh it sounded like a sensational story that the pentagon had a secret uh ufo unit so um i called um or i emailed dean bekey who was the executive editor of the times now i have i had left the times as a staff member in 2009 after 45 years so i still had my contacts there so uh dean to his credit uh did recognize that this was a story not in the mainstream of times coverage but it was a you know a unique opportunity to really break through to something extraordinary and he put us in touch as leslie said with mark mazzetti who was up from washington we met in the new york times cafeteria and we already had a lot of documentation and laid this out and the pitch was um which i'm really still quite proud of that everything was on the record we were not going to use any anonymous sources uh you know there was no uh i mean it was complete transparency we had the the documentation we had people speaking to us on the record with use of their names so that was not going to be an issue so that's how how it all began so i mean that's fascinating and i think we've all seen the shift take place since 2017 anyone that's been plugged into the community in terms of ufo research has noticed a fundamental shift from the you know the articles yourselves have have written to the tudor stars academy revelations and this actually leads into something i was going to say that despite the shifting social climate regarding ufos with the creation of tsa the admittance of the pentagon's or sap or a-tip program the navy and pentagon's confirmatory statements in relation to the three recordings of ufos by navy pilots as well as the recent bill the transparency on classified ufo data proposed by senator marco rubio despite all this apparent headway i can imagine that any story taking seriously the possibility of extraterrestrial craft or reverse engineering programs is a huge decision for a newspaper with the reputation of the new york times so i'm just wondering how hard it's been to get this into the paper well um you know the original story was not that hard to get into the paper

once we met with the right people um laid out as i said the documentation we had um i mean it did go through a lot of editing and i wrote a piece actually for the new york times uh you know sort of discussing what it takes to get a story on a controversial subject like this into the new york times i think i said how do you get a story on ufos in the new york times with great difficulty um but to their you know in all fairness uh they needed to ask the tough questions um and uh so it went through rigorous editing but um but every big story i mean i've worked on a lot of investigative stories for the new york times over 45 years and every big story goes through arduous editing um and this was part of the process would you say i'd like to add can i add to that that i think you know i think jay there's been a progression like ralph said the first story was just so clear because we had so much information and it was such an obvious great story for the times and i think we then did the one in may of 2019 about the sightings off the uss roosevelt and then we did the one after that about the freedom of information act uh documents that came out backing up those sightings so there's been sort of a progression and i feel that now uh discussions of crash retrievals are sort of the next step forward and i think that if we had tried to do this any time earlier it would not have been possible really i think there's been this build up to it and i also think it is probably the most difficult and i think ralph would agree with me the most difficult topic to get out into the times because for all the reasons that you can imagine because of its controversy and because the information about it is classified and so there's only so much that we can bring forward and that makes it particularly difficult to report on that topic as well as it being so sensational so it's been it's been a journey with the new york times to do this and i i take my hat off to them for for for going along with it i mean this is an explosive topic and we're very fortunate that the new york times is report is allowing this to be reported on i think they're absolutely incredible to do it you know and also we've got to remember that with our earlier stories we were able to uh obtain um uh really released uh copies of the videos navy videos of these you know close encounters uh so there was something to to hang our hats on that readers could see actual evidence of um of encounters with something we don't know what but those videos by the way are still the most watched the most emailed the most facebooked um images that the times you know has ever put up uh they they just there's no end to the appetite for the of the public to see those images and they're up there now on the times web page well in this case we didn't have that for the reasons leslie said the uh you know crash retrievals is a classified subject we couldn't produce materials that were supposedly recovered we couldn't produce pictures of crashed vehicles uh all that stuff so we were that was a big handicap this time well this kind of segues a little bit into um what i wanted to ask next because i i agree with you that it's obviously it was a progression it is a progression and disclosure in my opinion is is a gradual progression anyway and i think it was louise elizondo that said it's already happened it's just you know a process of unfolding now but um were you aware of allegations regarding ufo crash retrieval programs when you ran the december 27 story um or the following story in 2019 and if you were can you speak on what was holding you back from running a story such as this at the time i mean i can say that i've been aware of these kinds of topics for many years because i've been covering this topic for so long and i and some of the sources in our story i've i've worked with them for a long time so i've had it in the background of my you know my framework on the ufo issue for many years but i have never felt that it was ever something i could report on and i think you know that's an indication of how far we've come since the 2017 story that it's even conceivable now that we can discuss this in the new york times so it's not like it's anything brand new but it's something new in terms of being able to report on it now and i i think that's a a real statement about how things have changed i agree i mean the closest we came in in 2017 was uh in that story in december um we did report that uh robert bigelow uh who uh was a contractor on the program and was close to harry reid who got the money for the program uh built a warehouse uh to hold uh retrieved materials that was in the story um that's as far as we got uh that's as much as we could find out at the time now we've since learned that no materials were provided they never were put into the warehouse but we were able to touch on it but as leslie said we did not know details and it is a progression so we built on the earlier stories and now we got to the point where we can bring up the subject and report what you know the fragments that are possible to report and the other thing is jay the sources that we have would not have been willing to say years ago what they're willing to say now i mean they too are are aware of the progression they too are gradually opening up and they they're affected by the steps that have been taken such as the senate report coming out you know requesting that information be provided to the to the intelligence committee etc i mean our sources would not have said what they're saying now two years ago three years ago and and you know the growing uh willingness of the navy to be responsive you know they put out new ground rules uh actually inviting reports from pilots they changed their you know procedures to ask pilots to come forward and said that they would take the report seriously so all that i guess served as a signal that there was a greater receptiveness uh within the pentagon to this issue we've kind of already covered what i was asked next but i'll say it anyway just in case there's anything else we can glean out of it so has the new york times you feel been supportive of your current story and previous publications that have covered the ufo issue and do you also feel that there is an appetite for this topic within mainstream media and the public or is there still in your opinion a bit too much stigma well let me jump in on that packed in there the new york times has definitely been supportive because they took on a very difficult editing job um the story as i said went through you know a lot of different permutations we had a lot of information as often happens in investigative stories you know reporters come up with a lot more information then they can eventually document satisfaction of editors um you know things shift as you work on a story and the times stayed with us through this whole process i mean they easily could have said you know guys this is too complicated uh it's too controversial we're spending too much time on this uh let's let's forget it um but uh on the contrary they really stuck with it and you know we we did go back and forth on a number of things but it was always with their their commitment to getting the story in the paper because of the tremendous receptivity that these stories produce i don't think there's an issue like ufos that get readers going in terms of reaction nothing close um so you know that's that's one part of the question and then you know leslie can answer the other part about you know the mainstream media and i don't know how you want to reframe that but uh let's take it step by step yeah jay you asked about are you saying the question was about is there an interest on in the mainstream media on this about the topic is that what you were asking you know to actually reread it i'll say do you feel there was an appetite for the topic within mainstream media and the public or do you feel there is still in your opinion a bit too much of a stigma i mean i mean obviously there's a huge appetite among the public i mean look at the response to the stories we've done so i would say yes to that in a big way and i think um i think there's interest all over the media because every time the new york times does a story it gets picked up everywhere and i think you know most media don't have investigative reporter reporters like us who spend months and months and months digging into things and then have a story for them the new york times is kind of taking the lead on this and then the other media follow but i i think it's important that we are with the new york times because of the importance and the stature that they have as being you know a very credible media outlet and they're so rigorous in their editing that you can trust what comes out in the new york times um i also want to just add what ralph said the editing process one of the reasons it's long and complicated is because there are multiple editors we don't just have one editor there are many editors within the uh times that have to sign off on an article that weigh in on it and so even you know the the point being that we we have a lot more information as all journalists do uh than what what was in that story but because of space issues and because of all the editors that weighed into it a lot of other considerations this is how the story came out uh and we're we're happy with it we think that um it's better to move in steps it's better to move in stages and do you know we'll do one thing at a time and then we'll do another one and another one and it will gradually build let me also amplify on that the process that i witnessed in all my years at the new york times which i'm not saying it's unique to the new york times but it is um kind of a specialty at the times the way it works is you submit your story to an editor um and he or she uh will go over the piece and maybe suggest changes and then at some point when the story is in some kind of shape it goes to another circle of editors editor or editors plural who have no uh familiarity with the story they're not clued in they're not told in advance what to expect and they read it with fresh eyes um and they suggest changes and it goes up up the ladder through and sometimes an infinitude of of levels and ultimately to the executive editor who's dean beckham um who again reads it with fresh eyes not having been told in advance this is what the goal goals of the story are this is you know what they were able to do this is what they couldn't find out he or she in this case he um reads the story afresh and comes up with his own questions and often um and this is kind of a long-running joke at the new york times that after the story is in complete shape and been edited to death um you'll get a question the masthead probably meaning dean beckham has another question so um that is a strength ultimately because every possible question by editors uh still things look it's not perfect the things you know fall through the cracks and there are there are you know corrections in the new york times and um but it is a wonderful process that smaller publications cannot afford but the times has made a specialty of it um it's just a rigorous rigorous process and i think it helps their credibility people know that by the time a story appears in print it has gone through these steps and been vetted and that's also the reason that it takes such a long time for us to do a story i mean i think uh there was all this uh sort of frenzy that built up on the internet about this story and you know when is it coming out when is it coming out every story you do for the new york times especially on a topic like this takes a long time because of that editing process and also because the editors have many other stories that they're working on at the same time so sometimes we we just spend time waiting we wait for the next step to take place or for the next round of edits so it is a very long process just think of the the timing on the story it's coming out at a time when you know the country and the world are consumed by you know the coronavirus uh protests black lives matter so it's not like you know nothing else is going on uh quite the contrary this story sort of elbowed its way in um having really no context into what else is going on today so um and i want to say something else that leslie that you raised jay and that leslie mentioned the frenzy on the internet with this story i just want to say it does not help if you're out there as a new york times reporter trying to put together a story um to find this traffic back and forth about you know giving away snippets of your story that maybe your sources you know were able to impart to somebody else or uh little leaks of things that make your life more difficult for people who supposedly are concerned about getting the truth out it really gets in the way and it really it it annoyed us to no end um to have to worry about not only nailing down the facts of the story but you know keeping it watching our backs because um people were sniping at our heels and they're going to do this they're going to do that and speculation often based on absolutely no information whatsoever this is what they're going to talk about this is what the times is going to do and it really is a very infantile environment to be working in for a serious subject so i would you know urge people in this field who seem to or say they have the interest of you know getting at the truth at heart to to give reporters a little slack when they're serious reporters when they're looking into something because it it definitely got in the way no i can sympathize with that because obviously you know some of these things take an extremely long process and um revealing key bits of information halfway through that process can dismantle the entire thing um so i i completely agree with that so i think i mean we basically don't want any other me you know we don't want competing media to even know we're working on a story at all period you know and um let alone you know have people talk about what they think the story is going to be about the other problem is that there's such a build up of expectation that then some people when it comes out expressed disappointment what is this all it is and i think the power of the story gets lost in this kind of frenzy expectation that was built up and i want to make the point that ralph and i had absolutely nothing to do with any of that this is a self-generated self-created kind of intense you know discussion and rumor and all this stuff and then it's just sort of like when the story comes out you know oh so it's just i i would i would echo ralph it would be of great help i think to us and to everybody to not do this in the future it just doesn't serve any purpose that i can see well this is something i talked about in a video i put up recently just on my channel just addressing you know the fact that in the ufo community specifically i think sometimes we're so overly saturated with information and you know people claiming different things and there's so many there's so much and and i understand and sympathize with the community because i'm part of it and you know it's difficult when you see the mainstream world and for whatever reason they're not picking up on the story or they're not understanding it and you know i i can sympathize to that extent but at the same time i feel like sometimes we're so oversaturated with data and information that the rest of the world isn't that we fail to recognize the implications of something um of this level coming out within the mainstream arena because you know we're trying to convince the senators the lawmakers the people who have you know a good level of influence and it's important that people in the ufo community in my opinion get their recognition because we've you know we've been relegated as conspiracy theorists and tinfoil hat crazy people for so long and now you've got pilots and senators and and you know government officials speaking quite clearly on the subject and so i feel that you know there is a level of recognition for the ufo community but it can become very bitter in my opinion just because of the fact that we have so much information floating around and so i would agree with you because i feel that this is a really important article to push forward the story um you know i i would have loved to have seen a little bit more in there regarding the admiral wilson leaks and things like that but that's um you know maybe something that will be covered in the future but um one thing that i would like to address and it is the elephant in the room so to speak uh that being the recent walk back by former senator majority leader harry reid regarding what was originally quoted in the article because senator reid was quoted originally to have said the following i came to the conclusion that there were reports some were substantive some not so substantive that there were actual materials that the government and the private sector had in their possession end quote now the story has been corrected to say that the scent that senator reid only said that this may have occurred he also posted a tweet last night that stated the following i have no knowledge and i have never suggested the federal government or any entity has unidentified flying objects or debris from other worlds i have consistently said we must stick to science not fairy tales about little green men so i find it hard to believe that such a direct quote would not have been checked by senator reid prior to publication but due to the considerable walk back from senator reid my initial question on the topic is did the new york times check the original quote with harry reid prior to publication well women first of all jay the quote um was never challenged the quote has stayed in the paper online just the way we wrote it it has not been corrected not been changed not been disavowed by harry reid we have two direct quotes from him in the paper and neither of which has been challenged uh what was changed as you noted was a paraphrase attributing to him views that we believe are uh believed at least when we wrote it were accurate uh he took issue with that and it was changed to say um he believed that crashes of vehicles uh may have occurred so we accepted that change but the quotes that are in the paper uh have remained unchanged and unchallenged so let's remember that now leslie can address the other question of why uh you know what he's saying now but i think that's important to remember that the basis the main basis of our story the quotes have not been challenged right i mean the only issue he raised with specifically and asked for a correction on was this sentence that ralph read and it's it's printed on the internet below the story the change that we made which was really about wording that was used to paraphrase something it wasn't even a quote he didn't raise any other issues with the story until the next day he came out with this tweet now we don't understand why he said why he said that or what's behind it or you know there's a lot of speculation is he being pressured we have no idea we know that we did a very in-depth interview with him took excellent notes we know what he said to us that he gave us a lot more information than what's in the story and we stand by the reporting that we have in our story on him in our minds there's no question about that and he he feels a need to pull back from it and why he's doing that we don't know but that's that's his decision you know he was also a mainstay of our first story uh there was no cut you know nope no problem with that at all he never disavowed any part of that uh we've had a good relationship with him uh ever since then we've you know been in touch with him periodically uh these ufo stories so we consider him you know a great ally to the you know to the uh search for truth and and uh uh you know uh transparency in this issue so you know politicians are subject to a lot of different pressures and things i don't know but uh we only are really concerned with what we've said in the story and the story stands up yeah and we echo that we have the greatest respect for him i mean this was not you know this was not we're not happy to see this happen but with full respect for the senator if he needs to say what he said that's we respect that and i think he seems to have an issue with it being in print that there's some association between him and the notion of these objects being from other worlds just seeing that even though in discussions it seems clear that that's what we're talking about and he has said many other things that imply such an understanding on his part but i think you know as a as a politician as someone in the public sphere uh he may not like to see it actually written that boldly uh and that's that's you know i i respect that but it's not inaccurate what we wrote in our story with all respect to senator reid he does does seem to be mocking the entire notion of potential life via his corrective twitter comments um i don't know if you're concerned that you know basically one of your main sources is walking back a little bit from the things he was saying in the in the article and openly mocking the idea of quote-unquote little green men it just seems well no one's talking okay nobody's talking about little green men uh i don't know i don't know if they're men um and uh you know people you know say things lightly and joke uh so that's part of the problem this field attracts ridicule and that's one way of disarming uh critics um people move very quickly to to ridicule but let's keep in mind you know what we're talking about we're really talking about facts that we've been able to establish in the story about briefings to me to staff members of congress to high-level intelligence and defense officials that briefings that reference uh reported crashes and retrievals of materials uh we're not going beyond that there's no speculation on you know men green or otherwise um we're sticking to to facts and the people who are uh most involved in this uh the smartest on this people like lou elizondo uh make this point repeatedly that it is folly to go beyond that and start to speculate the only way this issue is going to be responsibly addressed is by sticking to you know what can be confirmed and we found it extremely telling that this information was imparted to members of our government in classified briefings we were only able to see unclassified uh parts of those briefings but um that to us is a very telling fact you don't have to go beyond that and start to speculate you know what what planet are they from and you know that's that's nonsense it gets in the way so um i have some information that was provided to me by a very credible and trustworthy source that you have at the very least two corroborating senior military sources and that the senior military sources testified on record to the existence of a ufo crash retrieval program so i'm wondering uh maybe leslie if you're able to confirm this well we have the sources in our story if those if that's what you're referring to we we have name sources in our story dr eric davis luis elizondo and then harry reid was the third one um we have other sources but we don't name sources that are not in our publications but maybe that your source is referring to davis and elizondo i'm not sure the sources that were left outside of the story yeah we have other sources that are left outside of the story but we're not in a position to name who they are at this point that's okay but are you able to confirm if there is anyone else that's confirmed the existence of ufo crash retrieval programs to name them but if you have a source outside of this story i mean i would say they've certainly suggested or you know indirectly supported i mean it's very hard for a lot of these sources to be super direct about something as sensitive and something classified like this so i would say yes we have other sources who have certainly supported what we are saying in our story as being accurate and i i would add that we have really been made a fetish of the fact that we only want sources uh ultimately who can be who are comfortable enough to be quoted we don't want to write a story that you often read from you know uh um washington correspondents that you know you know deep deep throat says this or you know a source who cannot be identified said that that takes away from credibility especially on a story like this maybe in a diplomatic story you can get away with it um you know somebody who knows what putin is thinking said this or that but on a story about ufos you do not want unnamed sources so yes we have a lot of people we've talked to but until and unless they're willing to come out on the record and be quoted in the story um they're really not much use of us you used to us uh in this reporting yeah you know we like to gather as much information as possible but we from the very beginning as i made that point we stressed the fact that this story is all on the record uh with named sources so i think that adds to the credibility and i think though jay the other sources do but the way they do help us i mean yes they can't help us with the actual text of the story but they give us added confidence that what we're saying is accurate and they they just that's basically what they do they they they bolster what we're saying so that we actually have a lot more information behind what we're saying then what then what we're actually just able to say and that's the value that other sources have because then you know it will great more certainty and confirmation about what we're saying even though we can't name them uh they provide a lot of background information for us which is very helpful well that makes sense and i'm assuming then from that they weren't willing to actually go on the record with their name and make it public that's yes okay go ahead i was going to say that some of them were willing but there wasn't room for them in the story uh or the story didn't go in that direction so it doesn't mean that these are the only people who are willing to go on the record the ones that leslie named there were others um who may be willing in a subsequent story uh and were willing actually uh to go on the record but uh we couldn't get them into this story so um are you able to expand on why that took place in terms of not being able to get them in space i mean we were given this amount of space the times made a decision was their information not you know key enough to the investigation well this was what the times was prepared to to verify to back based on the information we we came up with uh we didn't dispute that as a matter of fact sometimes a compact story um carries more punch than a story that means is all over the place um so we were allocated this amount of space um and what i mean it wasn't written in stone if if we wanted to add a paragraph for this or that we got that in uh some things we wanted to have in uh were cut out but um there was not infinite room to put in all these other people so maybe they'll get into a subsequent story um you clearly believe that there have been retrievals of extraterrestrial spacecraft spacecraft correct and that's for both of you is there a question there what was the question do you believe that there have been retrievals of extraterrestrial spacecraft look uh we what we believe is less important than what we've written what we've written is that members of congress uh or staff members of congress and high-level dod intelligence officials have been briefed on crash retrievals that in itself i think is pretty sensational whether my personal belief i think is irrelevant clearly i find that information compelling we found that information compelling that members of congress were briefed on it um members have been briefed and staff members in particular which we quoted in the story um and high-level members of the intelligence community and the pentagon have been briefed on it so that's more important than what i happen to believe and to add to that too jay um it's the briefings are extremely important the fact they've been going on at all they would not be briefing uh high-level officials about something that had no weight to it but it's also the people that are going on the record about it and have said that this has occurred you know or they will go as far as they can in saying that are people that have been deeply involved with this subject for a long time and people with high clearances highest you know high access to classified information these are the people that are in the position to know more than anyone else and so you know we feel the combination of the fact that the briefings have occurred that we have the best sources who know the most about this uh and that we have documentation to back it up in the form of briefing documents uh really present a picture that you know these things have occurred and of course we can't go as far as we want by actually proving that which was the point that our editors made to us and the point that we made in the story but it comes very close to that when you have authorities like this speaking out about it and when you know that they wouldn't be wasting their time and they wouldn't have interest in materials that unless these materials were connected to ufo crashes otherwise they wouldn't be of interest to the ufo program they'd be of interest to some other program are you concerned that due to senator reid's recent quotes uh the credibility of this most recent article might be damaged and potentially cause other publishers to be reluctant to follow your story no not at all uh you know we've had a long history as reporters uh investigated reporters with having um people quibble with things we've written we stand behind everything we've written when we've gotten something wrong we've acknowledged that the times always does that um i'm not i think the story is rock solid uh the fundamentals of the story have not been questioned at all the quotes have not been questioned at all uh i don't think there's any chance in the world that this will diminish uh credibility or interest um so um uh you know i think it's just the the the impact it's already had uh in terms of the reader interest and the way it's been picked up will will testify to that well one thing i'd like to say is that obviously isn't the confirmation of sentient life um in the alien life in the universe is probably the biggest story of the millennium and why would the world supposedly greatest newspaper no offense maybe dial down on the content because there is a lot of speculation online and there is obviously a lot of people talking about um you know the fact that there's been deductions and as you said some of this is for space reasons but there is obviously going to be a lot of speculation as to whether that's entirely true and whether there was actually some more explosive information that perhaps was decided to be left out well we report what we can confirm and um you know again um the fact that high-level members of the government have been briefed on crashes of a potential a possible off off earth objects vehicles is pretty sensational it seems to me now again you got to remember this information is classified whether it should be classified as another question that harry reid actually addresses he says that um more should be made public and that's the aim of the senate report as you know um but whether it deserves to be classified or not it is classified so we are not able to to bring this uh information out um the last thing that you know you want to do as a reporter is traffic in illegal information because then you give the government a big uh weapon against you so we're very careful to stick within the law and not um you know traffic and not that we easily could but uh the material we dealt with was unclassified and and the program itself by the way the pentagon ufo program that lou elizondo headed is unclassified although it deals with classified matters so you know it is kind of amazing you got to think that we were able to get this much uh that we could uh you know without delving into actually classified um materials so uh you know there's a lot of other stuff out there but we we can't confirm it um it's classified so maybe at some point if this is a progression you know we'll get to it yeah i just want to comment further because you brought the whole question about aliens right i mean you know we all you know we always i have a bit of a problem because people do tend to extrapolate uh you know like you'll see people that pick up the story and they'll have something in the headline that says you know new york times says aliens have crashed on earth and you know uh if that's the kind of if that's what you're asking by your question i just think you know it's very important not to take this beyond what we are actually reporting and what we actually know and even if there are crashes that have been that that are being reverse engineered uh our sense is that they have not have made a lot of progress with the reverse engineering and i don't think anybody really knows much about where these craft are from or or all the questions that everybody has has a desire to understand and so i think you know jumping to notions that there are aliens in intelligent life flying around or whatever i mean it's it's a logical question to ask but i don't think we have the answers to that yet and we just have to as ralph says be very careful about taking this one step at a time and i don't know if that's what you were asking about but there is a sort of a jumping off that a lot of people want to make for good for understandable reasons we all have those questions we all want to know the answers to this i'd like to stress how far we've come in this reporting you know for many years the question was um are these objects real i mean do they have a physicality or are they somehow imaginary are they interdimensional do they you know pop in and out and our reporting um over the last few years certainly suggests that these things are real enough to be picked up on navy videos um and that is a huge step forward that we're not talking anymore about imaginary objects or archetypes or you know all kinds of um uh mythical uh you know things flying around you know uh religious um manifestations and say we're talking about actual physical objects that have been tracked and seen and um so you know yes the next question is well what are they where you know are they from who's running them but we're not close to answering that question at least let's figure out what the physicality is first um and then we can probably deal with these other questions yeah i think that's a really important point that the question of are they real is really not a question anymore and when you reflect back to five years ago say that really was still a question i think now they're talking about these objects as threats i'm the senate reports you know the senate intelligence committee uh report that just came out in june 17th and would you know the op the thing that was attached to the authorization bill is referring to the object as as a potential threat and that's why we need to understand them better uh that the atip program has referred to them that way because not because they literally are a threat but really because when you don't know what something is that that it is showing is is demonstrating this extraordinary technology that as far as we understand it we don't have on earth you have to consider it a potential threat because of the its advanced capabilities and so the fact that that kind of language is being used and the fact that this is being discussed by the senate intelligence committee and that they've made this request public to receive a report from the defense department i mean it does show the issue of their reality is absolutely in the past and i think that's that's something that's a really important moment that all of us can reflect on and also to add to what you said about the ufo community jay i mean i i thoroughly respect the great work that the ufo researchers have done and i have benefited from that work tremendously and i have no way mean to to discount them you know we were talking specifically about the the kind of chattering about our story which isn't helpful but the the research that many investigators have done in the ufo community is outstanding and i respect it and i value it highly and i just wanted to make sure that the people out there understand that well thanks leslie and i'm i'm sure that everyone listening does appreciate that and i agree with you and one thing i wanted to rewind back on just real quick because we are talking about reverse engineering um in regards to the article and you just uh brought up your opinion if there was any level of reverse engineering then you feel it was probably a long process without much success and i'm just wondering if that's an opinion brought on by your research into the admiral wilson eric davis notes you know i probably uh shouldn't have i don't know i don't think i can expand on that anymore it's a sense that i have from sources i've spoken to uh but i really don't think i can say anything more about it jay sorry about that oh that's that's fine do you feel that there is anyone that may be running interference against your story i'm not aware of any interference against the story um i and i never have been in any of the other stories i mean yes there are skeptics who will criticize it and people will who don't like the new york times and there'll be people speaking out against it but interference i don't i would say no would you agree ralph i would agree and i would say that you know the new york times as a rather big tent uh has a very vociferous cadre of science reporters who have you know looked at our stories with you know very uh under a microscope you could say um and raised issues when they thought we were going too far so some of that um skepticism is is at the new york times as it probably should be there are people with different takes on things very smart people with a scientific background who you know are taken aback by by some of these stories because they're not in the scientific mainstream uh however much we try to stick to you know provable facts um it's it's quite a leap for people who you know do uh you could say normal or conventional science reporting so um some of our stories have been gone over by our own science people and they've raised questions and issues at times but the stories have all appeared um i don't think anyone is agitating against them i think certainly everyone has the same interest at heart which is to get the best possible truth out of the out of the situation well mainly mainly the reason i ask that is because i was told um that one of the editors did try and block the story and that was uh liz bumbler the washington bureau chief and washington editor so i don't know if you're able to comment on that that's absolutely not true because she edited the story she was one of one of the editors right and first of all she was against the story it would never have seen the light of day believe me um and there's nobody who would have overruled her because she's the washington bureau chief and if she was against the story there would be no story i can tell you that so this is an example jay of the kind of gossip that is circulating around without real knowledge because these people do not know the inner workings of the new york times or they may have a maybe they have a source at the new york times who tells them snippets of things but it's just not true if we if there was any significant opposition at the times or certainly opposition by a senior editor at times this story would not have run period did you ever get to the stage of discussing the story directly with your new york times editor dean mckay was he given the opportunity to kind of review the evidence and if oh okay it doesn't work that way um he's at the he's up in the stratosphere he's got a lot of other things to worry about uh including by the way the the management direction of the new york times with the publisher they just named a new um ceo um so he's he's thinking about a lot of other things than ufos but he has the ultimate authority and and the responsibility if if something would be horribly wrong with the story our story or any story he takes the ultimate blame so he comes in just at the end to look it over um and he could certainly have killed it at any point if he wanted to um but it's not a situation at times where we would be chatting about the story or as he's asking us questions it doesn't work that way right um if senator reids was pressured potentially to um peddle back a little bit on what he was saying and release these recent tweets that he has would you be worried at all that any other potential witnesses will do the same under similar pressure as journalists do you believe the national security establishment is trying to shut the story down at all i mean i wouldn't have that concern jay i mean i think i think all the sources who have spoken to us i mean reid obviously has some concerns but we haven't heard about any concerns from the others and both eric davis and lou elizondo have spoken on the record before and um yeah you know i just don't think there's some sort of uh national security kind of force to try to shut it down and i think these individuals are very capable of handling anything like that they have no regrets that they came forward in our story and so uh i'm you know i think that harry reid has his own issues going on his own concerns his own reasons for doing what he did but i don't think this applies to the other people in our story i mean and also harry reid has a long history of being sympathetic to this research he got the original money for the a-tip program for lou elisondo um he's been very supportive you know to research so i don't think it's fair to make him out to be somebody who's changed his views or who's working against this thing he had some quibbles with the way you know things certain things were phrased we corrected it in one case but um i think it's important to keep it in perspective and realize that he is a true friend of transparency um and i'm sure he'll continue to do that right i think that's absolutely correct yes the reason i brought up any sort of national security concerns and any sort of pressure on additional witnesses and again as you said as both of you have said to be honest it can just be the rumor mill churning around which is kind of going at full speed at the moment but from what i've heard um via those that are in contact with eric davis there is a slight pressure on him to withdraw the term classified from his acknowledgement that he gave a briefing on a classified ufo crash retrieval program um so i'm not sure if you're able to comment on the legitimacy of that at all no we can't comment on that jay because that's something that only eric davis can address it's not for us to address okay um was further evidence provided to you by eric davis of him giving this class by briefing or any mention of acquisition of exotic materials such as those supposedly under the cooperative r d agreement between ttasa and the us army was there did airy provide any more um you know anything else that was not subsequently published well we have to say we spent hours on conversations with our sources jay as as journalists always do so there was a lot more information that we had than what we could present in the uh you know a thousand words which is what our story was so the answer would be yes for all the sources that we talked to have provided us with a lot more information we can't go into the details of what that information is but uh eric was very very forthcoming with a lot of great information and that's that's about as far as we can take it i think it's also important to say we did not receive any classified information period we didn't ask for it we wouldn't have been given it if we'd asked we won't traffic in it we understand the you know the the legal issues involved and this was not that kind of a story where we had to uh you know secretly receive classified information i think it would have undermined uh our position and uh given the government you know a good argument to uh to denounce us so we were very meticulous and careful about what the material we we handled but yes we got a lot of information as leslie said that we didn't um you know you we couldn't verify some of it we couldn't uh you know document it to the extent it would need to be documented everything in the times was the phrase we like to use is bulletproof um so yeah a lot of it but none of it was quantified right that's really important that our sources are so careful to not reveal any classified information they are all absolutely astute in respecting their their limitations there and none of them had have ever breached that with us you know i just want to echo something leslie said before um and i think it is an important point that a lot of good information does come out of the ufo community there are a lot of smart people there who have a lot of time more more than than we do to go over you know documents and information and you know videos and whatever and um that can be very useful the problem is it's a mixed bag and stuff that is i mean there are people who are very rigorous in their approach people like rich dolan who are very and you jay who are very rigorous in their approach and careful and understand what the issues are and there are other people because it's not police it is the wild west so it's a grab bag of you know reliable information and not reliable information and that's the problem that people coming to it from the outside might click on something and find you know a totally unverified uh you know report right next to somebody like um um rogovin you know and the drive and others who are really knowledgeable people real professionals uh who have spent time and tremendous effort and expertise in developing this field so we are very grateful to the people who have you know uh out there who have spent the time and who uh you know churned through this information and put stuff up uh but it's a mixed bag and it's mixed in with all kinds of malicious gossip that made our life difficult but certainly there's a lot of good to it too no no i completely agree with that um one thing with eric davis because he's he's becoming such an icon within the community i would say that he's held up quite a lot by a lot of people who have a lot of high regard for him and it's it's very interesting to me i i love seeing his name being mentioned in mainstream media i've been watching news reports um hearing his name being mentioned is quite amazing because so many people i speak to in my life if i'm trying to talk to them only subjects they have no idea who eric davis is or halpertoff or louise elizondo christopher mellon etc you can see that this is starting to creep in and articles such as this have definitely pushed that forward i'm wondering if eric davis is going to be someone you feel you will be using again if you are doing any further publications is he someone that you feel is quite close to your story well we've already spent a lot of time talking to these people uh our sources and i don't know who we're gonna go to now uh who we're gonna keep using or go back to i mean people have been very helpful in in are preparing this story but i i really don't want to discuss you know who we're going to go to next or go back to you know we want to that's part of the whole reporting process that i'm not comfortable discussing yeah we also don't know jay what what the future will bring in terms of any restrictions that might be placed on some of these people uh you know in terms of what they can say in the future or what their you know whether they have restrictions placed on them with their employers or you know it's just very it's hard to predict anything for the future so um that's yeah we just can't really say but but we all we i have tremendous and so does ralph we have tremendous respect for eric davis and he's a he's a fantastic source he's been very cooperative with us and very very helpful and forthcoming and so we we take our hat off you know and also i want to say that we are hoping that other people who read the story may come forward and say oh we like your story we have more information for you or persuade them that i wasn't going to come forward and talk publicly but now i will or i can so we're certainly open to new people coming forward and i hope they reach out to us there's obviously a lot more information to be gathered uh we always welcome you know information people coming forward uh so we're hoping that there'll be a lot of other people out there with information credible people uh who will come forward so you've actually hinted at this a little bit twitter has picked up on a few comments left by yourself ralph one such comment was um and this is a quote apologies if this is a paraphrase you can correct me if it is um you can't publish everything all at once so how significant do you two believe this specific story is and are you planning to take it further on are you going to add to this story specifically or are you looking at other things in the future well we're definitely looking to do more reporting you know there was a gap between our first story in december 2017 which broke the big news about uh you know atip we followed up a year and a half later with a story about uh the pilot's uh reports and then uh a year after that we had the story of the close encounters and the accident near accident reports near misses so you know there's a gap between them it takes time uh but definitely i don't see this is the end of it i think uh uh i'll definitely be doing more reporting um a lot there are loose ends that we want to tie up uh go off in new directions it depends on the information we get uh so certainly uh there's more to be done absolutely we have more information that we could not include in this story that just came out and so we have plenty of things to follow up on and and we we will definitely be pursuing this i mean this is what we do and we're we're interested in doing as much reporting as we can on well this leads to kind of the last little question um obviously without ruining or damaging any potential future publications is there anything you were not able to put into this latest story that you really wish could you could have seen in there and if so is there any chance you can tell us what that might have been no yes there was but no we can't say what it was you know if we had more space or you know if we were able to verify certain things that we couldn't quite verify yeah sure there were things we would have liked to um include but we we got the main parts of it we caused a big impact uh you see the evidence every day in you know in the new york times and the most watched and the most uh emailed so you know you in reporting you you don't cry over all the things you wish you'd gotten in you move ahead and you figure you'll get them in at some point right so we just have more information to follow up on and to shape and to dig deeper into that will come out in other stories well look um i am really appreciative of youtube coming on here and speaking with me this pretty much concludes the line of questioning i prepared for you both so is there anything you want to add anything you want to say on record before we finish this off we just want to thank you for your your interest jay and your sensitive questions and your understanding of what we're able to say and can't say uh we we love the the interest out there that uh verifies the effort you know uh we put into these stories more than anyone will ever understand uh that goes into making a story like this um so we we do appreciate the people like like you out there who take interest and ask good questions and and you know keep the the public informed so thank you and i would echo that i i thank everybody out there who is supportive of what we're doing and um you know we're all we're all after the same thing which is the truth and to find more answers about this topic and our job is just to take a lot of the knowledge that the ufo researchers already have of course but we take this knowledge and this information to the mainstream and that's sort of the role that we play and i think we everybody plays has a role to play in this and our role is to take some the information to the new york times get it vetted so that it's absolutely ironclad and can therefore impact policymakers and the future direction in which the bigger picture will unfold and ever but you know so we we appreciate everybody uh you know recognizing that that's what we're doing and recognizing the battles that we have to fight and and the difficulty of doing that and we also thank everyone for all the information that they have provided to the to the world themselves and all the great work that's been done and um we hope that we and and thank you for the support from everybody all right all right well it has been a pleasure to have you both on i hope we can reconvene in the future if we do see any further publications from yourselves on this topic and on behalf of a community of people that sincerely want to see the truth surface up out of the shadows i just want to tell you to keep going keep pushing this is incredibly important more important than unfortunately many people currently recognize and it is through the efforts of people such as yourselves and all the independent researchers within the community that we finally see this topic given the level of awareness and subsequent action that it absolutely requires so thank you again for coming on and speaking with me both of you thank you for having us jay thanks jay you

greetings and welcome to the Richard Dolan show where every week we fight the good fight going back to gak going back to back again last week's show featured the aviation aerospace military historian Michael Shred Michael and I really got into we're back again and you know when we were wrapping up the last episode Michael said well Richard I want to talk to you about the Michelin Man sightings that I'm like like well the show thank you Richard great to be with you again absolutely and also we're going to be getting into anti-gravity research something you know a great deal about I would hazard to say you know as much or more than just about any of the researchers in the UFO field about the history of that so we're gonna get into both of those but we're gonna do them into two discrete segments and how about we just jump right in Michelin Man like when you talk of a man sighting I don't think people quite realize that being the Michelin Man I mean the Michelin Man absolutely Richard let's go ahead and pull the trigger on this now one thing I want to state right from the beginning and I want to be completely specific and decisive about this there is no way that I would move forward with this unless we had a real good paper trail to back it up and now that we've got three separate cases three separate time frames and three separate locations I felt there was enough firepower to present this case and that's what I want to do fair enough and we're gonna be showing these images but I will just let people know you've sent me the images in advanced and they are quite interesting and they seem to show like beings two arms two legs a head just like we have but with either suits or a design that's like the concentric tires you know going right so okay so take it for you yep the first case Richard is Reunion Island this is another one of these epic cases with in ufology that are legendary absolutely legendary the data is July 31st 1968 it's 9:00 in the morning it took place in the Indian Ocean that's where this is located and Reunion Island is located between Marathi as' and Madagascar yeah it's like right off of like even off of Madagascar which is of course off of the southeastern African coast primary eyewitness is a gentleman by the name of em loose Fontaine

he's a 31 year old farmer and he was in a small clearing in a forest picking grass for his rabbits when he saw this strange oval-shaped craft he was about 25 meters away from it Richard and it was suspended about four meters off the ground it was described as an elliptical or egg-shaped craft about five meters wide the center section Richard was transparent but then it had these blue extremities that were somewhat opaque weren't quite as transparent as the center section and they were more blue and colored now here's the part that I always fought thought was very interesting on the bottom of this elliptical egg-shaped craft there was this glass or metallic pedestal and then there was a mirror-image pedestal on the top of the crap so that's something that we can kind of see in the illustration here this yes yep and now inside this elliptical egg-shaped craft were two what are described as quote unquote Michelin men basically they were 90 centimeters in height the one on the Left had his back turned and faced toward him so he was kind of like faced a little bit away the one on the right was kind of completely turned around but he had his head toward turned toward the primary eyewitness that's kind of what the scene looks like here can I just I just want to interpret for people who are not familiar with the metric height 90 centimeters is roughly 3 feet it's almost exactly 3 feet yep that's what we've shown here now next thing that happened Richard is both turn their backs on the primary witness there was this huge flash and a strong electrical arc was in the location of where this flash took place and he also said that he felt this powerful heat wave and so we're talking about a ce2 case so we've definitely got physical effects we've got beings associated so it's a c e 2 and a c e 3 and after this took place Richard investigators got to the site not too long after this actually took place and they definitely found effects of radiation and he actually got sick from this so there's physical evidence left over from this case that's very interesting yeah I'm looking at this image and I don't know if this was done by one of your artists after the fact or is this based closely on the witness's description because I'm I just have to say I'm expecting to see Bill Murray and Dan Aykroyd break out the weapons blasters and yeah yeah I know it looks like just try to illustrate it the best way I could you know but and it's consistent with a couple of the other cases here but but in a nutshell that is the Reunion Island case and the witness obviously I assume came across as credible to investigators who spoke to him

later I'm assuming 1968 Wow

I mean all I could say is Wow

I don't know how else to respond to that if it were a standalone case I would think well he's missing something or he's miss miss remembering or didn't see this accurately or did you indicate that I just miss how close the witness was Oh twenty-five twenty-five meters away so close quote close enough for sure that's enough indeed and that's actually a very beautiful scenery of this around as I assume that is Reunion Island I try to illustrate it the best way I could looks great all right Sarah where are we going moving on the next case yeah I know I mean you can't make this stuff up okay so it's lyra Spain

March 14th 1976 kind of at night primary eyewitnesses are Don Cornell ages who's a farmer and his wife age 50 he's age 55 they are the two primary eye witness now they spent the entire day with their son who is at a naval recruiting center and around 9:45 p.m. Richard they left their son and we're kind of like heading toward the highway and the wife noticed this bright light on the left side of the vehicle are a left side of the road so they're continuing down this road she said it was kind of orange or white in color an oval in shape she then noticed here's work it's really weird she noticed a spiral coming out of the ground Richard I don't know where you know in the vicinity of this light she noticed this spiral coming out of the ground and the spiral transformed itself into a human figure the best way to describe this is like Sunday night at the Oscars Richard that's kind of what this looked like oh that spinning

okay so spinning and then becomes into this form it transformed him transformed into this humanoid figure and she said that she could see lights on either side of the figures face but it really didn't have a face it was kind of ambiguous and blank and this whole being was floating off the ground about 12 inches and it was described as kind of a dark tall figure wearing a dark colored suit kind of what you mentioned the beginning these concentric rubber inner tubes yeah yes what look like quote-unquote a Michelin Man yeah absolutely now this is similar but a little different by the way I just I'm going to challenge you a little bit on that first sighting because I'm looking at the original sketch that was provided raining in Island and they don't have the the funny smiley faces yep

that's that's true

I think you were having some fun well with your presentation Michael well I just tried to do the best I could what can you do so anyway back to back to this one we're looking at and shape is I mean the the the tubular horizontal tube circular things that are similar but it seems taller it seems taller yep

pehle than the other guys what's interesting here about this one is the arms were down straight to the side Richard and he had clenched this it's a little bit different than the other one yes that this this couple did not stop for very long they stopped after they passed it now this figure did not walk in any way he moved by floating and as we talked about before he was about 12 inches off the ground this humanoid figure stopped he remained in a kind of a a a position where he was just locked where he was once he stopped moving and then as they passed the being there was a very serious electrical burned out system on the lighting of their car so again now we're talking about a ce2 case because it had physical effects and the lights started flickering the lights eventually completely burned out it didn't stop the engine but it definitely failed the electrical system for the light of the vehicle interesting yeah they passed this being and the wife looks back she turns around she looks back and she could swear that this being was looking back at her although it had no face whatsoever so they pulled about another 650 feet forward they stopped the vehicle and then two cars passed by he flagged down those cars and told them about what he had just experienced and I've got his quote right here Richard yes as he was explaining it to the the people in these two vehicles he said quote it was not of this world but of another and yet what happened next is he got between these two cars with his car because he didn't have any lights and they all drove back to about five miles from where they began and then that's where this case essentially ended so a really good ce2 ce3 case and in both of those cases there are physical effects that these witnesses reports expects absolutely so these two are about a roughly a decade apart ago from 1968 to 1976 and from Reunion Island to Spain you said correct and you have a third by the way I just want people to understand how amazing this is for me to hear Michael shraddh talk about these cases Michael is the guy who some people think and they're mistaken but they think oh yeah Michael Scott's the guy who explains all UFOs as man-made and that's actually not true about you all right but you do you do look for human technology as your go-to answer for the least for most of these cases I do realize that but not on not all of them yeah let's let's exhaust every conceivable terrestrial explanation before we put forth the ET hypothesis that's just my mandate period I think it's a safe move I think it's a reasonable way to go

so third case okay third case February okay so we've got Friday it is December 12th 1977 and this took place in France it's kind of hard to pronounce it so I'll just spell it RA MPI EU X village in France we're not quite sure how to pronounce that okay so the primary eyewitness is a 12 year old girl her name is Shannon Tell and interesting the local Minister vouched for her credibility although after this actually took place the family got a lot of ridicule over this so they stopped talking about it so vintage December 1977 the giggle factor was still in place now we can see that it rose and erosion roading a little bit today in today's world it's starting to come down a little bit all right so bottom line is she finishes her homework she goes to the kitchen where there's a window there she looks through the window and she sees this red orb approaching the backyard this red orb is kind of elliptical in shape kind of like the Reunion Island but without the upper and lower pedestal and it's basically 7 meters long it's 3 meters high again elliptical egg-shaped kind of all engulfed and in a red glowing color bright red and then she said that it made an engine noise like a Peugeot 203 before it landed so this is similar to the 1966 temple oklahoma case where the gentleman said that he heard a drilling noise before this thing passed took off so we're hearing this constant thing about whipping of the wind a drilling mechanical noise either when these things land or when they take off now or sometimes described as a whining type of exactly okay yep so now she said that a strange being rose from this egg shaped craft but she could see no seams there were no doors no rivets nothing she doesn't know how this thing came out but it just rose from the center of the craft it passed off to the left then came back to the center and dropped back down inside the craft and she could see no evidence of a door whatsoever

the limbs on this thing remained motionless and she described this it's in the report as a Michelin type man with arms that were short significantly shorter than the other two cases the legs on this thing we're very long so that's slightly different than the Reunion Island case but it was still this rubber black suit kind of a exterior for the being itself yeah and we have the drawing here by the way this comes with a fairly detailed typewritten report I'm seeing here is this a Koufos case incidentally from the central yacht

I got this from the gray Barker collection in Clarksburg West Virginia how about that so there's there's one drawing of adhered

I'm not seeing a reconstruction by yourself or well you know this is a relatively new case that I got so I haven't done one of this one but I just want to point out that we're now looking at three different Michelin Man cases from three different locations at three different times so I think there's enough here to state that there is some validity to these Michelin Man sightings what do you think they are because actually I mean we say Michelin Man and the your first reconstruction looks like right out of ghostbusters to me right but in fact these really could be just our visual interpretations of some kind of astronaut suit maybe it's just like it looks like this this particular taste that we've we've talked about right here the helmet for the being was cube-shaped completely different than the other two so that's one way this thing differs yeah it could be a suit some type of spacesuit for what though Richard that's the that's the question well if it was a purely human terrestrial situation why you'd have to ask why would they need a spacesuit for being on earth exactly so I don't know so I guess you don't really have any who's gonna this is the frustrating thing I know you must have encountered this as well with the UFO phenomenon in general which is it does not behave we wanted to behave in a certain way whether all ETS know it's all physical material or all spiritual or all one or the other all interdimensional and it doesn't do that there are all of these different elements to this phenomenon that seem to contradict each other they see me or and and then understanding the motivations of the operators of these craft also is for me anyway it's been very difficult to make a lot of sense out of what they are actually doing like what are there missions but would be the mission of the so-called Michelin men on these various occasions what are they doing what were they doing in Reunion Island or you know operating on the side of the road in in Spain in the nineteen seventies of the night and what is that or in France being seen by this by this young girl I don't have who can answer these things I can't know this phenomenon does not fit neatly in a box no it does not well I'll just say I'm very glad that you brought these cases out if only to demonstrate to folks hey it's not all about tubes and pipes and everything there's a lot of strange humanoid encounters here so good well do you want to segue into we've got we've got a good 35 plus minutes here to go great let's talk about gravity this is something I know that you know a great deal about and in advance of this interview you sent me a great article the G engines are coming and why don't we talk a little bit about this is getting into something that I think is not fully well understood particularly by non UFO researcher type and I think they're quite aware of the story of gravity research in the 50s can you get me to that yeah be glad to Richard be glad to so before we breach that subject I just want to touch on one article that an abuse book spoken of many times before and this is the gung-ho February 1988 issue and the author of this particular article is a man by the name of elf Ricky Richard and elf Ricky is an alias and the identity of this particular individual is none other than my good friend Jim Goodall he's the one who wrote this article gotcha yeah yep and a couple of quick things that I want to highlight within this article that I think are pertinent to our discussion today and this is directly from the article here and it's talking about an sr-71 Air Force officer here's what he had to say he was involved in the development of the Blackbird quote we are flight testing vehicles that defy description to compare them conceptually to the sr-71 would be like comparing the Leonardo da Vinci's parachute design to the Space Shuttle that's an incredible close yeah I know and this is an insider who is working on this aircraft that goodall la salle freaky interviewed correct the article goes on here quotes this is from a retired colonel quote we have things that are so far beyond the comprehension of the average aviation authority as to be really alien to our way of thinking and Corp yeah yeah powerful and powerful statement final quote here this is from a retired Lockheed engineer let's just put it this way explain one returned Lockheed engineer we have things flying in the Nevada desert that would make George Lucas drool yeah so when you put this all together Richard what are we talking about here we've heard so much about this gravity research taking place in the mid-1950s and then you know these things went black and they books they were expunged from the aviation press literature Jane's Defence weekly Aviation Week space technology is there any truth to this well so I kind of take the Reagan approach to this Richard is I like to use the truth what verify trust but verify

Reagan type scenario and where this really began is what you mentioned before the young men magazine November 1956 this is the exact issue that was anonymously dropped on Nick Cook's desk and that's what inspired him to write the book hunt for zero-point that was published back in 2001 that's the modern class of all and and what this article talks about is gravity research by the defense contractors it talks about atomic and nuclear-powered flying machines nuclear-powered aircraft and so I want to talk about some of the newspaper clippings that actually back this up Richard good and so let's get right into this so this is Amarillo Daily News November 26 1955 now this is gonna be a little bit wordy but I think it's important that we lay the foundation here we have it here and we're getting it on the screen while you read it so just so let's go for aircraft industry firms now participating or actively interested in gravity include the following

Glenn L Martin company of Baltimore Convair of San Diego Bell aircraft of Buffalo New York Sikorsky division of United aircraft Lear incorporated so we've got John Lear's father's company involved of Santa Monica

Clark electronics of Palm Springs and Sperry gyroscope of Great Neck Long Island so these are just the some of the defense contractors in the mid 1950s that were working hard on gravity research these are some of the big heaviest heavy as well correct you know a lot of them folded into other companies and and merged and so forth but these were major major defense contractors of the time by the way I'm sure you are aware of this but John Lear his father William Lear was himself a UFO witness and was quite vocal about it during that period of time I don't remember his exact sighting but it was in around the mid 1950s and the only reason I remember this is that it was written about in one of Donald Kehoe's books he talked about it at length just an interesting little side note there so to the grant I grabbed research we've got major major names working on this

I always thought it was interesting Richard so you've got the defense contractor is spearheading the research you've got the universities and then you've got the black budget for over 70 years with countless billions of dollars being poured into these programs when you put this all together it's clear that they've done something with this money they've made some kind of breakthrough and so let's get back into this here

Amarillo Daily News November 26 1955 they talk about here centers where peer research on gravity now is in progress in some form include the Institute of Advanced Study at Princeton New Jersey and also for instance University of Indiana school of advanced mathematical studies and the Purdue University Research Foundation so again hand-in-hand defense contractors and universities both working on trying to crack the gravity barrier and absolutely elite academic institutions on yes Michael we're going to take a very very quick break here we're and then we're gonna come back and I want to dive right back into this I just want listeners to stay with us you're a cagey are a radio this is a Richard Dolan show I'm here with the great Michael Schrott we're talking about anti-gravity research in the 50s and where it went we'll be right back we're back on Richard Dolan here with Michael Schrott on KGR a radio

Michael we were just talking about some fascinating organizations institutions that were delving into anti-gravity research according to journalists in the mid 50's we mentioned Glenelg Martin Bell Convair Sikorsky Lear others and then you mentioned Princeton University the advanced Institute of Advanced Study at Princeton University of Indiana school of advanced mathematical studies and Purdue University Research Foundation all centers of pure research on gravity as reported here where did this go where are we going here right exactly okay so let's continue Richard so the reference for this is Amarillo Daily News November 26 1955 the right on the front page science launched his search for gravity's priceless secret subheading search on for secret of gravity changes far being on atom are the prize so you could see these guys who are really working toward this they go on here the initial steps of an almost incredible program to solve the secret of gravity and universal gravitation are being taken today in many of America's top scientific laboratories and research centers they go on here a number of major long-established companies in the United States aircraft and electronics industries are also involved in gravity research scientists in general bracket gravity with life itself as the greatest unsolved mystery in the universe yeah this is a serious build up on this with the expectation it certainly it seems to me that like they were on the verge of cracking it and figuring out how to master gravity doesn't it seem like that it does it does yeah absolutely excitement is palpable here that's right and and we know that this very soon is all going to go quiet but I won't you need to tell this story about what why is this one quiet or and you know what happened when everyone sure okay so let's continue on here reference for this is New York Times February 7th 1957 and here they have a couple of brief quotes here Jesse

Vernon Honeycutt a director and vice president of the Bethlehem Steel company declared quote should the mystery be solved it would bring about a greater revolution in power transportation and many other fields than the discovery of atomic power you just can't get a more powerful statement now they went on here for example solving the mystery of gravitational force would be of tremendous import in the field of aircraft design where the problem of fighting gravity's effects has always been basic so in this first quote think about the utilities that would be affected you've got the shipping industry you've got the transportation industry you've got the electrical utilities you've got the nuclear power plants all these things would have would be directly affected if they made this breaker and it looks like they're working toward that absolutely it does so this is early 57 and you know what since you're saying I had actually had the idea that the news coverage was sort of done by this time but I guess I was wrong I thought it was done by the middle or late 56 but here we have an article in February 57 so they're still talking about we're close we're close breakthrough here very very interesting

Amarillo Daily News November 30th 1955 sub the the subheading is experiment seek means to fly planes outside gravity the current interest in America's aircraft and electronic industries in finding out whether gravity can be controlled or quote-unquote canceled out is not confined to imaginative young graduates of engineering and scientific schools they go on aviation as we know it is on the threshold of amazing new concepts the United States aircraft industry already is working with nuclear fuels and equipment to cancel out gravity instead of fighting it Lawrence Dean Bell yeah yeah again the excite pose is a little earlier but we're in the mid 50s here is there something by the way about the Amarillo Daily News are they do they have a particular reporter on the beat who is just not coming into this did they have that could be I don't know what it is but I mean I certainly would think it might be possible I don't know the story of how that would have been the case I'm just curious because there are a few of these that are from that newspaper I think some but was really on today and they're not all from this newspaper there's there are definitely other sources that we're looking at here in fact if I'm not mistaken you've got one here the next one from inter alia correct that's what someone was plugged in I agree with you Richard

yeah fascinating so let's go ahead and consider this one in Terraria volume number one 1952

Air Force atomic engine contract awarded to Pratt & Whitney an airforce contract for work on an atomic aircraft engine has been awarded to the Pratt & Whitney aircraft division of United Aircraft Corporation the US Atomic Energy Commission is cooperating in consideration of the nuclear energy phases of this work so now we've got Pratt & Whitney working with the US Atomic Energy Commission hmm

that's interesting because they were part of the NEPA program nuclear energy for propulsion of aircraft so now we're seeing this tie-in here and Pratt & Whitney was the premier engine manufacturer I thank for jet engines for the United States Air Force is that right yeah so they're making an atomic aircraft engine did did this ever get made well there was a b-36 that flew with a reactor on board but it did not power the the engines just to see what the feasibility of that would be so something was done but in here if you put that in conjunction with the other articles I think they could have gone somewhere else with this research curious so do you think that the atomic anatomic aircraft engine would have a relationship to gravity researchers that just a separate a separate thing altogether well the the link that we could possibly make Richard is the US Air Force the Atomic Energy Commission the United States Navy working in conjunction on that NEPA program that could have been one of the early prototypes on the December 29th 1980 huffman Texas cash Landrum incident because by 1960 they already spent nine hundred ninety million dollars procurement funding for the NEPA program so there's a strong possibility that that particular craft that spewed out all this radioactive material and got Betty cash Vickie Landrum and Colby Landrum sick from radiation poisoning that could have been a direct result of these early prototypes interesting it's not it's not clear that those types of craft aircraft or designs went into anything that would be operational do you think it's just likely that they were in decades and decades of of testing and and that sort of thing or do you think that they actually ever had an operational type of a craft I think they had an operational craft and that may have been connected to the 1966 temple Oklahoma case because the this thing had no no moving parts of whatsoever that you could see no wings no control surfaces that's what we're seeing over and over again with these we like the elliptical egg-shaped craft all right so moving on to the next one

Amarillo Daily News November 29th 1955 spaceship marble scene if science can outwit gravity they go on here many in America's aircraft and electronic industries are excited over the possibility of using its magnetic and gravitational fields as a medium of support for quote unquote amazing flying vehicles which will not depend on the air for lift hmm they go on here spaceships capable of accelerating in a few seconds to speeds many thousands of miles an hour and making sudden changes of course at these speeds without subjecting their passengers to the so called g-forces caused by the gravity's pull are also envisioned so isn't this interesting Richard they're talking about exactly the form fit and function of what we're seeing and hearing about UFO reports where we have these UFOs tracked at 10,000 miles an hour on radar stopping on a dime making a right angle turn at 90 degrees this is exactly what they're talking about you know they're talking about basically a kind of space-time bubble it seems to me I mean it which is really what we're you know you hear a lot of these scientists nowadays discussing I was listening to Hal putt offs very very important lecture at the Society of scientific exploration from a year ago June of 2018 where he sort of hints at this sort of thing with the so called meta material that he

that he's been studying along with Eric Davis and others businesses Jack Sarfatti actually had some similar thoughts on it in one or two interviews that he has given most recently on coast to coast where he talks about how this material softens as he calls it the space-time barrier I guess around the craft essentially creating a bubble and you know there is the math done in the 1990s by Miguel Alcubierre which was essentially kind of the math of warp drive where you create a bubble and so within that bubble where you're warping space as it were you're actually also warping time I suppose but you're creating a bubble within which you're not violating any of the Newton's laws of physics but you're able to kind of cheat as it were and and you're you're moving at incredible speeds but you're not subjecting yourself to that those g-forces that and so here they are in the mid-50s yeah this that that's actually really that's impressive so they're not traveling in a linear mode as we know it right exactly and so so you've got I mean these little hints these little bread crumbs that they're dropping in the 50s that you know our scientists at least some of our scientists had were figuring out some way of doing this now I'm just wondering how they would have done this I don't know if this is really your your expertise it's certainly not mine but what would have what would have caused success to be achieved in mastering gravity the best that I've been able to understand is in the study of these meta materials that we're hearing a lot about these days where the material itself that is able to I mean Sarfatti believes that it can actually slow down the speed of light within it and that changes all these equations that are necessary and you don't need a tremendous amount of energy to to do this I don't know if that's the answer but in other words to me it looks like the a lot of the answer is in our material science and it's not clear to me that we had the advanced material science necessary in the 50s to be able to achieve this type of gravity effect am I making any sense or is it's not making sense I know you make sense because a part of that black budget funding within the defense contractors went to a number of theoretical physicist Richard not not toward aircraft manufacturing but actual theoretical physicist and they figured out that the equations were wrong and that's the breakthrough in which equations this is what Ben rich famously said in his you know moment with Jan horizon-- back in the 90s the equations were wrong is this the same thing and which equations are we talking about I think they're talking about the equations for interstellar and space travel okay you know light like going to Mars and it's not going to take nine months to get there they figured out that there's a way to do it and so they just wants to get there have you figured it out so you can tell me and the rest of us if I figured it out no but but we think that that they are secret scientists have have figured something out so I mean I don't it's actually mind-blowing me so there's an answer here somewhere

yes you know I'm a non scientists trying to grapple my way through to understand this so a it's tough being out of my depth but you know understanding the principles as best I can

I'm not seeing how they did it but I'm definitely willing to recognize there's a lot that I don't know here so so anyway we've got all this excitement in the mid-50s right and you've got another article out of the Emerald seven it looks like yep so November 9th 1957 and it they have a really interesting sub code here and this is their little subtitle they say the jet age is already obsolete back in 1957 they go on here you you old men of 25 or 30 years still plotting along in the jet age wake up it says jet propulsion is obsolete the Sputnik will shortly appear as crude as the wax wings of Icarus love that I love it love it love it then they go on here quote we are entering the age of anti-gravity space travel spiracle craft made weightless and propelled by anti-gravity engines may soon attain almost the speed of light or 600 million miles per hour this is not a dream since 1953 the Canadian government has been working on project magnet at least 14 US universities and other research centers are trying to crack the gravity barrier teams of researchers and engineers from four major American aircraft companies have anti-gravity designs and data on their drawing boards proving that whatever goes up does not have to come down it is amazing again I want to know who this author was what he knew who he was talking to how there's there's a story in here and we we can figure this one out yes plus if you look at the the legacy of some of these crafts Richard we're seeing we were seeing these stingers or protrusion protrusions or probes on the side of these craft over and over and over again I've got a case from 1967 that predates the 2004 USS Nimitz f-18 Super Hornet encounter I've got another case we talked about the 1966 temple Oklahoma that had a stinger coming off of it I've got a really good case from 2001 at O'Hare Airport where two large stingers are coming off the craft so yeah using again what's what's the purpose of that stinger of that like little tail or whatever it is it I know I know I'm not 100% certain what it is but I'm thinking it's it's some type of a spark gap gap mechanism where they could be positively charging that probe negatively charging the craft and maybe turning it into a master that's possible but it can't be denied it's it's we're seeing the same thing on multiple cases going back to the mid 1960s this is along the lines maybe unless the experiments of T Townsend Brown I'm thinking where you have in his case he had a disc shaped design and you have a charged positive charge on one end and a negative charge I believe on the other and somehow he was able to do that and and achieve some a propulsive effect right right exact card either end of that and that worked very well by the way one interesting thing in this article here in this particular one from 1957 is he's talking about spherical crafts and of course how many times that we encountered UFO reports of perfectly spherical craft many times it doesn't make sense in terms of aerodynamics but it could make perfect sense in terms of other types of propulsion like anti-gravity wouldn't it well absolutely and the other reason why I'm bringing this up Richard is because as you know on January 28th 1986 we lost seven of the Challenger astronauts because they launched too cold on the day of the launch the pilot was never told about the big argument that went on between Morton Thiokol and also NASA upper management now if the pilot commander was given a heads-up about any concern launching in cold temperatures he would have called off the launch and he'd still be here today hmm

but Roger boldly as a last-ditch effort to save the Challenger astronauts said quote unquote if you launch tomorrow you will regret the result and they launched anyways Richard they went against Morton Thiokol the defense contractors but yet here we're talking not in 1955 1957 they're already working on ways to crack the gravity barrier why do we still have liquid rockets why do we still have solid rocket boosters this is all obsolete this is the dream world this is a matrix we're living in here well don't you think we're dealing with political and economic and financial consideration

absolutely lot of folks looking and I think that's the case you've got some of the most powerful individuals in the world are tied into say the petroleum industry which would be exactly significantly affected not simply in terms of aircraft in aviation but if this works for aviation it could work for other types of transportation you could have like a Jetsons future here I mean for real and if anyone had their ability to have their own little private flying saucer I mean it would be a really a really cool thing for all of us undoubtedly but there would be a lot of destabilizing things it would be a lot of stabilizing politically destabilizing elements of this that actually would not be fun we would really struggle to be able to contain that particularly from a government hierarchical point of view where you really do you want to control your population but but even from an ordinary social peace point of view you give everyone the ability to go anywhere in the world they want it's not that we couldn't do it but I think it would definitely cause people to say wait a minute let's before we do something so radical so different let's consider the implications and there there could be some difficult ones I could easily see that but also just from the point of view of undermining in industry where you know they've got such a great way to monetize petroleum and maybe there's not an easy way to monetize gravity once you create the infrastructure for it it might be more difficult well it would level the playing field yes I do yeah that's right and when your name is the United States of America and you are standing astride the world why would you want to give all other nations access to this incredible technology exactly exactly I think that has to factor into it so we've got about 10 minutes or so you know you want to know I need you on here I'm gonna keep going

Council Bluffs 1120 755 that's a reference subheading conquest of gravity aim of top scientists in the US one almost find tastic possibility is that if gravity can be understood scientifically and negated or neutralized in some relatively inexpensive manner it would be possible to build aircraft earth satellites and even spaceships that will move swiftly into outer space without strain beyond the pull of Earth's gravity field they would not have to wrench themselves away through brute force of powerful rockets and through expenditure of expensive chemical fuels that is the death wish death knell of rockets right there Richard talking about doing away with liquid and solid Rockets absolutely well now this article here calls it an almost fantastic possibility so it's not either that they're saying yeah we're about to do at any moment so there's one thing I would say there but again it is part of this theme of I mean you didn't see these types of articles didn't appear in this in the late sixties or in the 70s or 80s right at least not until the late 80s so it did go quiet so we've got one or two more of these and you want to show you've got one more so this is from Ryan aerospace February 1962 and they have the title here electricity for Space Exploration and when you page through this document they talk about what they're doing the experiments they're working on and then they have the quote within the next 10 years Richard electric propulsion will play a leading role in making extensive space trips possible and the craft that they're working on Richard is none other than dish-shaped craft with a dome and here's one pilot inside the cockpit nineteen-sixties tail fin on there that's right so in the 767 minutes left where where did this research go in your opinion because these articles more or less dried up all right by the mid late 50s and there are a couple of straggler articles here like in this 1962 but basically they ended they stopped we know what happened or before when you factor in the multiple billions of dollars on classified black-budget funding that has no congressional oversight and no public scrutiny with what the universities were working on with what the defense contracts were working on that I feel is is enough to make the case that they are building these craft designing building these craft different contractors some of this may have to do with some retrievals that we can talk about on the next segment if we do that but absolutely for where I'm coming from they've absolutely done it Richard they've done it well this is a really explicit statement of what ten years ago I was calling a breakaway civilization and I think you're making a very strong case for it a very impassioned case for it if they've if they've made gravity breakthrough yes foundation right there so that that's a breakthrough that it allows you then to make all other kinds of breakthroughs to go all kinds of places that no one else goes to to experience things that the rest of us do not get to experience and to learn things and so forth really to go off as as almost you could say a separate civilization that's broken away from our own so that's what it sounds like you're saying yes I'm definitely saying that they've done it they've absolutely done

I'm definitely of the opinion they've made the breakthrough we're we're definitely going to do another full episode on this when you're able to do it Michael but I guess I would ask you in about three minutes we are left here how far do you think this has gone so for example we can get into more detail later but there's a 1988 story of the alien reproduction var V is that true that a true story in your opinion well all I would say is the witness that allegedly was a part of this display describes some of the inter components of this vehicle as being from the Mercury program let's just put it at that and if you look at the time frame of what we're talking about here 57 that's the exact same time frame that's all I'm going to say the answer is yes so you think but now that was described as an alien reproduction vehicle that is something that was used to study reproduce alien tech so do you think that that is likely we're getting into letters and things your crash retrievals but do you think that is a possibility or well again going back to the primary witness mentioned that it was used using off-the-shelf components pre-existing within the aerospace industry and so they were trying to figure out how can we use what we have to duplicate the form fit and function of perhaps something that we may have recovered that's the big question mark that's really the big question mark ok well the primary witnesses name has been out there for a long time I'm just gonna say it says Brad ok I mean it's been he's been written about in many many many times I I feel bad if he doesn't want his name out there but but the point is I think what you're saying is we attempted to recreate what we were seeing and used our most appropriate off-the-shelf parts is that what I gather what you're saying here basically yes there was mention of mercury era components right so that's the exact same timeframe of what we're talking about here in these articles so when you put these two together jiving they're going down the right track well according to what allegedly was said at that particular time there was a four-star general who was talking about these craft these arvs having gone throughout the solar system so yeah well that is the case back by 1988 this is over 30 years ago they had already and as I recall that witness who looked at it said that these crafts look like they've been put through their paces so they'll be you I know it's not my story so I I don't want to say too much but if you go back to things that were told to me by Gordon Cooper's good friend we we went to Mars in 1983 now that's exactly the timeframe of what was talked about within this account so again now we've got two points that are they're lining up you do realize sir we're gonna be coming back and doing another interview on this this is gonna be the Michael shraddh series there's just too much here to cover so unfortunately for this where we are out of time I think people are going to love this interview I think they've loved listening to it you started us off with some very interesting humanoid sightings the so-called Mitchell and Man sightings and then got into some very interesting kind of a history of anti-gravity research that I think was very instructive and see it far as I'm concerned you were right on the precipice you and I hear of getting into some other discussions they're going to take us much much farther so I'm looking forward to that and I hope that you are oh absolutely

Richard and thank you for taking the time to cover this gravity research because I just felt it was so important that we lay the foundation absolutely well that is all the time we have for in this episode of the Richard Illness show I want to thank my guests Michael strat military and aviation historian UFO historian who spent this hour with us I just want to remind people if you want to hear Michael and I go further we are doing also interviews for my site Richard Olin members dot-com and as always if you're interested in anything else that I'm doing please go to Richard on members comm or check out other videos I have on my youtube site and you can catch everything that I'm up to along with my wife Tracey so that's it I want to thank everyone for listening and remember while we learn and grow and search for the truth let's be good to each other later

here on KCRA radio welcome to the Richard Dolan show where every week we fight the good fight greetings

last week my guests were Scott and Suzanne Ramsay the world's leading researchers into the remarkable story of a crashed UFO and the retrieval of that UFO near the town of Aztec New Mexico in March 1948 and I say remarkable but I think that's an understatement the case has been so misunderstood for so long and this is the result of a few factors first since this event took place nine months after the crash of a UFO at Roswell it's now clear that the US military was becoming better at managing the process efficiently and with much better secrecy secondly the story was victim to an incredibly successful smear campaign initiated by a writer named JP Kahn who very clearly wrote what he did out of vindictiveness because he wasn't able to get access to the story himself the smear worked for the remainder of the 20th century and still is taken as the truth in sources of establishment controlled media just check the terrible article on the Aztec UFO event in Wikipedia however the Ramseys have done the heroic work of not only rehabilitating the case or anyone who's got a brain to look at the facts of the case but also in demonstrating just how important this case is in the overall history of the UFO subject so I'm back with the Ramseys this is the second interview in my series with them and there will be a third we cover a lot of ground here in this program we discuss a few more interesting elements of the recovery of the disc itself including some very strange qualities or properties of the craft which precluded any scientists from being inside it for more than fifteen or twenty minutes maximum without suffering severe biological effects really interesting but then we move on into a discussion of how the story itself got into the hands of the author Frank Scully and how another writer JP Khan smeared the whole effort we also discussed the very strong interest of the FBI into this whole matter you don't want to miss this one let's jump right in in the last segment we talked you guys really gave a nice description of a lot of the timeline what happened then what happened then what happened of this amazing UFO event that was hidden for so many years and you guys really get the credit for reviving and bringing this story back to life can we talk a little bit more about some of the things that we didn't get a chance to cover in our last segment and listeners who have not heard the first segment of this interview I would encourage them to listen to that first before this one because that really lays all of the groundwork for what we're about to talk about here but for example we didn't get into some of the real personal details like the preacher Solon Brown who was on the site or just the the manner of how the craft itself somehow had been was disassembled enough that it could be transported out of Hart Canyon and a lot of these details is really quite fascinating and we didn't get a chance so I wonder if we can go into that now there was at the end during the day of the actual incident the military had command all of the witnesses had been dismissed and we're on the the Mesa and there was a traveling Minister circuit minister Baptist minister that was going from Aztec up to Mancos Colorado and as he was driving by he saw a lot of activity down the road and he thought maybe there was an accident or an injury or something so he drove down there just to see if he could help out upon arriving to the site he explained who he was and he said can I help has there been an injury or an accident I see all this activity and they said yes you can't help if you join us up here and as they walked to the top of the Mesa there were the 16 bodies laying there and Reverend Brown walked over and you can imagine to his surprise he had no idea what they were gonna ask him to do it and they said could you say some prayers or he said well I'm not a priest I can't give last right thanks but he said I could say some prayers and so he did and he was so shook up once is he finished he got in his car and he drove back to Minkus well it's a little bit up through the mountains and when he returned he called some of his parishioners friends that were his in the parish and asked him to come over and they were all in a room and he said he was obviously very shook up and and he said I have had an experience today that I just need to share and they said okay and he proceeded to tell them what his experience was and he began to cry and one of the folks in the room the gentleman said kind of cleared his throat just harmlessly cleared his throat and the minister became even more upset and he said you don't believe me you don't believe me this is a life-changing experience and I can't believe that you you know or in other words make fun of me and it changed his life there was a a child in the room and we were able to discuss with the child years later about what was said and how this was handled right there is another person that right sure didn't go looking for this by any means in your book actually as I recall he said that you don't believe me but wasn't it the person he was speaking to I guess was a deacon who said no yes I believe you I'm just trying to process all of this or I'm I'm in shock or something like that so it's worth remembering yeah fascinating detail all of these human interaction that's the incredible thing we're dealing with something that presumably is extraterrestrial or it's certainly not from our civilization but we are human beings and we react to these things in a very deeply emotional and often traumatized way as preacher Solon Brown did so it was really quite interesting can you describe any other details of the crash site for example any other details about these beings last segment you described them as a childlike not particularly alien in the sense that they were not like grey aliens that everyone knows a grey alien looks like what's a big black wraparound eyes these did not have that they were much more childlike you mentioned in the previous segment they had perfect teeth that's interesting because greys are never described as having teeth even even a mouth practically right so um so these were different but but they presumably weren't normal humans they were three and a half four feet tall and they weren't they weren't children that were their heads a little larger than normal or did you not get that information was it not that I didn't get that information going back to Bill Steinman's book Frank Scully's book and many conversations I've had with Bill until he passed yeah starting with Scully I guess they seem to have had some kind of freeze-dried food on board for the lack of a better description wafer like objects that you could put in water and it would greatly expand and that was some kind of protein source scholar so refers to pamphlets that were like a parchment type paper and Steinman independently had that in his book as well from some of the people he interviewed but bill Steinman does not get enough credit for the incredible research that he did unfortunately a lot of his research did not make it into his book for a lot of different reasons but I never personally talked to any witness that talked about wafers or okay cards mint paper the one of the best crypt cryptologist at the time was a dr. Friedman spelled just like Stan Friedman and

matter of fact he came to local UFO conference and came with some of his buddies retired from the NSA and CIA so the son kind of followed in daddy's footsteps and staying in the intelligence industry he was retired but said that he had thought that his dad had worked on some type of recovered craft over the years we have not put that into the book but we interviewed the son you know firsthand that's fascinating as far as any of our witnesses I don't believe I have to search the notes we have two and a half to almost three hours of Ken Farley on tape but I don't know from memory if he recalled any of that paper yeah well we're dealing with actually several generations of researches into a stick I mean there's there's the two of you along with Frank Thayer and Frank Warren by the way let's give them credit for the work that they did with you but also you know before you you mentioned Bill Steinman and then before Steinman we don't have to go into detail here but there was a man named Robert Carr professor who I know correspond with Leonard Stringfield back in the I think in the 60s and 70s this man yeah he was researching Aztec and he's sort of a missing link to this the vague impressions that I got from stringfield's writing is that car did some very good work he actually did some good research and then prior to him was Scully so there's different researchers getting different versions or maybe getting different witnesses and so it actually does make sense doesn't it that there would be variations in various accounts of what happened at Aztec we're talking about a variety of investigations that took place over 50 years so it really shouldn't surprise us that there might be you know one emphasis here that Scully might have gotten this or maybe that car got something or bills time and got something and so but anyway can we this is something that actually struck me is maybe one of the most odd things about the Aztec crash and recovery which is how the craft apparently divided into three pie plate or three segments within with the fourth segment detaching so how did that happen to the best of like what your office has told you I follow the original writings of Frank Scully and just to give your audience a little heads up his book is still available it actually was reprinted it's called behind the flying saucers and unknown to many people a second book by Scully was written and it probably a third of that book it talks about Aztec JP Kahn and all the trial they went through we're gonna get into all of that very soon by the way that book is titled in armor right it's really the the highlights of Frank Scully's life written by Frank Scully a third book by Frank Scully was written on the Aztec incident which we have a copy of the manuscript but for whatever reason he never published it and we found it at the University of Wyoming and Laramie in the archives and it's an incredible book and a lot of that will be in our third book a wonderful it's really good information getting back to how the craft came apart there are things called a pivot 1010 there used to hold the wings on an Indy car there it's a a pin with a push button and a ball bearing you'd have to look it up on the internet to see what I'm talking about a friend of ours Mike price and we talked about earlier he has an aerobatic stunt plane at the decathlon and the wing struts are all held on with a pivot N and listening to how Frank Scully described how the craft came apart it was almost like the craft was held together by a series of round pin pins they talked about after getting down in the belly of the craft they found round pins that held the craft together and the center section which was the doll came out and then the three sections we'll call them pipe pieces for the lack of a better word so you would end up having four pieces of the craft now keeping in mind it was ninety-nine point nine feet in diameter which going around that that's you know roughly three hundred and thirty three hundred fourteen feet yeah still pretty large doing the reenactment which we ended up having to do as Suzanne was saying earlier we we knew we couldn't write a book unless we addressed how do you get even three pie shaped pieces that large off the Mesa and use the roads that are available to you and use the technology from 1848 not 2012 when we did this so we started by hiring the world's best mover of high white objects and he's retired he lives in confluence Pennsylvania his name's Bill Metzger and Bill was the leading expert on how to move large things turbines boilers large motors generators huge transformers that type of thing okay I know he was the best cuz he worked for my father that's what my dad did for a living but we brought Bill and his lovely wife Pam and Suzanne and I out to the desert but I might I might interrupt just a moment honey when we were looking for the right person to do the job and we brought it up to Bill in none of none of these cases are we ever looking for someone that's going to be a yes-man we weren't looking for someone that believes quote/unquote in flying saucers we were looking for someone that will just give us the back and when we actually approached him his statement was live I don't buy any of that and all we could say was good deal exactly we say good you're hired he has no interest in the whole field of ufology or whatever we call it today but we all met for a week seven days out in Aztec and with pinched poles with tape measures we went right to the concrete slab old maps of what roads were there in 1948 and we invented re-engineered and reenacted moving the segments of the craft and although there are a few times you got to take erosion into consideration and whatnot

there are a few times we cleared by maybe six or eight inches we were still able to get the sections through the canyons Chaco Canyon was probably the most difficult leading up to Chaco Canyon going out through pump canyon there were some really tight areas a lot

it was very feasible at the end of the day and bill put in our second book that on a scale of one to ten ten being the most difficult moving this craft again using 1948 technology yes would have been a three quite simple really so it's I think it's actually great and people need to just I want to emphasize here for listeners the two of you went through the process of attempting to recreate the excavation of this craft and you demonstrated that yes absolutely it was totally feasible without really knowing the details of the mechanics of how the craft came apart as it were I guess that's just something that is a kind of a mystery we don't really know how it happened presumably right yeah it's one of those things but anyway it was taken out and do you have any information as to where it was brought I think in your book you indicated it was most likely brought to Los Alamos National Laboratories at least initially is that right yes once we clear it's a clear shot to Los Alamos we've done it new matter of fact we did it last April once you get out of the town alive Brooke it's wide open space right to the lab okay and that would be a very logical place to take this at least initially a lot of a very strong concentration of brilliant genius level minds first of all and they're deeply embedded in the national security apparatus and a lot of atomic experts search is the leading edge of everything at that time so it would make a lot of sense to

oh yeah and oh here's the thing I'd never really even considered this the infamous green fireball sightings actually started at the end of 1948 and I don't have that have you wondered this as well the fact that the craft itself might have been at Los Alamos at that very time you want I wonder this is this a tie-in with the Green fireballs those this was of localized ongoing UFO phenomenon and it went for months and it got the attention of the highest many of the highest level scientists and national security people at the time late December 48 going into 1949 very likely the Aztec disc was still at Los Alamos at that time I might not think that's a viewing of the green fireballs at the same time as this whole accident aztec is that it was going on so right prior to the aztec incident they were still having sights at the green - yeah I think we got reports that even as early as late 47 the fireballs were streaking across dr. Edwin Teller the father of the hydrogen bomb I have a letter that he wrote to Lincoln little paw is a copy of the letter that is demanding him to get his butt up there now and explained why we are being bombarded with green fireballs on some nights this is in 47 47 I have to look at the date it what it was not around the time of the Aztec I just thought it was funny since Susan and I had our experience with a green fireball but teller was really annoyed and saying I need you up here now well that's interesting officially at least in terms of the UFO research traditionally I guess I should say the fireball phenomenon first was being recorded as far as I know in late 1948 so it would be a few months after the Aztec recovery but who knows it could very well I certainly could see it up having started sooner than that

I just was thinking well heck the crap was brought back to Los Alamos and so why would it be surprising if 6-7 months later you start getting this phenomenon over that area in any case that's apparently where it was brought I guess is according to your research and then late late 50s we have folks that we feel are very very credible one man in particular the claims he worked on it at wright-patt I have at this point I have no reason not to believe him he paid real estate taxes in Dayton Ohio at the time his daughter was enrolled in an elementary school at the time the company he worked for was later acquired by a New York corporation the Machine he claims they were using on the craft he actually wrote the operations manual for it so far I have not found any chink in the armor if you know what did he tell you about the craft what was he able to tell you oh my god we interviewed him for hours and hours and hours it fit the dimensions he was never ever told except for by a nurse that it came from the Aztek area of mexico the dimensions were accurate he said it was about a hundred feet across him everybody was very compartmentalized so it wasn't like he could stroll around the craft and do anything he wanted they were bomb guarding parts of the metal with a machine to try to analyze what exactly it was made out of what metallurgical substance it was made out of when this craft came down now it hit kind of sandy lomi silty type of soil but still it must have come down hard and yet other than the one puncture of the core the size of a quarter to one of the portals there apparently was no damage to it so this was obviously a really well liked tough craft and so you know you've got to assume the material science behind it had to be very advanced very advanced so obviously would be important with the archuleta family for about three years to get permission to go on and a couple of years ago Susanna and I were blessed with being able to build right before our book came out in 2015 and we actually with a family member went up on the Mesa where the craft allegedly hit with a picture of that in our book yes and it's it's kind of ironic Suzanne pointed this out most of that Mesa is made out of sandstone except for where the craft hit that's made out of volcanic rock and the whole thing was kind of bugging us before we made to hike up to the top of the Mesa you really wouldn't get sparks off a Sam stone Sam stones pretty fragile and when we got up there and we saw the scar where it hit the baby sit that's all evolved Kanak progress well let me just say this though it took us hours to get up to the top because as we said earlier it's about 300 feet high it's a wall of rock and it's several blocks wide city blocks wide and so at the time when we went out there we had been trying for years oh my gosh years trying to get in there to see if we could find it and Scott actually on this particular trip had a broken rib so it was krysta the daughter her granddaughter Scott and I and we were walking around it was hot we were tired we hiked all over looking for any area that didn't have sandstone finally it was a couple hours had gone by crista and I had looked a variety of places and I said I'm really worried about Scott if he does not come back in the next 15 minutes then we're gonna have to do something because he's got that broken rib and I'm really concerned well pretty quick he comes walking around the corner just by coincidence at that time and his face was dragging again we were exhausted he just kind of stumbled over and I said oh honey I'm I felt tears I really did I said you know I think it worked so hard to get here and and I'm sorry that we didn't find it and he just didn't even change the expression in his face he just said I found it

the goose pimples on my skin when I think about I mean I could just cry now thinking about it and I looked at him and I said what what did you say and we were so thirsty and just all kind and he said I found it and he's oh my god you're kidding you're kidding in and I'm just freaking out yeah and he said and I got a picture of it well he had to come down hang down with a broken rib with my iPhone and take a picture so you know when people say research you know are you boots on the ground uh-huh yeah

just hearing a story like this the two of you are just an inspiration to all of us I mean the fact that you just work together so beautifully as a married couple and as a research team I love that and the other thing I want to point out is there's a photograph of what you're describing in your book I'm looking at it as we speak here and yeah it's a very interesting photograph and you can really see that this would be a likely scar I mean it the bluff that's like something is torn out of it and it's very evident when you study the picture that this could very well have been exactly what you're describing that this is where the saucer impacted it and if you were looking at erosion yeah well something that might maybe just eroded from water and fell off erosion would go vertically this is this is horizontal yes yes yes so there's no way and again it's the nature of the rock in that little area I mean maybe a hundred feet of volcanic rock on that whole Mesa meaning a section like a volcanic shaft the irony is if you took a laser go off a rifle and if he stood at the gate where Valentin Archuleta was standing and where he pointed to the family and said that's where it hit you'd be absolutely dead on to where that scar is oh wow so with the line of sight was perfect he had the correct line of sight it's in the right location you're saying and it shows the right sign so yeah yeah but you can their apprehension that they do want people crawling all over their property the liability and people people get crazy even out at the crash site and a stick they've chipped away pieces of the slab you know everybody wants to be part of the action but it's really not very respectful of the integrity of the history of it no no exactly

yeah that's question

I can honestly say I don't blame the Archuleta family and we were grateful respectfully to go on and take that picture and like I said they're wonderful people but I don't blame them at all for wanting their privacy Tracy's just asking me one more thing if we can get into which is the newspaper coverage and cover up that did occur there was one apparently one newspaper account was it in the newspaper called the hustler I think that was the name of it that was a paper back then but the story has been blown out and convoluted over the years the actual story supposedly broke in the Aztek review yeah the hustler was a paper between the four corners area at one point you had two newspapers in a town of 6,000 people you had the Aztek independently as tech review those are the days I was for yeah the one was for the very very conservative Republicans and one was for the very very liberal Democrats and nothing ever changes nothing nothing ever changes supposedly could try to support two newspapers with 6,500 people it turns out it didn't okay one one out the conservative paper stayed they went out of business number of years ago we interviewed the entire family and know that I've gone through the archives Suzanne's gone through the archives Brooks Marshalls gone through all the microfiche and there was a funny article written about the Aztec crash that I think people like maybe Linda confused with a real story on the Aztec crash oh Linda Moulton Howe yeah because she was given the story unfortunately at the

at the archive going through it and it was a tongue-in-cheek article written about it and it was done in like 52 so I had nothing to do it for 48 so is there any reason to think there was an initial newspaper article that was purged or not in your opinion no the Bauer family the son and his wife was still alive Suzanne I had lunch with him gone up to Colorado met with them and he worked at the newspaper until it closed and now he is correct because we've gone back and checked there was never an article written about it other than you know way after the crash gosh sure the owner of the Farmington newspaper was also affiliated with other newspapers yeah and we had the opportunity to read some papers that were never disclosed in the newspaper that discuss it yeah but yeah but there were years later yes years later all right well glad we cleared that up a bit then yeah let's take a quick break

I'm Richard Dolan here with Scott and Suzanne Ramsey we're talking about the Aztec UFO case of 1948 we will be right back welcome back I'm here with Scott and Suzanne Ramsey let's jump right back into the Aztec UFO case I wonder if this is a good time for us to switch gears and get into how this story broke in the late 40s and early 50s with Frank Scully and the really nasty underhanded manner of the destruction of that story by JP Cohn if I could start with something I want to touch something as we go into Scully yeah at the crash site before the craft was moved world-class scientists were brought in to work on the craft in their areas of expertise and that's partly how it was learned how to dissin haha mm-hmm

so that craft would have been sitting there for a while because it takes time to bring those scientists in

yeah they got there pretty quick they were flown into Durango on a c-47 which was a civilian military version of the dc-3 and they were there within a matter of days yeah okay were there for two weeks they had a nurse because that was there and watching over them timing the amount of time that they're in the craft because there was noisy and vomiting from certain people when they would be in more than 20 minutes 20 minutes so there was a nurse that was there also plus the military folks wait I want to back up I want that's really important so you're saying when the scientists went into the craft and my understanding they could not be in for longer than 20 minutes that would be the max they preferred they're only in there for 15 they had literally a nurse there with a stopwatch and with time a scientist go in he come out another scientist would go in and the guy from that we're interviewing the claim to have worked on it it right that he knew about that too he was the one that said well set up to seven years ago that nurse was still alive and we're looking for her obviously but they were limited to the same thing if they were not on the outside Lombard eing the metal and taking meter readings if they had to go inside the craft which is only a few times they were limited to 15 to 20 minutes I'm wondering where that came from was that out of Scully or is that something that you guys came up with that you you did we research that is fascinating no these scientists then as the craft is moved and certain parts taken certain areas for the country to study the scientists when they would come together had a conversation about the fact of how important it was to get this information out they felt there's a remarkable story about dr. Tate and if we have time I'll tell you that story it's very very well worth it but sure so the scientists would come together and they decided that it needed to be shared with the world and the military and the government had desire to do that so they had to find someone that would be able to share this information while protecting them and I think Frank Scully does not get nearly the attention and the accolades that he should have and I often wondered early on why did they choose Frank Scully and they'll hear people discredit him and say oh he he only wrote vanity mag for vanity magazine and these entertainment magazines but he was a prolific writer and from the time he was in college he was very very sick man and had body parts removed limbs and and was not in very good health but he was such a prolific writer in such a quality writer but he was able to cover all of his college everything and all of his medical expenses in advance then he goes on to marry and was able to have really quite a wealthy lifestyle with all of his children and his family the reason that I say that is he was a very devoted person he was a Catholic person who had practice Catholicism and was very active in the Catholic Church was very well-known to many famous people very philanthropic and here's where I think it takes it to a whole new level the type of writing that he did sometimes was ghost writing for people if you've ever had somebody to ghostwrite something for you you would want them to be a person that you can trust impeccably and that you know is going to take care of you yeah likewise he had people come and stay whether it was Hollywood people or just friends down-and-out neighbors if they had a problem or there were issues in their life that they needed kept private they would go to him he would take them under his wing and take care of them and never disclose any of that information I personally believe that is why they chose him to be the person that released the information on Aztec is they knew he was a person that had incredible ethics in and that they could trust and to his grave he would not say who those scientists were I'm so glad you mentioned this and anyone who hasn't read behind the flying saucers and I have to confess it's been a while for me but I did read it it's a really well-written book and when you get into Scully yeah it's he's actually a very sophisticated thinker he was a thoughtful man and it comes through very clearly on every page of that book so it's a shame that it was trashed so severely by JP Kahn but we'll get all I guess we'll get to that but you're suggesting that Scully was approached actively because he was such an exceptional journalist a really good journalist and that's interesting

he was approached why at first by Silas knew and can we talk about Silas Newton hidden historian how he how he got involved in all of us putting it in the Reader's Digest condensed form and looking over there FBI files which we have more that you can get today on Silas Newton and we have 256 pages of Leo Gabe hours which you cannot get at all that's now been moved to the National Archives back in the late 40s before 48 in the FBI files both Leo gay power and Silas Newton look as though they have just gone through a background check by the FBI they talk about their political party affiliation how much money they have how much cash on hand who their friends are they talk about no no known ties to the Communist Party right these are the FBI files on these two men you're saying yes details less a couple hundred pages on both Silas Newton and Leo Gabe our but so here it is that it looks like both of them have gone through very intense scrutiny by the FBI kind of like somebody that's applied for a compartmentalized security clearance for los alamos or Fermi National Lab or argon whatever it's kind of interesting it's like World War two's over and yet the FBI is doing a rather intense background check on both of them well as we have spent 30-some years researching these guys and I've had the pleasure of going out to dinner with Leo gave ours daughter and her husband her husband being the former bookkeeper of Leo gave ours company okay we learned that Leo gave our work for air research there in Phoenix he jokingly would call himself doctor but he was not the dr. G that Scully talks about Scully admits that dr. G is a composite of eight to nine scientists yeah he was very creative he's a engineer at air research he has a side business where he builds beautiful custom homes ideas electronics business mail-order TV parts because of his passion for electronics silas newton on the other hand is a in nineteen forty eight years worth twenty-five million dollars that's not only us confirming that that's the FBI confirming that when they start their investigation into him in 1950 they're talking about his net worth so you'd have two guys that are made out by the media to be almost like Bunco artists continent yeah right

I mean Newton was a was an oil man right he owned oil rigs he oil skully best describes that he can find oil where no one else can and he was a doodle bugger and a doodle bugger to your audience as a machine that every oil man plays with it'll find oil or water anything liquid and if you remember a couple of years ago the Exxon Mobil commercial talks about the machine that they use in satellites it flies over certain areas and with ultrasound waves and other top-secret things that can find oil oh that's exactly what Leo gave our and Silas Newton did the only thing they made a mistake and they told people wink wink it's made with alien technology wink wink but we have spent literally and I'm not exaggerating thousands of hours going over their records their corporate records their personal records make the FBI files Newton Oil Company in Colorado the rediscovery of the Langley or Langley oil fields of Colorado by the way the Gabe ours still pull oil off of that as of as we're talking hi so that was a that was a hell of a rediscovery of an oil field the other thing and talking to the old oil guys in Farmington and Aztec who all knew Silas the big oil companies like the Phillips Brothers have brought us Phillips 66 they started naztech well actually started in st. Louis but moved Aztec they would Tom pan oil well for a while and and say well it's dry and Silas Newton would buy it for 25 bucks and pull another hundred thousand barrels oil out in the heart Canyon Largo Canyon area you have two things going for you natural gas and crude oil mm-hmm my brother-in-law I used to laugh I'd say how to go today's how we drill a hole and hit that damn crude oil yeah I'd say well most people would be happy well we got a bring in trucks and pump it out and truck it out of here the gas natural gas we just hook up to a pipeline yeah way free market way easier yeah but what you're saying here well I just want to back up so with Newton the impression that I'm getting is when he said yeah we're using alien technology he wasn't serious about that there's no reason to think that he was serious with anyone but but it's important because Scully's getting this information JP Cahn learns about it wants to do a book with Scully Scully's like no thanks I got this on my own con it gets a vendetta it seems against Scully and tries to smear his key witnesses that he knows about which is Newton in gay Bower and and paints them in a series of in articles as these sleazy con men and saying yeah we're going to use alien technology to find your oil for you and and cons really misrepresented that he at the time that he went after Scully he told Scott Newberry his boss at the paper that he was working on a big story and he was gonna buy it and at the San Francisco Chronicle was gonna have the exclusive and he's referring to Scully's book yeah he meets with Scully Scully's like be kidding me

I got people lined up to publish this in negotiations with one right now turned out that was Henry Wotton company of course JP side the story is offering twenty five thousand dollars scholars rebuttal to that was what was more like a couple hundred bucks that after expenses probably 25 bucks it goes on and on well anyway new ices Scott Newhouse is what I meant named the town of new house California is named after his family they go back and forth back and forth Scully says look his books not for sale and Kaye pecan looked kind of bad talking to the former employees out there I went out for a week and it just seemed like he had a black eye and he is embarrassed and he wasn't used to being embarrassed because he came he was the only child from a wealthy family and was used to getting his way so he goes on out with true magazine and writes a very negative article on Scully's book talks about criminal activity blah blah blah and JP Kahn was so well-connected we have copies of the letter he actually writes personally to J Edgar Hoover and says hey these guys are talking about it down saucer there talk about using alien technology and their Doodlebug machines and Hoover responds to Kahn in a letter which we have a copy of thank you the FBI says yeah we'll look into it well they took it to three judges one in Colorado one in New Mexico and one in Arizona and said this complaint we need to prosecute these guys and the only thing on all three judges said this is a civil case get it out of here it's not a criminal case and the only thing that they had done they took a check from Herman flater for her money toward the investment of a Doodlebug machine only because Silas Newton had invested a quarter of a million dollars and Slater's get healthy machine there's one of these machines to climb in electronics go off bells and whistles and it was gonna cure you for anything you add ah so we have two guys caught in each other so to speak anyway a constable ended up taking it to a magistrate and the only thing they could get him on was taking FLE ders cheque from Colorado and depositing it the bank in Phoenix Arizona so they called that transportation of stolen money across state line and that charge wouldn't stick anywhere else at any time but there is such a vendetta with the FBI to find out that day they and the FBI could care less about a health machine or a Doodlebug they want it and they say it in writing we want to find out who's scholarly sources on the flying saucer that's why they put them all through this big thing of smoke and mirrors and of course they were convicted of taking a check across state lines in Colorado and nothing ever happened I mean there was they Newton actually sat down and forced the court to tell him what the court costs were and wrote him a check right after the trial it was but but it's smeared his reputation and that was the whole point of it it was to ruin the reputation of three people

Frank Scully Silas Newton now the thing is how did Newton and Gabe our figure into this so were they part in some way or another was Gabe our he was one of the scientists of one of the technicians I guess we should say that Scully folded into dr. G no no okay nothing to do so how do they figure in they figure in because the one scientist that was up in Colorado had dealings with Silas Newton basically Newton was tied into a lot of Technology

Bruce Cabot belonged to the Beverly Hills Country Club where Silas Newton was a member and one day Newton was talking about the Aztec crash and how they had a little size of a transistor radio that that was recovered off the craft and on the hour around the half hour on the quarter hour or whatever it would make a chime noise and Brutus Cabot who had been in military intelligence of World War two thought if this is true this should not be floating around a bar at a country club so independently not knowing that J Edgar Hoover had already been contacted by Cohn

Bruce Cabot says hey it's my patriotic duty to inform you that a man here is claiming alien technology in his possession and that stirs the the old pot even a little harder at that point so it was a coming from different directions to the FBI that this technology is floating around and in private hands this is the source of the famous guy hotel memo special agent guy tell to the FBI it's the most famous it's the most searched FBI document I think on the entire FBI website to this day March of nineteen fifty that memo just for anyone who hasn't looked at it describes stories of alien bodies roughly I think three feet tall and the recovery of a craft and so forth so it's quite it's interesting and you know researchers would say well it refers to the discredited Aztec crash but now after all the work you guys have done I think it's a really important part of our history and it's of legitimate interest I would say but it comes from from Newton so ultimately Newton's sparked all of us yes I think it was really got the ball rolling with Scully and said you got to dig into this and I can bring you people but I think it was more Newton bringing the scientists to Scully than Leo gave our so you're thinking I mean Newton and Gable both had detailed FBI investigations and most likely I guess that the idea is that they were being cleared maybe in connection with with the Aztec event is that what you're thinking I I can't make that connection because it almost looks like they're being cleared for a project prior to 48 AHA but somehow in one way or another Newton Newton's clearances

I guess the hypothesis is allowed him access in some way or another just something having to do with a stack like that's what you're thinking okay yeah so we don't know the details exactly but somehow Newton was in a good position to have learned enough about Aztec to go to Scully and say hey you got to look into this that's the kind of theory been working with and we found that manuscript at the University of Wyoming and Laramie it was never published I never knew about this but yeah that parts of that see when we go through a publisher like our last book you know we're limited to 250 whatever pages and when we do our own book we're not going to be limited to how many pages it's gonna be a lot more than 300 I'm sure yeah we're looking for what I think when you look at the whole Silas Newton gave our deal there's so much more to it than what we have found so far and I don't know how far we can keep digging because it's not just a rich oil man and a gadget guy that sells radio tubes through the mail order this guy was a legitimate engineer slash technical person at air research the D 48 bomber I believe or 46 was the first bomber that was at a pressurized cockpit if you dig into air research Leo Gay Bauer's name is on the patent one of the names out on the path that's really important because the way they've been portrayed and we've mentioned Karl Flock I think in

segment and we all knew Karl flock when he was alive he did so much debunking work on a variety of UFO cases like Roswell and Aztec and the way that he characterized Silas Newton and Gabe our aliha Gabe Bowers he did it in such a way he was so confident he said yeah they're a con men and JP Cohn was a great professional journalist and he just makes made these statements so matter-of-factly that if you the listener didn't know any better you would believe Carlock you think well you know it's an open-and-shut case these people were hoaxing and yet his information was so wrong and I I don't want to go so far as to say that he was intentionally lying maybe he was but it's easy for people back in the 1970s or 1980s who didn't know any better to say yeah

JP Kahn had it he did good investigative journalism he exposed the hoax without doing any additional research people would never know that and it came down to the two of you to do that research and expose JP Kahn for the mendacious vindictive person that he was really just tried to destroy a story because it seemed like he made himself look bad by promising his own publisher things that he couldn't deliver and then went after Scully and went after Scully's witnesses I mean ridiculous very large and he had time on his hands he never had to work a day in his life and I personally feel like this more intelligent that you are the more you have to take that energy and put it in a positive direction and I think equally the more intelligent you are if you don't put in an intelligent direction it goes destructive conduct con means to take up watercolor painting or something I took one of his best friends out to lunch in California Oh Robert McClay Robert did a lot of the art work better fact Robert did the artwork for JP Khan's UFO book he did the cover for it and I have the original watercolor

all of a sudden JP just said now I could have published it the hell it was his rebuttal to Frank Scully

O'Reilly he he was an egomaniac and he anybody that worked with him would tell you even after he left the st. San Francisco Chronicle he still had a desk there in a telephone so it was like he had a private office he could go in and use any time he wanted but it's sad that this was probably one of the best UFO cases in history they got destroyed very well by the United States government J Edgar Hoover had played a big role in it and it's a shame just it's all I can say it's a shame it went the direction it did do you think Hoover knew the truth about Aztec and then worked over at Lita to squash it you do think that why do you say okay I forget who we interviewed we've been doing so many years I do certain things that should jump right out don't the FBI really in their own words they weren't really out to punish Scully they just wanted to know who was leaking him the information yeah and it's a document from the FBI it's it's not we're not after Frank Scully to put him in jail we're after Frank's belly to find out what scientists are leaking him this information and the other thing that you didn't mention at least you weren't I wanted you to be a little more clear is the fact that Gabe Bowers FBI file and Silas Nunes I think it's not just that there's less available now than there used to be it's that there were hundreds of pages of gay Bowers file that have never been released from the FBI and you got it like ask what is it

you've got redacted held back hundreds of pages of information in this man's FBI file why it's all of these years later and that's another reason I guess to assume that Hoover had to have known these are FBI files that themselves have been held back so yeah presumably there's very sensitive information in there right I think too that JP came round just at about the right time and was really a favor to the FBI yes absolutely you know they they really and were grateful because he was somebody they could dump this on just for your listeners we should maybe spend a minute and I'll make it quick recapping the Silas Newton FBI file yes please early on in my investigation we were able to recover give or take two hundred and fifty pages of Silas Newton I was on the phone so much to the archivist up in Winchester Virginia we're on first-name basis hey I start the conversation how'd your son doing in soccer the other night

Oh Scottie did great thanks for asking yeah we really became friends and I appealed to the FBI the two hundred and I think it was 11

211 pages that they would not release no matter how redacted and I appealed it they denied my appeal and I came back some years later and requested all the FBI files on Silas Newton and I don't know what the exact number was but it was like 50 pages came back to the FBI I said wait a minute on this date under this file number you release this man and I appealed to get the rest well that's all you're getting now so the more it seemed like Aztec was coming back around yeah tough for the FBI got now leo Gabe our I have a big chunk of his file but I did not get it from the FBI Nick Redfern did years ago when I went to try to get it Nick gave me the file I have it here with Suzanne and I and they they withheld again about 200 pages to Nick so I went back to the FBI and said I want all the like two copies of the FBI file and Leo gave our and they came back and said request denied and I went through the appeal process and finally they came back and said we've moved that file to the National Archives in Virginia mm-hmm

surprise we have some horrible news for you we're really sorry those files are over in Suitland Maryland and Mike said really and they said yeah well we have an archive here we have one in Virginia than over in Maryland yeah and you'll you'll have to contact them so of course Mike comes back feeling kind of rejected and we contacted them and they said absolutely not the file is never to be released quit asking so we have a mail order if you want to listen to the debunkers a mail order gadget electronics guy and a millionaire oilfield guy get their files are smothered that's a good place to wind down this segment of my interview with scott and suzanne ramsey authors of the aztec incident you will not want to miss the third and final segment of this interview in which we go into the identities of the chief scientists involved in the initial study of the craft and in which the Ramseys reveal the name of the very successful tech company that they ended up creating in its aftermath if you like what's on my channel please help me by subscribing getting notifications and liking the video you can also see what I'm up to it richard ola members comm always lots happening there meanwhile while we learn and grow and search for the truth let's be good to each other later

Marshall Vian Summers

My name is Marshall Vian Summers and I am presenting what I believe to be an important, what I call Greater Community awareness understanding about the people of Earth and our presence in a Greater Community full of intelligent life and what our emergence into that Greater Community will mean for us and can mean for us, both the opportunities and the hazards involved in perhaps the greatest event in human history.

And my background really is more as a minister.

I left my work as a special ed[ucation] teacher for the blind about, almost 40 years ago, began to teach inner guidance, had a personal revelation in 1982, which confronted me with the Voice that had been counselling me both in my inner guidance work and as a special educator.

And that had a tremendous impact on altering the course of my life. And since then I have been receiving a vast body of teachings and insight, commentary called the New Message. It's a New Message for Humanity.

And a big part of that has to do with our encounter with this Greater Community of intelligent life because that has a lot to do with why we're all here in the world at this time.

But we as terrestrial dwellers do not yet have the wisdom or, nor the perspective nor the insight enough yet to be able to comprehend this Greater Community sufficiently so that we as the native peoples of the world do not make the kind of critical errors that the native peoples in the past have made regarding their first contacts with explorers from beyond.

[What is the voice with whom you are in contact? Is it ongoing?]

I consider the voice of the Voice, the primary Voice, to be an Angelic Voice.

And it was this Angelic Voice that began to speak to me in my work with blind children Because anyone who works with the handicapped has to be able to develop certain kinds of intuitive skills.

You can't go by the book if you're really going to teach young people how to be independent livers, or live independently.

And so this Voice grew in scope and power for me to such a point that it began to give me curricula to teach.

And I taught that curriculum and I also studied it.

I also made myself the first student of my work, always.

And this built up to such a point that I had an epiphany of my own because certainly that Voice isn't here simply to make you feel comfortable or to make you happy, but to ask you to do something significant and to engage you in serving the world beyond what you had considered to be possible or even preferable before.
So this Voice experience has grown into a major aspect of my life and certainly the source of my work.
And it was this Voice that asked me to receive the Allies of Humanity Briefings from a group of observers, off-planet observers, who were witnessing the extraterrestrial Intervention in our world and wanted to provide us wisdom about that Intervention, to equip us and forearm us and forewarn us of what that could mean for us.
We have a real disadvantage in encountering this Greater Community. And so, the Allies of Humanity Briefings are here to impart Greater Community Knowledge and Wisdom to us, so that we may have this contact experience, sort of a position of power and authority and responsibility.
But the Angelic Voice is the Voice of the New Message, it's the Voice that has presented all of my writings, all of my recordings and now is beginning to reach people in other countries and around the world. So it has been quite an inexplicable journey. So whenever anyone asks me about my life and how did you come into this, I'm always bewildered at how I'm going to answer such a thing.

And I think you understand this because anyone who is connected beneath the surface of the mind what you could call the higher self or the deeper self begins to live a much more inexplicable life.

And I know many of your readers and viewers understand this and experience this as do the people who are gathered here today.

Are the Angelic Voice and the Allies of Humanity the same? What is their relationship?

The Allies of Humanity Briefings are Briefings from an extraterrestrial source. It's an authentic off-planet communication that I was asked to receive.

And I should mention that when I was asked to receive this, I was very resistant to it.

I just did not want to get involved in this arena called the extraterrestrial presence in the world.

But before in 1996 I was preparing Greater Community Spirituality, which is a very core book to the New Message teachings.

And of course it deals a great deal with the Greater Community, understanding God at the level of the Greater Community, understanding our association, our individual association, with the universe full of intelligent life, what wisdom means there, the things that we do not yet understand in order to function there responsibly and effectively.

And it was this Voice that asked me to receive an off-planet source called the Allies of Humanity.

I finally relented because after a while, I mean, freedom is no choice in that sense.

And that began the Briefings, the transmission of the Briefings.

The first set of Briefings happened in two stages over the course of one year, and the second set of Briefings all happened within about just a few days.

And a third set of Briefings, which has not yet been published, most of it was received in one day.

And then last February I received the final chapter to it.

And there's a story behind the Allies which is pretty interesting because they're really operating as spies here in service to us because they represent free nations in our region of space.

And freedom is rare in the universe, and particularly in our region of space.

So we know from our worldly experience that free nations don't get along very well with unfree nations and there's always a dissonance there and a difficulty.

the world is now really being by races who are here to take advantage of this world and of our position in this world.

And the Allies Briefings warn us about this, that this is premature contact, that humanity is not ready for contact. We do not have the social cohesion. We do not have the worldly wisdom.

We're not prepared for this kind of engagement with races who can be far more clever and effective than we are and who can exert much more control over the mental environment, a reality that we're only just beginning to understand.

And so the Briefings are really here not only to warn us, but to encourage us.

what I see in the world today is that individuals and groups of individuals are losing confidence, not only in themselves individually, but in human institutions, human leadership.

And of course we all have good reasons to doubt human leadership.

But this erosion of confidence in ourselves and one another sets the stage for the kind of Intervention that is occurring in the world today, which is not a military Intervention, it's an Intervention of persuasion and dissonance.

And it's manifesting itself in different ways.

And so it's very important for us, particularly for people who have a spiritual grounding, who are focused spiritually, because we can make some very critical mistakes in assuming that whatever happens to us is the right thing to happen to us.

You've heard these kind of platitudes,

"We're right where we just need to be.

God gives us whatever we need. We can handle whatever happens."

These are the kind of ideas that can really get us in trouble in engaging with the complexity of life, even as it's manifesting in our world today.

Describe how the Allies of Humanity came to you.

Well I'll hold this in contrast to the experience to the Angelic Presence, which is a tremendous Presence.

In fact, for me it was so tremendous that when I really was able to face it completely, it had a kind of devastating effect on my life.

It wasn't a sweet and comforting kind of experience. It was more like being blasted by radiation. And it certainly created a shift in me. And so,

I hold that kind of experience, which is a tremendous experience of Presence, will fill the entire room.

You can't think of anything else. You can't do anything else. I mean, it's overwhelming. And if you have not learned to recognize what it is, you might think it is a terrible thing that's happening to you.

You might be terrified of it.

So, I've had a long runway in preparing to receive this kind of Presence and to receive its communication.

But the Allies, I did not meet them personally.

They have never visited the planet. They've never been on the planet.

And they make it very clear that the real Allies of Humanity are not here and will not come.

And we can talk about why that is so from the ethical and practical standpoint.

So my experience of the Allies was like hearing a voice on a very long distance call, no personality,

no presence,

something far, far away.

Because they were far away. I mean, even, even positioned in our solar system discreetly as they were at the beginning, they were still very far away.

And so this was a Divine connection that is free of mechanical interference, interception.

It is something we don't know how to create.

I don't know if anyone knows how to create this.

And so there could be no interference from the Intervention itself, and,

and no interception

but for me it was a very faint experience compared to the experience of the Presence.

So no dramatic meetings, didn't get on any spaceships, didn't travel around the galaxy.

I didn't do anything like that.

And yet the emphasis on my receiving this was so strong.

And had that emphasis not been there,

I'm sure I would have just dismissed it as an errant kind of experience or an annoyance or,

'No, I don't want to do that.'

But it proved to be very important and I recorded it in my voice and it was transcribed.

But when I read the Allies of Humanity Briefings,

I know this is not coming from me.

And I think especially notable in the Allies is the regard it has for humanity, a seeming regard that's much greater than, I think, most of us have for our own selves as a race. I mean we're a pretty clumsy, violent and disorganized race, collectively.

We might be fantastic individually, but collectively we don't make a very good show in our local universe.

And the Allies do comment on that.

But for me the engagement was very, very subtle.

But when I locked into that it was quite strong. I mean, the words flowed. The feeling flowed.

The kind of beyond, words you would hear in a communication had real power and efficacy and certainly affected me, affected the people who were the first to listen to these.

But it's just my voice.

Whereas when you listen to the Angelic Presence speaking through me, you're hearing a totally different Voice.

I mean it has somewhat like my voice because it's using my body as a platform, but that's clearly not me.

In fact, we listened to one of the recordings this morning in our conference—which we call the Encampment

and I listen to that voice and I thought, “I wish I could talk like that.”

I really do. And I mean that. I have tried and I can't do it.

You have a 40 minute presentation. It's word-perfect. Every sentence is powerful

The inflections are perfect.

Nobody can figure out what the accent is.

I don't know.

You know, all I can say is to that experience and to provide it to others and see if it is valuable for them.

How did you receive the voice of the Allies of Humanity?

I hear it as a voice and then that voice locks on to my voice and then I can speak it and record it's way too fast for me to write.

I've never been able to write these things down at the speed which they're given.

Before I received the first set of Briefings I was kept up almost an entire Weekend because I didn't really want to accept it by this little voice saying, “Would you please receive us?”

Receive us.

And this was like a ringing in your ear. It was so continual.

It's like a repeating message.

But once I locked into the voice, I could speak it inexplicable training has enabled me to do that.

Describe the difference between receiving the Angelic Assembly and the Allies of Humanity.

Completely different.

The contrast couldn't be greater,

no presence,

no sense of anyone nearby.

You're hearing something very, very distant.

No. It's like

it's coming through a tube, like someone's speaking through a long tube.

And that's one of the ways that I knew that it was something very different.

And that's why at the beginning I was resistant because I just didn't want to deal, I don't want to deal with Voices I don't know, and particularly if they claim to be off-planet and physical and things like that.

But what they reveal,

I think, is pretty remarkable and very clear and very shocking, and not only shocking in terms of what we don't know, but shocking in terms of what we have to might reconsider

That we think we already know about the extraterrestrial presence and what it means for our world.

What do the Allies reveal?

First, they want us to know that there are free races actually out in the universe and that the universe is governed by nature and no one has been able to overcome nature.

Now this is very important because we think technology has no end and that it can replace all the constraints of nature.

And they make it very clear that the more advanced a race is technologically, the greater its need for resources, the more it has to be engaged in complex arenas of trade, the more it has to be uniform and undemocratic, and the more it's actually vulnerable to having access to what it needs from the Greater Community. And we live in a highly populated part of the universe where there is not a lot of frontier, where there are very strict rules of trade, a great deal of control over territory.

It's not the Wild West out there, free for our taking.

And war has been suppressed in this region of space. Conquest is suppressed.

So if you want to gain influence over another world, you have to do it through other means.

And the other means have been cultivated to a very high degree.

And we're talking about persuasion and deception,

And here we are the native peoples of the world thinking that we're in the center of the universe, that if anyone would come to visit us they would come to help us, most naturally, because we are so important to the cosmos. And, you know, we, of course, want higher technology because we want power.

And we have problems here we can't seem to deal with, global problems, resource depletion, climate change, political corruption, a growing dissonance between nations over who will have access to the remaining resources of the world, just one example.

And so we feel very needy of help, see what I'm saying?

And so the Allies Briefings make it very clear that those who are in the world today will present themselves as agents of change and beneficial change for humanity.

The world cannot be militarily overtaken because it would destroy its value.

None of the races visiting our world can live here because of the biological hazard.

So they need human assistance. They need us to use the planet the way they want it used.

And they'll even use all of our infrastructure. And the reason that this is new and not ancient is because only in the latter part of the 20th century have we created an infrastructure that foreign races could utilize.

The native peoples couldn't do anything for them.

[OK, well what about the times of Atlantis?]

The world's been visited throughout its history. There have been attempts to colonize the planet.

They've all failed because of the biological hazard.

And biological hazard is a very big deal in the Greater Community.

And we can certainly talk about that if we have any time.

And I think the Allies' intention is to warn us that there are different races of beings here, but they're all part of an Intervention.

And there are competing groups here in the world and they're multiracial.

So we may see them in different forms

And they can certainly project forms.

I don't mean that mysteriously, I mean that technologically.

I mean they can project images holographically into our environment.

And they will use our aspirations,

our greed, our corruption, our uncertainty and our insecurity to build their importance.

And certainly, even at this point, they have enough human representatives

And apologists in the world that will promote their importance and the idea that humanity cannot make it on its own, that our leaders are incorrigible, their institutions are too flawed to be redeemed and that we must have their health and their brilliance and even their spiritual enlightenment in order to redeem ourselves and to take care of our world in the way that we might aspire to. Now what we don't understand is what constrains the Intervention.

People say, 'Well if they want the place they should just come take it. I mean, if they're not taking it by force, it means 'that they're probably not violent or they're probably not here to harm us in any way.'

there's so many missing pieces to this puzzle that we can't add that I think the Briefings attempt to add in the most clearest and lucid manner possible. I mean, you know, your ten-year-old could read the Allies of Humanity and get it, okay.

So it doesn't require a highly sophisticated notion of dimensions or dimensionality or a spiritual dimension or a political astuteness in order to read the Allies Briefings and realize what they're telling you, they're telling you you're facing a subtle invasion that is not here to destroy you but to utilize you and will use your strengths and your weaknesses and your adaptability to this world,

Which they do not possess, in order to establish their own agenda here.

Do the E.T.s intervening here want to live in our world?

All they can do that is through genetic manipulation.

But even genetic manipulation is a very time-consuming and difficult task.

And that's why the Intervention has taken a very slow pathway.

It just happens to be the most effective way to ingrain yourself in the consciousness, in the biological reality.

What are the names of the extraterrestrials invading here?

Well first of all, there are no names given in the Allies Briefings.

They do not describe where they're from because they want to protect their free worlds.

They also do not describe in names the races who are here because it would be meaningless to us or it could certainly generate a lot of fantasy and, you know, speculation.

What is important to us is to know that those in our world today are resource explorers and they are working beneath the rules or around the rules of engagement that are established in our region of space in order to have access to our world.

If it appears to outside observers that their presence here is not resisted or denounced,

then they have, within the rules of engagement in our region of space, they can be here without setting off alarms of their competitors or establishing official oversight problems.

The official oversight is there's no government ruling the universe, but there are governments ruling trade.

And trade rules everything for advanced nations that are interdependent with one another.

And that is where the control is demonstrated.

How is the Intervention operating here?

You know, whenever I talk about this I have to kind of paint a picture in the background because the picture is very different than what most people think today.

We either think that the off- planet intelligences and races are either very demonic or very angelic,

Or we think there are good ones and bad ones.

You know, there're good guys out there that can help us and there're bad guys who are not going to help us.

The Briefings themselves kind of set the record straight that in order to create an unambiguous situation on Earth, those potential groups who were visiting in earlier times are not here.

Because we don't have the ability to discern. We don't have the subtlety or the insight to discern friend from foe.

You cannot tell an ally from an adversary unless you're very skilled in the mental environment, very intuitive, very insightful, literally a seer, because they're presenting themselves as the saviors of humanity.

in the background they're taking people and never returning them.

In the background they're building a new human, not to replace us, but to determine our direction.

I'm often also asked, and I never like these questions very much, but I'm often I asked, you know, is our president an extraterrestrial or is our leaders.

I think the thing to understand here, because I've had an opportunity both through the Allies Briefings and through the Greater Community teachings of the New Message, which go way, way beyond the Allies themselves, those individuals that are being prepared to be in the world are here to advise the leaders.

They're psychic. They're powerful.

They're brilliant.

You can recognize them if you have the eyes to see.

But most people will not recognize them.

They're not in positions of leadership.

They're unaccountable to the public.

You will rarely see them on camera.

This is how an intelligent race gains ability and influence and control without the people knowing it.

What do we know about the 'Rules of Engagement' in our local region of space?

Large nations, if they become involved networks of trade, have great influence over each other and it's a very competitive environment.

The universe, our universe that we're going to have to deal with, isn't a big frontier with a bunch of uninhabited Earths out there that we can go migrate to when we've just completely used up this one.

And this reality is a very competitive reality. And so the skill in mental environment, the skill in persuasion, the skill of seers, the skill of things that we might hold to be very spiritual but now have been used, or are use, in a very mundane and even invasive way, are used a great deal.

I mean, once the rules are established everyone figures out a way to get around them or to skirt them or to operate within them effectively.

And of course we're like the young child that goes into the big city though we don't know anything about the social reality,

The political reality of that metropolis.

And it's our naiveté and our innocence that makes us probably endearing. I think you get this sense of endearment when you read the Allies Briefings. They think we're very sweet, actually. But they also indicate that, you know, some things we don't know that could destroy us.

And not having any idea of what the reality is beyond our solar system is a tremendous disadvantage.

So those forces in the world today are not, you know, operating in a military sense.

But they're infusing themselves into the hierarchies of religion, government and probably, even more specifically or more greatly, in commerce.

complexity that gets really difficult because different nations have been contacted by different groups.

And certainly I'll say a few things that might shed some light on this. One is if you want to gain ascendancy in a world and have your presence be the most trusted presence, then you have to weaken the strongest nations.

And one of the ways you weaken a strong nation is by engaging it in intractable conflicts, and then begin to erode the confidence of its people in that nation.

This is very much about persuasion and acceptance, okay.

I make this emphasis about war because our whole orientation to space is war, Star Trek, Star Wars, War of the Worlds, this is where we're coming from as a people.

We think the universe is just another big battleground between empires and freedom fighters and all this kind of stuff, which is a total projection of, you know, our reality here on Earth.

the truth is we're facing a non-human universe.

And that alone is enough to ' give people chills.

We're facing a universe that does not value human values.

But we're also facing a universe that, like every other creature, requires resources to live, has to deal with competition, has to deal with provision, has to coexist with others.

So our emergence into the Greater Community is an emergence into a much more sophisticated and complex environment.

And we're going to emerge into this Greater Community because we can't stop.

It's happening, not because we're going out and finding out what's out there, but because what's out there is coming here, not all of what's out there, but some of it.

The Briefings also indicate that there are very few worlds in the universe who know of our existence

those who do know keep it a secret, fewer competitors.

You know, it's in the, this is the Allies Briefings talk about this, as well as the New Message Greater Community teachings, is that we're following a very,

a very normal path of self-destruction that most races that become technologically endowed begin to outstrip their world's

and are usually engaged in the Greater Community, not because of their explorations but because the Greater Community arrives offering gifts, with it, secret plans.

And that's how the inducement, that is the inducement.

The inducement is not just to be a conquered people because we'd resist.

And if we resist they couldn't function here and they destroy the value of this world.

But if we can submit and if our desires and our ambitions can be enticed, then that's the best weapon there is, to make the enemy drop their weapons and join you according to the engagement that you present.

[The Greater Community: Part of our individual and collective destiny.]

We're, you know, even today, even in the world with, even without a extraterrestrial presence here, I mean, we're starting to learn about the power of influence.

You know, this is not, in most places of the world, this is not gun boat diplomacy anymore.

This is about dependence.

The nation becomes dependent upon what you purchased from them or provide them.

Then without changing their flag or their language, you begin to determine the course of their destiny.

You don't really want to occupy them because that is way too expensive and difficult.

You don't want them to resist you because that's way too difficult.

And this is beginning to give us a picture of how nations influence one another in a Greater Community where the level of sophistication is much, much higher and where the psychic abilities are much higher. So I always want to take this into a larger arena of life and also I hope we have time to talk about what the connection is to our core spirituality because we are in the world today for a purpose each of us. We're here to be in a time of transition and danger in the world.

You know, the Greater Community certainly many people are, feel connected to it anyway for reasons that they probably can't explain very well.

And it's certainly going to be part of our collective and individual destiny.

The fact that it's still, you know, barred from the social discourse doesn't diminish the fact that it's centrally important to our future and to what kind of world we're going to have.

But it's very muddy water.

And even the truth has been so sullied.

I gave a presentation in Denver about 10 years ago to a group there.

And a young man came out and he said to me afterwards, he said, 'You know, there hasn't been anything clean about the extraterrestrial presence for 25 years.'

And so, you know, we have to look now at what our relationship with this Greater Community is, our relationship with this Intervention.

I mean 'not the whole universe is intervening here.' I mean 'we're just part of a larger environment and we've come of age.

We've reached puberty technologically, okay?

We're now subject to greater interests.

And we're also destroying the planet, the wealth of the planet, a wealth that others would value, its biological wealth.

When I say resources I'm not talking about, you know, coal seams. I'm not talking about the kinds of things that we think are really important.

I'm talking about biological elements in a universe of barren worlds.

I'm talking about blood, talking about plasma, talking about cellulose.

I'm talking about the building blocks of life.

This is precious stuff.

The recent Allies Briefings say, 'You have no idea how important a tree is.'

So it's really important for us to begin to get a more Greater Community perspective, if that's possible, than simply projecting all of our values out onto space, which will never really inform us of what we're dealing with. And that's what I think the Allies Briefings, the Greater Community teachings of the New Message give us an opportunity to step out of this and see the universe in a more prosaic manner, not a multi-dimensional, not not in a way that, you know is extremely subtle, but in the way that's manifest.

Because we have to deal with the manifest reality before we can deal with the subtle reality.

You know, if we're running out of money or if we've got a tumor in our side, right? or if we've just lost our house, that's a lot more important than our meditation practice for that day.

And so, it's the manifest reality we have to begin to get a handle on. And that's not as complex

I don't feel it's complex, or as mystical because this is level confusion. Level confusion is a real problem here because there are different levels.

And the levels present different kinds of things to us.

But if we miss the fundamental level that we're the native peoples of the world encountering resource explorers that we know nothing about, whose intentions are never revealed,

whose activities are surreptitious, whose impact upon people is generally destructive and manipulative, then we have to deal with it at that level primarily if we're going to be a free race in the future.

If we can't deal with it at that level, if we get lost in the dimensionality of this whole phenomenon, which is big,

we're going to sell the world away or give it away.

And we're going to do that. It won't be taken from us.

That's the difference. You see, this is where human responsibility or ability to respond becomes critical.

What is the importance of spirituality?

In the New Message teachings, one of the important things about Greater Community Spirituality, spirituality of the universe, is this reality of Knowledge.

Because, and I'm gonna use this word in a different way,

I'm not talking about information or book learning or, you know, what we learned in high school or the university.

I'm going to talk about Knowledge as a deeper mind.

We can call it higher self, Christ-self, Buddha-self, whatever.

This mind operates beneath the surface of our worldly mind, our intellect, which is pretty much totally conditioned.

I mean,

you're never going to totally recondition your personal mind.

I mean, it is thinking how culture thinks. It is thinking according to our biological and social realities.

It can think better and it could be valuable but it is very, very ingrained. Excuse me.

And I want to take Knowledge out of the religious realm if I can or the 'high spiritual' realm, because there's so many things associated with it, and bring it down into a kind of a consciousness baseline.

This is the well of what you know and can know and your ability to know. This is the part of you that's still connected to God.

It's not the part of you that's a soul journeying through manifest reality. This is the part of you that didn't leave, that isn't journeying through manifest reality, or it's going with you, but it's not on that journey.

This is the only part of us that cannot be manipulated by any worldly, extraterrestrial, interdimensional anything.

This is important because this is the source of our strength and our integrity and our ability to see.

If that does not become the emphasis of an evolving humanity, then we will, we will be seduced en masse.

And we'll be seduced in a way we never thought we'd be seduced.

And how we'll be seduced is being offered what we want, which is the most deceptive form of seduction there is.

Beauty, wealth and power are part of that, certainly.

And we're very primed for it. I mean as the world becomes more disorderly, as resource depletion continues, as nations become more fractious with one another, and we're entirely able to make our own war, by the way.

We don't need any help from beyond to do that.

We're very good at that. We've been doing that for a long time and nobody has to teach us anything about that.

But the wars that we become engaged with, particularly in larger powers, do have a purpose for the Intervention.

If the only nations that could really rally the world are weakened sufficiently through intractable conflicts, and if the two or three strongest nations of the world are repitched in opposition to each other or that's fortified, there will never be a consensus here.

And that doesn't take as much Intervention as you might think.

Because everything that happens that we do is a result of our decision making.

And what influences our decision making is what informs our decisions.

And this is where the power of Knowledge becomes centrally important.

And this is where our spirituality isn't just a wondrous place to be or a place to escape into or a coping mechanism for dealing with a harsh and incomprehensible world, but becomes the traction for really being powerful here, and insightful and beyond persuasion.

And this is the part of us amongst other things we have to develop that's very core to our success, in my view.

The Allies Briefings talk about this, the power of Knowledge, it's the greatest power in the universe, and the intervention's not using it or they wouldn't be here.

At that level you can see this clearly. This is not a mystery.

I've gone to conferences and said, 'This is not a mystery.' Everyone's like, 'What?!'

Because keeping it a mystery is part of the deception.

'We're gonna keep this so inexplicable and we'll never get it and it's [magnificent.]' It keeps the adventure going, like, 'This is an adventure in consciousness.

Study these things.' That's one line of thought.

So when I've gone to speak to groups of people and presented the Allies Briefings in as gentle and compassionate way I can,

I mean the resistance is just tremendous because it's like I'm taking people's parade away from them.

I'm taking their lollypop away from them.

I am depriving them of this really exciting thing that's going on and turning it into just another damn thing we have to deal with in life.

Spirituality is a core strength of humanity.

I'd like to talk a little about God, because God is a part of this and we are spiritual beings with a spiritual origin and a spiritual destiny.

And I think our spirituality is actually one of the core strengths of humanity in a universe of highly technological and secular worlds, which predominate in our region of space.

We do not need to look for other races to spiritually enlighten us. We actually have the materials to do that ourselves and have actually done fairly well in keeping the Mystery alive here, where it's died in many, many other places.

When I talk about God, I'm not talking about our various belief systems in ultimate power, and of course, whenever the word God is mentioned, people run into all their dissonance about religion and all issues about religion and organized religion and so forth, except to say that the thing that is going to enable humanity to enter into this Greater Community as a free and self-determined race is going to have a lot to do with our spirituality.

And I don't mean our spiritual belief or the subtleties of our spirituality. I'm talking about the part of us that is connected to it firmly and immutably.

Because if that's the only part of us that cannot be manipulated by any worldly or otherworldly force,

Then that represents the source of our wisdom, our strength and our unity with each other.

Because in facing the Intervention in the Greater Community, we are certainly facing an adversity that we're unaccustomed to and do not really know how to discern very well.

And I don't think anyone in government really knows how to discern it either. I don't think there's a secret group that's got all the cards on the table.

And they're being influenced as well.

So it comes down to What people see and know and their responsibility within themselves and to others because this is what enables the native race to rally

And to begin to question—at least question at the outset, the meaning and the value of this.

If we're hungry for technology from beyond the world, which is part of the inducement, it's liquor for the natives, for sure.

If we want others to come and rescue us, that will be accommodated.

If we want an overseer in the world that's non-human, that will be provided.

But it's really, we have to grow up and become responsible.

If we're going to enter this Greater Community, you can't have a nation full of, run by tribal conflict and warring nations.

And so, in adversity here is the opportunity.

And the opportunity is the Intervention.

The Intervention and the breakdown of environmental stability in the world are the two things that can prompt humanity to unite in its own defense.

It has to be that powerful to overcome our attitudes, our beliefs, our history between nations, the contention between religions, all the things that fracture us and are fracturing us further and further and further, most of which we're doing on our own. The Intervention can step back and just let us degrade ourselves down.

They'll help us do that in certain ways, but I mean we're doing a pretty good job even if we didn't get any assistance.

The opportunity here is really that humanity has to unite to be in the Greater Community.

There are three requirements for freedom in the universe, self-sufficiency, unity and discretion.

Now we're clearly losing our self-sufficiency at an alarming rate.

We're spending tomorrow's inheritance like there was no inheritance.

We're selling our children out, frankly.

We're going to use up everything as fast as possible, always thinking that the well will never go dry, and the world is going to reshape itself to assist us in that as we degrade the planet and change its natural balances, which have enabled the rise of human civilization.

Those balances, if they become imbalances, can reverse that process.

We have to become united, not that we're all clones of each other or we all live under one flag.

But the cooperation is, you know, united we survive the Greater Community, divided we fail to it, we fall to it, eventually.

And the third is discretion.

We're broadcasting out into space our wars, our foolishness, our comedies, our tragedies-everything.

The discreet deserver may never understand our nature, but they can certainly understand our tendencies and behavior.

That will have to stop.

Free nations do not broadcast, except to each other in ways that are very safely encoded.

The price of freedom in the universe is unity, self-sufficiency and discretion.

If we require other nations to provide our core resources here, human freedom will be lost.

I don't care what your political persuasion is, what country you come from, what your religious belief is, what inner voices you listen to.

That's the name of the game.

World Unity

I've spoken to conspiracy groups before and, you know, human unity is just a big flag.
It's the red flag.

When I talk about unity,

I'm talking about responsible management of the planet and cessation of human conflict, not just purely for moral or ethical reasons, but for really practical reasons.

I mean, we're going to have to protect the arable land of the world.

We're going to have protect fresh water and renew fresh water.

We're going to have to do all this stuff or we are, you know, we are not going to have a future, or not a desirable one, certainly.

And that is part of the reason the Intervention's here.

The other part of the reason the Intervention's here is we're at the threshold of becoming technologically powerful enough to discern it effectively and to communicate out into space that we don't want anyone messing with us.

'Stay away, please.

We're not ready.

We'll let you know when we're ready.'

That's why the real Allies of Humanity, or races that could become the Allies of Humanity are not interfering in the world today because it's highly unethical for them to do that.

Even if they wanted to help us grow and become peaceful and peace loving, they would have to control us to do that.
Or they would just send their Wisdom, like in the Allies Briefing, they just send their wisdom.
They're not sending, you know, advisers down here to encourage us, persuade us, see what I'm saying? There's a big difference between sharing wisdom with somebody and beginning to control their life, or trying to control the life or the outcome.
I don't consider the Intervention to be evil.

I think it's just self-interest in the universe.

And we have things they need and they really need them.

So there's a lot of myths here that have to be blown up about, you know, self-sufficiency and free energy, which is a total myth, by the way, in my view. I mean, there's no free lunch in the universe.

And even if you could harness free energy like harnessing the power of the sun, you're going to have to create some pretty powerful technology to do it on a big scale.

So you still need resources. Right.

So even if the energy is free in order to capture it and use it, you still need huge infrastructure, lots of resources, all these kinds of things.

So it's not really free, see what I mean?

You know, it's not really free.

But I want to go back to God because whether people believe in God, it's important that they know that there's a part of them that cannot be corrupted and has never been corrupted.

And that there's a way that that part of them can speak to them and advise them.

And this is, you can call it your ground of being, your gut feeling, whatever you might call it within a religious or a general vernacular, there's a part of us that has to advise us, you know?

Or you could say to the Intervention,

'Can't you just see this for what it is?'

Fifty years of UFO research, can't see it for what it is.

Why is that?

Fifty years of UFO research, cannot see this.

'Oh, we know we're being visited, sure.' We knew that 50 years ago, haven't gotten any further, really, got lots of sightings, got drawings and radar and tons of speculation and lots of kind of science, pseudoscience, all kinds. But can anyone say, 'What is this?'

You mentioned that there is something within people that cannot be corrupted. Can you say more about that?

In the way that my understanding has evolved and what's been presented to me over these many years, is that I don't usually use the word soul very much.

I describe it more as a part of us that is still connected to God that's very wise and looks on everything with much greater discernment and depth.

There's a part of us that is disconnected from God.

And we live in the part most of the time that is disconnected.

And that's almost a price of being in the world, because if you really had full God awareness, you either wouldn't want to be here.

It's way too dissonant.

Or you'd have to be here on a major mission and you'd garner a lot of resistance.

In that sense, that's enough.

If you know that a part of you is wise and a part of you is not wise and you can distinguish that on an increasing basis in your own experience, then whatever your religious affiliation or belief or ideology might be, you can relate to this.

I mean, people know what I'm talking about.

You know when I've gone to foreign countries and talked about the Intervention, they know, no problem getting that.

Hey, we've been intervened with for centuries.

We're being manipulated right, I mean, there's no pretense of freedom and democracy and, you know, where nobody can affect us because, you know, we're God's chosen race. And people know exactly you're talking about.

I mean, it's just from a different source. 'Oh okay, yeah, I can get that.'

And so it's this ability to see, recognize and know things that's going to be very key.

And, you know, it's under the radar of the intellectual conversation.

in my view it ends up

In the final hour being the most important thing because we're never going to fully understand the Intervention and how it works.

We might finally figure out its impact on our governments and the way they behave, which I think a lot is being done there. I think on our end of the spectrum, we're putting a lot of things together because that's the part of us that's going to capitulate first.

You know, and I want to say one more thing about that if we have time, one of the arguments for Intervention is that Intervention threatens our economic interests and therefore, our economic interests will want to want to thwart Intervention.

But it's really the opposite.

Our economic interests are to be the first to be persuaded. If you can give power no one else has, one little piece of technology which may be a trinket in the universe, if that gives you supremacy in your world your business world, your life, oh boy.

That's unbridled greed right there.

Have the governments in the world made deals with the 'visitors?'

Well, I don't think it's a done deal because there're elements in our government, this is what the Allies talk about.

They don't really talk about our government because they don't really know much about our government, except that we transmit everything.

Even the government transmissions can be, somebody could sit out there and read just our entire script, you know what I'm saying?

There are factions within our government that are aware of the Intervention and support it.

And there are factions that resist it.

So this becomes very complex. I mean, when we talk about they've all been bought off, no.

Have the governments all been bought off? No.

The situation is much more fluid than that.

Or it is a done deal and we're just, you know, we're just underlings that are just going to complain and revolt and, you know, make a lot of noise and nothing's going to happen.

The situation, the outcome has not been determined.

And this is very important, otherwise you're really going to disempower people.

And it's a very complex situation because we're talking about influence permeating lots of parts of our life and in ways that we are beginning to understand.

The other part of this equation is the Intervention itself, what guides it, what restrains it, what it can and cannot do, how it has to behave here because it's being watched by other nations.

if it appears, like I said before, if it appears that we are tolerating, at least tolerating, its presence, if it appears that we are accepting and benefiting from its presence, then it looks like we are granting them permission to do whatever they want to do here.

How can we communicate our resistance against the E.T. Intervention?

I mean, if there's appearance of resistance here opposition and resistance, that's powerful, even if it comes from, you know, the public, see what I'm saying? We don't know who's a white hat and who isn't a white hat in the government and certain people certainly are, we can suspect, in other ways.

But it's what are we going to do?

What are you going to do in your position?

You have influence.

You can present many things to many people. What can I do? What can the people in this room do?

What can anybody do?

I mean, the first thing I think we have to do is begin to recognize this reality is occurring and that we have a responsibility to deal with it.

If we think it's all going to be our government that's going to negotiate the outcome, we've already seceded our personal responsibility, regardless of the makeup of the government.

I mean, the government may be more deluded than we are, and much more influenced. And so, this is a real power to the people kind of message, you see?

I mean, even if you broadcast on shortwave out in the universe, you know, 'We don't want Intervention.

We don't welcome Intervention,' you know, anything, any demonstration of resistance.

You know, I've gone, I've been invited to speak at conferences and I'll go to these conferences, and I'm the only person who questions the extra-terrestrial motivation.

Everyone else is completely sold on this. 'It's groovy. At least some of them are good.'

And, 'We're gonna get into this because this is really exciting.' And, 'Boy!, we're gonna get so much good stuff from these people.'

But we know as human beings that if you want something from someone, you can never discern them.

You want something from the Intervention, you've already given your power away.

You're going to be blind because of what you want or what you think you need or what you think only they can give you.

And what can they give us?

They're not going to give us real technology we turn into weaponry and probably, you know, destroy the infrastructure of the world.

They're not going to give us spiritual wisdom or we wouldn't want Intervention.

They're not going to give us, you know, high integrity, because if we had high integrity we'd realize we're being messed with and we'd want everyone out of here.

'You all go home, please.

We're not ready for you. We'll let you know when we're ready.'

When we establish our own rules of engagement in this planet and our own ethics of contact, then we will see who amongst we want to communicate with.

That's coming from a position of power and authority.

Listen, the Japanese kept the Europeans out for 200 years and how they did it was they burned every ship that entered their region,

Not very nice, but the message got pretty clear. And after a while the ships stopped coming, right?

So you know, if the Native Americans had done that in the United States we might have a different nation today, we white people would be the minority.

Is humanity nearing a point where we will be ready for contact?

I would say that we can be ready and we're not quite ready.

We have the resources to be ready.

We know more about this planet than any other race in the universe.

We're the only race in the universe that could survive here successfully without a great deal of adaptation.

We know more about our nature than any other race in the universe.

We know more about our history and our tendencies than anyone else in the universe.

And that if other nations want to help us, they should share us their wisdom about what life is really like and the pitfalls and dangers of functioning in the Greater Community.

So my emphasis through all of my work is to empower people to be strong, effective and compassionate

But we're going to need strength, I put that first.

Because you can't be messing around in the face of the Greater Community.

This is big time life and we're still, you know, in a very adolescent phase collectively as a race.

I mean, we're still very indulgent and foolish.

And we're not responsible to the future, you know.

We're not saving resources for the third generation out. I mean, we're using up everything. So, I think the change in that is a change, not just a change of understanding, but a change of heart, to realize we are the stewards of this planet. If we want to continue to be the stewards of this planet, individually we're going to have to learn some new things.

And we're going to have to become really strong and honest and effective in our lives. And this is about individuals now.

This is not about going to change the government, I think that's pretty hopeless, as the first step.

We're not going to get them to divulge their information because if they ever do, it probably wouldn't be whole or complete anyway.

But we do need to learn about the Greater Community itself.

We do need to learn about our personal strengths and responsibilities.

We certainly all have to get our own house in order, personally, individually.

And, you know, that's a great starting place, of course.

But, you know, humanity can never give up.

the Intervention is either here to win us over or discourage us from resisting.

That's the power of persuasion.

I look around, I see, you know, many people are on a downward spiral.

They're losing heart. They're losing faith. They don't know how to handle their life.

They're getting very discouraged by what they see in the world around them.

Their own sense of inadequacy can overtake them.

So, you know, you have to build the person up if you want to take them into a battle of who's going to control this world in the future. And this is a battle at another level, alright?

This is like warfare at another level, okay. We're not going to be clubbing each other over the head. But we are going to be determining, you know, what has power and meaning in the world.

And that's why, you know, in my work we present the Steps to Knowledge.

It's available online. You can go read the Allies of Humanity at allies of humanity dot o-r-g, go to New Message dot o-r-g and study Steps to Knowledge putting tremendous things available so we can reach people, not only in the Western nations, but all around the world. And something like sixty percent of the planet has access to cell phones now.

You know, it's just amazing. And so That educational orientation has to happen because no one on earth is going to win if an Intervention is successful here.

There are no winners amongst us.

The profiteers will be subjugated just like the rest of us in a controlled world.

you know, rich or poor, whatever our race, nationality, you know, we are in this together. This is our world and we're going to have to really re-earn the right to have it be our world.

We're going to have to clean it up.

We're going to have to build the kind of networks of cooperation even just to do that.

So, I'm talking about something very expansive, very complex.

But the incentive has to be there.

And the incentive isn't just for wonderful things.

The incentive is also the fear of failure, because we can fail.

And there's nothing wrong with being aware of that. You don't have to be terrified of the world to be aware of that.

That's just a reality that we know we can fail.

And if we understand that correctly without denigrating ourselves,

to rise to occasions.

And certainly there could be no greater occasion than this.

Where can The Allies Briefings and the resources for education and preparation be found?

The Allies of Humanity Briefings are at Allies of Humanity dot o-r-g. We're a nonprofit organization.

And the first Allies set of Briefings are up there for everyone to read. It's also available in eBook now.

And the second Allies Briefing is in print

The third Allie's briefing we hope to publish next year.

One of the seminal works in the Greater Community for us is called Life in the Universe, which we plan to publish next year through New Knowledge Library. And we'll send out announcements and so forth.

Our main website is New Message dot o-r-g. And there you can see much of the New Message teaching that is available online, both in audio, the original Voice of Revelation where people can hear, that's the Voice that spoke to me that was recorded and you can hear that, as well as, we made a tremendous amount of things available to people, as well as elements for study and application Greater Community education, all these kinds of things. We really want people to have access to this.

And we welcome your participation.

There is the Declaration of Human Sovereignty, which is a document modeled after the Declaration of Independence. It's kind of a statement indicating to the universe our will as the people of Earth, our rights, we establish our rights.

We establish the fact that we are being interfered with and we do not hold that to be appropriate, and the kind of engagement we would like to have with other nations who are interested in us.

And that's a very powerful document and I think, you know, there's already minds working on this.

This is, you know, we may think we're alone, we have a small group or maybe we're all alone as an individual, and we're trying to put all this together.

But there is a groundswell around this.

And there is a Greater Community awareness that's growing.

And that awareness really has to be wise and efficacious.

And that's why I invite people to explore these materials.

What do we need to know about 'earth changes?'

I'll deal with the prosaic first. And the things that we can all touch upon is the fact that food, water and energy are declining resources in the world, and will be increasingly so.

And those things which seemed the most ordinary kinds of things may, in the end, prove the most difficult for us.

Certainly, earthquake activity is increasing. Volcanic activity seems to be increasing, from my understanding.

But I think the thing that's going to create tension between nations and in communities and within our own personal lives, is going to be really the fundamentals, and the fact that when you look out on these beautiful mountains here, and I don't know if your camera can take any of that in, you're going to look at a dying forest.

That's a dying forest out there, beginning to die.

That's because the planetary climate has changed only one degree Fahrenheit.

That is enough to unleash forces that I'm not sure anyone could foresee. Maybe if people did foresee that in the western United States alone, we've lost 40 million acres of trees from a very slight variation in our climate alone.

That and the availability of water, clean water, the growing aridity of the world, particularly in highly populated areas such as Africa and the Sahel, the Middle East.

Southeast Asia is having a critical water problem.

These are earth changes that should..., these are big things. This is a four-alarm fire, actually.

The other background things of increasing volcanic or seismic activity is going to have its impact as well.

And I know there are other people who feel there are celestial forces that are increasing the frequency or the pitch of this, and I do not want to comment on that.

I don't feel I really know enough about that to comment on that, respectfully.

But clearly, the pitch of the world, the intensity of things is escalating.

And even if you come to a beautiful place like in the Rocky Mountains here, you can feel that escalation.

I mean, young people are committing suicide and, you know, Capitulating into drugs like never before. I mean, this isn't just uplifting people, this is also wearing us down, the pitch, the the intensity, not just of more activity, but the actual intensity of the mental environment.

And it's really something.

And to keep your head in all this, you have to become very strong, very grounded in Knowledge and very appreciative of the Greater Powers who are here to assist us beyond the visual range.

And I think that, you know, we have to accept that we're entering into a new world.

We crossed some invisible boundary that said, 'Oh, now we're in this, a new world.

And this isn't going to be like the world of our parents or our grandparents.' I mean, we're entering a world of environmental shift.

And we've never really' we've dealt with that, you know, on a national or tribal level in big ways through history, but not on a global level.

And that is going to change the landscape so dramatically, it could change our whole idea of religion, could change, certainly, our governments and their functionality.

It will be a great incentive to war, even without foreign persuasion, as a growing number of people attempt to drink from a slowly shrinking well.

And the only way that you can prevent chaos and decline is by a growing sense of unity and compassion and awareness that we're in this lifeboat together, this lifeboat called Earth.

you've had to put all your eggs into this basket all your attention all your energy your totally focused on this which takes you away from other things that have been on your plate for a long time you miss it the real estate business I do miss the construction is when it's when it's going well and things are progressing everyday you can see the progress on a daily basis and you know you're going to be coming to a conclusion on something that is going to be valuable and so yeah that's rewarding and that that that part of it is fun that part of but I do miss but the aerospace has been a lot of fun also even though it's been a struggle it's basically been a great 20 years that we've that we've had so far

I meant your other interest that the public knows you for all the Taryn talking oh the the unidentified objects that people wonder what is that sure I do because it's the epitome of a potential that we can't we are barely able to even sniff at and the magnitude of that is so profound in so many different ways I can't think of anything that comes close that mankind has even started to approach that even remotely equals the dynamics of that subject it's beyond belief it demonstrates what's possible yeah and and and then even beyond that because we don't even know we may only even see the bare tip of the iceberg on that and as you know and so I don't think we even fully realized at all what's possible we are sniffing at that and we see signs of that and we have information about it and now we have we're military pilots are coming forward and talking about it and other kinds of things going on behind the scenes and boy once once you've you've had an introduction to that it's very very hard to let go you haven't spoken about it really since the all the news broke but I mean they're your fingerprints are all over that stuff you you helped make all that happen well I don't know about that I I think I think that the future here is what's potentially interesting if these exposures and these exhibitions that are currently ongoing especially off the East Coast and they and they have been for pretty heavy for the last five years if that gets the right if they continue and they provide the opportunity for investigation and to to create the awareness not just with the military but in government folks but be able to be sanctioned and confirmed as as an actual reality that that this phenomena is real it actually exists and we're actually achieving a confirmation of sorts without knowing who what or why you know or where it's coming from or anything at least that's a big step that's never happened before I just remember when you are first talking about what your implantable habitats could do providing space in space where you could work you could have labs that produce things in zero-gravity materials drugs pharmaceuticals and things of that sort that you can't make down here I mean that sort of goes whether we like to say it or not it goes hand in hand with the the two topics or two go together well there may be a connection to laboratories in space that we've never really had opportunities to to to fundamentally push where you have the effects of creating certain things under a 1g environment maybe that that contaminates and doesn't provide the possibilities that a microgravity environment can can produce we know the physiology certainly changes doing much of anything and and so researchers are now are coming around to really realizing that the human physiology particularly if you were in space on a second or third generation or on the moon one-sixth gravity is going to going to significantly change over time so it's hard to predict what we don't know all right 7 minutes after the hour uh in half an hour We're going to have um George knp from um K TV in Las Vegas on as a guest and we're you know we're going to talk more about this uh this stuff out there in the in the Great Basin now Junior Hicks I mentioned there towards the end of the last hour uh he says that there have been thousands of other cases than the 400 or so he has categor categorized but he says at least half of the residents out there which is about 50,000 people uh have seen all these weird things the flying saucers the cigar shaped craft the zigzagging uh balls of light so many different objects uh junior Hicks says that the local police and the highway patrol long time ago stopped taking reports on this stuff uh and many of and themselves of course have witnessed this stuff and Hicks said the stuff really started getting now interestingly enough it's dying off the incidents of all these things are really slowing down it started real heavy in the 50s he said there were cases where where the whole school and all the teachers would see these things hovering over the town in broad daylight in the 60s and the 70s he said they had more sightings UFO sightings than any other place in the world now you know but but the but the run-of-the-mill UFO events don't don't begin to describe the um the unusual phenom in this area I mean it's not just like another place where weird stuff happens the ud Indian tribe has been there far longer than any of the whites of course and the tribal leaders very reluctant to speak to any of The Outsiders but their oral history is just replete with examples of these strange creatures and these sightings and the Indians themselves the their lore is what refers to these things as Skin Walkers uh other cultures will call them shape shifters Eastern Europe calls them werewolves uh Bigfoot out there they call them uh the youths call them the Skin Walkers and the Utes of course take this very seriously they think the Skin Walkers are these powerful spirits that are here because of some curse that was put on on the UTS Generations Ago by the Navajo and the center of the whole legend is this Ranch that we that we'll be talking about and the you'd say that this Ranch is the is is in the path or this Ranch is the path of the skinwalker and so tribe members are strictly forbidden from setting foot on any of this property and it's been that way for years long before 1994 when the Gormans first moved into this place and it's about a 480 acre spread of Rich well watered pasture uh a few thick patches of tall cottonwoods anybody that's driven between Roosevelt and vernal you know the area I'm talking about and um this this Ranch is divided into three different sections each section being a former Homestead that all end up becoming one there's a thick There's real thick brush in some places a river borders one side of it um but the skin walker Ridge that runs through it is what the youths refer to that area as and a long dirt road is the only way in or out of the ranch so when Gorman which again is not his real name bought this place in 1994 it had been vacant for a number of years and his wife and his kids two kids in fact were very curious about when they moveed first moved into the house the house was loaded with this this impressive array of door bolts all the outside doors had a mess of bolts on the doors now that would you know if I walked into a house out in the middle of nowhere like that that would be the first thing that ran the hair on the back of my neck but even the kitchen cabinets had bolts on them and and at both ends of the house there were these iron stakes and heavy chains that had been installed and they thought well you know the previous tenants probably had put large guard dogs in the front and the back of the home but of course he had no idea at the time why someone would have put large guard dogs in the front and the back of the house so here comes the bulletproof wolf this was one of the most intriguing things and this book is available at amazon.com uh there's a receipt in the book that um uh Ryan left in here for Barnes & Noble the book is called hunt for the skinwalker so one of the more impressive parts of the book One Day the Gormans had moved their Furnishings onto the property and um they they had the they spotted this extremely large wolf out in the pasture this is right at the beginning of their experience es on the ranch and this wolf cautiously makes its way across the field and then to the surprise of everyone sidles up to the family acting like it was the family's favorite pet and it's a huge wolf and it had rained that day and the family remembers that the the wolf smelled like a wet dog as they were petting it and after a few minutes the wolf strolls over to the Corral and grabs a calf that's in the Corral by its snout trying to pull the calf through the through the Corral uh the Corral so Gorman and his father who happens to be there begins beating the wolf on the back with these sticks but it won't release the calf so Gorman grabs his 357 Magnum from his truck and shoots the wolf at Point Blank Range and the slug has no noticeable effect so Gorman pumps another bullet into the wolf which then let go of the calf but stood looking at the family as if nothing had ever happened so Gorman shoots it two more times with this 350 7 Magnum and the big animal backs off just a little bit but doesn't show any signs of distress it doesn't even show any signs of blood so people standing there in utter shock you know so so Gorman goes and gets his hunting rifle and shoots the wolf again this time at an even closer range now he's not Gorman's not only an experienced Marksman but he is a big game hunter of um of considerable reputre so five slugs would have been enough to bring down an elk without even trying let alone a wolf so the fifth shot causes this chunk of hair and flesh to fly off of the wolf but the wolf still doesn't seem to be phased so after a sixth shot again from the high-powered rifle the wolf just casually crosses or uh trots across the field into this muddy Thicket so Gorman and his father track down this Beast for about a mile following its Footprints through the mud but the track suddenly end as though it just vanished into air didn't disappear it was in the mud they followed the tracks in the mud till the tracks stopped as though the animal disappeared in the air so they come back to the Corral area and Gorman is he picks up this chunk of the wolf flesh and says it looked and smelled like rotten dead meat so he makes these inquiries with his neighbors no one seems to know anything about any tame oversized wolves running around the area so a few weeks later Mrs Gorman encounters a wolf that it was that was so large that its back was parallel with the top of her window as it Stood Beside her car and then the wolf was accompanied by some other dog like looking animal that she could not identify never having seen anything like it and could not see anything like it in any uh in any animal books so over the next two years this this Mana managerie of all these these weird animals are uh was reported by family members and neighbors and begin to show up more and more and so while driving into the ranch on this bright sunny afternoon Gorman and his family saw something attacking one of their horses and they describe it as something that was very low to the ground heavily muscled weighing about 200 lb with curly red hair and a big bushy tail they said it looks something like a very muscular hyena and it seemed to be clawing at the horse almost playing with it so Gorman gets within 40 ft of this animal but says it just literally vanished in front of his eyes poof gone so they checked the horse and found all these claw marks on its legs and a few months later the wife of a deputy sheriff reported seeing some similar muscular reddish Beast running across their property another visitor to the ranch has you know a rather more ominous um encounter in the middle of their Homestead the the same place where these other things have been taken place uh very close by and the visitor along with Gorman and his son say that they saw this large blurry something moving through the trees Now remind you I'm reading this late at night you know before I go to sleep to get up the next morning to do a radio show there a little spooky the further you get into this book so I mean this and and they said the visitor had been meditating when this thing shows up uh they had a visitor to the ranch who was out there doing meditation stuff seeing if he could link into what was going on so he's out there meditating and this thing shows up and it swiftly is moving from the trees across the pasture covering 100 yards in a bar few seconds when it finally came up reach the man lets out This ferocious Roar something akin to a large bear they said a roar loud enough to be heard hundreds of yards away but they said of course this was no bear it was according to the Gormans nearly invisible rep representing the um resembling the camouflaged being in the movie The Predator those of you who seen the Predator you know what I'm talking about the visitor who was out there meditating at the invitation of the Gormans to try to make contact with something was so frightened he grabbed onto Gorman with his eyes closed in a fetal position and would not let go of Gorman for a moment's thought until he finally gets some composure leaves the ranch and never ever ever returned and so these other creatures and these beings others were also seen some rather exotic multicolored birds that were certainly not native to Northeastern Utah and then a lot of numerous close encounters with 9- foot tall beasts resembled a big foot or or Sasquatch and um and and as if those visual experiences weren't enough the family claims that its other senses were also challenged by all kinds of um weird assorted weird events they often were overwhelmed by very strong musky odors and the pastures would unexplainably light up at night like a football stadium and and they claimed to have seen these shafts of light uh from above and some seemingly emanated from the ground up to the Sky conduits of light they said and uh they and and others say they would hear what sounded like heavy machinery operating down underneath the Earth and they would hear voices and um uh and then Tom Gorman and his son and his nephew remembered hearing this uh loud disembodied conversation in some unintelligible language and the disembodied male voices would speak in in what the witnesses say was some mocking tone and sounded like they were emanating from 20 or more feet up in the air above their heads but they would see nothing at all just hear the voices and the dogs accompanying the three Witnesses growled and would bark at the voices and then they would take off in a panic these these were physical manifestations that just you know they are not easily explained in any stretch of the imagination so while checking on his herd um in the uh the third Homestead Gorman noticed that someone had dug up his pasture and hundreds of pounds of soil had been scooped up out of the ground piled up on the on the edge and he said the edges of the hole resembled perfect concentric circles as if someone had dropped this giant cookie cutter into his pasture all right 24 minutes after 6 before too much longer we'll uh have Mr nap on as a guest um so anyway I'm trying to give you some background here so that when he gets on the air we won't have to go through all of this um except uh for the personal stuff that he witnessed and the scientists that were out there uh who witnessed this stuff you know and things that were in the sky too not just the stuff that was on the ground well checking on their cattle in the spring of U 1995 uh Gorman and his nephew had spotted what they thought was a recreational vehicle that was parked out on their property well you know if you see somebody out on your property in a recreational vehicle you want to know something about it and why so they they approach it figuring the driver might be having some kind of mechanical trouble but as they get closer the RV you know moves you know silently away from them and the closer they get the further it moves away so they finally climbed this fence to get a better look at it and that's when they finally figured out this thing was no winnabago the craft Rises up above the treetop slowly flows away making no sound whatsoever as it departs it wasn't a helicopter the witnesses had had a clear view say the object was shaped much like a refrigerator with a single light on its front and a red light on the back and so before long everyone in the family starts seeing these weird aerial objects and Mrs Gorman says something that resembled a stealth fighter with but but ringed with these blinking disco lights silently hovers about 20 ft over her vehicle without making a single sound before it goes zipping off and then each family member has these repeated sightings of a cloud that usually just hovers outside the property and the cloud was characterized as having all these little blinking Christmas tree lights or some kind of Silent mini explosions going on inside of it and among the other aerial craft that were seen by the Gormans their neighbors and and other Witnesses were these these classic Flying Saucer objects and flying sombreros these shafts of light that are similar to fluorescent light bulbs and and all these cigar-shaped craft that was several football fields long so by far the most common object objects that they witnessed were these floating spheres of different sizes and colors and 95 and 96 the Gormans and others reported uh 12 separate incidents of seeing these large orange circles flying over the trees uh Gorman claims that holes would occasionally open up in these orange spheres and these smaller spheres would come flying out of them and a neighboring Rancher told his uh told the a reporter that one of his own counters with which he described simply as being a big large orange basketball floating around in the sky so you know by early 1996 they'd been there for a year and a half and the sighting of these spheres at the ranch you know were common place I mean these orbs they said were about the size of a softball they were made of glass they were filled with this bubbling blue liquid that seemed to rotate inside the sphere uh the Gorman said that in um was it by April of '96 I think that they had watched one of these orbs repeatedly circling the head of one of their horses suddenly the horse was illuminated by this intense blue light and there was a sound like static electricity in the air but there you know wasn't any ball lightning the orb seemed to be intelligently controlled making sense out of its movements so when Gorman approached the horse with a flashlight the orb just darted off and disappeared through the tree branches he said with Incredible speed and dexterity it seemed to know where to move then the Gorman said that these blue spher fear seem to generate psychological effects on families family members and these waves of fear would come over them when their blue orbs were around them and they said it was one of these blue orbs that finally convinced the Gormans to sell the ranch all right we're back uh those of you who uh have lived in Las Vegas area who watched Channel 8 Eyewitness News CBS uh you'll remember George nap was a TV Anchorman down there we're still trying to get him on the air we've made several calls my producer Daryl talked to him uh yesterday yeah I talked to him yesterday he said he'd be available this morning uh 7:30 was that our time or 7:30 his time we're still trying to call him and get him on the air with us so you know so anyway it was the um the it was the appearance of of one of these blue orbs in particular I was talking about that finally convinced the Gormans it was time to sell every time I would go through another chapter of this book I keep thinking what are these people what are these people waiting for I mean what happens in the very beginning of the book was enough ah Mary I think it's time to go I hear the call to the opposite side of this planet so one evening in May 1996 uh Gorman's outside with three of his dogs when he notices this blue orb that's darting around in the field near the ranch house now put yourself in his position and just think about if you had been seeing this stuff going on for some time how long would you put up with this but see they had moved here their whole life saved savings went into this they wanted to farm it it was several hundred acres this was going to be where they're going to live the rest of their lives you know raise the kids to adulthood and and then retire and live there the rest of their lives because they had some very valuable stock on that property that they had brought with them so here's this again this blue orb that keeps showing up well here it's dancing around in the field so finally Gorman lets his dogs loose and urges them to go after the ball and the dogs chase and they jump up and snap at this orb but it Dodges and Maneuvers enough to stay just beyond the reach of their snapping jaws and the ball leads the Dogs Out across the pasture into this thick brush that borders the field and Gorman says he heard the dogs make three terrible Yelps and then they were silent and then he calls for them but they don't respond well the next morning he goes looking for the dogs and what what he what he finds are these three round spots of dried brittle vegetation and in the middle of each of these round spots of dried brittle vegetation are these black greasy lumps so he figures his dogs had been incinerated by something but one thing for sure he never saw his dogs again and it was The Disappearance of these dogs that finally prompted the Gormans to think about getting out uh now he was the you know he's not some country bumpkin just trying to get by this guy Tom Gorman had college degrees in Advanced Training in animal husbandry he was a cons he was considered an expert in artificial insemination he had plans for raising hybrid high-end stock he his herd which ranged from 60 to 80 head consisted of very expensive top-of-the-line heers he had four 2,000lb showclass bulls and from the day he had moved I mean this you know this guy knows something about animal husbandry so from the day he moves his herd onto the ranch you know I mean though his his hopes and his animals seemed to be under some kind of an assault from the day they got there and the balls of light that were so often on his property seemed to take this special interest in the cattle and were often seen buzzing around the heads of the animals and sometimes the cattle would react uh violently and the herd split suddenly as if some invisible force was plowing through the middle of the herd but it got worse you know although the the Gormans kept close watch on their stock something began exacting a terrible toll on these animals one cow was found dead in the field and this strange very crisp tight surgical hole had been cut in one of its eyes and there were no tracks

there were no blood there was no no blood wondered what could have done such a thing and he notices a very strong musky odor around the carcass a smell he said that he and his family would come to know all too well then the other cattle began to be carved up as if with pinking shears he said cattle mutilations have been reported of as you well know everybody from you know throughout North America for several decades Colorado's had a mess of Idaho Wyoming Montana in in in these typical cases the eyes and the ears and the UTS and the sex organs were often removed with surgical precision and for Gorman's animals he said were subject to all of this all of the above and this is high-end stock this you know these just aren't some rag tag animals sitting out there this is money these animals are money it's like somebody carving up your $100 bill with surgical Precision to where they're worthless well he's an experienced Hunter and Rancher so Gorman's a little more than familiar with the capabilities of natural predators and he said this wasn't being done by coyotes and mountain lions which is usually the way these things are written off I mean The Butchery was simply just too clean and no blood was ever left at the scene of the attacks and his other animals were suffering his favorite horse had its um had its legs slashed uh as if by some kind of sharp instruments or or Claws and anytime they would find animals like this there was always this musky odor that was still in the air when he would discover the damaged animals and then the dogs begin whatever dogs are left at this point begin to to develop paranoia they would stay inside their dog houses for days at a time to fearful to come out of their dog houses even for food six of the family these cats vanished in one night alone and then all of a sudden the cattle started disappearing all together one of the animals vanished from a snow covered field Gorman said that um um that he saw the the footprints lead into the field and then the track simply stopped as if the animal had been plucked up into the sky a uh 1200 lb cow leaves tracks in the snow the last time I saw so what happened to this one but in all 14 of um Gorman's prized animals were either sliced up or vanished in one instance a cow was found mutilated just 5 minutes after uh Gorman's son had checked on it something cut a hole about 6 in wide and 18 in deep and the Animals rectum and the the cord out section extended into the into the cow's um body cavity but there was no Blood on the cow and there was no blood on the snow covered ground where just minutes earlier the animal had been seen in a perfectly normal state so he lost about 14 of these expensive animals from an 80 head herd that's extreme by any standards maybe during the winter in the UA Basin you might lose one to a bear or Wolves or something but 14 out of 80 well it meant that he was close to financial collapse you can't lose that many animals from a herd that small and make any kind of progress well it just gets worse and even though I have uh read the book and have sworn I will never read something like this again on a dark KN uh and going through my experience with having read this book so far for about the last 40 minutes we now have um George knp here let's see if I got this all hooked George you there I am good morning Jack oh hey welcome to K talk uh glad to have you here it's um it's a book that uh I've had an awful lot of fun with one of the people mentioned in the book Ryan Leighton is um is an old friend of mine from uh a couple of decades ago and he brought me his copy of the book which I've gone through hunt for the skin walker and uh you being one of the co-authors of the book we wanted to get you on here and talk about this because you it's one one thing to read a um some fiction you know to and there's a lot of good um horror stories out there by a whole series of guys who regularly write this kind of stuff it's another thing when you read this stuff that purports to be a series of True actual events and occurring just a couple you know 100 miles or so down the road uh as one of the most um peculiar areas on the face of the planet now what we're talking about ladies and gentlemen hunt for the skinwalker if you're just tuning in and you haven't heard what I've been talking about it what I've been saying about it where science finally confronts these unex I I was telling everybody a series of events that have occurred there George without um before the science team finally shows up to find out what the heck's going on but the book title ladies and gentlemen hunt for the skinwalker you can get it at amazon.com you can get it at Barnes & Noble bn.com you can get any of the local stores uh my gosh yeah it's a it's a it's a handful to think that these are true events but they are I mean true in the sense that the the witnesses actually reported them the scientific team did went to Great Lengths to investigate them uh they didn't come away with a lot of uh solid proof for anything that uh that um a reasonable audience would would conclude would be proof but but there is plenty and uh and it it mostly starts with the human testimony you know the the focus of this of course is the Uinta Basin uh the epicenter of all the activity is this particular Ranch 480 acre ranch in uh uh near Roosevelt near Fort duain and things have been going on there for 50 years that we know of probably a lot longer well the ud Indians themselves in their oral histories record long time ago exactly and the UT as you know that's where the the title comes from they they believe that this particular particular ranches in in their words in the path of the skinwalker they believe that they've got some kind of a curse on them uh and that whatever this thing is it's sort of their um umbrella explanation for all the strange stuff that's happened on this particular property but they don't go on the property uh they they advise their their tribal members not to go on the property because the place is cursed by something bad and uh and I guess you've you've already listed a oh we went I've gone I've talked about the wolf I've talked about the skinwalker itself I've talked about uh I've talked about the lights uh a lot of the uh aerial phenomena that occurred even in the daylight witnessed by uh by more people than just the Gormans uh there several things I I was just getting to the point where the National Institute for Discovery science uh was about to show up I haven't gone into that part yet but still you know I mean one series of events after another like this the the question that kept coming up in my mind as I'm reading this book is if I had been Mr G bman the very earliest incidences here recounted in this book i' had a for sale sign out in front of that farm a lot earlier than he did I I you know I've heard that comment a lot since the book has been out and and I relate to it but uh this guy was stubborn I mean this was his dream property oh yeah and and this guy is no this guy is no hick yeah I mean he has degrees he has prized herds he's he's uh an expert in artificial insemination he wanted he these huge 4 thou or 2,000lb bulls that this was going to be uh a money-making opportunity him with some prize stock until he runs up against the skinwalker oh he just wasn't going to give up I mean for a long time he thought somebody was messing with his head maybe the military was doing this and he was going to get to the bottom of it one way or another and I will bet you that wherever he is right now and I have a pretty good idea where he is that part of him still wishes that he could stick around and and stalk this thing and figure out who did this to to he and his family well I am um I'm an upper cervical chiropractor in a solic area and I draw in a patient load from a a lot hundreds of people from uh Idaho Wyoming Far Eastern Utah and I have patients who uh when I find out there from Roosevelt or they find out there from duchaine or any of those areas out there I always immediately even during the consultation I'll ask him about this stuff oh yeah oh yeah I mean there is familiar with that as they are with the Pioneer history of Utah I mean it's like well so big deal you know let me get back to why I came to see you no no no I want did you see any oh yeah we saw that stuff all well did it ever well at first it bothered us but you know after a while it begins to be common place you don't think about it well we interviewed a heck of a lot of people up in that area in the throughout the uation and and I don't think we found anyone who hadn't had an experience whose family hadn't had an experience it with UFOs or cattle mutilation or something along those lines well I asked this person if they knew the Gorman character and and they had SE they had in fact this one woman uh her name is Moren I'm not going to mention her last name but she said and of course that's not their name she knows the real people and she knows where they've gone and she said I could probably put you in touch and I said I don't think they want that from what I read in the book they would just assume be left alone at this point that's absolutely true they want nothing to do with it in fact that's it's bothered a lot of people that we had to change the names but the names are well known I mean they were out there in the in couple of news articles in the past and anybody wants to dig them up you can find out who it is Ryan Leon your friend Ryan Leighton was on the ranch several times and and and knew the family and and interviewed them about these kinds of things long before nids was on the scene too yes yes so now what is your relationship to uh to nids I mean being an investigative news reporter for uh Eyewitness News in Las Vegas on klsa klv what's your relationship to nids and and let's how you got involved with this well I I've started doing uh stories about UFOs in Area 51 back in the late 80s um and that it sort of caught the attention of Robert Bigalow the guy who founded nids and he and I just s formed a friendship and so over the years as he has uh financed nids and a lot of other kinds of research into so-called paranormal topics he'd let me know what was going on um it was the same way for the ranch I mean I was getting the reports about The Ranch for s years as they poured in and and it was chomping at the bit to do a story but one of the conditions was uh that I couldn't do anything until they gave me permission cuz they just simply didn't want all kinds of people showing up at the property having tailgate parties and and setting up a shop to look for UFOs so it drove me crazy for a long time to keep quiet about it but that was the deal um but eventually I kept pestering nids and and Mr Bigalow and they allowed me onto the property finally and I started working on a docu that eventually led to the book all right we're going to go to a break here for a second George knp out of Las Vegas Eyewitness News Channel 8 and um co-author of the book hunt for the skin walker you know we do a lot of books on this show but this is one book you have got to read now let's get into the the scientific aspect of this how how scientific is nids well it's world class I mean Bigalow put together a worldclass science Advisory Board some names that you would know um including two former uh us astronauts uh some a lot of folks who had worked for government agencies and National Labs I mean Top Flight folks That's The Advisory board right this wasn't this the people who showed up there weren't some a bunch of witchers with little sticks trying to figure out what's going on some high-tech equipment showed up we're talking about PhD level scientists biologists physicists we had a veterinarian on the staff they had uh uh you know a variety of folks with a lot of experience dealing with the very high-tech stuff and and yeah they did the one of the first things they started to do when they arrived on the property is to is to lay it out sort of in grids and and map it out they inspected it to figure out if maybe the cause of these phenomena were uh plant induced or animal induced or there was something in the air or in the water or in the ground you know and uh they couldn't find anything of that sort so they installed a lot of high-tech surveillance equipment uh cameras and microphones and and things of that sort uh put the put the ranch under 24-hour a day surveillance over a period of several years to try to figure out what the heck this was and it turned out that whatever it is is elusive it's it um it sort of made a per purposefully avoided uh the surveillance for example you put a camera in one pasture then things would happen on the other side you know and and uh it it played games mind games with the the ranch family and with the nid scientists so other than just opening or the possibility of some Vortex or something opening up into another dimension that they could see through the window into two there was actually some intelligent display in this elusiveness that indicated there was something more than just some window opening into another dimension no question I mean it was it it toyed with them in a lot of ways as with the family you know you've mentioned to your listeners a lot of the the big scary events that happen the stuff that the stuff that kind of freaks me out the most are the little events the tiny little like Poltergeist events that would play with their heads for example uh mom goes to town to go shopping for enough groceries for a couple of weeks she comes home she puts all the bags on the table um takes all the all the food out and puts it away in the cabinets she walks down to the bathroom and uh is gone for 2 or 3 minutes come back and all the foods back out of the pantry and back into the bag stuff like that yeah see dad's out in the in the pasture he's using the uh a big post hole digger he stops for just a second uh to wipe his brow get a sip of water looks back and the post hole Digger's gone he finds it a couple of weeks later 40 ft up in the tree uh things like that would happen all the time uh the the incident with the bulls that you mentioned the mom and dad are as they're going past the uh bull bulls and these 2,000lb Bulls in the Corral and they mentioned to each other boy if something happens to them uh we're really in trouble and as soon as they come back they notice all four of them are gone and I think you've already told the story where they found them that kind of stuff suggests that this was a in the words of one nid scientist a precognitive sentient entity it seemed to know what they were going to do it was smart and um and it played with them I didn't uh really get a chance to tell the Bull story well H the story was we' only we've only got well we got about a minute mom and dad were uh driving to town they had already lost several of their animals and were on the verge of financial ruin and they said to themselves boy if something happens with these Bulls we're in big trouble four 2,000lb Bulls were all in this tiny Corral near the ranch house when they drove back they drove back and they saw all four of the Bulls are gone well they're panicking they're running around looking for the animals and inside the Corral there's this metal trailer there's only one door to it it's wired shut thick metal wire uh that the father G almost ready to give up looks in this tiny grate at the top of the trailer and there's all four bows in the trailer crammed together uh almost like they had been forced into there and there kind of in a trance hold on we're going to have to pick up that on the other side of the news George yeah Jack I'm wondering if anybody ever took an o six or something and tried to take one of those things out thanks bye all right that was that just came in on the jack this line I referred to the big wolf that occurred uh or back at the very beginning during the first hour of the show where yeah they had used a high-powered rifle several times on this animal even blew off a chunk of meat from the animal that had the all the appearance of being rotten um later on when they took a look at it the animal just kind of casually walks off till it finally disappears uh yeah they they've tried that uh George you there yes I am good um I'm wondering with uh we've only got 30 minutes so I I want to get to the to the point here in a hurry but I'm kind of wondering with all the apparitions that they saw in the house all these lights all these dark creatures that would peer in the windows to the point where they would finally uh sleep as a family together on the floor in the living room did anyone ever say to these things hey go towards the light I'm not sure that they use that exact phrase but there were interactions between in particular between the family and these and I mean there was one instance where the uh they're walking the mom and dad are out in the in the uh pasture walking at at night and these voices are chatting at them like apparently coming from eight or nine feet above their heads yaking away in some strange language and they they yell at them to be quiet and then these voices would were quiet for a second then they sort of were mocking and laughing at them there were incidents where um these blue orbs that caused so much Terror among them were floating around and they they used a flashlight you know to try to scare it away and it did it worked for a second uh there were incidents where they chased the animals that that they saw in the fields and and tried to interact with them one incident that happened while the nid scientists were there that was really chilling um you know they had had a series of animal mutilations a couple of days before and uh they heard the dogs barking out in the field while the Rancher grabs his gun and jumps in his truck and goes barreling out into the pasture and the nids people jumped in another truck and we're following the Rancher jumps out of his truck because there's a tree line right on the edge of the property he sees something very large inside one of the trees it was like giant like foot long eyes yellow eyes up in the tree and then a large bear looking creature in the bottom of the tree so he grabbed his rifle and shot shot the one at on the ground it and hit it and it disappeared I mean poof in the middle of the air he shot the one out of the tree and it fell to the ground he and the nid scientist go chase after this thing and they found actually found one big footprint in the snow there's a snow bank at the bottom of this tree great big footprint with it was like a a raptor print like a like a dinosaur they go chasing off into the into the bush looking for this wounded animal and never found anything never found another print they had uh professional trackers that came in looking for this thing in particular they had them after the after the cattle the calvs were mutilated never found found anything so there were a variety of different ways that were found to try to interact with whatever it was none of them worked now we've only got you for a few not a whole lot longer what I want to do is what is nd's conclusion on this what is your conclusion on all of this and now that things are kind of winding down and there's not a whole lot of activity right what what do you what do you think's going on here well uh nids doesn't have a conclusion I mean there there're a group of scientists that what they went into it as I mentioned before they kind of went in trying to eliminate possibilities eliminate the obvious of you know say hallucinogenic plants or geomagnetic anomalies things of that I I think the scientists have individual uh conclusions and it leads sort of in the direction where the the book went and that is that this place is some sort of a portal that it's some kind of a you know the Irish have a say of places where the world is thin and that seems to be what this is It's you know things come and go animals from other places come and go uh craft from other places come and go it seems to be indicating that a lot of the stuff that we would classify as paranormal are all interrelated and maybe um maybe we consider them to be paranormal now but only because we don't understand the true structure of the Universe I think you know colum and I colum kellerer and I the co-authors um kind of came to conclude that the only the only explanation that seems to fit all the stuff that happened was this dimensional thing that that maybe there are other intelligences that we cannot detect but that they can detect us um who uh who are much more in control of the of the situation and whose existence represents a much uh a much greater reality than what we have in mind you know that we know the known universe cosmologists and physicists are telling us that there are many universes many worlds out there other dimensions and quite possibly other intelligences and that seems to be the only one that fits well yeah you and this is kind of where you go towards the end of the book that you you give an analogy of of a of an ant mound next to a 10 Lane Highway does the ant have any idea of what's going on nearby you know maybe when you consider the fact that dogs were in incinerated expensive animals were mutilated yet there wasn't any real physical harm committed to the Gorman family uh would indicate that there was some intelligence that recognized human life as a part from the animal life it's exact you're exactly right jack it seemed to they made it it clearly made a distinction whereas you know they were willing to cut up and incinerate other kinds of animals uh they didn't really harm other than psychologically didn't physically harm from the people they whatever this intelligence was it was able to make that distinction it seemed to to us that it was kind of a learning curve that it was teaching us leading us down or the rather the the family leading them down a a path to try to have a better understanding of a a much greater World a much larger universe than what we've imagined yeah that there that there actually may be entities that are millions of years more advanced than we are and that somehow we may be you know it's it's it's uh very humbling to think of that that we may be some protected species and there just happens to be a few places in the three-dimensional physical universe that we know of the wormholes or portals or whatever they are that exist at this place out there that actually is a doorway into other dimensions now I've got an off air call saying the Bull story get back to the Bulls he didn't finish the Bulls so here we F yeah because that was a great story here we find four 2,000lb animals crammed like oversized sardines into this trailer and then when he uh uh Gorman yells to his wife that he's found them the Bulls seem to come out of this dream state yeah they it was like they were in a trance or had been drugged or something inside this trailer and when he yells to his wife hey honey they're in here um they wake up and they start kicking the heck out of this trailer inside now you can't possibly get one of those 2,000lb bows big Sterly animals into that trailer how somebody got all four of them into there crammed together and and the door was never open I mean it was still wired shut and there were cobwebs cobwebs inside the door exactly how how this was done I mean I can't even imagine it it's the same like with the the calf mutilation there was one incident with of a calf mutilation how it was physically done I don't know the Rancher and his wife are it's a Sunday morning it's 10:00 they're there have been several newborn calves on the on their property so they're go going to go out and and tag the ears of these animals they go out they they find the first Mama C mother cow and their calf about 50 yards from their ranch house and they tag this ear and they go off across the pasture now I think you've probably seen pictures Jack that it's not a really hilly area I mean you can see across the pasture these the mom and uh dad were gone like 40 minutes from tagging the first animal and they hear their dog making a a noise looking back in the direction of the first one they turn around and the the mother cow is its eyes are bulging out in Terror it's running around in circles dragging its leg as if it had been injured so they go running back over to the scene and they find this calf that they just tagged completely decimated there's nothing but bone and hide left every scrap of meat every every organ in the body have been stripped off this animal one of the femurs have been ripped out of the joint and just laid a few feet away from the animal and what could do it now nids was there within a couple of hours they sent samples tissue samples bone samples to a couple of independent Labs at different parts of the country they concluded that they looked at it under a microscope and concluded that two very sharp instruments had been used to wipe out 75 lbs of meat off the body of this uh this calf in the course of a couple of minutes one was a big machete like object the other was smaller and like a scalpel but you know there was no blood left in the animal there's no blood on the ground there are no tracks um they brought in a professional tracker to look around for whatever could have done it clearly there's no Predator uh in in in that we know of an existence that can eat 75 pounds of meat in a couple of minutes like that uh you can think of maybe it's a Delta Commando force or something that was hiding in the bushes trying to do this but what kind of a job is that for military folks that the conclusion was this calf had been taken somewhere else that the surgery had been done somewhere else and then that this thing had been just dropped back out in the past year but who did it and why well you that's true and then you start getting into the time continuum problem here um you're familiar with jacqu valet sure and the work that he's done of course and one of the one of the accounts that he gives in his several books uh is of this Brazilian lineman uh there's a group of linemen that are working in in the the jungles of Brazil to to put up to bring in power and while they're working they notice one of their buddies is gone and uh they start looking around for him and they figure well he just went off to the to the Jungle to relieve himself or something and after a few minutes he returns with two weeks of beard growth on his face and and and tells a story they cannot believe but he had only been gone away from them from about 20 25 minutes show go back up with two weeks of beard you know I mean the cobwebs inside the trailer of the door that would indicate the door had been shut for a long time but the Bulls had only been in there a matter of minutes right you know you uh there there's something more going on here than just some governmental conspiracy thing of trying to cover up the government's advances with uh uh UFO anti-gravity traffic and trying to create a skin walker Legend around everything to try to uh scare everybody away from what the government is secretly doing in the UA mountains well that certainly doesn't fit in this case but that's what a lot of say that the government might have a psychological exercise underway but they haven't been doing it for 50 years which is how long the stuff has been going on if and even longer with the UTS yeah yeah that's that's not a government um exercise and I would wonder what uh what Delta Commander Commando gets the job of sneaking into uh you know into to the the kitchen to take all the groceries out of the pantry or another example the the mom would take a shower every morning and she'd lock the bathroom door she puts a a towel and a brush on the on the cabinet there she'd come out and they're gone she'd find the hairbrush in the in the microwave she'd find the towel in the in the freezer hours later I mean who what Commando gets those kinds of assignments it's not it's not a military exercise although I'm convinced that the military is certainly interested in what's going on there now well yeah no doubt about that hold on we'll be right back with George few more minutes don't go away Jack Stockwell on K talk hey all right 24 minutes after the hour uh Mr nap can only be here for a few more moments uh so George I want to do two things number one where is all of this now in your mind and in nd's experience and then number two I want to bring on at least one caller had something very interesting to say well uh in my mind I mean I I'm hoping that the Activity one of these days resumes at the ranch you know it it sort of uh it it sort of uh got to a point where it didn't want to be stalked anymore I mean it it obviously enjoyed the the uh the the procedure and The Interchange uh a lot more when it was in charge of things and and terrorizing this family when nids arrived on the scene it didn't like it so much so it's sort of gone underground but I hope and nids has hopes that one day it will return and uh maybe can be studied or um interacted with in a different way did anybody try to study it or interact with it from a psychic point of view or yes other than other than with dials and instruments yeah there there were some attempts to that they had the what's called remote viewers that that checked out the property but I think I think the next approach would be some if if there's a resumption of activity that that nids would like to try something where it uh uh a less technological uh approach maybe have some Shaman and some uh psychics and things like that try to interact with this thing as opposed to C catching photographs of it right I'm I want to get Cindy on here for a second Cindy you there yes I'm here yeah Cindy was telling me an incredible experience she had in this same area I want I want to know George if this sounds typical of what most people have experienced Cindy go ahead okay um in the I can't remember exactly what the date was but in the early 1990s my family has property up in the upper unas um and my sister and I went down one night they had a just a little telephone that we could use down by the river and it was about maybe 11 o'clock at night just barely a moon so you could barely see just the outlines of the trees and whatnot and as we approached the telephone we could hear the river and we looked down and it looked like there were two helicopters coming up the canyon which was about a mile wide on both sides these helicopters were were silent they had the strobe lights going on at the very end of of on the very each side of the canyon coming up just equally you know equal sides um about 300 400 yards above the ground and as it got closer we couldn't hear anything we should have been able to hear the helicopters the blades couldn't hear anything we looked again and it absolutely floored us it was an huge ship of some sort that reached from one side of the canyon to the other it was that wide and it was completely it was like a big huge I can't even see what it was it was a just outline like a big gigantic oversized airplane but it was dead silent and we got terrified we ran and got into our van and looked up into the sky and watch it it got closer and closer to us it lifted up and we saw the silhouette of this massive massive machine it was huge I've never seen anything like it in my life and I can say that I haven't heard exactly that story but certainly similar stories in fact I I would love to jack I'd love to talk to your uh your caller there Cindy yes maybe interview and get some details on this at some point CU that it's it's pretty similar I mean you know there were a lot of different aircraft seen in the area that looked like something conventional that turned out not to be like the the flying Winnebago that they saw on the ranch well it went up over the mountain the mountain tops the next night I was listening to Art Bell and Linda Molton how was on there giving her um cattle mutilation updates and it just so happened that up in that duchan county right where that machine was heading for or whatever it was was heading for there was a number of mutilated cattle that next day Cindy what year is this I can't remember the exact year it was early 1990s I just remember all my little I had a bunch of little kids and they were just all very very young so it was 1990s sometime early about maybe 91 92 is so any well I'd love to hear more about it Cindy if I get a chance to talk to you off air i' I've never told anybody this before but when I was listening to you today it just it freaked me out I thought oh well rest assure that you're not crazy and a lot of other people have seen similar things okay now what I'm going to do since I know your number if you don't mind when we finally go to a break here very shortly I'm going to give George off air your phone numbers that all right that's fine yeah that's fine okay all right we're going to go to a break and then we'll come back say goodbye to 30 minutes after the hour uh we have time for one more call so let's get uh Andy on here Andy you're on with George knap hi Jack hi George good job the other night morning uh I would never have called this in Jack but this is the only appropriate show for for it uh oh I belong to a study group and there's a a fellow that works that works for the government that comes to our Sunday group and I will never tell you his name he he said this fine he said this to us in complete utter confidence one night he said that and he's working right now he goes all all over the world for the military and does stuff in Alaska and Middle East and other places he said there is a Stargate is the word he used either a natural Stargate or some ancient device and it's buried in the uas and the military's been all over it for a long time my question is have you ever heard that word before you're saying the word portal but a place where other dimensions come together and these the ships might be coming and going out of there and they might be uh you know that might be there might be fishing and they like cow eyes or something yeah well that that uh yeah the yummy cow parts we eat cows so that's not that unusual I've heard the term Stargate before I've never heard it applied to the Uint Basin um you know there have been a variety there are a couple of different top secret uh government programs under the Stargate uh Banner one of them was remote viewing uh but I've never heard it used there I'd be really interested in learning more about I know well tell you what uh they know how to get a hold of me if you want my number uh go ahead and let the producer give you I'll give you his name but he has to be willing you know just I understand that name I don't bother people that don't want to talk to me but he might he might isn't Anonymous I'd be very surprised if the military was not in interested and what's been going on there well certainly if there is spacecraft or at least anti-gravity craft as big as what Cindy was describing from one Mountain Ridge to the next filling the whole valley not making one debel of sound overhead and disappearing over a far Mountain Ridge either the military is doing that or the military wants to know how to do that yeah so one of the other Austin my son and I were camping near there a couple years ago in the middle of the night we heard automatic weapons fire all over the place huh well well I appreciate the uh the call and I hope I can get the number of that guy I'll give it to you appreciate your call you're welcome Hey one other one other question here George how is uh how's uh Channel 8 Eyewitness News how do they look at you in the midst of all of this and with your other news investigative uh colleagues first it was Area 51 and then it was the Uint Basin and you know are you being pigeon hold off to the side somewhere well I you know I have to be worried about that but so far that's not happened I mean I've been here a long time so people know that I have interest in in things other than shoot them up and crooked politicians um and I'll tell you the you know where some of my journalism colleagues mostly people who don't work for kaas uh like to give me grief about it uh the public the viewing public can't get enough of it oh no that's true and so you know I'm serving the public not my other colleague so uh I can't get enough and they can't get enough and I like doing it um and kaas is tolerant of me they just don't want me to go too far off the edge okay okay uh I know you have to go so we'll we'll kind of call it here at this point but I'm going to put you on hold for a second because my producer needs to pick up just a couple of numbers so that we can make sure that uh because when we get the books and we want to and you have we have some of your books coming in they just you're going to arrive late I want to be able to give them away on the air and sure and and once we get this out a little bit more I uh definitely want to uh be able to get you back on here I'll be glad a lot more questions George thanks so much hold on for a moment all right you know here here you have a battery of pH level I mean it's a rather impressive team of physicists Engineers psychologists trying you know and you bring why do you bring the psychologists in you bring the psychologists in to interview the families interview the people involved to make sure that uh you're not dealing with a bunch of nut cases and um other doctorate level Professionals for the purpose of Simply investigating the subjects that that uh are largely shunned by mainstream science um you know it's kind of uh it's a situation where people when people don't want to believe something they're they're not going to believe it no matter what kind of evidence is brought before them and of course that has a lot of political ramifications as well but um and we didn't have time to get into all of the experience with the Gormans but by the middle of 96 now I started uh the political show in March of 96 I I was on the air from March 95 through March of 96 doing a health show and it and it was in March of 96 what's that that's 10 years ago that I um started doing this um Monday through Friday show and it was shortly after that that uh Ryan Leighton contacted me and said hey Jack there something going on out there in you in a basin and you need to come out and take a look at it and he explained this stuff to me and I knew Ryan was a little you know uh off center um but then I am too and we had been friends for a good 20 years so far and uh he said I'm going to set something up and we're going to go out there and we're going to spend a few nights out there on this farm he didn't give me the names or anything at the time he just said there's this Farm out there and because of the work that Ryan has done who and he calls in here on a regular basis uh he was mentioned in the book hunt for the skinwalker is one of the people who've been doing an awful lot of investigative work out there but by the middle of 1990 I bring up 96 is because by the middle of 96 the Gormans were ready to just cash in their chips I mean those who who know him say that he had blamed himself for the uh weird string of events that had um that you've been hearing about for the last little while well what they did next I'll tell you about as soon as we get back now tomorrow Sanders Hicks is going to be my guest who's the author of the book uh The Big Wedding and The Big Wedding the what the big wedding does is it examines the uh cia's controlling client relationship with uh with Pakistani intelligence and uh the ones who had close documented under reported links to the 911 terrorists in The Big Wedding in this book The Big Wedding and I think we got one or two to give away on the show uh Sanders Hicks um hits the road starts going around to all the whistleblowers in the country and he finds one Randy glass who documents how the FBI was warned by Pakistani intelligence 3 years before the attack on 911 and so what he goes into is uh his original research with the neocons the Bush family the CIA the Muslim Brotherhood and his conclusion of course is that it's impossible that the White House did not have detailed fore knowledge of 911 so he uh you know and all these whistleblowers all these top researchers that he's bringing together into one book include colen rrow uh an ATF agent Steve bar barbaroni uh Muhammad ATA expert Daniel hopsicker uh CIA asset Brad ir and the naval intelligence veteran um delmart breand so um that's G to what time 8 7 8 o' 8 to 9 from 8 to 9: tomorrow morning Sanders Hicks author of The Big Wedding it's another uh research book on the cover up of 911 but it gets into an awful lot of the background information that comes from whistleblowers who were um who were privy to what was going on now uh I was talking about Gorman and the fact that they finally uh you know when Bigalow when Bigalow and his team came to Utah introduced themselves to the Gormans um these nids researchers check out the story they interview the neighbor they evaluate the Gorman's you know obviously incredible tales that you've been listening to for the last hour then Bigalow offers to buy the ranch outright with the idea of trying to transform it into this big interactive paranormal laboratory uh you know some ongoing um experiment that might shed some light and the questions that obviously are are viewed with a certain level of honest scientific skepticism and uh but amazingly he talks the Gormans into staying at the ranch as the caretakers he buys it but he wants them to stay there and take care of it but of course by this point the family's a wreck you know the UFOs the balls of light the mutilations the disappearances the Bigfoot sightings and then the skin walker showing up himself or herself or itself but uh you know there's all these other things the apparitions that they would see in the house the blinding lights that would appear all this per this um uh um psychic events that he was describing here uh the George was describing of the uh the packaging the the missing equipment the groceries you turn your back and the groceries are out of the Shelf back into the bags again the Furnishings the you know no one could sleep anymore and when they did manage to you know get a few hours of sleep they're plagued by all these horribly violent nightmares and um often discovering that different family members that next morning had experienced the exact same dream the night before so the two kids which were you know honor students before they arrived at the ranch their grades begin to plummet Mrs Gorman of course loses her job at the local bank because of all her repeated absences and and all the little water cooler tales and stories that were going on um and so the folks from nids all these PhD level people you know they're offering the moral and emotional and financial support to the Gorman family but what's more they they they had this plan that they presented to them and the ranch presented what appears to be of course a once- in a-lifetime opportunity to legitimately study with scientific equipment this whole menu of paranormal activities that's going on so they seal off the ranch and they pack it with all this high-tech monitoring equipment and they staff it with round the clock trained observers to see what would happen and um some of the residents of course sarcastically wondering what these hustlers from Las Vegas could possibly have in mind they figure that there's some kind of a scam going on the UFO Bo Buffs and they still talk about it to this day that Bob Bigalow is this shadowy guy with CIA connections and he was somehow trying to corner the market on ET and um but as it turned out all these groups are wrong you know nids did seal off the ranch from all these outside observers but not for monetary gain and neither did the CIA nor nor any other government agency have any input or access to the things that were occurring while nids was on Watch and the phenomena itself didn't wither or evaporate and but for the last six years uh the events have been under this constant scrutiny and and Witnesses including some very highly accomplished scientists and law enforcement Personnel have documented this this mindboggling array of unusual activity but there's been a near Total Blackout lately on the release pie of any information coming from the site and the most upto-date information is in the book The Hunt for the skinwalker you can go hunt for the skin walker.com get some information there you can go to amazon.com Barnes & Noble uh to pick this up it's it's what 20 bucks or something like that but I'm telling you one of the most fascinating reads and scary because it purports to be true now no one who studied any of this can say with any certainty what's going on that's what I was trying to get George to do the nids researchers aren't making any claims about ETS or ghosts or Skin Walkers they're just collecting the data trying to make some sense out of it which is you know small Comfort to anybody else who's actually been in the midst of all of this kind of stuff but you look at this long Litany of um of bizarre activity that's occurred while the nids team was stationed at the ranch including this shooting and tracking of this creature with one foot wide yellow eyeballs falling out of the tree when it's shot and then disappearing right in front of their eyes you know and then these uh ice circles we didn't get a chance to talk about that which seemed to be the opening of some portal into another uh Dimension but what the word on the street now is do not go to the ranch you're not welcome it's private property the people who live on it or near it don't want to be hassled by the Curiosity Seekers the media the K talk listeners and what's more the level of unexplained phenomena suddenly has taken a note dive in just the last few months of 2005 there's almost no activity going on at all so chances are you wouldn't see anything even if you could get on the property but uh that's what George wanted me to say uh in my concluding remarks on the whole thing before because he just didn't have time to get into it anymore which is you know what I think I've done here the last five minutes Daryl and Sandy are on the Stockwell show hi Jack yeah I've known Ryan almost as long as you have maybe not quite as long but I've been hearing these stories from him for years about the ranch out there and everything you're saying is true yeah I know it doesn't sound logical but people are still camping out on the edge of the ranch not quite on the property and they're still well at least a few months ago very very weird stuff going on out there and I mean strange creatures that don't appear to be from this planet yes even and uh it messes with their minds and they'll wake up knowing they've been screaming while they were asleep uh they have strange nightmares uh hold on a second hold on we'll be right back got to take a quick break don't go away Jack Stockwell on K talk and we're back we've only got a couple more minutes uh Daryl I'm going to give you another minute to wrap that up and then we'll get on to Greg okay uh you really ought to join our UFO group because we have people in our group that's been out there camped out overnight you and experienced the stain strange alien creatures and so on but we have a UFO meeting once a month on a Saturday afternoon and fact Navajo friend who was there talking about the skin walker last month and this invis semi invisible skin walker you call it doesn't sound like a skin walker at all sounds like something totally different the skin walker generally is like a an Indian person through black magic and and who knows what power the name the navajos gave it me I say that's just the name the Navajo or I mean the UTS gave it yeah but this doesn't sound like well what every Indian tribe talks about the skin walker it's like an a visible more like a wolf on two legs uhhuh but this invisible thing doesn't sound like a skin walker at all just sound like something else but anyway you ought to you ought to you know you're free on a Saturday afternoon sometimes aren't you yeah occasionally I am that's true well once a month whoop sorry once a month you should check us out this this month we're talking about the Ghost Chasers with all the instruments they use to find the entities and so on you'd find it very interesting thanks darl okay appreciate it all right let me get Robert on here Robert you're on the Stockwell show good morning yeah it's kind of funny to hear you having this discussion why is that I just because you talk about everything else political healthwise hey I you know I've often made the statement and it may get me in trouble one of these days but I believe in everything it get you in trouble I believe in everything I believe in the gods of Olympus you don't want to get trouble pretty soon someone's going to shut you down I believe in aliens I even believe in Greg's anger it's you know it it doesn't take too long I think for people to realize there's there's other things out there that we don't understand sure and and I understand that there are other societies that have put their posterity here upon the Earth um you can take a look at the pleades star system yeah the Osiris star system the Orion star system how many of the star systems have put their posterity here upon the Earth and you take a look at Adam and Eve right and you think think you think that the history of the earth is in all described in the Old Testament New Testament I think there's a whole lot more history going on than what's been it's like the Old Testament New Testament like a bat that's hitting Us in the head and we're told that's the only truth that's out there I think that the US government has agreements with some of these other societies who have higher technology and we have no clue how much technology there is out there how many face-to-face agreements and collaboration is going on with US government and some of these other beings you still there Robert he disappeared well that's it uh that's true you um if if uh there is a literal if there is a literal expression in the story of Adam and Eve they came from another planet Adam I'm sure had a belly button brought here from just the question is who brought him here but um but you know and then you look at all the various cultures and societies on this planet and the absolute dir of information that we have regarding the early history of man and I think it's probably a good reason I think there's a good reason why uh um we don't have that information but I'll tell you this if God and our idea of God are one and the same then we've lost the our way on the search for truth we've lost our path let me say that again as simply as I can if what God really is in the sense of the ultimate everything and our idea of him in that regard is one in the same then we somewhere have seriously jumped track in our search for Truth uh because when you get into deep philosophical discussions regarding God when you can raise the dead at the wave of a hand then I want to talk to you till then you know it's just another idea or was that too nasty to say things like that tomorrow The Big Wedding we will be talking about the big wedding in other words the the latest research on 9911 from the whistleblowers themselves world to Jack Stockwell on ktalk e e e e e e

whenever you introduce somebody like this guy you look for the superlatives and salient points and you don't have to look too far to find him he's a broadcast journalist par excellence many Sundays you'll hear him on coast to coast but even more than that he's got fire in the belly to get the real story as opposed to just the first story that falls to hand join me in extending the most warm welcome here mr. George Knapp thank you everyone so let me start off by apologizing

I forgot my suit and tie actually I didn't forget it I didn't want to bring it and Tim said it was okay so I've always wanted to make a presentation dressed like this because this is how I dress at home most of the time when I'm not work and besides I'm in an alien parade today so I don't want to be wearing a suit and tie it's terrific to be invited back here you know to McMinnville I I started lobbying to be reinvented back here about a minute after I finished the presentation the last time I was here I lobbying isn't the right word groveling is more like it because I it's it is so much fun you know I retired from the UFO conference scene more than three years ago I just had had enough of it you know you go to the same conferences there's the same people presenting the same stuff and it was a waste of my time and then you get in all the arguments with the crazies who are committed to this position or that position or that conspiracy and I had enough so I said that's it but I I knew at the time that there was one conference that could bring me out of my underground bunker one conference that would get me back on the scene and that of course is the Tahiti UFO conference but the Tahiti folks haven't called so actually McMinnville is the one I mean this is the most fun conference and I've been to him all over the world for the last 30 years there's nothing close there's nothing close to and it's so much fun the attitude of the folks who are here is so healthy and inquisitive and and I have been trying to convince him to go ahead and start an i-team of his own so I could move to McMinnville I mean McMenamin they save old buildings and restore them that's a passion of mine they they make beer they make wine they roast coffee and they put on a UFO conference I need to work for these folks so it's it's an exciting time for the UFO topic big things are underway I think my friend Jeremy Korbelt was talking about it the other night for those of you who are here about all these different acronyms and programs and you could think about I know it seems like progress is slow and we get frustrated that more information doesn't come out about UFOs in general but Wow a lot of stuff has happened here since last October last October on a stage in Seattle a guy named Lou Elizondo stepped forward and said the fact is the US government has been studying UFOs it never stopped in 1969 as we were told when Project Blue Book ended they of course they've been studying it you know there are intrusions over national security facilities encounters with US military so we've always suspected that they were studying it and Lou came forward and said not only are we studying it but I was in charge of it and I resigned because it's not good getting enough of a priority that's that's a really big deal and then two months after that in December the New York Times breaks a story about the program that Lou had been in charge of they kind of confused things a little bit about the 22 million dollars that have been spent by the Pentagon because in fact that money had gone to another program all SAP that has distinct connections to Las Vegas as all UFO stories seems to have seemed to have there is a trail of breadcrumbs from just about any UFO story you could imagine not only to Las Vegas and Bob Bigelow but also to skinwalker ranch will be which we'll be talking about today in addition to the revelations about a tip and all SAP there's a lot of other information that's been dribbling out we did a story last night you didn't see it because it's it's in Las Vegas TV but about the tic-tac you up out those videos were released people complained about them but just what we UFO folks do there are too grainy we don't they're not long enough we don't know what it is and maybe it's a bird maybe it's a balloon well it's not a bird and it's not a balloon and it's not another airplane it's something from somewhere else it does things that we can't do and I was able to release a report was written for the DIA and the Pentagon that analyzed all the sensor data that shows beyond any question that these crafts are do things that we can't do it's an exciting time I know there is frustration and that we want more information in fact we want all of it and we want it now it's coming and and then there and the if you think about the progress that's been made in the last eight months it's just it's just incredible as I said I think all roads one way or another lead to Las Vegas and to skinwalker ranch it's in Utah which is what we're gonna talk about today and I am I don't think I'm exaggerating and saying that it is the strangest place on earth at least the strangest place on earth that has been studied it is the most intensely studied paranormal UFO hotspot in the world and it hasn't just been studied once it's been studied twice which we'll cover tonight Robert Bigelow the he's described as shadowy billionaire CIA front he's in the tea business he's in he's a casino owner he's a drug runner all kinds of crazy stories is has spent more money pursuing UFOs paranormal psychic phenomena than any person in the history of the world and he bought bought this property and we're gonna get into why he bought it in a couple of minutes but he installed scientists on therefore there

the scientists were there for seven or eight years 24/7 either they were there or had cameras there and they tried to figure out what the heck was going on this place has a history of really strange activity and they were doing what scientists are supposed to do and they basically have caught nothing but grief for it ever since it is a UFO hotspot this is a UFO conference based on you know the McMinnville photos and the legacy of this area and so we will talk about UFOs but this is not really a UFO story it's much bigger than that much broader and it the reality of what happened at that ranch at that property suggests that there is a connection between UFOs a lot of other things that people categorize as paranoia what that connection is well maybe we can explore that together to try to figure it out it's almost like the UFOs are the shiny bauble that is used to sort of lure us into the dark forest where other kinds of murky beings reside so I wrote a book about it with Colum Kelleher in 2005 it's called hunt for the skinwalker which is the same title as Jeremy's film that we'll get into in a moment and the reason I wrote the book is actually I had started the project as a documentary as a documentary film Bob Bigelow bought that property in 1996 which we'll get into further in a moment and basically shut it down he had his scientists in there and they were not releasing information they didn't want it to be overrun by UFO folks or crazy people or or whatever they wanted to be able to study it and they expanded the study and tried to get information from people who live in the general area but they didn't really want to publicize it well I'm hearing all this information as it goes along because I'm friends with Bob and I got to know his staff at Knids and so I'm seeing all this wild stuff that's going on but I can't tell anybody about it and around 2000 they allowed me to start visiting the property I brought along a photographer each time we had visited we would shoot interviews with the scientists who are working on the project with neighbors with eyewitnesses who had seen strange things documenting what I thought would be a really great film around 2003 after I had made several trips there Bigelow sort of it the word about the ranch is kind of getting out there being overrun by trespassers and drunks and parties and and UFO crazies and so he said please don't put that out so I didn't so I buried it and we had the tapes and all the materials in boxes but I kept pestering them much as Jeremy has pestered me that I really would like to get it out someday around 2003 the activity at the ranch had declined to such a degree that the Knids folks Bigelow and Dr. Colum Kelleher had figured well what do we got to lose

right some articles without any photos for the place so you don't make it easier for people to find it and I did and we put him in a little newspaper a weekly paper in Las Vegas and this thing went all over the world suddenly these stories were out that people did not know they had heard some of it there had been some news reports back in 1996 about cattle mutilations and lights in the sky but the kinds of things that that were described in that report were way way beyond standard UFOs and cattle mutilations really truly bizarre stuff that we're going to talk about today and then in 2005 Bigelow said well go ahead and release the book the idea was needs hoped that by having some publicity about these kinds of hot spots that we might get some input from other places other people in other regions that would say hey we've got something similar that here why don't you guys come and investigate and then knids would have something else to do we did get information or they got information about it but it it never led to any further studies that teams would go out and look at these other hot spots Yakima Sedona Dulce New Mexico for example and they spent a lot of time on the ground but it never evolved into the kind of study that happened at the skinwalker ranch so needs folded its 10th it the organization dissolved in right around 2004-2005 because the activity at the ranch had gone underground what we learned later though and I was not able to talk about this either is that a new study began 2008 and it was funded by you it was funded by American taxpayers and it was conducted at the suggestion of the Defense Intelligence Agency the DIA and so for a couple of years their government-funded investigators some of the same people who had worked for needs were on the property investigating the paranormal UFOs and a whole bunch of other stuff that are way beyond what you would think a normal UFO or government study would be interested in I want to give you a sense of sort of a sense of what the ranch is like in you know that the book we put out and had no photos for reasons that I just mentioned and and the documentary project that we started long ago was shelved

Jeremy Korbel has been pestering me for a long time to may be revive it and when Bob Bigelow sold the property in 2016 and a new owner came in I was sort of relieved of my promise that I wouldn't put this stuff out so we we started working on it it's that the new film were proud proud of it it's not out yet but will be soon it's two films it's the story of the original stuff that I shot and never showed to anyone and it's also the new stuff that Jeremy has has acquired interviews with people who would never come forward before and it's kind of exciting so I want to show you a clip that give you a sense of where we're heading here it was dead night out of nowhere that weird flash and you see that look at that that's amazing there is some kind of intelligence operating here and you're not allowed to talk about it this is like the area 51 of the paranormal going public now it is perhaps the most important scientific effort of our time the Pentagon and CIA they've been investigating encounters with the paranormal at the ranch we're talking about unidentified flying objects UFOs the program received more than 20 million dollars for its work this is a potential threat a grave one to our country and everybody who lives there knows about something is here something that the government's doing right above my head and I could hit it with a tennis ball the skinwalker is extraterrestrial they should not have vanished but they vanished we are on the eve of something momentous well any of the fingers be pointing toward skin off the ranch Declassified videos an authentic Department of Defense footage published in December

so that's a little taste of what the films gonna look like and some of the things that are in that and some of the things that we'll talk about today and they're over the next two hours I've never been able to talk about in public before because the best thing was secret you know it was a government project and while I was aware of it because of my friendships were the people who were involved I was under a I didn't have to sign anything no one is gonna throw me in jail but I would violate a confidence which for a journalist that's your your stock-in-trade that's what that's how you learn stuff people tell you things on the condition that you don't spill it immediately and and that has served me very well over the years and the story about the ranch I mean I knew about it since 1996

I never went public till 2003 the story of the bast study I had known about it since it started around 2008 actually a little bit in 2007 but we didn't make it public until this year so sometimes just by being patient and hanging on you get to learn a lot of stuff people tell you stuff if they think they can trust you and I know that puts me in a category of being in league with the evil cabal government or something but you know Oh I'll deal with that somehow I thought I would tell you some stories that we have not discussed in public and some stories that I have told in public before because not everyone here I think has heard about the ranch but in 1994 the property in question had been vacant for seven years nobody lived on it there the will show you what the ranch looks like here a little bit but this family moved in we call him in the book the Gorman's their real name has been well known it's been released by other people the reason that we stick with it is because we made an agreement the knids guys had made an agreement they weren't going to use the real name they were gonna tell anybody and I honored that agreement so in the book when column I wrote it we didn't use their real name you could find it if you wanted to look for it we stuck with Gorman so that's the name I'm going to use even though some of you may know what the real name is dad is a an educated man college educated he's an expert in Simmons Hall artificial insemination raising these special cattle he's an expert marksman and hunter just a real solid guy his wife we call her

Ellen I think in the book is the vice president of a bank in town also educated smart solid solid as a rock the two kids were both straight-a students a boy and a girl just a solid family they buy this property in northeastern Utah and it's their dream property it's 480 acres it's a beautiful place and they are unloading their stuff on the very first day on the property they have some calves in the corral and they look out across the pasture and they see this large beast it's a canine is it a dog they're looking at it trying to figure it out no it's a it's a wolf we didn't know that we're wolves in this part of the country this thing starts walking toward them its head down it's being very docile they figure this must be somebody's pet this must be somebody's pet wolf and it gets closer and closer to them and as it does they I think one of them brushed it and it it had rained that day so there was a wet dog smell they recall and this thing was gigantic I mean they the ranchers about my size and the back of this wolf came up this high so it was huge and it's walking between the family and acting like a pet and then it spots one of these calves that made the mistake most of the calves are huddled back on the side of the corral they see this wolf one of them made the mistake of sticking its snout through the bars and this wolf springs into action and chomps down on this calf and starts trying to drag it out of the corral why don't we play this clip this is column Kelleher the the main investigator on the in the mid study put a couple of cobs in this Corral here and this one here and they saw this this wolf had was just trotting across the the field here from this direction and it stopped occasionally it was there was a light rain it was it was a misty kind of a day with with light rain and so they were watching this wolf as it was coming towards them and seemingly kind of unconcerned the wolf stuck his head in into the corral grabbed us that the muzzle of the of the calf in full view of these two try to drag it out of the corral the car fire you know I was going wild so Terry and his dad went over with you know stout sticks and started beating on the wolf to try to let get it make sure that it let go the the calf several times they beat on the on the on the wolf without any effect whatsoever so Terry asked his son to go in to get a 357 Magnum the Sun came out and the the wolf was still dragging trying to drag that the calf through that the corral and Terry sort of pointed the Magnum at the animal and shot it now as far as I remember he shot at either three or four times and it was like from increasingly close range first of all it was from from several feet and then it was closer and closer on the fourth shot the animal

I believe let the let the calf go but the the animal was didn't the the wolf didn't let out any yelps of pain that there was no sign of blood there was there was no sign of distress yeah the animal let the calf go and looked at Terry Terry gets the 3006 which you know can bring bring down an elk you know from from a relatively long distance shot at at but you know a distance of 20 feet and this time there was a big recoil from the animal you know the animal kind of recoiled but still didn't give out any pain or anything like that but kind of backed off for maybe 10 feet 15 feet and Terry shot at it was actually a sixth time with the 30-yard six and this time he saw a bunch of flesh that the bullet exited from the animal with with flesh and this time the animal just kind of turned on us on its heel and just trotted off you know almost casually and exactly where it would come from across in that direction now you know the piece of flesh was lying on the ground and they they examined it so they beat it with sticks it doesn't react they shot at four times with the 357 I owned one of those those are pretty powerful handguns it doesn't do anything it stops and and it just looks at them shoot shoot it twice with the with the hunting rifle 30.6 chunk of flesh and fur falls off but the animal is not in any other kind of distress and it just trots off onto the this the southern side of the property and on that side of the property there's these big trees and brush and on the opposite side of that then further is a river and it gets muddy so the rancher and his son are thinking geez this is a big powerful animal that's wounded we got to go after it they grab another hunting rifle and they go after it and it wasn't hard to track the wolf because though in the muddy ground it was heavy it probably weighed 200 pounds and it was leaving tracks that went into the mud two inches deep so they're tracking it occasionally through the brush they see a glimpse of the animal it walks into what is a clearing it's about 50 yards across by the time the the rancher and his son get to this clearing they walk out the tracks go right out into the middle of this thing and stop it was as if this thing vanished into thin air they go walking back to see the rest of the family what are we gonna tell them about this well we did you know basically we're gonna have to just get over it and move on this is the first day they moved into the property they go back and pick up the chunk of fur and flesh and I guess they're not thinking like a forensic investigator or a UFO investigator so they don't keep it but this fur and flesh smelled like rotten meat like it had been out in the Sun for a couple of days it was rotting they didn't keep it unfortunately but so later when the knids guys get there I'm jumping ahead but when the knids guys get there and hear this story they prepared sort of like a photo lineup like you would do for a suspects in a criminal case and they showed the family likenesses of different species of wolves and they asked each of them independently the four people to pick out which one they had seen and they all settled on the same one and the one they settled on is a direwolf

and that wasn't the only time they saw this wolf that the wife the mom had another encounter at the front gate and that'll show you in a moment later this same wolf was in the company of two dogs they're traveling as a pack and the dogs had these giant oversized heads just really weird animals and a weirder still that they'd be hanging out with this this bulletproof wolf so that that's day one that's day one on the property they're thinking uh you know we just got to kind of move on finish unpacking and and get on with this now I'm gonna tell you some stories today that you're not gonna believe and I'm okay with that you don't have to believe it I don't have an agenda I don't know what the explanation for this stuff is I have no idea and I don't think anybody else does either well we'll explore some possible connections towards the end then we'll open it up with the questions but no one can explain how that works or what that animal was or where it was from or some of the other creatures or experiences that I'm going to tell you about again I don't expect you to believe it but I'm telling you that this is how it happened and and that the witnesses are telling us the truth so the family moves in strange things start happening let me show you the what the ranch looks like let's roll that so this is skinwalker Ridge that's the northern side of the property you'd see it's a really beautiful piece of acreage 480 acres it's divided into three homesteads and there is only one way in there's only one way to get into the property by the way on this on the north side is something called bottle hollow the whole thing is surrounded by ute tribal land that's the I wish I had stolen that sign because it's gone now but that's the opening day that's the gate that gets into the ranch there's only one way in it goes all the way through the three homesteads and and it's always locked and that becomes important because of some of the events that I'm going to describe to you the only way to get in that property is right there and the ridge on one side the river on the other and this road and it goes right by the ranch house now that's the ranch house where the the family lived when they first moved in we could just freeze on that for a second when they first moved in they the house they noticed that these giant steaks with big heavy chains were both at the front door and on the side door as if the people who had lived there had these giant guard dogs they also noticed that all of the doors had locks on both side bolts and locks they noticed doors inside had locks on both sides and cabinets had locks it was like the people that lived there had been paranoid now though those folks by the way had been contacted the family they lived there before and Wow but they have no idea what we're talking about paranormal stuff they they don't remember anything like that we'll get into that so that the family thought that's kind of weird it's like they're worried about keeping something out and they're worried about keeping something in and all these locks but again like with the wolf thing they kind of just let it go this is their dream property they just got here they're gonna get on with it these are some observation towers that were built by the knids team when they came in in 1996 they have like dog runs they would have dogs inside those those runs and then the observation decks the team would go out in the pastures at night for observation looking for UFOs or whatever and that the dog runs are some interesting stories about things that happen there when they installed them someone kept opening them and the dogs they put them in and five minutes later the dogs are out they'd started putting locks on the on the gates and then it happened anyway the locks would disappear there was a lot of trickster elements that happen that we'll get into that's another shot of one of the dog runs the needs team used the dog dogs as sort of biosensors because they could see and hear and sense things that before the humans who were with them would be aware that something was amiss or something was near this is the middle homestead there's three homesteads remember this is the middle one it's been long abandoned it looks like a scene from a horror movie but it's just decayed over the years because nobody's lived there but this is sort of the beating heart of skinwalker ranch this this property this area where the most unusual the most intense the weirdest and most inexplicable events seem to occur it was all sort of concentrated in this general area this is a this is the corral this is the corral where the the calves were and where another incident happened involving Bulls see that white facility there that's a it's an old trailer that they use to store tools in and there's only one door in and they always kept it locked and locked with the big heavy wire around it which will become a factor a little bit later yeah that's the that's the trailer so that's the door that that was created because of something that was inside that kicked it out I'll tell you about a little bit that's what kicked it out those bulls so the family started having weird experiences that we would call sort of poltergeist kind of activity and it was right from the get-go right immediately and you know UFOs are one thing creatures that we'll get into in a bit there's a lot of scary stuff that happened there but the stuff that gives me little goosebumps is the poltergeist stuff they felt that something was watching them the whole time they were there and they weren't wrong they started having inanimate objects became animated and it happened almost every day so we got a chronology of all the events that they could remember and they rattled off dozens of them so frying pans and spatulas would move and then the trickster started picking up the pace Terry the rancher mr. Gorman is out in the field is using a big post hole digger to dig holes to put posts or fencing and it's a fairly heavy piece of equipment he stops for a second takes a drink of water goes and wipes his brow goes in the bathroom comes back his post hole digger is gone now there's nobody out there there's nobody else out there he looks all over for the darn thing finds it three weeks later

25 feet up in a cottonwood tree just weird his son is tasked with moving a quart of wood he needed to move in a hundred yards he and his friends had done this to get it closer to the house where they're gonna use it there they went in when they finished and had lunch came back out the whole quart of wood is moved back to the original spot they did the same thing with fence poles these are big heavy fence poles they had the Sun and three of his friends spent four hours doing this moved all these heavy fence poles and when they came back out it had moved back to the original location except it was it was just like an inch or two off like so they could prove the whole thing had been moved and back but not to its original spot mom would take shower every morning she goes into the bathroom she locks the door she puts a towel and a hairbrush on the cabinet she gets out of the shower the door is still locked towel and hairbrush are gone they find the hairbrush later in the freezer mom goes grocery shopping it's a ranch family they buy a lot of food so they're not to go back and forth to town they she brings it home takes all the groceries out of the bags and puts it into the cabinets leaves the room comes back all the foods back in the bags that that kind of stuff is just happen to him all the time they had a dog that they needed that had bed fleas so they put a flea collar on it and the very next day the flea collar is gone well dogs do that they can do it it's not that unusual but the next day it was back now the dog didn't put it on there was a lot of stuff like that and then they started they felt that they were being watched and they started seeing shadows and shapes in the windows these dark tall dark humanoid shapes outside the windows they would hear heavy footprints outside the house then they started hearing the heavy footprints inside the house and they started seeing the shapes inside the house and then they started seeing the shapes at the bottom of their bed inside the house and it freaked him out they would go out at night in that it's a beautiful and serene pasture but they would hear voices coming from the sky above their head speaking a strange language in sort of a mocking tone laughing at him and you know they're looking up they can't see anything at night the whole pasture would light up as if there was a giant spotlight in the sky boom sometimes the light appear to be coming out of the ground itself just like a beam of light right out of the ground they would hear sounds at night and sometimes in the daytime of machinery under the ground they would feel the rumbling that could hear metal-on-metal it was like there was an underground steel mill or a railroad under there and they couldn't figure it out the people who had lived there before the Meyer family had when they added a weird thing to the deed they wanted to insist that the new owners before they do any digging on the property they should let the Myers know they were subtly suggesting don't be messing with the earth and and as we're gonna learn a little bit later it seemed like that was one of the activities that would stir stuff up when you dug in the earth they had an earthmover the guy who's there now they have an earthmover because it's a big ranch yeah move stuff around and whenever they would do that things would erupt and it was hard to predict what I'll do a little side story here the first visit that I made they invited me in part because I think they hope that my inherent weirdness quotient might get something going and so we went to the property and the arrival of strangers that that'll get something going make a lot of noise out there that gets the attention or whatever it is and you dig in the dirt so we did all that stuff this I was the stranger we built of fire we made a bunch of noise did some interviews and we got the earth mover and moved some dirt around and then they put me on a chair in the middle homestead and left me there and so you know they had a couple of instruments on me they were they went a couple hundred miles a couple of hundred yards away and we're watching through different scopes and infrared binoculars and stuff to see if something came to get me and I would like to tell you that I'm I'm feeling very brave and you know I'm fine with it bring it on yeah not really I was thinking to myself well you know UFO that'd be great

I'm happy to see UFO orbs yeah that'd be that'd be awesome but there's some other things that I'm gonna tell you about now that I don't want to really come into contact with that night however there was nothing came to get me except mosquitoes so I was i sat out there about 45 minutes I think and that's quite enough so all of this strange stuff was going on and strange they they felt that they were being watched and it just seemed to get weirder and weirder they had no idea about the area and they saw the rancher starts asking around about it this area the Uintah Basin has a history as a UFO hotspot for as long as humans have lived there people have been seeing strange things in the sky what we would call UFOs the first Europeans to cross that that area the basin father Escalante 1776 leading a Spanish missionaries and they reported in their journals strange lights in the sky above their campfire the youths who have lived there they have 15 generations back of stories that they tell about the sky people and objects in the sky and and things on this particular piece of property I'll just tell you about the skinwalker legend now it is it is a legend it is lore it is religion to Native American people skinwalker is not really something that the Utes believe in all that much but the Navajo do and back in the day back in the day in the 17 1800 s the Utes and the knob were at war what the youths were a fierce proud people terrific horsemen dangerous warriors and they battled the Navajo in fact they align themselves with the Spanish and drove the Navajo out of their ancestral homes in Colorado so the story about skinwalker which is how the title comes from is that the Utes believed that the Navajo put a curse on them that they said a skinwalker and that that that that Ridge that we saw above the ranch that is what is known as the path of the skinwalker so the tribe believed that people should not go there they there's no prohibition from it but they had strongly advised tribal members to not go on that ranch and that is still true today skinwalker in the sense of what we're discussing today is sort of a an umbrella term that the tribe use to describe all the strange stuff that they had seen on that property over the decades over the centuries and it is also sort of a a metaphor for the knids team to come that that whatever it is that's there seems to be a trickster a shape-shifter something that changes shape and form it gives us glimpses of itself at times of its own choosing it appears in different forms to different people it is elusive it is intelligent hunting it proved to be quite a daunting challenge the Uintah Basin is beautiful Stark it's rich in hydrocarbons dinosaur bones until the big oil boom caused by fracking it was about 90% Mormon salt salt of the earth folks LDS the other 10% were the Utes they were given a reservation at the end of the Civil War by Abraham Lincoln the 8th cavalry the buffalo soldiers were sent there built a fort fort Duchene to keep an eye on them to keep the peace buffalo soldiers are their own story because it turns out that this particular group of Calvary men were all freemasons steeped in the dark arts and some of them are buried in the in the areas of fort duchesne that the Native Americans the the Utes have built over and they built homes and dug up the ground to pour concrete foundations and found graves and uniforms of the Buffalo Soldiers who were buried there so it's sort of like a Hollywood movie in Reverse you know we're we're always building haunted houses on Indian burial grounds this is kind of the the opposite side of that the Utes have their own government they have their own businesses they're modern people they generally coexist peacefully with the non Utes and the tribe for us as investigators for needs and then for us as filmmakers we had a tough time breaking through to them and getting them to talk they didn't trust us it took a long time jeremy has made really great progress in the last year or so in gaining access to Utes and we've been able to engage with them and hear a whole new level of stories about what's been going on there in 1974 a guy named Frank Salisbury Utah State University wrote an excellent book called the Utah UFO display the use of the word display and his title is is telling I think but it was it was because at that time in the late 50s all through the 60s into the 70s that basin for whatever reason was a UFO hotspot more UFO sightings per capita than maybe anywhere in the country and pretty much if you go there now you would be hard-pressed to find somebody who hasn't seen one or who has a family doesn't have a family member who's seen UFOs of all kinds of shapes and sizes why that particular area no we don't really know a lot of doctors all with the Salisbury's information came from a guy named jr. Hicks he lives in a spent his entire life there in the basin

he was the science teacher he taught science to generations of school kids who live in the in the area and as they would become adults or teenagers and see UFOs or weird stuff they would go back to their science teacher jr. Hicks and tell him the story and he started compiling all these files and cases and he would drive through the properties and interview witnesses and put together an amazing compendium thousands of cases that he looked at the best 400 or so he gave to dr. Salisbury which formed the basis of this book

Jr Hicks is a pretty cool guy and because he knew everybody growing up they trusted him until told his story so he got a lot of information and he shared a lot of that stuff with us jr. Hicks is the guy the first time I met him on my first visit to the property who told me that Ridge is the path of the skinwalker and it got a little chill when he said it wise what is what's a skinwalker I'd never heard of it before and he told me the story about the Utes and the prohibition or rather the admonition against going there and we've been working on that ever since you know I could talk all day about the skinwalker but in essence it is a shape-shifter it's an evil presence a sorcerer in order to become a skinwalker

according to aho beliefs you have to kill somebody a member of your own family and then you'll be able to morph into other animals and other shapes a crow a fox a wolf wolf so it's it's an interesting idea and maybe it seems quaint to some of us who do not share that particular belief or that culture but the Utes take it very seriously the Navajo take it very seriously as evidenced by the fact that we tried to ask about it even to tribal officials to police officers to academics they didn't want to talk about it because by mentioning skinwalker there was a concern that you invoke it you invoke its name you invited into your life and the there they take it very seriously because it's pretty scary and it's scary in ways that that transcend the tribe they believe that the Navajo had put a curse on them and that's that was what was unfolding on the Gorman ranch and the Gorman's had no way of knowing this they buy the property in 1994 they notice all the weird stuff all the weird events that start happening the shapes and shadows the lights the voices then they start seeing weird animals in addition to the wolf incident from that first day that was just the beginning

Ellen as I mentioned she saw something similar at the gate they saw birds that would show up that looked like they they were red they came out of like the Amazon or something that they're not native to that they would show up there were times when flocks of geese would be lying over the property and they'd watch him these giant V's of geese Canadian geese and as soon as they got over the ranch house it was like they ran into an invisible pillar there and they all scattered some of them fall out of the sky here's a here's a weird one one afternoon Tom and Ellen arrived at the ranch after stopping in town they see a commotion in the corral something's kicking up a lot of dust as they got closer they could see something is attacking their horses in the corral and it says big heavy beasts it looks like a hyena but its muscular low to the ground with a big furry Fox like tail and it's got claws and it's scratching at the haunches of these horses that are jumping up and down and it wasn't imaginary because the horses were injured the rancher jumps out of his truck yells at this thing and goes charging after it it takes off out of the corral goes up skinwalker Ridge jumps into a rock and disappears it's vanished I had never seen that before and they can't identify what the heck that was but its claws definitely left marks bulletproof wolves strange animals mystery voices strange lights poltergeist what do you need after that you need UFOs so they started seeing a bunch of them the first one they saw it looked like an RV it was at the third homestead down at the other end of the property and the rancher and his son are out at night and they see what they think are headlights coming from the third ranch toward their house they wondered how the hell did this guy get down there in a Winnebago he must be stuck let's go help him so they start walking in that direction the headlights start coming toward them then the headlights go up up and over the trees and out and it they described it once it was in the sky they described it as what UFO researchers would call a trooper what was seen in Brazil for a lot of years a big refrigerator looking thing or an RV type shape but it clearly was not a Winnebago if it wasn't Winnebago I'd like to buy one of those flying Winnebagos next they started seeing these a daylight sightings of silver discs they saw classic flying saucers except they the one that they encountered generated an emotional response in them and they were elated almost giddy like it was accessing something in their brain to mess with their emotions and that wouldn't be the only time that happened there were other crafts that and orbs and things that they saw that had the opposite effect there were some UFOs that looked like stealth fighters that would float silently over the over the property Ellen saw them first at the gate again and they were ringed by what looked like Christmas lights or disco lights there were a couple of times when they would just appear over Tom it was he was out at night in the pasture and then BOOM there's one right there he took to stalking them he'd go out with a rifle at night he was thinking it's the government doing this stuff that government is somehow trying to drive him off his land so he'd get his gun and he was ready to shoot one out of the sky but he watch it he'd hide so these things are not omnipotent they could be fooled but he watched him floating around over the property shining spotlights over the ranch at different spots and he it's cold the night that he's telling the story about and he moves his knee and it cracks and this thing reacts it hears the Krakken reacts and shines a light in his direction and he he took off they started seeing all kinds of orbs the first ones were these white things that would flit around it's not fireflies they were about the size of a softball floating around in the trees sometimes they'd hover sometimes they'd come toward them then they started seeing these red things also orbs that seemed to design to go after their animals scared the hell out of their animals drove their wood divided their their cows that would drive him off cliffs and then the blue ones the Blue Meanies these things were bigger than a softball they would get real close they were looked like it was made out of glass and inside of them was this bubbling blue liquid no means of propulsion they couldn't figure out how these things were flying but when these things would get close both the animals and the people it would drive them to their knees with fear just drive them crazy with fear like it was accessing a flight-or-fight kind of it thing in your head now it's weird they had seen a lot of weird stuff they were kind of getting used to

spooky scary stuff but this thing drove them literally to their knees and and mess with them they started having weird dreams in addition to seeing the things outside the window they would have the same dreams at night the husband and wife and then in these dreams these beings in the sky are watching him and talking about him and they said oh yeah

Tom he knows he's where we're here when they wake up and they both tell the same dream again they're upset about it a couple of times they would wake up and they'd have these scoop marks on their on their hands and fingers so that it's really trying to scare the hell out of them I'll tell you what they they started in addition to all these UFOs that they were saying their neighbors were seeing him sometimes sombrero shaped objects that would fly right into skinwalker Ridge almost like it's a holographic projection of some sort as they Tom starts asking his neighbors he finds out that pretty much everybody out there has been seeing him and have been seeing him for a long time and he I guess he probably was wishing why didn't somebody tell me that before I bought this property they started losing animals cattle now they've got 80 head in their herd and these are expensive animals and a lot of them started disappearing altogether he would watch he would you could follow the tracks in the snow right into a snowbank and then poof they're gone like they were snatched out of the sky then they started finding them that are cut up classic mutilation stuff the neighbor was having the same experiences mr. Garcia his cat had the one incident that he told me about was he had two cows that were in a special pen he had him sequestered from the rest of the herd he's in the house and they're locked there's no way they're gonna get out he's in the house and he looks out and both of them are outside the corral that he'd created outside the fence and they're laying down and he goes rushing out what the heck is going on these can't yet these cows had their legs were broken their front legs are both broken how did this happen he goes back in the house he's gonna get a gun and take him down he comes back outside the cows are gone they didn't walk their legs are broken they're in severe pain goes back in the house puzzled an hour later they're both back he goes outside to see him now they've got for all of their legs are broken as if they had been dropped from the sky the Gorman's lost a total of thirty head and out of a herd of 80 animals that's pretty bad that's that's a significant loss there was one particular mutilation incident that happened after the scientific team was there and I think I want to show you that now the Gorman's were especially sensitive to the incident with the Bulls because of the losses they'd already suffered out of a herd of 80 cattle they lost 14 head prior to the arrival of knids some disappeared others were sliced up 12 more cows and calves were killed while knids was on the ranch their neighbors the Garcias lost several animals as well some of their cattle appeared to have been killed by being dropped onto the pasture from a great height the cattle mutilation mystery has been reported in at least 15 states dating back to the 1960s thousands of animals have been sliced up with surgical precision mostly under the cover of darkness if humans are doing it not a single suspect has ever been caught for the Gorman's the livestock losses were devastating both financially and psychologically and then things got worse on March 10th 1997

Tom Gorman and his wife walked out of their home and into the pasture planning to tag the ears of several calves that had been born in the preceding days it was a bright clear morning snow was on the ground 50 yards from their house they found the first calf was they were with their their dog that the two of them tagged and weighed this animal they they checked it at I believe was 84 pounds or 87 pounds and they left the animal there with it with the mother everything seemed to be fine although they did detect an odor in the air around this area they they detected a strong musk smell they took note of it and then they headed west and they went about 300 yards west beyond that the dog run was not was not there at the time but about 300 yards beyond towards where that incline is and they were tagging a second animal only 30 to 40 minutes had passed the Gorman's had an unobstructed view of everything in the field but didn't see or hear anything unusual until their dog focused its attention back toward the house and the first calf the dog with them down here at this stage began to act really strangely it started growling the hair on the back of its neck went up and it started facing back towards here growling and snarling and then it just took off west away from this spot it just took off he was never seen again the Gorman's were curious and walked back across the field first thing they saw was the mother of the animal was running back and forth kind of in a sort of half circle from about this area to the fence line just running back and forth and it was limping I mean it was dragging its foot it was limping they met the animal and they noticed that it was just totally out of breath it was panting it was obviously in deep stress and it was dragging one leg and then they noticed the calf or what was left of it spread-eagled on the ground just about here with was it was lying with all four limbs just spread on the ground all of it in turn body cavity was gone it was completely pretty well all of its muscle was gone from from the torso the legs were still intact but the one of the ears was also gone so they called ned's the rancher placed a call to the knids investigators who'd returned to las vegas for a rare weekend off within a few hours a four-man team including a veterinarian was on the scene that crosby started now the first thing that the veterinarian noticed adjourned the necropsy was the theme the ear of the animal had been sliced off with a very sharp instrument possibly a scalpel and the ear had contained a very large plastic yellow tag an ear tag that they had just put on and it was gone so the net crosby he proceeded a boat 10 feet away from the animal there was a femur one of the femurs had been forcibly ripped out of a ball-and-socket joint which is extremely difficult to do I mean in terms of strength was it looked initially you know superficially like a massive predator had just laying waste to this animal removed you know 60 pounds of meat in 45 minutes which we don't know of any predator that could have done that and how could a predator inflict such carnage without being seen or heard by the rancher his wife or his dog who were a few hundred yards away in the same field on what was a quiet Sunday morning no four-legged predator known to science could do it the team gathered tissue and bone samples which were sent to three independent pathology labs the results arrived later but confirmed what seemed obvious in the pasture that day the calf had been carved up by someone wielding sharp metallic instruments a heavy machete like object had slammed into the bones a smaller scalpel like knife had sliced the hide and muscle but a closer inspection revealed that it was definitely sharp instruments used there was no sign of blood was no sign of entrails around it was perfectly clean not a drop of blood on the grass we went even as far as doing an experiment by pouring blood on the grass to see how fast would seep through videotaped the grass and showed you know even two days later you could still see the stain on the grass so there was no blood whatsoever not a single drop either underneath the animal on the animal or on the grass it was just completely a professional tracker was brought in he scoured every inch of ground in and around the field looking for tracks human animal or vehicle nothing eventually the investigators reached an unsettling conclusion the bottom line is this animal must have been killed elsewhere because there was no blood there was no blood on the scene and then the animal must have been brought back laid down carefully almost you know really almost ritually on the spot where it had been tagged the knids team investigated dozens of mutilation cases across the country many of the tissue samples were analyzed in needs own lab in Las Vegas and then double-checked by independent labs they hired the Utah calf was in a category all its own it seemed akin to psychological warfare intended to shock and frighten the witnesses the following night there was another scare in the darkness of the first homestead shots were fired at something that had rattled the herd eventually colum Kelleher surmised that the perpetrators responsible for the calf were mechanical like an assembly line in a meat packing plant a machine was involved with this carnage whatever happened to that calf was an extraordinary skillful job so let me tell you about the shots that were fired after this calf incident everybody's pretty much on edge we've kind of jumped ahead because I haven't told you about the mids arrival but I'll get to it so everyone's kind of on edge animals the dogs the the people everybody was kind of hunkered down and hiding there was just a sense of foreboding on the property and then the rancher hears these cows making noise bellowing out in the first homestead near that near where this calf had been killed he's figures I'm not losing another animal and he grabs his rifle and jumps in his truck and takes off toward that where the noise is coming from two guys from knids two scientists jump in their car and they go after him and they're videotaping part of it the rancher jumps out of his truck he sees two things at the bottom of this tree is a really big round thing looks like a big hairy bear except there it's just it's a circle and up in the tree is some eyes and these eyes are like this big and they're yellow in the tree above where the the thing is at the bottom he pulls out his rifle and pops this thing that's on the bottom and he yells out I hit it and as soon as he hit it it disappeared boom like it like a balloon exploding then he starts shooting at the ice in the tree and he hit that too because something whatever it was fell out of the tree and at the bottom it was still there was still snow in patches in that in that area at that time of the year and this thing whatever it was left a footprint in snow and it looked like claws it looked like a raptor like great big claws the rancher and the two guys from knids go into the brush to look for it there's no blood or anything but that track which they videotaped told them that there was an animal of some kind there like a dinosaur and they went after it they went into the brush with the guns in the dead of night out there looking for it they never found it I think probably thank goodness I want to back up to another story that happened before you saw the freeze-frame of the Bulls that were looking really surly and angry whatever this thing was this intelligence it was a trickster it played mind games it was always one step ahead of everybody he can anticipate what the rancher and his family and what the scientists who eventually came there we're going to do next you put up a camera in an area where there's been a lot of activity there's nothing happens there anymore it moves over here and it just played mind games and the Bulls is the example you'll recall that that Corral with the the white trailer in it well the rancher and his wife are heading to the third homestead they're in the truck they've lost a bunch of animals they're about ready to go under and the rancher says to his wife you know if we something happens to one of those bulls we'll go we're done they had four Bulls these four very expensive 2,500 pound powerful monster animals and they're all in the corral in their Corral that day they drive down to the third homestead they come back they're gone

25 minutes the Bulls are gone they're freaking out they jump out start looking around how is this possible there's nobody here it's not rustlers they they couldn't get into the property and if they did these Bulls are not easy to move around they're there looking all over the place scrambling he the rancher goes over there's a grate at the top of the the trailer just on a whim he looks inside all four of the Bulls are inside this trailer they're crammed together there's no there's no way you could you'd need a forklift to get one of them in that trailer and to get all four of them in in that amount of time crammed in there and they were like in a trance they were he yells to his wife hey I found him they're over here and when he yelled they wake up and they start kicking the hell out of the the sides of this tree that the trailer and they knocked a hole in that that's where you saw that big piece of wood in the side of the thing and then they got out and the photo that we showed yeah that's the that's that's where they kicked it out and got out but they were in a pretty bad mood for a while now all right I guess somebody could do a trick like that but here's here's the other part of the mystery the dudes guys were not there that day but they the rancher called and told them about it they flew from Las Vegas they were there in a couple of hours they start using instrumentation to see if they can detect anything and the entire Corral was magnetized like whatever technology or method was used to get those bulls Murray uncooperative mean animals into that force them into that trailer had somehow magnetized the entire Corral and stayed magnetized for several hours the funny thing is the door had not been opened there's a there's a thing of wire that was still around it so whoever got him in there didn't use the door and there were even cobwebs on the inside that door that we're still there so that's a pretty weird thing and then to have the the calf mutilation right after that followed by the dinosaur they're really messed up so they had a whole range of other weird stuff going on they had something you'd call Bigfoot they saw a family a Bigfoot

running across the the pastures they would see something that was invisible that would you could tell it was going through the water it would displace water and then get out and water is dripping off of whatever the heck it was it would go through their cattle scared the hell out of their cattle just divide the whole herd like something going right through it they would smell it they could smell it it was this powerful musk smell and whenever that musk smell was happening they knew something bad was gonna go on there were huge what we would call like crop circles burned areas big circle circles eight feet across in a triangular pattern there was one incident that got picked up it's part of the reason that Bob Bigelow heard about the ranch something went down into the third homestead at night and dug dozens of holes big scoops hundreds of pounds of soil each it was like somebody took a giant cookie cutter lifted and and used a crane to put it down there and pick up these hundreds of pounds of soil dozens of them appeared overnight they were still there the first time I could you could still see him the first time I was visiting they had a UFO that came up that over that same part of the property the rancher kind of joked about it it was pilot error that clipped the tops off of these top cottonwood trees 56 50 or so feet of the top of these trees were chopped off and it was a big like a little you left in the tops of these trees all of this is of course taking a toll on the family I having a hard time with it by the time the knids guys arrived the story of those those cookie cutter soil things a photo was taken it gets picked up by the local paper then by The Associated Press and a story is done Zak van Eyck I think of Deseret news to some stories about this UFO ranch where some weird stuff had happened the rancher meets with him he tells him about UFOs and he tells him about the mutilations but he doesn't tell him these other stories and so when we came out with that stuff a lot of people didn't thought we were making it up but we weren't the families messed up by the time knids arrived they're all sleeping in the same room on the floor at night for safety and comfort the kids who'd been straight-a students were on the verge of dropping out of school the wife had been vice-president of the bank had lost her job the dad's about ready to lose it he thinks it's a government or he's starting to suspect that something beyond government because of the other things that that happened there he's on the phone one night with the friend of mine in Las Vegas he's got these three big dogs big tough country dogs that are chasing one of these Blue Meanies these blue orbs this thing is floating just above the heads of these dogs who are jumping up and snapping at it and it's leading the dogs across the pasture and he's telling mr. big lo he says hey something's happening here I got to go he hangs up the phone and right at that point this this blue thing led the dogs into the brush and out of his line of sight and then he hears these shrieks and the dogs are gone he goes out there and looks and on the spot where the dogs had gone into the brush there's these three greasy spots on the ground the animals never came back it looks like they'd been vaporized by something that was pretty much it for the family they'd they'd had enough

I'll tell you another thing that it happened the word starts to get out about the ranch before the knids guys arrived and people start showing up there's like men and black type people around the periphery watching there are overflights of strange not just UFO is just strange craft black helicopters that kind of stuff right out of right out of UFO lore and again it felt like they were being watched so one day this guy shows up at the front gate and gets the attention of the rancher he says I've driven he looks like Grizzly Adams big husky due to the big beard he says I've driven hundreds of miles here I've been drawn to this property can you let me meditate out here the ranchers aren't you crazy come on man and he keeps he's insisting please you know I'll leave my car here you can drop me wherever you want and I'll get away I just want to do it for a couple of them you know half an hour or something like that they finally talked him into it he in the Sun let the guy get in their truck they drive them to the middle homestead my chair and the guy is like looking at the sky and chanting and stuff and the rancher and his kid or lean on their truck and looking what this crazy sob is doing they're getting it could chuckle out of it and then they hear a noise they hear a cowbell in the brush out there ding-a-ling-a-ling they don't have any cow bells on their cows they're hearing this noise and they start seeing something Oh cake moving through the brush can't quite make out a figure of it like what is going on this guy's oblivious to it he's talking to the cosmos and this suddenly this thing comes out of the brush it's like the movie predator where they the camouflage technology is used that's what this thing looks like it it bends light it comes right up to this guy who's still got his eyes closed and it lets out a roar right in front of his face this roar you could hear for like a mile I like a lion this guy just about shits his pants pardon me he flies in the back he flies under lands on the ground this thing goes back into the bushes the rancher and his son come over are you okay he grabs on to the rancher he won't let go get me the hell out of here this place is cursed its demons and they take him to the front gate and he's yelling and screaming the whole way but that was the story I was told before they put me on the chair right in that spot so I was thinking I'm good with UFOs orbs fine no predator please so there were a lot of those kinds of things that really messed with the family when Bob Bigelow sees the story that had been picked up a Associated Press he wastes no time he hops on a plane he goes to see the rancher he brings colum Kelleher and John Alexander with him they hear these stories it takes a while to win his trust and then they said how about if I buy the ranch and the guy says sold the family Bigelow got him a place somewhere else in the same area the rancher was not ready to give up this guy is tough he doesn't want to be run off his property so they hired him to stay on as the ranch manager and they bought another herd of cattle it might have been his herd of cattle and left him out there sorta as bait to see what would come and get him and then the mid scientists needs is the National Institute for discovery science Bob Bigelow created this organization because it was basically dissatisfied with the major UFO organizations that he'd offer him a million dollars to do some quality work it's a long story but they they screwed it up and so he formed his own organization and some of these people were world-class a couple of astronauts one man who had been on the moon two US senators a really amazing group of people that's a science advisory board and then they had rapid response teams people like Colin Kelleher Eric Davis veterinarians trackers if they had an outbreak of mutilations somewhere they put him on a plane and send him there take samples send it to labs try to figure this stuff out same thing with UFO hot spots they're doing what science is supposed to do and they did the same thing with the ranch so Bigelow buys the ranch the science advisory board has a big argument about what approach to take with this place that is essentially a paranormal living lab part of the science advisory board had suggested well maybe we go in saw maybe we go in without a lot of technology and just

of try to interact with whatever it is psychically or use shaman or something like that the other guys that wanted to go in and put sensors and cameras and equipment and try to measure things the way science would do that's the side that went one out so when they came in they installed a trailer that was filled with equipment all kinds of sensory gear and they put cameras up on poles that would have a wide swath of the property so they could sort of detect and record images of weird stuff that went on and they did what science is supposed to do they interviewed the family they endured they investigated their background they found out that they were solid citizens they interviewed the neighbors they interviewed the the tribe they found out they gathered information they they checked the property for geomagnetic anomalies they look for any hallucinogenic plants that might inspire Helou you know psychedelic images and hallucinations didn't find any that they did what science is supposed to do they didn't have an agenda they weren't there to prove that UFOs are real or ETS are here because they don't know what it was and they still don't know so they come in like gangbusters and the stuff starts happening to them and they're there interacting at the same time with the with the rancher they start seeing the same things the balls of light but it's always just out it it operates under its own rules and it was always just outside a camera range they had a lot of equipment malfunctions batteries would die vehicles would die at the same points in the property they'd have compasses that would just go crazy there was a lot of really weird measurable stuff whatever this thing was is it's physical it did physical things it certainly did physical things to the land to the animals to the people who live there and it was non-physical it was psychic metaphysical whatever you want to call it it was all of the above this was not just a UFO story it was a whole range and category of really weird stuff among the strange things that the rancher had seen in the sky were these really big almost like a Sun a big orange orb that would appear once in a while on the property and he would get out of his

an on occasion you look through these orange orbs they're not orbs at all like a hole in the sky and on the other side was another sky and it was different it was daytime here it's nighttime over there if it was daytime there was nighttime here and occasionally he would see things flying in and out of what looked like a portal at other times on the property he'd see these amorphous yellowish balls of light that would appear at different times in association with phenomena when these balls of light would appear floating over the over the pasture weird stuff would happen creatures would appear well one night while the knids guys are on the property they have an experience with one of these yellow balls of light that strongly suggested to them that the ranch is a highway a portal are really a live road to other realities we'll play the clip ground zero for odds sightings was always the middle homestead at nights lights and orbs could be seen floating through the creaky old buildings it's also where the rancher had multiple sightings of the most puzzling object an orange glowing hole in the sky

Gorman told Kelleher and others the orange ball seemed to be a portal and on the other side was a quite different sky on at least one occasion the rancher saw a smaller object fly out of the orange orb into the sky over his property the exotic possibility that the ranch might be a portal to another world has occurred many times to the Knids team but how to prove it in August 1996 the portal Theory erupted again in a stark demonstration the rancher and an investigator were conducting a night surveillance atop the ridges they spotted a hovering ball of light in the middle homestead an object that was seen four feet off the ground that it looked like a dull yellow light I mean it was innocuous hovering over the road it just appeared out of nowhere and then it begins to expand and grow and then it opens up into about a approximately three foot wide openings they turned on the night-vision equipment they had and lo and behold everything from a dull yellow light became like a three dimensional it looked like a three dimensional tunnel that was just you know hovering over the ground where there's a light shining from coming out from within this opening on the other side of the opening that's just the natural background of the ranch they see the road they see the grass from the pasture and so forth slowly this incident unfolded where they saw this what looked like a humanoid creature crawling literally elbowing his or her way through this this tunnel hovering four feet above the ground and out of this opening crawls a very large what I understood to be an 8-foot tall black creature with the head and no neck and a torso arms and legs no details her features noted on it there was a second witness standing right beside the other guy with the the infrared technology all he could see was a dull yellow light that had expanded to about four feet in diameter it just literally grabbed the outside edges of this opening pulled itself through came out stepped onto the dirt road and ran off into the darkness the creature stood up once it got out onto the ground and walked away into the darkness I mean can you imagine two people on the top of a cliff or a sort of a bluff 150 feet off the ground in the middle of nowhere and then the opening began to shrink and collapse in on itself and turn into a brilliant light that just faded away that's a perfect description that was given by Matt Visser and John Kramer and Bob Forward and other colleagues there's in a physical review paper on the optical nature of wormholes I mean that is not I would say military technology that's some kind of a phenomena that has it smacks of interdimensional phenomena

we don't know what it is that was one theory that it certainly sounds like it's a portal as we understand it but really that stuff is over my head those guys don't know their this you know throwing out one idea and telling you what they actually saw they had some really harrowing encounters on the property themselves there was so those two guys were walking again in the middle homestead at night they have a couple of dogs with them and the dogs suddenly go behind their legs they're hiding they're scared of something and up at the top of the trees they see this dark cloud that's that's floating it's floating across the trees getting bigger and bigger and it stops right in front of them and they they freeze and this thing Eric Davis who's a PhD physicist brilliant man who's worked for top secret labs and things he's frozen and suddenly another voice comes out of him it's not his it's them we're watching you he's saying this we're watching you calm is looking at him what and it's not him it's somebody else speaking through him in a different voice he snaps out of it after a couple of minutes the kraut cloud goes away

Eric was messed up for a couple of days having terrible dreams couldn't sleep but it was a real thing you know there were uh there were other weird things that they investigated son you know we put we decided when we wrote the book we're gonna put them all in and people can sort it out themselves the only incident that we hesitated about that we argued about maybe leaving out as this one to Native American the police officers are driving through their range I told you the whole ranch is surrounded by tribal land there's a road there's a paved road that leads to the dirt road that leads into the ranch they're coming around the bend it's nighttime and they see two figures standing right at the bend there their backs are to the road the guys shined their lights over there what are these two guys up to to six foot tall guys in trench coats smoking cigarettes they shine the light over to them the guys turn around their heads they're dogs I know I'm not I'm not making that up they're dogs they're a dog faces these these Indian cops look at each other they look back dogs are going trenchcoats gone they get out of the car cigarettes still burning on the ground now we thought maybe we'll leave that one out that sounds pretty crazy but you know what I mean since the book came out in 2005 there's all kinds of dog man stories that we've been hearing from around the country so we kept it in you know the needs guys tried to communicate with whatever it was they had different experiments that they tried to talk to whatever it is and that that failed after a while of hunting the skinwalker the skinwalker got tired of the game and decided I'm going away and the activity plummeted it went underground and the the phenomena seemed to make a statement that it was tired of this one thing it did well let's play this other clip about phenomena first this is a song that Jeremy put together about this nude study in 1978 a local newspaper reported high activity in the UN to basin silver dome shaped objects were seeing flying saucers some witnesses observing the display from close proximity from underneath the craft UFOs were buzzing the locals with jagged green lights like fire nothing really changes is constantly the phenomenon is engaging people it's a pattern of close encounters it's commonplace people hunt the cause scientists investigate the carnage the nits team tried to quantify the performances they created control studies for plant growth they monitored the environment they calculated the variables they analyzed every event but mostly they waited for the phenomenon to express itself and the phenomenon seemed to play games with them silence followed by dramatic displays of control it did what it wanted it does what it wants to anybody it was something that was picked up on the cameras they had this there's Bank of recording equipment on these cameras that were recorded 24 hours a day and occasionally they'd see something there'd be a light in a sea of inky darkness snow really worth all that much that looked like the Twin Towers that disappeared out there and then it was gone it was frustrating for the knids guys the activity goes underground and then it makes a couple of statements or like bon voyage grand farewell the cameras that are up on the on these poles have a wide view there are three of the poles and cameras on all of them and down the the side this is the new version but when did was there they had these plastic covers for the wires and the the plastic covers were wrapped up with several layers of duct tape so one day the camera goes out one of these cameras goes out and they go look at it and it's torn to pieces it's just ripped to shreds the wires are ripped out the plastic covering is gone and and all that the tape is gone as well something and really just shredded it so they realize ah ha we've got the other cameras they can see this let's go back we'll back time it when this camera went out we'll look at the other cameras and see what went up that Poland tore it up and they get the cameras back and look at it and then whatever did it was invisible there's nothing there can't really make out the stuff flying around when they took it back and analysed it later once later they were able to see a little tiny blue light buzzing around the camera when it got ripped to shreds it was just like a like this from the phenomena get out of here you're not welcome they had one other incident that we'll talk about me we'll do it tomorrow about a nice circle that was kind of also a giveaway so needs that the activity stops they don't really have any other places that are hotspots knids itself goes underground Bob Bigelow dissolved at about 2004 and they don't really have any conclusions about the ranch they can't publish a paper about it who's going to publish it what would they say they don't know what this was how do you describe it all these different activities it's almost as if weird on purpose so that nobody would take it seriously but that wasn't the end of the study in 2007 a guy from the DIA the Defense Intelligence Agency reads the book he contacts mr. Bigelow says I'd like to go to the ranch I think there's something there for us to look at he goes to the ranch he has an experience he's not there 15 minutes and he sees his weird ball of light in the living room or he's talking to the ranch lady no the wife who's the caretaker he doesn't say anything at the time goes back to Washington meets with Senator Harry Reid of Nevada guy that I introduced to the UFO topic some years ago and he's secretly been a UFO buff for the last thirty years or so he had met with Bigelow he had talked to other scientist about his interest this dia guy had proposed let's do a study let's study something more than just lights in the sky shapes and saucers and things of that sort let's look at something bigger because it looks like from the experiences of the ranch that these things are somehow interconnected Harry Reid goes to some colleagues gets the money for it they put it out the bid

Bigelow Aerospace of course bids on it the same people who had worked on knids are a lot of the folks who work on this program and they set up a study in secret and that study focused on skinwalker ranch and they cover a lot of ground and they talked the new witnesses and dug up new evidence and created massive reports as and as well as a database that is gigantic that we may never see some of the stuff that I did last night the story is material that was involved with that but it's a lot of you know hundreds of folio requests have been filed for these there are reports but I'm not sure that they're ever gonna be released however we do know quite a bit about what they learned and we know do know that they took this seriously and that the idea that these various phenomena UFOs Bigfoot poltergeists crop circles cattle mutilations invisible beings orbs all that stuff is it related I can tell you it's all there I don't know if this is trying to send us a message that maybe it is all somehow related or it is the same phenomena taking different shapes and sizes and appearing to us at different times or you know it just happens to be a paranormal Highway where all this stuff intersects we don't know you know they had the a tip study that was underway the Pentagon that Lou Elizondo ran focused entirely on UFOs nuts-and-bolts craft because that's the kind of thing that the military is willing to support if it's a perceived perceived threat to ships and planes and nuclear weapons all right we'll look into that but this wow wow stuff the program was killed in large part because people inside the Pentagon and dia number one were worried that the story would get out which of course it did and number two that it was satanic that it's demonic you know maybe it is maybe

invoke it that's like saying you know we don't want to mention the word skinwalker because it might come into our lives but that's true and it happened answers I guess are hard to find you know the the property Bigelow sold the property in 2016 that's that's the new that's what it looks like now they installed new gates there's a new owner who doesn't want his identity known that's that's him we we got him to talk to us a little bit Jeremy got him to talk for the camera he's trying to carry on the study to revive the study and and once again there's been a big spike in activity I say that reluctantly because whenever I've said that before it causes all kinds of YouTube investigators to go ahead and go make their own skinwalker movie and they go on the property and they they drink beer and they appear in the window at night and take flash photos and they take souvenirs one guy tore the whole gate off oh this is some of the security that was following us around the last time we visited you know so I guess I'll wrap it up and let you ask some questions but I mean we don't know the answer nobody knows the answer how does all this stuff fit together is it et or alien well it's not exactly what we think of as et is it the military maybe some of it it could be the military doing some sign a psychological exercise that the military take that cow a calf and carve it up and dump it back there did the military did commandos get into the bathroom and take the towel in the hairbrush imagine given that order go go take her hairbrush and put it in the freezer the military didn't do all this stuff this stuff has been going on for 250 years maybe they're doing it now but they didn't start it so that's not an explanation inter-dimensional I don't know I don't know is it all related it seems like we got a learning curve here that it's telling us that it is somehow related that reality isn't what it used to be that it's much more wondrous and mysterious than we might imagine and we need to start thinking about it in those kinds of terms at least I hope that's what it as opposed to just alien teenagers just messing with us I know that there is a Native American connection there is a Native American connection to the other hotspots though that I mentioned before but I don't really understand it I think they seem to have a better better grasp of this and are more comfortable with it then then we are and then the rest of the culture but getting them to open up it's been tough we have made progress recently and and you'll be able to see it when the film comes out but do you know the knids guys did what they're supposed to do and that's what Jeremy and I have been trying to do as well is to you know investigate the unexplained not to explain the uninvestigated thank you

there's a lot work that gate actually been on a public road and it being unlawful like in the first place and I know they had tried to get the law change so the road was considered private and make the gate legit but I don't know if anything happened about that do you know any more about this yes I think officially they did that is a was a public access road even when Bigelow owned it but he put up a gate and wouldn't let people in and and got away with it when the property transferred in 2016 it the whole argument about whether the gate was public or not started up again the owner got a stay while he went to the County Commission and and I think Court as well and he's he's a wealthy guy so I think he managed to convince them that it needs to remain private so it has been officially changed and it is private property not a public access anymore the public I think the idea that the public could use that road to go through skinwalker ranch any time it wanted to terrify the owner for good reason so he got to change thank you sure George one of the things that I really wonder about that I think wonder if it kind of ties all of this together is the idea of a multiverse and there's a universe that could be just beside us right here and the difference between us and them is that their atoms vibrate at a different frequency and if those atoms vibrate at our frequency they can skip over into our universe and then vibrate at that frequency and go back so that's one of the things I wonder about science and it seems like physicists and scientists keep coming back to that with mathematics I can't get away from that idea so I yeah I'm with you on that we wrote about it in the book is that one time what the multiverse idea was pretty exotic and crazy and now it's cutting-edge stuff I mean I would think that cosmologists most of them now accept that that is distinct possibility it's consistent with string theory that there are other realities you know we say to ourselves in that context we say to ourselves we're

we want to know what's going on and we're thinking to that in the context of UFOs flying saucers are here from other planets and I remember the first time you interviewed dr. jacques ballet he had said I'm gonna be really disappointed if the ultimate answer to the UFO mystery is merely ETS coming here from other planets to visit us occasionally because the evidence suggests otherwise the evidence suggests we're in the middle of some other intelligence whether that's dimensional it's an ultra terrestrial or crypto terrestrial or whatever you want to call it the idea is that we live among them they're here they can interject themselves into our reality at will and there's nothing we can do about it now people may be ready for truth about flying saucers that they're ETS from other planets but I am after dealing with the ranch for more than 20 years I'm not sure we're ready for this other discussion of reality the idea that there is another intelligence that sees everything it knows what it knows what you think it knows what you're gonna do beforehand it sees you when you're sleeping when you're in the shower people would freak out I think I think the general public this audience excluded I guess you're a general public once in a while but I think I think people who are here are curious enough to hear this could handle it but I think a big large swaths of the population would have trouble with it maybe that is the answer the multiverse extra-dimensional so I don't know is the third homestead also just abandoned how long has it been since people lived there how many things happen there do things come from there go to there what's the deal with the third homestead it is abandoned it is has been abandoned I sing I think it was built in the 1920s so it's been empty since maybe the 1950s the current owner of the ranch has had a team of historians that have looked back into the records and have located the family members of the people who built that third homestead the third homestead was actually the first one it's the smallest and then the second one and then the current house is the is the youngest but the people who live there have a really there's a great family story about what we'd call a men in black guy showing up in the middle of a snowstorm being invited in he was like really weird wearing really weird clothes from the future and then he said they said you do we need to give you a ride to town no I'm fine and he walks out they they opened the door and he's gone he's gone and then the the Meijer family that has have made statements since the book came out we we never had any problem we didn't install all those locks we didn't have guard dogs we never saw anything but people around them in their own family that neighbors who knew them said they did in fact have experiences I just didn't want to deal with it anymore and didn't want to talk about it and while they were there they seemingly came to an accommodation with whatever it is the same is true for the husband and wife who live on the ranch now there they were the caretakers for a couple of years under Bob Bigelow and they have stayed on with the new owner and they see stuff all the time they don't talk about it and it doesn't seem to bother them too much there is an incident in their past where it it seems to have caused some physical harm but they've moved on from it so whatever this thing is you can learn to live with it and it again it shows itself to you it it sets the rules one other thing I want to mention is that what's on the ranch doesn't stay on the ranch it follows people the the agents who were part of the study conducted for the DIA who were on the property all had experiences and it seemed like people who brought guns on the property the tough folks commando types who these were they all had experiences there and it followed them home and it's it's seven or eight years later it's still messing with them now and it it shows itself to family members scares that a lot of people creatures appear stuff flies around the room wine bottles break on the wall that kind of stuff

and is ongoing and it happened to the Gorman's when they moved out of the area they moved to Idaho and it followed them for a while too so it's a it's not to be trifled with

I know we're sitting here talking about it and it's kind of fun but it's a it's spooky and it's weird and we don't know what its priorities or goals are we can only guess did you do any excavation of the ground or anybody else dig down to see if there was an ancient foundation not to my knowledge there were discussions of that and then it never went anywhere there were discussions about getting ground-penetrating radar to look in a couple of it's a 480 acres it's a big ranch but there's one particular area mr. Bigelow John Alexander had and how put off who was an advisor to the science advisory board had been involved with the remote viewing program knew all these remote viewers the ones that really know their stuff and had worked for CIA and the Pentagon and they got a couple of those guys to take a look at it and they all seemed to look at the same place in fact I engaged a team of remote viewers to take a look at the property they all looked at the same place the team that I got involved they they saw military folks underground and with banks of equipment the the one remote viewer the best remote viewer in the world identified a particular part of the the ranch in the third homestead that was just he gets got he didn't know what it was but it was dark and he suggested if you got a dig to dig there to my knowledge that never happened and they did not use ground-penetrating radar but the new owner may thank you sure they're moving past the idea of nuts and bolts analysis of UFO propulsion and moving ahead to the idea of consciousness being an interactive factor in propelling UFOs and considering the fact that every time we go to sleep at night our consciousness leaves is the premise being this is not just lights in the sky and craft this is something else that was the reason that study the all SAP program the bass study was so amazing because it wasn't just looking at flying saucers and nuts-and-bolts craft it was created to look at is there an interaction with these other phenomena and it was a that's an amazing thing and it was threatening to people it made them uncomfortable but the fact is that's what it's probably going to take you need to look at the big picture that's what this study was the knids study was about it's what the bast study was about 2016 I was here and there was a couple of guys called the paranormal Rangers and they were Navajo federal agents john dover and stan milford have you spoke with them or had any kind of a collective can i have not you know we I was amazed because when we started working on the book column and I had reached out to a number tribe and including the Navajo the Tribal Council tribal historians and nobody wanted to talk to us about skinwalkers stuff we end up getting Anglo professors at university professors who had studied native cultures who are willing to share with us their impressions but and then it's been seven or eight years all the sudden the Navajo police officers come out there on television talking about it they deal with skinwalker stuffs Bigfoot stuff witches and they take it seriously because it is serious to their their constituents so they go out on those kind of calls I'd love to to interact with the Navajo officers and I hope I get a chance if somebody here knows them I'd love to have a phone number I'll call him you have a unique position in that you're involved as a really successful mass communicator and also have this really respected foot in UFO and paranormal and I've often wondered what's the justification for greater media not to pick up and communicate the things that you're communicating especially with what you're saying is coming out from this extended research so what do you hear from your cohorts and greater media as how can they justify turning a blind eye to all of this information it's pretty much the same it's always been is that it's the the giggle factor

I mean the reason that the Pentagon canceled that study same thing nobody wants to be a Chris melon wrote a Washington Post op-ed piece about nobody wants to be the alien guy in the Pentagon it does know you no good even now after the tick tack and and all this stuff has come out pilots don't want to report this it does not help their their careers and the same is true in my line of work I get away with it because I've been at it a long time and I was I was a had a certain amount of credibility before I became the alien guy but I've caught nothing but grief about it ever since and and I think it's a shame because there are legitimate things you can write about you know that you can have an honest inquiry and you can try to separate wheat from chaff and boil it down and do good news stories the same way the same way I've always approached it the same way I would any news story you know but there it's the giggle factor keeps people from getting into it yeah I am amazed that the New York Times did that story now they screwed it up a little bit but it'll be fixed it'll be sorted out but I thought that that would change the media environment and and for a while it did suddenly New York Times does the story Politico doesn't Washington Post does it The New Yorker magazine some of them are dumping on the other media because they got scooped that that comes with the territory but there was a big flurries Fox News is Tucker Carlson had all these guys on his show multiple times CNN MSNBC even and you know so I had high hopes that because the New York Times had done it it would make it acceptable for other media to do that and I think there might be some residual effect for that right now I think it may have opened up a door for other people to pursue this serious journalists to route to we report it accurately I'm hopeful but you know if you're asking why it hasn't happened over the years because the giggle factor ridicule my wall at home has the editorial cartoons that have been drawn about me over the years by our state's largest newspaper every time somebody's pissed off about something they bring up UFO stuff you know I do a story about Vice cops being crocodile that's the UFO guy that's all right and they had these cartoons one had me with a butterfly net chasing a flying saucer the other one was called the marshmallow head Chronicles and it was head it had to ET hitman had come to earth to rub me out and they had ray guns and they're standing at a gas station looking at these two gas pumps of course they are Earth men but which one is George Knapp they said I thought was funny I you know I'm in a public position I have a sense of humor so I got the originals there on my wall but you know we had these columns when the first series about Bob Lazar that we did back in 89 and then another in 1990 and then it drove the my colleagues in journalism crazy because of all the public attention that it got it drove him crazy so they would take pot shots every chance they got they had a column called they were kidnapped by aliens and they it was about alien abduction stories and the medical experiments that are done and they dubbed me a grande mola in the Church of cosmic proctology and they had another column the media columnist said boy people are rushing home at night to see short nap stories they can't wait to get there not because they're interested in UFOs but because they want to be there when he finally goes bull goose loony on the air so it comes with the territory

I'm alright with it what bothers me is the people making those jokes and the columnist writing that stuff have never done one win of their work they haven't sat out in area 51 night after night looking in the sky dodging the security patrols they haven't read the books have an interview the witnesses haven't come to events like this and when they do come to events like this they write the same stories look at the people and the funny hats and the funny shirts and the goofy books that they're selling and and they they have fun and they et phone home and where's Elvis and the same jokes that every reporter has ever covered I've told get sold hey George thanks so much for coming I love your work me and my friend we actually went to Vernal Utah where this game

Walker ranch was in 2016 we had some vacation time wanted to go out there see what it was like beautiful place yeah one of the most interesting things that we figured out was the fracking the horrible fracking stories and all the stillborn births that were happening in the area which was a huge story Rolling Stones covered it but one of the biggest things we found by talking to some of the locals at the bars some of them were definitely native was the fight over the Indian water rights the reservation water rights that the Indians had apparently treaties had been an old agreements had been they have been gone back on and somewhere he was suggesting that there was a curse put on the whites from that had taken over that land because of that can you comment on that or have you heard that at all I know that the Utes like pretty much every other indigenous tribe has have been screwed over multiple times and treaties don't work the paper they're written on I'm not up on the current water battles but the the lands that they have of shrunk and shrunk and shrunk occasionally they've expanded again but there are clashes cultural clashes and people take advantage of them every chance they get I I don't know about the curse on the water wouldn't surprise me though right thank you sure so considering the the severity of the cattle mutilations and the fact that it sounds like quite a few dogs were killed why do you think an alien presence and or spirits or whatever it is wouldn't do the same harm to humans you know people on the ranch that they are taking their time and toying with on this land yeah it's an interesting question that we pondered for a long time is why didn't they carve up people right and they didn't I know there are stories about it that people died out there everything that they they did not whatever this intelligence is it seemingly differentiates between us and other species it didn't kill any humans but it killed dogs cats cows it cut up forces it it mutilated skunks and and other creatures out there at messed with birds it's it it it draws a line somewhere I guess

I'm glad that know people have been carved up but I think it looks at what we do to animals and figure it must be ok I was wondering that about the cattle especially I mean we eat the cattle and they have just finished tagging the cat there's nothing aliens have done to cattle that we haven't done ten times over so but it does seem a tiny bit egotistical that that they are differentiating humans which is integral I think they have an interest in us yeah I I hope it's a hopeful interest that they hope to bring us along and we can join the cosmic community at some point and we'd be ready for it or not ready now sure have you are you aware of any efforts underway amongst the from within the you tribe and the Navajo Nation to make any amends from what may I'm seeing might be some of the source of this conflict that's focused on skinwalker ranch not that I know of they're uh they're kind of they're kind of afraid of the place they don't mess with it you know it's I know that there have been tribal members that have worked on the property over the years but in general they leave it alone and they it's it's very difficult to pierce the veil and get them to talk about it

Jeremy is and and I and have made some progress over the last year we've been allowed on tribal property that was never open to us before this place called dark Canyon this is where skinwalker Ridge is the path of the skinwalker dark canyon is where it supposedly lives and they let us go in there with cameras and and have been very accommodating we've talked to some of their police officers who have that I told you about the hitch-hiker effect some of those officers have had those experiences themselves and so they are they are keenly aware of the phenomena I don't think they have any interest in trying to reach an accommodation with what's on the ranch because they've it's everywhere in the unit of base and it's not just there it's everywhere it just happens to be the skinwalker ranch is the place that was studied the most it's it's an interesting experiment the needs guys discussed during the study could you go out throw a dart in a map and then go there and intensely study it and find the same kind of stuff the same kind of stories and experiences everywhere if you just looked hard enough maybe you could I don't know but no I as far as I know the native the Utes are not trying to reach an accommodation with what's the ramble I was reading some reports about skinwalker ranch the people who were there were having abduction experiences that you really didn't touch on very much at one point my understanding is the grades that were visiting often one of their arms got chopped off and they were looking into that do you know do you have any insight on that at all that didn't happen if it did it's been kept real secret I don't I don't remember them ever seeing any gray is there and as far as the abduction experiences none of the the ranch family that we're talking about had those experiences there are a lot of weird stuff and there's some missing time and like I said they had that scoop marks on their thumbs that are sometimes indicative of an abduction no conscious memories of an abduction there was one for the family next door and the story is that these two teenage girls are coming home at night they drive right past their house down which is on the same road as that dirt road that leads to the ranch they drive past their own property toward the ranch and there's a police car behind them or what they think is a police car because of the flashing red-and-blue lights and they keep on going the next thing they know they're in their car up on skinwalker Ridge snow road up there it's the next morning it wasn't a cop car behind them that's the only abduction experience that I've ever heard directly but sorry

I had a question about have you talked to bob lazar about skinwalker ranch and if so what's his opinion I've shared with him some of these stories and Jeremy

and has told him some of it he has enough faith in us to know that there must be something to it or we would still be working on it but it's not his his deal he's totally focused on his business and his wife and his life in Michigan and as as we have said I have said many times in public presentations he'd he'd just as soon leave all this stuff behind Jeremy might be the person who asked that if you're around he's had more direct contact with Bob in the last couple of months on this subject so ask him i beginning of your presentation i think you were touching on the the previous family who put a bunch of heavy-duty locks on one of the houses and i think your wording was to either keep something out or keep something in and i don't think he ever circled back to that i was just curious what that was about well they were curious about why there'd be locks on both sides of the doors why there were locks on both side the doors inside and then when they were there among in the plethora of things of weird stuff that was happening as doors opening and closing on their own and things coming in and out so the people who had been there before we're trying to keep something out for trying to protect themselves and headlocks all over the place and everyone who's lived there since has had the same experience doors and windows opening up and heavy footsteps outside and inside and i don't think you're gonna stop him with locks but that was what they tried two part question harry reid's infamous black eye anything to do with this nothing no I you know I know in Harry Reid since my own and I believed the story that he told that he had an accident there he's right now by the way he had surgery on Monday on May 2nd I should tell you that I was on my way to his home in Henderson with another guy to talk about this subject he wanted a debrief because he's he's actively trying to move something forward using what influence he has left to reignite a study not only of UFOs but the other surrounding phenomena what Harry Reid did when the story eventually comes out about how far he went to initiate this program and to protect it I think you're gonna I don't know if you'll like Harry Reid or not but I think you'll be impressed by it by how many times he went to bat for it right now may 2nd I was on my way to his house and he calls me and says we're canceling the meeting I just came from the doctor and it was a routine screening and they found something so we'll have to reschedule it and then that day he had an MRI and they found cancer on his pancreas now pancreatic cancer is pretty bad so Monday he had surgery he's at Johns Hopkins University if you've read about pancreatic cancer you know what the chances are but I'm hoping that he hangs on and bounces back because he'd be a valuable ally and trying to get this thing going again depending on for all the talk about leaking this and leaking that and they want disclosure and acclamation they are not our friends on this issue and they don't want this study and they don't want documents to be released if any of you have filed FOIA is to try to get some of this information that I'm talking about then you know what the reaction has been they don't want to talk about it and they don't want to deal with it and it's myopic and and foolish because these things are real they're here they're interacting with they're demonstrating technological superiority over our most advanced systems and sensors and somebody needs to find out how these things work and whether we can build them and to make damn sure it's not the Russians or Chinese or Iranians or North Koreans that are building them first I'm wondering whether you see a possible intersection between the phenomena that is seemingly represented by this location and a phenomenon that you also report visa vie mutual acquaintance of ours david Milady's maybe maybe and I wanted to tell the Dave this before I told it to an audience but yeah that that top that that question has come up whether there is a connection between the paranormal type stuff poltergeist stuff weird phenomena that the ranch had experienced and the disappearances of people in national parks and national forests and the answer I was given as maybe that that's kind of a chilling little thought there but maybe and it's I don't know how far somebody has looked into that but I am hoping to get more information about it and I'll let you know I'll let him know yeah yeah there's seemingly something the same yet obviously not the same but sort of the same yeah enigmatika intelligence I mean it you know those people disappear and some of them most of them don't come back that didn't happen on the ranch right but it doesn't mean it can't happen there and maybe it's more than one it's more than one intelligence maybe were the the cosmic drive-in movie theater were so weird and strange that they come from all over the place and other dimensions to check us out and they have different motives and different interests don't know it's it sure is fun to speculate and pursue it though hey George

I noticed after the New York Times article came out the following weeks you had some stories where you had been interviewing Lewis Alexander and I noticed that in the interviews it appears it was from the same interview he was in the same clothes as the same location and each time it clarified something from the New York Times article so I'm curious and you had kind of mentioned that there's more clarification coming is some of that coming from that interview session like do you have more stories coming from that time I hope so

I mean we did a really long interview here's the deal on this New York Times story is the and I haven't said this before so I'm aware of the the bath study and the AUSA and a tip and all that stuff because I was allowed to be a fly on the wall while that stuff was underway but I couldn't tell anybody about it so when the word comes out Lou Elizondo comes forward with Tom DeLonge and in October great good that's moving forward that's great it's out of the closet a little bit and then so I did some stories about it and I have more than I had planned to do and then they I am told the New York Times is going to break this thing and I called up all of the people who were involved in this so well why is the New York time to get to break it I've been sitting on this thing for five or six years I want to do the story and they implored me they said that the New York Times if somebody else breaks it before they do that they'll just cancel it and they implored me that if I would hold off I would get access to certain things and interviews it was important for the New York Times to do it because and they put this as gently as they could I am NOT the New York Times and I would heartily agree with them on that so it was important for The Times to break it so that it changed the media environment so that other news organizations would go ahead and pursue it and that's how it worked out so yeah I've had a lengthy interviews with senator Reed and Lou and other people and we parsed it out it's not part of some big scheme where I'm working with the government it's that I work for klas TV my audience with all due respect is the TV viewers in Las Vegas so that's how I write for I don't write for ufologists I write for them and we have what we call sweeps periods periods of the year when ratings really count when my employer counts on me to produce stories that are a great interest to the general public so that we can make money on advertising so you some will see a plot in this that I'm just dishing it out a little piece at a time as part of the evil cabal government or something or acclimation I see it as I'm doing my job for my employer and for the viewers of Las Vegas so I have spread out some stories in November December February April and now in May and there will be more hey everybody thank you very much

imagine if you had a set of clothes that made you invisible how would you use that technology uh would you pay visits to bank vaults and and jewelry stores maybe play some pranks on loved ones spy on your neighbors mess with people's minds now imagine that technology in the hands of secret agencies intelligence groups or maybe corporate entities in the black World Imagine what kind of Mischief they could get into the Mind Games they could play on us as they tested perfected the technology on the coast website tonight we posted a story about new breakthroughs in invisibility technology this is not uh far-flung futuristic stuff this is going on now announced by private companies and researchers and you have to figure if they're talking about it in open-source forums companies how far along are the Spooks of the black world the spies those who operate in that Nether world that we now know as the surveillance state which is We Believe omnipresent right there over your shoulder reading every email listening to every phone call I mean invisibility could take that to a whole different level tonight the stories of a couple of people who stumbled into this world came face to face with the technology and paid a price for it thought they might be going crazy then they found out the startling truths that it's all too real just how far it may have gone it's very spooky stuff very disturbing as described in the book chameleo subtitled titled a strange but true story of invisible spies heroin addiction and Homeland Security by Robert Guffey in a moment Robert Guffey here on Coast to Coast AM welcome back Robert Guffey is a lecturer in the department of English at Cal State University Long Beach a graduate of the famed claran Writers Workshop in Seattle author of a collection of novellas entitled spies and saucers sounds like a book we need to talk about his first book of non-fiction cryptos skatology conspiracy e the's art form came out in 2012 the new book is chameleo a strange but true story of invisible spies heroin addiction and Homeland Security welcome to the program Robert Guffey good to have you here I uh hello I'm honored to be on man this I finished the book today it's a it is a wild ride and uh I you I mean it's right there in the in the title in the subtitle true story it is a true story right absolutely you know it's funny I've noticed in some of the book reviews um people will wonder aloud you know I really love the book uh it moves along like a like a screenplay like a thriller is it but is it really is it really true I think people are so used to being lied to that when you label something as a true story they assume you're doing some sort of trick or some sort of post-modern ironic experiment or something no it's exactly what it says it is it's absolutely a true story well I fig what we do is in this hour we sort of uh take the long strain trip and you tell me about the series of events that you and your friend Dion uh experienced for yourselves and then in the next hour we're going to get into this this confrontation not really a confrontation but a sitdown you have with a guy who really let us know that is real and the the guy and where it started so let's start with this let's start with Dion I mean because I've already got some emails uh from people who say all right look uh it's a heroin addict are you going to interview a heroin addict and and no we're we're interviewing the author who's written about it but Dion your friend is a principal source for the story and he is an addict so it makes you wonder is this hallucinations or Tremors is his mind messed up or is this really true stuff okay let let me address that uh yes uh for for much of his life well uh quite frankly he's probably been a methadone addict longer than he's been a heroin addict but that's probably true of every heroin addict in the United States they get addicted to methadone trying to get off the heroin um the the but as you know as I'm sure you know my heroin is not a hallucinogen right not like LSD or mesin or something like that uh I've known Damian his I call him Dion Fuller in the book his real name is Damian he he told me he didn't mind if I said his real name okay I changed all the names in the book except for those people who were public figures and uh uh I've known Damien since I met him on my 16th birthday so I know him very well uh and I it all started in summer of 2003 um I remember the day it was July 12th I remember that because that was also the day I was being initiated into the third degree of Freemasonry and I called Damian to tell him that I was okay they hadn't Cho my head off or something and and uh he wasn't there uh and I left a message and he didn't call back he didn't call back that or the next day or the next day and seven days went by without him calling which was unusual he F when he did finally did call back he told me that he just got out of jail and told me this strange story uh he he was because he was involved in the drug World there in Pacific Beach in San Diego uh his uh house had become a kind of a 247 party house and people were coming in and out all the time and one of those people was this kid named Lee or he said his name was Lee later on the authorities told us his real name was Doyle so I don't know what his real name was it was either Lee or Doyle he had gone a wall from Camp Pendleton but my friend Damian did not know this and the kid asked if he could crash at his apartment and Damian said fine uh he didn't realize that not only had he gone any wall from Camp Pendleton but he had taken with him a DOD laptop computer a 9 mm pistol taken off the body of a dead Iraqi General uh 23 pairs of Hightech night vision goggles and a truck I don't know how he was able to get all that stuff off of Camp Pendleton but he did I I suspect it's probably easier than we might imagine uh and one day in the midst of this party uh this kid Lee opens the laptop computer and the dod symbol appears on the screen and immediately Damien says get that lowjack stuff out of here and get and get out of here and and the kid says don't worry about it they can't track this and then about 3 minutes later there's an officious knock at the door uh Daman opens it and there is a woman who identifies herself as in the book I call her Lita Johnson but that's not her name uh and behind her are two officious looking gentlemen she ident ifies herself as an officer of the NCIS Naval criminal Investigative Services she says she wants to search the apartment Damian's dad was a Narcotics cop Damian is very familiar with the law and he said no you have to come back with a warrant she said I'll be right back so Damien closes the door he turns to everyone at the party and says take your stuff and go out the back and everyone at the party immediately throws all their drugs on the floor and they go out the back back and uh now about 2 minutes later uh uh Lita Johnson comes back with with her warrant and the N NCIS searched the place there's drugs everywhere they don't care about that all they seem to care about are these night vision goggles for some reason that was that was the thing that most obsessed them that's what they wanted they arrest Damien they arrest the kid the kid who had gone a wall they take him to the jail in downtown San Diego and they give Damien the Abu gra treatment for about a week and they're constantly grilling him you know they're accusing him of wanting to sell the stolen equipment to Al Qaeda and Etc and and Damien meanwhile is trapped in this kofka nightmare and trying to explain to them no I only knew him for a couple of days and they didn't want to believe that why would you let someone stay at your apartment if you'd only known them for a couple of days well because that's what he did did uh did you say in the book that the cops were also there along with NCIS yes uh the NCIS and the local police both showed up and in fact uh according to Damien they were very um like like Keystone Cops they they weren't working together they they were constantly bouncing off each other and kind of arguing with each other so I I don't know exactly how that came about um but uh both the the police and the NCIS were there grilling uh Damien in the jail and they wanted him eventually to testify against this kid Lee and he wouldn't do it he wouldn't cooperate he wouldn't give them any information because he didn't want to he didn't feel that he needed to and he had nothing to do with this right he has like a drug guys code or something he doesn't want to snitch on somebody well that that was it and there were also other people involved there that he didn't want to get get in in into trouble uh and and so that that that was part of it uh and and and the simple fact that he didn't do anything wrong you know and and and he's he's he's not the most Cooperative person in the world in the first place so NCIS NCIS is the one doing the grilling he's in jail he he's behind bars but he was not actually charged with anything even though there were drugs all over the place right exactly they didn't care about the drugs at all uh and the and and after about a week they they let him go and he thought oh obviously they've come to their senses they realized this was all a big mistake and they've let me go he calls me he tells me this whole story and I think well that's very strange he calls me back a couple of days later to say that things have gotten stranger he claims that people are now following him all around Pacific Beach all around San Diego and by by mean following him I mean seven nine people following him into a 7-Eleven like a parade of Jarhead looking guys following him into a 7-Eleven following him back out going into the Mexican restaurant down the street sitting down uh interrupting his daily routine in bizarre ways making themselves uh it wasn't like a spy hiding behind a newspaper uh they they wanted themselves to be seen by him they wanted him to see them and they wanted him to feel uh Disturbed uh discombobulated paranoid uh and he calls me he he's tell me all this now uh at first I thought okay I could see if maybe one or two people were following him I I it seemed improbable that a whole parade of people were were following him so at first I I have to admit I wondered if he was suffering from some sort of drug induced paranoia or something like that uh but then uh he said that the these vehicles were parked outside his house and that these vehicles were following him all around I told him we'll we'll take photographs of them of the license plate numbers and send them to me and it just so happens I knew a guy who worked at the DMV in Seattle so I collected all these license plate numbers and sent them to my friend at the DMB and he actually ran all the plates and what was fascinating was that none of them officially existed now if Damian was being paranoid uh they would have been traceable to a specific person who lived in San Diego and was driving this car uh but no none of them officially existed which suggested to me that they were government vehicles I can't think of any other reason why they wouldn't be in the system uh so that and it was each one it wasn't just like one of them none of them officially existed so uh at that point I began to think maybe he's not being just paranoid yeah well but go back for a second because you know the the significance of him coming up with all these license plates that are not real I mean what are the chances that you can come up with something I mean they're actually you've got them listed in the book and the descriptions of the cars that he could actually stumble on license plates that don't exist right and he and he photographed them too yeah uh um then after that point that's when things started to step up a bit and they began as he described it bombarding him with um with hallucinations I don't know how else to describe it um the the the um he would look out the window and the the scenery that would always be there was no longer there now it looked like some sort of alien world with the with with three moons in the sky I I describe it as like a Boris Vallejo painting outside the window you know he'd open the door and it's the same scenery that had always been there uh people um would come over and ask him is the room getting larger it began to seem as if um his apartment was turning into Doctor Who's Tardis the the you go in and the room would look larger than than it should from the outside or would look smaller um it wasn't just him seeing this other people were also seeing it um and then uh then he began to report that there were people in his house that he couldn't see that were interacting with him that were moving things around that were pushing him uh physically interacting with him in that way uh watching him while in the room with him but he couldn't see them except for spe specific occasions and on one occasion he was in the bathroom and he turned the uh medicine cabinet mirror he opened the medicine cabinet and as the mirror was in motion as he was opening it he could see the person behind him but only uh only as it was in motion uh and then the other time that he could see something was when um occasionally he would see these kind of dots in the air like uh like almost like auras like you would see if you suffer from an intense migraine headache uh uh and and but sort of imagine that in the outline of like a person a small person uh uh and and um and and and things like this began to happen more and more and uh he would call me in a panic um acting in ways that I he's a pretty Fearless person you know and and he's he's calling me telling me about um uh the fact that uh they had projected a shadow of a hand on the wall of his bedroom with a gun in it and the hand would tilt down and point at him um one time he saw this kind of black amorphous energy sort of crawling around the carpet on the floor that filled up his leather jacket and then the leather jacket began to move across the floor uh um things like this began to grow more and more intense and then the neighbors who had lived there for a long time began to move out one by one and were replaced by new neighbors who seemed decidedly unfriendly um uh the landlord started to act very strange towards him uh as if the landlord just wanted him to leave and then in the midst of all this um Lita Johnson the uh NCIS woman would show up at his door uh and say have you changed your mind would you like to cooperate with us now uh and and he would say no and then she would say oh okay and then she and the two guys who were with her would get back in the car they' drive away and then it would start all over again like the second they drove away all this crazy stuff would start happening again you're living where you're living somewhere else while this is going on he's telling you this stuff over the phone as it's unfolding right right I was living in Torrance and he was in Pacific Beach um and uh now you might then say well you know you yourself didn't see this how do you know this was happening maybe maybe he imagined this in CIS woman uh well he gave me her phone number uh and because she had given it to him and she said if you ever change your mind and you want to cooperate and give us information that we want this is my phone number so uh at one point I chose to call her uh and I had the transcription of that phone call uh in the book and she wasn't happy to be receiving a phone call from me that was number one she seemed very uncomfortable when I asked her directly if she or people she was working for were following Damian around she said she started using kind of cya kind of language oh uh no one that is working for my agency is currently following your friend you very carefully worded sentences like that uh uh and the phone call didn't go well she she basically implied that that he was crazy and and just wanted to end the conversation as quickly as possible so according to Damian though he's had some meetings with her in between the time you eventually called her but in between then he met with her a few times oh yes uh uh there was one incident where they they kept him up all night uh I was on the phone with him and actually heard he was describing like in invisible bullets coming through the wall and shattering um uh his window or something his window and and and things that were you know Chach keys that were sitting on the on the on the shelf and I actually heard these things exploding and and I heard Damian he was extremely frightened and as I say it's not usually very frightened very easily uh uh I mean it was almost like polargeist activity you know I that type of thing though clearly that's not what it was uh and they they kept him up all night uh and but he was scheduled to go meet uh this woman and her Superior at a bagel shop on Garnet Avenue and um uh he he comes up with the the quote brilliant unquote plan uh that he would propose to them that maybe if he if he volunteered to work with them to try to get these things back that that maybe they would uh back off a bit and when he suggested this I said well I don't think that's going to work because the way they're going to interpret that is is that they're going to think that you had these things all along these these night vision goggles and now you want money for it all right Robert we're going to pick up the story on the other side here we're talking about Robert Guffy about chameleo his book Jeff Rotel takes us into the break on Coast to Coast AM the video the music video for this song is uh really interesting shows a time when humans exist only in museums robots rule the Earth it's Paul McCartney the song is called appreciate pretty good tune we're talking to Robert Guffy about his amazing book chameleo a strange but true story about invisible spies heroin addiction and Homeland Security still to come uh the uh the other Adventures that both Robert and his friend Damien experienced things that they saw and uh and the the U scientists they met who confirmed a lot of their worst suspicions a lot more to come here on Coast to Coast am. welcome back to Coast to Coast just to recap a little bit the story starts in 2003 a guy named Lee who was awall from Camp p Pendleton shows up at a drug house and crashes for a couple of days uh unbeknownst to uh this guy named Damen who has the apartment um Lee had was not only awall but he had stolen a truck a Department of Defense computer and at least 23 pairs of uh high-tech night vision goggles and the NCIS comes looking for them and then uh uh all Hill Breaks Loose for this guy Damian known in the in the book as as Dion but um tell me this Robert had you ever studied group stalking you ever looked at uh that the idea of electronic harassment before your friend started telling you this story I had never heard of gangstalking and in fact that term didn't even exist in 2003 it's only come into existence since then uh at the time the closest thing I could find to it was something called the they were calling it Street Theater uh just as a way of trying to describe this kind of odd theatricality uh that that was element that was to the surveillance um I was familiar with electronic harassment I I was very familiar with mind control programs because I had known I was a friend of of Walter Bart who wrote operation mind control which was like the seminal book on yeah mind control publish in 1978 and Walter and I we collaborated on the screenplay together I I I knew him very well he he he passed away in um in 2007 uh so oddly enough I was very prepared for the the um the kind of electronic harassment stuff I I I could wrap my mind around that the whole gangstalking aspect was completely new to me um and I only learned about it as I was sort of digging around on the internet trying to trying to figure out what this was and I I found a website that was run by a woman named Raven one uh and her website has since completely disappeared and I don't know what happened to her but uh she had some very cogent uh descriptions of the entire technique that they would use to basically drive you drive a particular person crazy essentially was the is the main point of it and do that seemed like what they were trying to do to your friend I mean because as you describe in the book some of these encounters you had with these people that following them they're not even trying to hide it it it becomes almost comical and ridiculous the the methods that they use there's definitely an an absurd quality to it all um and and the the purpose of it is definitely to Target a specific individual and uh drive them over the deep end by making them think that they're going crazy and I think that they might even Target people who are heroin addicts who are drug addicts who are on the margins of society because most of the times those people who's going to believe them uh if you're a drug addict and you you start going around saying people are following me uh they're shooting acoustic bullets through my window who's going to believe that and uh it just it but they they they had no way of knowing that that this guy had a friend who was a professor who knew Walter Boart who wrote operation mind control and and in fact I I had already been writing for for paranoia magazine I'd written several articles for paranoid magazine going back to 1996 uh so uh I I was kind in a way uh prepared for it and even though I was already prepared for it I still as I said my initial reaction when he told me about being followed by a group of people was that that maybe he was suffering from some sort of drug induced paranoia I mean was there one was there one event uh one event other than that call to Lita Johnson NCIS was there an event that sort of um put it beyond the idea that it was just a delusion on his part oh well well I I mentioned the license plates that was one yeah uh the talking to her that definitely because her whole attitude was just suspicious um and and also oh I should you know it just occurred to me that I should mention the food fight with the feds sure uh uh because this actually leads into the conversation that he later has with Lita Johnson on Garnet Avenue uh one day he um was in the kitchen and he was making lunch and there were these two guys who had been posted outside uh right outside the fence outside his window and and they'd been there for a while and they would come by they they make weird noises they say things about him um and uh so he's in the middle making lunch and as they're doing this he starts taking like flour peanut butter uh tapioca Jello uh he starts mixing all this stuff together into this weird goop and then in the middle of it runs outside and then tosses it over the fence and it hits these two jarheads and now they're covered in this like green slime and they and they run away screaming into the v's parking lot next door now

I mentioned that because when he met when when Lita Johnson wanted him to meet her and her Superior at this bagel shop on Garnet Avenue uh Damien went there with this proposal that maybe he could help them like retrieve the the goggles in some way and they didn't take kindly to that at all they just wanted they they bought him a bagel and an orange juice that was I guess their way of bribing him and they wanted they wanted him to just cooperate and to tell them where these guys goggles were and it the the the conversation didn't end well eventually it just ended with with Damien accusing them of being fascist and uh and uh the superior Le lead of the superior just his face grew red and he banged his hairy fist into the into the table and said enjoy the orange juice and the bagel and then he and Lita Johnson like walked out but in the middle of that conversation he Damien actually said to them listen I'm just tired of all this I want it to all end I'm tired of having food fights with the feds and when he said that uh Lita Johnson smiled and she said oh yes that made all of us laugh which was the only one of two times when they actually broke script and admitted that all this was happening because in every other circumstance they would pretend like this wasn't happening this is something you're imagining um it's like like the film Gaslight it's like they were gaslighting him you know yeah so she he's saying to her all along in these conversations hey make this go away what can I do to make this stop and she's basically pretending I don't know what you're talking about but parsing the language like we uh my agency is not doing any surveillance of you without saying someone else might be exactly and and in fact the the conversation there's something she said that I thought was very revealing during that conversation she started talking to him about how she had grown up in San Diego and in Pacific Beach and how this used to be a beautiful area but now there are these drug addicts and these heathens running around and we we really we need to clean it up and and Damien kind of sometimes has a kind of CED like quality about him where if if if you're insulting them he he's like not aware of it so even though she was actually referring to him when she was talking about drug addicts and scumbags and we need to clear these people out she's she's talk about him you know it goes right over his head and this just frustrates them more and more but I I thought that was very revealing that this was this this was more than just they want these goggles back I mean they were they were operating out of a kind of weird righteousness um so at some point they wanted I mean obviously they wanted the goggles back and we'll get into maybe other reasons why that might be true not just regular night vision goggles which are valuable enough but um but at some point you think that maybe they just saw this as an opportunity to test this technology and and uh let's go ahead and burn up the budget and um and uh this guy crazy I think what happened was when he refused to cooperate he pissed somebody off he particularly he pissed her off and and he went on quote the list and uh with with the whole gangstalking phenomenon uh for some people it's seemingly random they have no idea why it starts uh the no idea it just starts one day and of course they think they're going crazy uh in in in Damien's case we can kind of pinpoint well it's pretty clear how this started and who started it you know um so a after the the conversation with them go south on Garnet Avenue uh everything kind of spirals down from there everything the harassment gets worse um he he starts um experiencing great weight loss uh hair loss uh metallic taste in his mouth which is which is I remember Walter Boart telling me that that was a sign of of uh basically induced you electronic harassment and and uh uh it got so bad at one point I volunteered he had met this beach Comer on the beach who had a van that he was selling and I actually without telling Damien wired him uh via Western Union uh 500 bucks to buy this van from this this beach Comer so that he could just leave town because we figured well if he leaves town it'll stop uh and that's like you say in the book I mean it's like you say in the book is like you know in haunted house stories people will ask why don't they just leave you know what or why doesn't he called the cop yeah and he did call the cops and and the cops came and there was one particular incident where two cops came a younger cop and an older cop and it was it was very strange because the younger cop was very sympathetic to him and wanted to know more and the older cop just kept acting like he was crazy and and it was almost as if the older cop knew what was going on and the younger cop didn't uh I assume local law enforcement at least some of them must be aware that these things are are going on uh when I I arranged to buy this van for for Damien so he could leave so he basically threw all of his stuff into the into the back of the van and and took off um now there are those uh haunted house cases by the way where where they they do leave the house and they move somewhere and it follows them uh that's that's the situation he he gets into into the van and and he leaves and immediately he's being followed by these what he described is weird little drones that are are following him around everywhere uh sometimes they're up close sometimes they're way up in the sky lights that would then descend and get closer um uh in fact I just I recently read your book hunt for the skin walker uh about the The Ranch in Utah and I found weird parallels between the two situations yeah I I want to ask you about that there's a couple a couple of really specific incidents that that I'm seeing in a new light and we'll get to that in the next hour but let's talk about his his little road trip it's not a little road trip it's a massive road trip it follows him it it takes him all around the country he goes through Texas he he goes through um uh he's driving through Kansas at one point and and you had asked me before why else did you think that this wasn't just a hallucination well some of the strange phenomenon was being verified by people he was meeting along the way and there was one day I got this very strange phone call out the blue I pick up the phone and it's this guy with a thick southern accent like right out of Deliverance and he says you Professor Guffy and I say yeah and he goes you know a guy named Damian and I go yeah and now I'm thinking what now what's happening uh well this guy proceeds to tell me that they just picked up Damian off the side of the road because his van broke down and Damien had told them the entire story what had happened up to this point and and they're freaked out and they're calling me to to confirm it to see if any of this is true as talking to them and and confirming it and then some uh they get extremely frightened and they start telling me that they see this this UFO thing coming down out of the sky then descending towards their their house and and as I'm talking to them on the phone they're describing this and they're they're extremely Disturbed and uh I I convinced them after that to help Damian put gas in his van uh and they did and he drove all the way to wona Kansas wona Kansas there's like a 100 people living in wona Kansas and apparently uh if there's anyone getting gang stocked out there move to wona Kansas because apparently if there's only 100 people living in the town they can't get away with this stuff because you would suddenly notice if there's only a 100 people in the town you would suddenly notice if a parade of strangers came into town following some guy in a in a black van uh also people in wiota Kansas own guns so you don't want to be run around your invisibility suits uh when there's a bunch of people with guns around I don't think the invisibility suits prevent you from being shot well there's a note for anybody suffering from gangstalking mov to a tiny little town I want to back up now back when Daman was still as in his apartment yeah we didn't use this term but he started talking to you about invisible midgets and I can only imagine the first time he uses that term how crazy you must have thought him him being uh invisible midgets that sounds ridiculous in fact uh uh the the first sentence of the book is my friend Dion first told me about the invisible midgets in the summer of 2003 uh which I think should get an award for best first line of a book in 2015 uh we of course we use the term he started using the term invisible midgets and and we started then using it over and over again and it became a kind of uh comedic Mantra it was a kind of just Darkly humorous thing to kind of break the tension of all this and but there is sort of some truth to it cuz what he perceived was the moments when he did see them were that they they were small thin agile people wearing these things which kind of makes sense uh if you want to give someone an invisibility suit and you want to send them into a cover situation or you want to test out that suit and see how it works in real time in an unpredictable situation uh why not send in people who are small thin and and agile uh uh so they were little people uh wearing these things according to to Damian and that makes sense to me and so let me ask you this this part um this guy Lee or Doyle who was the impetus for this whole thing who the guy who is awall who stole the night vision goggles who stole the truck and the computer uh he was taken into custody at the same time as your friend Daman what happened to him I desperately attempted to find that out I've not been a I I would love to know if there's anyone listening who knows who that guy is please contact me because but as far as you far as you know they never got back there night vision goggles uh or or if they got him out of this guy they they it still didn't get him off of Damian's Trail exactly as far as I know they never they never got them back uh and yeah I I assume they didn't get them back you found a a news news article about a theft or something from uh Camp Pendleton around the same time oddly enough an Iraqi gun yes yes that was another odd um um sort of confirmation um some someone had had lost a a gun and this guy had been accused of stealing it and and he says in the article I I feel like my whole life has been turned upside down the guy I think um said that uh his whole you know kind of career was was his military career was on the line because they were accusing him of stealing this gun that had gone missing and it was around the same time period that that this guy went awall with with the gun you know so uh I I don't know if they just pended on on this other guy uh I don't think they ever retrieved the gun because as far as I know Damian never described that the gun was there it was well what jumped out at me was in this newspaper article this guy is false says he's falsely accused of stealing this thing they assert that he told them that it was a family heirloom it's been in his family 20 years he says I never made these kind of statements it was like people were making stuff up on his behalf that's why I thought it'd kind of fit your scenario right right that's true as well yes um and and we should point out I mean Camp Pendleton Southern California there's a heck of a lot of uh pretty uh uh touchy Cutting Edge military spooky research that goes on in these places uh it was amazing um I I was not really aware of how militarized San Diego is until until all of this because as I started looking into it saic uh which which I think is is a corporation that that is at the heart of this um was only about you know with within running distance of of Damian's apartment and and um other corporations like this were were all around that area um and in F has since left that area but they were there until well I think at least uh 2008 and um I in fact I I went there in 2008 to look at the saic headquarters that was there at the time and I was amused to to see that they were located right across the street from the wh house which is notorious for being the most haunted house in California and uh it just suddenly occur to me that it wouldn't it be interesting if maybe they built the headquarters there for some geographical purpose uh maybe there was something about that location that they they built it there but that's just a a parenthetical speculation on my part we'll come back to saic and some of the projects and research that they do because I should point out one of the things that caught my attention about it they they had the the contractor run Area 51 for a while and we're very active here in Nevada and a variety of different kinds of Pursuits and uh the Nevada test site and uh that's a big company it's a gigantic company and a key uh defense contractor U with all kinds of uh heavy duty clearances if anybody was doing research into this kind of thing it would be saic uh we're talking with Robert Guffy about his book chameleo a strange but true story about invisible spies Etc coming up in the next hour going to uh meet the scientist to confirm many of his worst fears much more to come here on Coast to Coast Pat benitar announcing the launching of her own little surveillance program I'm going to follow you that could be the theme song for NCIS in San Diego at least as it applies to Damian the key figure in this book chameleo by Robert Guffy uh Robert and Damian were followed I guess all the way across the country this went on from months and months at a time and I guess at some point you could say it sounds Preposterous that anyone would put that much effort into it or that there is such a thing as an invisibility cloak uh being used by spies to mess with people's minds and that might be true until you reach the point where Robert and Damien meet and talk to the scientists who not only invented it but patented this technology and says uh it was in the hands of the Army and Navy and other Intel type folks years ago we're going to get to that in this hour on Coast to Coast AM Robert Guffy I wanted to make the point that while your friend Daman or Dion as you call him in the book is a heroin user a methadone and a variety other drugs I would imagine over the years you're not you're you don't even drink right right I've uh I've never even had coffee um and you saw some of this stuff for yourself I think we we skipped over this part but you know in between the time when this started happening and when when Damian goes on the road uh or W's on the road you experience some really weird stuff with phone calls was trying to send him some money oh yes when I was trying to send him the money to um to send him the $500 to get the van to buy the van from the the beach comr remember I didn't I did not Daman did not ask me to do this I I chose to do it and so it was it was going to be a complete surprise and I wanted to be a surprise because I didn't want anyone to know that it was going to happen so that they couldn't prevent it from happening you figured they're listening to your phone right that was clear yeah yeah that had been made clear earlier uh and so I called him uh and I and I wanted to give him the password when you when you send someone money via Western Union you have to give them a password so they can pick it up so I wanted to give it to them I told them there's $500 waiting for you so you can get the van and leave today here's the password and then he he stopped me and he said wait wait wait uh I'll call you back and get it from you uh which was a mistake because every time he tried to call me back the phone would go out right when I would try to give him the password I would start to give it to him and then it would go out then he call back I I'd almost i' get out one syllable Bo and then it would cut out again over and over and over again and then I realized it was something unique to um if you if you place a collect call there's a second there where the operator is asking the the other person will you accept the collect call in that moment you can actually hear the other person as the operator was asking Damian will you accept the collect call I yelled out the password really quickly and then I heard him laugh and then it it cut out at that moment uh so he got the he in fact I I I didn't yell out the password I I it was a um it was a clue it was a clue that I can't even say on the air right right that I knew he would know and so he he was able to get it and that that way someone else couldn't get there in front of him and use the password and pull out the money before he got there uh so so that that was successful but I mean there's no question somebody was messing with the phone line so you could not communicate with him and so he couldn't get out of town it seems like a bizarre coincidence if it was just a coincidence yeah it seemed improbable that it would just be a coincidence that that happened at that moment over and over and over again I should point out you had some other support for the story along the way is that you ran into a woman who had had a very similar experience not only just in the general area but specifically in the same area same neighborhood oh yeah I yeah she she told me uh that she was followed into the very same uh 7-Eleven uh there on Garnet Avenue and the same location the same time period yeah that was very strange and I I should I should mention uh an incident that occurred while Damian was in rout to wona Kansas uh because it's it's it's actually kind of important I mentioned earlier that there were only two times where these people actually broke the script and actually admitted that they were watching him the first time was when uh Lita Johnson said uh you know y yes that that was funny with the food fight amused us that was the first time the second time was was kind of creepier because um uh Damian stopped off in uh Minnesota and he was in a bathroom in the middle of nowhere and he's washing his hands at the sink and a guy comes in and goes right up to him and he's looks at him in the mirror he's at the sink right next to him and he says uh if you just give everything back this will all end and this is how you know this is a random encounter in in the bathroom and Daman looks at him and the guy looks like he he looks like he's more tired than Damian is and and it and it sounds as if what he's saying is could you please just give this stuff back so we can stop this because this is uh I think by this time they realized that Daman was kind of inexhaustible like that that he was not going to give in he was not going to go insane and and I think maybe it even fascinated them that how much can this guy take that that kind of thing well I mean you maybe because of his years of drug abuse he basically became indestructible or insensitive to pain or he could just withstand all incredible amounts of whatever he could withstand incredible amounts of pain I was with him and then would see him uh drink so much alcohol that it would kill uh a a stronger man so I I um so yes I I think that was part of it and and so anyway while this guy is talking to him another guy comes into the bathroom grabs this other guy by the collar and like drags him out as if this other guy had broken protocol by talking to Damian this this spook Damian he he ran out of the bathroom got back in his van and and then drove eventually ended up in in wona Kansas where he stayed for for several months and it was there in wiona that where he had some breathing room that he started going on the internet trying to find something that looked like the invisibility technology that he had seen in uh the apartment and he found a guy named Tashi who was a Japanese Professor who had created this invisibility cloak not unlike the the story that broke a couple of days ago and that didn't look like it it didn't look anything like what he had seen then he stumbled across this uh website chamilo project cho. net uh run by this fellow named Richard shener and uh he sent me a link to the site and said you should look at this because this sounds really close to what I was experiencing so I'm looking at it as as and by the way synchronicity plays a huge role like through this whole epic story line as I'm looking at this website I see there's this fellow his name is Richard schwinger he's a scientist uh he has top secret clearance he works at northr Grumman and the El sag gundo division uh project chameleo is this private operation that he has going um not connected to North grman and uh I see that he he uh is is a 33rd degree Scottish Wright Mason uh and I am a 32nd degree Scott HRI Freemason and that he belongs to the lodge in Long Beach and I also belong to the lodge in Long Beach so I suddenly realized that I that we're in the same Masonic Lodge in Long Beach uh and that I must have met him at some point in the past where I must have interacted with him and didn't know it uh so I sent the guy an email and I said Mr schinger I'm you know I'm a member of this of the Scottish wri uh in Long Beach and um I I do interviews and I I mentioned other interviews I had done uh and I said I'd like to interview you about your this technology this invisibility chameleonic technology that you talk about here on your website and he wrote back and he said sure you know I'd love to meet you uh so I we arranged to meet and um Damian drove all the way to Long Beach in his van uh and we arranged to have lunch and I told uh Richard Scher that I was going to bring a friend of mine along so I I went to the lodge that morning it was a Saturday morning I went there I met him I realized I had met him before I had seen him perform rituals at the Scottish ride many times in the past I instantly recognized him uh and he leads me to his car in the parking lot uh and um and we go have lunch and I bring Daman along we all three of us have lunch and then we take him back to the Long Beach campus where I teach and we both interviewed him for about two and a half hours uh and I entered into this not really knowing if this was going to lead anywhere uh it could be that everything he was going to say would have no connection whatsoever to uh What uh Damian had experienced instead uh as he's talking about 20 minutes into it everything he's saying is linking up in bizarre ways to everything that that has occurred he mentions that he had had encounters with the Navy that the Navy had come out and spoken to him and were very interested in his technology 12 years earlier you know this encounter with the Navy had occurred 12 years before we're interviewing him in 2007 uh or 2006 and uh he even mentions at one point sort of offhandedly Wonders aloud before we've even told him any of this he wonders aloud I've he says I've often wondered if if they stole the technology from me uh because he proceeds to tell us a story about a military uh Symposium that he attended a year prior in 2005 uh where he was giving a presentation on this technology and a woman stands up in the audience and says you can't be talking about that that's top secret information and and from the podium Richard says no it's not top secret information this is my own technology that I invented and she says says no no no no the invisibility Soldier project is completely top secret and you're not allowed to be talking in this venue about it and and Richard said well after this presentation we'll go out in the parking lot and I'll prove to you that this is in fact is not top secret information and so after he finished the presentation she took him into a room he got grilled for about 20 minutes finally he showed them the paperwork to prove that in fact this was a project he was working on privately and that he was not working on it for any sort of secret um government agency and once he had convinced them of that they they grudgingly kind of let him go so that was one of the first indications to him that that this was already operational you also found I'm sorry to di divert you away but you also found something called defense review an article from March of '05 I remember uh being struck by this in the book that it was pretty significant because the article from '05 and this is a really respected uh Pentagon related publication which said say hopefully the US Army and the Marine Corps will soon have operational and effective electrooptical camouflage AKA adaptive camouflage chameleonic camouflage cloaking technology for infantry soldiers Marines and combat systems I mean that's pretty blatant oh yeah he his proposals uh he was taken very seriously and and certainly his partner uh Dr Love Burger is an eminent physicist and uh he was taken seriously as well they did many presentations at military symposiums uh about the the the uses of this uh and uh while I'm talking to him uh I I asked I start asking him questions like um could this technology be used to to do things other than make people invisible could you use it to make an object look like something else and he says absolutely you could that's in my that's in my patent I I told them you know when they met with me that that's one of the things you could do you could make a tree look like something else uh um and and he said you can make someone go crazy uh potentially um and so as he's talking about this he he mentions that saic uh from San Diego had come to talk to him about 10 years earlier as well uh and after so after he says all of this and then other things the whole the whole transcript of our conversation is in the book at a certain point I I say well uh Damian has a story to tell you and uh Damian proceeds to tell him the whole story everything I've just told you and at first he looked a little incredulous or maybe a little skeptical but I remember the the point where all that changed was when Damian mentioned seeing the people in the mirror when he moved the mirror and then also seeing the auras that he said sometimes he would he could see them as these little dots in the air and and Richard leaned forward and he said that's exactly what it looks like when it's not working right um uh and that at that point I could tell that Richard was fully invested in hearing the rest of the story can you give us in layman's terms what he told you about how it works I mean how how does it work how do you become invisible well it's it's it's much different from for example tashi's invisibility cloak Professor tashi's invisibility cloak requires that you basically remain stationary for it to work obviously that's not going to work in a battlefield situation uh so essentially it's a it's a series of of cells or lenses that reflects the background uh whatever the background is it reflects it and projects it onto the person as they're in motion uh uh so um tashi's visibility cloak or or the the one that uh was recently um made the news a couple of days ago wouldn't work uh the same way as as Richard's technology would work also be because you're and that by and by the way that's why the that's why it was visible in the mirror because they were cloaking the person but they weren't cloaking the mirror uh and that's why they could see it and and I think that's one of the reasons why they were using Damian as a kind of um uh Canary in the in the coal mine as as a kind of guinea pig see when the technology would break down after all you'd want to use it in a kind of unpredictable live situation before you sent people into Afghanistan some or some place where they could actually get shot or killed uh uh why not tested in a real life situation first and I I think that's exactly what they were doing and that's what that's what Richard uh thought they were doing um and uh we we we spoke to Richard for as I said about about two and a half hours uh and everything he said lined up with the with Damien's experiences and then uh after that I moved to an area called The Lost Coast uh up in the P Pacific Northwest uh and he moved in his his mother uh had a house sort of in the middle of nowhere in Humboldt county and uh Damien moved into there and the second he moved in all these drones start flying over classic uh you know George adamsky type UFOs are flying over so much so that the locals thought that um it was the uh like the DEA coming in trying to raid their marijuana Gardens and they'd come out with their uh with their rifles and shoot at these drones as they were flying over and none of this activity was going on before Damien moved in and uh yeah go on uh I want to return back to well you can continue that part of it but I want to return back to this interview with the engineer because there's a lot of stuff we we missed but you can continue the story about the UFO stuff in in the in the marijuana area well uh I I mean basically that situation escalated uh to the point where um uh some of the harassment was starting again there was a period of time there where it had kind of died down particularly when um there was a period there where where Damen was living in San Francisco and he noticed that it would only start up if for example there was a Occupy Wall Street protest going on in San Francisco or some Mass uh kind of protest going on which of course being San Francisco happens often and he learned to stay indoors on those days because when when if you'd go outside outside on those days the harassment would start again almost as if someone's you know uh pulling a lever and saying okay uh these are the people in the area that you need to be following uh on a day like this during a situation like this um so uh the the harassment sort of began again and then uh he eventually left uh his his mother's house and moved elsewhere and uh and and and and now he's just um uh the the the harassment has sort of abated a bit and um he's just you know laying low well there there's a lot more to cover um yes I I was curious about whether you ever felt that that you were targeted I know you you uh had the conversation with the NCIS agent you're you were there when the the phones were messed up you heard a variety of different kind of phenomena um I mean you you know that it's real but did they ever come after you uh I I wouldn't say that I've ever been gangstalked uh however I do feel like I've been approached on several occasions by mysterious people uh in unusual circumstances trying to pump information out of me uh for example there was one occasion where I was supposed to meet a friend of mine and we were going to go out for lunch and she was taking the bus uh to my apartment building uh where I was living at that time in Long Beach while she's on the bus this complete stranger introduces himself to her and offers to buy her and me lunch uh at a very expensive restaurant I'll tell you what I'm sorry the music tells us we got to take a break here we'll pick up that story with my guest Robert Guffy after this on Coast to Coast ammm a lament about loss and alienation Green Day Wake Me Up When September Ends from the politically charged Mega Hit album American Idiot some years ago we're talking with Robert Guffy about his book chameleo and uh still ahead sort of the larger ramifications of this if you have invisibility technology the kinds of things that you can do with it to mess with people for example a lot of reports about abductions that are ascribed to aliens alien abductions but that involve military personnel According to some of the witnesses is that where this leads um one of the other paths that we'll look at is Area 51 whether uh there's a Lazar connection to this and Phil corso and perhaps Skinwalker Ranch a lot of territory that I know a little bit about and maybe you do as well some strange stuff still to come in our conversation with Robert Guffy here on Coast to Coast AM welcome back let's re uh resume the story you were telling Robert before the break uh you you talked to this girl uh on the on the phone you set up a date she's going to come over take the bus and come over and meet with you you're going to go on a date and then while she's on the bus the stranger ENT uces himself to her and suddenly it's uh three people on the date go ahead and continue h he he he said he was a um a dock worker at at Long Beach uh and uh he introduced himself to me I shook his hand his hands are like babies hands but supposedly he's a dock worker he's got manicured fingernails uh and he takes us to an expensive restaurant uh in Long Beach uh and he starts saying the strangest things to me and by the way I should mention that Damian had been staying at my apartment only a couple of days before and in fact rather cryptically he said to me you know you should be careful of strangers who suddenly introduced themselves into your life uh and he gave this to me as a kind of warning before he left and I thought that was kind of odd and and and cryptic and then suddenly here's the situation uh and we're we're standing there waiting to go into this restaurant he turns to me and he says he says are you into uh conspiracies and conspiracy theories I am and I said uh oh no not really and he seemed completely uh confused by that response as if I was supposed to say something else and then he says he goes have you I just read a book called Behold a pale Horus by Milton William Cooper have you ever read that book and I go no I've never read that book uh and and he keeps referring to him as Milton Milton Cooper even though anyone who has read behold the horse and knows anything about conspiracies or UFOs always refers to him as Bill Cooper or or William Cooper he keeps calling him Milton Cooper because that's what it says on the spine of the book Milton William Cooper uh so this guy who's supposedly like really into conspiracies keeps calling Bill Cooper Milton Cooper uh and and he says um he goes uh you should read this book it's really fascinating uh he goes do do you think that uh maybe what do you think of George Bush you think he's a good president uh and I said oh yeah I love George Bush he's a fantastic president and and then he said you you know I think we should have a revolution in this country what do you think it was like he was trying to bait you into something right oh yeah it was it was it was ridiculous um and uh and nothing I said seemed to jive with what he was told I was supposed to say you know so he would just kind of the whole thing became a comedy of errors and then um uh there there's been several other strange uh incidents uh for example uh there was one weekend uh I had been out of touch with Damian for a couple years uh there and um then we got back in touch with with each other right about 2010 something like that and and uh my wife and daughter were supposed to go away uh we were all supposed to go our away on the weekend to to Santa Barbara the last minute I decided to stay behind to to right so I was in my office riding that whole day uh and uh at around 2:00 in the morning stopped and went into my bedroom turned on the light when I turned on the light the light kind of flooded the alley outside the moment that happened I heard all this scrambling going on in the alley below and these people kind of running off down the alley uh I should mention that earlier the day before I had sent an email to Damian telling him I I had just found in my storage space a lot of his old manuscripts his writings so I sent him this email and I said I found a lot of your your S I found a lot of your stuff but that's not the word I use I found a lot of your stuff in my story space do you want me to send it to you or should I hold on to it it's it's not going anywhere uh and uh okay now flash for there's these people scrambling down the alleyway I didn't think anything of it really I was tired and I just went to sleep next morning I wake up I go outside the guy the neighbor who lives downstairs says did you see the garage now I should point out that I had a storage space that was off site in another city that was the storage space I was referring to but there were also storage spaces Below in the garage uh and it could be that they misread that email because we went down in the garage and the whole place was just completely torn apart and but nothing was taken there was all this expensive electronic equipment the the neighbor had stored down there that wasn't taken I had two bikes down there that could easily have been just rolled on out of there those were not taken there was a motorcycle that was not taken uh and the place was just completely ripped apart so I don't know if the uh Barney F types who were like reading the email uh got into their head that the stuff I was referring to were these goggles they thought that I us I that I had them uh I I it could be a total coincidence that uh that that happened in that time frame but there's several things like that we'll come back to the goggles uh too sometime before the program ends because there's some speculation about what they might really be able to do why there was this insistence that they get them back I mean obviously they have value but maybe this is beyond what we might assume there were you know the these stories that are told by victims of gangstalking these are sad stories I mean I'm sure that some of these people have uh have mental issues but could be that some of them really are being targeted and are messed with and it and it gets goes beyond just mental confusion you said that in the book you outline some of the things that happened to Damian I mean it would really painful it seemed like he had constant headaches that there were noises in his head and it seemed to be some sort of a targeted kind of technology that uh your interview with this inventor this engineer I mean he he led some support to the idea that this stuff is real and you found other evidence for it too oh yeah we even we even asked uh Richard could this could you make it seem as if a room was getting smaller or larger that a room was larger on the inside than it appeared on the outside he said absolutely you could do that uh and that's exactly what was happening in in Pacific Beach and uh I I they are sad stories uh and I've heard a lot of them now since the book was published and also there was a shorter version of the story that was the cover feature of 41 times a couple of years ago in issue I think 305 uh and um so I heard from people after that article as well and also since the book has been published um it I should point out that it's not just drug addicts uh and people like that who are targeted it seems to me that um if you uh piss off one of these people and they have access to this technology or they have access to this whole gangstalking Community um your life's going to be a living hell after that for example uh Gloria Naylor who's a well-respected literary author she's famous for having written Brewster Place and Mama Day and and other uh novels like that um everything that happened to Damian happened to her and she wrote a book about it called 1996 which is presented as a novel but she says that it's not a novel it this this happened to her and the reason it's called 1996 is because that's when her harassment started she was living on an island uh off the coast of I believe Maine if I remember correctly she was living in a house next door to a guy whose brother was in the NSA Gloria Naylor accidentally poisoned the neighbor's cat and at that point uh all this harassment stuff that happened to Damian happened to her and she wrote This Book 1996 which her regular Publishers did not published a smaller press published it because they thought she'd gone nuts uh and so it's it's not just it's not just drug addicts you know it's not just people on the fringes glor Naylor's a well-respected writer and even she found it difficult to get her story out um the idea that you can give somebody a headache or that you can you know there are weapons that transmit noise into somebody's head you found evidence that that's real I mean there's really research going on into that oh yeah I mean I mean that that's been known for for a while in fact the um Bo Art well I I mentioned that I was friends with Walter Bart uh he talks about it in Operation Mind Control the ability to bypass the ear canal and um implant sounds directly into your head so it sounds like there are voices speaking to you inside your head um I I should also point out that something kind of one of the things that that motivated me to get Damian out of San Diego uh was an incident where um he experienced in a kind of a kind of Twilight sleep uh an experience where he was on his couch in his in his living in his living room in the apartment and these people came in and held him down uh and injected something into his arm and and he and I know this was not some sort of nightmare because it's the only time I've ever heard

Damen referred to a needle uh with fear uh and and it was something he he tried to struggle away from them but they they were injecting him with this thing and it was something he he distantly had memory as I say as if it occurred in a Twilight sleep and that that seemed really disturbing uh to me and that was one of my main motivations for sending him the money to to get him out of there but um uh in terms of the the what you could do with this technology the invisibility technology um I I mentioned earlier that I was reading your book uh hunt for the skinwalker and there's an incident that occurs in there where uh you call him Tom Gorman yes the man in the ranch and his son uh see this sort of pixelated uh Predator fig Predator figure right and later on they and it comes out of the the the the trees there and uh later on they're watching predator and they said that's exactly what we saw and of course Predator is a science fiction movie with or Schwarzenegger in which there's an alien that has this kind of camouflage technology uh that movie Richard Scher in fact references that movie in our interview with him and says yeah that's that's sort of what it is that's what it looks like and in fact the Predator movie came out around the time that he started developing the technology um um and and so when when I read that in your book and also um there's a part where you're mentioning that there was a team five teams of remote viewers who were asked to remote view uh the the ranch and they they mentioned um that they had seen that they all thought there was some sort of military connection to the ranch and that one of them mentions that the overall impression of the group was that the location was the site of a military operation an operation that most likely involved the US Navy and that was point one that you know dinged in my head and then one Vier described the Pentagon two perceived images of a Navy ship perhaps an aircraft carrier which was somehow linked to the activity in Utah the viewers saw armed men and military uniforms who wore dark sunglasses and sported Navy tattoos and when I got to the the dark sunglasses part uh that also sparked you know it made me think of the goggles oh yeah and and also the the the orbs that were sort of surveilling them on the ranch uh which I have a photograph in the front of chameleo of one of these orbs of light that was following Damian around he got some photographs of them but of course often it just looks like you know bright blob against a black background I I picked the the best one uh and and put it in the in the front of the book um and uh also the way that the orbs would um there's one moment where you describe Gorman as suddenly making the decision to do something he wouldn't normally do and he like runs for the thing and he is actually able to trick the thing and hide in a hay stack while it's searching for him uh and that that reminded me of of of uh sometimes people contact me they say how do how do how should we deal with this well of course I I have very little advice in that regard but I do think that if you read chameleo and see the way that Damien dealt with this situation you can apply it to your own situation and I think the thing that is to keep in mind is to do the unexpected we all become addicted to to patterns uh wake up at the same time every day you go to the same spot every day for lunch and Etc and they know that and they're able to um by disrupting those patterns they disrupt you uh and so if you can uh disrupt that pattern and do things that are unexpected which which Damien often did for example with the the food fight with the feds uh it seemed like he was able to keep a step ahead of them uh John Rapaport who's an investigative reporter uh he is a brilliant writer he wrote a Inc uh and many other books he wrote a positive review of the book and he said something that I thought was rather pithy uh he said I I think that Damian was able to survive the situation because he was already crazy to begin with yeah and and I don't by that I don't mean clinically you know crazy but crazy in the sense that he's really just a genuine non-conformist and has never lived his life the way that other people live it uh and so because he's already sort of outside the value grid of of society he was able to take that several steps further and I think they were they were they were I think they were really for baffled and confused by him well you know so so many of the phenomena the incidents that you uh report in this book as with the hunt for the skinwalker book are Preposterous seemingly on purpose purposely Preposterous uh perhaps so no one else would take it seriously um it's theater it's performance uh of some sort um and as you mentioned Daman that are some hilarious stories where he's being followed by 5 six seven eight of these jarheads as you describe them and he'll turn around and confront them and yell at them and they have to pretend that he's not even there it's it's funny um but it's also instructive uh of how you might be able to deal with these guys I think it is instructive you know I it just occurred to me another parallel moment is you described the uh the the the looking up into the night sky and seeing a blue sky another sky in the sky right uh and that's similar to when you looked out the window and saw like the weird alien landscape uh you you mentioned in in the book that you go through various um proposals various theories to describe to explain what was happening on the ranch and there's one chapter you vot you devote to the possibility of this being a covert military experiment right and then at the end you you kind of reject that reasonably so because you say well we know that the military wasn't um experimenting with esoteric technology in 1865 uh because Paran a paranormal phenomenon has occurred on this location going back hundreds of years but it occurred to me that maybe it's not an either or proposition that if you were going to experiment with esoteric technology Why not pick a spot that's already associated with Supernatural phenomenon uh that that where genuine Supernatural phenomenon is already occurring so your experiments are just going to sort of blur together yeah so anything that happens there is under the umbrella of well that's just the skin walker Legend at work and and not taken seriously I you know we we did have the the remote viewer team uh take a look at it just sort of as a as a last resort could because we couldn't figure out what was going on there the high strangeness and they they came back with these military images an underground facility and people sitting in a control panel and the Navy stuff and to for the life of us we couldn't figure out a naval connection cuz it's up there in northeastern Utah but now um I'm taking a new look at it and and Dr colum kellerer my co-author had the same reaction he's read your book and he had the same reaction and wanted me to ask you about the Predator incident and everything and I'll tell you I uh it's it's changed my perspective on a lot of stuff um I should also mention it gets into the Bob Lazar story uh and that came up in the interview that you had with the the uh engineer who developed this technology oh yeah that that that that uh makes me think of something I wanted to ask you um I had heard this from someone else so I figured I'd ask you while I have you on the phone they they told me that there was an incident where supposedly uh a unmarked helicopter landed on the ranch and these military guys came out and actually accosted the nids researchers or or roughed them up and and threatened them and told them they should get off the ranch and and and supposedly destroyed their equipment or something like that it did that's that's not a story that I'm familiar with I mean I've heard some of that kind of stuff as Internet chatter but uh I know the nids guys pretty well and they've they've never shared with me a story like that I would certainly hear that that's kind of a story that floats around online that uh is of questionable um Source right okay well I I wanted to take this opportunity to get it from you know the horse's mouth um uh yeah the Bob Lazar story um Richard Richard mentions it because as we're talking to him Richard suddenly thinks of uh the Bob Lazar story and and again I I I didn't even know when we started talking to him that he would even be familiar with that type of thing right I'll tell you what the music is telling us we got to take a break it is interesting how over the course of that interview he really opens up about a whole lot a bunch of stuff not only Bob Lazar but also uh Colonel Philip Corso we're going to get into that in a moment and we'll be opening up the phone lines from my guest Robert Guffy in a bit here on Coast to Coast AM there's a song written by a guy who had a lot of U mental and personal challenges his name was Peter Green and this might be his Masterpiece it's oh well Fleetwood Mac from 1969 kind of how we all feel about technology and the rise of the surveillance State oh well well we' saved some of the weirdest stuff for last in our interview with Robert Guffy about his new book chameleo some very strange paths still to come here in our final hour of coast to coast don't go away Robert I'm sure you've asked yourself uh uh why you allowed to move move forward with the book they could certainly stop you if they I'm using air quotes around it wanted to um I suppose you know I was only half joking about at the beginning of the program when I said if they're ever going to sabotage a broadcast this would be it but I I suppose that maybe at this point they want it to leak out there in in some regard what do you think well you know it's interesting I uh um selling this book was the most difficult thing I've ever done I mean uh when I the the the the first time thing I did was I we when we interviewed Richard I condensed the interview down to uh publishable level like I I I got it down to like 5,000 words and I sent it to several magazines I thought would be interested wired things like that and uh usually uh no matter where you submit an article to you will always get a response either it's either no thank you a form letter or maybe something larger than that uh but you always get a response for some reason with that particular piece I got no responses uh from nobody it say this they had never seen it uh and it was eventually published in um UFO magazine and the reason I wanted it published in UFO magazine is because I thought that the people who read the magazine might read the interview with Richard and then begin rethinking some of their own experiences and then when I say that I want to be careful and and and note that um um even though you definitely could use Richard schoener's project chameleo technology to fake an alien abduction uh that doesn't mean that I think that all alien abductions are explained in that way uh I I tend to think that um they're mimicking a real phenomenon uh because you know as you pointed out in your book you know that doesn't explain events that happened in 1800s that were documented by Charles Fort in his books right well well a name that comes up in your book is Melinda Lesley it's somebody known to this program I think she's been on the program I know her she's uh the most best known uh advocate of the idea that there are human abductions there are uh abductions involving the military that are staged to look like alien events uh talk about that a little bit uh it's interesting um I was um at a restaurant in Costa Mesa with Melinda uh and I started telling her this whole story and I got up to the point of talking about Richard and that and the point where I said that Richard had met with a corporation from San Diego and that this Corporation was interested in his technology and before I could say it Melinda goes was it saic and I said yes how did you know that and she said that name comes up that Corporation comes up over and over and over again in these my laab scenarios my lab meaning military abduction uh people who are uh abductees they're abducted by aliens and then later reabducted by humans usually military looking people who interrogate them and are extremely interested in wanting to know how the technology runs uh you know were you able to were you did they allow you to steer the ship how does the ship work describe it to us and you know they're all they're Gearheads you know they all want to know exactly how everything works right and often the my laab uh the people who experience the my lab abductions uh report that the re abductions by the humans are far more traumatic and terrible than the abductions by the aliens which I don't know what that says but uh it's disturbing um so uh yes I I spoke to in fact uh earlier this year I interviewed Melinda for about 4 hours and a half um because I'm I'm working on a book that's uh attentively entitled imaginat exploring the outer reaches of the Mind in which I I want to profile various people who I think are sort of on the on the Cutting Edge of the new paradigm and I would certainly consider Melinda to be one of those people though I don't think she considers herself to be one of those people you know um she sort of lives in the new paradigm 24/7 so uh I think it's it's normal to her but you know not not to other people um and uh um she the entire myab phenomenon I think does tie into the scenario in chameleo uh and in fact ties back to a book that was published in the late 1970s and that is messengers of deception by by Jack valet who by the way the the publicity manager at Ora books contacted me and said I got this letter in the mail from someone who wants me to give him your home address uh can I give it out to him and I said well who is it he goes it's this guy I don't know it's a french guy jacqu Valley I don't know and I I said oh jacqu Val yes give him my address please and jacqu Val sent me a a note uh just a brief note saying that he liked chameleo and liked it even better than cryptology which was my first book uh and so I've been meaning to write him back and say thank you but it occurred to me he might be listening so thank you jacqu Val for for the note um but in that book messengers of deception uh Jac mentions meeting this man who he calls major Murphy but it's not his real name who who uh first introduces to him the idea that alien abductions could be something that could be faked uh and uh and he he mentions several military operations where they took advantage of the local folklore uh for example in Vietnam uh the the Vietnamese had deep beliefs about vampires and they actually staged these murders to to look like uh as if vampires had had attacked these Vietnamese hung them upside down from trees with holes in their necks things like that this was an actual military operation um there was a scenario back in the 50s where um the CIA was spying on Tibet and they used a uh an imaginary expedition to hunt for the Abominable Snowman in order to to do that uh so you know you could say you could say hey you know thank goodness our military has these capabilities to use them to protect us and then you hear stories about people like Melinda Lesley who are terrorized or your friend Damen who they're spying on him in the bathroom in his most private moments you know uh that's that's not what I want our government to be doing oh he Daman said to me several times that he got the sense that's there was a definite perverse aspect to all of this uh and it seems to me that the the people who are doing this are either compromised people criminals themselves uh people who um have been arrested you know they're made a deal we can either send you to jail or you do this for us so so the people who are doing this are already compromised people and there's no oversight to speak of I mean it's completely out of the pervuew of Congress or you know um inspector generals or something like that absolutely and and also I wanted to mention before before I forget that if there is if there are people listening who are being gangstalked and I'm sure there are people listening who are being gangstalked um I I would like to recommend a website that's called fight gangstalking domcom there's a lot of websites out there about gangstalking and a lot of them are either useless or disinformation or crazy uh but this particular one is extremely useful uh and rational fight gangstalking tactics for fighting back and it's just a long list of things that you can do that are very simple uh to fight back against this kind of uh uh harassment all right we'll check it out I want to go back to the interview with the engineer because there's so much that we have not covered you mentioned how Melinda Lesley pops up with the name saic this engineer did the same thing sort of and when talking about who might have ripped off his technology that's the that's what he came up with yeah and and of course he mentions it before uh before uh Damian starts telling him the story I mean that that was the first that's where my eyebrows uh suddenly were raised when he where where Richard mentions the San Diego connection uh and then it was just it then it was just one link after another after that uh and uh during the course of that interview Richard who's you know a very interesting person uh by the way I mean I I I recently interviewed him again uh at at his home uh and uh I'm I'm looking at the manuscript right now I'm editing it as we speak and I in this this new interview I focus entirely on just Richard's interest in Freemasonry R crism uh esoteric mysticism and its connection to to science uh and so I uh he he he covers in there how the main inspiration for project communo actually came from the fact that he's a rosicrucian uh and that he had known people or he he had heard of people in uh the rosac crusan order who claimed that they could make themselves invisible that they had such control of their mind that they could make it like like like the shadow they could make it seem uh like hypnotize people so that others could not see them uh and that this this idea fascinated him and he began thinking well how how could you do that with science you know and not mysticism um but uh Richard uh had a top secret clearance all all the way up until he retired which was just last year at age 85 um and uh uh during the course of this interview he suddenly brings up names like Bob Lazar and and and and Phil Corso and I wasn't really expecting that no I was really surprised I mean I had no idea that's where the book was heading and was very surprised when first corso and then the Lazar name came up Corso I I I don't remember seeing this in the book but you might recall that Colonel Corso had said that he handled uh of course you note this but he had handled wreckage you know that his his employer had wreckage from a crashed saucer and that they dispersed it to Labs that do work for the military didn't really tell them where it came from and let them sort of develop it I don't know if you remember but one of the things he says that came from the wreckage was night vision goggles ah yes uh yes in fact I had forgotten that yeah you're right right uh so there's a certain symmetry there with the with your engineer saying that he was familiar with corso and he thought that scenario was perfectly plausible that maybe that's exactly how it would work that even some of the researchers who think they came up with some of the ideas don't realize where the uh initial inspiration came from oh yeah Richard had no problem with that idea at all in fact when I asked him when he brought up the film The Predator and and then I say well do you think it's possible that someone these films are actually um uh leaked information you know a kind of Time released aspirin uh he immediately left on that and said oh yeah absolutely um he had no problem with that idea at all uh and in fact uh right after that that interview with Richard was published in UFO magazine uh I got a an amusing phone call from a woman who is actually a rather well-known special effects expert in Hollywood and she was working on the film gii Joe the Rise of Cobra which has invisibility technology in it and she called me after having read this interview with Richard in UFO magazine and she wanted to know if Richard had any of these invisibility suits like on hand so that she could use them in the movie uh and and I had to explain to her well you know this is a theoretical concept like he doesn't have these hanging in the closet he's not like Tony Stark and he has invisibility suits hanging in the closet uh and and so I nonetheless I put them in touch with each other I said well he could act as you know an advisor uh on on the film so she called him and said would you be interested in advising us on how this should look in the film and then Richard said sure are you how much were you intending on paying me for this and and she said oh well we weren't going to pay anything but you could have like your credit at the end of the movie you can see your name there yeah and so he he um he declined yeah cuz gi. Joe didn't have a budget it was only you know $25,000 I'm sure as I mentioned in the book like films like GI Joe which which show you know the Great American Hero using that invisibility technology in such an extraordinary way it kind of becomes a um a recruitment video for future Generations who will no doubt be uh sent in dangerous situations wearing invisibility suits either to fight terrorists or to fight your your your local drug addict in in Pacific Beach um on the mention of Lazar I you know his his take on it seemed to be that Lazar was sort of a victim of a disinformation plot that he was used uh I don't remember you mentioning this but it occurred to me as I was reading it is that Lazar always told me he worked for the US Navy that it was the US Navy that uh ran the program out there at S4 which is pretty interesting if you think about it that the the Navy would have a presence at that facility that that is fascinating if I if I knew that I had forgotten it and uh and that is that is that frames things in an interesting way you know there's another connection between the reason that that Richard brings up Lazar is because as we're talking to him about Damian's experiences he suddenly says this reminds me of the way that Bob Lazar was harassed and I don't think that Bob Lazar has ever reported anything similar to gangstalking but he certainly he was harassed and surveilled um there was a lot of stuff there was a whole lot of stuff they followed him they they uh tapped his phones they broke into to his house would move things around okay they would write things on his Blackboard they'd uh they broke into his car and leave the glove box open and his gun laying there all stuff just to mess with his head there are some similarities yes okay yeah there are similarities there but and also an interesting similarity that occurs to me uh is that whenever I've heard Bob Lazar interviewed or seen interviews with him uh one thing I noticed is that he always has a sort of dry sense of humor about the experiences you know what I mean and and that's something that that Daman also had and and I think that's one way it seems mundane it seems like a mundane um observation but I think it's actually extremely important uh is to maintain a sense of humor uh in the midst of all of this because it's it's something that enables you to survive even the darkest situations it's it's one of the reasons I wrote the book The Way I wrote it um I didn't want to write a book that was uh like a guy standing on a bench in Venice Beach yelling through a megaphone about the coming apocalyptic fascist state that was coming to control everybody I I think that turns people off and and uh people don't want to be preached at and so in my original proposal that I sent to uh John Oaks at or books I said I I want to write this book in such a way that it's entertaining on one level and I you know I've been writing short stories publishing short stories since I was 24 I teach literat classes and creative writing classes so I I really came at the book thinking of it as as literature first and and and propaganda second or literature first and journalism second uh because I I think that people people tend to um sort of block out anything that sounds like a a sermon uh and so the book has a a definite sense of humor about it but it also has a serious message underlying it well it is it's a fun read and and the comparisons a Hunter Thompson are not entirely just out of the blue I I was thinking of kinky fredman uh too and some of the style and some of the storytelling um you you mention also in the interview with the engineer you ask him a question about I I don't remember if you ask it or he volunteers it but the idea of let's say you wanted to drive Fidel Castro or somebody like that crazy oh yeah yeah you could do that yes yes well not only does he say you could do that he said I included the psychological warfare aspect in my original proposal um but and I have to like take a step back and and mention the fact that uh when when you meet Richard he's he's like the the nicest guy on the planet I I mean I I've never met a more affable human being uh and he wouldn't be the first uh researcher or scientist who was naive enough to think that the military would use his invention for good you know I I in other words I think when he included that psychological warfare aspects in his proposals I don't think he was thinking well they're going to use this on civilians on United States civilians you know uh in in Pacific Beach you know uh I think he really was thinking of it as something that would be of use to the United States as a country you know uh you mentioned that he uses he was using Foya to try to find out if they had in fact ripped him off that he was trying to find out through Freedom of Information Act if there are documents that show that they are already using it but he was getting nowhere with that right he he was in the midst of that when we when we interviewed him uh so so I mean that that's an indication that he was already very suspicious uh about what was actually going on that he already suspected that they had stolen it from him because you know a lot of researchers they come up with a brilliant idea the first thing they do they patent it it turns out that's the worst thing you can do because uh the military can take any patent that they want and under its National Security uh and they can steal it they can rip it off they can use it and that and you're not going to get sent one on that thing all right the Beatles nowhere man tell us we're going into a break when we come back we open up the phone lines with your questions for Robert Guffy about his book chameleo or anything along these lines much more to come here on Coast to Coast AM it's the late Richie Havens with a message that Hope Springs Eternal Here Comes the Sun his 1971 cover of George Harris 's Timeless hit we're talking with Robert Guffy about his new book chameleo in a moment we open the phone lines we get to as many of your questions and comments as we can in our final segment of Coast to Coast AM Robert one quick question before we open up the phone lines it's about the goggles uh the missing goggles uh does it occurs to you that maybe they were more than just night vision goggles uh now this is entirely speculation uh on my part and on Damian's part but we always suspected that perhaps the purpose of the goggles was to be able to see the invisib see through the invisibility technology uh that when you had the goggles on you could actually see the people who were invisible I maybe that's just just us trying to link up to unrelated events but it seems rational in the sense of why do they desperately want these things they could not have been just normal night vision goggles why were they so obsessed with them yeah it's a kind of thing where they probably throw away a hundred pairs of those a day and just regular night vision goggles or burn them in a pile somewhere and they really wanted these back long enough to go after it for many many months right there had years yeah there had to be something special about it yeah all right let's take a couple of calls first time caller Diane in California hi Diane you're on with Robert Guffy um yes I was just uh listening to your program and I had a couple of questions I went through about four and a half years of of some really crazy stuff in San Valley California and um one of the I was just wondering if you guys had ever heard anything about them doing things to people's eye what are you talking about like I went to an eye doctor once there and I had the you know the puff of air test and um the one that I took there was extremely painful and then I um kept feeling like there was something in my eye afterwards and I could see like a shadow um in the Mirror by my eye and um I kept seeing like a you know the kind of patterns that lasers make with little dots and they make triangles I kept seeing that pattern um reflecting off of me and um on the shower wall and and mirrors and stuff sometimes and um I had I had a lot of things happened to me out there um I was just curious if you guys had ever heard anything about something like that um I have never heard of anything uh like that specifically from people who have contacted me however uh I will say that I wouldn't be surprised if people are being gang stocked in SEI Valley I think that uh it wouldn't you wouldn't have to do too much to stand out in see me Valley and and Diane when you say crazy stuff was happening to you meaning what was it kind of the kinds of things about four and a half years I was being gangstalked and um my phones were tapped and I kept hearing things on my roof and outside my bedroom window um every time I would come home I would hear a certain signal it was like a whistle it would go you know and um and so I started paying attention and and learning their signals and it and like they used to use this long Pole every time I would be in my bathroom they they forced me out of um the house I was living in and into a house they wanted me to live in which is like a block over from where I lived and um and it went from like you know just following me to like total surveillance at that point in my home and um they were using lasers and freaking motion detectors and um just I saw people disappear literally disappear before my very eyes twice there well do I'd be curious to know um do you have any idea why you think this started or or is it just random okay I found out since then that it that it probably wasn't just one thing that it was a few things coming together to look like one thing and driving nuts but um I at one point I think the feds were involved but why why um because I had some um relatives that lived in another state that were mules and and um and coming out here to California and buying Crystal me and taking it back there ah yeah and my my dad was like their um uncle and he came to visit me and I think because of that they thought I was involved because I lived in California you know Diane Diane thanks for sharing that with us I want to ask you a question Robert do you think that this is in the hands of regular law enforcement now Beyond intelligence agencies I think that there are certain members of law enforcement who are definitely aware of this I mean there's always been elements of law enforcement who were also members of intelligence agencies I I recommend Mike Roth Miller's book um the LA secret police which which documents all of that very well um uh and so I wouldn't doubt that at all San Diego Simi Valley uh both highly conservative areas uh and and as I mentioned before uh with Damian's conversation with uh with the NCIS woman you know she she basically said to him that they they were on a crusade to clean up the neighborhood you know so they they had an agenda that was almost a a Personal Agenda rather than some sort of National Security agenda Diane thanks for sharing with us I was wondering uh Robert have you seen any videos there's at least one video online that reports to show uh this invisibility technology I can't tell if it's real or if it's a trick or some video production kind of a trick uh the only the only videos I've seen are the invisibility cloaks like the one I mentioned before with Sashi and uh so I don't think I've seen those I would like to see them yeah I might send it to you then we we'll have to exchange some emails after the show anyway sure let's all right let's try to go to West of the Rockies Howard in Vancouver hi Howard George and Robert uh there is a uh something in your story here that uh in Robert's story that uh stands out that uh indicates to me that these people were really trying to play the Spy game so to speak uh the uh woman that first con from NCIS that first contacted Damian she identified herself uh as Lydia am I correct I'm sorry it's a cover he was wondering about the name but it's a cover lame it's it's yeah I changed your name see I see um well what I was what I was thinking is that uh Lydia that's an unusual name to hear in this country uh I do know though that uh uh the uh fiance of Ian Fleming's name was Lydia St Bartholomew and she happened to be the assistant to the Admiral that uh was in charge of uh the British Naval intelligence during World War II oh that's an interesting thought Howard but nope it was Lita was the name and it was uh something that uh that Robert just assigned to it but thank you for the thought east of the Rockies bill in Westchester New York hi Bill yes gentlemen uh very interesting show um I would like to ask you a question about the cloaking technology in regard to the uh the plane that disappeared in the Java Sea and the helicopters that uh were cloaked that were used to get uh supposedly kill Osama Bin Laden and relate that to the um gentleman that did The Missing 411 uh what is his name Pates um in on National Forest because after World War I there was a program by the military to move certain Labs Etc into the national forests and to uh scare people off with a program I believe it was called operation scarecrow and the idea was to uh frighten the hell out of people uh sorry if I use that word if it offends anybody um to keep them out of the national Forest because they can quote things and that's what I was about to say when I called up when Poes was on the air but you guys cut me off before I could finish this particular thought that why these people are disappearing is this is the military intelligence operation and they're actually experimenting on the uh the American population as they uh would be having a tendency to do if they could and they are and uh they may be SC up people and murdering them uh in a program for some sort of um military operation biological or chemical and I wonder if you could comment on that uh to address the first part of your question uh in Richard sher's original proposal to the military he specifically mentioned that you could in fact use this to cloak an entire Battleship uh if you wanted to an entire installation um uh and so when you ask could it be used on a helicopter absolutely if you could use it for a battleship you could use it for a helicopter um as for uh the missing uh 411 scenario uh could this type of Technology tie into that in any way uh if it does it's interesting speculation uh I that's about all I could say about it it's an interesting thought yeah I don't think we can put Ro Robert on the spot for that that's not his book but thank you for the call and and it's an interesting idea we're going to go the Wild Card line Jeff in Culver City Jeff good to hear from you yeah how you doing George and Mr guy uh yes earlier you mentioned that the worst one could do is patent an idea especially if in if it's in the interest of the government or military what would you suggest a person do if he or she has an idea that may be in the interest of these entities and how could that idea be protected and also do you believe that the government has the ability to sub subject anyone to or anything you know in the process of invisibility and then project that invisible or cloaked holographic image anywhere on Earth uh without that person's knowledge uh is that you know possible uh well the the first question I would say the best way to protect it is to be public about it uh because if you if you patent it uh the the the law states that the military can take whatever they want uh and and use it uh and they don't have to ask your permission uh so as as Bob Lazar figured out uh the best thing to do is to be is to to be public and in and in the spotlight uh and then the second part of your question was what was it was uh whether he was asking whether you think they the same technology could be used to like project a holograph of somebody you know um I guess it's a little bit beyond your area well I I you could you could absolutely project uh that there is a specific person uh if if you want to make it seem as if there's a person standing in your front y uh you could you know you could make it to order sure oh well uh and project it I don't know I wonder what the range is for something like that I I you know I assume that that would be possible simply because if I mean Damien was looking out of his window and seeing Boris Vallejo three Moon planets so if they could project that outside the window I'm sure they could project a specific person let's go to Matt in Raleigh North Carolina hi Matt good morning morning George thank you for taking my call sure I want to throw out a little mention of something you were talking about the um uh invisibility cloak there's an episode of uh future fantastic which was done on the Sci-Fi channel by Jillian Anderson in which they did a piece on that uh showed a clip of Predator talked to some scientist inventor whatever he was and then showed a clip of them doing a test of a mirrored suit that this guy was wearing so that's out there that's to add to what you were talking about that um what I wanted to get into was this okay in 1982 my brother and I were in high school decided to grow marijuana and unb now us was the year they Reagan declared his War on Drugs so uh horn got to be 12 feet tall that year small patch 30 by 30 I was living 50 60 miles outside Washington DC you know farmer Farmland type land area and uh as the corn got brown the stuff was still Green in the middle and we started noticing these airplanes buzzing all the time more frequent and more frequent as the time passed anyway as time progressed within the next 12 to 18 months I noticed being followed by what appear to be private airport aircraft following me I would leave my house go to my fence house go to another house and so on and so on they'd be following me it's like I noticed that it almost seemed like if when they noticed I noticed them they would back off and I only have a feeling it because I'm not the only one that was doing it a lot of other people were doing it that year and um whoever I was rubbing elbows with was rubbing elbows with and so on and so on and I think they were you know looking into that stuff obviously uh a lot of strange things going on in the sky at night lights that just kind of sit there look like like a star kind of Bobble a little bit and PE nobody nobody that were my friends believed any of this stuff they look at ah it's just a star and I'm standing there one night with my friend his back is to the thing and I'm standing there watching it smok the cigarette outside his parents she can't smoke in the house so I'm watching it and thing bobbling and pivoting just ever so slightly but it bobbed a little more one time and I said look at that he looks up there he goes ah it's just a star and um that was actually after an incident where a private airplane at night with the lights off came through that area uh noticed at point of where it was trying to go was a bonfire across the way you know things that you find out as time passes somebody was renting a farm and Matt I'm sorry man we're getting a little bit far removed from the topic I'm going to have to move on I appreciate you calling in with your story though we're going to go to Tom in Taff California on the Wild Card line hi Tom hi gentlemen how you doing howdy well you know I just want to say I've been involved in this program for about 14 years after falling out with a Crime Boss that I knew all my life I can't mention any names but I didn't know he was a Crime Boss until after my falling out with him including my brother too and uh just just to hit the nail on the head with a few things you know you have General John jumper former Chief of Staff of the US Air Force who said he go I predict we'll have the tools to make people see hear and believe things that do not exist this is the former Chief of Staff of the US Air Force this guy an escapee from a mental institution Lieutenant General perutz said that I want to put sound in people's heads and I'm going to hire Laurel Optical and Pasadena to do it um you know you have Lieutenant Colonel Timothy Thomas who wrote the military paper the mind has no firewall in the military paper parameters spring 1998 US army war College who said that we can use this we can compromise the microscopic hair cells in the inner ear of somebody this is a lieutenant Colonel Timothy Thomas okay these are high ranking military officials these aren't people that wear tinfoil hats and this little bit of evidence I've given you thus far confirms that they have the ability to do the very thing that what you've discussed tonight on the show Tom you said you said at the beginning that you've been involved in the program for 14 years what program you talking about I'm talking about the gangstalking program what do you mean gas lighting you know things coming in things moved around in your house little things missing vandalism to your floors you know you come in you giant cuts in your floors and they want you to call the police so you look like you're a tinfoil hat so you look like you're crazy you know the police aren't going to believe somebody's coming to my house making huge cuts on my floors of course if you came home to your house and you know what your floors look like and you see a huge cut in them you're going to believe somebody did it and uh you know and naturally you know so or chisels caught out of my door frame or I had a guy approach me and my 8-year-old son at the park February 24th here in Taff telling me if you open your f---ing mouth you're going to go to jail you know in front of my 8-year-old son you know and I called the police the next day and I you I tried to get a police report you know and she told me the sheriff's deputy told me oh Tom you should have called us right when he said this to you and all this you know I've had a police car waiting at the bottom of my driveway a highway patrolman I took a picture of him on my cell phone that picture is still on my cell let me ask you Tom we're because we're almost out of time but let me ask you do you have an idea why yeah you know I have ringing in my ears I suffer with tinnitus I had why why you I had a falling out with this individual I've known all my life and he told me Tom don't be surprised by the time I'm done with you they don't take you away in a straight jacket and uh you know he told me this you know in Chicago and uh you know but the thing of it is and I've had my life threatened more than once I had a guy come and sit next to me at Starbucks in Ventura California one afternoon and he told me he was an police officer he was well-dressed in a suit he was like in his middle 60s probably and he goes can I sit down you have a coffee goes sure Tom I'm sorry man we're I'm sorry you called it this time but we're out of time but I tell you I encourage you to send an email U to me and I'll pass it along to uh Robert and maybe he can share some information with you but you should check out the website that he had mentioned earlier thanks also to our earlier callers let me ask you one final question well it sounds like we're not going to have time I was curious about whether being a Freemason has caused you any problems in terms of people uh taking your story credibly but we'll save that for another time Robert Guffy thanks very much chameleo is the book and it's a fascinating read thank you I hope you'll keep us informed about your next project that was uh it was was an important book and I hope people will check it out thank you very much all right thanks also to my colleagues there at Coast to Coast Nathan ston and Ben Haley our Web Master Lex Lon Hood Dan galani producer Chris boros and uh I'll be back next Saturday and Sunday night hope you can join us then good night everyone

welcome to mystery wire with George Knapp this podcast is dedicated to reports on area 51

UFOs military technology paranormal mysteries and just great news stories you found your place for interviews and special investigations into a diverse universe of strange unknown and unsettling subjects welcome to mystery wire welcome everybody to podcast number 2 we are rolling here with George Knapp Matt Adams I'm Ron Futrell we are ready for edition number 2 of mystery wire the podcast version and we've got some fun for year Bob Stoll all we're gonna be talking to him former news director here at channel 8 years ago when the Bob Lazar stuff first came out we're going to jump deep into that know you'll have a chance to give him a further intro than that but I wanted to let people know what we were doing also mystery wire George so far it's been out for about a week now what have you heard what do you know what have you found that what are people saying well the feedback has been almost universally positive you know we kind of had a soft opening we've announced it here on channel 8 and we've issued some releases on social media at Facebook and Twitter and such but we have much grander plans in the future to have a much broader audience so far it's sort of travel through the UFO world kind of like the coconut Telegraph somebody tell somebody else or in a phone tree and people are eating it up we have some internal statistics about how much time people are spending on the site obviously they like what they see because some of them are getting on there and staying for days at a time there's a lot of material still to be digested I think by anyone who spent any time on it at all and there's so much more stuff that we have in the works that we're gonna be putting on there both from archives and new material that we've shot new interviews new investigations a lot of cool stuff we we had an interview with John John Fogarty Ron you and I went over talked to John Fogarty Creedence Clearwater a great singer-songwriter because he's got zombies and

do and who do and all kinds of things like that premonitions in his song so we figured there must be some kind of a connection he's been on coast to coast a couple of times so we went over to interview him I miss pretty cool right yeah no he was he was more excited to see you I know you were excited to see him okay but Matt you were there as well I think John Fogerty was more excited to see George than the other way around yeah I was kicking myself for not rolling on this and not being ready for it when he realized it was George he starts going into the coast-to-coast intro and he's doing it just by heart and just George was dropped on him and now he's doing the coast-to-coast intro yeah that's great he kind of gave me a look for a second he's like he's trying to hurry I know that name from somewhere and I said no I'm a TV guy at daytime and I do a radio show called coast to coast he goes Scirocco the roof Scirocco blowin in across the desert and he said you're the guy talks about putting on the bunny slippers and that was pretty funny and then he gave you know let me give you a hug and then he said oh no like he couldn't stop himself this is John Fogerty this is Creedence Clearwater Revival this is you know all the hits you know all the song a legend a legend you don't get a bigger rock star than him and yeah and he said let me give you a hug and then there were times during that this especially at the start of the interview because of watch some of it on tape where he's asking you more questions and in women we were tight on time he wanted to get into you asking him questions but he was asking you questions skinwalker ranch coast to coast the radio show your boy he couldn't also couldn't get over your voice he's going I'm hearing that voice that I heard in my head at night then here he is right here in front of me yeah that was a surreal moment and and we've agreed to continue the conversation at some other point I hope that happens but I you know I'd always heard that he listens to the program on a regular basis I wasn't sure if it was true or not sure enough it's true he gobbles that stuff up he has a real interest in in the topics that we cover there and that we cover how a mystery wire so I'm sending him links I'm hoping he's gonna be one of our our viewers and one of our consumers on the on the website as well and we will also we'll have him here on the website will have his interviews will be on mystery wire the interview you did with him and we'll have it on the podcast as well yeah but we were now on by the way on all the fine places where podcasts are give it away for free we're we are there now and thank you

Apple podcasts we're now up no longer iTunes I think it's Apple podcasts but were there Google Play I Heart Radio Spreaker the other folks that all do podcasts so spread the word let people know about this let them know about mr. e wire go to the social media and they're easy to find mr. e wire go to a social media we want people to follow us on Facebook Twitter Instagram all of the places that you know because we put out stuff on a regular basis the YouTube page is doing very well subscribers on that we want to get more subscribers on that so I'm making a little bit of a picture George to get to go sign up for the social media stuff because that does make a difference and it helps us keep and keep you informed basically on what we're doing I think the only negative feedback we've had is of is from people in Europe that they can't access the website there are legal restrictions believe me we wish that everybody in the world could see this thing but there are some legal restrictions that we have to deal with I don't completely understand them but our we have a legal team that's working on it we're gonna try to work this out where people in Europe who want to see this stuff on the website will be able to see it in the near future and we'd like to thank Mark Allen with above top-secret comm he kind of released this to his readers he has a very large audience and they kind of gave us the quick sneak peek preview of what our audience is gonna get how they're gonna react to the website yeah ATS this is right in their wheelhouse so we appreciate those folks tuning in and we could we can track where people are finding us from and a lot of people are finding us from above top secret so thank you yes and once again I'll second that because that's been great but it's it's been interesting to see the responses to and I've done through and I've responded to to a lot of the comments on Facebook that we're getting from people and it is generally speaking it is Wow we're glad to see this stuff that it lives to be seen another day by some people around the world and they want more of it it's there it's sort of an insatiable potata people have for this journalistically vetted material not crazy stuff wagons journalistically vetted material about the supernatural and paranormal well we started with we kicked it off with ufos the best evidence the 30th anniversary of that series that sort of got klas and me and matt and all of us involved in the UFO topic by the time that were airing this that series is all posted up on the website all the parts and it covered ufos basically from soup to nuts but it was just the beginning for us and in addition to that that multi-part series we've got these long-form interviews Tom DeLonge Lou Elizondo unedited you know we break them up into pieces but we're not cutting anything out which is not a normal thing for news organizations to do you know weed guard that footage with our lives and nobody ever sees what is not sliced into a an on-air package but that's what's up on the site well to get to the genesis of all this how did it all get to start it I mean we know how it all started you know video wise the stories we've seen but behind the scenes how did it all get started well I think generally we get either the credit for or blame for putting area 51 on the map that series that started thirty years ago this month and people think it's because of the allegations made by Bob Lazar the wild claims actually it's another Bob that really started the ball rolling Bob SNOTEL Robert snow doll in my mind is the most important about a journalist since Mark Twain he was a news director at channel 8 for about 30 years he set the standard he was the gold standard he was the example for all the other news organizations in town not only broadcast but print as well we were led the way he he pioneered cameras in the courtroom and a million other things we did the first live broadcasts you know he set the set the mark pretty high when I was first hired here in 1981 Bob snow Dahl was already on the area 51 story he'd been collecting bits and pieces of information he had some run-ins with some intelligence agencies because of the reporting that he and Ned day did so I thought if we're looking back at the beginning of klas coverage of area 51 and the UFO topic we had to talk to Bob so we did this interview with him a little bit ago and he helped sort of trace the genesis of where this all began and this was around the was it the Bob Lazar what I get the reaction that he had to the Bob Lazar interview and we played that in the first podcast so go back and listen to the first podcast and that will put everything in context that was the original Bob Lazar may 15th may be a ranking may 1989 so a little more than thirty years ago when he came on air disguised as Dennis and told about this nine spacecraft that he had seen that he believed were of alien origin certainly nothing to we believe he'd ever seen or we'd ever had and and I'm gonna be interested in hearing what what stowed all Bob so because I know Bob well is what not as well as you do but have known him for years as well and what his reaction was to that but this interview so this is one you've done it's more recent women just a couple of weeks ago Matt and I went over to see Bob and we went through the whole story of his interest in area 51 how it began some trouble and he and netday got into before I was even here which is you know dawn of time stuff and and how how this evolved how our coverage of area 51 Bob Lazar has for that whole story how it evolved what hoops we had to jump through before we ever put it on the air so this trace is all it back back to the beginning if you will of when all this started so let's go here's Bob Stowe tall news director at channel 8 at the time certainly and and now retired but just his work and everything he's done so let's go ahead and listen for this interview George interviewing Bob stowed all so your interest in area 51 started how far back area 51

I was thinking about this when you call but the interest was in the Nevada Test Site it wasn't in area 51 as far as I knew at that point it was just an amount of test site those were the days in the in the 70s that the idea of detonating atomic bomb was underground at the Nevada Test Site were passe I didn't think so and and I felt for a couple of reasons one get thousands of workers of the Nevada Test Site and one they detonated an underground explosion that was a significant event for them so I wanted to be report is not very on page 16 in the newspaper or in the third or fourth section in our newscast so I kept pushing those up and up into the first section we did a lot of reporting on that of a necessity

I say you mean in that it's not as spectacular as above-ground not not only yeah it was it would be the hundred and twelve announced atomic detonation went off this afternoon or three o'clock and that would be the news release from at that point the Atomic Energy Commission or her or the Department of Energy and so the the media we just sort of got used to those things and what another underground test well it was an atomic bomb I mean there was a detonation of an atomic bomb 65 or 80 miles from Las Vegas

interest in that and therefore I felt it was news so we became channel 8 became the story for the Nevada Test Site and and in some ways we became the story for what was going on in in the desert around the Nevada Test Site and there would be the occasional plane crash and so we would we would report that then after a while as my little file started to filled up I started to see some some different names that were being used by the different agencies of the Air Force or the or or in this case actually the releases were not coming out of the a test site they were coming out of from different different agencies sometimes it would come out of Nellis Air Force Base regarding a plane crash that was not a plane from Nellis Air Force Base and so just kept being little bits of pieces of information that started out up that something else was what's going on and then I got a hold of a magazine that started subscribing to it called Aviation Week and space technology which I later learned was was called within the trades Aviation Week and space technology and and there were stories from the different companies that were building airplanes and other elements of aeronautical iment and you would find these little one-line pieces of information a connected to Nevada and then then I started to have a file on on u2's and sr-71 specific claims that were at different times you this is for weather reconnaissance and and then occasionally it was just reconnaissance and in those stories where the references to Nevada or you had a suspicion that they are and sometimes there would be one there would be one line but more often or not it was about the aircraft and some new development within the aircraft that was tested in Nevada not not a lot of detail but every now and then there would be one more piece of information so as we were reporting these stories we had all these little bits and pieces of information that we could add to the story that made it a local a local story and then you've found the jerry francis powers and his book and in that he goes into detail about what took place at a place called Watertown or the ranch so now we now he had a location and then I found a brochure a booklet that was produced for the

the visit of John Kennedy when he came here in the very early 60s and on the back of that was a map of the test site plus a little square in the northwest corner that said area 51 so now we had a map we had the names and we could put these including when there was a story about a new development of an aircraft or something we could address that and and have a map and have stock footage of the u2 and so forth so it became our story at you know lady was it anybody else covered no it was it wasn't it was I mean if there was a plane crash certainly the the the other the other media but it would be well you you know you we wouldn't have access to the site that it would be out in the middle of central Nevada or the plane one town so with no video there was the get get that much coverage on the other hand we had some other stuff that we could add to the story that gave it a little bit of energy that gave it a little bit of life context yeah yeah so I remember the when I was there and my first year or so working there you had a little file an area 51 5 and it wasn't very thick no nope there was well there was there was that file but then there was also a secondary file that I kept though the articles I flipped out of the magazine or the or the newspapers as a matter of fact at one point during this process we had a visit at the channel 8 by a guy that identified himself with being from Naval Intelligence and they wanted to talk to me and of course I said I said yeah he came back to my office and point blank I asked for his identification he showed me the damn occasions of I was business card identified who he was and he said what was known all these story for what's the source of your information I said well normally don't do this but I want to tell you the source of my information and open the file cabinet behind me and pulled out our file which was all newspaper clippings magazine clippings highlighted and a little post-it notes on it I said that's a scary power book yeah and in his book and and he looked at it he had a smile and we had a brief conversation he wasn't in uniform he was just business suit and I was the end of that and left him and the back when I wanted to say oh I've got something I have got something great I have this business card that says Naval Intelligence back no obvious it was gone well that's significance of that that the fact that who he worked for it becomes important later many years later well I mean a lot of the pieces of bits and pieces as you as you we're also we're dealing with organized crime in the mob at the same time so we we were doing with lots of stories about a test site area 51 organized crime was where we were putting a lot of our energy and and so in some ways these were silos so he got a visit from Naval Intelligence okay well we're gonna get a visit from organized crime figure the next day and so yes but I thought it was interesting I try to figure out when did he take his business card back and I I might narrow down to the fact is when I turned around the why file cabinet went through and pulled that out he wants to take in this card and put it back in his pocket he wasn't there then you know there's no event have cameras in the TV station but it was a visit nice guy does that pique your interest though holy cow this guy just came here to ask me how I'm getting information about area 51 it does but I have to say at that moment somebody else would come in with another story and you would you would focus on that it was during that whole period of time we had the Hilton Hotel fires MGM fires organized crimes and after getting a gaming license there were just lots of important news that was going on in our community that when there would be something going on that would put pop in the news we would have the file and the backup to be able to develop that story and and the story kept kept developing it was just waiting for somebody to be hired at channel 8 that would take over that being a full-time you know looking back so it wasn't until many years later after you and I had done the stories about Lazar and area 51 that I realized that there had been a release about the creation of a facility there that in 1955 they sent out a release to the RJ the son and channel 8 and maybe a couple of radio stations yeah we're gonna build this facility out there it's a weather weather monitoring station not going to be there very long just a temporary deal but the I guess they wanted to cover their bases well you know a test site had been had been open for about four years it was becoming a little bit more public in a sense atmospheric tests are being shown live on television Walter Cronkite was out here and and there was even when you look back at some of the news release to put off by the Atomic Energy Commission there is interesting the amount of information they were releasing at that point and so it does it doesn't surprise me I'm not sure that at that point maybe in 1955 when that release came out maybe in fact that was going to be a weather station and

and the developments what what took place in a very short period of time although Gary Frances Powers is about that same time life I'm not yeah they picked that location because of the dry lake bed and a landing strip of what it could become for you too yeah that's what they had said fast forwarding a little bit net days working at the station right well I'm not sure if he did this story before he came to channel 8 or during the same time he was at both the paper and gentle 8 or not but he wrote a story about the stealth fighter and I don't know what your involvement of it with that was but basically you guys broke that story about the stealth fighter what we now know is the f-117 as some plane that was invisible to radar being tested out there no Nevada desert I can tell you that was Ned story background our little file on on on other things that were going on help flush out the story for a net but that was was 98 percent Ned's story and I remember where he told me that he had it and it was out of social function and that we may get a visit that I may get a visit from somebody asking to that hold the story and that's why he was alerting me that this is he'd been working on this it wasn't

I don't know Ned Ned sorta that it wasn't it wasn't important he had you and sitting down with him then the next day or probably two days later he had the details and and they were deep they were it was we had nobody in town had heard this before and didn't know what he was talking about to some degree exactly till he went over it and it was a big story I mean we went with it it was a channel 8 but then we moved on to other stuff I mean that's the nature of the beast that was in Las Vegas at those times and and that was a slight aberration focus wise for for de who was more involved in organized crime and and other community expose the military self bombers those kind of that's kinda or the Interceptor I think it was that was a little off his normal beat but he had it he had it male and he I mean it went national yeah I think the story he told me was that he got picked up by the FBI that he got hauled in and seen right out of a movie put under a bright spotlight and they were pestering him peppering him with questions about where he got this information I don't know if you remember this or not but he says there don't you know that you've put the lives of 200 million Americans in danger by revealing this now the Russians know about this stuff and he was kind of sweating it and eventually it occurred to him a lesson from a journalism class regarding the Bay of Pigs and an example of the Bay of Pigs yes and he says to the FBI look if you thought us you had a secret I did you a favor because of me a little reporter based in Las Vegas if I can get it then certainly the Russians can get it all those words did you just just refresh those are those were part of a conversation that we had not as far as him under the spotlight of the you know of the FBI I don't I don't maybe that was hyperbole I I would say that based on the conversation that that I had with Ned he had a conversation with what somebody and law enforcement and that I was going to get a call asking to

to hold the story so did you know we wanted I mean we could go with it right away I need to understand a little bit more of the story and we did a little more check-in and it turns out there there's a there's a lot of innovation out there you just need to go and go like Aviation Week and space technology that was just filled with information all the time that I thought would be secret or top secret or classified and so he was able to produce some material that wasn't specifically saying that this occurred what boy did it did a box in the story so he would you you guys would pull at different threads stuff that's out there but needed to be collated yes

plus a few plus that also had some solid sources I mean some some sources that trusted him on two levels one was that he wouldn't reveal the source well one of his sources has come forward and admitted being a source and and net acknowledged it it was John Lear ok John Lear was part of this group that would go out at Tonopah and and in in Lincoln County and around room Lake and with binoculars and and cameras and lenses and look for whatever it was it was flying around and I know that some information came from Lear do you remember that no John said John has said it publicly yeah ok ok

I didn't ask Ned who his source was he just said this is this is where now I have to tell you I didn't know John Lear for safe

I knew that the Lear name and and somehow that was enough credible or added credibility to what to what to what to what John was saying what Lear was was helpful in that story yeah well he flew for the CIA

he knew all kinds of people in aviation in aerospace and he had good sources himself and he spent a lot of time out there sitting in the desert looking for it well and and he also knew what to read where where the sources of information was and then how to interpret I mean he and I could read the same article and clearly get different perspectives out of different information out of that same article and then it was the same thing with with with organized crime we could all read a piece of information an injunction or a rid of some sort and the attorney would see one thing and you know a journalist may see another thing and so it's it's it's that knowledge that expertise that he brought to the table that helped did you ever go out to groom Lake yourself did you ever send a team out there and see how see if you can get close to its even get some pictures do you remember no not a boy well in the mid mid mid eighties there the the US Air Force seized eighty nine thousand acres of land around Rome Lake they took it one day it's public land the next day it's there's guys there with with the rifles and machine guns and guarding it and it's no longer public and then it went to Congress and they asked for permission to do what they'd already done there were some coverage then let me backtrack then the answer is is yes but to say that we went to room lake we went we went up as far as as as the Tonopah and and felt that we were on the edge when we would get to some of the sort of bob wire fence that said top secret don't go in here and

no yeah no no open no and and just but but to say that we went all the way around to the north northern tip of the Americas one tried to come down we did we didn't do that but I'm thinking that we also we also want our Piranha get the road Alamo and high Cohen in that area yeah so you know it's if you have a base that's secret but you know it's there or that you're gonna get curious about that and you know for awhile we you know years later go back through do II and AEC files you have maps of the test site and there's area 51 and it says 51 in that box and then in the 70s it disappeared that's gone you know you're naturally going to be curious about that you're curious about the the Nevada Test Site from the very beginning 1951 because it's where they're blowing a detonating atomic bomb and mushroom cloud on the end of World War two and the Cold War and so you're looking through your news coverage through that sort of perspective and so you you you're curious and then as journalists you're always curious about something a secret a what why is it secret and then as you're feeling about why is it secret you start finding other other other bits and pieces but but area 51 I'm trying to think one it was a long while before we actually used the designation area 51 we were referring to to so whatever was in the reference material that we were using whether Watertown of the day or the ranch but there was a point we knew about it before the map and then we realized the map had come out in 1961 I think when Kennedy was here and we're talking about it a decades later that we have just discovered the map that was already a decade old what other maps of the Nevada Test Site didn't include did you ever get a hint because of that map and where you first saw it that Kennedy visited area 51 did you ever have that suspicion during that trip no the thing that sticks in my mind is his atomic faux pas and and up until that point when the Atomic Energy Commission Ward announced they're gonna have a Nevada Test Site it would be the hundred and forty seventh announced test and so when he arrived there were X number of announced tests when he left he accidentally said and added an additional two hundred or a significant number that and so they had to scramble because some of the smaller tests and some other tests were not announced but he that's all and so that was but as far as whether or not he would have gone all the way north to that northeast corner they had a helicopter on that trip out there

Ralph Lam was with him a helicopter and they were gone for like an hour hour and a half 61 I think he I I don't know I think he it may have been intrigued with with with going out there but I he was I think was interested in the know a rover program was faced flight with with with reactors so so that's where I guess that's why the work on the the rover project and so in addition to all the the reasons for covering them out of test site of a dad worked out there although never gave me one slight I wouldn't even bring the conversation up because he would you tried did you try it somewhat or you've got a signal no don't ask about this I never done no never asked

I mean and he never volunteered no no it just was it was no could you gain access to the test site could you send reporters the test site in those days I guess the above-ground tests they had journalists out there right the underground tests did you have access to it at those days on an irregular basis but they would invite I think I was out there maybe four times for underground test and they would draw national media in as well and and you drive to mercury and then they would you'd be escorted to to the the control center which is just right over the hill which by the way we're trying to save as a historic I remember in the early 80s 81 when I was first there there was a nuke test they'd have a handout and give you a video of the ground shaking and stuff and we did every one of them every one of them made on their newscast everyone it was it was and and and and one of my favorite things was finding some audio of the as the the caverns were were caving in of the test site of the sound that was was and matching that up with what with the video of an explosion but yeah it was it was and occasionally they would they would there would be a mistake they dropped one and we filed Freedom of Information on they actually they were lowering it down and it came off the cable and the atomic the nuke device went to the ground and and stood there for a year they couldn't figure out what to do with it while they grill in or whatever 1987 John Lear comes into my life he had in 86 he'd come to see Ned and he brought to a pile of UFO documents comes into the newsroom plops him down on Ned's desk he says Ned do you need to see this we've worked on other stuff before you need to see this it's your next big story

it's the biggest cover-up in history you need to read this stuff and and then we can talk about it and then look through some of this stuff and says look this this can't be true if this was true I'd already know about it and so he didn't wanted nothing to do with it and I overheard it and I said let me take a look at that stuff and read through it I thought well that's pretty interesting and I had Lear come on on the record little show called on the record that aired on the weekends early in the morning city council people County Commissioners like nobody well yeah well then look when I was doing it I didn't have as interesting a guest as that and I put Lear on and suddenly there's all kinds of people calling and he was that guy what's the deal on that UFO stuff we had him on again a bigger response had him out a third time in 1988 and that's when he hinted that he knew a guy who's about to get hired out at Groom Lake and a facility in the desert and they were working on flying saucers and all of that going all the way back to the first time where came in with with the box of UFO material

Ned was as bright as they come but the scientific side was not was not where his interest was and also he was just immersed in organized crime I mean and that was 24 hours a day seven days a week but fortunately we had somebody that saw the value in it as well and and so Ned came and there was some discussion regarding that regarding you and and and and then we had the Leary interviews on and again and again and the interest of phone calls and let me go in for the the business had on this this was this was good for ratings this was this was a solid story that people had an interest in that nobody was covering in the so-called mainstream media and and we did it I remember all the times we didn't we did it with with him with a sort of a jaundice I you know we we had a question marks ourselves about this at the same time we were still putting the information that was out there and and it just it was an important part of the of the development around the world was started the channel 8 May 15 1989 almost 30 years ago we have a an opening on the five o'clock news hour five minute interview segment our interview bails on us so I reached out to John Lear and said hey at a moment's notice do you think your UFO friend that you told me about would come over and do this interview well he's not gonna show his identity well will black him out we go on the air we send a truck up to Lear's house the skinny bespectacled guy gets in the in the vehicle he does an interview under the pseudonym Dennis and he tells the story about s4 saucers nine saucers in hangars out there at just south of groom Lake do you remember watching that on the air

I remember watching get us on the air and and I remember coupling first of all the capability to do that was it was relatively new to give a village with with a microwave and for us and the idea ability to turn that around that fast and get that up and to do that I think seeing we had a couple hours that wasn't like the last minute but it was it was a couple hours and I do remember saying having to myself okay where are we going where we were on the edge I mean we were on the edge of almost tabloid ish TV almost alien frogs are raping our women kind of a thing what we warned it sounded credible it wasn't too crazy but it was still so yeah I do I remember that I remember I don't remember exactly what he was saying but I remember Dennis and and are we gonna do so a lot of questions what there was I remember you know we didn't know where that interview was gonna go

we just knew this guy had been with lere lere had some credibility with us and had so he had this incredible story of working out there in the desert on this strange technology so we asked him how do you know it's alien or why couldn't we build it and then he kept going on and on and it sounded like he wasn't making enough no but I do remember saying George I need to meet this guy in person I was it LEM Lewis it was a general manager at that time because I remember somebody whoever the GM was came running come back to you and is this for real after that was on the air there was to say they were misgiving I'm not sure I would put them all in 72 point font size but but there were some because we were channel 8 was the well news when we covered stories that other stations other media wouldn't the Gaming Board and and the City Commission of the county case we were a serious journalistic outfit and here we are with a live uncensored interview of somebody saying their alien spacecraft or where we're going with this a phone start raining of hope the phone's the general manager comes running it comes running down with not are you crazy but help me understand what we're doing and I didn't really have too much

well that a couple days later you and I go up the Lear's house to meet him yeah to be Melissa and put him through his paces meet this guy we don't even know what his name is no and he he seemed more credible on the air than that first time I met him in person he just seemed sort of shy and it was hard to pull and pull information I'm not clearly he and leered knew each other better than I know I'm for my first meeting or you know maybe with a couple meeting skinny guy and I didn't leave they're totally reassured I remember a couple of things I'm a jog your memory leer wanted to control the whole process so he wanted us to ask questions through him and he repeats him to Bob Lazar we didn't know the name he says I'm not gonna give you the name but when we walked into Lear's house there's a guest register look good the front desk at the front door and Lazar had signed his name that day so there's his name we walk in then leer says he's not going to tell us his name until later when he determines whether were worthy or not know I've you told me that yeah I didn't see the register you saw the register and and I know I'm not sure you tell me that till afterwards that's like going out the door yes yeah okay so you were not sure I mean we asked him a bunch of questions about his background and when we came out you were not you didn't feel all that good about it or what was the merchants answers it wasn't how we do it was I just wanted to get a my knowledge of UFOs of any of extraterrestrial elements and sort of that much so it wasn't some what's the questions I thought I was interested in his answers I want to see how he answered how confident he was and how articulately he deal with with with with the topic and I think he was nervous I think he was just

Minh CERN later meetings he clearly was a brighter human being than the first time I met and he just really was what was not interning character except eclectic any other award you want to put in front of that he was that and altering remember him he could go off-topic route through easy just thing that he have lots of interest other than that particular that that particular topic we walked out of that meeting and had a conversation who's walking away and I remember us just talking about the possibility what if this is true I mean what if it's true well I know we had that conversation we had that conversation any number of times because we kept going back to that that basic what if this is no is this true

we still had and and so that's different than what if it's true the question is is is this true couple meetings with him some pieces of information so I'm a specific aspects I think the first thing we did was we wanted to get some documentation on who this guy was who Dennis was who this who really was we needed to know whether or not he worked at area 51 other than just his word we had well I have much of anything other than what he said and we're of course was was supporting that we also had an early conversation about well look if we can substantiate this or any part of it

I mean the implications are huge we could make a multi-part series out of it these could be you said these could be five minutes long a night at one point well I think that that was a little bit later on a little bit later on down the line when first of all there was a lot of interest in the interview a lot of public interest what meaning interest there was was sort of these guys that was generally doing what's all that about and and there was there was limited it I think the other stations in town were laughing at us we continue to do the story we continue to add bits and pieces of facts and and so we we there was no that's as it doesn't fit this fits this is a featuring this is the date it matches the date that he said with this so all of a sudden we now have a stack of stuff that is factually is factually backed up some limited confirmation that he worked at at area 51 just the fact that we even have limited information that he worked at area 51 was good enough for me because he got any information anybody worked at area 51

there's no turns out there was a phone book but there is there was no phone with that here's the employees area 51 his ways what they do well we had there was bits and pieces that were that were not and occasionally we'd run into overeat we want to say we I'm really referring to you we'd run into a roadblock to where doesn't quite check out and so there were still questions still questions still question but then there was this whole body of evidence of documentation of interest that the federal government had done over the years and in all with lingering questions Operation Blue Book how redacted was that to begin with so from May to November you know we got an interview with him on camera not that showed his face but he agreed to do that because he wanted to save his life he was afraid that they were gonna wipe him out that something might happen to him so that was insurance he agreed to do that we were not allowed to broadcast it you can have it but don't air it and for seven and a half months we worked on filling in the blanks and also learning the much bigger sure about UFOs read everything right every government document we read every book we could get our hands on the idea being look we can't go out in the desert and find UFOs but we can follow the paper trail and do what journalists do try to verify what we can about him about the bigger picture was that is there really a cover-up they've been lying to us and it turned out yes well there was the exactly what took place when we went out and when we had a we had a good start in the sense that we already had area 51

place existed and so then the the that was library work was going out and and every now and then you'd find a piece of information that we get out over here and the jigsaw puzzle would start to take place that's something we start taking shape that something in fact was going on at the that's a lot of big pieces of the puzzle were we're missing but this piece even though it's missing well I can see the other pieces around that what what was that what was that could be and I remember him saying backtracking at what you said he did the interview with you was was protection I think what we agreed not to put it on the air what are you crazy what why do we agree to that there were any number of conversations that dead ends things that avenues that that opened up the first time he drew the craft for you remember that I want I wanted him to to to know I know you had plenty of questions and so I and you went found some answers but I still it was it was still knowing at me

on an almond-shaped shake thing with him with someone who additional additional Vika he was hesitant to do it but he did and the fact that he went ahead and did that even though it did show me the the inner workings in and there wasn't some big eyed bug-eyed aliens that he was drawing it was it was enough it was scientific enough in my limited scope that it added to the credibility he agreed to polygraph tests more than one right he took us to Los Alamos which denied that he was there we found him in the phone book we got an ID number for him there was a newspaper article in the front page in Los Alamos paper that says he's a physicist at Los Alamos and it showed him with his rocket car and the premise being if he was allowed to work at that classified stuff in a technical or scientific position of Los Alamos it's at least conceivable he could work out there in the Nevada desert right like those those are the things that that that kept our engine moving forward ok so that fits in again this is a giant puzzle but the pieces kept kept falling into place one more fact goes there this goes there and and and the the story starts having corners and and and developing each one of those little things we can drill down on the Los Alamos story the jet Carson I mean all the other things that that he had an interest in and some challenging things that he was involved with where he was accounting for a lady of the night in fact as we reported all that stuff I will have to say that that all through this both of us I think I'm sure our credibility is it was important in this and we make sure that that as we developed into UFOs we maintained our credibility well we knew as a risk yeah yeah to risk if you don't do it right right and and and I think what I'm looking in the mirror and telling me I think we did it right I think for the for the most part we were able to do it correctly in and and quite frankly gave credibility to the whole us all subject matter that here's a journalist that is using standard traditional journalistic techniques to get to the bottom of story and here's what here's what he has found then taking that and looking back at other stories that have come up through the UFO circle what they were done by not less than credible but by people that were we're not in sort of the mainstream mainstream media so there were other other pieces and so our puzzle people had worked on these stories for years or decades that information came our way and was we were able to plug that into our our piece November rolls around we want to go forward with a story right we talk Lazzara the sitting down and giving us another interview okay more detailed that we can incorporate into a series and the series isn't a week-long series it's a two-week series well collected so much by that the series that it was there was a lot of material and we hadn't been broadcasting a channel eight these bits and pieces at different times and there was a really in need to give some continuity to it to give some a to be the see some chronology somewhat put it in context context and so we decided that we would do do a series but in order to do this we also needed to break some some boundaries and that was the traditional multi-part series would run about two and a half three and a half minutes each night that was the standard advice that news consultants and was used around the country not much longer than two or three maybe four minutes well our decision was was to break that to us to break that mold and and the stories that that you wrote and produced that we broadcast were six minutes or seven less or nine minutes or twelve or fourteen minutes and what occurred was the community in Las Vegas wanted to hear the story they wanted to see the story and they tuned in night after night after night while there was six minutes or fourteen minutes so by Thursday of that week I think I asked you having more and you said there's a lot there's a lot more so I think that that story went on we may have lost a bit of the chronology that we had in the first five parts but there were big hunks of the story that would stand alone and that that's what occurred the next week and I think the stories of the following week because of the of you had to say bring the audience along and and you couldn't just do that with a one-liner it had to be a paragraph or two it had to be oh now and if now I get okay and so the audience just liked that type of journalism lately they wanted information on the topic and so those stories ran 10 12 minutes before for the rest of the weekend and there wasn't any drop-off in the viewers interest yeah there was a buzz yeah I almost buzzing yeah I know we transition to when you came down to Nashville to take a look at topic in in the south and we get a multi-part series that week and was also the same interest in the in the community that within a couple of months the other television stations in town decided that the UFO topic was not taboo to them and they bet they ventured into that but it's it's for me the the interest of of the viewers in Las Vegas and and I'm assuming we've just based on other other services and people around the world and in the topic that in itself is where they have another five-part series to understand that need and an interest and and as we before you understand that that my generation watched a Flash Gordon talking to his watcher Dick Tracy talking to his watch and and and now we can now we do that the same thing was going on with with with the UFO rather than this myth mythology tabloid the stuff a real journalist is looking at this topic and I'm comfortable now this is good information you know that that first series was success for us as a TV station viewership and then a two-hour special was a success we didn't follow up series in February of 1990 also a success got nothing but grief from our media brethren our colleagues and and in Las Vegas and elsewhere but public couldn't get enough of it and it it started to stampede it to area 51 by the world's media it buses went out there tourists went out there aviation buffs out there it's never stopped and here 30 years later it's it's still it's in movies and books and television show and on t-shirts and ashtrays the the little alien the Rachel Bar and Grille becomes the little alien the extraterrestrial highway is dedicated by the state of Nevada the Las Vegas 51s baseball team we just came from a stamp sandwich shop Matt and I were they were serving the area 51 sandwich we should we should have had a piece all of that Bob well it goes the I this is a worldwide phenomenon and and I can't think of another you have other places around the world that are interesting Great Wall of China the Eiffel Tower the Notre Dame different places this is a patch of land out in the middle of the Nevada desert in central Nevada desert but it goes back not to that spot but people want to get close to this topic they want to get it they want to feel UFOs they want to feel what it is as much as they can touch in to be there in and maybe that maybe they'll see something as the heart of of UFOs it doesn't surprise me you know one Sun sense the entertainment history whether it's Independence Day or the History Channel would get into these topics but it's it's more of the public's interest more the public just can't seem to get enough of it what they're looking for is facts as much as there's enough mythology in UFO land

mainstream media tend to dismiss it still and make fun of it and not give it fair coverage December of 2017 the New York Times covers it holy cow there really has been secret UFO studies the Pentagon has been doing digging into this stuff there now there are indications that there really are material from somewhere else stashed in in hangars somewhere that are being analyzed and it feels like we're on the cusp of a new understanding of this but suddenly it's respectable thirty years later to report on it and discuss it well I as I said as I meant the idea that we approach this topic with traditional journalistic guidelines of devil checking of two sources of making sure that that we had the best evidence it has taken a while but it started at channel 8 and now it has moved to the new york times to say thirty thirty years later but it traveled around the world well before the new york times it's amazing how far it went and how well that story is known and in its place and cultural history and people in Africa and Australia in Europe and South America know about area 51 somebody wants to uh give me a credit card great also my student loan I can get a free shoes oh yeah just amazing how big it became ah thank you um you know I think when that first five part series when the first five part series you did we were getting enough solid local reaction to continue with this story but but also it was the fact that there were still a lot of unanswered questions that were bugging us that we needed we needed to answer so and those those two things that were going and then when one of the five-part series the reaction to that nine part nine fight nine parts multi minute has it I still I still I think we've all I still had questions about about this topic because as we do the research in it you find so much garbage so much - on choir crap that that's out there but I will take even amongst some of the some of the the garbage reporting there would be one little piece of information now there may have been a nugget there may be something in there that you could you can add to this the through that well yeah

it's daunting to separate wheat from chaff in this field it's it draws profit ears and crazy people and and people with wild imaginations like nothing else well and it's also I think though that within there were already people within the UFO research industry cottage industry that were more credible but they just couldn't they couldn't be heard they didn't have the resources and and so when when we came along it helped them with with with their stories I'm sure that you were approached at any enter and every time that met any number of these people that have been trying to sell this story that weren't the crazies that weren't a profiteer they were regular human beings that have been doing a lot of work and and we're solid were solid people but just as much as they wave their hands they couldn't be heard and I think that you gave voice to those people we you may not have interviewed them but the fact is what somebody would else would look at their research oh well here's another factor that you know I think can't be ignored you hate to mention it but it was fun that's not fun for work you know it's not really work it was funding and into that well I don't want to say covering organized crime was fun but what if if we included in the word fun exciting and fulfilling

I mean covering organized crime covering UFOs fun would be award but it simply we need a bigger word than that it was fulfilling in a lot of ways that we're opening or covering ground that should be covered and nobody else is covering as a matter of fact people laugh at this organized crime oh no that's that's real serious and and kudos for covering organized crime while you guys are really tough on that but UFOs in some ways took more courage to cover that because the rest of a lot of them in the media would would laugh at you yeah but but it was it was exciting fulfilling you you look back and you say there was that was time wealth right now there may be some other things may not been well that but but what time doing that was well spent okay so there we go Bob stowed all good chance to hear that voice of love the voice you also mentioned that day in there at the at the start of that certainly and I know where where Ned fits in this whole thing too is is phenomenal in the work that he did MA briefly we mainly think of him as a great mob the great mob reporter here in this city and then also was a great friend of yours and also somebody who I didn't know Ned had had a big interest as well in area 51 and those sort of things well sort of accidental his interest in was in secrets and somebody came along John Lear as we've heard with a secret about a plane that was flying around out there and that about a desert that was essentially invisible to radar Ned had broken that story I remember I used to teach a journalism class at UNLV and Ned would come once a year in lecture to it and he would always tell the story about how he got picked up by the FBI after he broke the story of the f-117 he didn't know it was called that he just knows a stealth plane of some sort the FBI picks him off the street takes him into a dark room puts bright lights in his face start lecturing and pointing their fingers at him say and don't you know what you've done you've endangered those security of 220 million Americans by revealing this secret now the Russians know about this and it's kind of sweating bullets for a while then he realized something he remembered from his journalism classes about a similar case where the New York Times sat on a story about the Bay of Pigs they thought they were doing the government of big favor turns out the Cubans had found out that the Bay of Pigs was a invasion was about to happen they slaughtered the people came on the beaches secrecy on the part of the press in that case self-censorship didn't work so that's what he told the FBI when they had pulled him in about the f-117 story said look I'm a I'm a street scuff ler in Las Vegas I work for a little newspaper in North Las Vegas and for Channel eight and if I can find out this secret that you didn't have a secret and if I can find it out the Russians can find it out so I did you a favor and they let him go and that was Ned Ned and Bob were great friends they were also competitors it was a great time to be a newsman in Las Vegas and a journalist in Las Vegas and they were really great examples for all of us they set a very high bar on this story

Ned getting an interest in the plane that was out there through his association with John Lear getting to meet Lear of course Bob wanted to one-up that so he got his own information about area 51 and I think we're gonna hear a story later about a visit he had from the Office of Naval Intelligence which that becomes interesting later when we learned the story of Bob Lazar because as Laura said he worked for naval intelligence out there at area 51 you're wondering what's the Navy doing in the desert but that was the story he told you no we we put these reports out news reports these days about UFOs area 51 government secrets wild stuff cattle mutilations and because of the advent of citizen journalism the idea that anybody who has a keyboard is a journalist everybody has a podcast everybody has their own website everybody thinks they're Woodward and Bernstein and they equate what we do on the air with what appears on computer screens and it's not the same

I applaud citizen journalism I'm glad there are people out there that want to have a voice in things but the standards of what we do are different from what is done for people who want to express their opinions online and the stories that we put on the air here under a micromanager and an editor like Bob snowed all what we went through them you know wasn't easy to get that stuff on the air with the exception of that first dentist interview in case Bob goes what the hell was that you know which of course you know was a live interview we didn't know what he was gonna say we didn't have a chance to vet him but part two of the interview with bob is going to be the process that we went through after that the months that we spent working on what became UFOs the best evidence and the difficulties we ran into and trying to verify parts of bob lazar background and there's also a part two of ufos the best evidence with a question mark and that was done in February of 1990 that's coming up on the web site by the way so if so I'll make the point now if you've enjoyed part one and have seen the eight parts of that and I enjoyed putting it together I enjoyed what I'll say this and I enjoyed watching it when I worked at a TV station across the street and saw it and knew of its impact and would hear people talk about what effect it was having on the ratings that was one of the things they were concerned about but I was looking at the material going to Wow hold on a second now what and and I remember talking again when I worked for the competition at the time as a sports guy there and there was nobody nobody at our station that could have ever done something like that and nobody who and nobody I will say in the journalistic world that can do what you've been able to do but part of that was you having free analyst a free rein cuz that's not the way it wasn't free rein but at least you had you had people like Bob stone all who trusted you to be journalist journalistically sound with these stories and to approach them from that point of view that doesn't always happen in newsrooms oh no that doesn't always happen as we all know doesn't always happen yeah it's amazing you know it started with Bob and it's continued to the present day that they've trusted Matt and I to do the right thing to do our jobs and be careful with what we put on the air so we're you know we weigh it we evaluate it we try to get verification and confirmation and if we can't then we don't put it on well characterized it as such so so I don't think we're gonna have the days of 15-minute news stories anymore that era is probably gone so the freedom we had back then is something that's I don't think is gonna happen again it's a different world but we still have a great deal of freedom to pursue stories that interest us and that doesn't happen in every newsroom around the city or around the country and now we have mystery wire four 15-minute stories that's true there they live there yeah and the February so anticipating that that's going to be coming out in February of next year that will be the 30-year anniversary of your second series that was done on this and looking forward to but I've seen the story so I know what they are and looking forward to seeing those and I know you will be too that are listening to this podcast that you look forward to that but there's there's also new stories coming out there this is not okay as we look at the past and that's important but there's stuff coming out each and every day that we will talk about in this podcast that we will have on mystery wire that you will have in newscast broadcasts there's still stuff happening that this seems to be a time if you will is zenith in the UFO industry industry if you even call it that but mainly because of what the US military is unleashing yeah I mean 30 years ago 1989 our baptism of fire that was really exciting for us as journalists the only thing is close to that is what's going on now

I never thought I would live to see it in my lifetime I've been through this wringer many times over the last three decades

yeah disclosure is right around the corner yeah the government's gonna spill the secrets we're finally going to learn what's going on and it's never really happened it's never come close well it's coming close now there's some really interesting stuff that's already been made public and I can tell you that there's more coming do we know and I ask I'll ask you a question in effect yeah the question I asked TD Barnes was in here earlier whose area 51 worked out there CIA wait was the CIA supposed to be a voluntary wait a minute they they had yeah they were part of area 51 even though they weren't supposed to be back then they work outside the country not inside the country but anyway in

Christene point there but TD Barnes I said what do you think is going on at at area 51 today what are they doing out there I ask you the same question what do you think do you have any guests any idea they have to be more secret because their people have better technology to try to find you got Google Maps you got all sorts of things to be able to try to find out what's going on there you think well a couple things you know that we evaluate foreign technology and we test our best against their best how they acquire some of the things they've acquired over the years that's that's a story all by itself a lot of skullduggery trickery bribery all kinds of means but we generally get their stuff and then we match it up against ours I know that a lot of in technology has been developed along the lines of drones I had heard this is some years ago about a plane that's invisible not invisible to radar but actually invisible oh as well as fighter planes that don't have pilots you know it's not just drones that spy on things or drones that can fire missiles but planes that can actually be combat planes that don't have pilots and then you know they've heard about these insect size drones that they've been developing for a while out there and you know all kinds of different monkey business that keep us all safe and to what extent whether it was testing or development the stealth helicopters used in the sama bin Laden raid were somehow had a connection to area 51 right you just heard a story that came out and won a national publication about the night stalkers that's a unit that they are the guys this special ops guys who flies special ops guys on on you on raids like the bin Laden raid like the the ISIS leader raid okay so like they had then Soviet MiG's out there famously they man they had them out there and test flew them they had US pilots flying the Soviet aircraft to see their capabilities you're saying that sort of stuff is still happening out there with however that however they get them they get them of different different materials capabilities of other nations and test them tear them apart fly them go through whatever they have - yeah and then you you'll remember the f-117 supposedly was retired Matt and I were out there on the day that they closed the hangar doors at area 52 at Tonopah test range they folded up their wings and put them all in a warehouse that's it they're not there anymore well that's not true there's flying around out there we've talked to people who have seen them and the question is what are they doing and the expectation is that there's something else has been put on them to see how it is it reacts to different radars and sensors that we have whether we can detect

whether anti-technology measures work against whatever the bad guys have fun all right no it sounds it so you're going to learn more stuff here certainly with the podcast on mystery we're go to mystery.wire.com to get the latest and the greatest and like I said sign up for all the social media stuff so we can keep in touch with you we'll be put in this podcast on air as well on YouTube we'll be putting that up and on Facebook and on our page so you'll be able to hear it and see it as well so that should be that should be finally get to see Bob stow it all that interview so well thanks for listening everybody for George Knapp Matt Adams

okay thanks for listening everybody bye for now we will be back next week with another podcast thanks for checking out mr. wire bye for now everybody

8 News Now — Las Vegas

hello and welcome to on the record flying saucers extraterrestrials monsters from outer space the government has been telling us for years that they're not real they're weather balloons or swamp gas or reflections from the Sun or the ravings of lunatics but serious UFO researchers say a breakthrough may be very close some of the government scientists who worked on the top-secret project Bluebook are ready to talk what's more a series of revealing government documents have trickled out of the federal files documents that paint a much different picture of the UFO phenomenon one of the most dedicated UFO researchers lives right here in Las Vegas his name is John Lear and he is my guest today mr. leer thanks for being here okay George to begin with you're a pilot an airline pilot captain you have held 17 different world speed records at one time or another you're a member of the famous Lear family that all Nevadans pretty much familiar with a former state Senate candidate you don't sound like the kind of guy who would get hooked up in something that a lot of people would say is a bunch of nonsense no it's just by coincidence that I got really interested this about two years ago my father saw a UFO and my brother did yeah they were very interested but there was really no proof as far as I was concerned to really look into it and about until about two years ago your father and brother saw them can you give details my brother saw one he was flying a p38 from Phoenix to Los Angeles at night it just appeared in front of him he made two turns 90-degree turns it stayed in front of him and then disappeared and my father was fine flying at night I believe over the Arizona desert and saw one too so he started you got an interest because of the other members of your family how did you start out I had an interest but there was really nothing I could put my finger on and like I say two years ago friend of mine came through town we had flown into Southeast Asia together and he was retiring from the Air Force he came over and we started talking about where he had been for the last 15 years and he mentioned that he had been stationed at Bentwaters and I said oh Bentwaters that's where the flying saucer supposedly was in 1980

didn't see it because we were confined to quarters but I know people who did and I'll give you the names and if you ever see them tell them you know me and they'll tell you the whole story since then I ran into one of the security police who was within ten feet of the saucer and actually saw the three aliens get out and go up to General Gordon Williams who was the Wing Commander at that time now there was quite a bit of documentation regarding this bent wanna read Siddhant why don't you go into that a little bit there's the Colonel halt memo that would come out under the Freedom of Information Act and it told about the mysterious lights and beaming down and everything that happened in the forest except the actual aiding and landings that wasn't in the memo and there was also the tape Colonel Hall tape forest tape that he made over a period of eight hours and there's a 20-minute segment that we've been able to get ahold of that you can hear him running through the forest and being worried saying that things after us now why do you suppose that hasn't come out I mean this particular incident why hasn't come out of so many people and you've told me about this before I've seen it or seen these aliens why haven't some of them come forward a lot of them have come forward but they're just not getting any press it's something that people just don't want to deal with the press doesn't want to deal with and people aren't going to listen to something unless Dan Rather or any of your big press people are going to tell him about it and they're just too spooked the Air Force has made an art form of ridiculing people who have talked about this thing they've done an excellent job of covering it up for the last 40 years

George basically what we're dealing with here is I'll give you the bottom line okay I just Ellen

I want to hear your thesis I'm just trying to sell a book and then trying to promote a lecture this is based on what I've come across after intense research in the last year and I have found out that the government has retrieved between ten and fifteen flagyl flying saucers three of which been in perfect condition one of which they tried to fly they have between 30 and 50 alien bodies in cryogenic storage we even have the name of the person whose job it is to show these bodies to the heads of state and the people who are authorized to see them they represent at least five different civilizations I can't imagine a Dan Rather or Tom Brokaw if that were to come to their attention a story of that magnitude that they wouldn't do something with it well I can't I can't answer that question I don't I don't know why they don't do it there certainly is enough evidence based on what I've looked at for instance the Linda Moulton Howe documentary in four in Denver for the CBS affiliate they are called a strange harvest since 1975 to 1980 when she made the documentary there's at least 9,000 cattle mutilations now the government said that the mutilations were normally at the your desert predator did these but they weren't the mutilations they think we have a picture of these somewhere well maybe we can see that as you're talking well that's the next picture there we are this is a mutilation New Mexico State Police did the research or the investigation on it and they cut out certain parts where they in the cut was made where the laser being far sharper than anything we have as a matter of fact they were able to determine that they cut between the cells and didn't cut the cells themselves we presently don't have this kind of technology well if we don't know that we have this kind of technology or you and I don't know that we don't but that doesn't prove necessarily that it's not except that there's usually a visual sighting of a flying saucer or a light a strange light at each one of these sightings okay you mentioned the saucers and the bodies now what kind of proof do you have that that that is true how do you know that well let me take a look let me read to your first day what the Air Force says about the about the bodies first of all I'm gonna read from the introductory Space Science Vol to Department of Physics United States Air Force this is chapter 13 unidentified flying objects now this is what the Air Force has

students at the Air Force Academy read and it says the most commonly described alien is about three and a half feet tall has a round head arms reaching to below his knees and is wearing a silvery spacesuit or coveralls other aliens appear to be essentially the same as Earth men while still others have particularly wide wraparound eyes and mouths with very thin lips and there was a rare group reported to be about 4 feet tall weight of around 35 pounds and covered with thick hair for clothing members of this last group are described as being extremely strong now I'm not making this up this is an airflow you can pick out an Air Force physics book and read this stuff and at the end of the chapter they go on to say this leads us to believe in the unpleasant possibility of alien visitors to our planet released of alien controlled UFOs now the picture that we have of the of the big head that the Air Force describes this picture was drawn by an Army Surgeon these are one of the bodies that was recovered in the famous Roswell incident of 1947 tell us about that it was the first flying saucer that crashed and was recovered by the army it was covered up there has been several books about it they recovered four beams and one of the surgeons that was responsible for the autopsy drew that picture and and came up with some of these interesting things in the autopsy I'll just read a couple like three and a half to four and a half feet tall two round eyes without pupils no earlobes noses vague neck described as being thin arms is described long and thin reaching down to the knee section you can see that there was a web portion in the hands no teeth no apparent we've reproductive organs brain is capacity unknown colorless liquid prevalent in the body without red cells no lymphocytes and there's more in that particularly this is an autopsy report and he said the government goes to great lengths the Air Force in particular to discredit this kind of stuff where did this come from how did you get that came in a private but came from the private collection of Leonard Stringfield who was one the premier researchers he worked for the Air Force in the early 50s in a secret project reporting UFOs then as a civilian he continued his private research and this is out of his collection why does the government want to hide this why doesn't the Air Force just come forward what isn't you know why don't they level with us if this is all true well there's not really much they could say based on what I've been able to find out George they're really you know what what could they say about it they've been researching it for many many years and based on my information let's say that the president decided to make an announcement this is if he made it today this is what I think that he would say my fellow Americans I come to you before you tonight with an announcement of great importance despite all our denials flying saucers do in fact exist where they come from we do not know who was in them we do not know where they are from we do not know nor do we know how they got here or what they want we are an MBO unable to duplicate any of the medals found on the several craft we have recovered nor are we able to figure out how they are propelled we have hidden these facts from you over the past 40 years in hopes that we give you could give you more answers unfortunately we are no closer to answers today than we were 40 years ago god bless you all in other words you find it highly unlikely that the president would ever make a statement anything like that no it's just it's too big if they're the master the problem is not only just the fact that there are five to five and as many as ten different civilizations visiting us apparently and this is from the research that I've done at least 90% of them are hostile and when I say hostile if not hostile they have a completely different set of morals than than we do okay I'll tell you what we're gonna come back to the President and aliens because there have been some statements made by presidents including President Reagan we'll be right back welcome back UFOs are they real we're talking with John Lear on the subject mr. Lehrer mentioned a couple of minutes ago about what the president might say about UFOs do you believe that various presidents have been informed about what you believe to be the truth on UFOs each president has been informed up to an including President Reagan I'm not sure to the extent they are informed privately I don't believe they are giving the the full briefing the people that control this information is a organization that we know of as mj-12 and their top group of military and scientists and I do know that when the President becomes president it takes at least three or four months before he is actually gets the clearance to know everything there is and that doesn't mean they tell him but it does take three or four months together now talking the president let's talk about what the president has actually said has he mentioned anything about aliens President Reagan President Reagan on December 4th 1985 this is a copy of the speech from the White House just before he went over to Iceland he says I couldn't but one point in our discussions privately with secretary-general Gorbachev when you stop to think that we're all God's children wherever we may live in this world I couldn't help but say to him just think how easy his task and mine might be in these meetings that we held if suddenly there was a threat to this world for some from some other species from another planet outside in the universe we'd forget all our local differences that we have between our countries and we would find out once and for all that we really are all human beings here on this earth together couldn't be just making a supposition for purpose of making a point you're saying he's trying to tell us that well here one week ago at the 42nd General Assembly at the in front of the UN September 21st he says in our obsession with the antagonism of the moment we often forget how much unites all the members of humanity perhaps we need some outside universal threat to make us recognize his common bond I occasionally think how quickly our differences worldwide would vanish if we were facing an alien threat from outside this world and yet I ask you is not an alien force not already among us now this is right out of a White House speech I'm not making this out what did he mean by this alien force I mean does it say does he go on to say something yeah he says what could be more alien to the universal aspirations of our people than war and the threat of war I thought the point is why would he even bring up aliens I mean it's it's it's pretty far out for the President of the United States to be mentioned threats from outer space okay what about President Carter President Carter we have the quote from Carter when he was during his election campaign if I become president I'll make every piece of information this country has about UFO sightings available to the public in the scientists I am convinced that UFOs exist because I have seen one Jimmy Carter says he saw one that's Jimmy Carter you saw what he didn't he didn't tell us did he he doesn't the pressure is enormous on these people to cover this stuff up how can that be are they afraid of a panic that people would panic there's the panic problem and there's also the problem that in fact in cro-magnon man there may have been some tinkering to make us what we are today and that's been borne out by several researchers we couldn't have developed exactly there's the missing link something had to happen to get us going between 4,000 and 8,000 BC we had just been going along and for hundreds of thousand years not doing anything all of a sudden bang we started making pottery invented the wheel invented fire and everything took off what was the key that did that I don't know but it causes one to think you mentioned a couple of minutes ago before the break that you think 90% of these visitors are hostile what makes you think that well doesn't fit with what we think of as et you know we if you read some of these books that are on the news Dan

one was called intruders one is called communion they apparently come down and when I say apparently this is taken from 300 hip missed hypnosis cases a friend of mine has done a hundred and forty of them and the people are abducted they're taken up into a saucer usually lasts about an hour they do all kinds of experiments they give them shots they poke them they they cut them they do all kinds of things then wipe out their memory and send them back only after several months of some psychological problems do they end up going to a psychiatrist and the psychiatrist on trying to find out what the problem is in the use of hypnosis finds out that this person has been abducted what's the reason for that what are they trying to learn there's three things that they're trying to do with these abductions the first thing is they're trying to monitor us it started in the early 40s and they'd put a little unit very small BB type object way up in the backside of the brain and they'd leave it there for about 18 years they'd pick him up and put it in about four years old 12 years old they would pick him up and monitor it and about 18 they'd take it out the second thing they did is they put a post hypnotic suggestion according to many of the people that have been hypnotized and we found out what they've told them apparently within the next two to five years there is going to be a big event something enormous is going to happen and these people who have been abducted and there's probably over a hundred thousands of them have been given someplace to go and something to do but under our best hypnotic techniques we cannot find out what it is so how do we know that that's true because they said where they are going to do some they know that they're going to do something but they under they have notice they can't find out exactly what it is and the third thing that they do is genetic experiments they've been crossbreeding there's a very good book out now called intruders written by Budd Hopkins and it's about a crossbreeding experiment with a girl in Indianapolis and they actually the the bighead which you coat what we call the bighead and researched a little three and a half foot tall with a big head they cross proved that with this girl in Indianapolis and there were seven children and just last fall before the book was published they brought the oldest and the youngest to show to her and they let her name all seven now this book has been thoroughly researched by Budd Hopkins and although it sounds strange believe me when I tell you you made me not you may not find out in a month a year five years or ten years but you'll look back at what I'm telling you now and you'll say to yourself my gosh the son of a gun was right well where's this girl now she's just she got no she lives in town or just outside of town she just got married but went to her wedding we all know who she is she gets long you know just fine it doesn't mean just because she was adopted and gave him children doesn't mean it was the end of the world it was just a part of her life why don't we see a lot of photographic evidence as many cameras and video gear why don't we see a lot of that there are before you go on I know the pictures that we showed in the beginning of this program you say they're baloney they're phonies that's right that the pictures you showed at the beginning were the called the Myers incident it's called a visitor the visitors from Pleiades and any ufologist worth his salt knows and who has researched that case knows that he cannot back it up with the negatives and the essential information to prove this that something like that happened so we we look at that as as suspect so in other words you run into your Sheriff phonies as well in your research absolutely there's not that many but there are a few out there there are so many people that have real stories to tell that we're just so busy with those for instance let's take the November 17th Japan Airlines incident I'll tell you what we're gonna take another break and we'll do that when we come back stay with welcome back we have a few minutes left with John Lear we're talking about UFOs you're about to tell me about the Japanese airline incident it's probably something that's still in the memory of our viewers yeah the Japanese airline incident was a cargo 747 that had taken off from Iceland flying to Anchorage and as he passed over the United States border and the northern part of Anchorage

he was intercepted by a UFO it was twice the size of an aircraft carrier and he was followed by 40 minutes he made a complete 360 degree right turn he made it a turn of 5,000 feet that things stayed with him regardless of what you hear the FAA did have him on radar and so did the Air Force if you have a picture there this is a 26 page document made by Bruce Maccabee who's a physics physicist employed by the Naval Surface weapons laboratory and one of the most respected figures in ufology I don't think we have that picture so go ahead okay I'm just gonna hold it up here and you can see the size of the 747 to the UFO now the UFO was not brightly lit like that it's just made like that for reference it was dark but this is what he saw beside him well whose rendition is this this is the captain's and this is from the captain's rendition when he was debriefed by the FAA now certain UFO debunkers have said what he saw was the planet Jupiter well this is an insult to all transport category captains around the world I mean the guy knows the difference between something that's twice as big as an aircraft carrier and the planet Jupiter I've also heard that it's the reflection of his own plane that's what the radar yeah it was an attempt to describe it unique cannon I can't imagine what pressure these people are under to to cover this stuff up it's it's tremendous pressure it really is okay you were gonna tell me that the church did you want to go further into the Jael incident no that's I just want to say as a 26-page report it had the captain and the ATC conversation had the the radar plots and it had the airforce plots and the FAA radar plots there's no question about it it was no being followed him the church what do they think about UFO well here's a copy from the London Evening News July 21st 1987 and says prepare to meet dyneins Vatican theologians have acknowledged that there could be life on other planets now they plan to train missionaries capable of working in space and meeting aliens Jesuit scientists at the Vatican Observatory in frascati near Rome have reported moving lights and other identified phenomena in the sky starting in September the Vatican University will have especially you a full section you've said before you thought a lot of their intentions were hostile and you've mentioned before that a lot of the sightings are around military bases why don't we see him here Las Vegas we got a lot of military bases here well the in fact there have been a lot of a lot of reports of UFOs in around Las Vegas not specifically over the air force bases we have the test site and of course we don't know what's going on there and we have Nellis Air Force Base but there have not really been a lot of sightings over there the main air force sightings were in 1975 and the UFOs descended on every Strategic Air Command base guarding the perimeter of the northern United States and they hovered over the nuclear weapons storage area and they stayed there with impunity for up to two and three hours over a period of three days and nobody heard about it well there was a few reports but you really don't I have a I have a report 150 pages long of the f-16s that were sent out to chase him in the helicopter is and notifying the Canadian authorities and the and the security patrolmen that were sent down to actually see what was going on and they'd come up on these things and they say I'm not going any further you think maybe it's a top-secret area if the Air Force actually does have them

maybe they got him here

I'm sure they do up at the test site there's a report that of the three the they got in perfectly good condition at least one is up at the test site and has flown and and one was being flown as of 1981 by us by us you know we mentioned at the top of the show that perhaps a breakthrough might be coming that some of these people from mj-12 or from the project Bluebook who are in on the government's research and we saw some of the stuff might be ready to talk we got about a minute left why don't you tell me about it it's our information that that half as part of mj-12 wants to release it part of it doesn't we're hoping that we can do this but of course as researchers were not aware of all the ramifications we just know of what we're looking at so we would like to seem release it but we really don't know if they are okay John Lear it's been very interesting you keep us posted sure well thank you we'll see you next week with more of on the record sheriff Lombardo one guy in a hotel suite with a pile of guns is able to kill 58 people caused injuries to 500 more put an entire city on high alert create international headlines you can understand why people would say it's hard to believe was just one guy yeah I was it's hard for me to say that you know in the previous press conferences you've heard me talk about you know this guy had to be a super I think I described him as a Yahoo in order to pull this off on their own you know if somebody had to know something was going on or he had assistance in some form or fashion but the investigation up till now has proved different as far as we can tell he's a he's a lone actor acting on his own and planned this meticulously you know with purpose but we haven't found another actor that assisted him in this carnage within 24 36 hours you knew a heck of a lot about this guy I had put it together what's sort of the state of the art of what you've learned since then well you know 24 or 48 hours we did and it was nondescript he was he was a I believe it was described as vanilla in some of the newscast but uh I could use that word vanilla with him because he uh he wasn't on our radar he wasn't on the federal database radar he wasn't on our local radar he wasn't even in our criminal radar my understanding he had two previous traffic citations and that's just about it we've learned that he had some success via real estate either management or sales of real estate he previously was a CPA he had some various jobs lived in various places but he became a prolific gambler and then over time he's a he gone up and down and his wealth associated with gambling and real estate and everything else said he's chose to do but you know since 2015 September 2013 he's lost a significant amount of wealth I think that might have a determining factor on his what he determined to do you know that that first day when we were hearing a description of his background he sounded like a spook like a spy I just got a lot of money he travels around he disappears for months at a time he clearly had some kind of knowledge about guns but based on what he did he had his own plane he sounds like James Bond yeah I wouldn't give him that uh that descriptive or that title but uh I think it's just because he was just you know working in the shadows and and nondescript wasn't out in front of the spotlight you know we were a little confused by that you know his even his electronic history you know when we went through all his computer systems and everything else it was really nondescript so it's uh you know I would I guess you could say spook but through our investigation we determined that's not the case obviously but he was nondescript I mean he's a guy who kind of slips between the raindrops right I know you work with the FBI on this case they've been hand-in-hand with Metro and trying to put together a picture of this man and the FBI profilers are the best in the business can you share anything about their insights into what made him tick you know I would agree with that descriptive of the profilers I was duly impressed when they gave us their initial assessment obviously they're still going through it through interviews with the family members and Mary Lou Dan Lee and other people associated with this individual's life but it was he had a narcissistic personality determined also he was going through currently probably some bouts of depression but he had a he was status driven this individual was status driven based on how he liked to be recognized in the casino environment and how he liked to be recognized by his friends and family so obviously that was starting to decline and you know in a short period of time and that may have a determinant effect on why he decided to do what he did I mean compared to us he's a big time gambler he was spending hundreds of thousands of dollars well you know in the Las Vegas picture he's not a whale but he expected to be treated like that based on stories of how he interacted with employees yeah I would say that I don't know what a big gambler is obviously I don't because I don't gamble but the again well myself that's about it when I play in golf but the III I don't know I don't know in the casino environment whether he was considered a big gambler or not I think in his own mind he believed himself to be if you look at the numbers that he did gamble he was pretty prolific but he he was going in the wrong direction so I don't know what they had any effect on what he was what do you decide to do you've said in news conferences that something seems to have set him off in October of 2016 because that's when he accumulated even more guns what do you think it was I don't know you know we're going through he's we're doing an autopsy obviously on it with the pathology on his brain you know the corner as is in the process of having that completed which takes some time so we don't know if he had a mental defect that caused him to all of a sudden change the way he was going to conduct himself or what he was going to do into the future that we all know about so but there there had to be some trigger point and you're right he started purchasing weapons and in a short period of time and a large amount of number of weapons so there was something that you know popped his trigger or caused him to go that direction and we have yet to determine what that is you know I actually hope we find something in the pathology of his brain that helped us understand this I mean the grim reality is you may end up with no clear motive at the end of this no you know we're still in the process of talking to his girlfriend Mary Lou she's still being actively interviewed matter of fact this week she's being interviewed again but we haven't had that one salient point that trigger point to identify what made him snap but we're saying what meeting snap obviously he took a long time to think this out and processed obtained the weaponry the logistics and thought out the plan and everything else associated with it so it may be a longer-term issue that made him snap per se but we we may not find out is the guests then October of 2016 is when he is hatching this plot that he's actively planning something like this and then he shows up at different music venues that we'll ask about but it's a it's diabolical the detail that he went into to take make this happen right you know and I don't want to give him any credit you know I don't want to say that he's a genius or anything like that but it was diabolical I'll use that word it was a process he was purposeful and concealing his actions purposeful and not you know conveying what his plans were to other people at least we haven't been able to determine that so it was a thought out long process but the particular October of 2016 what was the triggering point to said alright now I'm gonna start assembling logistics him going to these other locations where music venues were or and large crowds were gathering including life is beautiful downtown trial run was he just sort of scoping it out did he have weapons with him at those at those venues or what do you make of that well I can't speak to any of the other locations whether he had logistics with them or not and when I say logistics firearms or resources it doesn't appear so but as far as life is beautiful the electronic footprint that we've gone through does doesn't give us Indian indication he was gonna complete his act there maybe it was an evaluation maybe it was a test run maybe he got spooked there's a lot of a lot of different theories associated with that and it could have very well been his spot that he was going to do his actions but just in panel form but as far as review of the video and everything else associated he was never in the company of another and we didn't have indications of large bags being carried into the area so you know there's it's hard to put it together his knowledge of firearms I mean he collected guns he had guns for a lot of years suddenly he buys a whole bunch more and people have speculated he must have really known his stuff when it comes to guns I've seen statements from former military snipers who said not really I mean what he did he wasn't acting like a sniper except for maybe when he was shooting directly at metro officers he was just spraying you know it takes no expertise to do what he did I agree with you I agree with the people you talk to it sort you know anybody walk into a gun store and say hey give me the newest the coolest and the baddest weapon and you know whoever standing behind the counter could provide you that it doesn't mean you have the knowledge associated with it but this situation that he had presented to him in other words you had a music venue a concert venue with several several thousands of folks crowd basically my security fencing it wasn't difficult to accomplish what he did so as far as having expertise in weaponry and you know you've heard out there in the public forum talking about he did ranging from with scopes and all that stuff now that matters the fact that you have a psychotic individual a crazed individual and possession of a high-capacity firearm shooting into a crowd it's fairly simple so you know and the one thing about that mindset that we talked about George was it was very easy for this individual to disassociate from their victims because of the distance he's not looking at somebody in the eye he's not seeing the damage that he's causing because it's so far away so he's just randomly shooting into a crowd causing this carnage the girlfriend she's been interviewed a couple of times she said you said that she's going to be interviewed again in general do you believe her account of things that she had no I this is coming that he sent her away she thought it was he was breaking up with her sent her a bunch of money that she had no inkling that this was coming you know in general from what I being told from the investigators that assessment is accurate but personally it's hard for me to believe it's hard for me to believe that an individual I think my class count was 48 or 49 weapons would be amassing an armory such as that and is with some sort of evil intent on the end there's a lot of people to have hundreds and hundreds of guns but for this / - do it at a certain point in time and to do it all with such robust action you would think that miss Stanley would have some information associated with that but currently we haven't been able to pull that out of her if it's in her and but I have confidence in investigators she's not in custody but I would guess that somebody keeping an eye on where she is yeah I would agree with that can I call her I know it's an amorphous sort of term but a person of interest she's been described as if that's still the case yeah I would still use that term the paddock family we know about the father's history bank robber and you know criminal busted here in Las Vegas is it related is that related to how his sons ended up we know that Steven paddocks brother was arrested on some serious charges that's that Steven paddock himself what he did the other brother who's been on television a lot I you get a weird vibe from the public statements that he's made is it something genetic is it something dad passed on what's your guess well I don't think you're going to rope me into that assessment the you know the proverbial Apple falling from a tree you know it's a I can't I you know what I I would get I would get killed and in the mental health world if I said that but you know it is strange as you describe it you know the issues that are coming to light as we interview the family even further and further but is it but none of it none of it rises to the level of going up in a hotel room and shooting that thousands of people hoping to create you know as much carnage as you possibly can none of that rises to that from what you described so but as far as the family being of sound mind that's yet to be determined the brother has had a couple of news conferences in front of his house and made statements right I've seen those your impression manic you know you got it you got to remove some of it because obviously it's his brother that's created the largest you know shooting in our in our history but it's a so a lot of his statements associated with that yet there's got to be some understanding with that but he continues to talk and continues to I would describe dig a hole you can see that there's something associated with the family you mentioned about no one saw any bags going into the hotel how did you get all those guns into his room would know what he noticing did you have any help you know what I wouldn't say nobody saw him bringing bags in the hotel people people saw him obviously people saw him but you know 10 to 15 thousand people a day go through those doors depending on which casino it is and and was he doing it over a period of several days which would not bring attention to him I I would make that assessment but there was nothing that stuck out and people's mind you know they had experience with this individual they knew him most of the people in the casino environment knew them they're even there a frequent flyer per se and almost every major casino on the strip but something that would make them say see something say something i I can't testify that or present that to you because I don't know what they saw so but it's just troublesome that he had the ability to bring that meaning weapons into a room and that we didn't pick up on it he found a crease yeah I'm a crease is a good word but you know I don't want this anybody perceiving that MGM and Mandalay Bay didn't do their job you know is today it could have been prevented it could have been prevented on many levels you know Mary Lou Dan Lee his brother anybody that may have some modicum of information that would presented this individual state of mind but apparently right now we don't know that talked about the timeline a little bit you decided early on right after this that you were going to be as transparent as possible he had multiple news conferences every day why did you make the decision to go that direction and do you regret it well you know no I don't regret it you know hindsight's 20/20 but there's a couple things I would have done different but I don't regret anything that I did I think it was a it's important for the public not me you know the transparency piece is not me it's for the public to understand whether they are safe or not and I think that transparency dictates me to do what I did I think it's important for people to feel comfortable people or worried you know you said it right up front was there multiple shooters is there somebody helping and I think it's important to get that information out to help people understand their environment and unfortunately well it wasn't unfortunate none of the none of the times were we're inaccurate it's just a descriptor associated with the time was inaccurate and what exactly happened associated with that time so um I think most important piece is that we responded very fast security was helped us in every aspect and that we saved a lot of lives you said up front and no one heard it apparently or a lot of people didn't hear it look this timelines got to change we're still down information the sequence of events will change it did that generated all kinds of conspiracy theories but I mean you said it in the beginning yeah Monday morning quarterbacks really easy you know especially in a crisis situation everything's dynamic you know twenty two thousand people attending a concert you know hundreds of security guards hundreds of police officers hundreds of regular pedestrians everything's all engaged in this whole formula for it to be absolutely accurate in the early throes of event there's it's unacceptable you can't expect accuracy of that and that's why I'm honest people upfront hey timelines are gonna change stories are going to change until we get to the bottom of it take it for what it's worth with the intent of common people's fears and that was the whole intent and you saw the timelines changed a little bit but but not the timelines per se but the events associated with the timelines and what exactly happened with mr. Campos and my police officers and the suspect timelines shooting um you know give a minute here or there it didn't make a difference what makes the differences is I believe the suspect believed the wolf was at the door and took his own life because our response and his awareness of our response caused him to take his life let's walk through the timeline a little bit it sounds like from the videos New York Times did a really great analysis putting together 30 or so videos there were a couple of shots that he fired off random shots in the beginning before he did the burst is that right that's correct I believe that's accurate and New York Times did do a good job with that and I saw there's some small and accurate sneeze to it but overall it's pretty good were those shots maybe at the fuel tanks do you know could very well been because they were individual they could have been the shots that we people believe they heard in early throes of this and that could be the ones directly to the fuel tank and maybe he didn't get the flash or the bang that he wanted and that's where he just adheres there's a 10 two plus mr. Campos in the hallway causes him to adjust his attention so he's evil diabolical genius shooting at aviation fuel tanks thinking they're gonna blow up right I mean is that the assumption well I wouldn't use the word genius I wouldn't use genius to anything this guy's done but um that would what I would assume he thinks he's a smart guy he's shooting at the fuel tanks but they that's not gonna happen well no it's not gonna happen in the research that I've been provided it's very unlikely that would ever happen because of the flash point of the type of fuel and then the vapor system is is removed on a regular basis so you remove the fumes which would be easier to ignite so it'd be very very rare for those to explode I think there were 12 different bursts that have been identified on the various videos where he does a burst and then there's a break 20 seconds sometimes almost two minutes you know what's going on in between I think he's assessing the crowd seeing what direction they're going I think he's had mechanical problems with the weaponry he had in his in the room with them changing the weapons because capacity of the magazine was depleted and looking at the monitors that he had set up in the room are checking the hallway who knows what's going through his psychotic mind but um that would be the assumptions I would make so there were multiple bursts and then he would stop he'd start shooting again there hos hey Suz Campos comes in and then there's another other person he'll come in and and then things kind of go awry for him can you walk me through that the sequence of events because it's kind of confusing it looked like in the beginning Jose Suze Campos when he intervened up there and was noticed by the gunman that that's when the shooting into the crowd stopped but that's not the case right no you know so if if we back up a little bit because I want to make sure this is accurate and people don't are construe my words or think I don't know what the hell I'm doing but the there is a notification of an open door obviously an open door being any customer that has a hotel room if the door is open for a certain period of time engineering or security gets a notification mr. Campos is sent to evaluate the open door he encounter he had addressed a another open door on another floor he goes to the stairwell to ascend to the 32nd floor in order to address the open door on that floor when he encounters a blocked door at the stairwell doorway and now we know that it was barricaded by the suspect subsequently he ascended to the next floor main entry into the hallway went down to the elevator Bank got down and then went on the 32nd floor and then he had encountered the suspect he received a leg wound and then he attempted to contact his dispatch and now that previous timeline that I had talked about 21:59 959 p.m. was him let I mean his dispatcher know that the door was blocked in the stairwell so subsequently you have a couple minutes of him you know going up going down elevator back down the hallway and then you encounters the suspect he receives a wound he he attempts to go through his radio and then he also confirms his communication with dispatch via his cell phone hey I've been shot at - I believe there's a individual in a certain room shooting out you know active shooter he doesn't know whether it's out into the festival or whether it's just strictly at him and that's no fault of him because he's he's dealing with the individual in the hallway and subsequently he could hear shots being fired along with the engineer and then police officers arriving and making it actually when the police officers get there they don't hear it the shooting because the suspect that stopped firing but there was a volley back into the hallway at mr. Campos during all that so one of the time gaps you identified that was pretty accurate with the New York Times video was we believed that the suspect that turned his attention back to the hallway and discharged a weapon into the hallway a lot of questions about hey Suz Campos calling dispatch and what happened in there was there an error in the logs or some kind of confusion about that time sequence after that well no we believed in my early presentation we believe that there were shots fired at 2159 but actually it was when he encountered the block door so that's when it was putting along so we didn't know that shots were fired until Brown 10:05 like 1004 55 something like that that's when we actually determined through calls for service CAD computer-aided dispatch body-worn camera speed other people of observation through videos like uber and taxis and things like that we feel pretty comfortable the actual amounts are the large amounts of firing by the suspect occurred right around 10:05 evaluate for me now that you've had some time to think about it the response time that both you in getting personnel to the scene and then breaching the room well the response time in my opinion was amazing so we had two officers that were present at the Mandalay Bay handling another call for service they become aware of a possible active shooter they start to get received phone calls via security and marrying up to security that there there was something occurring and one of the upper floors so they had it they had a good assessment approximately what floor it could be so they made there they ascended up through the stairwell to you know a couple floors then they encountered the block doorway similar to what mr. Campos had described so that was right around 10 minutes they were able to do that so you have I mean that's pretty amazing in public safety time you call them dispatch you get advised you formulate a plan you send stairwells you have no idea what floor it is you're receiving information from disparate directions and then you encounter this block doorway and that was right around 10 minutes and then our other officers that ascended via the elevator Bank and came out into the foyer or the hallway there from the elevator Bank that was right around 12 minutes but during that time the suspect had stopped firing and so when we don't hear any firing taking place and become slow and methodical it's important for us to extricate the people that are staying in the rooms associated to the suspects room to ensure their safety formulate a plan to breach the suspects room now in normal practice if we were going to execute a search warrant see on a barricaded individual we could take all the time we need and bring all the resources to bear to ensure everybody's safety or in this case because of what the suspect did officers made the decision to breach this doorway of the hotel room just in case this guy was reloading maybe he was reloading magazines we didn't want to give him the opportunity to keep firing I mean when they made entry they found out he had committed suicide you know why he did that what's your your guess at what point he just made that decision because I were going to discuss he had plans at least a plan to get out of there I don't know if it was a plan I don't know if it was a plan to get out of there and we could discuss it so but maybe he felt like he accomplished what he needed what he wanted to accomplish maybe he was aware of us being at the door and afraid of us reaching the doorway because we know through his computer he did research police tactics so he had to been aware that we were probably going to come in the door at any minute maybe that was a decision point and then you alluded to an escape plan and I haven't talked about a possible escape plan he had a women in therefore survivability in the room and he also had a vehicle still there at the Mandalay Bay that had some binary explosives in it still so did he have a plan to go somewhere else and do something with that if he had the ability to escape would that be his plan so there's a lot of questions they'll probably never be answered so whether he had plan to just commit suicide there or whether he had a plan to escape if the opportunity presented itself the explosives in the car what was it rigged to go no no no it would have to be a setup to in order to go so so maybe he ran out of time or it's hard to figure out I don't know maybe maybe the plan was to have it somewhere else maybe the plan was to do an explosion somewhere else he changed his mind I don't know what their answer to that question is during those first few confusing moments it's panic people don't know what to do there are gunshots and ricochet and sounds coming from all over the place you get reports of shooters at other hotels you send officers all over the place right yeah I mean that's that's practice for us that's protocol for us we make assumptions that there's going to be more than one event when we encounter that's what we trained for and that was the result of our trip to Mumbai as a result of what the terrorists did there they had multiple locations intending to mess with or confuse the first responders and create as much havoc as they could so with that in mind that's how we trained now you don't have an over convergence of resources to one particular event we did have officers responding from all directions and you know on duty off duty and the officers that were working the event to address that event but we are also forming teams on the outside to address any other events as they may arise and if you listen to the radio traffic and when it gets released it's evident that's what took place so we got multiple calls people were running away from the event they were covered in blood so people that there are different locations making assumptions maybe they were in a firefight there and that's how early had the injuries so there's a whole plethora reasons why but we had to respond to each one of those calls ensure that there wasn't another shooter and there was another event taking place and we were able to quickly dispel those very fast because it would be important to do that very fast so you don't have to resources tied up addressing a larger event you see several videos online of people saying we had gunshots and glass broken at the Bellagio and people have planned at Hollywood and there are no other gunshots that are not accounted for by by Patek no no other gunshots the only other gunshots in particular are ours earlier question was presented whether there was other suspects firing or whether we had fired and I had said no yeah directly related to that to engaging an individual if the answer is no but what it wasn't out in the public space and I'm comfortable talking about it is we had an accidental discharge in the suspects room so we did an explosive breach on the first door made entry located the suspect who had committed suicide there but we encountered a locked or adjacent to the main living area or living room area you know you have a bedroom off to one side in the bedroom off on the other side was a bedroom off on the one side where the window was broken facing the fuel tanks the door had been secured so we did another explosive breach and during that explosive breach one of the officers had an accidental discharge so nobody was injured nothing else occurred that from that we do a ously going to do an internal investigation associated with that so that was the only other shots that I'm well also because of his his father his family name but he had run for the state senate seemed a respectable guy and he had also helped us break the story of the stealth fighter John had taken a colleague of mine Ned day out to the area around Area 51 told him that about the stealth fighter f-17 being developed there Ned broke the story before any national networks or or anyone else and it was a big coup so John comes into the station one day uh with a pile of UFO documents trying to to get NED interested and Ned was having no part of it he thought that'd be crazy people would laugh at me if I did this story I was eavesdropping at the moment and I said hey let me take a look at that stuff and it included some legitimate National Security military type documents that had been squeezed out of the government through foia and some stuff like mj12 that at best is in the you know kind of the gray basket I I thought wow this is really interesting so I had John leer come on the show that I produced at the time a little talk show called on the record uh one of these things that runs at 6:00 in the morning on on Sundays that nobody ever watches and you have the city councilman on things like that Lear comes on and he was just outrageous at that time he was uh sort of uh spreading the the Lear gospel he was developing his his white paper that became pretty famous and infamous over the years and uh he spilled all this stuff out and I thought wow and and all of a sudden the phone started ringing and and uh I'm getting all these inquiries and I had him on again and he got even more outrageous and the response was even bigger and I realized wow this topic that I had never really paid any atten attention to touches the pulse of the public in a way that I did not understand and so I figured I'm going to start looking into it and I I relied on Lear to sort of navigate the waters to find out what legitimate information there was and I figured you know I might I might start looking into this and I had Le on a third time and to my eternal shame he brought a guy named Bill Cooper on with him you guys know him right yeah Bill Cooper the infamous Bill Cooper he came on and and played this tape about the JFK assassin being carried out by his the driver of the car and and he told this vast incredible UFO conspiracy tale and um how uh the secret government is controlling everything that goes on regarding UFOs and he was afraid for his life and this is the last time he's going to talk about it he's going to disappear which of course you're not thought to be true let me ask you a quick question before you go on did you take any of this seriously or was it just to your way of thinking some sort of kooky entertainment yeah it was it was closer to that I mean um a cookie entertainment because I became clear to me that some of this could not be proven at all when I had the third show and the public response was kind of big and and Lear sort of uh he intimated that he knew somebody that was actually working at Area 51 and had talked about flying saucers I thought look I I got to look into this so I asked him to introduce me to this guy I figured that would be my angle as a way to get into a local angle on the news story about Area 51 and if I could find this guy if he talked to me the guy turns out to be Bob Lazar and it was in May of uh 1989 that I finally got Lear to hook me up with Lazar and we had him on this interview with his face all blacked out and he made these allegations that are now pretty famous and and I thought wow if even a fraction of this is true that's a heck of a story and so I started diving into it I spent about eight months working on the Lazar story other stuff as well my news director and I worked on it we recognized that this is this is pretty perilous for us to to pursue this I mean because the UFO field is uh filled with pretty wacky stuff conspiracy nuts and hopelessly gullible saucer nuts and and we recognized we had to approach this uh like any other story and weed weed some of this stuff out which we did we tried ultimately that's that's how it got me into the UFO topic and I've never been able to really shake it since I mean I've done thousands and thousands of stories on other topics but I'm pretty sure that when I die that if I have a tombstone that's what's going to be carved on at the UFO guy all right let's look at John Lear when did he seem to unravel in your eyes because obviously he started as a pretty credible person based on what you're telling me yeah well I I like him I don't like to you know I don't I don't I still like him I live near him now I got a new house up in his neck of the woods and and I talk to him from time to time to see what he's up to but obviously you got to take what he says with a grain of salt you can't take everything literally cuz it changes you know the story changes when he started talking about alien being here to uh essentially eat us or to create this alien hybrids and these giant Vats uh talking about the underground base at Dulce I thought well you know I'm I'm really going have to be careful what I what I use from Lear but he does have really good contacts I mean he did fly for the CIA he knows all kinds of people through his father through his family name through his military and intelligence experience and um so you know you can't completely discount him but you as I mentioned you do have to take everything he said with a big grain of salt so where do you separate the weed from the CHF when you're listening to him do you just sort of sit back and say wow this is fun or do you try or make a solid effort to say you know what maybe there are a couple of things out of this that really have some bases in fact I got to find out what they are yeah that's that's essentially it I mean looking for the the Diamonds in the Rough uh so to speak you know John's scenario is pretty dark and grim and big and I don't buy it I mean I don't buy the the all powerful uh controlling group uh UFO secret society or Secret Agency whatever it is I'm not sure that there is such an agency I know there's a lot of discussion in the UFO Fields about the possibility but I haven't seen the proof so the overall giant conspiracy the treaties between us and Aliens I don't buy any of that stuff so I guess that makes it pretty clear how you feel about the whole disclosure movement then as well yeah I don't I don't think there's any disclosure coming I'd like to see it I think probably there is a storehouse of information somewhere um I suspect maybe it's been taken out of government hands as a further uh to create a further buffer between uh people like you and I and uh the public and and those who keep the secrets there there's obviously a lot of data somewhere you know we've had so many countless reports of pilots and gun camera images and things of that sort that are picked up and taken away somewhere we know that that Binger memo was very real it said uh any cases involving Nation security uh that information goes somewhere else where we don't know so I think there probably is a big pile of information I'm not sure it's something that's ever shared with the president I don't expect President Obama even if there is a pile of information that he has access to to come out anytime soon he's got a heck of a lot of stuff on his plate and I don't think he needs UFOs mucking it up certainly not uh at this the daily Revelations about the economic problems right before the show I was telling Jean about this AIG memo that's been leaked I don't know if you know about this George it's no I don't it's well you may not want to know after you may not want it's it is truly uh it's terrifying terrifying in a way that very few things in the Paranormal realm certainly are and it it sort of underscores the huge problems we're facing not just nationally but certainly internationally on a global scale the financial system is in a terrible state so I mean yeah can you imagine Obama coming out to talk about UFOs in the middle of that no not hoping to have any credibility Sur certainly and I think we're on the same page with the issue of disclosure um we had a recent episode with Steve Basset and it it was a bit ugly because let's be clear I think like you just pointed out there's clearly some amount of information being contained somewhere but the idea that there is a concerted effort within the government to release this even the the definition of what the government is at that at that point um you know small covert groups having some amount of information which clearly like you said there is some amount of data what about the the allegations that at Area 51 there are projects going on where some of that data is being deployed in some sort of a practical fashion have you really seen or or gotten any information that would indicate that well whisps of it bits and pieces uh in addition to Lazar and I know there are lots of questions about Lazar and and most of them I raised myself uh in the beginning in addition to Lazar I've got more than two dozen people who have worked at the base over at different periods people who don't know know each other who worked there at different times 50s 60s 7s 80s and '90s who've all given me little bits and pieces of the story glimpses of saucer like craft uh there are some photos of saucer light craft a famous shot that Gary Schultz took of what looks like a flying Sombrero out there uh I think they probably did have something that looked very much like a flying saucer whether it was alien in origin or not I don't know they're always little hints about this kind of stuff and the oppressive secrecy uh doesn't help it any I mean it makes it look really suspicious I know there are a lot of folks who believe that it was a story created by the government to deflect attention away from from what really goes on out there legitimate National Security Programs and projects and if that is the case in Lazar for example you know a lot of people believe he was a dupe he was used to put the story out to deflect attention away from something melt out there and if that is the case it is a miserable failure somebody should have their ass spanked for that uh because as a result of the UFO stories coming out and you know and I certainly certainly played my part that tens of thousands of people have made the track out there to see whatever it is that's flying around in the sky to spy on that base to peek down on it through telescopes and binoculars from different Vantage points every major news organization in the world has beaten a path to that door CBS and ABC and NBC 60 Minutes uh Nightline Larry King haraldo the BBC you name it uh they've been out there looking around and asking questions and that's not the kind of thing that any secret base or classified military station once so if in fact it was a created story that the rumor was started by them I think that was a big big mistake on their part I think that there it's possible that something like that was out there I've had enough people whose credibility uh I consider to be fairly High who've told me this story in varying degrees there's one guy in particular he's not a Lazar whatever you think a Lazar this guy's credentials are not questioned I mean I essentially stalked him I knew where he worked in in past years I knew that he would have been in a position to know and I just started sort of showing up at events where he would be and introduced myself and we talked about the good old days of Atomic Testing and eventually he invited me over to his home to share with me some of his scrapbooks and and memorabilia and things of that sort when I got there he sort of closes the book and he says you're not here to talk about this are you I said no not really he says I know what you're here to talk about hey neighbors as we said this episode of the powercast is being brought to you by audible.com and you can download a free audiobook of your choice and you can select from over 40,000 audiobooks and lots lots more featuring best sellers about the Paranormal about UFOs novels you pick it and when you get the book that you want just download to your Apple iPad or over 400 other devices all right you can download your free Audi book today today at audiblepodcast.com/dnews theep paracast docom that's newsthe past.com and don't forget to visit our forums where you can talk talk to fellow listeners and Gan and David just go to the paracast dcom and click on the Forum links that's the Forum links atth paracast tocom hi this is Don Ecker and you are tuned into the paracast with Jean Steinberg and David bney hey let me tell you what you're going to hear stuff here that you probably won't hear anywhere else hear that George snor we're talking to George knp and he's an awardwinning journalist UFO investigator he has investigated the mysteries of Area 51 the Skinwalker Ranch and we'll get to some of the latest developments on that if there are any later on but right now please tell us what did you learn from this information that this guy gave you well he started opening up that he had been uh been at Area 51 in the earliest days of when the the base was opened uh talked about a variety of different secret projects and then started talking about UFOs uh and it was like pulling teeth to get him to talk about it over the course of the next six or so months we'd have lunch and breakfast and he wouldn't allow me to take notes no recording devices and so I would ask him these questions and I'd write furiously on a notepad after I left to recreate the conversations and over the course of those months he told me that they had had craft out there that they had been taking them apart part to figure out how they work that were they were completely stumped and I would ask him things like well look are you are you worried that you'd have an accident that the story get out he said at one point to me we're more worried about it getting out meaning it I mean a live creature that's what I'm asking him he said yeah and we go into a conversation over the course of a couple of meetings about uh an alien and I know it sounds outrageous and it's hard to believe but again the guy was in a very high position his family was in politics here in in Nevada and um that's a a well-known family here and a very credible guy and he's telling me this story he says uh yeah we had an alien I said don't and you were keeping it captive it came all this way you kept it captive he goes yeah well in the beginning we couldn't communicate with it uh we didn't know how to communicate and then eventually we worked out a system where we we could communicate and of course this story that this guy is telling me sort of Dove Tales into a lot of what leer had said and and others had believed as incredible as it may sound and he told me a story he said uh you know what this alien looked like he kind of looked like a political figure and at the time Ross perau is running for president he told me this thing looked like Ross perau little skinny guy with great big ears well that's it that's it ladies and gentlemen Ross perau is an alien I might believe that actually so the guy told me this story I said look I I got to be able to do something with this I gota this story needs to be told he said I'll tell you what I'll do is I'll put something on videotape that could be released after I die now that was 15 16 years ago the guy is pretty pretty old he's in the upper 80s but he's still alive uh I talked to him once uh maybe 8 nine years ago was the last time I talked to him and he indicated to me that he had in fact made that tape and that in possession of one of his kids and that I would get it afterward and it would be it would be one heck of a story based on just his personal credibility to have somebody of his stature say that the story is true anyway there were a lot of other people uh who came forward with bits and pieces of information there was an engineer for example example who worked at uh K here and had moved on to a TV station in the Pacific Northwest who had worked at Area 51 before he worked for us and he had told us a story when he worked here about seeing a saucer under a tarp out there and this is this is kind of a weird series of events that happened to me while I was investigating this thing it it sure seemed like somebody was listening to the phones and I know you you get that paranoid element in the UFO field you're always figuring somebody's listening in Big Brother the government or whatever but this happened to me six different times where somebody agrees on the phone to give me information and then they're visited this guy this engineer who worked with us who I had known prior to working on Area 51 stuff agreed to give me an interview I was going to black out his face and he was going to tell me little little story about seeing this saucer under a tarp in a in a hanger out there and the next morning he wakes up and there's these two guys in a car and one of them speaking on a radio and they're wearing sunglasses and making it very obvious uh to him that they look like government types they follow him to work when he got off work they followed him home again speaking in the interview and he got intimidated by it and uh and wouldn't uh talk to me there was a lady who works here and she still works in the Clark County Court System here in Las Vegas and I she came to my attention through a guy who was a bayth who now works as an investigator for the district attorney he had struck up a conversation with her about UFOs and found out that she had been a stenographer for Holmes and narver which is a major defense contractor said she had sat in on meetings between the Air Force and contractor in which they talked about recovered discs and recovered alien stuff being taken uh from Crash sites and Wright Patterson and stored at Area 51 and uh this bayth guy I knew asked her if she'd be willing to tell me the story and that she said yeah so I talked to the bayth about this on the on the air the very next day after we arrange to meet this lady she gets visited by two guys who flash badges who said you know you're still under security clearance you still have a a security oath that's in effect we know that you and your daughter travel back and forth between Las Vegas and Los Angeles there's a lot of desert out there lady and we'd hate for to see something happen to either one of you and she was petrified now this is this is 20 years ago and she's still petrified and and still won't talk to me about it there was a guy named Roy Byam who did taxes prepared taxes for a lot of military people got to know him pretty well high ranking office officers at Nellis Air Force Base and he started hearing these Flying Saucer stories from his clients and would ask him about it and we get bits and pieces about it and offer to give me an on camera interview uh when I was working on a second Series in 1990 and again the next day he's visited by two guys uh who said they were from the Secret Service and they they heard he was been making threatening statements about the president and how would he like to go to prison which he wrote to me and allowed me to use the statement basically his interpretation was shut your mouth anyway there was a series of six of those right in a row it really struck me that somebody really was listening in and in years later I've had two of these guys who are following us around but us meaning me and uh Lazar and Jean Huff maybe looking to see who we were getting information from or who we were meeting with but that stuff you know there are a lot of critics of the area 51 story and I understand that uh but I live through some of this stuff and there was some weird stuff that went on uh during those years during that whole Lazar episode people following us around and break-ins of the houses and it was spooky it was a spooky time so it came to an end at some point in time that this harass fizzled yeah kind of fizzled um you know we did a second series with Lazar and of course it it became a pretty big story all over the world and people were were uh flocking to his door trying to get him to do interviews and he came to me we met for a beer one day and he says hey I got to tell you something I'm involved in a a little illegal wh house I go what you see I I got a I got a girl I've been seeing this this hooker and she had a little operation she's running in a um in an apartment building and it happens to be on the same Street where I lived at the time I thought oh jeez there there's my whole professional life is kind of flashing before my eyes I mean here's the highest profile witness and the highest profile story i' probably had ever done and he's telling me that he's involved in illegal brothel and he said yeah I I expanded it I uh I helped her expand we recruited some girls we rented the apartment next door poked a hole in the wall and now she's got an office and a and a working area I oh Jesus so he I said I don't believe it so he Lazar takes me over there and shows me this and I told told him look man you you've got to stop this you've got to you got to come clean you've got to uh shut this down uh because everybody was looking at him he had all kinds of scrutiny that this is going to blow up in his face his you know his credibility also had been questioned on several several levels already quite legitimately so I called the cops and I told them with Bob's permission I said look this thing's been going on a couple your undercover guys know about it I think one of those cops had been having an affair with the hooker who ran the operation and uh I'm just calling to let you know that we're shutting this thing down it's going to go away well they reacted by immediately sending out a team of Vice cops to bust the operation arrested Lazar it was a big stink a major black mark on his reputation and probably on mine to some extent an embarrassment the interesting that they I mean they wanted to give him hard time which is a pretty a rarity for an accused pimp in Las Vegas certainly back then they wanted to give him hard time and the reason is that PE and probation who' prepared the sentencing report uh could not verify his background they went through some of the same sort of challenges that I had gone through and in fact Bob had told him the same story he told me and you're thinking you know he's a con man or he made this stuff up that would have been the time to come clean about where he went to school about who he worked for Area 51 all that stuff come clean because he was looking at hard time a couple of years but he didn't he stuck to the story and he got probation eventually and as a result of that you know sort of the interest kind of waned a little bit uh every once in a while I will do an update on where is he now kind of a thing and this being the 20th anniversary we might put something together um uh uh later this year sort of a retrospective but in general until I did this UFO Hunters thing a couple of months ago um I haven't talked about Area 51 for quite a while it does that mean there's been less activity out there I mean one of the things that um and and and actually before we even get to that uh George getting back to the fellow who uh you had the meeting with who said that he had actually seen an alien being I understand that correctly right y okay he indicated that they had a hard time communicating with it early on presumably they were at some point able to open some line of communication with this thing did he give you any of the details about that that's the impression that I got but I never got any information from him about where these things were from or why they were here or any of the really big questions that I'd hoped to continue that conversation and he abruptly cut it off uh he said that my continuing uh presence there was causing him some problems that somebody had seen us together and he had to keep his mouth shut but that was the the last meeting that I had like I said he had indicated that the tape had been made and I could have it after he passes on but you know at this point I guess I'd believe it when I see it yeah I I was watching a a little segment of a muon presentation I think you did last year up on YouTube God bless YouTube there was uh something that you said that I think really rings of interest to our our listeners and certainly to Gan and myself as we as we try to have more thoughtful discussions about all this in that um you had indicated that at one point you had a conversation with jacqu valet who we've had on the show and uh that he had made a statement to the to the extent that he would be disappointed if the big sort of Revelation about all of this were is that these were simply visitors from another planetary system of some sort um and and something that you brought up which I think we need to open up more of a discussion about certainly in any kind of mainstream way about this is that this assumption that the sourcing of some majority of these craft is as simple as it being an extraterrestrial set of visitations is perhaps a flawed one and I'm wondering if we can if we can talk about that a little bit I know that kind of dub tales on uh some of the research you had done out out at Skinwalker Ranch where you found tenuous connections between these things and overlap yeah well you know valet had first proposed this several years ago and it it fell with a thud in the UFO Community because you know you've got folks who were nuts and bolt saucer guys who had to believe that this is a mechanical craft created by people from another planet that they're visiting from other planets and that's something you can wrap their head around something more exotic like other dimensions parallel universes that that's a little tougher to swallow but valet looked at the all the data from across the world and realize these are not just visitors coming popping up here for expeditions every once in a while they're simply too many sightings to explain that he says look you look at the craft you look at the reports of the craft the credible legitimate cases that have been investigated by the military and if those cases are being reported accurately then these craft are able to bend space and time in a way that we don't understand and if they could do that if they in fact can manipulate space and time essentially they could be from anywhere they could be from everywhere they could be extraterrestrials and interdimensional and time travelers all at once so he thought that the ultimate truth would be far more exotic than something as simple as aliens visiting from another planet and and that's sort of the view that I've I've drifted toward over the last several years uh especially in relation to Skinwalker Ranch because what the stuff that happened out there doesn't sound like anything any standard alien story that we've ever heard MH in talking about all of this do you get a sense that the government secrecy and let's just Define that as some some group of people within the power structure of what we call the government having access to some amount of data and we don't even know if there are conclusions behind that data but let's presume that there is some some body of evidence as it were do you get a sense that perhaps one of the reasons that there is this tremendous level of secrecy is a potential reality that these guys don't really understand what it is they're holding and they can't reveal that for what would be I guess very explicitly defined as national security reasons the opposite of security being insecurity business travel is a profitability killer you know that so do more and travel less with go to meeting the easiest most affordable online meeting service with just a click launch sales presentations training sessions product demos or collaborative sessions right from your desk go to meeting is so easy to set up and use you'll have your first meeting running in seconds plus hold as many meetings as you want for One Flat Rate free VoIP and phone conferencing included try go to meeting free for 45 days for this special offer you must visit www.gotomeeting.com SLP podcasts that's www.gotomeeting.com podcast for a free trial hi this is bot Hopkins and you're listening to the parast with jeene Steinberg David jedy and I completely enthusiastically endorse his program it's an absolutely great program with an opportunity to stretch out and talk we're talking to George nap who is a UFO investigator award-winning broadcast journalist on TV and now what do they know and when did they know it boy don't you wish you knew I'm sort of leaning in the direction where you're heading with the question is that they have a lot of information but my suspicion is they don't know what the hell to do with it they might even have pieces of craft as the stories go in Area 51 but as the stories are told by Lazar and others they've been taking these things apart for a long period of time to try to figure out how they work and haven't been making much progress and I I think that's entirely possible I suspect that uh you know there's a great big Storehouse of info or data cases incidents uh film video things of that sort and they really don't know how to deal with it and I base that conclusion on a couple of things one of the most telling is people who have been on the inside of the government people whose opinions I really value that I've got to know over the years some of those people went to work for nido here with Bob Bigalow ex intelligence guys CIA people who had seen glimpses of this program or glimpses of a interest while they were in their official positions working with in the defense and intelligence communities and their their curiosity had been peaked and they would Chase it down as much as they could within their official capacities and weren't able to get any answers and um which is why they could sort of continued the inquiry outside once they were in the the private sector you know guys like that who have been on the inside as close to the secrets as as you would think you could get uh don't know and and their suspicion I don't know if you've had ever talked to John Alexander their suspicion as his is is that there is a big pile of information but nobody really knows what to do with it and that there is not at least not now any kind of concerted singular uh omnipresent Overlord of the UFO info within government that people there don't know what to do with it either and you get that sense from these National Security cases such as the The 1975 overflights of US nuclear missile bases along the Canadian border where the military just seems befuddled I they don't want to admit that we don't know what it is that's flying around we have no control over it it can neutralize our most sophisticated and most powerful weapon systems and and there's nothing we can do about it and uh I don't think they want to admit that obviously I don't think that they have any answers about what to do with it um and it's it's scary in some regard and sympathetic almost you know there they are supposed to be the all powerful all protective big brother and and uh I don't think they they have any clue you know all those rumors we hear from people who believe in disclosure quote unquote they try to give us a hint of what they think the government knows is this wishful thinking is it disinformation where do they get these crazy thoughts well you know I think those disclosure guys their hearts are in the right place some of them anyway but others have weaved together this Rich tapestry of information into their own conspiracy theory you know some of those witnesses that were rolled out for example by Steven Greer they're pretty legitimate people who all had their own little bits and pieces of the story here's what I know here's what I saw and it's the Greers of the world who tie it together into something much bigger and grander yes the secrets of all of our energy uh problems are can be uh solved if if we roll out this ET technology it's the Greers of the world that that tell that story they take what seems to be legitimate verifiable credible information and then create something of it for their own purposes and I don't know where else to go with it well what about the other paranoid opinion which is some of the stuff is being fed to them by the government to maybe dissuade us from studying it further or just to mislead us as to what they really know well I think that's a real scenario and I think it has happened I mean we goes back to the 1953 Robertson report where they studied it and said you know UFOs don't appear to be a threat to National Security but the continued reporting of UFOs could be a threat it could be manipulated in some way so we need to strip UFOs of their Aura of mystery and they even used terms like debunking and I I think they they launched some sort of grandiose plans for how to how to make fun of UFOs and whether or not those plans were ever carried out it sure looks like it because uh the laughter curtain is very real even even at this point I mean it's opened up a little bit the kind of work that you guys do have you know added an element of credibility to the discussion of these topics and and that's good but you know for for far too many people there really is a uh a downside to talking about it there really is a ridicule Factor that's still in effect and and it in that vein I think it could have been very easy for government types to manipulate public opinion we know that there are some guys who did those things that have over the years planted disinformation a lot of folks think that that's the explanation for the mj12 documents that they were written by insiders with bits and pieces of real information but ultimately maybe created to confuse our enemies about what we know on this topic yeah I think that disinformation is very real I I also think that disinformation would not be necessary anymore because there's so many crazy UFO people who tell ridiculous stories and bring shame uh to the topic and ridicule to the topic that there's no need for the government to belittle the subject uh euphology is quite capable of doing that all on its own well you know your friend John leer has claimed that David bney is a government agent of some sort really y oh yeah I'm I'm now participating in the conspiracy right here cently oh yes oh yes we're doing it right here we're sitting here in an underground bunker and not to turn this into the discussion of Personality sadly when you talk about things that happen on Earth uh humans invariably are part of that story and part of that narrative but uh it's odd to to see some of the and hear some of the things that Lear has claimed and and to think that people you know will even take it seriously at any level I think what you just said is very telling George that the the curtain of laughter around this is one that is kind of uh surrounded us almost by the virtue of gravity no one really has to in evoke it it's there and part of that is of course how the media deals with this topic so here you are doing serious reporting and and I actually want to get to the needles episode that you report on last year because I think that I'm I'm curious about what the followup there has been but you've been actually able to to carve a territory out in the in the media landscape where you're doing some serious reporting around this I mean do you get pressure from the TV station to add an element of entertainment to this no quite the opposite they recognize that uh this is this is perilous territory that it's thin ice that you know our credibility my credibility and that of the station are on the line when I do this stuff so I try to approach it uh just like I would any other story and Report things that we can verify or at least reasonably deserve to be reported so that the station does not ask me to uh to fluff it up or or make it more Sensational quite the opposite they're they're very happy when I do these stories to tone it down a little bit and be careful that's an example with the needle stuff now we called it and we can get into that in a minute we called it a UFO in the strictest definition of the word unidentified because we don't know what it was do not make claims like it's an alien saucer or anything like that and we're always careful even with the Lazar stuff look uh here's the story that he lays out here's where the problems are with it you know there are gaps in his story there are things that don't add up that that I don't believe to be true but ultimately with him I believe that he was telling the truth as he knows it but whether or not we can ever document it or prove it to in a in a subjective an objective way probably not so yeah I try to navigate this cautiously recognizing that there's a lot of people who would like to see it ridiculed and and would like to see us go down in flames uh the hardcore debunkers whether or not they work with some allpurpose evil empire that the the UFO overlords I I tend to doubt it but there are a lot of people that see like to see this really there was a story in our paper by the associate of press it might have run all over the country about the UFO Congress in Laughlin that ended a week or so ago it tried to I think there were efforts it tried to be down the middle but just couldn't help itself the same kind of little pot shots that smarmy reporters have used against U UFOs over the years pop up in story after story and they did in this one you know like you know you you guys know the the lineup at the UFO Congress it's sort of like a come one come all and you know you got to take it again with a grain of assult you don't have to believe everything they got some interesting speakers and then some speakers that I would not consider to be real credible it's sort of like it comes with the territory but you know for a reporter to cover it you see this conspiracy thing you mix in exopolitics and then you got some people speaking in in Klingon and wearing the funny UFO beanie it is so easy to make fun of that and to do it even without being too obvious you know and it happens again and again and I don't know if these reporters who just occasionally cover UFOs and make fun of the topic they think they're the first guys or gals to have done this and come up with the the jokes and the elbow and the ribs C wink and Nod kind of a thing and and poke fun at it they all seem to use the same lines the same jokes the same approach to belittle the topic and it does my uh profession no good I mean because it's it's the easy way it's the easy way to make fun of it and and and crank out some some jokes the hard way is going out there spending night after night at area 1 with binoculars dodging the security guards and coyotes and dirt clads and things like that to try to get to the story it's the hard part is tracking down Witnesses and trying to verify their background and getting documentation that's hard work these folks don't do that it's a lot easier to make fun of it I I get sick of it I've caught so much grief on the UFO stuff over the years most of it from my journalism colleagues it just drives them crazy that I take this stuff seriously that I try to approach it like any other story I mean I've broken a lot of good stor here uh over the years I've been here a long time were it not for the UFO thing I probably would be perilously close to being respectable but uh do you think it keeps you from being on a network I think it probably has has put a ceiling over where my career could go that's okay that's all right I like living here I like working where I work and and my station has given me the kind of support that I I don't think many stations would allowing me to to follow the stories where they lead they don't ask me to do UFO stuff when I come up with something that I think is interesting and and deserves to be on TV I pitch it to them and and they give me a thumbs up or thumbs down mostly thumbs up but never have asked me to to fluff it up or or add an entertainment Factor at all well you know part of the problem you mentioned the the Laughlin Event the UFO Congress and I didn't see that that news item but of course I think you've also pointed out George that the field is Its Own Worst Enemy you know you look at the lineup and and this is I think what a lot of people who have a genuine interest in this start to look at and say you know something sort of smells here and this goes back to the thing that Greer did back in 2001 putting a bunch of in some cases very credible Witnesses up with people who were uh very problematic and this is something that we see over and over again you look at the lineup for the Congress and again I I we don't want to make this about the personalities but it's easy to see how people in the media would go and sit in on a session from one of the more questionable people at this Congress I'm not going to mention names people can look at the lineup and you know based on the things we've talked about in the parast they get a very clear idea of who I've got in mind that there are names on here who are you know not respectable people in any realm and they get thrown on the same stage given the same weight and credibility as people who you know do have good things to say and and who are credible is there any way that we're ever going to get around this or again is it that you see this at a place like the UFO Congress because because they want to fill seats and so they look to get a wide crosssection of all sorts of different speakers people talking about serious UFO stuff and then people talking about establishing love circles with the with the space Brothers is that you mean that's not serious well no but I was sitting here David please I was sitting here thinking I could establish a love circle with my wife we you know call in the forget it fake magazine is proud to be celebrating its 60th anniversary and its 700th issue that 60 years of bringing you true reports of the strange and unknown keep up with the latest on angels and miracles psychic phenomena ghosts UFOs life after death and much much more it's bigger and better than ever subscribe Now by calling 1 8728 2730 or online at www.fatmag.com that's 18728 2730 or www.fatmag.com what are you waiting for your fate awaits you're in the parast with Jean Steinberg and David bedney you never know what's going to happen next listen we're have George nap Jo ining us on the parast this week and we are not kidding around we understand why there are concerns about events like this where they have a little bit of this a little bit of that and it's a smus board of UFO events and it takes away The credibility doesn't it well I think it does to some extent because it makes it so easy for people like that AP reporter to go there see it on a little bit spend a half of a day and then write a smarmy smirky little story like the one that was printed in the paper here and it happen Happ s over and over again you you do have organizations like muon that are much more selective and who they have uh to speak at their symposiums I I've spoken at that uh their International Symposium a couple of times and it's pretty good lineup doesn't mean you have to buy everything that everybody says but they do weed out the real crazies and and have a sort of a scientific bent and and uh I think they do a pretty good job yeah I think the UFO Congress does uh have the broadest possible appeal so they can put butts in the seats and and make a little money I guess and they would say look we're offering a forum for all kinds of different things you can pick and choose what you want but it does not help the overall credibility of the subject to have euphology mixed in with all this other crazy stuff you know as you said euphology is quite capable of screwing itself up its own reputation without any help from anybody else so given that we know that George how do we then try to change the tone of the conversation is it something we should try to do is it even in the realm of possibility that that's something that could be accomplished in our lifetimes I don't think so because it's the consumer you know the the public what they want now the internet all the crazier the story The more interest there is I'm thinking of people like Dan burish and Dr Dan crane here in in Las Vegas and the ridiculous story that he tells and it gets Wilder and Wilder every year and he's got a Cadre of people who are willing to buy those tapes so he keeps cranking it out and he always has to step it up a notch with some new uh lie and New Creation or mythology in order to keep the interest among his potential customers I don't know how we weed that out you know it it is a free Society people can say whatever they want you're welcome to pay attention to whatever you want and I I don't know how to stop it um you know this topic has always attracted crazies and uh Fringe elements and and I suspect it always will I don't have an answer I I don't think it'll end in our lifetime not at all no in the old days of course we try to separate these events we'd have a serious UFO event and then we let the contactees or the crazies or whatever you wanted to call them go to giant rock and make the Integratron ladies and gentlemen you don't know what this machine is and I'm not going to explain it to you but you get the sense of it I went out there a couple years ago to the Integratron which is now being used it's being rented out for some kind of like Sonic experiences where people uh make weird mystical sounds on bones or rocks or something anyway it's a really interesting building but I'm not sure it was built from any space alien plans well that's what the intention was when of the contactees Daniel fry back in the 50s he started collecting money donations to build this machine that was supposed to give you Perpetual life as I recall or if it wasn't Perpetual life make you feel better I think the claims tended to disintegrate or at least were lessened over time it's now of Interest I think as a minor historical footnote but as I said it's being operated as some sort of a new age hippie kind of Healing Center it's an interesting place if you ever get a chance to go out there just to from an historical eological historical standpoint meanwhile in contemporary times there are interesting UFO cases going on so I briefly brought up the needles episode George for our listeners that aren't familiar with this could you give us some background on what happened sure May 14th of last year it's like 3:00 in the morning something comes blazing out of the sky heading from the Northeast toward the Southwest one witness who saw it is a guy named Frank Costigan who was the chief of police at LAX for a couple of years and also chief of operations there so he's familiar with all kinds of aircraft he gets up to let out his cat and this thing flies overhead he said it was a long oblong kind of an object like a fuel tanker car on fire a turquoise Flames coming out of it uh he thought it was maybe at first thought it was an aircraft that was going to crash and it went it dropped out of sight behind a mountain right by his house and he thought he would hear something about it later and he and well subsequently he did uh down on the Colorado River there's a guy named I'll call him houseboat Bob he's fishing he's floating down the river at 3:00 in the morning and he sees this thing fly over and it crash lands on The Banks of Colorado he thought it was a plane as well he runs upstairs on his house booat to try to get a site phone to call out and call somebody and report a plane crash and within a couple of minutes these helicopters arrive four smaller military helicopters and then a great big sky crane and the sky crane dipped down below the the where he could see it picks this object up still kind of glowing and hauls it away toward the north the other little helicopters followed subsequently uh the next morning uh there's this ktvx radio in town of needles the guy who owns the station uh which is where Frank Costigan the ex cop from LAX is employed uh this guy is driving to work and he sees this Convoy of really strange vehicles um uh blacked out windows government plates lots of antennas guys in military haircuts uh crew cuts and sunglasses driving these things they really give him the a hard look followed him back to the station uh he sees a whole failan of these things driving through town and uh and he thought it was interesting and when his friend Frank comes into the station he mentions it to him and then they subsequently got a call on their talk show from this guy houseb Bob who described what was going on over the next couple of days these men in black type people start showing up asking questions about the incident Bob Sor gets a little scared and and uh goes underground at least for a time period and I think Linda how got wind to this from Coast to Coast radio from me and over coast to coast and and she started poking around got an interview with Bob posted it on her website and then the story sort of uh ended there I picked up on it last year in July we went down and uh found house boo Bob we found Costigan we found some other Witnesses put the story together uh we uh sent out a lot of inquiries to uh different military bases and the FAA and things of that sort to try to figure out if we could document it we do have some information that it does appear that the military helicopters were in the air in that area we at least have eyewitness statements that these Janet planes the planes that Ferry workers to and from Area 51 had landed at Laughlin uh that next morning and it looks like maybe my guess it is a UFO in the strictest sense unidentified but it seems like it was uh some sort of a military project he got out of hand or off a range or or something like that cuz bam they were on it in a big hurry the story about these strange Men In Black it's a little more complicated but we can talk about that if you want to get into it well just a couple of details about the actual object itself when this thing was coming down was it it doing sort of a typical sort of a a meteorite kind of a motion did it change direction or speed at any point it did it slowed down uh both the Bob and Costigan it said it seemed to slow down and then speed up while it was in mid-flight but it didn't do any maneuvering not like a saucer or anything like that it was a meteor type trajectory except for the fact that it slowed down was there any kind of an explosion or or or sound event when this thing impacted I think he said it was like a thump which uh which that makes sense because that area of the Colorado River it's like a beach it's real Sandy it's overgrown with salt Cedar and other kinds of invasive plants but uh he described it to us as a thump and that area where we we went and looked to see if we could see an impact point a couple of times and I could never find it but the whole area there is a real Sandy Bottom and it would it makes s that would make a Thum okay so this would seem not necessarily to be from out there but it could very well be a secret aircraft or just any kind of military aircraft which is why they ran out to find out what was going on yeah that would be my guess it's interesting on a variety of levels one if you believe that there really are UFOs and that maybe some have been recovered after crashing this is the kind of operation that might be able to do something like that and we accept the eyewitness statements and and I have no reason not to believe him uh it would seem like they're pretty good at it I suspect that it was a military program of some sort maybe an advanced big UAV of some sort or some kind of a test platform they've got a lot of exotic stuff in the works and this uh presumably got off the range or something went arai and and they were tracking it the fact that they were able to get there so quickly suggests that they were part of the operation from the beginning but again that's yeah this uh Bob character when he saw this thing he saw this helicopter carrying it in the air yes he saw it he said it went down below where he could see because on the river it's a little bit lower than the than the bank it went down below it was there for just a minute or so and then uh he doesn't know how they attached it but then it the sky crane picked up and it was carrying this object back toward the North and we actually have found other Witnesses in the town of Laughlin which is north of Needles who saw this thing coming back they didn't see it the other way but they saw this thing being uh carried this little flotilla of helicopters passing by the outskirts of their town was this thing it might understand that this uh thing was actually uh self-illuminated it was emanating light yeah you know I've heard a couple of different stories Bob at first said he thought it was still glowing when they picked it up in my interview I know on the UFO Hunters I think he said something a little different but he he had told me in my interview he thought the thing was illuminated because the spotlights from the other helicopters were lighting it up up not necessarily that was generating its own light but the other people the Witnesses in Laughlin had told me they they saw a faint sort of greenish glow from this thing as it passed through their town so you know it's slightly different accounts from the different Witnesses so slightly greenish not reddish or whitish no NOP the descriptions have all been pretty consistent in that and uh it was a turquoise type Flames coming from behind it according to Cigan and Bob and then the greenish or blue green sort of a glow by the other witnesses as it was being carried away so what kind of flammable material creates a greenish Flame or turquoise flame you know somebody sent me a list of metals that produce there's a couple of metals I don't have the list in front of me of the metals that that do produce that but there's an answer to that I I have to dig that up and get it for you but there is an answer yeah it's curious because if you think about typical uh remote control crafter UAV it doesn't sound like it's got the shape or morphology of something presumably he didn't see any kind of wing structures on this of any sort no it didn't nope it like I said the guy said it looked sort of like a tanker you long uh no wings no tail or anything like that what the heck that would be I don't know I really don't know yeah no sound when it was coming over either right was silent as it was coming over yeah I don't remember I don't think he said there was any sound he didn't hear any sound well that's always one of the things that that I I I listen very carefully for because there's that thing about my own UFO sightings that that I personally had there is this element of zero sound absolutely no sound which is sort of very very odd to actually experience something that's you know mechanical in the sky that's not making sound it's not something that your brain tells you makes any sense because it doesn't especially with something moving fast like even like a balloon or like a zeppelin you know a blimp will have Motors associated with it that are pushing it along and and they'll make sound considerable sound especially with things at low altitude so that's always something that you end up listening for and and this idea that it slowed down is of course interesting but it didn't change direction is that correct right it could be a perception thing it seems to slow down you know but both of them had said it so the stuff with the Men in Black is where the story got interesting for me because they uh you know I kept getting these stories about them floating around and asking questions uh there was a lady who was at the radio station while house boo Bob called in she's a democratic political organizer and she comes on the station I guess every week to do a little spot and she was there when Bob called and then two nights later she has this political meeting and and one of these guys shows up and he's pacing around and smoking and wants to talk to her hey I want to join your club and can I can I join in and she said sure and then he starts asking questions about houseb Bob he goes so you were there huh well what did houseb Bob what did Bob say off the air how do I get a hold of this guy she says I thought you were here to join this this political movement join the party or something and uh I guess the guy stormed away or something and and those kind of things were going on they the people in town started seeing these vehicles I started getting reports from long distance truckers and and delivery guys who travel between Las Vegas and needles and that area down there and they had seen them so my photographer Matt Adams and I started going down and look for them as we're working on the the needle story we just take off and and go see if we can get lucky and one day we did uh we're driving back from uh needles just past the Laughlin turnoff and Matt the photographer goes man there goes one boom there goes another one we flip around and caught up to this Convoy of trucks and they're just pretty much as the witnesses had described them government plates blacked out windows lots of antenna no Insignia to indicate who they were other than the plate so we catch up and I've got the video camera hanging out the window and uh I'm videotaping everything I can we get up to the window and pretty quickly these guys figure out that we're we're on to them so I see them lifting up the radios talking to each other and pretty soon they pull over there's a way station near Lin these two vehicles pull over and as they did one's just sitting there on two of them sitting on the side of the road we pulled over and got out and started shooting more video back in their direction as we did that three more of them came by zoom zoom zoom so we're kind of sort of in a little standoff there like who's going to draw their gun first uh after a couple of minutes of us shooting back in their Direction one truck comes up toward us Parks right next to us gunning its engine then goes about 10 ft Beyond us and then the other one pulls up a little closer so now they got us essentially surrounded these two guys get out of the first truck civilian clothes military mannerisms and bearing we see the guy tuck in a piece in his shirt and hide it as he comes out to us he says we have to ask you to move off the side of the road we're federal agents I said federal agents who do you work for well we're federal federal agents I need to see your ID right now I said well okay I'll show you mine I'd like you to show me yours and he whipped out a badge too quick for me to see it and I said I need to see that again he whips it out again and and sure enough he is a federal agent he worked for something called the nnsa the National nuclear Security Agency which has the oversight capabilities over anything to do with nuclear weapons actually these guys we were later to learn operate for an even more obscure agency called the office of secure Transportation OST these are the guys in charge of transporting nuclear weapons and nuclear materials between different military bases and National Labs so we had a little little encounter there kind of a tense encounter on the side of the road they're very professional took down all our information and said look we need you get off the side of the road stop messing with us don't interfere with our shipment I go shipment what shipment of what because I can't answer any questions I said well look I I work with the nnsa all the time they have a big Presence at the test site can't we arrange to speak to somebody he goes oh yeah somebody's going to be talking to you you can count on that I'll tell you what that's a good Cliffhanger for part two we will rejoin George knap on the other side of the paracast are you ready to order the official paracast t-shirt you asked we answered we're now taking orders for the official paracast t-shirt it comes in white 100% cotton the front of it features the same logo that we have on our community Forums on the back it says separating signal from noise it's just $14.95 plus shipping in your choice of sizes to order the official powercast t-shirt here's all you have to do visit our new online store at store.the-paracast-docomo.com dothe paracast docomo paracast

t-shirt welcome back to the parast with Jean Steinberg and David YY we return with George nap award-winning journalist and not just somebody who is been credited because of something related to UFOs but just covering regular stuff too okay he's been doing this for many many years he's been covering UFOs he has entered what might be the Cesspool of UFO field and has basically found things there that are credible and worth investigating further so okay so you encounter these people what happens next well we we tracked them down I was as describing we track them down on the side of the road they pull over we pull over and we had a confrontation there and they told us they had worked for this uh nnsa but actually another agency within nnsa and I had asked them hey can we talk about this cuz I you know I work with these guys on in Nevada all the time and they said well somebody will be getting in touch with you we're sure and I'm thinking to myself gez I'll bet every one of my tax returns is going to be audited for the next 10 years by the time I get in on Monday morning sure enough when I get in Monday morning there was a call from a friend of mine in the uh he works for the Department of energy he said what the hell were you doing out there message goes you don't know what you how close you came uh call me when you get in so I called this guy and he explained to me who these fellas were working for the OST the office of secure Transportation this is a very impressive organization I had never heard of of them before but it makes sense that there would be somebody in charge of this kind of thing they recruit uh ex um Commando types Special Forces guys cops uh cream of the cream cream of the crop guys uh they go through very rigorous creening very rigorous training it's a an exclusive and um and much desired position because they have to be the most trusted guys in the government they're in in charge of moving nuclear weapons around so uh I said uh I talked to this friend of mine so are they going to talk to me he said let me see what I can do so within a week a couple of guys flew in from out of state from headquarters of this agency OST in Albuquerque and we had a little off the Record briefing they just basically told me I said look we're not a Secret Agency uh we're not one of these agencies that doesn't exist we just don't like a high high profile because of what we do but we do need cooperation from law enforcement around the country so we you know we let them know what we're doing we don't announce shipments um uh for security reasons but we'd like them to know who we are in case we need some help out there and they describe what the agency does I'm thinking gosh this is a great story have you ever done a news story about it and they said no so can't we work something out I said maybe and so I guess they did some checking on me and they they found the UFO stuff and were a little concerned about that but then my friend At Doe said I'm not a UFO crazy you can trust him he keeps his word so they gave us uh first ever glimpse into their training exercises that were going on in a in a corner of the Nevada Test Site um and we got to go up there and and see what they do and interview some of the people they headed the agency flew out from Washington to meet us and we did some stories and man these are impressive guys but with without me asking uh about whether they transport aliens or crash saucers they said look uh we don't transport aliens we only transport nuclear weapons I guess out on the road there's a certain mythology that's grown up around these guys among longall truckers who see them see them out there in these convoys with these strange vehicles and and you know so it's created sort of an aura of mystery around them and a lot of speculation and wild stories which is why I think they allowed me to to produce something so I I essentially believe them when they say we don't know anything about needles we don't know who was running around asking those questions but it's not us cuz we

when we get a nuclear material we put it in our Convoy and we go and we don't stop until we get to where we need to be going because that's their mission and so I believe them so I don't know if somebody is operating Under the Umbrella of these guys making themselves look like these guys just to confuse the issue because there were a lot of similarities I just don't think it's them told me some fascinating stuff it's not a paracast kind of a subject but man it's interesting about how these vehicles they've got they're like Transformers they said if if terrorists for example were able to somehow as unlikely as it seems overpower or take out the whole team um that these vehicles are capable of Defending themselves and if somebody tried to get in these trucks and and and grab a nuclear weapon they would be dead and I asked them so what is it what's the me tell you that I give no no of course not yeah fascinating stuff though um so if these these guys are certainly Men In Black types but they're not the guys that were there I think uh asking the questions about the needles object all right let's look at the Men in Black what do you think they are really government agents or what I don't know that's really strange you know you I'm sure you guys have read the the stuff from way back when when it seemed like they were aliens as much as government agents you know the the reports you hear are these strange the strange languages the weird cars and the outfits and the get up and it was it was sort of an alien aspect to it I suspect a lot of that was hyped up by writers at the time uh but some of those uh eyewitness accounts are from Fairly credible people I I suspect that there are uh have been from time to time agents who who go around and and collect UFO information uh the guys who for example collect the gun camera film you know we've heard those stories from different military Pilots over the years that it goes into a lock brief case and then it disappears somewhere but I don't know what to make of it I I suspect it's uh mostly overhyped and and like so much else in the UFO field has been greatly exaggerated in time there's some really credible stories though along those lines I mean you've got the Gordon Cooper story about what he supposedly shot out at Edwards Air Force Base uh a disc landing and that these guys in civilian clothes took this footage and basically vanished with it you know and I hear someone like Gordon Cooper talking uh you know I to me his story and it's one that he told um I think it was in out of the blue James Fox's documentary very very compelling at the same time you wonder why haven't we seen any of this footage ever sort of even get leaked or Surface George I mean is it is it really something where it's kept under such covers that there's no no chance we'll ever see any of this ever I mean have you ever do you ever feel in the work that you've done and the people you spoke do obviously you've had some pretty good access to people has there ever even been that sort of the possibility that you thought you were getting close to any of that footage have you ever looked for any of that oh sure sure I have I mean that's the Holy Grail that kind of stuff uh but I've never got close to it I have no idea where it is I I don't think I've even uh interviewed anybody who's actually sat down and seen it it's mostly people who've heard about it right and uh have tried to find it themselves or or learn more about it um I think it that there might be footage like that there certainly is similar footage of uh you know incidents as we were talking about National Security kind of cases and encounters with the military in the early 1990s I went to Russia twice and we had a an a window of opportunity and my my the premise I had was that was at the parista and glasnost and and uh the Russians were opening up on all kinds of stuff they let out their Oswald files and things of that sort and I thought well this is a unique time to maybe find out what the Russians know about UFOs uh our government clearly is not demonstrating any willingness to to spill the beans so I thought if we could uh crack that window in Russia gains access to Russian sources we might be able to learn more about what our government knows about UFOs from the Russians than we will ever learn from our own government and we did we brought back several thousand pages of documents they had had to secret long-term uh military studies of UFOs had collected thousands and thousands of case reports and eyewitness accounts and video and films and and there had been encounters with Russian war planes three of their planes had been shot down by UFOs I mean it was all being taken very seriously by their military and they said our military and intelligence did the same thing had the same approach to it where that information goes uh I don't know why the government would not release it I have a couple of ideas I mean it's the you know the same ones that have been kicked around before they might have had very legitimate reasons for the secrecy in the beginning starting right after World War II these are appearing in the skies they can fly rings around our best warplanes uh they didn't want to panic anybody by by announcing that we did not in fact have complete control of the the Skies over our nation and and so they decided to start studying it and figuring out what it was I think over the years that so many lies have been told about it uh are Area 51 is an example of that you know whether or not there were ever crash saucers out there I can't say for sure I suspect something like that was out there um but you you look at why they wouldn't open up the hanger doors and let us kick the tires on the on the UFOs or something like that I think it's to protect their own butt to a large extent they've told so many lies to the public and to members of Congress and to the media over the years about this uh purposely U sending us down the um the wrong path uh probably have stolen millions of dollars tens of millions of dollars maybe billions from legitimate National Security Programs funded by Congress and they funnel that money instead into other things I think these guys would go to jail in fact there was a congressional investigator who contacted a small group of uh one by one um he had the highest levels of clearances for Congress and he was given a mission basically 15 years ago to make contact and see what there was to this UFO stuff so he contacted a number of us uh individually over a couple of year period and he came out to see me about Area 51 and I I sort of gave him a briefing and he went out there demanded that they take him down to S4 where Lazar had said the hangers were and everything and he told me although he did not find the saucers out there or anywhere else that he felt the reason for the cover up was these guys would go to jail if it ever comes out if and when it comes out a lot of these people high ranking military Intel people would go to jail for the kinds of things they've done to perpetuate a cover up so it might be as simple as cover your own ass kind of a thing is the reason for it goes on well you know you've got a one about that who really would end up getting uh castigated or punished for this in any serious uh material way now let's shift gears slightly here George because obviously your your name has been very closely associated with the infamous Skinwalker Ranch back when we first had youan we talked to you a bunch about what uh had been going on out there and I was wondering if you could address at this point where the state of that particular property um is at at this point I mean has anything been done with the data I mean certainly uh there's some interesting stuff that comes up in the book but whatever happened to that case well um Bob Bigalow Las Vegas uh develop real estate developer Hotel owner um still owns the property he has a couple of caretakers out there um he and I visited the the property about a year ago um instigated in part by the constant intrusions trespassers and and people just acting like jerks um you know level of activity that's described in the book The Hunt for the skinwalker has gone down so much uh that it did not warrant having the scientific team there and that sort of led to the demise of nids which just essentially went away uh there's nobody left to analyze the data there's nobody left to really study what goes on at the ranch and and the people who live there who were there 24 hours a day say there's been nothing like uh what had happened during the peak of the activity while that other family and nids were were there um there has been activity in the larger area the uent Basin some mutilation cases UFO cases daylight stings uh sightings of of disc shaped craft but nothing on the property itself robob has U now has a beefed up the security presence on the ranch over the past year he and I flew up there as I said about over a year ago uh because we kept getting these reports from trespassers and we figured I volunteered hey I'll go confront some of these guys let me add him he brings the head of his security uh force a very uh very very Savvy guy uh packing heat we go up there the uh security guy is on the uh far end one far end of the ranch I'm on the front gate and Bob's in the middle going back and forth and we're just going to wait and see what happens and they they equi me with they had all this camo gear on and I had a a uh walkie-talkies and bear spray and uh and a million candle power spotlight and they sat me out the front gate and I was going to you know pass on the word you guys are not willing to and not welcome here the problem had become that it become like a party spot there people would come and bring uh 12 packs of beer park at the gate gets get wiped up out of their mind drinking throw all these beer cans all over food wrappers and and then wander onto the property in the middle of the night they'll use Flash Cube uh photo uh equipment peeking in Windows in the middle of the night and just acted like assholes uh basically and uh so Bob was a little frustrated with it I had become frustrated with it and so we went up there they put me at that front gate and sure enough both nights that I was there this was in it would have been September I had encounters with people so the first the first truck comes up there's three people in a pickup truck they pull up right to the gate turn off the engine they're just starting to get out of their car and I think I'm I'm sort of sitting in a lawn chair on the side of the road behind some bushes I thought well looks like they saw me I pop out and turn on flip on this million candle power light and these people screamed you know ah and they throw the gear the truck into gear started up and burn down the the road just scared out of their wits and I'm thinking to myself you know by the time this hits the internet they're going to tell uh hey we we had an encounter with a 9 foot tall Bigfoot with a laser beam or something you know I'll tell you what we'll return in a moment to Bigfoot George knp Who Reveals His true identity hi this is Bill Burns from UFO magazine and UFO Hunters you know there are several ways that you can get UFO magazine yeah we know Bill we know we know we know just shut up just give us one way don't tell us you're psychic and you know give it 8,000 phone numbers and take 15 minutes of our time when we just want to hear the show just tell us how we can get UFO magazine in one way okay okay just go to www.f.com subscribe online you happy yeah was that so hard actually harder than you know we want to hear from you if you have a comment or question about the parast send it to news@the.par.com that's newsthe the.par.com and don't forget to visit our forums where you can talk to fellow listeners and gen and data just go to the the.par.com and click on the Forum links that's the Forum links at the the.par.com George knap of course is an award-winning journalist UFO investigator we're returning to Skinwalker Ranch where George knap puts on his Bigfoot uniform and then well we did have uh I was describing this trip we took out with Bob Bigalow and his security guy we had SE a couple of encounters and and ran people off trying to spread the message look you're not welcome here it's lucky that nobody's got hurt you come creeping up to my uh window with a a flash camera in the middle of the night you might get shot you know uh We've you know Bigalow has called the cops but by the time they get there these Interlopers are usually gone so he now has a regular rotation of his security people who are out there just for the purpose of keeping people off the property um you know I do get occasional reports from people uh amateur investigators who go out there they climb up on the ridge they stake it out and and they describe some very wild experiences I think it's sort of like a wishful thinking kind of a thing you if you drive a long way to go to Skinwalker Ranch then by God you're going to see a skinwalker whether you really do or not um it's a sad thing that there isn't the level of activity that there was because I know the people who are in that program uh colum kellerer my co-author and me and Bob would all love to see it go on that there a level of activity would justify a resumption of the study but that just isn't the case there are some other hot spots around the country that have popped up uh Ted Phillips I don't know if you've had him Onley Woods absolutely the yeah the similari to Skinwalker Ranch I've been talking to Ted I mean it's amazing it's it gets closer and closer to what we were uh encountering out there uh every time I talk to Ted and and I think there's a real opportunity for somebody to do some pretty solid research I mean he's been doing it but I think he's been doing on a Sho string that's this the same kind of stuff happening there I there is interesting stuff going on with Bigalow but I don't know if you want to get into that or not well absolutely I mean we we wanted to ask you about this news that's just come up in the last week or so about him putting some funding behind muon what's what's going on with that are you in the loop on that I am somewhat uh I don't know if you guys listen to Coast to Coast occasionally and I I I get your emails and and um well last fall I had Bob on the program to make this announcement about the creation of bass a Bigalow Advanced aerospace systems in which he was going to actively seek out information about exotic propulsion Technologies to to sort of pick up the pace not just to study UFOs but to put together a team that uh is dedicated to finding out how these things fly to collect information and figure out how they work and maybe try to duplicate the technology which is you know what we've heard our government has tried to do over the years so big low is doing it on his own and one aspect of that you know when he made the announcement on the show I figured it was going to be big news but it just sort of fell with a thud oh that's kind of interesting cuz I don't think people realized how significant a development that was now it's sort of sinking in because he's offered to uh put money up but money where his mouth is uh using muon is sort of the the Clearing House or a screening organization to figure out what uh what projects what incidents what tantalizing details might be worthy of an infusion of cash and research it's a very exciting uh Prospect I mean you know Bob has always been kind of a frustrating guy for journalists and and Outsiders to deal with because he doesn't like a lot of attention he doesn't want need it or want it uh so he just made that announcement and then he sort of uh then it sort of went underground but he's been quietly putting together staff I think he's got well over a dozen people now working for him already and he looking for a couple dozen more and uh they're ready to go they're ready they're entertaining uh a number of uh research proposals and u sound like he's going to jump into it in a big way and it's very exciting I I don't know that it's going to bear fruit whether they're ever going to find that the Holy Grail technology or not but uh at least somebody's giving it a try so basically the idea is to go out and study um UFO cases with the I guess hope that they're going to be able to figure out what the propulsion systems are Behind These craft yeah it's it's a multifaceted thing part of it is they would study these uh these uh cases if it if it shows some promise of indicating how the technology works the other part of it and the ones that he emphasized in my interview some months ago is that he's looking for anybody who has sced away a piece of Roswell or the guy who knows where the stuff was at rright Patterson or maybe the uh uh backyard inventor who's created some kind of an anti-gravity machine or the disgruntled former NSA guy who knows where the the secret files are that kind of thing uh he is openly seeking anybody who has info whether it's UFO eyewitnesses or whether it's former government insiders it's uh I I'm I'm really curious about how how the government views this thing since Bob is actively recruiting uh people to Spill the Beans well it gets so complicated when you talk about this I mean I I can tell you that in doing a some work with narccap on the O'Hare case one of the things that that really struck me personally and for me provided a bit of a clue and when we talk about propulsion systems and and I know I've talked about this on the show before but um there was something about the O'Hare episode when this craft supposedly shot through the cloud cover left the hole what seemed to be the case was that this thing uh did not make any kind of sound no Sonic Boom of any sort and uh this actually sort of Falls in line with an episode that I had growing up which was a sighting of a UFO craft very close proximity and and I watch this thing shoot straight up and it made absolutely no sound no Sonic Boom of any sort which to me was an indication that this thing and again I didn't think of it at the time I was as a kid but looking at the narc cap episode doing some some analysis work on some of the photographic supposed photographic evidence that surfaced from that there was an interesting story behind that in a presentation I did at a UFO event last year that I I went public with it generated a it got Bill Burns all hot and bothered um when I was showing some of this uh photographic work that we had had come up with but anyway there is something about the idea that these things are not fully material when they move at high speed if you're in a craft you're in an object that is not actually displacing air that indicates that this whole what we normally think of as the rules of physics where you have resistance and you have something that you know will break the sound Barry and create a sonic boom we we there have been some interesting things along those lines recently in fact out in California and just as when we're taping this right now a couple of nights ago here in New York in Westchester County there was this huge sonic boom that happened a lot of reports about it nobody knows what happened nobody knows what the actual source is but there is something about the idea that these things are not fully material like we think of them as being solid when they're moving quickly and you know it it's interesting George because then that kind of connects back into the whole discussion of what we originally started the show with today which was this idea that you know are we talking about interplanetary visitors are we talking about interdimensional visitors and this idea that that occurs to me that well when you've got something that can basically move between Star systems the only way you could even do that would be essentially to bend space time there's no other way any kind of conventional method of transportation we can think of uh you know to just try to you know gain large speeds there are all sorts of problems with that but when you bend SpaceTime if you change the rules of the game then all of a sudden a lot of the limitations that you have are no longer apply and so looking at it from that point of view I it's interesting to think that Bigalow is confident that we know enough about even the nature of physical reality to be able to have any kind of a handle on what those propulsion systems are

I think there's a there's a problem there with just our limits of understanding of our own physical reality I'll tell you before we put limits on anything that we can do fate magazine is proud to be celebrating its 60th anniversary and its 700th issue that's 60 years are bringing you true reports of the strange and unknown keep up with the latest on angels and miracles psychic phenomena ghosts UFOs life after death and much much more more it's bigger and better than ever subscribe Now by calling 1 00728 2730 or online at www.fatmag.com that's 18728 2730 or www.fatm.com what are you waiting for your fate awaits hi this is Don Ecker and you are tuned into to the paracast with Jean Steinberg and David bedney hey let me tell you what you're going to hear stuff here that you probably won't hear anywhere else hear that George snor we are talking to George naap investigative journalist UFO investigator and we're looking now at the frontiers of Science and how far can we go in figuring out what maybe makes those UFOs tick so George you want to provide that answer you know I think the example you use of of O'Hare is a good example of the kind of thing that that that Bigalow would would want to U dig into with this new undertaking bass you very uh elegantly described um what this craft did and I think that example would explain why it'd be worth Bigelow's time to go out and talk to eyewitnesses and and research individual cases because it you know the answers to this probably does require out of the box thinking we you know the way you describe it as not being entirely material IAL object you know that might not occur to anybody until you have a case like this where it is so clearly demonstrated so then he has his scientist start thinking about how would we accomplish this and maybe it is too far beyond us but you you can't start until you you get the idea and maybe that's what these cases do is provide an inspiration or get them on the right track of thinking about how to accomplish something like this now whether or not we can get it I don't know but man that's a great case and I you know what I'd be happy to pass that along to colum and the and the other folks who are working with them if you'd like the thing that struck me about that O'Hare case as I said it ties back to a personal episode I had back in the 70s in Somerset New Jersey and I've talked about on the show there no need to repeat it now I'll be happy to talk to you about it off off the air but I basically at very close proximity I witnessed a craft moving and again it's that I've described it on the show before is that's idea that you have something that's at a full standstill it's absolutely stationary in the air at low altitude and then BAS shoots straight up where there is no sense of acceleration it goes from absolutely motionless to full speed in one shot there is no sense of something gaining acceleration when you see that there's no way to actually describe that it's a visual that has stayed with me ever since and when you see that um it's one of these things where this is when you know that you're actually having I I think a true paranormal episode happening in front of you because there is no way to to actually relate it to anything that you know and this is that I think that when these kinds of things happen the fact that there's a disconnect between the way that you know the eyes see it and the Brain processes it sometimes this is actually I think misinterpreted or I shouldn't say misinterpreted it's it's seen through this filter of high strangeness and those are the two words that come up a lot when we talk about the very fringes of the stuff and I think that when people talk about High strangeness in some ways that's a way to verbalize this disconnect between the eye and the brain when this is happening that people perceive this as having some ele element of high strangeness which puts it outside of even what we consider to be a paranormal experience and makes it something that is almost now surreal in nature and and makes people think now wait a minute maybe I can't even trust my own senses with regards to this and even muddies the whole discussion even more I mean this is just you get to the point where you start to have these breakdowns of what good words will do you in describing the stuff or being able to convey to somebody something went from being you know fully emotionless to full speed no acceleration there's no reference for that there's no place in nature would we see that occur really in any way that you your brain can make use of it you know I think the the famous quote from Arthur C Clark you know if you we did find an alien civilization with sufficiently advanced technology it would appear to us as is equivalent to Magic and that's what you're describing jacqu valet back to him who you know I can't say enough good stuff about the guy you know something else that a theme he developed years ago that really struck a chord with me is uh the idea that these UFO appearances are affecting us on some other level a subconscious level that it's that they appear to people uh not necessarily the the importance isn't the sighting itself but uh a long-term kind of a I don't know if it's a plan but certainly a long-term effect on our our Collective Consciousness over and over again that tends to be reinforced in ways that we don't immediately understand you know obviously that incident you had had a powerful profound effect on you even this many years later and and there are millions of people all over the world who've had that same kind of similar kind of experience who've had similar profound effects in their lives and and I think jacqu might have been on to something that that uh you know I don't know if there's a grand specific plan and a culturization process a conditioning process you know if it wasn't intention intended to be that it certainly seems to be having that effect well at that point you have to start start to wonder I think he referred to it as a control system yes um yeah and you have to start to wonder though at what point do we use our own cultural conditioning to try to put some sort of a context around this that we can make any kind of use out of you know uh because we as human beings like to think of ourselves is the center of the universe and one of the things I also got from that little bit of that muon meeting that I that I saw you speaking on on YouTube was this idea that you said that um you know maybe our egos couldn't handle finding out the truth of this because maybe it would really destroy our that that sense that we have of being sort of this Central focal point that certainly things like religion have always you know supported this idea of being special you know what if we found out that well maybe we're not that special at all maybe in fact uh we're just part of this genetic bank that is the planet Earth that maybe is what is actually of interest to these beings um or like Fort said that we're property or something or that other people have said they use us to harvest souls or maybe they're here like as we're the the drive-in movie theater of the cosmos or something and look at the goofy earthlings and what they're going to do next or you know you talk bringing it back to disclosure and exopolitics and the idea that suddenly they they're going to spill all the secrets you know I don't believe it's going to happen for a variety of reasons one of being that maybe maybe there really is something that we're not ready to handle right we you know you and the three of us think we're ready to handle it we're interested in these topics we want to know and and you hear that everywhere you go at the conferences and and in these circles uh we want to know we're ready for it Maybe not maybe the ultimate truth would be so disturbing that we couldn't handle it I mean this dimensional stuff that that we got into uh the possibility that is some kind of a dimensional doorway at Skinwalker Ranch people are not ready for that uh you know it was a it was a major shift just the idea that we're the Earth is not the center of the universe and uh and that you know Milky Way isn't even the center of the universe and and uh we're just out on the on the sticks cosmically speaking and people have had trouble with that over the years and that we're not the the apple of God's eye now what if you got to get your mind around the idea of parallel Dimensions where there are beings living among us around us they can see us what we can't see them they can interact with our world and we can't interact with theirs do they see us in the shower do they see us in the bedroom do they you know do they pay any attention to us at all people are going to have trouble with that and if there is an actual cover up maybe maybe it's something like that covering something up that really we're not quite ready to handle well they see us in the shower it might be just like washing a dog yeah that's true yeah I think there's a lot of reason believe that that that is certainly a possibility of course when we talk about this stuff it's always important to distinguish between possibilities and probabilities and this is where of course sadly there's this idea that every opinion is valid when discussing this stuff you see this in the New Age realm where people throw around the term energy very often without having a good idea of what it really means now you know this we have to bring up I mean you brought up Coast to Coast so let's talk about this for a minute because obviously you've had a sort of a long time involvement with the show I think a lot of people perceive that a lot of what happens on there ends up being entertainment I is this George a situation where we're forever going to be stuck in a rut where any kind of discussion around this ultimately in order to appeal to the masses has to be framed in entertainment for it to be attractive to the masses is any kind of really deep discussion of these topics always going to be limited to a very small subset of people what do you think about I mean probably and you know I've seen some of the stuff that you guys have the issues you've raised about coast and the broad spectrum of guests uh that are on the program some credible some not I I think that you rais legitimate questions it's something that I know the producers have grappled with I mean they would like every night to be a a Richard Dolan type character on the on the show to credibly go through a pile of information uh but the fact is it is an entertainment medium they do have a very big tent approach to a whole variety of topics and sort of taking the queue from Art Bell way back when I think you can be both entertaining and Illuminating at the same time they're not mutually exclusive I know my own shows that I have a a great deal of uh to say about the guests that I get to talk to I don't go into necessarily belittling or grilling some of these guys that come on even though um I don't U see eye to eye with everybody who has been on the guest guest on the program with me anyway it's more like an approach of uh somebody you have in your living room and since they're a guest you let them make their case have their say and you you ask some questions and you know sometimes it can get a little tense but for the most part uh I I tend to let them just tell their story and I'll I'll probe it here and there and look for weaknesses but I don't I don't Grill them at least that's the approach I take and I know that uh that for a lot of people and again it goes back to our media topic and looking looking at this a lot of people would look at coast to coast and looked at all the big spectrum of uh of guests and think well and tar the whole thing with the same brush is it good gosh it's it's got to be goofy it can't have any credibility if one day they've got a a Richard Dolan type guy on and the next day they're uh channeling ancient space aliens or something um it's it's a tough nut but I'll tell you that that show good gosh does it grind up the material I mean to to put somebody in there who is interesting every night of the week for 4 hours it's tough I think those producers work pretty hard to try to keep it interesting and and not every guest works I know I only do two shows a month and um and not every guest works and sometimes you think you're going to hit one out of the park and it just Falls completely flat uh some people are just uh just fall apart on the air or just not very incredible it's a tough nut I mean it's a it's a it's a tough uh tough project it it's a lot harder than it might sound to put that thing together it it sounds difficult I mean we we in doing the paracast I know that you know we certainly had our shows that have worked and the ones that have not worked at all it can be real problem and we're just doing it once a a week the idea of doing it you know every night and having 4 hours to fill it's daunting it's real daunting and especially I mean and it's a fine balance look on the paracast we we we've created this situation where we every now and then we'll bring someone on and uh do the most basic armchair stuff we had a guy late last year who had been on Coast to Coast last summer and made a lot of claims and hadn't been pressed about any of his claims we had him on the show and essentially uh it turns out this guy was an actual criminal a criminal stealing money from people and doing some very bad things real bad stuff and we had Frank Warren come on with us and uh it it was the most basic due diligence that we did what I would definitely categorize as arm share research to completely discredit everything this guy had to say and and we did this on the show and it's interesting how that plays out because you have some sex segment of the the audience that really appreciate that they're hungry for that and then you have other people who get very annoyed by that they don't want you to be critical in any way because essentially the idea is well everybody should have a voice and everybody's opinion should be listened to and sadly you get to the point where you have to tell people look some opinions perhaps are more valid or more valuable or more Justified than others but of course in our society there is this sense that well everybody's got to have their say well everybody can have their say but they don't have to have their say on the on my radio show anyway or on yours I think you guys have a really cool Niche there in doing that kind of stuff it's much it's very much needed in the field and and uh you carry it off man you do it's good work and it's something that needs to be done weeding things out and and exposing people for who they are it's not always possible to do that on Coast to Coast it's a different kind of a mission uh and a different kind of an audience but um we try to do a good job well we're also glad to have you there thanks I enjoy I get a kick out of it I can go to work and and uh do a job and I don't have to wear pants that's that's fun you know I thought you were gonna say you didn't have to wear a tie but oh man you're not wearing pants oh boy do you do this from their Studio or what I did it from a studio here uh for a while station in Las Vegas but they kept forgetting that I was coming I'd show up on Sunday night and there's nobody there and then the the shows would get canceled so they installed a uh a portable system at a private location I'll put it that way and we've had some technical problems with that as well it's it's now in the process of being moved to another location and uh it's it's nice I don't have to travel across town to go to a a studio it's much closer to home um I would tell you where it is but I don't want people showing up and banging on the door while the show is going on well if you invite us privately we'll go there but we will not use our cameras our digital cameras and our my iPhone I'll turn the camera off make sure it's not done okayy I get a kick out of doing the show it's it's different it's a different medium it's much different it's riding a r in a buldo at times you know I I'm interested in UFOs I only get to do two shows a month so at least one of them is going to be about the UFO topic and some aspect and all the grief I get you know you can you can never please everybody that's for sure and uh people will say oh gez UFOs I don't want to hear about UFOs and to which I respond well man you're listening to the wrong show because I mean that's sort of a core topic here and it's tough to please everybody but you know you got to try well the other thing is too if UFOs are real if what we've been talking about for most of our Lives David and myself in different ways and what you've been exploring for so many years if it's real it's possibly the biggest story of the decade of the century since well as far back as we could remember course right now everything else is going on is so heavy to deal with economics and all that that we really don't have time to worry about whether UFOs are real although in the end it may represent a more important story are you ready to order the official paracast t-shirt you asked we answered we're now taking orders for the official paracast t-shirt it comes in white 100% cotton the front of it features the same logo that we have on our community Forums on the back it says separating signal from noise it's just $4.95 plus shipping in your choice of sizes to order the official powercast t-shirt here's all you have to do visit our new online store at store.the-paracast-docomo-do-the-paracast-do.com you can use a major credit card or PayPal to place your order for the official paracast t-shirt you've entered another dimension you've entered the parast we are talking to George knf investigative journalist and we've been focusing on lots of fascinating UFO related information we focused originally on Area 51 and Bob Lazar and all the unusual character before you move on Jean Jean before you move on there's actually something you just said I want to ask George a question about it's interesting that you you talked you know you mentioned Jean all of these problems that we're facing now you know certainly the financial meltdown and so forth but um George do you get the sense that like I've heard other people say and and I wonder what what you think about this that when things get tough when when the Eon economy gets real problematic things get Rocky people have a lot of stress do you think they turn to these topics like UFOs ghosts the Paranormal as a sense of Escape do you think that the audience for these topics increases in times like this I guess it's possible but I I haven't seen any real definitive pattern in that regard I mean the interest in this it it waxes and wanes at different times and I don't think it's related necessarily to the economy I know a lot of people would like to dismiss it and use explain that it in that way as a dismissive um notion you know oh gosh it's just people reacting to the times it's the same kind of a view that this is people trying to find God in their own lives except for they they're using the guys of aliens instead and I I don't you know I think there's a lot of different reasons people are interested in it but this interest in this topic has gone on forever and it it uh the economy changes Wars change come and go and things like that but UFOs remain and I agree with you that it the importance of the subject I think it is the biggest story of all time and which is part of the appeal and the reason that I've stayed uh active in it for so long the fact that there aren't other mainstream journalists uh networks who pay some attention to it it it's their loss because it is a big story it is such a rich area rich in lore and mythology and rich in facts as well and it's a fascinating undertaking to separate the two it needs a Woodward Bernstein needs 60 Minutes something like that to dig into it and use their influence and power but that's not going to happen it's it's not uh and it's too bad I it's it's amazing to me that more journalists more serious journalists uh radio TV whatever uh people like yourselves don't jump into it with both feet and look for what really is going on because it is big now maybe the economy is a more pressing problem we need to worry about bread on the table we don't have to solve the UFO mystery today but by golly if and when it ever is fully explained and explored I think it would be the biggest uh story of all time and it's going to change everything well if there is disclosure I felt and I think David might agree with me that we have no control over the circumstances of that disclosure it's going to be done on their terms not ours and if that's the case it could happen at any time at any place something some event can occur that is clearly unexplainable clearly identified as something not of this Earth not of this Dimension whatever it could happen at any time it could the you know the proverbial saucer on the White House lawn kind of a thing but you know the lesson I have learned one of the lessons from Skinwalker ranches and and it sort of goes back to things that valet has written over the years and what Whitley streber once said is that the secrecy the cover up begins with them the visitors the aliens whatever the heck they are they call the shots that was our the experience at skin Walker Ranch Bob Bigalow calls it performances an earlier writer called it the Utah's UFO display because that's what it is a display they decide who gets to see it they decide how much they get to see under what circumstances they give us the glimpses and we we are left to ask uh why why some of us are allowed to see it and why others are not valet had a term for it he called it a deliberate pattern of unbelievability I think where we see these things that don't seem to make sense they happen over and over again and and they don't add up and that actually in Psychology is sort of a good learning tool but it has to take place over a long period of time uh I sure am going to be frustrated if if I end up dying an old man or uh not so old man and don't have the answers and I'm sure you guys feel the same way man it dri me crazy I see some of these UFO researchers who've been into it for 50 years they die they're no closer to answering any of the big questions than when they started that is very frustrating and and I suspect that that is going to be the case when we pass over into some other realm but hope hope otherwise well you see of course there are some of those researchers really on in years right now we look at John Keel who has been the greatest of Health in recent years and he is somebody in the 70s and we've talked of course to Bud Hopkins who is not quite a youth anymore and you know I've been in touch with a few people who' have been around UFO research for a long time who are suffering from different ailments and maybe we kind of hope that maybe the UFO knots will come down here whoever and whatever they are and help cure us of our ills maybe that's one of the reasons why we have all this wishful thinking going on in the UFO field because it's felt if there is an advanced power and we're not talking necessarily about God here but just a race that's maybe thousands or millions of years ahead of us they have all the answers they have the answers to energy free energy they have the answers to prolonging your life and we're just kind of muddling along here trying to figure out what's going on but something that you had said earlier in the show I guess we never really covered past it back to Area 51 and we don't have a lot of time left but I just think about it all the time here when that particular part of the world and obviously you're much closer to it than I am when I think about it I say you know what is there really any evidence of all of any activity involving alien craft at Area 51 is are all secret weapons or secret aircraft it could be you know there's no definitive evidence I don't have a piece of a saucer I I've got eyewitness statements I've got a couple of fuzzy photos some videos The credibility of the witnesses goes from very high to very low and uh no there's no definitive evidence at all uh you know the best you can say is that if they had it that would be where they would test it and store it I if they ever had it out there I'm sure it's not there anymore there's too many eyes on it too much public interest focused on the base and as I said if they were using it as a ruse that was a terrible mistake but yeah I think it's possible that all those programs everything that we've seen out there is is uh everything that everybody's reported might be a legitimate Earth origin technology secret stuff Ben Rich the the late great Ben Rich of Lockheed Skunk Works he

sort of hinted a couple of times before he died that we've already got the ability to go to the stars that anything you can imagine now we've got it doesn't mean we're necessarily developing it and using it but we've got it Ben Rich also privately conceded to some friends of his in letters that I've seen that you know that he believes in UFOs of both kinds unfunded opportunities and more exotic things from somewhere else I got a chance to interview him one time when they inter they rolled out the F-117 and I asked him the persistent question the persistent rumors that f-17 the stealth technology might have been based on something that we got from aliens from Crash saucers or whatever and kind of smiled and paused and nope just good old Earthbound knowhow you know and but I know that he shared his statements that he believed that that we had made advances based on stuff that we got from somewhere else whether that constitutes proof probably not it's not the same as having a cigarette lighter from an alien spacecraft and I'm not sure we're ever going to get that I I can't prove that we had that stuff out there and I probably never will be I just know it's a legitimate story that's worth pursuing if for no other reason than to shake the cage and see what falls out the other thing is here if they had the secret weapon from the aliens or the secret aircraft how would they move it out in a way that we wouldn't see it especially because all the eyes are on Area 51 what would they do do everything underground sure I mean you know that Test Site Area out there is gigantic I mean you maybe you put it underground somewhere and just leave it there for a while and come back when things die down in a couple of years or assuming they ever they're pretty crafty out there I I had an interview one time with our late Senator Howard Cannon who was he had four terms in Washington he essentially helped build Area 51 and Nellis uh he was very close friends with the guys at at Lockheed and when he lost his last re-election bid they allowed him to Pilot an SR71 and they gave him a flight in it he was a brigadier general he was very close to Barry Goldwater talked about right Patterson and all that stuff with Goldwater and had a closet interest in UFOs I I did the last TV interview with him before he died and he sort of got right up to the edge of saying that that we had that stuff out there but what he did say in definitive terms is that you know I asked him about the idea of Secrets because when people talk about UFOs oh no nobody could keep a secret like that he says well let me tell you we've kept some pretty big secrets out there and we still have some secrets that are being kept we can and do keep secrets and so the idea that uh everything the government always leaks like a Civ and secrets can't be kept Secrets even of a magnitude like this can't be kept is false and and I agree with the the late Senator I think Secrets can be kept they are being kept and just like the aliens or the visitors who decide what we get to see and how much I think that's what happens with the government and on topics as sensitive as this one quick question George about Bigalow I think there's a sense that um a lot of the information that was gathered at Skinwalker was sort of a tucked away it wasn't really Shar uh with this new initiative to to put some money behind muon to look into these potential alternate propulsion systems do you get the sense that this is going to be the kind of thing where he's going to be more open about sharing information that might be gleaned that maybe is not directly related to propulsion systems or do you think that this is going to be like a lot of what he does fairly secretive I don't know I mean he is a by Nature a secretive guy plays his cards pretty close to the chest he has said that the information whatever they get would be made public I think that's part of what the deal with muon is is that they will have access to whatever information comes in and would be allowed to share it I'm not sure that that applies to proprietary information about secret exotic space propulsion Technologies I can't imagine Bob spending all this money and then letting that go and just sharing it with the public I hope that he uh sticks to his his vow to make this information in public I I'm going to meet with him I hope to talk exactly about that and see what he exactly what he has in mind and maybe you guys want to have me back on after I do that I know he doesn't want to do any interviews right now but I think the muon people are able to talk about it as for the Skinwalker Ranch you know I was privy to that information while the study was going on and I know there is a the sense that there's lots of good stuff that didn't come out if it's good stuff it didn't come out it's nothing that I I heard of I'm nothing like any any kind of uh technology or anything like that I mean I get those got those reports all during that time period the same ones that were circulated to his other staff and board members and and it was driving me crazy because I couldn't talk about it but I didn't see any of that and most of pretty much most of the incidents and the most interesting episodes were were detailed in our book I don't I don't think as far as I know there's nothing really big that's was held back you are right in one sense in that specifics uh from those incidents uh I don't know where it is I mean there's there's files that he has and it's not any kind of Vault or anything where he's keeping it off limits it's a matter of just having stashed it for in the early 70s that was very close to a much more known Puyallup screamer event it was just seven miles north of where I lived and we have a real treat with having Rebecca Botelho with us this evening because she is also from Graham Washington where I'm from which is about 40 miles northwest as the crow flies from Mount Rainier Rebecca has probably in my opinion the best encounter story of anything I have ever heard of my 41 years involved in the subject and literally interviewing thousands of people I couldn't begin to tell you how many people I've interviewed over the years but her account is probably the best one so everyone's going to really enjoy this so Rebecca let's first of all talk a little bit about your background now before you had your first encounter and she had several how I I guess I should say what have you thought about the subject a bigfooter have you'd even heard of it up to that point oh why was this a teenager I've never heard of a Bigfoot I

I've never even heard that coin come my father was ex-military and he was pretty strict on us we weren't allowed to watch too much TV or listen to too much radio he wanted us in school you know doing our homework doing extracurricular activities or outside he was really into that you know and so I wasn't you know when other people started talking or things started coming up it wasn't until after I had my sighting that I started hearing little bits and pieces of things that were happening you know farther down toward not right near like the town of Eatonville the town of roy graham later on because uh when I had my encounter I didn't know what I saw I mean I didn't know what was looking at me and I was convinced that as a teenager I was going to die that day and that a monster was on the other side of the window and I didn't know what it was and see that's important for listeners to understand I've been asked many times they'd say well you know my the first time I found tracks in Graham was in 1972 and they said and they always tell me well geez in 1972 the Patterson film had been out for five years at that time and you didn't had never heard the word Bigfoot and they don't understand at that area and you know from growing up there to very very rural in those days late 60s early 70s yeah mostly farming in people just didn't you know like you said your parents were like mine they insisted that we we didn't spend a lot of time watching television we had to pay attention to the school work and then work outside on the farm be outside so there were a lot of us who didn't catch up to those terms until quite a few years after they were you know in the public domain let's now what year was it that you had this encounter this was in 1969 it is October October right okay so you had and how old are you at that time I was 14 14 okay so let's go back to that day in October 1969 walk us through what happened what led up to those events and then tell us what your recollections are of that incident when we first moved there it was experiences as you said I mean it was Collinwood there was a house and then solid woods and then just you know there wasn't very much going on out there there was a little dinky store you know it just there was hardly anything there and we ended up sensing all of that and cutting down trees and it was heavily crazy we moved onto a Friday with your April piece of property and it was so heavily treed couldn't believe it and we find the gut that all fans and my dad bought horses because my sister and I wanted horses and I had just come in it was October and it snowed early that year I'm you know if we had a lot of goings on since we moved on that property is 1952 but I didn't know what it was I mean we went across the street before we got the horses and and we were going to use rakes and and hoes there was up it how many property directly across the street just walk straight across our mailbox

it's a bitch and to the property on the other side and nobody had ever been out there virgin soil it would county-owned nobody was ever out there and we wanted to build you know make trails you know because my brothers were motorcycles we wanted horses and we went out there and I'm trying to put a setting on here I know you want to need a start of deciding that I feel like this yeah I feel like this is important we went out there as a family trying to do some eyes now how could we start building trails out here where where should we start digging out you know how much land is actually out here and we we got out there and found dozens of plants and I've I've I've told people just before but what I really meant to say is we found dozens of sets of prints that were different sizes but my mom was asking my dad you know what is all this what's all these prints and I remember dropping to my knees I went on my knee I'm late cuz I hit it you know and I put my hand my hand was like dwarfed into this footprint and I didn't have a tape measure with me or the kids you know I just these are huge and there was a funky foul kind of a journey skunk smell and it was up real wrong like you couldn't breathe so she's kind of this sense it was hanging in the air and we were all really uncomfortable and I remember I was looking at these parents I'm like my dad fun they got mad because somebody has taken it out here they're just trying to scare people come on let's go get these kids won you know and I just wonder you know makes me look back and I'm thinking my dad knew more than what he ever let on and he's passed away since but yeah so that's kind of what started this what's this you know kind of deal the years went on and we were would always hear these strange house at night and eventually got you know the place cut trees cut down and post hole dug and been strong and you know barn fills and all that kept hearing noises at night you know breaking branches stomping around and my that always dazzling it's deer you know and but the horses would always run and they snort look cordwood you know dis snorting you've always kind of an uneasy feeling you always felt like you're being watched that you know when your kid you know your dad says nothing you just alas nothing you know you kind of like over ride that set standards till something's there and that's kind of the way I live my life you know my dad was really tough on this and and like I said we're raised military-style were kind of afraid of him and when he told to do something we did it and a lot of times he didn't give it time to sit and wonder and all this goings-on and always you know stomping around at night houses you know sunset and not knowing what that was I come in it was uh October like I said a defendant you've gotta cut pentagon early snow that you're just kind of this little dusting blanket of snow now what time of day was this do you remember about one you know kind of like um right around four o'clock rakesh where it was you know get this slightly you know how it dislike was starting to get dark but still really like let it down but it's still light yeah you're kind of turn the lose light but it's still light you can see everything around you but you're losing light and it's curtain get damn okay that's what it looked like very rarely that we were ever allowed to watch TV and like I said I just gotten done feeding the horses and I came in and I got my dance outside I'm going to teach it on a you know watching TV my mom and my sisters were in the kitchen and I remember they were talking about a baby shower and I was a tomboy the family so I came in there and there was a huge picture window in the living room I took this wooden chair there's a dining room chair and I kept it I was sitting in it and I tipped it back where I was actually sitting on the window you know with your top part your shoulders were actually leaning on the window right and I'm watchin this TV show and hadn't been more than I want to say it hadn't been more than fifteen minutes that I was sitting there and it was a funny show and I was a comedy and I was laughing and I turned around and I turned back you know and I don't know how to explain this but my mind just kind of flashed this picture like you just saw this and I just kind of posed and in my head I'm thinking what did I just see you know and I'm just sitting here thinking okay well you know anybody in there curiosity do you think if you thought you saw some for my sake you're going to sit there and keep pushing cheating no you're going to turn around a look so I slowly turned around cuz I felt weird and so I turn around and I saw right there on the other side of the window all that was between the window me the window and it was a little brick planter box on the ground that built from the ground up her flowers it was about the planter boxes maybe a foot and a half maybe foot in half from the house to the outside you know I mean that's how wide it was right and that's all you know and it was standing maybe I would say half a foot I'm going to say a habit from it but it was close enough where as it was standing I couldn't see it feet because that planter box it's kind of covering you know from my view right I couldn't see and I could see down past tab you know down you're probably a little less than three feet physically from it I mean it was right there it was right there and I I turned around and I I looked him right in the eyes I looked him right in the eyes and I I know that other people have heard of this but I felt like I was them I was paralyzed I had gone into shock and his eyes were red and he was not looking at me like he was very happy and I thought what am I looking at you know all to think of it's a monster is on the other side of the window and she is gonna kill me you know I thought to myself I'm gonna die today

I'm only a kid and I'm gonna die today you know and I couldn't pull my eyes I couldn't hold up my eyes were fixed on him and I I felt like he was looking down into my soul literally that's what it felt like I felt like I was being sand or something like he was like I know you

I was just a very piercing look it was the most piercing look I mean he you know I'm telling you it just to this day I mean it will be burned in my brain for the rest of my life

I will never forget that as long as I live and he was very human looking there was nothing a fish whatsoever about this individual that he was kind of a silver-gray and he had a few little phrase of lighter gray but he had these flash frown hairs all through him and it was just an ominous night to me I mean I was paralyzed I couldn't say help my sisters are walking around with my mom and jibber-jabbering in the kitchen and I couldn't even say help I couldn't speak I was completely paralyzed with fear and I was terrified and and but I decided you know I'm there the only thing that I could move was my eyeballs I literally was frozen in place and I finally broke my fear from him and I started looking at his shoulders tonight analyzing what is this thing I'm looking at and and I saw his I've never seen childers from massive in my entire life my dad was like 6 1 and a half and it was a burly guy and I do not believe that I was exaggerating to say it would take 3 of my dad

3 of mine who had broad shoulders 3 of him to make one of these things from Indian I mean one of the shoulders of this thing would be the full size of a man I mean I just I I was looking at this gigantic monster and his head was up you know almost to the eaves of the house looking down at me and I I just I was totally powerless

I was totally powerless at the same I noticed that his arms went down almost to his knee I noticed that he can work up like the fingers were turned backwards you know kind of faculty so basically I was looking at his knuckles coming down and I just you know that's kind of what I was looking at his chest he just looked like he was gonna he look like this monster bodybuilder I mean he was he there was no fat on this individual he was rock-solid I mean I was Wesson would you agree with that there bear sighting was very similar to that yeah yeah I was just thinking the I was thinking the exact same thing issues and she's going through talking about it what what did the face look like Rebecca let me do it what can you describe a little bit more of the face and what you saw in the eyes and mouth okay um he had here it came down his face the first of all of us are here he didn't have one of those high conical heads like people talked about this one had just a quite conical head it just went up a little bit rounded there was no point there was none of that you could see that it did go up a little bit but his face was wide and rounded very round a very full and thick his hair came down his face and he had hair growing on his face too you know I've seen probably I would say the majority of a lot of the pictures or illustrations that I've seen of individuals with no hair in her face and that's not what I saw at all I what I saw was an individual Rancher coming down his face covering his nose hair that went over his lips but I could see the lip line and as no look more human it wasn't it pushed in flat no it was more I mean I could see a bridge I could see a mouth that went straight across slightly curved down his eyes were red his eyes were like a glowing amber red almost almost look like it was I don't know it was just almost like glowing I don't know you know I don't know how to explain that but his eyes were kind of a amber red and his the pupils was just piercing at me just piercing like I mean business and I'm mad at you you know what you doing looking at me or I mean I couldn't help it you know I couldn't pull away I didn't see any gears because the the terror was so long and it came down it came down all over his ears and kind of blended into the shoulders kind of like what people call now I hear people describe it as a main you know kind of like a mane but it wasn't that massively thick but it was there and he had um he had a beard he had a year.this hair on his chin that came down and it's just was so massive just like this can honest can match his chest he didn't have a neck I mean you know there was no neck there was a massive head uh need massive shoulder his chest this is just his his Catholic food I don't know how to explain to you if he seemed to have kind of high cheekbones his whole face was covered in hair which doesn't seem to be typical of what a lot of people say or show well you know what I saw and I'm sure it's to the individuals that were part of that group and I you know state trooper that I know mark Pittenger he saw that very same one that you saw a walk in front of his car watch area

what's that was it's in the same area the same area yeah this is you know you know you know what the Kolob screamer event oh yes I do I I didn't want about I can learn about scalp screamer into like 2006 or something I didn't even hear that either because I when I had my experiences the first two that I saw I took white I put riding my horses in the bliss I wouldn't go out and fish

I wouldn't swim out anywhere but look white there's woods around me I was terrified I literally took me 15 years to get over that to be able to face my fears and then be able to turn around and try to figure out you know and go headlong into it

Jason I press I know listening to your account you know kind of makes the hair in the back of my neck go up because you know I had my encounter really not very far from where you lived we only live a couple miles apart with the same thing you know the the two individuals that I confronted in 1974 and it was run October also and just about that same time of day coincidentally you know they gave me the same piercing look that kind of bore right through you and and the same description they were just they were massive both of them you know people have never seen one has really no concept of what we're talking about when they talk about massive it's like a it's like a piece of redwood tree moving that's what it looked like I've never seen come on

I mean for me to be able my brain to be able to process paint some things that I didn't even know existed you have no real important work that it was so massive and the looking at me angry I really believed I was in a guy all I had to do was lift up his arm break the glass and take my head off I mean literally I was right there and I was thankful I had my right one of my rifles in my hands because had I not I don't know what guy I felt the same way I felt like you know they would have taken my head off if they had if they wanted to they certainly could have did you did you can I ask you a question

he did use the one that you saw that was a pretty much sounds like possibly the one that I encountered what the other one the same gray color actually the two I saw were very dark brown or black oh okay I got that I I think they I believe they were saying big seed there were three of them in that area inside who we found tracks of three individuals one really big one in the other two smaller pit into the state trooper he saw the great one that you saw it walked right in front of his state patrol car oh my writing out Roberto you were in front of his lights my high on the tracks of all three of them those three came through that area every year for many years I I had reason to believe because of so many incidences that happened on that property that they hung out in that portals reservation out there and which was just like a block from our yeah right and and you could go through you to go across the street we could right I could ride my horse or a motorcycle across the street into the trails on the county across there and just go to the corner and go cross the street and go riding on the reservation and also happened out there - I thought all sorts of structures or branches breaking so now let's go back a little bit before we go beyond that excellent now you're standing there sizing this thing up what happened next he's just standing there staring at me and I noticed because you know it's cold outside and his chest is just heating up and down in the steam it's just coming out of his nose you know and he's just staring at me and this deep I'm thinking could be running you know did you run across the street didn't look at me or you know I just had a feeling he had been running I I sit there and I really cannot tell you the timeframe of how long this went on but it felt like forever it felt like forever I mean I was just sitting there and totally like somebody please help me before this thing kills me and then I started talking to myself and I started saying okay turn around I was in gymnastics time and I thought to turn around and jump out of the chair just turn around I just kept telling me to turn around and jump out of the chair you know that was the only way I thought it was going to provide this I managed to break my stair with this thing I've been staring at his body scared it is armed and at that point in time I thought I'm going to turn around and somehow it how did quaint of my body I couldn't get my body move I couldn't move you know I was that terrified I finally got a hold of myself and I I was managed to pull my turn my head back towards the TD which is in the inside of house away from it which was behind me and I was getting ready to jump and I was just sitting there thinking jump I was thinking I can't I just couldn't move well the next thing I hear behind me is a car screeching to a halt I mean just screeching and and then it sister momentarily causes and then just burning rubber and it takes off and at that point in time something happens with me with that sound and I was able to jump out of the chair and I literally was shaking and trembling and I was walking toward the kitchen and my mom runs around to say something to me shoot I think he may be what the man expected lady I was white as a sheet she told me I was literally every ounce of color had drained out of my face and she knew that something had happened well when I finally then the shock started going away I started to bawl that's all like if you I just was compulsively crying and once I recovered from that it was time to tell him that something was out there and I was trying to tell him what I saw and my mom started heading for the door and I said well through the glossary and she hadn't seen as you know what I was talking about but she did go out there and she found out she said that something had been there because it was a big muddy messed up place in front of the window but I was staking her place come back in peace come back in here I have to see the horses my dad you know it's very strict I had to have the flips instead today a.m. in the morning and 6:00 a.m. at night and if my mom reported to my dad that I was one minute late and I did that three times he's going to sell my horses so I had to get a hold of myself somehow because I loved those horses so much but I made myself go out in the dark and I made myself come back and I just literally it was the most terrifying comment izing thing ever and then when finally you know about it's been about six weeks to pass and I was kind of calming down it was like wow another I kept thinking that was the only one I don't know you know I didn't know what it was did you worry about your horses at all during that time you thought you know what my mom told me we were racing to church our life my mom tried to tell me that it is a demon I said mom I said it was an animal I said it was something big and I said it was like man but it was huge and she was like she was like I think with the theme and I'm like you know it's gonna get the worst yeah I used to sit and just cry and cry and cry you know and I used to sit and pray and ask God to protect them and all this stuff because I was great about the world back in your roof when you were referring to this thing is your mom what did you report to did you refer to as a neighbor person I'm a monster or how did you how did you explain it was a monster it was a must of it here on it it had red eyes because I didn't know what I was yeah that was in those times you know we didn't really have a lot of terminology like people do they never even heard that it said no we had neither even know what I thought people what's that you know what I planted somebody I thought that on TV I thought but because it wasn't incident so was it yes again not too long after that I actually got her on TV and where somebody half or how fear or some things in its neck and in broken rhythm thrown over a fence that it but something happened to do is that being tossed out half over a fence it was killed everything killed and then people were restarting to report these sightings I was like oh my god oh my god oh my god oh my god you know it was things that those things and and felissa my school library I thought I gotta find out what this is what was the size huh and I found this dumb little beat-up paperback book and it showed it said the abominable snowman and it had a picture of this grayish white creature with his arms out it's looking all menacing and and from the Himalayas and I was so ignorant of what I saw that I still can remember what I said I was thinking what is that being doing down here and my banjo you know I couldn't equate I I couldn't figure this out and then when I started hearing stories my people here and they're starting to pop up with new stories here and there I thought to myself oh my gosh something's going on and then about six weeks later after I saw this big guy I was sitting on the floor in a different room on a Saturday morning it was stunning early in the morning I got my chores done I got the horses and I was I was paying paper dolls with my sister Roxanne and her back and this is the kind of house where the bedrooms had huge like two windows big deal windows on both sides of this room and I'm sitting on the floor Indian style she's sitting here with her back to the window I'm sitting there on the floor or facing the window and we're bickering over these stupid little paper doll clothes which one we wanted and I feel this vibration and I looked up and here just nonchalantly casually goes right by the window just kind of this job was a littler one the same color and I just stood there with my mouth open and my sister Roxanne looked up at me and she said what I may just look here I go never mind nothing you know boys I got nothing let's just play and that's why I can't win my head I'm thinking I can't believe this just happened my mom and dad will never believe me and I never told them about that for years and it wasn't till years later my mom told me that she would see faces in the woods in the sea in the trees yeah where the horses were she you know she they knew stuff there were things that had happened yeah we had it we had an incident one time where something did approached the house at night and it was a very foul stench very foul we could barely breathe my dad shoved all of kids up in the inside wall of the house and he pulled his shotgun out and he opened up the window and he was standing there with it with his shotgun facing the horses and I'm crying and screaming he's you're going to kill the horses you're going to kill the horses and and my mom's begging my dad you know and I'm gonna shoot this thing I don't know what it is but I'm going to shoot it you know but I know you're going to shoot the horse is urban issues worthless I mean we had so many things that happened on that property why do you think they were interested in the property why do you think that they were seem to be all over this property I think that they were hanging out across the street in that County property that's why there were dozens of prints that's why there were tons of stuff out there and the reservation which was a block away that Fort Lewis reservation there is a researcher I know who knows someone who is a military personnel who is active duty and who does maneuvers with this case or whatever out in that reservation and has said to them we run into them nightly we're not supposed to speak of it but we run into them every day that we have people out there they throw rocks at our tank at our Jeep or you know whatever we were in out there they see them all the time out there in that port lose reservation so I think that they've been out there

I think they've always been out there and we just my dad bought that property and the owners

I remember that the owners were real anxious to tell remember my mom and my dad were talking about them listening to this conversation they wanted to get out of there fast and they drop the price down on that house significantly

well now let's move up more louis area because i was a sergeant there in 1980 and i had a 15 man squad with v air cab and we ran into one out there one night yeah they're out there because I used to ride I used to ride my horse and my dad bought me a Tennessee Walker and I was like I'd go out there all the time alone and he was a real bad laid back horse real quiet horse but branches would snap things would go flying through the air and he'd like jump you know he kind of like jump and then he would just keep plodding along and I was like what was that what do I make that noise I mean this is this is me not knowing anything you know this was me I was like okay well that was kind of weird okay we'll just kind of head back home now I used to go out there for miles you know I used to go out there my horse was so quiet that I could take saddle and a bridle out I could drive writing about ten miles out there hick saddle and bridle and just let me grab and just hang out taking lunch and then settling back up and ride them up and take them home boy I'm wondering now you know what would I happen with people to run off and I would have issues out there did my hopes up the middle of nowhere you know whatever else Terry walk home

I mean how then can you get you know I didn't know though I shouldn't say that about myself because I can you did you don't think about those things you know yeah and but after I saw that juvenile you know go by and that was the husky little guy they're not little no and he but the thing of it is is that he was right by the window when he went body and I thought what is going on here yeah everyone's life on a new one is there a new my sister was there she didn't even care I thought wow I can't believe this is going on then there was a we had another incident you know what my brother's decided to go camping one summer crops week and they came back and accused my dad of scaring the living daylights out of him all night long and my dad didn't go out there and you're like yeah we know that was you out there stomping around and hitting the tab and and making noises and we know that was you you know and it wasn't them and I tried to say it was it was that thing kind of thinking or scaring the kids you know just kind of deal I was always told to shut my mouth I kept in that thing is out there if your did your father ever speak or did he ever have anything to say after your encounter but he did he ever speak to anybody about him or what did he have to say about it after all this stuff after all these happenings he my dad my dad would you ever talk to his kids about it he would never speak of it we weren't allowed to talk we were inside my mom made it sound like if I continued talking about I was going to get with I was going to get disciplined you know really severely for talking about it but there was an incident I found out my mom that I never even knew about down toward Meridian on to 24th someone had purchased a home for they bought some property and they had cleared out some trees and they built house on this property well was it too far from where we live you know my mom and dad went over there because they're invited to come see than you know well today I was going to word and mom and this teenage boy was there and I guess as soon as they got into the help they started hearing the screen and immediately my mom said immediately it's like they just went into gear because I created the point should shut the windows you know all this stuff and the screams kept getting louder and louder and louder so finally the screams were at the house and I guess the son got so upset he looked the closet he grabbed his dad's shotgun and he started out the door my dad grabbed him my dad grabbed him and my mom said he looked him in the face and said son you don't want to go out there and that was a real telling thing my mom's up my mom told me that I thought you know I know my dad moving but he just was that kind where he kept it to himself he didn't he wasn't going to speak it was going to say it what about your sisters Becky never did you have been sister or the server oh well my sister my oldest sister willed her half-arab one time outlook and the reservation and that was the last time that she went out there alone because she my dad about this half-arab of her and

ripped across the street they can get killed now hit by car and took it all the way home and she had a hard time that was was terrified so she had that my sister had that incident now my other sister had an incident where we my dad have allowed us one summer to send her a summer evening and the neighbors camping trailer that was in their backyard okay next our backyard and my brothers were allowed on the other side of the house to stay over there because he's real quick we never got a chance to do things very often well I thought to myself I'm gonna steal here and I'm sneaking out because that thing is probably this was tell myself Google is wonder to them the probably off somewhere else you know gonna sneak out and going up to up through the trees and I'm gonna you know choose the breeze my brothers and hang out with them you know and that was my thing you know because I never got out and I was a little bit on the rebellious side and I didn't like my dad being so strict so huh that was my idea so I sneaked out of the camping trailer my sister with the neighbor girl was in this camping trailer sleeping I left them at midnight when you know up through the woods and up there sitting there talking and everything and finally around I guess it was around 1:30 they told me to get lost go home then why can't I yeah I will but you need to walk me through the woods you know to get me home we're not walking you through the woods forget it get lost and I'm like what I'm like Nicole you need a woman she was okay because that thing might be out there there ain't no skiing out there get lost you know they literally were not kind of walking me through there and they didn't I had a lot might fall through there well I got talks I literally got stalked and this kind of also is a testament to the fact that they could have hurt me

talked about some of this a little bit telling I guess about some of their behavior in nature but characteristics but yeah I would take a step in energy just happen that I take a couple of Destin that I hear the cracking behind me and I was like oh my god I do this to myself I'm like God please help me like yeah I'll never do it again I don't want to guard this way you know that was really what I thought I thought what am i doing out here anyway

I knew when I saw that thing it could be out there but I thought it was long gone somewhere else you know I just kept talking myself and so I kept walking because I knew not to run and I thought I was through that little picket fence where the hole was and and I jumped in that trailer and I pushed the lock button and it started pushing the trailer rocking it back and forth that camping trailer I was throwing us when I decided my sister of course and the grenade neighbor was screaming they were screaming and I was screaming and it terrified them so badly I it was funny because they put the neighbors put the house up for sale and they moved out of there shortly after that my sister was one of those kind she's very private and she just it's like she went shut mouth like she didn't want to talk to nobody she don't want to talk about to this day she literally just cannot get it that she was absolutely both of them terrified until as I and I thought to myself this is my fault this whole thing is my fault because I had to go and sneak out you know and then it followed me back yeah we all had incidences this thing stalks you through the woods I realized that if they wanted to get you it could have gotten you but don't you think it's pretty aggressive behavior to once you get in the trailer it starts rocking the trailer I mean throwing from side to side in those trailers in the trailer government yes I could I did of course I did him at one point in point I thought that trailer was gonna tip over I mean I just you know I thought what is it doing this to me you know I thought well he's trying to get in I thought was it time to get in or you know was it just kind of terrify me or two just messin with me or you know are they just was at a poster thing or what was that you know what do you think what do you think that its intent was looking back now back at that time what do you think its intention was there's a couple of different thoughts that I have about this I think it possibly could have been irritated I got away from it cause it was going to it wanted to follow me further or whatever and I got away from it I got in somewhere and so it was just going to push it over try to get in the other thought is that it's being a prankster thought it was pretty funny here and all of us in there screaming and yelling so you know I just kind of leave it at that because it I'm still scratching my head over that because I'm thinking if it really wanted to get in that was a little camping trailer it could have busted the windows and put an arm through I mean didn't really want to get in they have kind of funny behavior sometimes in something that's a common theme with things that I've talked with people about you know their experiences like they're being followed and such as they seem to take a little bit of time to work up the courage aside I mean they certainly have the ability to if they want to get you they can get you it seems to be a consistent behavior that it kind of takes a lot almost it almost appears as if they're working up their nerve to do it do you know what I mean

I think they held very human characteristics I think they're highly intelligent I think it's a highly involved evolved and I don't at this point in time with this the other sightings that I've had and hearing a lot of other you know through the years experiences and things of other people that they have very human thought well there's some similarities but then you know among other primate species there there's some similar things also so it's not unrealistic to think that just that the ones that I have seen didn't locate at all no no I'm not saying eight but they're still in the primate oh right I know that's kind of a that's that right there's kind of uh and everybody has their opinion everybody's formed their opinions what you know

I was on the Gigantopithecus thing there for a while because it made sense I thought young and all could be dis but I'm still on that journey you know I'm still on that journey and I've had what I call raw experiences you know I I have not been one of these people who except for one property that I was on right where I really was on the birds of being able to possibly interact with these guys and then I had to move but there are people out there who get language like lawnmower heads recordings that just blows my mind when I hear a lot of this stuff it really sets me back and like what was it what is it more what are we missing here you know it happens I wonder I think at times that they were trying all this time to interact with me and I my fear had overtaken me and I just couldn't allow myself I just wanted to get away you know I I didn't want to be hurt I didn't want to be harmed it scared the heebie jeebie out of me you know one of the issues that's that I'm working on is the fact that I think there are more than one species out there everything kind of gets thrown under the blanket term Bigfoot and least two maybe three different types out there some of the behaviors get mixed and all lumped under the same thing mm-hmm

I think that I think that's very possible I think that you very well may call I've thought about this myself and there are others that I've talked to you over the years that feel the same thing with their current very clear difference between some of the encounters you know descript physical descriptions behaviors the favorite language you know the true sasquatches we have that capability but there's another speak another type it does so there's a lot of things that point to there being multiple species and there's certainly room in the fossil record for those kinds of possibilities to the root cause of a lot of the issues that people have with each other you know in the Bigfoot community a lot of the arguments you know they're not realizing that hey you know there's there's more than one thing you know there's some differences here and the following different categories I'm a friends with a researcher who writes books sees somewhat of a mountain man and he says the same thing he lives in Montana and it's been all over he's been in case he's you know since you know his wife's doing this and he says exactly that you're saying he said that he knows he's seen too much and he he feels that there's four different kind that's what okay and I know a couple of the researchers in different subjects that you know make that same contention and you know I think I think there's something to it I do too I think that's very possible

Becky going back to the trailer thing when it was rocking a trailer did you what was going through your mind did you feel like if it was going to get in the trailer do you feel like your library in danger did you yes I of course I was because when I had no more than push the lock button down so I never made it over word you know in a camping trailer you know you move away from the door you take a ride you go to the you know table in this tank and you've got a little table that holds this the bed I never made it that far

I'm still a little hallway I'm right in front of that door you know when it's not immediately pushing rocking it back and forth and I'm slowing down on the floor I can't go anywhere and I I keep getting toned back and forth toward the door and I'm scared spitless how big was the trailer because we're talking you saying that's rocking a trailer and I'm taking something that's probably twelve fourteen feet is it something that's bigger than this I'm just kind of curious on the strength that this is well give us a little bit better than Colma fourteen feet it was a about 17 feet long 17 feet to learn there so we're talking something that could possibly weigh about 2,000 pounds and then shaking it like it's absolutely nothing exactly yeah and I believe you I'm just I'm just I'm off thinking about it it's a mouth clean and they move that the neighbors put the house up for sale and and they got house sold and they need to long after that was course bonding with the an individual I thought was just an artist and I've come to find out he was a tribal elder and a chief and he explained to me that off with Indians most people don't understand it and this subject specifically that it's it's there nothing is a blanket term or a reference it really depends on not just the tribals tribes experience but a band a family or even an individual experience with these things on on what their interpretations are so you kind of really have to you have to pick their brains a little bit you know so maybe you know one groups experience was you know fairly run-of-the-mill like that you know they talk about like a neighbor's dog whereas let's say like you know in Hoquiam you know the Quinault indians up in that area they have five different names for him they all refer to as cannibal you know they were eating them so obviously their experience was not a good one yeah I heard of this I've heard of this I've heard so I have to concede on that you're right you're absolutely right because there are a lot of stories from different tribes in different areas that you speak of them as cannibals and have stories about them feeling the children or the women yeah so I think it goes back to what you were saying it you know it depends on you know with all the individual and West to the individual personality traits you know it could be even how well they're fed in any particular day if they're sick their age all that stuff kind of just like with people comes into play not just people blood their animals as well yeah grains on individuals and all that and their physical condition and mental condition right I agree I think that they're all all can be different with different personalities I think that there are clams that have different behavioral patterns I think there's some that are aggressive and other plans that are not so aggressive more yeah whistle you can tell you about aggressive yeah no we can tell you about the aggressive kind a quiet down yeah wasn't fun my question to you is so I know you you think of them as people which I told you earlier we wouldn't beat you up or what do you might I I won't but uh come on so would you up what I don't think it's a possibility I think it's a very possible that they have humans that they have human DNA mmm no they are all human I think that something could have mixed back and you know with the Neanderthals I could come up with you know several different theories I think there's so much feel that we don't know it's really hard to just say you know I've never had one come up to say hey I'm human you know yeah yeah right and there's up there's nothing wrong with that

I'm just curious how you got from Gigantopithecus to Q or how you feel like they're more towards more human what why do you feel that way is there something in particular that made you feel that way I'm always curious when people might hear people say that I always want to find out why they feel that way why they still it's not an animal why they feel it's not more of along the lines of like a you know ape or orangutan or something like that I'm just kind of curious okay well well what really informs me to begin to at least be open to changing my mind a little bit on the Gigantopithecus theory is when I started listening to Ron Morehead recording and when Scott Nelson came into the picture and I began to hear some of these sessions of them breaking this down to language and it just it really blew me away and I'm like if they're capable of making sound language or understanding human language maybe trying to mimic it what is there about these individuals that you still don't get know are are they possibly mixed with human DNA do they have the ability to interact and be somewhat human the first one that I saw the one I was explaining or telling everybody about this face-to-face encounter this one this one looked this one didn't even have a heavy brow Ridge it had a medium flower Ridge but as I looked at him and there was nothing nothing in the face of this individual but look even remotely close to anything primate and I can't explain that he looked animal as he was looking me in the eye and he looked human - so are you saying so you're saying that the the

well we haven't a lot of human a lot of males that have have beard and then you started it it looked more human and I was kind of I was kind of curious and you know kind of along the same questions of what West was asking is what were the human I guess what I guess what I'm trying to say what were some of the human characteristics of the face and you kind of already answered that I guess River you know about the brow Ridge and whatnot

what was going through mind other than it being monster debris like this is this is like some superhuman thing did you really I mean what were you thinking I was paralyzed I literally was it's almost like my mind with into a frozen lockdown mode and I'm looking at this thing and he's looking at me and I'm like what are you you know what what are you and was there any noise oh did it did it did heaven locals like everything would be nobody's just breathing heating up and down the skin was coming out of his nose hitting the air because it was cold and and he didn't he didn't

he didn't clenches fist he just stood there real quiet and just stood there slightly moving just slightly slightly moving from side to side just barely moving and just kind of within this can make it like making this presence known I don't know if I turned around caught him by surprise maybe I wasn't supposed to see him maybe he's just going to run by I don't know but he was standing there like her you know what are you looking at me you know why are you looking at me I was like what are you you know it's just kind of like what am I looking at

it's a monster I don't know how its explained that you yeah no that's that's crazy what other besides your face-to-face encounter and then the one the one in the trailer what is probably what would you say is the most craziest thing that you've ever seen as far as all your encounters would it be your face-to-face would it be the trailer one would it be something else so will the face-to-face one was just the most that's kind of hurt that's kind of hard to beat right the most significant was the most yeah the most traumatizing thing that I could have ever I just can't even begin and and then I all these years later all these many many many years there's still I have a hard time hearing people who had you know an encounter like this and I'm like how is it that I I was just working you hold on this thing have you been back to that property since since then my mother how long she does no work is there still saying is there still things happening is there still things going on there there is in that area shadow dog had a dog the dog passed away now but there were seeing that I believe my dog was her dog went out there one night and kept barking and kept barking there were times that she told me he would just go out and all night just start barking at the wood barking barking barking and one night he went out she went out and came back with an eye out whimpering and I had this dog I had been put out and she had to take him to the emergency dad he treated so we don't know at this point I don't know about raccoon something like that I'm I'm not sure in that area about a year ago or less had to be careful my wording because I promise to protect the identity of this person because his professional standing just one to sort of get the incident off his chest but in that very area near where your mom lives he and another gentleman went out there to it was involving a sale in that area of timber and how they encountered one yeah so there's a so they are still in that area cable well I I do believe that I'm gonna tell you I had a girlfriend a happy girlfriend whose daughter it was about four years ago I want to say four years ago she ran away from home shared car but they they got in an argument and she's been away from home well she ended up driving down that same road right out there by the drift area

well she had an experience where one night she was hearing these noises and she raised up over the dashboard to look to look and she saw the sets of eyes squatting down like she could see a see silhouettes like she said they were standing up in the mid squat down and then they stand up and they squat down and there was these dogs that were Barkin off to her right I think that was the house she said where there was these dogs going nuts and they broke out of the fence well these things take off the dogs take off after them and she said it really disturbed her because she couldn't figure out what that was but was looking at her through these trees squatting down and standing up she said a week later she told me she went back there and and was trying to stay there because she didn't know how to stay away from her mom neighbors were walking around a scanner they they came up Master if she'd seen these dogs and she said well she saw him about you know a while back and I guess it's been like two weeks and the dogs never came back I mean the dogs literally never came back they never he was interesting that through stereospecific lenient course you know thrift is just a little intersection and he used to be just a little store there in 1981 one of my younger sisters she in fact I want to used to make fun of me the most for you know when when we found tracks the first time I wouldn't even tell them you know because they made fun of us so bad when I actually encountered those two she was driving home one evening and was going through that intersection and there was a sasquatch in the light well there's a streetlight they're standing right next to the other side of the road and it was kind of jumping up and down a little bit like it was agitated

and then and she didn't tell me for years I went up to this recording time and my brother-in-law went to another room for something and she says you can't you can't tell bill I got to tell you this so she tells me the story and I said well you know I could have said well yeah you know see I told you so but you know she was pretty shook up over it and it just you know scared the hell out of her yeah I believe that and I think that because I'd heard other stories my mom told me other stories about neighbors a few friends that she's made along that in that area who had called her from time to time and recorded even told her about strange incidences and you know if people don't understand nobody talked about it in those days because there were a lot of instance in that area I can tell you one I can tell you a funny one real quick my mom went to down the road on that same area that you're talking about to a lady's house invisible some lady sir and she was having a Tupperware party and of course this is back of a day a little Tupperware party all right yeah so there there was this funky self smells you know and this they were in the living room and I guess it this lady kept telling some noises or everybody in there in the living room you know who a little pepper compared with noises smell the smell and the lady jumped up okay this is interesting my mom says the lady jumped up just clunky attack old Jews me I'll be right back you know kind of like that matter-of-factly lots of a good kitchen

Ranbir's Franza

the kitchen window and my mom went in there in group was everything all right with on she was saying she shows up but when you're looking through my window and she was a pirate Lord you know and I'm like little and I said mom you know what that was me she goes I know but she act like she was more mad at that she was scared and I'm like I can't believe it sweetie no ladies you know she's not cookie I bet she could wear a hugger she'd be up together with a stick something actually grab the broom and chase it down

I would I would like to have her in the car when I had my encounter woody yeah we need to take her round with us oh that's hilarious getting sharper canister the kitchen so much so this shows up you know I'm like what could you terrified be like yeah and on and she had nothing at all she had more Madden's one being crazy over the whole deal what are some of the things that you're doing now I mean are you still I can't imagine that you're not interested in the topic what are things that you're doing now and how is your opinion changed of them well I requested I'm still on this journey I'm still on this journey learning journey I'm very humble I don't think that I'm anything special I guess I have had some pretty phenomenal experiences I I don't have my own page I don't you know get videos and post them and try to get all this attention because I'm not interested in that I'm more of a background kind of person but I I took about you know I've taken about three years off here and there because I bleed to this in my back I had to have surgery and then I just had another surgery October 8th but in between there I found an area in Puyallup not going to name the area but there's a few researchers who very well-known than one thing don't don't name it but go and giggle what's the GPS of it

I'm I'm just okay yes sir someone the vicinity of South Hill Puyallup what's all I'm gonna say nice I'm just playing with you go ahead yes but um uh I started getting some interaction out there and I didn't realize that I found this one area I kept feeling like I wanted to go in there and want to go into my do and I thought you know what it is about this place southern in here and um I spent the last two and a half years going in there and I found this one stump and I thought you know I I don't know why I'm getting a strange bird calls I found I would go in there and find um I would go down a trail and I would turn around to come back and I would find uh I found a bird that had head it had pulled off and had been put set right in the trail that I had just gone down and it wasn't there before and then I found a walk on this stump I'd gone farther in the woods I was chasing around looking and I came back and there's just walk sitting on this stump and I thought ah I thought you know whatever I want to try something I'm going to first you in what some of these other people are doing and almost start setting up a dishing area and so you know what I've been doing is you know setting up some gifts here and there some apples in the butter sandwiches whatever have you

I even put a sleigh bell out there well all of a sudden things started happening summer before last and I was given just an excellent a beautiful Rock stack that was left for me on this stump and I was blown away when I found it and and the rock stack the top rock was set I don't know how that was set like that I had a picture of it and for those who you know want to friend me on Facebook you can go to my my profile page and you can see the pictures some of these pictures for those who may already be part of the site International Society per horse people Tom Cantrell actually went out there with me at one point and I found a law

Oh a walk it had a face like a mouth engraved on it I mean I don't know what some of these people out here think about gifting but it is real because it's been happening to me play bill I've been given to rock decks of play bill that I had put in a certain pattern with some other food had been taken and put behind the stump like something jammed its hand in there and made a Ledge out of it and hid it behind the Sun that was pretty funny actually I thought that was kind of cute but seems that that's been happening to me and my friend I've been kind of teaming up with Judy polisky I'm not sure who knows her out there but she's got a great dog person and you know we've been visiting some places we've gone out a couple times the club shoe in green water which is a very interesting area green water and her and I did a with UT did a night sit out there I guess you could call it we're going to trace him out for the night and she's got a great dog too and have something approaches not sure what it was but something was out there and we thought we'd heard a call of some type in my area

I've heard some rock clacking I've heard whistles I there was a pretty amazing structure it was just maybe 20 feet from the gifting some so but I'm just doing what I can you know I've been trying to recover from the surgery so I really haven't been able to do exactly what I want but yeah I do not utilize without will how I said I can imagine what back surgery you know having the gloom did yeah I'll be talking about depressing it's really depressing because my heart I will get out there and stuff and it's like you just you cannot you have to recover and yeah and then now this other surgery so I have like another month of recovery time and then maybe in a spring but Judy and I have had some incidences at a cabin that she has taken me to a couple kinds of summer at Ocean Shores and we went to Cornell National Forest and went through there person interesting stuff and found some interesting stuff and but the National Forest you usually do well what did you matter which one you're in what what did you hear but Jen um thank you her cause like howls like um little whoop you know here and there and her dog person you know picked up on it right away and we would look at each other like oh did you hear that yeah you've looked out in the woods I mean he know the different animal sounds so I'd imagine you can come by pretty quick

oh yeah you like that I felt like the house in my property that I was based on the one that I was talking about originally and and these house I hear behind it at sunset it's like a whole family was here we would just look at each other like what is that you know what is that that's not like any animal I've ever heard so on the gifting you called it a gifting stump do you ever get suspicious of maybe someone's messing with you maybe I an a and I say this respectfully I think I'd be a little suspicious if like somebody left me a pile of rocks or somebody left me I don't know I mean do you ever are you ever suspicious I've ever ever stop and think you know I don't know maybe I guess I don't know how to ask a question I guess I'd be a little bit suspicious of what goes through your mind when you when you leave something and then you come back and then there's a pile of rocks or there's something's been changed of the area is it well the only reason ya know I'm on that train I I thought about that I thought about that the day that that happened there was nobody out there at all and when I found the first one the top log the top rock almost looked like it defied gravity I don't know four defy physics it should fall and I don't understand that is still just a I understand how that one block could say or be pasted in some of these rocks with positions where they should have fallen and they were so perfectly balanced that I was just amazed I was I holy maze and yes I mean yeah sure of course of course I thought you know I wonder if somebody's if this is impossible um I'm sure it is possible I know that other people have had the same thing happen after leaving food gifts and things like that so they're supposed to be among some people say that there is quite significance and that other people have been given these rocks accented it's not uncommon actually that it has happened

I was left uh I was like a little hick like wrongful budget it's like structure on the stump that was jammed into the stump that kind of resembled a little fan I shouldn't think about that so of course you know I mean you want to debunk everything you don't want to just go running out there going oh my god given me I mean of course that's why did you say weird it won't appear huh what did you say it resembled it resembled what now it kind of an assembly it was like a in Turkish little thin I don't look like a little thin structure oh my god Ben yeah little six little citizens jammed into this probably stompin cost over you know lace through and it kind of look like a little fence like structure and I thought that's weird of course you know I'm not going to it's definitely possible it's always possible that someone did that given as many encounters and situations that I've been through you know you sit around you wonder ha does it possible did I just get given a gift and that I've talked to other people who also had the same thing happened to them in very very remote areas where nobody was also and it was known Sasquatch you know it was in the Sasquatch area no I appreciate it back yeah I was just kind of curious on that cross your mind or very dead but I'm it's hard to you know relate to something like that until you've experienced it I guess you know I haven't experienced that but that'd be one of the first things that goes from my mind but you know if you're out in an area to where no one knows about the stump no one was about the gifting stomp and you show up and there's your things go on and something else is there you know I I mean I could see where where you'd go with that where you would think well it's you know especially if it happens repeated repetitively and over time you know and I didn't mean to cut you off I'm sorry I was just kind of say that another reason that I kind of accepted that that's a possibility is because an area I lived in in Puyallup lined by woods behind my house I've seen them

I'm literally they've allowed me to see them and they would take ornaments garden ornaments out of my garden and give me rocks Oh one-handed through a big chunk of what it might house and the whole place doesn't vibrate it I mean I just got home from work and I thought what I want is going on you know so you know I know that the give-and-take thing you know that they have the capability of you know like they took a really cool garden globe like things that I had gave me a rock and said you know it was pretty cool actually it almost looked like a petroglyph almost like a what the person is being graze on it or something it does it actually looks like a petroglyph of support I've had I've had a couple of experiences after that that were just something that I could not explain and you know I have a hard time bringing up one of them because I don't want to come off as one of those people that you know what do they call the ten hat people in the video I don't want to work offices you know you hear these stories or people make fun of people when they talk about certain phenomenon or abilities of sasquatches and other researchers or other people make fun of them saying you know oh you wear a tin hat too you know I'm not one of those people but when I moved to property

I was can tell you I'll tell you a crazy thing to happen to be a Woodie then hopefully you'll tell us ours but you're just going to go and tell the stores then go ahead

oh is this property and sell up I had moved to this property in Kerala and um I knew the one I got there I mean I just was the strangest feeling I had this strange feeling come over me and I don't know why I don't know why but I kept looking at the blood's and to thinking am I going crazy or is there something going on here because I keep anyway so I moved in my son my son had the first experience where he was within the house and something shifted free supplied the place and scared the living daylights and growled at him he calls me from the neighbors and tells me I'm not coming back there I'm not coming back there's something stirring ever heard anything like that before okay well then my Saturday morning something was tapping on the window and I was still sleeping it was early early morning hours just a crack it on and I kept laying there to give what is tapping on the window it's our new neighbor or something from you in trouble what we're all what's going on and it kept happening well by then it started a little bit lighter so I get up and I go to the window I go down some hallway to the living room and I go to open up the drapes I have no explanation for this I'm standing there I open up the curtains to see the back of a very large very tall black sasquatch walking away from my window and it just kind of vaporized it kind of vaporized before my eyes and I thought I just sit there and shift my head like what just happened what just happened and I never told anybody is a long time cliff assistants ridiculous I don't know what I did I just saw what just happened that same one so I saw twice more and and he was solid and his body or whatever I saw him he let me see him and then I saw another one on that same property and this one was pretending that it was trying to be part of the tree and that blew my mind that one right there blew my mind because it never dawned on me that perhaps this may be a way that they hide I saw it literally trying to pretend putting his arms across the limbs and you know was pretending to be part of the Trinity and I got so close to it actually popped up to it because I couldn't leave I can walk and I thought why is that pretty looks funny and I got out and I walked up there and I I merely backed up I backed up because I thought why is it doing this and why am I so close I'm getting away so I left but I mean it just blew my mind I've had some pretty amazing occurrences and I don't have heard that before I've heard that one before believer I remember thank you you and I talked about that earlier and I've sort of a few encounters where the person who is recounting the encounter they say that the Sasquatch kind of put its arms up and what's still like a tree almost like it was trying to mimic a tree a mimic a tree I mean it stood there and it was like I forget one of the encounters like shows in Washington as to as well happened to log her he was walking up this road and he came upon one and it froze and kind of put its arms out and just kind of froze there and his the way he was recounting it as he was saying that it reminded him of someone like a little kid trying to act like a tree standing in the road and it was like frozen and he didn't really understand what I was doing he's four walking towards it and it took off

I've heard that a few times actually believe it or not well I I never heard when that happened to me I've never heard anybody say that before I never but then as I was thinking about it one day I fell wow maybe this is a way one of the ways that they hide in plain sight yeah I mean the military and any you know anyone a form of stealth is actually not moving well I'm sure we'll knows that for the military but a poor the best form of stealth is actually don't move because our eyes will catch movement or eyes well actually most hunters most beginner hunters the first thing they look for its movement the best self out there is not to move you know not don't move and you won't your eyes will pick up on what you seen this one was looking up and it was in a frozen state with looking up and it wouldn't blink it would me they just kept looking up and I thought I cannot even believe that I'm just close to this thing I better back up because I just don't adapt that was pretty amazing that I got that close to that thing and I didn't attack you know so that kind of I was that that kind of freaked me out a little bit because I thought wow that thing was like maybe I don't know 40 feet from my house I four of us will we don't we don't have to we all know that there's a sasquatch and we don't know one has to prove anything to us but what is it what is your opinion as far as what is it going to take for the rest of the world to prove to them that there is a sasquatch is it going to take a body is going to take a DNA what are your thoughts on that you know at this point in time it seems to me from everything that I've I've heard that no I'm not even yeah I don't believe in killing I'm I'm sorry I do not believe in killing that's the right thing to do

would they even still believe it then there would probably be a lot of naysayers then I think that you know it really is going to take each and every person you know it's going to take people actually having their own encounters seeing and experiencing as a present and the sight of one of those as far as I'm concerned I mean DNA yeah that helps you know DNA helps that does it you know how these people coming forward and saying hey I got DNA I can prove it and look at the community you know there's still all these arguments all these dick rings and you know there's a lot of people out there who are killed and they want to kill I'm really sad for that I wish that wouldn't happen I I'm trying one of those people don't believe in that but if one was to be recovered I mean okay what do you say what what what if it was all them that knows a lot huh what if it was a mean big boat would you be okay with that if it was kind of a jerk a shot of one was shot and it was it was on it and it was trying to kill a man if it had intent to kill and the man was defending itself just like that somebody broke in my house and I had to defend myself

you're defending yourself yeah you know then then I guess then I guess what he is is but for somebody to just go out in the book looking for one and just shoot it you know it's just senseless to me that is what if they shot one that was kind of a jerk though I'm joking you want to take over this is where we'll this is where will chimed in and cleans up your mouse well protecting it yeah we've had babies right next to it one first mate was right behind of it where's this family gone was right there and it was responsible for picking I don't know that could be different reasons why it was Buena Craig you know I just I just wish that people wouldn't think of shooting one to prove its existence I I would much rather people start stepping forward and telling the world hate by the way I saw one or you know people coming forward and realizing you know I know I'm not out to prove a I know they said right that's like I'm the most and the military more I have to prove that anybody we all know because we gotta admit the military knows the government knows I'm during the mount st. helens when mount st. Helens blew up say no actually let me get let me clarify someone that I was a key sergeant in foot in the unit that did the work of mouth hands and none were found there and I know that recite together language theory so that story was incorrect that's incorrect that's baloney that was I know the person who made up that story that it's all crap I was wrong I knew all the pilots in it and they knew what my hobby was at the time and they would have I would have been told you know behind the scenes Becky if Nicky you're not alone on that because on a previous show I asked you the same question well remember that because I heard the same right right yeah that's that's one that's floated around and there's some people within the community that you know keep pushing that and it's you know and I'm here to tell you I was I was there personally I well I was Sergeant with the fifth Cavalry and I know exactly what was going on there and there was nothing found well I stand I stand corrected

I stand corrected I'm glad that you told me that story but now I know that you know I mean in and you know a lot of the animals you know animals have a sense for things that we talked about this a couple of shows ago about you know sound in percent of things like that animals know like when a volcano is going to erupt you know the herds of elk everything cleared out of that area so haha pretty much the only thing that was done did if there were people you know that that's interesting that you bought that part that little thing up to because in the 1964 earthquake everything quieted down around that property for like a month we'd ever heard of PEEP or nothing when that's the met earthquake hit out here Oh in 1964 everything quieted down for about a month yeah animals know that they they hear that stuff you know they're they know when something is impending you know dangerous yeah this is interesting I'm glad you told me that yeah so I mean it's you know people that's something that people would get involved with the whole Bigfoot thing don't they don't think outside you know the boundaries of what they think they know you know I've done this for 41 years I'm still learning a lot of stuff like here people have been involved in this 20 years I think they're experts and I just my head you know I shake my head they think you know you guys don't know anything and now I know themselves experts have never even seen one so yeah I'm brought in the next short one

I've just had raw experiences and I share them with whoever once in my mind another presenter you know none of us that have seen him think we're experts we no we're not no absolutely not absolutely no and in in and we're probably you know 100 you know times ahead of the experience curve than these other folks and you know they really need to have a little humility and would I create the beer very quickly the thing about it - and Becky you could probably agree with me and I'd like to have your opinion on it - is will we've kind of talked a little bit about pour on previous shows and private conversations and you take people that actually have had an encounter they're probably you some of the most critical people there are as far as making the assumption that it's a Sasquatch or Bigfoot right way absolutely absolutely and you know there's some of the some of the best what's worked great critics will that be edited but yes skeptics great as far as you know what they saw they try to rule out everything before saying automatically it's a Bigfoot but you take people that actually and I hate to say those and I don't want to make anybody upset you take people that haven't had an encounter and they automatically assume everyone finger with everything is Bigfoot

- the person we rise you know we heard now and it's like well come on you know I mean I don't know I think once you've seen when you you have to second-guess everything because partly it goes back to that shock you know and all of us know what that shock is you know seeing these things in it kind of you know shaking your whole frame of reference of life so that when you see something else it's like you know is that what that is you know you start you start thinking a lot more about you know than just jumping to the conclusion so Bigfoot did that you know you make you make a decision based on everything you've seen instead of automatically making an assumption I think is one of those absolutely yeah you know I I totally agree with you I think that of the ones that I've seen most of them were up close to the point where I knew what they were and and each time that it happened to me I just I felt that shocking sensation go over me again like realize you don't we used to order my bowling time to take it in again and saying you know each time I was like shaking and like did I just see again what I just thought I saw is that what you know I you know when you're looking at it and you think oh my gosh should we go again you know because if when you're so close there's no mistaking seeing eye I saw wouldn't get in 1988 they had exactly the same feeling yeah such a if it's a shock at the I don't know you just shiny them yeah I wanna show you framework you know yeah I mean it's interesting thing I'm cautious when I go out in the woods because I do feel like they're possibly maybe more than one type and I think they are individual and I think they they're some are very aggressive and some that are not quite just so great different I think a lot of right with this one go go running out in the woods thinking oh they all love it they all love us I think they're hairy mandersohn yeah yeah I know can we tell me well you know the they go running out thinking you're hearing the Hendersons they're setting themselves up to be a meal you know and that's that's that's just a bulk joke you know but yeah if you go running out there I mean it's not just a sasquatch or or the other species there's bears Cougars everything else you can't just run like an idiot and think you're going to grab one by that by the butt hairs you know and drag them in you better better have your wits about you and have a little use a little brain power otherwise you're going to be in trouble whether it's you know getting lost or getting hurt out there or you know running into an animal it is you know bear Kruger or something it's not exactly friendly you know or even worrying about what's that's ill-tempered a you just don't know I I think I would rather run into a cranky Sasquatch I think than a cougar

I really apprehensive about that one I mean that one's dangerous real especially today there's so many more of them around yeah and now I do have one more thing that I'm going to follow up with I'm gonna tell you about it is in this county also there's a woman who's having an inexperience on her property it's been going on for a while and but she shot at one she shot at one and she wants me to come out on the property and I'm like huh you know I don't know how I feel about after she shot a lot you know it wasn't you guys dangerous situation yeah it she's already shot at one a lot of times our real aggressive once had been shot at and she wants me to come out you know and check this out and I'm sitting here thinking about this and I'm like hmm do I really want to go later like reading up on my hands yeah barely but if it's caught my interest I mean I'm interested but I'm not willing to end up in the hospital either over it sounds like you may need some backup I think I think Wes and I will be a perfect candidates for that let's go check it out

one night now you got some help we'll do it yeah i-i'll come attack her and and see what she's done I'll get ahold of you guys yeah and if you're ever down here Becky we'll take you up the Mokka mouth not the mountain will show you uh well show you show you the areas that we were we ran into we call muffin Mountain but it's it's a cold mountain I appreciate you guys on that offer I would love to go yeah we'll show you fish I reference we got lots of footprints that's awesome that's awesome

I'd love to go that's great yeah so not real nice up there though they're kind of jerk you guys every five yeah you before you'd be fun but okay hey I think I think we're just about out of time we got about a minute and a half left you're Rebecca I want to thank you for being on the show tonight and you know welcome it takes a lot of nerve to come out and voice your opinion play your story you know from I'm sure lasted will also agreeably really appreciate being on the show we need more people like you out there to come out and you know just speak your mind and explain what's going on and what's happening in your life so we really appreciate that well I just if it will help anybody out there I'm not interested in same I'm not interested in money I don't care about you know I prefer not to be you know your ism is going to criticize please keep it to yourself but you know I what I say is because the truth what has happened to me is the truth and if it'll help anybody out there you know tried to deal with something that is going on in their life you know then and that's awesome well we sure appreciate you oh you're welcome thanks for having me

hello and welcome to phenomenon radio the show that covers thought-provoking breakthroughs in the fields of UAP UFOs to discover fascinating truths firsthand accounts and investigative insights into the expanding Confluence of physical and mental exposure to this worldwide phenomenon hosted by world-renowned experimenter of the 1980 random bentwaters UFO Incident John burrow and Emmy award-winning investigator journalist Linda Molton how and now leading off the program here's Linda Molton how 10 years ago in 2005 a book was released entitled hunt for the skin walker the book was written by biochemist col kellerer PhD and George knp multiple Emmy award-winning investigative reporter at KV the CBS affiliate in Los Vegas their book is about a ranch in northeastern Utah 150 Mi southeast of Salt Lake City in 1994 Terry Sherman his wife Gwen and their children moved onto a 48 acre ranch a few miles south of Fort duain soon they discovered mysterious circles in their pasture grass and missing and mutilated cattle then came box shaped UFOs emitting what looked like laser beams other mysterious lights Bigfoot Shadow creatures even a wolf that could not be shot and killed that's why skin walker is in the book title and why it came to be known as the skin walker Ranch skin walker is what the Navajo and other American Indian tribes call otherworldly beings that can shape shift take the form of many different matter bodies while tricking humans into thinking they are powerful Earth creatures the persistent skin walker phenomena on the ranch became a seven-year long scientific investigation from 1996 to 2003 by Robert Bigelow's National Institute of Discovery Science known as nids that is now closed down that Skinwalker phenomena opens the book with a light blue wiled wolf that walked calmly towards the family even allowed the humans to pet its fur right before the big wolf attacked a nearby calf Terry Sherman shot straight into the wolf's chest and stomach with a 357 Magnum to his shock quote the huge Beast stood about 10 feet away but displayed no signs of discomfort after being shot four times at Point Blank Range close quote Terry Sherman then got his 30 out6 rifle and shot the wolf quote the rifle bullet ripped through the animal in a sizable chunk of Flesh detached from the exit wound but the wolf made no sound and did not bleed the wolf slowly ran away leaving deep tracks in muddy ground until the tracks stopped abruptly it was as if the big wolf had vanished Into Thin Air close quote on a July 24th 2015 web radio broadcast of bigger picture with Ron James George nap emphasized

here close quote and when Terry Sherman told me that that that was the closest that he'd ever gotten and the description one was a large humanoid the other falls into the category of what we might call either a tall thin blonde or some kind of non-human it made me wonder did you and any of the group in the seven-year research ever get any more details about different types being seen by the scientists by uh the Shermans by anyone on that ranch oh quite a few quite quite a few reports uh not only from the scientists who were there from the Sherman family that lived there from the neighbors who had seen this kind of stuff uh there's different categories there's the creature reports there was a one incident that happened with well the wolf I want to go back to the wolf for a second you told that that story Linda at the beginning of the program I should add that um after the nids folks came onto the property and heard that story from the Shermans they did a little sort of like a a photo lineup as as police might do with different kinds of wolves and they showed it to the family and all the family members picked out the one that looked most like the one that had appeared there with the the bulletproof qualities and the wolf that they picked was a Dire Wolf which went extinct about 10,000 years ago uh the fur that you mentioned that flew off of this Beast uh when the Rancher made his sixth and final shot uh when he came back from the the mud pit where this thing disappeared Into Thin Air he picked it up I I I suppose if he had held on to that sample uh we'd have some more answers now but he didn't I mean he's not an investigator that was what happened on the first day that the family moved on to the property but he said that that fur that flesh smelled like rotten meat as if it had been out in the uh out in the in the Sun for a couple of weeks or at least days there were other creatures that were seen uh both before during and after uh the nids team was there one that looked like a huge muscular hyena with a big furry tail that was slashing at the hubs of the horses when the Rancher and his wife came back from town he jumps out yells at it and it runs away up towards Skinwalker Ridge and jumps and and poof just goes like Into Thin Air goes away the H's Hooves uh it legs were scratched up as if this thing had been playing with it there was a creature after a very dramatic calf mutilation that happened in broad daylight that you made reference to in the introduction the Rancher and his wife uh are are tagging the ears of newborn calvs the first one they come to is about 50 yards away from the ranch house and they go on about the uh uh on the pasture they're they're another hundred yards away or so and they hear the the mother cow making a whole bunch of noise they look back and she's dragging her leg and going around in circles her eyes bugging out they rush back over and they see that the calf that they had just tagged a short time before is completely stripped of Flesh uh completely stripped uh it's it's one of its legs pulled out and thrown almost in ritualistic fashion no blood on the ground just nothing left there but skin and phone they did some analysis they had a team come in and and uh took samples send it to Independent labs and determined that whatever had done this in broad daylight right there with the Rancher and his wife in the pasture had uh used very sharp instruments one was a a heavy machete like instrument the other like a scalpel and they had done it in broad daylight and were undetected now that night the nids team is on the ranch they're all on high alert everybody is the dogs on the property are hiding they hear something Out Among the the C cows on the pasture the Rancher grabs his gun goes jumps in his truck he's determined not to lose another cow and he goes barreling across the pasture jumps out of his truck shines his light on this tree he sees a creature it's almost like a big bear a big round black bear at the bottom of the tree and then up in the tree itself are gigantic reptilian eyes he shoots at the thing at

look like it it took different appearances different forms at different times to different people and U perhaps it it could take different forms like a skinwalker perhaps it could manipulate Minds uh to make it look like in our brains it look like something else or perhaps he could do both in George it seems to me this goes a bit to the heart of both the parallel with RAF bentwaters and uh the Skinwalker Ranch phenomena in this regard uh Jim penniston thought uh based on his experience December 26 1980 that they were dealing with Time Travelers who had some sort of a survival problem in your chapter in the book called The Window there is this description that uh we're talking about the Sherman Ranch the homestead was the only vantage point from which this orange tunnel structure was perfectly visible it was like a three-dimensional orange tunnel that receded away from them meaning the house and the sides of the tunnel were perfectly camouflaged with the sky so from a side view an observer could see nothing at all the only perspective that a for Ed a good view into the interior of this bizarre orange tunnel was directly opposite the house and what I wonder is that in these phenomena that we are trying to understand that must be related to Technologies like the UAP scientific and technical report that John and I and others have been studying that if we are dealing with an advanced intelligence that has learned how how to use whether it's wormholes or technology of certain frequencies and radiations that can literally connect some part of the cosmos right to a spot on earth and can come and go for reasons that are still unknown the same kind of Technology would perhaps be what was used in RAF bentwaters well there are some distinct similarities as you mentioned Terry Sherman that's not the name we used in the book but we had our own reasons for that um the the Rancher had reported seeing this big orange hole in the sky and that's how he described it to to the nids guys as a hole in the sky he said that it was another sky on the other side that it was you know whatever the world was on the other side of this hole it it it would be Twilight where he was and blue sky in the afternoon where the wherever the other side was and an occasion he would see things flying in and out craft that would come in and out so it sure sounds like a portal to me that description of that creature that colum and others had seen wriggling through that uh that tunnel of light that certainly sounds like it's coming from from somewhere else ultimately that's sort of where we were left it seems like there was an intelligence that was operating that assumed different shapes and forms that could manipulate Minds could certainly affect the fear Center in human uh human brains and I can give you some examples of that it could interact with us enter our reality anytime it want do whatever it wanted manipulate space and time and and objects in ways that we don't understand and we can't do anything about it and that was a you know there were there were certain social dynamics on the ranch uh while the Rancher was there being terrorized this things seemed to feed off of fear it it kind of got a kick out of it it enjoyed seemingly toying with the the the family and messing with their heads when the needs guys got on the property and started setting up cameras and going out to actively seek this thing out the social dynamics changed it it played games for a while and there was a time when they thought they were going to make communication with that they actively attempted to communicate uh in some really creative experiments and then the thing got nasty and it it did a couple of very distinct and direct uh incidents that made it clear that it was unhappy that it didn't like being stalked and then it went underground altogether it just stopped happening as if it took its Marbles and went home and didn't like playing this game anymore and back to what uh Terry Sherman told me back in June of 1999 uh quoting again just to remind that the two men he could hear them say but Terry Sherman knew when he talked to me it was in his mind he was hearing this telepathically quote it would not do any good if we tried to explain to him because he would never understand what we are doing quote close quote and in the RAF bwat side the idea that peniston uh in a from a hypnosis gained at least an insight he thought that what had come to randam was something that was time traveling because it had some kind of a survival problem and he used the term that it was collecting harvesting genetic material from our planet to use quote as Band-Aids 40,000 years in the future and that whole issue of time travel it provokes me to think as you describ that there might be a wolf that is 12,000 years old reptilians that might be millions of years old are we dealing with that tube that pipe that whatever you want to call it that was could be seen from the front of the Sherman's ranch house that was the time uh SpaceTime portal and that these beings were dealing with creatures that were crossing timelines in millions of years well I you know I I have to answer ask whether it could be both technological and natural some of the incidents that were reported on the the ranch seemed distinctly technological uh the Shermans had been seeing these balls of light these orbs blue or first it was white orbs that would pop around then it was these red orbs that seemed specifically designed to scare livestock and then the blue orbs that would fly around they look like a little bit bigger than a softball made out of glass with a bubbling blue liquid inside now if we've got some technology like that and we had it in the mid 90s I'd to know where it is because that would be kind of Handy to know how to make a ball of glass filled with blue liquid fly and and whenever these blue things would get near the family it triggered the pain the fear Center in their brains would just drive them to their knees and by that point they had been kind of used to being scared out there they were trying to get used to dealing with the strange phenomena uh but this thing was Way Beyond any kind of fear that that was natural so that seemed technological some of the other things that happens seemed technological they had an but but also just mean uh if if the Terry Sherman if if he heard it right it's absolutely correct that he wouldn't understand because nobody understands the the childish pranks that were played just out of meanness for example Sherman and his wife they had lost a bunch of livestock some just disappeared Into Thin Air some had been carved up in the kind of mutilations that you've been following and investigating for a long time Linda and he says to his wife as they're driving to town to buy groceries he saids look there's our four Bulls our four prized Bulls right there in the Corral big strong expensive animals if something happens to them we'll have to go under they drive to town they come back a half an hour later the Bulls are gone and they Panic they start jumping around looking all over how could they possibly get out in the middle of the Corral is this um this white uh metal trailer that he used as a storage shed for tools and other property there's only one door into it and it's it's secured by a big thick bail of wire the wire is still there the door hasn't been open but he figures what the heck I'll peek into this grate and and see if for some reason the Bulls are in here and sure enough there they were all four of these giant 2,000lb bowls crammed into this trailer there is no way you can spend all day at a forklift and you couldn't get one of those Bulls into that trailer without sedating them here is all four of them are crammed into the trailer like sardines when he yells to his wife hey I found them they're in here the Bulls wake up as if out of a trance and start kicking the sides of this trailer knocked it out and then they got out when the needs guys got to the property they were had been gone back to Las Vegas for the weekend they fly back after that incident and start investigating they found that all the uh the metal grates of the the the metal bars of

estimated and this guy freaks out his eyes open he flies backward falls on the ground and this thing whatever it was goes back into the brush and disappears The Rancher goes rushing over to him uh the guy's terrified he grabs on to Terry Sherman Won't Let Go Terry Sherman had to I think physically threaten him look you got to let go of me or else and then they they put him back in the truck drove him back to the front gate let him go and he's screaming at him that the devil was here this this is cursed it's the devil you know we he have heard that a lot since the book came out that it's the devil that it's sat satanic that it's demons I can't tell them no I I don't know we we don't know what the what the answer is um the idea that there should be abductees yeah that I think it has been discussed but I don't think it's ever been done I also can tell you that they they did do some attempts to get remote viewers that Joe mcmonagle is one of the guy who took a look at the ranch he identified a particular section of the property that he had a really a bad Vibe about he didn't know exactly why but something was underground we had another team I had asked a team Angela Thompson and her remote viewing team to take a look at it as an exercise I didn't tell them much about what it was we did follow the remote viewing protocols and they came back several of them saw underground facilities they they were they're sensitiv they looked at it they saw military men underground with banks of of equipment looking into monitors they saw Sharpshooters looking through uh scopes at the property uh and there's no question there was military interest during the time the nids guys were there they would fly over in helicopters they'd see them in trucks um I'm sure that a lot of the communications was monitored after it came clear that they were on to something interesting and I'm I'm also pretty sure although I don't want to speak out of turn that there's been some interest in that level since the study ended but at a much higher level but uh no one has the answers to that I think your idea about having sensitives on there is is something that has Merit but it wasn't tried to my knowledge during the seven years that nid was nids was there and George uh the Mr Sherman he said that later on when they saw the movie Predator with Arnold Schwarzenegger that he and his son they both said that's what we saw when that meditator was here and I have had very similar descriptions of the Predator phenomena from men who have served in Vietnam and when we come back after this break I would like to ask you if you and any of the scientists ever discussed terahertz frequencies okay you're listening to phenomenon radio with John Burl Linda Molton how and tonight's very special guest George nap we'll be right back to kickoff hour two right after these brief messages stay with us hey everybody what's up Jimmy Church of Fade to Black and check this out the 2015 muon Symposium will be held this September 24th through the 27th in beautiful downtown Irvine California expanding euphology opening new doors in Academia industry and media Former Defense Minister of Canada Paul helier will be there in person former CNN news anchor Cheryl Jones TV news journalist haime musan and mufon's chief photo analyst Mark deantonio they're just a few of the growing list of names for the 2015 event it's September 24th through the 27th at the beautiful Hotel Irvine get your tickets today at muons symposium. that's muons symposium. did you know that there is another way to listen to All of the Great UFO paranormal talk radio on Kg while on the go well the kg has partnered with talk stream live to bring you a call to listen feature from any phone simply dial 60556 24206 on your cell phone no smartphone apps or Internet needed no extra cost if you have unlimited minutes add the number to your contacts and dial handsfree listen to the kg from any phone anywhere anytime just dial 60556 2 4206 that's 605 562 4206 making it even easier to get the talk radio you want from talk stream live

what tonight was important and and and I hope people really stop and listen because I believe there's not probably as of now the information we have there's not a definitive answer does the government have a better idea I would say they probably do just based on the fact that they they they're not going to Share technology certain technology with people but ultimately a lot of these incidents instance including skin walker the blue orbs seem to play a part in all this and I was going to ask you George what what was the most defini I know different things happen there was different things all the time but how often were these blue lights or orbs involved in all this um maybe a dozen times a dozen different stories that I had heard that was a a specific distinct period I don't remember the nids guys ever seeing the the blue ones they saw the white ones and they saw the red ones but they the blue ones were seen by the Sherman family and I don't recall a a report from the the nids guys that they had seen any themselves so there was just a a period of a couple of months where they popped up as far as I can remember and John can you explain John what happened that you at least can remember from the hypnosis session well before I do that um you said that one of the physicist had an interaction with something and they actually spoke right yeah what exactly was he interacting with this thing uh was appeared to them as a big black cloud it was floating in the trees in that middle Homestead the same place where they stuck my chair and um the the two guys were walking along colum was one of them uh the other guy's at PhD and he's walking behind and they had dogs and all of a sudden the the dog stopped and started whimpering and hid behind him and this black cloud got really big in front of him and then the the second guy was frozen and he started speaking in a language I mean a voice that wasn't his it said something AFF of we're watching you you're not welcome here and that that same guy had residual effects for days after a couple of minutes he snapped out of it didn't remember what had happened but he had residual effects for days really bad dreams couldn't sleep something was there were lingering effects messing with his head did they check him out physically afterwards yeah but I I they I'm sure they did I know they did and I know that he's okay now but uh and that it's gone away it's not still with him but um I couldn't tell you what any medical reports said then I did not have access to that okay now my next question which will feed into maybe what Linda wants me to comment on different people when they were out in the forest over the three nights saw different things you know Jim said he saw a triangular object um there was clearly blue lights one of the individual was out there said he saw possibly something inside of the blue light that looked like an entity or something like that but the the thing that I remember was the big orange juice ball or orb or whatever you want to call it that had a hue around it and different colored lights including the predominant ones blue and white was there any one thing I know you said the blue lights up here but was there any one thing that occurred or happened to these people when they saw it that happened more than once and getting into that when when they looked at this when they looked at this did they ever think it had something to do with manipulation itself time manipulation or it was trying to make them think they saw something differently than what they were really seeing I can't think of an incident like that I I do know two specific incidences where the blue orbs appeared and the effects were the same there was one instance where it appeared over the head of a horse and the horse just went crazy just uh stampeding and just like a like it had been injected with drugs or something crazy C out of its mind the other time it happened was when it appeared over the Rancher and his wife and it drove them right to their knees with fear beyond anything that they could imagine uh there were other times

a First Amendment guy that's what I do for a living I I toil in the vineyard of the first am every day working day of my life so if there is truth to be told I'd like to hear it uh I just go back to the idea that there might be some truths that really are a little hard to handle that are are Way Beyond what we can get our heads around right now and which might actually cause a heck of a lot of turmoil and social disruption the kind of stuff that that ran study or that uh that study a long time ago U had predicted when we might encounter a higher intelligence extra dress drills whatever uh I am for disclosure uh I just don't think it'll happen and while I do think the truth should be told um I not only don't think it will happen but I'm not sure it it uh it's a good idea depending on what the truth turns out to be well on that note George nap thank you so much for this fascinating discussion today next week we are going to pick up exactly that question with Steve Basset and one of the congressman from the citizen hearing and I hope that you and others will uh look at phenomenon radio as one of the crossroads that we are trying to bring facts and move the ball forward a little bit in terms of what those facts are in relationship to us not being alone in this universe thank you good deal I I'll help you any way I can Linda always great to talk to you John thanks very much thanks for coming on George with that race take us forward in time to next week thanks for joining us everyone tonight for phenomenon radio be sure to join us next Thursday night as John and Linda welcome founder of Paradigm research group Steven Basset and former Utah two-term Congressman Merl cook from the panel on the citizens hearing on disclosure in Washington DC for John Burrows Linda Molton how and our very special and honored guest George knap thanks to all of you for joining us tonight stay tuned for three more hours of live talk radio with Jimmy church and Fade to Black only on kgo.com we'll see you next week

it's Thursday April 4th Friday April 5th if you're on the East Coast across the pond are down under and this my friends is spaced out radio hope you had a great day and night I am your host Dave Scott broadcasting to you live from the great white north on top of the mountains of Central British Columbia right here at SOR headquarters we welcome you to tonight's show including on deep talk radio and revolution radio remember all of our archives are free at youtube-dot-com forward-slash spaced-out radio just do me the favor hit that subscribe button our website is spaced-out radio.com where we have a plethora of features for you you can rock out to bumblefoot go shopping at our Spinks town radio store which is a good way to support this show read up on the SOR news wire by captain circuit much more tonight's show is brought to you by the YouTube channel in suho sebastian martin brings high quality messages to the masses head to our website click on the ensue home banner and subscribe today in today's every evolving media having a career at one particular outlet is nearly unheard of these days but since 1981 george knapp has been the staple at klas TV bringing his professionalism and candor to the las vegas television market thirty eight years later his journalism is still some of the best the United States has to offer in investigative journalists mr. Knapp moved to the desert in 1979 spending his first two years in the city as a taxi cab driver and working part-time at klvx channel 10 before solidifying his name at klas channel 8 the ageless reporter with a fantastic beard instantly became a star in 1989 and it wasn't by choice before you know things got a little viral the Internet wasn't even invented his story about Bob Lazar brought instant fame to his career and in those 30 years since george knapp has become the voice of reason knowledge and a much-needed respect did voice in the UFO and paranormal communities his track record speaks for itself five regional Edward R Murrow awards to national Edward Armour Awards a nine time winner of The Associated Press Mark Twain award for best news writing 24 regional Emmys how is he not in the Hall of Fame for broadcasting yet he's an accomplished author with his work on skinwalker ranch and the best part for all of us UFO wing nuts we can claim him as one of our own he's one of the good guys standing in the forefront with his microphone bringing mainstream attention to UFOs and the disclosure movement mr. George Knapp it's an absolute honor to have you on spaced-out radio for the first time how are you hey Dave you know your reputation precedes you you're a famous guy and I am ready to be spaced out along with you and your listeners well you know we're gonna take it just any way we can because I know you don't do a lot of interviews and there are a ton of questions that I have our audience has for you so for you to take the time to be able to do this with us and spend the next two and a half hours we really owe you the thanks for coming on the air with us I'm glad to be here

I got to ask you right off the bat 38 years at KLAS looking back on your career and everything you've accomplished outside of the UFO scene is there a story that just sticks with you one you will never forget well there are several the one I think that's had the the biggest impact here in Nevada deals with water

I covered water for many years I still cover it to some degree not as intensely as I used to but water is you know essential here in the desert is essential everywhere but really in the desert it's it's about power and politics and control and Las Vegas has been growing by leaps and bounds one of the fastest growing cities in North America for a long time growing like a bat out of hell and it's outstripped its water supply and has been looking elsewhere and the places it's been looking for water our rural parts of the state where farmers and ranchers and small towns and small businesses and native-american tribes live and and I've sort of helped to delay at least the the acquisition of that water you know they were just going to steamroll all these communities and I helped take a stand on that I think I'm pretty proud of working on those issues because they're complicated and not easily explained it's not something people know you as the UFO guy people know you is that but when you sit there and talk about water that affects your community every person who comes into that area we often forget how important water actually is so I could see why that would be such an important story for you yeah it's huge and it goes into all aspects of the community I mean it's you know you have casinos and developers which are the two biggest forces and politics here and and in the economy understandably who are absolutely behind the acquisition of rural groundwater they're the ones who fund political campaigns so elected officials do what they want them to do and they've been prepared to build a fifteen billion dollar pipeline that would stretch 400 miles and suck the groundwater out of a gigantic area of rural Nevada that would create in essence a Death Zone that plan is still under way they still want to get it done

it's the it's no longer on the front burner and I think we've our stories helped to help to cause that to happen but you know it's still a threat it'll always be there because the the powers that be want it to happen so yeah I've worked on that a lot and it's hard to believe that the UFO guy would be digging into something like that but that's that's the fact

why keep going 38 years at klas in the spotlight the awards the accolades you've done everything in journalism that one could only dream of why keep telling stories well I like I like going to work every day I'm still as enthused as when I started it it's a job I think when I got into it it was a little streak of Dudley do-right kind of thing where you you want to make a positive difference in people's lives and and it's a job where that can still happen you know the power of television local television news it's it's the most trusted news source still in most major surveys and it can still get things done

I think it's been diluted a lot because of other alternate sources of information and alternate platforms that did well develop but it's still a force to be reckoned with you can still do good things and make positive changes in people's lives fix problems help people in need expose things that need to be exposed so I'm still excited to go to work every day I I don't know what I would do if I weren't weren't there

I suppose I have other opportunities but it would always be in the realm of journalism I don't blame you for that but when you look around the newsroom and you see all of these youngsters and you look at other stations where colleagues who were held in high regard positions much like you are with klas I do have to ask the way journalism has changed where television stations radio stations newspapers are really run by corporate people now rather than fellow news hounds who just don't have that that speed to get the story up anymore has that frustrated you in your career seeing the faces change so frequently and really the job of the investigative reporter like you are the journalist extraordinaire starting to become a a dying breed well I'll put it this way it certainly has changed since when I started a klas was the diamond it was the major power in media wise news wise in Nevada it was Nevada's first TV station we had when I came to work we had a 50 share at the time which is unbelievable and we could get things done because of that immense audience we really could get things done and when we did a story everybody in the community saw it that's changed you know in part because of so many other platforms and stations and news sources a lot of them online and we've had to change with it and and you're right corporate takeovers of the news media turns it into more of a but Center whereas when I started it could have been seen as a loss leader at least at the network level and now it has to produce and costs have been cut and positions eliminated more so in the print media then then in broadcasting but it's affected our business as well and the communities are worse off for it there's so many stories the place like Las Vegas there's never a slow news day there are so many stories that need to be told and so many investigations I'd like to do but there's a limit you know you have to sleep sometime that is very true I want to start shifting over to the UFO side if you don't mind you are obviously best known in this industry for your connections and stories within the UFO community but how have you been able to successfully bridge the gap between the mainstream way of thinking on this subject and the UFO community that's begging for that recognition in the public eye well I mean I try to look at it as a news story that's what I how I started down this road it was looking at it as a news story not as a big expose and not as a springboard to fame or infamy as it's turned out I I tried to approach it that way you know when we started with the Lazar area 51 stuff my news director and I had gone up to meet Lazar and to put him through his paces and ask him a bunch of questions and when we left I remember having the conversation geez if we if we go down this road and do a story on this we're putting everything at risk our own personal reputations our professional reputations the reputation and credibility of the station so we had to be careful when we spent a lot of time digging into it and tried to present it as a straightforward news story telling people what we found along the way and I've maintained that that approach with all of the different UFO related stories that I've had over the years and the other difference is my audience is not ufology I am NOT writing those stories for ufologists I know with social media that stories that we air here in Las Vegas go all over the world pretty quickly that is not my audience the people who live in Las Vegas are my audience and that's how I write it for and I'm not writing my opinions banging out just angry screeds or putting stuff on the air that just happens to flow off the top of my head I'm working on these stories and I try to do the best I can and tell people what I find out and because of that even though some of my media colleagues have looked at me like I'm crazy especially when I first started down this road and they took umbrage that somehow I was bringing disrepute to the profession in general they've had to grudgingly accept that we've broken so many stories and this has touched the pulse of the public in such a dramatic way that I'm sure at least a few of them wish they had got on board debt you know that the story is so interesting and powerful and compelling and it grabs the public by the throat I mean they hunger for information about this reliable information is strong it was strong back then it's stronger today so I've tried to tell my colleagues who are skeptical about it look you can take whatever approach you want but there's a lot of stuff that goes uncovered related to this topic and there's more than enough work to go around I think a lot of them are taking a fresh look at it now because of recent developments that I'm sure we'll talk about absolutely so when you look at the UFO and paranormal community in general and I realize you're on the outside looking in a lot of people would say probably from one of the top floors looking down on on the community what are your thoughts overall in regards to this because you have the people who are trying to do it right and you have the people who are trying to push their own narrative then you have the people where you don't know what planet they are coming from well it's a mess it's always been a mess

I remember 1989 is the year we started working on the Lazar stuff that's also the first year

MUFON held its international symposium here in Las Vegas and that I didn't know what I was getting myself into but I went into it bright-eyed and bushy-tailed and eager to learn the whole thing and absorb as much as I could that was the MUFON conference where Bill Moore got up and told the whole rich Dodi story how he'd been working with the government and helping to spread this information and full UFO researchers and it was huge scandal rocked the whole UFO community and I had to you know think is this really what I want to do but you know you learned pretty quickly there is a learning curve and I tried to to sort of absorb everything I could pretty quickly reading as many books to credible people trying to separate wheat from chaff but it became abundantly clear that this field is nuts that there is so much back fighting and infighting and and and treachery and turf wars in particular turf wars that somebody breaks a story that the UFO pooh-bahs have not approved of or they don't have a piece of or they can't get into it then everybody dumps up and I think what's going on right now is is maybe that theme times 10 because it's a mess it's you know these people write stuff that seems to be written for other youth ologists they write stuff for a small circle of people who think the same way they do and then it recirculates around somebody else will write a more the scathing article and then everybody promotes it on social media it's almost like it's a competition to see who can dump on this the most and it's you know many of the tactics i've seen used on this topic against people who are trying their best to get to the bottom of things and find out what's going on i'm there there absolutely as as bad as anything that the skeptics the debunkers the psych ops of the world have pulled to discredit the theme the subject in general the researchers should pursue it any government official who dares to mention an interest in it I mean it's as many people have said so class has said it Rick Doty has said it bill Corso has said it ufology doesn't need to be attacked by the government or or have disinformation ufology eats its own it it destroys itself that's never been more true than right now does that have to do with the fact George that there is absolutely no strength in media covering the paranormal

I mean whether it's the news what you do in Las Vegas whether it's sports whether it's politics there always seems to be newshounds going for those stories yet in the paranormal where everybody thinks they're a journalist an investigative journalist or whatever their self title in themselves these days and we'll get into that later but in regards to covering the stories of the events because there is no strong media calling people out and calling the stories out is that why it's pretty Antarctic in your opinion well it's a combination of factors I mean I I do believe that the government helps set this in motion right back to 1953 the Robertson panel the CIA convenes this thing they look at a couple of UFO cases over a couple of days they decide there's no evidence that UFOs represent a threat to national security except the reporting of UFOs could be so they've decided they would strip this topic of its aura of mystery that is when the laughter curtain and really cool factors sprung up I don't know that the government actually ever put a plan into motion to actively discredit UFOs and ufologists and the topic in general but the effect has been the same because people in my line of work media people who should be interested in something this big they should be interested in it for the simple reason that the public is even if the role is to you know discredit stories to explain the explanations for what sightings are and and alternate scientific rationale based explanations for strange phenomena even if that is the role you know it it hasn't played out that way people in my line of work are worried about their reputations so they they chortle and laugh and poke fun I don't know how many millions of times I've seen the same jokes told by anchor people after they era a UFO story always tongue-in-cheek hey where's the Elvis sighting where's Bigfoot et phone home same lines over and over and over a year after year decade after decade so the media whether or not they know that they are playing into the hands of the people who started this ball rolling a long time ago who didn't want you followed you to be taken seriously that's exactly what's happened you know and then you follow just people who call themselves that you know there is no standard for who is a ufologist there are no degrees that are awarded for it there's no no membership that you have to get or degree you have to obtain you just if you have a keyboard you call yourself that and then you can write about it and they are their worst their own worst enemy what they do to each other what you do the subject is terrible we got about four minutes here before we got to go to break at the bottom of the hour George Knapp is our guest tonight from klas channel 8 in Las Vegas you may know him from coast to coast as well I gotta ask you I know from my old newsrooms where I worked the reaction from my fellow journalists when it comes to UFOs or in your case when it came to UFOs the bottle is our story and everything that went along with that what has been the reaction over the years that you have taken from fellow journalists because I can just imagine what it's like but for you I'd love for you to explain it well at klas I've had nothing but support it was brave of them to allow me to go down this road and they were nervous about it

Bob stone all was the guy who hired me at at Kas he was my mentor he was the guy who got me interested in area 51 long before Bob Lazar came along long before we heard the stories about flying saucers he had a collection of the scant amount of material that that existed about area 51 and he passed it on to me and he was absolutely in support and because of his support and because we approached it rationally and like we would any store any other story and maybe with extra care because it given the nature of the topic the other people in the newsroom respected it and now because I've been there so long new people come in and a lot of them when they're hired they already know my name from this stuff and and everybody is pretty much accepted it they know I'm going to try to do a good job and I'm not going to do something to embarrass them as for other media it's been pretty pretty harsh I know when the Lazar stories first came out there were I've been in three and it's

Oriol cartoons in our state's largest newspaper they had one with me and a butterfly net chasing flying saucers and there was one called the marshmallow head Chronicles where alien hitman had come to earth to kill me because they were mad about stories I was doing and they were pointing their ray guns at gasoline pumps maybe making fun of my frame and saying of course they are earth men but which one is George Knapp and there there was a column about the I did a series on the Indian abductions and they had a column entitled kidnapped by aliens and they dubbed me a grand mola in the Church of cosmic proctology radio DJs with when they run out of belch barf and fart jokes they would make fun of me make songs and poems and it's okay

I'm a public figure here I'm well known I don't have thin skin what bothered me though is it was a lot easier to make wisecracks and jokes than to do the work to go out there night after night at area 51 dodging guards and seeing what's flying around in the sky or interviewing the witnesses so I think they're the ones that have missed out on it and it's been harsh and still to this day when I find myself at odds with somebody over some other issue unrelated to UFOs they'll always remind me he's the space guy you know he's the UFO guy as if I haven't heard that before but in the end as we got about a minute here before we go to break you were literally the one now helping them wipe the egg off their face when the 2017 story came out in the New York Times in the Politico yeah I would have to say there's a certain amount of satisfaction when that came out because of course I had known about the program and everything I just couldn't really talk about it yet I wanted to do this story and just didn't have the green light to do it but yeah and I'm in the catbird seat because when it comes to UFOs all roads lead to Las Vegas and I'm sure we'll get into that in the segment ahead absolutely my friend George Knapp the legend journalist investigative journalist skinwalker ranch Bob Lazar to the stars Academy we are getting into it all tonight with mr. legendary investigative journalist George Knapp is with us tonight and we are talking all things weird strange in the deserts of Nevada and of course it all leads back to this man mr. Knapp welcome back to the show hey Dave ready to go all right let's get right to the Bob Lazar story you put your name and your career literally on the line with this story everybody knows the history of it now and was refreshed with Jeremy corbels latest movie they you played a part in but I'm looking internally at you because I've never really heard someone ask you this news directors if you've never worked in a newsroom are known for being ordinary stiff people sometimes at the best of times how did you convince your news director to run with this story that you had it well I was in luck because as I mentioned a little bit ago bob snowed all the guy who hired me a brilliant man I think the most important Nevada journalist since Mark Twain already had an interest in area 51 and when I first came to the station he gave me a file I don't know if he figured out that that's where things would lead for me because I was really I was Jimmy Olsen I was cub reporter with very little experience on the air but he took me under his wing and one of the things he passed on to me was area 51 this thin little file about this mysterious base that wasn't on any Maps he said just tuck it away we don't have to do anything right now but one of these days I want you to look into it and so we I started collecting little bits and pieces as I'd hear about him in 1984 the US government the Air Force seized 89 thousand acres of land around grew

Lake and they did it like overnight one night it's public lands the next day there's armed guards there and the public is prohibited from being there and they did it without permission and they they asked for permission afterward they told Congress that they had done it with authority that's higher than the Constitution something along those lines at a congressional hearing congressmen who heard this were shocked but yet they kept the land in fact they've taken more now that got everybody's attention mine included so we started poking around what could they be hiding what's so secret out there turns out that what they were most likely guarding was the f-117 a and not long after that a year so after that those stories broke a guy named John Lear comes to the TV station he'd been talking to Bob Stovall and to my managing editor a mock raker and a courageous reporter named that day who's passed on and they helped Ned and Bob break the story of the f-117 John and some of his friends had been hanging around at Tonopah test range area 52 they had obtained images they'd been down right to the edge of area 51 and taking photos they said the secret plane that's invisible the radar out there is flying around in the Nevada desert we've got the proof and Ned ran with the story it went national it went international it was a really big deal in fact the FBI or some agency kicked Ned up off the street hauled him in put him under a bright bright spotlight in the dark room and grilled them where'd you get this information don't you know you put the lives of 200 million Americans at risk by leaking this stuff out in our our enemies will know about it and then thought about it for a little bit and they looked at him and said look I'm a reporter at a little place in Las Vegas and I was able to get this information and if you think you had a secret and the Russians can't get it but I can well I did you a favor they let him go but because of that story John Lear had a certain amount of credibility with us he is from the Lear family his father had embedded the Lear jet and the 8-track tape player he had run for public office he worked for the CIA he'd flown every plane in the world and so he came back to the station in 1987 with a pile of UFO documents and he dropped them on Ned days desk and he said Ned this is biggest story you'll ever have it's about a UFO conspiracy and coverup here's the documents to prove it and a lot of the secrets are out there at area 51 and looked at the material and said I don't want anything to do with this if this was true I'd already know about it so John was ready to leave the station I've been eavesdropping and I said hey let me take a look at that stuff I read some of the material I thought this is interesting and at the time I produced a little public affair show called on the record it would air Saturday or Sunday morning 7 6 or 7 o'clock in the morning typical guests would be a city council under county commissioner I'd ask him questions of her half an hour and nobody watched it it wasn't more of a public service than anything but I decided well look I'll have jolly Rahl I'll talk to about UFOs see where this goes and he told this fantastic story I really was pretty skeptical about the whole thing this can't be true with all this alien conspiracy stuff in the US government knows it and they've allowed abductions to take place and got pretty wild but I that show aired suddenly my phone is ringing we didn't have emails in those days but I'm getting phone calls and letters and people well who was that guy what's the deal and that UFO stuff it really struck the pulse of the public and then I had him on again in 1988 the reaction was even bigger I had him on a third time and that's the show where he hinted that he knew some guy who was getting hired out at area 51 or groom lake near there and he knew something about flying saucers I didn't know what that guy's name was but it turned out they'd be later was Bob Lazar so I recognized that wow that public is reacting to this in a pre dramatic way I'm gonna start reading about it and they started boning up on it I started reading UFO books I had had no real interest in the topic no compelling interest in it before at least not as a newsman and I started finding out material interesting material about it trying to separate wheat from chaff figure out what's real and what isn't it became pretty clear that 90 to 95 percent of the sightings could be explained but that other 5% that was interesting it was harder to explain and and therein lies the mystery so mmm

March of 1989 I'm hosting

I'm the co-anchor of our five o'clock news we would do a five-minute interview live interviews segment every day on the news and we had a last-minute cancellation and I'd been in touch with Lear about this UFO guy that he knew who turned out to be Bob Lazar and I call him and said would this guy come on we've got a five minute hold on our newscast you think this guy would come on and talk about what he knows up there because Lear has hinted that there had been some friction some trouble with his work so he says I'll see and they set it up so we sent a crew a live truck up to John leaders house this guy who used the pseudonym Dennis climbed in the truck did this interview where he told about a secret base s4 next to Papoose Lake it was built into the side of a mountain disguise to look like the natural terrain they had nine hangars with nine alien disks out there that the secret had been kept that it was too big to keep and that the public had a right to know and that was that well the general manager comes running back is that for real the news directors phone is ringing off the hook the whole newsroom has lit up what the heck was that all about so that was what prompted the news director Bob Stoll and I to set up a meeting to go meet Bob Lazar to question him put him through his paces and see whether this was worth pursuing we came out of the meeting with Lazar and said she said that sounds pretty credible he wasn't trying to sell it he wasn't overstating his role in it he was frank about problems in his life in his personal life he wasn't a saint obviously we figured when we left well this could be a multi-part series we'll start working on this and what it turned out to be is me working for eight months absorbing everything I could about UFOs in general the cover-up issues documents that had been released and particularly about Bob Lazar at his background and we went everywhere and we focused so hard on that and until November when we produced this series UFOs the best evidence and it remains the highest rated locally produced a news series ever in Las Vegas we made it into a two-hour special it also was the highest-rated locally produced show ever and and that was that's to change my life from there on I was viewed by my colleagues and media as a crazy guy and I was viewed by the public as the UFO reporter I continued to do other stories and and and still break big big important stories about other topics and mainstream news subjects and won a lot of awards but my mind was always on UFOs and the public identified me with that topic I know when I was in radio in Vancouver I broke a couple of big stories albeit in sports so not as big as a real news story but lucky enough nonetheless but when I went to break that story I remember my sports director always saying to me George who are your sources how can you confirm this story who told it to you and we'd have a very closed-door private meeting in regards to that did that happen with the Bob Lazar case because a story of this magnitude in order to run with it you have to have some sort of confirmation that he actually did work at area 51 did you have those sources and I'm not asking you to give them up but those sources deep enough to say he's the real deal well it's not it's a gray area it's not a yes or no or black and white we had a lot of sources with bits and pieces of the story that confirmed that Lazar had been out there and we had a lot of other information developments that happened that let us know that we're on the right track and I'll get into those in a moment as well I had more than two dozen people who had worked at Groom Lake who could verifiably be said to have been out there in either the Nevada Test Site or at area 52 or at area 51 who gave me bits and pieces of the same story people who would say that I worked there there was an electrical engineer for example who said he worked it at Groom Lake and had seen a saucer under a tarp and a hanger there was a guy who was a tax preparer who had worked for he did the taxes for all these brass at Nellis Air Force Base who got to know the the officers and who had told them they had crashed retrieves crashed materials out there in a bunk

I had a another guy who had been a photographer who had worked with EG&G which was the company that managed area 51 since its inception who had told us about photographing materials out there and these secret hangars I added more than two dozen people who gave me bits and pieces of the story including a guy who had been a manager at area 51 who had worked for the company that was in charge of operating the facility for a long time as Lazar had told us that's the company that he had to go through to get hired out there so we never had a document that said Bob Lazar worked here we never expected to get that but I had a lot of indications that he had worked for the government in secret programs classified projects as a scientist and that's what we rested our laurels on that we you know I haven't run into trouble right off the bat

Bob's resume had said he was at MIT and at Caltech you got master's degrees

I contacted those schools and both said no we got no record to him I said well this is going to be a short investigation if that's the way this goes it so I started on Los Alamos I figured well alright records could disappear because Bob had said they're trying to make me as if I never existed alright we'll see so we contact Los Alamos you have any records on Bob Lazar no never had them no nobody of that name was ever here in any capacity and I find the phone book with his name minute I go back to him and said look it's right here in the phone book well he wasn't here we don't have any records we don't have anything on him then I find the newspaper article front page of a Los Alamos monitor that shows a picture of him standing next to his jet car and the article noted that he'd been a physicist at Los Alamos nope they still denied it back and forth I go with letters from them then they find a they find an identification number they finally admitted yeah he was here he worked for a company called Kirk Meier which is a a headhunter firm they they hire people to fill scientific and technical positions at the lab so I worked started working on Kurt Meyer and the first time I contacted them do you have any records on a guy named Robert Lazar yeah so you hired him you got him a job at Los Alamos yeah great can I get those records sure send us a four a letter with the lazarre's signature on it and will release it which I did they don't respond to me suddenly they don't take my phone calls when I get them on the phone they say we can't find the records anymore finally they said they don't have it we don't have any records at all so I had a pretty good indication that there was something going on that they were screwing with me a little bit and hiding records and and we're trying to obscure his background because I had talked to people who work with him there in fact I went to Los Alamos with a cameraman on a Sunday morning and Lazar escorted us in and we go into the lab doesn't say much for the security of Los Alamos we went to the lab he waves to the guy at the gate we go in and he's taking us all into all these different buildings it was like a rabbit going through its own burrow everywhere he goes he's saying hi to people nobody stopped us he showed us around we take our camera in to the giant particle accelerator and took pictures of it I'm that happened so when I have the lab telling me that he was never there and the company that hired him saying they never hired him and people who work with him saying yeah he was here in scientific positions on classified projects I know it was on to something how did the death threats end because we know that there was a they were trying to shoot him we know about the Uzi in his car with the doors open when he comes out from from the gym did that have anything to do with and maybe I'm just throwing darts at a dartboard here but did that have anything to do with the fact that eventually he would get involved with mr. Robert Bigelow looking for element 115 no because nobody knew Robert Bigelow at that time nobody knew that he was had an interest in UFOs I didn't

Lazare didn't he had funded knids he hadn't given money to Friedman or any of those folks no one knew his name in these circles there weren't any reports and UFO magazines or in the Las Vegas papers or anything of the sort so the threats that happened to Lazar I don't know that they were actually trying to kill him I think they were trying to scare him because certainly if they wanted him dead they could have killed him and the the intrusions at his home where they would go in and and mess around in his lab move around the furniture and you know wipe off his blackboard and make it very obvious that they'd been in there the incident with his car where they opened the doors and windows in the glovebox and leave the gun they're shooting at the tire they didn't have to shoot the tire they could have shot at him they wanted him dead I I came to believe that Lazar for all of his faults for all of the problems in his personal life was the perfect guy for that job a brilliant guy who thinks outside the box somebody who could bring into a project that would give you a new new thought process that would maybe help break the log jam because that's what they had out there and I think they still have it and trying to figure out the technology that came from somewhere it certainly it's not ours they were reverse engineering it to try to figure out how it worked and whether they could duplicate it not putting it together and it wasn't it wasn't from here so they hired a guy who you know who would have the ability to help them move the project forward but who obviously could be discredited at the drop of a hat and here's a guy who he builds jet cars and races them he likes machine guns he likes hookers he's got a he's got a skull and crossbone flag on his on his house he's had credit problems he once owned a piece of a legal brothel I mean he's a rebel he's a he's a wild man in many regards and has no respect for authority obviously you know somebody did a psych profile of this guy and figured out he could be a problem but let's give him a try see what happens and if he tells the story who's gonna believe well he ended up telling the story although it was tough to get him to do that we can go into details about that but he was a reluctant UFO Messiah and it took a long time to get the green light for him to allow me to put it on the air but I think he we did the initial interview because he was thought he was going to be killed and this was a way to deter that he figured well if they know that I've got tape then I've got an interview and something happens to him the story would story would become even bigger those those threats were real I lived through that and I saw a lot of this stuff it wasn't something Lazar made up and I know it for another reason it's because the people who called me once that became clear that I was working on this project because of the the dennis interview the live interview that we did and we put out appeals so to let him know that along the way that I was working on it and I wanted public input

I had six different people at different times call and offered to give me information little bits and pieces again about area 51 the electrical engineer who had seen a UFO under a tarp in a hangar he used to work at klas he was working at a different television station I reached out to him by phone and I said hey would you be willing to go on camera I can black out your your face I won't use your name but I want you to tell me that story he says sure the next morning there's two guys sitting in a car outside his house there look like military haircuts they're talking into a radio they follow him to work and they follow him home and it was an intimidation move so he changed his mind it didn't talk to me there was a tax break

there was excuse me a lady who worked as a stenographer or one of the major defense contractors out at the tent side homes annarbor she had shared a story about sitting in a meeting with airforce brass and contractors talking about classified material stuff of projects and the subject of Roswell came up or some wreckage from a flying saucer that came from wright-patterson and had been brought to Nevada desert and she took these notes they said when she said when the deed meeting was over they took the ribbon out of her typewriter and destroyed it told her she can't talk to anybody about it she had told this to a police officer who was a friend of mine and and he told me and I called her up and said hey can you tell me the story I'll protect your identity she reluctantly said she would the next day she gets visited by these two guys they said listen you do know you're still under security oath that that you could be prosecuted if you break any secrets and the national security secrets she goes yeah I understand that and then they said we know that you do a lot of traveling that your daughter lives in in Los Angeles and that she travels here and you go there you know it's a big desert out there and be ashamed of something that happiness do either of you know it scared this lady to death no ten years later ten years after that I gave her another try figured maybe she'll be willing to talk now that the story is out she was still scared she's still scared to this day so six different people who I didn't know who didn't know me I talked to him on the phone at klas they offered to give me information related to area 51 groom lake flying saucers different little pieces of the story six of them right in a row all of them visited multiple to shut up all of them threatened and that's real I mean that that really happened and you know today we assume that our all of our electronic media our phones are tapped it all goes into some gigantic NSA database but back then I took umbrage at it I was outraged that somebody was tapping our phone because you know they didn't have a warrant for it there's no warrant for that it was illegal it was survey electronic surveillance illegal by somebody who wanted to hear who was offering to give me information and I was followed Lazaro and bla load all those yeah mr. Knapp I'm gonna get you to hold on right there I love the fact that you knew exactly when we were going out that's a pro move right there boss George Knapp is our guest tonight on spaced-out radio we're gonna get into a tip to the stars Robert Bigelow Harry Reid and so much more an hour number two stay tuned right after this legendary investigative journalist George Knapp is with us we are so glad to have him here considering he doesn't do a lot of interviews but he is the main mainstream voice of ufology today and he has been for the last 30 years since the Bible is our story mr. Knab welcome back to the show hey Dave we've got a lot of ground to cover huh oh no kidding no kidding and we're gonna push it right now you know one of the questions that I want to just get to with with Bob Lazar here in regards to his educational background did anybody push the universities or push him to provide some sort of proof that he wasn't just some you know Lackey in school who maybe got a community college degree but tried to boost his resume yeah the education part of it was always the most troubling aspect of his story for us as a news organization will we're trying to have that was his credentials and and build his credibility or at least test the limits of it and when those schools decline it was troubling for us it's pretty clear that bob is a smart guy I know that I did have part of his work history worked at a place called Fairchild in a tech position and I knew he had worked at Los Alamos whether they admitted it or not people around him vouched for him people and other classified programs vouch for him so I knew that somewhere there was a missing piece that he didn't just go to work at Los Alamos without having some kind of education and I have confronted Bob both gently and firmly as his friend and I have become his friend over the years you know in those days I said look man if you're lying about this I will well I I you know I was out of control and in terms of what I said but I I told him that would be serious consequences if it turns out he was lying and he wasn't I I can't prove where he went to school but we told that story in the very first episode of our series where I revealed his identity right after I say what his name is

I told the story about MIT and Caltech and having no records years you know a year or so later of course the UFO community pounces on it they follow the same steps that I found and that schools told them the same thing it didn't have any degrees and they make it like an expose aha well and every couple of years the same thing happens every couple of years a new batch of people find the Lazar story online and then they find the revelation that he didn't go to MIT after all

and they say Stan Friedman exposed this as a fraud and they write the whole thing off well that would have been the easy thing to do but there was too many other pieces of it too to ignore we did try to get the records went back and forth with MIT and Caltech and never got it the the crunch time came for me when Bob got into some legal trouble this was after the first series had done so well in November of 89 we did a follow-up in February of 1990 and the whole town was buzzing about Bob Lazar and area

one and UFOs in general and wherever we go that's what people would talk about wherever he went he got recognized so he comes to me and I think it was March of 1990 and told me he got involved with this brothel operation and I didn't believe him he had met this woman who he says he agreed to help her put in some security cameras I thought oh my God my life is flashing before my eyes the highest-profile witness and the biggest news story I've ever done is just telling me something that's going to sink everybody including klas I said I don't believe it showed to me and he did he took me there I said this has got you got to shut this down you got to shut it down he said don't worry the cops know about it they've been here they know this woman they're not going to bust us I said you got to shut it down we're gonna do an interview you're gonna tell what you know you know you don't have to be real specific you got to tell you were involved in this and it's over and I'm calling the cops and I did I called the police the undersheriff at the time and told him about it and they said fine it'll all go away the next day they raid the lady they raid lazar he's hit with six felony pandering counts not a lot of people were prosecuted for pandering back in those days in Las Vegas but they were going after Bob and parole and probation did the investigation and he told them the same story he told me what schools he went to where he had worked et the whole thing they were recommending criminal charges not for Quell prison time actual hard time because they thought he was lying to them about his records we had congressman Bilbray seek background reports from the FBI and was told you don't have a need to know it's not that they don't have the records it's like you don't get them so if he were a liar about his educational credentials and this whole story that was the time to come forward with it because the the fact that they thought he was lying man he was going to go to prison so by telling him the truth messing up if he were in fact lying that was the time to do it but he didn't he stuck to his story so I don't know that Bob went to those schools it doesn't matter to me if what mattered to me was he's a brilliant guy who did work in scientific program in classified programs at los alamos and for me that at least least made it plausible that he could have been hired to work at something out there in the Nevada desert we did press for those records we pressed for government records and security clearance records and things of that sort and got got the runaround pretty much every step of the way it's remarkable you know everybody leaves a paper trail but a lot of Bob's background and his paper trail is just missing so you know in my head I worked out the the thing about the schools I've given him the opportunity as a friend to say look if you didn't go to those schools tell me about it you know we'll report it the public will figure it out and maybe they'll believe you and maybe they won't but he always stuck to it I suspect that there is an explanation that somewhere in between and I hope that we're going to get that story soon Jeremy it Korbel in this film sort of touched on that and I think maybe he'll have more on it and in the coming months over the years you have become very interested with people like Robert Bigelow Senator Harry Reid who just gave you a very fine exclusive on UFOs how put off some serious names in the upper echelon of ufology how long ago did you know about the 22 million that Reed helped secure for the a tip program pretty much immediately in fact the whole world knew quite a bit about it one week after Bob Bigelow signed the contract for what became the bass the aw snap program he was on as my guest on coast to coast am and announced the creation of bass that it was going to study UFOs and he said he had funding from an unnamed partner and it was he didn't have to spell it out it was obviously he was talking about a government partner didn't know was the DIA until later and you know I didn't have a security clearance I was asked to get one at times so I could learn more but I didn't want to do that because it would really hinder my ability to report the story and and I always intended to report it and knew that the day would come worth I could break that news but back in those days when the program was just off I knew just bits and pieces broad strokes that there was a study underway that it was a remarkable effort and that read had secured the funding for it Harry Reid we've started our conversation about UFOs right after Lazar had been on our air as in the dennis interview Harry Reid was the first person I talked to outside our newsroom about this research project we were doing I said senator you need to know about this about these secrets out in the desert we were in a limousine on the way to McCarran Airport he was flying back to Washington and I was somewhat surprised that he didn't kick me out of his car say that's ridiculous he said I'm interested in that I'll take a look at it and from then on he and I had a secret relationship about UFOs and when I would see him we would interview about different topics over the years sometimes I go to Washington sometimes he'd come out to Nevada and we'd always go off to the side and have a little conversation a whispered conversation about this topic it would drive his staff kind of crazy when we would do that because he wouldn't tell them what we're talking about and he helped me over the years he would help me obtain documents and eventually help obtain funding for what became bass and also it's a heavy thing or the other day Dave I found a an interview that we did live with Harry Reid on the day that lazarre's identity became public to the world earlier in the in the afternoon the 5 o'clock

we did a live interview with Harry Reid and we asked him about UFOs hey you following the series about UFOs because the whole town was buzzing about it he says yeah I've been following it and as George and he says in this interview he admits that he and I had talked about it before and that he's going to be tuning in we talked about should there be congressional hearings and he said at the time he'd talked to his friend Senator John Glenn about that so he was he was dialed in and he was interested in it and then in 1995 when Bob Bigelow created knids I mentioned it to Senator Reid that this was under way that Bigelow had put together this world-class science advisory board they were going to put millions of big Lowe's dollars into researching UFOs and related mysteries and he said hey maybe I can go sit in on some of these meetings and I asked Bigelow and he said yeah so he went in he was blown away he was not the only US senator at the table by the way Edgar Mitchell was there dr. Edgar Mitchell sixth man to walk on the moon he wasn't the only astronaut at the table it was an amazing group of people and they were there at risk to their own personal and professional reputations because they were interested in this they many of them didn't want their names known some of the names are known now but they were interested that used their time and money and trying to get to the bottom of this and it was it was just amazing and Reid was hooked he was hooked he also admitted in many articles about many trips to area 51 that he's been on the base however he kind of makes light of it saying but I never saw any little green men running around do you think he has actually been shown things that maybe he cannot release in public and that's why he is now from the outside of the Senate looking in pushing for more money to learn about this let me think of how to answer this I am confident that Senator Reid has not shared everything that he knows about this topic with the public and and as some of that is because of things he said on camera in interviews with me you know the last one we did we you know he had survived a real major health scare we got into some specifics about June 2009 he writes a letter to the Assistant Secretary of Defense and asked for the bass program for all SAP or its name had changed by that point to ATF to be made into a special access program special access program that wouldn't have to fight every year for its budget that would be able to access other materials and other programs that was how Reid put it in his words in the last interview we did what kinds of programs and materials he wouldn't get into specifics but we all can figure out what he means by that materials I had asked him in our

in the first interview right after the New York Times story came out hey do you know about exotic materials these meta materials that the New York Times reported on the and he denied it he said no I don't I don't know anything about that but he brushed it off pretty quickly so I returned to it then next time we sat down and we've had some private conversations since then there was a reason they wanted it to be a special access program it wasn't to hide what they had already learned it was to gain access to information that was secured in other programs that they had learned about and I hope that someday we can know about that

I suspect that Senator Reid knows a lot more and I suspect Robert Bigelow knows a lot more but getting into one of those guys to admit it it's gonna be tough

I look at Harry Reid much like Paul Hellyer up here in Canada Paul Hellyer when he served as defense minister right through 1967 that's when a lot of events happen up here you know you're familiar with Stefan Michalak you've talked to him on coast-to-coast recently as in the last couple of months with Chris Rock Kowski as well and when you look at that story or shag Harbor happen right at the tail end when Hellyer is going out but it took Hellyer three decades to finally come out and say aliens are real aliens and UFOs are here are we seeing this transition now that he is out of government from Harry Reid where he is going to be the top government official to ever come out and say boys and girls we need to take this a lot more seriously is this the beginning of that I don't know I hope so and I think Harry Reid wants that to happen but you know there might be even higher officials it'll come out eventually and and talk about it he's been careful you know waiting it was in the Senate he would always win his elections by slim margins and Nevada even though he was the most powerful member of Congress than Nevada ever sent to Washington Senate Majority Leader he was a guy who brought home the bacon for our state but you you know it's a were a purple state always have been and so his margins of victory were always small so he had to be careful he would help me in a very quiet way he helped Bigelow in a very quiet way but he did want to be out in front on the UFO issue although he was deeply interested in it and still is once he was out of office you know the the restraints were off he you know the we had a conversation when I found out that the New York Times was going to break the story in December 2017 about bass and also a pin this program that he had authorized I just kind of ticked off I talked to Senator Reid and Bob Bigelow and Tom DeLonge about it I said hey look I'm the guy who's been keeping this quiet for all these years and and honoring the promise I gave to you guys I want to break the story well they had talked to the New York Times The Times had told to the stars that if somebody else gets it that they would Nix the story they wouldn't do it so these those three all had to sort of gently tell me you know in a kind way hey you're not the New York Times and of course I knew that you know I knew it that it was if your interest is in furthering the research and getting the story out to the broadest possible audience that it had to come from the New York Times and I knew also that even though they would break the story that I knew more about the program than they did and I would still have plenty of things I could report so I agreed to back off they get to break the story two days later as part of the deal I get the interview senator read the first on-camera interview and for a long time the only camera on-camera interview did and and it made news all over the world and I think he got a kick out of it he told me he started getting calls from his colleagues in Congress many of them still in office they had no idea this was going on he's getting calls from military people who shared their sightings and and other people who wanted to know more he got calls from people who wanted to run for president some of whom are running for president who wanted to be educated and in fact I gave a briefing to one of those folks and gave him the lowdown on skinwalker ranch and and Harry Reid was unbound he was free to pursue his interest he didn't have to worry about another election and he is a invigorated and energized by the whole thing he's into it he wants to help so I think he has been behind the scenes and also helping in front cameras and given interviews and and talking about the legitimacy of the issues involved the national security implications he's a very important person and very important witness and his voices is very much needed to move the ball down the field on Twitter Bart Bui is asking is Harry Reid or Robert Bigelow involved with the to the stars Academy no no either one of them I think I think there have been attempts to get mr. Bigelow involved with to the stars but he's he's at least for the time being walked away from the topic I think he'll always have an interest in it in fact I know he does because we have conversations on an ongoing basis and he likes to keep up with what's happening in the field and and various breakthroughs if there are any and so he's interested in it but he's not part of TTS a you know he he had his own reasons for getting out of this he spent millions of dollars more than any single individual in the history of the world there were risks to his his family and his business and he had enough

I think his curiosity was satisfied he got into it in the beginning to find out what was going on I remember the first call I got from him was right after the Lazar story aired after the series it aired and I get a call from his secretary hold for Robert Bigelow I didn't know who Bigelow was I'd never heard of them I didn't know what businesses he was in we had a conversation hey you really like those stories is there any way I can help you they help me how I mean financially can I support this research I said I appreciate that but I work for klas know I can't accept your help and you know please stay in touch let me know if you got something going well I didn't had no idea that he would become such a major figure in the field I think the the most important figure in modern UFO history spent more money get more work got more done than than anyone and you know a lot of what was done has not been made public I hope it will I think it will but right now we don't know we got about two minutes left with you and I want to ask you in regards to Bob when he went on 60 minutes in May of 2017 and he told the reporter there pretty much point-blank you don't have to go to space to see UFOs and aliens they are already here were you surprised or as shocked as I was that that wasn't played up very much it would like nobody caught on to this man saying this and he's an important man in the space program in privatizing space travel as well as a UFO field I'm not surprised because that's the way the subject has been treated even someone of his stature who comes forward and says it people in my line of work brush it off what does he know well he knows you know as I said he's been on the inside for a long time he got that program up and running and and got an amazing amount of work done for the amount of money that was was dedicated to it whatever his curiosity was it has been satisfied and that's why he made that statement I wasn't surprised he made it and I wasn't surprised it didn't get more coverage I found it a little bit fickle and like I've told a lot of people on our show if you want to know what's happening with ufology you got to be following Robert Bigelow because that statement says the world we don't know what he knows we may never know what he knows but in your mind do you think he is trying to even though he's a very secretive man trying to keep a cover-up on what he knows about ufology

I think he's required to keep information confidential the content of the contract that he signed the agreement he made with the government requires him to do it he's not allowed to release the stuff so a lot of information that you're seeing coming from Las Vegas people assume that Bigelow is leaking it to me that is not the case mr. Bigelow doesn't leak anything we've had many off-the-record conversations that I'm not able to report but it's helped me understand even though I can't report what he knows it helps me understand the larger picture of who's biessing what claims are ridiculous and who's telling the truth because he's been there and he knows very interesting indeed mr. George Knapp I'm going to get you

- hold on here and we're gonna go to break at the bottom of the hour George Knapp is our guest tonight on spaced out radio of course he is the intrepid investigative journalist for klas TV channel 8 in Las Vegas Nevada

he is the journalistic face of UFOs of skinwalker ranch and of everything strange and weird we got him for another hour on this show so while you're listening the break head to our website space now radio calm go support this show by getting yourself some SOR swag we'll be back with more George Knapp on space

we passed the halfway point of spaced-out Radio tonight I am your host Dave Scott thanks for coming along

I remember a great way to support this show is to head over to our website space owl radio.com do a little shopping for yourself pick up some swag and you look darn good you really will send me a picture I want to see it tonight we are talking with George Knapp legendary reporter out of Las Vegas Nevada klas TV you can follow George Knapp on twitter at g-- underscore Knapp and of course we're talking to UFOs to the stars Academy mr. Knapp welcome back to the show hey Dave in regards to what we were talking about right before the break in regards to Robert Bigelow Harry Reid there's a lot of heavy topics that go around this entire subject but the to the stars

Academy when they came out in October of 2017 what was your first opinion of that when they held a press conference in Seattle on camera on social media and didn't have a single reporter standing in front of them in this in the stands for that stage they were standing on again not exactly a surprise given how people in my line of work have treated this topic over the years I think a lot of journalists who look back and regret not being there because primarily a blue elizondo's appearance I mean there's a guy who had been until a few days before working at the Pentagon ahead of this program studying UFOs and related mysteries and there he comes out of the shadows and into the light and announces hey I was ahead of this program and it's real and you know I've got a little bit of attention Leslie Kane wrote about it and I wrote about it and not much else it wasn't until a couple of months later that the New York Times uncorked this story that the whole world paid attention um if PTSA you know I you get the feeling that I know and you follow gee circles the TWiT follow gist and the pathologist's and the blog follow gist saul look for conspiracies here it's a giant government scheme to fool UFO researchers I guess millions of dollars years in the making all these people are involved including senator even Bob Bigelow and and dozens of scientists and investigators and all the time and money and effort that's gone into this basically to fool you follow just it looks just ridiculous

now T TSA has made mistakes along the way you get the sense it's almost like they're kind of winging it doing things by the seat of their pants they've done a lot of planning but no one is quite done has done quite what they've tried to do before and it's a daunting task and you know they're they're blazing trails that not even Robert Bigelow has done because it involves a media component that he was never involved with and and you know it's it's hard there are people that don't want this stuff to come out and there are people even in other countries that don't want our government to take it seriously don't want scientists and the media to take it seriously and there is a lot of pushback but nowhere is the pushback more obvious than within the UFO circles ufologists can't take yes for an answer there's a guy named Lou Elizondo who had an impeccable record could put his life on the line multiple times working in the most dangerous assignments as a intelligence and counterintelligence officer all over the world takes on this assignment didn't have to but takes it on knowing what the risks were to his reputation and his career path takes it on finds out that they in fact there is a legitimate concern here that's not being addressed does the honorable thing leaves office goes public which he hates to do and he gets nothing but grief for it whether T TSA does anything ever again if they closed up shop today they've done an amazing thing because they got the New York Times to run this story they did it you can talk about Tom DeLonge all day long nobody would dare share secrets with the rockstar well they did and you know I was in contact with Tom two or three times a week during that period leading up to when he created T TSA for the last seven or eight years we talk on a regular basis

I was listened as he planned the creation in this organization as he develop the pitch he was going to make to people in in military and in sensitive positions to try to get them to open up to offer them a way out I listened to it I helped contributed to it and we had these conversations so many times and and I listened as each step of the way as he worked his way up the chain and I know what he did and it was hard and you can say that nobody would dare share with information with him that it's all this information you're wrong and you know that New York Times story getting the New York Times to put that on the front page changed everything it was a major game changer because it made it respectable for other media to cover it and that's what they did it was gigantic flurry Dave you'll remember it yeah Washington Post does its NBC CBS CNN Fox Fox News is still hooked on the topic local newscasts did it it's suddenly respectable to at least approach the subject and it that makes it respectable for scientists to talk about it you did a story almost every day or at least every week about mainstream scientists who are saying you know we need to take a look at this stuff the idea of alien life ET life multi-dimensional parallel universes parallel realities those kinds of exotic topics that that you and I discuss all the time on the air that is a game changer and as I said even if they did nothing else they succeeded in moving the ball down the field and more importantly the things they've done behind the scenes that I think will become obvious pretty soon our more remarkable getting Congress involved getting them Department of Defense to take a fresh look at it regardless of what you hear from Pentagon spokespersons you know it's amazing to me ufologists or people who are followed this topic who are willing to take the word of Pentagon spokespersons at face value when you know the track record of of the Department of Defense and speaking about this topic it's it's hard to do it with straight face and yet people are so angry jealous feel left out because of what T TSA has done and is trying to do that they find the only way back into the story is to dump on it and that's what's happened but it's very understandable though Jorge considering many in the UFO community including longtime researchers are hesitant to support them or have a real distaste in their mouths about T TSA because they feel that that group hasn't done much to acknowledge or even utilize many in this community they're almost like their own pariahs do you believe that's more about feelings being hurt in the UFO field or is that a flaw of t TSA I you know I think they could make better use of the resources available but you can see how the community has responded from the beginning there aren't many people that said hey yeah I want to hear more from that Tom DeLonge guy he's really on to something the public did the public has responded and but the UFO community has been pretty negative across the board

you know I maybe it's a very human kind of reaction that they would circle the wagons and again I don't know that they have everything plotted out they're kind of going along seeing what works you know I think there have been some mistakes in terms of media appearances and it's caused them to draw back and to be more guarded but that's about to change you know I think that the TV show will make their case the the show is can air on the History

Channel is going to lay out the case that they've been putting together since there were they were formed in October of 2017 what I've been told about it is it's going to be pretty impressive you know we're all wait to see a guy I am NOT I don't work for t TSA and I don't have the same kind of access to them that I had before because they are reserved they're nervous about how the subject and the organization is treated they've they've rolled the dice they they have put everything on the line and but I think we're all going to see a lot of stuff a lot of information is going to come out soon I don't blame them for not trusting the UFO humidity you look at at what it's like such an exciting time so many things in motion so much action and energy and new people involved and ufology is arguing about little pinky stuff trying to trip him up trying to muddy the waters and cast aspersions and making it personal you look at a guy like Chris Mellon Mellon that family it's it's a you know it's well known in financial circles in American history a wealthy family he doesn't have to work he didn't have to work in public service but chose a career in public service working at the US Senate and then at the Department of Defense

you think he's pulling an investment scam of some sort that that's what got his lasting legacy is going to be he comes forward to do this because he thinks it's important same Ballou Elizondo as I said putting his life on the line Afghanistan and Cuba and and comes forward to do this you think he's doing this to fool ufologists this grand scheme the big low that Harry Reid are all involved in this multi-year multi-million dollar project to fool you follow gee it's ridiculous but that's the way it looks though considering they haven't been open people that I have talked to in the field have tried reaching out good people people you know people I know and even media outlets who are doing this in a professional way and they're being ignored and instead talking to people who know absolutely nothing or give no care to this topic and I think for a lot of people it's about their feelings getting hurt especially experiencers who want to know absolutely anything and everything about what is going on and how they can maybe be helped by to the stars and yet the group is silent well I can see I think you make a legitimate point and I think that will change I hope it'll change you know they've they've put everything sort of on the on the line here on the TV series they're looking for an audience beyond youth ology you fo people are not their audience there looking for a global audience the general public they want to make a breakthrough there get the public interested in it and thus get Congress and decision makers in government interested and make it more legitimate to give a foundation for moving forward or legitimizing research for pushing the ball down the field and I think everything for them is riding on the TV show because again it's it's a much bigger audience than you follow gee so they have heard some feelings they've got some fences to mend in in the immediate circles and I think they'll do that but you know they're they're not going to share the information that they've worked to get with a UFO newspaper or blog they want to put it out on their TV show and break the news themselves I understand that I understand it do you trust that the t TSA though has the public's best interest at heart well it's what got all of them involved in it I mean as I said Chris Mellon you know he doesn't need this Tom DeLonge had a really good life he's a rock star he's a multi-millionaire he had businesses he didn't have to do this he's passionate about the subject and I know the people have mixed feelings about him but you know I've seen his development on it clearly he has made mistakes he understands that but his heart in my mind is in the right place same with Elizondo he'll put off is a brilliant man who might someday when the Nobel Prize for Physics he's been involved in a lot of top-secret programs

he's been trusted by our government by intelligence and military agencies has had the highest clearances to do all kinds of stuff now in ufology only in ufology is that a black mark on his record that well he's you know he worked for the CIA he can't be trusted this guy has has put his life on the line his professional reputation on the line to pursue topics that most scientists don't want to come within a mile up and gets vilified for it you think he wants to pull a scam on the public or on ufology but that is at all in his thoughts or is he trying to get to the bottom of stuff the same as he's done for 3540 years I think it all comes out in the wash

I think when the public sees what they've they're going to unveil that a lot of these hurt feelings will go away and I also think that they'll open up I think once they they make their case and tell the broad strokes of what they have learned and what those programs discovered what witnesses have seen and maybe what video exists that we haven't seen I think it makes a lot of wounded feelings go away do they need to be more accountable to the public though accountable how accountable in regards to maybe maybe allowing themselves to seem more friendly rather than very businesslike and political well I would I have to agree with yeah I mean it would be nice to have them out doing more interviews and and telling the public what's coming again I think there's nobody in the group who is professional at unrolling at rolling out something like this because nobody's ever quite done it like this Bob Bigelow had knids and you know was of a very tightly controlled organization they put out papers and shared research on a lot of things but some things they did not he organised bass there was no public outreach the public didn't know the Probert program existed neither did most members of Congress or most people in the Pentagon there was no media component they weren't working on a TV show so what TTS a and Tom's a longer doing hasn't been done and you know there can be mistakes and there are going to be some hurt feelings and yeah I think they should have make themselves more accessible and I have made that argument to all of them as I said my expectation is that things will change once they lay out what they've learned and that happens starting in May are they in possession of any sort of alien technology not to my knowledge I know that they've analyzed the materials they pretty excited about the the results I don't know what the results show exactly how put off made a public presentation here in Las Vegas last June where he spoke openly about it for the first time and described some of the manufacturing processes that were used in these meta materials that is beyond anything that we know they don't even know why these things were made the way they were made organized atom by atom at the atomic level and you know I think he has a better understanding of why those materials were used blue Elizondo has made statements that he thinks that they now understand the physics of the tic-tac and gimbal craft that we're operating that the materials that they're talking about are important to the operation of those Kraft doesn't mean we can duplicate it and I don't think I have to see no indication that they have alien technology but they may have some materials that of unknown origin we got about four minutes left before we got to take a break at the top of the hour George Knapp is our guest tonight George in their first press conference to announce the to the Stars Academy Lewis Elizondo came out said he was part of the program until 2012 but we also know he worked on UFO FILES until 2017 when he joined TTS a five days later do we know which department paid him from 2012 to 2017 and is that department still tracking advanced aerial threats there is a program that's still underway what he said is true it did not end when he left you know you go back to project loop book when it ended we were told that's it we didn't find anything of interest to national security it's done and of course the Bolender memo says cases involving national security will continue to be handled the same way they have been now whether or not that is the program that is now known as 8f we know in fact that that program that we understand that collects military encounters information about military encounters has existed for a long time and it continues now I'm telling you flat out it's still going on no matter what that spokespersons have said it is still underway and and of course it would be Joe gimbal type craft a couple of dozen encounters with US Navy off the coast of Virginia and off the coast of Florida and you have these encounters in increasing numbers since 2015 you know of course that is going to be on the radar of the national security apparatus of course they got to be studying collecting information

Louella is on where the confusion comes from there were a couple of programs so there was a program that though that Elizondo took control of that existed for a long time and it's not really a program it was more of an assignment there's a network of people in different defense and intelligence agencies that when these cases would come in from say the US Navy or from CIA they would confer they'd share information they collect evidence what they could they'd interview some witnesses it goes into a file and it basically went nowhere there's no one that the higher echelon would pay attention to it

Lou Elizondo said when he took control took the reins of that program over that his immediate supervisor didn't know what he was doing it was the guy above him who would have made that assignment it was like an assignment I don't even think they had a budget the budget that was reported in the New York Times the 22 million dollars that was for a separate program that was created actually the seeds of it started in 2007 when a DIA official met with Robert Bigelow flew to skinwalker ranch had an experience went back to Washington went to go meet with Senator Reid told him about it and said we need to study this stuff because it's bigger than just nuts and bolts flying saucers and if we're ever going to figure out the mystery we need to expand it and need to look at other stuff related mysteries other phenomena that appear in the same areas where flying saucers and and other crafts are seen read enacted the program we got the money for it in 2008 the contract was awarded to Robert Bigelow bass his organization he hired dozens of people he modified buildings at his Bigelow Aerospace plant in Las Vegas and they went to work Bigelow is the guy who gets every dollars worth out of his employees and they did amazing stuff now the only hint that we've seen about the work that was done for those years of the austat program that is what it was called ah SAP separate from the program that Lou was involved in in the Pentagon the only thing we've seen are the lists of the 38 papers that were written that is the tip of the iceberg that's the public face of it these were cutting edge technology reviews looking into the future of aerospace and aviation forty years examining things like time warps and invisibility things that 10 years ago were really on the fringe that are less so now I think eventually all of those papers will come out but there was a lot more that was produced Lou interacted with ostap and with bass but he was not part of his program continued so there is some overlap in the two different programs and then in it's not exactly clear even to me when the name change but AUSA became a tip and you see that in the letter that I reread wrote to the secretary defense 2009 I don't know if it's reads mistake or who assigned it

Louella is not that the name change less than a year I interview off that's it so there's a lot of issues about biggest on the date yeah I'm going to shut you down right there we got 30 minutes left with George Knapp on spaced out radio right after this term hang out with spaced out radio where we own the night this is Carl you can follow dave on twitter at spaced out radio and during the show you know our website you know the password for tonight we're gonna cancel that part out we're gonna get right to it because we only have george knapp until the bottom of the hour we got to fit a lot of information in here for you mr. Knapp from klas TV thirty-eight years still impressive to say that welcome back to the show thanks Dave I guess I'll talk fast in this half-hour in regards right before the last break we were talking about Lou Elizondo and about a year ago you had Lou and Jan harsh an on from MUFON it was a great interview but I got to say I was one of the ones who was caught off guard and this kind of went all over the social media aspect when they were talking it kind of made it sound like it was old hat that the to the stars Academy and MUFON were working together now in the media world you usually get a press release or some type of acknowledgement on that and many times MUFON has denied things like this in the past like when Robert Bigelow had bought into them in the late make that about 10 12 years ago did you know that they were working together or what do you know about that relationship yeah I mean it had been clear

I mean Bigelow made the announcement on the radio that he had started a program he had an unnamed partner and I know that there wasn't there was a partnership with with MUFON that money was being offered that they were training people to go have boots on the ground and go investigate cases and exchange information actually it was a one-way exchange of information and I was aware of it and I you know and it didn't bother me I mean you know I'm in interested in the research being done and in finding out what's going on I'd like to know while I'm still on this planet what's going on so if someone is trying to move the ball down the field and and come up with some answers I'm in favor of it and I know some people have had reservations about MUFON working with organizations like bass or with T TSA well why they're both working in the same direction MUFON files are public it's not like they've got deep dark secrets in there that they're hiding from the government so yeah if that collaboration can work and can help get answers so be it

I think probably T TSA was looking for help and UFO field they were looking for allies and mostly what they were getting was hostility so it's not entirely surprising that MUFON would form some sort of a partnership and I think part of that was the partnership was so they can get Lou to speak at the conference which was a really big deal and a big draw and I don't know where it goes from here I'm also not surprised they didn't have a news release because I said a lot of this I think is seat-of-the-pants stuff they haven't done it before and it's not really thought out and planned out way in advance

maybe they've backed off a little bit and are planning more now in anticipation of the television series but back then I think they're kind of winging it you have mentioned a few times on this show that certain things have you know to use your term been they've been winging it how do they grab the ropes and pull them tight to make everything better for the community not only the UFO community but in the blend of the mainstream community as well because I think you know move fun with their I don't want to say that they have a checkered past but there's a lot of people who they feel burnt by that group even though there's very good people working in there I think of Tom Whitmore is one of them but there are a lot of people out there who don't want MUFON to be a part of that because they are an individual group they are a society they're nonprofit and here.t TSA is saying we're a company we want you to invest and there's a lot of people with that issue do you see where I'm going with that not exactly but I will say this I think TTS A's work will stand on its own and will we'll find out soon enough if they've got the goods or not you know they've made some promises and have told us assured the public me and the UFO public as well that there's some big stuff coming or we're about to see and whether MUFON is with them or not I don't think it's going to make a difference again they are not aiming for a UFO audience they don't really care what you ecology thinks they're aiming much higher for a much bigger audience a global audience they want to reach the general public and get beyond you followed you because in this field you know it's like an echo chamber the same people speak at conferences and they write articles and they recirculate in the field and the same people issue the same criticisms withering blistering attacks and sometimes personal stuff and it goes around and around at a circle and they want to get beyond that so you know I can see them wanting some friends and the UFO community but in the end what they end up doing is going to stand or fall based on what they produce and we're going to see soon enough you did answer that the way I was hoping you would so thank you and sorry for the type of question but moving on here in regards to the to the Stars Academy are all of them volunteers or is somebody paying the bills well I think I think tom has been paying the bills I don't even know if they've been able to use what the two million dollars or something that they've raised I think they've used some of that too for earth tech to analyze the materials I think they've done some I think Lew is probably a paid employee and then there are people who work at Tom's headquarters there that may be paid for it I I'm not privy to all the financials but I think Chris Mellon Jim serve an and and some of the others I don't think there's a salary involved there now so with that what about all of these SEC filings that have gone on is there any merit to that or have the numbers been fudged to make it look worse than what it actually is or maybe vice-versa

I think you know it's a little bit out of my area but has it been explained to me a couple of times that I know it's been portrayed as oh my gosh there are 38 million dollars or twenty eight million dollars in debt well it's just the does it's the fund raising it's the money that they raised it's the the bonds that they sold the stock shares that they sold that's the amount and and you don't lie to the SEC you don't file false reports with the SEC because that's a ticket to prison

so anyone who's quest whether they're filing accurate reports of sec as i think off off-base I can't explain their finances I'm not part of t TSA and I'm not financially minded but it's others who are aware of what's going on have told me about it I think it's important to be cautious about this stuff I wouldn't tell somebody to invest in it I put some money into it because at this stage I want to support somebody who's going to try to get some answers if I'm not going to do it now I figured when will I I have put that money into a trust and that whether it rises or Falls it's never going to go to into my bank account but I wanted to support it in some way because those guys as I said are rolling the dice and and I wish them well I hope they achieve success on this so for you press my way yes I did not invest in it as a as an investment to make money I didn't matter I didn't matter if I lost it I wanted to support what I hope was an honest investigation of these phenomena and trying to get an answer at these mysteries but this leads to a personal question because there are a lot of people out there and we know how rumors fly who are saying that you're benefiting from the tea si si and they're filling your back pocket in between that's not true

I work for klas TV I have no financial relationship with t TSA other than stock that I bought and put into a trust and it will never come to me I will never benefit from it I hope it does well I've designated a charity that's going to get that when I die and I hope it does well but I don't know and that's not why I invested it's not an investment to make money it was money that I put into it to hope they did well and and I made no secret about that but I have no financial relationship with them and I I love the Twitter follow gist who push that stuff out there I understand it I understand it why they would think that but it's not true well I think one of the things because there were hosts out there without mentioning any names there were hosts out there basically claiming that their listeners would be silly not to invest any money yet here you are claiming it and I've never heard you claim to your audience members that they need to go invest their money now in that is that the journal I was tired of you and that's every day that the journalists side but also financial sense I don't know enough about investments and markets and things of that sort for a public benefit corporation to provide any advice I wouldn't tell somebody to take their hard-earned money and invest it on something this is a you know this is a risky proposition they're going up against some powerful interests here who tried to keep this stuff secret for a very long time and it's a it's a tough field it's a competitive field I would never make a give advice about a financial investment never so in regards to what is coming with TTS a do you know only the broad strokes they seem very confident that they've got the goods we know that they've been doing some work analyzing materials meta materials and samples that have been collected from places around the world we know that they've been speaking to a lot of other witnesses military officials ex-service people who've had experiences I suspect and hope that they've been able to acquire video evidence that will will stifle the critics and go way beyond the complaints about grainy dis and blurry that and no one's going to be saying that there are birds or flares or anything of that sort that's what I hope I know when I first met Lou Elizondo he talked about obtaining the three videos in fact he showed it to me in two days after he was on stage there and in October of 2017 and and said that he had tried to acquire quite a bit more that he had filed the paperwork to start the process to get quite a bit more I don't know what happened to those information requests or forms after he left I suspect that some people were pretty upset by him coming out and and talking about this I know that there were people who were surprised because they a they didn't know he was working on that program and B they didn't know he was leaked so when he stepped on that stage there was a lot of blowback for him so you know we'll see what happens I know that they've been working really hard and they think they've got some really good stuff to share but I don't work for them I haven't seen the programs I don't know exactly what's coming well I was hoping for a scoop there and you just ruined my day well it can't blame you I can't blame you well I have to do that if I had a scoop you could see it on klas exactly exactly Gail is asking mr. Knapp can you specifically say who does not want this information out well there are people in the Pentagon who killed it you know they took the money away and killed the program that the AUSA study that was run by bass the 22 million dollars that was spent over three years Bigelow put millions more into his own of his own money into it to keep it but both to get it started and to keep it going but there were people who covered the money because they wanted it for their own programs that's one reason there were people in the Pentagon who objected to the nature of the study skinwalker ranch was one of the focuses of the study during the VAS era and they encountered some really strange phenomenon way outside that normal nuts and bolts flying saucer stuff that for a lot of people in the Pentagon itself was too far out so people there got nervous they were worried about two things one they were worried that it would end up being on the front page of the New York Times which it was and then there were others religious fundamentalists in the Pentagon who were worried that whatever we were studying it was demonic that it might be invoking the name of Satan that we might unleash demons into our world by engaging them at skinwalker ranch and other places now we can laugh at that and think it's a little bit superstitious but there was a really weird phenomena that was encountered by government agents a hard cases tough people who were had buried severe consequences because of what they encountered so you know the people of the Pentagon who wanted to kill it for that reason you might think that's a landish but they they saw this very legitimate and then you know just general people who don't take the topic seriously who was a bit exposed to the evidence that or exists it's been stove-piped and ridiculed for so many years inside the military that the number of people who understand the big picture is very small so they wanted it there was a lot of people who wanted it gone and a lot of people wanted the money spent on something else one final question in regards to the TTS a because I do want to get in the fact of what is happening in the field of ufology with you quickly and we only got about seven minutes left how much control does or do the secret clearances that many of these gentlemen on T TSA have affect what they do on a daily basis well I think they have to always be cognizant of it you know because they've signed agreements with penalty of law I mean they could if they violate it they have to be careful so you know Lou in particular you've seen him in interviews some with me and some with other people how careful he is in picking his words and he'll walk you right up to the edge of something but he doesn't move past it in the first interview I did with him was about a 10 now I knew that there was another program at the time but the a tip was sort of the general name that was used by the New York Times and that was used by in by T TSA and by him and the second interview I did with him I come out with a story about AUSA existing and the Bigelow Aerospace being a separate program so he said yeah I I knew somebody would get it eventually but I couldn't talk about it it wasn't my program somebody else's so he is cognizant of it there are people who probably wish him ill who are mad that he left mad that he spilled the secrets that he has and that he's helping an effort like this to spill even more so he's being very careful we move on here we got about six minutes and unfortunately there's just not enough time and I don't know really how to do that maybe one day in the future when you have time you'd like to come back on we definitely make room for you at any time but I want to ask you as what are the only true investigative journalists working in the paranormal / UFO realm how do you feel about a lot of people in this field without any journalistic experience self titling themselves as investigative journalists to promote their own agenda and name well it kind of bothers me I mean I was I had was into it 15 years before I in my television career and covering every kind of story you can imagine the mob and and pollution and scandals and political cover-ups and things of that sort before I became a member of the i-team yet to pay your dues to become an investigative reporter I don't sit and my keyboard and just crank out stuff that flies off the top of my head when I put a story on the air it I have partners I have responsibilities I have oversight I have my photographer and producer I have a managing editor I have a news director general manager and corporate people and I'm responsible for what I put on the air and I have to be able to prove that it's true and convince them that it should be on our on our airwaves people sit at home and crank out whatever they want a blog or a podcast or a twit or tweet and that they think that is journalism I am happy about the advent of citizen citizen journalism various social media platforms that have been used to expose wrongdoing and things that need to be focused but just because somebody can type doesn't make them a journalist and it sure as hell doesn't make them an investigative journalist all journalism is investigative at some level but we understand that there's a different meaning for this in common parlance and the people who take that title and claim it

I think demean its ultimate meaning do you think this affects the credibility of the field of ufology because I've been pretty hard on this I've written a couple of blogs on this stated it on many radio shows where I've been interviewed or where I've been doing the interviewing and it's something I'm very passionate about I can hear the passion in your voice about this too how does that affect the credibility if we have these these charlatans if you want to call them that stealing a title for their own agenda well I don't know how you can hurt the credibility anymore or how it can go any lower I mean just the idea of youth ologist you know as I said earlier in our conversation there are no standards for it there are no qualifications no degrees that are awarded no no tests you have to take you just declare yourself one and you're one so you know for most people in my profession the whole topic is ridiculous they see crazy people wearing crazy shirts talking about crazy things and they're abducted by this and or is that and they don't want anything to do with it because it's hard and there's a learning curve here and it's hard to get through all the nonsense that surrounds it to get down to the brass tacks to get down to the facts that matter so it's it's a lot easier just to wipe it off so the overall reputation the apology is pretty bad anyway but I would say I've never seen anything quite like what's underway right now the viciousness and the personal attacks and it's really petty kind of stuff people who presumably want answers and want clarity on this topic going out of their way to muddy the waters to make things confusing to take bits and pieces that they find on on Facebook or something and put it together in some giant narrative to prove what what is the ultimate conspiracy that all these people for all these years important people and important positions has spent their time and millions of dollars some of it their own money to fool ufology that doesn't take a whole heck of a lot of work so you know I I am amazed every day by the vitriol that I see in the field and you know what I think is changing a little bit in that there's a new generation that's come into this new people since the New York Times story came out who have been attracted by the topic and are realizing hey there's something really going on here and I will learn about it and they're just bypassing apologists they're just bypassing because they can recognize what nonsense is spewed and the petty vindictive jealousy stuff that spurts out every single day we have about one minute left with you tonight and from all of us in space to already Al and all of our listeners myself included I want to give you a big thank you for taking some very precious time out of your day and week to spend it with us and to break down everything that you have tonight and I hope we did use some justice as well in in giving you these the floor in a professional manner with that being said where could people find you where can they get a hold of you how can they find you on social media my email is Jean app at Las Vegas nail calm I have a Facebook presence I'm not there all the time I check in on Twitter when I can I'm not I'm always lurking around I'm not always engaging with people because I find I get sucked into conversations I didn't want to be in and they become time-consuming tea nap at Las Vegas nail calm I get a lot of emails but I work my way through them at one time or another if people want to write to me or contact me wonderful mr. George Knapp thank you so much for being on spaced-out radio tonight an absolute pleasure to finally get an opportunity to chat with you and I'm telling you right now as per show history you got some of the best hair and beard going on television right now I am gonna say that that's why I gotta end it right there George Knapp everybody from coast to coast am on the weekends the news is always changing which is why we bring you the SOR news wired the back end of every show brought to you by paranoia magazine put together by Captain shirk on our website spaced-out radio.com first before we get to the news I got to say a big thank you once again to George Knapp for coming on the show and hopefully we did enough to impress him he said he would come back on again once there's more news I said any time he wants to come back on that would be fantastic so hopefully that would to happen again just an honor I'm a little worn out over that I'm not gonna lie I'm a little worn out but in a good way in a good way that's a good tired to have but nonetheless let's get to the news now we all know that sometimes the President of the United States makes some interesting claims if we want to keep it politically correct but there's a new claim that he's making that just makes people scratch their hand a little bit yes Donald Trump's saying that the noise from industrial wind turbines causes cancer in one of his remarks at the National Republican Congressional Committee spring fundraising dinner in Washington DC the president said if you have a windmill anywhere near your house congratulations your house just went down 75 percent in value and they say the noise causes cancer

you tell me

Jai riding his arm in the air imitating a winning noise or winding noise interesting now studies have shown and they have been mixed that when it comes to the impact of wind farms on real estate values some find negative impact and some go up to about 40 percent or that's about it there are no studies out there conclusively saying that the noise of industrial wind turbines actually does cause cancer or any other negative health in packs particularly from the noise exposure to wind turbines does seem to increase the risk of annoyance and self-reported sleep disturbance according to one review in 2014 but the health risks according to critics and people in the nose say no not really but who knows who knows just wait is he's getting lit up on Twitter for that don't think he cares but nonetheless it's just the way it is let's get over to NASA for a second because this is a little bit of an interesting story NASA plans on sending some robotic bees up to the space station that's gonna happen later this month a project the Space Agency is positioning is one of the most advanced space collaborations between humans and robots Astro B as it's being called is a little robot that will soon be flying around the International Space Station alongside the astronauts according to nasa's page about the bees which says it will help scientists and engineers develop and test technologies for use in zero-gravity and help the astronauts doing their routine chores according to a spec sheet that was created the astro bees which look like a weighted companion cube they don't actually look like a bee they look more like a little GoPro well they have a little small robotic arm for crimping and a variety of sensors and lasers and input devices to allow it to interact with astronauts and the ISS environment the Robo bees will also have a job to do in regards to telepresence NASA employees back in Houston will be able to jack into the floating BOTS from the ground according to the Space Agency giving them eyes and ears aboard the ISS see we're not the only ones who are being spied upon now the three or four astronauts that are up there cruising at about 320 miles high are going to spied on more as well they can't get away with anything nothing kind of weird kind of strange I don't know I don't like this story I'm gonna just come out and say it I don't like it all right because there's just so much wrong with this but if you heard the story that came out of Illinois all right there was this so-called teenager claiming to be Timothy Pizza now he's a little Illinois boy that went missing in 2011 at the age of six his parents have never found him weird weird case well this 23 year old man claimed to be Timothy Pizza the problem is he's an ex-convict from Medina Ohio named Brian Michael Raney according to it the FBI and police in Newport Kentucky DNA test proved that he wasn't the missing boy who vanished FBI spokesperson Timothy beam said in a statement law enforcement has not and will not forget Timothy and we hope to one day reunite him with his family unfortunately that day will not be today a heavily bruised Rainey approached a driver in Newport Kentucky just yesterday saying he had escaped two men with bodybuilder type physiques who held him captive for seven years in southwestern Ohio he claimed he fled a Red Roof Inn where he was being held and across a bridge into Newport when the cops asked him how old he was he claimed to be 14 and gave them Pitts ins date of birth Pitts Tsin was just six at the time when his mother Amy fry Pitts and pulled him out of a kindergarten class in Aurora Illinois early and took him to a zoo and a Wisconsin water park days later she was found dead in a hotel room with her wrists slit in an apparent suicide and the boy was gone the mother left a cryptic note saying her son safe with people who would care for him and you will never find him over the years police have received thousands of tips including false Timothy sightings but this latest one a real kick to the teeth for the Pitts and family they were hoping to be cautiously optimistic but they leave heartbroken according to the boy's aunt Kara Jacobs she says it's devastating it's like reliving that day all over again and Timothy's father is once again devastated his grandmother

Alana Anderson says it's awful we have been on tenterhooks hoping and frightful and it's exhausting horrible story I don't know why anybody would do that the attention is just not worth it brave mother speaking of mothers here in British Columbia where a mom on Vancouver Island literally saved her seven-year-old son who was being mauled by a cougar now Kevin Bromley said his son Zach was playing in the family's backyard of Lake Couchiching on Friday when a cougar left towards him bounced off a metal fence before clawing its way through a barrier you can still see the claw marks

Zach tried to run away but the Cougar pounced and he was lucky it was a small animal and Zach was wearing a hoodie because it protected his neck because Cougars always attack from behind that's when Chelsea Bromley the mother and the wife heard what was going on ran outside to see what was going on see her kid at the bottom with this cougar trying to take their boy away and she jumped onto the animal started fighting it to release her son's left arm from the Cougars mouth zach is in recovery with gashes to his head his neck and his arm they've all been stitched up he's expected to make a full healthy recovery but they're not sure now how the mental recovery will go because this is pretty traumatic he's a pretty happy go lucky kid according to the story but this near-death experience it doesn't leave your mind you know he's going to be having nightmares so family has sent the young boy to his Grandma and Grandpa's where he could get a bunch of love and some probably some good home cooking because that's everybody knows that a grandma can only cook one way and that's usually pretty awesome well that's just the way it is now conservation officers secured the attack site and found two juvenile Cougars about 20 meters away both cats were euthanized and investigators are now testing their DNA to confirm one of them was responsible for the attack you know I live in a cougar area I've had Cougars in my backyard literally I've gone outside to look at the stars during a break of this show walk into my carport only to be growled at by a cougar like 40 feet away they're here they're big cats but usually they don't attack people it's usually the immature ones or the sick ones and if they are starving that will do it if you come in contact with a cougar you always face it keep eye contact with it back away slowly make yourself look big if the Cougar approaches you you want to be aggressive with them let them know you're not prey so go at them you know tell them how you're gonna scare them but with showing them a picture of your former mother-in-law or something that's just the way it works now final story of the night we head to our favorite state of Florida now authorities say a Florida woman with her two-year-old son stopped a carjacking by threatening to throw a soup can at the would-be thief no word if it was Starkist tuna campbell soup or canis no idea the Daytona Beach News Journal all over this story said the reported attempted theft happened on Tuesday police say the man tried to steal the woman's SUV after crashing a stolen car nearby that's when the woman grabbed oh I'm sorry here it is the woman grabbed a can of Progresso soup and yelled at the man said stay away otherwise I'm gonna soup you to death well terrified that he was threatened with a can of soup the man ran off police are still searching for him and the woman well she went home to make a hearty dinner every night at this time where we post a question on our Facebook and Twitter pages and then read your responses on the air because we love the audience participation around here today's thought of the Dave is as follows and trust me I tried to get these in I really did try to get these in but today's thought of the day if you could sit with George now what would you want to ask him we had some really good questions Frank came up with George you said it in AMA that either a tip or a SAP investigated the Stephenville case can you provide more details why is t TSA only talking specifically about one case that happened before a tip was formed heavy going for it right there Frank Matthew has anything ever been sensational eyes what is george knapp most proud of what does mr. Knapp wish he could continue to study and explore well I think we learned tonight that he's a he's one of us he's like a UFO nut just can't say that publicly on the air we can hear though Heidi in the UK says she would ask mr. now does he have anything that has ever been told to him that he is unable to divulge or that he feels would change the course of human history if it was divulged oh I think we found that up tonight that he's holding on to some pretty serious goods pretty serious goods but the professionalism that he has he will not release it Catherine what is the most indisputable mind-altering information you know something that proves beyond a doubt the stories you've been told I think with a guy like George Knapp we learned a lot tonight in this interview and I think we learned that he does a lot of studying

he doesn't care how long it takes to get the story but in that true investigative journalist way not the fake type that certain people use in this community that there is no timelines it's about getting the story right rather than getting the information out there just because you can that's old-school thinking right there Marty believe it or not George and I would be so busy talking about the upcoming Raiders NFL Draft options we wouldn't get to any other subject before the time was up hmm and here I thought you would talk about your Vegas Golden Knights heading into the playoffs again I don't think that's ever happened in a long time in the NHL where an expansion team makes the playoffs in their first two seasons I'd have to look that one up me being a hockey geek I think I should know that but I don't Kevin yeah I'm not in that one uncle Dale and his power stash what have we learned and what should we be learning from art Bell good question because George Knapp and art Bell were very very good friends very good friends they went back 30 years

Media members are tight for the most part they all know who each other are they all know their their little quirks they all know the ego is they know everything but the one thing they will do is go for a drink with each other

Gabe can you tell me something that happened at the skinwalker ranch that you've never told anyone yeah I apologize about that I tried to get into the skinwalker ranch but we were so heavily invested into the to the stars Academy tonight and other topics with George Knapp that I literally had to edit out the entire skinwalker ranch ranch questions that I had the next time we get him on if we're fortunate enough to do that I will get into skinwalker ranch because there's some important questions that need to be asked there Robin wants to know if George has ever been to a Tim Hortons I don't know that's a good question though I'd share a nice camp with him Kelly I would ask George if Bob Lazar is just a guy who is covering for the real person who all of this happened to also if that real person is the possible source wow there's a lot of tin foil on that Kelly's weren't in foil and his beard with that one it's got a good beard

Andrew it's the last word if I can ask George Knapp a question I would ask him what do you think about the UFOs paranormal activity and Bigfoot Dogman all have in common at the same exact place and/or time of events occurring all over the United States Canada two men and the UK Australia it's happening everywhere but that's a darn good question we want to say a big thank you to captain shirk for keeping us all up to date on the SOR news wire which could be found at spaced-out radio.com by clicking on the news tab all of our news is brought to you by paranoia magazine we also want to say a big thank you to mr. George Knapp from klas TV channel 8 in Las Vegas for coming on in two and a half hours of great radio tonight this is one you're gonna want to find in our archives at youtube-dot-com forward-slash spaced-out radio heck even I'm gonna listen to this one again I have to I know I missed something and you should too make sure you hit that subscribe button tomorrow night on the show oh yes I know all of you will be excited for this especially the Twitter crap we're gonna hit peak woo and we're gonna hit it very very quick because our keith andrews is back with the e t-- connection you have an e t-- question just coming to our chat room on

Spreaker join the SOR space travelers club on facebook revolution radio or hit us up on twitter and hashtag spaced out radio we will get to your question we're trying to put it in capital letters for me so I can read it properly

9:06 specific 1206 a.m. Eastern at spaced out radio.com we got mr. ron bumblefoot Thal rockin in the background with little brother is watching bumblefoot is the official music of spaced out radio rockin us in and out of every single show get your horns up for the guitar god himself once again a special thank you to everyone listening in at home in your cars at work in our chat rooms wherever you may be please remember this show E is copyright by spaced-out radio and SOR media ventures limited thank you so much for telling your friends doing your part to make bigger and better every single night because together my friends let me hear you say it we own the night I will talk to you in 21 hours from now we're gonna head into the weekend with one more show mr. bumble foot we need a favor we need you to take us home have a good one everybody I will talk to you tomorrow night thanks for being here appreciate good night the office of the University of California Berkeley was the to go Area 51 the citizen hearing on disclosure Washington DC Awards welcome to thank you thanks I we're thrilled to be here my wife Anna say hi Anna hello um I don't know if you heard this story but our our uh our luggage has become a UFO we know we know our suitcases were objects we know they were flying at some point and we know their uh their their whereabouts are unknown at this time so we went out and got got some clothes I promise I we did take showers and we did brush our teeth so we're not dangerous anymore um I I know the a couple of things about Denmark didn't know a whole lot but I knew a couple of things that the the most important uh people to know were the Berg family ybg and carlberg and and maybe their their cousin the two Bergs um but actually the the one thing I did not know about Denmark previously that I have learned in the 24 hours we've been here is uh about the most powerful the most intimidating force in the city of Copenhagen and that is uh I mean more fearsome than the CIA more fearsome uh than the Men in Black and that's the bicycle Mafia uh be afraid be very afraid you know cuz these guys they're they all seem perpetually angry and they will run you down and not look back I'm hoping we escape unscathed here I thought uh today we would have some fun and uh and I would share with you sort of my journey uh along uh chasing this UFO mystery Bob Lazar Area 51 in particular some of the stories and Adventures that adventures in saucer land I guess you could call it how I got sucked into this topic and why I become hooked on it permanently and some of the interesting people and and uh Adventures we've had along the way and share with you my perspective not only as a as a man who's interested in this topic but also as a reporter as a journalist because I find myself increasingly at odds with the other people in my profession I I think the segue from what we heard from Robbie uh is seamless in that uh a lot of what we know about uh Area 51 and UFOs comes from Hollywood instead of from journalists people who are in my profession the people who should be telling this story are news people around the world us and here but they aren't they aren't doing it and uh why they aren't doing it is something that we'll explore today U so let's get right to it the the story that we're here to review today is sort of traveled all over the world many times and I know in some ways that it sounds Preposterous on its face uh the idea that some slightly off kilter nerdish guy in glasses could be hired into a classified program even though his educational credentials are practically non-existent his work history is sketchy at best he's been discredited and dismissed by people he worked with and for there is no way that this guy should ever be allowed access to Top Secret materials or to classified files no way let alone that he would be able to blow the whistle on some of the deepest darkest secrets of all time and yet if we press number one I think you will recognize this guy's face Snowden you thought I was talking about Bob Lazar right we know that Edward Snowden really did work for the CIA and the NSA even though he had no college degrees even though he dropped out of high school he dropped out of the military he was working as a security guard right before he was hired by the CIA and then later the NSA private contractors for the NSA he was able to access the most sensitive information in the US government which he subsequently and promptly leaked it's run number two uh I am here to talk about another slightly nerdish whistleblower a guy named Bob Lazar is it fair to compare Bob Lazar and Edward Snowden I think it is and I'll take you through this Twisted Tail step by step and you can tell me if this comparison is valid or not both of these guys worked on classified projects for spooky agencies both presumably were not qualified to be in their positions and so a lot of people have doubts about them as a result their personal lives were spotty their educational credentials were questionable both were very bright guys whose lack of former credentials was not an impediment to getting work in places that seemingly should be off limits to them uh I think Bob Lazar Story the one you're about to hear demonstrate that those three-letter agencies that we talk about in UFO Gatherings like this will hire anyone if it means there's a better chance of getting the job done uh it's the same reason that the CIA came to my hometown Las Vegas to hire Mafia guys to help kill Fidel Castro because those are the guys who could get the job done that really happened it's why deals were cut with the CIA and the DEA and various drug cartels over the years or why we had on the government payroll the US government payroll these scumbag dictators like Manuel Noriega or Saddam Hussein it's why journalists and entertainers have been recruited over the decades I mean these agencies do what they need to do to get the job done they will make a deal with the devil if that's what it takes and I think that relates directly to the story of Bob Lazar that we're going to hear it's now 25 years since I got sucked into this world of Area 51 and flying saucers and Bob Lazar uh November next month will mark the 25th anniversary of when we went public with Bob's identity and uh I'll tell you some stories as we go along but right up until the minute when I revealed his name and showed his face for the first time Bob was grabbing the videotape I mean 10 minutes before he went on the air um trying to grab that tape K he had changed his mind he is the most as you will hear he's if he's the UFO Messiah he's the most reluctant Messiah you're ever going to hear about um I had no idea of course when I started this thing that 25 years later the story would still be going that people would still be asking questions about it that it would travel all over the world many times over you know was pretty sure at the time it was going to change Bob's life there was no question about that um and I guessed it would probably cause at least some kind of fleeting interest in the time in the base itself in Area 51 the one that with no name the one with many names but I had no idea that this was going to change my life so dramatically as well and it has I mean I'm here I'm speaking to an audience in Copenhagen about Area 51 uh and it's a long way from home it's just an amazing little journey uh since the theme of this Gathering is sort of about UFOs and the media I thought I would uh explore with you how this story has spread uh how it became sort of a Transcendent meme uh the way in which this story has spread I think by itself that mechanism would be of interest to those three-letter agencies intelligence agencies and in how this thing goes around the planet and also to sociologists you know certainly to academics who study media information Theory it has been uh kind of astonishing at least from my end and I've had a pretty good seat uh I started as a journalist in Las Vegas um back in 1991 excuse me 81 and I work mostly in television but I've also done print and this as I mentioned in the introduction I do some radio here and there and over the years I think I probably covered just about every kind of news story you could imagine in Las Vegas what you would expect a Las Vegas reporter to cover organized crime political corruption sex scandals uh celebrity uh goofballs environmental catastrophes drought the Foreclosure crisis drug dealers Gun Runners murders bikers fires stickups pot dealers crack pedlers scams ripoffs scumbags Bon heads and Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid I covered it all along the way and some of those stories I've broken have been pretty good some of them not so good and in my hometown at least I'm considered a pretty good reporter or at least I was all that kind of change changed to 1989 when I became the UFO guy I'm sure this is true for most of you who are here in this room because in your family in your circles you're the UFO guy or gal right uh if there's a UFO sighting in in Norway or something and it makes it into the paper people in your family crazy Uncle Bob or something comes and asks you about what you think about the UFO story we're all the UFO people see you're going to be able to relate to some of the things I'm going to tell you about here um I am the area 51 guy I'm the UFO guy in my community it's as if it's tattooed on my butt I'm sure it'll be mentioned when I die that's going to be right there in the obituary uh in describing what I did in my life is that I was the UFO guy in Area 51 I mean not a day goes by when I don't get emails from uh Ecuador or Iceland or somewhere in between uh about a UFO sighting or a flying saucer event everywhere I go in Las Vegas and my wife can tell you about this we get stopped and people want to talk about UFOs where sitting and having dinner people will come up and slide into the booth and they want to tell me their story and um you know that that's okay to some extent and I understand it and they want to ask the same question uh what do I really think about UFOs well the reality is they don't want my opinion about UFOs they want to tell me their UFO story because they everybody's got one so it's at restaurants I'm in a grocery store uh in a bar standing in a urinal in a men's room um people want to tell me about the UFO stories that's a real thing hey you really believe that stuff um and I'm okay with that but for some reason it drives my colleagues in journalism crazy uh it just drives them nuts they don't know how to handle it the general public seems deeply interested in this subject and every time we do a UFO story or some kind of series on television the ratings Spike they go up it indicates the public is hungry for Reliable information on this topic and yet other journalists who presumably should be uh you know servicing the needs and the interests of the of the public don't want to touch it and it's just really strange I mean it's a great subject potentially the biggest story in the history of the planet and even if it weren't true even if this was some kind of a mass hallucination long term it would still be a huge story plus from my perspective as a journalist it's a hell of a lot of fun to chase this around I get to come to Copenhagen for example I mean uh but to my colleagues the folks in this room all of us myself included are youf UFO Buffs UFO Believers UFO crazies I mean it's subtle terms like that that they use in their stories UFO Buffs and Believers it's to tools that are used by journalists to sort of put UFO folks in their place uh you know those who don't believe the subject matter is legitimate they're called uh Skeptics or scientists but though the rest of us are Buffs and Believers I never thought of myself as a buff or believer I'm not the UFO reporter I'm a journalist I'm a reporter who happens to be interested in UFOs and there there's a distinct difference there I think it's a legitimate news story and as I said this has driven my colleagues in journalism really crazy um 1989 as I said is the year that I officially went nuts uh because that's when we broke the story about Bob Lazar and Area 51 and and uh when I had broken those other stories I mentioned you know I'm just a reporter when I talk about UFOs in Area 51 I'm crazy I'm a fruit cake at least in the eyes of my colleagues I can't tell you many times I have been pillared by radio disc jockeys in the morning when they run out of belch barf and fart jokes or something they'll take a shot at me uh my friends at Nevada's largest newspaper the review journal have had a lot of fun at my expense over the years um that one of the first they've done a series of editorial cartoons that I have on my wall at home by the way one of them showed me with a butterfly net uh chasing a flying saucer that was the first one there was one that had uh it was called the marshmallow head Chronicles and it was two extraterrestrial Hitmen had come to Earth and they had their ray guns here they were coming to kill me cuz I'd spilled these UFO Secrets but they're standing looking at a at two G gasoline pumps and the one guy says the other of course they are earthmen but which one is George knap um I think they're making fun of maybe my Stout figure or something like that I had done a series of reports about alleged alien abductions and you know the medical procedures that come along with that that the abductees talk about and the uh the review journal had a column they called it the headline was they were kidnapped by extraterrestrials and they they talked about the medical procedures and they dubbed me a grand Mulla in the Church of cosmic proctology which U I thought that was funny uh the newspaper critic he was writing a story about how people were rushing at home at night to see my stories about UFOs the second series that we ever did he said that they were rushing home not because they care about flying saucers but because they wanted to be there quote when George finally goes bull Goose Looney and does the big crackup on the screen his eyes Going Buggy and rolling free in their socket sockets will he Crash and Burn before our very eyes that was in our newspaper funny stuff I figure it comes with a territory I'm a I'm a public figure I'm not thin skinned about it I'm okay with it because I know the Public's okay with it I don't write stories for them to be read by other journalists I write them for the public to read and this is a subject that the public is interested in the part that bothers me and since we are talking about UFOs and media the part that bothers me is that reporters and columnists other journalists are so willing to write this story off to dismiss it to make fun of it to poke fun at you and me and anybody else who's interested in it without doing any of the work they do the Wise Cracks because it's easy and they don't do the work uh they've certainly never spent hundreds of hours sitting out there in the dark and the dust of the desert around area 51 waiting for something to happen trying to dodge these security patrols and coyotes and dust devils things of that sort trying to keep from getting arrested or busted by the helicopter are out there they haven't read the books they haven't read the documents they had haven't interviewed the witnesses none of the stuff that you would do in any other kind of story that's your job is to do that kind of stuff before you make a judgment about a particular topic or The credibility of a witness or something like that and I'm sure many of you feel the same way I don't know what the coverage is like here in Mark Pia was telling me you don't get a whole lot of serious media coverage but maybe that can change they see all of us in this room as nuts and and while I think that is terribly unfair and inaccurate in a general sense the fact is and you know it as well as I do that this subject does attract a lot of people whose elevator doesn't go all the way to the top floor you know um for the past couple of weeks I've been getting emails from this lady in California who uh wants me to contact the former director of the CIA Admiral James Woy she wants him to stop harassing her via electronic mind control uh she's Woolsey she says has been forcing her to have sex with a large contingent of Asian men who she doesn't know so she's been banging these Asian guys and she's blaming the CIA guy and wants me to see if I can get him to stop it I'm not sure I can help her out when I first got started in this did the first series on the UFO stuff in Area 51 I get contacted by this lady she's calling me up every day got to talk to me got to see me in person can't discuss this uh on the phone she had to see me I fine I finally relented she shows up at the station she's wearing the skimpiest possible halter top and holding this kid who it turns out of course is an alien hybrid baby and within the first five minutes I met this lady I knew details about her sex life that I didn't want to hear because she said it was while she was engaged in a certain sex act with her boyfriend out on their front porch that she looked up and saw her first flying saucer and she told me this and I'm not making up one word of this uh she told me this elaborate story about how they had beamed her up on the ship she'd been up there a couple of times and the first time she was up there uh she was in a lineup with other Earth women and they looked looked her over and they told her you know in our they had her them in bathing suits like a Miss America Pageant or something and they told her in their alien opinion that she didn't needed to get breast implants and again I'm not making this up and that was the one heard of the story I could really believe because there was ample physical evidence staring me in the face right there um I get these letters from A 75-year-old woman in Northern California she says she has these sexual romps with aliens every time her husband leaves for town they live on a ranch every time he leaves the aliens come and have their way with her and uh she even drew me an anatomically correct picture of what alien genitalia looked like now you want to you want to open up that on a on an empty stomach in the morning it's not something that I I have been pestered by a millionaire transsexual abductee by a guy who says he's the twin brother of Jesus Christ who says aliens are coming and they're really mad uh I had a guy fly from Australia one time used he said he used the last money he had in his bank account to fly to see me and to see if I would go to Area 51 and use my contacts out there to tell the aliens to stop abducting him now that's a sad that's a sad story it's funny but it's sad at the same time cuz that guy really thought he was being abducted and he thought I could possibly help him talk to some aliens out of Area 51 uh I had this guy who contacted me and I don't know how I got sucked into going to his house but he convinced me that he had worked for the military he had some UFO information he says I communicate with the aliens on a regular basis and he showed me the device and it was it we went out into his backyard and it was a a bird bath with an old Record Rack on top and a head light from a car that was just sitting there like was not connected anything that this guy said that was his device for communicating with aliens I get U letters from alleged aliens that tell me they're watching me I get them sending me poems and songs I've had a sort of death threats over the years from people who say that they say that they're the government and they're going to get me they say I'm the government uh they think I'm an agent I mean been around the block on this uh I went on The Montel Williams TV talk show one time it just somebody just sent us a copy of it and there was a people on there wasn't just abductees they were abductees who' been aliens in a previous lifetime and I'm supposed to follow that um you know so it it let's roll some video the next one the area 51 video it kind of comes with the territory so um for major media you know that's all they see is people like that they never get beyond the obvious they never start to look at uh Area 51 legitimacy you can turn the video down I mean the audio down the legitimacy of whether there's a real story there or not um so I I think it's really their loss because they're missing the boat this is a story that got out anyway Area 51 as mentioned it's known all over the world now it's created an oxymoron of sorts of the highest order the world's best known secret base how can you be so welln and Secret at the same time it's kind of odd it's a place that is famous for being secret uh and for decades for decades the government has pretended it wasn't there it's their own fault Area 51 you know this uh most classified military technology in America's Arsenal has been tested out there it's a place where constitutional protections legal protections do not apply it's a place where environmental laws in our country are Exempted it's where you can be shot just for walking into the place Area 51 also known as the Box the ranch the water toown strip and Dreamland it's the base that began in 1955 uh it's the place where the U2 that's the the camo dudes that sit up on the on the on the uh Hill if you try to walk up to Area 51 they're the ones that are come and grab you uh and they have cameras all over the security is really oppressive uh they if you get too close they'll fly helicopters Jets all kinds of things at you they have um they have motion detectors 125 Mi away from the base out on public land that will let them know if your car drives down that road they know you're coming so they can get ready they have all kinds of sophisticated technology uh to to tell them when somebody is trying to get in I about all kinds of people offer to hey let's sneak in there and I tell that's a really bad idea well look let's get a whole bunch of winnebagos and we'll go driving across the border and they can't stop all of us yes yes they can and uh so i' I've tried to talk them out of that stuff um you know Area 51 even without Bob Lazar is a pretty interesting place the U2 the SR71 stealth technology all manner of CIA monkey business has been taking place out there over the years it's a fascinating place but the history of Area 51 and the history of my my own personal history all changed a day and it was 1987 two years before Bob Lazar a guy named John Lear walked into the TV station and told me a story and Lear had a certain amount of credibility at KES his father of course had invented the Lear jet John had run for the state senate he was an excia employee who had flown basically every aircraft in the world and he had helped us break a really big story my boss was a guy named Ned day who is a a McKing crusading journalist in in Nevada he's dead now but at the time he had broken this story it was a huge story about the existence of the stealth fighter John leer would go out the area 51 look around take photos like these and he knew that something like a stealth fighter was flying around out there so he and his buddy Jim Goodall told Ned day Ned day breaks the story it goes National it goes International about the existence of this strange technology out there Ned gets pulled in by the FBI they hauled him in and put a bright light it was like right out of the movie scene how dare you endanger National Security don't you know that puts everyone in the country at risk and the Russians are going to find out all this stuff he was really worried that he was going to go to prison for a while and of course his ultimate answer to them was look you may have thought you had a secret out there with this technology but if I as a reporter can find it out then certainly the Russians can find it out so I did you a favor anyway John leer gave us that information about stealth technology so he had credibility with us he walked into the station with a big stack of UFO documents and dropped them on Ned's desk and Ned said look I'm not interested in this I can't do this story if it was true that there's UFOs or flying saucers at Area 51 I'd already know about it so it can't be true uh so he gave John the brush off I was eavesdropping as a good reporters tend to do and I said hey let me take a look at that stuff so I started reading his pile of UFO documents it included the mj12 papers and some other things citing reports from oh these are some of the spy planes that have been tested out at Area 51 this video had been classified for a long time but they finally released it decades later um anyway so I started reading John's stuff and um I thought well that's kind of interesting and at the time I produced a show called on the record it's a little public affairs program it airs at 6:00 in the morning nobody watches it normally it'd be a show that you'd have somebody that's the a12 which was also developed out there and that's footage from Area 51 um anyway so we have John leer uh on on the record this show that I did that nobody normally watches and the phone starts rigging off the hook and so I had him on a second time and I got an even bigger response from the public and I thought hey this is kind of interesting maybe I'm going to have to look into this UFO topic so I started reading it everything I could get my hands on and I figured this is how cock I was at the time uh I figured well what the heck you know what this topic needs is a good reporter give me 6 months I'll have this baby all figured out you know I'll have this mystery solved and here it is 27 years later and I still have no idea what's going on um so that's how I sort of got sucked into it John le give me this information I read it I find it interesting the third time I had John on this program he slipped a hint that he knew a guy who' just been hired at Area 51 don't want to say too much about it but if this goes public if he goes public with the information it's going to blow the lid off this story I thought well I'm going to keep that in mind well the guy that he knew turned out to be Bob Lazar I'll skip some of the steps about how we we ended up meeting what's play a little clip of the Lazar the 25th this sort of give us a recap of the story I don't know sometimes I really do regret regret it and almost I I almost feel like apologizing to him saying that you know I'm sorry I let things out can I have my job back 25 years after he was forever transformed into Bob the UFO guy Bob Lazar says he regrets ever talking about flying saucers or a secret base in the Nevada desert or any of the things that made his name known all over the world if there isn't a day I I don't get emails and you know I try and get this across to him look I don't even want to talk about it anymore you know well I don't believe the story great pass it around you know I really don't want you to because it makes life difficult for me a quarter century ago not many people outside of Nevada had ever heard of Area 51 the mysterious base 100 miles north of Las Vegas a place the government said didn't exist it was the location of choice for all manner of black projects spy planes that were kept secret from the public and that's my driveway that's Bob that's Jean Huff and uh Bob's wife Tracy and Chris and uh we're just waiting there for uh 5:00 to roll around former CIA pilot John leer remembers the day that area 51 became a household name this is home video he shot as a k News truck prepared to broadcast a live interview from lear's home Lazar was understandably nervous yeah he was nervous because he was putting it all out on the line there and uh here he was going to you know reveal all this secret that he' signed you know that he was going to uh never tell anybody it's uh not only a crime against the American people in the interview lazars face was hidden and he used a pseudonym Dennis which was the first name of his boss out in the desert well there's several uh actually nine uh flying saucers flying Lazar claimed he worked intermittently at a location called S4 south of Groom Lake the main facility of Area 51 he said the hangers had been built into the site of a mountain disguised as desert and inside were a set of nine flying saucers months later he revealed his identity to the world and said the technology he' worked on was from somewhere else that it was being taken apart to figure out how it worked okay so he says he told us man I remember that day so clearly in May of 1989 we put him on the air I had not interviewed him before uh we had somebody cancel an interview a live interview for our 5:00 news when I was anchoring there we said well maybe that saucer guy would do it so we put him on and the phone went crazy people could not believe that that my bosses go rushing in is this guy for real and my news director and I Bob Bob Stall said gosh if this story is true if we can verify at least some of it it's going to be gigantic so we started a project I spent the next eight months working on trying to verify Lazar's background and any other details that we could come up with about Area 51 we had heard rumors about something that looked like flying saucers being tested out there for a long time yet no one had ever come forward until Bob um so he said there's nine flying saucers into the built into the hanger in the side of the mountain at the facility known as S4 he said that he saw one of these things that was in Flight he called it the sport model and it looked like you saw the uh the artwork there it's looked like what uh Billy Meyers beam ships like the the sport model that he called it uh he said that antimatter reactor would create its own gravitational field uh that gravity was in fact the key to Interstellar travel that it allowed one of these spaceships that generates its own gravitational field it could Bend space and time which is what a lot of people Jac valet and others have said it looks like how these flying saucers get around the fuel Lazar said was something called Element 115 a super heavy element that did not exist at the time but does now I mean it's Preposterous stuff it's outrageous it's ridiculous who in the world could believe such a story coming from a guy with a sketchy background like like Bob it turns out quite a few people believed it because the story exploded like a bomb I mean it launched thousands of product lines made Untold numbers of media appearances possible the meme was on the loose let's play this next one and the cud Area 51 you you could have just handed me a piece of the UFO from Area 51 there have never been any spacecraft there's no Area 51 there's no recovered spaceship oh excuse me Mr President that's not entirely accurate it would probably take an Indiana Jones sized Warehouse to stash all the pop culture references to Area 51 the Oho secret facility the place that did not officially exist for decades is the rockar of military bases literally there's a rock band named Area 51 and another named Element 115 which is supposedly the fuel for flying saucers there's an Area 51 video game in Area 51 Bar what better way to unwind after a long day than a glass of Groom Lake Red Wine from the a in maybe spend a few minutes staring at the paintings you picked up at the area 51 art show while perhaps listening to the Bob Lazar music video the story that Bob Lazar told 25 years ago has gone around the world many times over when you get yourself in position and in the quarter Century since then the world has beaten a to area 51's door every major news organization in the world has written Stories the base has inspired documentaries and TV dramas dozens of books have been written fiction and non-fiction hundreds of news articles many of them critical of laar and skeptical about his background his tale launched a thousand product lines every trinket you can imagine along with assorted businesses a AAA baseball team and the world's only extra terrestrial Highway running right past the entrance to groom Lake President Obama recently made a point of publicly acknowledging Area 51 what's really going on at Area 51 and former President Bill Clinton told Jimmy Kimmel he'd looked into those stories about space aliens so first I had people go look at the records on Area 51 to make sure there was no alien down there even the Kardashians have made a track out into the desert that's a security guard who look look how that that uh you know that story moved throughout the internet so quickly and not just the internet but but news in itself like was in the first 48 hours after the broadcast it was in Japan back in Las Vegas for a visit Lazar recalls why he came forward in the first place he had traveled to the S4 base only a handful of times but began to get scared I began to get worried in that boy they've given me all this classified information they're not calling me anymore they won't take my phone calls and in the meantime apparently they're deciding what to do with me look how bright it's getting look at it now for a variety of personal reasons Lazar couldn't keep the story to himself he shared his tale with John leer and Jean Huff they and a few others made tracks out to the outskirts of S4 because loar said he'd learned when the test flights of the saucer would take place three weeks in a row a glowing object appeared over the mountain the bright it's getting look at it now and just a few minutes ago we saw one of the government uh extraterrestrial the time when Bob said there would be a test there was a strange light jumping around in the sky above the location where he said it would be at the time and date he said it would be you know here the craft took off when I said it was taking off from past the the mountain range which was Papoose Lake S4 south of Area 51 you know in a restricted area so it's not like anyone was out there with a model plane or anything and uh you know flew around in incredible Maneuvers that impressed everybody to the point where we got scared and got behind a a car fearing the thing was going to explode but um really how do you explain this bright right now I can't tell you how many times I wish gosh shouldn't I have copyrighted a piece of that or something the wife reminds me quite a few times with the thousands of products and books and TV shows and and things of that sort the references to Area 51 that have gone everywhere uh Robbie mentioned about the movies and the the idea of hyper reality and that is so true I can remember remember being there was a special screening of the movie Independence Day and I had already been reporting on Area 51 for 10 years you know pounding away at these stories in UFO circles that had gone everywhere but it was still sort of filtering out to the general public and we had the special screening of the movie and there's that scene where the secretary defense says Ah Mr President yeah there really is an Area 51 and people in the audience are going see I told you it was real I was like I I've been reporting on this for years now and now it took a movie to tell you it's real that there really is a place called Area 51 uh by the way as a side note I told P I was bringing some stuff along it it's in the bags it in the baggage wherever that is but some some uh uh Trinkets and souvenirs Maria 51 I got an Al little alien Christmas ornament with an alien on it a couple of hats from the area 51 Museum which is the Atomic Testing Museum it's got a room full of stuff about half of it from my house the area 51 baseball team we got a hat from that an Area 51 C book anyway I'm devot uh donating it to your organization if you want to bid on it maybe it'll make some money or something like that um you know I was thrilled with some of this stuff that uh President Clinton spoke publicly about Area 51 President Obama spoke about it uh while he he did that by the way if you'll recall while he was honoring Shirley mlan which seemed kind of somehow fitting uh but I was a little bit worried when I saw the Kardashians heading to Area 51 in the TV business there's a phrase known as Jumping the Shark when a show has gone too far uh to be credible anymore uh that's what we call it Jumping the Shark and I don't know if the Kardashians may have jumped the shark from the first stop but when they started going to Area 51 I thought this has gone too far um you saw at the end of that video clip this original footage of a saucer test flight that Lazar and Jean Huff and John Lear and others had witnessed not once not twice but three weeks in a row Lazar knew when these test flights would take place he knew where they would take place there had been no news stories about it no coverage uh in anywhere officially and to this day the story is there is nothing at Papoose Lake there's never been a facility there even though satellite photos show a road that goes down there and uh there's no base there's no facility there's nothing but a dry lake bed at Papoose so how did Bob know how did he know this stuff it's one of the points we're going to come back to play this next little clip of this this a little bit better look at that saucer that's a Freeze Frame there's some enhancement that was done that's that's the object it was flying above Papoose Lake and I don't know it looks like a flying saucer to me uh over the years dozens of people have captured their own images of things flying around out there there's a classic Sombrero shaped UFO that was flying around out there weird lights now some of these things like everything else they're misidentifications they're military planes secret aircraft secret platforms of one sort or another but a heck of a a lot of them look like flying saucers and if we've been flying them out there since the 1950s which is how long people have been seeing seeing them if it's a classified project when do we get a look when did they declassify it when do they roll it out of the hanger last year I don't know if you read the story here if it got much P publicity but the CIA formally announced last year that area 51 exists whoopy fre and do you know Area 51 exists we've known that it exists we've got satellite photos we know people who worked out there the world has yeah can stop it um the world has known about it for a long time so CIA goes public with this announcement I'm wondering what are they up to well they they wanted to use it as an explanation to brush away all reports of UFOs don't worry I think what the words were remember all those UFOs you were seeing in the 50s and 60s that was us ha haa I I don't even and you know at the same time they acknowledge that the base uh was real they did something sneaky they said the real reason that these rumors about flying saucers at Area 51 had been started is because people outside the base were seeing weird things flying around and they mistook them for UFOs well you know and they they're implying that these are uos and SR71 and stealth technology uh it's similar to the earlier CIA release that was done a couple of years ago to explain away all UFO sightings that's all us they said it's the agency it's our secret planes and they they made a campaign about it on Twitter well bullshit it's bullshit uh I don't even know where to start with that uh the you the YouTube is a great big gangly plane that has big long Wings it doesn't look like a flying saucer it doesn't hover silently it doesn't fly up and down like this it doesn't land in people's corn fields or backyards it was designed to not be seen at all uh same for the SR71 the a12 the stealth technology those are not flying saucers and it suggests that people are seeing those planes and and that's the cause of the stories in Area 51 is ridiculous um more importantly the stories about flying saucers in Nevada didn't start because there were people outside the base seeing things flying around they started because people inside the base started leaking the information and one of those people was Bob Lazar uh I'm not going to try to convince you beyond any doubt that Lazar is telling the truth for most people you know that horse has left the barn you've already made up your mind about it chances are you're here to hear some of this you probably give him at least some credibility um you know that that Legend is Galloping around down the road and around the world and most people have made up their minds as I said I I will give you two thoughts on this though one is that my belief it it's a moot point anyway as Robbie Graham was saying because this area 51 story is now permanently etched into the public

Consciousness whether anybody likes it or not uh it's taken on a life of its own independent of Bob Lazar uh Lazar by the way did not work at Area 51 although a lot of people say that he was at S4 and and we've already made that distinction uh earlier this year there was a tour they now take tours out to Area 51 regular tours if you as a tourist you want to go to Las Vegas and take a drive out there they'll p uh put you in a vehicle take you right up to the edge of Area 51 you can take a couple of snapshots and you go back home uh earlier this year I aired a story about a tour group they had their driver who was relatively new uh to the job and talking they're yakking at him as he's driving up to the gate yeah yeah yeah blah blah blah he blows right through this sign the warning sign that says stop or you will be shot uh he goes right through it and they're driving along and they're wondering Hey where's that base you know where's the camo dude shouldn't we be stopping here and all of a sudden bam he's right on on their butt uh pulled him over pulled out guns uh threatened to arrest him they rode him up big citations the guy can never is never allowed to go back uh so other drivers will have to go there but there was a big mess and I helped negotiate the find down these people um didn't have to dig into their pockets too bad but as the video from that camera showed this driver is telling his own reality about you Area 51 oh yeah the mothership is often out there hovering over the base and there's secret underground facilities where the aliens um they mix up Vats of uh human and alien parts and to create these hybrids I mean total nonsense totally made up but there's the guy who's official tour guide for Area 51 making this stuff up um and it it sort of goes to the point that it's taken on a life of its own and we couldn't stop it if we wanted to the second thing I wanted to convey is uh how we pursued this story as journalists um I did not go into this as a lark it wasn't a joke I I approached it as a story and I knew there were great risks involved in this uh because of our credibility our credibility of the whole station was on the line if we screwed this up and promoted this guy as uh as some UFO Messiah and it blew up in our face we might not ever recover the station's credibility was on the line and I know it looks preposterous from the get-go and that many of our competitors wished it was Preposterous but that's not how it's turned out uh my friend and colleague Stan fredman has been outspoken about uh Area 51 and Bob Lazar he thinks it's possible he buys the idea there could be flying saucers out there but he doesn't buy Lazar and he's been way out in front I I have to give Stan credit for doing some of the leg work unlike a lot of Bob's critics Stan has gone to area uh to MIT and Caltech and looked for Bob Lazar's educational credentials and he found them lacking and I I applaud him for that but because that part of Bob's story is weak Stan has written the whole thing off which is what a lot of people have done I don't know how to remind I've tried to remind Stan about this in person and I've said it in public a few times but uh the important thing is with Lazar is that the information about his educational background was in the very first story that we aired the very first report that identified him we said we could not verify his background and I'll I will confide to you this I don't believe he ever went to those schools I don't believe Bob Lazar could get a degree from Caltech or MIT for a very simple reason at American universities when you get a degree an undergraduate degree you have to take all kinds of core courses in subject that you may not be interested in uh literature I cannot possibly imagine and Anna you know Bob I can't imagine Bob Lazar sitting through a class in in American lit or reading poetry or something like that he'd never stand for it there is no way in hell that he sat through that stuff to get a degree so what do we do what do we do with that do we throw out the story uh would B here's how I rationalize it is Bob would not be the first person to lie about his educational credentials in order to get a good job as his friend of a long time I've given him the opportunity Bob look come come clean on this let me know about uh if it's a lie come clean on it get it behind you and he's never given me that that satisfaction of saying yeah it's a lie he maintains the story I don't know what the true story is whether they could make his records disappear I have found people who said he was at Caltech who said that they remember him being on the campus but that's not enough to to make the point as far as I'm concerned it doesn't matter I I don't care whether Bob Lazar went to Caltech the LIE the fact that he would lie about it is problematic but I don't think it it's a reason to toss out the entire story because people do lie about their background in order to get a a great uh a great job the thing with Bob is uh he is an interesting guy I know a lot of people think that he's a fraud that he never worked out there uh for me the key was always did he work at Los Alamos National Lab because it said seemed to me that if he had worked at Los Alamos in a scientific capability on classified projects then it's conceivable that he wouldn't get hired to work at someplace else in the Nevada desert so we went to Los Alamos I went there a couple of times I started writing letters to them to see if Bob had ever worked there and they said no we have no records of them whatsoever and then I found a a headline in the Los Alamos newspaper that says there's Bob Lazar as a physicist what about that nope we don't have him he never worked here then I found a phone book from the lab that lists his his name and number there he is uh well we still can't find the res the any records on him so I wrote to a company uh a Kirk Meer it's a head hunter company it hires people uh for the lab and fills positions in scientific and te technical jobs they had hired Bob I called him up and said yeah did you hire him do you have records yeah we've got the records on him we hired him we got him the job at Los Alamos great can I get a copy of those no problem that was uh that went on for 2 and a half years years where they first said that they would give me the records then they said then they delayed it then they stopped taking my calls all together and then they said quit bothering us someone got to them I mean they had them and then they didn't have them um but I became convinced for other reasons that Bob was there I talked to people he worked with who said he was there and he worked in classified positions unclassified stuff I went to Los Alamos and Bob Lazar took us in it was on a Sunday and we had a camera rolling off it he took us into the gate waves at the guy at the front they let him on in let let us in and then he took us into Los Alamos and it was like a rabbit in his own burrow taking us through these buildings uh obscure places waving to people along the way gave us a little Tour all of it recorded on video how did he know you know it's the same thing thing with the uh the Flying Saucer test you don't believe that that Bob uh worked at S4 Area 51 how did he know about the test there had been no newspapers stories about it he knew when and where it would take place and the video captured it I interviewed all the people that went with him on those trips and they all verified the story just as he told it how did he know here's some other stuff that he that he knew uh there was an agency called ofi Bob thought it was the FBI I said who did your background check you know when you were getting your security clearance I think it was the FBI it was a guy named Mike Thigpen I call the FBI up they said we don't have any Mike Mike Thigpen we don't do back background tests come to find out what it was is there was an agency called the ofi office of federal investigation I had never heard about it before but sure enough turns out that's the agency that does background checks for people who work at the Nevada test site and although Area 51 is not part of the Nevada Test Site officially it's attached to it and they do that work and sure enough they have an agent named Mike

Thigpen how did he know how did Bob know that a guy named Mike Thigpen worked for an agency uh that I had never even heard of before those facts were confirmed um it's it's weird stuff uh that happened during th that time period it's hard to convey to an audience sitting in a room like this but it was a strange time to live through break-ins at Bob's house they would break into his house leave all the doors and windows open and write stuff on his Blackboard or move things around there was a time when he and a friend he was getting really nervous because strange things were happening in his life they go to a gym to work out and Bob was started carrying a gun somebody had taken a shot at him had this gun in the glove box locks the car goes into the gym comes back out an hour and a half later the cars to the door are open the windows are rolled down the glove box is open the gun is laying there on the seat it's like somebody wanted him to know he was under surveillance I would he would call me in the middle of the night and I'd go over to his house rushing over there and he's peeking out the window and I know this will make him sound paranoid peeking out the window holding an Uzi um cuz he thought people were messing with him they were messing with him I mean he they threatened to kill him they threatened to make him disappear they were following us around wherever everywhere we went into bars to work uh I had a series of of phone calls at the station this is really ticks me off people who called up offering to give me additional information about Area 51 and I'll get into some of those specifics in a minute six people who had called to offer me additional information uh and said yeah agreed to be interviewed we visited one right after another there was a guy who was a tax preparer his name was Roy Byam he did tax returns for offices officers at Nellis Air Force Base and they got to know them pretty well and they were on an out of town trip uh when they were sitting around drinking some beers and these guys told them about Area 51 flying saucers S4 the whole story As Told by Bob he agrees to tell me that story on the phone the very next day he gets visited these two guys who said they're from the Secret Service they said we hear you've been issuing threats against the life of the president and we can tell you that if you're talking to the wrong people and saying the wrong things you can go to prison well he saw that as a threat because of him talking to me there was a lady who works in the Clark County Court System she had been a stenographer a company called homes and Nara it's a defense contractor she sat in on meetings at which she took dictation Air Force guys CIA and her boss these contractors when they talked about Roswell and the Roswell wreckage and some of that material go into Area 51 she said after the meeting they would not only take all her notes they would take the ribbon out of the typewriter so that nobody Could reconstruct what she had written and so she was she told this story to a cop a police officer who I know and he offered to make an introduction so I called this lady up I said let's get together I'll hide your identity don't worry I won't get you in trouble she agreed to tell me this story very next day she gets a knock on the door and these two guys show up they said we're from homes and you do know that you're still under a security uh clearance you're still under security restrictions you can't talk to anybody she goes what are you talking about they go we know that you and your daughter your daughter lives in La you live in Las Vegas and the two of you travel back and forth a lot you know there's a lot of desert out there something bad could happen if you were to say the wrong thing they were threatening her daughter's life she was scared to death I tried to get a hold of her 10 years and then 20 years after that that our first conversation she still wouldn't talk to me she was scared I had a guy who was an electrical engineer who had worked at KV and he before working there he had been at Area 51 and he said he walked into a a big hanger and there under a tarp was something that looked like a flying saucer well he was living in Seattle at the time that he told me this story and so I I I contacted him I said look we're working on a series about UFOs would you give me an interview would you do this on camera I'll black out your face he goes yeah sure next morning I mean the very next day there's two guys sitting in a car uh clean military haircuts talking into a radio sitting out in front of his house and they followed him to work and when he got out of work they're sitting there and talking on the radio and they followed him home he was scared he knew they were trying to intimidate him and he wouldn't talk to me what that told me six people in a row boom boom boom same thing is that they were listening to my phone and that really ticked me off that they would monitor back there before we had the NSA listening to everybody's phones uh that they were listening to my phone and it really ticked me off but it was real I had so many people uh if if this story was just about Bob Lazar we would never have done it but I had more than two dozen people who had worked at Area 51 50 607s and 80s who told me bits and pieces of the same story I had the guy who was a golf pro at Nellis Air Force Base who knew all these uh all these uh high ranking officers who told me the same story about Roswell wreckage going to Area 51 and saucer being tested and uh he told me that story he's another one who got a visit um there was a guy who his name is Glenn pace and back in the days of above ground nuclear testing in Nevada the most nuked place in the world he was it was his job as a spotter he was one of the only people in Nevada testate that was allowed to use binoculars so he'd be out there when they would be planting these Atomic tests he'd be in a building sometimes for days at a time waiting for the test to take place and he had these binoculars he was at a place called Area 15 which looks right over into Area 51 and he said they used to watch these what looked like flying saucers over papo's dry lake all the time his boss was a a German physicist one of the Nazi scientists who came over under Operation Paperclip named OT Krauss who told him about alien technology being tested out there uh I had a guy named Howard Canon he was a United States senator from Nevada he was a man who practically built area 51 because he would get all the secret Appropriations the money that went into building it he was like the father of Nellis Air Force Base he's a retired Brigadier General uh from the Air Force a a decorated war hero he was very good friends with The Men Who Built Area 51 um the guys from the Skunk Works Lockheed when Howard Cannon lost his last election they gave him as a going away president the ability to fly in the SR71 there's only 30 people in the world that are 40 people in the world have ever been in one and he got to fly in it that's how close he was to these guys Howard's son Allan is a friend of ours had had these conversations with his dad about UFOs Howard had never the senator had never spoken about it publicly but he finally agreed through his son to tell me the story about Area 51 and I went over and interviewed him the last interview before he died and he came this close to spilling it all his best friend in the Senate was Barry Goldwater I don't know if you remember that name but Goldwater had run for president Goldwater had tried to get into Wright Patterson the stories about the blue room and he'd been told no you can't get in and you can't ask about it never ask again well Howard Cannon had the same experience he told me that story before he died he went right up to the edge of saying there's flying saucers at Area 51 and then he said this what would be the point of telling that they would deny it they'd call it a lie you're never going to get to see that technology they're never going to let it out so what would be the point how Howard Cannon is a man that I I believe one other source I'll tell you about it and then we'll move on it's a guy whose name I can't give you but there was a book by a lady named Annie Jacobson uh about Area 51 and it's a tremendous book about the history of all those those secret planes Annie Jacobson at the end of her book though has a Chapter where she says um she talked to this old guy who said that there were flying saucers out there but they're not alien flying saucers they've been built by the Nazis captured by the Russians and what crashed at Roswell was a one of these Russian Nazi uh technology that the the aliens were not aliens they were uh refugees from a concentration camp who just looked like aliens it's a ridiculous story but I knew immediately that the source of it was a guy that I had stalked I stalked him literally for three years because I knew he was in a position to know he had worked at Area 51 in a management capacity and finally I got him to open up he invited me to his house he said you want to talk about uh atomic bombs and testing and he's going through his scrapbooks and I'm looking at these pictures of bombs and everything and he goes he stops closes the book he goes that's not what you're here to talk about is it I said no not really so I know what you're here for and then he started telling me a story about saucers aliens this is a guy who he's not Bob Lazar he his credentials are not uh questionable he was in the position to know and he laid the story out for me somewhere along line though he changed it and by the time Annie Jacobson got a hold of him it was not aliens which by the way he told me that the alien looked like Ross Perot who was a a billionaire businessman a little skinny guy with great big ears um anyway along the way there are some very real uh people who had told me bits and pieces of the story it's not just Bob let's play one of them this guy named Jim Goodall uh wrote books about stealth technology was a friend of John le did you ever get any information about a facility at Appo like the one you describ I have a u a friend of mine he's a he's a retired uh senior master sergeant he was early on in the f117 program and they had full they their badge area restricted area badge he could go anywhere in the Nevada Test Site up to an including Area 51 so they had a Humvee and they drove around the the uh was it groom range yeah groom range and and they're on Papoose Lake there is there is there isn't anybody around and all of a sudden they're surrounded by guys in Black uh uniforms wanting to with their hands on their weapons wanting to know who they were what are you doing here and my buddy said we're just we have some we have some downtime we're just exploring the area he said you turn around and you leave and don't come back they just kind of popped up out of nowhere he didn't know where they came from he didn't see any vehicles all of a sudden they were there and he left it was three or four guys with him they left what do you make of that that they're might be something at Papo or was or well according to Bob that's where that's where the the nine hanger ATS are in the you know camouflage in the side of the mountain uh I'll give you one other thing about S4 and Papo there was a guy named Jerry Freeman he's an archaeologist and you wouldn't think an archaeologist has anything to do with flying saucers Jerry Freeman was studying the path of the 49ers that was the there was an Gold Rush of 1849 when thousands of people fled West to try to strike at Rich and a lot of them uncovered wagons and settlers and they they had a certain path that they followed and Jerry Freeman was trying to reconstruct the path that the 49ers had taken and he thought that they had gone right straight across the Nevada test site and in fact had been at Papoose lake so what he did was very bold of him he infiltrated the test site from going west to east and walked all the way across it dodg security patrols he would walk uh in the nighttime and then hide during the day and he made it all the way across let's show the Freeman stuff he made it all the way across the test site uh to Papoose Lake these are pictures that he had set up with an automatic camera that's Papoose behind him that's the place where Bob Lazar said he worked so Freeman again walking at night and and um hiding in the day gets all the way to Papoose he finds the evidence he's looking for the 49ers had carved some something into the Rocks there but as he's sitting out there at night um right at Papoose uh it's a sad story by the way he died a doorway opens up he said he's sitting there and a doorway of light opens up in the middle of the sky and things come out people come out objects come out and then it closed up again now he's not a flying saucer guy uh he walked all the way across the cross the test site not realizing that that land is still contaminated with all kinds of um nuclear fallout and he died to cancer two years after uh his his journey but anyway gave a little piece that sort of goes along with what Jim Gall just said about people coming out of nowhere remember Papoose Lake where Lazar said there's this facility built in the side of the mountain uh does you know there is nothing there officially uh the last piece of information is the some some um a UFO guy named James wildermuth I never knew of the guy before he's a European guy here and he sent me these images that he found on Google Earth um normally this would have been cleaned up but somehow he found it you tell me what it looks like anyway he uh he used Google Earth to take a good hard look at this and he found some lines on the side of Papoose that look like EX exactly what Lazar had been describing he puts the he put the pins in there but you can see the thin outline of these lines nine of them nine containers um a friend of mine was an investigator for Congress and he had he had the highest security clearances he thought that something was really going on at Area 51 I gave him a briefing and he made them let him in they flew him in a blinding snowstorm to S4 in Papoose but they took him to the other side of the facility he got out and looked around his name was Dick deato he worked for a senator who oversaw the budget and looked around out there and he said this was 5 years after Bob Lazar story came forward and um he said there was nothing there but he didn't look in this side and it sure looked like hanger doors to me or at least some lines that indicated that something could be there that's good uh I want to give you a couple of uh pieces of of what Lazar says now now cuz his his views on things have changed quite a bit as you might imagine so many crazy stories have been told about Bob over the years that he's running a meth lab that he's got a string of hookers down in South America that he's dead once a year somebody comes up with a story that Bob is dead it's no wonder that he's tried to leave all this stuff behind him and wants nothing more to do with it uh it took me a long time to coax him into doing this interview earlier this year to recognize the 25th anniversary I'm hoping to talk him into going on Co to Coast maybe in November but I wanted to uh sort of share with you a couple of the pieces that stuff that he is comfortable talking about and that is the the technology uh the science involved as I mentioned at the beginning he uh claims that these craft operate on an anti-gravity sort of mechanism let's play that clip where he talks in detail about that alone is something amazing look that can change everything we know today just having a machine to reduce artificial gravity because look look at what that does we know gravity space and time are all tied together there are your Shields like on Star Trek that you know deflect micrometeorites there is your protection from radiation without heavy shielding there is something that with an intense enough Focused Field you can actually Bend space and there is something that can actually alter the flow at time I mean that's the missing piece of pie didn't they actually freeze a candle a flame yeah now that's when it was connected to the gravity amplifiers where they could focus it and uh that was they froze a candle yeah they had a they had a candle lit uh to set it up for you um again there's a large in the craft itself there are three long pipes um I'd say uh well I don't know about what's that three four in diameter maybe 5T long um anyway dangle the three of them at the bottom of the craft these produce gravitational waves and they can focus them to a point or spit them apart those are what you call the wave guides yeah okay yeah they're part of the uh power source control mechanism and the uh wave well the wave guide is what I actually call the Interlink between them but that that's the gravitational engine um they had one of those devices out along with the subsystem that connects it so they can produce the power from the reactor it runs the gravity amplifier and they can focus and change the gravity beam that comes out of it they took a they were speaking of Barry took a candle put it close to the mouth of it lit it a normal flickering candle flame and then activated the reactor the gravity wave came out as expected and the candle flame remained luminous and stopped moving and which physics yeah because look if it's going to freeze it the photons should stop being emitted if it's going to you know change the characteristics look how can the combustion continue to take place without the convection inside the flame because actually reason a flame is elongated is not not really because of heat it's because of gravity because gravity pulls down and you know convection moves flames upward it's why in a zero gravity environment flame is a ball obviously there's nothing to pull things around but anyway if uh look if you negate the gravity around it why is it still pointy how can it still be making light and why doesn't it move well I mean he from what Barry said it's not just gravity but it's also time locked you distorted frame of time yeah they essentially froze a piece of time there and I you know what do you say I mean you're it's empirical evidence you're looking at it it's not it's not see it it doesn't make sense that you could see it and uh look it the stuff I saw there was the most unbelievable literally because it it defied what what we knew as physics and uh at least I thought it did and maybe what we knew was a little incorrect and just needed viewing from a different angle um we do know now that research into anti-gravity is at the top of the list of what American uh tech companies are doing and the defense department folks are doing and anti-gravity propulsion is something they want very badly Bob said that the key to it was this element 115 he had a piece of it I saw it um in fact he had a little experiment they did with what's called a cloud chamber where they had it looked to me like light they had a piece of this 115 in this chamber they put some smoke in it and it seemed and then had a beam of light through it and the light bent um Bob at one point when he thought he was going to die had this piece of 115 in a uh it was in a lead casing in a disc shaped casing and he had it in front of a particle accelerator at his house and he had the accelerator on and all he had to do was flip a button if this stuff was real as he described it flipping that button would hit it with I don't know it's pH protons electrons whatever it was that would make it explode an Annihilation that would have left a great big hole in Las Vegas and he had that piece I saw the experiment what happened to it uh that's that's a story for another time it's it's in a spot now where nobody could get to it but uh it's still there one of these days maybe after Bob's gone I'll go dig it up um as at the time that he told us the story about element 115 Element 115 did not exist it does exist now it's been synthesized they've made it in a lab it only lasts for micro seconds but it is real they've confirmed that it's now on the element chart and in this piece Bob talks about uh 115 they finally did uh synthesize Element 115 that had the properties that I that I stated um not um but it wasn't stable yeah it wasn't stable uh now each element has isotopes for instance you know let's talk about hydrogen we're all familiar with hydrogen uh hydrogen has three isotopes they're all hydrogen there's hydrogen prodium was be the technical name dyum and tridium well trium is a radioactive hydrogen uh dyum is another stable isotope of hydrogen and regular prodium ordinary hydrogen is the hydrogen we all know they're all hydrogen they have different amounts of neutrons in them um they all have one proton which makes them hydrogen now this is a true for all elements you can have the amount of protons in them determines what element it is so Element 115 has 115 protons in it it's Element 115 now depending on the number of neutrons it has it will still be Element 115 but it can be any number of isotopes of it we've synthesized 115 we made one isotope we have a radioactive one now they just need to continue on working with it I mean they made just a few atoms but uh we'll see what other Isotopes they come up with one of them or more is going to be stable and it will have the exact properties that I said or could we make it or does it have to be natural as you speculated about that well it's natural it'd be difficult to find it to get some usable material I I do not think you can make that synthetically it's just it takes too much time I mean to make you know an ounce of it or even a gram would take a tremendous amount of time because not all the interactions are successful I mean you can bang particles together all day long and one may get stuck and then you've got an atom and how do you contain you know this single atom so how do we get 500 lounds of it where'd that come from well it it had to either be synthesized by the extraterrestrials that bought it in the first place or you know maybe there was a location where they came from where look if this was a naturally occurring material we know that all the material in the universe essentially all the atoms of all elements came from hydrogen I mean all you really need is it is just atoms of hydrogen to make anything once they start collecting together large quantities of them gravity just begins to push them together under their own weight so it's sort of like a roar Shack test is aha they made 115 he was right it really does exist somebody doesn't want to believe it says 115 doesn't behave anything like Bob Lazar said it's sitting around in a pile of 500 lb or something right I mean sort of like that what is the right you have to I mean you just have to start accumulating whether do you believe it or not and I personally again I prefer you don't believe it um you know just begin accumulating the facts that you can you know you can verify and um and really be careful with you get the facts from because if you see documents obtained by someone that you know they say are official I've seen the most ridiculous things on the internet um you know here's a a report from some government agency going yeah everything Bob Lazar said is fabricated and we've verified it with the main office in Philadelphia and I mean you know just nonsense stuff um you know verify it yourself and if you start adding up all the facts look the people that were with me at the time you know have an obvious Advantage because they knew me before all this stuff happened they knew at the time I didn't even believe in flying saucers or life from other planets I mean to me those were just crazy people that bought into these stories coming to the end here um you know I guess you you'd say can you could you really keep a secret like that wouldn't it leak out well it has leaked out you know it's it's whether or not you pay attention to it or not that that matters one of the guys if there's anybody who would know about this being true it's a guy named Ben Rich who was the head of skunkworks which was the Lockheed company that built all the blackest projects the SR71 the U2 stealth all of that Ben Rich who headed up Skunk Works for such a long time if anyone in the civilian sector would know it would be him so I asked them about it on the day that they unveiled the stealth fighter at Nellis Air Force Base they had it sitting on a harac and they invited uh the media to come in and I was the one of the guys that was there that day and so Ben Rich was available for interviews and I went up and asked him um Mr Rich great to meet you I asked him a couple of questions and then led up to this one you know a lot of people say there's alien technology and the stuff you developed and he stops for a second and looks at me and he kind of laughs nope just good old American knowhow but before he died Ben rich said this in a public uh comment because the reason I'm asking is friends of his asked him about UFOs and he said it was real but he said this to an engineering audience he said we already have the means to travel Among the Stars but these Technologies are locked up in Black projects and it would take an act of God to ever get them out to benefit Humanity anything you can imagine we already know how to do it we have the technology to take ET home it won't take someone's lifetime to do it we have that capability now to travel to the Stars he died few months after that but he was trying to tell the world something this stuff is real um that what Bob has said Is Real uh I'll end with one last little piece of Bob because you know people wonder what goes on in his life there's all those rumors I told you about before and I put him the the question to him in a couple of different ways about whether he would do it again and he goes back and forth basically I think he would say no but here's what he told me back in May but that drives him crazy I mean you need to answer this now I need an answer how much how many times you get that in a in a week still after all this I get there isn't a day I I don't get emails and you know I try and get this across to them look I don't even want to talk about it anymore you know well I don't believe the story great pass it around you know I really don't want you to because it makes life difficult for me I'm trying to do serious research I'm you know I've got contract with governments and other companies for R&D work and aside from you know other scientific interests and I want this divorced look if I went and did everything I can to prove my story and reached a Tipping Point for where people like Stanton fredman and you know people along those lines um said you know what this is beginning to look factual do you know how that would annihilate me that would destroy my business it would make it impossible for me to operate and you know I'd have a continuous flow of questions annoying people I'm sure offers to do things that I am not the least bit interested in there's got to be part of somewhere in there even though it would be counterproductive there's got to be part of you that wishes God damn it I I know what happened it's true no look I know what happened is true there's no doubt period there's there's no delusion and there are some things I can say that that will bolster the case and I'm not going to um it's going to stay that way I do regret at this point bringing anything forward look at the time I'm in my early 20s what you know what this is a crime against the American people this is just BS and everybody deserves to know what's going on you know and 25 years goes by you get a little older and your priorities change and you know what they told me is this is a security matter and really what's the public going to do about this you how reactionary they are it's there's a bunch of different reasons this is being kept quiet nothing that they bother telling me but the bottom line is they're right the bulk of the people are complete morons and I'm sorry maybe they are right and this really should just be just be information that's handled out on a on a need to know basis to some people where it would benefit them you know I I know you don't like to hear it but there's a lot of people after you're in this field for a long time you kind of come to the same conclusion maybe maybe it doesn't really need to be out um I believe in the people's right to know that's my job and so I pursue it in that that vein but you have to wonder whether it's really a good idea or not you know the the pursuit of this story has led me taken me all over the world chasing different kind of UFO stuff uh My Views have changed so much from from those days about just thinking of nuts and bolts lying saucers is there a government cover up I mean this is really as uh earlier speakers were suggesting it's uh it's much bigger mystery than that whether or not flying saucers are coming from other planets or not jacqu valet uh my hero in the UFO field I had interviewed him back in these days when he came to investigate Lazar and asked me some questions and we' become much closer friends but he said I'm going to be so disappointed if it turns out that the answer to the UFO mystery is that alien are coming from another planet and flying saucers to visit us because He suggests that the the way these uh craft behave the technology they have it suggests that the ultimate answer is so much bigger so much more wondrous uh than something as simple as that uh these things that we see in the sky are just a small part of something much bigger you know the universe is far more mysterious than maybe we can imagine or can imagine then the glimpses that we get of these craft are I think part of some much larger learning curve uh the this is about reality itself the nature of the world around us and I get the feeling that we can understand it only a tiny sliver and that its true nature is being withheld from us and maybe is beyond the ability of our small tiny brains to understand but you know we have to try I I think that it is the duty of scientists and journalists to investigate the Unexplained not to explain the uninvestigated um and thank you very much he George knp is an Emmy winning commentator and investigative reporter at KV in Las Vegas he has won dozens of national and Regional journalism Awards including recognition for his 1989 documentary UFOs the best evidence that program introduced the world to Bob Lazar and his allegations of alien technology at Nevada's Area 51 nap's other UFO research efforts include groundbreaking work in the former Soviet Union his those Works have been profiled by CBS News ABC News NBC News the BBC and numerous other National and international news organizations please give a great muon Los Angeles War welcome to George nap see if I brought enough stuff here um I am absolutely amazed so many people would come out on a on a week night uh to learn about this topic when there are obviously a lot of things you could be doing and I'm sure a lot of you have family members and friends who think you're you're crazy to be coming to learn about a topic that most of the world most of the official world at least considers to be absolutely nuts but uh hopefully tonight we'll have a little bit of fun uh we're certainly going to cover a lot of ground or at least try to got a lot of video to look at and I uh I can almost guarantee that uh your butts are going to get sore before we run out of stuff to talk about I got a letter uh not too long ago from scop the committee for the scientific investigation of claims of the par normal you know those folks Phil class's group we all know who they are and what they represent it was a fundraising letter because I subscribed to the skeptical Inquirer they're always asking me for money about four or five times a year and this letter um was asking for a contribution based on a letter that had been sent to SC pyop and here's the letter that they say was sent to them dear pyop I was hoping you could send me facts about aliens I am doing a project on ofo I am 14 years old and live in Louisville I was convinced that I was a alien when I was a child my family told me I was put in their home by some government and they get paid to keep me my my sister says I am part of some big government experiment to see if aliens can be like humans I guess that's why I'm such a Believer the psyop writer then in tones how this letter struck such a chord with those compassionate Souls back East there at pyop headquarters and I found myself imagining how they it would make a powerful infomercial for this group if it could only land Sally Struthers to do it you know um the letter went on to decry the upsurge in such television programs as the xfiles and sightings and that influential film that's now a TV series Buffy the Vampire Slayer it scoffed at the power of prayer at uh at public officials who rely on astrologers at Government research into remote viewing and how these expenditures somehow endanger Medicare and things like that only they could be so dense to think that the public accepts Buffy the Vampire player is the intellectual equivalent of a National Geographic documentary the fact is that regular people like you and I know the difference between a news program and a movie or a sitcom no one I know praise to the teenage n Mutant Ninja Turtles I almost wish pyop was right to an extent I wish there was this huge segment of the population a much larger segment of the population that did take the time to think about the UFO question in serious terms but that is not the case not really and I I think the reason is it for it is kind of all around us uh euphology likes to label itself as an emerging science we hear that all the time I think it was the theme of one of mufon's conferences a couple of years ago but it isn't I mean I I don't think it is not even close uh people like like you and I like to come to conferences and Gatherings like this looking for answers but we we don't really get them it kind of reminds me of the Jerry Lewis ton you know every year uh he tells us oh we're right around the corner you know they go right around the corner from that from that cure just just keep on coming back and you know the next year there really isn't a cure you know I think the problem the roadblock in this sense is ethologists it's a slightly presumptuous kind of a term I mean anybody can anybody wants to be a ethologist is a ethologist you know there's no degree to to speak of um I've been at this for about 10 years now a pretty big chunk of my life but not nearly as long as a lot of people have um a modern UFO era is going on for 50 years or so and and I can't think of hardly any conclusions that we can all agree on you know what are these visitors what do they represent where are they from why are they here all the big Central questions we don't agree on those um so much for emerging science you know that what we do have is a lot of uh a lot of bickering a lot of nastiness a lot of infighting the problem as I said is ethologists uh we we have no shortage of uh of semi-important or important sounding topics things like we got a face on Mars we've got a a clever little demon named a chupacabra that only seems to pop up where people speak Spanish we've got more Angels you can shake a stick at we got horny reptilian aliens going after our Earth women all over the place but we don't have a whole heck of a lot of answers I know a few years ago Whitley streber who I I consider more of a writer and a thinker than a euphology I don't think he'd like that that term of euphology he turned his back on the whole field and walked away I'm glad that he's back speaking and writing about uh topics and his experiences but he just got tired of of uh of what he was subjected to and for him it was on an international scale uh jacqu valet who in my opinion is probably the most important person to ever take up this topic um did the same thing he just got burned out on euphology and ethologists and uh and uh basically you don't see him at these conferences anymore uh there's a newsletter called saucer smear which is just a hoot if you haven't seen it it it's funny it it Chronicles the various UFO cat fights of the moment uh an issue last year it mentioned the dispute between a researcher named Robert Todd who says Roswell mainstate Jesse Marcel was a blowhard who exaggerated his military record and everything else and Marcel's son Jesse Jr writes back to Todd with some non-d disguised Digs at Todd's personal life saying in the meantime asshole why don't why don't you get a bottle of booze hide under your mommy's bed and get drunk you're nothing but a wacko so go f yourself you know how many ethologists have wanted to say that to each other but but haven't for one I mean you think of Stan fredman our mutual friend and colleague versus Kevin Randall and Don Schmidt you toss in Carl flock and some of the Lesser Roswell luminaries these guys hate each other you think about Phil class they are Phil class dart boards I was amazed the first time I went to a to a a conference and saw that this is an emerging science it's it's a wonder someone hasn't blown a fuse and whipped out an Uzi at one of these gatherings now when it comes to UFOs it seems to me that people who jump onto bandwagons one way or another often end up with a Rusty Nail in their butts there's no shortage of examples um and and you can call it disinformation you can call it infighting or whatever but we just don't seem to be making a whole heck of a lot of Headway Billy Meyer's amazing photos of those beam ships I remember seeing them so many years ago before I ever knew anything about this topic wow and some of those early photographs they looked incredible they still do some of the later photographs clearly looked fake well for people you're either in one camp or the other either they're all fake or they're all all real uh the truth however may be somewhere in between we forget that there were a lot of other independent Witnesses who weren't part of Myers's cult who saw these beam ships or at least said they did uh you know we we also forget that we have had a lot of people that infiltrated his group uh that had varying uh motives journalists included undercover journalists wouldn't be too hard to discredit a a slightly kooky one-armed farmer uh what about the uh mj12 document same sort of a thing you know they're filled with uh with things that just invite criticism uh inconsistencies and the type style and all that stuff that's been uh been criticized but uh at the same time information intriguing information that really Rings true and that uh that seemingly could not have come from sources other than legitimate inside sources Gulf Breeze three kinds of viewpoints there these are real photos of real UFOs Ed Walters faked the whole thing or it's the government playing mind games with a gullible public I don't know whether Ed Walters ever experimented with fake photographs but I sure strongly suspect that that story about the model in a former House of his was bogus yet we tend to you know we fall in one camp or another we either throw it out or accept it all crop circles those early crop circles with the the uh the patterns that that have not been duplicated uh by by folks and the and the changes in the chemical composition of the plants and the soil that can't be duplicated and yet even Colin Andrews admits today 75% of all the crop circles he's seeing in England each year are man-made individuals and organizations for whatever reason muddying the waters again and and the world press my colleagues in journalism tend to throw the whole thing out uh the Roswell case itself the alien autopsy film same thing tid bits of information that seem tantalizingly true and yet you fall into one camp or another and throw out the baby with the bath water it's a mess uh the truth is I I hate to say this but I just don't follow this scene as much as I used to I I don't log onto the net to check out the latest rumors I I generally do not attend UFO meetings or conventions anymore I I occasionally produce a story or a commentary in Las Vegas alone but it's not nearly anything like uh like the previous efforts and documentaries that that took almost all of my time I I don't watch sightings anymore unless I'm flipping around the channel and there it is I I don't go through the TV Guide at the beginning of the week and circle the things I need about UFOs that I need to tape which I used to do I do watch The X Files but heck a lot of people watch The X Files uh the simple fact is I have tried hard to kick my UFO habit you know I it's not quite cold turkey it's more like what you'd compare to nicotrol or a or a UFO light um I don't Mainline the muon journal anymore I don't sit out in the desert night night after night uh uh looking for UFOs and strange things in the sky don't collect ethologist trading cards anymore I don't return long-distance calls as many people have pointed out to me from people I don't know who just want to talk about UFOs in general or wakeo or uh Oklahoma City Bombing or JFK's assassination or whatever I don't it's still an addiction it always will be but I find myself devoting a lot more time to having a life being normal uh going to work having a job doing stories about things that are important to my community um I still pursue leads about Area 51 once in a while uh which we'll talk about tonight I have been involved uh in trying to verify uh the claims and the background of Colonel Coro which we'll also talk about I'm also uh still absorbing in mountains of information that we've brought back from not one but two trips to Russia we're back there in '96 again which we'll also get to tonight but but life I think is too short to deal with the uh the bill Coopers uh the New World Order conspiracy nuts the uh the underground Vats of alien parts where in bubbling cauldrons the uh the secret treaties the LED aliens abduct us the paranoid Fringe cases the uh Neo religious zealots and all the rest and unfortunately in the eyes of everyone else uh you and and I in this room we're all those people we're all nuts even the Straight Arrow No Nonsense by the book researchers who really want to find the truth Earnest people like yourselves who want to get to the bottom of this we're all nuts I uh I had the pleasure of seeing this this is a Las Vegas publication uh you probably can't see it but they've got on the front page here it's a something of a likeness of me my head looks even fatter than it does in person and I'm riding in a flying saucer and and the basic gist of the article is get out of town you know uh we're tired we're tired of this UFO crap uh get out of town I'm a terrible reporter and uh that's enough of that um I haven't done a UFO story in Las Vegas a series since February of last year but I'm I'm the UFO guy as I suspect each of you have your own circle of friends and family you're the UFO person in your circle I empathize with you I mean I can't I can't tell you for me I'm a public person so it gets a you know it gets a little little bit of a wider uh wider hit in Las Vegas a couple of Ed editorial cartoons in the state's biggest newspaper one that had me with a a the first one had me with a butterfly net chasing a flying saucer and they they had one um where these it didn't show me but it had these alien Hitmen who had come to Earth it was called the marshmallow head Chronicles and these I had done a series on abductions and these alien Hitmen were coming to get me cuz I was spilling the beans and they had their ray guns looking at two gasoline pumps and um and they were yes of course they are Earth men but which one is George knap they were going to rub me out had the media critic he wrote that oh people are rushing home to see my UFO stories not because they're interested in Little Green Men but because they want to be there when I go bull Goose Looney right on the air I don't need this I don't need this I'm trying to have a life so I have tried to place a little bit of a distance between myself and the field but still I am working behind the scenes on some topics of that I hope will be of mutual interest and these two have been sullied by various ethologists in this emerging science uh Philip Corso is one of them you've all heard of him by now mentioned a couple of times earlier um I think he really is an important new source of information on this topic one of the highest ranking UFO whistleblowers ever certainly the only wh UFO whistleblower that I can think of that ever worked at the White House predictably though there was some overhyped promotion for his book and boy ethologists just couldn't wait to get their knives into him I first met Phil Corso in 1992 before anybody in the euphology field had ever heard of him before anybody in the ethology field had ever met him a friend of mine his name is Mark solder he's a journalist who now works for a program called American Journal he uh was working on a book about PS prisoners of War who'd been abandoned after the Korean War and he ran into Colonel Coro and and in the course of interviewing him about that topic learned about the

UFO stuff uh I also got to meet him through Mark solder we were talking about this a book deal at the time for various reasons the book was never written but I continue to have occasional correspondence with him and talk to Colonel Corso he had asked me to keep quiet about it U about what he had told me and I did until the hype about his book started coming out well just just before about a year before that happened uh myself and some colleagues went back to see him and and uh caught got an update on what he'd been up to got a lot of videotape of him subsequently I've been able to interview him again and I'm impressed by the guy um for those of you who don't know about his background he has a long and distinguished military career that is easily verifiable although there are some of our e ethological colleagues who want to dispute it anyway um got into intelligence work in 1953 he was assigned to the White House staff of Dwight Eisenhower worked for four years with the National Security Council was subsequently commander of the range Battalion at White Sands New Mexico he commanded the first nuclear missile Battalion in Germany and he served as Inspector General of the 7th Army but his most interesting assignment came in 1961 when his long longtime friend and Mentor Lieutenant General Arthur Trudeau selected Corso to head up the Army's foreign technology division Trudeau and and Corso were virtually Inseparable they they trusted each other impeccably uh immeasurably um while working under General Trudeau Corso says he was given the assignment of evaluating and exploiting pieces of alien material which Corso was told came from a crashed saucer in New Mexico among the items he says he saw and handled were a uh a piece of metal with really unique properties the atoms he said were all aligned he said it had a hardness and strength which could not be duplicated by human technology he said he saw a charred computer chip he saw photographs and reports concerning autopsies performed on alien bodies he was told the autopsies had been conducted at a special facility at Walter Reed hospital Corso and Trudeau farmed out this material they say to private labs to Government research Labs told them hinted to them that this had come from some sort of advanced Russian uh plane that had crashed although without spelling it out and told them to go to work and figure out what this stuff was I have some videotape of Colonel Corso we could put that first one in here now this this interview was uh toward the end of last summer you're saying these items came from somewhere they came from how do you know that Mar the fouts that's coming from New Mexico Roswell yeah Roswell well I think some came there might be another crash but these were came from New Mexico and Roswell especially and general trugo gave me the job of put of working out a program put these things out feed them to industry but there was Provisions Fe they could have the patents but they had to feed them out back to our our us as a competitive edge of the army and to the American people and the world of necessary the the number one was the integrated circuit number two in importance was laser cuz I had some laser instruments also then fiber optics came out of this the uh uh Imaging devices or night viewing devices came from this some of the work we did L magnetism in the icbms and uh came from this imagine the the scientists and technicians and the companies that worked on this stuff are not real happy with with your version of history no I haven't heard anything in fact I've heard from scientists at least a dozen of them since then and they're supported my everything in the book in fact GE I even told you I think that I was not interested in seeing UFOs I was all interested what was in those UFOs you know I told I'm not interested in seeing something fine here but I like to know what's inside that thing did you physically handle the artifacts from from oh yeah I had them they were in my possession what things did you have what what did you have I had immigrated a circuit like size of a quarter I had a bunch of wires colors would come out of it I didn't I KN I mean I would say wires I didn't know what they were I didn't know if they were WIS any how hard they actually well T I didn't know what they were they just getting light I had a piece of metal Adams were lined in it so tough paper thing you couldn't break it bended or anything I had super th nasty fibers that was uh there atoms were lined in you couldn't it you couldn't cut it and later on the nearest thing in this world that we founded that was a spider web there was a spider spin in atomic align the web you know people say uh military can't keep a secret there's no way a secret like this could be kept we kept a secret one way we had to keep the secret for two reasons one was a climate opinion within Island government as I said the other was within Island government we had enemies we would have been glad to destroy all this on this and and T Us's C so what we did I got the job of going developing a program which is discussed in book how was done and through this program which start feeding it out through industry but this was not known not on paper they went out as normal research and development proposals not to name something yeah you didn't put out a report that there some alien St fig out we put our regular research and development of a PO that came from somebody's brain and also this was known among a select few mostly combat officers head to head and came we we kept this among ourselves cuz otherwise we were certain that they would have destroyed our organization and we had a good organization General tudo pulled it together just a couple years before they would have destroyed our organization they were L at cooks and taking our budget away were you and your group ever able to determine where these things are from why they're here no we were not able to determine although one of the remiss things that I missed out on and I say this and I think the greatest gift God ever gave he created man in His image yeah we had the greatest artifact that they gave us was those bodies and we didn't do enough on those that partially I can take the blame I had the money I had the organization I had the people ad door and we didn't go far enough autopsies were done on bodies but not enough we didn't do enough how they functioned how their brain functioned and uh we came to a conclusion even in those days that these were the reason most foreign saers have failed is because our conclusion was that this being is part of the guidance system he's part of that saucer where do you suppose that stuff is now those reports those kind of reports I have no idea dur when I left the army they I was the one of the Men supposed to see that that nothing was stolen from the Army I they were in my foul what happened to them I've called some friends recently give some ideas where they might be to try to run them down but I don't know you know how the military operates the bone bag and the and the microfilm those days we micel film a lot of stuff and we had I don't I have no idea what happened the remember I've been gone almost 40 years now as I say people criticize me they say well you're cookie I well I'm in good company General Marshall general trudo John MacArthur V BR Albert wi Smith from I the only good company that's the company I'd rather be with those creeps those are all people that that knew about this they know about all this I'd rather be in that company than the ones criticized me so story have been extremely difficult but proving some of it hasn't been difficult at all it can certainly be shown he is who he says he is he worked where he says he worked and that uh he was certainly easily qualifies as one of the highest ranking UFO whistleblowers in history however Corso admits there is no paper trail to prove any of the UFO related research ever took place he told me in in 1996 that it was imperative the information be kept close to the vest so the operation wasn't discredited or co-opted by others in the Pentagon or others in the government uh what makes him credible to me is that he's told incredible stories before and has been proven right I told you that the the the guy who introduced me to him was investigating a book about PS three times Colonel Corso is has testified before Congress on P issues and at the time he was made his test testimony the things he were saying seemed absolutely incredible that we had left men behind that there had been a a secret War uh underway where we were uh testing uh we were flying overflying Soviet airspace and our Pilots had been shot down those things are now a matter of historical record at the same time before he was testifying uh he was thoroughly checked out by the FBI uh by Congressional staffers as well my congressional sources have told me that uh and some of my colleagues who that have traveled around the country to see former friends and fellow officers of his that he gets nothing but glowing reviews from everyone they all confirm that he and general Tau were very close that they kept things close to the vest and they also have said that Colonel Corso talked about this UFO stuff for many years uh so you know I tend to give him a a lot of u a lot of leeway uh the eup eological community however does not uh before Corso's book was even out long before his book was out ethologists were already taking po shots there's an English guy named Arman Victoria um and if he seems to specialize in the in these uh these hit pieces he started putting out stuff that Colonel Corso could be linked to segregationist STM Thurman wow Senator Thurman probably was a segregationist at one point in his political career he had probably had to be to get elected doesn't mean he is one now and as I recall he's the chairman of armed services and has served longer in the United States Senate than any person in American history so being linked to him I don't think is necessarily A Bad Thing uh later critics of Corso complained that Senator Thurman had turned on him now first he was too close to Thurman and then they're griping and bitching and moaning because Thurman was was backing away from him um what Thurman had done is withdraw his forward to Corso's book there's a lot of interent politics behind this but I'll just tell you uh the the way that his critics are pointing it is that Thurman had no idea this was going to be about UFOs he was shocked absolutely shocked when UFOs were mentioned in the book and that's why he pulled it back well Thurman knew all about it his staff knew all about it because people that I know have have interviewed him about it before the book came out uh what it was is sort of an embarrassment for him when it started getting a whole lot of a whole lot of press and some of the staff members some of his senior political advisers had not been in on the decision to okay that forward for the book so they had it pulled anyway don't read too much into that um one of the Roswell gurus blew off Corso because he supposedly claimed to be a member of mj12 absolutely untrue absolutely untrue some articles noted he was part of a secret society and this is the first one for me the shik shini Knights of Malta the shikin Knights of Malta according to columnists from back in the 50s were uh ex-military officers who were deeply suspicious of the CIA who is it you know a recent issue of saucer smear notes that Corso is in a legal fight with Hollywood agents look at this guy he's fighting with Hollywood agents he's in a lawsuit with Hollywood he's probably the first person to ever come to Hollywood and get in a fight with the studios or agents isn't he um what isn't known is that Corso at least the the people I know close to him has basically been robbed you know his book was on the bestseller list for eight weeks and and it's been you know all over the place he's got all kinds of publicity he's got dime one from the book uh he claims that there was apparently the story that's come out now is that there were a contract that he was shown but there were pages that weren't in it um so I heard I heard that Mr Burns his co-author is going to be speaking here at some point you folks if you're going to attend that thing you might want to ask him about how that deal worked out uh because that's the source of the lawsuit uh Phil class has just come out with his his newsletter he notes that in the book there are many exaggerations many errors in Corso's book there are there are errors I I happened to see the original manuscript and and while the claims were fantastic and incredible and Sensational a lot of the stuff that turned out in this book was not in that first one I don't know where it came from but it didn't come from Colonel Corso because some of the exaggerations about uh the impact on technology were not in the first one uh some of the inaccuracies are little picky things that only Phil class can dig out where the headquarters the eighth Army Air Force really was what base it was um you know those are errors but I don't know where they came from uh I I will tell you that uh that Colonel Corso I found him to be a a charming and articulate man with a pretty good memory and a feisty Spirit it has been a long time since some of these events happen so maybe memory could Cloud it a bit perhaps an overzealous Ghost Rider could could M murk up the waters a little bit but again as with crop circles as with Billy Meyer as with mj12 I caution you not to throw out the baby with the bathat I'm not here to tell you that everything that Colonel Corso says is true but a lot of it rings true and I consider him to be an important new source of information so at the at the worst keep an open mind in regard to him um now the way he's been treated is is not something unknown to me especially in dealing with Area 51 as you might imagine um you talk about your kneejerk reactions conspiracies and disinformation Area 51 certainly comes to mind you know I remember getting to sit in on a preview of the uh summer blockbuster Independence Day and we're sitting there and watching the movie and uh and they get to the point where the president is informed hey there really is an Area 51 and this is in Las Vegas so everybody's pretty hip to this this topic and uh and these guys in front of me are going see I told you there's an Area 51 and it's like you know why you needed a Hollywood Blockbuster to confirm this stuff I don't know but it was it was a humorous moment um you know today Area 51 is a subject of movies and documentaries and network features and and newspaper stories and magazine covers talk shows internet chatter tabloid fantasies and UFO debates uh Popular Science Popular Mechanics Aviation week the New York Times The Washington Post 60 Minutes NBC ABC Larry King nipon the BBC Italian German Australian networks Entertainment Tonight hard copy a current affair Unsolved Mysteries sightings encounters the Paranormal borderline haraldo Montel Williams artbell Chuck harder the xfiles and dozens of less influential media Outlets have chronicled the rise of a veritable Area 51 cottage industry including a research center and a viewers guide the Alin t-shirts and posters and buttons and bumper stickers videos and satellite images and even as we're going to see in a couple of minutes a Bob Lazar Christmas ornament Now ladies and gentlemen ladies and gentlemen 15 years ago Groom Lake was not even a burp on our Collective radar screen true there were some sporadic reports over the years in Las Vegas newspapers about this base out there along with some oblique references in certain UFO circles if you recall Falcon and Condor talked a little bit about a secret base uh in Nevada and there was something called the Aquarius document floating around but few people outside of Nevada or the inner Circles of euphology had ever heard of the place three things changed that first in 198 4 the US military initiated the illegal seizure of 89,000 Acres of public land around Groom Lake just took it and later asked for permission to take it second a UFO researcher named John leer started touting his belief that alien technology was being stored and tested out there and third Bob Lazar admitted his involvement in the secret effort to back engineer alien technology at a facility near Groom Lake For Better or Worse considering how everything has turned out I was instrumental in bringing all three of those developments to the attention of a larger public in light of all the folklore and fantasy and absolute nonsense and profiteering and Distortion and invective which have emerged as a result of those initial news reports I don't think it's exactly an achievement to brag about but it is mine nonetheless um concerning UFO allegations there are some things that we can conclude I think with some reasonable certainty saucer shaped craft have been witnessed at or near that facility since the 1950s more than two dozen former or current employees have told me as much over the years a much smaller number of witnesses claim to have seen alien beings at the base odd glowing craft have been photographed and videotaped in the vicinity of Area 51 that much is true uh last year I did a couple of update stories on Area 51 for anyone in the audience who's not familiar with the base or with Bob Lazar and maybe we can roll that tape right now well there's several uh uh actually nine uh flying saucers flying discs the interview that launched a thousand business ventures Bob Lazar's 1989 claims that he saw flying saucers housed and tested near Groom Lake caused ripples which are still being felt at least four movie projects dozens of screen plays a few books t-shirts and bumper stickers artwork a rock band a Las Vegas bar a viewers guide a research center countless news reports even a Bob Lazar Christmas ornament not bad for a place that until last year didn't officially exist the military now admits what the world already knew it has a quote operating location Lake but the Pentagon says the base Has No Name by denying the place has a name the defense department hopes to stall a lawsuit filed by former workers who claimed they were exposed to toxic chemicals there the lawyer who filed the suit thinks it's ridiculous you just can't have black places you can't have places that don't exist the government cannot create these secret enclaves in which it and it alone determines what laws will govern despite official denials the common name for the base has always been Area 51 we recently found this 1967 government map which lists that name subsequent Maps left the name blank we also found a 70s newspaper article in which the Pentagon mentions Area 51 by name what's it called today highlevel sources say the military uses the term score event to refer to it who runs the base the CIA built it for use in the U2 program this is rare footage taken from Groom Lake of some early tests current warning signs indicate it's an Air Force facility but all branches of the military have used it along with most major defense contractors the Common Thread has always been eg& G which has had the contract to operate the facility since the beginning what goes on there today plenty highly placed sources say the base employs about 1,800 people one of their main missions is to evaluate Russian defense systems equipment that's in the hands of unfriendly Nations like Iran and Iraq another program at 51 is the stealth helicopter although the technology isn't far along as for flying saucers the military admits it has built these unmanned craft it may not be a coincidence that the Air Force's only unmanned aerial vehicle Squadron is based at Nellis whatever is flying around out there still attracts visitors from all over the world it's still newsworthy in in Europe yes yes now um also in Europe a 51 is well known look how bright it's getting look at it now this 1989 home video of a glowing orb above Area 51 is the first but certainly not the last taken of odd objects in the Nevada desert scientist Bob Lazar said he knew where to set up his camera because he worked at Papo Lake south of Groom Lake but still inside Area 51 one Lazar said he saw nine flying discs of alien origin hidden in Hillside hangers there were nine total that I saw

each one being different like they had the uh assortment pack lazzar's controversial statement set off a stampede that continues to this day people come by the busload to groom Lake to watch the skies this is a classic Mothership appearance nearby The Rustic town of Rachel became a UFO hotspot the town's Bar and Grill became the little Ali in whose walls are adorned with alien drawings and poster sized photos of the Bas a full line of UFO merchandise including videos t-shirts anti-matter hats and ET welcome mats is for sale h of people come out here from all over from from all over from all over owner Joe Travis has given more interviews than he can remember to news crews from all over the world this crew from Switzerland for example arrived just this week public interest remains High even though the government has seized Vantage points once used to peer down on the base area 51 is off limits but people still see weird lights in the sky straight up straight up photos have captured glowing Globbs sombrero-shaped craft dual objects with rows of Lights things which make unusual Maneuvers if anything has increased in over the past uh months it's uh just just every week maybe two or three times a week people come in and say they have this this orange orange globe or orb whatever you want to call it today the base is hidden protected by motion detectors security forces and the groom mountains but also by the mountains of legal briefs filed by the Pentagon a lawsuit by six former employees alleges the military endangered workers by illegally disposing of hazardous waste at Area 51 the government has used National Security as grounds to stall the suit it denied the base existed denied it has a name even denied having such hazardous materials as jet fuel and car batteries although both Jets and cars have been photographed there as seen in this previously classified film President Clinton recently signed an order exempting the base from environmental laws but the lawyer who filed the suit doesn't think it will matter in the long run from the very beginning the military has adopted an absolutist position in this case that they and they alone will dictate what information the public receives I don't know if you can hear it because because of the video problem but uh this lawsuit that's going on with the workers who have have filed this stuff is is maybe as important in the long run um and we're not going to get into it tonight but may be as important in the long run as the UFO stuff allegations out there because uh the things that the government have has done to these to its own workers when it could have kept this thing quiet just by taking care of them giving them medical attention is absolutely unbelievable and the things that they have done in court to thwart any kind of uh any kind of scrutiny of just what going on you wouldn't believe it K at my urging uh joined as part of this lawsuit back when it was before a federal judge in Nevada it has since gone to the ninth circuit where that it's been a mixed bag of and is is going to be appealed to the whole uh ninth circuit not just a three judge panel but at each step of the way the government attorneys have been allowed to have behind the scenes meetings uh with the judge at which the other side is not present and they present something to the judge and and each of these cases so far the judge has sided with the idea of government secrecy I mean some of it is is so incredibly ridiculous the government says it would endanger National Security to reveal that there is gasoline or jet fuel out at that base at a jet base uh I'll tell you if the Russian spies can't figure that out then I don't think we have a whole heck of a lot to worry about from them anyway that's a subject for another time back to Lazar um I think we can say with some kind of uh some kind of believability that disc-shaped craft have been flying around out there for a long time Bill Hamilton who was up here before I was is one of the guys who's who's really done some solid work on proving that over the years and for that deserves a lot of credit uh I think it's also true that there are no flying saucers at or near Groom Lake today uh there are no alien beings at Area 51 there are no vast underground facilities at the base nor are there any hangers built into the hillsides of Papoose Lake three Witnesses I know of with Congressional uh tied to Congressional uh sources have been to the base in the past 3 years for inspections I've even briefed them before and after about what to look for where to go the hangers are not there whether they were ever there or not is a question that we can debate forever but they're not there now um and plus I think it would just make no sense for the military to hide aliens or alien technology when millions of people all over the world suspect as much and thousands of them make the Trek into the desert to try check it out for themselves conclusions about Bob Lazar are tougher to reach people tend to fall into one camp or another like all these other U eological questions we've been talking about and they religiously stick to their views no matter what evidence is presented to the other side and I will have to admit that I'm a little guilty on that score myself there are doubters who constantly brag about their diligence in exposing lazar's lack of credentials especially his lack of educational credentials let me just remind every everyone that in the very first report that we ever broadcast about Bob Lazar we said he cannot prove these CR these credentials we cannot find a single Professor we can't find a classmate we can't find a diploma we can't prove it so people who uh and Stan fredman friend of mine uh constantly bragging about I'm the guy who brought down Bob Lazar it's almost part of Stan's name now uh hi I'm Stan the guy who brought down Bob Lazar fredman um constantly harangs on this point uh and it's the baby with the bathwater thing if he doesn't have credentials can't prove he went to school anywhere throw it all out well I'm not sure that that's that's how I would treat it criticisms of lazar's story are many and many are very well deserved uh he is lacad isical about documentation he is indifferent to whether anyone including friends of his believe him or not uh he is uncooperative especially to anyone associated with euphology in fact I taped an interview this afternoon before I got on the plane with him just to have a special greeting to you folks it was like pulling teeth but we might see that a little bit later um he seemingly has little interest in helping anyone to prove his story one way or another uh there are a lot of gaps there are a lot of things in his story that don't make sense um but I think a lot of it makes too much sense to just completely dismiss it for me and for KV when we started out way back when in 1989 working on this stuff the key to his story was all always Los Alamos lab did he work at the lab if he worked at the lab and he worked on classified projects it at least made sense that he could be also be tabbed to work on a program in Nevada so that's where we started and I don't know if you know the history of this stuff but the rigma rooll that we went through with the lab lasted several years and we never really did get solid answers out of him proving he ever worked with Los Alamos has just been nearly impossible uh at first they denied that they had ever heard of him before when I contacted him later I produced a copy of the lab phone book that had his name in it and they just kind hemmed and hauled I produced a copy of the Los Alamos newspaper that had him listed as a lab physicist now they kind of hemmed and hauled still said they had no records after countless phone calls and letters in a couple of years I finally got the lab to tell me by phone that they'd found an ID number for him U but that didn't that he didn't work for them he worked for a subcontractor called Kirk Meer Kirk Meer proved to be even less Cooperative than than Los Alamos at first I got a guy on the phone a supervisor who told me yeah we've got records on Lazar yeah you can have them uh weeks went by I didn't hear from them didn't get the records I keep writing I keep calling uh my letters were unanswered they refused to take my phone calls lazara told me that Kirk Meer was a scientific Head Hunter company they'd fill Technical and scientific jobs at government Labs surely a company that makes its living by filling these kinds of positions would hang on to records of people that they send out to National Labs but apparently not because uh finally Kirk me said well we threw those records away it's too much time we don't keep them that long lazara's critics formally complained well he was never at Los Alamos uh now they say even if he was there well maybe he's working as a janitor not on classified stuff this is the kind of reason that Lazar doesn't like to cooperate with with ethologist he feels the critics would never be satisfied if he proves he works at the lab they say it doesn't prove he had a clearance if he could prove he worked on classified programs they say it still doesn't prove he was at S4 so if he could prove that it still wouldn't prove he worked on UFOs so what's the point is what he says for the sake of argument I think it can be proven that Lazar did work on classified projects in New Mexico I've interviewed three lab employees who remember him who say he was a physicist and that he worked on classified programs Joe vaninetti is the name of one of those guys he worked at Los Alamos He's listed in the same lab phone book with Lazar he later worked on the nuclear testing program in Nevada he says Lazar is telling the truth the other two employees agree but they didn't want their names used now what do the critics do with these guys they ignore them well he doesn't have a diploma so he couldn't have been there was he working at the lab I say yes if he did work there in classified programs it makes sense he went to school somewhere I know the guy he's technically a whiz kid I mean he amazes everyone who has ever been around him uh except for people in euphology circles who prefer to take Poots where did he go to school I really don't know I mean I have said this before since the very beginning I think it's the weakest part of his story I have pleaded with him as a friend Bob if you're lying about your educational background you would not be the first person to do it to get a good job tell me about it you can get through it and he hasn't taken me up on it I uh I have serious doubts about whether I mean just knowing the guy thinking of him sitting through classes at MIT taking tests writing term papers I just don't see it I really don't but I still am reluctant to that that does not mean I want to toss the whole darn thing out because there's a lot of other stuff that I think uh goes in his favor for example he knew when and where flights of disc-shaped craft would take place he took people out there three or four weeks in a row they got videotape of it you just saw some of it how did he know I think there's a new book out called Dreamland if you've read this thing it's it's pretty nasty and we'll talk about that if you want to in Q&A afterward but uh it suggests well maybe he was just running around he was running around in the desert and found it out for himself John leer was running around for 20 years on on uh on Area 51 stuff he never saw any of these things it was Lazar who took him out there told them what night they were going to take place and where they could see him from and he did it again and again how did he know he was also familiar with the small details about the operation of Area 51 that eg&g was the Prime cont contractor because that's where he said he was interviewed that they interviews employees at their particular building that special planes fly the employees into Groom Lake and the buses with blacked out windows are Al also used all that is true we all know that stuff now but we didn't know it before Bob Lazar said this stuff on air the electrical I an electrical engineer that I met who worked at Area 51 who is now part of this lawsuit uh arranged to meet with Lazar for a couple of hours asked him a series of questions which would have tripped up someone who had never been out there just the minuscule T kind of things where the employees eat how do you pay for your meals uh that sort of thing what the cafeteria looked like and he the the engineer said he was convinced that Lazar had been there other people now say that they've run the same kind of tests on Lazar and that he failed completely I don't know I don't know how you explain it another thing Lazar knew was the name Mike Thigpen Mike fpan works for something called the office of federal investigations which conducts background and Security checks from people who work at Nellis and the NADA test site funny little thing is no one had ever heard of the offi I hadn't heard of the ofi Bob had not heard of the ofi he thought it was an FBI guy who had come to interview him and had ruffled through the papers at his house and then he remembered something about ofi the ofi is not even listed in the Las Vegas phone book but Lazar remembered that Mike fig pen is the name of this federal agent we were able to track down this guy Thigpen find out yes there is something called ofi and yes they do do these kinds of background checks and yes this guy works for him how did he know Lazar passed a polygraph exam now there's a lot of people who seem to dispute this thing they say it was inconclusive this book for one that I talked about it's inconclusive well it's not inconclusive I first asked him to take this test he didn't hesitate a bit we took him to a guy a polygrapher a polygrapher who uh spent all of like 10 minutes getting ready now Bob was nervous about it he was nervous because there had been threats on his life um allegedly there had been one attempt on his life they had put gun guns to his head they had done things to his head they had uh uh shot him up with strange stuff made him drink strange substances and uh and he was obviously nervous well this guy he did two tests on him wham bam the first one he thought well he might be deceptive the tchon he said this is inconclusive he suggested the polygrapher suggested that we try another guy the guy we tried is a polygrapher named Terry tavernetti and he runs a corporate security operation for a major Las Vegas hotel he's a former Orange County police officer he's an experienced and licensed polygrapher he took his time with Bob got to know him went through the story went through the questions put him through the tests and he says in tavernetti says to this day even talking about it he got chills as he was going through the test because he realized this guy is not lying Bob Lazar passed that test tavernetti gave the in fact he passed four of them tavernetti gave the results to another polygrapher who agreed no question there's no dis seat another guy they passed it on just as a double check and the guy said well maybe he's relating something that someone else told him just as a maybe and then someone else said maybe we should have more tests a fourth polygrapher but the guy who did the tests four of them said he passed people blow that off the people who don't want to hear it blow it off I don't think it's fair to do so the most one of the most obvious problems of uh Bob's uh uh background is his involvement with illegal prostitution now the highest profile witness and the high highest profile story you've ever done comes to you and says oh by the way I'm involved in an illegal brothel and uh coincidence has it it's right down the street from your house only Lazar could pull something like this you know and my professional life flashed before my eyes and I'm trying to think what to do um I said we've got to do this story now someone's going to find this out we have got to do it we've got to go on the air you've got to admit it and I really screwed him is what I did because he trusted me enough to go ahead and do it uh as Bob tells the story there was some undercover police officers who knew about this who' had been involved with this this hooker who was running this thing a woman who by the way had been a prostitute since she was 12 years old but who somehow been corrupted by Bob Lazar um anyway the police were involved and I called some cops I said this is going to come out some of your guys know about it we don't have to do that part of it deal apparently not because when it went on the air cops raided the place busted Bob big stink of course all my journalism colleagues in Las Vegas just loved this story they never gave any attention to Bazar whatsoever until he got into trouble and they could stick it to me um you know so this this is kind of a mess and U and I've tried to figure out how I would react if I weren't so intimately involved with the story and I guess you know I could say that uh um suffice to say he he went public with his involvement we all know smart people have done dumb things you know if Einstein have been busted for drunk driving I don't think it would mean the theory of relativity is thrown out the window there's no question that Lazar violated the law that doesn't mean he never worked for the government uh anyone who knows him knows that he is a rebel he is a yeah I just realized what I said there yeah that makes a lot of sense forget who I'm talking to I mean anyone who knows this guy knows that he is a rebel he's a loner he is an anti-authority guy uh he has a pension for racing jet cars on city streets uh he fires off machine guns he stages these Outlaw Outlaw firework shows every year in the desert that are a real hoot he likes hookers this is all true on his house he has a pirate skull and and crossbones flag over his house house this is the kind of guy he is um so it is not unusual to say that he he could get involved in something like this why would the Navy hire somebody like that for a secret program one possible answer comes to mind a lot of his critics don't like it but but if it fits you wear it I mean he might have been the kind of person they were looking for someone who was technically qualified but who could be discredited if necessary or maybe the discrediting the thing was the with the whole purpose all the way along that was what they had in mind as a way to uh discredit the whole idea of UFOs at Area 51 or anywhere else the other telling point about the prostitution thing hit me when I was reading some of the court records on his case he was originally facing six felony counts not a whole lot of people get hit with six felonies for prostitution in Las Vegas in fact no one but the parole and probation people really wanted to him to do hard time I mean he was looking at up to 60 years in prison they didn't like him because in his interview with them and the information he was giving he was telling them the same story he has told you or I where he went to school where he worked and they couldn't verify it they were mad because they couldn't verify it welcome to the club um when the judge sentenced Lazar he noted that the court had had a lot of trouble verifying Bob's background I mean Bob claimed on the on these papers that he'd work for the Navy out there at place called S4 if he were a phony if he was running a con a UFO con or cashing in that was the time to come clean because if they could prove that he was lying he was going to do some serious hard time he didn't he stuck to the same story we got a letter introduced in the court from Congressman Jim bilb whose office had had been helping me all the way along trying to get records from for about Bob and his background and uh and the congressman's letter clearly stated this is one of the strangest cases their office had ever dealt with and all the agencies it had contacted for lazar's records had stalled every step of the way they hadn't said they didn't have them we're looking for them still looking there's also the whole thing about the W2 form and the controversy I don't think we need to get into that but I'll tell you that there's some weird stuff that happened with that W2 I had originally got him to request it months and months went by and all of a sudden it showed up a lot some other people John Andrews and others have have done some tracking uh there's pretty good indication that that this was a government employer number on there that no longer used the irs's official version is well we uh we really can't tell if we've ever used that employer number or not I mean they can tell you what you had for lunch last December and they don't know if the government has ever used this employment number or not so you know the story told by Bob is consistent with the stories told by a lot of other people dating back almost 40 years consistent with a lot of what we know about Roswell and other alleged crashes if you take Lazar out of the area 51 story uh it's still a story there are too many other Witnesses who have claimed knowledge of the program but if you keep him in the story and if you can discredit him you cut a wide swath across all euphology you cast doubt on the crash saucer Theory you forever Wipe Out the silly rumor about UFOs and Nevada desert you get in a shot at mjl2 and the secret government while you're at it and you scare the Dickens out of anyone else who might be willing to come forward and talk about secret programs that they've worked on which is exactly how Lazar's legal troubles have been interpreted by other people who work on those kinds of projects in Nevada and I know because they've told me and in this sense the people who suspect the area 51 story to be disinformation may be partially correct but if so it did not the disinformation didn't originate with Bob it didn't uh originate with John leer as some have suggested by picking Bob for this program and letting him see these documents and messing with his mind they had a perfectly built-in safety valve discredit him you give the mainstream press another reason to vilify UFO you give various UFO luminaries an excuse to attack it as well you give The Lunatic Fringe something to embrace and embellish which they have done with great Vigor at Area 51 you know the milk carton kids are all taken out there now for secret experiments uh and you almost guarantee that no official in his right mind will ever get anywhere near this mess to find out what's really going on anyway we're going to move on now and I don't have a comfortable transition oh oh wait a second we do have we have another tape this is something I taped a while back about Bob Lazar you know all the rumors that people tell about him he's dead he's uh running a drug lab um I asked him to put this on tape and let you know that he's okay he's alive and well and live in Las Vegas and and here it goes I've been underground people have been hiding me out shifting from Hideout to Hideout and the government's been on my tail uh I've been killed you've been killed uh you name it I've I've heard unbelievable stories radiation detection is is one of the things that you know I spend my time with and uh I design repair and and sell different types of radiation detectors in fact one of the things people thought I did was develop film badges I don't know where they came up with that idea but I I don't do that the main problem I have with the UFO Community is number one here are people that essentially their income is derived from UFOs and that's the number one thing I have problems with so essentially for them to make money and support themselves they have to come up with ridiculous stories or at least prove that they're at the Forefront of knowledge you're dealing with a bunch of people that uh are essentially a collection of Psychics astrologers people that believe every other person on the earth is is an alien that there's reptilians and and all these different species that live underground aliens that walk around the street and just hassle people to annoy them believe me I'm not part of that I don't deal with those people and that's uh you know essentially what happened with Jack Val when he came down here uh you know wanted to know the UFO story came down with his uh movie producers and uh you know his theory has been uh Space Crafter from other dimensions and things like that and I essentially laid it out well this is you know essentially what I was exposed to and uh you know how the crafts work and things like that it has nothing to do with other dimensions and uh you know

ever since then jacqu hasn't had a very high opinion me but uh that's essentially carried throughout the UFO Community if you contradict what they say uh you know again they you know they make their income off off of something like that so they have to be the ones that know what's going on uh a lot of attacks on you personally a lot of attacks on the story a lot of disbelief uh media people UFO people um you stick by the story here now you've had a coup it's been a couple years absolutely it's coming up on four years that's that's what happened it's interesting that nobody from the military nobody representing Nellis or any of those folks have have ever said anything about it they probably can't uh well I there hasn't been much word officially on it at all I in fact I don't think there's been much word officially as far as denial they just say they have no comment right uh any any progress over the last ensuing couple of years in verifying parts of your background are you still actively pursuing that no I don't actively pursue that at all I really people think I'm essentially a researcher Chase UFO stories or you know gather information I have nothing whatsoever to do with it now before I became interested interested involved in the project um I was one of the greatest disbelievers on Earth I mean I'm I'm sure I could have topped Phil class I would have had nothing to do with it and uh essentially other than the equipment and technology that I was exposed to I really don't carry my beliefs much further than that you think those UFOs or those flying saucers of the discs the equipment that you said you saw are still out there I doubt that equipment is still there there's been so much coverage there are so many people looking into that area you know and civilian and otherwise that uh they had ample time to move things and where it is I don't know but I find it difficult to believe that anything is still going on okay go you know about the new one right apparently you I John le Are all uh Shriners or 32 level Masons whoever they are uh there are no aliens that uh it is the Shriners that actually have the Flying Saucer technology and uh we came up with the alien story to confuse the public and uh I don't remember the rest of the story but it's really exciting that's the end of the tape so next time you go to a parade and you see the Shriners and those funny hats and little cars uh I don't know whether we should take a break now do you need a break or you want to keep going keep going keep going keep going I think the the message oozing out of U oozing out of Groom Lake and the Bob Lazar story is is for me at least not only the UFO angle but the the lawsuit angle is that uh no matter how much World conditions change the Berlin Wall Falls communism fails the Soviet Union collapses we have no strategic enemy anymore no matter how much that changes the military mindset is not going to change because uh each year they've done more and more to increase the security out at Area 51 seized more land uh roughed up more people installed different kinds of security measures and it's it's completely unbelievable I don't know if Bob uh if if Bob is for real 100% or not I know there are some problems with this story and legitimate questions that have been asked and raised by by good researchers but I just caution you again like with Phil corso and the other thing you don't throw the baby out with the bath water uh because this could be a really important story um as I was saying the message oozing out of Groom Lake is sort of what uh led me to think start thinking about Russia uh because clearly we were not getting any kind of breakthroughs from our government I know a lot of a lot of us hope that someday the government's going to open up the doors and the saucers in there in there and go ahead and take a peek but uh I don't see it happening it doesn't at least from what's happening in Nevada it doesn't seem to be a trend in that direction so I started thinking about Russia in 1993 I was fortunate enough to uh slip through a window of opportunity in Russia the political climate was just right allowing for unprecedented access to previously hidden information about UFOs on a lot of topics a lot of people were going over there gaining access to to classified stuff I said afterward that I after 1993 that first trip that I feared that the window of opportunity might close um and in 1996 I returned to Russia and my fears were confirmed although not for the expected reasons the the window I would say is not closed all the way but it's stuck and I think it's going to take a tremendous effort one way or another to get it to move um I took the this most recent trip at the invitation of a British Broadcasting crew they wanted to put together documentary and they weren't satisfied with just staying in Moscow we traveled the length and breadth of the country and I love Russia but I'm not sure I'm ready to go back there anytime soon um if you want to ceue up the not D but e eape uh the American CIA funds something called the foreign broadcast information service this service monitors foreign newspapers and media reports and then summarizes them for consumption by us intelligence agencies the fbis reports are not classified but but they are not widely accessible still there have been some references in Western press and and in UFO circles to some of the most interest interesting incidents that have been summarized by this intelligence gathering service in 1993 I was unsuccessful in attempts to contact the most important players that were mentioned in some of these cases but this time around things worked out if you want to roll the tape this distinguished looking man is named eigor molev Colonel general molev for seven years he was the chief of staff for the entire Soviet air defense he was the number one guy in the entire Russian Air Force in March of 1990 General mv's forces around Moscow encountered something of high strangeness molev collected all the data and sent a report to the Kremlin the events were not reported in Russia for a full year and then were picked up later by the FB to my knowledge I'm the first American journalist to interview MV about these events according to His official report there were more than 100 visual observations of UFOs in the Moscow area on a single night um the air forces were placed on alert planes were scrambled the objects were picked up on several radar in the air and on the ground war planes attempted to get close to these things but they couldn't the speeds were described as many times greater than any known aircraft the objects could appear and disappear at will now this is the Russian military that's gathering this information general mv's report stated quote I'm not a specialist on UFOs but they seem completely devoid of inertia they had somehow come to terms with gravity the movement was without sound with startling maneuverability at present time terrestrial machines could hardly have such capabilities the original newspaper article about this report in Russia stated that General mv's documents offer quote substantial confirmation that UFOs piloted by intelligent beings have been visiting Russia in our interview General molev was reluctant to take it much further he conceded that the remarks attributed to him were accurately reported that UFOs were truly unknown he said there's no way that it could be stealth or some other Advanced aircraft but that that's as far as he'd go he said he had no knowledge of any other UFO incidents uh he wasn't really interested in pursuing what happened further then he conceded that his forces had been given a standing order that UFOs are not to be fired upon because quote they may have tremendous capacities for retaliation other words they could kick our ass I think besides he says his Planes could not get close enough to do anything even if they wanted to now remember this is the same Russian Air Force that when that guy Roost flew his uh bip plane or whatever it was into the Kremlin oh what was it and they were all upset about that but they don't care that there's a hundred unidentified amazing machines flying over Russia don't shoot at him molev insisted that he was in a position to know just about everything about foreign and incursions into Russian airspace he's the boss if it happened he should know about it yet he claimed ignorance about a whole raft of other UFO cases and we're going to roll the tape and take a look at some of them right now first film you're going to see was uh something that was kept in a KGB Vault for 25 years it was finally obtained with from by ABC news with my assistance the Triangular object uh was spotted by a propaganda film shooting over lvia in 1968 they estimated it was 7 mil up so it had to be enormous they scrambled planes to go after it before they got there though it went behind a cloud and quote disappeared the resident Russian skeptic said uh it's a French weather balloon and it's true the French did have weather balloons stop it for a second pause it French did have weather balloons like that but ABC checked and no such balloons had been launched anywhere near that time period anywhere in that area now you can roll the next one this next one may 1982 a military survey team working in the cola Peninsula saw this spinning object we slowed it down a little bit so you can get a another look at it I have seen similar drawings um from other parts of the world and to my knowledge no one has come up with an explanation for that anyone got one jelly jellyfish swamp gas uh this next thing you're going to see is a a fuzzy kind of a photo that was snapped in the eural mountains in 1976 a snapshot as I said is kind of fuzzy and doesn't really show much as so many UFO photos don't and the hunter later offered a more detailed drawing that he gave to to the Russian Ministry of defense and that's where the files that I found the man you're about to see is a decorated Russian pilot a lieutenant colonel who said he encountered a UFO and tried to intercept it he told the superiors that the UFO there he is he told the superiors at the UFO shot out a beam of Light which disabled his plane he bailed out and survived and kept his mouth shut for several years his story was finally told in a UFO magazine in Russia the photo you're going to see is from defense archives uh the this Mig pilot said he had a midair collision with the UFO which damaged his wing uh this next photo is of a brush fire it was taken by three army officers who say the fire was sparked by a UFO that landed and then zoomed away not all that spectacular next when there um two school boys at a town north of Moscow saw this UFO they ran home get a camera came back captured a series of eight really kind of amazing photos controllers at the Leningrad airport saw one then two stop this for a second they saw one then two then three unusual objects hovering over a nuclear plant the reaction uh and the audio and video was captured on tape and acquired by ABC go ahead I think we have audio here no well maybe it's popping up no audio huh no audio well I'm I'm sorry about that I don't know what the where the audio went but anyway what they figured out was these things whatever they were they had never seen objects if you stop that um they had never seen objects that could go from Z to 2,000 mil hour that fast um I didn't Grill General molev about any of these specific cases because it was pretty obvious to me that he wasn't going to tell me anymore um as he said repeatedly he was in a position to know about this stuff but he didn't and so if he was telling the truth it meant the information was routed elsewhere uh if he wasn't being entirely truthful it might be had good reasons uh for not telling me the truth and as I learned over the next few days of the 96 trip uh both possibilities had Merit following those first fbis accounts about mv's reports there were follow-ups with even higher officials the deputy Minister of Defense General Ivan treak commander-in-chief of Air Defense Forces and general of the army tried to throw a little cold water on a UFO mini hysteria over after these incidents he told a newspaper that mv's report was ACC accurate however most UFO reports can be explained away as misidentifications then he admitted some of the UFOs had been photographed that they could be seen visually and on ground radar but not detected on Airborne radar he said if special Russian tracking stations were to be built chances are the Russians would see a lot more of these objects and he admitted that this there is a standing order for Russian Pilots to leave the UFOs alone we made substantial efforts to to get an interview with Minister Trekhlebov both by phone during the trip and before we finally spoke to him by phone and he told us he'd already spoken about this matter he couldn't understand why we wanted to ask about it we said we need video we need video dude and uh he uh said I'll check with the ministry of Defense he did we called him back he said that in their opinion uh they didn't it's not in anyone's best interest to talk about this any further at this time perhaps in a year or two which is pretty much where we left it now this is a far different attitude from what I encountered just a couple of years before and uh and it allow me to set the stage a little bit what it was like in 1993 let's go to the next tape this should be yeah this should be F in 1993 when we went there uh things were busting out all over in Russia I mean it was an incredible time dramatic historical events unfolding every every uh where you looked um and the UFO reception we got was much much different bring it's cold it's nasty and this is the kind of stuff that we see almost every day this is in Red Square Communists are on one side the uh the people been Dem believing in democracy on the other and there's a whole bunch of cops in between it was a pretty nasty time um there were clashes between those who supported the reforms those who long to return to Communism every day there were Mass mail uh meetings every day protests there were bombings that were never reported here in the west as you'll see there are there are pictures of troops on the Move in down Moscow we had come up on the Communist side of the demonstration and they didn't like us one bit uh so it was an incredible time to be there on the day we arrived Boris Yeltsin had seized control of the broadcast Airwaves on the day we left uh the their Parliament was meeting to impeach him and all kinds of stuff had gone on in between a wonderful time to be there whether or not you're looking for UFOs or not uh today however the scene has changed at least as of last year no more mass demonstrations no more open unrest but things are bad probably far worse you can stop the tape down uh the gap between rich and poor has grown organized crime is virtually out of control over there the Communists have made a comeback you've got these scary nationalists talking about the return of the USSR Yeltsin has a very tenuous grip on power his health is very bad um the Russians don't know what is going to happen from one day to the next and many are frightened and I think that was reflected in what we found in searching for us UFO stuff our success hinged on uh basically one man he's a Russian physicist named Dr Nikolai Cenov he had been a national security adviser to the Russian Parliament as well as to their Academy of Sciences I met him in Las Vegas in 1992 started asking about UFOs whether he knew anything over there nah never given any thought and then as we had a beer or two you know I do know a guy at KGB who talked about it and I do know this guy and this guy so we set him up with an office said go find it and the directive that we gave him the one that really worked for us was don't go to ethologists not that there's anything wrong with ethologists but we'd like to find people who are in a position to know about this stuff but who have never been interviewed before no one who's been on hard copy uh not Marina Papovich or or any of these folks who are perfectly good sources of information we wanted to find something new and that's exactly it's because of that rule I think it opened a lot of doors for us um in fact U it allowed us to gain access to Ministry defense files that no one has ever seen before uh incidents like these November 89 three military pilots in pursuit of a fast-moving UFO were exposed to intense beams of hot light from an object which zoomed away at incredible speed the pilots were hospitalized became virtual invalids and died of symptoms similar to radiation poisoning June 1980 mosco dozens of military personnel observed a bright egg-shaped UFO perform high-speed Maneuvers and incredible turns appearing disappearing and hovering one officer got within 50 m of an object but was repelled by something like a force field again this is from the Russian Ministry of Defense classified files June 1980 the same date the town of vul 20 Witnesses in seven separate groups reported UFOs including a luminous fear that split into two objects one of the two hovered over the town emitting a bright beam of light another object flew in a zigzag pattern Auto engines and radio signals on the ground below were knocked out the same objects were seen six more times over the next four months in the same area but the most dramatic incident of all occurred on the night of October 4th 1982 over the village of yovo in the Soviet Ukraine dozens of witnesses most of them high-ranking Military Officers reported a UFO freefor all in the skies for a period of nearly 4 hours some of the objects were triangular some were elliptical some changed colors others changed shapes some split into smaller objects some merged into larger objects they blinked on blinked off performed outrageous Maneuvers for 4 hours all of the witnesses statements were collected stamped and classified and then sent to Moscow with great urgency and the reason for that is the UFOs were maneuvering over a nuclear missile base long range nuclear missiles included in the classified report was the most disturbing statement of all provided by Communications Commander davidovich katsman who reported that while the UFOs hovered over the missile base the launch control panel was somehow activated in his words it was a spontaneous illumination of all displays and someone or something entered the precise control codes which enabled the missiles in other words the missiles were ready to launch but then the UFOs disappeared control panel went back to normal an investigation by the ministry of defense was launched almost immediately they came in took everything apart they looked at all the other equipment all over the base no other equipment had been affected no other equipment had ever been affected like this before they could find nothing wrong with the control panel They concluded that UFOs Were Somehow responsible for what occurred as if to send a message that perhaps this is your most important and powerful weapon system but it doesn't impress us all that much that same message as you may know was delivered to the US military in 1975 a series of overflights of us bases along the Canadian border nuclear missiles some say the launch control code the launch codes were interfered with though contrary to what's been said publicly by the governments of the US and Great Britain and Russia and others UFOs do carry clear implications for National Security however with the end of the Cold War we've seen no change in the attitudes of our governments on these topics for decades they've Justified excessive secrecy under the manle of National Security they couldn't tell us what's going on but it's all been for our own good and now uh they're still mum on the subject you want a roll tape as I said uh same one as I said uh working with Nikolai caprano opened a lot of doors for us it's coming up and probably the most important door that had opened for us was the one that led to the modest apartment of a man named Boris sov uh he was a retired red army colonel from a distinguished military family his grandfather had been a personal guard of the Zar in the late '70s sakov was one of an elite handful of officers charged with adapting IND Industrial Technologies to military purposes his area of

concentration was radio waves and radio astronomy and as we will learn the Soviet military had long been monitoring UFO activity but some spectacular sightings hold this for just a second spectacular sightings in the late 70s on the Russian Finnish border had prompted more direct action a bigger study 1978 Colonel sakov says an amazing order was issued by the Soviet Ministry of Defense it went out to every military unit in the vast Soviet Empire Army Navy Air Force everyone and sakov words this order transformed the entire USSR into one gigantic UFO listening post simply put the order said every UFO sighting every UFO encounter every unexplained aerial object every ball of light every anomalous object you see has to be fully investigated the witness is interrogated collect all this stuff into a report and send it to Moscow and all of that stuff went to the ministry of defense and Colonel sakov who placed in in charge of the study a study like this can never be done again he says and there's a good reason for that one is the USSR the whole country was involved it no longer exists and two this study lasted for 10 full years thousands and thousands of reports poured in he saw the best and he shared them with us um go ahead and roll this tape we'll hear from Colonel sakov why the study had been undertaken in the first place the military was interested for three reasons one because of the unpredictable movement of the UFOs the quick changes in course angles two because of the velocity of the UFO movements and three because UFOs observed visually could not be seen on radar and those seen on radar could not always be seen visually the military thought that if the secrets of the UFOs could be discovered they would be able to win the competition against our prospective enemies in terms of velocity materials and visibility stealth to build their own stealth Pilots recognized UFOs as a threat to them there were 40 episodes in which they shot at UFOs an order was given to Pilots to chase UFOs and shoot at them but when the pilots tried the UFOs speeded up in three cases the pilots would lose control and crash two of the pilots died after that Pilots received a new order when they see a UFO change course and get out all the pilots agreed October 5th 1983 I was ordered to immediately go to the Ukraine to an ICBM base the reason for the urgency was a report from the base commander to the chief of the general staff on October 4th from 4: to 8:00 p.m. the base observed a UFO at the same time on the control panel they received an order to prepare the launch of the icbms the lights lit up and the launch codes enabled the miss dozens of officers witnessed this colon sakov added somewhat cryptically that the ministry of Defense study of UFOs is still going on although on a lesser scale and that quote it's unlike the one in the United States but he wouldn't say a whole lot more about that I uh all kinds of fascinating uh uh incidents from those files I brought a lot of them here but I don't I can't think of a practical way to show them to everyone um the real significance I think though the ministry of Defense file is is not in the specifics of the individual cases but rather in the scope of the overall study I mean this was Russia's Pentagon which had ordered this long-term comprehensive UFO study for the express purpose of exploiting what they considered to be alien technology they wanted to build a stealth and kick our butt uh we're not talking about ethologists here we're talking about the ministry of defense and that's very serious stuff it was vitally important to the crew I was traveling with in 1996 to try to find Colonel sakov again I wanted to interview him I mean I mean he he was the key witness for what they hope to be their documentary and I was curious as well as what had happened to him because I knew that he had taken a beating in the Russian press after we came back blabbed our mouths off and some euphology Publications about what we had found it got back to Russian UFO circles and he took a terrible pounding there were still communist oriented newspapers there there was a particular euphology who was not interviewed by us and it was kind of mythed about it who really took off on Colonel sakalava and on some of the other who had helped us Nikolai caprano our friend had told us if this had happened 5 years ago if this had happened 10 years ago 5 years ago we would have been imprisoned if this had happened 10 years ago we would have been shot um and I had also heard that Colonel sakal had been having health problems so in our first few attempts to reestablish contact with him we're told he don't want to talk about UFOs anymore um and he didn't need any more heat and be besides his health was not that good both both things turned out to be true excuse me we were never never able to talk to him he avoided us the whole time we found out later that he had been admitted to a hospital uh he is still alive but not in very good good health even more telling though in this trip we were unable in 1996 to hook up with Nikolai who'd become something of a friend of mine we'd been corresponding for a period of four years telephone conversations all the time working on a real fun project he wouldn't come to the phone um his family at first said he was gone and then he uh just never hooked up and I don't know to this day what the story was there the idea that Russians are studying UFOs in order to learn stealth technology was intriguing to me because of the allegations about some kind of connection to stealth and UFOs that have been raised in connection with Area 51 similar allegations have been raised about a connection to SDI or Star Wars technology and through our contacts with the the Russian Academy of Natural Sciences we interviewed a man named Dr ril abeno Who was and perhaps is still the one of the chief science stist working on Russia's anti-satellite weapons program their version of SDI he had the highest possible security clearances most of his adult life so high that for most of his life he wasn't even able to use his real name if he wanted to publish something scientific he had to use an alias Dr a renco told us in no uncertain terms UFOs are real that we the Americans meaning and the Russians have known their real for decades and that the information has been incorporated into SDI research roll the tape SD research he even demonstrated what he said was a tabletop model of a plasma beam weapon for us and I didn't think it was all that impressive but other people I'd seen this thing this blue plastic thing sitting on the table and wondered what it was and he pulls out the razor blade and puts it on top and uh gives us a little demonstration I'm still not sure whether this is significant or not if there's somebody scientific in the audience that could tell us but showed us what it did it wasn't plugged into anything either well then he told us about UFOs the first time I saw UFOs was in 1959 I saw it with radar as it was orbiting Earth in 1959 the first good Radars were made we could see several thousand kilomet we could see what was happening around the earth at the time sat ites were easily countable but we also saw Vehicles whose technical characteristics we can't match even now we saw tens of these in 1959 entering and leaving Earth's atmosphere surely the existence of these UFOs caused problems for the US defense system you were faced with separating aggressive vehicles from the unknowns are aliens and UFOs real for me and my colleagues that isn't even a question I know this government has many programs on this the information about UFOs helps us manufacture plasma beams for use in Our Star Wars the weapons of the aliens we call them both uh a Dr Arenco and Colonel sakov told us the military studies of UFOs were still underway with the help of Nikolai the first time around anyway we met with a man who was currently is still in charge of the ongoing study we first had an agreement that we wouldn't use his name uh but later he's gave me the permission to do so which is kind of uh in congruous with everything else we saw during the 96 trip his name is

Colonel Alexander plaxen he's an Air Force officer managed to get copies with his help and Colonel sakov of documents that are still classified as opposed to a lot of the other stuff which has been Declassified documents that are still classified about Russian UFO studies what they reveal is this is an ongoing effort it is high level it is dead serious by the Russian military and the documents there are a lot of references to American euphology that makes me believe that they are monitoring developments in eup around the world it doesn't mean that they believe it's all real it just shows that they're paying attention to it um it's not even a matter of discussion whether UFOs are real yes they acknowledge many or misidentifications but they're focusing on how these things work so they can apply it to Military and perhaps later civilian technology the name of the ongoing study in 93 was thread 3 uh one enlightening section of papers dealt with Russian cosmonauts in space and it also speculated on American astronauts uh they the Russians seem to think we ran into something on the moon which is a reason that we didn't go back for so many years they also detail Yuri Gagarin claimed that he had seen something in space and would speak about it more his first guy in space would speak about it more if given permission the second according to these documents the second guy in space a cosmina TV took along a film camera and he had a whole array of these devices that he could see outside the capsule dancing around he brought back some some film footage and we got the see one one uh one frame of that film it shows seven brightly lit objects out there also in the classified documents as I said um uh several references to things that were seen on the Moon by us astronauts um and how the information had been removed from NASA's public files uh we did meet with Colonel plaxen this time 1996 again thread 3 had ended but another uh study called group 22 had replaced it on a lesser scale he says that uh he has not been told to be quiet he's written even articles about anomalous lights as opposed and plasma balls as opposed to UFOs um we wondered how long these Studies have been going on found another guy one guy in the country who could answer that question his name is Valerie budkov Dr bikov has been mentioned subsequently In Articles here in the west he had been trained at uh however before we approached him I don't think any other Western journalist had talked to him he'd been trained um at the Moscow Institute of Aviation where the Russian space program was built you want to know about the idea of Crash saucers uh whether or not uh how the Russians view Roswell this was a guy who had some answers we can roll this tape his mentor was a guy named coralv the father of the Russian space program and he asked him he come to come to uh speak to him about Stalin and UFOs corov told me that in 1948 he was invited to the Kremlin to see Stalin this was after the events in New Mexico and after the death of Captain mantel Stalin brought Koff into a room where all the materials were spread on a table western periodicals books articles UFO reports from the Soviet Union information from special channels in the US Stalin wanted to know what did Koff think about the material concerning Roswell and UFOs corov asked to take the materials home to study them and was told no he had to work there when corov finished the work Stalin asked him again his opinion corov said the phenomenon is real they do not appear to be dangerous to our country they are not manufactured in the states or any other country and the time will come when it must be further studied Stalin thanked him and said the same opinion was shared by other Specialists we know that the US Air Force possesses plenty of material about UFOs we know the US Navy also has plenty of material we know about special orders given to keep all of the material secret when curious people ask for the materials they are told they're not there for the near future the most interesting materials will be kept secret the owners of the material don't let it out stop it well that was then oh the guy looks like Carl Malden though doesn't he uh That Was Then This Time Around same kind of a story um we met with him again he was eager to promote a new book that he's got that he wanted promoted in the west but he had a totally different view about Roswell I make that views actually he had several of them he said it might have been a saucer but it was man-made by former Nazi scientists that we had down there in New Mexico he said the Russians had done the same thing uh he said more likely it might have been a V2 missile with the from White Sands that it was carrying green monkeys not alien bodies um it was just a totally different attitude from from the last time we we had seen him in um it's it remains very curious to me uh you know American debunkers have provided air cover for for scientists who don't want to study UFOs by poo pooing the entire subject without the benefit of doing a lot of research um we found our Russian Expedition proved I think Beyond any doubt that such a position is morally and scientifically bankrupt we're going to roll the tape again we had the opportunity to meet with Russia's Premier skeptic a scientist named Julie platov he works at something called The Institute for ter Ral magnetism within the Russian Academy of Sciences that's him Dr platov informed us of the history of official UFO studies in Russia he says the National Academy of Sciences there began formal studies in the 70s that 10 different scientific institutions were involved that thousands of Case Files have been compiled along with photos and drawings like these and there is General agreement that the topic is worthy of study uh in our 1993 meeting he showed us a bunch of this stuff he said he was a friendly skeptic by that he agrees that 90% of UFO sightings are probably misidentifications but he said that uh that is not they're not fully explainable and it doesn't rule out the possibility of extraterrestrial visitations uh the some of the photos he had were pretty good one case in particular had been reported in the west here uh some witnesses had seen a UFO land on a frozen lake and take off they left behind this large circular formation on the ice sort of a Russian version of crop circles I guess uh hard evidence if you will the case remained unexplained as far as platov was concerned He also mentioned that Russians had seen dozens of standard type crop circles you can stop it over the years um and he summed up his attitude by saying that science should be interested in pursuing The Unexplained that the prospect of ET life is very important but that we must follow the evidence where it leads even if it gets under some really weird territory which is the kind of response you'd like from our scientists you know who who won't who won't touch this because they say there's nothing to study this time around we met with Dr platov again and and as with Dr budkov the attitude has changed he had gone from a friendly skeptic to an absolute Phil class Arch skeptic there are no cases but one that is legitimately unexplained he said we would show him tape and show him files of things and he would brush them off with a wave of his hand and and I can't explain the change of heart um there are other scientists though I know you're getting tired of these Russian names I'll zip through them there's a guy named Professor REM verlof if you want to roll tape one of the founders of Russian euphology currently teaching at the Moscow Institute of Technology he talked to us because he's a specialist in landing site Trace cases of our work is not to contact the space intellect but to understand how the universe works we wanted to answer three questions one do other worlds and dimensions exist we have measured 22 physical constants to suggest the answer is yes two do our laws of physics exist in those worlds no they don't and the differences can be documented three can we contact this other intelligence the answer is yes but we must be careful we discovered many measurable characteristics within the landing sites the plants inside these circles or Impressions were greatly changed plants which were inside the circles contained 20 to 30% more phosphorus and carbon and they grew at a slower rate we studied 40 elements in the soil through Spectrography 20 of those elements were found in concentrations 20 to 60 times higher inside the circles than outside lead was found to be 14 times as concentrated titanium 8.5 times Cobalt barium and zinc 3 to four times we also documented physical and psychological effects inside the circle heart rates and blood flow were 60% higher our testing equipment also was affected at times we conducted an experiment to see if the measurement of time might be affected by the energy inside the landing sites we used both mechanical and Crystal time pieces which were synchronized then placed both inside and outside of the sites what we found were that after 2 hours inside the landing sites time speeded up the time pieces were no longer synchronized I'm fascinating I mean um measurable differences in the elements and things like that doing stuff that scientists are supposed to do not going into something with a preconceived idea you dig in the soil you test stuff you put under a microscope and you see what you see um he uh talked about a whole range of fascinating experiments that they had done he even had a sample of angel hair at one point a sort of exhaust product and and had some test results from that he said that there had been at least six attempts to make pre-arranged contacts with alien intelligence successful to some degree I think along the lines of some of the stuff that Dr Greer and cetti folks had been doing verlof is not alone as a specialist in landing site Trace cases there's another guy i' been working with for about 30 years he's a government biologist um he has uh recognized some truly amazing phen phenomena his name is Dr Yuri simov he specializes in measuring single cell organisms in the soil at places where Witnesses say UFOs have set down go ahead and roll this tape uh the soil treat teams with microscopic life outside these circles inside it's just Barren uh that's one of the findings but he also was able to find uh something that was pretty amazing at one of these Landing sites actually these these items were found at two alleged hundreds of miles apart years removed from each other what he found in the soil were these tiny colorful balls or spheres of Unknown Origin neither simov nor anyone else could figure out what they were he says they contained the building blocks of life and that when placed in water they opened up like seed pods we joke that they were like Cosmic sperm and U and I'll tell you about smuggling half the world supply of cosmic sperm through custom sometimes here he is talking about some of the microscopic sing cell organisms simply leave the SES they disappear they don't die it's as if they were forced to leave the sites we also experimented with insects insects have different receptors than we do I suspect insects can feel Fields not known to us or fields that are slightly varied when we placed flies in a dish and put the dish over the landing site the Flies went wild buzzing and flying around the balls I can't find any evidence of their existence in any printed material they may be formed as a result of transmutation when oxygen was transformed into sodium under the influence of the UFO or maybe they are containers to carry life from one planet to another still the objects are not known one more thing at the spots where I found the balls the Flies we used in our experiments not only went wild but were killed and mosquitoes could be found outside the landing site but not inside I did get he gave me half the world's known supply of cosmic sperm and we brought it back and have had a series of tests done on it and over the course of the years I still can't tell you what it is um it doesn't open up like seed pods we couldn't get the one Plant Pathology Lab to to duplicate that uh Dr WC levven good if you know him from crop circle research he's taken a look at them and he says they are whatever they are they are optically perfect they are perfect little spheres appear to be glass-like in in composition although the the chemical composition is a little bit strange he says they're five times larger than any kind of similar spheres that we've ever he's ever seen made and he worked for a glass company for 15 years spheres that are made like that on Earth here are used in as chemical catalysts I was told but he can't figure out he says if somebody made them and I don't know how the heck they did if somebody made them they had to have a very good reason could be very expensive and very difficult to do it and why it was out in the middle of kazakistan and in the middle of dirt piles outside of Moscow and the soil samples no one can answer I know I'm going kind of fast on this but I wanted to cover one more point the question of other Roswell and other crashes those things those kinds of stories had been floating around for a number of years you want to switch tapes to the next one uh in Russia as well as in America uh we heard several of them but the the best one was in a place called dnor uh on the other side of Russia it took a 9 and 1/2 hour flight to get there which was an adventure itself and this is a report that I produced when I got back that sort of showed what we found cars fly tonight Le three people dead we'll tell you what happened and our own George knap Goes to Russia in search of UFOs George on our way to the end of the Earth down Russia a prer military helicopter who investiga but may be the russion Roswell Sor coming up that's the loudest tease anyone Believers have argued for years about the Roswell incident where opposed Flying Saucer crashed in New Mexico now they have something new to debate the Russian Roswell George knp investigated the case during his recent trip to Russia from the P city of vavoso an aging helicopter took us to the even more remote town of dalor known for its mines its chemical plants and the crash on Hill 611 in January 1986 hundreds of witnesses saw a round red glowing object before and during the crash it flew parallel to the mountains they say then plunged into the ground repeatedly bouncing up and down valer Dei of the Russian Academy of Sciences was the first to reach the crash site on the rocks and trees he found metal fragments unlike those of any meteorite under examination the debris revealed the complex pattern of netting most of the material was sent to Academy institutes for analysis the debris included several Rare Earth elements but no trace of sulfur or phosphorus used in normal industrial processes does you also found that Flint at the crash site had somehow been magnetized something as likely as magnetizing brick he says his team report concluded outrageously the object was not made on Earth the prevailing view among Skeptics is that the object was a secret Russian satellite however the 11 institutes which studied the debris have never formally released their findings or the material military sources including this Lieutenant Colonel say there are no records indicating it was a Russian satellite duni also notes no one from the government ever came looking for their lost satellite although the KGB office in dalor did inquire about subsequent UFO sightings dozens of UFOs were seen in the weeks and months after the crash objects which flashed spotlights toward the ground as if searching for something most residents saw them and the general in charge of the Russian Air Force in the region said on television his forces had tracked some of the objects on radar as in the US there have been other debatable crash reports in Russia but none with hundreds of of living eyewitnesses and none with several pounds of unusual material George knap Channel 8 Eyewitness News this is a note of protocol I told you it was a 9 and a half hour flight from Moscow to vlasto the most crime ridden city in all of Russia um we flew out in the same storm system that killed Ron

Brown the Secretary of Commerce uh hundreds of miles down to the South but it was it's a complete white out it was just nuts nine and a half hours they served us a dinner it was chicken and rice and white wine and then for breakfast we're still on the plane 9 hours later they served us chicken and rice and red wine so just as a matter of uh if you want to be C in Russia it's red it's red wine with breakfast anyway that was a fascinating trip d ngor a real Garden Spot up there next to uh North Korea and China and north of vlasto it was quite an experience I'm not quite ready to go back um try to summarize this stuff you know we were there in '93 and uh and all the doors were open for us and people were openly speaking about this and and in '96 without anyone telling them it seemed like the pendulum had swung the other way and uh and people were without any formal orders and people were clamming up about UFOs or or they were singing a different tune you know when we were there in 96 Boris yelton was when we first got there he was 20 points behind in the polls uh to a to his opponent people were concerned the Communists might return to power so maybe the reluctance to get into any kind of Stew was understandable Boris yelton won but his health and his grip on power are are very tentative uh so that window of opportunity remains stuck I I think what we learned though is governments do know about UFOs uh they are interested in them they do share information they do cooperate in a cover up probably out of their own desire for self-preservation we know they're lying to us we know that the Russian government is lying to the Russians and the British government is lying to the British and and the American government is lying to us and we look forward to the day when they publicly admit it but I wouldn't hold our breath I I would just caution you if I could say we learned anything here I hope I've imparted is that with this wild and wacky topic you got to be skeptical you have to be skeptical uh but try to keep at least an open mind and a healthy kind of skepticism and don't throw out the baby with the bath water thanks very much for having me here e

you're listening to goof on radio with rich jordan my personal belief is that there is very compelling evidence that we we may not be alone there has been and is an existing presence an e.t presence it's not going to make a difference it's not going to change reality i believe as do the other folks that were on the flight that we've when we visually saw that it was something not from this world goof on radio you were either him or you were either out brother but the queen will rise to the top all year goof on radio with rich georgetown i occasionally think how quickly our differences worldwide would vanish if we were facing an alien threat from outside this world goof on radio remain seated please permanence with rich jordano all right all right all right welcome to goof on radio stream number 64. tonight on april 4th 2019 thursday is a historic night for a one dave scott whose eyes that i shall live through for the moment being he will get to the mountaintop and interview george knapp tonight i'm excited everybody is i think i know dave is and he'll be joining me here in about 20 30 minutes or so he said about about bottom of the hour so uh you know george knapp he is you one of i think three of ufologies say it with me investigative journalist it really is you have to get a degree to get that you know that right you just can't call yourself an investigative journalist rich you have to get a degree i know i just said that it's a different type of journalism it's breaking stories that nobody else knows you know yes very excited for the show for dave for spaced out radio i know george you know he's a guy he's a regular guy you know what i mean just been uh here here take a look there he is uh there on the left dave of course is on the right yes i'm i'm able to make now my own little thumbnails i've just uh gotten in into it a little more you know little by little i learned something i learned obs now it's time to move on to the advertising portion of making it on youtube with thumbnails i guess thumbnails like the one i just showed you are very integral to the growth of a channel i learned yeah yeah anybody can just put up a title for dave scott's going to be interviewing we're going to have a pre-show show yes it's the pre-show show so we're doing a show that we don't normally do on thursday we're doing it for dave scott and spaced out radio it's like uh you know we're a little family over here you know dave and i are friends i used to broadcast off spaced out radio three years ago and um who knows what the future holds for any of us so when we get somebody that has a lot of integrity who isn't in a legitimate investigative journalist linda molten howe is another investigative journalist it's important that we get as many people listening as we can because they know the truth more than anybody else they are the ones who verified and vetted bob lazar right he's the george knapp's the guy who got bob lazar to go on the news 31 years ago whenever 30 years ago now 50 doesn't matter it was another lifetime ago really a whole generation and a half or two celebratory drink for tonight is just coffee it was a weird day man i i i tried to leave the house and i couldn't hold on i know i was supposed to go and go shopping i didn't so i stayed home still looking for a job tomorrow i'll find out if i got my dream job i call it a dream job not really a dream job but it's a job that'll give me dream money and that's all i really care about is money money money and yet i don't no i don't make any money here but i am we're gonna we're gonna start uh turning this shit up for the show um don't be surprised if you see me being a little happier during each show i'm very excited it's a bucket it is a bucket look at the size of that shit you could put soup in here and be full this is a very good soup bucket that thing is huge well here's the other one which is my normal cup the fu manchu which is still big but that's foo right now that one wasn't clean actually i couldn't find it i didn't know it was still in here i usually bring the cups in and clean them every night so dave will call in oh it is look look that's as big as a face that's a face that's a face size cup of a bucket of coffee it's a horse what do they call those horse buckets like a feed bag i've got a feed bowl uh hi everybody sandra cassambra 50 big cat rick um william mario he'd be baker in the house doing the monetizing whatever you call it not monetizing the moderating bart l no he did not you're right bart l great investigative journalist george never managed to investigate the ssn on the lazar pay stub i'll have to ask dave about that even steven what's up uh lee lee's in the house and uh if i missed anybody pat walker nathan there we go got a couple of you in there ah yeah this is gonna be a good one tonight so dave's gonna be coming in here in about i don't know 15 20 minutes or so here we go that's for tonight and while you're looking at that hold on i'm gonna pull something up here what the hell is going on you ask not a lot we have got to get hold on a second let me get rid of something all right there we go we now today like i said was a weird day let me get this back to normal i uh i'll i'll just be honest all day i slept i think the whole day my dog's not doing well again so it's been really tough a tooth fell out one of his teeth freaking fell out yeah it was a back tooth man i found it next to his food bowl and he has been really weird he's twitching because he's in pain and i was supposed to go pick up his medication for the pain and i freaking slept just up until in uh an hour ago and i was like oh no i have got to get the show moving i can't believe this i can't believe i just did that to my dog i feel so bad all i have is um he won't take pills like you can't just say hey take this pill even if i mashed it up in something he's not gonna swallow it he hates that shit i don't know how i'm gonna get the pain medication in unless i put in his food like i normally do but he couldn't eat today i don't know guys i feel awful i feel so bad that i did that i was supposed to do other things i've got little projects that i've been doing um supposed to get something done for bard l and uh i've got it done but i don't like it so i'm gonna do it again so in other words it's not done i know you're here listening that's why i said it so you know where i'm at so we don't have to talk about it all night i'm just joking i'm kidding we don't talk at all really ever it's my fault my fault i'm a bad person i'm a bad man bad seed bad bad son bad person bad human i'm a bad ufologist bad investigator bad researcher but i'm a damn good what am i i'm not good at anything i'm just the worst um third phase of moon um before now we're waiting for dave right so while we're waiting for dave because this isn't i'm not gonna stay on here three hours tonight so don't think it's one of those shows but while we're waiting for dave here let's do this

i know i'm looking for a video that i wanted to play for you and and i don't know where the trigonometry it went to i don't know where it went i'm a little bit upset i'm a little bit upset i am done pretty much with cassidy campbell i i am trying to fall in love with them but i don't know what it is i can't get into it he's the guy who plays the uh the wanksta you know the gangster white boy i've been playing those i mean they're funny but not hysterical i don't find myself in like wanting more you know what i mean it doesn't make me uh want to wake up and watch one of his videos i i liked a couple of them and i figured okay i'll get used to it and i'll like the character but i don't know what it is he's a nice guy and his stuff is good he's not bad but i'm just not finding myself running to watch his videos um so i don't know where i'm gonna go with that uh richie from boston i mean we could do that for tomorrow did uh secure team 10 come out with anything i don't know i don't really today wasn't a good day i knew i knew dave was coming on so that's what we're here for you know that's what this is about and secure team 10 still hasn't put a video out april 1st he put out a a little video with cats right with kitty cats and he took it off the channel i guess he didn't feel it was worthy of being on that channel it was a cute video but uh still no videos from secure team 10. uh richie from bozo let's see what mr mbb 333 is doing mr uh mbb now for some of you who don't follow the show uh these are videos these are people that i like to expose not more not mr mbb 333 he's not of idiot but he falls in the category because some of the things he he gets a lot of factual stuff a lot of interesting weather phenomena um of course you guys know what secure team 10 is it's a bunch of bull i mean he just takes other people's videos and makes them his great thank you youtube for that nah i'm surprised he has 2.2 million subscribers third phase of moon is putting up um interesting videos uh you know their history they have turned legitimate and we're keeping an eye on them of course so it is it's an interesting ride they've been on and i'd like to talk to them again in the future not too distant future about that ride they took us on um so they don't fall into the video category but uh videots are like uh ufo jesus okay post disclosure world let's let's go there i i didn't play the last video that he put down right i didn't i didn't play it on purpose so while we're waiting for dave here i am gonna play his most updated one since george knapp will most likely be talking about disclosure yeah here's angus barking right next to me so i'm gonna play the most recent uh now post-disclosure world is a channel that's run by a guy i can't remember his name aaron or something like that but he calls himself ufo jesus thanks to me and he thinks disclosure was gonna happen already hold on a second there buckwheat so here let's play this on youtube you've i've already started this this will get us warmed up until dave calls in and you'll hear dave calling in and you'll know so we've got another uh 10 minutes before that and uh watch this let's enjoy it let's see the insanity to another level here is ufo jesus video i'm going to give you a march 2019 disclosure update i recommend you watch the entire thing through in the last portion i'm going to give you some fascinating yet disturbing updates on the disclosure process we all know there were at least four airborne witnesses to the tic tac ufo during the 2004 nimitz ufo event series but there were other witnesses that went airborne as well after um david fravor and company landed on the aircraft carrier a little known fact is that atip the ufo program in the pentagon actually interviewed 18 separate witnesses while they were investigating the nimitz event this just in this coming in from canada sources saying that dave scott from space style radio is going to be here in a few minutes so hang tight folks i just got confirmation of a dave scott sighting coming on in in about five to seven minutes maybe 10 minutes we'll wait for him no rush no no rush at all and i will get you back to your programming and here we go award winner david beatty published an amazing mind-blowingly good documentary titled the nimitz encounters on youtube if you haven't seen it yet it's linked below i highly suggest that you do anyways as a result of releasing this documentary on youtube more witnesses from the nimitz event series have come forward by contacting emmy award winner david beatty i'm going to share some of those experiences that these other witnesses have experienced regarding their interactions with the tic tac uap that you may not have heard before one of the witnesses to get in contact here's one of these um one of these uh people who insist on saying uap the guy said ufo up until a few months ago all of a sudden now he looks like a sushi chef he's working he's just taking a break at benihana's right now holy shit that's funny oh i love it look how white he is is that baby powder on there did he get some in your beard i mean that's a white dude i know but i stay away from the sun because the sun can kill you if dave beatty is named jason turner and he was on the uss nimitz on november of 2004. uh he did not work in the combat information center where people sit behind radar screens he worked in the in the ship's store and medical department there you go read your notes a petty officer anyways he had a by the way this is a guy who's reading his notes okay reading notes on stuff that he talks about all the time who criticized me for criticizing him about doing so many edits and and uh splicing on all of his videos if you look at his older videos he couldn't get out seven words without having to cut to another retake or redo i said yeah buddy you're doing 15-minute videos that are cut and spliced and you still can't get the words right why don't you get the words right so i guess he came back and said oh and uh just because you do a live show means you can speak better than i can i'm yeah yeah i guess yeah that's what i'm saying that's exactly what i'm saying you can't handle the duration you can't handle he can't handle anything this guy first of all he thinks he's smart he's not he's just reading stuff that someone else wrote it's obvious you know you're going to fall for it because you're not going to investigate him like i did but if you want to believe this guy's an original thought good go with it he believes in santa claus and a tooth fairy is just so you know just like disclosure is going to happen he said it was going to happen that to the stars academy was going to make an announcement in march it's freaking april i told him nothing's going to happen nobody's making an announcement there's not gonna be disclosure that's the name of his channel post disclosure world he thinks he is giving us an insight to what it's gonna be like living in a post-disclosure world are you insane are you crazy i think he really is all of the above i think the guy is seriously on a ledge somewhere every single minute of his life i'm telling you now that i see that he's working at benihana's it could be working a freaking panda for all we know look at those eyes i mean does he not look like he's lying to you yes and no buddy who worked in one of the intel spaces i gave you nothing princeton and his buddy i'm just buying time saw the flare footage so he invited jason turner and said look you got to come watch us it's awesome i kept mixing the two names of jason turner and the vorhees guy and i kept calling him jason voorhees he didn't like that it's not voorhees i know it's friday the 13th can't you take a joke this isn't funny i don't think this funny guy has no sense of humor but he does have a sense of humor he went ballistic on one show and started cutting his hair his hair i tell you jason turner had clearance to go into the sses ship's signal exploitation space where where the tape was being housed and so jason turner came came to to that area of the ship and watched the tape not so easy to keep talking to jason turner it was a much higher resolution video than what was released in the media that we saw right good job and very notably the tape was 7 to 10 minutes long yeah and what did we see 45 seconds right oh the white on his chest is on his chest is fake it probably is it probably is but he was talking about this uh jason guy and we talked about it here when i played the videos yesterday uh the of the interviews and i hope you guys watched the remaining of those those were pretty cool how he talked about how what we saw was the grainy flare footage of course but what he saw was a detailed craft when he had his meeting behind closed doors with government officials when they were wiping the data clean as he said which made no sense to me i don't know how you can wipe the data clean and not remove the time stamp something's wrong with the story i don't know maybe it's a military thing i haven't looked into it yet because i slept all day but you know this guy believes everything the government's telling him everything to the stars academies to why would they lie why would these guys come forward and give this story because it doesn't make no sense rich why would they put their you know their status and their reputation and credibility on the line if it wasn't true i said i didn't say it wasn't true that's the whole thing i never said it wasn't true i just said we didn't get to see the good evidence which means we will never see legitimate evidence released by your government by the navy air force marines whatever you want to call it army space force you know what i mean we get to see the grainy stuff but yet this guy not this guy on the screen but jason whatever his name was saw the actual video not in flier footage form well that wasn't easy to say and i don't even have cue cards or any cards but anyway i digest the video that we saw was only a minute and 17 that we've saw see it's not that easy is it there dickie seconds one critical area of the video according to jason turner is that the object that was being chased by the f-18s actually did a a 90-degree turn and then with hypersonic speed just left the frame so we're dealing with a video that is around 10 minutes long with verification that this object was able to do a 90 degree turn so when i tell you that there is a smoking gun out there in the government that uap are real and probably not of human origin i'm not playing around now granted i can't verify if jason turner is telling the truth but he's not the only one that said at the very minute that's right that's right now you're getting it big guy now it's sinking into them that's exactly what i've been saying you can't verify that anybody's telling the truth with the videos that we're seeing i of course i do believe these people are telling the truth but they have had a whole shitload of time and years they had a decade to get this shit together that happened in 2004. what are we doing what did i just hit a button and i don't know what just happened we're still alive right all right but now he's speaking properly he's actually saying things i've never heard him say before ufo jesus congratulations you have taken a step into actual reality that it's possible we're being lied to now do i think we're being lied to yes all the time do i think these guys are lying to us that are witnesses to this event no i don't think they're lying i think they saw what they saw you know all right i'm gonna finish this off here minimum that there is a higher resolution video tape and it makes a lot of sense that the tape would be longer than what was released i believe elizondo has stated that some of this footage is much longer but they can only release smaller portions of it for security purposes another witness that got in contact with beatty was from the wallbanger squadron which involves the e-2 hawk eye aircraft which are early warning aircraft they're kind of like air traffic controllers but in the sky he was involved with avionics and when the when the hawk eye e2 aircraft lands he's responsible for securing and removing the avionics hard drives which have on them the radar records of what occurred that day all right i'm i wanted to uh bounce off of what sauce kite said in the chat room where is the openness they promised you're not gonna get it all right so forget it we're not gonna get any of that openness you're you're you're just gonna get the same thing we've been getting for years blurry shaky footage here's dave i think we're doing video too oh shit i accidentally hit the wrong button dave yes hey there there you go let me tell you something brother this is going to be a good show brother oh yeah and let me get you on here with me i'm glad i'm glad i'm glad it's happened there we go we're back we're side to side we're face to face we're bellado no we're not belly to belly um but thanks for coming in man coming on goof on radio stream what's uh what's going on got anything on your mind tonight you know what you know i got to say this you got to talk to john edmonds the guy i had on last night john and stacy edmonds john edmonds is a pro wrestler on the indie circuit man and he's been in the paranormal for since 1996 no way okay oh dude he could tell wrestling stories like anything oh i love it already anything i gave him i gave him the iran number one and he was killing himself laughing last night it was worth it i'm so happy good that's awesome i'd love to get get somebody like that and just hear some stories i mean is he an older guy now like 50ish no no he's like our age man he's like our age but he's like wrestled jake the snake roberts and and king kong bundy when he was alive and and i love this stuff yeah he's helped guys get into the wwe it's been really awesome man that's cool yeah i'd love to talk to him someday that would be great and he's had a fantastic guy and he had experiences too or oh he's got a great abduction story great abduction story yeah totally well totally people are here to at goof on radio to see you and your excitability you look like you got all groomed and nice did you cut your hair oh hell no oh it looks oh dude holy smo okay no i can't do that i can't do that but yeah i'll tell you the bugging question for me going into tonight's interview with george knapp is how does he keep the perfect beard that beard has not changed in 38 years how does he keep it so perfect i need to know this he's got a guy he's got a guy i bet you he does well i'll i'll tip you off to something i had about a 20-minute phone call with him this evening and and i for those of you who don't know part of the setup for what i do is a couple hours before show time i in order to kind of break the ice and get a feel for the guest and sometimes you say oh other times you're like yeah this is going to be awesome this is going to be an awesome show i don't normally do a lot of hype and build up i'm a pretty humble guy but in that 20 minutes that i talked to mr knapp rich i'm i'm already stunned and blown away stunned and blown away well yeah i can't believe you know you look excited you you look like you're ready to go right now so i know you're gonna stay here for a few minutes so i don't want to keep you any longer than you need to because i know you know what kind of stress that comes oh man oh no i'm almost already set up man i've got all my ques i've got all my questions prepared i've got i've got uh the topics and and ready to go and and so i gotta i booked this evening for you and your and your listeners man and and your viewers because they're important people to me and just like you are and you and i have a fantastic friendship and and uh i want to make sure that uh we can uh get as much out of it before i gotta leave man well i appreciate you doing this and coming on yeah i didn't even know if i was gonna do it i kind of felt a little weird about it and uh you know i'm like well maybe i should ask dave because i don't you know i'm i feel like i'd be uh stealing your thunder writing your coattails with the george knapp interview you know i get on other people for doing it but if we're friends so i thought i'd ask you and uh i was excited that you said it was okay of course man of course you know and the one thing that i like about our weekend show with tessa you eric cooper um you know people like erica luke's frank and uh frank stalter chant hannah and and a number of other people out there um chris zuger chris cogswell you know we've we've built a very very strong foundation of people who we can rely upon you know what i'm saying oh yeah that is very very tough in broadcasting because everybody is so solo on this and and you know what i actually asked uh george i said i'm gonna ask you this on the record during the show but i'm curious just to you and me what the answer is i said what do you think about all you know how you and i have kind of been trumpeting all of these these uh hypocrites out there if we can call them that for you know using the term investigative journalist yeah yeah and and one of the big things i asked him that i said george i need to know before i ask you this on air how do you feel about that and i'm going to tell you his response to me was i cannot wait for you to ask me that on the air because i am sick of it wow oh i thought he would have said i really don't care no so no he he may in gist of what he's saying and i'm not going to give away the entire answer because i want people to hear this okay like this is george effing knapp all right and whether you like him or hate him or think he's infiltrated with tsa or just a journalist who's got lucky all right the one thing that he does have is ten year 38 years as an investigative journalist he's the only one in this field and i even told him when we were talking like he knows i'm a journalist you know i was surprised at how much he actually knows about me i was i was blushing a little bit to be honest and and uh and literally uh he said that he he's not happy about it because he earned that title that as he said that title means something and he's gonna go off on that a little bit i don't think i think he's too classy uh that he's not gonna point out names but he knows who the shysters are out there who are doing this he doesn't feel it's good for ufology in general and we're going to get into that subject because like i said to you rich and your listeners and i've said it to my listeners you know if i go out there and i say to you like i've never served in the military i mean look at me man face for radio body for you know uh wrestling brother no i got a mcdonald's body right but the whole point that i'm getting at is if i went out there and into the public and i and you know i started you know like certain ufo people who are out there saying that they have cancer okay or or if i'm if i'm out there saying that uh i'm a soldier in a certain unit and i'm a veteran from afghanistan or if i go out there and say i'm a doctor or i'm a lawyer or i'm some sort of practitioner of health or something along those lines positions of importance or with what we deem as important you could go to jail for that yeah for it it's called stolen valor yet in our field if you have a blog or a vlog kudos to you great job we need more than we need more of that we need more people uh speaking out publicly about their thoughts their opinions because that's that's a good thing but when you are stealing a label or a title to self-promote yourself for some reason when it comes to investigative journalists everybody at their dog now thinks that they could just steal that title and that's an insult to the entire career and if you're a fan of george knapp or even if you're not but you're a fan of of people who are out there busting their ass to bring a story you know don't support the people who are bullshitting their way to conferences to books to television shows and i know rich you you've pretty much focused on one but there's a lot of them out there there's a lot of them out there and we have to end that if we want credibility in this field we have to end that bs we need people like my audience and your audience and other audiences who listen to this when it's in a podcast form or when it's in archive form to really hammer down and listen to this okay the minute you click on that person's podcast who calls himself an investigative journalist or herself an investigative journalist doesn't matter who and they have no respect for the career because they're lying about the position you have to if you have any integrity whatsoever you have to stop listening to them stop supporting them don't follow them on social media call them out because the media whether you like the media or not okay and there's a lot of us in this field that don't i particularly do because i was one all right but what you have to do is you have to get and draw your standards somewhere and if we let it go a lot of people will say god dave you're you're talking about this again or rich really do you have to go into into barista talk again right yeah but if we if we let it go and we don't keep bringing it up and bashing it until it's gone this thing is gonna fester much like remember in the you know you go back two three years that's all you need to go back two three years in the paranormal and all you heard was oh i'm a demonologist i'm a demonologist i'm a demonologist well how long have you been in demonologists 15 years well you're 34 years old so you started becoming a demonologist at like 18 19. really come on come on right but these but it's a level of self-importance that we've talked about and we're going to get into that in a hell of a lot more with mr knapp tonight you know and that's the thing now i've been in this field for 15 years almost to the day and i didn't even know what the difference was between an investigative journalist or a journalist a research i knew what a researcher was but journalist to investigative journalists is a big difference and huge i didn't know it and i think a lot of people out there don't know what it means and that's why i feel what you're saying because if we keep putting it out there no not every show but keep mentioning keep pounding at home that look this person out there is doing this it's wrong here's why do not promote that person because they are lying to you what else are they lying to you exactly and exactly yeah that's like a house of cards should start falling in front of you and then you learned all about this person oh my god he's only been around for a couple of years oh i see he became friends with this one and then he's oh i see now he's friends with this one now he's on stage sitting next to the top researchers and investigators in the field and yet this guy's brand new and i don't understand it and that's another thing i i want to talk about it's not what you know all the time it's who you know and i think that needs to stop because a lot of people are playing absolutely yeah a lot of people are putting their reputation on their friend you know and now here's my friend uh well i almost said well it doesn't i can say it ryan here's ryan sprague you know he's an investigative journalist and he's just saying it just because ryan called himself an investigative journalist and didn't want to hurt his feelings but it's i it's the friends of the friends and i think people need to get into this field on their own merit and on their own uh i don't know what i'm trying to say on their own uh investigative journalistic ways it's just bad dave it's it's bad and i think with in his situation it is it's based on lies and when anytime you start something on lies it never ends well and no yeah no you know it doesn't and and you know there's a lot of hard-working people out there who deserve it i was talking to mj binayas the other day and there's another good guy you should try and get on your show really really fantastic right but there's a guy who is literally taking you ufology to task he he's very blunt he's very abrupt he is not afraid to call people out he calls it down the middle the way it is and this is guy who's been on the scene for about three four years you know any conferences he's done everybody knows his name in the in the big circles but you know any conferences he's done zero wow that's awful how many is rich jordano 15 years in ufology how many conferences has rich jordano done zero all right chris cogswell who has the potential to be the next stanton friedman right how many conferences to this date has he done zero all right samantha moet best kept secret in ufology she's done two both lori and fenton events with ufo con and ufo megacon this past week in in nevada okay you look at and there's there's dozens of names of these people all right michael w hall the paranormal lawyer how many conferences has he done one how how he's unique he's a former judge in washington state this former district court judge he's into you a followed or ufology sorry rich and and uh and and here he is zero conferences zero where is dr paul kingsbury who is one of the only university professors to get over a six-figure grant to study people in the paranormal he got over 180 000 to study people in the paranormal where is he how many conferences has he done zero right it's terrible do you think it's it's terrible there's a lot of people out there doing the same thing i mean you named 10 people but there's probably another 100 200 people out there that could be on a stage somewhere and i get it there's a lot of these conferences now we can get them all every honest you know i don't see what the problem is uh i but i believe it's uh they want to sell seats you know they want to make money of course absolutely look i'm not crapping on anybody okay for picking up a uh for picking up a a a george knapp or a richard dolan or a grant cameron or linda molten howe those are the names that everybody recognizes and those are the names that put butts in the seats we in ufology may not like them or may not respect them or or feel that they're they're overblown okay but the fact is for the majority of people who who follow this field all right they are supporting that they are supporting those people and they put butts in the seats because no matter what you can have a conference on the best intentions with the greatest speakers that nobody knows and nobody is coming nobody is coming and i and i don't fault anybody for who puts on a conference for bringing in what i would consider an a-lister to try and bring some money to the table at least to break even but what these conferences need to do is they need to start doing their homework and i'm gonna and i'm gonna be talking to a guy named jordan peace about this next week because one of the things that they are talking about he helped lori and fenton put on ufo megacon and one of the things that they are noticing is there are certain people that you or may or may not talk about who will never get into that conference because of the lies right yeah which is good they're doing their homework but there are so many out there who are not doing their homework that are that are getting like we said television shows they're getting book deals they're getting uh radio interviews all the press in the world but yeah and not just because it's you but where's rich fucking giordano why isn't he on that list he's damn good well thank you but the thing is if you don't bring in new people you you may be missing somebody who could be your next stanton freedman or chris you know i don't said chris cogswell because of that um but you know you don't know what you what they don't know what they're missing unless they don't care i just think and it's not really about the money i know i i don't care about the money at this point when it comes to the conferences i would just like to see a new mix of people and i've been approached by a few people and they're like why don't you and dave you know get together and you know and make up your own and it's not that easy to do man it's a lot of work especially if you're working and have the job as a radio host so i that's something i don't want to do i don't want to create my own goof on con although it would sound cool oh that would be awesome and everybody who has to come into goof on con you get a 25 discount if you walk in with a lucha libre mask on that would be awesome it would be it would totally be high goddess michelle but a lot of you know and i know we're talking like you know oh why don't they do this and do that i don't know what goes into creating one of these cons but i i understand it's hard and i don't know if it's just booking a hall somewhere and then booking guests is that it i mean that's it that's it but i mean but i mean it's a the hard work is the promotion yeah the hard work i mean you could sit there and say well i'm going to put on this event but it's the promotion of the event right it's getting the community involved it's it's selling tables so that way you know if you sell a table for a hundred bucks a weekend okay if your cost for the haul and everything is a thousand dollars you have to make sure that you sell a thousand dollars worth of tickets and a thousand and and combined with table costs for people to sell their product right i mean there's a lot that kind of goes into that so that's what you kind of have to watch out for so what else do you have in store anything you could um give us insight in with george nash yeah yeah we're going to get into the two to the stars academy quite a bit tonight good one one of the questions though i am going to ask and and i you know i got to tease this because i can't give everything away but um i'm gonna tell you i never write questions down ever all right i can show you like show you my list here all right like right there hold on i just gotta cover up a couple phone numbers okay but right uh where am i here where son of a gun where am i there we go right there you can see how many questions i had for for my guest last night right there that's it zero written down that's usually how i do an interview because i want it to be more natural right yeah um but on the flip side on the flip side with uh with george oh god i was writing questions all freaking day all freaking day man i had to like i just i i'm usually i'm not very nervous talking to people but i'll tell you a little story when when i was in uh radio right before the 2006 olympics team canada their hockey team was was uh training in vancouver and they had this golf outing at uh a golf course called northview now a lot of people you you've probably never heard of the golf course but it's one of the golf courses that was played on the movie happy gilmore anyways um so here i am and wayne gretzky who i was always an edmonton oilers fan i cried when he got traded from edmonton back on you know august what was what was that black day was august 9th 1988 balled my eyes out right because i've always been a gretzky fan and i never thought i would have the opportunity to interview him and i walk into this media scrum and the only place available in the scrum around gretzky is about one body size from from his right shoulder so i wiggle my fat ass right into that into that spot and gretzky turns to me and i start to ask the question and i froze just froze i've nev i had that happen one previous time and that was with my hot one of my hockey idols dawn cherry and i actually had to put my my microphone down and i just had to fan girl out for a minute you know and just ah don cherry well i couldn't do that with gretzky right there right so so it's uh i had to prepare the questions man because i didn't want to uh i mean it's george f and knapp well there's a lot of details that come with george knapp he's not a one-trick pony man i mean you've got three decades plus of him being in this field as a huge role any and he also he's on coast to coast too right doesn't he uh yeah absolutely he's all he's easy he's in it for sure what about skin for sure ranch didn't he have something going on with the was there yeah was there a secret that bigelow told him never to spill or something about that well i'm asking him about bigelow tonight okay and you know what what i want you to do is i want you to message me during the show when we're talking about bigelow and i want you to message me and remind me about that and i will ask him okay all right i'll do that i agree yeah well you know let me tell you something brother i would do that for you brother i would expect nothing less brother on the top rope grabbing your stomach and leaping to the death brother you know what that brother my voice is killing me from doing too many voices over the last few weeks takes a while you got that good iran number one i'm starting to get that down iran number one usa number two but i just love it when you write that to me because i know exactly how it sounds yeah you're not so for people who don't know like rich and i will chat on facebook or via some sort of text messaging and i'll type it in capital letters and i'll type it just the way that the iron sheik would would speak so that way i know when rich is actually reading it he's reading it in the iron sheik's voice and i know you're killing yourself laughing i know you are i don't know there's very few things that make me laugh every time for this long of time and the iron cheek is one of them i don't know why because you do it so well dave i mean i guess that's why oh oh that and and i gotta tell you i am terrible with impressions terrible yeah you got that one down yeah yeah absolutely absolutely and and you know but the iron cheek that is so much fun it is so much fun i mean if you can't like the iron chic you have to have something wrong with you it's true yeah how can you not if you're a real if you're a fan of wrestling anyway even if you're not the guys like um one of those weird type of geniuses when it comes to comedy he doesn't even know it hey could you do me a favor uh yeah because you got the you got the whole youtube thing going on right okay you got the whole youtube thing the whole thing yeah br bring up so the audience could hear some classic classic iron chic bring up the shoot type in iron chic shoots on brian blair iron chic shoots on iron on brian blair the other guy's bill blassy is it brian blasey oh well there was classy freddie blassie that's the one yeah but uh the killer bees remember them jumping jim brenzel and b brian blair iron sheik hates brian blair to this day hold on you're gonna have to be off off the uh thing here while i do the search i'm okay with that okay while i'm doing the search i'm going to put your face with george knapp up here just so people know all right now we're not going anywhere i'm just looking something up so there you are all right oh yeah your audience needs a good laugh they need a good laugh and this is this is classic so excited about this iron chic what now uh iron sheik uh shoots on b brian blair i finally have a a swivel mic stand that i've yeah so i'm taping over my cigar box so my microphone could be raised up because i'm so sick of looking down when i talk to the audience all right nice iron cheek goes nuts iron sheik shoots on brian blair okay here we go yeah he's wearing he's wearing a a us like an eagle type a bandanna you won't be able to see oh unless you're watching it yeah it'll take a few seconds so let me pull it up yeah that's okay that's okay i'm just excited about this all right i'm gonna play it it's two minutes two and a half minutes so let me pull that up there all right here it is iron cheeks the one in the middle here we go he said brian blair sucked my that's the one hold on i'll find you the link and i'll send it to you it says the oh that's not the way it shoots on brian blair no no that isn't the one hold on i'll send it to you okay i'll send it to you because your audience will be in for a real treat with this one well then there's iron chico's nuts talks about wrestlemania three with the killer bees yes yes that's the one that's the one three and a half minutes here we go 1987 wrestlemania 3 the pontiac you guys may have to turn up the volume chicken over 93 000 fans you teamed up with nikolai volkov volkov take on the killer bees and that's where you begin with uh iron sheet goes nuts is what it's called it's three minutes and 30 seconds long that's the one i'm on yeah good that's the one all right will will you be able to hear it you can't unless you have my life hold on okay the only way you can hear it because you're on skype is if you turn on the internet and listen because you know if you go to my channel you'll hear it yeah i'm going right now this is important now there is probably a 10 to 20 second delay from you and i talking about it to the audience that's okay i'm gonna mute them they don't know anything the only difference is you and i know the difference they don't know any the audience doesn't know it's delayed okay all right so if we're making comments i don't know if it'll catch up but all right here it goes uh let me start it over uh the interviewer the host is asking sheik about uh the 1993 match where he teamed up with nikolai volkov and here we go you asked me excellent excellent question the great feeling all time i had all my life mr dan maloney it was that night pontiac michigan silver dome yes sir and that was a great honor great feeling to wrestling next 93 000 people no animalization no any football player no any no any sport event in your country sold out manufacturing regardless i mean uh exam wrestling it was a great feeling done maloney try wrestling with a uh jim brazzeller and you are another faggot son of a bitch no good low life i want to let you know you are punk you are fucked you are fondly gay worse than mata jordan michael jackson i was great feeling i have a lot of respect for them his partner jim branseri from minnesota great athletic great high jumper but that little punk brain blur another little fag worse than michael jackson and i didn't like him i didn't like his attitude he was a punk i can't break his fucking back break his back make him humble and then fuck his ass i didn't do it in the pontiac michigan because respect my sport and respect mr mcmahon you're a professional a professional otherwise was ready to do a dream or country way make him humble still flex him put him in the camel clutch break his back and then fuck his ass make him humble to he respect our religion wow and i didn't do it because for god and jesus and mr mcmahon brambler you are not good you are worse this is awesome i will never respect you again and um to the uh big american two by four hacksaw you was lucky punk i didn't break your back to fuck your ass make you humble and he was lucky i asked the gym dog and come save him and i didn't break his back you know what i'm talking about because i'm a shit man you're a punk i just smack your partner kimberly i never respect the gay i never respect the fact you are worse than hulk hogan and you're lucky i didn't break your back and have to come save you and that was a great feeling to wrestling 93 000 people and you were so lucky to the hacksaw come save you before dave how is it back in the day this guy did not swear on air i don't know because you can't roll it you know it just comes out and i think like he's like 70 he's like 70 years old there he's still pissed off about it i he well because he never breaks character man even when he's at home he's talking about it anytime the camera's on he's on when it comes to wrestling he's brilliant he's never left the screen never never left the uh the screen i just read something on my thing um yeah he never left the ring is what i was supposed to do no yeah oh i hear you and i think that interview right there may have shocked some of your listeners because they probably don't do they know the extent of the iron cheek because i think now they get a feeling for what he is and what he's about oh he's a horrible he's a horrible man for some of the things he says but i mean for old school wrestling that's the former champion right there the former champion remember he lost the belt to hulk hogan he did out of respect for jim mcmahon for the wrestlemania i'm trying to respect his daughter for respect i break his back and i make him humble and what he's oh yeah we know what he's talking about when he says he made someone humble are you gonna make george knapp humble tonight dave no man it's about respect your respect i that would be so funny let me tell you something george knapp you are investigative journalist journalist number one you got the bob razar numerolo uno he's from the us hakupua i can't do it as good as you i'm laughing but i could just can't do it right now you could i can't do it right now you could oh i so can't do that right now what you know george knapp i mean this guy's gotta relax once in a while let his beard down i mean i wonder what he did are you gonna ask him what he does for any uh you know relaxation anything like that does he get away to the mountains does he go chop wood i mean you know what i i will try and ask him some one of the things that i do actually want to ask him is outside of ufos or anything weird that we talk about on a nightly basis i want to know what's what's his most important story that he's ever covered or broke you know you'd think it would be bob lazar but you know just because it promotes well i guess it had his career take helped his career take off but his career would have taken off anyway being that after all these years this hasn't come back to bite him in the butt oh and i am asking him for the sake of our argument i will be asking him about how he got lazar on the air oh good good i will i will be asking him that because um because it is something that his news directors i mean he has people to answer to and you know just like we you know i'm not going to rehash everything that i just said with you a couple weeks ago on that when i pinned you for the three count but nonetheless thanks rick giancy appreciate that um because he did the counting but nonetheless i i really i know you well he had to do counting because you were almost almost blacked out from all that what are you talking about you almost blacked out from the six or seven facts that i threw your way you can't say you win a you gave an opinion yours isn't a personal fact george knapp no it's not you can't this isn't proof you can't prove it he can't prove that what he has is legitimate all he has is what he has he has what people gave him he can't verify it that bob lazar that's it don't make me take my headphones don't make me put my headband on and and uh you know start playing my theme music to come down the aisle again what i'm bringing sexy back uh i couldn't think of a song that was gonna nail you i couldn't think of one that was all i had well what do you think it is do you have any idea of what the top story might be for him i don't know if it would be something about maybe with the mob or politics i know he was pretty emotional about that horrific massacre a couple years ago in las vegas and i know that you know i'm wondering if it's that the way and he was very very passionate about how the las vegas community was coming together over that horrific tragic event and i i'm wondering if it's that i don't know maybe it's a story we've never heard of never heard of right but um hey rich yeah i have to take i have to take a phone call okay so can i can i just let you go i apologize no that's okay good man we understand i appreciate you coming on man go take your call oh i appreciate it man thank you i gotta run all right go ahead buddy okay thanks all right buddy bye bye that's dave scott on spaced out radio he will uh he will be on live tonight in about 40 well about 57 minutes from now it's six after the hour and uh i believe he'll be talking with george knapp for the whole three hours because usually he does two and a half hours and then does the news and stuff after that um but he had to take the call that's that's something that i've never uh dave never done before which had to go it must have been important so we understand um big night for spaced out radio and dave scott so thanks uh dave for coming on and sharing your uh your happiness with george coming on i'm excited about that as all of you all of you are as well i'm glad you guys stopped in tonight uh we'll talk for a few more minutes here like i said this isn't the the normal night for the show but we're gonna go right up until the top of the hour and that means at the top of the hour coming up we will uh disengage from this show and we'll all go over to uh spaced out radio i thought about staying live for the next three hours and listen in on dave's show but i tell you what i don't think that's fair so we'll we'll uh we could always come back on friday and listen and take excerpts from the show if we want to but if you're gonna be there i'm gonna be there we'll do our own thing this is uh for space style radio and and uh i don't think it would be right to run a show simulcast his show that's just wrong and i think there's copyright shit that happens with that but anyway you don't do that to your friends you do it to like jimmy church or you know somebody like you don't care about you know yeah i'm like i you know oh i know rick dave dave brought it up he said you're the one who counted to three and said that dave pinned me on the debate show and that's why he brought you up uh i only said that dave was too dizzy from being hit with facts that i was throwing at him and uh he couldn't hear a three count or even see that there was any count as he was wobbling around the debate ring that's funny yeah he he keeps saying that that he he won the debate so we're gonna have to have him back and we'll have another debate show real soon i'm sure um well i'm really excited about tonight so um with that being said we can actually cover a few things here just for the hell of it since we're all here look the only thing i had prepared was dave being on the show so i am going to pull up a video and i think this is a new and i'm gonna do it because i got nothing else nah shoot i don't want to do that to you hold on let me pull something up i i have nothing um i have something but i don't want to do it tonight i want to do it for tomorrow capisce yeah i don't know i think we're going to have to take out i think friday tomorrow show there will definitely be the purge so we will be purging somebody oh here it is i think look now has a video out look now i hate this yeah let me pull it up here yeah here's a video we'll just look at this one real quick and then if you guys want to take a break take a break but this is an interesting video nonetheless these are 10 ghost unexplained mysteries i i like this one people all over the world believe in ghosts and all over the world strange activity is being caught on cctv cameras from strange humanoid figures to objects moving without anybody pushing them in this video we're going to take a look at ghosts and paranormal activity whether real or fake some of these videos are completely chilling and scary if you're new to this channel and you like what you see hit that bell button so you don't miss any new videos hey youtube i'm rick and today we're going to take a look at number 10 a cctv camera in someone's yard captures something unexplained we see what looks like a white apparition that almost resembles a dog and then it turns into a dark figure this is completely unexplained and many paranormal experts believe something like this could be absolutely real the white object moves and it rotates and disappears and then we see a black long figure floating for a few seconds and then it vanishes what could this object be with millions of cameras all over the world and let me just tell you something out of the strangeness of these videos that we can't explain that's the black shit that i've seen in my bedroom that is almost identical to what i saw looked like a humanoid figure and then it crawled up the freaking wall and did like a like batman like it got up in the corner and it spread out its hands and its in its legs and it propped itself up in the corner you know like looking down at me and then it just dissolved into the wall and the weird thing is you know you see this out of the corner of your eye so you think it's like junk and squishy dirt and things that get stuck in the corner of your eye but when you're able to turn and still see it straight on yeah that's weird this goes back like the thing you saw crawling on the floor i thought one night when my dogs this thing here absolutely real see the white object moves and it rotates it's weird it looks like it's an inchworm well when i saw what i thought was my dog i saw the tip of his tail going like my bed's a little high so he can't jump up on it so what he'll do is he'll walk around to the side and then he'll bark and or he'll jump up put his paws up and then i'll grab him and lift him in so i keep seeing his tail you know just peeking above the mattress you know walking like he wants me to pick him up so i yell out to him i go hold on i go because i was so tired and i didn't want to move i thought he would just lay down right there so he didn't and i see the tail you're going back and forth so i go to pick him up and he's no not there so i go what the what just happened i get up out of bed i walk out he's fast he's asleep on the couch where i left him like 20 minutes earlier so i understand this video it's bizarre and you never know what you're getting from these channels you never know what you're getting from anyone you don't even know what you're getting from me all we can do is just look at it and you know you believe you believe if you don't you don't i mean this stuff does happen it's not all fake that's the shitty thing you have to get you have to go through so much bullshit to get to the good stuff and then we see a black long figure floating for a few seconds seriously does he have to whisper here we are a black thing with a white thing and those things are moving they're moving all right and then it vanishes what could this object be with millions of cameras all over the world and unexplained things popping up on video a lot of people online think this is real there's really no explanation for this video it's just really odd imagine reviewing your security footage and you see something like this very strange number nine a security guard working believes the property he is on is actually haunted and he points to this black strange looking figure as evidence in the video we see a dark figure that he believes is walking across the parking lot judging by his voice he truly believes what he's seeing look at that i told you this fucking building was haunted it's a ghost walking in the parking lot it looks like it jumps over the fence is there a fence here no it does appear the dark figure is walking across the parking lot right that's a fence right there it looks like it jumps over the fence walking across the camera lens the security guard looks at the black figure and he says the property is haunted this thing looks like it's jumping over you can see it put its feet here and its hand up here to balance itself over the gate or whatever it is insect or a trick of light or is something supernatural going on no that's supernatural that's weird in this cctv video a strange white apparition that resembles a humanoid figure can be seen floating a little disturbance with the camera you saw that that's it's important where is it where is it oh my god where is this it oh here it is at times the video itself seems to have static and some paranormal experts believe that supernatural activity that's bizarre can affect see to me that looks real that looks real and a lot of times if you ever watch these ghost hunting shows you can't say they're all fake everything is fake sometimes you'll see the orbs and you'll hear a knocking on the door and then a few seconds later and you'll see an orb believe the door but you heard a knocking or sometimes you'll see an orb or some sort of disturbance and you'll hear footsteps i don't know why they i think they come i i heard this a long time ago in the form of an orb because orb a round circle is the easiest geometrical thing that energy can make can form so they form into these circles and i think that is just the apparition in its light form this one's weird technology all right see what looks like a security guard walking around in front of a doorway someone is recording the screen with a cell phone camera after they see what they believe is a ghostly figure that's a guy oh out here i don't know if you look closely you could see a white apparition hovering in front of the doors and then it moves the scariest thing about this video is that the white apparition moves towards the door and seemingly walks out because the door opens and the apparition disappears the door opens the door didn't open does it open oh this goes on for a while yes it does look it does open emphasis and it's uploaded to the internet i don't know all right next lee a ghost boy running around a building the security guards are pointing out that this small boy is running around and literally walking through doors without opening them as another guard explores the area it becomes more eerie and strange check this out guys okay let's check this out foreign oh what's going on i i don't understand where's the the ghost looks like the boy walked through the door the guard is standing there and then we could see what looks like a ghost boy sticking his head out through the door what that that right there oh you're kidding me standing in front of the door if this is real it's actually really scary oh come on that's a guy looking out seemingly sticking his head out between the door and the wall the guard looks like he has no idea that he's being watched by something and he seems totally unaware that a ghost is staring at him i don't know about that one here's another one is this a misidentified human oh this was a silhouette this was popular for a while or is it just a person if you look at the shadows on the objects in the video they seem solid but yet the humanoid figure walking seems to be more translucent i'm not too sure about this video but some people are saying it's some sort of poltergeist activity cctv camera footage it looks like it's inside of a warehouse when nobody's around we see some objects falling down and nobody's around to push them is this more evidence of poltergeist activity it doesn't look like there's an earthquake and nobody's around so what moved these objects number three late at night on a street in argentina in february in 2019 security camera footage captures what people think is a ghost walking across the street i hate these and we can see a dark figure it's hard to make out details on what it could be and it doesn't look solid it looks like an apparition crossing the street and fading off into the night yeah it does it could also it could also be a guy in the distance but you know we see details over here it's very strange he has any idea on what it could be oh yeah this one you know what i don't know if you guys have ever seen there's this one video you remember do you remember when they had the tsunami in 2004 and this white ghostly thing jumped out of the water and climbed up on the buildings have you ever seen that i think i showed it before but i think it's real right here by the way i can never get enough of these tsunami videos i love them to death i feel bad that a lot of people died but this is amazing you'll see i believe this to be one of the most realistic things that uh i don't think it's fake just my opinion what do i know they'll point it out god can you imagine being in that that water's just it's not like a wave it's like the water is being pushed from behind it's like a constant pressure of being put you can't get out of that once you're in the water you're done look it's moving the house it's moving a freaking house look at that and i believe he'll look to the right side and you'll see the ghost in a few minutes in a minute wow that's look at it coming out the windows holy smokes oh my god that's wild this would have that would have been the scariest thing in your life if i was there i would for sure think i would be dead for sure whoops wrong camera wow man that's insane it's to the rooftops already and it's not stopping where's the ghost man cbs news oh no i'm gonna get now i'm gonna get a ding where's the ghost man it's not on this video i thought it was this isn't the video is it it stopped this isn't it caught on tape i thought i had ghosts it's the wrong one damn it is this it no richard it's a huge i definitely want to find it tsunamis are a trip ghost of tsunami i don't know if that's it either here it is that's it i i think it's real here in march of 2011 a massive 9.1 earthquake struck just off the coast of japan the quake created a tsunami that was so massive it nearly wiped out dozens of coastal towns and killed over 16 000 people god the massive wall of water uprooted homes businesses schools automobiles buses trains and just about anything you can imagine my god but according to some people it also uprooted unknown creatures from the spirit world look at that shit i'm telling you video posted in numerous places around the internet that's real to show a strange unidentified creature emerging from the water and flying up over a building it was submitted by rob clark sheila mendes and grinchy izzy just to name a few of the many people who sent this in grinchy izzy wrote hey bill i just watched this strange video and i want to know whether it's real or fake oh they're going to break it down google revealed hundreds of reports about this strange video but no one including snopes.com had examined it as a possible host i knew this was going to be a tough one so i got in touch with the best 18 members i know including steve from youtube channel experimental and kyle darkova i also got in touch with thinker thunker who's an animator that uses cgi software to examine paranormal videos steve examined the footage first and concluded it was just smoke coming from a bottle of natural gas that was ruptured during the event thinker thunker however did not totally agree with steve he accepted the fact that it did look like a gas but then why would the gas want to gather at this one little spot right here by this hut see we can see the tail of it it's still being sprayed out from the water and yet yet it just wants to stick right there on that little hut and i'll just scrub back and forth and let you see that and then it breaks off from the water and it appears to climb up there's more to it but there's more time also performed what is known as a relief examination this is done to find out if the creature has been artificially superimposed over the video here's the white object floating by and starting right there you see it spraying the gas and bill if this were cgi or if this if this was something if the smoke here was something superimposed i feel like we would be seeing hard edges you know pixelization and if you watch that closely you see you see it's it's billowy so there you go bill i don't have the slightest idea now i mean it looks like a gas but it doesn't behave like a gas so it's not a gas you tell me bill what is this hmm this is a tough one i mean we have something that looks like an ordinary vapor but then again it also seems to have a life of its own but there's also some excellent detective work by kyle there's also more this this white object was seen on the rooftops to the right so they're wrong i don't know why they're not talking about that darkova we learned the man who shot the video is kane it was shot in kinsonuma city next to the okawa river we knew a tsunami was coming we could feel it kenichi started recording his video next to the river but as the water rose he sought higher ground i was heading to the emergency staircase at the school before heading to the school however his camera captured a different angle of the building where the unidentified creature was supposedly caught on camera this different angle really helps to explain what's going on here and i think we have an official decision oh no but before i tell you that i just want to tell you how tough it was for me to watch a lot of this footage my heart goes out to all those people who lost property and especially their loved ones in this horrific event okay so now let's see what we have here and i'm quoting like he doesn't know the video of the tsunami recorded by kenichi murakami has been determined to be real but the claim that his video captured an unidentified spirit of some sort is not true what we are looking at is an unidentified vapor and nothing more from the beginning of this examination the problem has been the lifelike nature of the vapor when it rises towards the roof of the building in this extra view of the building here we can see the reason why the vapor would get hung up from this angle we can see that the roof sticks out beyond the building's walls this overhang is the reason why the vapor slows and behaves oddly but they're forgetting but they're also forgetting that it it goes here it goes on the rooftops why aren't they showing us that okay well that's all the time i have for this video yeah of course that's all the time you have because it doesn't fit the narrative you see what i mean this is bullshit i'm gonna have to find the actual full-length video of that because that that goes on for quite a while after another minute or two something's wrong yep i'm not buying it anyway so we got 20 yeah it could be a ruptured gas container it could be a lot of different things but the video i saw and the reason i was bringing it up is because i saw that thing appear and disappear on rooftops staying above the water so i don't know i just don't know i always thought that was an interesting video you know what is the silver tsunami oh no let's see what this is this video was made possible i never heard of a silver tsunami health and society who sponsored this video oh my god i want to watch some of these let's see if the ghost shows us something now that's the slow that's weird i clicked on it and it wouldn't uh it wouldn't tsunami ghost video is this it oh no that is not it so okay here it is here it is here it is the full version okay here's the full version see i was right check it out oh my gosh that's different isn't it than what you saw earlier wow that looks nothing like an exploding canister does it see they only show you what they wanted to show you on the other video right now watch there's the second one you see this is why this is why i say do your own freaking research you only get to see number two here what they're showing you we just watched a video where they only talked about this but they didn't talk about the first time it exploded which we know it's not an explosion and the third time where it gets on a rooftop just to fit their need just to debunk it i hate that shit now watch oh my god it's amazing how did it get over there huh it must be the bottle floating in the air i guess there is more to this video believe it or not see they didn't want to show you i told you there's more to it and there's more to it than what we're seeing here that makes me very angry even if there's something if you say there's something in the water with the gas coming out then what is it doing up in the sky what is it doing up in the air how does that happen here what's it doing up there is that fake it's not see uh i guess i guess the bottle somehow floated all the way to the other side i know there's a longer version of this video where you actually see it go on along the rooftops and i'm not going to spend all night looking for it but it's out there look i just found more of it and i know there's probably another version of it yeah here i don't know if this is it but i don't that's a five minute video let's take a look inside i want to look at some of these uh tsunamis some of these videos it's been a while oh this is uh freaking national geographic i can't pull that up goes port city smashed ghost down apocalyptic scene eight years ago yeah hey you guys have seen all these right no reason to keep playing them that's cnn yeah i don't want to get in trouble f5 let's take a look at an f5 tornado up ufo there's a couple of things i'd never want to be stuck in a tsunami a tornado a fire i would hate to be in a tornado or a tsunami wow this is amazing there goes the power grid an f5 tornado can rip the concrete off of us can rip the streets off take the the pavement right off what is it 200 mile an hour wind 190 and above and f5 wow look how close they are man and the sun looks like it down oh well they didn't get the bad part of it yo what's up guys welcome back to another video today we are going through a ton of clips of the most dangerous waves they actually do destroy some beaches and some people do end up getting stuck in these waves and it can get pretty scary especially if you are stuck in a massive wave but before we get into it i have a challenge for you guys and you guys only have five seconds to complete it so get ready now if you can leave a like and subscribe oh okay yeah i'm supposed to say this i keep forgetting please like and subscribe to the video tonight if you liked what you've seen and we've got about 10 to 15 minutes left so please smash that like button and subscribe to the channel if you want to get any notifications when there's a new video posted smash that bell next to the subscribe button this way you never miss any shows or any videos posted by goof on radio stream thank you for your support and believe it or not every time you like a video and anytime you if you're subscribing to it you're actually helping get that video more views the algorithm of uh youtube sees that people like your videos and they will somehow open the floodgates and we've seen it here as soon as we got over a certain amount of subscribers it seemed like uh more subscribers kept rolling in and we still are so uh don't forget to do all that stuff back to the video that was huge oh that's gonna wipe that out see ya oh they're done goodbye you can't stop that i mean you can't withstand it i meant what's this i saw a big ship mini tsunami by ships oh okay oh no i don't see oh i see here we go that's not a mini tsunami oh shit oh yeah it is check it out wow that's crazy wow no way whoa whoa whoa that's amazing i'm getting bored with this video right away are you bored i'm bored yeah i'm bored see it doesn't take me long to get to get bored i'm bored with it there was one other thing here let's see man falls from space to earth not interested tragic fights boxing mata milfield not interested not interested not interested how is there am i running to know people dragged out to sea by massive waves not interested i like tornadoes let's go into tornadoes i don't think i've seen this one matter of fact i'm positive oh no look at that oh can you a map oh look at the guy did you see that did you see that guy is that real that guy went flying out watch there he goes oh that's awful what an awful way to die i don't like that at all i've seen this tornado that was an f4 yeah this is cool as hell wow that's scary and he looks up at the sky i believe oh man they're turning the car spinning the car around that's it it's over you know in 20 seconds you you you have a house and then you don't have a house that's crazy that's okay william we're all leaving in 10 minutes too i'm glad you were able to come here and hang out for a minute oh i uh this is stupid i think this one's stupid yeah the aftermath yeah yeah yeah they walk outside holy shit and then they see the airplane in the front yard remember that in the airplane the engine was still running oh no that's uh that's from a movie never mind i don't know what's wrong i'm bored i'm getting bored with these videos for some reason oh no oh it ate that car up where is it where'd the car go look at this guy wait where'd he come from he's sitting there hold on a second where'd that guy come from right or next come on there's nobody nobody in the road let's let's see if there's anybody sitting here oh yeah he came out of nowhere that's crazy they're just sitting right by the window an idiot idiot oh see i hate seeing trucks where they have a bunch of cows and horses in it yeah nothing happens on this one i've seen this one oh my god wow back up oh no stop wow oh no what it destroyed ran it back whoa look at that slow down it just lifted uh it looked like a train you know like a one of the cars of a train which weighs a couple of tons i'm sure can you imagine so we gotta go see it spinning so hard at the surface yeah that's called a tornado sweetheart oh yeah this is a good one in the halls of the school i think this was or something wow dude that's crazy this one's cool oh my god keep going you got this right yeah i got this whoa that's gorgeous look at that town's getting hit we're drive up ricky oh my god wow dude what a monster right up nice and smooth now dude you can go right by it well that looks like we're at the end of the video here so i'm gonna no no no no no don't do that oh my god he's like right next to it 100 feet away that's a little too close watch out that's that's i know i know oh my god all right we'll get out of here last last video two minutes of lightning yep i just wanted to see that that was cool yeah dave's show starts so let's get out of here um so that's it for tonight thank you for uh hanging out with me and dave for the first 45 minutes of tonight and we're gonna go over to spaced out radio now and listen to dave talk to george knapp it should be an incredible interview and tomorrow i'll be back here with some uh interesting things that i definitely yeah i want to talk about something tomorrow let's talk about something yeah goof on radio stream thanks for hanging out for a little bit i will see you guys tomorrow 10 eastern 7 pacific right here on goof on radio stream spaced out radio let's all go over to spreaker or spacedoutradio.com and listen to george knapp get interviewed by dave scott for three hours see you guys thank you you welcome to phenomenon radio the show that covers thought-provoking breakthroughs in the fields of UAP UFOs to discover fascinating truths first-hand accounts and investigative insights into the expanding confluence of physical and mental exposure to this worldwide phenomenon hosted by Emmy award-winning investigative journalists earthfiles reporter and editor Linda Moulton Howe and world-renowned experimenter of the 1980 Rendlesham bit waters incident John Burroughs and now leading off tonight's program here's Linda Moulton pow Saturday December 16 2017 was an historic day and night in the annals of the US government seventy years of covering up the alien presence behind UFOs with strict policies of denials ordered in 1947 by President Harry s truman allegedly in the interest of national security this new crack in official US government policies of Lies and denials began on Saturday with the New York Times headline article quote glowing auras and black money the Pentagon's mysterious UFO program close quote that report contained two embedded infrared videos of UFOs from the Defense Department's advanced aerospace threat identification program that agency was unknown to most everyone until December 16 2017 the New York Times reported that the DoD's advanced aerospace threat identification program was brought secretly into being by retired Nevada Democrat Harry Reid who was the US Senate Majority Leader in 2007 that's when he got 22 million dollars allocated over five years to the Defense Department's budget to create and operate the DoD program to study the extraordinary technologies moving in Earth's skies and seen by hundreds of military pilots the UFO craft in military videos accelerate like nothing ever seen before and travel at astoundingly fast speeds stop mid-air do 90 degree angle turns brighten and dim and seem to expand in size and then disappear the Advanced aerospace Threat identification program according to the New York Times was based in the fifth floor of the Pentagon see ring in an office directed by a senior covert intelligence officer who long work for the CIA named Lewis Elizondo he resigned his DoD position on October 10th 2017 and the next day on October 11th he appeared with Tom DeLonge on the Facebook livestream to the stars event Tom DeLonge is founder and CEO of this to the stars along with his co-founder and president Jim semaa van who retired from 25 years as an Operations Officer both overseas and domestically for the Central Intelligence Agency others who have joined along Elizondo and semi van are Chris Mellon former Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for intelligence Steve justice former advanced systems director for Lockheed Martin's skunk works and dr. Hal put off director of various scientific research programs for DoD the CIA and dia and NSA dr. put off also is director of the Institute for Advanced Studies in Austin Texas strangely the Pentagon says that this program was shut down in 2012 five years after it received that initial twenty two million dollar funding after Nevada Senator Harry Reid's efforts but other sources told the New York Times that in fact the UFO program has continued quote to investigate episodes with UFOs brought to the Pentagon by service members while also carrying out their other Defense Department duties close quote retired Senator Harry Reid told the New York Times quote I'm not embarrassed or ashamed or sorry I got this thing going I think it's one of the good things I did in my congressional service I've done something that no one has done before close quote the New York Times articles is that most of the 22 million dollars allocated for the advanced aerospace threat identification program went to Bigelow Aerospace in Las Vegas Robert Bigelow who is the owner of Bigelow Aerospace appeared in CBS's 60 minutes on May 28th 2017 and said these words quote I am absolutely convinced that aliens exist and the alien presence is just like right under people's noses close quote and apparently mr. Bigelow meant there is an alien intelligence interacting with earth in the air below land below water and below ice George Knapp Emmy and Peabody award-winning investigative reporter at klas TV in Las Vegas Nevada has known and worked with Robert Bigelow for several years as well as Tom DeLonge and after this short break George Knapp will join us on phenomenon radio for the latest updates about what has happened since that Saturday December 16 2017 when the New York Times headlined glowing auras and black money the Pentagon's mysterious UFO program you're listening to phenomenon radio live exclusively on kgr a radio calm thank you all for joining us tonight for this very special final broadcast of the phenomenon radio program for 2017 tonight's very special guest of klas channel 8 in Las Vegas investigative journalist George Knapp will join the show right after this short break hi guys this is AJ with vibes mind/body/spirit the hustle and bustle of the holidays on fast approaching and the vibes tribe is ready to assist you in making your holidays merry and bright illuminate your space by shopping online vibes calm and browse our wide selection of handmade soy-based candles and feeds with crystals and essential oils you can prep and clear your space before and after family festivities with stage Palo Santo and our own in-house incense resin blend from now through January 1st use the promo code gift tap checked out and then receive 25% off any online purchase beat that rush and shop on my vibes calm and stop your stockings with thoughtful gifts for all of your loved ones to make this holiday season the most meaningful one yet Lizza online vibes calm that's online VIP easy calm today for years the kg are a digital broadcast station has been your contact for live UFO paranormal talk radio worldwide bring you the top names at research and investigation seven nights a week our listeners connect to the K G RA on various platforms like talk stream live tune in Spreaker itunes i art radio at many more now you can stream your favorite paranormal talk radio shows with our new fully integrated custom kgr a mobile apps for Android and iPhones listen to your favorite paranormal talk shows from any mobile device 24/7 free with smartphone or tablet utilize custom features to access news show pages archives contest events and live interactive chat rooms that show notification alerts and never miss your favorite live programs all free and available to download in Google Play or the iTunes App Store your official contact for the best alternative talk on the planet K GRA radio.com thanks for staying with us right here on phenomenon radio live exclusively on K gr8 radio calm the very first hour tonight is dedicated to klas channel 8 Las Vegas investigative journalist George Knapp he's on deck and ready to go here's Linda Moulton Howe to start the show George Knapp welcome to phenomenal radio it's a pleasure to have you back at this time in which Saturday December 16 2017 was an historic day and night in the annals of the US government's seventy years of covering up the alien presence behind UFOs with strict policies of denial and you and I and others have been waiting a long time for something that would be official from the Department of Defense could you start today on phenomena radio with your own insights about the importance of what happened on Saturday December 16th well I think it's huge it feels like we've turned a corner and the main difference is mainstream media being willing to give this subject a fair shake you know the the story has been there for the taking for a long time if anyone wanted to look at it but of course it was easier to ignore it or make fun of it and denigrate those who are involved in it then it was to actually do the work and dig into it but lo and behold when the New York Times finally decides to go ahead and dig into it they find that it's a legitimate story and that sort of started a tsunami of coverage that I hope is the start of a trend that lasts I I worry that American news media is sort of like American news consumers that the attention span is that comparable of that of an that and thirty seconds from now that want to move on to something else I hope that's not the case I am told that the New York Times is working on other stories there are a lot of other interviews they did that they have not used yet and that they will be pursuing it further I that sets a template for the other news media lets others know that if the new times can cover it that it's acceptable for them to cover it as well they don't have to worry about being slammed as being wackos Linda you and I can relate to that a little bit that how that works so I'm very hopeful that it that it leads to ongoing coverage by major media and that it lets elected officials and government officials know that it's okay to discuss this in in open you know Harry Reid I guess we're going to talk about the Harry Reid interview that I've done this week Harry Reid said that he had I haven't put this on the air yet but he was buried with calls from colleagues on Capitol Hill he's retired now but he still has a lot of friends there and they were calling him saying we had no idea you were interested in this I've been interested in it my whole life that's the kind of historic comments that he gets and there is actual discussion about the possibility of having some hearings into a very narrow sort of a range of UFO related issues with very practical considerations the same kind of things that this pentagon study was focused on that's incredibly encouraging I'm hoping that it laughs I'm crossing my fingers I just don't know where it's gonna go but George you and I and John and others we know that behind all of this has been counterintelligence policies to make sure that the public and the media would stay away from the UFO phenomena since World War two first declared by Harry S Truman saying that they at all cost the public in the media must be removed and held off from knowing anything about what they were secretly investigating at crash sites of what were in their own documents refer to as celestial or sometimes extraterrestrial or other types of a craft and bodies and that we know for seventy years that has been the biggest secret with the biggest black budget money and that comes to Luis Elizondo he count comes out of senior intelligence for the Central Intelligence Agency and the New York Times reported that he was the director of the Pentagon in the fifth floor of the Pentagon searing he was the director and head of this agency that has this remarkable title that none of us that I know had ever heard before Saturday December 16th and it is he has been heading the Defense Department's advanced aerospace threat identification program now if Harry Reid is the senator who is responsible for getting the 22 million dollars authorized and that this goes back to 2007 I believe and the New York Times seems to have accepted that this project closed in 2012 and yet in their own writing in Ralph Blumenthal's writing it says but there appears to be information that it is still secretly ongoing can you share with us what you know about the relationship of Lois Elizondo to Tom DeLonge and his group to the Stars that he first introduced Luis Elizondo on October 11th the day after Luis Elizondo officially left the Pentagon to join the Tom DeLonge effort it's complex and multi-layered but maybe you can sort this more out for us well as as we know from covering the subject for a long time the Air Force had said in 1969 we're not collecting UFO information anymore because it has no implications for national security we're done no one believed that of course no one believed it and of course they've continued to collect information the bolander memo that says any cases involving national security will continue to be collected and of course they are a pilot's encounter some strange craft or UFOs appear over nuclear missile bases and knock out the communication system of course those kinds of reports are going to be made the the nimitz incident that happened there was a there was an investigation by the Navy two of them actually that that went up the chain of command that report got stuck in the drawer of an admiral who commanded that that battleship group I mean that carrier group he stuck it in a drawer because he didn't want it to affect his deployment to the Persian Gulf so there is information that continues to be collected the difference here is that it's collected and stashed all over the place there was no central analysis of communication Harry Reid has an it had an interest in the topic for as long as I have he is the first person I told about area 51 and Bob Lazar outside of our newsroom I went and had a meeting with him in 1989 before those stories hit the air and he didn't kick me out of the car was if we were in a limousine on the way to the airport he was why not to Washington he didn't kick me out it sparked an interest that continued from that day in the mid-90s when Bob Bigelow established knids the National Institute for discovery science he had this world-class group of experts that would meet every few months kick around these topics they had a rapid deployment team that would go to the scene of animal mutilations and UFO incidents I told read about it he had heard about Bob Bigelow he even represented Bob Bigelow in a case when he was a young man I told him about the knids meetings and he started going over there and and he he would encounter X astronauts CIA analysts US another US Senator in these meetings and he was kind of hooked as he's trying to figure out what was going on in government he went from time to time share with me information and then when I would interview him over the years about other subjects he and I would go out to the side and we'd have these huddled conversations and his staff members would wonder what the hell are they talking about so Ill guess what I'm leading up to is that reed has always had an interest in it someone from DIA approached him in 2007 and said look here's the evidence this is really serious somebody needs to have an organized program in collecting this and analyzing information so Reed went to two of his fellow senators Ted Stevens and Daniel in a way they had a meeting in the Capitol in a secure room and asked if Reid made the pitch those two guys didn't take two seconds for them to agree that this should be studied so they quietly authorized the the funding they put it out put out the contract to bid Bigelow Aerospace is the one that got it for some reasons that we can go into for some obvious reasons they'd already been doing this kind of work before under the guise of knids once the contract was awarded it went to this new company called bass John and I can talk about public statements that Bob Bigelow made it should have been obvious what was going on to anybody was paying attention that there was a legitimate study underway and yet it took all this time almost ten years for the news to actually break Louisa Elizondo you'll recall from recent interviews said he'd been doing this for ten years so that's the time frame is right he started in 2007 he was interfacing with bass and these various military agencies collecting information UFO incidents videos all that stuff and then it would be sent to Las Vegas where this team of experts would be analyzing it trying to figure it out they had a very specific list of criteria that was spelled out in the contract of what they were trying to accomplish they looked at databases from other countries from other researchers from all over the world and tried to make sense of all this and try to figure out what was going on for very specific reasons to try to figure out how this technology works and ultimately whose technology it was I think Lewis Elizondo after the program was cancelled in 2012 I think that the information continued to come in to him but he had nowhere to send it nothing to do with it and he became increasingly frustrated in particular and this is not aired yet that I know of he was alarmed because the increasing frequency of these kind of encounters that Tic Tac incident that we're all familiar with now with the Nimitz in 2004 was not isolated it was the beginning of a series of events of encounters that have not been made public yet between our military and these these unknown aircraft both on the west coast and the East Coast and the the increasing frequency sort of was what pushed Luis over that Lou over the edge and then Tom DeLonge established his organization it gave Lou a place to go I think that when he appeared on that stage in October with Tom and the other members of the to the stars team it was shocking to his colleagues in the Pentagon but it's it was the beginning of the end of the the unfair treatment of the UFO topic because Lou elizondo's credentials are impeccable he's a serious guy I was sitting with Lou Elizondo and Tom DeLonge and Bob Bigelow at a dinner here in Las Vegas three days after the announcement was made and he was sharing with me both the the videos that are now have now been made public as well as his resignation letter written to his friend Secretary of Defense James Mattis this guy is not only a friend to his mattis saved his life mattis saved hid Lou elizondo's life in Afghanistan and he told me the story about it about the special bond between them but he had written this letter this very impassioned letter which explained look I'm stepping down because this topic is real it's serious and we're not giving it the kind of attention that it needs and I have an opportunity to go somewhere where I can focus my energies and trying to get to the bottom of it he didn't know at the time whether secretary mattis had seen the letter and and I now know that in fact he did not see it he didn't see it until the night before the New York Times broke its story but Elizondo and Tom were sitting there telling us about the the plans and what they had in mind and they both got a text at the same time from the New York Times saying they had received the resignation letter and they were interested in pursuing the story so I was kind of a momentous occasion and it's something I'll never forget because it was the beginning of the end for UFO secrecy I think there's still a lot of Secrets that have not been unveiled and I don't think there's anything like disclosure coming but as John and I have talked about before confirmation made be more important than disclosure and that's what I think just happened and George do I understand that you're saying that Lewis Elizondo and madis and all that that letter of resignation literally was just the day before the October 11th to the Stars livestream and that the New York Times had not been working on this prior to October 11th time period I I can't say for sure that the New York Times had not been working on it before but I know that the letter from Lewis Elizondo to his boss resigning is what hooked him for sure in going forward with the story because I was sitting there when they got when they sent the message and I suspect that you know Leslie Kean Kane who is working with the New York Times has been involved in this stuff for a long time I suspect that she has pitched these kind of stories to the times more than once over the years this single event where he resigns and goes to work for Tom DeLonge for the reasons that were stated is I think what kicked off this investigation and and it's gone back and forth you know Tom DeLonge would put out statements hey it's coming any day now any day now we're gonna release this and then he had to walk it back and a and he's caught all kinds of grief because over this but the reason he had to walk it back is because the timetable was not his it was he was waiting for the New York Times and then other media sort of were sniffing around the same story so he's waiting for the times to break at figuring they will set the stage they will make it acceptable for other media coverage which is by the way why I didn't break the story because I I mean I've known about the the DIA study the bass effort since it started and you know and was sort of allowed to be a fly on the wall from the beginning so long as I didn't report it and I was figured the day will come when I can report it and I was ready to go with the story before the times but there was a general consensus that I I obviously am NOT the New York Times and my story for me a UFO guy would not have the same impact so I deferred George I've got a question for you going more into the New York Times article in that article and there's been a lot of speculation on on the net you know and even a little bit in the shows but they haven't asked the right question yet what about the part they talked about uncovering metal alloys they're storing them in a facility in the Las Vegas area and they've been doing Studies on some of the people that had interactions are the studies that are being done on the people military personnel and is there a really a facility where did that story come from and do they hold pieces of UFOs well you're not gonna find anyone I was really surprised to see that in there those are you're not really gonna get anybody to speak about that on the record not now anyway there are special facilities that were built within Bigelow Aerospace here in it's the facilities it actually in North Las Vegas that was part of the contract that would specified you have to meet certain standards where top-secret research could take place so it's like a ask if like soundproof rooms where radio can't get through and their secure facilities where you could have conversations and not worry about adversaries picking it up or information leaking out among those facilities was something was a storage facility where exotic materials I am told are stored I I don't know what those materials are or at least I can't I can't really get into it and can I ask you one question though yeah I'm the law has come out and talked about busines what do you know about that the bismuth magnesium well that's that's that combination of business business magnesium has been kicked around for a long time as Linda knows yeah I bet I've heard that before but I don't know for sure that that's the material that's inside the facility here Ill know that there are other places that have exotic materials that have been recovered and analyzed but again I don't think you're gonna get anybody to go on the record that's probably the most sensitive part of this whole thing so I am I'm willing to be patient on that I will tell you this you asked about the the affects there have been ongoing studies by some really capable professionals not just about effects on military personnel but a broader audience a broader spectrum of people who've had encounters with strange things and have had subsequent medical effects psychological effects and and physical effects that have been analyzed by top-notch people there is a pattern that emerges in the data that is very disturbing and I you know I I do not have that material in front of me I'm not privy to any kind of printed materials or reports that have been written about it but it's serious one more question on that ante Jacobson's book phenomena she talked about a study that Gary Nolan and kicked green and some other people are working on is that the study you're talking about I'm trying to think of how I answer this well I'm familiar with that I'll put it that way okay no your that okay Annie Jacobson writes in section and how put off and kicked green have sort of communicated with us a little bit about this that where they had some kind of intense research with UFO artifacts or bodies or something that there could be scientists who then couldn't sleep had nightmares had physical disabilities in the presence of where they were studying remote viewing UFO and so forth and this is what you mean that is disturbing right yeah that's part of it I'll take it a little step further is some of the research that was done by the bast organization ended up at skinwalker ranch which I've written about they were on the ranch for off and on for three years others after knids was there after the mid study basically shut down it was after the book came out these guys teams of people went back there including some really tough customers who can can take care of themselves and those people are the ones that had the most dramatic effects things that they encountered there followed them and have had lasting effects on the people who were on the property as well as their families all all negative George yeah pretty pretty bad stuff okay and that is also a part of the confusion it's like the pink elephant in the room in all of this from the New York Times to lewis Elizondo being ahead of that threat program for 7 2007 to 2012 because you and I and Stanton Friedman and a bunch of us know that from World War 2 on at least that the Truman administration was working behind the scenes retrieving bodies retrieving crafts putting alive being allegedly in Los Alamos National Laboratory that there is a 70 year series of layers underneath what happened December 16th and that it is a bit confusing that we know that this has been ongoing and big and black an area 51 in China Lake and all of it has been involved with the investigations of the storage of material over these 70 years December 16th wasn't the beginning it was the first step for the DoD to officially show really important infrared jet camera gun camera footage and in the New York Times article when it talks about how the the majority of Harry Reid's getting that 22 million dollars allocated for the advanced aerospace threat identification program that it did go to Bigelow Aerospace and on May 28th this year it was Robert Bigelow on CBS's 60 minutes who said quote I am absolutely convinced that aliens exist the alien presence is just like right under people's noses quote can you frame this for everybody in the sense that this is not just beginning this is a huge huge story with many parts from skinwalker ranch to area 51 and that maybe you can flesh out what you know the Robert Bigelow knows and what was behind these comments well I'm not gonna speak for mr. Bigelow I'm but I'll freeze it this way is that he spent more money put more of his own resources into trying to resolve this mystery than any person in the history of the world millions and millions of dollars that he put into research helping independent researchers creating nigs buying the ranch not just that ranch but other properties as well having personnel on these facilities for years around the clock it's a lot of money that he's put into it he stopped after the bast thing ended he stopped and I suspect that it's because well two reasons one is because his aerospace company and venture takes all of his time and he really needs to focus on that but I also believe that his curiosity has been satisfied I put it that way that the questions that he wanted to know most intensely have been answered you could drill into that what you want I do want to read this for that is he looking for the technology to get us to the stars and what I mean by that is warp drive the through terahertz radiation is that what he's either figured out or got enough information for a scientist to work on no it's not what he's were looking for but it is what the bass project was looking for you'll recall John you were one of the only people that recognized the significance is something that Bob said on on coast to coast when I hosted it it was actually it was ten days after the contract with the DIA had been signed he was on the air with us and he mentioned that he'd created this vast organization and it was one of the intentions was to figure out how these things work and to go to the stars and he also commented that along the way he mentioned that he had a partner I mean the the signposts the breadcrumbs have been there for anybody want to pay attention to it he was saying loud and clear that he was in partnership with the government right from the month that he signed the contract later writing FAA announced that all of its all UFO reports that come into the government are sent to Bigelow Aerospace that should have been a pretty big red flag as well and that told you that Bob Bigelow was working with government entities to figure this stuff out whatever was developed whatever reports were developed by bass under this contract are actually government property now there they may be in the possession of a private entity but their government property and he can't release any of that material he can't use it he's it if there are technological secrets that have been uncovered they're not his proprietary materials they belong to the US government but I think the law in the larger picture this is part of a a sort of running a flag up the pole and see how the public reacts I would urge people to be patient with this and not you know now that the cat's sort out of the bag there's a tendency on among all of us me too hey let's hear the rest of it come on spill to spill the secrets that's not going to happen there's not going to be disclosure there there's not going to be some here open up the doors at area 51 and come on in and here's those saucers kick the tires but this is an encouraging thing let's let's let's give them a little bit of room here so people don't freak out to see how this plays out there has already been pushback and I'm sure you've seen the articles people who question whether 22 million dollars should have been spent on this 22 million dollars in Pentagon terms is like an expensive lunch right 22 million dollars over five years is nothing for the kind of program that should be it should be many times that amount I mean we're talking about unidentified craft displaying technological superiority over our best warcraft playing cat and mouse planes that become aircraft that become invisible that can accelerate out of sight in an instant that do things that we only dream we could do they fly over our nuclear facilities they mess with our warplanes our warships or nuclear carriers they come and go at their will over in our airspace that's a serious matter we need to figure out how it works and who they are I think we're closer as Lewis Elizondo uh said were closer to understanding that technology not that we've duplicated it but would that we understand how it works now that the challenge is to try to build it ourselves because if we don't get it as Senator Reid told me the Chinese and the Russians almost certainly are working on it and maybe these revelations from the last couple of days have a little fire under them to go ahead and get serious because now it appears the Americans are getting serious but George isn't this sorta but confusing schizophrenia because we've had whistleblowers for over at points in the last seventy years talking about huge black budget programs that have been underground at area 51 and China Lake and right pad and on and on and that they that there's been a lot of money that has been allocated to back-engineering and studying the various types of intelligences and so this is like drawing an artificial line in the history of all of this December 16 2017 that at least there's DoD officially backed infrared that is showing this extraordinary phenomena but isn't it true even from your own work about area 51 and beyond that we have huge black programs underground undersea everywhere related to extraterrestrial biological entities or other dimensions or time travel well I know we have programs and we put a lot of money into that and I don't know that it's extraterrestrial biological entities I don't know I mean I'm not sure who exactly knows that I also suspect that though programs that exist what materials exist are not in the hands of the government there's somewhere else there there is a buffer there they're in in private hands or foreign hands as opposed to government warehouses I don't think they're in government control and yeah there's been a lot of money spent on this kind of stuff I don't think all those secrets are going to come spilling out right now that this is sort of a test to see how the public goes there are people inside government now who are freaking out about this who are opposed to the release of the information not necessarily because they worry about the public going crazy buying guns and and blowing up all social institutions that might be a concern but because they they worry about their own culpability about the lies that they have told about money that's been stashed into secret programs that should have gone to something else about the taxpayers getting outraged they're also people inside this is Harry Reid told me in the story weird last night there was opposition to this study this study would have gone on but it was opposed by a cadre of religious fundamentalists spread out in the intelligence community had their own little network who were opposed to this because they feel it's satanic that researching UFOs or impossible aliens would be an open invitation to the devil now I'm serious about that and to have that kind of factor to decide be a decisive factor in whether or not we spend money to study UFOs that are intruding in our airspace and messing with our military is just crazy there are a range of motives for why people don't want this to happen some are worried that they're going to go to jail some are worried that it's the devil some some just don't want the public to know or they've got friends in industry or they're worried that the Russians and the Chinese might find out what we're up to there's a range of reasons but we're seeing some of that pushback senator Reid's being attacked for the boondoggle benefits that he gives to his pal Bob Bigelow which is ridiculous it's ridiculous the amount of money here that Bob Beckel is a billionaire it did cost him money that this this effort cost him money he was willing to house it because he's interested in the topic but this is not some big money maker why do you think that doctor how put-off is being attacked in this pushback well you notice that the attack on how put off came from Julian Assange we know from related activities WikiLeaks Trump stuff where his loyalties lie and who's pulling his strings I suspect that the Russians don't want pal put off to succeed or Tom DeLonge to succeed or Lu Elizondo to come forward with more revelations or or a vast like study to to get kicked off once again because they've got their own materials their own research efforts going on and on so belittling how calling him a Scientologist and making fun of irregular that's just that's par for the course for Assange and and people like that who answer to another master Jorge tidbits you said you know people miss the fact that the the contract was signed one of the things that I picked up and I'm curious about and I'm curious to know if you know anything about it but within this project there's a race to the Moon and Mars again and one of the people involved came out and said death gonna we're gonna try to colonize Mars and we might have to do some mining up there does this have to do with there might be something up on Mars that would lead to what we needed to go to the stars there that's that's outside my range I don't know the answer to that one what is it that Bob Bigelow do you think speculation has been informed about in terms of the type of intelligence and whether or not it's a lie enemy neutral or what are the agendas here yeah I can't answer that you know I've I've had a lot of conversations with Bob Bigelow over the years and most of them are sort of private and and and the the reason he continues to to trust me is because I haven't violated his confidence so I can't answer that I hope that we get answers to it and and if I get if I get the green light to talk about it I will but I don't have it right now well Tom DeLonge has suggested that there could be a potential threat and that the next release soon would be about something that may be potentially dangerous well I think there is inherent danger in this the technology that's been demonstrated if it were used against us in a hostile way is is bad there are consequences for humans who come into contact with whatever these things are and and sometimes the consequences are are very bad and so there are there are risks I would also say though that look at the overall the overall reaction of this technology whoever controls it has not been hostile they have not attacked us they're not blowing up cities they interact with us at their will they let us see them when they want they appear to us in different guises at different times and and give us glimpses of other realities if I can borrow a phrase from a friend of Mines book and they're called they're the ones that have called the shots so I hope that they are willing whoever they are are willing to go along with us knowing more about our place in the universe but you know we're gonna have to be patient and wait and see it's a very exciting time yes but but I think we need to be patient with and see how this plays out hopes that my media brethren will stick with it well thank you so much for being on phenomenon today and I hope as 2018 unfolds George that we can have you back several times as things keep breaking because you're one of the people who is close to the heartbeat and I can't thank you enough for being here today thank you both talk to you again Thanks thanks George you know John while I was listening to George what was running in the back of my mind is that part of the big issue of technology they are laying out in the front page of the New York Times that pilots have watched documented craft that we're doing what the New York Times article says our maneuvers that are incomprehensible to modern physics on this planet and in context I am thinking about the Ministry of Defense having still withheld those three policy files whatever is in them from your getting them to admit that they had had 18 they have sword of release some of them heavily redacted some still held off for 20 or 30 years but there was a promise right they allegedly that they were going to release the final three policy files in 2018 what do you think they are going to do and what could be in those policy files well you have to look at it from this standpoint UAP was introduced by hillary clinton during the election cycle the Podesta seemed to be behind that because that group was pushing a new ap stuff it's been vaguely hinted at now in some of these releases and talked about the British government has remained silent other than Nick Pope coming out and starting to talk a little bit more about this and how this all ties into it so yes I believe that the 15 files that weren't digitized and almost impossible to view maybe they'll end up making them public and number two the last three files on policy are gonna have to do with the fact of what the remedy how they reviewed it what they felt about it what their policy was towards it so you have to believe that that's part of the reason why these files have been held back and if you look at grant Cameron's assumption on what's going on and some other people that this is being controlled by the government itself then they would probably go hand in hand with the American government having the first shot the British government coming back next with the second part of it saying yeah we've done a study con Dynes there Nick made a comment that that what awful essakane what's grant brought out that she's going to be the lead on this where she came back and said which was interesting because she brought content into this was see I told you I was right these studies that are going on had to do inside that were redacted inside the report was they came back and said yes the American government and even the Russian government or evolved in this so yeah I think the next sowell is gonna be besides the other stuff we've talked about with George and we'll end up talking with Grant is the fact that yeah the the second bombshell is gonna drop is they're gonna go into more detail and they'll be classified more stuff within project condign and he's mo D files which then would set up using Rendlesham yeah they RAF Bentwaters Woodbridge incident in December of 1980 that you were the only person engulfed in like twice it would set it up as the big military interaction with the unidentified aerial phenomena of the DI 55 project condign report to begin to interface with the public and hopefully confirm this was all real that there were many people involved in the 72 hours in the Rendlesham forest including yourself and that all of the pieces technology that is incomprehensible to us and impact through terahertz frequencies with human minds and bodies can manipulate human minds and can damage human bodies well correct and that's what I was trying to hint at about how the study is ongoing they're working on it and a lot of the incidents have taken place with some of the people that are involved in this study are still classified but in our particular incident it's not number one and there's a lot of support behind the incident to top it all off that in the condom report of the only incident they talked about was Belle waters but that the fact that we were out there were exposed to this UAAP radiation which has now been identified as terrors so yes and yeah I believe that Rendlesham will end up being involved in this when they come out with more on the experience or stuff and the studies and where this is taking us and do you think that grants Cameron and others suggestion that they I call it at the bottom of the phenomena that it involves possibly one or more other dimensions and that where the toll terahertz frequency and technology may be hung up is needing a portal technology that would move us from this matter world dimension to another dimension if we were to get to the actual source of the phenomena interacting with our planet well I'd keep it simple for now the what they're probably trying to develop will have to do with interstellar travel and that itself probably would create that effect I mean the only thing out there now there's some papers written by how I put off and some physicists on this but you have to kind of comprehend it the best way I can put this is the star track when the ship goes into warp drive it goes into a different level so my take would be yes they're working on this technology that may be in or woven as far as being able to open the portal and be able to travel in the portal with the ship and people and after this coming break we are going to be talking with Grant Cameron who has been for the last year or so interacting with people who have had some association with the Central Intelligence Agency who claimed that the key to the intelligence what has been called the alien presence on this planet is in fact from another dimension and that they have first-hand knowledge about portals and just before this break one thing that I have been told in the last two years is that one of the keys that our government has been hiding is that in our solar system is one of the major portals that hooks in to other places in the Milky Way galaxy and that this would be why Earth and Mars and this solar system might have a long-term interaction or relationship with intelligences out there that we have yet to meet face to face but have manipulated and terraformed in our solar system perhaps for millions of years because of a portal connection this 50-minute uninterrupted segment of phenomenon radio more than half of Americans say they are regular consumers of vitamins or other supplements the business generates tens of billions of dollars per year there's also a whole lot of confusion about whether supplements are of any value at all one of the biggest names in the vitamin business has invested billions of dollars into a state-of-the-art supplement center right here in Las Vegas the i-team's George Knapp got a tour and an earful from the head of the Dr Vita operation well here's an example you both heard this story today a new study a comprehensive study was announced by an Australian University showing that vitamin B3 can have a significant effect in fighting against skin cancer we can probably predict that a month from now or so another study will tell us the exact opposite of that it is confusing and infuriating for consumers but it's no accident according to the outspoken businessman who founded Dr Vita he's made a fortune selling vitamins but admits the ones most of us are taking are probably probably worthless well the shocking part to me George is I can go to jail in America I can be rated with armed federal agents I can have my inventory seized and destroyed I can be put out of business I can be sued in civil courts by the government Beyond criminal and be made out into a criminal for telling the truth in America Wayne gorsick is a political conservative with the rhetoric of a fiery revolutionary he bristles at the federal law which prohibits him from making specific Health claims about the products he sells vitamins herbs and supplements under the brand name Dr Vita they're limiting our first amendment rights where we can't tell our customers the truth about our products we have to water it down Gorsuch is ready to debate anyone about the proven health benefits of vitamins he began researching nutrition at an early age started a garage-based supplement business that blossom into the largest online vitamin retailer in the world then left it and started over with Dr Vita a sprawling facility in Las Vegas that might be the most advanced of its kind anywhere I took 30 million of my at-risk Capital that I earned from a success of my prior company and I put it into my my new company including state-of-the-art manufacturing the facility looks like a cross between a hospital and a spaceship employees and visitors Don surgical suits and masks the facility produces a line of Dr Vita products but also handles production of other companies products this machine can produce 180 000 capsules per hour this one analyzes raw materials down to the molecule to confirm for instance the turmeric really is turmeric it's state of the art for detecting the uh literally the fingerprint of the vitamin or the mineral or the Herb it's 100 percent with vitamin uh and various nutrients accuracy but he knows many of his competitors are not so careful the supplement industry is rife with exaggerated claims and below standard merchandise earlier this year the industry was rocked when the Attorney General of New York went after four of the largest retail chains for selling supplements that contained very little of what they claim to be Gorsuch thinks the AG used the wrong test to make his point but he's done similar tests on Rival products it's got a thousand milligram on the label that yet the active was only one percent it only had one percent active curcuminoids which to me you might as well take a placebo it gets worse he says if you're taking a daily multivitamin from most of the major brands you're probably wasting your money a typical vitamin being sold at a major retailer is being sold at two and a half cents per day the cost to manufacture that vitamin is less than two cents do you really think that that product is going to work for decades the debate has raged about whether supplements are of any value the medical establishment including the big drug companies has largely argued that supplements are worthless that there's no evidence they produce any positive health effects big Pharma and medical societies have even alleged that taking vitamins can cause cancer the supplement industry has fired back with its own studies including a global assessment by Frost and Sullivan which says the evidence is overwhelming proper levels of vitamins and nutrients could reduce major diseases and save billions per year in health care costs multiple studies show for instance that vitamin D can reduce the risk of cancer and help alleviate depression Corsic says the most telling proof of all is that most of the major vitamin brands are now owned by drug companies and he says it's no accident the levels of active ingredients in multivitamins are far below what's needed to benefit your health why are they putting up products proven not to work why are they doing that in my opinion they are doing it so that you get sick and need to buy their drugs which they make 10 times more revenue and they make a hundred times more profit the preponderance of evidence from medical studies he says shows definitive benefits from optimal levels of vitamins and nutrients but for every positive study someone comes out with a negative one Gorsuch thinks the studies funded by drug companies can be tailored to get the results they want supplements rarely if ever kill the people who take them but prescription medicine claims more than a hundred thousand American lives per year doctors are taught for medical school on that only drugs can treat or cure a disease and they're taught that vitamins are expensive urine essentially and you get all the all you need out of your diet which is not true in America there is a financial incentive for you to get sick the vitamin debate will go on but here's something found by our i-team colleague Steve Canada several surveys of medical professionals were done to see how many of them take supplements as of about 70 percent of doctors take them sometimes more than half of doctors are regular users it's nearly 80 percent for nurses and among dietitians 94 percent take supplements you can read Steve's full report and see links to many of the studies pro and con on our website when choosing a multivitamin the basic rule is you get what you pay for tomorrow at 11 what the FDA says about supplements and the big money that dictates National Health policies basically you can't cram all the stuff you need into one single pill there you go yeah it's true well it's amazing fascinating sure thanks George Americans spend more on health care than the next

10 Nations combined 20 percent of our gross national product goes into health related expenses and yet U.S ranks pretty low in several key Health categories one problem critics say is that we tend to focus on treating disease rather than preventing it seventy percent of Americans take prescription medications but we pay far less attention to better nutrition which could help prevent illness tonight Georgia Knapp at the i-team gives us an inside look at a cutting-edge vitamin company whose founder thinks American Health is being held hostage to profits so we are the first and maybe the only nutraceutical company in America to have this latest greatest technology Wayne gorsick is justifiably proud of the high-tech Wonderland of a facility he's built in Las Vegas he's not a doctor but his doctor Vita brand is vying to set a new standard for the supplement industry which has had its share of problems the operation is a days of stainless steel and glass and has as many quality controls and safety measures as a drug company facility in part because Gorsuch sees them as the real competition we're now spending three trillion a year in excess of three trillion a year on Health Care 330 billion a year on drugs which most of them have deadly side effects they don't cure anything in most examples big Pharma and American Medicine are almost schizophrenic when it comes to vitamins and supplements thousands of scientific Studies have documented specific health benefits from optimal levels of vitamins and nutrients surveys show that most medical professionals use supplements themselves but the official position of the establishment is that they do no good to confuse things even more Gorsuch says big Pharma now owns nearly all of the major brands of supplements most of the multivitamins are all but worthless he alleges because the amount of active ingredients packed into a single tablet is far too low to be of much benefit his company produces what Gorsuch says is a far superior product but it's difficult to get it on the shelves of major retailers the drug industry throws so much money at the retailers to control that shelf space and then they throw so much money at marketing on TV and magazines and you name it big Pharma spends 24 billion dollars per year on marketing more than is spent on drug research and it goes not only into TV ads for specific drugs but also in all sorts of payments to doctors medical schools everyone the industry earns billions in profits by selling products that kill more than a hundred thousand Americans per year which prompted some critics to label it as the new mafia Gorsuch says the drug companies play rough when doctors in Australia complained about side effects from the now Infamous drug viox its makers plotted ways to quote neutralize or discredit the critics here are the companies I trust TV's popular Dr Oz who often Advocates the use of supplements was recently blasted by a panel of doctors nearly all of whom had Financial links to drug companies Gorsuch says the FDA which supposedly regulates the drug companies is an ally instead for a lot of the people that control and run the FDA come out of the pharmaceutical industry and or go into the pharmaceutical industry have ties to the pharmaceutical industry and you know they they want to make the you know the drugs are really a monopoly on treating disease the FDA is ostensibly neutral on vitamins on its website it advises consumers to beware prohibits sellers for making specific Health claims and will go after supplements that are either contaminated or otherwise harmful Gorsuch says his facility exceeds all FDA standards even pays to have periodic inspections by an independent Authority NSF which makes the results public Gorsuch thinks the only way America will ever get a handle on runaway Health costs is by focusing on prevention instead of more costly treatment supplements could reduce disease he says which might be the reason they are denigrated by the medical industry you could reduce health care costs disease rates 50 plus percent based on the published medical literature and that would take half of their income and maybe 80 percent of their profits of the doctors the drug companies the hospitals and and take it out of their pockets and back into the consumer's Pockets George Knapp 8 News Now the Dr Vita brand is sold mostly online Wayne gorsick says the only retailer which carries another of his Brands is Costco his advice when choosing what supplements to take is to avoid the standard multivitamins and instead look for supplements which offer many times the official minimum daily requirements it requires consumers to do a bit of research on their own we have several links on our website and a lot more information about both sides in the great vitamin debate

there was a fbi raid during the film he did get raided by the fbi that's in my film i found the guy that did the security clearance for him i found the guy that did the security clearance for him a hand reader and jeremy you found this i i found it i was able to reveal it in my film you're going to hear and see things that are new evidence new things that have happened over 30 years it will change the landscape so jeremy i love when he talks about this shit bob lazarus area 51 and flying saucers is a uh um documentary by jeremy corbell it's supposedly the definitive telling of bob lazarus's fascinating story sadly for bob jeremy makes terrible films he also has a strange relationship with the truth let's take a look and unlike jeremy corbell i will actually provide proof imagine that as to why jeremy's claims of new evidence are bullshit for me it was 1989 and bob lazarus telling his story that's what weaponized my curiosity about my my imagination has been weaponized i i again i want your imagination to be weaponized weaponize your curiosity that's my goal to weaponize your curiosity my curiosity was weaponized in that weaponization of my curiosity and i really hope to weaponize people's curiosity weaponized my curiosity my curiosity was weaponized i want to weaponize your curiosity i have a weaponized curiosity like weaponize my my curiosity weaponize that first a bit about bob lazarus bob is a physicist who in 1989 came out with a story about working near area 51 re-engineering supposed alien spacecraft the military had discovered years earlier crazy right he also tried to set up a brothel with his girlfriend still crazy his first wife turned up dead in a house that he would later live with his second wife crazy he was also married to both women at the same time yes bob lazarus's story is fucking crazy true or false this is an interesting guy with an interesting story now i have no reason to doubt that he worked at area 51 or s4 which is the area says this all happened i also believe he's a very smart dude that saw something weird but sadly bob lazarus area 51 and flying saucers will not only add nothing new to the story it will actually damage it but either leaving out important information or straight out lying yes the main problem here is jeremy corbell now don't worry if you don't know jeremy you're going to see a lot of him in this taco and when i say a lot we will see him more than we see bob lazarus this phone re-enactment is 20 minutes alone of the film that's no exaggeration it really is oh man check out those poses even though some documentary filmmakers include themselves in their films there is usually a reason needing to confront individuals or simply they are part of the story but the really great documentaries let the story come straight from the subject and it can pay off to listen kill them all of course not jeremy jeremy wants to be the star so much so that the first six minutes of this film is taken up by jeremy play-acting in his bathroom yes that's 20 minutes in the lounge room and a good six in the bathroom not only is the little play a confusing way to start your doco where is your subject jeremy it's not supposed to be you it's linked to a lie the famous raid he did get raided by the fbi an fbi raid that wasn't what it all appears now i know filming in your bathroom is a lot easier than actually going out and investigating the story but once you've set up your little light with the pink gel and you've pulled off those poses make sure you've changed the date on your fake messages now knows the incoming message time different to the phones it's a completely different date he changed the phone time to suit his story but not the messages i mean it's only the study of film jeremy and supposedly an important detail but fuck it the other agenda was to uplift the visual medium of filmmaking in this genre which i did that's a big statement maybe recreating a sound garden clip from 1991 is lifting the game hold the fuck on hold the fuck on but what i didn't do is i didn't make an ancient aliens bullshit thing where i try to show you some stupid fucking image and be like oh that's fucking it the films i'm putting out although they're not force feeding you some bullshit spooky movie kind of grainy footed stuff what i am providing you is the real story liar it is full of this shit yes of all the people jeremy's convinced mickey rook to what he calls narrate the film beliefs are material things to crack a life open and it seems like the reading of almonds by viewing the intros english motherfucker do you speak it and by narration he means saying random shit that is not only impossible to understand but it has zero to do with bob's story now jeremy is no wordsmith on his own imagine a place between shadow and substance what does that mean why waste time say lot word when few words do trick but he is super pumped to have mickey rock on board give him some space man same billing now remember mickey was the good looking talented actor who decided to go into boxing and well let's just say not the best outcome so of course the guy that's been hit in the head way too many times should narrate maybe they'd like our condors and cupcakes the kimono or the top hat who the fuck knows fuck he sounds like he's had a lobotomy wait what's that scar my mistake everything's normal before we get into jeremy's problem with the truth let's look at what jeremy believes my documentaries are investigative journalism it's a investigative filmmaking i want to know the truth as much as you do i identify myself as an investigative filmmaker jeremy's been selling this for years the idea that he truly investigates and wants to get to the truth he wants you to think his film will actually teach you something new you know i want to know too if this is true i think that it's either true or it's not true i want their critical rational minds so really what i want you to take away from it is use your logic your reason your optimistic skepticism is bob lazar telling us the truth i wanted to know the truth about bob is he worthy of our trust the lie here is that he is a total believer and he has been from a young age he questions nothing does next to no investigating and he believes whatever he is told so really i was 13 years old and on the radio i heard the famous bob lazar 13 years old 1989 and i hear bob but there has been contact i i do not have the luxury of disbelief why do you think these people who can build these superior things haven't come here they have come here whether you like it or not it's real science has finally caught up and we know that life is homogeneous throughout the universe this is really happening it's been happening for a long time since the beginning of recorded human history why don't they come to new york right so they do go they do come to new york but ufos are real it's happening it's real these intelligences are controlling whatever these are if they're craft or whatever they have made themselves clearly available you know they haven't come on your show yet larry but let's get that to happen jeremy doesn't restrict himself to just ufos and aliens he's into the whole mixed bag creatures i know it's just weird rolling out of what appeared to be inverted geometric fucking portholes on the ranch interdimensional porthole is a place where the world is thin a veil that's perforated where these things start to come into our dimension and poltergeist poltergeist and bigfoot bigfoot and cattle mutilations the rancher placed a new flea collar on his dog's neck it disappeared within a day now jeremy doesn't bring a lot that's new to bob's story but what he does bring seems at first interesting that's until you look slightly deeper and realize hey lies you were telling people since 1989 that there was some sort of hand scanner they have a hand reader i was told that it has to do something where it measures the bright light measures the bones when you discuss this people like this doesn't even exist yeah i looked for that kind of thing all over the internet never found anything they said it was bullshit it was science fiction and jeremy you found this i i found it so i was able to reveal it in my film i never thought i'd see one of these again it is touching after 30 years when no one will believe bob jeremy hands him photos of this very hand scanner printed off the internet onto photo paper so jeremy can pretend that they are original photos sweet sweet moment i can't believe you found a picture of this but i tried to explain this to people so many times and they either didn't believe me or say yeah i'm sure there yeah i'd hate to shine a light on jeremy's investigative skills but between bob and the investigative filmmaker someone might have noticed that this very scanner was used in one of the biggest sci-fi films of all time close encounters of the third kind and it's not in the background a nice big shot of them using the scanner four rapid pulses after a five second interval forty pulses another five second break and thirty pulses sixty seconds of silence and then an entirely new set of numbers that's exactly exactly how this film came out in 1977 12 years before bob's claims when he was 18. it was up for eight academy awards 42 friggin years ago to close encounters of the third kind now true i don't know if bob has ever seen close encounters sad for him if he hasn't could have really shut up those people that didn't believe him all along bob does seem like the type of guy that would rather be out driving rocket cars shooting guns building hydrogen cars opening brothels and generally blowing shit up than sitting at home watching movies so maybe he missed the massive film that came out when he was in his teens about alien contact with the exact same hand scanner maybe he never caught it on video either i tell you if i had been trying to describe something for 30 years and it popped up on my tv i'd fucking noticed but what about our little grey furball he has been following this hand scanner story since he was 13. has he seen close encounters if only there was an interview where he was talking about close encounters as being one of his favorite films if only they'd asked him how many times he'd seen it how many times have you seen the film close encounters i mean is this a test probably too many what was that jeremy probably too many too many times and you never notice the hand scanner investigative filmmaker obviously as one was used in a major movie these scanners were not that rare yes they were used as part of the stealth program but they were also advertised in the early 70s for other commercial uses jeremy can't even keep his own story straight in this film he states he found them online which is probably true looked for that kind of thing all over the internet never found anything and then all of a sudden this article comes out on the joe rogan show he says he got them from a friend that works at area 52 which is a straight out lie found it through a good friend of mine named tyler rogoway and he had some good sources inside of area 52. stick to your story jeremy the fbi raided during the film there was a fbi raid during the film he did get raided by the fbi that's in my film during filming on the 19th of july bob lazar's business united nuclear was raided by the fbi along with several other departments oh my god fbi identified themselves as bomb squad uh computer squad biological hazard squad hazmat squad everyone made the full game we were told that this raid was triggered by a conversation jeremy and bob had the day before on the 18th of july in a secret location apparently this conversation was amazing and included info that no one has ever heard before well they still haven't heard it because we had never shown any of that conversation a conversation that was built up from the beginning of jeremy's film remember jeremy play acting at the start that's right like a lot of this film we are just going to have to take jeremy's word on it what the fuck are you doing they they were able to repeat back verbatim a portion of the conversation that we thought was private as the name implies united nuclear isn't your run-of-the-mill business just the look of that 90s website will send a shiver up your spine united nuclear sells some serious shit looking for some uranium maybe bob has also been raided before where charges were laid against him and his wife for selling illegal items we are told in the film that it was conducted under the guise of a missing receipt and what they said they were looking for some paperwork an old order from two years ago what they were looking for was just an ordered phone well they said they were looking for some receipts but jeremy and bob don't believe this what do you think they were there for for some of the fuel from the craft that might have been stolen element 115 was always something bob said fueled the craft interestingly the truth could be a lot scarier than that the fbi are investigating a murder where the victim janelle sterzel was poisoned with thallium a substance that is banned in the united states now bob isn't a suspect for the murder but he is one of the very few people that could make thallium as far as their secret conversation on the 18th of july triggering the raid the search warrant and raid details were logged in the day before their secret conversation on the 17th of july the murder is real the investigation is real that squad ever made the full gamut because they had no idea um what we had in our shop or like what we're capable of or are we going to retaliate or anything like that was the raid time to send a message to bob and jeremy because they were making the film maybe but again we will never know the truth because this lazy little guard gnome is not interested in finding the truth even if that truth would help explain or verify bob's story jeremy you could have at least approached either the fbi or the local police to get some clarification on what they were looking for maybe you could have proved the fbi story was fake oh am i kidding he doesn't give a fuck my documentaries are investigative journalism it's it's a investigative filmmaking i want to know the truth as much as you do briefings and just set me in a room and i had a uh while they were going and updating my clearance to a level that they call majestic after 30 years jeremy has finally found the mysterious mike figben found the guy that did the security clearance for him in 1989 difficult to find these individuals you know facebook is a is a heck of a thing i found the guy that did the security clearance for him to be able to work at the base the guy nobody could find for 30 years how did you find him facebook mike thigpen supposedly did the background checks on bob lazar for clearance to work at s4 after 30 years and this guy dodging you i found mike thigpen that's amazing i couldn't believe it he's he's on the east coast i called him i've talked with him multiple times you know he won't go on camera surprisingly mike doesn't want to appear on camera or on the phone or by text or by email that's right again jeremy has zero proof of what he's telling us where is the footage of jeremy calling him where is the footage of him finding him on facebook he actually talked to me man he talked to me three times he almost went on camera with me why didn't bob talk to him are you an incompetent filmmaker or just full of shit but the number one thing you need in this field as an investigative filmmaker the number one thing yeah you have to have a huge fucking bullshit meter the premiere of this new film has fired up many of the same arguments about his credibility but the first audience to see the movie didn't need much convincing eager fans stretched around a city block to see a film narrated by movie star mickey rourke audience response to the film's premiere was overwhelmingly positive because i provided input to the director my name is listed in these movie credits but this is jeremy corbell's film i hope your name's in the credits it's your film you fucking produced it nice free plug there george george knapp is the reporter who started the whole bob lazar story to say jeremy has had a chubby little grey boner for him for years is an understatement my mentor in journalism is a man named george knapp also working with my mentor in journalism george knapp who is now my mentor in journalism george knapp and i went to my mentor george knapp 89 my mentor in journalism a man named george knapp here's my mentor in journalism george now i want to honor my mentor because my mentor is george knapp and my mentor in journalism george knapp the voice of my mentor in journalism george knapp my mentor is george knapp my mentor in journalism george knapp he's my mentor in journalism yeah not everybody can be george knapp fucking that guy's a gangster this isn't even their first film together you could say george has found the perfect little groupie to continue his work the fact that for over 30 years george hasn't been able to clear up much of bob lazar's story doesn't put off jeremy in the slightest middle of the night middle of nowhere and a place that where the uh monster uh the predator-type monster had appeared where a giant dark cloud had invaded a physicist's mind lucky's little apprentice jeremy george isn't the greatest at handling evidence in fact george has a videotape of the elusive element 115 yes i know i can't wait to see it only problem is george lost it before anyone else could see it i get a lot of emails from people who say oh god where's this video you owe it to the world to show this video cough it up and i tell them look i've looked for it i've got all these boxes of crap but don't worry jeremy's been telling everyone he has finally found it show us jeremy show us what's on that tape i went through every tape that bob had in his personal home archive and after all these years 30 years we have some footage of it but it doesn't prove shit useless side note on element 115 in 1989 scientific america did a story on the possibilities of creating element 115. there's a probably a good chance bob was interested in this magazine that story was published in may of that year just two weeks before bob came forward with his amazing story man what a coincidence now to be fair i thought i should watch another one of jeremy's films in case this was his only bad one oh look george nap again now incredibly hunt for the skinwalker is actually much much worse the flea collar on his dog's neck it disappeared within a day 24 hours later it was back on the dog i know how well it doesn't have bob lazar who was at least interesting but it does have robbie williams for some strange reason it does also have the best proof that jeremy is the tommy zoo of tacos sorry tommy you are at least entertaining jeremy decides to pretend to interview himself in his own documentary the best part is he can't answer one of his own questions i don't know man that's why i would never ever take illegal drugs you know i've seen some people who smoke marijuana they seem to lose pride in their appearance they lose their motivation to achieve strip away the lies the twisting of the story the selfie footage the stock footage and all you're left with is a 30 year old story with xero added you realize once again that america's leading industry america's most profitable business is still the manufacture packaging distribution and marketing of bullshit is bob telling the truth i didn't know before and thanks to jeremy i still don't know it would only be fitting to finish this wonderful video with some wise wise words from the wonderful mr mickey rook cracker light purple and it seems like the reading of humans by viewing the intros we tell them one last time maybe they'd like great bye

we're thrilled to be here my wife Anna say hi Anna hello um I don't know if you heard this story but our our uh our luggage has become a UFO we know we know our suitcases were objects we know they were flying at some point and we know their uh their their whereabouts are unknown at this time so we went out and got got some clothes I promise I we did take showers and we did brush our teeth so we're not dangerous anymore um I I know the a couple of things about Denmark didn't know a whole lot but I I knew a of things that the the most important uh people to know were the Berg family ybg and carlborg and and maybe their their cousin the tubber's um but actually the the one thing I did not know about Denmark previously that I have learned in the 24 hours we've been here is uh about the most powerful the most intimidating force in the city of Copenhagen and that is uh I mean more fearsome than the CIA more fearsome uh than the Men in Black and that's the bicycle Mafia uh be afraid be very afraid you know cuz these guys they're they all seem perpetually angry and they will run you down and not look back I'm hoping we escape unscathed here I thought uh today we would have some fun and uh and I would share with you sort of my journey uh along uh chasing this UFO mystery Bob Lazar Area 51 in particular some of the stories and Adventures that adventures in saucer land I guess you could call it how I got sucked into this topic and why I become hooked on it permanently and some of the interesting people and and uh Adventures we've had along the way and share with you my perspective not only as a as a man who's interested in this topic but also as a reporter as a journalist because I find myself increasingly at odds with the other people in my profession I I think the segue from what we heard from Robbie uh is seamless in that uh a lot of what we know about uh Area 51 and UFOs comes from Hollywood instead of from journalists people who are in my profession the people who should be telling this story are news people around the world us and here but they aren't they aren't doing it and uh why they aren't doing it is something that we'll explore today U so let's get right to it the the story that we're here to review today is sort of traveled all over the world many times and I know in some ways that it sounds Preposterous on its face uh the idea that some slightly off-kilter nerdish guy in glasses could be hired into a classified program even though his educational credentials are practically non-existent his work history is sketchy at best he's been discredited and dismissed by people he worked with and for there is no way that this guy should ever be allowed access to Top Secret materials or to classified files no way let alone that he would be able to blow the whistle on some some of the deepest darkest secrets of all time and yet if we press number one I think you will recognize this guy's face Snowden you thought I was talking about Bob Lazar right we know that Edward Snowden really did work for the CIA in the NSA even though he had no college degrees even though he dropped out of high school he dropped out of the military he was working as a security guard right before he was hired by the CIA and then later the NSA private contractors for the SAA he was able to access the most sensitive information in the US government which he subsequently and promptly leaked it's run number two uh I am here to talk about another slightly nerdish whistleblower a guy named Bob Lazar is it fair to compare Bob Lazar and Edward Snowden I think it is and I'll take you through this Twisted Tail step by step and you can tell me if this comparison is valid or not both of these guys worked on classified projects for spooky agencies both presumably were not qualified to be in their positions and so a lot of people have doubts about them as a result their personal lives were spotty their educational credentials were questionable both were very bright guys whose lack of former credentials was not an impediment to getting work in places that seemingly should be off limits to them uh I think Bob Lazar's Story the one you're about to hear demonstrate that those three letter agencies that we talk about in UFO Gatherings like this will hire anyone if it means means there's a better chance of getting the job done uh it's the same reason that the CIA came to my hometown Las Vegas to hire Mafia guys to help kill Fidel Castro because those are the guys who could get the job done that really happened it's why deals were cut with the CIA and the DEA and various drug cartels over the years or why we had on the government payroll the US government payroll these scumbag dictators like Manuel Nora or Saddam Hussein it's why journalists and entertainers have been recruited over the decades I mean these agencies do what they need to do to get the job done they will make a deal with the devil if that's what it takes and I think that relates directly to the story of Bob Lazar that we're going to hear it's now 25 years since I got sucked into this world of Area 51 and flying saucers and Bob Lazar uh November next month will Mark the 25th anniversary of when we went public with Bob's identity and I'll tell you some stories as we go along but right up until the minute when I revealed his name and showed his face for the first time Bob was grabbing the videotape I mean 10 minutes before he went on the air um trying to grab that tape because he had changed his mind he is the most as you will hear he's if he's the UFO Messiah he's the most reluctant Messiah you're ever going to hear about um I had no idea of course when I started this thing that 25 years later the story would still be going that people would still be asking questions about it that it would travel all over the world many times over you know I was pretty sure at the time it was going to change Bob's life there was no question about that um and I guessed it would probably cause at least some kind of fleeting interest in the time in the base itself in Area 51 the one that with no name the one with many names but I had no idea that this was going to change my life so dramatically as well and it has I mean I'm here I'm speaking to an audience in in Copenhagen about Area 51 uh and it's a long way from home it's just an amazing little journey uh since the theme of this Gathering is sort of about UFOs and the media I thought I would uh explore with you how this story has spread uh how it became sort of a a Transcendent meme uh the way in which this story has spread I think by itself that mechanism would be of interest to those three-letter agencies intelligence agencies in how this thing goes around the planet and also to sociologist you know certainly to academics who study media information Theory it has been uh kind of astonishing at least from my end and I've had a pretty good seat uh I started as a journalist in Las Vegas um back in 1991 excuse me 81 and I work mostly in television but I've also done print and as was mentioned in the introduction I do some radio here and there and over the years I think I probably covered just about every kind of news story you could imagine in Las Vegas what you would expect a Las Vegas reporter to cover organized crime political corruption sex scandals celebrity uh goofballs environmental catastrophes drought the Foreclosure crisis drug dealers Gun Runners murders bikers fires stickups pot dealers crack pedlers scams ripoff scumbags Bon heads and Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid I me I covered it all along the way and some of those stories I broken have been pretty good uh some of them not so good and in my hometown at least I'm considered a pretty good rep or at least I was all that kind of changed in 1989 when I became the UFO guy I'm sure this is true for most of you who are here in this room because in your family in your circles you're the UFO guy or gal right uh if there's a UFO sighting in in Norway or something and it makes it into the paper people in your family crazy Uncle Bob or something comes and asks you about what you think about the UFO story we're all the UFO people so you're going to be able to relate to some of the things I'm going to tell you about here um I am the area 51 guy I'm the UFO guy in my community it's as if it's tattooed on my butt I'm sure it'll be mentioned when I die that's going to be right there in the obituary uh in describing what I did in my life is that I was the UFO guy in Area 51 I mean not a day goes by when I don't get emails from uh Ecuador or Iceland or somewhere in between uh about a UFO sighting or a flying saucer event everywhere I go in Las Vegas and my wife can tell you about this we get stopped and people want to talk about UFOs we're sitting and having dinner people will come up and slide into the booth and they want to tell me their story and um you know that that's okay to some extent and I understand it and they want to ask the same question uh what do I really think about UFOs well the reality is they don't want my opinion about UFOs they want to tell me their UFO story because they everybody's got one so it's at restaurants I'm in a grocery store uh in a bar standing in a urinal in a men's room um people wanted tell me about the UFO stories that's a real thing hey do you really believe that stuff um and I'm okay with that but for some reason it drives my colleagues in journalism crazy uh it just drives them nuts they don't know how to handle it the general public seems deeply interested in this subject and every time we do a UFO story or some kind of series on television the ratings Spike they go up it indicates the public is hungry for Reliable information on this topic and yet other journalists who presumably should be uh you know servicing the needs and the interests of the of the public don't want to touch it and it's just really strange I mean it's a great subject potentially the biggest story in the history of the planet and even if it weren't true even if this was some kind of a mass hallucination long term it would still be a huge story plus from my perspective as a journalist it's a hell of a lot of fun to chase this around I get to come to Copenhagen for example I mean uh but to my colleagues the folks in this room all of us myself included are UFO Buffs UFO Believers UFO crazies I mean it's subtle terms like that that they use in their stories UFO Buffs and Believers it's to tools that are used by journalists to sort of put UFO folks in their place uh you know those who don't believe the subject matter is legitimate they're called uh Skeptics or scientists but though the rest of us are Buffs and Believers I never thought of myself as a buff or believer I'm not the UFO reporter I'm a journalist I'm a reporter who happens to be interested in UFOs and there there's a a distinct difference there

I think it's a legitimate news story and as I said this has driven my colleagues in journalism really crazy um 1989 as I said is the year that I officially went nuts uh because that's when we broke the story about Bob Lazar and Area 51 and and uh when I had broken those other stories I mentioned you know I'm just a reporter when I talk about UFOs in Area 51 I'm crazy I'm a fruit cake at least in the eyes of my colleagues I can't tell you how many times I have been pillared by radio disc jockeys in the morning when they run out of belch barf and fart jokes or something they'll take a shot at me uh my friends at Nevada's largest newspaper the review journal have had a lot of fun at my expense over the years um that one of the first they've done a series of editorial cartoons that I have on my wall at home by the way one of them showed me with a butterfly net uh chasing a flying saucer that was the first one there was one that had uh it was called the marshmallow head Chronicles and it was two extraterrestrial Hitmen had come to Earth and they had their ray guns here they were coming to kill me because I'd spilled these UFO Secrets but they're standing looking at a at two G gasoline pumps and the one guy says the other of course they are earthmen but which one is George knap um I think they're making fun of maybe my Stout figure or something like that I had done a series of reports about alleged alien abductions and you know the medical procedures that come along with that that the abductees talk about and the uh the review journal had a column they called it the headline was they were kidnapped by extraterrestrials and they they talked about the medical procedures and they dubbed me a grand Mulla in the Church of cosmic proctology which U I thought that was funny uh the newspaper critic he was writing a story about how people were rushing at home at night to see my stories about UFOs the second series that we ever did he said that they were rushing home not because they care about flying saucers but because they wanted to be there quote when George finally goes bull Goose Looney and does the big crack up on the screen his eyes Going Buggy and rolling free in their socket sockets will he Crash and Burn before our very eyes that was in our newspaper funny stuff I figure it comes with a territory I'm a I'm a public figure I'm not thin skinned about it I'm okay with it because I know the Public's okay with it I don't write stories for them to be read by other journalists I write them for the public to read and this is a subject that the public is interested in the part that bothers me and since we are talking about UFOs and media the part that bothers me is that reporters and columnists other journalists are so willing to write this story off to dismiss it to make fun of it to poke fun at you and me and anybody else who's interested in it without doing any of the work they do the Wise Cracks because it's easy and they don't do the work H they've certainly never spent hundreds of hours sitting out there the dark and the dust of the desert around Area 51 waiting for something to happen trying to dodge these security patrols and coyotes and dust devils things of that sort trying to keep from getting arrested or busted by the helicopter are out there they haven't read the books they haven't read the documents they had haven't interviewed the witnesses none of the stuff that you would do in any other kind of story that's your job is to do that kind of stuff before you make a judgment about a particular topic or The credibility of a witness or something like that and I'm sure many of you feel the same way I don't know what the coverage is like here in Denmark Pia was telling me you don't get a whole lot of serious media coverage but maybe that can change they see all of us in this room as nuts and and while I think that is terribly unfair and inaccurate in a general sense the fact is and you know it as well as I do that this subject does attract a lot of people whose elevator doesn't go all the way to the top floor you know um for the past couple of weeks I've been getting emails from this lady in California who uh wants me to contact the former director of the CIA Admiral James Woy she wants him to stop harassing her via electronic mind control uh she's Woolsey she says has been forcing her to have sex with a large contingent of Asian men who she doesn't know so she's been banging these Asian guys and she's blaming the CIA guy and wants me to see if I can get him to stop it I'm not sure I can help her out when I first got started in this uh it's did the first series on the UFO stuff in Area 51 I get contacted by this lady she's calling me up every day got to talk to me got to see me in person can't discuss this uh on the phone she had to see me I fine I finally relented she shows up at the station she's wearing the skimpiest possible halter top and holding this kid who it turns out of course is an alien hybrid baby and within the first five minutes I met this lady I knew details about her sex life that I didn't want to hear because she said it was while she was engaged in a certain sex act their boyfriend out on their front porch that she looked up and saw her first flying saucer and she told me this allow and I'm not making up one word of this uh she told me this elaborate story about how they had beamed her up on the ship she'd been up there a couple of times and the first time she was up there uh she was in a lineup with other Earth women and they looked looked her over and they told her you know in our they had her them in bathing suits like a Miss America Pageant or something and they told her in their alien opinion that she didn't needed to get breast implants and again I'm not making this up and that was the one part of the story I could really believe because there was ample physical evidence staring me in the face right there um I get these letters from this 75-year-old woman in Northern California she says she has these sexual romps with aliens every time her husband leaves for town they live on a ranch every time he leaves the aliens come and have their way with her and uh she even drew me an anatomically correct picture of what alien genitalia you look like you want to you want to open up that on an empty stomach in the morning it's not something that I have been pestered by a millionaire transsexual abductee by a guy who says he's the twin brother of Jesus Christ who says aliens are coming and they're really mad uh I had a guy fly from Australia one time used he said he used the last money he had in his bank account to fly to see me and to see if I would go to Area 51 and use my contacts out there to tell the aliens to stop abducting him now that's a sad that's a sad story it's funny but it's sad at the same time cuz that guy really thought he was being abducted and he thought I could possibly help him talk to some aliens out of Area 51 uh I had this guy who contacted me and I don't know how I got sucked into going to his house but he convinced me that he had worked for the military he had some UFO information he says I communicate with the aliens on a regular basis and he showed me the device and it was it we went out into his backyard and it was a bird bath with an old Record Rack on top and a headlight from a car that was just sitting there like it was not connected anything that this guy said that was his device for uh communicating with aliens I get U letters from alleged aliens that tell me they're watching me I get them sending me poems and songs I've had assorted death threats over the years from people who say that they say that they're the government and they're going to get me they say I'm the government uh they think I'm an agent I mean been around the block on this I went on The Montel Williams TV talk show one time it just somebody just sent us a copy of it and there was a people on there it wasn't just abductees they were abductees who've been aliens in a previous lifetime and I'm supposed to follow that um you know so it let's roll some video the next one the area 51 video it kind of comes with the territory so um for major media you know that's all they see is people like that they never get beyond the obvious they never start to look at uh area 1 the legitimacy you can turn the video down I mean the audio down the legitimacy of whether there's a real story there or not um so I I think it's really their loss because they're missing the boat this is a story that got out anyway Area 51 as mentioned it's known all over the world now it's created an oxymoron of sorts of the highest order the world's best known secret base how can you be so well-known and Secret at the same time it's kind of odd it's a place that is famous for being Secret uh and for decades for decades the government has pretended it wasn't there it's their own fault Area 51 you know this uh most classified military technology in America's Arsenal has been tested out there it's a place where constitutional protections legal protections do not apply it's a place where environmental laws in our country are Exempted it's where you can be shot just for walking into the place Area 51 also known as the Box the ranch the water toown strip and Dreamland it's the base that began in 1955 uh it's the place where the U2 that's the the camo dudes that sit up on the on the on the uh Hill if you try to walk up to Area 51 they're the ones that come and grab you uh and they have cameras all over the security is really oppressive uh they if you get too close they'll fly helicopters Jets all kinds of things at you they have um they have motion detectors 12 15 mil away from the base out on public land that will let them know if your car drives down that road they know you're coming so they can get ready they have all kinds of sophisticated technology uh to to tell them when somebody is trying to get in I've bet all kinds of people offer to hey let's sneak in there and I tell that's a really bad idea well look let's get a whole bunch of winnebagos and we'll go driving across the border and they can't stop all of us yes yes they can and uh so i' I've tried to talk them out of that stuff um you know Area 51 even without Bob Lazar is a pretty interesting place the U2 the SR71 stealth technology all manner of CIA monkey business has been taking place out there over the years it's a fascinating place but the history of Area 51 and the history of my my own personal history all changed a day and it was 1987 two years before Bob Lazar a guy named John Lear walked into the TV station and told me a story and Lear had a certain amount of credibility at KS his father of course had invented the Lear jet John had run for the State Senate he was an ex CIA employee who had flown basically every aircraft in the world and he had helped us break a really big story my boss was a guy named Ned day who was a a muck raking crusading journalist in in Nevada he's dead now but at the time he had broken this story it was a huge story about the existence of the stealth fighter John leer would go out the area 51 look around take photos like these and he knew that something like a stealth fighter was flying around out there so he and his buddy Jim Goodall told Ned day Ned day breaks the story it goes National goes International about the existence of the strange technology out there Ned gets pulled in by the FBI they hauled him in and put a bright light it was like right out of a movie scene how dare you endanger National Security don't you know that puts everyone in the country at risk and the Russians are going to find out all this stuff he was really worried that he was going to go to prison for a while and of course his ultimate answer to them was look you may have thought you had a secret out there with this technology but if I as a reporter can find it out then certainly the Russians can find it out so I did you a favor anyway John leer gave us that information about stealth technology so he had credibility with us he walked into the station with a big stack of UFO documents and dropped them on Ned's desk and Ned said look I'm not interested in this I can't do this story if it was true that there's UFOs or flying saucers at Area 51 I'd already know about it so it can't be true uh so he gave John the brush off I was eavesdropping as good reporters tend to do and I said hey let me take a look at that stuff so I started reading his pile of UFO documents it included the mj12 papers and some other things citing reports from oh these are some of the spy planes that have been tested out at Area 51 this video had been classified for a long time but they finally released it decades later um anyway so I started reading John's stuff and um I thought well that's kind of interesting and at the time I produced a show called on the record it's a little public Affairs program it airs at 6:00 in the morning and nobody watches it normally it'd be a show that you'd have somebody that's the a12 which was also developed out there and that's footage from Area 51 um anyway so we have John leer uh on on the record the show that I did that nobody normally watches and the phone starts rigging off the hook and so I had him on a second time and I got an even bigger response from the public and I thought hey this is kind of interesting maybe I'm going to have to look into this UFO topic so I started reading it everything I could get my hand hands on and I figured this is how cocky I was at the time uh I figured well what the heck you know what this topic needs is a good reporter give me six months I'll have this baby all figured out you know I'll have this mystery solved and here it is 27 years later and I still have no idea what's going on um so that's how I sort of got sucked into it John Lear give me this information I read it I find it interesting the third time I had John on this program he slipped a hint that he knew guy who' just been hired at Area 51 don't want to say too much about it but if this goes public if he goes public with the information it's going to blow the lid off this story I thought well I'm going to keep that in mind well the guy that he knew turned out to be Bob Lazar I'll skip some of the steps about how we we ended up meeting let's play a little clip of the Lazar the 25th this sort of give us a recap of the story I don't know sometimes I really do regret regret it and almost I I almost feel like apologizing to him saying that you know I'm sorry I let things out can I have my job back 25 years after he was forever transformed into Bob the UFO guy Bob Lazar says he regrets ever talking about flying saucers or a secret base in the Nevada desert or any of the things that made his name known all over the world there isn't a day I I don't get emails and you know I try and get this across to him look I don't even want to talk about it anymore you know well I don't believe the story great pass it around you know I really don't want you to because it makes life difficult for me a quarter century ago not many people outside of Nevada had ever heard of Area 51 the mysterious base 100 miles north of Las Vegas a place the government said didn't exist it was the location of choice for all manner of black projects spy planes that were kept secret from the public and that's my driveway that's Bob that's Jean Huff and Bob's wife Tracy and Chris and uh we're just waiting there for uh 5:00 to roll around former CIA pilot John leer remembers the day that area 51 became a household name hi John this is home video he shot as a k News truck prepared to broadcast a live interview from lear's home Lazar was understandably nervous yeah he was nervous because he was putting it all out on the line there and uh here he was going to you know reveal all this secret that he' signed you know that he was going to uh never tell anybody it's uh not only a crime against the American people in the interview lazzar's face was hidden and he used a pseudonym Dennis which was the first name of his boss out in the desert well there's several uh actually nine uh flying saucers flying Lazar claimed he worked intermittently at a location called S4 south of Groom Lake the main facility of Area 51 he said the hangers had been built into the site of a mountain disguised as desert and inside were a set of nine flying saucers months later he revealed his identity to the world and said the technology he'd worked on was from somewhere else that it was being taken apart to figure out how it worked okay so he says he told us man I remember that day so clearly in May of 1989 we put him on the air I had not interviewed him before uh we had somebody cancel an interview a live interview for our five o'clock news when I was anchoring there we said well may that saucer guy would do it so we put him on and the phone went crazy people could not believe that my bosses go rushing in is this guy for real and my news director and I Bob Bob stoal said gosh if this story is true if we can verify at least some of it it's going to be gigantic so we started a project I spent the next eight months working on trying to verify Lazar's background and any other details that we could come up with about Area 51 we had heard rumors about something that looked like flying saucers being tested out there for a long time yet no one had ever come forward until Bob um so he said there's nine flying saucers into the built into the hanger in the side of the mountain the facility know as S4 he said that he saw one of these things that was in Flight he called it the sport model and it looked like you saw the the artwork there it's looked like what uh Billy Meyers beam ships like the the sport model that he called it uh he said that antimatter reactor would create its own gravitational field uh that gravity was in fact the key to Interstellar travel it allowed one of these spaceships that generates its own gravitational field it could Bend space and time which is what a lot of people jacqu Val and others have said it looks like how these flying saers get around the fuel Lazar said was something called Element 115 a super heavy element that did not exist at the time but does now I mean it's Preposterous stuff it's outrageous it's ridiculous who in the world could believe such a story coming from a guy with a sketchy background like Bob it turns out quite a few people believed it because the story exploded like a bomb I mean it launched thousands of product lines made Untold numbers of media appearances possible the meme was on the loose let's play this next one in the cud Area 51 you could have just handed me a piece of a UFO from Area 51 there have never been any spacecraft there's no area 51 there's no recovered spaceship oh excuse me Mr President that's not entirely accurate it would probably take an Indiana Jones sized Warehouse to stash all the pop culture references to Area 51 the oo secret facility the place that did not officially exist for decades is the rockar of military bases literally there's a rock band named Area 51 and another named Element 115 which is supposedly the fuel for flying buying saucers there's an Area 51 video game an Area 51 Bar what better way to unwind after a long day than a glass of Groom Lake Red Wine from the AE in maybe spend a few minutes staring at the paintings you picked up at the area 51 art show while perhaps listening to the Bob Lazar music videoar the story that Bob Lazar told 25 years ago has gone around the world many times over when you get yourself in position and in the quart Century since then the world has beaten a path to area 51's door every major news organization in the world has written Stories the Bas has inspired documentaries and TV dramas dozens of books have been written fiction and non-fiction hundreds of news articles many of them critical of Lazar and skeptical about his background his tale launched a thousand product lines every trinket you can imagine along with assorted businesses a AAA base team and the world's only extraterrestrial Highway running right past the entrance to groom Lake President Obama recently made a point of publicly acknowledging Area 51 what's really going on at Area 51 and former President Bill Clinton told Jimmy Kimmel he' looked into those stories about space aliens so first I had people go look at the records on Area 51 to make sure there was no alien down there even the Kardashians have made a track out into the desert that's a security guard who look look how that that uh you know that story moved throughout the internet so quickly and not just the internet but but news in itself like was in the first 48 hours after the broadcast it was in Japan back in Las Vegas for a visit Lazar recalls why he came forward in the first place he had traveled to the S4 base only a handful of times but began to get scared I began to get worried in that why they've given me all this classified information they're not calling me anymore they won't take my phone calls and the meantime apparently they're deciding what to do with me look how bright it's getting look at it now for a variety of personal reasons Lazar couldn't keep the story to himself he shared his tale with John Lear and Jean Huff they and a few others made TRS out to the outskirts of S4 because Lazar said he'd learned when the test flights of the saucer would take place three weeks in a row a glowing object appeared over the mountain look how bright it's getting look at it now and just a few minutes ago we saw one of the government uh extraterrestrial UFOs the time when Bob said there would be a test there was a strange light jumping around in the sky above the location where he said it would be at the time and date he said it would be you know here the craft took off when I said it was taking off from past the the mountain range which was Papoose Lake S4 south of Area 51 you know in a restricted area so it's not like anyone was out there with a model plane or anything and uh you know flew around it incredible man maneuvers that impressed everybody to the point where we got scared and got behind a a car fearing the thing was going to explode but um really how do you explain this it's bright right now I can't tell you how many times I wish gosh shouldn't I have copyrighted a piece of that or something the wife reminds me quite a few times with the thousands of products and books and TV shows and and things of that sort the references to Area 51 that have gone everywhere uh Robbie mentioned about the movies and the the idea of reality and and that is so true I can remember being there was a special screening of the movie Independence Day and I had already been reporting on Area 51 for 10 years you know pounding away at these stories in UFO circles that had gone everywhere but it was still sort of filtering out to the general public and we had the special screening of the movie and there's that scene where the secretary defense says Ah Mr President yeah there really is an Area 51 and people in the audience are going see I told you it was real I was like I I've been reporting on this for for years now and now it took a movie to tell you it's real that there really is a place called AR 51 uh by the way as a side note I told P I was bringing some stuff along it it's in the bags it in the baggage wherever that is but some some uh uh Trinkets and souvenir from Mara 51 I got an Al little alien Christmas ornament with an alien on it a couple of hats from the area 51 Museum which is the Atomic Testing Museum it's got a room full of stuff about half of it from my house the area 51 baseball team we got a hat from that an Area 51 cookbook anyway I'm deot uh donating it to your organization if you want to bid on it maybe it'll make some money or something like that um you know I was thrilled with some of the stuff that uh President Clinton spoke publicly about Area 51 President Obama spoke about it uh while he he did that by the way if you'll recall while he was honoring Shirley mlan which seemed kind of somehow fitting uh but I was a little bit worried when I saw the Kardashians heading to Area 51 in the TV business there's a phrase known as Jumping the Shark when a show has gone too far uh to be credible anymore uh that's what we call it Jumping the Shark and I don't know if the Kardashians may have jumped the shark from the first stop but when they started going to Area 51 I thought this has gone too far um you saw at the end of that video clip this original footage of a saucer test flight that Lazar and Jean Huff and John le and others had witnessed not once not twice but three weeks in a row Lazar knew when these test FL would take place he knew where they would take place there had been no news stories about it no coverage uh in anywhere officially and to this day the story is there is nothing at Papo's Lake there's never been a facility there even though satellite photos show a road that goes down there and uh there's no base there's no facility there's nothing but a dry lake bed at Papoose so how did Bob know how did he know this stuff it's one of the points we're going to come back to play this next little clip of this this a little bit better look at that saucer that's a a freeze frame a there's some enhancement that was done that's that's the object it was flying above Papoose's Lake and I don't know it looks like a flying saucer to me uh over the years dozens of people have captured their own images of things flying around out there there's a classic Sombrero shaped UFO that was flying around out there weird lights now some of these things like everything else they're misidentifications they're military planes secret aircraft secret platforms of one sort or another but a heck of a lot of them look like flying saucers and if we've been flying them out there since the 1950s which is how long people have been seeing seeing them if it's a classified project when do we get a look when do they declassify it when do they roll it out of the hanger last year I don't know if you read this story here if it got much P publicity but the CIA formally announced last year that Area 51 exists whoopie free and do you know Area 51 exists we know that it exists we've got satellite photos we know people who worked out there the the world has no yeah can stop it um the world has known about it for a long time so CIA goes public with this announcement I'm wondering what are they up to well they they wanted to use it as an explanation to brush away all reports of UFOs don't worry I think what the words were remember all those UFOs you were seeing in the 50s and 60s that was us ha haa I I don't even and you know at the same time they acknowledge that the base uh was real they did something else sneaky they said the real reason that these rumors about flying saucers at Area 51 had been started is because people outside the base were seeing weird things flying around and they mistook them for UFOs well you know and they they're implying that these are U2s and SR71 and stealth technology uh it's similar to the earlier CIA release that was done a couple of years ago to explain away all UFO sightings that's all us they said it's the agency it's our secret planes and they they made a campaign about it on Twitter well bullshit it's bullshit uh I don't even know where to start with that uh the U the U2 is a great big gangly plane that has big long wings it doesn't look like a flying saucer it doesn't hover silently it doesn't fly up and down like this it doesn't land in people's corn fields or backyards it was designed to not be seen at all uh same for the SR71 the A12 the stealth technology those are not flying saucers it suggests that people are seeing those planes and and that's the cause of the stories in Area 51 is ridiculous um more importantly the stories about flying saucers in Nevada didn't start because there were people outside the base seeing things flying around they started because people inside the base started leaking the information and one of those people was Bob Lazar uh I'm not going to try to convince you beyond any doubt that Lazar is telling the truth for most people you know that horse is left the barn you've already made up your mind about it chances are if you're here to hear some of this you probably give him at least some credibility um you know that that Legend is Galloping around down the road and and around the world and most people have made up their minds as I said I I will give you two thoughts on this though one is that my belief it's a moot point anyway as Robbie Graham was saying because this Area 51 story is now permanently etched into the public Consciousness whether anybody likes it or not uh it's taken on a life of its Zone independent of Bob Lazar uh Lazar by the way did not work at Area 51 although a lot of people say that he was at S4 and and we've already made that distinction uh earlier this year there was a tour they now take tours out to Area 51 regular tours if you as a tourist you want to go to Las Vegas and take a drive out there they'll put you in a vehicle take you right up to the edge of Area 51 you can take a couple of snapshots and you go back home uh earlier this year I aired a story about a tour group they had their driver who was relatively new to the job and they're talking they're yaking at him as he's driving up to the gate yeah yeah yeah blah blah blah he blows right through this sign the warning sign it says stop or you will be shot uh he goes right through it and they're driving along and they're wondering Hey where's that base you know where's the camo dude shouldn't we be stopping here and all of a sudden bam he's right on on their butt uh pulled him over pulled out guns uh threatened to arrest him they wrote him up big citations the guy can never is never allowed to go back uh so other drivers will have to go there but it was a big mess and I helped negotiate the find down these people um didn't have to dig into their pockets too bad but as the video from that camera showed this driver is telling his own reality about you uh Area 51 oh yeah the mother ship is often out there hovering over the base and there's secret underground facilities where the aliens um they mix up Vats of uh human and alien parts and create these hybrid RS I mean total nonsense totally made up but there's the guy who's official tour guide for Area 51 making this stuff up um and it sort of goes to the point that it's taken on a life of its own and we couldn't stop it if we wanted to the second thing I wanted to convey is uh how we pursued this story as journalists um I did not go into this as a lark it wasn't a joke I approached it as a story and I knew there were great risks involved in this uh because of our credibility our credibility the whole station was on the line if we screwed this up and promoted this guy as uh as some UFO Messiah and it blew up in our face we might not ever recover the station's credibility was on the line and I know it looks preposterous from the get-go and that many of our competitors wished it was Preposterous but that's not how it's turned out uh my friend and colleague Stan fredman has been outspoken about Area 51 and Bob Lazar he thinks it's possible he buys the idea there could be flying saucers out there but he doesn't buy Lazar and he's been way out in front I have to give Stan credit for doing some of the leg work unlike a lot of Bob's critics Stan has gone to area uh to MIT and Caltech and looked for Bob Lazar's educational credentials and he found them lacking and I applaud him for that but because that part of Bob's story is weak Stan has written the whole thing off which is what a lot of people have done I don't know how to remind I've tried to remind Stan of about this in person and I've said it in public a few times but uh the important thing is with Lazar is that the information about his educational background was in the very first story that we aired the very first report that identified him we said we could not verify his background and I'll I will confide to you this I don't believe he ever went to those schools I don't believe Bob Lazar could get a degree from Caltech or MIT for a very simple reason at American universities when you get a degree an undergraduate degree you have to take all kinds of core courses in subjects that you may not be interested in uh literature I cannot possibly imagine an Anna youo Bob I can't imagine Bob Lazar sitting through a class in in American lit or reading poetry or something like that he'd never stand for it there is no way in hell that he sat through that stuff to get a degree so what do we do what do we do with that do we throw out the story uh would Bob here's how I rationalize it is Bob would not be the first person to lie about his educational credentials in order to get a good job as his friend of a long time I've given him the opportunity Bob look come come clean on this let me know about uh if it's a lie come clean on it get it behind you and he's never given me that that satisfaction of saying yeah it's a lie he maintains the story I don't know what the true story is whether they could make his records disappear I have found people who said he was at Caltech who said that they remember him being on the campus but that's not enough to make the point as far as I'm concerned it doesn't matter I don't care whether Bob Lazar went to Caltech the LIE the fact that he would lie about it is problematic but I don't think it's a reason to toss out the entire story because people do lie about their background in order to get a great uh a great job the thing with Bob is uh he is an interesting guy I know a lot of people think that he's a fraud that he never worked out there uh for me the key was always did he work at Los Alamos National Lab because it seemed to me that if he had worked at Los Alamos in a scientific capability on classified projects then it's conceivable that he wouldn't get hired to work at someplace else in the Nevada desert so we went to Los Alamos I went there a couple of times I started writing letters to them to see if Bob had ever worked there and they said no we have no records of them whatsoever and then I found a headline in the Los Alamos newspaper that says there's Bob Lazar as a physicist what about that nope we don't have him he never worked here then I found a phone book from the lab that lists his name and number there he is uh well we still can't find the records on him so I wrote to a company uh a Kirk Meer it's a head hunter company it hires people uh for the lab and fills positions in scientific and technical jobs they had hired Bob I called him up I said yeah did you hire him do you have records yeah we've got the records on them we hired him we got him the job at Los Alamos great can I get a copy of those no problem that was uh that went on for two and a half years where they first said that they would give me the records then they said then they delayed it then they stopped taking my calls altogether and then they said quit bothering us someone got to them I mean they had them and then they didn't have them um but I became convinced for other reasons that Bob was there I talked to people he worked with who said he was there and he worked in classified positions unclassified stuff I went to Los Alamos and Bob Lazar took us in it was on a Sunday and we had a camera rolling on it he took us into the gate waves at the guy at the front they let him on in let us in and then he took us into Los Alamos and it was like a rabbit in his own burrow taking us through these buildings uh obscure places waving to people along the way gave us a little Tour all of it recorded on video how did he know you know it's the same thing thing with the uh the Flying Saucer test you don't believe that that Bob uh worked at S4 or Area 51 how did he know about the test there had been no newspaper stories about it he knew when and where it would take place and the video captured it I interviewed all the people that went with him on those trips and they all verify the story just as he told it how did he know here's some other stuff that he knew uh there was an agency called OFI Bob thought it was the FBI I said who did your background check you know when you were getting your security clearance I think it was the FBI it was a guy named Mike Thigpen I call the FBI up they said we don't have any Mike Mike then we don't do background tests come to find out what it was is there was an agency called the OFI office of federal investigation I had never heard about it before but sure enough turns out that's the agency that does background checks for people who work at the Nevada test site and although Area 51 is not part of the Nevada Test Site officially it's attached to it and they do that work and sure enough they have an agent named Mike Thigpen how did he know how did Bob know that a guy named Mike Thigpen worked for an agency uh that I had never even heard of before those facts were confirmed um it's it's weird stuff uh that happened during those that time period it's hard to convey to an audience sitting in a room like this but it was a strange time to live through break-ins at Bob's house they would break into his house leave all the doors and windows open and write stuff on his Blackboard or move things around there was a time when he and a friend he was getting really nervous because strange things were happening in his life they go to a gym to work out and Bob was starting carrying a gun uh somebody had taken a shot at him he had this gun in the glove box locks the car goes into the gym comes back out an hour and a half later the cars to the door are open the windows are rolled down the glove box is open the gun is laying there on the seat it's like somebody wanted him to know he was under surveillance I would he would call me in the middle of the night and I'd go over to his house rushing over there and he's peeking out the window and I know this will make him sound paranoid peeking out the window holding an Uzi um cuz he thought people were messing with him they were messing with him I mean he they threatened to kill him they threatened to make him disappear they were following us around wherever everywhere we went into bars to work uh I had a series of of phone calls at the station this has really ticks me off people who called up offering to give me additional information about Area 51 and I'll get into some of those specifics in a minute six people who had called to offer me additional information uh and said yeah agreed to be interviewed were visited one right after another there was a guy who was a tax preparer his name was Roy Byam he did tax returns for offices officers at Nellis Air Force Base and they got to know them pretty well and they were on an out of town trip uh when they were sitting around drinking some beers and these guys told them about Area 51 flying saucers S4 the whole story As Told by Bob he agrees to tell me that story on the phone the very next day he gets visited these two guys who said they're from the secret service they said we hear you've been issuing threats against the life of the president and we can tell you that if you're talking to the wrong people and saying the wrong things you can go to prison well he saw that as a threat because of him talking to me there was a lady who works in the Clark County Court System she had been a stenographer a company called holes and Nara it's a defense contractor she sat in on meetings at which she took dictation Air Force guys CIA and her boss these contractors when they talked about Oswell and the Roswell wreckage and some of that material go into Area 51 she said after the meeting they would not only take all her notes they would take the ribbon out of the typewriter so that nobody Could reconstruct what she had written and so she was she told this story to a cop a police officer who I know and he offered to make an introduction so I called this lady up I said let's get together I'll hide your identity don't worry I won't get you in trouble she agreed to tell me this story very next day she gets a knock on the door and these two guys show up they said we're from homes and narvi you do know that you're still under a security uh clearance you're still under security restrictions you can't talk to anybody she goes what are you talking about they go we know that you and your daughter your daughter lives in La you live in Las Vegas and the two of you travel back and forth a lot you know there's a lot of desert out there something bad could happen if you were to say the wrong thing they were threatening her daughter's life she was scared to death I tried to get a hold of her 10 years and then 20 years after that that our first conversation she still wouldn't talk to me she was scared I had a guy who was an electrical engineer who had worked at KV and he before working there he had been at Area 51 and he said he walked into a a big hanger and there under a tarp was something that looked like a flying saucer well he was living in Seattle at the time that he told me this story and so I I I contacted him I said look we're working on a series about UFOs would you give me an interview would you do this on camera I'll black out your face he goes yeah sure next morning I mean the very next day there's two guys sitting in a car uh clean military haircuts talking into a radio sitting out in front of his house and they followed him to work and when he got out of work they're sitting there and talking on the radio and they followed him home he was scared he knew they were trying to intimidate him and he wouldn't talk to me what that told me six people in a row boom boom boom same thing is that they were listening to my phone and that really tick me off that they would monitor back there before we had the NSA listening to everybody's phones uh that they were listening to my phone and it really ticked me off but it was real I had so many people uh if this story was just about Bob Lazar we would never have done it but I had more than two dozen people who had worked at Area 51 50s 60s 7s and 80s who told me bits and pieces of the same story I had the guy who was a golf pro at Nellis Air Force Base who knew all these uh all these uh high ranking officers who told me the same story about Roswell wreckage going to Area 51 and saucers being tested and uh he told me that story he's another one who got a visit um there was a guy who his name is Glenn pace and back in the days of above ground nuclear testing in Nevada the most nuked place in the world he was it was his job as a spotter he was one of the only people in Nevada testate that was allowed to use binoculars so he'd be out there when they would be planning these Atomic tests he'd be in a building sometimes for days at time waiting for the test to take place and he had these binoculars he was at a place called Area 15 which looks right over into Area 51 and he said they used to watch these what look like flying saucers over papo's dry lake all the time his boss was a a German physicist one of the Nazi scientists who came over under Operation Paperclip named Otto Krauss who told him about alien technology being tested out there uh I had a guy named Howard Cannon he was a United States senator from Nevada he was a man who practically built Area 51 because he would get all the secret Appropriations the money that went into building it he was like the father of Nellis Air Force Base he's a retired Brigadier General uh from the Air Force a r a decorated war hero he was very good friends with The Men Who Built Area 51 um the guys from the Skunk Works Lockheed when Howard Cannon lost his last election they gave him as a going away president the ability to fly in the SR71 there's only 30 people in the world that or 40 people in the world have ever been in one and he got to fly in it that's how close he was to these guys Howard son Allan is a friend of ours had had these conversations with his dad about UFOs Howard had never the senator had never spoken about it publicly but he finally agreed through his son to tell me the story about Area 51 and I went over and interviewed him the last interview before he died and he came this close to spilling it all his best friend in the Senate was Barry Goldwater I don't know if you remember that name but Goldwater had run for president Goldwater had tried to get into Wright Patterson the stories about the blue room and he'd been told no you can't get in and you can't ask about it never ask again well Howard Cannon had the same experience he told me that story before he died he went right up to the edge of saying there's flying saucers at Area 51 and then he said this what would be the point of telling that they would deny it they'd call it a lie you're never going to get to see that technology they're never going to let it out so what would be the point Howard Cannon is a man that I believe one other source I'll tell you about it and then we'll move on it's a guy whose name I can't give you but there was a book by a lady named Annie Jacobson uh about Area 51 and it's a tremendous book about the history of all those those secret planes Annie Jacobson at the end of her book though has a Capper where she says um she talked to this old guy who said that there were flying saucers out there but they're not alien flying saucers they'd been built built by the Nazis captured by the Russians and what crashed at Roswell was a one of these Russian Nazi technology that the the aliens were not aliens they were uh refugees from a concentration camp who just looked like aliens it's a ridiculous story but I knew immediately that the source of it was a guy that I had stalked I stalked him literally for three years because I knew he was in a position to know he had worked at Area 51 in a management capacity and finally I got him to open up he invited me to his house he said you want to talk about uh atomic bombs and testing and he's going through his scrapbooks and I'm looking at these pictures of bombs and everything and he goes he stops closes the book he goes that's not what you're here to talk about is it I said no not really so I know what you're here for and then he started telling me a story about saucers aliens this is a guy who he's not Bob Lazar he his credentials are not uh questionable he was in the position to know and he laid the story out for me somewhere along the line though he changed it and by the time Annie Jacobson uh got a hold of him it was not aliens which by the way he told me that the alien looked like Ross perau who was a a billionaire businessman a little skinny guy with great big ears um anyway along the way there are some very real people who had told me bits and pieces of the story it's not just Bob let's play one of them this guy named Jim Goodall uh wrote books about stealth technology he was a friend of John Lee did you ever get any information about a facility at Papoose like the one you described I have a u a friend of mine he's he's a retired uh senior master sergeant he was early on in the F-117 program and they had full they their badge area restricted area badge he can go anywhere in the Nevada Test Site up to an including Area 51 so they had a Humvee and they drove around the the uh the was it groom range yeah groom range and they're on Papoose Lake there's there is there isn't anybody around and all of a sudden they're surrounded by guys in Black uh uniforms wanting to with their hands on their weapons want to know who they were what are you doing here and my buddy said we're just we have some we have some downtime we're just exploring the area he said you turn around and you leave and don't come back they just kind of popped up out of nowhere he doesn't know where they came from he didn't see any Vehicles all of a sudden they were there and he left it was three or four guys with them they left what do you make of that that there might be something at papoo or was or well according to Bob that's where that's where the the nine hangares are in the you know camouflage in the side of the mountain uh I'll give you one other thing about S4 and papos there was a guy named Jerry Freeman he's an archaeologist you wouldn't think an archaeologist has anything to do with flying saucers Jerry Freeman was studying the path of the 49ers that was the there was an Gold Rush of 1849 when thousands of people fled West to try to strike at Rich and a lot of them uncovered wagons and settlers and they they had a certain path that they followed and Jerry Freeman was trying to reconstruct the path that the 49ers had taken and he thought that they had gone right straight across the Nevada test site and in fact had been at Papoose lake so what he did was very bold of him he infiltrated the test site from going west to east and walked all the way across it dodged security patrols he would walk uh in the nighttime and then hide during the day and he made it all the way across let's show the Freeman stuff he made it all the way across the test site uh to Papoose Lake these are pictures that he had set up with an automatic camera that's Papoose behind him that's the place where Bob Lazard said he worked so Freeman again walking at night and and um hiding in the day gets all the way to Papoose he finds the evidence he's looking for the 49ers had carved some something into the Rocks there but as he's sitting out there at night um right at Papoose uh it's a sad story by the way he died a doorway opens up he said he's sitting there and a doorway of light opens up in the middle of the sky and things come out people come out objects come out and then it closed up again now he's not a flying saucer guy uh he walked all the way across the across the test site not realizing that that land is still contaminated with all kinds of U nuclear fallout and he died to cancer two years after uh his his journey but anyway gave a little piece that sort of goes along with what Jim godall just said about people coming out of nowhere remember Papoose Lake where Lazar said there's this facility built in the side of the mountain uh does you know there is nothing there officially uh the last piece of information is the some some um a UFO guy named James wildermuth I never knew of the guy before he's an European guy here and uh he sent me these images that he found on Google Earth um normally this would have been cleaned up but somehow he found it you tell me what it looks like anyway he uh he used Google Earth to take a good hard look at this and he found some lines on the side of Papoose that look like exactly what Lazar had been describing he puts the he put the pins in there but you can see the thin outline of these lines nine of them nine containers um a friend of mine was an investigator for Congress and he had he had the highest security clearances he thought that something was really going on at Area 51 I gave him a briefing and he made them let him in they flew him in a blinding snowstorm to S4 in Papoose but they took him to the other side of facility he got out and looked around his name was Dick damato he worked for a senator who oversaw the budget and looked around out there and he said this was 5 years after Bob Lazar story came forward and um he said there was nothing there but he didn't look in this side and it sure looked like hanger doors to me or at least some lines that indicated that something could be there that's good uh I want to give you a couple of pieces of of what Lazar says now because his his views on things have changed quite a bit as you might imagine so many crazy stories have been told about Bob over the years that he's running a meth lab that he's got a string of hookers down in South America that he's dead once a year somebody comes up with a story that Bob is dead it's no wonder that he's tried to leave all this stuff behind him and wants nothing more to do with it uh it took me a long time to coax him into doing this interview earlier this year to recognize the 25th anniversary I'm hoping to talk him into going on Coast to Coast maybe in November uh but I wanted to uh sort of share with you a couple of the pieces the stuff that he is comfortable talking about and that is the the technology uh the science involved as I mentioned at the beginning he uh claims that these craft operate on an anti-gravity sort of mechanism let's play that clip where he talks in detail about that alone is something amazing look that can change everything we know today just having a machine to produce artificial gravity because look look at what that does we know gravity space and time are all tied together there are your Shields like on Star Trek that you know deflect micrometeorites there is your protection from radiation without heavy shielding there is something that with an intense enough Focused Field you can actually Bend space and there is something that can actually alter the flow at time I mean that's the missing piece of pie didn't they actually freeze a a candle flame yeah now that's when it was connected to the gravity amplifiers where they could focus it and uh that was they froze a candle yeah they had a they had a candle lit uh to set it up for you um again there's a large in the craft itself there are three long pipes um I'd say uh well I don't know about what's that 3 4T in diameter maybe 5T long um anyway they dangle the three of them at the bottom of the craft these produce gravitational waves and they can focus them to a point or spit them apart those are what you call the wave guides yeah okay yeah they're part of the uh power source control mechanism and the uh wave well the wave guide is what I actually call the Interlink between them but that that's the gravitational engine um they had one of those devices out along with the subsystem that connects it so they can produce the power from the reactor it runs the gravity amplifier and they can focus and change the gravity beam that comes out of it they took a they were speaking of Barry took a candle put it close to the mouth of it lit it a normal flickering candle flame and then activated the reactor the gravity wave came out as expected and the candle flame remained luminous and stopped moving and which physics yeah because look if it's going to freeze it the photons should stop being emitted if it's going to you know change the characteristics look how can the combustion continue to take place without the convection inside the flame because actually reason a flame is elongated is not not really because of heat it's because of gravity because gravity pulls down and you know convection moves flames upward it's like in in a zero gravity environment flame is a ball obviously there's nothing to pull things around but anyway if uh look if you negate the gravity around it why is it still pointy how can it still be making light and why doesn't it move well I mean he from what Barry said it's not just gravity but it's also time locked you distorted the frame of time yeah they essentially froze a piece of time there and I you know what do you say I mean you're it's empirical evidence you're looking at it it's not it's not a see it it doesn't make sense that you could see it and uh look it the stuff I saw there was the most unbelievable literally because it it defied what what we knew as physics and uh at least I thought it did and maybe what we knew was is a little incorrect and just needed viewing from a different angle um we do know now that research into anti-gravity is at the top of the list of what American uh tech companies are doing and the defense department folks are doing and anti-gravity propulsion is something they want very badly Bob said that the key to it was this element 115 he had a piece of it I saw it um in fact he had a little experiment they did with what's called a cloud chamber where where they had it looked to me like light they had a piece of this 115 in this chamber they put some smoke in it and it seemed and then had a beam of light through it and the light bent um Bob at one point when he thought he was going to die had this piece of 115 in a uh it was in a lead casing in a disc shaped casing and he had it in front of a particle accelerator in his house and he had the accelerator on and all he had to do was flip a button if this stuff was real as he described it flipping that button would hit it with I don't know it's pH protons electrons whatever it was that would make it explode an Annihilation that would have left a great big hole in Las Vegas and he had that piece I saw the experiment what happened to it uh that's that's a story for another time it's it's in a spot now where nobody could get to it but uh it's still there one of these days maybe after Bob's gone I'll go dig it up um as at the the time that he told us the story about Element 115 Element 115 did not exist it does exist now it's been synthesized they've made it in a lab it only lasts for micro seconds but it is real they've confirmed it it's now on the element chart and in this piece Bob talks about uh 115 they finally did uh synthesize Element 115 that had the properties that I that I stated um not um but it wasn't stable yeah it wasn't stable uh now each element has isotopes for instance you know let's talk about hydrogen we're all familiar with hydrogen uh hydrogen has three isotopes they're all hydrogen there's hydrogen prodium was be the technical name duum and tritium well tridium is a radioactive hydrogen uh dyum is another stable isotope of hydrogen and regular prodium ordinary hydrogen is the hydrogen we all know they're all hydrogen they have different amounts of neutrons in them um they all have one proton which makes them hydrogen now this is a true for all elements you can have the amount of protons in them determines what element it is so Element 115 has 115 protons in it it's Element 115 now depending on the number of neutrons it has it will still be Element 115 but it can be any number of isotopes of it we've synthesized 15 we made one isotope we have a radioactive one now they just need to continue on working with it I mean they made just a few atoms but uh we'll see what other Isotopes they come up with one of them or more is going to be stable and it will have the exact properties that I said or could we make it or does it have to be natural as you speculated about that well it's natural it'd be difficult to find it to get some usable material I I do not think you couldn't make that synthetically it's just it takes too much time I mean to make you know an ounce of it or even a gram would take a tremendous amount of time because not all the interactions are successful I mean you can bang particles together all day long and one may get stuck and then you've got an atom and how do you contain you know this single atom so how do we get 500 pounds of it where' that come from well it had to either be synthesized by the extraterrestrials at bottom in the first place or you know maybe there was a location where they came from where look if this was a naturally occurring material we know that all the material in the universe essentially all the atoms of all elements came from hydrogen I mean all you really need is it is just atoms of hydrogen to make anything once they start collecting together large quantities of them gravity just begins to push them together under their own weight so it's sort of like a orack test is aha they made 115 he was right it really does exist somebody doesn't want to believe it says 115 doesn't behave anything like Bob Lazar said it's sitting around in a pile of 500 PBS or something right I mean sort of like that what is the right you have to I mean you just have to start accumulating whether you believe it or not and I personally again I prefer you don't believe it um you know just begin accumulating the facts that you can you know you can verify and um and really be careful where you get the facts from because if you see documents obtained by someone that you know they say are official I've seen the most ridiculous things on the internet um you know here's a a report from some government agency going yeah everything Bob Lazar said is fabricated and we've verified it with the main office in Philadelphia and I mean you know just nonsense stuff um you know verify it yourself and if you start adding up all the facts look the people that were with me at the time you know have an obvious Advantage because they knew me before all this stuff happened they knew at the time I didn't even believe in flying saucers or life from other planets I mean to me those were just crazy people that bought into these stories coming to the end here um you know I guess you you'd say can you could you really keep a secret like that wouldn't it leak out well it has leaked out you know it's it's whether or not you pay attention to it or not that that matters one of the guys if there's anybody who would know about this being true it's a guy named Ben Rich who was the head of Skunk Works which was the Lockheed company that built all the blackest projects the SR71 the U2 stealth all of that Ben Rich who headed up Skunk Works for such a long time if anyone in the civilian sector would know it would be him so I asked them about it on the day that they unveiled the stealth fighter at Nellis Air Force Base they had it sitting on a Tarmac and they invited the media to come in and I was the one of the guys that was there that day and so Ben Rich was available for interviews and I went up and asked him um Mr Rich great to meet you I asked him a couple of questions and then led up to this when you know a lot of people say there's alien technology and stuff you developed and he stops for a second looks at me and he kind of laughs nope just good old American know but before he died Ben rich said this in a public uh comment because the reason I'm asking is friends of his had ask him about UFOs and he said it was real but he said this to an engineering audience he said we already have the means to travel Among the Stars but these Technologies are locked up in Black projects and would take an act of God to ever get them out to benefit Humanity anything you can imagine we already know how to do it we have the technology to take ET home it won't take someone's lifetime to do it we have that capability now to travel to the Stars he died few months after that but he was trying to tell the world something this stuff is real um that what Bob has said Is Real uh I'll end with one last little piece of Bob because you know people wonder what goes on in his life there's all those rumors I told you about before and I put him the the question to him in a couple of different ways about whether he would do it again and he goes back and forth basically I think he would say no but here's what he told me back in May but that drives him crazy I mean you need to answer this now I need an answer how much how many times do you get that in a in a week still after all this I get there isn't a day I I don't get emails and you know I try and get this across to him look I don't even want to talk about it anymore you know well I don't believe the story great pass it around you know I really don't want you to because it makes life difficult for me I'm trying to do serious research I'm you know I've got contract with governments and other companies for R&D work and aside from you know other scientific interests and I want this divorced look if I went and did everything I can to prove my story and reached a Tipping Point for where people like Stanton fredman and you know people along those lines um said you know what this is beginning to look factual do you know how that would annihilate me that would destroy my business it would make it impossible for me to operate and you know I'd have a continuous flow of questions annoying people I'm sure offers to do things that I am not the least bit interested in there's got to be part of somewhere in there even though it would be counterproductive there's got to be part of that wishes God damn it I I know what happened it's true no look I know what happened is true there's no doubt period there's there's no delusion and there are some things I can say that that will bolster the case and I'm not going to um it's going to stay that way I do regret at this point bringing anything forward look at the time I'm in my early 20s you know what this is a crime against the American people this is just BS and everybody deserves to know what's going on you know and 25 years goes by you get a little older and your priorities change and you know what they told me is this is a security matter and and really what's the public going to do about this you know how reactionary they are it's there's a bunch of different reasons this is being kept quiet nothing that they bother telling me but the bottom line is they're right the bulk of the people are complete morons and I'm sorry maybe they are right and this really should just be just be information that's handled out on a on a need to know basis to some people where it would benefit them you know I I know you don't like to hear it but there's a lot of people after you're in this field for a long time you kind of come to the same conclusion maybe maybe it doesn't really need to be out um I believe in the people's right to know that's my job and so I pursue it in that that vein but you have to wonder whether it's really a good idea or not you know the the pursuit of this story has led me taken me all over the world chasing different kind of UFO stuff uh My Views have changed so much from from those days about just thinking of nuts and bolts flying saucers is there a government cover up I mean this is really as uh earlier speakers were suggesting it's uh it's much bigger mystery than than that whether or not flying saucers are coming from other planets or not jacqu valet uh my hero in the UFO field I had interviewed him back in these days when he came to investigate Lazar and asked me some questions and we become much closer friends but he said I'm going to be so disappointed if it turns out that the answer to the UFO mystery is that aliens are coming from another planet and flying saucers to visit us because He suggests that the the way these uh craft behave the technology they have it suggests that the ultimate answer is so much bigger so much more wondrous uh than something as simple as that uh these things that we see in the sky are just a small part of something much bigger you know the universe is far more mysterious than maybe we can imagine or can imagine than the glimpse that we get of these craft are I think part of some much larger learning curve uh the this is about reality itself the nature of the world around us and I get the feeling that we can understand it only a tiny sliver and that its true nature is being withheld from us and maybe is beyond the ability of our small tiny brains to understand but you know we have to try I I think that it is the duty of scientists and journalists to investigate the Unexplained not not to explain the uninvestigated um and thank you very much contrary to what pop contrary to what Bob was worried about we're gonna have some fun here JC was just here like 1990 was like yesterday yeah I thought baby would start with a couple of questions sort of it let you get to know Bob a little bit so they played one of the great Super Bowls of all time last month which of the teams did you like who really we're gonna do sports kind of what I thought I don't even know who plays that's right tomorrow tomorrow's the Oscar broadcast who would you think is the best picture not do you know I have no idea because you don't watch a lot of right yeah

Breaking Bad or Sopranos which of those series did you like best yeah yeah yeah when you're just not on my channel because you live what I'm trying to convey is you live in Bob world right right what do you do tell them tell them what you do now I know I live in a scientific bubble that's just about it I mean you know it's uh my my work is my life whether I am working or having fun it's pretty much the same thing so it's uh I don't I pretty much do the same thing where you live and what you do your business I unfortunately live in Michigan yeah I would really like to be back here but yeah the business is United nuclear scientific we sell and build lots of scientific equipment and supply supply it to schools universities the government you know everybody we also do contract work we do R&D work design construct prototype gadgets weird things for different companies if they have a problem or something they're trying to solve they'll come to me and just say make this work and you know so we do but the bulk of it is really just selling scientific equipment and supplies and you know trying to bring that back back when I was a kid you know used to be able to go into a hobby store and buy chemicals and have a chemistry set now if you see any glassware in somebody's house you just think they're cooking up math or something like that so you know we try to change the tide and bring back cans on stuff and you know the current generation that's one of the stories told about you right that you had a meth lab oh yeah that's true yeah I forgot about that do you have any government contracts we do government contracts you see where that could go people haha he's working for the government they're paying him off he did his job spread this information now he's working for the government you're not welcome to go there no I don't work for the government but you know if there's contracts I bid on it you know every faction of the government doesn't know what the other ones doing it's it's a complete mess I want to give them an idea you know the question is raised you're not a scientist what you've kind of scientists for you and I I haven't been to your house in Michigan but the last time I visited you it was in New Mexico and there was something built in the house the building right behind your home it was as I recall a 30-foot particle accelerator yeah

you built yeah

yeah what did you do with it what do you what do you do with your home particle accelerator that's 30 people well at the time you know we're working on an efficient way of storing hydrogen for you know automotive use so it can be used as a fuel and some of the most efficient hydrides materials that absorb hydrogen like a water like water like a sponge absorbs water were restricted because they are used in thermonuclear hydrogen bombs and so you couldn't purchase these materials but there was kind of a loophole in the law where you could make them so I had to make a particle accelerator to make the material to use and run tests on so that's what that was all about you moved to Michigan in part because you thought that you were gonna have some help from state government with the system right the hydrogen system yeah kind of I mean a lot of things changed I mean we moved to partly because of you know family reasons out there and just to get a change from the southwest which I regret and you know yeah there was a lot of at the time there were a lot of unemployed auto workers and we thought you know we can hire those but you know a lot of things happen the recession happened and also at the same at the same time but around 2008 or something the Chinese who at the time we're making a lot of the rare earth elements because they did it cheaply and the u.s. mines had shut down years beforehand decided by now that you know we pretty much control the market on it we're gonna go ahead and crank up the price you know ten or a hundred times what it was and it really made what we were doing impossible to do profitably so you know you use your business as science-related who sell scientific equipment you build things like a particle accelerator and jet car engines and things of that sort but I think if you heard me talking earlier you'd have to agree with a lot of people that you don't fit the mold as a typical scientist I mean you're not a member of any science organizations are you no no you're right papers you submit papers I mean that not typically not in the not in the normal sense I mean you know the when I first went to Los Alamos what was really annoying to me was the boy that the typical pompous self-righteous scientist you know and they would come into town and you know interact with the ordinary people and you know use terminology that was over their head just to get him to say well what do you mean by that and they just would puff up and you know it boosts their ego and it really annoyed me so you know when I worked there I relabeled some you know important equipment whirligig or something along those lines and it you know it really pissed him off and you know it's really just but to make a long story short Dana I was the new guy coming from the west and to the you know hardcore a scientific field and it you know really I was able to run circles around these guys because they followed a set path and did a set amount of things they're their support teams were very limited and weren't engaged in him because they had no idea what was going on they never took the time to you know bring these guys in but I don't know I just looked at a looked at things from a different point of view and I simplified things so explaining technical matters on a simple level and I do that a lot and people say well boy you don't talk like a scientist yeah I'm trying to make everyone understand you know but and and it works you know if you if you talk on a simple basic level everyone is gonna understand what you're talking about it's easy to talk over everybody's head but all that does is make you look like an idiot you know when I first met Bob I remember going to his house and there was a skull and crossbones flag flying over his house at the time he had this giant jet car parked in the in this in the driveway he had these videos that he shared with me that we used in Mother's reports were it's a lot of machine guns he had a lot of really interests the kinds of interest that you don't associate with scientists I mean you heard my comparison to Edward Snowden I hope I didn't make you uncomfortable but I mean he's sort of the same vein there was a guy who had no academic credentials he didn't make it through high school he took online hacking classes he worked as a security guard the next time they hear from him he's working he becomes a computer expert for CIA and NSA and sort of fits them all he doesn't fit the mold in the same sense that you don't know but he fits the new mold you know he doesn't fit the old ball just as what were we're used to seeing but I don't need a degree no no they're looking for tell

I think they'll only learned a long time ago that they were missing a lot of creative people and people that would think outside the box and if you really want to move forward that's where it is especially with computers oh yeah no no no doubt yeah and that's great let's get to a flying saucer you got hired through e GG tour for the US Navy yes first day out we're out at the facility well the first day the first day was going to you know what area 51 proper and signing all the agreements and doing all that stuff signed agreements what kind of greatness did you say it was really paperwork and going over you know exactly what I was going to be doing and it was a lot of securities

I mean they were questioning you know my family where we had moved it was you know boring nothing they had an area they'd been around talking to everybody you knew yeah clearly and because I already had previous security clearance you know it made it a little earlier as opposed to somebody starting from scratch which typically takes like thirteen months from what I understand to do a top-secret or civilian Q clearance did you have the clearance that you needed to work there when you started working there no no no no I just had a convenient starting point where you know they didn't have to go back to the day I was born and you to verify that they go okay well you had clearance here and we can go from there so you get on the plane in Las Vegas janna plane yeah right fly up there they put you on the bus with the blacked-out windows oh yeah when we're going to ask for right yes so that you don't think you landed room like that at 51 and then sign some papers yeah if you want to make it a short version yeah right you had told me the story that they started showing me these briefing books that sort of laid out the general story was that it at grow or was that that was it as far that was no that material would never get north of Groom Lake who say I never heard any of the stuff there is no flying saucers Def at 51 no that's like 51 is it's a there's lots of people working there it'd be hard there's when I worked at s4 again I have no idea how it is today but you know back in my day at s4 there were 22 people that had clearance and knowledge of the et material ET crafts that was it we were given the list we knew the names on the list that was it I still know that the names on that list today and those that some of the things that I never say anything to you about because well exactly there has to be some stuff I keep to myself because you know how many times people said yeah hey I worked out there with Bob and so on and so forth really who are you what you do when you're there and it's only the stuff I said I'm waiting for the guy that says hey yeah I worked out with you and here's some of the other people on the list or we did this or a zip so it's if I don't keep that stuff there's nothing I have to verify if some other guy comes up to me you see it all the time don't you I made med you get emails all the time or you read stories or you hear claims on if you watched television you'd hear it that is about people who claim they've been out there and obviously they're making it up well I mean the most recent was this Bushman I think it was like yeah like at the CIA guy or something like that was it it was his anima sky you see was dying or he died yeah and a lot of people asked me hey do you know and he was apparently very supportive of me and but I never heard of him and what am I going to say I've never heard of the guy and I've never seen him back to day one you're you're at groom you take a bus to s4 to Papoose yeah there's a old Bluebird school bus but navy blue how did you know it was called s board and you read that on something that is what they said that's what they call it yeah did you ever see it written down yeah and and it's an S and a four or s - four SFO you are or no it's a Newman

Numerical 4040 okay and so you get to s4 and you see what describe what you saw well the first time I went we went around it's kind of hard to describe there's a little mountain or rise whatever that that ends and the first time I have to admit I didn't notice it we just drove around and I thought it was just a flat part of the mountain at the very end is an entrance a flat wall with doors and that's where we parked we went in and that's the first time I went into the facility at all that's where I was taken to the medical facility that's where I was given the briefings initially and it was it wasn't till the second time that I was taken down there that we stopped in the middle because the site that I thought was flat was actually hangar doors that were you know really cleverly blended into the side of them to look like desert yeah yeah great job when you're inside can you see all the hangar doors you can only see all nine of them or whatever it is that from outside what do you mean if you were inside looking at in one hangar can you see all the way down see all of them see more right they're separated yeah there's there's inside each hangar bay there's you know if there's the big door that goes to outside inside on the sides I guess I could use the whiteboard there's a what the hell okay all right this is gonna be a tough one is that making anything so there's a the doors here where this is you know Papoose Lake the main doors here roll up however inside there are regular doors and on one occasion these doors were all open and when I came in to the came in through here on the first well I think was the first time they showed me well there's the craft in there these doors were yeah these doors were all open and you could see that there were different craft in each so those are the doors I'm talking about let's talk about the worldly gangs or whatever you want to call them here so talk about the first time you saw one of them the first time I saw one of them was the second time I came in the end the last bay door was open that was the sport model that was sitting in there we pulled up we stopped instead of going around in the front normal entrance we went in through you know the big bay door before who had seen these posters you described that were all the walls yeah yeah they're here posters described but yeah they went through the trouble of actually making a picture of the sport model that was lifting obviously off with Papoose Lake because you can see the the background there and it just said they're here and it was it was like I'm a commercial poster I mean they looked like they were lithographed I mean they must have been printed on site they wouldn't have done that out there but somebody's idea of a joke yeah it was good to see that level of kind of light heart into us out there first day you get a look at the sport model what do you thinking to yourself oh my god what are you thinking no it was the Flying Saucer did not alien flying saucer did not enter my mind it was it was exactly the opposite that well this explains all the UFO sightings that you know we have some field propulsion technology it has to be in this you know shape or form you know flying saucer type and this is what people have been seeing for a long time thinking of the theory alien craft and it made perfect sense to me it's like great I'm like really like to be part of this project advanced propulsion this is dynamite so I was excited to be part of in fact when we went by it and I think I'd even mentioned to you it had a little American flag stuck on it and I dragged my hand across it and you know it felt like it cold so I just assumed it was metal and got yelled at immediately you know don't keep your hands at your side walk forward alright and thinking to yourself I am part of the coolest inside history because we've got flying saucers that we made and we're playing a joke on everybody or anything no I wasn't really playing a joke it was that you know this is cool technology and by the way at any time we feel like we can probably just take over the world America you know and that was attitude so at what point do you realize we didn't make it how did you learn that is that the briefing books well yeah the briefing books just did not make any sense we started into you know that that would actually either predated seeing that and I really don't know that the briefing books covered a little bit about a lot of topics and it dealt with you know analysis of it was all back in engineering material analysis of metal you know power systems and the way things were even even the way things were laid out within the craft and again it really had me confused going is it was so far beyond what I was expecting is this is this some kind of test or is this actual material so it's just you know I thumb through everything and went ok and just went on it from there but it really didn't hit me until I went in I was introduced to my working partner was Barry castelia or whatever area pronounce his last name and the way they worked there was everything was very compartmentalized so everybody had a buddy to work with and that is the only person you can talk and converse with and bounce ideas off of you can't talk to anybody else in any other group you can't you know even if we go sit and there's a bunch of other people around you can only talk to the guy you know your buddy they called him so anyway so he was when I'm buddy and when I the first day we went in there he was excited to show me everything and it seemed like he had been alone for too long it was you know he was you know really excited that I was there and I was kind of picking up on his enthusiasm going well it's he said oh you weren't gonna just die when you see this and you know and you know one of the first things he did was you know fire up one of the reactor that had been taken out of the corral that story the reactor is a it's a small device is probably you know just roughly a foot square with a half a hemisphere on it or half the hemisphere and anyway so there's really nothing there the the top comes off and there's a little Tower on it it doesn't hmm oh this is my erasers did you see those drawing in the back now all these guys can't have that's not fair was anything about the this in the briefing books about how this work you did read about this there's very little about this essentially you know through size comparison half a basketball on a plate that was probably no nothing I mean is just incredibly simple there was there was nothing there that could that could do anything for it was too small to hold an a large power source from him so what they show you anyway the top came off and he put the top on and then he said go ahead and and grab the sphere and as my hands approached it I couldn't touch it which was fantastic and if you ever played with magnets I'm sure everybody has you take two light poles of a magnet and you can kind of feel that bounce it was exactly exactly like that but it was my hands they weren't magnetic I think since you're feeling a artificially produced gravitational field and that really floored me and you know that I began to run through in my mind how can this be a joke or faked or there's just there's no way and it that that's the first time that it was kind of a domino effect than what I had read in the briefings and going do these guys aren't kidding me this is unbelievable let's go back to briefings for a second and it will come back and you can tell us a little bit more I'll have this operating and the briefing books you see the craft described and then you get into some more exotic stuff they really you had to wonder are they messing with your head aliens oh yeah there was it was a one-and-only briefing whatever you want to call it or an overview of to it was split the the entire program they were split into individual projects and you know each had an overview of each project and each group got an overview of all the other projects in case there was some connection to what they were doing but it was clear they didn't want everybody to know everything and although the military loves doing that it it really really screws up trying to move forward and

and to compartmentalised UK it's insane but they's really enjoy that but anyway the only thing that dealt with any kind of you know biological and uh yeah it's essentially what you'd call him there was just a view of of a creature and i closest estimation i can give you is a great because it had a head with a large eyes but what they were focusing on was a tea cut in the chest and it was one large organ and the comments were about how it functioned as a liver a lungs a heart as if all organs had grown together or evolved together where it was just i don't know when all-purpose internal organs yeah I guess I don't really have a analogy for it but that was it and they were and the accompanying photographs were that was the that organ removed it was sectioned it was showing the different chambers or indications of it there were the weights of the different pieces that they remove so I again I don't know where the thing came from you know where that this was just a briefing of something else but it was you know there's nothing in the briefing book says this comes from X planet they're good and you're wondering yourself are they messing with us right are they messing with me are they fast right I mean I well it really didn't it really didn't hit me at the time it seems they wanted me up to speed really fast to where there was skipping too many places to make me feel comfortable you know at the time I didn't realize that everybody got these and you know the people that dealt with biological connotations of everything we're getting mellowed metallurgy reports and again it was just in case there was some connection you know you could kind of raise your hand and say wait you know this thing might relate to us in some way did Barry or anybody else tell you why they wanted to get you up to speed so fast where there's some urgency there or were they just tired of not making progress or what was it that was never really clear I know there was some accident

prior to me being hired and you replace somebody yeah I replace somebody somebody was killed and it was playing with the reactor and you know they said well we're gonna be working on the reactor well you know but so yeah there was obviously a lot of caution being taking but I from what Barry said and what Dennis said who is my immediate supervisor was that you know they were trying to make leaps and bounds way too fast and you know I was certainly not planning on doing anything like that especially hearing the news well you say think of yourself I shouldn't be here

why had they got me yeah yeah yeah please there's a billion people they could have hired you know that I thought would have been you know a better choice for that but they were they really wanted somebody it seems like they were stuck and they wanted somebody coming from left field with just new ideas just get us out of the rut and just move something forward yeah what they get the right guy the mayor I feel yeah I don't know if that's the way it let's go back to talk about the reactor so he showed you with this experiment in your hands you could feel it's a force field and how they faked that if they were faking it is amazing no I don't think you can you saw some other stuff the golf ball yeah administration tell me that story tell us well I wasn't really supposed to be a demonstration but yeah well in some way it was and you know once I said that's that's unreal this is a gravitational field and you can see that you know it's extremely strong by it and it tapers off and you know it's following the inverse square law which is you know indeed the gravity radiation the the inverse square law is essentially you know the amount of energy dissipates really quickly as distance increases so you know it that was immediately noticeable to me and he said well check this out and you know he had a golf ball and you know winged it at the thing and it bounced off the field coming nowhere close to the reactor and we have those ceilings suspended ceiling tiles in there mm-hmm and it knocked it out of place and you know he flipped out and said you know I you know Dennis is gonna be back in here to jump up on there we're trying to rearrange stuff and you know fix the thing and he's knocking to the reactor around then going out a man it's my first day you know don't screw everything up so and I'm taking the dust off the thing and but the second we finished you know Dennis walks inside and there's how things going this is great you know so it was something say it's day one you've read this interesting briefings you don't know quite what's going on you do see this technology it's damned amazing what is your job what do they tell you you're supposed to do either the bottom job is not to figure out how this thing works or you know let us know what this met is just can we make another one of these so just let us know if you can can we duplicate you can only duplicate it like it doesn't have to be exact but find out how this thing works if we need to make something that's bigger or do it just but we want more of these things and just do it right now so that was it and the answer is can we I mean can't we no no no no no we're just not not even in the same ballpark is it because of materials or we just don't know yeah that's me it's it's both look this is like dropping off an iphone and the wagon train days and say we're gonna need more of these you know did you did you ask anybody hey where do we get these where did these come from no I really thought there was so much other stuff that was flooding my brain that was just amazing and you know I was so excited to be there I didn't care where the thing came from it's you know it was beginning to trickle into my mind boy this is maybe what you know flying saucer crashed in South Africa or something we got it we're taking it apart this is great you eventually saw all of them or you saw glimpses well when I looked through the doors I could see far as you could tell they looked they didn't look like they'd been in a crash right well there's one one there's one and I mentioned this to along to you a long time ago and I I never added this one thing which I let now there was one like I said that had been shot with a projectile and I know for a fact it came out of the water that's all I know you know it for a fact because that's what you were told yeah that one big projectile like a howitzer shell or something I know it was about it's hard to judge from distances you know like from here to the exit sign how big is that but I'm guessing it was what a maybe a nine inch diameter hole the sport model no dents no it's great no I looked like it came right out of the showroom and it looked like the Billy Meyer beamship yeah from the pictures I've seen of the Billy Meyer Irwin which you know to look fake to me but no there it is

I'm sure the Billy Meyer people are happy about that but I mean you you know there's a lot of people don't take that case seriously and it C is the most amazing coincidence coincidence on the face of the earth or something really did happen to that guy a billy meier so the sport model you called it you had names for all of them yeah what now give me some other names well there's one that looked like the top hat and one was it obviously a jello mold and I you know but it was they're just silly names cuz we were talking about him and you know they're talking about bird six and I'm like what's that is that the jello looking thing you know so I gave him my names and they stuck with him that in Los Alamos so the sport model you've got to know that one pretty well you got this yeah it's the only one I say I hands-on I touched I walked in you know that I can say for all the other ones could have been holographic projections to fool me but this is the only one I know was really before we talked about the test one other thing about the reactor and egg I want you to use this example to sort of explain how it worked you had told me a story about a candle and again a flame that was basically frozen tell me that story and why it gives us an indication of how this thing operated what power it had well when we had you know after the golf-ball incident there was the benches we had set up the reactor was not the only thing in the craft the reactor sits in the center on the level underneath there are well I should say the reactor surrounded by the reactor there are three gravity amplifiers as they were called directly under those there are emitters which are Oh probably like 55-gallon drums there are three of them they hang directly under the meadows and apparently the way the device works excuse me is the reactor supplies the base gravitational wave and power to the amplifiers which channel it down to the emitters which propel the craft so in addition to the reactor that was out of the craft one of the emitters was also on the bench now I don't know which craft this came out of it was not out of the sport model but they had the reactor operating and the emitter and Barry had taken a candle and put it about well I'd say about two feet from the end of the emitter and lit the candle and he fired up the reactor and he said go check out the candle and the flame was there but it wasn't moving it was like a picture of it it was just frozen and now that makes you think of a lot of things well boy if it's we know gravity and time are interrelated and you know it one is essentially the other and fine if gravity if it stopped or slowed time down there how are photons still being emitted so we can see the light it should just go black you know there a lot of things made absolutely no sense whatsoever what team of the science we're familiar with but this is these were just things he was showing me as a demonstration that you know you know properties and what it's doing that are just so far beyond what we even know what's going on and this had nothing to do with the work I mean we're we're just supposed to make another one of these things somehow so you know so help us understand what this technology means how advanced it is you know it becomes obvious at some point it's been somewhere else we didn't make it because we're taking it apart to figure out how it works like a machine that makes gravity is the most important thing that mankind could probably create look we have electoral magnets that make magnetic fields you know we can make electric fields we you know with the Van de Graaff generators and you know it god knows what else but you know to make a gravitational field it's like the the last piece of a missing pie because when you can art right now the only thing that makes gravity as far as we know is mass you just need a bunch of stuff and it's a property of mass that it just magically pulls in things you know we observe gravity we see what it does but we really don't know what it what it is we can throw some equations together and say well it works like this but we really don't know what's behind it but if you can make a machine that on demand makes gravity you know all the stuff we write science fiction about stops becoming science fiction that afternoon they force fields become a reality you can shift time I mean everything becomes possible it's it's it's the most important thing and here is an operating machine in front of us that makes gravity and due to we really want to be able to make one of those things I mean you could make impenetrable fields you can do have propulsion that is mind-boggling as the crafts operate it would be the ultimate weapon well no not just the ultimate weapon but it would really be the ultimate thing it would it would catapult mankind forward and what really sucks is the military is in control of this I should I neglected to mention this during my presentation but Bob and I have talked about before guy named Ben rich who Jim Goodall knows and interviewed several times Ben rich was a head of the skunk works which was there they operated things at at Groom Lake and and had been there they developed the u2 and sr-71 and stealth if anybody would know about advanced technology it's him and Kelly Johnson so a lot of people have speculated whether been rich and those guys had incorporated alien technology into some of the advanced airframes that we've got and I even had a chance to ask him on the day that the stealth was unveiled out there at Nellis whether any alien stuff was in there he said no but other people have talked to him

Jan Harsin who's here from MUFON heard a speech that Ben rich gave at UCLA and which he basically said we now have the technology to take e.t home we had the calculations slightly wrong but we can do anything you can imagine we can travel to the stars but he said the technology is locked up in black but black budgets and black programs and we'll never see the light of day what do you think about that that's more like the same thing you're saying yeah that sounds exactly like what I'm saying you know I hope that's not the case but I mean how do you pry it out of there it's it's really there should be a lot more people working on this well that's sort of what why you became disenchanted with it but we'll come back to that let's talk about sport model a little bit you got to see it fly you got to see a test yeah once well once close up we Barry and I were in the lab we were working Dennis came in and he said there's a test flight going on Bob why don't you come out here Barry you can tag along too and that's when we came in you know side door into the hangar the craft was already out onto the dry lakebed in front of where the lake bed proper but it was out in front of the door and probably about two minutes after I got there the craft just began to silently lift off the ground and there was a guy between where I was standing and the door that had a small desk and there was some sort of transmitter on it and he was just on a microphone talking apparently to somebody in the craft and at the time that again immediately set up a red flag in my mind going that's not supposed to work either there is a craft being powered and surrounded by an intense gravitational field how are the radio waves getting into this thing just it just didn't make sense but again very few things did there and I didn't have much of an opportunity to connect all the dots but it lifted off the ground silently there was an obvious high voltage Corona discharge it was beginning to get a little late but you could see the purple blue glow but as soon as it lifted off you know it's 610 feet that dissipated and it just moved around and sat back down where it was but it was and it doesn't sound like much but it was incredibly impressive there wasn't there wasn't a sound other than a little hiss when it first took off but you know it's a big device it moved around and and sat down and I mean I was just I was beaming it was so cool you didn't get it didn't fly off the Venus or anything and no no no no this this is there this is their prized catch here I mean they no one is going out there and taking it out of the atmosphere and risking it I mean that was a big deal you know like the good I'm sure I don't know if they knew how to get it into that mode but you know like the test flight data that I saw they even were very careful on what days to take it above the mountain range where traffic was at low at its lowest in the surrounding area so they were very concerned about who could see what and you know how much they risk the thing moving around but it was it was quite a prized possession of theirs so you saw a reactor up close and you saw the craft inside not only the test but you got in it yeah later on later on it was again you know we have to look at at everything we're trying to figure out how this device works from nothing so and it's technology you know we can barely grasp so you know obviously the placement orientation of the components and subcomponents might be critical to the operation of it so I was led him one time there were several other technicians in there doing their own thing I don't know what they were working on but we wanted to see where the reactor was how it you know how it was positioned you know where the amplifiers were and this is when you know I described to you there was a access to a lower level to where the emitters were which was a small hexagon shaped area that had a what I thought was a really creative collapsible doorway and I guess the only analogy is if you take a whole you know a six-pack of beer that comes in bottles and you take out the little divider there it's if you stand it up by itself it's really strong it'll hold a lot of weight but you can easy to collapse it flat by the side this is essentially a metal version of that and it was in a hexagon shape with a little hole and you can walk on it but you can just put your finger in the hole and pop it and the whole thing snaps over to where you have a you know hole you can kind of stick your head upside down and which is what I did I just leaned in there and they wanted to me to see how the I specifically have arms that held the emitter is connected to the bottoms of the amplifiers and those in themselves were fantastic technology describe the interior what it looks like it's very very bland if I again was to give you an analogy I would say it was if you put all these components in there and pretended everything was made out of wax heated up for a bit and let it cool off there was never a sharp angle anywhere anytime something sat somewhere perpendicular to it it had a radius of curvature to it everything had a smooth curve everywhere was all one color was it all one piece it it looks like it was one giant injected molded thing but there was not there was not a seam there wasn't a rivet there wasn't a fastener it was just all there any buttons no I'm gonna no place to put in the key and no and there's no wiring you mentioned about I'll use the term furniture because you got a left weak both got a lot of bleep furniture yeah well that was because I was you this was I think the first interview on TV and I was well I was frightened for a couple of reasons first of all what's supposed to be saying anything and the fact that it was on TV and I didn't know what kind of big mistake this was and so you asked me what was inside or describing I was trying to work think of the word seats and I couldn't in a million years get that out of my mind and all I could say is there's furniture in there and I know it sounded ridiculous and everybody said well that guy can't be a scientist he doesn't even know if the word seat event and you know it's just stress does that do you it was the size of it that was small yeah I was yeah well yeah that's that's that's quite a critical point everything was very small it looked like well maybe that's where that popped into my mind because I was thinking of you know the children's you know furniture set or tea set you get for little kids that have you know the little molded chairs and little tiny but that's exactly what it looked like it looked like a little furniture set for her kids so I mean obviously it was uncomfortable to walk around and when you first come in the side you have to hunched over the only place you can stand up comfortably is you know right by the reactor in the side so whatever built or used the thing was obviously smaller than than my statue I'll come back to the term the kids so somebody did the test somebody was in it they must have figured out a little bit of how it operates yeah obviously and in the sport model the ones that I went in they removed one of the amplifiers which was really shocking to me none it now the reactor and emitter all those were in that one so these must that must have come from another craft which made me at least partially to believe that these all may have the same power systems in him which you know really makes you think that so the one you had in the lab that you were working with yeah well components had to come from somewhere that was in the in the sport mom yeah but wasn't the smart models so at you know you can extrapolate and say yeah it's kind of like a Chevy they all have the same kinda engine and they're different but I don't know it's all conjecture let's talk about the fuel so big it's an interesting part of the story and a bone of contention for a lot of folks element 115 how did you know it was 115 describe its properties to describe its property what does it do but what's so miraculous well I let me put it this way the we weren't given the task to say you know analyze the fuel find out what it is and you know they just again the thing was and there was a lot of push to it was to what is that and do we have any and you know that's that's it and these guys really do talk and think like that it's just you know what did you guys do today we just looked at this the other day but you know I mean we you if you remove the top of the reactor there's a little tower in there with a cap and there's a triangular piece of fuel in there what we called the fuel because if you put that in everything starts to work we analyzed what was there now somehow again we didn't have access to all the information but somehow Los Alamos had something to do with either keeping or storing the fuel now it's we did all kinds of tests on it not just us we had a sent all that equipment isn't there we don't have you know all kinds of interesting specter gases but we had it tested and we just wanted to see where this was on the Periodic Chart what kind of Peaks we get off of it and you know maybe it's just you know I unique fuel maybe it's just some you know blend of a nuclear material but when it became obvious that this isn't even on our usable periodic chart you know that's that's essentially where we stopped you know and said we weren't going to analyze the material and see if we could make it we just wanted to know if it was something that we could possibly use and it wasn't you told me that we couldn't make it

why couldn't we make it well just like any heavy element or super-heavy element more specifically you know the only naturally-occurring heavy elements uranium I mean as soon as you get anything heavier than that you know a larger number of protons you have to make artificially and that's that's a difficult job because you either like to make plutonium which our country loves you know you have to take you know other materials put them in a reactor let it run for a couple years and then you can in the case of plutonium you can chemically separate out you know the small quantity of that now even heavier elements you have more difficulty obtaining you know extremely heavy ones like 110 you I mean you have to make that on an atom by atom basis and an accelerator where you're you know slamming accelerating single atoms or beams of other atoms you know near the speed of light smacking them together and it doesn't make a usable quantity I mean you may get the interaction you want and it flies off and hits a detector you know in a fraction of the speed of light and you go that was 115 and you know that's when they say we you know we synthesized ones that's what it is it's not like a cup pops out and we've we've got something you know it's it's just a you know a particle comes flying out when it goes well at these angles at this magnetic moment at that speed it will be 115 and if you get a peek at that you know boom it comes off it's a little display on a thing and right we we made 115 but you know to actually make usable quantities to forget it would take you know the entire Reese's are the resources of a country forever you know to get a grammar so how much was up there well they say there was five hundred pounds of the material now was that recovered in a craft was that separate that they certainly didn't synthesize it but you know where it came from I I have no idea but but again Los Alamos had something to do with it because they they renamed it la 1000 I know there are shipments back and forth there but I think it had to be from what I understand it had to if you assume a cylinder of this material it has to be machined into a cone and that cone sliced well it has to be stacked first like a bunch of quarters stacked on top of one another then machined into a cone and then sliced to be usable in the reactor now all of that had to do with the metallurgical guys and we weren't even allowed to know why but I knew that was necessary for whatever it's worth reactor doesn't work without 115 did you ever do an experiment to try some other kind of fuel no no I mean we I mean quite honestly we really didn't know what was going on there I mean we had a basic idea of at least we thought again we just had a report to what was going on so it's not like you can ever say you know we really don't know we've been working on those two weeks you better come up with something so it's a you know like we think it's a we think it's an accelerator and you know we we've identified that that's you know 114 115 116 it's an element and you have to explain this stuff to guys that absolutely have minimal scientific background and just try that when you're dealing with stuff that's not even you know from the earth so how does it work I mean how does it work what you learned you get a piece of it a triangle it's in and how does it really you just put the I wish I had that model that might come show me is it really okay you you just put the the fuel in there you there's a there's a little cap that sits on top and then as soon as you put it yet nothing happens but as soon as you put the lid on it turns on there's no on switch yeah it's just it's like it attains resonance or something it just is on which makes you wonder how does it work in the craft because no one's taken the lid off because in the craft it sits on the ground and there's a conduit that sits over it and goes to the top of the craft so but it's not clear how anything works in the craft and it generates gravity oh yes yeah it generates its own graph artificial gravitational field and that lifts the craft off the ground we've had conversations in private about how this accounts for some UFO cases I mean it in effect achieves invisibility in the sense you can be Sam I know it yeah absolutely yeah because light it will bend it around there and it I'm sorry I didn't leave that I've dealt that pretty important observation when the craft was up I mean you could walk underneath and look straight up and you can't see the craft until you step to the side and it becomes visible again it's quite it's quite amazing you know so it bit well it bends it bends like just like you know you can see on a hot roadway in the summertime how how heat would affect that coming off of you know but here you're you're in a much more controlled situation and the way the shape of the gravitational field the artificial field around the craft if you look at that and then we're able to stand at different vantage points you can just look around it now this isn't something new we know this from you know looking at faraway stars if they call it gravitational lensing where star might be over here but because we're looking around another star it bends light and you know but here again here is an artificial source a machine that does this and that's everything but yeah like I said all the science fiction things become reality there's your invisibility cloak there's your you know impenetrable force field there's your field propulsion system and you know here's your even beginning to tempore with you know potential time travel it occurs to you hey this could work not only in space but underwater maybe that's why the Navy's interested run in the program I mean that it's odd in it that it's a u.s. Navy running the program out there you know that never occurred to me oh no I know I swear to this I'd never even thought about that thing operating underwater wonder how's fine I guess I I don't know

I I mean yeah I don't understand why I wouldn't but they'd be interesting to see what the water does you had said I remember I could barely get my pointy little head around it when we were first talking about this but that if somebody had one of these and were out in space and wanted to come to earth in essence they're not propelling themselves toward Earth that works differently right yeah yeah in fact the two modes that craft operated on are they labeled Delta and Omicron configuration Delta meaning using all three amplifiers and Omicron obviously meaning just one and the way the craft would work is now I'm gonna draw really bad Flying Saucer so normally the you would have the three amplifiers hanging or the three emitters hanging down in Omicron mode a single one would slings swing sideways and you would have the other two sitting like that now what happens is the two that are facing straight down essentially act like a pedestal where they just keep the craft steady the one swung out to the side creates a gravitational distortion off the edge and these in in omicron configuration these things really fly unstable there they do not look like in any sort of high-tech technology it to give you an example if you put a bowling ball in the middle of your bed and two feet away you take your fist and you push it down the bowling ball rolls towards it that's exactly how the craft operates it focuses the single emitter and creates a gravity distortion essentially a divot and space-time and the craft rolls forward you know in the distortion so that's basically how the thing moves around so and this is opposed to our conventional propulsion whether you're using you know a jet a rocket a propeller we always take something and accelerate it out the back using the action-reaction principle and you know push forward and these guys are doing it exactly opposite they're creating a distortion in front and tucking towards it when element 115 of course when you're talking about this stuff it did not exist we're still years away from it but you see you had told me in that first interview look we believe that there was an island of stability somewhere 115 116 somewhere in there and you know maybe someday we'll be able to make it it didn't exist then but they've made it since tiny little piece as you said when that news happens out people say if some people said aha bob was right others people say aha bob was wrong because this isn't 115 at all it doesn't behave anything like what you said there's not 500 pounds of it that's for sure so there's not 500 pounds I mean like they had up there we know no obviously not and well lucky I mean you're talking about physical quantities and also you know atom quantities from fabricating it but yeah I mean the island of stability isn't something that we came up with I mean that's been theorized since probably the 50s said it you know it just looks like in the you know physical makeup or just the geometric stacking I guess of protons and neutrons it's certain combinations they're stable and other combinations they're not well it you know it looked like further up in the periodic chart boy if we haven't ever had anything with 115 protons or something in that range it looks like that might become stable and you know that was actually in our minds when we're trying to identify I said boy this thing is off the charts you know is it are we looking at the island of stability and I'm beginning to get lost here well I was going with this the 1:14 that was synthesized oh yeah

1:15 again you know I think they what did they whack together calcium and I don't know bismuth or something like that but they did it they did a unique collision and accelerators and they made yeah a few atoms of it and they went this as you know 115 and it decayed now obviously this is a stable material but a different isotope yeah it's like I said there's a you know we have hydrogen that's you know one on the Periodic Chart just like 115 is 115 as one proton 115 115 protons

and you know when we call deuterium as two protons it's it's also stable but it's different it's heavier and there's another one called tritium which is radioactive and it decays about half-life about 12 and a half years again they're different isotopes they have different numbers and neutrons they have same amount of protons so it's the same thing no doubt 115 has God knows how many isotopes we know at least one is stable there's probably you know several that are unstable and you know again if they keep playing around with it and I don't see why they wouldn't I'm sure they're gonna find a stable isotope and whole idea of anti-gravity propulsion I we've heard it from scientist odd guy does Lazar does know what he's talking about that's impossible it violates this it violates that you've heard that you would dealt with it I mean yeah I'm was one of the guys that say it's violates this notice that before yeah yeah you would have said things about UFO people this can't be I mean you were pretty dismissive right which is the way I shouldn't be you know and I give a lot of people you know crap about that too because you know look if you're gonna if you cannot work in a scientific field you're gonna be a scientist and you know in any capacity the most important thing is to keep an open mind because you know look back in time they said you know 30 miles an hour is the fastest human body can possibly take and that was written as a scientific fact I mean that's what aliens disbelieve then and they all agreed on it and you know how many other things we you know they said this is the way it is you you cannot do that you know you have to keep an open mind like flying saucers I used to laugh at John Lear and have a good time of it I still do but that's a different story but though you know but I have to give him credit you know he was talking about the you know they of flying saucers up at the area 51 really John you know I would just be an adult now but you know there's a lot and as far as the technology yeah it violates a lot of what we know which concerns me because some of the things we know our laws and the reason we call them laws and not theories is because they've been verified time and time again you know at with experimental proof and you know that's supposed to be cast in stone so you don't want to see anything that violates the law to see any aliens up there I know several the people who submitted questions wanted to ask about aliens I mean the only you did see you know this came from yeah that now the diagram you want to we call that seeing an alien the only other time and I know it's because this one incident I told that one time I was being led in and dragged my hand across the craft we went in that door there's a corridor to the right and you immediately turned to go to the labs well as you turn to the right there's a door and it has a small you know a window on it that has the little wires running through it I peeked in there as we turn the corner and that's when I saw I told you this before there were two guys there and a little tiny thing that they were looking down at you know and and I just walked by told to keep my eyes forward and you know I think I told gene that and a couple other people as well you probably saw it what not the gene said that but you know what you probably saw an alien or whatever I don't think that was the case I think even to this day I think they they had a little doll or something because they were trying to find out you know whatever size creature would fit in the craft and you know they were recognized the term the kids did you ever hear the term the kids yeah and that's referring to the creatures that ran the craft so they called them the kids wherever these yeah craft came from but you never got an answer how we got them no that was just incidental talking that you know so had nothing you know you've heard all the stuff over the years they of those who don't believe your story they believe you're either making it up or it's disinformation that you're working for them out there that spread in the story nut so you're making it up no sorry make it up no really no I'm sorry that's way too much for me to handle no really I don't and I know look a lot of people are into you know UFO stuff and I just kind of exploded on to the scene and said hey I don't follow UFOs I don't follow reports I don't know who's researching what I don't know the names of people involved and but on the other hand you know I know people make their living doing this sort of thing and you know if I just pop in one day and say hey this happened to me I did this and this and this but you know I'm out I'm not part of this I can understand how that can interfere with their you know income stream or their belief system or whatever and they need to attack me but like I'm this what I said happened absolutely happen period that's it you know I've been speaking about you for a long time a couple times a year I'll go explain the story from my perspective and and defend you because it deserves to be defended and I believe the story as it's been told but you know you go out there and you hear all kinds of crazy theories about what you're doing and who you work for and everything and and there are those who have a lot of trouble with I can understand that look if the tables were reversed I honestly could not say I would believe my stories look there's not enough I can't provide enough information and so in some cases won't to you know to back up my story and you know if the tables were reversed I I have to take that other side and go look unless you can you know provide more proof it's I just can't say that you know I'm behind it and I have to agree with that so why did things go south for you seems like the scientists dream to work on a program like this why in the world would you walk away from that or tell anybody else about it do you were you picked because they figured you would tell somebody about it no I mean that that doesn't make any sense

I mean well what happened was I mean it was kind of more of a personal nature between my wife and I at that time now it's not like I had a nine-to-five job and they said you know come out at these hours it was it was really a sketchy setup that they would call me the place that EG&G by the airport what what was that I was on Sunset Road yeah I think it was called something I can't remember anyway they would call me and say you know it's now 8:45 by 9:15 we expect you to be you know at the building and and board the craft and you know the airplane or about the guys yeah so and it would be at a moment's notice like that well and like I was so really thrilled to be part of this project I was keeping with the whole program like I couldn't to my wife you know I said look I'm working at at the test site there it's on I said some secret nuclear stuff you know and that's it but again I get calls in the middle of the night she can't hear who they are and I said I gotta go it's work you have to go to work at eight o'clock at night and you may not be back you know until the middle of the night in the morning I said yeah that's just the way it goes and that happens you know time and time again and you know if the phone picks up and you know my wife picks it up they hang up you know and you know until so then they call back I pick up the phone yeah it's Bob here and okay two hours I'll be there well after a while that seems like something else in fact maybe not after a while but pretty quick and you know I mean it's something I could laugh at now but it it was not funny then and you know I kept with the program never said anything to her and you know she thought I was having an affair and yeah you know as time went on going back and forth she she really didn't have a job or anything to do so I started since I was making money from here now I got her flying lessons down it McCarran Airport and to give her something you know to do and anyway she started having an affair with the flight instructor so you know I had no knowledge of this but you know part of the requirements of the project and the security requirements really were to have my phone monitored now I'm going back and forth to work and now they are listening to this affair progress on the phone that I know nothing about and you know one of the things one of the main things is that you be you know mentally unstable and they're really concerned about that so it reached a point one day where they didn't call and they were kind of in a quandary that point go and they you know what are we gonna do with Lazarre we got to see it either this you know a fair fizzles out or they break up or whatever so you know I just stopped coming and I stopped getting the calls I called Dennis I don't get returned calls and you know days are going by and you know now Tracy's going back and forth and flying and doing stuff she's busy all the time because you know she's got a boyfriend and you know I'm beginning to get now beginning to get really concerned I mean these guys are so over the top with security and you know we want to know everybody that knows this material we want to know where they are 24 hours a day so on and so forth they're not even calling me what's going on and so I started getting concerned and reached a point where I don't know where the breaking point was but I I think it I'm pretty sure it was Jean Huff the first you know a guy that you know I talked to and and said you know kind of spilled my guts a look this is what I've been doing out there and you know told Tracy to and hey let's go see him yeah well I had also had my no or skip on over lots of stuff but I had they were you know charts of the test flight days and which days that they were going to go over the mountain and do that what they call high performance test so those days statistically on that highway they went by the lowest number of travelers was on a Wednesday night so Wednesday night I think 8 o'clock was like the test night so that's I I knew how long they were gonna be in there I know all that stuff just from memory so I told these guys is that this is going to be an unbelievable story but this is what I've been doing you know I can go out there and show you guys but I'm starting to get concerned that they don't like me anymore for some reason and I'm just gonna like disappear so I just want somebody else to see what I had done in case I'm just gone one day and at least you guys have a story so we go out there take everybody and you know the story we go out it's yeah eight o'clock did everything happens like I said and you know it lands and then you know now it finally hits Tracy oh my god he wasn't having an affair and so you know she breaks off the affair reason you know and it is just a giant mess it's embarrassing yeah but I mean it is the human side of the story that yeah but the other human side as I alluded to it and my talk is that there's stuff that happened to you in that period after after they caught you the third time they went out they got caught and so they want to talk to you and that they're very upset Dennis in particular the guy Kelly yeah so they want to talk to you and then a whole series of really bad things start happening share with us a little bit about what that period was like was it's hard to it's hard to convey it and that it was really going on but it was real yeah I was the well I guess it started when we got caught you know and we got caught that time I can't quite remember which time that happened but you know we had we had gone out again with the test flight data at two times and been there on Wednesday night and gene huff and we had an ever-increasing amount of people that we began to trust to go out there and which was getting really ridiculous I think we've brought a motor home out there parked out on the road because nothing now you know once you start getting away with something you get a little cocky and thinking of why they can't see us so we're out there and you know gene and I kind of joke around sometimes and say stupid stuff you know pretending that someone's out there listening so we're sitting out there on the dirt road that that's flight time is coming up we're sitting leaning on the front of the car and you know I it's Jean or says something to the effect as well I hope they out there they don't realize that we've got those other 150 you know team members out back with you know automatic weapons and everything and we're getting ready to storm the base and I said they can't possibly about all those guys you know and so right after we said that not now it's pitch black it's you can't see your hand in front of your face not 50 feet in front of us who saw a little green thing fall on the ground and rolled to us and everybody in there what and as it turned out there were a whole bunch of guys standing there in the dark watching us through night-vision scopes and after I said that a guy dropped wine and it rolled over to us so they they turn on you know turn on the lights okay everybody come with us and you know that I had told the story about the break in the car I mean they I remember going to your house after a break-in yeah you had to shout you're ready to shoot somebody and then the break-in at the car at the gym that stuff really happened it was really going on oh yeah that was with Mario the guy it was a truck driver now he was going to and we were just working out at a local gym near us and I was it that this is it the probably the highest paranoia stage and I had a you know and Uzi and the the front and you know Mario and I got to the place and I said okay it's loaded here we're safe to go outside and we open the car doors we closed them and we may even make a joke about it we locked the doors we try and open them okay okay the cars secure we go in there and you know joking you think we'll be safe for half an hour and yeah I think we can do it and we you know we come walking out there's all the doors trunks open the Seas laying out there and my wallet you know and we just looked at each other this is impossible you know but yeah that had happened Mario's tells that story probably every day you go at some point you decided to talk to me you know we did that interview in silhouette I can't quite remember why what how that happened there was just too much going on but yeah I know at some point that was really again Lear was making a big deal he started naming off the people that he knew that suddenly disappeared and he said you know unless you talk to this guy George Knapp you know and if you go out on the air they all you know they'll be afraid to talk to you as it they're not afraid to do anything you know it's but I called you anyway or he did and then it kind of hits the fan they're really mad at him and then that's when a lot of really bad stuff started happening and then we we decided to record an interview just for safekeeping in case something happened to him so it was a couple of hours on tape and I under the condition that I wouldn't use that until Bob said okay and it was eight months eight months until we got the OK and I worked on him every day to talk him into allowing me to use it and tell the story assuming he was still alive and on the day that we were tube ready to broadcast it it was part 6 of a nine part report Bob suddenly changes his mind and grabs the video talk because you were gonna say Who I was yeah we're getting ready to identify him I'm worth 10 minutes from going on the air he's were wrestling over the tape he did as a UFO profiteer and Messiah coming forward and making up stories he was a very reluctant witness I can tell you you're regretting I mean we heard a little bit of it at times you certainly regret it because it's you know my life yeah it has it but it's not good no I mean that's what's kind of entertaining to me people you know they come oh I made up some story but you're making all kinds of money on there where does where I want my cut but no I and you know to be honest I did have I did have the opportunity I mean new line studios in Columbia you know when they heard all this I mean they've president at Columbia Pictures came down and yeah you were here right yeah and yeah you say we're doing this and you know and they started giving me screenplays and I know you know you know they - it was a James Bond movie they had me running over the tops of cars it's like look India tell the story how it happened or just or leave me out and just make up a UFO story but you you can't it has to be exactly what happened and so it was just constantly everything being turned down it's like you know what we're not doing it I had mentioned before about me going out and doing presentations about you and one of the things always said is look Bob doesn't show up at UFO events he's not cashing in on it there's nothing wrong with those who do if you can make some money at it more power to you because it fuels the research but you've never done that before that's not the case anymore why did you decide to come here

hi well I really didn't you know I got here yeah I know I'm here but now I know a lot of people mentioned you know a 20 look there's this big you and I have never been to a UFO convention I mean I thought they were like Star Trek conventions people walking around with antennas and stuff but you know I didn't want to be have any part of that and you know what the people that arranged this in you and know this is a class thing just come down like 25 years once in your life just say something and I know it well everything I've said has already been said either on the internet and it why would anyone even care to just hear it again so I finally just said okay fine just to stop you from hassle but it really didn't end there and that was just a moment of weakness and then about you know about a and one of the reasons why is because it was like two or three months away so I just yeah February I'm fine wave whatever you want to do and then and then anyway a few weeks went by and it kind of hit me that one day that dates going to come around and I you know I was more than that maybe it was uh you know three or four weeks or something like that so anyway I I called them back here and I said not you know I'm really thinking about not doing that and I'm sorry and you know I told my wife and George and you know and I really didn't realize there were those many people that were interested and you know they said you can't back out you know we've been advertising there's gonna be a lot of people here and you know that's and I said you've got 15 or 50 speakers or something it's just one less that's gonna be here but seriously you don't recognize so you don't understand that people are so interested in seeing you and hearing from you doesn't register well not no but I appreciate that I do but I mean in that you know they made that clear aside from the fact that they sue me if I didn't tell her and I said in a nice way yeah so I I will go so I am here well the fact that you said that you would do it because I keep pestering you I take that no I know so I did you know I I did give him my word I do it and it's not like I'm you know it's too bad well I'm no problem you know when you look at you heard my presentation about how far this story has traveled how many industries and businesses it is launched the extra-terrestrial highway that's from you Vegas 51s baseball team yeah they feel boy people jumped capitalizing on it really really quickly when you say area51 mentioned in movies and some Tom Hanks movie or you know the Independence Day or something it's it's overwhelming yeah I guess it's it's hard for me to grasp you know it's almost it's I don't know how to describe it so this the experience here so far has been pretty good for you might you do it again or might you open up a little bit or open there's nothing else that's the whole step up everything ever okay let's told me you got a leg list of names that I hate you haven't Bea even me yet no I mean look I believe me I could really make it easy to verify a bunch of things and I do not want to do that at all

I really would prefer people don't buy the story because it makes my day-to-day life has nothing to do with UFOs and being the UFO guy is a big problem it's hard to get contracts and be you know taken seriously and I you know I don't want the last thing I want is you know a movie coming out or something like that it would be a catastrophe well be a great movie if they made it right well I don't know you know it was amazing no you're so a couple years ago there's the story about this Russian spy that was killed by use of polonium and they called me or anything Network people want to do a story s you who where can we get polonium and they find online well here's a guy who sells it it's Bob Lazar yeah they are at the house this is the first day but do you get stopped I mean to you you know get people stop you on the road I know you get emails and phone calls well emails you know people asking you know questions that you know that really aren't up on you know the topic at all it said you know has anyone tried to you know duplicate one of these the crafts well you know that was the whole aim of the project there and but you know they're just hearing that there's a guy that might have worked on flying saucers and you know this is his email address but by the way I'm not on Facebook there's these guys that pretend to be me and I keep getting these emails a thanks for friended me on Facebook on what are you talking about well it's I think this is our time we're up I've been asking questions from the submitted by folks including in this and you know I think that people are just excited to hear it directly from you tell the story and again I certainly understand why people would have a hard time believing it but I do get it yeah it really is it really is it really happened yeah yeah exactly that way

I want to thank you thank you all for coming and hope you enjoyed the conversation with Bob and maybe I can pester him into doing this again sometime I don't know thank you very much

this is a distinguished lecture series I don't know how distinguished I am but I'll tell you the more trips you make to that bar the better this is going to be you know I was talking with Alan and Karen and Brian as they were planning on putting together the area51 exhibit downstairs hope you've all seen it by now it's it's a lot of fun and as they were going through we were going through my boxes of old stuff and I'm telling him stories they're asking questions about how I got started down this path I would tell him what it was like back in those days and how I got hooked on the story and how I met bob lazar and they seemed fascinated with those behind-the-scenes stories of how those things went down back in those days why I would essentially put my career and my credibility at risk J something seemingly so crazy and ridiculous how I could still be looking at this subject so many years later and so I shared with him some of the backstory and the details on how I became interested what was going on behind the scenes the price that everyone associated with this has paid over the years and how my views on some of the larger issues involved have evolved over the years and they seem to think some of those stories were interesting so they asked me to share them with you tonight in some sort of a public forum and you know and I have spoken many times in public about area 51 and about Bob Lazar and some of the crazy stuff that's happened the general topic of UFOs at least some of these tales here tonight have not been told in any detail at all and I'm gonna reveal the existence of a witness who was whispering in my ear back then we call this in the news business burying the lede but somewhere along the line there tonight I'm gonna tell you the name of a guy who was who was interested in this topic and who helped me along the way and I think it could qualify maybe as a headline somewhere I will say at the outset that that although you know I will never be allowed to set foot on that base I'll never get any closer to it than the warning signs that say use of deadly force is authorized and I've been out there maybe a hundred times over the years you know dodging around in the desert and keep from from being intercepted by the camo dudes and and dodging dirt clods and dust devils and and all kinds of things like that and coyotes I'll never get any closer to it than the signs at which of course the signs are many miles from most of the interesting stuff that goes on out there still area 51 is to me is as much a part of my life as it is for the people who worked out there I mean it's been 24 years the people who worked out there people like my friend TD Barnes who's here in the audience tonight the road runners they toiled in obscurity couldn't even tell their spouses what they were doing for a living they basically protected all of us Hey and we didn't know about it not even their own families could know about it they basically won the Cold War out there I mean they were really there so for them it's a real part of their life but I'm telling you it's as much a part of my life and it has been for 24 years now as it is for theirs I suspect that you know years from now when I die there'll be something about UFOs and area 51 on a tombstone assuming that I ever am buried somewhere they find the body area 51 I would say is as much linked to my name as is as if it's like tattooed on my butt for better or worse I guess you could say those stories we told long ago back in 1989 to begin with those stories have I think paved the way for the rest of the people who really did work out there and toiled and obscurity as I mentioned who did all that work to protect all of us who work for the CIA in the military for them to come forward and tell their story I'm back when we started talking about flying saucers you'll recall the government did not acknowledge that the base even existed there was a time back when they first set up the facility that the government put out a little little notice have sent to channel 8 and other media people says we're going to build this little facility out here in the desert as a place called water town don't worry it's a temporary thing it'll go away and don't pay any attention to it kind of a thing and that's what they acknowledged and then some years later you know you can look at a map of the Nevada Test Site and there's area 15 there's area 12 and there's this box over here outside the test site itself but it's called area 51 and it was on the maps and all of a sudden it disappeared it went away and in the years when I first started working out of the story the government would not acknowledge that it existed now I've got Russian satellite photos that I obtained I can see pictures of it

I had guy named John Lear who walked right up to the gate and years past who showed me close-up photos of it I talked to people who worked out there you could climb up a hill and look at the damn thing and yet our government would say it didn't exist well naturally that kind of a situation is going to get you curious about that or about a place like that back in those days though outside of Nevada other than people who had worked there or were in the military few people anywhere had heard of the place you didn't know the name area 51 it was spoken about in whispers you know and I think that you know the fact that the CIA guys who worked out there the fact that military people worked out there who have reasons to be proud of the work that they did have been allowed in the last couple of years to come forward and talk about it I a lot of that has to do with these crazy flying saucers stories that we told because it sort of blew the lid off the idea that there really isn't a base out there acknowledge that there really is legitimate national security programs going on and sort of paved the way and made it acceptable for them to come forward and talk about the great work that they did as I said you know it's hard to believe that there was a time not that long ago when when the base really didn't exist and so few people knew about it or those who did know about it had to use a nickname or a code name for the place now however it is known in every corner of the world it's known everywhere in fact I'm going to show you a little clip here in a second and it wouldn't have happened without these stories that we did about Bob Lazar and area 51 I think you know I've been a journalist as Alan mentioned the introduction at channel 8 since 1981 and I've covered just about every kind of story you can imagine organized crime drug dealers Gun Runners corrupt officials scams ripoffs campaign hijack hijinks sex scandals political convention buried treasure polluters murders fires bikers stickups pot farmers crack peddlers scumbags boneheads and Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid and yet wherever I go whoever I talk to on the UFO report doesn't matter what those other stories some of them were pretty good stories some of them made a difference in the lives of the people who are here in this room doesn't matter about those other stories the thing that people want to talk to me about is UFOs I don't care if I'm in a grocery store or a restaurant having a meal and they come up and take up a seat in the men's room in front of the urinal sitting in traffic people yelling out at the wind the car window to talk to me about UFOs and most of times it's to ask me hey what do you what do you think about UFOs you really believe that stuff the reality of it is they don't want to ask me what my opinion is they want to tell me their story because so many people have stories and I'll bet there are people in here most people here if you don't have a story of your own or a sighting or an incident you know somebody in your family who does because that's how ubiquitous this phenomena is and it certainly is ubiquitous in my life I mean I will be forever Brandon I mean now hardly a day goes by when I don't get a phone call or an email from Ecuador or Iceland or Australia or China or somewhere else that somebody has just seen one of my bootleg reports or something on the internet who want to talk to me about UFOs 1989 the year that we did the Lazar stories is the year that I officially went crazy though off my rocker out to lunch that's that's what we broke the story about Bob Lazar the ridiculous notion that there could be recovered alien craft out at area 51 I know how ridiculous it sounds now I know how ridiculous it sounded then but I'm here to tell you tonight about the circumstances of why we decided to pursue it as a story because as a result of that as I mentioned that's when the world beat a path to area 51's door and it has created a legend a legend was born a mythology and ever-evolving mythology one that has at times been co-opted by people for various reasons exploited for their own reasons by these hopelessly gullible Saucer nuts by people who think that the the milk carton children are all kidnapped and taken out there to be mixed up in a giant human alien vats to make body parts you name it people have assigned different stories to it there was a guy after I first did these stories about Lazar who would taking people on tours charging him 99 bucks a head and telling them that aliens from the planet Kron DAC were in charge of the base down there at like the 35 levels below the surface of the earth so story has changed it has evolved but there's no doubt that as a result of those tales it began with Bob Lazar it's known all over the world it began with an interview with Bob Lazar that that was in silhouette you saw a piece of that that was in May of 1989 and then we sort of started working on it and it just took off from there and it drove my journalism colleagues crazy they hated it and and I've sort of paid the price for that I don't mind

I mean radio DJs back in those days whenever they would run out of belch barf and fart jokes in the morning would tee off on me I remember I'm writing a song about the boob on the tube to the tune of the fool on the hill it was pretty funny stuff my friends at the review journal my friends and colleagues over there I've really had fun at my expense over the years this is one of a couple of columns that John L Smith has written about the UFO reporter having a close encounter with skepticism and he ends it with besides I think I saw Elvis milling around in the lobby uh-huh because nobody ever is a co see any UFOs with Elvis or mp4 this is a column written by their media columnist Ken white who said get the Nets is the title of the article says Las Vegas are rushing home from work these days in sheer fits of excitement over George Knapp's series on UFOs not that they're excited over the reports themselves they want to be there if George does the big crack up on-screen Willie Goldman Willie go bull goose Looney right there in front of thousands as eyes suddenly gone buggy and rolling free in their sockets his tongue wagging side to side funny stuff this is an editorial cartoon I have it in at home by the way on my wall the original it's called the marshmallow head chronicles extraterrestrial hitmen who have come to earth looking for me and they're looking at a couple of gasoline pumps and the line says of course they are men that's obvious but which one is George Knapp maybe and then this is one I did a series about allegations about alien abductions and the certain medical procedures than probes that happen according to the people who go through this and the r.j. wrote this they were kidnapped by aliens it gets better they dubbed me a grande mola in the Church of stratospheric proctology but I thought it was a damn fine line it might be the best thing the rj has ever written i don't know you know it comes with the territory i have a public job I understand that I'm in a public position I do a story like that you're gonna catch some grief I understand that I have thick skin and I can deal with it what sort of bothered me over all the years though is how few of these kind of reporters who live here and who could cover the story and go out there interview the witnesses go track it down never did it's easier to bang out some wisecracks do an Elvis joke maybe pull in Loch Ness monster and make fun of this stuff then to go talk to somebody like a TD Barnes or Bob Lazar or back in those days he was much more accessible or some of the other folks who worked at the base or to sit out there in the desert night after night as we did and see whatever it is that might be flying around but they didn't they prefer just to take potshots at it and that's easier to do I guess then to do the actual work and I think the assumption for people for a long time both regarding RA 51 and more importantly for the larger UFO story is that anybody who's seriously intro interested in this stuff is nuts is crazy is is bull goose loony and I'll have to tell you then in about 90% of the cases that that assumption is right because people who are in this field are crazy I would just share with you a couple of the experiences that I have had that caused me a great concern in the early days when I was chasing this stuff there was a woman who showed up at the TV station after the first series of reports she's wearing the skimpy halter top and holding a kid that I later learned soon learned was a

an alien hybrid she told me and within five minutes of me meeting her she had to tell me this story had to meet me had to talk to me she's telling me the story within five minutes of me meeting her I knew the most intimate details of her sex life because she said it was while performing a certain sex act outdoors on her porch that she heard a noise and looked up and saw her first UFO and then eventually and I'm not making up one word to this eventually these these beings beamed her up one board on their ship and they told her to in there up to put on a bathing suit and they told her in their opinion that she needed breast implants and I'm not making this up she's telling me all this stuff I go huh yeah I'm writing this stuff down really yeah and she says she got him and I'll tell you that's the one part of the story I could believe because because there was ample physical evidence staring me in the face

I received letters from this lady she was 75 years old at the time and she lived on a ranch outside Sacramento California and she would tell me that every time her husband would leave the ranch these aliens would come and have their way with her and she drew me pictures of alien genitalia and and with little diagrams pointing at little arrows pointing to it it wasn't very impressive I'll just put it that way I have been pestered by a millionaire transsexual alien abductee a guy who says he's the twin brother of Jesus Christ and that aliens are coming back and to get him and boy they're really mad I had a guy fly to see me it was this is a sad story flew to see me from Australia used what he said we're his last dollars to come to see me because he said he was he wanted me to use my contacts at area 51 that's a laugh twos to talk to the aliens to stop coming and getting him because they come every night to grab him he was he was trouble he was disturbed and I've had a heck of a lot of people like that who've come forward with those kinds of stories I've had people claiming to be aliens waiting for me outside the station who had followed me home

I've had people send me songs that aliens have written and poems I've had people who accused me of being alien of being a government agent and a government plant a government operative reluctantly you know I've appeared on a couple of TV shows that I wish I could take back the Jesse Ventura show to be one and and as a result of that I've met all kinds of people

I've been to a UFO conferences all over the place I remember meeting one of the 400 year old Venusian woman and because I guess the UFO topic is weird anything weird that's mine come and get it your PA possessed by Beelzebub call me up I can probably do an exorcism yeah you had an out-of-body experience camping it get back in call Georgia he'll know what to do with it so you have to ask yourself I mean why would I stick with this stuff how did it ever get this way and I'll tell you my connection to the area 51 story basically started the day I was hired at channel 8 back in 1981 the guy who hired me is the name Bob Stowe tall he's a good friend of mine he was the news director became a mentor to me and he had at the time been collecting little bits and pieces of at area 51 anything don't appear in an aviation magazine sometimes there would be a message a little story about Groom Lake in the newspaper and he had that file and he showed it to me I thought that's kind of interesting and then I didn't think about it for a couple of more years in 1984 the Air Force illegally seized 89 thousand acres around area 51 they just took it yes one day it's public land the next day you try to drive on that land and there's guys with guns there and you're turned back and they later two years later asked for permission to do it and I've got a little clip I'll show you in a minute a couple of minutes about them appearing to before Congress to talk about it in which they're asked well what authority did you do this under well I'll have to tell you in a closed-door briefing and so that caught my attention I did some stories about that back then but I didn't do anything again for a while however my friend Mr. Snow tall and his friend Ned Day who became a mentor to me were very busy with the story of their own they broke the story about the existence of the stealth fighter being tested and test flown out their air 51 that was a big story F-117a they broke it everybody else picked it up as a result of that story going public Ned Day was picked up by the FBI they picked him up off a street corner put him in a room was just like a scene out of a movie with a real hot light in his face saying how dare you endanger the lives of 220 million Americans by letting this story out don't you know the Russians can find this out and Ned was pretty scared for a while until he remembered a lesson from journalism school and he said look man I'm just her little reporter in Las Vegas if I can find this doubt don't you think that the Russians can find it out too and so they let him go that was a big story and the reason allowed them we were able to get it is because of a guy named John Lear and John Lear is a as a friend of mine I now I've met him in first in 87 I think he showed up at the TV station he had been the source to alert Ned and them to the existence of this playing out there at area 51 so he had a certain amount of credibility at channel 8 and he had also he had run for the state Senate his family of course is well known in Nevada the Learjet developed that John had been pilot for the CIA had flown just about every plane you can imagine very accomplished guy and a lot of ways distinguished and smart and in the view of a lot of people completely crazy because he became interested in UFOs and I mean when he became interested he went all the way so he shows up at the station one day not long after helping Ned to break that story about area 50 or the f-117 and he's got a great big stack of UFO documents and he drops him on Ned's desk and he says you got to read this stuff this is really interesting it's a biggest story in history and what do you think

well I'm eavesdropping at the time and so I as usual and so I said hey let me take a look at that stuff and I first met John Lear I took that stuff home and started reading it some of it was obviously manufactured by someone but a lot of it was legitimate documents obtained from our government secret studies conducted by military agencies and authorities about the UFO issue in which these matters were taken very seriously I thought that's that's pretty interesting

I had never at the time given any kind of thought to UFOs I had had some discussions within my own family about things that had happened long ago but as far as I know I had never seen one I had I had one UFO book that somebody had given me as a gift something I read and put aside no abiding interest at all it certainly was not a religion for me or any cause in my life but I looked at it I thought I'm gonna put John Lear on this little show

I have called on the record it was a one of those 30-minute talk shows political discussions you'd have a City Councilman on or something to talk about things that nobody cared about it aired at 6 o'clock in the morning on a Sunday and nobody watched it but I put Lear on he started doing this UFO manifesto aliens abductions all this stuff and I just kind of sat there with my jaw agog and and listened to it and then the phone that the program ended it aired and the phone started ringing and as people wanted to tell me stories about UFOs this is pretty interesting it had obviously touched the pulse of the public in a way that I did not understand and did not appreciate

I had Lear on again and the response was even bigger and then that second appearance he hinted that he knew somebody who might be getting hired at area 51 that person turned out to be Bob Lazar and then I had him on a third time with another crazy guy named Bill Cooper who really went off the deep end and the response was even bigger and I realized you know what I'm gonna have to look into this stuff I'm gonna have to start taking this seriously and read on it read about it so I started sort of my own little learning curve and the learning curve as you probably know if you're into the topic is considerable then came the day the next significant event was in May of 1989 I was co-anchoring there five o'clock news we had a little interview segment we did every day entertainers politicians whoever was interesting in town he just wanted him to be a kind of a fun to interview and at the last minute our interview cancelled so I called up Lear and I said hey do you think yet UFO guy you were hinting about would he come on

I'll even black out of space if you have to and sure enough he did and we put Bob Lazar on and did it like a five-minute interview and in which he told this story this crazy story about working at a place called S4 Papoose Lake south of Groom Lake within the area 51 complex nine flying saucers out there in hangars built in to be disguised like the side of a mountain alien and origin they all look different as if we got the variety pack

holy cow what to believe about this but again the response from the audience was absolutely overwhelming so when it finished I went and talked to the news director we said well let's figure out what to do here because if this guy's telling the truth obviously this is a pretty damn big story and as crazy as it might sound let's do some work and find out if there's anything to it and we'll do some reporting on it so about a week later we went to Lear's house to meet with Bob Lear was playing games with us then and wouldn't even still wouldn't tell us it's Lazar's real name what he didn't know is that Lazar had signed the guestbook at the entrance to Bob to John's house so when I walked in I saw the name there and figured out what it was we talked to Bob Lazar we put him through paces stowed all and I asking him questions about his background and he seemed like a humble intelligent sincere guy we left the meeting and said you know what let's give this a go here we recognize there are risks to our credit professional credibility in standing we decided we would be careful maybe do a couple of parts a couple of minutes at night that instead of a couple of parts over a couple of nights it became 10 minutes a night over two weeks and it was the highest-rated series we ever aired but that didn't happen till November and then between May and November I did this intense crash course in UFOs and which I tried to learn everything I could not only about UFOs in general what the government might or might not know what about Lazar and as I said it was a it's a huge learning curve ninety ninety five percent of everything in the field I figure is complete nonsense it's made up its conspiracy stuff it's lunatic theories it's crap put out by people who either want an attention or they're nuts or they want to sell something but there's this kernel of truth in the middle of all that of proof and you have to wade through a lot of chaff to get to the wheat but it's there and I think that any reasonable person who does the work and Wade's through it all to find the kernel of truth inside would believe likewise that is unless as it is for some a religion just as you have people on one side who believe everything they hear everything in the sky is a flying saucer you have other people on the other side the skeptics they call themselves but really they're debunkers and it wouldn't matter if a saucer landed on the White House lawn they wouldn't believe it and you couldn't convince him because it would upset their worldview it's a religion for them as strongly as it's a religion for the people on the other side and no amount of evidence would change their minds that's at least what I came to believe and for me I guess I'll talk a little bit of in general about the concept of proof because what is proof it's it's what should be able to convince a reasonable person that something is true I happen to think that in the area of UFOs there's more than enough and what I learned in the course of those next few months and have learned in the 24 years since is that there's a heck of a lot of proof if people are willing to look at it the first one being in the area of eyewitness testimony now I know that eyewitness testimony can be inherently unreliable but you got people 3040 million Americans who will admit seeing UFOs probably as many who won't admit it but have seen them and it's true that 90% or more of all UFO sightings can be explained away as prosaic objects misidentifications and balloons and planes and things like that but it's also true that 9 out of 10

UFOs are not reported at all because there's no one will take the reports not except for civil civilian organizations you call McCarran or Nellis today and tell them you've seen a UFO they'll keep you on the phone or the police they'll keep on the phone long enough to find out if you're dangerous to somebody but they don't care about a UFO or at least they won't admit it

Oh our interest in that stuff stop so people like you and me somebody who see something strange in the sky there's nowhere to report it but millions of people have reported it millions of people all over the world have seen these things dating back thousands of years and every culture on every

in every civilization in human history have seen them they had different names for them and they have different descriptions but they've seen them that counts for something that that counts for something second type of proof is photographic evidence today with what is done online with with computer software it's hard to believe anything you see anymore but in the years before we all had computers with this kind of power in our homes there are photos and videos that are reliable that have been tested even by the military that show anomalous objects allow novelist's solid objects solid craft that perform maneuvers that our best technology can't do not even the stuff at area 51 the Third Kind of proof is physical evidence now I get this all the time well well you know why don't we have a cigarette lighter from a UFO or something like that where's the Roswell crash stuff if I do I'd tell you but we don't have that however there is physical evidence scientists will say there's nothing to analyze with UFOs they're here one minute and they're gone the next that is not true all over the world as witnesses have reported these things happening there are what we call landing site trace cases witnesses say this UFO land in my backyard

ah come on get out of here but if you go out in the backyard and you look you find a number of physical types of evidence burned or baked soil impressions imprints on the ground trees that are affected by things that fly up and down animals have been affected people have been affected burned things of that sort it is physical evidence for anybody who has the guts to go ahead and look at it J Allen Hynek I remember him saying yeah arguing with some scientists there's no physical evidence he says you know what airplanes fly over the Australian outback every single day and don't crash and people look up and see them it doesn't mean that they don't exist that they the fact that they don't have the Aborigines down below don't have a piece of one the fourth type of proof that I want to talk about very briefly is government documents I hinted about this before it's what got me hooked I told you that John Lear had helped me in the beginning with those great big stack of documents will he continue to give me piles of documents things that have been squeezed out of our government the most impressive evidence of all I think are these reports and studies written by our government by our military about UFOs long before the Freedom of Information Act existed these were reports were written for military people only to see evaluations for the president for the CIA for the Joint Chiefs and we were never supposed to know about it now you asked about that kind of stuff before the FOIA existed and these agencies denied that they had anything in fact the the FBI was asked a bunch of times what do you got on UFOs we don't have anything nothing four years passed in the mid-70s FBI was forced to release 2,000 pages of documents about UFOs same thing with the CIA I've written to him a bunch of times when I first started hey what do you got in UFOs nothing we never studied it never had any interest well bull I mean there are documents that were squeezed out of them through FOIA in the in even in the 70s with that referred to the CIA's UFO experts CIA UFO panels CIA UFO studies that one study that they had in particular I want to mention is something called the Robertson panel this is in the 1950s they convened this panel it had a whole bunch of UFO sightings this great big flat what are we gonna do about this stuff well let's look at the evidence they gathered evidence from about eight or nine ten cases and looked at it for a grand total of six hours over two days they said you know what we don't think that UFOs are a threat to national security but the reporting of UFOs is a potential threat to national security so we need to institute some changes we need to strip UFOs of their aura of mystery stripped them of their respectability make it lack less than respectable to report them so they instituted formerly a ridicule factor a laughter curtain a policy of making fun of people that see this stuff belittling the whole subject embarrassing scientists who take it seriously and it's worked it's worked now those documents exist I'll show you some other ones I gave a pile of stuff to the museum here I'm not sure if it's on display or not this is a report compiled by the US Air for in the Office of Naval Intelligence in 1948 December 1948 and it was there was something called Project sign there was a secret study of UFOs and the guys came back there look at all these case they said this stuff is real we think it's entirely possible that these things are from other planets a Hoyt Vandenberg who is the head of that Air Force I think back then said I can't allow that to go forward forget it burn that copy and come up with something new so project sign became project grudge and they came up with a much different conclusion but later project Bluebook which was nothing more than a public relations exercise collected 19,000 or so cases and even though they tried to explain them away they couldn't now in this document one copy continued to exist even though we're supposed to be destroyed it says it must be accepted that some type of flying objects have been observed their identification and origin are not discernible since the Air Force is responsible for control of the air and the defense of the US it's imperative that all agencies cooperate in confirming or denying the possibility that these objects have a domestic origin I'll tell you about something else it's not really a document this is a chapter from an Air Force physics textbook and our best and brightest pilots our future Joint Chiefs of Staff members go to the Air Force Academy for training and education and this chapter it's called a introductory space science department of physics US Air Force Academy was what they taught the cadets at the Air Force Academy let me quote you from it conclusion from available information the UFO phenomenon appears to have been global in nature for almost 50,000 years the majority of known witnesses have been reliable people who've seen easily explained natural phenomena and there appears to be no overall positive correlation with population density psychological factors probably do not enter the data picture as noise it goes on to say that in the course of your career as a pilot you're probably going to encounter one of these things as far as we can tell there may be four different races visiting the planet that's been going on for thousands of years this is what they're teaching their best and brightest pilots now after you up ho people got a hold of this chapter and put it it out hey you guys been lying to us they pulled it they yanked it which has sort of been the reaction all the way along and I don't really completely understand it but that's what they did so I think you know when you look at the trail the paper trail of government documents it's more than persuasive the kinds of stuff that is squeezed out of the our government a report after report incident after incident more than enough evidence to convince a reasonable person that something really weird has been flying around in these skies and I'll tell you it's not only documents from this country as a result of me being interested in this crazy subject I've been allowed to travel all over the world and one of the trips two of the trips took me to Russia we had a window of opportunity in the 1990s in which we went to Russia this company I work for I left channel 8 for a couple years hired this Russian physicist we met him through congressman Bilbray who was a friend of ours and he was the physicist had worked at the highest levels of the Russian government he's a science national national security adviser to Boris Yeltsin also to the Russian parliament he had trained Soviet cosmonauts how to spot American nuclear submarines from space the guy was dialed in so I met him as he was getting ready to go back to Russia and I asked him you know anything about UFOs got any friends in the KGB ever heard anything about it not really not they could think about it we had another beer you know that you mentioned I do have a friend at the KGB who told me that he had heard about read some

UFO studies that they had documents over there and then he thought there's a guy I know at the Academy of Sciences who studied this stuff before we know it we got to cut a list of a couple of people who had never talked about UFOs publicly before I made a deal with the guy we sent him back to Russia sent him up in an office I said here's what I want you to do find people who were in a position to know about UFOs but have never tried to peddle this story anywhere and he did and for seven or so seven almost eight months he searched out people like that and then I went over to Russia to meet him and we had to pay a little money here and there but I brought back several thousand pages of what was then classified information from Russia mid their ministry defense conducted the largest UFO study in the history of the world and it lasted for ten years and the order basically went out that every unit in the vast Soviet military empire had to report and fully investigate any anomalous aircraft ball of light weird thing in the sky anything that we would classify as a UFO so all these reports thousands and thousands of reports over a ten year period rolled in and they all went to the desk of this Colonel Boris Sokolov that I met and we got the documents from him and some of these reports were incredibly dramatic

Sokolov admitted to me your government studies him we're studying him and for the same reasons we want to be able to do what the UFO craft do and beat you in stealth he said these craft do things that we can't do if we can master them and figure out how they do it we can match you in stealth capability so it was a very practical reason for the study and it went on for a long time he told me that they had had 45 incidents in which the Russian military planes encountered UFOs they had a standing order you see a UFO flying over Moscow go get it and in three of those encounters the planes were shot down and two of the pilots died this is not this is not funny stuff and he said after the two pilots died the order went out it was changed that if you see a UFO leave it alone and the second time I'm going back to Russia I interviewed a guy named Igor Maltsev who was there basically their secretary the Air Force he's the guy that issued that order and he said I did it because these UFOs whatever they are may have incredible capacities for retaliation I will tell you this how I smuggled some of these documents back what happens is in in Russia is there they're classified documents they stamp them on the top page and then the rest of it are not stamped classified at least the documents we got so you remove that top page just throw the rest of that stuff in your suitcases what we did it's carrying these top pages got tricky well I got him out and if I hadn't I'd be in a gulag somewhere still I just divert to that story only to tell you that governments other governments around the world like our government has studied this stuff of course they would

there was an incident in Russia similar to something that happened here at which the UFOs appeared over a UN ICBM base a base where these nuclear tipped missiles are aimed at the United States and these things popped up over a four hour period now all the witnesses who made these reports are military officers and I got all and so they described different things these UFOs did they were there were two some that were huge that split apart into smaller craft and then fused back together some of them just sat there some of them zipped around they made incredible maneuvers and then right after of being there for about four hours the launch control panels that controls these ICBMs aimed at the United States lit up something entered the codes that enabled these missiles and they were ready to go and a countdown had begun and the Russians couldn't stop it and they were freaking and then the UFOs over the base go poof gone control panel goes back to normal

Russians are shaking their head and wiping their brow they called my friend the Ministry of Defense guy

Sokolov to send a team in to study it he took apart they were the equipment they couldn't find anything wrong they couldn't find anything wrong it had never happened before and it never happened since and they concluded that these UFOs were somehow sending a message this may be your most powerful technology and weapons but it doesn't really impress us all that much we had a similar set of incidents here at five nuclear bases along the u.s. Canadian border in the mid-1970s it was kept secret for a long time but after the FOIA was became law they forced these documents out UFOs visited these bases one right after another over a two-week period encountered our warplanes we tried chase them couldn't do it they entered some codes they disabled some missiles scary stuff so when you tell me that UFOs are not in a turn F of national security you're full of crap and and that is the official version of our government and they are full of crap about this so anyway I think there's more than enough proof to consider that this subject should be taken seriously back to the story of area 51 why don't we play this other tape here I'll just give you a little introduction to Bob Lazar the key for me was I'm never gonna prove that Bob Lazar worked at area 51 so I tried to settle on did he work at Los Alamos which he claimed where he worked there and classified projects and so we played a little game with Los Alamos National Lab for a couple of years and here's sort of how it goes there are problems with Bob's story here and there and and I'll talk about a couple of them but as I mentioned for me he was did he did he work at los alamos in sensitive positions because if he had been there then it at least plausible he could get hired to work out out somewhere else in sensitive positions and I think he was there I mean I interviewed people that worked with him and I'll tell you this I haven't talked about this very often but I went to Los Alamos we trespassed into the National Lab on a Sunday and Bob took me in we went to he he still had a a contract with the lab to produce radiation probes that were placed outside the laboratory so he took me there on a Sunday we flew to Los Alamos and he met us at the gate and we got in a car and drove in and he took us through these buildings the place where he never worked like a rabbit going through an underground maze I mean we were going all through people are waving at us and they showed us where he had worked we talked to people he had worked with and yet everybody's telling us he wasn't there we went in and got video of this one of the world's biggest particle accelerators at the Mason facility where he worked and they still said he wasn't there eventually I got something out of Los Alamos lab in which they said all right we found the number for him he was here but he worked only for a subcontractor and they gave me the name of the subcontractor which was a headhunting company that had recruited him there so I began a process with them and I first contacted him look this guy Lazar says you recruited him you got him a job there at Los Alamos do you have any records yeah we've got records well can I get them sure we'll send them to you a couple weeks ago buy records don't arrive I call back again yeah well can't really find those records so I start a series of writing letters I got a stack of letters this thick eventually they just stopped dealing with me at all they stopped responding period something changed you know and that was enough to really piqued my curiosity especially after talking to people who said that they work with him there and I know it's a leap to make that to area 51 I know it's a leap but some things that Bob had said on the that you saw that newspaper headline excuse me on the day that that story appeared in the Los Alamos monitor Edward Teller was at Los Alamos given a lecture and he was sitting outside reading that newspaper article about Bob and his jet interest in jet cars and Bob walked by and he struck up a conversation this is the story that Bob tells and that is how he later when he was here in Las Vegas looking for something else to do besides processing photos which he was doing for a period that he got he says he got an interview and EG&G that Edward Teller was the guy who arranged it years later after my stories came out Edward Teller was asked about it on camera and he gets really weird about it yeah maybe I knew him and maybe I don't what about kind of a thing and you know you'll never be able to prove it people that I know and trust you say that they have checked the records that Lazar was never at area 51 I'll take their word for it

I certainly have trouble with Bob's claimed credentials at schools he had claimed to have degree sort of MIT and Caltech now I've talked to people who saw him at Caltech but there's no no records there I think it is entirely possible that he would exaggerate his educational background in order to get a great job he wouldn't be the first person to do that he wouldn't be the first person to jut to lie about his background in education in order to get a good job and you have to wonder well wouldn't the people who hired him know that and yeah they would they would have to they do a background check they'd have to know that but I think in was some way that Bob could have been the perfect person for that that position if you wanted to example test some theory run something up a flagpole see how the public would react about a story about flying saucers he might be the guy to do it he's technically proficient he's an amazing guy you walk in a room I don't care who's in the room he's the smartest guy there whether he has degrees from MIT or Caltech or not he just knows amazing stuff and can do anything with electronics or computers he's a really smart guy and I got to know him pretty well I got to know him through a guy named gene Huff who I hope was going to invite him here tonight gene was a real estate appraiser who worked with Bob and who also knew John Lear and that's how that coalesced a lot of people think it was Lear the Svengali who sucked Bob in and and got him to tell all these crazy stories and in order I don't know what in order to do what but that's not the way it went down those guys were friends Bob was out there for a period of a couple of months from late 1988 until about April 1989 he had some personal issues that were going on his phones were being tapped as part of the security background is a story that he told and the guys who were listening in on the phones and checking his background found that that his wife was having an affair and they told him and sort of things just kind of fell apart fertilizer after that he didn't like the work he was doing out there he said the security was ridiculous that they hadn't made much progress but he told some really interesting stories about seeing these flying saucers out there in the hangars I know a lot of people have trouble believing that but there's some other things that Bob knew that you have to ask yourself how did he know if he wasn't there so we got a win another guy a former police officer who done polygraph exams in fact he did it for he still does it for a major casino corporation a corporation but by the way is represented here tonight and he's very credible guy he took his time he went through the all the material with Lazar talked to about flying saucers antimatter reactors which is what the power source was the element 115 which was the fuel all that stuff gave him the test four times and he passed and it's not he'd barely passed he passed funny questioned passed wasn't even close that polygraph examiner his name is Terry Tabb Burnett II he gave the results to his friend who's a another examiner who looked at it who said yeah no question about it a third guy looked at the results and said he passed a fourth guy said well you know I'd like to see him ask some more questions but he thought he passed as well he passed it not no question about it I guess it's possible to do it but Bob had never taken a polygraph before before I asked him to do it as far as I know still even with all that I'm not sure that I would have gone forward with the story except the fact that after we aired that silhouette interview people started calling me with more information people who said that they'd worked out there and I won't give you all of them but I'll tell you that there are more than two dozen of them who had claimed to have some kind of knowledge little bits and pieces of the story out there six of those people who called me and offered to give me information were visited after they called and told to keep their mouths shut this is a kind of thing it really ticks me off because somebody was listening to my phone it wasn't theirs it was mine there's a lady who works even now in the Clark County Court system in the court system she's been there a long time but before she was there she worked as a secretary for a defense contractor called Holmes annarbor which has worked at the test site for a number of years unclassified stuff and she says she sat in on meetings at which the Roswell wreckage was discussed she took took notes on a typewriter the after it was done the meeting was done they took the ribbon out of this thing and destroyed it she says they talked about the Roswell stuff coming to area 51

she told this to a cop who's a friend of mine he set up a meeting we talked about it on the phone we're gonna get together the next day she gets visited by these two guys who say you know you're still under your security oath is still in effect you can't talk about anything it happened back then we know that you and your daughter travel back and forth between Los Angeles there's a lot of desert out there we'd hate for something to happen to either one of you this lady was scared scared to death that's 20 years later I tried to get her to talk about it she still wouldn't I had a guy who worked at channel 8 as an electrical engineer who had been at air 851 for a while says he saw what looked like a flying saucer under a tarp and was going to tell me about it he had moved to another city I called him up he's a living in Seattle and I called him up said hey would you tell me that story I'll black out your face he says sure just so long as you don't give my identity next morning there's two guys sitting in a car outside his house military haircuts sunglasses look like men and black or something talking into a radio making themselves very obvious they follow him to work

of course he calls me and says the interview is off I'm not gonna do it

I had a guy named Roy Byram who does tax returns and he did tax returns for a lot of high-ranking guys at Nellis Air Force Base and after the Lazar interview called me up he said hey I got some information for you because these guys I got to know him really well and they told me some stories about these disks these alien disks that are out there swear to god he says that they told me the story I said great I'll come in to interview you next day very next day two guys from they said the Secret Service show up they said we hear you've been making threats against the life of the president and we're just telling you that's a prosecutable offense you could go to prison for this he wrote back to me said I think it's an attempt to stifle tight for me from talking to you he was still wouldn't he go forward with it but I didn't know if it was a good idea six people right in a row that happened to that that makes a big impression on me back in those days and that would now and it made me really angry a lot of other people came forward with information that I met with people who had varying degrees of experience out there at 51 but is some of whom's background I could convince I could confirm some of them I could not there was a guy there was a story a guy named Michael hunt who surfaced in 1980 Wood said he had worked for the AEC at Groom Lake in the 60s claimed he saw an alien disc in flight had a lot of really detailed information that who came forward and told his story there was a Wackenhut security guard who had a queue clearance at the test site from 1984 to 88 said he was pulling a shift that the internal entrance area 51 they were buzzed by this glowing object at night there was a a Las Vegas attorney who served in the military in the 70s says he witnessed a disc-shaped craft land outside of area 51 seemed to have be in some kind of mechanical difficulty he was subjected to several days of tough questioning after seeing this thing and told that he didn't in fact see it there was a golf pro from Nellis Air Force Base who liked the tax guy had struck up conversations and friendships with these Nellis Air Force guys and went on these outer outer road trips he said they were out of town watching a TV space about Roswell and these guys farad tell him this story now maybe they were pulling his leg but they seem very serious he thought they were serious and they told him that the wreckage some of that stuff and eventually made its way to Nevada and not necessarily just area 51 the stories I heard about it whether they had gone to a place called Indian Springs which existed as a base before area 51 was opened in 1955 and then it was a guy I'll tell you about two more one of them if you heard about this this book on area 51 by a lady named Annie Jacobson I know it's a really bestseller it popped up and and has made a bunch of I've got a lot of attention it's a really excellent history of the Roadrunners and the base and the really great stuff that went on and then it goes off the deep end at the end of this book it says that that based on the testimony of one EG&G senior engineer that yeah there were saucers out there at area 51 they came from Roswell but they weren't alien the Russians had built them they had taken these Nazi scientists and some spindly prisoners of war who'd been subjected to experiments by Josef Mengele they built this flying saucer based on Nazi designs but these prisoners of war in as the pilots flew it over to across the ocean to Roswell and crashed it to scare the hell out of the American public that we were being invaded by aliens that sounds pretty much ridiculous except that the person who told that story to Annie and it's been widely ridiculed and dismissed because of how ridiculous it is it is ridiculous except for the fact that the guy who told her that I know it is because twenty years ago I basically stalked him there were members of his family who hinted to me that he knew something about area 51 this is not a Bob Lazar this is not guy whose credentials can be questioned he really was in the places where he said he worked he really was in a position to know with high clearances I am NOT saying that the person identified as Annie source is my source I'm just saying that that the same person by confirming that the name that's been made public in reference to her book is the right one does that that would be wrong because I made a promise for one thing I made a promise that I wouldn't talk about it anyway this guy's family tells me he knows something about it so I start showing up in places where he is and I just ingratiate myself I'm stalking him basically until I got to know him and he invited me home to see his scrapbooks from the atomic energy program nuclear bomb photos and photos of the old days working for EG&G and I'm there one day and he he's looking at it and he's shown me stuff and he closes the book and he goes you're not here to ask me about that are you ice no not really this is not what you're interested at all I said no not really I know what you're interested in yeah that's right and his wife walks in she goes oh don't tell him that stuff but he did eventually he did over the next two years he and I had a series of meetings at different places having coffee and it was like pulling teeth to get him to come out with this stuff but the story he told me is much different from the one that ended up in this book no Nazis no Joseph Stalin no prisoners of war it was straight-up alien stuff and and I would have to ask him questions to get this stuff out I would ask him well gosh weren't you scared this thing was gonna crash or something or it would it would get out he said we were more concerned about it getting out it and they told me they had a live alien out there now I know how ridiculous it

but given who this guy was where he had worked

I took it pretty seriously eventually after a period of two years of him telling me this stuff and I wasn't allowed to take notes I wouldn't write it all down as much as I could remember after we had these meetings but he promised me he said that he'd been told to shut up that he was no longer supposed to talk to me now what happened was there was a congressional investigator with high security clearances who was sent out here to check this stuff out some members of Congress the Senate had an interest in these topics the stories had come out flying saucers Aurora secret program that weren't on the book get out there and find out what's going on since guy came and saw me I told him the story about the other guy he got clearances to talk to him and to talk to his boss and once once the that word was out he stopped talking to me altogether but he did make a promise that he was gonna make a videotape that would be released to me after he's his death he's still alive but I the last time I saw him he said he did make the tape final witness I'll tell you is this that helped convince me that this was a legitimate topic and that I haven't said this before in public and it's senator Howard cannon who was a senator from Nevada before he was a US senator here he was a brigadier general he was a decorated war hero world war 2 he flew everything when Howard cannon was defeated in his last race he was such a good friend of the military had done so much to build Nellis had such a good relationship with the guys in charge of area 51 the guys from Lockheed that they allowed him to fly the sr-71 sort of a going-away present so he was dialed his best friend in the United States Senate was Senator Barry Goldwater Barry Goldwater even though he's a Republican they're good buddies they work together back then that could happen back in those days I know it seems alien now but Democrats the Republicans talk to each other had had drinks together anyway Barry Goldwater was his best friend and cannon would started telling stuff to me through his family members who I knew pretty well and I finally had a face-to-face meeting with him toward the end of his life and did probably what was the last interview I ever did and we touched on some of this stuff but I asked him about Barry Goldwater had tried it was this chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee and he had heard these stories about wright-patterson Air Force Base and and the Blue Room our pride that the hangar 18 and so he called up his friend general Curtis LeMay said I want to get in there I want to see it and the maid told him basically you know not only is the answer no but he'll know and don't you ever ask again and Goldwater is like whoa you know I'm uh I'm decorated war hero myself he says he was a general I believe he is the Senate Intelligence Committee Chairman has all the security clearances he needs what do you mean no I mean no and don't ask again so Goldwater late later wrote letters about it so I asked Howard cannon about this stuff and it was clear to me that he and Goldwater had talked about it not only about hangar 18 but about area 51 flying saucers he told me basically look what would have been the point I Heilmann he came close to saying I think I could have got into hangar 18 but he said what would have been the point of either of us getting in there or going area 51 to see this stuff we couldn't tell anybody about what we had seen and if we did tell him what we know is out there they think we're crazy Howard Cannon is is know Bob Lazar I like Bob and everything but there's no disputing his credentials

Howard Cannon's credentials he was there in positions of power he did have friends in the highest places in the government and in military and intelligence circles so when he intimates to me that the saucers were real that they were somewhere in Wright-Patterson or somewhere out in the desert I believed him

put in some security cameras and computer codes and stuff like gotta go are you kidding me I know he says oh yeah by the way it's on the same street where you live my professional life flashes before my eyes I I don't know I don't know what to do I said I don't believe you show it to me and he took me to it and sure enough there it is I I told him look you you've got to shut this down people want you to crash and burn you're you're probably being followed come to find out he was being followed by a team from another TV station they hadn't got onto that yet but it was only a matter of time the hooker he was involved with had two vice cops who were boyfriend's of hers it was a matter of time I said you got to shut this down get out of this I'm gonna call the cops and tell him about it and and hopefully you got a past I was a bad decision was a bad decision on my part because we did tell it Bob did shut it down did get out of it

we did tell the cops but they didn't let it pass they were afraid we were maybe tested him or something so they came and arrested him I mean you know what not a whole lot of people get arrested for pandering in Nevada and Bob was facing multiple felony counts and and this is kind of a key insight I think into his character is that parole and probation did this big background check on Bob and if you were a con man and they were mad at him they recommended he should do hard time because he's lying to us about his background if you were a con man telling a story that you made up about flying saucers and being recruited by the Navy and EG&G and all this stuff that was the time to come clean but he didn't he stuck to his guns in that story and he and he told the same story to them as he told to me in the course of that trial proceedings we got a letter from congressman Bilbray who had tried to help me get records on Lazar and he his office said you know it frankly we have never seen anything like it we write to the FBI and say do you know something about this guy who wants to know is basically the response not they didn't tell him we don't have any information on the guy they said you have no right to know about it it's a congressman so you know you could say what you want about Bob and and the weakness isn't a story or what school he went to or what he really did or didn't do but in a lot of ways he might have been the perfect guy for a program like this if you wanted to run it up the flagpole and see how the public reacted and then pull the rug out from under it he was a perfect guy scientifically proficient very knowledgeable but if you needed his credit him you could I mean he flew up a pirate flag on us on his on his house he loved machine guns he loved hookers he liked jet cars he was a really interesting guy who'd had troubles in his personal life and if you wanted to discredit him you could and I think in that way he might have been the most qualified person for that job which is why I still believe it's possible that he could have really been there you know I don't know if there were flying saucers from other planets at area 51 I'm never gonna know but I do know that there is more than a few people who say that they saw something that looks very much like it out there and who have bits and pieces of the same story that bob has told me the pursuit of the UFO story as I mentioned taken me all over the world to it to Russia and China and South America and Europe and and and has taught me a lot of a lot of things but my views have certainly changed from those days when we started there's a guy named know Jacques Jacques Vallee dr. Jacques PLA if you've seen the movie Close Encounters Francois Truffaut plays the character based on Jacques Vallee and he told me some years ago I'm gonna be really disappointed if it turns out that the answer that the UFO mystery is merely aliens from other planets coming here because I don't think that's what it is and neither do I anymore one of these days I'll come back here and talk to you about skinwalker ranch but I think I think this this is not just visitors from other planets coming here than it is part of something much bigger much more wondrous much more mysterious and a lot harder for us to get our heads around but we need another two days to probably go into that thanks thank you very much question is have I met an abductee who had some credibility yeah and some of them right here in in Las Vegas couple in rural Nevada you put them through a hypnosis session which is not always reliable but they they come out of it separately describing the same kind of beings the same kind of experiences there is in some of those cases physical evidence

Sekai name Budd Hopkins who just died a couple of months ago who wrote missing time and a couple of other classic books in the field you know there are people who who claim to be abducted who want attention who have mental disorders

maybe it's epilepsy or some other kind of physical problem but there are other cases it can't be explained that way and if you you're looking for a blanket explanation as some people would like to do to explain that all away you've got to explain all of them there's some of those cases that have multiple witnesses multiple independent witnesses who've seen it from different angles and some physical evidence I met a lady named Betty Betty and Barney Betty Hill which is the first famous abduction case met her at a UFO conference one time that's a pretty good case and then I met a lady named Betty Ann Driessen as well that's a pretty good case I tend to think you need to be careful with those stories because there are people who confabulate things and make them up some of them are just not very easy to explain away though well I'll answer that in a couple of ways one is that in the 1960 the Brookings Institute was tasked with doing a study for our government said what would happen if suddenly was revealed extraterrestrials have been visiting us for all all time and they basically predicted that society would completely collapse that unless there was a conditioning program to get us ready for this that we would collapse it would be like a cargo cult where some primitive tribe we encounter in Borneo or in the Amazon we know how that ends up it's the primitive tribe the more primitive tribe that disintegrates and we would definitely be the more primitive tribe in this in this scenario that was true then since that study in 1960 is there anybody who wasn't prepared for aliens I mean they're everywhere they're in everything every movie and TV show every book everywhere I think we would be ready for the general concept when I did this story back in 1989 I did a little survey of all these different religious faiths all of them said the same thing it's testament to the greater glory of God that there are people out there other people coming here I think they saw us great good more souls to save more more alien ducats in the collection box or something so I don't think we would I don't think we would disintegrate with the general idea that aliens are coming here to visit us because they've been gumming a long time they haven't blown us up yet so what's the threat however what if the ultimate disclosure is not that simple what if they are describing something else entirely by the way yeah the aliens are here they're not really from other planets they are actually interdimensional beings they live here among us all the time separated by a thin psychic membrane of some sort they can see everything you do they can they know when you're in the shower they know when you're cheating on your taxes they can read your mind they can interact with our lot our lives at any time come and go as they please at will you can't see them you can't know it how do you like that you talk about people freaking out now that would I would have you freaking out and I think society would disintegrate yeah well I just like I think I don't think there was going to come a day when disclosure happens but the effects would depend on what it is that they disclosed well Phoenix lights case I think is pretty good case as thousands and thousands of people saw it there's videotape of it it's nothing that our government has in its arsenal that we know of that was ten years ago or so they made a feeble attempt to explain it away as flares coming from parachutes no we had no military craft in the area they were that wasn't us we don't know what the heck it was you guys are imagining it oh oh that's right we had some planes there and we were dropping flares and parachutes and that must be what you saw it wasn't it wasn't planes and parachutes in fact it started here it was seen first over Henderson and then went to Phoenix as for the historian it down no needles it's kind of complicated but some witnesses saw a giant glowing cylinder come flying out of the sky it landed just off the Colorado River nearly hit a guy in a in a in a houseboat within a couple of minutes a whole Armada of helicopters came including a sky crane out of the sky picked this thing up and flew it off toward Nevada and in the days that passed and I've talked to witnesses in various places who saw this this in different stages in the days after that these like men and black type guys start showing up in needles and in that area Bullhead City and and hasslein people who had talked about it on the radio and so we started going down there and found these people said you know you can't believe we've keep seeing these phalanxes of strange vehicles and military looking guys in sunglasses zipping through here and back and forth see them all the time so we kept going down week after week after week to try to catch him and sure enough we did we cut caught up to him this we saw this group we're heading back to town all these cars these strange vehicles just as described and tenon's stuff sticking out so we zipped around and chased after him and I had a little camera in the front we get up close to him guys with sunglasses military cuts I start shooting video they're talking to the radio pretty soon they pull over one pulls over we pull over behind it somebody pulls up behind us

he's moving a shirt like this I can see he's packing a weapon underneath of it oh this is this looks bad he comes over you guys get off the side of the road get out of our way who are you who you with what are you doing and we're in an unmarked car we're not we don't have any channel 8 stuff we worked with channel 8 who are you guys know who are you show me your ID I said I'd like to see your ID he flashes a badge real quick I didn't get to see that and then he does it again and it this he says he's working with the Nevada Test Site I said great good I got lots of friends out there we do stuff all the time maybe we can ask her what you're doing because we're working on the story about this crazy thing and needles he says no I'm not gonna tell you what we're doing get off the side of the road stop hassling us or you gonna be taken into custody so we continue shooting video they take off and it turns out they work for an agency another agency I'd never heard of before the OST the office of secure transportation I get back to Las Vegas or somebody a friend of mine Collins had that was a bad move because these guys are badass their job is to transport nuclear weapons and they are trained somebody messes with them on the road to take them out and in fact we learn subsequently their vehicles are capable even if they were killed their vehicles could kill you by themselves so anyway I got the I got to know these guys that nope I've never heard of you let's do a story about it their national director came out they were doing some training at the

Nevada Test Site we got up there got to do an exclusive story got to know them there are amazing people that did an amazing job but they had nothing to do with the men in black who are messing around with the folks and needles it was just a coincidence that they're going through the area at the same time that stuff was going on but it was a very cool story to do

I would just say in closing this is a fun pursuit and it's a grand story and even if I never get the any answers that you can really point to definitively it's been a grand adventure and a worthwhile pursuit and I think it's something that you should be if you're interested in these topics and you have a curious nature it's nothing to be ashamed of than it is if it came to be true and could be proven it would be the biggest event in human history the confirmation of some other kind of intelligence being among us or visiting us would be the biggest thing ever and it would change everything and that's why I think it is a noble pursuit that is worth your time and I thank you all for coming this hour of artbell was recorded for rebroadcast at this time please do not call Welcome to Dreamland a program dedicated to an examination of areas in The Human Experience not easily or neatly put in a box things seen at the edge of vision Awakening a part of the mind as yet not mapped and yet things every bit as real as the air we breathe but don't see this is Dreamland Sunday evening and yes once again this is indeed Dreamland hi everybody I'm Mark Bell great to be here this evening it's uh beginning to be summertime in the high desert probably running about 105° out there more like what we expect nice and cool in here though uh as usual Linda how will be here from Philadelphia update us on what's going on and I understand there is quite a bit of activity she is generally considered to be the world's expert on crop circles and animal mutilations she'll be followed by George Napp who is a mainstream journalist who did a lot of actually broke the story on Area 51 I'm going to give him credit for that we're going to do a good General show um on UFOs and I know he's got um a lot of information information on Russian we'll talk uh some bit about that I want to welcome k o uh biggie up in Seattle Washington now carrying Dreamland full-time 1,000 on the dial in Seattle uh I want to welcome wnw in Sous St Marie Michigan uh welcome to the show that's um uh let me see Circle about 50 ft in diameter connected to another smaller Circle by a straight line about 12 to 15 ft long and I'm supposed to be getting those photographs uh next week from a photographer who went there and I talked to tonight just very briefly before we went on the air who told me that the formation is still there very clear very clean in this smoggy or this uh marshy uh boggy Cattail that was May 26th on Thursday June 1 a few days later in a barley field in the far Northeastern corner of Maryland in a small area the director of a local community school was puzzled to find three rectangles quite neatly carved in a barley Field behind the school each rectangle was approximately 17 ft long and about 4 to 5 ft wide in the same barley field in approximately a 1/3 square mile area there were SE were several other areas of down barley not like rectangles as much as they were simply odd shapes with very complex lays of the plant stems I've been there we've collected plant samples uh I was looking at things such as uh four uh layers of barley laid down in 90° angles on top of each other in four directions uh so that you had one layer to the ground going uh One Direction and then over that was another layer of barley going at a 90° angle and above that was another layer of barley going yet another 90° angle and on top of that more barley going another so it almost looked like a plaid if you can imagine that and we have seen this kind of complex layering also in the formations in England and we are trying to find out of course what might be able to create these kinds of formations and as now as of today uh we are watching these fields in Maryland we are uh have already heard just preliminarily that the nodes are quite swollen in the plants collected from those formations with reoriented growth nodes very similar to what we have found in England uh but again we are not certain of the cause now one interesting note is May 3rd through and that June 3rd fourth period there was there were no storms in this particular part of Maryland there is no known source for the down barley plants as of this date and we are uh going to study the plants now for further physical data and I'll report more when I know them now the exactly the same date that the strange barley we'll call them down plants because they aren't exactly formations as in England were found in Maryland on that same day in Sussex England Northeast of Alton a 250t long formation was found extremely neatly cut into um barley in Sussex and this was referred to as looking like the Catherine's Wheel a symbol related to an alleged Saint going back to 400 ad who was uh hurt on a wheel that had uh scythes coming out in four positions around it and the woman apparently in touching this wheel she was supposed to have been hurt on this wheel when she touched the wheel it broke apart and later the church declared her as a saint well it's been known as Catherine's Wheel since that period of time and this formation in Sussex on June 1 looks like a Catherine's Wheel for whatever reasons now the very next night on June 2nd Tom and Carrie bler of Gwen England had traveled over to nap Hill in Wilshire spelled exactly like George nap's last name k na a p P they were camped out on Nap Hill in Wilshire looking toward what is now the famous woodboro Hill where many of us have watched in the night for any objects in the sky most of us have never seen anything but on June 2nd just a few days ago Tom and Carrie blower did see something unusual in the sky that reminded them of a white Amber object that they videotaped 2 years ago and their tape was also included in the sightings program now I'm going to uh play for you an excerpt of this eyewitness testimony uh on June 2nd from Tom blower and then I'll tell you something more we go all right that report now from Linda how it was a bright a very bright green light it was big um you know like the traffic light you see right it was that kind of green very bright and it's sort of dancing around in the sky and at one point it there was like several uh like white bits dropping off it you know like it look like Sparks white Sparks yeah coming off of the green color of a stock light and how big at if you put your hand out at an arms length distance and you compare to the the size of this green light uh how would you compare it say to your fingernail or the end of your finger oh it was like it was like the size of um uh you know like a golf ball like a moving golf ball yeah that sort of size okay it was big all right and how did it move in the SC in the sky it was just dancing around it happened so quickly it's difficult to sort of say exactly how but it was making um erratic Maneuvers I think is the best way to describe it erratic yeah did it go both forward and backward and up and down or did it yeah yeah it was like going all over the place you know and it was in what area it was over West Field you know East field yes well the hill that the field that's on the opposite side of the road to that right uh don prior that's Westfield and then you've got woodb hill behind it right it was over West Field actually and you saw this for about how long 3 minutes that's a long time oh 2 minutes 2 minutes two two or three minutes really quite a while all the excitement I think it's between about two or three minutes okay and was it moving close to the top of the of the wheat oh no it was quite high up in the field it was you know it was it was over the field but it was quite high up in the air all right and in terms of that field that is planted with wheat this year um Westfield is planted with wheat no Westfield was planted with rape I believe oh was right okay yeah yeah there was actually a circle in there at the time there was a circle yeah which had been made some weeks before um it was quite a scruffy one and it was gen it was generally considered to be a hoax okay knows right but just if that was Friday then somewhere over Saturday and Sunday at some point near aury the Catherine's Wheel uh was formed and you got were in there on Monday what was your reaction to the Catherine's Wheel when you saw it um well I pulled up and I got on top of of old van I've got a for Van um I got up on top of it and had a look so I had a pretty good view of it and it looked it looked good it looked really neat and it was flat he it was very flat um what you mean the lake yeah um yeah pretty flat but there was standing crop there as well you know now I understand that the weather was terrible in England it was very R and it was rainy and it was windy uh when you look at what you were seeing in the Catherine's Wheel given rainy windy weather what were your reactions to that well it it was just um it was as good as anything I've ever seen you know and did and did that seem like that it would be possible wouldn't you think that the wind and the rain would have blown everything apart um well I do know I couldn't really say on that one I mean I would have thought that it would have been difficult to have made it in those conditions because it was raining quite heavily right you know and that's what I was trying to get at that it sounds like it's a remarkable formation especially in the light of such terrible weather oh yeah yeah quite yeah absolutely all right so art inside of very Gusty winds and rain something that several people who have seen the Catherine we'll say was uh remarkably perfect was somehow made in and around approximately the same time that the blowers saw this odd green moving object not close to where the Catherine wheel was made but it's as if we have a lot of different phenomena occurring at the same time all of which are quite unusual and when they tried to get their camera out on June 2nd to and they had these two or three minutes in which to act and they have been doing this on a weekend basis now for two years this is not something new to them they said they could not believe that their battery which was new showed that it was not functioning they could not get the camera to function and the entire 3 minutes was lost they never got anything on tape and as they describe this glowing green light with white Sparks coming off of it it reminded me of that banana yellow cigar-shaped object that I and three other people saw in Pensacola Florida a year ago and that I described on Dreamland that also seem to have Fourth of July sparkler kind of Sparks emitting from it I do not know what this kind of light is I do not know what these objects are but clearly these are phenomena that cannot be described as being normal uh aviation aircraft in the sky all right um Doug and Phoenix wrote what I told you he said I saw sightings on TV last night they showed some incredible home video of some crop circles being formed by a ball of light the video was shot during the daytime just outside of a berry England as the video was being filmed two army helicopters flew into the area they saw the people who were doing the filming one of the helicopters went and hovered over the ball of light the other Flew Over the photographers and tried to scare them off yes I understand that that has happened uh that they were English army helicopters and who and why they were there is interesting and again what are these strange balls of light that scores of people now have seen with their eyes and a few people have been able to get on videotape now the videotape is certainly impressive Linda we're we're very short on time uh give us your address and uh contact all right um I welcome uh communication on all kinds of subjects to Linda how a post office box 5 38 and that's hunting done Valley Pennsylvania spelled h u n t i n g d is in dog o n hunting dun Valley PA the ZIP code is 1 19006 and my fax number is area code 215 491 9842 for those of you who have asked about my books and videos you can contact for information also at that address and phone number or check with your local bookstore since they're in all the big bookstores now we're trying we're trying all right Linda excellent we will speak with you next week thank you thanks a million that's Linda how and again acknowledged to be the world's expert on crop circles and animal mutilations George uh George knap is just around the corner hey I've all models come with a one-year warranty includ vanished in a blur of speed into outer space I watched through a 7x 35 lens I contacted the UFO Reporting Center in Seattle and he gives a number and they reported that many people are reporting settings like this in California and on up through uh the state of Washington including one from a lady in El Toro the center believes something is going on and I do too keep up the good work Carl in Fontana now somebody I haven't talked to in a long time his name is George knp he's an investigative journalist he's been in and out of various forms of investigative journalism I guess for years um I I guess I'd rather let him tell you about it hi George how you doing art great to be back on the show oh it's good to have you um George you're probably better equipped than I am to speak of your career it's been a really interesting career when I first came to Las Vegas I think you were the anchor uh person on Channel 8 that's what I recall that's true and um so you might want to start little before that and kind of carry us through who you are and where you've been because you know I've got a lot of new Affiliates and they don't know you well I was with KV here in Las Vegas uh for 10 years um General reporter General assignment reporter then investigative reporter then Anchor Man um I left for 3 years to uh pursue uh the UFO stuff full-time producing uh documentaries and recently returned to klas in March and I'm back as an anchor in the e one of our evening newscasts I'm also doing investig ative reporting and twice weekly commentaries but have always kept a hand in the UFO stuff uh on many fronts um I'm curious George um since you've been such a Mainline journalist for so many years uh when you began to look into the UFO business I know you you you produced uh UFOs the best evidence which is one of the best things ever done on the subject and um how did how did Channel 8 uh react then uh when all of this was was thought of in not quite the friendly light that it is today well there was some trepidation going in but uh I think they had enough confidence in me to uh to know that I would treat it seriously and fairly and um and so they were very supportive it's my other colleagues in journalism that didn't seem to to care for us covering this it's interesting I've been uh been chastised on an ongoing basis it's really never stopped by mainly by the newspapers but other TV and radio stations here in Vegas as well they just can't seem to stand the fact that someone would take this stuff seriously so they have a lot of fun at my expense I know I I experience the very same thing since I do a regular uh weekday show and uh I've always let it just sort of run off uh my back like water off a duck's back and I I hope you've managed to do the same thing oh of course and and a lot of it comes with the territory you're in the public eye so you can expect to take some shots the the problem the thing that bothers me about it is that most of the people taking the shots have never given done a wit of research into the topic they haven't even driven down the road to Area 51 to check out what might be going on there they have no idea of the uh breadth and depth of information that's available in the field for anyone who wants to take the trouble to look at it you know I've been featured in a couple of editorial cartoons in the local newspaper here uh one that showed some um showed me with a butterfly net chasing UFO another one that uh that showed me is they had alien extraterrestrial Hitmen coming to Earth to get me and the the two ETS were trying to decide which gasoline pump was me um the media columnist here in town had some fun he said people were rushing home to see my UFO reports nightly not that they were interested in Aliens but that they wanted to see if I would go bull Goose Looney right there on the set my eyes bulging and uh and uh foam coming out of my mouth um well I could trade cartoons with you I I had one done of me that was really awful yeah I remember seeing that oh oh I'm I'm glad you got unfair too uh yes I thought so at the time I was absolutely ballistic but I'm feeling better about it now so it's weird that uh you know that people that really have no knowledge of the field at all uh automatically decide that anyone who's involved in it is nuts and uh and although there is a certain nut quotient in UFO research there's a lot of serious people that take it uh that that do a good job and do good research well I think the answer is and those who criticize and uh um um write these cartoons might bear in mind uh they're easy shots to take you know and I and I'm I'm I think we're beginning to get to the point where the public sees them as that many times and well I hope so you know there was there was one that I did a series here in in Las Vegas um uh on alleged alien abductions and the the paper just really ripped me a new and they had uh the headline was something about they were kidnapped emphasis on the nap by aliens and they dubbed me the grand Mulla in the Church of stratospheric proctology oh my God which is pretty funny yeah that that's a that is that has some humor in it um uh and usually in 12 or 24 or 48 Hours you start to be able to get begin to see the humor um George um UFOs is the best evidence uh if you were to try to describe that um very thorough report somebody who had never seen it uh and you were to hit the high points what would you say to them well this was back in 1989 which according to uh according to my media colleagues that was the year that I went insane uh we produced a a 10-part series and then a two-hour documentary for Channel 8 it it really uh traced the the uh development of of euphology it looked at the major issues in euphology but the central focus of it and the the part that Drew the most attention was uh the look at Area 51 the allegations by former workers out there that uh we had had alien Tech technology being tested in the desert and U and the reaction to it was incredible I mean not a day goes by even now five five years later six years later when I don't get someone who's just seen a bootlegged copy of the tape uh call me up to to get an update on it I I've since uh produced some other tapes uh using the same topic uh a three-part set that uh that all does much the same thing it doesn't concentrate so much on Area 51 but looks at looks at how euphology has been treated by science and journalism examines the uh the government cover up which I believe is still ongoing and a lot of the main issues in youthology the government just released some new information about some sort of um craft that they actually have developed that I believe they use for surveillance I don't think it's a mancraft but it looks like a saucer have you heard anything about that well I've heard probably just the bits and pieces as you have and it's uh but it's something that I think we all felt was for a long time and uh when The Government Can Build its own Flying Saucer likee craft it gives it a new excuse for dismissing uh any legitimate UFO sightings around the country around the world uh it can say well that could be one of ours and and that may be uh the real reason that they built something to look like that now there's an interesting thought the actual reason for the construction um I'm I'm going to Hopscotch all around here George uh Russia I know that you were going to Russia or were going to go to Russia or did go to Russia or what have you brought from Russia oh just a tremendous uh amount of information you know we we suspect the reason for the trip to Russia was we suspected that our government has studied UFOs secretly takes them seriously behind closed doors that they have uh infiltrated UFO uh research groups that they've spied on UFO researchers compiled dossier on them they've disseminated disinformation in order to muddy the waters about ufology and they've shown no inclination to open the doors and and tell us what they really know in fact even though the Cold War is Over they seem to be going in the other direction that military uh mindset concerning National Security and not letting the public know what's going on can probably best be demonstrated by what's happening up at Groom Lake you know the the Cold War is Over and yet here they are uh seizing additional acreage around so people can't look down on a base that supposedly doesn't exist yeah traditionally people have been able to go up there and uh get in a certain perch and almost look down on the area sure not anymore though not so that's really over now well pretty much there's another location where you can still see the base but it's so far away as if really no practical value and it's interesting that uh that we've signed the open Skies treaty which allows any nation that that signs it any signatory to fly over and take all the pictures they want but the military has deemed that uh American citizens should not be allowed to take a look at the base that that they say officially doesn't exist it makes you wonder who they think the real enemy is well surely the Russians get much better looks at it than we do I mean they have satellites that pass directly overhead as a matter of fact some of the better photographs have been Russian haven't they that's some of the stuff that we had back in 1989 that showed the base in all its Splendor the base that they won't officially acknowledge even just a couple of weeks ago uh in federal court here in Nevada a judge ruled that the government doesn't have to reveal the name of the base is in fact the military said we don't have a name for it uh so what we brought back from Russia was just incredible it is assuming that our government was never going to to uh tell what it knows maybe the Russians because of the tremendous political changes that had occurred over there would do that and we uh we spent almost a year preparing for the trip went over uh uh contacted sources who had never spoken about this publicly before we didn't want people who had uh spoken to hard copy your current affair and been on television over here in the states we wanted people who were in a position to know but had never uh had never revealed what they did know and that's that helped us a great deal we uh brought back several hundred pages of previously classified documents from their Ministry of defense that indicates the Russians have been studying UFOs at their highest levels of government and scientific establishments since the late 1940s exactly what we suspected the Americans have done we brought back numerous documents still classified that indicate that the Russians know a great deal about the American coverup they say that we've uh had had 30 to 40 UFO listening posts set up around the world to monitor this activity uh the Russians have documents concerning uh Transmissions they intercepted between uh Ground Control and our space missions in Which astronauts had had encounters with UFOs their cosmonauts by the way had the same kinds of encounters it's just a treasure Trove of information I've just in last few months have finally got all of it uh translated and have analyzed it and uh it's it confirms most of the suspicions of what we have about what the American government knows all right I I can't remember what program it was George but there was one specific program that really shocked me it documented the case of a UFO over a Russian missile silo and it's suggested in the report that the Russian missile Sil had gone to activation had become activated and they were actually in a countdown mode this damn thing was going to launch and there was a UFO hovering over it after the incident it didn't launch uh according to the story they tore the panels apart they tore all the launch sequencing computers apart and all the rest of it and could find no reason for what it occurred is that a true story that is a true story I have the original documents in my hand as we speak uh the witness reports from more than two dozen uh military Witnesses uh most of them officers who filed reports that were sent to the ministry of defense that described the incident for a period of more than 4 hours numerous UFOs were spotted dancing around over this ICBM base they would appear disappear split into uh perform incredible Maneuvers uh changing shapes changing colors and these were reported uh as I said by numerous Witnesses right before the UFOs disappeared the launch control panel at the base lit up like the 4th of July and someone or something entered the launch codes in other words these missiles were ready to go then boom the UFOs disappeared the launch control panel went back to normal uh the uh the folks some of the sources that we dealt with the colonel boros sakov who was the head of the Russian UFO study for a 10-year period was sent in to investigate they took the panel apart found that there was nothing wrong they'd never seen anything like it no other equipment at the base was affected by whatever this was They concluded that the UFOs whatever they were wherever they were from were sending some sort of a message a message such as this may be your most powerful weapon system but it doesn't impress us all that much well that message came through loud and clear and you know I've I don't know a lot about the Russian um chain of command but I've heard that with regard to their nuclear materials their command structure is uh much less independent than ours and it takes a hell of a a lot uh um directly uh from Moscow to to get something in a position where it could launch so that's an that's an incredible story George hold on one moment we'll be right back to you that really is some story you're listening to Dreamland many of you health Pride we gave out phone numbers for craane you know it's a brand new craane Company catalog out finally 79 pages of the what I call the Bible of radio and U we got 6,00 th000 calls it was all that we could handle and a lot of people missed it so if you want a catalog now tonight is your last chance it must be postdated by tomorrow postdated by tomorrow but here's the deal here's the deal you write them a letter or a postcard simply request a catalog and for your trouble you will get a free catalog and you will get a free little coupon Worth $3.20 to the purchase of anything at all in the catalog and they'll include that just for your asking so send a postcard or a letter or something to The Crane Company c n e Crane Company Fortuna California f o r t n f r t Fortuna California ZIP code 9554 d2350 that's the crane company for tuna California ZIP code 95540 - 2350 and they've got the DL telephone right now in stock and almost out of stock it is the digital portable telephone It's All Digital it it sounds as good as anybody's regular plug-in telephone it's um I guess it's the best telephone on the market right now and we've really gone to a lot of trouble to test them all and I don't know how I could live without mine that's the trope phone if you want one call the craane company early in the morning at 7:30 at 800 522 8863 beginning at 7:30 in the morning at 1 800 522 8863 all right George a few minutes here before the top of the hour um I guess we're going to jump around a lot um there you say there's a lot of information out of Russia how do you think think this will be received here in other words a lot of that information must kind of chop away at whatever government cover up is going on here well I'd have to agree with you but thus far they've done pretty much what they always do they ignore it I mean I guess they're hoping we just go away which is not going to happen so far uh even though the this information has been described by by some

ethologist is as some of the most important stuff to come out in the last 20 years the government thus far is keeping uh is keeping uh arms length from this I I have passed this information along to some Congressional investigators who found it found it very interesting what will happen to it I really don't know yeah you've got to wonder uh where they find the stone wall and I also sometimes wonder and I wonder if you do uh since you're a major investigator in this area George um are we useful idiots for the cover up in a in a way I I wonder about that myself in other words we report report on these things and the waters with all the reports of UFOs get so muddled that it's almost like the government doesn't have to do a job sometimes I think we sit out here in in our own way and do it for them I try not to do that and I'm sure that's case with you but there's a lot of information coming out and the mere volume of information seems to kind of Muddy things up exactly um you know it's almost UFO overload these days you've got shows sightings and encounters and Unsolved Mysteries you got the X Files you got the Tabloid shows that do it you've got a lot of radio shows yours being the preeminent one that discussed these topics and it and there's so much going on in the field you can't possibly keep up with it even somebody like Linda or myself who uh who do it uh almost on a full-time basis um in that sense it allows the government to stay off the hook and I worry that the the uh public uh which the general public gets so much of this stuff that they they look at at it like the movie of the week well that was interesting now let's see what the Letterman is doing you know switch the channel or if uh finally NBC One Night comes on and there's a big story about a landing you know something really substantial maybe people won't even be all that I mean of course it would be a big story but uh not the story it once was it's as though we're almost ready for it isn't it well a lot of people have said that over the years speculated that there's some sort of a government program to us all for the alien reality get us ready for the big announcement and there were even studies done by the Brookings institution back in 1960 for NASA that suggested that uh you know if you don't condition the public to deal with something like this our social institutions would collapse I've never seen any proof that there is an actual ongoing program but I'll tell you if there was one this is exactly how things would be would be uh panning out you'd have all this uh media uh different kinds of television shows you see aliens and Commercial almost on a daily basis for all kinds of different products alien selling cars alien selling hamburgers it's true it's really true all right George relax a few moments we'll do some uh news here at the top of the r and be right back George nap um a journalist in Las Vegas is our guest this evening and there's a lot of interesting territory and your calls ahead you're listening to Dreamland which must mean it's Sunday I'm Art Bell we'll be right back talk 102 I've got 21 children on the child reach plan I've been doing this for 32 years I believe in this organization I think it's a great Organization for 2 years we've been searching for our humanitarian cause for rata to sponsor this is where our search ends where there's a Child Care Agency called child reach doing their great work our children come from proud families families that want to work more than anything that's what makes child reach different they work with the entire family with the community to get them standing on their own two feet composer Bert backra rada's President Steve belma and Katherine heern have each been touched by the lifesaving work child reach does for needy children overseas to find out more about child reach sponsorship call 1 1800 65212 1 1800 65212 and please do it now for the children to clean or not to clean when it comes to preserving old buildings that is the question I'm Jim Mitzner and this is the pulse of the planet we're listening to the sounds of workers scrubbing A Century of dirt and grime off of New York City's famous Dakota apartments Kate Burns ovino is director of preservation for the architectural firm of eron CR and exed when deciding whether or not to clean you begin from just looking at the building overall for what are the patterns of how the building is dirtying is the way the building's dirtying indicative of a larger problem at work on the building like faulty gutters or you know location to an exhaust pipe from another building then as you get closer to the surface you begin to take samples of the dirt itself and the substrate that it's on whether it's stone or brick and you take those back to the laboratory and you look at them underneath a microscope to get a sense of what is the interface between the dirt and the substrate itself at the same time we looked at what kind of natural state would the stone or the stucco be if it were in its original condition on the Dakota apartments we looked at the components of the dirt itself which turned out to be gypsum fly ash soot dust oil and those results were compared with fresh Stone and fresh brick that had not weather that had either been in storage or protected from the environment what we found there was indeed that some areas of the uh masonry required cleaning and others didn't but in order to give an overall effect to the building of interesting to note when that occurs um the network lines all lit up my fax machine went bananas everybody said the subject material is too sensitive they've cut you off well uh I think uh people don't trust the government figure that the government was somehow behind it and I don't uh I don't rule that entirely out um well you know what I don't either um so let's see what could we have missed what could they have missed uh the one thing that we were into that was am sensitive uh let's try it again let's see if they cut us off again the Russian uh I would bet uh George that it was right as we were talking about this Russian launch sequence business uh and again the report was that something hovered over a a Russian launch site that the whole panel lit up the thing went into a launch sequence which it ought not be able to do uh there were UFOs all over the area and um that's extremely in to me I can't imagine how that could happen they tore the whole panel apart they didn't find a thing and you verify that story is essentially correct isn't it that is true according to the official Ministry of Defense documents that we brought back and had analyzed uh numerous witnesses that that describe the UFOs over the base we have the statement of the launch control officer who said that the panel the it wasn't just uh lit up from a power surge someone entered the actual launch codes of these missiles and then as soon as the UFOs were gone um the launch control panel went back to normal this is very similar to a a series of events that happened here in the US in 1975 that was going to be my next question yeah it's happened here as well if they're going to cut us off here we go uh so it's actually H happened right here exactly according to documents that were squeezed out of the Pentagon through the Freedom of Information Act in 1975 UFOs were cited over five bases in twoe period along the US Canadian border these are nuclear bases and uh the same sort of thing happened uh the launch control uh uh instructions came from somewhere and uh the launch codes were changed uh it it our government is is not saying a whole heck of a lot about that but we know it happened and it was real all right one of the things that the government has always said you remember Project Blue Book and all the rest of it the end conclusion was always UFOs uh may exist um but they constitute no threat to National Security well that's just baloney and we know from the government's own documents they what they're saying in private is different from what they say in public there are numerous documents that refer to National Security threats from UFOs and we know the experience of other governments around the world that they consider UFOs to be a national security matter even in England I was there last summer to investigate the crop circle phenomenon we uh interviewed some people people from their Ministry of defense and they say that they monitor UFOs because of the potential National Security uh implications now they they they deny that they monitor crop circle activity but admit that they do watch UFOs which may be hovering around in crop circle area the Russian government obviously thinks that UFOs are a threat to security or at least they're they're a concern about security the French government admits that it's had the UFO study going on for years the Belgian government has been investigating UFOs openly it's only our government that seems to say that UFOs aren't a threat let me give you a good analogy or see if you think this is a good analogy you you know about the recent Ebola breakout uh in zier sure there was a 60 Minute story about The Monkey House thing in Reston Virginia remember that yeah um they had what they thought was Airborne human killing Ebola virus out in Reston Virginia they didn't tell the public one damn word I mean this is something that could have uh conceivably spread across and killed everybody or 90% of the people in this country had it been real and it almost was and they didn't say one word and uh and if there's a matter of National Security National Health National concern I can't think of a bigger one than that and they didn't tell us until long after the events well it's a military mentality that's uh you know been perpetuated since the beginning of the Cold War maybe even before that they they uh they regard us as uh not needing to know and uh and it's manifested itself in a lot of different ways over the years well you know in in some ways I understand that I mean in other words even though the cold war is supposedly over it's not exactly and we are developing new aircraft and how do you react if fire were to say well we've got to have an area like Area 51 uh or an area like it uh someplace where we do our secret testing how do you react to a statement like that well I agree completely I mean I think uh most of the work that's done out at Area 51 is is valuable and important to National Security and they do need an area like that but I think they could acknowledge the existence of the base I mean so you know their Denial in federal court that uh that they even have a name for the base is patently ridiculous another words we ought to at least be able to know what the Russians already know and have known for a long time exactly um George there have been a lot of reports that the nature of what's being done at Area 51 has changed and a lot a lot of the the the saucers if they were there um have been moved do you know anything about that I do uh I've uh been in contact with some Congressional Personnel over the past couple of years who've been very helpful to me people who have security clearances to go into that base I can't give you their names uh on the condition that that that was the that was the condition given to me to get the information I briefed uh two people in the past year and a half who have gone out to Area 51 looked around in fact they took helicopter flights over uh what's known as S4 uh the area where Bob Lazar said the saucers were housed in hangers built into the side of a mountain if those hangers were there and I Su I believe that Bob is telling the truth uh they're not there anymore it's just Rubble in the desert there's no facility at all there and uh it would make sense because if in fact there were these alien craft out there once it hit television thousands of people started trekking out into the desert to see whatever it was a lot of folks go up there looking for UFOs a lot of people look for advanced military aircraft a lot of people just go up to have a good time but so many people have been out there looking at that base that it would make sense that they would have to move something like the saucers all right uh so where do you think they might have gone any is there a Best guess a couple of stories that I've been told uh you know that the Nevada Test Site is a vast uninhabitable region there's places in there that very few people ever see they could just house it uh and a number of different facilities out there just stick sticking in the ground for a while till things cool down some have suggested to me that it uh we have a an National Security Agency facility in Pine Gap Australia that's been the subject of a lot of speculation some people suggest that maybe the saucers went with the stealth aircraft when they moved from Nevada a year and a half or two years ago to New Mexico New Mexico of course is a long history of of UFO activity a lot of secret bases there and perhaps when they moved the stealth Wing which was originally tested at Area 51 uh they could also have uh have moved the the saucers H um well that's in a way sad um somehow I like thinking that it's right here and next to me me too it's an easy drive down the road back when um area 2000 was going on and I was um trekking between Las Vegas and parump I had my own sighting it's the only one I've ever had in my life my wife had it with me um you may have heard the story George it was a large triangular craft that did not fly but floated above me I was actually I was almost home about a mile from home dead quiet you know out in the country in BR my wife turned around and said what the hell is that I stopped the car turned off the ignition we both got out and we looked and coming up from behind us um and it was almost a full moon here is this gigantic triangular craft I'd guess 150 ft from one point of the triangle to the other um jet black against the moon in the light the back lighting a strobing red light in front two white lights on the back ends of the triangle it didn't fly George uh it wasn't flying flight takes speed you know for aerodynamic lift this thing floated above us just silently about 150 ft and George we stood there and we watched it float out across the prump valley and you know the hairs on the back of my neck were standing up it's the only setting I've had then the next week some lady sent me a uh um a newspaper clipping from The Prompt paper saying that a number of people had seen this craft but that Nellis Air Force Base said well there was a secret mission um which did overfly the prump valley this was in the paper and that it was a C130 aircraft what an insult i' I've flown in c130s they're noisy as hell George it would have rattled my teeth at 150 ft this was no se 130 and that story was an insult well I've heard similar stories about nearly identical craft from all over the world the belgians were seeing that uh Russians have seen that triangular craft the Hudson Valley in New York area has seen that triangular craft I was in Alabama a year and a half ago I have witnesses on videotape who have described the same thing floating along completely silent huge craft yes uh yeah same thing has been seen all over the world in fact I get a lot of reports from out in your area art not only about UFO sightings but about uh these mystery booms it feels like underground Tremors recently did a report about uh residents in St George Utah that area had been feeling these underground Tremors it was cracking the windows in their homes cracking their walls they thought someone was doing underground blasting uh as it turns out we did some analysis of of the uh recordings that these people had uh done of the sound and it's of Sonic origin uh so after we did the reports about these Sonic uh Tremors being caused in St George I started getting calls about the same thing in the pump Valley area I don't know what they're flying George listen you're dead right something's going on I I've Got a Friend across town ham radio operator I'm one so he's a friend of mine uh his name is Jerry and that's all I'll give not his last name but he he everything was fine until he built a porch he built a porch George and in doing so had to sink uh you know I'm not a carpenter but big uh big things into the ground to support the porch and he began to get a hum at night that was vibrating his entire house that was so damn loud that he couldn't sleep

he had the power company out there he had everybody he could think of out there he had to end up tearing uh tearing down the porch um because this was somehow translating this hum into the rest of the the house have you ever heard of that kind of thing I sure have I I think the most famous one is in the New Mexico region it's been going on for a couple of years some residents can't hear it and they think the other ones who are hearing it are crazy but it's been detected uh using scientific equipment and uh the military of course denies having any knowledge of what's causing it but it keeps going on and it drives people crazy the same thing was occurring at the same time in the southern Utah area uh when I went up there to do these recent reports about the mystery booms some people were not hearing the booms but they were hearing this uh this underground hum and it uh it kept them awake at night they couldn't sleep and uh and your area is the third one I've been hearing it about so then um what do you think something um the hum something underground obviously or not sure is what it sounds like but what what would do it that could travel that far underground uh again the military denies any knowledge there have been some Congressional inquiries in New Mexico that have gone absolutely nowhere well I know that um under sea sounds of um particularly very low sounds whales make they travel uh they say even thousands of miles but I wasn't sure the same was true of the ground does the ground conduct sound the way water does you've got me art I'm uh scientifically I'm not all that uh all that uh all that great something Uh something's going on all right hold on just a moment George Napp is my guest but we're going to get phone lines open here here in just a moment and I will give you a rendition of the numbers if you are health conscious you should know about antioxidants if you don't then listen to me vitamin C is an antioxidant UCLA scientists say that vitamin C um can um help avoid cancer Strokes heart attacks increase your life expectancy in average of say 5 years and there are some new antioxidants on the market right now that are 20 times the power of vitamin C so if that's true vitamin C the antioxidant value can do that imagine what yes it's a silly name pyal that's one 800 877 9799 now be sure and ask for the tape on currency devaluation 1 800 877 9799 once again uh George George uh this is an intriguing question let's see what you do with it um UFOs all sorts of phenomenon have been going on for a long time now do you think uh if we're ever to get to an ultimate answer it will be through science or more likely through some sort of um um well what's the right word uh political intuitive um or or political uh in other words whether there will be a political Revelation whether science will prove the existence of them or whether these people who call themselves psychics and sensitives and um remote viewers and uh that group will be the final answer well I withhold judgment on the remote viewing and and psychic approach to it I'll uh you know there's some intriguing uh research going on in that area but I'm not an expert I I think probably the answer would have to come through science UFOs uh uh are not the property of any government and even though governments can try to institute coverups the UFOs have have for 45 years defied that uh they fly in the skies uh and uh there's nothing we can do about it obviously they don't seem to be U they don't care one way or another whether we know about them or not I mean although there has been an increasing activity uh they haven't landed on the White House lawn I I see no indication that the government is going to come clean on it perhaps shows like yours and perhaps some of the things that I've done are doing the government's uh work for it in essence informing the public because they can't I think the government has painted itself into a corner and really doesn't know how to get out of it I've also been told by Congressional investigators that when and if this all comes spilling out that people are going to go to jail because obviously a lot of money has been spent perpetuating the cover up probably a lot of money has been taken from legitimate black budget projects and uh and put into this stuff so it's entirely likely that maybe the cover up is perpetuated because people are covering their butts all right one place then it hasn't been working so well that is a cover up is Mexico I've had a lot of guests on the sightings in Mexico George hundreds of thousands of people have been seeing uh serious UFOs and I've got some of the photographs in Mexico um are you aware of that story oh I am it's it's incredible the footage that keep coming out of Mexico is incredible and it wasn't just a onetime event it keeps going on and on and on exactly but it gets absolutely no serious coverage here it's as if it's not really happening um why that is I don't know but it's going to take Dan Rather uh brool Jennings when when the Mexico sighting story hits hits one of the national newscasts or hits the front page of the New York Times which probably seems unlikely that's when people are going to pay attention to it why that hasn't happened I don't know because it as you mentioned it keeps happening on a frequent basis that many people to see it we'll be right back George knpp is my guest this is Dreamland issues and ideals conversation and controversy you have it all on talk 102 UFOs uh takes he nevertheless continues as do we if you have questions and would like to ask George a question he's been into this investigation now for years here are the phone numbers and we're going to open the lines if you have never called the program at all first time callers can reach us at area code 702 72712 22 702 7271 1222 the Wild Card lines area code 70 2 72712 95 or 1295 toll free west of the Rockies it's 1 800 618 8255 1 800 61882 55 East of the Rockies anywhere out east of the Rockies it's 1 800 825 533 again 1 800 825 5033 east of the Rockies George are you there yes I am let's go to the phones what do you say okay all right here we go east of the Rockies you're on the air with George knp good evening hello there no you're not west of the Rockies you're on the air with George knp hi how you doing fine where where are you calling from Provo Provo Utah yes sir I was interested when your guest uh mentioned there was some things going on down in St George I have family down there and I hadn't heard of anything is there is this the first time anything has been going on down there in St George no it's been going on for approximately the last 8 months or so sometimes the events happen 3 four five times a day uh it's not every day but uh it it will start whoever is doing it doesn't work weekends it's strictly a Monday through Friday for phenon I think it's uh it's within about a 40 m radius around the Damron Valley is what's been described to me okay one another question uh I need to know the number of any local UFO groups around here do you have that kind of information all right well uh let's translate that a little bit uh George if you saw something and you wanted to report it um who would you call well I mean they have the National UFO hotline I think it's based in Seattle I don't have the number at my fingertips but that gets the information to some folks who who can run with it and do something it seems like a lot of people who get UFO information call me or or folks like Linda how uh I would uh I'd certainly like to hear any any kind of reports that people have Linda is always interested in hearing that information and the folks with muon and that National UFO hotline are all good leads well you may want to be careful here um but is there a number that or a way to contact you oh they're welcome to call me at the station or write to me at the station if everyone wants to get a pencil ready I'll give you the number there all right uh let's hold off then everybody go get your pencil ready and we'll do that in a moment east of the Rockies you're on with George knap hi hello art hi where are you uh yeah this is uh Mark kville Illinois on satellite yes sir uh yes uh George what do you think about Richard Hogan's work and what do you think it's going to go and you know he came over that 4our uh tape at that conference in Ohio and it seemed like it didn't go anywhere and that was one hell of a tape it sure was and it was one hell of an address in Ohio too uh familiar with Richard Hogan's work at all George I sure am in fact I was at a conference in Los Angeles yesterday at which uh Mr hogland was speaking and um and uh some of the stuff that he's doing right now about the Clementine mission to take uh photos of the moon is absolutely amazing someone has leaked some of those photos to hogland which indicate clear artificial structures on the moon where it's going to go I don't know I I think the work that he's done about Mars is very important it's very dramatic uh and although it is has has caused a tidal wave in UFO circles it doesn't seem to have gone too much further out of that it's a similar story with our Russian material you know documented proof from a world power a world government saying that UFOs are real and they're they're here and they're not ours and they're not uh the Russians and uh and it doesn't seem to make much of an impact outside this little Universe of euphology it is true Richard did a story uh as you know he thinks there are some very tall crystalline like structures on the moon and he did a story about The Disappearance of one of our satellites and um he believes that it collided as it was coming down with one of these structures and his technical explanation of the way the signal disappeared almost demanded that what he suggest it occurred the way the signal disappeared have you heard him describe that I have not I'm sorry I it's quite remarkable in other words when a spacecraft um uh turns away or the antenna is somehow oriented uh uh in a different direction suddenly the signal or if it were to explode the signal would disappear in certain milliseconds they'd actually be able to hear it occurring uh but the way it apparently collided with this thing the signal was just instant gone uh as though the antenna suddenly was whipped around um and I'm sure that it was it was very very interesting story east of the Rockies you're on the air with George knp hello hello there no you're not first time caller line you're on the air with George knap hi hello there well we're missing them west of the Rockies you're on the air good evening good evening hi where are you Fresno California okay name is Wilma yes go ahead and in 1970 February 7th we was going to Nevada to uh celebrate our anniversary and on the way out in the desert nothing was ever it wasn't built up then and on the way they was on the left hand side it was 2:00 in the morning I told my husband what in the devil's the water tower doing out here there's nothing around it was shaped like a bullet full legs four legs and we Come Back 2 days later it wasn't there and then about 5 years ago here my son called me out mom come look and going over with what I seen what you seen art that big triangular no sound no nothing I'm sorry where so slow yeah where are you located again Fresno Fresno and and this was actually over Fresno it was over our house over your house and I didn't cut I I told my son I says I'm not going to call it police what for and he's seen a light uh he said it was on top of the I live near Christmas Tree Lane and he said he's seen a light on top of the cedar trees M and then the light took off all right well it's a good question George how many people who see things like this do you think report them percentage wise I wonder how many actually get reported to any agency I have uh I have statistics on that you know it's an odd dichotomy uh 90% of UFO sightings are misidentifications of explainable phenomena but it's also true that nine out of 10 sightings aren't reported at all and it's easy to understand why if you call the police in in almost any town and and I'm a big fan of police but if you call the police they'll keep you on the line long enough to find out if you're crazy uh but they don't take the the report seriously the same is true of the military if you call a base like Nellis they say we're not interested that they'll even give out a UFO hotline number to send uh send uh people down the road uh it's interesting that Nellis here in in Nevada has never had a UFO sighting according to a spokesperson that I interviewed oh really which would make it the only probably the only military base in the country that hasn't isn't that interesting east of the Rockies you're on the air with George knp hi yeah hi art this is Ed where where are you Ed uh big pardon where are you Albuquerque Albuquerque all right yeah I I wanted to ask him about Area 51 all right uh you made a comment about the stealth fighter is Area 51 out out by tonopa or is that in some of the area because the stealths were tested at tonopa well the stealth were transferred to tonopal uh when they became operational tonopal's on the other side of the NADA test site rain that's correct in other words they started out some in Area 51 initial testing was conducted at Area 51 and perhaps other locations as well in Nevada but uh once it became an operational Fighter Wing they were based in tonopa no no no no no they weren't they weren't an operational Fighter Wing I know that for a fact they were still being tested a6s were were were conveying them and everything well I I have to disagree with you uh well actually they were an operational Fighter Wing I recall reading that in the newspaper well this this is before this was when they still said they didn't even exist at T well that's that's probably it could be it could be you know I I was observing them when they didn't EX is but but but I was just wondering where Area 51 was it's on the other side of the of the Test Site range it's uh east east of tonapa it's east of tonapa is it as far north as tonapa uh I believe so it's almost a direct line across okay thank you all right thank you very much for the call uh Wild Card line you're on the air with George knap hi hello hello turn your radio off I sure did this is Wendy from Vancouver Washington yes Wendy and I had a question for your guest I was wondering if he could tell me when he thinks the government is going to acknowledge the existence of UFOs I don't think that they'll ever do it um I think the only way that they would do it is if they were forced by some event an event from whatever the intelligence is that's behind the UFO phenomenon or or indisputable proof that's uh that's garnered by people in the private sector because as we mentioned I think theyve they've done a lot of sneaky stuff that would get them in a lot of trouble uh I think it it's also possible that maybe they have a reason um for not coming clean with us maybe maybe there really is some dark side to this maybe we really would panic in the streets if the whole truth came out and it may also be that the government although they have more information than us they don't have uh the complete picture themselves it it seems to me especially within the last 10 years like we've almost been uh in a constant um barrage of UFO movies UFO sightings reportings it seems to me like it's almost a desensitizing process so I was that was my question well I'd agree with you and art and I discussed it a little bit earlier that uh whether or not there really is a program like that it sure seems like it and and you know uh the more research I've done into this is the more sympathetic I become to the government's position I mean I don't appreciate some of the tactics that they've used over the years but it could very well be they're in in possession of some really sensitive information about a a phenomenon that uh that really would disrupt society that would really shake us right to our our bones Our Roots or whatever and uh and they don't know what to do with it you would think this would be a matter of gigantic International contention in other words if there are weapons possibilities in the technology and you have to imagine there would be uh there would be a big race between the US and any other power to get hold of and develop that technology well I agree completely in fact that the Russians uh that the Russian sources that we interviewed the colonel sakov who was the head of this 10-year Nationwide UFO study by the Russian military told us specifically that they were studying UFOs not to solve some Cosmic mystery but for practical reasons they knew that UFOs could do things that our planes could not do maneuver appear on radar disappear and if they could solve that technology by studying them that they would uh basically get a a jump on us in stealth technology well G Maybe then our government meant by UFOs are no threat to uh National Security that they are no threat to National Security as long as we have the technology well I I agree completely with that all right George we'll be right back George knp is my guest um again the east of the Rockies line is 1 800 out of the lines George are you there yes all right as much as we can let's keep answering these east of the Rockies you're on the air with George knap good evening hello there having trouble with east of the rocky uh you are well we are um apparently so um are you there well I guess not let's try it over here west of the Rockies you're on the air oh oh oh oh George this we're not having trouble this is my fault uh it's my fault uh is there anybody on the west of the Rockies line hello hi yes hi art and George I was wondering have you ever made a connection um between UFO sightings and like nature occurrences that have been happening lately like um large hail falling and floods and and psychic predictions that they say that um there going to be a lot of changes in in the United States and around the world yeah I'm really glad you asked George uh I know everybody always talks about it does nothing about it but the weather this year is arguably stranger than it ever has been giant reports of hail uh everywhere high winds we've had them here in the desert we get high winds but I mean it's been a crazy year that's true I don't know that we can tie it into the UFO phenomenon though I mean some people have tried I just haven't seen any convincing evidence there there are individual cases of where UFOs have been cited in areas where earthquakes have have occurred and uh and strange weather occurrences have been reported but a direct connection I haven't seen I know that uh it sure does seem weird since I haven't been following weather patterns and don't really have data on the frequency of earthquakes and volcanoes dating back over a number years I don't know if it's any worse uh than normal or not all right um first time caller line you're on the air with George na hi I um have uh a quest for George and I have um I'd like to just tell AR that I did see also when I lived in Tona I lived uh sorry I I lived there sorry turn your radio off sir turn your radio down no turn it off off otherwise it'll confuse you uh Mr Bell yes mhm oh good to talk to you sir um I saw the same thing that you saw over by perum only I saw right above tonopan when I lived there um was a little bit different than what you described though it was um a big triangular it was that night and there was no moon it was a big triangular um shape flying right over town going north I was on the north side of town going going uh into town at the time and it was it had a bunch of red and white light t i I don't know how many but it was triangular shaped and it seemed to be flanked by a couple of what I was thinking were escort plan and I I don't know why but I I was thinking know t38 or the trainers all right uh let's hold it right there we don't have a lot of time uh George many times UFOs crop circles all the rest of this sort of thing seem to be accompanied by reports of uh US aircraft fighter aircraft or helicopters well that's true it's not only in the us but as as Linda mentioned earlier uh it happened in Britain as well uh almost as if our military is monitoring whatever is going on and no question about that that would imply though not just a national effort but a full International effort true and it and it's not necessarily as I just stated it's not necessarily that the US is monitoring it I mean it could be in some of these cases that it's uh it is an advanced weapon system that we just haven't heard about yet that uh that they're flying along with if you had to assign probabilities um do you think we're being visited is it more likely we're being visited George or just observing our own nation's best efforts I think uh a large number of uh of UFO reports are Advanced weapon systems however uh there is nothing officially on the books about any gigantic flying triangle and I've asked Congressional people about that directly all right if there is they don't know about it all right good we'll hold it right there and we'll be right back I was at besides the judge and his Entourage to collect $925 a 2year trespass case over $9.25 over Runaway Cow now Mr DWI writes after this example people like Dick Bass describe their aches and pains in dealing with the federal government it's wrong to mash their grievances in with the militia people and their talk of Civil War those who want smaller government don't have to apologize it is Scandal to suggest other wise this is my point heat heat heat heat i guess uh I can always start off by saying loose lifts sink shifts uh uh that's almost a pun anymore i'm Phil Schneider i worked 17 years for the United States government as a geologist and aerospace engineer as well as a structural engineer i worked for uh such elusive uh inclusive occupations uh uh with Boris and Canudson Beto Page and Page uh Aerospial of France uh uh and a host of other uh EG&G and a host of other Los Alamos Laboratory and these kind of things but uh rather than bore you with all those statistics uh I've got a uh cooked up a real mixed bag here of uh different uh topics and it's uh might be a little bit uh like brain overload but uh I'll start from the beginning now like I said I worked 17 years uh uh co-invented uh methods of shape charge blasting as well as uh laser rock deflaggeration which means uh the rock is literally uh uh melted or or or powdered by a special maze or laser combination uh and the residue of the rock uh underneath uh is uh is applied as a coating as a liquid coating kind of like instant agot if you could uh imagine a hunk of agot uh which is a hard silica mineral rock actually but uh up here we have uh another topic this is an area to where I worked i worked 11 years of the 17 years at Groom Lake uh S4 S2 uh it's in the Nellis Air Force Base uh uh area in fact Groom Lake is uh I'll show you in the picture right here it's right here groom Lake is uh quite the place a lot of rumors and other kinds of things have come out of there of course people have stood on the outside for years and wondered at uh what's been flying there there's all kinds of things been flying um let me give you a brief overview um start in ancient history land here back in 1909 the US cavalry was uh uh engaged in uh catching some bandidos that had crossed over the Mexican border into a place called Truth of Consequences New Mexico and they went into a cave or a hideout of and killed the so-called bandits but what they found out they couldn't explain and uh they were called horseshoe craft at that time or horseshoe ships um there were UFOs and they saw these uh what they call demons gray demons little gray guys all all around the place that was in 199 now in 1933 our government was actively engaged uh with the Europeans mostly the French and the English and uh special uh researches uh dealing with u uh aerial phenomenon and once again the term flying saucer or flying disc didn't come about until much later uh supposedly right around the mid 1940s um anyway uh the whole thing here is that uh also in 1946 I might want to add uh we were engaged in atomic bomb testing and uh this this kind of a like and u of course the area of Bikini Atal uh some of the pictures are over here on the uh on the white board uh are showing with the actual language of the both the US Army and US Navy uh archives uh anyway uh these uh fling ships were seen as early as 1945 46 uh some of them were called Fighters and you name it um that were fully known about uh maybe as early as 1935 or 36 by our US Navy and uh there was a shallow underwater base at Mckini Island and that was probably the one reason why um a number of atomic bombs were exploded in that area rather than other areas which they could have been even more remote out um at Operation Crossroads well um anyway this all led up to uh uh later on about 68 years later 1954 uh during the Eisenhower administration led to a interesting treaty uh called the Greater 1954 treaty it was the alien human treaty and uh supposedly the aliens had come in and exchanged technology and they'd want to take an occasional human being and a few head of cows and accurate books were supposedly to be kept and all this kind of stuff and um of course eventually all that broke down and uh aliens are notorious for being uh liars even greater liars than so-called in quote we humans are um so uh u alien treaties are often uh uh just not even the pieces of paper they're written on they're just really kind of worthless anyway my work as a geologist in building underground uh military bases some of which are over 2 mi underground and uh I think uh when you listen to Al tonight if you have a chance to listen to him uh uh he will speak of uh Al's actually been on some of the high-speed monorail uh subway cars if you might want to call them that link these bases together some of them are capable of uh uh riding on a cushion of air about 3/4 of an inch off a rail at better part of Mach 2 and uh he's actually been on one of these trains i've only been in one of the tunnels and helped build some of the tunnels incidentally I helped work on 13 deep underground military bases actual had hands-on experience uh uh Notorious was the one in uh in around the Dulce the southern southeastern and southwestern sides of Dulce New Mexico in the Los Alamos laboratory regions where we built some hermetically sealed rooms that were very deep uh going down over a mile um we also built uh an additions onto uh uh Groom Lake and S2 and S4 complexes uh there are a total of nine underground are called they're called dums like you can learn a lot from this dummy but DUMB stands for deep underground military base and uh or a deep underground a dumb 2 for instance is a submarine base and I have built a few of those too which are uh uh off our continental shells and in certain islands and u out in the Atlantic and the Pacific in strategic locations is uh all this uh I can hardly uh in an hour's time I can hardly squeeze all this in so I'll I'll be kind of rambling here if you just bear with me the main topic of my discussion here is to link up basically what's going on with these deep underground military bases what they're being used for what is the present situation now being employed both by our federal government which is slowly being phased out by the uh United Nations government as well as the new world in quote the new world order which is an even higher entity and who these higher entities are taking their orders from and try and link up uh basically uh what's going on a lot of us have been kept in the dark uh we've been given uh uh maybe most recently over here uh photographs of an alien at Roswell now I'll just very make a very brief statement about that the photographs cannot stand up to a computer grain analysis test and therefore are retouched or faked uh they're not real the real one uh the real photograph of the of the charred or dead alien that was uh one of the several that were autopsied is uh over here was given to me by a friend by the name of Skip Frback of Seattle and his father worked uh as one of the principal doctors he was from Germany um at the time and worked on some of the autopsy material from what I understand uh along with other people anyway uh don't you just can't believe everything and that goes for me you got to get out there and do your homework like I always say uh you might uh don't put your spectacles on you put your skepticals on when you listen to me so if we can um if we can have a show of hands here how many people have heard about Roswell New Mexico very good almost all and how many people have heard about the uh uh black helicopters uh and the uh other kinds of flying saucers type equipments out at Groom Lake and other places very good well this obviously is a nice enlightened audience uh most of you have probably seen what a black helicopter is or maybe even gotten rare uh glimpses of an F-17A Blackjet or Stealth as they're often called um or a B2 bomber B1 bomber or some of these other uh sophisticated aircraft that are now being uh touted as the new technology once again where did we get this new technology well obviously we've had a little hand in that uh our little alien uh so-called buddies haha uh have uh kind of exchanged things not without a great cost uh the cost of which has been uh a lot of people uh have disappeared some and I'll blow this statistic by you there's uh according to current FBI and Defense Intelligence Agency and CIA statistics 100,000 children and 1 million adults disappear every year and these are not kidnappings or murders or rapes or suicides or anything totally unaccounted for and where are these people going to nobody knows maybe one of us uh in this room or or somebody has uh has encountered such an individual and lost a loved one or a friend or something and that's unfortunate my best friend uh Ron Lee Ruml u several years ago got himself murdered because we dared to put out uh in print at that time I was still working for the government and so was he uh we dare to put in print uh that the so-called strategic defense initiative or Star Wars as uh part of the new world order and takes its uh uh actions it was uh originally written as a kind of a spoof or a joke uh we had uh one of these uh alien grays dressed up and uh had new world order insignia on and of course that wasn't taken very nicely and uh um my friend got uh himself murdered it was called a suicide but now it's been uh turned over to special authorities who now acknowledge it was a homicide uh other than that um I'd like to also mention something about my father my father was a yubot captain and and Hitler's Navy and uh he got captured and uh taken over uh I didn't find this out until about 2 weeks before he died on his deathbed he kind of told everybody in total shock um I was one of them um fried in fact I didn't believe him i thought he was come in delirium or something like that and of course other things have come up since and so um anyway he was uh captured by the French turned over the third army the US third army and then US third army turned him over to the Navy and he was a master machinist that's not a journeyman a master means he's they can take a block of metal make a gun or a watch or some other fine instrument and uh uh he was a master machinist he later became an MD doctor and uh part of the aerospace medicine group of the United States Navy was instrumental in helping build the USS Nautilus and its uh first uh nuclear uh powered uh uh uh predecessor the U Enterprise the first nuclearpowered aircraft carrier and other other ships like it he pioneered all the waves and uh and building very small and miniature nuclear uh engines and um he even helped build uh helped work later on in his life he helped uh develop the infamous grid bed nuclear motor which is now employed and some things that look like flying saucers that people claim are flying saucers yes we are we in quote the United States Air Force and other armed forces are training other European forces to fly unidentified or now identified or in quote flying saucers we've actually built built several prototypes that are flying under the uh under uh names of black craft my position as a geologist and engineer got me to see a lot of things in the world i've been in over 70 countries also work for NATO i carried a level three security clearance with a riyolyte factor riyolite is a hardened factor only given out to a handful of civilians and maybe a couple of hundred military men worldwide um I thought I was doing uh the nation uh United States as well as the world a favor by uh I thought I was uh kind of keeping my end up um well it didn't work out that way i was to later find out that these underground bases are now being employed as strategic bases for in case there is martial law in this country right now our military professors that used to be in war colleges and the like are training people like uh ex-Russian KGB and spetnaz people right here on American soil i've seen it with my own two eyes along with other people other geologists by the way I'm still a geologist still do geological survey work however I don't work for the government anymore i uh took my uh security clearance and all my government stuff and cut it up and send it back to the pardon my French uh so uh when I found out that a number of these 131 deep underground military bases are being used to subvert the constitution of these United States and its people i says "That is enough i I can't possibly be connected." "Oh well Mr schneider you can't quit." They said "Well I says "Yes I can i'm an individual i'm going to quit." And uh I'm walking off the job and he says "So I got arrested and casually told "Well you got to finish a job." And so I I caved into that part i finished three weeks and then I uh at that time my father was dying and uh I was allowed home and uh I never went back for my paychecks uh don't intend to either these people are beginning to show signs of being our utmost enemy i'm talking about military people now engaged in training foreign troops on American soil clearly against the Bill of Rights in the US Constitution it's it's it's why we formed a government why our forefathers formed a government a republic of these United States in the first place way back 200 plus years ago because the drawing and quartering of soldiers uh taxation without representation law by edict otherwise known as today's version executive order among other things the very reasons that we became in quote free a free republic a free society possibly one of the greatest nations to ever uh be a nation on this earth um were instilled in our founding fathers that are now so far away from um uh the people now running our federal government structure so I'm here today to touch upon a number of subjects uh one being that these underground bases are roughly uh uh over three of them per state there's now instead of 12 prison camps there's 39 that's almost one per state um they're building two prison camps every seven months they're building two underground uh military bases every year each one of these military bases by the way these underground military bases they cost somewhere between 17 and 26 billion dollar billion dollars they employ 1,800 to 10,000 workers each and varying grades of uh skill they uh uh gobble up uh totally through the black budget over one quarter of the black budget or roughly uh $310 billion of course you may say you know where are these figures coming from well the black budget as we know it in quote black projects uh which anything called black um is significant of hidden uh hidden from the Congress hidden from the American people very few people are even in the know about it at all our black budget uh per year garners over $500 billion dollars a year and it's uh uh these kind of huge quantities and sums of monies are garnered through CIA drug activity national security agency uh uh uh clandestine uh operations mostly in Panama and South America uh uh now also engaged in Russia in uh in uh um in bringing and refining uh strategic metals by the way you might want to ask where's all these uh kind of interesting uh new metals coming from over here on the white board we have the new periodic table it's got 140 elements now in our high schools of today I was in a high school about a week ago i saw a new periodic table had 105 elephants on it now somewhere we're not being told the truth we're being lied to at every turn in every corner we're considered less than morons morons uh so the government has uh made itself an entity an independent taxing body an entity into itself and does isn't accountable to anybody not even the so-called new world order uh they they just go ahead and do everything willy-nilly as they please there's nobody checking they'll have to worry about this occasionally there's a senator pokes a nose in here and there and that senator finds out uh uh either nicely or not so nicely uh that uh you don't do things like that now um if we're to gain a grip on our country if we're to take our country back we must first ask our public officials if they cannot tell us the truth and uh we will impeach them or they will be impeached or they will be tried as traitors this is pretty stiff language uh already it's slowly beginning to trickle out to occur to a number of people that this may be the only way out also our founding fathers George Washington Patrick Henry and a few of the other ones came up and said that uh you don't want to let the beast out of the box they were talking about a runaway government you don't want to allow your government to become like England at that time and uh and so uh they warned us about this very same kind of thing first of all the United States is not a democracy it's not a republic anymore it should be a republic that's to the republic for which it stands one nation under God why you why we can't even pray in the public schools anymore we have to have a Supreme Court judge or group of them plus uh Janet Reno in company among other things uh telling us uh what to do uh interpret for us as if we cannot read with our own two eyes and understand with our mind um this of course is bad policy all the way around and u we I guess I don't need to blow that by your ears okay on another subject I have a number of items up here at the table uh one of which here is an if I can show it is a heavy hunk of rock indeed it uh has a weight of about uh a little bit more than a pound 2 and 1/2 times the weight of uranium it's not radioactive can never be made radioactive it's composed of of earth rare earth clays and powdered metals as well as alien element an alien element uh mostly from crashed retrieved flying saucers and the kind that have stance to crash in our deserts and backyards so to speak it's called mirrorite this is employed in every stealth aircraft every blackjet throughout the black budget also in the uh in the very small quantities in the skins of uh black helicopters mironite here's another thing here's a piece of probably the purest titanium you'll ever hear or see it's uh so pure it's also composed with uh other alien elements to make it extremely tough is capable of withstanding temperatures in excess of 7,000° F our new Phoenix class submarines of which we're building two a month right now phoenix class submarines is a black budget program each one of those submarines costing $28 million just for the titanium hole which is made of this material approximately 10,000 lbs of it now we've got supposedly as of as of the data right now we've got 106 of these submarines they're applying the waters and the waves they can dive to a depth of over 7,000 ft and hold that for 3 months it's a fantastic submarine indeed has 11 grid bed nuclear motors on it engines that run everything purify the air uh by the way these aren't your usual um nuclear uh motor installation they're very small they're probably no bigger than this podium uh weighing less than 3,000 lbs putting out as much as uh the equivalent of uh three uh aircraft carriers of the Enterprise class but uh these Phoenix class submarines are getting this metal now where are we getting the metal well it's being stockpiled a number of strategic locations supposedly uh I've heard stories well it's being mined on the moon and I have no way of proving that one way or another uh I think we're probably getting it from Russia you know or and and or refining it in outer space are we uh shuttling uh uh basically a shuttle uh a secret uh shuttle flight one a week now is going up and back what are they shuttling well obviously they've got kind of their own little laboratories up there space station all this kind of stuff remember what you're being told is only just the smattering of the truth it's not the real truth maybe it's 5% of the truth maybe it's not even that you can rest assured it's not you're not getting much another uh strategic metal is this particular bar with some strange crystals on it the scalinoedral crystals of nobbium titanium arenium copper oxide this complex group of uh elements not found on the earth in specific quantities this was uh developed at uh uh Los Alamos through EG&G and other outfits uh are employed in all blackjet um aircraft all of them including the in quote sport model the little flying saucer we occasionally see over at Groom Lake and by the way now if uh we happen to be uh with a video camera you know uh taking pictures of the so-called area around Groom Lake it's now uh you can you can get your equipment confiscated your car your house you're considered the same thing as a drug dealer and you'll go to jail for 5 years up to 5 years and a million dollar fine i personally don't think this is what I'm hearing i l l l just don't think that uh this uh kind of punitiveness is what we need in America and we have to get rid of it otherwise we're going to die with no America uh here's some other elements here's a very light element it's u composed of lithium metal as well as a alien element uh a little heavier than hydrogen but a little lighter than helium also employed in this it's uh used uh in secretive methods of uh propulsion and it also is in a peculiar scalinoedral crystallin form and anything scalenohedral and by the way a scaline triangle is no side is equal to another side the scaline elohhedro metallic crystallin structure is definitely alien element or alien uh technology converted over to our own technology these uh were given to me about a year ago they're called alien alien or aurora drops uh it's supposedly the skins of the black jets uh uh some of the ones that are coming in at very high rates of speed uh they're still glowing um red hot white hot and they'll sit out there and cool off and they're dripping their material off of them and it's kind of like a a a rubberized coating uh it's not rubber I can tell you that this is hard as lava rock or harder capable withstanding tremendous temperatures but nonetheless some of it sloughs off every time and so they just kind of scoop it up and throw it in the trash can there a few pieces of it here's one of the hardest uh so-called man-made rocks uh once again it it's uh it's got uh a number of alien uh uh counterpart uh it's got an alien crystallin structure to it very advanced it's a about 11 times harder than a diamond about 70 times stronger than the diamond capable of withstanding temperatures in excess of 10,000° F it is imposed as very thin coatings or windows tiny windows in hypersonic aircraft aircraft that exceed Mach 5 here's uh an interesting artifact right here in this hunk of rock which by the way was an old 100,000-year-old chipping tool found in Syria uh Jordan rather excuse me uh is a imprint of it looks like a fossil but it's not it's an imprint of a small mechanical part with a exactly 360 kind of little rotor blades well this rock is 220 million years old who was uh making machines 220 million years ago maybe Von Donin was right after all huh here we have a actual piece of agotized fruit or it's similar to a lime it's even been pecked by a bird at one time and that's still there so was instantly turned to AGOT it is the same agot or chemical structure as material found at Hiroshima Nagasaki after the a bombings in World War II where grasses and flowers and fl petals of flowers and other kinds of things were instantly petrified turned to agate it is the same identical crystallin structure however this particular piece is about 20 million years old and it's still got its original green coating and it's basically unchanged perfect condition uh likewise here's a garlic plant about uh somewhere between uh 20 and 35 million years of age and once again it's got that same pink agot coating and here are uh some pieces of the metal skin from the crash disc at Roswell uh was given to me when I was 14 years old my father was visiting one of his old friends in uh in uh the Navy archives as well as he was in the Royal Navy in England and I as a 14-year-old boy i says "Gee Dad can I have can I ask Johnny?" Oh go ahead ask him get anything you can from him you know that kind of thing i says "Well Johnny well do you think I can have a piece of this uh metal?" "Oh no no you can't have that." And I says "Oh give it to the kid what the heck he won't have it very long anyway." "Well I've had it all this time." It's kind of a unique thing uh they were able to break the skin of that craft by the way by dropping it into a bath of liquid nitrogen hitting it with a mechanical or hydraulic hammer and it shattered into little bits and it was later analyzed and uh and adapted for our own technology all these artifacts are fine but once again the main part of this talk is where is it all leading to we get very little spin-off to uh where any of this is leading to occasionally we'll get a new computer or maybe a a quartz watch or or some uh little trinket like kind of like giving the Indians beads a couple hundred years ago well we're getting these little spin-offs but the black budget still rolls on garnering up over a trillion dollars every two years it's somewhere between 1.023 trillion and 1.31 trillion dollar every two years and every every year it goes by and the black budget is unchecked unaccounted for it's just subverting our country that's number one number two is that these underground military first of all if there was something like a nuclear war or or uh uh there was a definite enemy out there where we were going to be under attack uh like from China or some place like that i could see maybe a a couple of dozen underground bases uh for a government and uh uh so it could theoretically come rise up like the phoenix out of the ashes well not 131 of these and uh if you were going to uh so-called round people up and put them in prison camps what a better prison camp than underground where nobody knows where it is anyway so uh once again uh these underground bases uh are most likely uh uh been planned as uh underground prison camps and uh slave labor factories for the new world order new world order by the way is getting and I'm probably the only person ever talking about this the new world order is taking and the United Nations is taking its uh orders from uh believe it or not uh these more powerful outer space alien uh entities uh we might call them the large grays or the small grays uh sinister forces indeed and uh you might want to say well gee how come we don't see more of this kind of thing well uh you can just imagine if you're only being told 5% or less of the truth uh that isn't very much to go on that's one thing another thing is uh you don't find very many people coming up here and letting you have hands-on experience i'm going to try and do this to you however I do ask you to go out and do your homework and keep doing it don't necessarily believe in what I'm saying but get out there and and talk to people whether it's just a couple neighbors or friends or or something get out there and talk because one will tell two and two will tell four and then pretty soon you have a whole room full of people that are in the know and then from there uh wonders can work other than that as far as changing the black budget and uh these clandestine programs public opinion is only going to be that going to do that it's going to take millions of us but we have to be informed and to do that we have to be doing what we're doing now gathering and talking and of course most of us are adults and can weed out fact from fiction most of us are responsible adults and know the difference between fact and fiction and how to use it and or how to abuse it so we therefore have to continue to keep studying and keep talking if there's just me out there and believe it or not there aren't very many people like myself out there talking uh I've given over 30 talks in the United States Canada Japan um uh went over to England kind well into Japan kind of illegal came back the same weekend they they flew me in and out but gave a talk to a number of their execs and they were very interested indeed now if I was if this was all a bunch of poppycock and hoie and poo poo uh I might uh I wouldn't be listened to uh be be given an audience by these people but I have 13 attempts on my life since the first of this year i there's a a number of you ladies present so I won't gore you out but uh Al has seen uh some of the wounds and there's a few other people that have been to a few of my other lectures and they can attest that I have been shot uh I've been run off the road i've been pushed off the road i've been uh mostly shot at and that kind of thing like that but uh been in hand to hand combat with some of these people and and once again I'm not in the best of shape anymore but I still know how to handle myself and I'm just about ready to wrap things up here uh but just basically wanted to give you an overview of uh of uh uh what's happening and uh if we have any questions we can uh start asking a few questions okay here's a gentleman way over here would you please speak up loud yes uh I was involved in a uh in 1979 in August late August of 1979 um I was involved uh working through Los Alamos Laboratories at Dulce New Mexico uh and uh what's now known as the Alien Human War 66 Secret Service agents government workers geologists and the like i almost got I almost uh hit the dust i could have been number 67 um uh lost their lives that day because the government lied and uh knew full well what was underneath and what we' done is out in the desert there we had we had drilled four in period of a couple of days we drilled four of these holes that went down several thousand ft and uh uh one of these holes kept bringing up uh dirty dust and uh putrifying odors and broken off uh broken off uh machine bits and other kinds of things like that boring machines as well as uh lasers came up damage and of course there was a probe that was sent down that came up totally missing and so people were sent down there i was along with people and uh when I got down there of course the odor was and remember I was in a spaceac suit type environment uh all I had was a small tool belt with special sensors a small rock hammer and a rock sack for mineral specimens kind of things like that and I had my little pistol and uh being an engineer I didn't have time to carry a big hunk of pistol like most of these green berets carry stuff like that black braves and car Walter BBK with a nine shot clip soon as they got down this hole standing about from uh from me to uh this gentleman over here in in the front row about 10 or so feet away 7 ft away something like that was uh uh one of these 7t tall stinking alien guys and I didn't waste any time i said "I'm not fiddling with you guys." And boom away you go and um uh I had I was one of the rare few that had been lured that this may or may not occur uh and uh so uh basically was uh given ET training but a lot of these other people warned and we were uh in fact it was asked are there aliens in the area and of course the uh big question was no um and that was a big lie and of course 66 people died that day uh I have a big hole in my chest i lost a My lung was literally burnt out of me my fingers burnt off of me my toenails burnt off of me my skin was uh I was in radiation isolation therapy for 400 plus days uh my bones were vitrified or burnt um I was cooked i managed to survive they're telling you something about it today but other than that I'm the only talking survivor there are only two other survivors and they're in nursing homes up in Canada and Canada refuses to allow the United States officials to talk to them they're in very bad shape indeed one of them can't talk and the other one doesn't want to so they're and they're Canad they're regarded as Canadian heroes so um they're in being kept by Canada okay this fellow over here speak up loud okay are there any actually yes there's several in fact as I was coming uh to this uh talk uh I uh was uh supposed to be here by plane but uh there was a subsequent followup um anyway I drove all the way and did it in one day uh but as I was coming over over uh up near Cheyenne there I noticed the military uh air force and the army are building a so-called new inq and I was here 3 months ago i wasn't there so it's something brand new in Colorado yes there's about four underground uh bases one being at Denver International Airport um I call it air base spaceport or whatever you want to call it denver International Airport no wonder your luggage uh gets lost there are eight levels underneath the airport uh tarmac there in quote tarmac or cement mac uh and so those bags could be there for a damn long time why just imagine uh if this was instantly turned to AGOT 30 or more million years ago those bags could very well be the same way so yeah there's there's a number of them and uh I wish I had a map with me in fact in subsequent talks I'll have a map uh which will be put on the on the overhead in fact my next talk I plan to have just that uh I had planned to bring a map here and had all the latitudes and longitudes of all the bases and that I can't do that that's uh would be a nice jail sentence for me so I I didn't bring it so but other than that I'll have that all researched for you uh yes this this woman Yes uh there as far as there being an inner earth uh a hollow earth or anything like this no I've never run into anything like that uh however uh uh uh Al Beick uh has been on these uh tunnel trains at better part of Mach 2 uh going from coast to coast an hour and a half uh faster than any jet plane that we got including uh the SST uh or thereabouts the same uh rapid speed but uh uh I helped build a lot of these tunnels and all of the underground mount uh underground mountain or military bases are connected all of them all 131 of them they're connected both by road not a big freeway under there but there at least a two to a fourlane road uh rather narrow lanes but they're there and there are also high-speed uh Magneto Levitton train tunnels yes this lady over here stand up and speak up please uh what what levels of military personnel know about this uh most of the levels of military know about this uh especially the higher levels um officer higher officer levels so the enlisted I'm sure don't or are basically kept in the dark like we are end quote we are so uh yeah u this fellow right here with a hat on well there's 131 of them in the uh u in the United States 127 of them in the lower 48 um there's some in Canada i'm not counting those some in northern Mexico i'm not counting those either um they average about 4 and a/4 cubic miles hollowed out underground an average depth of 5700 ft underground uh average cost 17 to 31 billion each um they employ anywhere from $1,800 to 10,000 people um then there's some very large ones now being built in um Sweden one of which is repudiated to be $30 cubic miles it will take 5 years to build that one at a cost of about $2 trillion and that's all being supplied by the United Nations yes anybody over here this uh gentleman speak up please okay uh you want to know exact locations of all these well for where all of your Army Marine Corps Navy and Air Force bases are they're uh with all the present not the ones closed in by the way the closed down bases are now being used for gasoline storage and uh equipment storage and these kind of things they're not really uh closed down yet boot camps in quote boot camps and all this kind of stuff uh so-called prisoner camps and these kind of things right now our police for instance are uh training uh are being trained by uh the air force and the army intelligence in uh in martial law research as they call it how dare they call that that by that name of where these are they're where every one of these strategic bases are now in Colorado is uh in in around Denver there's three of them and they're fairly small some of these bases are only maybe 2 to 3,000 ft uh in depth uh some of them are uh were built a long time ago back oh 3540 years ago and they're only maybe 500 ft um and they're mostly for equipment storage um yeah Denver and then there's uh Fort Collins uh there's also Colorado Springs area there's a number of them by the way Colorado Springs a kind of a famous area nicola Tesla's Laboratories were in Colorado Springs and uh need I say more i'll leave that up to Alic uh as far as uh Nellis Air Force Base there's nine uh underground mountain bases in Nellis Air Force Base that's in Nevada it's uh north of Las Vegas um there's going to be a a UFO show and conference in Mosquite here later on this month that's up very close to in quote Area 51 uh uh that whole area by the way the state of Nevada is 81% uh uh uh in quote managed or owned by the federal government the land is either restricted or run by the federal government that's why they have there's uh groups uh rising as we speak uh dealing with the problem uh very voseiferously and u senators are now getting involved so evidently waking up is occurring yes this gentleman over here speak up please okay uh yes they are uh the gentleman asked "Are these tunnels connected to large caverns?" Yes these large bases are basically like this uh like this uh uh coliseum everything's underground everything's a city underground uh most most of these uh bases have uh are both have military bases and they have all the accutrants of life remember each one of these costs quite a bundle of dough and and some of it in our tax money but most of it in clandestine uh approaches and that's uh definitely undermining the country yes thank you well some of them uh have a difficulty in understanding our language it's too slow to them uh uh if you've heard whale songs or bird chirpings at high speed it's about what these aliens sound like audibly to us so they it's a bunch of gibberish yes they've slowly actually broken down there's 11 prototypes or 11 civilizations of aliens visiting this planet uh all the time all of which are known by the US military uh nine of which uh are not very good India they're pretty bad news uh two of which are benevolent uh but the benevolent ones have supposedly left they have their own little war of sorts especially to play Adishian groups and whatnot like that of which Val Thor was repudiated to be a a Venusian but uh other people learned he looks more like a a play he looks normal human except he's got six fingers and toes he's got a one l oversized lung he's got two hearts he's got all kinds of weird stuff bones are bigger yep uh the man asked "Do I tie in the alien agenda to the new world order?" Yes sir 100% uh I can elaborate briefly uh uh the new world order right now uh basically is dismantling countries um uh governments uh telling governments not to war with each other anymore basically so that looks good on the outside uh they're taking their orders directly from the aliens who have got their own timetable they want the one world order because they want the planet for themselves uh of course you've often heard of the term global 2000 and that's a supposed sinister plot or has been a group of sinister plots to produce biological weaponry to reduce or thin out the so-called ethnic cleanse the population of the planet by 56s or roughly five of six billion people enslaving the rest uh to work willy-nilly with the so-called people of the new world order now the uh another peculiar thing is uh the alien agenda is not really well believed nor understood by a lot of these one worlders they don't believe it they think they've been singled out for their own end of glory and what they don't know is they're just another human being and uh according to the uh negative or bad aliens uh they're just another we're considered bags of food to them they don't uh eat us like a we think of a cannibal eating hunk of meat but they use our glandular secretions as part of their food base their blood and their their glandular secretions like adrenal chrome and other kinds of things like this and uh in fact they've been uh the Atlanta uh center for disease control has uh figured out ways that we can combat this and all this kind of thing like that it might be where these new designer diseases like AIDS and Ebola and Hanta virus and all these kinds of things have come up out of nowhere and these diseases in quote uh almost have a mind of their own as this lady here okay lady asked "Is the tunnel building uh uh having a uh an effect with earthquakes?" Uh uh yes it could very easily be although uh got to remember a lot of these underground um bases are constantly being repaired and so a lot of people have to be hired uh as far as uh the US government uh second part of her question was uh uh is the US government modifying our weather yes that's an affirmative um and we have uh the US government's been working with the Russians for at least since 1972 and maybe as early as 1966 on weather modification it's a well-known fact and it's well employed and by the way uh they can uh literally weather modify a hurricane or a tornado out of existence and the reason they don't do it is uh pretty obvious and right or they could actually uh send a plane inside of a hurricane for instance that would blow off a atmospheric bomb or a shockwave bomb in the eye of the thing and it would completely dissipate well we don't do this of course there's probably other reasons for that to see which way it goes or what kind of havoc and how we can study the havoc and we go from there uh this fellow way in the back in the black how do we learn more about our general topic well there's uh this particular fellow his name is Richard Solder PhD he wrote a book recently Underground Bases and Tunnels what is the government trying to hide that is one book um then we have other uh here's a popular science article secret air base the government doesn't want you to know that Groom Lake supposedly Groom Lake doesn't exist well I guess if it doesn't exist and me talking about it I guess I can't be arrested or anything i'm just full of poppycock here well the editor one of the editors of Popular Science that put this article out is now in federal prison uh then there's a a book that uh called Stealth Fighter Pilot these books are available i got this one at Dalton's uh uh u this one actually was sent to me by the publisher uh I did some test piloting and the only thing I test pilot was uh would run the aircraft back and forth on the runway the special runways they built at Groom Lake there's a picture of me in in uniform and uh I can go on and uh these publications are out now and and they're available yes this lady over here i can't hear you what okay um okay that's uh kind of a mixed bag question there uh she asked uh um with martial law being called will uh precious metals and all these kinds of things first of all hoarding anything will be outlawed uh if you hoard food have a radio any way of communicating uh stash gasoline uh these kind of things you'll just be rounded up and that'll be the end of you um martial law is martial law martial law is dictatorship of the worst form or one of the worst forms and u uh her other part of the question if I if I got it right was uh is it uh when's the alien takeover well the alien takeover right now is and probably will be for some probably the next 20 maybe 30 40 years will be basically in the in the background the idea is to get the the the one world beastlike government order in place and to thin out the population of the planet and then of course then all heck will break loose from then on and uh whether it is uh I don't often mix Bible and talk but uh some people have alerted well this is already mentioned in the Bible blah blah blah and all this kind of stuff well that may be but all I can tell you is is uh uh I've been face to face uh with one of these sinister characters a couple of them saying the least and uh um most people would uh just the shock of them seeing such a thing would cause them to uh not be in very healthy mode frame of mind as physical as well as mental this man here in the blue cup Well it's a combination the uh what technology is used to build these underground bases uh uh well we have uh lasers that can drill out or basically deflaggerate or melt out a tunnel 7 mi a day and that tunnel is 28 ft wide 28 ft high uh they have uh you've been told about uh drilling and boring machines and very slow quarter of a mile a day most of that went out in World War II most of that's all World War I or World War II era materials and once again you've been badly lied to uh I uh can hardly believe first of all I've worked on public engineering projects and we do better in grinding up road beds and re uh laying them down at the rate of 4 miles a day and supposedly that doesn't exist well I worked one in the state of Oregon just a few months ago and we built an a tunnel for uh sewage tunnel and whatnot like that it wasn't very big was about 6 ft across i about drilled right through solid rock right through base of uh under one of the hills in Portland for their new uh light rail did that in 2 days but it was a complex it was a small complex tunnel it was big enough for a man to crawl through and inspect i was one of the people who inspected so yeah yeah yeah what technology a lot of this is alien technology uh readapted for our own use but a lot of it's our own ingenuity too so uh you can bet how can you tell alien technology well anything that's just absolutely outlandish like taking a oxy acetylene welding torch and trying to cut into this metal and getting nowhere obviously would be uh metals research uh um aircraft research and the like and different tools and products to things like uh many times the hardness of diamond or or known hardened substances substances like borazon um obviously that's uh nothing that we came up with on our own but we could have over a several hundredyear period but you got to remember too that the military technology is outstripping the public sector technology at the rate of 44 to 45 years of technology for every calendar year every 12 month calendar year here year so every year going by by uh this time in 1996 a military uh uh technology will be roughly 45 years more advanced than where we are today so it's quite possible that way back in 1943 they not the US Navy not only caused the ship to disappear it literally disappeared and reappeared uh basically military technology right now is about 1,200 years more advanced than uh public state technology computer technology right now uh it's off the scale I can't tell you it's just uh right now and uh employing um just in blackjet and uh and stealth aircraft uh the new computers are so completely advanced that uh we couldn't get them in the public sector for maybe another 40 or 50 years yes this lady here Well the lady asked with the slave labor camps are the old the infirmed the handicapped are they going to uh uh be executed ex will there be executions you can bet your bottom dollar there actually will be these things um I wish I knew more but I don't uh I've had my own agenda to kind of keep up and talk about uh but other than that uh yes I would imagine so if you look at all the uh uh 39 uh prison camps that are presently built they're called boot camps by the way and of course these new trains that they have that have 143 shackle uh placements per train uh why uh uh they're a scary thing indeed you know what they're called they're called United Nations prisoner transfer cars oh that's an appropriate name I guess well we got to wrap it up here they're telling me it's time i'll take one more question this lady over here don't brainwash they don't brainwash you how do they brainwash 18,000 people that are working well you sign this little piece of paper saying you work you go to prison for the rest of your days or uh you're not going to be taking home a paycheck of about anywhere from 4,000 to 40,000 per month depending upon your position 40,000 a month is a lot of patunias okay I got to wrap it up here folks so um I'll be over in Al Felix's booth i think it's over in number booth number 125 uh I can take other questions there and uh let you take a look at artifacts and uh once again on these artifacts in

okay and welcome back hour number two on this Friday night we're going to spend two hours now on a story that is nothing less than fantastic it is almost unimaginably weird we're going to talk to the son of the man who lived it the first time that the son Dan will be talking anywhere about what his father went through and we're very honored to have him with us we'll get to him in a little while first up let me introduce and bring back uh noi Torres and we're going to say hello to Ruben uriarte in just a moment as well noi hi welcome back to the program hello Jeff I'm very excited tonight we're going to be hearing from Dan as you mentioned and I am so pleased that you were able to get this show lined up and get everybody together tonight my pleasure well my friend you did it uh and uh Ruben as well Ruben are you there I'm here and I'm calling from the San Francisco Bay area and and happy to be on the show with uh noi and you and uh also Dan and and the other guests uh Brad down at the end end of the show there yeah yeah you've been hanging around Northern California for quite a while Ruben oh yeah well I'm actually was raised here in in this area but I I enjoy traveling and had some wonderful opportunities and the uh Southwest is one of them especially uh Texas and and Mexico so uh uh working with noi we've uh we've been able to really come up with some re really good uh research over over some very interesting cases but this one here tonight aliens in the forest this one this one gives me Goosebumps all the time I've never heard anything or read anything like it uh we're going to hear uh recording segments from the man who experienced it as well um you've named this well tell us about the name of the book aliens in the forest and and where the book uh can be purchased we've got a link to it uh it's from uh well prlog son of aliens in the forest iwitness speaks for the first time that's a press release about our program tonight the book itself aliens in the forest where can people buy it this is one amazing read but Jeff it's a it's a wonderful book based on the feedback we're getting it's been the best-selling book that Ruben UD and I have have written co-written so far you know it it is close to it pretty much at the same level of sales where Mexico's Roswell was when we premiered that book in 2007 only this has gotten there a lot faster and we just uh we did a presentation about aliens in the forest at the Roswell UFO Festival earlier this month and we had over 300 people in the auditorium standing to hear that one so it remains incredibly popular and folks can can get a copy if they'd like at Roswell books.com uh we also have video clips and a lot of additional information about the case um at our website Roswell books.com Ruben of all the books you have worked on uh with noi I guess you kind of feel this is certainly the strangest uh without doubt yes um uh it this book or actually the U the research goes back to a gentleman by the name of Paul cery he was the principal investigator at the time um he um has passed away but back in 1965 he investigated his case uh the interviewed Mr D D Don Shrum and um he was with Nik cap at at at the time but I was very fortunate to have come across the files from Paul cery Paul used to be involved with muon and um I had the uh some of the cases that were passed on to me and this was like in the back of the of the file there and I when I pulled it out it was known as the bow and arrow case and when I started thumbing through the the archives I said oh my God I you must have been amazed actually happened yeah yeah yeah well they the date of the event the year was 196 64 and the man it happened to Donald Shrum that's Shrum the book again is aliens in the forest and it could be purchased by going to Roswell books.com correct that's correct yes all right you need to get that on Amazon too yeah it's on Amazon we have links to Amazon from that from that website very good all right go ahead and uh let's set this up a little bit uh either one of you and then we'll uh listen to some clips but what we should do I think is is bring Dan Shrum on the son and have him sitting with us and listen to his father as his father works his way through with these clips this unbelievable event so Dan are you there Mr Dan Shrum are you on not yet we'll get him on in just a minute so the bow and arrow case is is bizarre set this up for us noi if you would yes sir we had uh quite a lot of uh interesting experiences putting this book together and working with the shum family with Dan who wrote uh some of the material that went in the preface to the book and also um uh the late J Judy shum who unfortunately just passed away in May uh that that Dan's mom uh who was an important part of what happened uh what happened afterward keeping the family together despite the great pressures and the great stresses that Came Upon them and I'm sure Dan will address that with us uh when he when he comes on a little bit later but to set the stage about the incident itself it happened on Friday September 4th 1964 and there were three men including Mr Shrum Dan's dad uh whose name was Don or Donald Shum there were three men from the aerofjet corporation of Sacramento they all lived in the Sacramento area and these three men uh would go out hunting uh frequently together and this week this particular weekend in September 1964 they went hunting in the Tahoe national forest located about 80 Mi Northeast of Sacramento um they started early in the day on on a Friday and um they kind of became separated throughout the day and it got to be dark and they had kind of made an agreement with each other that if if they were ever um in the forest separated from each other and uh it got to be dark because of the area where they were it was kind of a dangerous place there had been Bears sided by other hunters and and other Predators so they decided that they were going to find a a safe place safe haven for the night and then reather at their original campsite the next morning uhhuh but Mr Shrum had kind of basic Ally got lost uh and couldn't find his way that evening back to his two companions so he decided to hold up in a tree where he was safe from uh from most Predators you know that that could attack during the night so he it was he he he climbed up a tree to go to sleep for the night I I don't I don't know that I'd be able to do that sleep yeah he had a he had a military style belt uh that he used as a harness to harness himself up to to a big branch up in this pine tree how interesting and he was intending to to rest as best as he could there for the night and it was when he was up in this tree that he saw a glowing light headed his way MH uh and and uh the first clip that we have here is basically him telling what his first impressions of that light were all right let's see if we have Dan with us now are you there Dan Shrum not yet okay well we're working on it we'll get him all right what we're going to do is play some audio clips and uh let's see here hold on just a second do we have a backup phone number for Dan we're apparently not able to get him on that primary number if if you can uh noi or Ruben if you can email me uh the phone number I do have them but we're not able to get Dan on the phone right yet okay let me see here well Ruben was in touch with him just a few moments ago so Reuben can get him back on for you okay I'm sure the number I've got is correct and I'll uh make sure that that is retransmitted to the studio right now we want to get him on as soon as possible okay the number is correct uh Network so he's there all right the first clip is again of Donald Shum when when were these clips made do we know the audio clips when were the interviews done yes Ruben did the interviews uh that these audio clips were taken from uh he did a series of interviews with Mr Shrum and uh Reuben that was a few years ago right right that was um right in September of uh 19 2005 in fact and um I was very fortunate to have uh met uh da and and and Judy and Dan Shrum they invited me to be uh as a guest and I so I had a chance to stay at their home and it was Dan um Don's son who actually assisted us with the video taping and the audio taping so we basically have a a a great Archive of what happened very good all right let's take a break we'll come right back and hear that first clip with Donald Shum and uh as recorded as you just heard Reuben with him in just a couple minutes so stay right there okay and we're back Ruben Yuri Arte and Nori Torres and Mr Dan shum Dan are you on the line now yet all right we are getting Dan Shrum he'll be on momentarily I did get that second number thank you Reuben and we're calling him right now all right what we're going to do is listen to the first audio clip from Don shum Donald shum the father and here we go like a lantern going up and down a trail but then it came over there let me start that back again here here we go I saw a light it looked like a lantern going up and down a trail but then it came over the over the top of a tree and I got kind of excited then cuz I thought it was a helicopter from the forest service I stood between two of the fires that I built on the Rock and waved my arms and yelled and screamed and and uh finally that light started coming towards me so I was really relieved then cuz I thought it was a helicopter still until it got within oh maybe 60 ft or yards I'm not sure the distance at night but it just stood hovered there with no sound so then I I panicked cuz I didn't knew it was no helicopter I thought it was something from outer space but it looked like all I could see is a little about an 8 in glow so I thought it was just a little tiny you know Flying Saucer and then I uh I kind of panicked and I threw my bow up in the tree again and hand walked out there that Limb and got up in the tree I had all camouflage clothing on so I figured well they won't see me here you know but then this this light went a half circle around me over the canyon and I could see the shadow of the whole uh spacecraft and it was that was just a a light that was UN knows of it uh pretty amazing to be up there alone he had his bow and arrow with him camos on and uh this enormous craft flying overhead nobody else around he sounds as if he was able to literally put him it sounds like he was still living the experience I mean you hearing his voice and he was this had been what 40 years before something like that and uh how far before was the actual event Reuben the the event I'm sorry what was the question again yeah how far in the past was the event the time of the interview yeah uh well the the actual event happened September 5th of uh of 196 64 yeah and when did you interview him and I interviewed him on in September 2005 and it was uh we were able to do the audio as well as the actual video clips of him 41 years and as I say it sounds like he's still right there oh that's the thing about uh this whole case um and interviewing Don and and basically he was uh answering to the almost the similar questions that Mr Paul cery did back in 1965 and uh so 40 plus years later uh with additional questions uh just seeing his Expressions just seeing him reliving it uh and it he took me there to to that particular place just listening to his story and uh I just every time he would mention and and go in depth I you could you could tell that it really affected him not only him but as well as his entire family to which I'm sure Dan will share with you sure Dan is online with us right now welcome to the program Dan thank you very much for being here oh good evening hi we're going to turn him up a little louder so we can hear him turn uh Reuben down let's see if we can get a little more volume out of Dan all right Dan say something can you hear me yeah we got you oh good good did uh did your dad ever take you back to the location of this event no no um he I think they tried to he tried to Shield well him and my mom tried to Shield us kids as much as possible um because of the incident that happened on the base uh the base housing where um they had the two men uh come in and interview him and try to just really berate my dad and so I think they kind of tried to Shield us and all right let's go back to that now as as you recall it how soon after the event did the two men come to the house uh to our house they yeah you say two men came to try to talk your father out of the story basically he oh well that was that was on uh it was base housing uh they actually set up a meeting for my dad and my mom was there and uh they had like an old Woolen sack real toore out there and uh and it was nobody had lived in these houses it was just completely vacant and empty but uh they tried to tell my dad he was drunk and uh he was seeing things and there was Maneuvers and just every kind of unbearable yeah Li you can think of just trying to disway him what uh what agency did these men say they were from did they identify themselves as military government or how did it come off and were they wearing black I I think they were just uh regular civilian clothes if my mom if I if I gathered that right from my mom uhuh nothing really special I I don't I I don't really really okay I I'm trying to get his connection here how did they find out about this and contact your dad what what's the what's the chronology of events you had the actual experience in the forest dad comes home he told obviously somebody and somehow the government found out that about this or did he report it he work for Arrow jet at the time I understand well I think the first person they ever contacted was my uncle Gerald uh who was he was a nuclear physicist at the time and uh so they figured well he would know about radiation because my dad was fatigued chest hurting and and they just you know nobody knew what the symptoms of radiation sickness or poisoning was so he um so they went to him and they and he said well um oh I'm I'm sorry that was that was another time well it it's kind of weird it's there's so many things that kind of happened in our lives that I kind of get to jump around as far as the timeline but how do you think that these the two men originally found out that your dad had experienced something and and they were dispatched to try to talk him out of it how'd they find that out if I could just pop in for a second go ahead Ruben yeah yeah this is noi um I'm sorry no in the book uh Mr shum told us that um his W his mother-in-law knew an astronomy professor of hers uh that lived in the sacramental area and uh because you know this was related to something weird coming out of the sky they contacted this astronomer uh astronomy professor and actually he kind of interviewed them over the phone and then later they went to see him and unbeknown to them later this astronomy Professor uh from Sacramento contacted the local Airbase the the Air Force Base

there was one there were actually two Air Force bases in Sacramento and he contacted one of them and somehow of course one te made that initial contact with the Air Force the Air Force contacted their division at R Patterson Air airbase and they datton Ohio of course the legendary uh air base that's been related to that's been connected to so UFO incident and the two men the two Air Force officers were dispatched out of rright Patterson uh to set up this special meeting uh with Mr Shum and to tried to dissuade him from pursuing this you know any further revelation of his incident and to try to convince him that what he saw was nothing more than then some conventional explanation surely uh would would explain it all away so that was a sequence of events uh you know related to the Air Force's involvement in the case okay and the other interesting thing is after he talked to those two men after he and and Mrs shum talked to the two Air Force men out of right Patterson um later uh a week or two later uh Mr Shrum and several other of his friends and and relatives went out to the scene of the incident and they saw that the somebody had been there in large numbers and had essentially Rak the whole area around the tree uh I think he said a 50 diameter circle around the tree where Mr Trum had been when he had his UFO encounter had all been completely R clean and everything picked up so obviously somebody at the Air Force although they claimed uh that his story was just a delusion somebody at the Air Force obviously took it very seriously and went out there to the scene cleaned everything up how did they find the exact location uh Dan what is the uh what is the uh the pointer that led them to the exact spot do we know uh I believe it was my dad he actually told them I mean he was pretty trusting well everybody was pretty trusting of the uh Air Force at that time so um yeah he gave him a map with the exact location pinpointed on it and he gave us a copy of that same map which he redrew through later and and there would have been no difficulty for anybody to find it because he had drawn very clearly where lock Len Lakes were where they established the original base camp and then he put the distance between points to where the tree was where he had his encounter and so I mean everything was laid out for the Air Force all they had to do was just take that map that Mr shum Drew and just go out to the scene you know it was nothing for them to do that all right very interesting how many in your family Dan uh I have two older sisters and so there were five of you and all were involved with this how did you relate to your dad when he told you this story how did it go over with the family um they never really told me I just I kind of grew up hearing it in conversation with uncles and you know close relatives um so I just kind of grew up around it I the first I remember I was up at a uh a being babysat by a friend in the 70s I believe uhhuh and uh he went down to KJ radio in San Francisco and did the first on air uh program or actually his testimony um so your dad your dad went on KGO yeah yeah that was years ago yeah wa what approximately when oh it would have been 70 late '70s I think uh-huh when the two man tried to dissuade him from remembering what he had been through how successful were they uh could you repeat that I'm sorry how successful were the two men who tried to talk your dad out of what he had experienced did they not not ex successful at all because uh you know they you call my dad a liar and he's going to he's going to get pretty angry you know he's kind of a righteous uh um person you know upright doing the right thing and so they call they basically were calling him a liar and he he started getting really upset so good for him je I wanted to mention that clip number seven in clip number seven uh Mr shum talks about speaking to the Air Force if he wanted to to put that in um if you have a chance sure you want to play that right now yeah number seven the after effect okay we'll do that all right here we go did you have any nightmares or well for a year I had I mean screaming nightmares I mean I'd wake up uh yelling those eyes those eyes and uh I'd be just a cold sweat just be drenched with sweat what happened before the Air Force well they made an appointment with two post representatives of the Air Force and they tried to disillusion me they said well you know the Japanese might have had somebody up there there you know they were still they said there boy scouts dressed up you know in costume just to scare somebody and I said yeah I'm sure they're going to spend all night and keep a guy in a tree you know oh then they said the Army probably Biv whacked up there and was in a training camp so my father-in-law was in the Air Force so he called and found out there was no military in that area for any reason cuz it was it was pretty desolate area and they tried to disillusion me in every way they could and they they took the Arro head the the main one and uh they said well we we'll get back to you and you can have this back soon as we get through with it which I never did but when I went back up there during rifle season I found the other Arrow the third one and when we went back the area had been R there's an area probably 50 ft around that tree and there was cigarette packages and cigar butts and so I know the Air Force checked it out pretty good and they they had an easy way to find it cuz it was there was an orange circle around that tree that where had caught little fires and it it was showing orange so it they had no problem finding it and I I I marked on the map that they had where it was the location am I am I hearing right uh Reuben that the uh the two guys from the Air Force tried to tell him that this was possibly some Japanese left over from World War II is that what I I always chuckle when I hear that yes um again they were trying to dissuade them and and saying that they're Renegade Japanese you know referring back to World War II yeah and then of course they they throw out the Boy Scouts and and as Don mentioned I mean you know he just was going to buy their explanations because it was all you know this all part of the uh trying to um negate his story so yes that's exactly true and U pretty crazy yeah it's amazing but at length that they go through one thing that um that Don mentioned in there and in fact last week uh I had an opportunity with with Noy's help um I went up to that area and I was approximately about 2 miles from the actual uh location but it's a I I wasn't able to hike or climb but it's a very rugged area both noi and I were just to totally amazed with the how thick that area is in terms of forest and a lot of granite uh rock formations and even though the main road is only it's Highway Interstate 80 and then there's a frontage road which is which is um Highway the Old Highway 40 where uh da and his and his companions had camp out not too not too far away from the main road but once you leave that yeah you're in total Wilderness so um just trying to climb up those steep rocks uh eventually we hope to go there time to Ground Zero but it gave us a really good idea how how rough and terrain that was Dan Dan Shrum the family and you heard them say that your dad had and you heard your dad say he had nightmares screaming nightmares for a year how did he eventually deal with this that he he sounds like a very pragmatic man very logical No Nonsense well I I I don't know as a as a kid we just kind of uh we did a lot of family you know outings uh camping going up to my uncles we were always pretty busy so I think maybe that that was kind of his way of you know getting getting away from it you know from starting with my oldest sister and then my the second sister um but I mean my whole childhood was kind of filled with camping trips and this and that so I I think it was just kind of preoccupation to dull it uh you know the pain I guess makes sense well he went through something that uh we're going to hear more about as we go on uh noi go ahead and pick up the story we've got uh more audio clips whenever you'd like so yeah I I wanted to add to what to what Dan just said that uh Mr shum uh indicated that one of the things that was helpful to him in the healing process later on he underwent regressive hypnotherapy uh at the suggestion of of a number of folks who were working on the case at that at that time including Paul cery so uh the hypnotherapist was able to take Mr shum back to the night that he was up in that tree and he saw the 150t long UFO uh hovering just a short distance from him and then he encountered these strange beings that came up and looked straight up into the tree at him and um it became clear to Mr Shrum that they never had been able to reach him even though he was blacked out for part of the time uh it gave him a great peace of mind to know that he had they had never actually reached him and uh he was able to uh keep himself from being abducted so that also I think helped Jeff in terms of bringing him some peace of mind uh in the Years afterward when he was he was trying to recover and suffering some of the symptoms of what we would Now call post-traumatic stress Sy syndrome it was unknown of course in the early 60s yes of course but But continuing the story Mr shrome was up in that tree he saw what he describes as a mother ship which was this large cylindrical object 150 ft in length about the size of a 14 story building turned on its side and then he saw three Windows appear on it on the side of the ship on on its Hall three rectangular windows and a smaller ship came out of the middle window as we're going to hear in uh in clip number two the the Scout ship arrived very good we'll do that in just a couple minutes as we continue clip with Donald shum describing the amazing ship that hovered right near the tree he was in next glad you're with us tonight as we work our way through a fascinating story just sit back and be ready for what you're going to hear this is uh this is amazing uh for the first time the son of the man who experienced this Donald shum Dan shum is with us and he is talking to all of us speaking out for the first time anywhere in the world about this did you get to a point later on that this was talked about openly and and very often in the family Dan or was it was it just kind of swept aside and and put in a a Foot Locker and and left left to its own devices what happened how did your family handle it over the years um well me being the youngest uh my perception of course is different from my oldest sister she was I think two at the time when this incident happened how old were you I wasn't even born yet I and you are you telling me you can't can't remember no I mean I was I was born in 1970 but growing up just kidding just kidding Dan oh sorry uh but you know growing up in it they just uh you know my mom would have her her folder out which would have a lot of UFO clipping she wanted to know why this thing happened to her husband and and uh and like I said she tried to Shield us kids from uh you know we never went to UFO conventions or anything like that we just kind of grew up a normal family and uh sure as my dad he you know us us children and uh my mom were very very important to him did he ever sit you down as a family and and kind of once and for all I'm going to tell you all the whole story right now so you all have a complete understanding of it and you can grasp it and hold it or did it just kind of come out in pieces over time um it yeah it was it was just never it was kind of one of those normal things where you know he talk to my mom and say oh oh yeah you know this thing that happened and then she would say oh yeah and so we we kind of heard it bits and pieces kind of growing up and then and then I see yeah it was never it was never kind of sit down never formally presented so to speak okay yeah um we had a couple people show up at the house and of course those kids were ushered outside to play and you know and later on we heard that they were uh I think one of them was uh um hypn hypnotist maybe or hypnotherapist yeah again I was just I was little I was I was just a little kid who who sent these two people did your dad did your dad request them and they came out to help him try to remember more did someone else send them do you know that's interesting I think well I think no could probably answer that a lot better what about that that was uh that was Paul stery who at the time was representing Nik okay before yeah and he he had some friends who had done hypn therapy on on UFO um abductees um UFO eyewitnesses so he arranged for this hypnotherapist to go visit uh Mr shum very good all right let's listen to the second clip now of Donald shum talking about the enormous craft that came up uh down the ridge line and adjacent to the tree he was up in for the night this is uh this is quite a quite a thing and then I saw three panels of light like Windows or whatever and uh I saw a Flash come from the bottom of the center one and just saw a dark object go down in the canyon and then I lost track of it then the next thing I saw was saw a little blinking light up on the top of originally where the the first one came from well at that time all I saw is a Flash and saw a dark object go down a dark object with it with the kind what shape was it well I couldn't really say it was went so fast but then I I saw when it landed up on the up on the bridge that it uh I could see like a half I could only see part of the top but it had a little light on it look like a the top of a flying saucer that I'd seen in pictures uh like a dome or yeah like a dome so an object left the we'll call it a mother mother ship and it flew down and then it flew up and landed fairly near Donald Trum is that is that correct noi yeah that's correct and that was when just a few moments later he heard these this trudging through the bushes and it was clear to him that something was headed his way and when you have a chance you're going to listen we're going to hear in the next clip when he describes the coming of these strange beings that appeared on the scene just a few moments after this smaller ship landed near him okay all right let's take a lesson and I heard some thrashing through the brush in probably 5 10 minutes these two humanoids come out of the brush and they kind of broke some of the brush off and and uh was looking at it then they came straight underneath the tree and looked up at me and I I knew right then I was fingered they found you yeah they found me can you describe them for us thatly what they yeah they were looked like uh four to 5 ft of course I'm looking down at them so they they'd be shorter than they probably are and they had a silvery like a one piece suit on and it seemed like it had the the joints puffy joints you know on the shoulders and and the elbows and and the legs I didn't see that clear were you able to see their faces no it was just a kind of a dark Shadow I could see the the two uh like eyes that were look like welding goggles to me they're the same as welding goggles about 2 in in diameter it reminded me just like I said like a welding goggles and then the rest of the face was kind of a blur I couldn't see looking down at him now that's a obviously a typical World War II Japanese military uniform isn't it uniform just just kidding guys that's a very good description of something that is very frightening how high off the ground was uh was your dad Dan shum approximately in that tree oh you know I I uh I'm not too much of a detail person I mean like I said I I uh I kind of refer to others my my mother kept all that information so I've got bits and pieces and it's kind of scattered so experts like noi or Reuben she was very supportive obviously a wonderful wonderful mom uh great companion he was about six feet off the ground uh Jeff uh he was he he got up on top of a large Boulder uh um and then from the top of the boulder to the nearest branch of the tree was about 6 ft uh so these creatures uh these two humanoids that appeared on the scene were standing right at the base of the tree just a little bit more than 6 ft below him looking up at him he could see these huge round eyes that looked like they were looked like the the humanoids were wearing doggles that was the impression that he got were were they or were they not wearing eye cover what do we think he doesn't he doesn't know for sure I I've heard him in many interviews including the original interviews that uh Paul stery did back in 1965 and compared it to what he told Ruben in 2007 there's very little variation in his story the rest of their faces was just a dark kind of a Dark Void and the only thing that he could really distinguish were this These roundish Eyes large round eyes and that kind of dominated face and the rest of the face was just dark is is the only way uh that he described it and this what time of day is this again approximately noi okay the whole thing uh Sundown was at about 700 p.m. Pacific time that day and he cited the Mother Ship about 2 hours after Sundown which would be about 900 p.m. Pacific and then the humanoid appeared sometime between 9:30 and 10 p.m. all if he jumps up on a boulder let's say it's 3 or 4 feet tall and goes 6 feet further than that let's put him at the total of 10 ft off the ground approximately that' be pretty close 10 to 12 yeah yeah and the humanoids were 4 to 5T tall so if 5T yeah if 5T if he's 10t up uh he's he's not much Out Of Reach of their heads at Arms Reach I mean he's awfully close this is not like he's 25 ft up and they're way down below him and it was clear to Mr shroom right away I mean he sends deep in his soul as he has told us several times that they were they were out to get him is to use his terminology and as we hear the vi the audio clips we're going to hear it from him as well he says you know people have told him people have told us things like maybe they didn't mean you any harm maybe they weren't intending to do anything to you but deep down in his in his heart you know he felt this intense pressure to fight these creatures off and to not allow himself to be taken by them well he was a specimen that's essentially the feeling that he got that he was going yeah let me listen uh to this again the clip we just listened to I want to hear that a second time and I heard some thrashing through the brush and probably 5 10 minutes these two humanoids come out of the brush and they kind of broke some of the brush off and and uh was looking at it then they came straight underneath the tree and looked up at me and I I knew right then I was fingered they found you yeah they found me can you describe them for us that was briefly what they yeah they were looked like uh four to 5T of course I'm looking down at them so they they'd be shorter than they probably are and they had a silvery like a one piece suit on and it seemed like it had the the joints puffy joints you know on the shoulders and the and elbows and and the legs I didn't see that clear were you able to see their faces no it was just a kind of a dark shadow I could see the the two uh like eyes that were looked like welding goggles to me they the same as welding goggles about 2 in in diameter it reminded me just like I said like a welding goggles and then the rest of the face was kind of a blur I couldn't see looking down at him very interesting uh Dan shum we have to go to a commercial break here any comment on what your dad's saying here uh well I know that uh I know it really bugged him he said so over the years but um um it kind of I said you know I I know that uh one one thing that he never uh talked about too much uh just one of those little detail things was that they uh they they relocated all all the bad Bears into that area so was actually one of his concerns of why he went up in the tree in the in the first place oh really yeah so the dangerous bears were relocated to that part of the forest yeah interesting yeah well there was claw marks on just about every tree uhhuh your dad uh did a wonderful job describing that how do you feel when you hear your dad talking about this well um I wouldn't be here if he didn't so yeah that's a that's a good thing very good okay excellent all right stand by we'll take a break and come back more audio clips ahead as we continue to walk through this astounding event in the Tahoe National Forest in 1964 okay welcome back

we're talking about the amazing Donald Shrum 1964 case in the Tahoe national forest all right uh Ruben or no you want to set up the next clip and we'll uh go go ahead and listen to that yeah well what happened next Jeff was Mr Shrum saw the approach of these humanoid type figures right down below yeah yeah they came came right out of the brush they looked up at the tree at him in the tree where he was trying to hide and and hoping that all this action would pass by uhuh you know he realized he he was in the middle of something that that uh carried some profound possible consequences for him so uh but what happened next was even more incredible because there appeared another type of being that had obviously come out of the same ship which Mr Shrum refers to as a scout ship uh and this other uh creature was extremely distinct from the humanoid creatures and in the next video clip um that we're going to hear Mr Shrum's talking about the appearance of this creature that he described as a robot looking like a robot mhm now the the fascinating thing about this is that these beings and the robot or whatever it was were basically right below him I mean they were almost spitting distance I guess that close absolutely pretty amazing in fact uh in fact the humanoids at one point uh climbed on top of the large Boulder at the base of the tree and started to climb up after him he could have reached out and touched them he was actually kicking at their hand and at their you know at their head wow trying to come up all right here we go hang on then I saw two flashing red orange eyes just picking his way down the ridge Just Between the rocks and and around them and everything and come down and was on the this big boulder this big flat Rock and then uh he kind of looked up at me and he moved his hand through the fires Cinders and kind of scattered them then he come down up on the Rock he was about 7 ft from me and uh then he he touched his mouth and uh kind of a steam Vapor come out of his mouth and it lit up his face so I could see some detail and then uh I I blacked out when that steam hit me kind of took the air from me and I'd gas for air and then black out and I fell over my bow that's the only thing that kept me in the tree and then uh so I figured they were out to get me then the eyes of this other creature like uh the robot what would that look like to you it had kind of like fire it's kind of a orangish reddish orange or yellowish orange it kind of flickered like fire and they're about the same diameter as about 2 in in diameter as the humanoids did you hear any noise between them any communication was there any you know I heard a kind of a A cing or almost like an owl but it could have been an owl you know that up there but it just kind of fit in with with them fascinating again um the the idea that he fell out of the tree and fell across his bow and that's the only thing that kept him up in the tree he wasn't in the harness apparently no at that at that point he he was not harnessed up to the branch yet uh because he had gone down for a while when he thought the helicopter was coming his way he he had unharnessed himself and so when he got back up there he he did not attach the harness until later uh after he had been uh you know this gas started coming up from this creature from this mechanical looking creature the gas would drift up into the tree and it would cause him to pass out for a few seconds must have been some type of a sixian well after after that happened a few times he decided to harness himself up he he went up higher in the tree and and uh reattached his harness but that wasn't until later so this robot how tall was the if we're going to call it a robot how tall was the robot again compared to the two well here's the interesting thing Jeff and spent a lot of time listening to Mr Shrum's testimony and and also reading the documents in his case he has said that both the humanoids and the creatures which he described as robots were both about 5' tall and had the same general appearance they had the roundish eyes that looked sort of like someone wearing welder's goggles they had the dark face which seemed more or less featureless except for the eyes and they were both dressed more or less the same way kind of in a kind of a bulky type could have been a suit of some kind a space suit perhaps or could have just been their physical stature but they were very very similar but the impression that Mr Shrum got from looking down at them from up in the tree was that the creature that he described as a robot seemed to move more mechanically or more stiffly and so therefore to differentiate between the two type he called the second uh being he called him a robot also the eyes were different they had that reddish orange glow as well and maybe a little bit bulkier the the robotic creature versus the humanoid but but they were very similar in appearance actually uhuh uhuh the the robotic creature released some kind of exix xixia gas or knock C gas something to put him out and he lost he lost Consciousness for I would you say a minute or two and and during that interval the humanoids would attempt to climb the tree so by the time by the time Mr shum was came back to his census those those guys were almost up close to him and and he would start you know kicking at them and shaking the tree uh to keep keep from being abducted as we're going to hear in the next clip when when you get ready to play it it's going to talk about this battle between Mr Shrum and these creatures that went on for hours all night long and he was he was in such bad shape he was you know without sleep he was he he was battling for his life he was thinking about his his young wife and his his newly born daughter and he was struggling in a really fierce battle uh kind of his own personal War of the World to survive this or de fighting for his life wow okay let's uh take a listen to the next clip set this one up again if you would please noi yeah this is in this clip he tells the whole heart of the matter that long approximately 12-hour long struggle for survival that went on all night long he described how the creatures came after him and his very attempts to fight him off by shooting the arrows down at them by setting stuff on fire parts of his clothing and so forth and sending fire down at them he describes the big battle that occurred all night long uh in that tree where he was fighting for his life all right here we go I had a 60 lb bow which is a very high velocity see see how the robot the only thing that was causing me harm I shot the chest area and it has the velocity of a rifle at that that distance cuz I'm only about 7 8 ft from him and it when I hit the chest the Sparks would fly like an arc welder kind of and then that that robot backed up and almost knocked him down he kind of fell back against The Rock and the two at the at the bottom took off and headed to for the brush and stood out there about 30 ft from me and uh then uh I shot two more arrows and about the same time sequence these uh two humanoids would every time I'd shoot they'd go back up into the the brush just out of just almost out of sight from me then I I run out of uh arrows so only had three left and uh I thought well I had that's when palade her is just just I mean the cap I had on was just soaked with oil this for your hair yeah from my hair yeah yeah yeah pade and uh I always carried all kinds of books and matches with me when I hunted and so I lit that cap and it just blazed up and I dropped it down the base of the tree and just in that instant they they moved back about 12 15 ft and the the I I glanced over at the the ship that was was uh over the canyon kind of almost level with me and it was almost out of sight it was just like a star it moved that fast just in that second so then I got the idea that they're scared to fire so I I burned everything but my t-shirt and my jeans and uh come to find out later on that that it was 32° out and I was shaking and kind of Overexposed for the weather oh when I throw threw my after my hat I threw my canteen down and uh they they picked it up and looked at it and threw it back down and I at one time I threw uh I had a bunch of change and I threw it down and they they all kind of gathered around it somebody told me on the coins that it gets dates it gets pictures you know so there was maybe that was the reason they were that they got most of the coins you didn't find any no what about the robot creature what what did this well after after I uh started burning stuff and throwing it down and I even uh uh tied some some of my shirt that I ripped up uh to a compass so I could try to hit some brush cuz there wasn't nothing right underneath the tree and then uh I caught a little pile of brush on fire I figured that would bring the calvary but uh when I run out of stuff to burn I headed for the top of the tree and then then i' I'd uh it was pretty sparse tree I could see down to the ground and I broke off the top and threw it down and and anytime I throw down or or shake the tree these humanoids would back up when I was up in the top of that tree I uh thought about just jumping off and jumping down the canyon and just killing myself but the only thing that kept me going is I had the little girl my wife that kept me fighting you can hear the emotion in Donald shum right there he had a family and he damn well wanted to get back to it that's uh that's remarkable we're going to take a break and we'll come right back with more in just a couple of minutes okay just hearing a remarkable story uh Dan Shrum when you hear your dad describing that night and you hear the emotion in his voice about wanting to get back to his family knowing in his mind it he'd probably be gone if he gave up in any way that he was that close to perhaps Vanishing from this planet yeah it's uh it's kind of hard to hear um my dad you know his emotion I mean it's just uh well I mean it's personal for me because I mean he's my dad so of course um you know when to hear him get emotional like that I know that's it's genuine insincere he's not a man who just cries at the you know drop of a dime so right um but when he does he he's you know he's always been a very sincere open person about you know who he is and you know salt of the earth you wouldn't hear anything more sincere from anybody than that what we just heard um Reuben this idea of being in a tree fighting for your life against three things two humanoids and a perhaps a robot or some automated something that shouldn't exist that shouldn't be there in 1964 is is pretty amazing for him to come home and tell that story to anybody I think in a way is even more amazing a lot of people wouldn't initially uh when he got back to the camp he shared that same story with with his companions and one of them did see uh an object fly over um in that J same general area but the fact that he was able to share this with his wife and and and his close family um I'm sure they must have thought it was totally amazing but you know to this day it's still there embedded in its mind so as noi had said uh don was sharing with us his War of the Worlds noi any other details about that we should know about the coins fascinating the idea a lot of our listeners may not know what Pomade is Pomade was a a petroleum based kind of like Vaseline uh that men used to put on their hair in the ' 50s and early 60s Elvis used to certainly use it to get the height of his hair to hold it up it was kind of like what they call Moose now but it was it was pretty stiff and that actually was flammable it's interesting he took his hat off and and lit it well one of the interesting things je we we've received a lot of comments of course since our book came out and I have received just a multitude of comments from people telling telling us how amazed they are that m shum with with the few resources that he had at hand mhm was you know he only had three three arrows and had yeah he only had his clothes with the with the little bit of resources that he had he was able to fight off these creatures all night long that really impresses people now this this went on for hours they what did they do they kept coming toward the tree and trying to climb it uh were were they standing around uh looking plotting scheming uh and and the lighting the visibility could not have been very good he described their eyes as being bright and red but other than that what kind of lighting was available so there was a the moon was out and he had a little bit of lighting from that but mainly it was just uh when the creatures for example when the robotic type creatures would issue out the smoke there was a little bit of lighting effect associated with that and he could see their faces at that point to some extent uh but the amazing part of the story happens next Jeff because what happens is another robotic type creature arrives at the scene and they make one final huge assault to try to get Mr Shrum out of the tree and that's what's covered in the next clip uh the final the final battle and what happened after that and this went on again for how many hours no approximately 12 hours from the time that he first saw the mothership until the time that he awoke uh regained Consciousness and was just hanging from the tree alone as we're going to hear amazing yeah we have to take a break here and we'll come back and I'd like to actually listen to that last clip again and then we'll move into the the big battle as well Dan Shrum anything to add at this point um uh well I guess a little detail about the whole area uh other than Bears was uh lightning strikes there that was actually an area that was uh quite frequent and most of the trees actually is like every other tree was burnt by lightning or or struck by lightning my dad even said it just kind of spiraled down on some of them interesting an odd place in the forest for sure yeah all right okay hold on we'll come right back and listen to some more of Donald Shrum describing an epic battle to save his life literally he obviously could have been headed for a pickle jar on board that ship who knows what they would have done with him all right we shall continue in just a couple minutes okay let's get right back to our really amazing story here what I'd like to do is play that last clip again then we'll move on to the final battle here again the descriptions by the man who experienced it Donald Shrum bow which is a very high velocity see see how the robot the only thing that was causing me harm I shot the chest area and it has the velocity of a rifle at that that that distance cuz I'm only about 7 8 ft from him and it when I hit the chest the Sparks would fly like an arc welder kind of and then that that robot backed up and almost knocked him down he kind of fell back against The Rock and the two at the at the bottom took off and headed for the brush and stood out there about 30 ft from me and uh then uh I shot two more arrows and about the same time sequence these uh two humanoids would every time I'd shoot they'd go back up into the the brush just out of just almost out of sight from me then I I run out of uh arrows so I only had three left and uh I thought well I had that's when palade her it just I mean the cap I had on was just soaked with oil this for your hair yeah for my hair yeah yeah Pomade and uh I always carried all kinds of books and matches with me when I hunted and so I lit that cap and it just blazed up and I dropped it down the base of the tree and just in that instant they they moved back about 12 15 ft and the the I I glanced over at the the ship that was uh over the canyon kind of almost level with me and it was almost out of sight it was just like a star it moved that fast just in that second so then I got the idea that they're scared to fire so I I burned everything but my t-shirt and my jeans and uh come to find out later on that that it was 32° out and I was shaking and kind of Overexposed for the weather well when I throw threw my after my hat I threw my canteen down and uh they they picked it up and looked at it and threw it back down and I at one time I threw uh I had a bunch of change and I threw it down and they they all kind of gathered around it somebody told me on the coins that it gets dates get pictures you know so there was maybe that was the reason they were that they got most of the coins you didn't find any no what about the robot creature what what did this well after I uh started burning stuffff and throwing it down and I even uh uh tied some some of my shirt that I ripped up uh to uh Compass so I could try to hit some brush cuz there wasn't nothing right underneath the tree and then uh I caught a little pile of brush on fire I figured that would bring the calvary but uh when I run out of stuff to burn I headed for the top of the tree and then then i' I'd uh it was pretty sparse tree I could see down to the ground and I broke off the top and threw it down and and anytime I throw down or or shake the tree these humanoids would back up when I was up in the top of that tree I uh thought about just jumping off and jumping down the canyon and just killing myself but the only thing that kept me going is I had the little girl my wife that kept me fighting wow okay all right let's go on to the next one this is the final battle after I went to the top of the tree I I had a military belt and I moved it out to the last hitch and and put it around me and the and the tree so in case I did get gas they wouldn't I wouldn't fall down and then finally these two humanoids stepped back from the tree and another robot came and it was two just uh about the same place that the two humanoids were and this they stood facing each other and the Flames just like uh lightning real real bright and just came between them and uh then the gas was so thick coming up the tree that it it it would uh dissipate just about the time I got to me but then that's when I'd start the gas for air and and then when I woke up from that is uh it was light but the sun hadn't come up yet and uh I was just hanging by my belt my head down my feet down and they were gone well I knew I made it I lived through the night just go back did you did you fall asleep or I mean or this gas was it did it overwhelm you uh yeah that's when it just it completely engulfed the whole tree and and got up to me and at I don't know how long I was I was out but it was just uh you could see just a dim glow of this sun in the on the clouds and stuff not clouds but in the sky and in uh when I woke up it was light but the sun hadn't come up yet I got down and I I found found my compass and and no coins the coins were gone and my canteen but I knew uh which way I shot the arrow and which way it would Arc so I found two of them and uh and tried to make my way back to camp and I got almost to camp and I just kind of fatigue and everything I just laid down and I heard this my buddy hunting buddy uh whistling and I yelled at him and he he come picked me up and help me to Camp I slept for about 6 hours cuz I'd been up all night and then they didn't bug me until you know until I woke up then uh I told them more of the story what was what was their reaction well they believed me cuz they they saw condition I was in well pretty incredible pretty incredible comments on that Dan your dad really really put it on the line there and toughed it out and made it or you wouldn't you may not have had a daddy yeah um you know and I'm kind of a chip off at the old block I uh I kind of have a well survivalist attitude I guess well that that and you know just kind of hanging around him I've gone hunting with him and uh you know desert four-wheel runs with him uh we had a few spooky adventures where uh we thought we were accidentally in a missile testing site but so um yeah he's uh I'm I'm actually really proud to be his son he's uh he's been an excellent father and um just a you know anybody anybody who met him has been Charmed by him he's he's just kind of a quiet very Charming Man um but uh that's pretty much it I I I can't uh say any more about him other than that how do you feel about the story now being put in a book and all that I guess your dad would be pretty pleased with the way it's come out it's it's really it's kind of strange because uh I mean you know the the same canteen that uh that the alien picked up is the same one that I used to play with when I was a kid I used to actually have that same belt and and the canteen and I you know I got hours of enjoyment out of playing army until my parents took it away from me but uh you know as a kid you don't even think about stuff like that but you know when you're older you go oh my gosh I actually was playing with the same canteen I have the bow um my shortly after that my mom says well you got to get rid of one of your bows and so he took that bow and gave it to my uncle and then later on when in my teenage years my uncle gave me that bow so I actually have his bow the same one very nice do we know what happened to the canteen and the belt um he still has it good yeah well very good all right hang on to that for sure all right time for a little break and we'll come right back okay and we're back let's go one more time and listen to that uh final clip here where Don talks about uh the aftermath did you have nightmares or well for a year I had I mean screaming nightmares I mean I'd wake up uh yelling those eyes those eyes and uh I'd be just a cold sweat just be drenched with sweat what happened for the Air Force well they made an appointment with two po representatives of the Air Force and they tried to disillusion me they said well you know the Japanese might have had somebody up there you know they still so they said there boy scouts dressed up you know in csum just to scare somebody and I said yeah I'm sure they're going to spend all night and keep a guy in a tree you know oh then they said the Army probably B Biv whacked up there and it was in a training camp so my father-in-law was in the Air Force so he called and found out there was no military in that area for any reason cuz it was it was pretty desolate area and they tried to disillusion me in every way they could and they they took the arrow head the the main one and uh they said well we we'll get back to you and you can have this back soon as we get through with it which I never did but when I went back up there during rifle season I found the other Arrow the third one and when we went back the area had been raked is's an area probably 50 ft around that tree and there was cigarette packages and cigar butts and so I know the Air Force checked it out pretty good and they they had an easy way to find it cuz it was there's an orange circle around that tree that where had caught little fires and it it was showing orange so it they had no problem finding it and I I I marked on the map that they had where it was the location I don't mean to sound trite but this is obviously a great screenplay waiting to happen would you have a problem uh Dan with this story being made into a film no not at all um you know cuz it there's there's so many unanswered questions um you know we we don't know uh if somebody reported it out of Reno or inclin Village or Tahoe even um um I've always been Wonder wondering if uh the reason that they were in the area to begin with these beings uh was because of a incredibly High electromagnetic Fields uh generated by like a pizo effect caused by the granite MH and uh that's always kind of uh kind of stuck in my head I I've always kind of studied science uh hard science for ever since I was a little kid so that's that's kind of a nagging question I've always had if anybody's actually you know uh taken samples from that area do we know what happened to the other arrow that your dad found you know I have no idea uh uh he probably would have hidden that away well I know I know my sister's got some of the uh uh not the actual arrows that he got but they're the same type that he made cuz they're all handmade oh he made his own W yeah yeah that's yeah they didn't really have kits you just kind of got a piece of cedar wood and uh glued duck feathers to it and shwed it and put a tip on that was it you he did he shoot all the arrows at the robots or did he take a shot at the humanoids as well do you know he obviously he was a superior Archer he was very good with it well he um I think he said that he um he knew that if he if he shot one of the creatures he'd probably die good thinking he he figured he' just shoot it at the robot it wouldn't kill it but it would harm it scare it away that kind of thing mhh I don't know if I could think as logically and quickly as as your dad did Dan that uh that was very morning he was obviously sweating and that Pomade went right through the Hat got obviously gooey and and he he thought to light it on fire that's that's really amazing yeah well I think him being a hunter and uh but also I mean he was a highly skilled uh technician at Aerojet General I mean not everybody could actually p uh weld rocket Chambers cuz it was like tissue paper and if you stopped you'd burn a hole through it and then you're talking 100 of thousands of dollars worth of a rocket chamber being thrown away for a plis or Titan missile I mean he's just you know he was highly skilled at what he did so I think it's uh that and his hunting skills and uh his background uh growing up in Arkansas kind of made him who he is very good uh Ruben anything to add to this we have about uh six minutes left you still there Ruben hear me yeah go ahead okay what what U as Dan was mentioning that uh his father is a very very intelligent very skillful and resourceful person he uses wits and that's what made and made him survive and that's the thing that really impressed me I was able how he was able to out with these guys or who knows what could have happened and knowing I had discussed what what would have happened if uh if Dawn had a rifle maybe that would have been a whole different uh turn of events but the fact that he used that Don used these primitive weapons of using the bow and arrow fire and whatever at his disposal to stay alive and as a result of this we we now have this incredible story we have Dan in the background there and and thanks to noi and and Judy and all the other people to made to make this book happen so what's what's amazing to me and I'm not taking one Speck away from from Don's efforts but you'd think that a technology that could fly a large craft with smaller craft in it ex expeditionary craft Scout craft retrieval craft wouldn't have the the ability to go up and and knock something out with other than some kind of a gas and it seems a little weird to me well in our book there are other examples of other cases where um Witnesses have have come across extraterrestrials where they actually had used gas well what was the one back East that uh is in uh Frank fuso's book you know what I mean oh the U no do you remember the the the monster or the creature or something they call it the black not Backwoods creature anyway you know what I mean yeah that was that was a bigger object and it also allegedly emitted some kind of gas exactly and I and uh no he had a chance to talk with Travis Walton and Travis in his story he mentioned how the extraterrestrials also use gas to knock him out as well so it's interesting how they they use the gas as as one of their ways of to anesthetize people yeah mhm well uh they viously weren't a particularly violent species or they would have killed him and taken him Tak away you know dead I'd like to add that uh you know if you were going to collect a sample um you wouldn't want to contaminate it with any kind of toxins um wouldn't think so so you know if you you know if they could have used a gunny sack if they had one at the time they probably would have no all right anything else that you can think of Dan that you'd like to add to the story tonight which is just fascinating you're obviously rightfully proud of your dad that uh is an amazing amazing encounter and an even more of an amazing I guess you'd have to call it uh will to live he just he withstood things a few other people probably would well you know I like I said if if uh if it was any other technology like a rifle or a gun uh you know if they had Superior Weaponry they probably would have either uh fused the metal or or uh or uh you know caused it to jam up or this or red become red hot or you know with h induction and uh but uh I think because it's a bow and arrow you can't really control wood so good old wood wax and string um you know primitive kind of winds every time all right Amazing Story uh noi um the book is out and we should tell people again how to get it and anything you want to add to the narrative as well yeah just a fascinating story I've just been sitting here listening to Dan listening to Reuben just fantastic uh to hear about this man's courageous struggle the book is available at our website Roswell books.com it's also sold at all the online retailers Amazon Barnes & Noble and so forth if they'll just search for aliens in the forest on Amazon or we have the links uh the links to the Amazon page as well on our website Roswell books.com and Ruben and I have actually been speaking at various conferences and festivals about the aliens in the forest encounter and we're planning to do so again at the uh at the border Zone International UFO Festival in Presidio coming up in oo on October 19th and 20th um in presidio Texas so uh we'll be Ruben and I will be reunited there to speak about both the Mexico's Roswell incident which we could do a whole show about hopefully in the near future with you Jeff sure that'd be fun as well as aliens in the force and I want to just send a shout out to Brad Newton who's been um we were hoping to get him on but we didn't have the time uh he's been putting together that uh UFO Festival we're going to have down in Presidio Texas a wonderful Charming little town on the Texas Mexico border in the Big Ben country when is that happening that's happening on October 19th and 20th so in a couple of months well we'll bring him on next time you guys are back with us that sounds good okay uh let me thank uh Dan Shrum very much for being here and sharing for the first time his views on all this thank you Dan it was really nice oh thank you for having me okay all right and uh Reuben thank you my friend take care of yourself uh and again let's just honor the memory of that wonderful Joyce Murphy for a moment uh what wonderful programs she provided for us years and years ago yes thank you so much okay all right and noi thanks my friend for being here and making this all possible with Ruben it was great thank you okay talk soon byee all right okay well that's been quite a program and quite a week thanks so much for being here hope you have a good weekend take care

here close quote and when Terry Sherman told me that that that was the closest that he'd ever gotten and the description one was a large humanoid the other falls into the category of what we might call either a tall thin blonde or some kind of non-human it made me wonder did you and any of the group in the seven-year research ever get any more details about different types being seen by the scientists by uh the Shermans by anyone on that ranch oh quite a few quite quite a few reports uh not only from the scientists who were there from the Sherman family that lived there from the neighbors who had seen this kind of stuff uh there's different categories there's the creature reports there was a one incident that happened with well the wolf I want to go back to the wolf for a second you told that that story Linda at the beginning of the program I should add that um after the nids folks came onto the property and heard that story from the Shermans they did a little sort of like a a photo lineup as as police might do with different kinds of wolves and they showed it to the family and all the family members picked out the one that looked most like the one that had appeared there with the the bulletproof qualities and the wolf that they picked was a Dire Wolf which went extinct about 10,000 years ago uh the fur that you mentioned that flew off of this Beast uh when the Rancher made his sixth and final shot uh when he came back from the the mud pit where this thing disappeared Into Thin Air he picked it up I I I suppose if he had held on to that sample uh we'd have some more answers now but he didn't I mean he's not an investigator that was what happened on the first day that the family moved on to the property but he said that that fur that flesh smelled like rotten meat as if it had been out in the uh out in the in the Sun for a couple of weeks or at least days there were other creatures that were seen uh both before during and after uh the nids team was there one that looked like a huge muscular hyena with a big furry tail that was slashing at the hubs of the horses when the Rancher and his wife came back from town he jumps out yells at it and it runs away up towards Skinwalker Ridge and jumps and and poof just goes like Into Thin Air goes away the H's Hooves uh it legs were scratched up as if this thing had been playing with it there was a creature after a very dramatic calf mutilation that happened in broad daylight that you made reference to in the introduction the Rancher and his wife uh are are tagging the ears of newborn calvs the first one they come to is about 50 yards away from the ranch house and they go on about the uh uh on the pasture they're they're another hundred yards away or so and they hear the the mother cow making a whole bunch of noise they look back and she's dragging her leg and going around in circles her eyes bugging out they rush back over and they see that the calf that they had just tagged a short time before is completely stripped of Flesh uh completely stripped uh it's it's one of its legs pulled out and thrown almost in ritualistic fashion no blood on the ground just nothing left there but skin and phone they did some analysis they had a team come in and and uh took samples send it to Independent labs and determined that whatever had done this in broad daylight right there with the Rancher and his wife in the pasture had uh used very sharp instruments one was a a heavy machete like instrument the other like a scalpel and they had done it in broad daylight and were undetected now that night the nids team is on the ranch they're all on high alert everybody is the dogs on the property are hiding they hear something Out Among the the C cows on the pasture the Rancher grabs his gun goes jumps in his truck he's determined not to lose another cow and he goes barreling across the pasture jumps out of his truck shines his light on this tree he sees a creature it's almost like a big bear a big round black bear at the bottom of the tree and then up in the tree itself are gigantic reptilian eyes he shoots at the thing at

look like it it took different appearances different forms at different times to different people and U perhaps it it could take different forms like a skinwalker perhaps it could manipulate Minds uh to make it look like in our brains it look like something else or perhaps he could do both in George it seems to me this goes a bit to the heart of both the parallel with RAF bentwaters and uh the Skinwalker Ranch phenomena in this regard uh Jim penniston thought uh based on his experience December 26 1980 that they were dealing with Time Travelers who had some sort of a survival problem in your chapter in the book called The Window there is this description that uh we're talking about the Sherman Ranch the homestead was the only vantage point from which this orange tunnel structure was perfectly visible it was like a three-dimensional orange tunnel that receded away from them meaning the house and the sides of the tunnel were perfectly camouflaged with the sky so from a side view an observer could see nothing at all the only perspective that a for Ed a good view into the interior of this bizarre orange tunnel was directly opposite the house and what I wonder is that in these phenomena that we are trying to understand that must be related to Technologies like the UAP scientific and technical report that John and I and others have been studying that if we are dealing with an advanced intelligence that has learned how how to use whether it's wormholes or technology of certain frequencies and radiations that can literally connect some part of the cosmos right to a spot on earth and can come and go for reasons that are still unknown the same kind of Technology would perhaps be what was used in RAF bentwaters well there are some distinct similarities as you mentioned Terry Sherman that's not the name we used in the book but we had our own reasons for that um the the Rancher had reported seeing this big orange hole in the sky and that's how he described it to to the nids guys as a hole in the sky he said that it was another sky on the other side that it was you know whatever the world was on the other side of this hole it it it would be Twilight where he was and blue sky in the afternoon where the wherever the other side was and an occasion he would see things flying in and out craft that would come in and out so it sure sounds like a portal to me that description of that creature that colum and others had seen wriggling through that uh that tunnel of light that certainly sounds like it's coming from from somewhere else ultimately that's sort of where we were left it seems like there was an intelligence that was operating that assumed different shapes and forms that could manipulate Minds could certainly affect the fear Center in human uh human brains and I can give you some examples of that it could interact with us enter our reality anytime it want do whatever it wanted manipulate space and time and and objects in ways that we don't understand and we can't do anything about it and that was a you know there were there were certain social dynamics on the ranch uh while the Rancher was there being terrorized this things seemed to feed off of fear it it kind of got a kick out of it it enjoyed seemingly toying with the the the family and messing with their heads when the needs guys got on the property and started setting up cameras and going out to actively seek this thing out the social dynamics changed it it played games for a while and there was a time when they thought they were going to make communication with that they actively attempted to communicate uh in some really creative experiments and then the thing got nasty and it it did a couple of very distinct and direct uh incidents that made it clear that it was unhappy that it didn't like being stalked and then it went underground altogether it just stopped happening as if it took its Marbles and went home and didn't like playing this game anymore and back to what uh Terry Sherman told me back in June of 1999 uh quoting again just to remind that the

estimated and this guy freaks out his eyes open he flies backward falls on the ground and this thing whatever it was goes back into the brush and disappears The Rancher goes rushing over to him uh the guy's terrified he grabs on to Terry Sherman Won't Let Go Terry Sherman had to I think physically threaten him look you got to let go of me or else and then they they put him back in the truck drove him back to the front gate let him go and he's screaming at him that the devil was here this this is cursed it's the devil you know we he have heard that a lot since the book came out that it's the devil that it's sat satanic that it's demons I can't tell them no I I don't know we we don't know what the what the answer is um the idea that there should be abductees yeah that I think it has been discussed but I don't think it's ever been done I also can tell you that they they did do some attempts to get remote viewers that Joe mcmonagle is one of the guy who took a look at the ranch he identified a particular section of the property that he had a really a bad Vibe about he didn't know exactly why but something was underground we had another team I had asked a team Angela Thompson and her remote viewing team to take a look at it as an exercise I didn't tell them much about what it was we did follow the remote viewing protocols and they came back several of them saw underground facilities they they were they're sensitiv they looked at it they saw military men underground with banks of of equipment looking into monitors they saw Sharpshooters looking through uh scopes at the property uh and there's no question there was military interest during the time the nids guys were there they would fly over in helicopters they'd see them in trucks um I'm sure that a lot of the communications was monitored after it came clear that they were on to something interesting and I'm I'm also pretty sure although I don't want to speak out of turn that there's been some interest in that level since the study ended but at a much higher level but uh no one has the answers to that I think your idea about having sensitives on there is is something that has Merit but it wasn't tried to my knowledge during the seven years that nid was nids was there and George uh the Mr Sherman he said that later on when they saw the movie Predator with Arnold Schwarzenegger that he and his son they both said that's what we saw when that meditator was here and I have had very similar descriptions of the Predator phenomena from men who have served in Vietnam and when we come back after this break I would like to ask you if you and any of the scientists ever discussed terahertz frequencies okay you're listening to phenomenon radio with John Burl Linda Molton how and tonight's very special guest George nap we'll be right back to kickoff hour two right after these brief messages stay with us hey everybody what's up Jimmy Church of Fade to Black and check this out the 2015 muon Symposium will be held this September 24th through the 27th in beautiful downtown Irvine California expanding euphology opening new doors in Academia industry and media Former Defense Minister of Canada Paul helier will be there in person former CNN news anchor Cheryl Jones TV news journalist haime musan and mufon's chief photo analyst Mark deantonio they're just a few of the growing list of names for the 2015 event it's September 24th through the 27th at the beautiful Hotel Irvine get your tickets today at muons symposium. that's muons symposium. did you know that there is another way to listen to All of the Great UFO paranormal talk radio on Kg while on the go well the kg has partnered with talk stream live to bring you a call to listen feature from any phone simply dial 60556 24206 on your cell phone no smartphone apps or Internet needed no extra cost if you have unlimited minutes add the number to your contacts and dial handsfree listen to the kg from any phone anywhere anytime just dial 60556 2 4206 that's 605 562 4206 making it even easier to get the talk radio you want from talk stream live

all right welcome back tonight we are here with our guest of the night again for the second time Mr noi torz Noy thank you for joining us here on Inception radio I'm so happy to be on tonight Jamie thank you for inviting me again and I'm looking forward to sharing one of the most amazing UFO cases that I have ever heard of yeah I'm looking I'm looking forward to it myself because uh uh you know I always love digging up old cases and this one sounds sounds uh very interesting and we'll get to it this uh this case we're going to talk about tonight is known as The Cisco Grove UFO encounter can you tell us a little bit about it where it happened okay this is one of the most fantastic uh really eye popping UFO cases uh from the 1960s and uh the way I came across it is my co-author and my good friend Ruben urte uh who who is the uh muon director for Northern California when he came into the position of muon director um 10 or 12 years ago um he was looking through the case files for some of the major UFO cases that they've had in Northern California and he ran across a story that just it just struck him in the face uh because of its uh high level of significance and just the details of the case were so striking to him and that was an incident that happened in um near Sacramento California it happened in the Tahoe National Forest which is east of Sacramento right along the border with Nevada the border of uh California with Nevada and it happened on September 4th 1964 uh that this amazing encounter that we're going to talk about um and it oh and and I should mention it it took place during U close to a small town in California known as Cisco Grove hence the name the Cisco Grove UFO encounter and um as a story unfolds tonight I think your listeners are in for a real treat because when Ruben uh ran across those case documents he had the whole package in there um and and as as we'll talk more about it we'll see that it was one of the um most highly regarded UFO cases in terms of documentation eyewitness credibility and so forth of the 1960s wow now did this happen uh after uh Betty and Barney's Hills Abduction the Betty and Barney Hill abduction in New Hampshire occurred in September of 1961 interestingly enough it was at the same same time of year uh and so it it um it happened 3 years almost to the day uh before the uh the case with Donald Shrum that we're going to talk about tonight and it was also the betan Barney Hill case as well as the Charles Hixon Calvin Parker pasula Mississippi UFO Abduction in 1973 uh both the hill case and the Pascagoula case were investigated by the same people Dr J Allen heinik Dr James Harter and Dr Anita brothers and they all three of them regarded these these uh three cases Barney and Betty Hill Donald shum case which we're going to talk about and Pascagoula as three of the more most credible and uh most uh research worthy UFO cases of that time period yeah and um the past gagula Mississippi incident is something that uh I had not really looked into too much but as uh as uh you tipped me off to it a few weeks back I looked into it what an amazing case so that's an amazing case and it shares a lot of similarities with what we're going to talk about tonight tonight the Cisco Grove UFO encounter as does the Betty and Barney Hill encounter it also shares uh some similarities with with what we're what our topic is tonight and also the Travis Walton um encounter also from the 1970s 1975 uh which I talked about a little bit briefly when we started also has some points uh that are similar as well okay in fact uh the principal eyewitness in the Cisco Grove case Mr Don Shum has studied uh the Travis Walton case extensively uh because he's so interested in how the uh ET behaved very similarly in both cases and a lot of the thoughts that ran through his mind uh were also expressed in the Travis Walton Case by Travis all right well let's let's get into this uh case now what were the um eyewitnesses during the night of when this happened was it Daytime Nighttime okay well this is a very unusual case in many ways and one of the things that's kind of striking at first is that this was actually a hunting trip um by three individuals who worked for one of the nation's leading missile defense contractors of the early 1960s called the Aerojet Corporation of Sacramento California so both all three gentlemen that went hunting this this it was a long weekend and they started early on Friday and they were going to go uh on an overnight bow and arrow hunting Excursion to the Tahoe National Forest and uh so they had Friday off and they were planning to spend the night and uh do some more hunting on Saturday and then head home uh late Saturday afternoon or or Saturday evening um so the three individuals in question Mr Don Shrum is the principal eyewitness the one who experienced uh most of what happened that night uh but there was another gentleman uh Mr Alvarez who was one of his co-Hunt Hunters who also witnessed the arrival of the initial UFO in the case and he gave a written affidavit after afterward uh in support of what Mr Shum said he saw and experienced and all three men in fact um the two companions of Mr Shrum were later uh told people that they um they affirmed that Mr Shum went through something extremely um difficult judging by the appearance and his behavior after he finally made it back to the camp that they had established uh for that Hunting Expedition so yeah I've heard of this case now that you're talking about it I do remember this case it's a well-known case um in a general sense but the actual details of the case had not come out until now this is the first time that there has been a book published about the incident and uh completely based on Mr Shum's eyewitness testimony he and his family contacted us a few years back and uh Reuben went to visit Mr Shrum and spent a lot of time interview him interviewing him both on uh on video and uh on audio and uh Mr Shrum and his family were very interested in having a book done um one of the initial reasons I need to back up just a little bit the reason uh that Mr Shrum never gave out his identity when he spoke about this UFO encounter is because of the fact that he had this uh government defense Contracting job with Aerojet so in the early 60s it was a kiss of death for somebody to go out in public talking about aliens and UFO encounters when they worked uh in a sense for the US government still is today in some parts right so so what Mr Shum did was he he went he did contact UFO researchers about his sighting and it was published and it was made uh uh known however his name was never used uh ever in in any form there were um you know um made up names or and a lot of times it was it just said Anonymous witness and that was one of the reasons that this case is not as well known as some of the others we

mentioned the Barney and Betty Hill the pasula the Travis Welton because of his initial reluctance to have his name and the names of his two hunting companions uh released to the public because of that you know you know how it is in the UFO investigation field when you have Anonymous Witnesses who don't want their names released everybody kind of raises eyebrows and says oh well you know if they don't want their identities known they must you know this possibly is not true or they're hiding something and that wasn't the case at all it was just the fact that he was he was not a wealthy individual and he was struggling to make ends meet and he could not Ford at that period in time um trying to he had just gotten married they just had a a child that he could not at that point in time as he has told us in several interviews afford to be without a job and he had he had worked hard to get that position with uh with arow jet uh which was one of the leading uh Employers in the sacramental area at the time and you can understand that because this is a family man and you know look what happened to Travis Walton a few years later I mean uh you know everything descends on you everybody wants to talk to you people scrutinize you so he he did a smart thing I would have probably done the same same as him he did a smart thing and and a few years back as I said he contacted Ruben because he knew that Ruben had taken over the position as muon director and the uh a previous muon director in the uh late 60s Paul cery was the lead investigator originally in this case uh Mr Paul cery who is now deceased uh he was with NCAP at the time that this incident occurred but later uh transitioned over to muon and so uh the shrums Mr Shrum and his family were extremely um happy with the way Mr cery conducted the initial investigations he honored their request that his name not be given out uh he was very sensitive spent a lot of time with the family and so they were extremely impressed um in Reuben they found another person whom they could trust and uh who would treat their information with the with the utmost of sensitivity and after developing a relationship with with my co-author Ruben UDA they decided that they wanted him and me to go ahead and finally tell the complete story of this incredible UFO encounter um in in the form of a book authorized by them uh Mrs shum G uh wrote the forward for the book and uh Mr shum gave us a lot of guidance um in telling the story and gave us additional details that had never been published before so we were extremely happy to have had this opportunity and again uh this book that we're talking about tonight is aliens in the forest The Cisco grow View encounter all right so let's let's get back to um what they were doing out there hunting and uh you know how this came about right okay so let's fasten our seat belts and go into this we also have some audio clips of the principal eyewitness Mr Don shum that are just going to knock your socks off uh they were in the forest and they had established a base camp earlier in the day they had spent most of the day wandering around looking for game primarily deer and uh Mr shum tells me that they hadn't actually found anything uh he had he had bagged a snake that happened to cross uh cross their path but other than that there was no game to be had uh during that whole Friday and it was getting toward evening um and the three men had gone off on separate routes but parallel to each other they had no kind of communication gear to keep in contact they tried they made an effort to remain within earshot of each other uh but what happened was that Mr Shrum decided to follow this Long Ravine he went right along the edge of the Ravine then one of his Hunting Buddies uh took the opposite side of the of the Ravine traveling in parallel to him and then the third Hunter was down below in the Ravine at the base of it which was like you know it was like a canyon so he was traveling also in parallel to the other two well Mr Shrum was thinking that when he reached the end of that

Ravine that there would be a way to cross over to the other side and he could rejoin his companions but when he got to the end of the Ravine there was a sheer rock wall and there was no way to cross so he had to double back well by this time it was getting dark and he was very concerned ConEd because it was an that particular part of the of um the state he hadn't really spent much time at they had actually they had been out hunting before but not in this particular area so he didn't know the terrain well there were a lot of uh there's a lot of Rocky um it it's kind of a rocky isolated area with Ravines and drop offs and it's very easy to get yourself hurt in the dark there yeah and also there had been many reports of predators in the area um most uh urgently of which to Mr shum was a concern where the the reported bear sightings by other hunters in the area uh and there were other kinds of predators as well that threaten human beings so what he decided to do it became clear to him that he could not make it back to Camp uh having had to double back and with the darkness approaching he did what many Hunters typically do in a situation like this when they can't rejoin their companions or make it back to Camp he decided to find a safe place to hold up for the night and just make it through the night as best as possible and then uh that way be safe from predators and other dangers the danger of stumbling around in the dark possibly falling into a pit or twisting his ankle or whatever so what Mr sh Mr shum weigh his options there wasn't there weren't uh other clear forms of shelter in his surrounding environment so what he decided to do was he decided to climb up into a tree uh he had a military style belt with canteen um and he figured that he could um loosen up that belt and and tie it around one of the larger branches around the upper trunk of of that pine tree that he climbed and he could uh you know spend the night there and get us a little bit of rest and then rejoin his companions at Daybreak yeah uh so he did that and uh he was you know he resolved to to make it through the night although it was you know it was not a comfortable situation for him but the alternative was possibly worse as as we mentioned so he was up in that tree when all of a sudden he caught out of the corner of his eye coming in from the north a strange looking light um it was kind of at first you know he said that it looked like someone that was carrying a lantern um walking down a path it wasn't exactly a straight line course it would kind of deviated from side to side and up and down like it was being jostled around a little bit and then it it was coming it was coming toward him and his immediate thought was that his two buddies had discovered had determined that he was lost and they had gone to the local forest rangers and they had requested a helicopter to come out and look for him so he thought it was a helicopter out to rescue him his spirits lifted he got down from the tree and he set three signal fires um there were some large flat rocks around the base of the tree and he had with him lots of matches and he took he gathered up some of a surrounding brush and he said three small fires signal Fires for the helicopter or so he thought it was at that point well the light started approaching and what happened now is what happened next is amazing uh if we can hear uh clip number 150 150 the appearance of the Mother Ship uh will hear in the witness's own words uh when it became clear to him that this was not a helicopter all right let's listen to that and then I saw a light it looked like a lantern going up and down a trail but then it came over the over over the top of a tree and I got kind of excited then cuz I thought it was a a helicopter from the forest service and uh I I I stood by between two of the fires that I built on the on the rocks and waved my arms and yelled and screamed and and uh finally that light started coming towards me so I was really relieved then cuz I thought it was a helicopter still until it got within oh maybe 60 feet or yards I'm not not sure the distance at night uh but it just stood hovered there with no sound so then I panic cuz I didn't know it was no helicopter I thought it was something from outer space but it looked like all I could see is a little about an 8 in glow so I thought it was just a little tiny you know Flying Saucer and then I uh I kind of panicked and I W threw my bow up in the tree again and hand walked out there that limb and got up in the tree and I had all camouflage clothing on so I figured well they won't see me here you know but then this this light went a half circle around me over the canyon and I could see the whole the shadow of the whole old uh spacecraft and it was that was just a a light that was on the nose of it wow that sounds uh sounds amazing there well now picture this scene in your mind uh he did you know he didn't give uh all of the details of what the ship was like in the uh the clip we just heard but a as you um as you sit down and talk with him you discover that this was was a large cigar shaped craft with a very dark hole and um it had a small what what Mr Shum refers to as a headlight at the bow end of the ship uh which would be the front or the Leading Edge of it uh now the ship itself and this was confirmed later when they did regressive hypnosis on Mr Shrum it was approximately 150 feet 150 ft from Stern to Bow uh so in other words this was like a 14 story building that was turned on its side uh I mean this is this was an incredibly impressive size uh you know compared to most UFO sightings oh yeah yeah so he noticed that the ship in addition to the small light at the front suddenly three large rectangular panels suddenly lit up on the side of the ship on the on the this otherwise dark Hull these three large uh rectangular panels suddenly lit up flickered to life and um he saw something really strange happen in the middle panel of these three rectangular panels and we're going to we're going to going to continue with the uh the testimony from the eyewitness um as we listen to the appearance of a second UFO uh and that's clip number 200 all right let's uh have a listen here and then I saw three panels of light like Windows or whatever and uh they uh I saw a flash come from the bottom of the center one and just saw a dark object go down to in the canyon and then I lost track of it and uh then the next thing I saw was saw a little blinking light up on the top of originally where the the first one came from this object that you first saw that left the uh Center panel what did it look like like down well at that time all I saw is a Flash and saw a dark object go down the dark object would it would kind what shape was it well I couldn't really say it was went so fast but then I I saw when it landed up on the up on the ridge that it uh I could see like a half I could only see part of the top but it had a little light on it and and uh look like a the top of a flying saucer that I've seen in pictures uh like a dome or yes yeah like a dome okay and then uh I so I kept my eyes on that wow that's amazing so he's saying that this this main ship Mothership had some panels three panels that opened up and released a a secondary UFO that's exactly right um and as it turns out as the story progresses um there was it became clear that uh most of the danger that he experienced later in the night uh came from the smaller ship which landed near him um we called that second ship the Scout ship or the Lander and uh after after it came out of that middle panel it dropped straight down into a canyon and and then it flew kind of North Northeast and took a position uh alongside a nearby Ridge and as we heard him describe there in that audio clip the Scout ship was Dome shaped and approximately 20 ft wide and about 30 ft tall and and uh it was out of this ship that the ETS came uh as as we're as we hear the story developed now now um before we we move forward was he able to hear any of his uh hunting Partners yelling or or anything well I'm glad I'm glad you asked that because I I should mention that um Vincent Alvarez um who was one of his hunting companions did actually later testify that he saw the Mother Ship clearing the Earth's atmosphere and coming on down uh toward the forest in fact from his position maybe two miles away from Mr Shum he was witnessing the arrival of the Mother Ship which he saw come down out of the sky and then hover unbeknownst to him at the time um it was hovering right over Mr shr's position and so um the other two once again because it was by now dark uh the other two Hunters just stayed put where they were um yeah but it is significant that we have confirmation from uh one of the other hunters and now uh what happened next after this smaller Scout or Landing vehicle um came out of the ship and approached him right uh Mr Shrum was hoping that at this point as you can imagine all kinds of thoughts going through one's mind oh yeah um he says sees this immense object hovering right right in front of it I came right up to near his position and just hovered there uh he scrambled back up the tree and was hoping that because he was in full camouflage and he was going to try to be as inconspicuous as POS possible he was hoping that he would have no confrontation of any kind that could be interpreted as being negative but something really strange happened next and that is the arrival of some very strange beings which Mr Shrum refers to as humanoids so we're going to hear clip 250 next where he talks about the humanoids all right let's listen to it and uh and I heard some thrashing through the brush and probably 5 10 minutes these two humanoids come out of the brush and they kind of broke some of the brush off and and uh was looking at it then they came straight underneath the tree and looked up at me and I I knew right then I was fingered they found you yeah they found me what can you describe them for us was briefly what they yeah they were look like uh four or five feet of course I'm looking down at them so they they'd be shorter than they probably are and they had a silvery like a one piece a suit on and it seemed like it had the joints puffy joints you know on the shoulders in the elbows and and the legs I didn't see that clear the humanoids um what did their were you able to see their faces no it was just a kind of a dark shadow I could see the the two uh like eyes that were I like look like welding goggles to me they're the same as Welling goggles and then the rest of the face was kind of a blur I couldn't see looking down at them you're you're able to see the very was it large or small they're they're about 2 in in diameter it remind me just like I said like a welding goggles you know in this description there when he says their shoulders and and and things were puffy and that they were in a suit it's almost like uh you know they were in some type of of compressed suit like an astronaut would wear to to you know either prevent them from gravity or you know like we do with vacuum in space that that's very very uh strange that's a very good observation Jamie in fact in the book we have many many sketches that were done by Mr Shrum depicting the humanoids and the costume that they were wearing and um most of those sketches look disturbingly like us astronauts um you know it like you say it looks like it was some kind of a space suit and even his description of the dark uh goggle like eyes uh which is something it it was a feature of their uh Anatomy that he remembered and that greatly Disturbed him um and that he remembered for many years afterward when he suffered the effects of basically what we would call post-traumatic stress syndrome now uh he had Terri terrible terrible frightening uh nightmares and anxiety and almost like wartime flashbacks yeah and um it was uh sessions of of therapy and HP hypnotherapy um and H hypnotic regression that finally helped him uh to cope with his experience but um yeah um it could have been a suit of some kind it most likely was had the Bellows at the at the elbows and also down at the knees that's that's that's uh I I couldn't imagine being there and uh you know knowing that they see you and you see them and you you have to wonder you know

what's going on these are not humans they're apparently extraterrestrials I mean there's nothing like this on Earth I'm sure he was a very intelligent guy to work in the Aerospace industry in 1964 UFOs were still a very big Topic in the United States there were waves of stings uh you know we had been through the 50s and all of the UFO um Mass sightings throughout our country there were continuing on into the 60s so Mr shum was well aware of the repercussions uh and the possible um effects of coming into contact with these creatures he was very concerned he had read about he had read newspaper and magazine accounts about abductions such as Betty and Barney Hill three years before yeah and uh other un uh Encounters of an unsavory nature between humans and uh the occupants of these objects so his anxiety level was very very raised at the moment that the humanoid the two humanoids walked right up to the base of his tree of the tree in which he was and they looked up at him and he realized as he said on the audio tap tape that he was fingered uh in other words they knew he was there yeah and uh you know he he was possibly in for some problems a lot of a lot of abductees um claim that uh you know they they can kind of talk through um you know through their mind they can kind of hear what the other side's saying what was was he getting I'm sure he was terrified but was this like an an an aggressive uh uh atmosphere was he you know did that's interesting that you that you should say that Jamie because we asked him that question specifically and he said that he did feel a push on his intellect on his mind as if they were trying to get through he was resisting with all his mind um these uh these two humanoids with their deep dark eyes and uh featureless faces were staring up at him from the base of the tree and they seemed to be trying to penetrate him um he he um he was not not uh too hopeful for for how things might might turn out uh as a result of this encounter so he determined in his mind that he would resist as much as possible uh so it became a struggle kind of a his own personal War of the Worlds uh was about to begin and he never at any point felt that he was not in danger uh and and uh his level of anxiety was extremely high and especially when the when the second type of being appeared on the scene a few moments later it if you queue up uh clip number 300 uh we'll hear about a a totally different creature that appears at the base of his tree a few moments later all right this should be interesting let's uh let's take a listen and in uh then I saw uh two flashing red orange light eyes come just picking his way down on the ridge Just Between the rocks and and around them and everything and come down and was on the this big boulder this big Flat Rock uh and then uh he kind of looked up at me and he and he uh moved his hand in in this through the fires Cinders and kind of scattered them and the uh the eyes of this other creature like uh the robot what what that look like to you it had uh kind of like fire it's kind of a orangish reddish orange or yellowish orange uh and they it kind of flickered like fire and they're about the same diameter as about 2 in in diameter as the humanoids wow that's that's amazing so so there you know a lot of people describe the Grays almost as robots and and and the first being he seene almost sounds like you know it could have been a gray but now this this type of robotic alien coming towards him uh yeah that that would just uh throw another wrench into paranoia I would be freaking out to see you know multiple types but that has happened a lot in the past uh abductees report you know many different types of beings aboard ships or during their encounters interestingly enough um the comparison to robots or robotic type creature uh was also an observation that was made by uh Charles Hixon and Calvin Parker in the October 1973 Pascagoula Mississippi yeah abduction that we've talked about uh they referred to those creatures as being robot-like uh also in the Travis of Walton case from 1975 uh Travis talks about two distinctly different types of creatures that he saw aboard the ship uh after being abducted from a for in in northern Arizona one of the types of creatures that he saw were more humanoid like just the shum um observed and the second type of creature was a smaller creature kind of uh closer to what the Grays might be except uh Travis has told us that they didn't look like the Grays they look a little bit different yeah um and also um there's some similarities to between what Trum saw and what Barney and Betty Hill described during their encounter so uh and also many many many UFO cases that Ruben and I looked at often times the entities that were seen by Witnesses were sometimes described as having robot like appearance so really this is not an out of the ordinary um thing and the other uh aspect of this it's very important to remember is that Mr Shrum really did not know for sure that they were robots yeah he used the term robot to just it was just an impression that he that he got from them they seemed to walk a little bit more stiffly than the creatures he called humanoids but otherwise they were very very similar uh they were uh both kinds of creatures were kind of between four and 5T tall um they were short and stocky both of them and they had large circular eyes that look like goggles um he did notice however that the eyes of this creature he called the robot seemed to glow with kind of a reddish orange uh light or a fire and uh also the jaw of this robot like creature was kind of large square and somewhat hinged appeared to be hinged and they had very large mouths um he thinks you know he's he's not certain if this was a distinctly different type of creature or the same type of creature he saw at first that he called a humanoid but in a different bulkier suit yeah uh he wasn't sure about that just for purposes of distinction that he put the label robot yeah that's interesting though that uh that he you know he talks about a large mouth and jaw that uh um maybe they could communicate at any time did he did he actually hear them communicating there was communication going on uh continuously between the humanoids and the mother ship and the robots uh it involved flashes of light and also audible sounds uh which he's going to talk about uh in a in a clip we're going to hear later on okay so um let's he felt he got the distinct impression that their actions and movements were being uh uh in other words that they were in communication with somebody on a Mothership who was controlling their actions and their behavior got it yeah and um what happened after both of these uh um creatures approached the tree the beings that he described as robot-like came right up to the base of the tree and uh you know up to that point he had seen the humanoids the humanoids seem to be more like explorers he had noticed earlier in the encounter that they were surveying the surrounding vegetation breaking off little pieces of of uh little branches from some of the bushes and so he got the impression early on about the two humanoids he got the impression that they were not nonthreatening uh this other creature that appeared and moved right up to the base of the tree he was worried about right from the beginning and uh we're going to hear clip 350 uh as this creature makes the first aggressive move toward Mr Shrum all right let's go ahead and listen to that now then he come down up on the Rock he was about seven feet from me and uh then he he touched his mouth and uh kind of a steam Vapor come out of his mouth and it lit up his face so I could see some detail and then uh I I blacked out when that steam hit me or I guess it was it was kind of kind of took the the air from me and I'd gas for air and then black out and I fell over my bow that's the only thing that kept me in the tree and then uh so I figured they were out to get me then you know that kind of reminds me of um uh the case that Frank fashino has spent his life working on the uh what's the monsters called a uh you know I'm talking about the case that Frank bino works on the the something Woods monster

Flatwoods moner flat Woods yeah yeah it released some type of gas or vapor which actually there's been a number of cases that where vapor is released by The ETS H in fact the Welton case which we were alluded to a number of times tonight um toward the end of his uh 5 days aboard this UFO uh one of the humanoids moov over to Travis with some kind of contraption that issued forth a vapor and knocked him out and then Travis found himself lying in the middle of of a street back on Earth the next thing he knew and uh we Ruben and I looked at other cases where uh Vapor was used by the ETS uh so you're right it's kind of a recurring Motif uh what this Vapor was was an odorless White Steam type Vapor which acted very much as an asphyxiant uh what an asphyxiant does is it it um sucks up all the oxygen content from the surrounding air and uh although it's not toxic in the sense that it could damage your tissues um if if enough of it is introduced into your surrounding area to where all the oxygen is removed from the air around you it could possibly lead to Suffocation yeah um so in the small amounts that Mr Shrum was being exposed to and by the way they kept releasing this paper throughout the night this encounter went on for approximately 12 hours and uh but each time they would release a small amount up into the tree causing him to pass out for just a short period of time just a short period of Time Each time that's interesting that it came from the mouth which would uh I don't know that that would almost uh I mean I know I I I can't think of anything on Earth that used is something like that you know organically so just very strange but uh so did he fall out of the tree was he was he hanging in the tree when he when he blacked out what he did was he was using his he had a 60 lb recurve wooden bow um and he was using it across several limbs for support oh okay so so uh he he was so in other words he had he had kind of a place to to lie on and so that that prevented him from falling out and then as soon as he got wise to what they were trying to do he belted himself using his military style belt he belted himself around one of the large branches that was near him uh to give him further uh stability up in the tree uh but what what is interesting now he's seen both of these types of creatures down at the base of the tree the oids um and this robot like creature and it was very clear now that he was engaged in a war I mean they were out to get him and he had a weapon and he had you know he he had resisted up to this point using his weapon but he had this 60lb recurve bow with a 28 in pull which if you fire that sucker at somebody that's real close to you oh yeah he can be as lethal as a rifle shot yeah uh the problem was he only had three arrows oh no and uh so at that point he had a choice was he going to was he going to fire at the robot which which uh was issuing this the robot was the only of the two uh creatures he saw that was making an aggressive move toward him or was he going to fire at the humanoids which you know the arrows would most likely have had more of an impact it almost sounds like um almost like a like a you know when a mil would move in uh they would come in secure the surroundings like the first creatures did and then they bring in their main Force which would be this robotic looking one to to do its work do whatever it would do yeah and that's a great observation Jamie because he noticed that every time that the robot would move in closer to the tree and issue the vapor the other guys the humanoids would move away uh Retreat back into the brush so um that's that's uh exactly the type of strategy it looked like they were doing so what he decided to do was he was going to fight back and resist and not make it easy uh for these guys to abduct him so in clip 400 we're going to hear about uh Mr shum taking the offensive finally all right let's go ahead and listen to that now so I I had a 60 lb bow which is uh very high velocity and I I shot uh see see how the robot the only thing that was causing me harm I shot the chest area and it has the velocity of a rifle at that that that distance cuz I'm only about 7 8 ft from him and it when I hit the chest the Sparks would fly like El electrical like an arc welder kind of and then that uh that robot backed up and almost knocked him down he kind of fell back against The Rock and the two at the at the bottom took off and headed to for the brush and stood out there about 30 ft from me and uh then uh I shot uh two more arrows and about the same time sequence that uh these uh two humanoids would every time I'd shoot they'd go back up into the the brush just out just almost out of sight from me wow so so so this bow which is equivalent to a rifle just hit him and made Sparks did not penetrate him whatsoever didn't even put a dent in it um the interesting thing is after afterward um after this was all over those arrow heads that struck those uh creatures those robotic like creatures they actually were all twisted up and they had scrapings on them uh Trace Amounts of something um that that came off of off of the uh the the armor or the suit that these creatures were were using that's why Mr shum was so determined to try to have those analyzed by lab um and we'll talk more about that when we W when you know when we conclude all right well let me uh let's do this let's take our last break and when we get back more to come here with uh noi Torres and we're talking about the Cisco Grove UFO encounter so hold tight we'll be right back all right and we're back here with our guest of the night noi Torres and we're talking about the book aliens in the forest The Cisco Grove to come here with uh noi Torres and we're talking about that is rendering him uh or making him black out not for long but for a bit and uh the clip we just heard he took his compound bow which is uh a very strong com compound bow and he shot the one that was releasing the vapor and as we said uh before the break um this didn't penetrate him at all it just made Sparks and uh afterwards uh what did you say the arrow tips actually had traces of the the suit on it yeah when they were when they were gathered up later and examined they had um a streaks of some strange metallic substance on it and um that's why Mr shum was very determined to have them uh analyzed by a lab uh which they were and and we can talk about later so at this point did he shoot just one Arrow or did he continue shooting more he shot all three arrows at this one robot-like creature okay and all three bounced off harmlessly off its chest um causing you know a flash of light and then not much else uh pushing the creature back a few steps um and also causing the two humanoids to Scurry into the nearby brush and and hide for a little bit before coming back out that's that's got to be frightening cuz you know you're in the tree have a weapon you know usually you could take something out but now your weapon is is useless you have no more arrows you fired it at them and it didn't do anything so he had a few more things that he thought of okay let let's talk about battle was not over let's talk about that let's get into that and one of the unique things before we go on with The Narrative of the encounter is that many times uh people have uh analyzed the scenario of of uh human beings versus a highly Advanced technologically Superior race from outer space that might show up one day at our doorstep and intend to do us harm yeah um that perhaps adopting a very low Tech approach to battling these aliens might actually end up being in the long run uh the best way to go so interestingly enough Mr shum was forced into a low Tech situation um he he had only uh these most primitive types of weapons he had matches he had the bow and arrows um so there have been many UFO cases where the witnesses had more sophisticated weapons like um you know guns and so machinery and none of it has worked it has failed to work in the presence of these UFOs yeah uh but something like a bow and arrow is the most fundamental weapon that mankind has devised you know so he was forced into a low Tech scenario was my point

there and so what he did next was he he had noticed earlier in the encounter that the when the robot type creature arrived one of the first acts that that it had done was it brushed off the remaining Embers of fire that were still kind of lit on top of those three rocks at the base of the tree so he had a campfire going yeah he had had the little three signal fires that he tried to Signal what he thought was a helicopter with and they were still kind of glowing so the very first thing the robot like creature did was went up to those and he swept them off the top of the Rocks okay so Mr shum got it in his mind that perhaps these creatures were um scared of fire mhm and so he decided he was going to start burning stuff from up in the tree and throwing it down at them as we're going to hear in clip number 450 well I would assume Mr shum was a smart man to do that so uh let's take a lesson here then I I ran out of uh arrows so I only had three left and uh I started I thought well I had that's when palade her is just I mean the cap I had on was just soaked with oil your is this for your hair po yeah from my hair yeah yeah yeah Pomade and uh they uh I always carried uh all kinds of books and matches with me when I hunted and so I lit that cap and it just blazed up and I dropped it down the base of the tree and just in that instant they they moved back about 12 15 ft and that the I I glanced over at the the ship that was uh over the canyon kind of almost level with me and it was almost out of sight it was just like a star it moved that fast wow just in that second so then I got the idea that they're scared of fire so I I burned everything but my t-shirt and my jeans and uh come to find out later on that that it was 32° out and I was shaking and kind of Overexposed for the weather and I at one time I threw uh I had a bunch of change and I threw it down and they they all kind of gathered around it well after I uh shot my or started burning stuff and throwing it down and I even uh uh tied some some of my shirt that I ripped up uh to uh Compass so I could try to hit some brush cuz there wasn't nothing right underneath the tree and then uh I caught a little pile of brush on fire I figured that would bring the calvary but uh when I run out of stuff to burn I headed for the top of the tree and then then i' I'd uh it was pretty sparse tree I could see down to the ground and I broke off the top and threw it down and and anytime I throw down or or shake the tree these humanoids would back up now you know what what this makes me think of is almost like um an interplanetary expedition where some other intelligence is sending a ship to Earth they a place they know where the gravity is and there they go there they they set up in the air they deploy a scout ship to land their either humanoids or robots on the ground and uh you know that's why they're so interested in the coins maybe afraid of the fire um I don't know it's very it's a very interesting story so far and we still got quite a bit to go through that's interesting that you should say that Jamie because for all we know Mr Shrum as a representative of the human race may have actually saved the planet for all we know um that night in uh overcoming these these ETS um if they were in fact an exploratory um probe to our planet yeah and he was able to F fight them off uh perhaps it was a larger Victory than just one man against against the ETS but uh what happened next is extremely um even more interesting and uh that is that another robot creature arrived oh boy and uh you know he had managed to um you know hold his own he you couldn't say that he was winning the encounter but he was remaining out of their reach and what had been happening before the arrival of the second robot was that every time the first robot would gas him and black and cause him to black out the two humanoids would then attempt to climb the tree the trunk of the tree but he would awaken in time from being blacked out to be able to knock them off you know kick at them with a speed and shake the tree and cause them to fall back down I see uh and that happened several times but what finally happened was second robot arrived on the scene as we're going to hear in uh in this next clip well actually this next clip this next clip very interesting because um he describes the uh the climbing of the uh the attempts to climb the tree by the humanoids that's clip number 500 we'll hear that first and then we'll go right to 550 the arrival of the second robot if that's okay okay yep all right let's listen to these two clips here we go did you hear any noise between them any communication was there any you know I heard uh kind of a A coing or uh almost like an owl but it could have been an owl you know that that that up there but it just kind of fit in in with with them well so when when they when you heard this out sound what what did they do well they go on about their their business you know what they were but they would they would try to climb up the tree they're trying to boost each other up the tree and uh then uh when I would uh that's why I know I wasn't out very long at a time cuz uh when I uh throw something down or or when I was being gassed they'd step back from the tree and then uh then they'd be when I'd come to I'd have uh dry heaves and kind of gas for air and uh they had just be trying to climb back up on the tree so that gave me a time that I wasn't out very long well the yeah there was a that when that uh light was out at the top of the ridge I could hear coyotes uh and I even howled like a coyote to see if make these guys think that there's more of me coming you know to to get out of there and uh then I heard some of them yell and you know I said at that time I thought well uh it's it's they're attacking everything you know all right now that was interesting because he says he seen what would this be the Scout ship um go out um you mean the uh the the part where it zoomed way up into the sky is that well he said that um you know during this he seen one of them one of the lights actually yeah go out and and and move away yes uh whenever he would attack the creatures by um you know when he shot the arrows when he was dropping down fire he noticed at one point that the uh Mother Ship which had been hovering over the canyon right uh more or less in a line with him um it suddenly zoomed way up into the sky at an incredibly fast rate so that was an interesting observation and did you w to play did you say to play 550 I'm going to accidentally play we'll go to 550 now but it but I'm glad you paused right there because uh I I wanted to say that in this next clip we're getting to the climax of what happened this the arrival of the second robot actually precipitated the end of this encounter so we're going to hear now the beginning of the fin fin stages of this conflict uh and that's clip number 550 all right let's uh let's take a listen after I went to the top of the tree I I had a military belt and I moved it out to the last hitch and and put it around me and the and the tree so in case I did get gassed they wouldn't I wouldn't fall down and in uh I and like I said I threw chains down and everything to try to distract them and then finally they uh these two humanoids step back from the tree and another robot came and there was two just uh uh about the same place that the two uh humanoids were and this they stood facing each other and the Flames just like uh lightning and it real real bright and it just came between them and uh then I that gas was so thick coming up the tree that it it it would uh dissipate just about the time I got to me but then that's when I'd start the gas for air and and then when I woke up from that is uh it was light but the sun hadn't come up yet and uh I was just hanging by my belt my head down my feet down and they were gone well I knew I made it I lived through the night just go back did you did you fall asleep or I mean or this gas was it over did it overwhelm you yeah that's when it just it completely engulfed the whole tree and and got up to me and at I don't know how long I was I was out but it was just uh it was you can see just a dim glow of this sun in the on the clouds and stuff not clouds but in the sky and in uh when I woke up it was light but the sun hadn't come up yet all right now you know um was going to touch on there um so the two had combined their gas and and and sent it up the tree and that was when he blacked out when he woke up at that time it was just before sunrising or a lot of us can see that right before the sun's about to come up you can kind of see you know the the higher up in the atmosphere is light and then the sun rises so he kind of passed out and he wakes up during the daylight um let me ask you who is this that is interviewing him in these clips and I meant to say that earlier my extreme apologies to my buddy Ruben urer because that is him that we've been hearing in the background interviewing Mr shum so that's my co-author Reuben I don't think I'm going to ever you know being a a white male I don't think I'm ever going to be able to pronounce his last name right I call Ruben urete it's the best I can get that's close enough uh it's a difficult name even for Hispanics to pronounce so don't feel bad I speak a little Spanish but uh you know them the kind of kind of words um so so this had to be a relief of him seeing sunlight and when the sun was up were were these creatures gone was the ship gone the mother ship and everything was gone and but the thing that he carried with him for a long time after this was he totally blacked out for a much longer period of time that last time when the two robots came together and almost the entire tree was engulfed by this vapor and and he blacked out the last time and didn't wake up until nearly Sunrise uh that's what caused him a lot of concern he didn't know at that point if they had succeeded in getting to him if they had taken him away and experimented on on him and then brought him back and left him back in the tree yeah he was very very concerned had he been exposed to any kind of radiation could he suffer the effects of radiation sickness um were there other physical effects that he might experience from what happened so he was when he came down out of that tree he was um he was not the same man as when he went back up and it would affect him for years uh yeah it it would uh change anybody anybody's life uh I would you know that that that right there would totally um give somebody PTSD for the rest of their life I mean just you know it's one thing to talk about it to research it but to have it happen to yourself to actually see it up front is a totally different thing when you know these things are real and that they can get to you that's just got to be on your mind 24/7 I've spoken to many uh UFO Witnesses who have and it's so funny because they say the same thing almost in the same words how until they had their own up close and personal encounter with with these unknown objects until that point they were among the multitude of people who scoff and make fun of yeah I was one of them uh people who uh have UFO encounters so I was one of them you know in 2008 I thought all UFOs were either military or a natural phenomenon or you know misidentification but you know I didn't have anything like this all I seen was a uh uh at arms length about 3,000 ft in the air it's about the size of a softball and it was an orange and yellow plasma looking craft it looked like a saucer but it was like liquid like it had an exterior clear shell with different color liquid inside and um you know this thing had moved from one spot to another in just a blink of an eye and then it kind of blinked out came back on and then blinked out and as soon as it blinked out for good I could see the clouds like right behind it and that's when I knew you know nothing on this Earth can explain that nobody was flying that it was not ball lightning you know it was just so weird and uh that's I could I came back in it was you know I it was like 5:00 that morning I came back in and you know just started researching UFOs like crazy so but uh you know seeing one and then seeing beings would be a totally different thing so Mr shum told us that before this incident he had absolutely no interest in UFOs uh he had read of course in the early 60s there were a lot of UFO cases being reported on so he had read about them he didn't think much about them he he wasn't you know actively calling himself a skeptic about them he just really didn't care but when it when it came right up to him and you know essentially when when those uh when those creatures were grabbing at his feet and ankles uh trying to bring him down then it became extremely up close and personal for so we have uh some clips left of him coming down from the tree can we listen to that yeah before we do that I I do want to mention a few things um his immediate sense was one of relief because the creatures were gone yeah and the UFO was gone and he was still there and uh you know touching himself all all over and his body obviously there were no immediate uh immediately discernable physical problems uh although he intended to and he did uh get a full physical examination and also make an effort to get tested for radiation exposure um but immediately right after the incident he noticed that the stuff he had thrown down um was all around the base of the tree uh there was a lot of brush that was burned from the stuff he set on fire uh he saw that um his Arro heads were there and his the the um canteen he at one point he had thrown down his canteen and also his Compass was there any tracks where these humanoids had walked you know uh when he uh initially when he gave uh test to naikap just a few months after the encounter he did not mention any tracks but when later when Paul cery uh arranged for a session of regressive hypnotherapy it came out during his hypnotherapy that the place the whole base of the tree and the surrounding area was just littered with these strange Footprints W he described them as um kind of feautres like almost like a small child whose feet were bound up in cloth or moccasins and they were all around the base of the tree um and that came out during his uh hypnosis later on as did several other things and one of the interesting things that uh of all the objects that he threw down at them they took the coins that was the only thing that they took everything else they picked up examined and threw back down to the ground but the ETS took the coins and it's like you had mentioned earlier uh coins have a lot of significance to a human society and they carry a lot of identifying information they have dates they have people faces they have uh slogans or motos and so they would obviously they would be of most interest when one culture is studying another um so it's significant to me that these ETS took Mr shrum's coins um and that was the only thing they took of everything he threw down you know I I can say I I guarantee uh hardcore Skeptics out there would probably say that okay he got away from his party he slept you know um up in this tree and maybe woke up with sleep paralysis in this place he was unfamiliar to and uh you know kind of you know had a sleep paralysis encounter but all the evidence points to the contrary that this was absolutely a fact uh with having all these prints and you know uh uh all the stuff down the tree and and uh and of course the other eyewitness as well that's right we have uh of course he according to Mr shum he never fell asleep before he saw the UF and it came right up to him so and also he had no history they did a complete medical check on him and released his records to naikap he had had no history of any kind of epilepsy or any kind of uh problems of any kind uh he was completely healthy um and um physical medical examination after this uh reveals some bruising uh of his chest probably when he was leaning against the tree um the tree branches and so forth and he also from being out in the cold with a near freezing temperatures for many hours he developed a respiratory infection uh but other than that you know aches and pains bruises and a respiratory infection yeah U of course the family was very concerned he might have been exposed to some radiation as has happened in other uone counters but he never developed any symptoms um and uh I think he actually received more harm from some of the toxic chemicals that he was using uh in his work with uh aerojet um at that time they were using a lot of chemicals which have since been identified as carcinogens and U are no longer allowed to be used by industry but the what happened next was the involvement of the US Air Force uh there were two investigators from right Patterson Airbase in Dayton Ohio that showed up on the scene um and they requested to talk to Mr shum about his encounter and when he met with them they it became clear to him and his wife who was in the same room with him that their uh purpose was not to take down his story and to try to arrive at truth their purpose was to talk him out and persuade him that what he saw was just some kind of uh freak ordinary Earth Earthly explanation event yep very familiar if if we go to clip 700 uh he's he talks about what the US Air Force told him Okay let's listen to that right now then what happened afterwards done uh how how did you talk to anyone else about your well my family I told and in uh the only outside person at that time was a a professor at uh at one of the colleges and my mother-in-law had gone it was her professor when she was younger so we told him the story and he's the one that contacted uh the Air Force so what happened there talk for the Air Force well they made an appointment to to uh post representatives of the Air Force and they tried to uh disillusioned me they said well you know the Japanese might have had somebody up there you know they were still you know they said there was Boy Scouts uh dressed up you know in costume just to scare somebody and I said yeah I'm sure they're going to spend all night keep a guy in a tree you know and uh oh then they said the Army probably Biv whacked up there and it was in a training camp so my father-in-law was in the Air Force so he called and found out there was no military in that area for any reason cuz it was it was pretty desolate area and they tried to disillusion me every way they could and they they took the arrow head the the main one and uh they said well we we'll get back to you and you can have this back soon as we get through with it which I never did but when I went back up there during rifle season uh I found the other Arrow the third one third one you found two then and then you found the yeah the other one um and when we went back uh the area had been raked there's an area probably 50 ft around that tree and there was cigarette packages and cigar butts and so I know the Air Force checked it out pretty good that explains and they they had an easy way to find it cuz it was there's an orange circle around that tree that where had caught little fires all right and it it was showing orange so they had no problem finding it and I I I marked on the map that they had where it was the location you know that that's interesting I I had a a guest on my show um who was part of the Air Force's uh NBC crew which is a nuclear biological cleanup crew and they were sent out to clean up you know certain crashes or or some some things like this I'm going to have to ask him what years he was a part of that because he was based very close to right Pat and I know he uh also lived in California so I might uh ask him about this case see if he knows anything but you know what's weird and and and what I would really like to know is why why do these military personnel always come to people who have had Close Encounters or abductions and and just tell them not to say something it's almost like they're either working with them or they're trying to hide it from the public at large I don't know it's almost like they're either working with them or they're trying to hide it from the public at large I don't know well this is very odd as we heard Mr shum just say on the surface during the interview with the Air Force they kept telling him that what he experienced had a Earthly explanation that it was Boy Scouts in costumes uh that perhaps the military the Army was having maneuvers out in the forest and perhaps there were some uh stray Japanese soldiers from

World War II era still living out there in the forest and terrorizing poor hunters in the middle of the night you know so they came up with all these uh weird attempts at explaining it where he pinpointed the exact location of the encounter they took his his biggest piece of evidence which was the one Arrow of the three that seemed to have the largest concentration of a metallic substance at its tip and the tip had been totally bent over by the way and uh so they took his strongest piece of evidence said they would give him back give it back to him and which they never did of course and then come to find out when he went back to the scene two or three weeks later the entire area had been R clean all the footprints all the evidence had been collected from the scene and there was absolutely no longer any Trace whatsoever of his UFO encounter yeah and then uh probably the worst thing to D Don Shum and the thing that to this day really really disturbs him and makes him extremely angry is that when the Blue Book uh the blue the two Blue Book investigators from wri patteron that interviewed him when they filed a report which many years later they got through a freedom fre of information request um they got the report and it says on there that the explanation the explanation that was arrived at by by Project Blue Book to explain Mr shrum's encounter was psychological problem wow there was absolutely no history whatsoever of any psychological problems uh he was in perfect health and that was just uh something that made him very very angry a previously very patriotic individual who had a great deal of respect for military institutions and so forth but he felt really really um hurt he was really hurt I bet so um a couple of questions left here um now we'll go back just a little bit now now when he got down from the tree he ended up finding his uh other hunting partners and they they left the woods did he tell them right away he was so exhausted he he was able to get down from the tree and he moved in the direction of the base camp they had established on Friday morning and he didn't make it all the way back before he basically collapsed uh but shortly after he fell down and was uh basically asleep and when one of his companions one of the other Hunters Mr Alvarez Vincent Alvarez happened upon Him saw saw a figure lying in the in the in the grass and went over and and saw that it was him and he roused him got him back on his feet and walked him back to Camp where he proceeded to fall asleep for six hours solid wow he was so exhausted and he was uh you know he was completely disheveled he was dressed only in a T-shirt and his pants he had set everything else on fire and thrown it down so the his his companions later testified that uh you know they saw him in this horribly uh in this horrible condition and uh he had obviously been through something very traumatic and then when he when he finally woke up after his 6-hour sleep and started telling them this incredible Tale uh vinon Alvarez then made the immediate connection with a strange object that he saw coming down out of the Earth's atmosphere earlier in the evening so he told uh Mr Shrum he said I saw that I saw that object coming down um and he later Mr Shrum uh he he later gave Mr Shrum a um written uh affidavit which we have a copy of and was in the night cap and muon files uh where he states that he saw that object great uh and so then they made it back they made it back to their homes and then Mrs shum enters a picture and she tells a remarkable tale to this day of how she had never seen her husband in such a distressed condition ever before or ever since as when she saw him enter the door uh having come back from this Hunting Expedition and and and I wonder if we have time Jamie to listen to clip 750 the after effects of the incident definitely uh this is the after effects of uh um what happened to him cause let's take a listen here i' like to go there I just wanted to ask you how how has this affected you you you did you have any nightmares or well for a year I had I mean screaming nightmares I mean I'd wake up uh yelling those eyes those eyes and uh I'd be just a cold sweat just be drenched with sweat and uh I even I even uh thought about when I was up in the top of that tree I uh thought about just jumping off and jumping down the canyon and just killing myself but the only thing that kept me going is I had the little girl my wife that kept me fighting wow that's tough to listen to the the one thing that Ruben has told me in the many interviews that he's done with Mr Shrum is how it physically affects him even to this day so many years later it physically affects him uh you can see him start to shake and I watched the videotape of of the interviews Ruben did you can see Mr shum start to shake and his eyes become watery and as he recalls this horrific experience yeah those eyes you know I had I had I've had a number of people tell me that perhaps he misjudged them the ETS that perhaps he misjudged their MO but but Mr shum from the word go felt that there was nothing good that would come out of having these creatures get a hold of him yeah and he maintains that to this very day uh these were not friendly ET call home creatures the they were out he he feels convinced that they were intending to add him to their specimen collection exactly just like we do on other planets we would if we found a you know a life form on another planet say we found a rabbit on Mars you don't think we would try to capture that rabbit no matter what and bring it back home the arrival of the second robot I think speaks volumes to the fact that uh they were really trying to get to him yeah greetings my friend we are all interested in the future for that is where you and I are going to spend the rest of our lives and remember my friend future events such as these will affect you in the future you are interested in the unknown the mysterious the unexplainable that is why you are here and now for the first time we are bringing to you the full story of what happened on that fateful day we are giving you all the evidence based only on the secret testimony of the miserable Souls who Sur this terrifying ordeal the incidents the places my friend we cannot keep this a secret any longer let us punish the guilty let us reward the innocent my friend can your heart stand the shocking facts about myio hey it's R Mysterio so here again uh for the 6th of July 2013 and as promised uh Our Guest is Greg Valdez who is the middle son of uh Gabe Valdez uh who I've talked about on this show quite a bit um I'll just read the the stuff the uh cover uh blur off the back of his new book here called douy base uh subtitled the truth and evidence from the Case Files of Gabe Valdez um middle son of Gabe Valdez he followed a career in law enforcement like his father and has been involved in the mystery all his life as he accompanied Gabe on many his of his investigations while he was growing up and today we're going to talk about um his book about the alleged or real or imaginary thing called the douy base and um many other things uh Greg can you hear me that's a lot better there yeah well Greg thanks so much for coming on so it's as you said when I called you up here it's Greg and Greg it it might be sort of confusing but probably not you can call me bz if that makes it easier but thank you for having me I appreciate it sure has have you been on a show yet uh talking about your book which just came out I think or will very soon um down we were in Roswell this weekend um selling some pre-released copies and um I did an interview down there in rosville for a book um blog it's down in Southern New Mexico but so this is actually the second interview oh okay it it wasn't Jerry Pippen I guess it was kind of a local thing no it wasn't Jerry Pippen I guess you've heard his show yes a few times oh okay uh well the people that are listening probably know what we're talking about when we talk about the duli base or Dulce if you're uh want to pronounce it properly um a but uh why don't you give a short description since you're the uh the the guest here and then we'll talk about your father and um what he found out about and what you found out by going through his records and and and uh accompanying him quite a bit well the Dy base originated um and I know you're aware of the story back in the 80s to mid 80s and it was actually started by Paul benowitz um my dad got involved because of his job as a state police officer station in Dy um there were some culations going on at the time and um Paul benitz came became involved because of some UFO sightings that he was seeing over at Kirtland Air Force Base so that St the story that Dy base has evolved over the years some of the information's good it's out on the Internet or in books and some of it's bad so the purpose of the book was to kind of set the record straight and um get people back on track because it's actually a very interesting story um but it's filled with so many different layers and different versions it's hard to know what really happened and hopefully the book will get people back in line so they can see what really happened in duli yeah well what I was struck with by reading the book was how many times you said look there's a lot of junk out there um from my point of view a lot of it doesn't make sense and a lot of it is actually from your point of view Greg a lot of is is outright false and sometimes lies and sometimes lies for a reason which we'll get into um but there's a lot of you know want to believe and will to believe and uh a lot of this was started and my idea I think you seem to support it in in your book is that a lot of it was started as a disinformation campaign by the Air Force the CIA and probably probably the NSA is that what you is that what you and your father found out yes uh I totally agree with you and um to further emphasize that everything that's in the book is documented and there's evidence to support it so um the book's not just based off random theories you'll see that and a lot of the stuff on the internet or people will add to it take away whatever the case so if it's in the book there's documentation that will support or refute whatever is in the book which um you don't see that very often so hopefully people will be able to go and look at the website when it's up and running and they can make their own conclusions once they view the actual evidence and it's real evidence from the crime my dad looked at it as a crime scene so it's evidence is what it is so yeah hopefully it'll make things clear yeah well already does and I I told Greg here when before I came over here to do the show that I haven't gotten through the entire book but what I have was is absolutely fascinating including some of the stuff where he said that I I was lied to I was lied to by Richard Dodie which I assumed um in the book so actually some of the stuff that I assumed that he that he was telling the truth on was were things that were backed up by your father like this um like the uh messages coming through his computer and the supposed looking alien faces on a little monitor or on a print out or something like that and uh the helicopter rides up to um by the military up to uh uh Dolce so and that part was actually true um more of the part that he was lying to you was about the props that he set up that well they set up I'm not going to say him but that the Air Force or the military set up on Monarch it deals specifically more with the props yeah what what at the risk of saying what's in the book if you can talk about it what it since I was told there was something up there and Paul said there was something up there but that that does not equal the Air Force putting something there according to you what what did you find out or what did you and your dad find out well when Paul got involved into the story um about 80% of the stuff he was saying was true and about 20% of it was false that they were able to verify so when Paul would coming he just kind of came out of the blue My dad became friends with him in 79 and um so Paul would come up with all this information about duli well some of it was verified and my dad and some of the other investigators like edman Gomez were always amazed like well where did he get this information it's solid but when he started getting into the 80 and stuff that's when the information started going bad where it would fizzle out or there was just no link to it so part of that 80% was the a supposed crash site and um we found a site we'd always assumed it was a stealth until recent developments we kind of looks like we figured out what it was after the fact but the early initial stages um um we knew something crashed we just couldn't figure it out of course according to Paul he always said it was a UFO we weren't able never able to verify that or re dispute it either way so um that's kind of where the story started with that crash site and that was up not archeleta Mesa but Mount archeleta which is a whole different yeah part of the story yeah um Riley tooya I think uh to is it Raleigh tooya who used to be the safety officer or was it uh yes he was a police chief though Hickory a Tribal Police Chief yeah okay cuz uh last time I was there about three years ago I think he took a couple of us up to the top of a mount and pointed out Mesa and Mountain said that's the mountain that's the Mesa the mountain is what everyone should be talking about the Mesa is a is a red herring or at least a mistake um and actually sorry to correct you that was actually ho valard Ry chief of police right it was lieutenant and he was Chief at one time and then back to Lieutenant and chief that's just the way the small departments were so I'm sorry it was Ho B that took you up there that's right how did you know that when I started talking about it did he tell you about no I just I know D that's the way things happen so when you said three years ago um cuz ra to be honest with you passed away SE more than three years ago so when you said that and I forgot white was Chief at one time right right yeah he said Public Safety Officer but that makes basically means chief of police there I mean it's just a different title yes and they change the title every few years yeah anyway it's funny I had the a very a very uh nice interesting and strange afternoon with him going to his Ranch um he showed us where he said he saw a big foot on his electric fence which I thought was very interesting and uh yeah and uh what do you make did you think that's what he saw there Bigfoot I've heard Ho's stories before and um he has a ranch south of Dy yeah I went there I've heard yeah down by Lada lake so I've heard the local people have also told me and I've heard Hoy talk about it that he's seen he's seen a lot of Bigfoot in in that area but I've never seen anything of course I haven't been in dual SE for several years since we moved to Albuquerque but yeah growing up we used to hunt in that area and I never saw anything but's more the Bigfoot expert than me so and then uh he he drove us up to the top of this this very high peak and then he pointed out different spots and then I came back to the the the casino with him and I sat in his truck with him and he told me more things for about an hour really nice guy yeah and and the good the thing about Hoy is during the 80s and ' 85 when Paul benowitz was in the middle of the story yeah white was involved with a lot of the Expeditions he went with my dad um he was with Edmund Gomez quite a bit so they were up there looking for it so Hoy was involved with a lot of the and also the mutilations um right going around in Dy because he worked for Tribal Police for years and years yeah so he's pretty familiar with the story he's kind of lived it firsthand also yeah well maybe we should background people a little bit more that don't quite know there there's a wide variety of people listen to the show some people know quite a bit about what we're talking about maybe some that not so much but are pretty right on you know pretty up to speed but maybe a little bit more about you know how your father and then you got involved with what was going on around uh douy and the uh hitoria reservation there and the whole scene there in the mid to late 7s when all this started and what really happens in 1976 um it started with the mutilation they found a one of the mutilated cows on the Gomez Ranch but what was unique about that first mutilation is they found evidence of an aircraft with these tripod marks that landed so the Rancher Manuel Gomez goes into town to report the the animal because it was unique this guy's been ranching all his life it's not like he knew it wasn't predators and some of the other stories that have come out um because of what was missing on the cattle so what was interesting is when he they went out the next day to investigate it there were more Tri pod mark on top of Manuel's Tire Tracks from the previous day so right off the bat there was this weird aircraft they found an oily substance on the ground and it looked like whatever this aircraft was when it landed it almost tipped over on a stump so they've been seeing these UFOs or weird lights or whatever you want to call them so that started that's how my dad got involved it was investigating the mutilations they had a lot of them in dul so he gave a a speech in the spring of 1979 about the mutilations and Paul benoth was there and he just happened to be attending this meeting that um Senator Harrison Schmidt who was Apollo astronaut he was a New Mexico Senator at the time um he gave this speech and Paul met him at that conference so my dad had been seeing these lights these weird UFOs for the past almost three years a lot of the local people have been seeing them all the time and they were having a ton of mutilations so Paul comes and tells them he I might know what these UFOs are I've been filming them over curland Air Force Base so that's what started the whole relationship with Paul benowitz because my dad was always skeptical about the alien part of it but when Paul told him kurin air Air Force Base um they were already leaning towards military government corporation type involvement the mutilations yeah and that's what piqued his interest and that's how Paul got involved with my dad and they just hit it off and they became friends so uh Paul ends up going to Dy in um 1979 and my dad takes him around and there were those lights were so common in the time on almost any given night you could go out at 10:30 10 at night and you'd see the lights all over town flying everywhere so it was pretty easy to see and that night Paul saw quite a few um of the UFOs playing around Dy so that's for they really got involved in this and that's kind of where it starts with the Air Force in the 19 well 1980 in January 1980 and then it evolved from there and it's a pretty long story but we have plenty of time so yeah whatever you want to know we'll we'll sort it out uh what the thing is and I noticed this in the book and I really like this you say UFO or aircraft but you never really say because if you say UFO and you keep hammering on that people automatically think aliens from other planets coming here and craft and I don't think you want to push that in the book in fact you're trying to kind of get away from it yeah well see me and my dad both come from law enforcement background so I don't know if you had an attorney ever pick you apart in a when you're presenting a case but we look at it from a law enforcement standpoint how do you prove this it's not what you know it's what you can prove so um when you see a lot of the alien UFO stuff um my dad always looked at it okay we have a weird light but just because it's weird doesn't mean it's an alien aircraft let's roll out the first possibility military human controlled and you can you the stuff that he ever always recovered as far as evidence never got past that it always tied back into the military or a human intelligence and it never got passed to the alien part of it so um investigations is nothing but process of elimination and if you can't eliminate the human part then you got to keep following that trail until you figure out what's going on and it always has gone down either military or government and it's never gone to the Alien Part even though they looked at it they they looked at everything you can think of it just never went that direction okay yeah we'll get to some of the more exotic things as we go on but the

um one of the first stories in the book which I thought was fascinating and as I talked to you on the phone before we started here um I mentioned a couple of uh stories I'd already read in there where I talked to your father for the book and I must say when I first came out and met uh your father Gabe um he uh I was given His Name by of all people Bill Moore and Bill Moore I guess was good friends with him he spoke very highly of him um yeah yeah they work together a lot all after a while all these investigators all know each other it's a small group good or bad whatever your view of them is yeah but they're all intertwined and they all work together back in the 70s and 80s yeah he um just on Bill's word uh Gabe just opened up immediately and started talking to me and telling me basically what you know he was answering all my questions and kind of going overboard and showing me some of his uh files and letting me copy some of them so it was I I was kind of amazed that he was so open with me and it really helped a lot um writing the book you know my dad that was one of his good qualities and his that was one of his personality traits he was just friendly with everyone and I think that's what was important now that he passed away I think that's why he was able to figure it out because he everyone that's a major player in this story or some of the other stories he was involved with them because he was able to get along with a lot of people so it's kind of a testament to him yeah in his Personality uhhuh yeah so what uh what what got him involved was just basically one of the ranchers uel Gomez calling him up and saying hey there's this weird thing going on here and he came out saw a cow that obviously wasn't killed in any way that anybody had seen before or was used to and then there's the other factor of these things flying around uh Dulce um and the the the reason I said that uh the other thing I wanted to say about your dad is he told me a lot of stuff that would had happened when he was doing investigations but not all of it and yeah the first example I found of that that made my jaw drop and go oh wow okay was the uh he told me the story about cornering some one of these lights in a he said it was in a field or at least clear gas boogy yeah he didn't say where it was yeah I'll buy the gas buggy site which we'll also talk about because I found that fascinating in the book um I mean I I knew about it but I didn't know whole the whole history and all the testing that had gone on I just knew about the one one or two tests um the these are Atomic tests but which we talk about but he had cornered one of these lights him and and a couple other law law enforcement people the thing I found interesting is that they were on the radio talking and trying to tell each other where the light was and it would always get away from them and he and uh in the book you said that he said um everybody should speak just in Apache on the radio now and at that point the light whoever was listening to them if that's what was going on they they were able to Corner the light because whoever was listening to the policeman couldn't understand what they were saying yes and that's kind of why like I touched Bas earlier where it never really got into the alien story because that light used to mess with them they'd be out there they were trying to shoot it down I know it's kind of wild west but New Mexico's Wild West especially back in the 70s and um they noticed that was one of the main indicators like well if it was alien they'd be able to figure out all these languages and um that's how they were able to trap it where they tried to take shots at it but they weren't lucky enough to shoot at it so or maybe they were lucky and they didn't shoot at it it probably go the other way around but um yeah it was that came out it was always at night in the things are pretty small too and and from what you say about uh apart from what your dad told me which I thought was interesting and you put in the book that they heard this noise like a lawnmower motor um which is not aliens from other planets if it's a little two-stroke gasoline motor um it's probably something else but yeah and it was very fan only one of the officers heard it though the officer were when the aircraft Flew Over the one officer and he couldn't see it he's the one that heard it and he said it made a small small noise like a lawnmower engine yeah which would indicate that it's probably some you know aircraft propellers or something on it or as one person described to me on this program a hybrid of lighter than air and uh directed thrusts of something which might have been yeah and that's actually in the later part of the story because it's 40 Years of the story and that gets into the 90s and they start my dad started finding that type of evidence and some of the newer stuff that we found in the last couple years uh leans towards that same propulsion systems it gets more detailed in the book as you go through the books yeah and but you know that finding that out early on is is is fascinating to me I did include that in my book because I thought it was important for people to know that Not only was there evidence that you know that these lights weren't you know what people thought were alien or UFO but there was specific evidence that there weren't like this lawnmower motor noise and the the fact that they could hear seem to be avoiding them based on the radio chatter so yes and they were monitoring and you know like I told you earlier it was pretty easy for them to go see them any On Any Given night we would go out and look for them and we'd see them all over the the reservation and they drive around with the lights off the police cars and you know that's how they look for poachers with the ging fish or they used to still drip unrefined gas but um when they every once in a while they get kind of a cat and mouse going game going with these lights and they would at the end of the night when they'd be chasing around the lights would come and kind of buzz the police units and kind of say goodbye to them like that was fun it was kind of weird but that's one of the things that would happen was kind of interesting but they did the lights ever move in a way that you that people didn't think was possible for you know just any any kind of regular aircraft I mean did they move did they move like people think UFOs move yes exactly that's why they were calling them UFOs at the beginning because it was definitely unconventional aircraft they up down sideways well the typical your stereotypical story of with UFO but doing it so quickly that something like with a propeller or anything that couldn't really go that fast or or change direction that quickly no and it wasn't and it wasn't helicopters and mentioning helicopters to complicate it there was a lot of helicopter sightings in the area around DC also around this time period but it wasn't a helicopter and even the everyone that saw it knew it was unconventional yeah and of course time has kind of explained what it probably was or more likely was yeah which is probably at the end of the book and which we will get to yes so uh what what they were finding and people don't usually know this or tend to ignore it with the cattle mutilations is that they were finding pieces of Technology around and one time you said they found an altimeter and uh your father showed me a picture gas mask that was found once um so that this is how they knew something was going on that wasn't you know it was a mystery but it wasn't an unearthly mystery yes and they also found on one of the G ulations they found radar shaft and some people don't know a radar shaft but it's old stealth technology yeah it's basically aluminum shaving that the military's used for years they've used it since Vietnam and they disperse it from the aircraft and it blocks the the radar signal to make the the aircraft Ste what reflects the radar signal back and like I said it's a very old form of um stealth on one of the mations on the Gomez Ranch the machine malfunction and usually when it works properly the shavings are are so fine um you you'll never find it because it's so small but the machine not function so it just shot the packages out in full packages and they were able to see the flight path of the aircraft that shot it out and then they were did testing on it and they tested it back to the Air Force and they were they were curious where my dad got the samples and Edmund Gomez because it was supposed to be classified back at the time and to top it off the frequency that it was tied to was out of Longmont Colorado which is the air monitoring station for Dy because dul is so close to Colorado it's actually closer to Colorado than Albuquerque yeah much closer it was tied into the frequency out of Longmont which is the radar station for that was covering Dy at the time you mean the the type of CHA that was found was was designed to block the radar frequency being used in Longmont yes and that specific that's how much detail which it's really amazing because you have my dad was a state police officer the state police do have resources for dead cattle that wasn't a priority but and you have Edmund G is a Rancher and they did some pretty detailed analysis but it was cooperation with a lot of other agencies and a lot of investigators that you know they they picked it apart as much as they can and they even thought what frequency they were running off of so yeah so it wasn't just a a rinky dink investigation there a lot of detailed stuff and it always went back to the government or the military so well if it always went back to the government I guess I did they get stonewalled I guess over and over again asking questions they must have I mean i' I've part of that's detailed in your book yeah and that was that's always been a problem um of course New Mexico we have so many um military installations you have San die Labs Los alos labs you can always find someone that'll work with you but they will they won't go on the record there's a lot of smart individuals that work in these in New Mexico and so they'll tell you well this is what it is but I don't want to go on record telling me so they had a lot of basically their informants were giving up a lot of information and helping them but so they would do analysis on the side whatever um government affiliation they were working for or non-government whatever the case so um they had pretty good network of um of people that were helping them out which made it a lot easier because without the resources of a major crime lab it was hard to put all this stuff together so yeah well one of the people who I mentioned in the book and you talk about was Dr Howard Burgess who I think worked at Sandia right yes he was a retired uh scientist at s and he was very instrumental in getting the detailed stuff and through his connections they were able to use shanfield Laboratories they did the cow hair test and they got GA a lot of very good scientific information that wouldn't have been possible without Howard's expertise and knowledge because he was a scientist and um they were able to gather a lot of very scientific information instead of just writing it off as a dead cow they were able to get a lot of pieces of the puzzle from using the Howard as the the main scientist running the operation which was good yeah well he he was creative enough that he I don't know if he came up with the idea but maybe maybe because they were uh you describe in the book that that uh your father and and Edmund Gomez were saying well there's only they they found out after a while that only a certain cattle in C in a certain herds of a certain age age group were being mutilated and there they couldn't figure out why so and then they further wondered well how do they know which one of you know if somebody comes in the middle of the night to grab these things how do they know without being detected and having a big search light going all over the field how do they know that there's uh which cow they're supposed to to examine or take or what whatever they're going to do with it and um you I think that uh Dr Burgess came up with that uh squeeze shoot um experiment right yes that's correct he's the one that came up with the idea of well they must be marked somehow because like you said they had certain patterns of certain herd certain cattle and it's a rugged rugged country you've been a d so you know how rough it is in some of those areas yeah so they were always wondering well how do they pick them up because sometimes they'd see the cattle in the evening and the next morning they find them dead and it's in pretty rough stuff um so they figured they had to be Mark somehow and and um Howard Burgess was the one that came up with the idea of using the ultraviolet light to um check and see if any of them were marked and sure enough they found some that were marked so and then the and then uh Edmund Gomez sold them immediately I think yes they' already they got hit pretty hard with Gomez family they just as a a side note um sorry to cut you off that Gomez family founded duli they were there before the hiaro were even there yeah so they always assumed that the herds were tied into like hereditary testing because that herd was genetically in place since the 1800s through the breeding and all the all the cattle that they've had so yeah um it seemed like they were targeting certain groups of cattle they to bring in around 10,000 head of steers from um Mexico every summer none of those cattle were ever killed it was always the ones that were local to the area so they always focused on those herds there seem to be patterns they were always looking for patterns to try to predict when the next wave would hit them did they actually eventually were they eventually able to predict that pretty accurately yes and they also they got so far as even watching the jet stream the weather jet stream yeah so when it would down into Northern New Mexico they see an influx of mations in CS New Mexico the San Luis Chris O'Brien you know him um they'd see a lot in Trinidad Colorado and then the jet stream would dip or head up north up to Montana Idaho and then they'd see an increase up there so that was their best predictor was actually the jet stream for a while anybody ever figure out why that might have been yeah I kind of get to it later in the book but it looks like it was a lot of um the early early mations it look it looks like they were testing more for contamination from some of the nuclear fallout from the Nevada test site and some of the nuclear tests they were doing yeah and then um later it looked like the mutilations Chang over to a weapons development program and there's some evidence that goes with both of those story yeah because for the longest time when I was talking with your father he he kept saying that it had something to do with um some kind of pathogen some kind of disease and when you say weapons development you're probably talking about biological weapons right yes that's correct cuz the early mations they were fighting um which is a a sub it's like a sister to Anthrax and that's where a lot of the the evidence was pointing towards like B Warfare weapons at the time yeah so there towards that was in the early 70s 80s but as the mations progressed in the 90s the mutilations had changed they were finding different types of evidence evidence and one example is the meat was cooked on the back of the animals when they would skin it during the necropsies yeah so it looked like it was changing into a we more of a specific weapon either non-lethal or or in the case of the cow it might it looks like they were lethal but I don't know we don't they never figur out that it was was killing the animals or it was the chemicals there's a lot of chemicals they also found in the mated cows yeah and then well that brings up the next question which you do answer in the book but um why why do the why do these whoever it is need to sneak around at night and possibly get shot at shot down and caught just to take a few cattle and test them when they could have just basically gone around the country and said we want to buy buy one of your cattle or keep our own herd or whatever why why would even for biological warfare testing why would they need to go out and be uh do a covert uh operations like this on on cattle you have several different issues first of all the liability issue because a lot of the early stuff look like another thing I didn't mention earlier on the rates is um The Fallout rates if you look at the map of the United States from the nuclear fallout from all the the testing during the Cold War yeah the highest concentration of Fallout is also where there's a high number of Mutilation so they always tied that back in so going back to your question of why they do do it first you have liability issues they don't want to be tied in if there's a potential they're causing cancer whatever the case you know or by or germ warfare whatever is going on then you have these issues that they don't want to get in the middle of that when I say they I'm talking about the government and some of these different programs that they were testing so that's part of it uh second of all if you start buying them the first thing a Rancher is going to be is going to ask them like well who's contaminating my cat or what do you need them for or it's just testing yeah so that'll induce more Panic into people and they'll start questioning stuff so that's another issue and then they just start putting their herds so condensed that um if they were to protect them cuz that's their livelihood you know these animals are cost quite a bit of money especially this day and age yeah so they're going to protect them and um of course the bottom line is it comes down to liability it's and it's it's explained in the book because it's a pretty long story but um and another side issue they did actually buy a beford and they had it on the Nevada Nevada Test Site yeah they studied them for years um now that's not part of the mutilations but it gives you a good indication of why they were using cattle specifically yeah because um the bone marrow and some of the issues with radiation that's transferred to cattle um it's easier to test through cattle than humans so hopefully I explained that in the book yeah you did um there's also the issue of radioactive contamination versus uh biological warfare agent or or or pathogen or you know disease contamination and the different organs that are affected and which ones are are missing in some of these mutilations and that that some of the the radiation affects different organs than the than the uh other testing does which which which seems to explain why only certain organs were taken and it also explained why certain age like they always would find two to three year old heers or or cows that were dead and it explained why they were picking certain age groups because the radiation contamination it would take several years to get into the bone marrow of of the cattle and that's what they were testing for at Nevada at the Nevada test site so after reading those reports it makes the reason those reports are included in the book is it gives you an idea of why they use cattle and what they were looking for and then if you look at what they were testing for at Nevada under the controlled experiments you can relate it to the mutilations and kind of see well this is what they're looking for outside the con safety and confines of the Nevada Test Site it all starts coming together when she go start under seeing the big picture kind of looking at everything that was going on have you had anybody else kind of confirm this besides well have you yeah but the thing is with a lot of the mation stuff it's kind of old news Dead news um it's not as popular as it was in the 70s so there's a couple of older investigators that I still keep in touch with that were friends with my dad and they're pretty much on the same same page of that from the stuff that I talked about they're like yeah it is and I have a lot of the reports so and the reports will be on the website and the the stuff will be free people can look at it and they can decide what they want to yeah how far they want to dig into it or not yeah see that's good because if somebody writes you and says well where's your evidence for this and how did you come to that conclusion because I I had that with project beta and I said well if I had to sit there and you know uh have everything the book

footnoted and all that book would have taken another you know six months to do however I did put in my sources in the back me you know all the interviews with your father with Bill Moore with Dodie with um uh Jerry Miller uh actually I didn't call him Jerry Miller in the book but I did interview him um and uh various websites magazines newspapers uh uh old UFO um you know uh muon reports all kinds of things like that I mean all the stuff that goes into doing research that you have to correlate and this story first of all it's such an old story that's been ongoing it's 40 50 years of History it's really history it's what it comes down to and like there's a book that I could write off of the mutilations if I was interested in writing books which I'm not not really in the book business but Chris is writing course I'm an author but I am now I guess I don't have a choice but there's so much information that for almost every book or every chapter in the book you could write another separate book if you just go down that one path and but and that's what the website's for because I have garage full of stuff and it just files and and until you access and look at those files a lot of the stuff won't make sense but at least people will be able to look at it and say Hey Oh that now I understand what was going on back then a lot of it is just people forget about it because it was in the 70s you know younger people you talk to them about mutilations a lot of them don't even know what you're talking about so yeah and that's just one SM small part of the Dulie story that's just the beginning part yeah I mean the book is called Dul Bas it's called Dulcy Bas so uh a lot of the um narrative in the book deals with that that facet of what was going on there um so what about the Dulie Bas most people what they know about it is uh what they've read on the internet what they've read in certain um kind of wild books that don't really support themselves to well but tell a good story um and the the root of it all uh was was uh Paul benowitz I think originally coming out and saying there was a base there and pushing that story and um probably and most likely and almost certainly at the direction of people that were pointing his nose there uh yes and trying to convince him that there was indeed need something there and had to do with aliens um actually when you when you talk about in the book you said that a lot of this disinformation uh directed at Paul um actually sort of backfired uh with the Air Force and they had to kind of backtrack and and uh not really backtrack but lie even more to cover up their tracks about talking to Paul who started writing letters to senators and congressmen and the president and other researchers Etc yes because actually no one would have ever known the not have ever taken it given it a second thought if it wasn't for the Air Force they're the ones that introduced that story which is ironic but that story came when Paul Beno get became involved in the whole story um I lived there my dad lived there Edmund Gomez and that's what was interesting when Paul came along is he's the one that brought that whole story of well the Dy Bas and a lot of it was being supported with with evidence so it was found we found out later but they kind of messed up because they they actually were showing them a lot of actual classified information and they were adding the alien portion to kind of discredit him but I think they underestimated him because he's very determined I knew Paul CU I used to go with him he was always at our house or we be at his house um you know like I I mentioned in the book If people write to their Congressman Senator the newspaper and tell them about an alien invasion they'll just throw your stuff in the trash or ignore you but all these people took him serious and um in the book it's mentioned they were we found the wire TAPS in my dad's house um the ranch up there the Gomez family they had the wire Taps of course this was back in the days of rotary phone um they do it differently nowadays so um and that's where a lot of the evidence of for the evidence points that the Air Force messed up by giving them too much information because they actually now they had a problem because they were it's a leak yeah they leaked out their own classified projects and it wasn't just dual some other aircraft technology which the book P puts together you know there's a lot of pieces to this puzzle and that's where a lot of this um the Dual C base actually was started by the Air Force and parts of it are true parts of it are false and um that's what the book sorts out and and hopefully people can understand after reading it well a couple of those stories that are false that you'll hear on the Internet or other books whatever the case is there's supposed to be an underground alien war that happened in 1979 yeah and a lot of people will base their um their theories or books or whatever their case off these either this Alien War or these whistleblowers that supposedly worked at the base like Phil Schneider or Thomas Costello but um the book I go into detail and hopefully point out how those the story of Phil Schneider IS F F Well for the most part are not relevant to D and the same with Thomas Costello because once you get back and you view it from the big picture perspective it all starts to make sense but um at the time and it's taken years to figure it out it's just recently that a lot of this stuff has been Declassified but the the Thomas Costello and Phil Schneider stories never had much Credence to him um the book goes into detail why and there's evidence to support why they've never been part of the story but unfortunately things get added to it or taken away and that's why there's a lot of confusion on the the Dy base but portions of the story are are true well what portions of the story are true because you in the beginning of the book you you uh describe going out to um out in the wilderness outside of well most of its Wilderness but in the wilderness outside of town to watch some of these lights and what they were doing in a couple in a couple instances you You observe them kind of disappear into a place where Paul Benoit said there was an entrance to the underground base it looked like they flew into the side of the Hill yeah and that was that was what part of that 80% he would come up and tell you look this is where their their aircraft entrances to the base and you at first you know everyone was skeptical my dad Edmond everyone they like yeah right there's nothing up there but when um we were doing Expeditions up to mount mount archila they would flying to the side of the mountain and it's not like just a random part of the mountain it was right where he pointed the reason we were there watching is because that's where he told us the entrance was and sure enough that's they were coming at night and I sent you the video and the video will eventually be on um on the website so everyone can see it but we camped out there one night with Dr John Gilly and this um Jason bishop or bill mcgerty whatever you want to call him yeah and um those lights popped up right where he said the entrance to the base was and like you couldn't script that part of it or so that's where that 80% a lot of the stuff that um he was saying was right then he would get on to like the alien stuff and that just never panned out it always died off when you started looking into that so well what was did you go up and look at that spot to see what was going on where where where those things supposedly were going into the mountain quote unquote yeah and where and my dad went up there after they had a big Force fire up there in 1996 they burned the area so it looked like it that because of the fire this is more this is Theory this isn't backed up by evidence but it looked because of the fire um where that entrance was supposed to be and it's an aircraft insurance I have to be careful kind of what I'm saying it looks like they closed it off and I'm saying they I'm talking about the government because there was rock that was blown out from inside the mountain and it wasn't ambiguous to the surrounding Rock and it just looked like some haveit blasted out and then once again you go back to Paul's photos of his aerial mission that he was taking up there it's right exactly where he points it out on the on his aerial photos which brings up a whole another issue because he's flying in a Cessna circling this mountain at around 9,000 feet and he's taking random photos so how some of the photos they're blurry you can't see anything and the ones my dad received from him there was five black and white photos only one of them had anything that was verified some of them would say alien troops on the ground or yeah you know a variety of UFOs and my dad searched for everything couldn't find anything but rocks or blurry images but except for the one thing was the crash site so that was part of it that um was true and then also he wrote a map in the map's in the book where he details this diamond pattern of landing strip in he said there was pylons and in the book the photos are on there and on the website where there's actually the pylon and they so Edmond had saw the pylon they found it when they walked on the ground but they never could figure out what exactly it was for um new evidence has come up where it looks like we kind of figured out exactly what that pylon was for and to point out we talked about Richard Dodie kind of telling you stories about the the Air Force intentionally placing props up there yeah uh and then Gomez found a vent a supposed vent V ation Shaft or what looks like a ventilation shaft up there but see Paul Beno has never walked around the area on foot and that that area is so rugged Paul would have never walked around there it's just too rough he didn't know the area and that's it's one of those areas if you don't know what you're doing or know the area you can get yourself killed up there um it's pretty rugged country and they knew Paul didn't hike around the mountains he would do it in aerial Mission so the story about well we intentionally place these props like the ventilation Shaft or whatever the case that wasn't intentionally placed there that was there just you know Edmond found it so so what did he see what was he seeing from the helicopter when the Air Force flew him up there from the helicopter yeah because he was flown up there in a helicopter I think once with DOD and once with uh uh Colonel Carpenter I believe Colonel Carpenter was one of them and Edwards I think was even up there yeah Ernest Edwards what were they showing him they were showing him the the entrance where the the aircraft would fly in and it's marked on one of the photos I have in the book they were actually showing them because if you there's a famous photo floating around the the internet where three lights are flying and there's a rock out cropping in the back yeah um it's kind of all over the internet you'll see it a lot of people have that copy what a lot of people don't realize is the you have to focus on the Rock outcropping in the back and then you cross reference it with the the map that I have in the book and he has some black and white photos and there's more photos and they I'll be on the website where you can look at them and you'll see exactly where they were flying into and that place has always been there and that's they showed him that CU he knew where to take the pictures yeah he was able to capture them and that was another thing that would astonish I like well how's he taking these pictures and then some other story he would said that he could communicate through them through telepathic communication he would so then he would start saying stuff like that and so you're like do do you believe him well he has a photo so you know this stuff's weird to begin with when you get into it so you don't rule it out but um you don't necessarily discount it but you don't necessarily believe it right away you have to verify it and that's the hard part because some of it's backed up and some of it just goes in in a whole different direction but the one thing he was solid is he seemed to have found the entrance and I don't we kind of think that he was shown that entrance specifically so cuz he knew when to take the photos and he knew how to capture it on Films yeah so the thing is that a lot of people have seen I've seen a lot of these pictures and I can't see anything in them um yeah yeah I and the they're the ones that your father had shown me not not the ones you're talking about I don't think um although in one in one of the photos apparently there is a shot of whatever crashed there it's very small it it looks like it might be artificial I don't know for sure looking in the book but you your father also described to me and and you have too actually and you describe in the book actually hiking up there or going up there after had had been cleared off cuz something definitely crashed there and the funny thing is that I don't think I think Paul just accidentally discovered that when he was flying around up there in his plane he wasn't told to go look yeah and that's a that's a key thing we don't know if he um was told that or he just found it because on the photos you've seen the photos where you can't even see the burnt trees in the photos but when we to it they right where he pointed it out yeah that's what was weird and there was a couple different and it's in the book and you can see where the burnt FL like well how do he see this in the airplane how do he even find that air the the crash location without either someone told him or he just got lucky and that's hard to tell but um there's evidence that something did crash there and we'd always assumed it was a stealth until recent developments came out he was actually right what whatever this Delta ship is and uh some of this stuff has been declassified by NASA and um I don't think I sent it to you yet I need to email it to you it's a 500 page document and guess what's in that document it's a Delta ship and of course you got to keep in mind the time frame the stealth was still relatively classified yeah back in the 80s 85 when all this was happening so right we were always we were told by one of the guys on the expedition that worked out of Los Alamos that it was a stealth that had crashed around that time frame so for lack of a better evidence evidence we always kind of just took that story like well that makes sense but now that time's gone on and we've been I went back in researched that they Declassified all the crashes that they've had for the stealth and that wasn't a stealth that crashed up there of course this is somewhat recent within the last few years that we found that out yeah and the Delta ship that Paul talks about you have a picture of it picture of it in Project beta his drawing tied yeah it's um it's tied into this NASA project the BDM Corporation was working on back in the 70s and it's a 500 page document and it's they even have drawings for you to make it easy so so you know and once again you can't prove for 100% but that document will be on there and it's almost identical to what that his hand drawing his hand print his hand drawn um images of the Delta ship and they're they correlate quite a bit and it just keeps going further and further and something new that's kind of popped up that um we kind of stumbled on to in the the last couple years it's fairly new so well that's amazing because everybody looks at that and the thing was he he made about three or four different drawings and they're they're all kind of different from each other first it looks kind of conventional then it looks more and more and more strange like something that actually shouldn't be flying yeah and that's what was hard because um you know there was evidence that something crashed that's pretty cut and dry but what crashed we still don't know that 100% now it's starting to look like there is this Delta ship it's he was right about that and um we know going back through over over the stuff that he was shown a a ton of classified stuff and whether they made him the when I say they the Air Force or these government agencies were involved with him like CIA or NSA um whether they made him mistake or not it's kind of crazy because he was dead on on a lot of stuff that's recently been Declassified so he it looks like they showed him a lot of stuff that they probably shouldn't have showed him or they did it he was a smart guy yeah the smartest people I've ever run across yeah and um so they had to even partial truths to get him steered in the right direction and then they would kind of add the alien stuff to get him to discredit him and you know the story just as well as me but um um so I think the way to trick him is they had to give him a lot of classified stuff and they did give him quite a bit from what's being released slowly it was like he had a lot of stuff that's now that's accurate except for the alien part if you just remove with Paul's stuff if you remove remove alien he's pretty much 100% accurate on everything he was telling every my dad and these other guys you know you know that's the easiest way to understand it is just remove the Alum part and he's pretty much spot on on everything else and you can reference it if you go and find if he says something about you know a radiation or nuclear powered Atomic aircraft if you research it you actually find where it supports a lot of what he's talking about you'll find documentation plenty of it now that's of course now it's Declassified I wish we would have had it back in the 70s and 80s yeah well it was yeah was the case it was highly classified at that point I mean to the point where probably only a few people knew about it so it was kind of strange that he would be they would be letting him in on this stuff probably because they're probably one I guess because they knew he was very uh impressionable and was very into the alien alien thing that they could you know most people would just laugh at him um yeah but some people who you know and you said that uh Senator Schmidt and N menichi took him seriously because because of this the part he was talking about that was real and that they knew about and they and they they knew that something strange was going on with it and they they wanted to know about it they didn't care about the alien stuff what they cared about was this this real stuff he was talking about and that the worry they had that the their constituents might be getting might be in some sort of danger some sort of Health Danger I guess yeah because Paul was always saying that that Delta ship or stealth we thought it was a stealth was a nuclear power so there was a fear of um radioactive contamination in Dy and that's what he was writing to all these Senators yeah and a little side known fact that's in the book is um see my dad was friends with Senator dommini through a mutual friend he used to know Bobby uner the race car driver because we used to run his Ranch up in Chama yeah well Bobby's the one that got my dad in touch with Senator Dom minichi and they pushed it through the back door that's New Mexico that's how things work I think it still work like that everywhere but um see when Harrison Schmid went down to Kirland they pretty much told him to go away and they wouldn't let him on base and they stonewalled him but when dommini came in because my dad was talking to him is like hey this has nothing to do with aliens but there's a potential for contamination um dommini was more receptive to that and he goes well let's look at it but he kept it very low profile yeah and the way he got into the got information was using the Sandia investigators not the Air Force investigators and that's dawn stone and Sam ortego and there's always been a little bit of mystery of why they got involved well it's because of dommin he was pushing it from the the back door angle is what it was to get more information well that and you also point out there was there were people hanging around sort of giving you help quote unquote some of them were helping but some of them were you know kind of steering you in a certain direction vacuuming up information and seeing what people knew under the guise of helping yes that's correct and so there's a lot of little things going on and you know and when you add it all up now it makes a lot more sense but and those are some busy years back then yeah with everything going on it's a really convoluted story and it's it's it's got a lot of parts to it and I wish I'd kind of realized when I was writing the book that because I assumed a lot of the stuff that Paul was on to was kind of a a a bastardization of what was really really going on I mean that's what I tried to push in the book there were secret projects going on he had stumbled on to them and they were kind of trying to hold him off um by encouraging his alien uh interests and also you know conversely finding out who was talking to him who was trying to find out what he was finding out because if they weren't if they weren't you know American UFO investigators or you know somebody who hadn't been around for a long time they they could have some kind of interest in like a name would come up and they'd be writing to Paul and said oh please tell me more about this and they could find they could find out who that person was and find out who was who was interested in what it was kind of like it was he was held out there as bait I think a little bit yeah and some of the stuff that was flown around and see you forget some of it after all because there's so much information but um at kland they were I guess the yugos they had some yugoslavians that were really trying to infiltrate some of the security systems back during that time period really during the Cold War so I think they were the Air Force the intelligence agencies were worried about that they were I think they were worried about Paul giving that information to them because they were operating in this area which was kind of a no one's really brought it up it was kind of a lowkey because it probably doesn't really matter in the story but um but that might explain partially why they went full court press so to speak on Paul with just harassing him and you've documented it well in your book on some of the stuff that they that they did to him but um and of course this was back in the Cold War it's hard to when you talk like this day and age it's I always try to remember or remind people this was during the Cold War this was during the 80s there was still a lot of tensions you know because it's different now yeah than what was going on back in in those earlier days of the 1980s and the late 70s yeah well there was one there was one main very specific and verifiable enemy and that's where a lot of the and you know Affiliated States iron you know Iron Curtain countries and that they they're very easily you know uh dealt I don't know about easily dealt with but easily identified um now now it's not so easy and and actually hanging around billmore and and to some extent Paul benowitz were a couple of Chinese agents as well yeah so and I don't even know if Paul realized that that you know it's a lot bigger story of that what was going on and he was right in the middle of it and my dad kind of got sucked into parts of it just because of Paul and it it got pretty messy there for a while but um your book has sorted it out which did a good job because that was important for people to see get the whole story of what really happen yeah and it's a messy like you said there's so many layers to this you have the mutations is one thing um Paul's another story The Dy base and then you'll get into nids a little bit later National Institute of Discovery Science yeah um they're just a lot of different layers to us and they're made intentionally made to confuse people so um once you can see through the layers it makes sense and then kind of a lie Buble go on and you're like well that makes sense now yeah and most people don't really have the time or that really care to get into it and it doesn't really affect them there very much so but the thing is it's a it's a an example of what was going on and how things used to be done and when you see that and you see what was done and how how people went about their business and how they were treated you wonder what what might be going on now yeah like this uh new stuff with the Edward Snowden it's really not shocking to me because I've been around some of these type of stories to me like that's not really breaking news but I guess for some people it is yeah they could break into our house when I was a kid and put listening devices without a search warrant so you know it's nothing new when he released some of that stuff but I don't want to get off topic on that yeah yeah well the the thing what what was what was the Revelation was that it's a lot easier to track a lot more people now and it's uh being done done warrantless for people that have nothing to do with what you you your dad and Paul benowitz were doing back then it's it's just a completely different playing field and for far different reasons some of them not very uh justifiable so that it was important that that uh that come out and you know the I think the guy's kind of a hero for for bringing that information out to make people aware yeah I agree with you 100% because like I said I've been the you know my family's been the victim the Gomez family they have nothing to do with National Security there's no reason for them to collect private information or they illegal wire Taps what they come down to so and it's the same stuff with the the new Snowden information that's been on I agree with you 100% on that yeah um sorry to get you sidetracked that's kind of a no this whole show is about side tracking if you've listened to any of them I mean you know people EV sometimes I end up talking about baseball with people so it doesn't really matter I try to stay on topic um so what was you know what kind of stuff were they testing what from what you found out without revealing too I mean there's so much in the book that we're not talking about already because one we don't have the time and two it'd be interesting people you know to they should get the book and find all the stuff out just too much to talk about but yeah it just there's so much going on so if we we I'll try to keep it timeline just to make it easier so we're kind of back at the crash side of the Delta ship and the stealth and all that stuff yeah what was this what was this Delta ship the expedition that where we found all the crash side and when Edmond Gomez was up there we took the video that I sent you um what had happened is there was a a scientist from France Dr John Gilly was part of that expedition so so um we go up there and find all this stuff but what's all this this guy that showed up his he goes under the name Jason Bishop yeah there's like three different Jason Jason Bishops so yeah his real name is Bill mcgar or Thomas mcgar is what his name is but he used to work at L solos Labs but he it's one of those weird things he popped up at the right place at the right time you know my dad he never said no to anyone so people came to D's like come on let's go get in the car I'll show you the UFOs so he would take everything with a grain of salt but he never said no to anyone and he's had good people go up there he talked to good people bad people whatever the case just he never said no so this megarity comes up and while we were up there and this is the whole key to the Dy base um story and how it goes while we're were up there we were just taking random photos of the area when we're leading when we get back to town we develop the pictures from the Expedition we camped out there for a night and um when we get back to town when we develop the film there's a some weird aircraft in the in the photo yeah so Bill mcgar takes it and it blows it up and he's like he brings it back and there's an Insignia and right then and there when Edmund and my dad saw they're like this has nothing to do with UFOs that's a military aircraft that's a classified military aircraft yeah and you can't have a better place to blow up your photos in Lo Sal slabs that's the cream of the crop so of course then starts this whole story why can't give you the copies and a lot of this used to go on back in the 70s and '80s they have digital cameras back then yeah so um but they right then and there they're like this is what Dy base is it's a it's a military classified military testing site it's almost like Area 51 in the book I call it Area 52 because I don't have a better explanation but and that's where the story kind of came apart and then you start doing looking at some of the history of like the air force their testing programs it ties back to it some of the stuff that Dodie came out the lightel letter kind of ties back into that and and all the you know all the evidence is going to be there on the website and in the book so but what was key to that is when this bill McGarity came up there he never disclosed that he had he was a classified um he had all these different classifications with NSA CIA and these Intel agencies he just said it was I'm just interested in UFOs and Science and I just want to see what's going on of course you know it's always hindsights 5050 reveal later like it was probably they were either he was either monitoring John Gilly because he worked for the French government and that's of course this hasn't been proved so I don't want people quoting me on I try to be very careful of what I can prove and what's a theory and this is a theory um there's speculation that he was probably monitoring Dr Gilly because he was with the French associated with the French government or um he would just he knew we were getting close because of the crash s and that kind of backs up supports more the theory that they gave Paul the story of the crash Tye because they knew we were going up there and well they're bugging our phone so that wasn't too complicated we didn't find out until later but yeah um it's always the right place at the right time and this is one of those where it looks like that story was more of a damage control and out of that photo came the stories of the stealth and all this other stuff but it it's not a stealth because the photos of it I saw the blowups my dad saw it's a different aircraft than the stealth so yeah it's pretty much cut and dry well we're we're on a classified military project and that's why my dad was always somewhat hesitant to to release it because you know it's nice to be a free American but there's a line at you know how much do you want to divulge or how much do you want to keep secret our technology um so there's always that fine line of what should be kept secret what should be released and that technology is so old now that yeah I'm afraid of what what probably replaced it since then but yeah but the bottom line is that aircraft was invisible and it's silent and it's was developed in Dy that's kind of a gist what you're saying about it it's funny because the first thing you said about being a free American I was thinking oh well I guess that means he could have been threatened I don't think that anything to do with he he was I think what he was thinking at the time was well this is secret I've stumbled on to it and I probably shouldn't reveal it because I just don't want to reveal it because the government doesn't want it revealed and it shouldn't be that that was his attitude right yeah and it's it's just you know patriotic you know my older brother's in the military yeah he doesn't want to jeopardize these troops that are overseas if you disclose something secret because back in the 80s like I said they've Advanced this technology since then what we figured out after that little Expedition is when we were around Dy we just take random photos of the sky you then we go back and every once in a while you get an aircraft pop up in one of the photos for whatever reason the camera lens would pick up the the image but your naked eye could and it's the book goes into detail about the camouflage system which has been Declassified and we've had that of course for years obviously because we're taking pictures of it but um it goes into the technology of what was going on and we just happen to stumble on it back in the day that's where a lot of this UFO stuff comes from are the stories of it so what's weird and I just thought about this while you were talking about it is you call it the Area 52 it is so atypical to have why would you be testing aircraft in such a remote area with nothing for the aircraft to land on nobody would ever figure out that there was any kind of aircraft testing there at all because it doesn't make any sense yeah and actually when you think about it it's the perfect place you know Area 51 is not really a secret if I was it Chinese or Russian I'd have every satellite pointed out there because you know that's where they tested yeah so what better place than Dy and a lot of people will say well there's no fences around um the Dual SE Bas well there's no need for it it's a secret base they're if they put a fence that's going to tell you there's something there yeah and that just draws attention plus it's so rugged it would cost them so much money to put a fence in there they just go up there do a little bit of discrete testing it's close to actually the Nevada test site to Area 51 it's close to Kirtland San Diego it's centrally located from a lot of these major Air Force bases or military bases that conduct classified aircraft training so it's it's in a prime spot it's the middle of nowhere no one bothers you they don't report the lights yeah so what actually an ideal Place yeah so what we've got here is that um the answer is yes there was some sort of Base there yes there was definite evidence about it and yes Paul Benowitz knew about a lot of this evidence but since he said such other crazy stuff most people ignored him um yeah you know for the longest time while I was doing the book and before I just thought well there was probably probably never any base there and if there was it's probably not there anymore and it turns out yeah there probably was a base there and no it's probably not there anymore because you said it had been closed up because your father said he'd take me up there and show me but all I would have seen was a caved in thing yeah you would have seen where you know old stuff the guard towers are still up there unless the Southern Ute tribe tore them down cuz they ended up with the property you know actually the Dy base isn't really in Dy it's in Colorado it's in Southern Colorado where they it was on the Reading Ranch and you can read it the book I don't know if you've gone that far yet no but I talked to your father about that he was showing me those pictures of yeah and that's where they found the guard towers and all the fun stuff and so what's actually in New Mexico is the crash site and that's where the aircraft crashed but the operations and all that other stuff was actually on the Colorado site and um one of the stories I don't know if you read the story where Paul was flying up there with the CBS News crew he was flying over that Reading Ranch he got oh is that where they were okay when they got chased by the two helicopters yeah and he got chased by the Army Shooks and they flew into town and chased him around and he ended up seeing one of these UFO classified aircraft whatever you want to call it he stumbled on to they were testing up there and then they had the military aircraft um protecting it is what it was and they chased him in the town he he stumbled into the middle they're testing yeah but the thing was he he was he was with a TV crew that had some film cameras did they get any shots of anything any of this we don't know my dad always tried to track him down but uh they were pretty shaken when that happened I was with him at the airport when they came into town and they left as soon as they were there for about 15 20 minutes and poor Paul was shaking he was pretty pretty horrified cuz they gave him a pretty good scare they followed him all over the northern part of the reservation and ran him out of the area and they're fully armed troops so um that's where the Delta Force story comes in that that Richard Dodie told you in that part parts of that was true but um they weren't there just to do training missions they were protecting that aircraft is what it was from what it that's what it appears to be some of the stuff I don't want to say as fact but that's where the story seems to follow okay what I had on the the show once was a guy who said he worked at a contractor in San Diego that was working on a Thrust vectoring craft that was also um lighter than air which would basically produce all almost all or almost all the uh flight characteristics that people would ascribe to UFOs being able to hover stop on a dime make very very quick turns all that stuff is uh is that the kind of stuff they were testing up there in the late 70s I'm sorry I guess late 70s to mid 80s yes and um it looks like a lot of this technology some of this is is documented some of its Theory um I don't straight too much in the book but a lot of it looks like it comes from old German technology that the Americans acquired after um World War II you're familiar with project paper clip because it's in your book but it looks like some of this technology comes from Project paper flip um where the German scientist came to the United States and we basically made them work for us yeah and it's also tied into a lot of the cations with the biological germ warfare I think it the doctor's name was Eric trop who was out at Plum Island New York where they did a lot of stuff on animals mad cow dis yeah and that's what's Weir after a while all this stuff starts going in a big circle if you're looking in the right place now if you're looking for aliens it kind of that's why I said it kind of dies off fast but if you start putting the puzzles together it's all goes in a big circle after a while and then it starts to make more sense so um but yeah that lighter than aircraft it seems like that's been around for a while and if you start looking at some of the reports that I'm going to eventually post these are Declassified NASA reports or yeah air for whatever the key looking at the dates of the references because you'll see that okay 68 47 they've been developing this since a long time ago it's not like it's just know you know 2010 that they have the systems that come right it's Declassified that tells you how old it is if they're declassifying it's so irrelevant to them that they don't even pay attention when you make key that's key to it yeah when you make a reference to paperclip and unconventional aircraft are you talking about things that people talk about now having to do with I guess you would call it anti-gravity yes Zero Point Energy yeah you probably heard of the sum of the Zero Point Energy yeah and then we'll probably get to that story that's toward the later chapters of the book but you start getting into the nid story The National Institute of Discovery Science oh yes um you start getting into some of that Zero Point Energy in those type of stories towards the later time frame which would start being the ' 90s because we're still kind of with the crash that years we're still kind of back in the early 80s mid 80s yeah so it starts developing and once again you'll start seeing the same players involved you start and if you really want to dig into this you can dig as deep as you want but start looking at all the players associated with the different you know the different parts of the story follow their history yeah and their research and it'll open up a bunch of doors and especially with the nids the science of vir board which we can get into in a little bit um if you start following the research you can see where what to look for and it just keeps going and going and going and then you'll kind of see how it's all tied into one big picture you mean because when uh your father worked for nids on a uh cattle mutilation project I believe sometime in the early 2000s yes uh because I talk mid90s to late 20 or early 2000 okay yeah cuz I talked to him while he was still working on it he wouldn't tell me what he was doing um he couldn't yeah he said he had a non-disclosure so he couldn't um but he yeah go ahead and there a key to it um you mentioned the non-disclosure i n has always been a mystery stuff and I docu hopefully documented the book I kind of have to watch what I say about it because of liability issues but um that's the key to it and if you understand nids you'll understand the whole story and the whole thing will come together after that because um that's a big key to it and that's where where my D actually the light bulb is like this is what it is and that's where he basically solved what was going on with the mutilation in and the UFOs and all this other stuff but yeah you have to read the book for the rest of that story but that's where a lot of it is so he was he was hinting to me at a lot of this stuff for quite a few years before he died and he would get close to it then he would say well if you want to write a book about it I've got names I've got dates I've got company names um and I suppose some of that stuff's in your book yes because I didn't sign a non-disclosure agreement I don't know if that's good or bad but we'll find out here pretty soon yeah what what so what you're saying about n what you're hinting here about nids which uh like you said is is a National Institute for Discovery Science which is a private a private organization funded by Robert Bigelow who's also involved in private space exploration now most people know that um their logo actually one of their logos is an alien face for their spacecraft so uh that's that's a whole another story but um also they bought the well Mr Bigelow purchased the Skinwalker Ranch in Utah which is another side story but yeah I know you've dealt with Chris O'Brien and he's followed the skinwalker wrench but there's a lot more going on in the skinwalker wrench too her in the book I call Skinwalker area 53 because it's similar to The Dual but I don't know if you've got that far yet because that's more toward the end of the book so no I haven't gotten that far and when we get to the end I'll either interview again or probably call you and or email you or come out to New Mexico maybe and just hang out and talk but um the the inference I get from nids and and their involvement is that they're not there to find out the secret to the UFO mystery really that's not really what they're there for what they're trying what they are is a uh private Clearing House for strange information and Technology yeah and see what started off is n comes in and they get a hold of muon the mutual UFO Network yeah and my dad a lot of what they they what they do they get all the cream of the crop every top investigator and paranormal you name it UFOs um Academy relations they get them all under the One Umbrella muon they come in and they throw money at them which is always works and if you remember the Paul Benbow story they also did the same thing to him they gave him the the grant for what $100,000 or $75,000 to work for him and that's where Paul got all his information he essentially became an employee of the government and that's where where he was debriefed and given a lot of the classified stuff well nids did the same thing to all these top level investigators they were out in Vegas and disclosed so basically what they did yeah I remember I was out there when they're recording them yeah they came in and got everyone's files and things for the info they tied up they figured out a lot of the Loose Ends were in the investigation and um people always tell me like why aren't you worried the government's going to come steal your files no they have them already you know they've seen them before it's not like I'm not worried about it because you hear some of these stories floating around where they're going to come take everything that's what nids was for they came in and gathered all the information um they tracked everything that was going on but they never told anyone what they were finding yeah it was because because private organization and they don't have to well there's supposed to be a private organization but there's some issues there and you can read that in the book but um all right there's more to it if here's something to think about if you're out there listening um the FAA if you see a UFO and you want to report it you go to the FAA website or whatever and you fill out a form that form goes to Digital Aerospace so you might think about that for a while and say well why is a private company a so-called private company tracking UFOs for the Federal Aviation Administration and maybe the piece the that part of the puzzle will start coming together for for people when they listen to it yeah I was about to say something about it but you know what I'll let people figure it out yeah and this is being recorded too so I got to watch what I say yeah no I understand I mean and you're not going to say anything that isn't in the book anyway yeah um and it's funny because I think in a lot of ways if you know what you're reading and you have a little background I think and if you're interested in the in the this mystery um from what I've heard talking to you and what I've read so far in the book and I'm about I guess a little over halfway through it it sounds like it this is your book is probably a lot more important than anything I wrote or Chris at this point Chris wrote or Chris lamri wrote Because it's the kind of information that's there for people who are really interested and want to know about this specific subject there's a lot of um uh what's the word there's a lot of implications in the book that go Way Beyond the the Dy based story and aliens and Cat mutilations and all that stuff and get into things about technology and Power in secrets and and uh that game which to me is far more interesting interesting the UFO thing in a lot of ways yeah and I appreciate the the compliment and credit goes to you for starting this with project beta but for me the story is real clear it's always been clear because I've lived it you know and it's easy to see it yeah but um that's what a disinformation campaign is to get you looking in One Direction when they're doing something else is going behind your back yeah and um when you get the whole picture of what really happened um it's different than and then that's what's kind of shocking to people like oh that's what was going on and it's still very important that they know what's going on yeah cuz it's not a joke but um it's something that needs to be told people need to know about what really happened for me it's crystal clear because I just been around it so long and that's how my mind thinks yeah that's how what I do for a living so I would for me it's always been simple yeah I would think that most people that are into this stuff probably will read part of your book and then become disinterested because it's it's it's not telling stories of aliens doing things or you know our connection to the cosmos or anything like that it's a very simple not a simple it's a very Earthly explanation for a lot of the weirdness that's been going on how it started how it was propagated and what it was used for and what it still be may be used for in a far different and far more advanced form at this point yeah and that that was the hard part about writing because I'm not a writer I just I just did it to document my dad's story so it's hard not writing it like a police report or just or a term paper but the story is very intriguing if you read it and hopefully the book come AC comes across at least you want to finish reading it but um oh yeah that was the biggest challenge of writing the book was putting the information so that it's not boring to read and you want to read it and keep digging into it because there's a lot of good stuff in there and but you got know where to look and if you know where to look yeah a lot of things become clear very quick after you're looking in the right direction yeah I might be a really bad test case because I'm reading it and every time I pick it up unless I get interrupted or distracted or whatever by things I need to do I'm completely engrossed in it because I'm looking at it going oh oh yeah that's what that is yeah oh that makes sense now and to anybody that listens to the show normally um probably would feel the same way cuz they we've been talking about this stuff for years on this show um and I've been talking about with to with it about it to other researchers there's a lot of stuff I've talked about with researchers that doesn't get on the show um things that I don't really want to talk about on the show because um I like holding those things close because if you don't put out a certain kind of certain bit of information and somebody comes to you and they know that piece of information you're more inclined to listen to them yeah um hopefully the book comes acrosses that and and I just tried to tell you the stories that happened cuz when I was growing up the most interesting stuff was writing with my dad was like well that's weird what does that mean we find stuff on the cow or to see the light so I just kind of tell it as a timeline so hopefully um you can follow along like we did when we were living it you know yeah yeah well the best way to tell a story is to tell a story you know and so far when as I'm reading the book there is a story in there it's the story of you know what happened how was how it was revealed what uh how these different facts were revealed to you and your father and other people involved in the community and in law enforcement and what the implications are and and to me that's fascinating that's you know that's I don't think I there's not one story about aliens in the whole book yet and I don't think there will be and I don't want to see one well it never went the story never went there so why am I going to write about something that didn't happen so yeah um like I said there was always evidence to point it in a certain direction and that's a good investigator follows the evidence they don't create evidence or or ignore evidence they go where the evidence takes them and that's what the book does it takes you what was found and what wasn't found yeah so yeah I I just wanted to repeat one more time if you read this read Greg valdez's book you if you read it and pay very close attention and you've been following this for a long time a lot of stuff will be become apparent to you and it's it makes a lot of sense and coming from somebody with a law enforcement background who has basically the same background as his father and work with him on a lot of these cases I I can't recommend the book highly enough but the thing is I think a lot of people won't pay attention to it because it doesn't have that wow factor with aliens in it that that everybody wants and I think that's why you know the book wasn't written till now one because I don't think anybody really would want to publish it you know if you went to a bunch of publisher they'd say what what's this and two there wasn't somebody placed in the way that Greg is to do to write the book so the the the good thing is that one you know somebody did something with these files um and two the self-publishing thing it's not is it self-published or did you go through a publisher no I just did it myself for that reason the reasons you just explained I just want to get the the story and it's not for marketing it's not to sell aliens or whatever because I know I know there's some books floating around where it's just nonsense I laugh when I read I'll read like two pages and I just throw it away because yeah like this is so billy junk oh I don't even waste my time with it I got other things I'd rather do so yeah like that uh guy that who was it the colonel X or whatever from a couple years ago that was saying he was he worked in Dy and you know I I once um wrote a post Richard do will not talk to me anymore he he says he he doesn't want to talk to me because I wrote a did you do you remember this uh serpo thing that came out about I don't know five or six years ago yes I do did you see that when it first came out yes what did you think was going on with it just more disinformation in my opinion is just more disinformation in service of what though cuz thisinformation in the book um well Richard doie he'll talk to you pretty much anyone about aliens and he's always talking about aliens and going back to classified aircraft he's been grilled on classified aircraft before yeah and he won't say he won't talk about it he'll shut you down and like oh that's it but then on alien stuff he'll keep talking well which is a bigger secret if the alien stuff assuming let's assume the alien stuff was true why is he so willing to talk about aliens but when he's G up on classified military projects just mundane stuff yeah he's real tight lipped on that so that kind of gives you an idea of that's why I always take those stories with the grain of Sal well they're they're they're more than happy to let you go down One Direction and that's what disinformation yeah is designed to do and these guys are trained to do that they're very good at it and you know he's no dummy he's a smart guy yeah he's had all the training so yeah well the point was that I put out the this I looked into a little bit talked to Bill Moore a bit uh gave gave him some of my ideas about it and he said well look who's involved in it you know the same people that were hanging around Paul benowitz and doing that are now involved in this serpo thing so what do you think is the answer there I think it's still same still some of the same because he still has ties to a lot of these old his old employer and yeah and the people he was involved with and for some reason he he wrote me an very short email he said you're cuz the uh the title the title of my PO was serpo was a big fat fake and he wrote to me and he said your your post defended me don't write to me ever again and take me off any list you have and that was it he never answered me again and that's kind of the the he had that the run-ins with Robert Hastings back in the days Dy would get along with them and they'd fight and they were going back and forth but um it seemed like they'd fight when they were kind of get on stuff that Richie do didn't want him you know and they'd start not going the ction or not following the path that he wanted him to go but actually out of that came a lot of good information if you sort through it and you learn the whole story you can kind of you can get a very good feel of what was going on so it's good I've I've seen the the stories where Richard's nice to some people and he's not nice to other people I've met him when I worked with him before when I worked with State Police but yeah I talked to him a little bit he didn't really talk to me my dad knew him so Richard Do's Richard doie so yeah he knows a lot but it's up to him if he wants to tell it and tell the truth you know a lot of the stuff's already been shot down that he's put out so after a while it's hard to tell so that's hard though with the when I put out the book I wasn't so worried about what Richard doie had said I just want to at least if I could verify that what he said was wrong at least document that and some of the stuff he said is true and he's a you know I'm sure he's a nice guy I have nothing against him but I'm not I don't really take too much Credence in the stuff he said because most of the stuff has been you know with the Lindo how incident where he was prising her all this information take it with a grain of salt and if he has it the information or evidence fine he can provide it if not um I always my whole goal with the website is if it's in the book and I can prove it with evidence then I'll put it in the book so a lot of these investigators that come up they don't have any evidence they'll just tell you random stories and if yeah they don't have an you know something to back it up and ignore them or verify it or whatever the case and that's the frustrating part for me is a lot of the junk stories that are floating around it's like where do people come up with these stories you know I I really don't I guess I just I well I've seen it a lot if something flatters their Prejudice then it's true and if it doesn't it's not yeah they're actually very good what I tend to notice is a lot of the stories that they're very good creative writers because they take bits and pieces of a lot of stories and then they'll just spin it into their own version and I guess it's good entertainment but it's not factual most of it's not factual from all the stuff I've seen the majority of it's fake so just crazy stuff the weird thing is that uh Richard Dodie did tell me about a classified aircraft and I don't know whether to believe him about it yeah see that's the hard part um so until they start backing it up with documents and even that's hard because some of the documents that he did provide in the past were falsified yeah so the my take on it is take it with a grain of salt and go at it from a different angle go at it from you know some of the evidence that was found at the mations or from Paul found on the the engine technology and hit it from that angle yeah you can weigh it in take Richard stories some of them you know a lot of this partial truth yeah um sort through the partial truth and you'll get a better picture but until people come in until they provide factual evidence you just kind of okay well

it's good to know but that doesn't mean that it's 100% true I'll just keep that in the back of my mind that's where it gets hard is remembering what stuff is fake and what's not so yeah it's hard to tell the difference sometimes one if you're so in you know you're such a dilaton about it or you're so interested in it from one angle that you kind kind of ignore a lot of things um the strange thing is that the the story that Dodie told me was about do you know about the cash Landrum UFO I think that was in my book yeah in Texas Paul will follow that quite a bit too yeah because that happened I think in 1978 or 9 or something like that right in the middle of all this um yeah CU um they had the the people had the radiation exposure and the government came in and paid their bills I haven't looked at that case in a while but with it yeah well what what uh Rick told me was that um I I don't know how the subject came up and he said well that was that was a US piloted Atomic craft it was ped by atomic energy and it just it didn't work real well and he said the reason it was hovering around is that they the what happened is that there was a pilot or two pilots inside it and they had a bunch of T like video cameras and at 1980 video cameras weren't you know I guess they could make them fairly small but the thing had to be so heavily shielded he said with from radiation that they they couldn't have Windows in it so they had a bunch of cameras around it and a bunch of the cameras R out and they didn't know where they were or you know how high they were off the ground or anything really so all these C they they had been out over the Gulf of Mexico and they flew in Over Texas and all these all these uh helicopters came in to try and guide them back to base that was his story which sounds fairly plausible so I don't know what to believe when you said that that actually sounds pretty accurate now who knows maybe he was telling you the truth on that that could be 100% so yeah that that sounds kind of strange to me and why he would admit it to me and know knowing you know he he didn't say that no this is a secret don't tell anybody he just told me that's what he' heard that it was yeah and actually from some of the stuff that was found at dual or other places that actually sounds pretty accurate so he might have been telling you the truth on that and there's a good possibility that was that actually some of the video cameras and the stuff you're talking about yeah that's towards the end of the book on some of this Advanced camouflage system that the UN has it's already been released or whatever so or partially released yeah I think your dad told me about this about uh uh certain types of aircraft skin that were basically one side you know it was it was a bunch of video cameras and a bunch and a skin that could uh project any on it that was being fed to it by the video cameras so all video cameras pointing out one end would just show what was behind the plane from that point of view on that side of the plane or aircraft or whatever it was it's called Optical camouflage and that's why the lens camera the camera the lens would pick it up but not your naked eye and that explain why we were able to take photos but if you go to like there's some YouTube sites uh I just started at Facebook I have a thing on on the Facebook with the optical camouflage it looks like the Army is using it in Iraq where they were actually able to take a video of a soldier wearing a suit they even have it now where the soldiers appears where they have a suit that they can use so so it looks like it's been well we saw it in Dy in ' 85 with this aircraft but it looks like they even have it on a suit that the soldiers can wear from some of the stuff I've seen so oh you know what I bet that wasn't too far off yeah I don't know what you what what what the mechanism of it is but I would figure that the reason the camera could pick it up is there was some kind of delay in getting this the signal to the to the uh to get to be displayed and then once in a while there might be a glitch or a a spot at which the thing blanks out that your eye can't see but the camera can yeah because of the speed a lot of it points back to like LED technology um but I don't know enough because I'm not I'm not scientific enough to explain it in detail yeah but um it but whatever it was the cameras would pick it up for some reason and once my Dad figured that out he was able to get pictures of several different um aircraft in in different areas just by doing that just taking random photos of the sky and who who does that you know very few people just take photos unless they something they want to you know who Tak you know who used to take random pictures of the sky was Paul benowitz yeah that's where my dad got that see Paul would always tell him that and he go the UFOs are in the clouds he would always say that or tell my dad that so when we got that picture developed at non archuletta he's like see he even knew about that that's another one of the things it was verified so that's why they started taking pictures yeah like once again Paul was right about something where he got it from or how he learned it that was a whole different story but it looks like he stumbled on to or they showed him a lot of the stuff that was pretty classifying I didn't put this in the book because they just there wasn't room in the book and they only let let a few pictures get in but and but I described it in the book I believe that uh Paul uh Bill Moore was at Paul's house one time in the middle of the day and Paul said take your camera point it at monzano Hill monzano Mountain where the you know where where the where the underground facilities are and where there's a Sandy albs I believe is behind that from from his point of view over the top over behind the mountain he said point it at the mountain put your shutter on a thousand thousand thousandth of a second and take a few pictures and Bill said why and Paul said just do it sometimes Stuff shows up and Bill showed me the picture and I've I've used it in lectures what there's this what looks like a big fat like I don't know how wide across Light Beam shooting up into the air and stopping like a couple few hundred or few thousand feet above the mountain just stopping in midair it just stop yeah I've heard you talk about that before either in your your lectures or I've read something about that I remember you mentioning that yeah so there's a lot of stuff going on with photography that Paul did where and I don't know how he figured it out maybe somebody told him but yeah that that's the hard part it's hard to know where he got it he he was smart though like I said he's one of the sharpest guys I've ever run across in my that I run across smart people all the time but he was definitely smart and he was selftaught a lot of his stuff right which is interesting too yeah I think he had a masters and he couldn't get a doctorate because his company took off and he really didn't have time to get a doctorate yeah a family I think it more like family he just didn't have time to mess with it yeah but um he was what's interesting about Paul is like he was way ahead of his time stuff that he was talking about in the 80s they're barely declassifying now and he knew all about it back then which goes back to the 80% of what was being true like that guy was really knew what he was talking about and the book gets into some of the like even the photos that he was taking over Kirtland where this air Spike was coming out of the aircraft he talks about the the gas emissions of nitrogen and oxygen emissions and when I started following that for researching the book that led into some of the stuff that Chris lamri had done on EX descending with the laser aircraft technology yeah that opened a whole can of worms or not a can of worms but a whole another level of Investigation where like boom this is where this is and that's what led to that um the NASA BDM document with a Delta ship C and that all came from Paul's evidence cuz I'm not that smart but Paul was pretty smart Well everybody's Smart in a different direction Paul was just smart in a technological physics Direction I'm more I'm just an investigator so I just well he was probably well Paul was a very bad investigator because he had a really specific idea about what he wanted things to be yeah and you know just with all the people my dad has dealt with you tend to see that you see that more with like doctor scientists they'll focus on one thing and they'll explain it to you in detail and how it works but they don't look at the bigger picture yeah that's what I try to do with the book cuz cops are law enforcement's opposite they look at the big picture yeah and then they focus into the the details and proving it so there's been a lot of doctors and smart people involved in this story for years and some of them get it some of them don't and some of them come leave more confused and frustrated but what I've seen is like the the scholars tend to focus more like a microscope type because that's what they're trained you know yeah you're going to do what you're trained to do if you're going to focus on one specific thing you're going to miss a lot of things if you're training to look at a lot of the whole picture things T to tend to come together where you can understand it better so yeah I got a question I want to ask you about specifically about information and investigation I found that somebody will tell me something and sometimes months or years later that little bit of information makes sense we've been talking about this with Paul and the and all the stuff that he found out um do do you have you found that happening quite often with this information where you see something you think well that doesn't really make any sense and then you know months years down the line somebody will say one word and you'll realize that there was something to that and you had to keep that kind of filed away yes and that's part of being an investigator and that's why my dad was good he had a very good memory and hopefully well I've done a lot of investigations just from my jobs and you have to remember details and that's what made him what was how he was able to figure everything out that's what helped me write the book because for me I remember stuff like a license my dad would know the license plates numbers from 1978 on a case of you know shooting that he handled or he knew what date that the shooting or murder whatever he handled yeah oh yeah I remember so and so got killed on August whatever 1974 so he would remember stuff like that and that's why it's like a lot of people if they're looking at aliens my dad looked at aliens he kept all that in the back file cabinet of his head I've done the same thing yeah it's something that we haven't looked at it just there's never been anything that goes that direction so um at you name it um they looked at Jim Jones I have files from the San Francisco Police Department their case files from when all that stuff was happening so they looked at it every angle you could think of and that's when you really put the pieces the puzzle together you'll remember something like that's what this is tied to and then that'll open up doors where you can really get more information and that's how I was able to get a lot of the evidence from from my dad's files was like well this happened back in the 80s and I have documents here let me research it and then you start finding um Declassified stuff that's yeah related to it well now I remember what what I why brought that up is because I would talk to somebody that was involved doer any number of people I talk to that were involved in uh classified uh programs one of them his name was Thomas duly he used to be in the NSA I talked to him a little bit um yeah but some of these things these people tell you they'll tell you all kinds of stuff and sometimes without any context they'll just bring stuff up and you wonder why they were even talking about it because you didn't mention that you didn't ask them about it then you realize months or years later that they were really trying to help you out but they just didn't want to be obvious about it because one that's not how they think and two it's because it's easier for them to keep their Oaths of whatever they need to keep by not being specific about things um but yeah and that's how they operate that's how they're training to operate they're they're and that's the hard part is seeing through the partial truth they'll give you bits and pieces yeah and that's why it's important to listen to them like I don't discount Richard doie what he says because some of his stuff he says is true but you have to just put it in the back can wait and see what supports it or refutes it that's I think that's a mistake people make they's like I'm not going to listen to him because he lies well then you're going to miss out on the good true stuff then too yeah because parts of it are true and just it's it's intensely made complex for that reason yeah yeah I mean it's you can sort through it it's a lot easier to understand but um it's evidence it's still evidence whether it's a lie or it's true you know it's up to people like yourself Chris myself my dad to put it together and try to sort it out yeah and document it or you know provide evidence and that's the hard part and that's what makes it a complicated story yeah that that's what the difference between some of these internet posts and some of the stuff that's floating around yeah the same people keep popping up they just keep popping up in different locations yeah and that's important for anyone that's listening because you have to under you need to follow you want to get a good idea of what's going on follow the research that these individuals have done it's very monotonous it's very boring yeah but it'll give you a very good idea of what's really going on but um it takes time it takes a lot of time to follow it the website I put I'll put it together to save people time from having to search for it I've done it for you so why did you do all this we have like three minutes left why what was the point of doing all this to get my dad's story documented is the main thing in he solved it whether they want to people want to believe it or not that's up to them but he solved it he was him and Paul benitz were almost identical they're very meticulous the borderline add both of them and my dad was probably was add but he solved it and um he was frustrating for him because he was limited on what he could say yeah and his story is out there now if people want to hear it I appreciate it and I'm grateful for it and if they don't that's fine but um at least if they're interested they'll be able to get back on track and see what really happened and like I said there's a plenty of information if they know where to look and what they're looking for yeah and they can make their own conclusions I'm not here to convince anyone of what happened or you know make fun of them for their beliefs of what they believe in that's their decision it's just it's a story it's an important story because it's history yeah it needs to be told and no one's going to ever be held accountable if they're not looking in the right direction exactly extcly that's the bottom line there's no ending to the book cuz it's still ongoing yeah well I was going to come out there and I had a contact out there and he kind of dried up an underground uh uh underground uh base person that not really having to do with douy although he said he knew there was something there or at least there was which piqu my interest because that's exactly the same thing that your father said yeah and hopefully that's what this book would do is get some of these retired people people know about it it's just getting them to talk yeah um and maybe someone will come forward I have some other stuff that's developed recently that I'll get with you later and um we'll get we'll kind of sort this out but um all right maybe someone will come forward and and there's been new developments that I've since the book came out well it's not really out but that someone that I've heard about the book that it might lead to something else and finally just put a put an end to this yeah well it'll you know what for certain people it'll go on forever cuz that's what they want but for the people that want to you know that like an answer to a mystery so they can move on to other ones I think this is a great great step in that direction and um I feel really privileged that I got a copy of this before uh before it was published when will it be published when will be available basically we're waiting for technical issues the website the I have copies here in Albuquerque but the website in Amazon and all these other fun companies we're just waiting on computer stuff so in about two weeks it should be available full blast to the public so okay well in that no promises yeah in that time I'll finish the reading the book and I'll I'll talk to you okay and like I said I have some new developments but um I'll get with you and we we can go over some stuff and I'll let you know what's going on I'm scared you're making me all interested again you might have to move to New Mexico well we my wife and I both like New Mexico and we have friends there now so and we have good food out here yeah it's my favorite food people tell me ask what's your favorite kind of food I said New Mexican they said what Mexican and I said no new new Mexican what's that District you're always welcome here whenever you come out so all right thanks Greg and thanks so much for being on the show the next show didn't come in I guess we could keep talking but I gotta I should let you go to sleep and I got to wake up at like six o'clock here so no problem thank you for having me I appreciate it Well I this is probably like for me personally it's one of the most interesting shows I've done in a long time because reading the book and talking to you all this stuff comes back and a lot of stuff makes a lot more sense even more sense when I talk to your dad about it yeah that's good that was the point of just at least getting the story out and getting it straight so all right glad I'm glad you had me on the show I appreciate it well thanks so much and I will definitely talk to you soon okay you guys have a good night oh uh what what what is the website and what is the title of the book so people know where to get it oh the website will be dbased book.com pretty simple um I do have a Facebook page I kind of avoided Facebook like the pig but I do have one so you can track it on if you go to just type douy based book and Facebook you can kind of keep track of updates and what's going on and um It'll like I be available in a couple weeks on Amazon and yeah Barnes and Noble some of the other bookstores dolsey based the truth and evidence from the Case Files of Gabe Valdez by uh our guest and my friend Greg Valdez thanks again so much thank you Greg it good talking to you yeah same here talk to you soon okay all right bye bye bye that was Bloody amazing I don't I've got this idea that I don't even want to post the show but I have to so I'm going to I don't have an outro music because I was so interested talking to Greg I was just like so who knows something may come out of this um he actually wrote In the book he's he's asked if I wanted to continue on with this and there's a good chance that I'll want to and I think it gives me a good excuse to go out and visit New Mexico which I'm always really looking for excuse to go out and visit New Mexico I'm going have to put up Chris's show too Chris O'Brien uh who I had on last week it's a good actually kind of a good companion piece I believe Greg's going to be on the paracast pretty soon because I put him touch him in touch with Chris O'Brien so they actually may have it posted before I do so we'll see what they say and and Chris will have so many more like interesting OnPoint questions that I didn't have because he was an actual investigator of the cattle mutilation thing in the same basically in the same area of the country that all this was happening in Southern Colorado which is right next to Northern New Mexico and right basically the the beginning of the St Louis Valley is is just North of Dulce if you if you drive north from Dulce you you enter the beginning of the St Louis Valley so it's all part of the same um same milu up there there's not too much going on up there now but there there's still you know some Strang including Bigfoot that makes no sense whatsoever unless you've been into the Paranormal for a long time and then it does actually kind of make sense that Bigfoot would be seen in the D sea area it it's it's uh if you go there it's just a kind of a desolate Mountain not desolate I mean it's all Pine Forest but Mountain Area very rugged and uh if there was any place where a Bigfoot could live that would be one of them let's see if we got something vaguely interesting to go out on here and uh we'll be look you get the sirens again I kept having to turn them down while Greg was talking how about how about some Sirens there you go it's an official radio misterioso show now actually was official right at the beginning when those damn things came by here we'll just play this such a good song I'll figure out a better one uh before I post the show okay R misterioso signing off thanks for listening and thanks for GRE Val I know what I can play as an outro and it's it's obscure and silly it's a uh it's the starting of an SR71 engine it's a recording from the 1970s or 80s of an SR71 engine being started uh they have to start start it with a V8 Cadillac engine because the thing has to spin up to 10,000 RPM before it can even start and they can't afford to put the starter on the uh on the SR71 on their jet engines because the the the there would be too much weight involved it's to cut down on weight anyway here's a recording of the SR71 having its engine started probably probably at Edwards Air Force Base see you next week oh there's the V8 starting up you can hear it's spin up to 10,000 RPM and then hear the jet engine kick in see you next week

greetings everybody around the world it's time once again radio this is the dedicated radio show for the cast of ancient aliens here we interview authors and researchers as an ongoing investigation into the ancient alien theory don't forget to like us on Facebook or subscribe to the YouTube channel ancient aliens at a radio and in just a moment I'm gonna be talking to dr. bill birnes people will know dr. bill burns from ancient aliens and UFO Hunters and he's the editor of UFO magazine I believe and I haven't read it but I believe it's one of the top magazines in the UK for UFOs and I'm gonna let bill bring in his boyo and tell us everything he does he's got a very lucrative research career and this guy is prolific in his research and there he's quite tenacious in finding out the truths and to see what's going on and we need people like this so without further ado let's bring on our guest for today hi bill welcome hi thanks for inviting me it's a pleasure to be here wow it's awesome to have you here bill and it's funny I was watching all those episodes of UFO hunter is long ago and I never thought I'd be talking to you on the show that it wasn't a so it's great to have you here today bill and course I've been on your show recently and there and that was great to do that so bill you mean but did listeners you do radio you do magazines you do TV appearances tell us about your bio how did you get into all this what what do you do bill what what's your what's your aim for all of this well initially I got into this through the publishing business I mean I had been a college professor for more years than I care to remember and finally toward as I was getting a little older I took a job writing book proposals for a book production company in Princeton New Jersey and eventually I began developing a kind of a format a way to do these proposals quickly get them to the right people and I started talking to publishers and making deals for him and then when he went out of business Nancy and I formed a company called shadow lon press and that was our book production and publishing company and we had some very good initial success we've done like 40 books but we've had some very initial success when I was able to connect with McGraw Hill and we packaged we produced for them an encyclopedia called the McGraw Hill personal programming encyclopedia and this was at a time when personal computers it was 1981-82 personal computers were just coming on the market there were all these different computing languages there was really no internet at that point but computers were able to communicate with each other and we developed this encyclopedia produced this encyclopedia and that Ray launched us in the book production business and and we've never stopped and we've just kept on going for basically over 20 years how I get into UFOs was an entirely different story from the book publishing and production business I began to sell television movies and I began to sell some of our books were picked up for motion pictures and finally this big television production company said look bill you did this one book we want to see if we can make a television series out of it you knew the guy why don't you come out to California for six months give it six months you don't like it you go back east we were living in Manhattan at the time and we went out there we we drove across country went out there and six months became a year in a year we finally found a house we liked that became two years and you know decades later we came back here to kind of live in the old neighborhood and be with our kid but it was being out in California and working with various motion picture production companies that brought me to this guy Philip Corso because I was the publishing guy for a lot of these motion picture companies and it's nothing to do with UFOs but then I met Phil Corso and we were gonna do a book on courses experience in the army as the adjutant in Rome after Roman surrendered Mussolini was thrown from power and we were gonna do that book and a book on Americans that were missing in the Vietnam War so he would these two parallel stories we were pursuing when cursor drops the Roswell bomb and says you know I was the guy at the Pentagon who was doing all this research on the stuff they got from Roswell we're all going what Roswell you're serious really and he starts producing material and congressional testimony and all kinds of stuff and so I called one of the publishers that I deal with a lot Simon & Schuster and they said and I just come off to really soured books with them so they were enthusiastic and I said you know there's a sky and I explained who Phil Corso was and Corso had been in the news because he was testifying before Congress one of the congressional committees on troops we had that were missing from Korea at the end of the Korean War well he suddenly the cover story on Time magazine in Newsweek and Sir Simon shooter says if this guy can do this book with you and I was originally there as an agent I wasn't supposed to write it nothing could do with me and SNS said okay here's the deal if you write this and can get it in to us in time for it to be published by the 19 by the summer 1997 Roswell 50th anniversary if you could do that we're all in so I went back to the motion picture company that had licensed fill courses right it was a motion picture deal ultimately and I said look here's what they laid down okay so you figure this out we can do the book we can get the pick out by July 1997 but they want me to write it up to you makes their difference to me I get a commission either way so we went to Corso he said and he said what did I think was the biggest secret in his book and I knew that he is big thing the thing that bothered him the most was the fight between the American CIA the civilian intelligence agencies Central Intelligence Agency and the military intelligence agencies because Corso was in military intelligence in World War two so I told them I will bet Colonel that you were trying to keep the secret about what you were doing with the Roswell debris from the CIA more than trying to keep it from the American people and he said that's exactly right that's exactly what I was doing let's write the book and that's how I wound up getting into the UFO field Wow Wow yeah you know most people think that you had a dedicated path but like I think you like you say you've got suckered into this you've got drawn in and I think that's what happens to a lot of people they they look at it and they go well there's something maybe something here we'll have a look at it all of a sudden he becomes an area of research and we need people researching this bill from a variety of aspects for a variety of reasons and I mean before we get into any of the meat and potatoes as they say onto juicy details but I want to talk about Lloyd Pye and as you mentioned before the show Bill you know a lot of respect for Lloyd Pye and I think it was probably one of the last to interview him before he got diagnosed with cancer and he sadly gone now and he was the custodian of the Starchild's gone you know just a mark of respect for him here today Bill and I know you were a fan of his as well and as always so well Lloyd and I were friends and we did a big cover story on Lloyd and in UFO magazine years ago and Lloyd was my guest on UFO Hunters for a very in fact that's the chapter I'm writing as we speak in the second UFO Hunters companion book for Macmillan tour Forge I'm writing the Lloyd Pye chapter now because he was such an important guest on the show Lloyd was truly a gentleman and the funny thing about Lloyd is that he never really was set out to be UFO guy he never really in guide dealing with alien species he believed this was this was Lloyd's approach to things he believed that what you were told by official sources served the needs of the official sources they weren't disclosing anything that didn't really benefit them in some way and if they did then they would spin it in such a way as you would appreciate the fact that they were telling it to you and Lloyd's attitude was look there are plenty of things on this planet you can call it Bigfoot you could go with the little people you could quote whatever you wanted but there were other things on this planet we were not alone forget not being alone in the universe we were not alone on this planet as a sapient species and that was Lloyd's theory and then the nurse Melanie Jung gave him something that changed his life yeah Wow this is the start article yes it was a skeleton that was found by a teenage girl she was an American in northern Mexico very early in the 1900s she found these two skeletons in a cave lying side-by-side one kind of enrap with the other was really kind of funny position the one skeleton was a full-size human adult the other skeleton was what four feet four and a half feet and the thing about that skeleton was it had an odd shaped skull so that teenage girl she scooped up the bones brought him home to her parents and over time it was only the skull that survived but ultimately the parents and she gave the skull for safekeeping to a neonatal nurse and there's a very important reason for that a neonatal nurse called Melanie Young who inspected it who gave her professional opinion and then she knew that since Lloyd Pye was a scholar in cryptozoology that she gave the skull to him to conduct the research on the skull so Lloyd never saw himself as the owner of the skull Lloyd always saw himself as the custodian of the skull to get to the bottom of what this skull was where it was from was it human what is it and that's what Lloyd's mission in life was I think one of the most important things when I got into Lloyd's work I read the book I looked at this gold I looked at it with a I'm from an engineering and science background I applied my logic and reason and everything that this guy has laid out Bill regarding this gold is logical clear core scientific thought the skull is symmetrical and he explains why it's anomalous why it's not a freak of nature why it's not deformed you know and they wanted to just destroy this thing from the word going it's not going away Bill that's right yeah I just where's the school not today Bill did we no I mean well that's a good point I mean one of the things that I was going to do was to contact Melanie Young we have all the contacts from the show so I was going to contact right back I still haven't find out where the skull is and what she plans to do with it but you pointed out that the big thing one of the big things about the skull was the symmetry of that bone structure when the people who gave it to Melanie Young people who found the skeleton when they gave it to Melanie Young they thought that the skull was a skull of a child because it was a child that was close to the woman and that it hide Hydro encephalo Hydro encephalo or a hydro encephalitic skull is a skull that has water on the brain that's expanding the brain and we know that ancient indigenous peoples suffered from this as well as people today who were born with this because we have records that I'm sure you know about this James we have records of skull trepanations who drills into the bones of skulls to relieve the pressure from an expanding brain and so the thing that this couple thought was that this young skeleton this young child was hydro encephalitic and that she was going to get trepan aidid to save her life but when Melanie young looked at the let's start with the back of this skull because one of the things Melanie said to us was and of course Lloyd Pye said the same thing is that ha is that when a baby is born there is a separation that's around the Fontanella in the back of the skull and as the baby moves through the birth canal and the contractions are pushing the baby out it is slowly but surely pushing the bones together on on on the infant's head and it pushes the bones together in a very symmetrical way with hydro and settle attic babies because the head is so big the bone sutures the bone the bones knit in in in a totally asymmetrical way one side is longer than the other and so go ahead yeah yeah I mean I'm just looking at the the tree punting thing the way the bones knit together you know the the symmetry the eye sockets the the ear canals I mean Lloyd went at this all like 24/7 and and you know when you when you see him hold it in his hands and described this bill you know this is not deformed and it's not a child scolding you know this is it's not deformed you know it's like it's not the form and it's not a child school it's like I got a bad name I think I got a bad name my star charts go alike you know I think good I think it's one of the first things Lloyd went after he said he said how old is this skull so initially they thought it was a five-year-old child with a deformed head but when Lloyd and no when a young talked about the symmetry of the skull and how the bones knit together in a perfect way perfectly symmetrical way they realized this was not a hydro encephalitic child then they did the early biological testing on the skull and found that this was no child this was not a five-year-old child then the question is if it's 9 five year old child if it were in sepal attic it would have died if not at Birth that it would have died shortly after birth so even if it were five years old it's five years old it shouldn't have been alive the only medical practice was trepanation and this skull had no holes in it so what's going on here then they began to talk about the fact that well the spine is all wrong I mean we'll get to the eye sockets but the spine was all wrong the spine the human skull is supported by the spine in a very specific way this skull was not supported first of all the spine was too thin so let's you know get that out of the way this was not a human looking spine it was too thin thick because the opening in the bottom of the skull was too thin for a regular human spine even a baby spine then it was more to the back of the scholars that the skull had to be more erect than human skulls are so it had less flexion then a human skull than a normal human skull it was supported in a totally different way but it was so much bigger than a human skull roughly 35 percent bigger than a human skull because of that the way the spine connected to the base of the skull was all drained to support that kind of skull and the other thing was the eye sockets were too thin they were overly large okay that's within the range of normal Seifer to have a large eye socket but they were too flat they weren't deep like human eye sockets and so as a result this is but an individual a life-form that had a skull that was too big 35 percent bigger it was not hydro and so poetic that the spine connected in a way that would have made it impossible to support a human skull and the eye sockets were too flat for human eyes and so those things alone made it very different then they began to analyze the bone structure of the skull and found out that it was something like 25 percent thinner than normal human skulls yeah it was more dense than normal human skulls and when they tried to cut a piece out of it with a saw to get it tested genetically the saw broke mm-hmm it's almost like nanotech material isn't it well it was strange then inside the bone structure of that skull and this is what really got Louie thinking were it was almost like a red horde if you see the inside there's a red cord running through the bone and Lloyd couldn't cut that cord and he didn't know what that cord was cuz no human skull has that cord so the next step was genetic testing so they found out that the skull was stronger than a human skull more dense than a human skull that lighter and thinner than a human skull then there were all the the physical anomalies that were apparent to the naked eye then they wouldn't effort the genetic testing and they tested some of the stuff from the woman next to where this little creature was found and what they found out was that the woman next to the thing was a normal human being one of the haploid races that Mesoamerican races but the skull was different at first they thought it was a combination of two different Mesoamerican species haploid A and haploid C then this was got to be mysterious Lloyd said that the skull had there were three types of DNA normally I mean not three strands but three different elements of DNA in a human being there's the father's DNA that's in the nucleus there's the mother's DNA that's in the nucleus and then the protoplasm surrounding the nucleus of a cell that's called the mitochondria and the mitochondrial DNA has to be the woman's DNA right because it comes from the woman and that mitochondrial DNA unless something else is happening that mitochondrial DNA in a normal birth a normal fertilized birth matches the mother's nucleic DNA right because it's the same human being when there is a difference between the minor and real DNA and the father's nucleic DNA and the mother's nucleic DNA it generally means there's been in vitro fertilization that a cell is fertilized outside the womb of the surrogate mother right and there's a cell that's taken from a surrogate mother implanted the nucleus with the father's DNA and the and the biological mother's DNA that re implanted in the woman so that the mitochondrial DNA is then different from the nucleic DNA and so that was the first thing that Lloyd Pye thought and said but that makes no sense this was a skull that when they dated it seemed to come from the Year 1000 or 900 in the year 900 to 1,000 did they have in vitro fertilization I don't think so right that's a modern scientific technique so how could this skull have been artificially inseminated wait a minute he thought what if this host body what if this host body had been grown inside a human being but wasn't a human being in other words what if an alien had impregnated someone and then that person gave birth to this hybrid and that was a going theory for a while but Lloyd was raising money tirelessly I think it ruined his health tirelessly to get a full genome sequence on the skull or at least the partial and these are really expensive biological tests to run yeah phenomena so phenomenal money involved to get that money off phenomenon but they were able to come up with something and what they found was that none of the DNA in that entity came from a human being that the National Institutes of Health which contains a database of all human DNA all human DNA there was no match how come there's no match to a human DNA that means own one thing yeah and that's what Laurie was trying to do to get the full genome when he learned that he had contracted acute leukemia and went to Europe for treatments yeah you know even a lot of people would say you know that just means it's just an unknown species but it's an unknown species you have to understand the DNA evidence it's an unknown species so far removed from anything we have obviously we're looking at this goldville it looks like it's something weird and wonderful to physically look at what the DNA evidence pushes it's so far out the genome of the human strains like it's it's it's ridiculously outside I mean it's like what you're yeah you're not talking about something that's normal at this point you're talking about something that it's absolutely abnormal yeah absolutely abnormal and genetically and physically to look out like so but yeah it's it's funny because they the fact that it was most likely a surrogate mother employs technology was used to to form this this creature is round like so that's right so even if there had been human DNA in the air from the mother from the mitochondria if it would still be an anomaly because how could you have in vitro fertilization in some skull you find in a cave from the Year 900 it absolutely makes no sense I really hope you get involved being a nun talk to Melanie and start some dialogue and see what happens because I would love to see lipos work being continued like you say he was a very graceful and going for the gratitude lonely to talk to very very nice guy and I just he put a lot of time and energy into this and there it's he he left us he's departed now he's gone early he's checked out early bill as they saying for them mm-hmm remember Lloyd Pye set out this is what he told us he set out to prove this was a human skull that was deformed that's what he set out to do he was never out to find an alien creature yeah and so the more he ran up against what a human test would do the or he realized this skull wasn't behaving properly it was not human yeah you sure that's what scares for him in a pillow I want to get into some UFO technologies and cases I think you know of a whole list here bill I mean what what's your favorite area of research bill in terms of ufology you know big big net it became they either Roswell Arizona lights well what's your favorite girl well here's the deal about something like Roswell since I came from a true-crime writing background the psychology of criminal behavior since I came from that background and I dealt with a lot of my work for the US Department of Justice for a while doing grant work with them one of the things that and when and I finally wrote the book with the detective from caught the serial killer Ted Bundy the book was called River man it became a motion picture on A&E the the thing we we learned is that when you have a very elusive killer a Jack the Ripper type a very elusive killer strikes it one kind of victim strikes at victims in a series when you have that you always go to the earliest cases because that's where the most evidences so when girl of course hope again talking about Roswell one of the things I found out from talking to folks like Stan Freedman Don Schmidt Tom Kerry Captain Randall the real heavyweights in the Roswell field is that the level of evidence surrounding the Roswell case is astounding and and the evidence falls into all these major categories there are the eyewitnesses there are the participants there's the documentary evidence official government documents cables mails letters and then there's the physical evidence and then there's the attempt by the government to go to all these lengths to debunk the story it's a weather balloon it's a mogul balloon it's a crash dummies it's well Andy the debunking was more implausible that there was less plausible but just crazy implausible compared to the facts for example the first debunking was at when Jesse Marcel went up to Roger Ramey's headquarters of the 8th Air Force and there Roger Ramey's Mosley pulled a switcheroo on the debris and put a weather balloon in front of Jesse Marcel major Marcel and said here smile and say you made a big mistake but since Jesse Marcel had been a radar or he'd been to radar school and he was an intelligence officer that made no sense that he could miss identify a weather baloney you know signals intelligence used balloons the other thing you come to find that is that what was a balloon made of in 1947 neoprene rubber the same compound that was used throughout World War two so wouldn't the guys at the 509 to know what neoprene rubber is mm-hmm right I mean and where do they make the balloons for this across the street from the air base so the point is the more you get into this the more you realize that the evidence was crazy so we went to Roswell with Philip Corso before 1997 and we were meeting with a lot of eyewitnesses people who'd actually handled the strange material and there were so many eyewitnesses and so many places where there were disconnects in the government story that there was no intent to clean it up then we find the diary written by the wife of the sheriff of Roswell talking about the night that Bill Brazel Botha brought the strange box of debris into the jail cell for Cape safekeeping this was a diary written 20 or so years ago after after after George Wilcox sheriff Judge Wilcox died but the point is what would have prompted Ynez Wilcox to write in a diary this is before Jesse Marcel went public with the story in Louisiana why would she do this well the reason was she had no reason except that it was true and so that's what really began the trek into the world of UFOs well you know the the most striking thing for me about the Roswell thing is that technology has now caught up on the generalist holding the documents and as they ran with her enhanced the photograph and it says keywords in the document like disk or crash and like you know it's it's not saying anything about weather but in feel is it no it's not and the funny thing about see ah my doubts about the Roswell story at least Corsos version of the Roswell story and other people have have said this not this is not some stroke of genius this is what a lot of people have said if this craft came from off earth why is it that the technology that that a why did it crash but be wise what about the technology we glean from it wasn't it so basic I mean they're still using electronic devices transistors things like that and that was one of the problems that I had as it why is the technology so close to ours and then I realized that that was just the technology we were able to reverse engineer there could have been technology so advanced that to this very day it's still sitting somewhere at area 51 or Provo or Dugway Utah or someplace like that so it was just as Harry Truman wrote President Truman he wanted the lowest common denominator of technology that was most similar to what we were working on that's what he wanted us to bring to the folks who were working that technology so that's why you get this skewed view of what the Roswell craft was all about yeah what do you reckon the bubble it's our story well bob lazar sure is funny I mean a person that I'm very friendly with is radio is a radio host George Knapp who was the one who interviewed them yeah but not only interviewed him see if it's a funny story people think oh the guy's crazy there's nothing he's a nut well he's a liar Bob Lazar never set out to tell his story it was never his intent Bob Lazar only went public after he was fired from area 51 cuz he did something and he'd be the first to tell you really stupid yeah he was because he's worked and this part is confirmed think about area 51 was that the high level workers there the scientists worked at all these odd hours and they'd like leave home at like 1:00 in the morning to be at the base by 3:00 and spend 36 to 48 hours at the base and then go home so as a few of us a few days on a few shifts on than a shift off so it wasn't like a nine-to-five job that's first of all okay so Bob Lazar was leaving the house at these odd hours and his wife's I think you're foolin roun on me he said no I got a job but it's a secret I can't tell you she said well you pulling around and and and you been offense up so so finally Bob is wrestling with this because he really loves this woman and he says okay what if I show you what I've been doing and they bring along this friend Jean Hoff almost to be a witness of this thing since Bob Lazar knows when they're flying the reverse engineered alien craft from area 51 when they're testing it out on a certain night whether it's Wednesday or Thursday night he knows where to stand off base so they could see the craft in the sky he takes them out there well they are blown away and so but at the same time the whole and I've been to area 51 all of area 51 is ringed by sensors motion sensors yeah and it's ringed in the in the scrub brush there are microphones so they heard every word Bob Lazar was saying they knew who he was they knew David that he was out there they could hear him talking finally he brings it back again they calm its the office and said get off the base you dumb you know exactly what you were doing it's over well at that point he begins talking to people like John Muir very famous test pilot son of the founder of Lear Jets talks to John Lear talks to he's interviewed by George Knapp on klas TV George begins to do his own research they've expunged every mention of Bob Lazar area 51 he's a man he's a nowhere man he's a man without a past except George was able to find him in a telephone directory at Los Alamos which is where he said he'd worked before coming to area 51 so there was a piece of confirmation George was looking further and other references to Bob Lazar is that Bob Lazar a story at least in so far as its background is concerned is absolutely true yeah they erased his records but they forgot to erase these and that's how the Bob Lazar story became public it became public but there was pushback and Bob finally went into a kind of semi retirement he's working on nuclear propulsion systems and so I tend to agree with George Knapp that the fact that George was able to find confirmation of Bob Lazar rings true for me yeah and he knows his way around the facility what was the name of the facility that he worked at the lab Burton laboratory well it was on area 51 it was it was a groom Lake it was Papoose Lake he worked at a few of those places tactically there is no area 51 its groom lake room like yeah yeah you know the thing is is well like I mean you know Bob Lazar I mean it's it is an incredible story but I mean basically area 51 was put on the map because of the bubblers Arthur yeah well yeah I mean wasn't really no no I wasn't really known about no I mean first of all was never called area 51 the squirrel groom lake and it was Nellis Air Force Base and the reason that there was such an area in the first place in World War two it was a gunnery range so it was a very large area because it wasn't gonna rearrange gunnery testing range when Kelly Johnson was tasked to develop a unique kind of spy plane when they could stay aloft for for many many hours fly very high very top speeds near the top of the atmosphere when he was a hundred thousand feet when he was asked to do that he realized first of all his model for it was a UFO because he had seen a UFO over the Pacific when he was working at Lockheed skunkworks he'd seen a UFO that was confirmed by somebody else that was out over the Pacific fly made they both saw the same crap he copied the design of that crap for his spy plane the point of it was that but it was the u2 that was developed first and the u2 had this huge huge huge wingspan well because the UFO took so long to take off and so long to land it had to have huge runways so Johnson and the cix it was gonna be a plane run by the CIA decided to use this gunnery range so the gunnery range was they began to develop this between 1953 and 1954 so he's never developed in 1951 it was 53 to 54 55 the reason it became called area 51 in slang was that on the Nevada tax map which defines squares parcels of land this was parcel number 51 Wow let me switch gears on your second then I want to show another case um I think this is one of the most fascinating and was the underwater area 51 you know that case with the cable goes down into the deep Atlantic right that's that's oh yeah oh yeah oh you undersea yeah oh you Tec sorry bill Oh UT all right yeah it's the Atlantic underwater testing facility is what it is yeah you know one is going on down there bill if these guys got like some some secret base down there let me the water yeah they do yep yeah they do I mean when we were there first of all as we approached the gate of that base I mean they were helicopters bussing us like like bees okay watching our every move like we gonna break on the base where we hooligans or something you know gonna run away no I mean I even said you know let's just walk up to the base and ask him to show us the UFO the guys didn't want to do that obviously but but so we were out in front of the base then we went on the water and one of the things that Pat did Pat was a Pat's a certified diving instructor dive master and so one of the things that Pat did was dive down and he was following that I mean think the cable I mean was like his biggest tree trunk and he was following it down towards the trench obviously you cannot go into a six mile trench it's a very secret trench that's a submarine trench by the way that the subs use that to go in and out of attack but that cable was yeah runs along the floor of that trench and it's our surveillance on the East Coast for protection against any submarines coming into the Gulf of Mexico coming into the Caribbean so it's a major facility and what they are testing is essentially stealth stealth submarines this is so highly secret as we were in a motorboat and kind of driving by when you get too close to the base you can see the lights go on on the SUVs on the Humvees you see them manning boats they were better they were gonna arrest us if we got too close fascinating facility known they're not who they say they are anything that oh they are tech people know and there are people who say there are UFOs hovering over the place there were us OHS and the water that what's going on is a relationship between the United States Navy and some kind of alien presence yeah I think people were talking about some crash up the north that they maybe dragged it on the meat water and brought it into the facility there I keep thinking that that if there are such things as underwater as unidentified submerged vehicles us OHS that where the base is would be a perfect spot for them to do what I have to do whatever they have to do together yeah undoubtedly you know next biggest case I suppose is the Phoenix likes in Arizona bill I mean you know there's a lot of people seeing this bill this this story won't go away because too many people seen it and I guess you know the thing that I find most disgraceful is that they try to dispel it you know whether the politician guy that came out like right that's what they did and not only to spell it well and that's a funny story too the guy that came out to crack the joke about what the nature of these lights were over Phoenix was of course the Arizona state of Arizona Governor Fife Symington and we interviewed Fife Symington about this and Fife Symington admitted to us first of all he did do it as a joke because he thought that there was so much panic surrounding the event he wanted to lighten the mood I have my doubts about that but I don't buy that right but then he said this was after he was out of office and strangely enough remember when when this was going on Fife Symington was facing some pretty serious corruption charges right he was he was on his way to the pokey really yeah and one of the things that happened on the day here's the envelope for that event that morning during the whole crazy crisis of the lights flying back and forth over Phoenix five Symington did said look I'm going to figure out what's going on and there's a reason for that okay we'll get to the reason in a second he said I'm going to figure out what's going on then according to Frances Barwood I didn't know this until friend until the City Councilwoman Frances Barwood told us this told me until James Fox that Symington had been in court in judge's chambers that day discussing a whole range of things comes out does the news conference with the fake alien whoa that's strange yeah years years later it's now 10 years later okay 10 years after the event it's 2007 2008 now Fife Symington publicly admits he apologizes to the folks in Arizona after this thing with his court case after his criminal charge the court overturns his conviction but the government's going to go back and retry the case Bill Clinton President Clinton gives Fife Symington a full unequivocal pardon he could never be tried again on those charges he's pardoned okay his conviction is erased now the thing about this means that Fife Symington is now out from under any obligations he might have made when he was discussing the disposition of his case in judge's chambers unbelievable this bill so what does he do he goes public and says not only do I apologize to the folks of Arizona for having played a horrible joke on you was wrong for me to do that I apologize he then says I was an eyewitness to a craft a spacecraft an alien craft over my house on the night of the Phoenix lights yeah yeah I know I know this perm it's completely bizarre though the whole thing incredibly observable with this aspect of it as well but the governor but you know he insulted a lot of people with that though he insulted a lot of people he insulted people's intelligence you know and a lot of people witnessed this bill and I mean some people have come up with some crazy theories like it was a hologram and that's why I didn't make any sound or I mean what's your theory on it they're well they're a bunch of theories first of all here's what the eye eyewitnesses say and I've spoken to at least well I spoke to Fife Symington I've spoken to dr. Lynne kita and I've spoken to other witnesses who were up close and personal with this thing here's what Fife Symington says that this thing several football fields across in a triangular shape it's a thing it's not a light it's a thing is floating by his house and what he's struck by is that in between the lights on the edges he could see a wavy pattern of stars it was dead silent maybe there was a soft word but it just slid on by another witness said she was on her balcony that the part about the whole Paradise Valley Phoenix area is that it's very hilly and there are people who build their houses right into the hills mm-hmm and their balconies hang over the valley so as these and and they're high up they could see over to the Australians and things like that's they know where things are in their vicinity as this craft comes in front of this person's balcony she's almost level with it maybe it's 50 feet in the air above her she's so level she says that she could have probably thrown a rock and bounced it off it and this is a multiple witnessing so they're having a meeting it's like a school board meeting or something inside the house they look outside they see this huge black craft flying right hovering by the balcony they go outside to look at it and they describe it the same way that pipe son didn't did except that this woman her name is Teri says that it's wavy and satiny it's the most peaceful looking thing and then it glides on by the weird thing is after it glides on by to go back in the house and nobody wants to talk about it it's as if it never happened Wow do you think this craft could be one of ours bill our expert well my first reaction is that it is one of ours and that it is one of ours for a variety of reasons we been experimenting with craft like that for years right neutral buoyancy craft that basically have the ability to be almost stealthy almost invisible we have camouflage technology that's you know invisibility technology we have it the Russians have it it's really not that impossible II hard to do to fabricate but part of the the stealth aircraft these giant aircraft that that we are developing try to imagine that you want the ability to get a heavy unit of soldiers a large unit of soldiers from any one spot on the globe to end to any other spot on the globe in under 24 hours right this would be a perfect way to do it it's like you know you could send in really a hot team on a moment's notice is there a civilian purpose to a craft like this yeah think FedEx think UPS think any kind of global delivery company mass transport stealth everything you know it's it's all in one now do craft like these fly up at speeds of Mach five six and seven they do if the craft could project their own image out while becoming stealthy then it's like the Star Trek going into warp speed except the craft is still there invisible to radar invisible on the visible spectrum one of the most interesting cases I think that was was the Phoenix nights been weathered out you know because of the number of people that seen it and the number of people and the quantity of the the quality and the quantity of the evidence bill and the way the government tried to cover it up was really almost amateur right yeah at first five Symington because he's governor was the head of the Arizona air national guard fivesome that had been an Air Force officer so he knew his craft he calls up the head of the Arizona Air National Guard Luke Air Force Base which is right up outside Phoenix and he says do you guys how many planes flying this night generals is no sir he did you see that craft that goods looks like I don't know anything about it I didn't see it but our Airport is closed there's nothing happening here Sky Harbor which is that Tempe Phoenix Airport had no knowledge of this so according to Fife Symington the Air National Guard had no planes in the air that night then the next day the Air National Guard says all wait a minute was the Maryland National Guard in project Snowbird projects no word means you're lying that's what Snowbird means it's a full story in project Snowbird they were they were doing flare drops a little bit they're doing flare drops in a populated area March no that doesn't work and and what if flares do when they fall they fall they fall they fall and what keeps flares from dropping like rocks parachutes and in ground illumination flares right the GI the gif the ground illumination flares in these you could actually see the strings of the parachute as the flares drop they didn't see these things but there were two sets of lights the 830 lights were the lights that prompted people to go outside and they saw this craft the 10:30 lights were totally different so the National Guard supposedly were dropping flares at 10:30 but that doesn't explain the 830 lights at all yeah and then years after link eat I did her movie dr. Lemke tie the National Guard decides okay fine we're gonna demonstrate how the 10:30 lights are flares and they demonstrate it and all these people are out with their video cameras and when they look at a my board they say this is nothing like the 1030 lights over Phoenix when they do the color contrast the color spectrum the color is all wrong for flares on the 1030 lights do a video of them and they're very different from the regular flares they weren't flares yeah I don't don't you know it you know most tell the authenticity of a case built by the cover of the the lame excuse today temp to cover up you know the excuse and then the excuse changes and it gets twisted and then it gets revamped and that almost seals the authenticity for the case for evil that's right that's right why do you go crazy about covering something up if there's nothing to cover up doesn't make any sense and what happened to President Clinton that night he's with some golfing buddy suddenly oh he broke his ankle he's incommunicado Bill Clinton is incommunicado that night it was his knee it was just me that he hurt or something right he's incommunicado Wow awesome bill we're just at the top of the for Stan we're gonna take a quick break there and we come back in just a moment cuz I don't want to start another subject that otherwise would be going in another 20 minutes okay I will take a break too and come right back everybody here back listen to James Franco your host for this evening we're talking to dr. bill burns and discussing UFOs UFO Hunters and Bill's career all right welcome back bill yes thank you wow what a discussion bill were having them go to the next one at you and that's the UFOs this has to be like a monster area of research as well them little bit into history as well but um I have no doubt that these guys were prevalent with some technology bill they have to have some sort of a helping hand are you eight the more I look at it bill they had advances in Kevlar they have advances in rocket technology and the list is endless build these guys most of how to help in Honda at least had some sort of a technology to back engineer bill and but not one that's the UF one of them one of their scientists very important scientists called Hermann Oberth very very important so I just went to work for NASA he was part of Operation Paperclip repatriated in the United he was pay treated to the United States he says this is a public quote now this is not right this is not rumor this is a he says we were helped by people from other worlds now if you were a skeptic which you should be you would say to me some some old German guy says we're helped by people from other words is there a smidgen and iota of anything that you could say would corroborate that story well here's what I'd say if asked that question when NASA began researching doing all the research on its moon program its lunar program it wrote a report and you could get this online it was a report that documented 500 years of lunar anomalies fabulous report I mean it's incredible I mean the Elizabethan playwright Christopher Marlowe saw a UFO on the moon I mean fabulous incredible stuff in the 1920s the Germans this is during after right after World War one the Germans were seeing structures on the moon and lights on the moon they knew something was going on up there and the British were seeing it too so we from those reports this is NASA this is basically a NASA report you know that the Germans were involved in in looking at some anomalous extraterrestrial activity upon the moon now the Germans learned their rocketry from an American scientist called dr. Robert Goddard in New Mexico and they burn a Braun Braun was one of his devotees they brought that technology back to Germany and developed the German rocket program so on the one hand we know where they learn their rocketry okay they learned it right here in the United States we know that they had a very heavy plan in Germany but it wasn't the rocketry itself that really captures your attention it was two German experiments with exotic weapons I mean they had and I was there a space facility a space medicine for so in Poland the guy who ran that facility developed the pressurized spacesuit for NASA so I mean these were and how do they test the spacesuit on concentration camp inmates so I mean you have the Germans talking about launching human beings into space and they actually develop this thing called a rocket plane that would go to the near high in the atmosphere way above the altitudes the ceilings of conventional fighters escorting the Bombers over Germany then they would dive through the squadrons and knock out the Bombers they didn't care about the fighters but they would knock out the Bombers the fighters didn't couldn't do any damage they were they were knocking out the Bombers that was the plan and they never deployed them they never used them the Germans had rocket sleds they didn't you know they didn't they never did that the other side of the coin besides the technology is that the Germans and this is again a true the Germans believed from the turn of the century on that the Aryan race the Arion race came from off-planet in fact according the the Aryan race according to that mythology came from a planet called Aldebaran and was nurtured in a place called tule to the Greenland hence the the Nazi philosophers the early spiritually oriented Nazi philosophers were called the thule society and so the idea that the Germans the Aryans were planted on earth from another planet sent the Germans around the world to find proof of this they looked in the Vedic texts and saw how the Vermont would would like flying saucers firing beams at each other using atomic weapons so that there was some kind of war this extraterrestrial war on planet Earth the Germans were really into that in terms that Nazi philosophy so imagine that the Germans are developing a kind of very exotic technology to win the war but yet this dream is that these people are extraterrestrial they're not from this world and so these come together to have this German this Nazi mysticism about extraterrestrials and that's feeding this weapons development that's why there was a battle of the Bulge by the way I mean one of the rationales one of the German rationales for trying to bottle up the Allied advance in Belgium was that because we were going round Belgium and then going into Germany and one of the rationales that is to buy them time they had deployed in late 1944 they were deploying V1 bombs right crews --mess essentially crewed cruise missiles V1 buzz bombs over England they were deploying they were finally able to launch from France and they couldn't launch from Germany from France V2 rockets that were hitting London then their plan was that if they could develop these weapons even more if they could develop atomic weapons they could devastate the Allies in the last minutes of the war that would allow them to turn their attention towards the Russians that were coming through Poland and devastate them they had a plan to win the war even in the darkest days of 1944 through early 1945 one of those plans involved sending a fleet of U-boats with launch ladders launch ramps on their fore decks into American waters where they would surface launch their missiles launched their V1 rockets and submerged and get out of there so the idea was if they had very powerful weapons they could bomb New York Philadelphia Boston and Washington knocked these cities out forced the Americans to sue for peace and then if they could strike a peace with the British and they could turn their attention toward the Russians didn't work but that was their plan and the weapon they were thinking about was something which they called the one device or the Wonder weapon which was radioactive device that theoretically could travel in time and change history and that was the Nazi Bell well the Nazi Bell project yeah you know didn't they have that concrete structure to hold down the Nazi Bell as well in in Poland yeah the hinge it was called a hinge and even though it looks like the underpinning of the water towers they have hence been circled by the way even though it looks like one of the standard water towers it's much much bigger and there are no remnants of a water tower there it was used to hold down this device they were testing outside called the Bell tying down this antigravity device yeah and there's electrical cables coming off it as well wasn't there yes there were and the funny thing about it was the folks at one of the scientists I think it was Nick Reiter maybe at BLT research was experimenting with the supposedly the theory of propulsion for the Bell the theory of propulsion with the Bell was that there was this very heavy metal this liquid metal red mercury and by having two counter-rotating cylinders cylinders rotating in opposite directions very fast the reaction of that heavy metal would generate a radioactive field so intense that if you could control that radioactive field you had an enormous source of power was this a German version of an atomic bomb was this a time travel device we don't know but what this one person at BLT research is when scientists did was he very gingerly began experimenting with counter-rotating liquid heavy metals and sure enough he developed a radioactive field and he stopped because it was very dangerous do you think these guys escaped with this technology are some of the technology either DeBell some the UFO their technology down to Antarctica even do you look into that tooth there are two theories one is we believe that the not see first of all with a Russian Scott to the owl mountains in Poland there was no Nazi bell it was God yeah and we were in the cave or it was being built we stood there in the cave seeing all the cables and stuff in this cave the German machine-gun nests to guard it and so was gone so did so was the bell flown out of Poland on a huge Yonkers bomber to the South Pole where supposedly or to South America the South Pole was supposedly this went into this land underneath the South Pole that the Germans that the Saxons had inhabited centuries before called new Swabia and where a lot of the Nazis went that's why they went to South America or the person in charge of the development of the Bell was an SS officer he was electrical engineer but he was an SS officer and his name was Kritis right that's this person Chris Davis disappears with the Bell where does he wind up in NASA in the 1960s as one of the directors he's the launch control director at Cape Kennedy suddenly a guy who's an SS officer running a prison camp is now a NASA director and this guy and NASA show up in December 1965 when the strange bell-shaped artillery shelled object glowing blue does a long s-curve and lands in a ditch in Kecksburg Pennsylvania yeah do that you know I think these guys could have just put into existence again the thing is if you're gonna travel in a craft like that bill you're travelling through time and space it's like you know you could jump 10 years and you wouldn't even know it like right and then and then back in 2008 a strange bell shaped artillery shaped craft comes to a relatively soft landing in a ditch alongside the Colorado River outside Needles California people see it people and what they see is a series of US military helicopters and a sky crane over the object which is still glowing blue by the way and hauling it away so and then Lake Mojave which is nearby is a test facility for advanced weapons did something overshoot Lake Mojave and and landing Needles but here's the other thing where George Knapp gets involved a strange bunch of very tough looking guys in black suits and black helmets riding black vehicles with mounted machine guns on them show up in town and start talking to a lot of people it what you see when you see it I wouldn't talk about this if I were you and Knapp confronts them on the road and it turns out these guys are from the Atomic Energy Commission Department of Energy these guys are there to secure in sonic weapons what are they doing in Neil's California well Joy's not an interesting I like to always know very very yeah yeah prolific investigative journalist he he doesn't mess about he just wants to get to the truth and to the knowledge and their prolific going on right but he comes out in Neil's to find out what's going on out there I'm fully convinced that the the tall blond thing is like you know these guys are in on a race and you know there's so many examples of this bill from South America the Germans I mean it's like all over like I have no doubt like I mean there's another a few cases America as well but people say they meet tall blond beans and that they look very very similar to what's beyond well that's what I've heard two people have said to me that fact that the the chapter I'm writing now about great big raids conspiracy we talked to this one person Marion Cassandra who said that it's the tall greys that not the 12 grades but the tall Nordics these Nordic looking beings that are the ones that really control there are different species but these are the ones that really control the little grey is the Android like greys who do their work that's how these different races work together and these Nordic beings showed her these devastating visions of planet Earth after climate change she's coming on the show bill and she is yeah I started March I'm looking forward to it I spoke to her the other night lovely lady good lovely ladies I'll be looking forward to that she'll you know let's switch gears again bill let's talk about you know aviation industry because this is anybody gonna recognize what a UFO looks like you know it's gonna be somebody in the aviation industry and there's been several Doug fights as well between UFOs where you know military planes have tried to take these guys down I think you know I don't know what the rest of world but certainly America I think that guys would shoot these things down if they could bill because they want the technology well we have I mean if you talk to Frank Pacino was a great interview by the way it's a great guest if you talk to Frank wish you know who wrote the book shoot him down then Frank fish you know will tell you that in July 1952 that summer Stan Friedman cause 1952 the summer of the saucers they were all over the place and in especially over Washington DC and we intercepted them and we know that there was incursion because we have the photographs of that incursion we have these special formations of flying saucers over the Washington Monument over the Capitol building so they were over Washington and we did send our top Jets and top fighters fighter pilots against them and we brought some of them down one craft crash-landed in out in West Virginia outside of Braxton County outside of flatwoods and Frank did an incredible job of amassing the witnesses interviewing the witnesses and piecing together it's a great story piecing together what happened when this alien craft crashed in Braxton County outside of flatwoods it's called the flatwoods monster and sent this defensive it had this defensive kind of robot like device that scoured the area to keep pull away while other craft came in to take it away so this is a phenomenal story so we have shot these things there I think is an engineer bill what we could do with the technology how come you back engineer and I just think the stuff so advanced is very little we could grapple with you know I think there's very little that but I think you know that wouldn't care to the military organizations of the world they would have if they could only back engineer 1% of this stuff well here's what here's what supposedly is going on first of all you have a lot of people in quasi NGO military relationships who are actively doing research on things like dark matter dark energy and among the comments that I have heard is that for all the flying saucers they said we've retrieved none of those craft are propelled by dark energy so there's a little kind of um you know it's like oh wow you guys got a flying saucer oh gee there's no dark energy propulsion system so it's a very funny you know good news bad news kind of thing the other thing we know is that the UFO intelligence is handled by elements and the government called special access projects and there are special access units within all areas of the military NASA places like that John Schuessler told me that they had a MUFON and supposedly there is one office in the Pentagon one of the under secretaries of defense who is the that's the desk where all this intelligence material ends so we do have a UFO officer Air Force bases also have UFO officers we found this out from Edwards Air Force Base back in the 1960s that there are UFO officers at Air Force bases so this is not a deep dark secret within the military so the point is we know this stuff and the military is dealing with this stuff in a lot of different ways yeah you know the aviation industry - we've got a lot of gray eye this testimony from pilots and these guys you know they're trying to protect a career they can't be Gelder there there's like a written unwritten thing where they can't speak out it's a it's not like they're told not to but you know they're gonna be sure shunned in their careers but some of them have been and some of the radar imagery and testimony that we have backs up the radar imagery some of these cases are pretty pretty intense like well they are one of my favorite cases is the ARB b-47 case from 1957 when a UFO in this case has been debunked and the debunkers keep falling short of the facts in fact the debunking raises levels of implausibility to impossible heights here's a case where an object we don't know what it is starts tracking the RB 47 which in 1947 was probably the height the most sophisticated electronic counter warfare plane in existence with cruise and the radar guys were called scarecrows or Ravens that were the most highly trained in the airforce so here is an event that is where the plane tracks a ton it's very sophisticated radar systems it's tracked from the ground and it's tracked visually by the pilots in the cockpit and that's an incredible in Cranberry all kinds of reports on this thing an incredible case then there's the case of the Iranian pilot general he became a general Parviz Jafari who was dispatched to protect one of a guy in his squad he's flying an f4 phantom jet and he's dispatched applying to bring back some guy in in his squadron who's flying too close to the border with Russia to the Soviet border the guy says he's chasing a UFO Barbies ship Isis get get back here the Russians you know if some MIG comes over you're a dead man he goes to get it and he sees the UFO and he starts tracking the UFO over the Iranian desert towards Tehran and finally he's given orders to engage the UFO well suddenly the UFO emits a huge craft it emits a smaller craft from from some kind of a landing Bay inside MIT's a smaller craft and the craft starts tracking the f4 phantom so Parviz Jafari goes this is a dogfight he turns his plane and he goes to arm his his his missile launching facilities air-to-air missiles suddenly his radio ghost static he loses control of his planes and worse his missile launch board goes dead he's lost control of the plane so he goes to break off he gains control of the plane again he's told shoot this thing it goes back tries to get it and the thing starts tracking him one second it's on one side of the plane another second it's on once another side of the plane Jafari can't keep track of it finally he's told to break off and head for home and the thing lands in the desert that was taken so seriously that when he returns to base I think is at Marienbad when he returns to base he's met not only by members of the Iranian Air Force general staff but he's met by uniformed United States Air Force officers and people in plain clothes for a debriefing the story of that encounter by Parviz Jafari we now know because we have the data we have that proof winds up being presented in 1976 to President Gerald Ford and that's among the things delivered to President Jimmy Carter when he takes office when he takes office in 1977 fascinating this is all fascinating not so many different this is a minefield of research well isn't it it's like there's so much evidence out there I mean I don't know why people just don't wake up and look at this stuff and go hang on a minute you know a lot of people just want to put their head in the sand bill an ostrich oh oh sighs themselves and not deal with this or they want to figure out where they're gonna get the next meal from and already gonna pay their bills this week and you know we've got brothers and sisters in this in the galaxy bill and that's the way I see it you know we've well right right I mean this is all true and and the CIA has made it very difficult for you to be kind of an aboveboard honest broker in the ufology movement because as early as after the 1947 crash the government didn't know what they wanted to do I mean they were as befuddled as anybody so they pulled together the staff from air War College among them was he a colonel Lieutenant Colonel called Mary Ann Magruder who'd been the commander of his own squadron of night fighters in World War two in the South Pacific so they take these classes to right field where the alien debris wound up and where the live alien wound up and the point was that the members of these classes had to write up their ideas for strategy about this we didn't know if it was a threat or not but Beth is alien threat I'll just call it that because we didn't know and all these officers that the most prevalent types of theses that they began writing were theses about the development of tactical nuclear weapons odd that they would do that but they saw this so we had no policy in 1948 finally evolving in 1949 and 1950 the various projects Grudge and signed all began to formulate a policy so that by the time Eisenhower was taking office in early 1953 and remember Eisenhower had had had had his own UFO sighting when he was on the deck of the Franklin donor the USS FDR in project main operation Mainbrace in the North Atlantic in 1952 so Eisenhower gets this briefing about the fact there really live aliens and we've been in cat we've had encounters with with off-planet species and so finally the CIA if you read the history again online develops a plan that the you're not going to tell people that UFOs don't exist I mean you could say that all you want to and they have but the other way to do it is to have a two or a three pronged approach one take all the things you know to be true about UFOs and aliens and alien landings and give it to Hollywood because if Hollywood is making motion pictures about it but they are the Triffids and things like that if I only would is making motion pictures about it people look at it as fiction as opposed to reality fictionalize it to marginalize it yeah - yeah you let people who you make fun of people who claim to be UFO witnesses contact these abductees etcetera they become objects of ridicule and three you flood the airwaves with disinformation about UFOs so that people believe all the wrong things yeah and it worked yeah you know on the other side and just as you mentioned Hollywood you had Dan Aykroyd come out and do the DVD with David Salida you know when we hate heat he's a believer in in UF I was like so at least he was a witness I mean he tells the story he was living near upper New York State and he said he wakes up and he feels this huge urge to go out into the night we did that this was a cover story in UFO magazine this huge urge to go out into the night and he sees that hundreds of people staring at this huge UFO in the sky so he yeah he believes cuz he's seen it yeah yeah and he wants the truth and he wants to get to the bottom of it like you know so he's like another voice and that's good to see that bill cuz he's got some media behind them and you know in the media days and so not that that's necessary for credibility but you know it's at least it kind of makes the Hollywood thing down a notch not much but it makes it down a notch right I mean not that much because Hollywood is still doing these movies but you know even things like the only way you can tell the truth is fiction so you've got Close Encounters of the Third Kind where you have a story about ostensibly this is with John Shuster Tommy a real UFO landing all the way back in the 1960s and this is that story but it's fictional I remember there another great case is the Japanese I talk to my dad about this a lot he's my UFO fellow researcher and he I've been enlightened to this as a kid and stuff but um you know the Japanese flight that went over Alaska I think of 1628 it was yes JL 1628 yeah what a case this one do well and again the back story on that is multiple witnessed UFO on radar witnessed picked up by the way by the United States Air Force they picked it up on their radar they were over Alaska I'm the thing the hovered buzz the plane observed the plane and then split off well the person who was in charge of that investigation for the FAA was a man called John Callahan who I met John Callahan amassed radar tapes videotapes that audio tapes from the conversations amassed the whole thing and they're having a meeting about this at FAA headquarters who walks in the CIA they say to Callahan in the assembled group hand us the tapes luckily Callahan kept copies and us the takes this meeting never took place we were never here there's no such thing as Jael as that flight seeing a UFO erase it from your memories and they leave Wow next person who pops up is of course the very famous dr. Bruce Maccabee the United States Navy photo expert the CIA gives all that information to MacCabe and says here you figure this out and Bruce Maccabee writes that very famous report on that Jay flight which folks can get at Bruce Maccabee site on the internet yeah you know and the part it was pretty concerned to wasn't he he was pretty concerned he was freaking out yeah this is what makes this you know the guy was being tailed by UFOs and he couldn't shake them off and he was getting pretty concerned he was in panic mode like right I mean if you see enough Japanese science-fiction movies you know the next thing is the UFO beams you up and that's the end of you exactly exactly Wow you know um area 51 is it's nicknamed you know it's being decommissioned if we think there's a new the yearly 52 yeah there's one at Dugway proving grounds we were there we saw this invisibility thing going on there it was astounding there are cattle mutilations people who are tribal police from Utah have been on the perimeter of the base and have described UFOs hovering over the base what you two need to go to Utah bill with 52 more secrecy better and cover up too much press area 51 all of people's right I mean they acquired a lot and area 52 remember that was that Dugway proving ground base was an operational base during World War two and what were they developing an area at Dugway poison gas because if you go up there we were there if you go up there you will see all the poison gas detectors ringing the base so that they would know if any gas leak we were planning a poison gas attack against Japan during World War two and before we get too high-minded the Japanese were sending exploding balloon bombs called foo goos over the United States across the Pacific from Japan in World War two some of them exploded and they were laced with anthrax so we were under biological attack by Japan in nineteen in World War two and that's why area 52 Dugway proving grounds was developing poison gas to be used against the Japanese when we went there they knew we were coming we were there twice I'm telling you helicopters all over the place World War two was an interesting time for ufology wasn't a billet all kicked off then do you think the UFOs have stepped in and said like these guys have nuclear warheads now these guys are in trouble they're gonna wipe themselves out you think that's the reason that we're starting to see the increase of you UFOs well wherever you see a nuclear facility you tend to see UFOs hovering I mean it's just during World War two they were hovering over Hanford they were hovering over Oak Ridge we know they were over Los Alamos and of course we have the Roswell crash so they've been around they were over United States Air Force Base at monsturm in Montana 1965 shut down the whole missile silo they were over Soviet missile sites actually armed a series of missiles in Soviet silos the Soviets lost control of their missiles these things were going off they were going off the started a nuclear war Moscow couldn't even intervene to shut these things down finally they released their control and the Russians were able to shut down the missiles they're letting us know they will not allow us to have a nuclear war hiii-ya the battle of los angeles in world war ii as well what a case tough build I mean these guys anti-tank shrapnel like you know these guys fired everything at this UFO and they couldn't shoot it down though right and it was hovering and you want to say wait a minute if it's a balloon how can all of our anti-aircraft Gunners have missed the balloon that makes no sense it was flying against the wind anyway so wasn't a balloon they were shrapnel all over there I had a piece of shrapnel somewhere in this house all over the beach somebody said oh it's a piece of you if I look at though it's not it's it's a trap know from my anti-aircraft shell the shells landed back on the beach and exploded so no and then they covered the whole thing up yeah I mean they fired everything they got the wind there was kind of these as well I mean but these guys right sure we're hit by shrapnel of falling shells you know some mass again be another example of a mass sighting you know and it's like the list goes on and on them what do you think it the whole abduction thing do you think there's cases that are people were contacted and experiences and genuine and neither good or bad outcome but then there's cases where it is like experiments and ill intent or well you look you're talking to Miriam in a few weeks and so you'll hear firsthand I may you'll hear firsthand what she has to say but her contacts with alien creatures but I mean for me if there were nothing else there's the Barney and Betty hill case up and Exeter oh yeah okay I'm sure yeah let's talk about your Barney Hill case bailiff had constantly Martin on the show and you and probably all obviously known Kathleen but what a case this is this is if there was nothing else this is the case to have a look at exactly and Kathy makes a really good point about if this were only first of all she dispels one myth the big myth was always that Betty and Barney never knew what happened to them until they saw dr. Benjamin Simon and he was able to elicit memories from them about what happened Kathy dispels that myth right up she says that next morning after they've gotten home Betty called her sister Kathy's mother County's mom and told to the whole story and Kathy got on the phone so she knew about it the only thing that Betty didn't know was what happened after the little graze the little creatures led her up to a ramp up to a craft they led her up and they let Barney up but these things crept through I mean Barney complained about these sores on his genitals that he couldn't figure out how he got them he had hypertension but he didn't have any other physical elements nobody knew why and that was why he to a doctor in the first place to find out what was wrong with him and then when he recovered those memories he remembered that the creatures in the craft with the suction device over his genital area and and they sucked cells sperm cells out of him which they were going to use in hybridization Betty talks about a long thin tube being inserted into her womb and liquid being extracted and that medical procedure wasn't known at the time either bill is it that's right that's right that wasn't known for for another what another 10 15 years amniocentesis is what it's called today so that was one she couldn't have possibly known about the existence of amniocentesis back in 1961 then she talks about the chart that some this was a very benevolent I mean it was hostile because it was against their will but ultimately they were not subjected to torture I mean she talks about this chart add this one of the entities seemingly one of the head entities tells her where they're from and it's this twin star well people hahaha no twin stars no it can't be then they discovered the twin stars of Zeta Reticuli and they discovered the planets around 0 Reticuli of the twin star again not known in 1961 known by the 1980s mm-hmm then of course there are the stains on the Betty hill dress the protein pink protein stains on her desk where she under dress where she remembers they grabbed her and of course the damage to the card everything else you had the magnetic anomalies on the car and all there's so much evidence there you know it's for me the star map was a physicist and an astronomer and I like I did that's what I do and this like the fact that a schoolteacher build cracks at the the star map against the odds because back then I mean you had to do it all by hand there was no number crunching on fancy computers like we have with his fancy software today it was all old school bill and there it was nice that she did that like I mean she I mean she had the sense to say well if this exists it's gonna be out there let's look for it that's right that's right because she took Betty Hill's story seriously yeah and that's the thing I mean sometimes you just people just want to wash this on away bill you know but I want to talk a little bit about just before we wrap up I want to talk a little bit about ancient aliens how did you get it into the ad anything that that follow-on from the UFO Hunters well do you do any more episodes today or I'm not doing episodes now but that that kind of is a funny story the whole ancient aliens idea was really something that pat at us Kurt and I were pushing the network to do this is before George oh we're pushing the network to do as early as the first season we said look with all the ancient alien sites around the world and we talked about some of the exact same sites you did James and all of them around the world yeah we should do at least one episode on the possibility that aliens visit our planets tens of thousands of years ago and the network was highly resistant finally it's now the first episode of season three and we're doing the story of giant triangles I love that episode because we actually captured mark Olson captured a giant triangle on video and we had Terrence Masson try to find any way to call this conventional and he couldn't it was by definition a UFO so it was each season we found a UFO so now we want to see so we interviewed George oh and the set up was Georgia wanted to show us this artifact he was wearing this or I still have it somewhere this artifact of something it looked like a bird but it's not a bird its wings were in the wrong place they're too far back off the shoulders the tail was all wrong birds don't have tails like that so he shows it to me a space shuttle I mean it's such a space shuttle right you know he said bill it's a month this is an artifact from thousands a thousand years ago in Mesoamerica I said it's camp it yeah that's it that's the Space Shuttle well here's the test will it fly we go to brick price we show him the little piece of jewelry that Giorgio has he scales it up to something at my a decent size we launch it on a catapult it flies Wow it flies wow yeah I remember the scaled model it was like a little model plainly exactly scaled to the right dimensions and all yes so it's fly so so so the network sees that right and then says let's do a show based on that and that's how ancient aliens got started this is series they asked me to help launch this series it'd be in the first episodes which I were wow yeah you know some of the stuff I don't agree with someone who stuff I do I love the whole ancient astronaut theory because even you look at the Sumerian culture bill and you look at the ancients and the records it's all there but it's there in modern times and it's there in ancient times and we've been visited by you know a variety of cultures from across the galaxy veiled for a very very long time god only knows how far back bill yeah I don't know how far back but I mean look now they've just found a design for the ark so instead of the ark being the boat shaped right bow and sternum was it was a huge circle and of course look at all the cultures that talk about the flood so this is not just some kind of a story that's a myth it probably really happened when the Black Sea and the Caspian Sea ran into each other and it probably was an ark that that grounded on man era and that story which was a Mesopotamian story found its way into the because there was the Jewish community and and Noah's ancient community in Mesopotamia found its way into the Bible ya know don't know don't know you know do you look into the Dogon which they have you looked at that but I have I have four ancient aliens as a matter of fact we did and it was the Dogon fertility dances and the ceremonial dances with the space hell they were wearing the square foxy space helmets on their heads and of course the Dogons migrated from ancient Egypt yeah they're Egyptian yeah and they migrated across North Africa from ancient Egypt and and and they're doing this ceremonial dance commemorating an extraterrestrial encounter because circumcision as well and like the Jewish community and you know they just look like they've been dropped down somewhere else and put there em but yeah they're there they're low their folklore our history we I don't I don't like calling a fuck about what most people refer to as that but um you know there's a couple of or - Shannon dory and Larry Scranton of tackle them and very few people will address the Dogon stuff but you know when you read the stuff bill it's like you know I have no doubt that a group of people who came from the bleeding and unseated us on one occasion anyway maybe maybe there's been a multitude of peoples of coma I think I think there have been multiple seedings yeah I think you know against the odds we might have been look at the earth I mean we do go to cataclysms bill I think there's a receding of the earth that happens because of cataclysmic events I tend to agree with you whether that is you know dolmen good intent or bad intent I don't know a lot of people talk about we were used as slave species and you know

I don't even think I don't even care about that bill this were nuts well I'm not a slave anyway today but because I don't buy into the commercial aspect of life like but I'm in our people that do that we are slaves to the to the Western money system in a way but setting that aside you know it doesn't really matter what we were used for receded the fact is that it happened you know and the people need to wake up to that people need a wake or support life I think there's more than one fertilization that has gone on so that there are very different types of human beings on the planets we do share the same DNA that's that's there's no doubt about that but I do think that we've been visited different cultures were visited at different times with different levels of Technology imparted to those cultures I fully believe that may fully believe that we are the alien species on the planet human beings are the alien species what do you think the moon thing you think then do you think you know the moon has been used as a based and build observation and as observation or you know transport well if you look at the stories of the hidden NASA right all the stories about activities on the moon stories that I've heard from NASA people about structures on the moon that were covered up because nobody wants you to know that there are structures on the moon that that the moon rings like a bell when this when we have shot rods into it to get a seismic reading or view moon yeah that that there are alien artifacts on the dark side of the Moon that the United States as far back as 1956 I have there I have the documentation 1956 anybody can get it by the way it's online and it's also in the back of day after Roswell in 1956 the the army decided to launch a project to establish a fortified base on the moon fortified it wasn't some NASA lunar lander business was a fortified base on the moon no I that was abandoned they are they never did it and and even after we went to the moon in 1969 and success of missions through the 1970s we abruptly stopped our moon exploration after billions of dollars were spent but what possible purpose we stopped and the purpose of that was to mine the moon that's rich in minerals I believe we were told in no uncertain terms get off one day off no come back yeah I think that too but I think we've been warned off the moon you know but we can barely run our planet bill look with it look what we do to the planet the planet's been raped for all its for all this resources and not managed either in a very good way I think that the earth is a very abundant place but I think you know it's not managed very well no obviously there's people in power I do and I understand that but I think if we can't manage the earth bill I don't think we're allowed touch the moon I think that's the rule well even Stephen Hawking has said in order for the human race to survive it has to populate other planets yeah yeah we're gonna have to be able to colonize because at some point we're gonna be meeting a very very serious threat like an asteroid or some luck you know don't be able to come look to the top of the air second error here you know you got any conversation you got any you got yourself on Dark Matter radio as well and you want to get the website Dark Matter radio we're a dark matter radio we're on PSN with our radio show future theater on Monday nights at 7 o'clock I've got a book I've got a book that I'm finishing now it's the second book of the UFO Hunters series that's coming out probably next year I've got a book on violent crime in America coming out next year as well and so those are my projects I'm going to be probably I've got three conferences coming up next year where I'll be one is at the Presidio conference with Ruben Uriarte that's an October another in July is the MUFON conference say here in New Jersey in Cherry Hill New Jersey and the third conferences as early as April and that's going to be in Florida with Antonia Paris talking about the aerial phenomenon Wow busy guy bill busy guy yeah yeah that's great bill that's great I'm gonna have to definitely get you back on the show then at some point anyway for sure well I'm looking forward to it yeah and that's great to see you and I've tuned in a couple of times in dark matter radio and I'll PSM too and there sure you know great to be part of that Network to Bill and you know I like the guys there I got a great reception there's a great audio quality great professionalism and they've got a great bunch of hosts there to bills so they do it's a really strong networking I'm looking forward to seeing it grow and grow you that's the way it's going it's grown and grown so yes well thank you for your time today it's been an absolute pleasure well thank you James very informed a couple of hours that

10 Real Photos That Cannot Be Explained

Here are a collection of real photos so baffling that they make you question the world we live in. From a giant flying reptile to compelling evidence of time travel. Join us as we investigate 10 real photos that can't be explained.

The Mystery of the Pteranodon.
In 1864, during the American Civil War, 6 soldiers claim to have shot down 'some kind of unknown bird or monster' near Vicksburg.

The creature in the photo resembles a Pteranodon which is a giant flying reptile that existed during the Cretaceous period throughout what is now modern North America.

Old Lady in Nursing Home. When this lady moved into a nursing home in the mid 90's, her family took this photo. When it was developed a figure of a man could be seen in the background.

On a closer inspection the old lady claimed it was her husband who had died thirteen years earlier.

The family insisted that no one else was present when the photo was taken.

There's very little info on this photo and many call it a hoax for obvious reasons but it's still a damn creepy image. The story goes that the Cooper family from Texas had just moved into the house and were celebrating when the dad of the family took this photo. When the photo was developed there was a terrifying figure falling from the roof of the house. No one knows who or what it is, many claim it's the spirit of the former owner of the house.

The Cadborosaurus.

In 1907, 9 fishermen caught what they claimed to be a Cadborosaurus, a giant sea monster.

The Cadborosaurus is a famous North American cryptid named after Cadboro Bay in Canada.

The massive and elusive sea serpent has been spotted from Alaska all the way down to Southern California. To this day no scientist has been able to identify the creature in this photo.

The Solway Spaceman.

This one has been flying around the Internet for a while but the story is just too good to pass up.

In 1964, Jim Templeton took a photo of his daughter while they were picnicking in Burgh Marsh, overlooking the Solway Firth in Cumbria.

When the photo was developed it sent the media into a frenzy, garnering world-wide attention. There in the picture was a tiny space-man just above the young girls head. Templeton claims no one, other than his wife, was there that day. Kodak verified that the image had not been tampered with and even put out a reward to anyone that could prove otherwise.

But the story only gets stranger. Mr Templeton claims was visited by two men dressed all in black who were referred to as Number 9 and Number 11. They insisted that he take them to the site where the photograph was taken. Then just days later, all the way in Australia, a missile test-launch was aborted after the technicians claim they saw two spacemen identical to the one in the photograph out on the firing range. Bizarrely, the aborted missiles were built in RAF Spadeadam in Cumbria, just a few miles from where the photograph was taken. Many claim they saw a UFO near the Australian launch site around the time of the incident.

The Ghost of 3 Men and a Baby.

3 Men and a Baby is a 1987 comedy film starring Ted Danson. In one scene, about an hour into the film, Danson's character is walking across a room. In the background when the camera pans past the window, a strange figure is standing there. It is said to be the ghost of a young boy who committed suicide in the house many years earlier. Some claim that the figure is actually just a cardboard cut-out of Danson's character that featured in a scene that never made the final cut of the film. But what do you think? Does that really look like Ted Danson to you?

Man Caught Travelling Through Time.
This photo was taken on the day South Fork Bridge was reopened in Canada in the early 1940's. It's very clear that one man doesn't belong in this photo or time period. He's got some sassy goggles on, a hooded jumper and a logo laden t-shirt. Of all the events in history, why would a time traveller visit a bridge reopening in Canada? Speaking of time travel, what's the deal with this?

This is footage taken from a Charlie Chaplin film opening in 1928. Everything is normal, until a suspicious lady walks by, chatting on a mobile phone. Look at that! She's clearly talking!

And check this out, it's a woman exiting a Dupont factory in Massachusetts in 1938!

Look, she's clearly chatting away on a mobile as well. What is going on?

Time Travel Memento Left in Chinese Tomb.
Sticking with time travellers and their reckless attitude towards the fourth-dimension. In 2008 Chinese archaeologists opened a sealed tomb in Shangsi County that supposedly hadn't been disturbed in over 400 years. What they found in the coffin is baffling. It's a small wrist-watch like object with the time frozen at 10:06. According to sources, the word 'Swiss' was engraved on the back.

Is this an elaborate advertising campaign or evidence of a clumsy time traveller?

The Ghost in the Back Seat.

In 1959, Mabel Chinnery was visiting the grave of her late mother. While at the cemetery Chinnery took a photo of her husband in the front seat of their car. When the photo was later developed a mysterious figure could be clearly seen sitting in the back seat. Chinnery claims it's an image of her dead mother. A photographic expert examined the photo and determined that it hadn't been tampered with nor was it double exposure.

The Ghost of Freddy Jackson.

This photo of a World War 1 RAF squadron was taken in 1919. If you look at the airman in the back row four pilots in, you can clearly see an extra ghostly face. All the men photographed that day swear it's the face of Freddy Jackson, a pilot who tragically lost his life in a propeller accident just days earlier. In fact, Jackson's funeral was held on the morning this photograph was taken.

Well there you go by popular demand there's a whole bunch of baffling photos that make no sense whatsoever.

The Storyist

one truth and that truth is that UFOs are real they've already done told you sometimes when you want somebody to know a truth it's so you can set them up to believe a lie and that's coming i have zero doubt that lie is coming what is the lie specifically you want me to say it right now for real on camera to be put in the show okay problem with that if we tell the lie before it's told they can adapt that wouldn't be wise i'll tell you privately but I would really think about if you want to put this in your show for real that's a real thing I'm telling you so will you think about it before putting in your show absolutely okay so UFOs are real and they've been here a long time and that's a truth but the lie is coming all indications like all of them is that that lie is going to be that there is a craft slowly making its way to us here on Earth and that is the lie they're going to want you to believe it's nuanced how they explain that the nature of that threat but that 100 fucking% is the lie you are going to be told you even got a date people been whispering a date for a long time now i know where that lie comes from i know specifically what document from the 70s initiated the idea of that lie a classified document that is the lie you will be told you're going to be told that there is a craft on its way to Earth that's the lie maybe I'm wrong the UFO UAP phenomena is augmenting at an immeasurable rate the powers that be had far superior control of disseminating information in the early 80s and '90s as the internet and smartphones haven't been invented yet now that information technology is available everywhere and to virtually everyone the strategy of the government had to adapt and overcome jeremy Corbel is among other things a filmmaker and I feel you like myself find it extremely interesting to hear him explain how the government told the public the truth about UFOs existing to set us up for a lie anyone using logic realizes that if you're on a documentary covering the subject and you state that a lie is coming the next logical question you'll be asked is what's the lie we're all going to be told he then explains to the producer that if we tell the lie before it's presented to us then they can adapt a logical question I felt we all would ask is why would you bring up the lie at all if you never intended to disclose it he then finishes the scene with dramatic certainty explaining the lie to the producer in spite of his previous warning which once again questions rational logic stating that the lie will be told is a craft is slowly approaching Earth the final words from him are "Maybe I'm wrong." The presentation you're about to watch is called The Other Space

Program Filmed on August 21st 1997 often hailed as the original rocket man David Adair is an American rocket scientist inventor and expert in space technology he is renowned for his groundbreaking work in advanced propulsion systems and space technology spin-off applications for industry and commercial use at just 11 years old Adair built his first rocket a project that ignited a lifelong passion for science and innovation by the age of 17 his talent earned him the most outstanding in the field of engineering services award from the US Air Force his remarkable achievements drew the attention of prominent figures including Air Force General Curtis LeMay who facilitated Adair's work on an electromagnetic fusion containment rocket Adair is also known for his firsthand testimony on extraterrestrial technology and experiences at Area 51 contributing to his reputation as an authoritative voice on UFOs

Good evening ladies and gentlemen and welcome to the forum Little Green Men and rocket scientist wow do the two go hand in hand I bet there's a lot more there than uh than you realize and I bet you're going to find out a lot of things tonight that you never even suspected or guessed this evening that we're pleased to welcome our guest speaker Mr David Adair to the Granada Forum uh he's conducted his own need to know conference he is a top rocket scientist he's an international space consultant he's an internationally recognized leader and expert in space technology and he will be speaking to us about how he and other select individuals testified under oath before a US joint Senate and House hearing in Washington DC on April 9th of this year the subject dealt with their firsthand experience with UFOs and extraterrestrial phenomenon intelligence and top secret air force base known as Area 51 we'll also learn about other space programs additionally Mr Adair will talk about his his new book America's Fall from Space this recounts the story of the US space program from Werner von Braun's beginnings building the V2s for Nazi Germany to the horrible Challenger incident as a rocket scientist child prodigy he was taken by the government to work on the Navy's newest jet engines later becoming a space technology consultant who crossed swords with NASA when he learned of the corruption and the technical problems that the Challenger shuttle faced prior to its launching also included will be a brief recounting of his recent experience at the Roswell 50th anniversary celebration where he was an invited guest speaker this is sure to be a most enlightening presentation and questions can be asked regarding Little Green Men afterwards now please join me with a great big Granada Forum welcome to Mr David Adair well as we've um may have seen that well let me ask some questions first I need to know a few things here uh how many people heard me on Art Bell last night cali about half the room wasn't right it was night for last at 3:00 a.m I lost track I don't know um y'all's radio programs go run a little different than we do back home we roll up sidewalks about 10:00 at night and that's it um as you can tell y'all I'm I'm from Georgia so we got to get some proper English first y'all is singular all y'all is plural okay all right uh and you thought this was going to be a dry lecture from a rocket scientist didn't you yeah wrong answer um how many people here saw Well maybe I should back up for a minute do you remember the last time I was supposed to be here well some of you going "No." Well anyway for those who didn't know I was supposed to be here what was it last month some said "Boy see how good I am." Well what happened was um this is the little guy that caused the problem this is my planner I got to get a bigger planner um I had wrote your date in here for Friday the next night so I had Friday off and I went down Sunset Boulevard but anyway I wrote my wrong date in the wrong place I do that about once every 10 years and I was 12 years overdue so y'all got it so normally that's not a problem I work things out with clients and stuff but what I wasn't ready for was the reaction because I guess y'all really take a lot of things seriously here um let me give you an example when I didn't show up uh it's proverbial things uh when the stuff hit the fan because boy it set off a chain reaction first thing that happens my wife called and goes "What have you done?" I go "What?" She goes "You didn't show up at that meeting." I went "Oh god." That was the first notice and then um she said "All these people are calling and there are three cars out in the driveway and people are are are armed they're going to go look for you they they think you've been adopted jeff Baker of Baker Brigade you know on that radio he called me i've left several messages david I don't know if you're all right or not but there is about 5,000 phone calls on this radio station and he said um man there there's a militia forming out there it's going to go look for you and all this is happening i'm just standing in the in my friend's living room going "Oh my god." You know I'm listening to all this stuff and uh so yeah people got really perturbed they thought "Oh he's been taken that's it he's gone they done come and got him you know." So um no I just forgot to write my thing in the right day on the planner so anyhow I appreciate the attention uh I could imagine some of my clients in Corp America if I don't show up fire him he may be dead good but saved us some trouble but um yeah y'all kind of went went a little upset there so anyhow those of you that were here you saw a film thank God somebody had one of my films um how many people in here saw that film okay boy quite a few of you um we have an option on programs i was going to go through that film we got a problem about a third of you have seen that but I don't want to repeat the information again so what we'll do we'll kind of jump around on some of the programs i'll give you more details on those projects than you got on the tape so I might take care of both sides that hadn't seen it and those who had um let me give you a background on what I do um I work as a TTC that's a technology transfer consultant and you might wonder what is technology transfer well it's in my particular case it's where I take a um an existing space technology something that we had built out in orbit to be used out there for a need or service or something that we had to get done i come along and I look at that and I go "Wow I wonder how I can re redesign that and apply it into commercial applications." So the company I have is called uh Intersect i'm based in Atlanta Georgia i know where got that y'all's accent but anyway in my company what I do is I do a transfer so the best way to describe that maybe I should give you an example see right here you have uh John Young this what I wanted this thing right here that we have stuck on John's neck is a sensor and it'll pick up blood pressure pulse rate respiratory functions we tape them all over the body the information is then sent from orbit back down to ground by telemetry and the doctors sitting there can look at the astronauts blood pressure pulse rate respiratory functions and all the vital signs i was looking at that and I was going "Wow you know what we could do with that?" So we micromanagurize the process down and um let's say you just had a head-on collision out here or car wreck which I think that might be a very common event around here from what I've seen traffic today but uh there's been a a really tremendous impact so the people are injured they're dying from the from the crash the paramedics come sliding up to the rescue they throw open this little suitcase they hook the leads onto the person laying in the street the information is sent from the paramedic units to a local hospital by radio waves the doctors look at the scope and they're looking at the blood pressure the pulse rate the respiratory functions all the vital signs the doctor will tell the paramedics what to do to stabilize that person to get them to a trauma center and that's where those suitcases came from that's technology transfer so it's it's where we take stuff and redesign it um I can give you some more maybe practical applications maybe not so drastic let me tell you a story on the Apollo spacecrafts those things are not very big they're about the size of a good broom closet you got three men in there okay so they are eating solid food okay it's three days out three days back two days on the moon it's about eight days so after about three days of eating solid food what's going to happen y'all something's got to give you know okay well you got another problem it's weightless things float you begin to appreciate this problem right it will get your attention i guarantee you um so anyhow there are no bathrooms on board they wear diapers so we had to build a very special diaper that absorb nasty stuff away keep them dry while they're still there and hold things together okay technology transfer called Johnson Johnson you get the disposable diaper and that's where it came from that's technology transfer now it goes on and on and we can go for hours and hours there are about 72,000 transfer already occurred out the space program into the commercial sector and it's just influenced and intertwined in your life and you just couldn't believe how much stuff you use every day you don't even think about it came from the space program so that's what um that's what technology transfer is now you might find that that's pretty uh useful because in the space program um on the commercial side where I'm at I don't work for NASA if I worked for NASA it would be like u which it is right now we get along about as well as Arabs and Israelis do all right we are hostile competitors uh they're in the bureaucratic cess pool i'm over here in the commercial sector so you can tell I don't get a lot of Christmas cards from them boys but um the we're into making money and profits out there and in return we make products now you know about a space shuttle they take off like a rocket and they can form like a spacecraft then they come back in and land on a runway like a plane and they can do this over and over again so you have a cycle has anybody ever bothered to tell you what's the benefits of all this you know what could you possibly get out of that well other than some uh pampers and maybe a little paramedic units you may not really think very much about what you could get from the space program but it's um it's really a lot more effective in your life than you even aware of i'll show you that we have something right here this is satellite that's being launched into space now um years ago uh a president named uh Ronald Reagan uh which we called him in our world Ronnie Reagan anyway he came in there and he asked if there could be a communication system built that could withstand a full thermonuclear strike by the Soviet Union that's about 4,000 warheads exploding at one time in continental America it would be a very interesting day so anyhow um to build a communication system on the ground it would be really impossible because the ground will be just absolutely blasted away by EMPs electronic magnetic pulse uh it would fry all your communications so the only place we could go is space so we built this communication system with these satellites rockon National put them out and we've got six satellites in three different orbits and we ended up with about 18 satellites and we put some additional satellites out there and we got them all in place they formed this grid around the planet well once we got that thing in place um and it was extremely expensive what happened to the Berlin Wall it collapsed what happened to Soviet Union they collapsed so the thing that we had built this half trillion dollar program for doesn't exist now so you can't justify it so what do they do what any good little red-blooded bureaucrat will do they dump it so they dump the system into the corporate side and when we looked at the whole systems and we saw it coming one of the smaller things we get off this grid right now is called worldwide web and internet yeah that's what it was built for we didn't build it for you to play internet with i mean come on y'all think about a massive system that you we couldn't afford in commercial sector mil military built it for a communication system to survive first strike nuclear attack now what you're playing with out there it's pretty nifty systems but you think you're really big and bad on your little computer with the internet and web and talk to everybody in the world that's kind of cool but let me tell you something and you're only pushing less than 5% of that grid's capacity what's in the other 95% ah good question there is in the commercial side there is products and services coming that you're just not going to believe um one thing that we can do with this system is the telecommunications the way the the system worked for the military a ground user such as a combat soldier or a military aircraft can look onto any four satellites within the satellite grid those satellites will then initiate a search system where we will start locking onto the systems and with that we can tell whether you're a groundbased or sea base or an airbase object we can tell how fast you're moving within a fraction of 1 mile per hour we can estimate your ETA the estimated time arrival within a millionth of a second and all this acquisition data is occurring in one nancond 1 billionth of a second we're pretty fast out there with that so anyway once this system right here goes into effect the first thing that happen well let me give you a little dates here um we got the grid in at uh the very last satellite parked in the system came online August 1st 1991 what happened the next day g for Kuwait is invaded and we're all sitting there looking at this going "This isn't too good god somebody write Hussein a thank you card." Oh bless his little heart he invaded that country see we want to test this grid there's this grid is so powerful there's no way to test it really unless you got a fullscale real live honest to God war okay well you just don't go out and invent one of those at least some of you might disagree with that but um I've been hanging around metaphysical people too long they're messing with my head i'm telling you I I can't even look at the newspaper any normal anymore my colleagues are looking at me and they go they say something and I go "Well how do you know that doesn't transcend across a dimensional barrier to jump where you can maybe receive some kind of message from some kind of disembodied spirit out there you know and maybe give you some ideas?" And they're looking at me going "David what have you been smoking?" You know so I said "Never mind." So anyhow I'm kind of locked in the 3D world but um UFO Congress I just came from uh the Congress or the meeting before that the Global Science Congress so I've been pretty saturated already and I'm I'm starting to leak all these strange ideas but anyhow back to science one of the first things we did with Squid when Hussein did that nifty little invasion was this system could now demonstrate its capabilities a lot of this technology hadn't been used yet let me explain something to you or ask you a question i'm sure I did anybody watch the Gulf War on TV stupid question who Who did not watch it bless your hearts i'm with you guys but anyway y'all watched the the Gulf War and was like one of the neatest you know technological soap operas going on all this technology we had hadn't even tried yet it we've had different pieces of it come together but everything at one time believe me we dumped everything we had at that guy so um and if you thought about it here you have an aircraft carrier sitting out in the Gulf Persian Gulf it fires at a tomahawk missile a cruise missile this thing goes sailing out of the ship spreads its wings and takes off it's going to fly about 300 feet sometimes as low as 100 feet off the ground but u that's about height of a 10-story window it's going to fly about 450 miles like what from here to San Francisco it's about the same distance well when you get there with it you're going to go through Main Street and Bag Dag hook a ride at the square go down to the second street turn left and strike the second building on the left and go in that third window on the right got that no problem and we did um see uh the military of of uh Hussein is not quite as honorable as way we do it they build their intelligence central intelligence building in between a hospital and a school sitting right in the middle can't bomb it you know a cruise missile can come flying in the window and the last thing you see is somebody standing out the window going that's it it's all over with and um take out that entire building without hurting the the school the hospital on each side of it so if you think about that for a minute how do they do that gps global positioning system was allowed the coordinations for us to be able to maneuver through all that system so the first thing that they did they dropped a sergeant um behind the enemy lines and when he got there um he set up his GPS coordinator now he's looking out over the battlefield here comes two Iraqi division tank divisions that is about 60 some tanks and about 30,000 men he sits there and he starts punching in his coordinates and he is driving artillery in at a one square inch pattern accuracy one shell severs the turret right off a tank per shot at the end of the day this man by himself tough and war he killed 30,000 people and 60 tanks all by himself now people go "That's awful." Well poor is not a fun place to be it is awful but would you like the alternative would you rather have your 18-year-old son out there facing those tanks no we have one little sergeant sitting out there and he tuck everybody out sergeant York eat your heart out so the only thing the sergeant complained about his fingers were tired so that's the power of technology and it's even more powerful this is all going through the same system you play with the internet with keep that in mind other things that it can do I just told you prec uh precision weapon delivery terminal navigation landing approach capability you can be in a solid night landing tremendous storms have you had navigation shot up and GPS will take you within a 12 in accuracy pattern landing will know where you are physically within 12 in anywhere on the surface of the earth in a millionth of a second pretty nifty um they help with uh land operations in the military they also navigation performance and jamming the environment i I wish you could maybe see what the Iraqis saw on their radar when we fired the system up um imagine um you know it had it was everything they had electronically just started snowing out and then scrambling and making all kinds of noises kind of look like a something like a frog in a blender okay pretty rough so anyway that was um that's extremely h helpful in jamming navigation the other thing that we did have you ever thought about it we in the entire war the entire war was an air war basically we we had a lot of people on the ground but the real assaults were occurring we flew almost 14,500 attack missions we had a lot of pilots shot down but only a few captured so what's going on when the plane would go down and crash and even as the pilot's unconscious the GPS systems go off and we know where that pilot is laying on the ground within 12 in we send in a Delta force that obliterates everything in the area we pull the pilot out and go home the Iraqis think why are the Americans doing a major offensive in this area we're not we're extracting a pilot reason some pilots were caught they landed right in the middle of a huge Al u uh Iraqi battalion so you just couldn't go in there and pull him out so that's why we only had just a few pilots uh caught so that was a really handy system unlike Vietnam we didn't have GPS then we wouldn't have lost but a few of our pilots so that's military applications of the GPS system now enters my little crowd and we start doing subsystems and we redesign the modifications for commercial applications first thing we're going to do is we hook it to aircraft now imagine I fly a lot and I look out the window and I see these planes going by and I thought last thing I want to see is like a nose of a aircraft coming at me um so collisions can be avoided because how close can we tell where things are 12 in so next time you're in a rainstorm at night coming in for a landing and you know there's other aircraft all around you the pilots know where everybody's at just as if it's clear day so they can come in for a landing uh other things we can do um vehicle monitoring so we can tell me cars are locked into place and then tell the city governments you know y'all got to do something about that bottleneck over there in this town's particular case I don't know what you're going to do about it you got more bottlenecks and a dog's got fleas so law enforcement can use a system might not like this one a law a guy way out in the desert right locks on GPS you go with him by he knows how fast you're going in a fraction of one mile per hour hey Dave wait a minute this is not so good so anyway we can take tankers out of the harbor when they're fogged in that's uh a real uh advantage and there are other systems that we're going to do um this system I'm about to I in the process of building right now um is extremely political there's a problem with the politics of this type of technology I'm about to do and you're going to I'm sure y'all have something to say about it um right now in the state of Florida there are 3,000 convicted felons you know some of these guys willed axes and killed a bunch of people the attorney general has to release these people have to he's being ordered by the United States Supreme Court to release them you know why they violated their civil rights because the prisons are too crowded in Florida so they've got to release them and I'm sitting there going "What's wrong with this picture?" you know we're going to turn loose you know you know you know Al the axeman over here out on the street i mean this is insane so um I worked a deal where I'll be working with the attorney general Florida and what I can do there's this little ankle bracelet we're going to snap on their ankles which is made of a cold rolled titanium unless he's got a diamond laser he's going to have to cut his foot off to get this thing off it will send out a beaker monitoring him 24 hours a day and will know where he's at within a 12 in radius if he commits a crime it will also locate time date and place which you can use in a court of law for prosecution so they may be walking on the street but they're still totally under arrest all right that sounds pretty good now you can't inject anything into them because that violates their constitutional rights do you know that a felony prisoner has one third one-third more rights than you do check it out so the next technology I'm doing that's I'm doing that just to get a system in place and I'll use these prisoners for a good example but the next thing I want to do you might have a problem with it first but listen hear me out um you can bring your child to me and I will fire a little air gun and I can inject a chip into this child's body now you take your child home and you might think well wait a minute that sounds like big brother only the parents are going to have the codes and I can create a self repetition self-destroying system so if it ever tries to be activated without proper actorization that only the parents have it disintegrates if you lose your code you will have to come in i'll give you a new code and reprogram Junior there without bothering anything in the body and you go back out because I don't have the code no human on the planet will have the code but you we can't even extract it out so that eliminates big brother out of the picture now that child's out there playing in her yard and she just suddenly you go in to get something drink come back out and your child's gone your little girl's gone you call in the code the code activates it and we'll track that child anywhere within 12 inches on the surface of the planet we can do it in one millionth of a second we'll notify the police let them if you're watching this you've just unlocked a hidden file They said Area 51 was empty Just a patch of desert they claimed Sand wind and secrets buried beneath the Nevada sun For decades that was the story A test site a restricted zone Nothing to see here Yet the more they denied the louder the whispers grew And then something leaked The first files appeared like ghosts in the circuitry of the internet Blurred photos military reports without names radar signatures with no aircraft to match They were stamped with clearance codes older than most of us had ever heard of Lines blacked out words replaced by silence But what remained told a story too strange to ignore They said Area 51 was about planes stealth bombers spy projects cuttingedge experiments But the leaked memos hinted at something else Test chambers not for weapons but for biology Energy readings that didn't match any known source And then came the flight logs coordinates of objects that defied every law of motion known to physics What if I ask Area 51 wasn't just a military site but a vault A vault for things too advanced too impossible too unexplainable to exist in the open world They say science is about discovery But what happens when discovery outruns understanding In one memo dated decades ago a scientist wrote "Containment successful Replication incomplete No one knows what they were containing or what they tried to replicate but the handwriting trembled Even on the photocopy you could feel it Fear Ah something that didn't belong on this planet When those leaks surfaced the official channels called them hoaxes Old documents they said misinterpreted But somewhere someone made sure that every trace of those files vanished within hours Servers wiped accounts deleted people who shared them gone offline And yet the desert remains vast silent unblinking Every night lights still flicker above Groom Lake Lights that move like no aircraft we've built They said Area 51 was empty But emptiness doesn't need guards radars and armed patrols does it So maybe the truth isn't about little green men or flying saucers Maybe it's about power The kind that bends reality itself The kind humanity found too soon and locked away in the sand They said Area 51 was empty But history has a strange habit of hiding its most important secrets in plain sight They said Area 51 was nothing more than a testing site a patch of barren desert sealed off for national security Yet that very act of sealing it off of denying of insisting there was nothing there lit a spark in the human imagination that has burned for decades Secrecy after all has a strange magnetism The more something is hidden the more we need to see it The more they say "There's nothing here." The more our minds whisper then why hide it This paradox lies at the heart of the Area 51 mystery What began as a classified military facility in the Nevada desert became one of the greatest symbols of secrecy in modern history and proof that curiosity once stirred becomes unstoppable when the US government drew the borders of that restricted zone in the mid 20th century The country was deep in the fever of the Cold War The atomic age had just dawned and humanity was toying with forces it barely understood There were nuclear tests in the desert secret bombers in the sky and scientists pushing the limits of possibility But secrecy was not just a shield against enemies It was also a tool of control To maintain an edge they built a fortress of silence wrapping every project in layers of classification The existence of Area 51 itself wasn't even acknowledged until 2013 decades after the world already knew its name By then its legend had outgrown any explanation the government could ever give Human nature recoils from silence When something is hidden we fill the void with imagination And so from that barren stretch of Nevada stories began to take shape People claimed to see strange lights darting across the night sky moving faster than any jet Rumors spread of objects that stopped midair changed direction without turning and vanished in an instant Farmers truck drivers and military men alike described the same impossible maneuvers Soon whispers turned into headlines Maybe these weren't secret planes Maybe they were something else But the government's reaction only deepened the mystery Instead of clearing the air officials denied everything They dismissed the sightings as weather phenomena or misidentified aircraft They ridiculed those who spoke up labeling them cranks or conspiracy theorists And with each denial the legend grew stronger Because that's the strange thing about secrecy It doesn't extinguish curiosity It feeds it The more you hide the more people want to know By the 1960s Area 51 had become a symbol of all things unknown Pop culture latched onto it Books radio shows and tabloids began spinning tales of crashed UFOs and alien autopsies The Roswell incident of 1947 was woven into the Area 51 mythology Even though Roswell occurred in New Mexico not Nevada the two stories fused into one narrative that the US government had recovered extraterrestrial technology and was studying it in the desert People wanted to believe it because it filled a deeper human need The need to feel that the universe holds secrets far greater than ourselves and that somewhere someone knows the truth Yet beneath the myth there was always a grain of truth Area 51 really was a testing site for secret aircraft Planes so advanced for their time that they might as well have been alien The U2 spy plane for instance was tested there in the 1950s flying higher than any known aircraft To ordinary eyes it looked like something impossible glowing silver against the dusk Later came the A12 and the SR71 Blackbird machines capable of speeds that defied the limits of known aviation To those who glimpsed them from a distance they weren't human inventions They were omens But because the government couldn't admit these projects existed every sighting was officially dismissed And so fact and fiction blended seamlessly into one endless loop of speculation The irony is that secrecy meant to protect truth ended up creating countless versions of it Each denial pushed the public further into conjecture Each blackout each no comment each vanishing radar blip became a piece of evidence in itself People began to assume that if the government was hiding something it had to be extraordinary After all ordinary things don't require extraordinary silence This cycle of secrecy and curiosity became a mirror reflecting human psychology We are drawn to the forbidden to the locked door to the thing we are told not to touch It's an instinct older than civilization itself The desire to uncover to know to understand When faced with secrecy our imagination expands to fill the unknown The less we are told the more elaborate our stories become Area 51 was no longer just a military facility It became the stage on which humanity projected its fears hopes and cosmic questions As time went on the mythology grew in sophistication Theories evolved Maybe it wasn't about aliens at all but about experimental technologies free energy devices time travel interdimensional research Each idea found its believers Each believer added new details Entire communities formed around decoding leaked blueprints and analyzing satellite images of the base Every new photo no matter how grainy was dissected as if it contained the secrets of the universe The desert once thought barren became a living symbol of how curiosity can thrive even in the harshest conditions Governments have long understood the power of mystery Secrecy can be used not only to protect but to distract When something becomes so wrapped in rumor it starts to serve as a convenient shadow a place to hide the real truths behind the noise Some believe that Area 51's mythology was allowed even encouraged to grow for that very reason If the public was busy chasing UFOs who would think to ask about stealth bombers spy satellites or other black budget projects In that sense curiosity became both the enemy and the shield Yet there's something undeniably human about the persistence of the mystery For generations people have driven to the edges of that restricted zone peering through binoculars waiting for a glimpse of something extraordinary They camped under the stars scanning the skies for movement Some swore they saw it A flash of light a metallic shape a pulse of energy that vanished before they could focus And when they did their stories joined the growing constellation of testimony each one feeding the collective legend The desert became a pilgrimage site for the curious a modern day oracle where science and superstition met under the same sky Every society needs its forbidden place The ancient world had temples that only priests could enter caves that held the bones of gods mountains said to touch the heavens In the modern age Area 51 became that place a sacred geography of the unknown It represented the border between what we know and what we believe might be true And while ancient mysteries inspired worship modern ones inspire investigation Our temples are now data archives Our rituals are online debates Our priests are scientists and whistleblowers But the impulse remains the same To breach the wall of secrecy and step into the realm of forbidden knowledge It's easy to mock conspiracy theorists to dismiss their passion as paranoia But behind the wildest theories lies something deeply human a yearning to make sense of the gaps in our understanding When official narratives contradict observation when governments hide behind classified labels the mind seeks coherence elsewhere People begin connecting dots that might not exist yet the pattern comforts them because it feels complete In this sense Area 51 isn't just a physical location It's a metaphor for our collective curiosity for that empty space in our knowledge we can't stop trying to fill What's fascinating is that the secrecy around Area 51 has created an entire economy of curiosity movies books documentaries merchandise Each iteration adding new layers to the myth Hollywood turned it into a backdrop for alien invasions and government conspiracies Talk shows invited former insiders to reveal shocking secrets The more fantastic the claims the bigger the audience The desert base became both a mystery and a brand selling not truth but wonder And perhaps that's the ultimate triumph of curiosity It transforms fear into fascination ignorance into storytelling The rise of the internet only amplified the phenomenon In the digital age everyone became an investigator Satellite images of Area 51 were dissected by millions of amateur analysts Online forums traded in leaked photos and supposed insider testimonies Rumors spread faster than ever before blurring the line between revelation and fabrication But even as disinformation grew so did the collective hunger for truth The secrecy had created not just curiosity but a culture of curiosity It's interesting to consider that if the government had been transparent from the beginning if it had simply said "Yes this is where we test aircraft," the myth might never have taken root But by keeping silent they invited the world to dream What they tried to contain became uncontrollable Silence it turns out is louder than words when it echoes across decades At its core this story is not about aliens or technology It's about trust Secrecy fractures the fragile bond between authority and the public Once people believe they're being deceived they begin to doubt everything In the vacuum of truth speculation thrives That's why secrecy while powerful is also perilous It may guard knowledge but it erodes credibility The history of Area 51 demonstrates that you can control information but you cannot control curiosity Once people suspect there's a secret they will chase it invent it or even become it And so the legend persists Even after declassified documents revealed that Area 51 was indeed used for spy plane testing the public didn't lose interest On the contrary the official explanation only fueled more speculation If that's what they're admitting people said imagine what they're not admitting The truth once hidden had become too small to satisfy the myth Secrecy creates shadows and in those shadows the imagination thrives It breeds storytellers seekers skeptics and believers It turns ordinary places into symbols of infinite possibility That's why Area 51 still captures the human mind It stands as proof that our curiosity is indomitable that even in the face of silence we will keep asking searching wondering Because we are creatures who cannot stand the unknown We push against every locked door not only to see what's behind it but to prove that no mystery no authority and no wall of secrecy can outlast our desire to know They said Area 51 was empty Maybe it is Maybe it always was but the space it truly filled was not in the desert It was in the human imagination And that space once awakened is impossible to empty again Hidden knowledge has always shaped history often more profoundly than the events visible on its surface The story of Area 51 wrapped in shadows and guarded by silence embodies this truth perfectly What lies beneath that desert base may or may not be alien in origin But the mere idea that knowledge can be hidden locked away from the public eye has changed the way people see science government and even reality itself For centuries power has belonged not just to those who rule openly but to those who possess information others do not Knowledge is not merely a record of truth It is a weapon a currency a means of control And in the case of Area 51 it represents the dangerous balance between discovery and secrecy The idea that some truths might be too powerful for the world to handle The human story is in many ways a story of what has been concealed and what has been revealed From ancient libraries guarded by priests to wartime laboratories shielded by military fences progress has always walked hand in hand with secrecy The same scientific curiosity that drives humanity forward also threatens to unearth forces we do not fully understand And when those forces appear those in power face a choice to share knowledge and risk chaos or to hide it and risk corruption The legend of Area 51 exists in that uneasy space between the two They said it was just an air base a testing site for advanced aircraft Yet the evidence of something greater has lingered like static in the air for decades Strange metals unexplained energy readings flight records with impossible velocities all supposedly buried under layers of classification Whether these accounts are true or not the belief in them has shaped culture politics and the collective imagination of an entire generation The very act of hiding knowledge gives it weight importance mystery It becomes something larger than itself And once people believe that their governments are keeping secrets from them trust begins to erode They start looking for patterns for proof for meaning behind every shadow Hidden knowledge doesn't just stay locked away It ripples outward changing how the world thinks Throughout history secret knowledge has always defined the boundaries of power Ancient civilizations were built on mysteries understood by the few the geometry of the pyramids the astronomical alignments of temples the formulas for medicines and poisons Knowledge was hoarded passed from master to apprentice hidden from the masses The idea was simple Knowledge equals control Whoever controls information controls perception And whoever controls perception controls the world That same principle applies in the modern age Area 51 with its fences and watchtowers became the perfect symbol of that philosophy It represents the ultimate forbidden archive a place where science secrecy and authority converge into something untouchable There's a reason why stories of hidden technology and alien artifacts stir such deep fascination They speak to a universal fear that there are things out there that could change everything we know about existence but that someone has decided we're not ready for them That someone has chosen to guard those truths not for safety but for power Whether it's a machine that can defy gravity a source of unlimited energy or a being from another world the idea of suppressed discovery challenges the very notion of progress Because if the future has already been found and locked away what does that say about the present we're living in Imagine for a moment that deep beneath the Nevada desert lies not an alien craft but something more unsettling A technology of human origin discovered or developed in secret capable of altering everything from warfare to transportation to the balance of global power Such knowledge would not be a curiosity It would be a revolution And revolutions are dangerous things when only a few possess their fire Hidden knowledge in that sense becomes a doubleedged sword It promises safety but breeds suspicion It grants power but invites paranoia Every major leap in history began with someone uncovering a truth that others tried to suppress The printing press shattered the monopoly of religious institutions over written knowledge The microscope revealed worlds too small to imagine The splitting of the atom turned science into a god-like force of creation and destruction Each discovery pulled humanity forward But each also came with fear Fear of what happens when knowledge escapes control The scientists of the Manhattan Project who built the atomic bomb in secrecy knew this fear intimately They glimpsed the consequences of their own hidden work in the blinding light over Hiroshima And in that moment they understood what it meant to hold knowledge that could both save and doom the world Area 51 is the spiritual descendant of that tradition the hidden laboratory where discovery meets danger Whether it's alien or human technology being tested there the principle remains the same The most powerful knowledge is often the kind we can't afford to share And yet by keeping it hidden those in power alter the course of civilization They decide who gets to shape the future The irony is that in trying to control knowledge secrecy often amplifies its influence When people are told they cannot know something that thing becomes irresistible It gains a mythic aura transforming from a fact into a force The secrecy around Area 51 has done exactly that It turned a military facility into a cultural phenomenon an idea bigger than any truth it might contain It inspired generations to question authority to doubt official narratives to wonder whether humanity's understanding of reality is incomplete In that sense the hidden knowledge of Area 51 has already changed history even if none of it ever escapes those desert walls Consider how the world shifted after the first supposed leaks Photographs of unidentified craft testimonies from alleged insiders strange documents marked top secret Each piece whether genuine or fabricated contributed to a collective awakening People began to ask "What if our governments have already achieved breakthroughs far beyond what we're told What if the technologies that could end hunger reverse climate change or enable interstellar travel already exist buried in classified vaults?" That idea once planted grew like wildfire It became a cultural myth that questioned not only governments but science itself If the truth is hidden then even facts can't be trusted This shift in perception is the real power of hidden knowledge It doesn't just alter what people know It changes how people believe The secrecy surrounding Area 51 has turned skepticism into a global instinct In a world where information flows freely secrecy feels unnatural almost sinister And when institutions cling to secrecy they invite doubt in everything they do The result is a society obsessed with uncovering hidden truths whether they exist or not Conspiracy theories alternative sciences underground research All these movements are echoes of the same impulse born from one central question What are they not telling us But hidden knowledge doesn't just shape individuals it shapes nations During the Cold War the race for secret technology defined global politics Nations competed not only for weapons but for information Spies and scientists became as important as soldiers The possession of advanced technology meant dominance The loss of secrecy meant vulnerability This mentality carved the world into zones of silence where research thrived in the dark Area 51 was one such zone But it was not alone The Soviet Union had its own secret facilities Europe had others And even private corporations began building their own black labs Humanity entered an era where the most important discoveries no longer belonged to the public sphere They belonged to shadows This shift had philosophical consequences as well It redefined what it meant to be informed Knowledge was no longer something anyone could reach through study and reason It became something guarded controlled and rationed The ordinary citizen could only glimpse fragments of the truth filtered through the lenses of secrecy and propaganda This imbalance between the known and the unknown created a permanent tension in modern civilization A sense that reality itself might be only half visible And perhaps that's the greatest legacy of places like Area 51c They remind us that reality has layers and that access to those layers defines power When knowledge is hidden history becomes malleable Those who know the truth can shape narratives revise events and guide progress in ways invisible to everyone else Imagine if the next great energy breakthrough the cure for a global disease or proof of extraterrestrial life were already discovered but deemed too disruptive to release The entire direction of human development could hinge on a handful of decisions made in secret That possibility is terrifying and profoundly plausible Yet there's another side to the story Sometimes knowledge is hidden not out of greed or control but out of necessity Perhaps some truths genuinely are too dangerous to share too soon A technology that could rewrite physics might also destabilize economies religions and identities A discovery proving the existence of other intelligent life could shake the foundations of human culture There is a delicate line between protection and suppression And those guarding hidden knowledge must walk it carefully But the longer they hide it the greater the curiosity grows and the more uncontrollable it becomes We see echoes of this dilemma everywhere Scientists uncover phenomena they can't explain Governments redact reports that hint at impossible technologies Whistleblowers vanish or are discredited Each incident whether true or exaggerated reinforces the same perception There are truths out there too great for public eyes And whether or not that's justified it has reshaped the relationship between people and authority forever Even the digital age with all its transparency has deepened the mystery The more information we gain access to the more we realize how much remains hidden Classified documents encrypted data restricted networks The infrastructure of secrecy has only grown stronger It's as though modern civilization runs on two parallel tracks one public where progress is slow and visible and another secret where discoveries leap ahead in silence The gap between them is where myths like Area 51 are born And maybe in a strange way those myths serve a purpose They remind us that curiosity is our most enduring force That no matter how tightly knowledge is controlled it will always find its seekers People will always question explore imagine They will build theories from scraps create meaning from rumors and chase hidden truths even at great risk Because the hunger to know is what defines humanity It's what led our ancestors to map the stars to cross oceans to split the atom And even now it's what drives us to peer into the skies above Nevada wondering what glows beyond the horizon So perhaps the real secret of Area 51 isn't what lies beneath it but what it represents It stands as a monument to the tension between knowledge and control between revelation and restraint Whether or not there are alien crafts or advanced technologies buried there is almost irrelevant What matters is that the idea of hidden knowledge has already changed us It has made us question what we are told challenge the limits of authority and dream of a universe far larger than we've been shown In the end hidden knowledge doesn't just shape history it creates it Every revolution every breakthrough every collapse begins with something once concealed coming to light And though we may never know what sleeps beneath that desert sand one truth remains undeniable What humanity hides humanity will one day seek And what humanity seeks it will eventually find Because the hunger for knowledge no matter how deeply buried cannot be contained forever area 51 is perhaps the most secretive and fascinating military base in the United States often described as a symbol of government secrecy and mystery located in the barren Nevada desert about 83 mi northwest of Las Vegas the facility is officially known as the Nevada Test and Training Range at Groom Lake named after the large dry lake bed that lies beside it the remoteness of its location is not accidentally was deliberately chosen so the government could carry out sensitive projects away from the public and foreign surveillance established in 1955 during the Cold War Area 51's original purpose was to test and develop the U2 reconnaissance aircraft a spy plane designed to give the United States a crucial advantage in intelligence gathering over the Soviet Union over time the base evolved into a hub for experimental aircraft and weapons systems producing some of the most iconic and technologically advanced planes in history such as the SR71 Blackbird and the F-117 Nighthawk stealth fighter what makes Area 51 truly unique is not just the cuttingedge research carried out there but the extreme level of secrecy that surrounds it even military personnel without specific clearance are forbidden from entering and the airspace above it is one of the most restricted in the world the CIA only officially acknowledged the existence of Area 51 in 2013 after decades of speculation conspiracy theories and public fascination for many it represents the unknown see it as the cradle of advanced aviation while others believe it is the hiding place of extraterrestrial technology its blend of fact myth and speculation has cemented Area 51 as a cultural phenomenon making it far more than just a military installation it has become an enduring mystery that continues to spark curiosity worldwide the origins of Area 51 go back to the height of the Cold War when the United States urgently needed advanced surveillance capabilities to monitor Soviet activities in 1955 President Dwight D Eisenhower approved the creation of a remote testing site in the Nevada desert where Lockheed's top secret Skunk Works division could test its newest innovation the U2 spy plane the U2 was designed to fly at altitudes above 70,000 ft well beyond the reach of Soviet fighter jets and missiles at the time giving the US a dramatic edge in reconnaissance Groom Lake a dry lake bed with natural flat terrain was selected as the perfect testing ground because it offered long natural runways and was far away from prying eyes workers and engineers were secretly flown in from Burbank California on unmarked aircraft that became the origin of today's famous Janet Airlines still operating out of Las Vegas to shuttle personnel to the base in its early years the base was little more than a cluster of simple buildings hangers and temporary housing but the secrecy was intense from the very beginning pilots and engineers were sworn to absolute confidentiality and official government maps did not even acknowledge the facility's existence while the U2 program was the main focus other projects quickly followed making Area 51 the birthplace of some of the most important innovations in aerial technology each project was cloaked under layers of classification and all workers operated on a strict need to know basis meaning no one outside their immediate team could learn about other programs this culture of secrecy became the foundation of Area 51's reputation what started as a remote test site for a single aircraft evolved into a sprawling center for covert military technology a place where science and defense merged behind closed gates it set the stage for decades of secrecy experimentation and speculation ensuring that Area 51 would remain etched in American and global imagination as something far larger than its physical size in the Nevada desert after the U2 program Area 51 became the stage for even more ambitious projects marking the beginning of its reputation as the heart of America's most advanced aerospace experimentation one of the most famous aircraft tested here was the SR71 Blackbird a reconnaissance plane capable of flying at speeds over Mach 3 and altitudes exceeding 85,000 ft making it nearly untouchable by enemy defenses the Blackbird was designed to replace the U2 and push the boundaries of aviation technology further than ever imagined testing the SR71 at Groom Lake required secrecy on a new scale since its exotic design and titanium body were unlike anything seen before every trial run every new engine test and every maneuver was carefully recorded under strict secrecy protocols in the late 1970s and 1980s Area 51 again played a crucial role in another revolutionary project the development of stealth technology the F-117 Nighthawk stealth fighter with its angular design and radar absorbing materials was tested here before becoming a pivotal weapon in the Gulf War for years rumors of strange triangular aircraft flying silently over Nevada fueled speculation among locals while in reality those UFOs were prototypes of America's first stealth aircraft each new program at Area 51 pushed the limits of science and engineering while the base itself continued to grow new hangers advanced radar facilities and secret laboratories were added ensuring that it remained ahead of foreign intelligence services even today many experts believe the site is home to experimental drones hypersonic vehicles and possibly technologies that the public won't see for decades this continuity of groundbreaking projects explains why Area 51 has such a mythical status it is not just a base but a cradle of technological innovation hidden from the world to outsiders the sight of strange lights or unidentifiable aircraft in the skies above Groom Lake only deepened the mystery while to insiders it was simply another day testing the future of aerial warfare the legacy of the U2 SR71 and F-117 shows how Area 51 shaped aviation history while remaining wrapped in secrecy cementing its place as the most enigmatic military base in existence secrecy has always been the lifeblood of Area 51 and the measures taken to protect it are unlike those of any other military base in the United States the perimeter is surrounded by warning signs that strictly forbid trespassing with notices stating that the use of deadly force is authorized against intruders the entire area is patrolled around the clock by armed security contractors often nicknamed camo dudes by locals because of their camouflage uniforms and unmarked trucks these guards are known to appear suddenly on hilltops or in desert trails whenever someone approaches the restricted boundary beyond the fences the US government has designated the airspace over Groom Lake as one of the most restricted zones in the world

known as restricted area 4,88 north this zone is completely off limits to civilian and even most military aircraft any pilot who accidentally strays into this airspace is immediately contacted forced to leave and can face severe consequences such restrictions make Area 51 a kind of no-go zone both on land and in the skies the base itself is protected by advanced surveillance technology including motion sensors buried in the desert sands and cameras that track movement long before anyone reaches the fence line to add another layer of secrecy workers at Area 51 are flown in daily from Las Vegas on unmarked Boeing 737 jets operated by a classified airline known as Janet Airlines this system ensures that employees can access the base without outsiders knowing who they are or what they do even workers themselves operate under strict compartmentalization each person is only allowed to know what directly relates to their job and they are forbidden from discussing projects with colleagues outside their assignment this need to know culture is why so little credible information has ever leaked from Area 51 the base thrives on invisibility and the lengths taken to shield it from outside scrutiny only add to its mystique fueling speculation and conspiracy theories about what could possibly justify such an extraordinary level of secrecy for decades the US government refused to even admit that Area 51 existed despite it being clearly visible on satellite images and well-known among aviation enthusiasts this refusal fueled countless rumors as the secrecy seemed to confirm that something extraordinary was being hidden there it wasn't until 2013 after the release of declassified CIA documents obtained through the Freedom of Information Act that the government officially acknowledged the site these documents revealed that Area 51 had indeed been used as a testing ground for reconnaissance aircraft like the U2 and later the SR71 the acknowledgement was groundbreaking because for years anyone who spoke publicly about Area 51 was often dismissed as a conspiracy theorist suddenly the existence of the base was validated by the very agency that had worked hardest to keep it hidden interestingly the documents did not mention aliens or UFOs but rather confirmed that many of the sightings reported by civilians in the 1950s and 1960s were actually test flights of high altitude spy planes that looked unlike any other aircraft of their time these unusual appearances often reflecting sunlight at high altitudes explained why locals thought they were seeing extraterrestrial craft even with this official acknowledgement however much of what happens inside Area 51 remains classified the CIA only confirmed what had occurred decades earlier leaving modern activities shrouded in mystery many believe the 2013 acknowledgement was a way for the government to finally shed light on the past while still protecting the present it was a partial revelation carefully controlled to settle old speculation without exposing current projects this mix of disclosure and secrecy only intensified global fascination by admitting just enough the CIA validated the myths while keeping the most important secrets intact ensuring that Area 51's reputation as the most mysterious military base on Earth remained unshaken the mystique of Area 51 became inseparable from UFO law largely because of the infamous 1947 Roswell incident in July of that year a rancher in Roswell New Mexico discovered strange debris scattered across his property the US military initially announced it had recovered a flying disc only to quickly retract the statement claiming instead that it was the remains of a weather balloon this reversal sparked suspicion that something extraordinary had been covered up over the years Roswell grew into a cultural phenomenon with many convinced it was actually a crashed extraterrestrial spacecraft although the incident took place years before Area 51 was established conspiracy theorists began linking the two they argued that whatever was recovered in Roswell Leian bodies spacecraft or technology was secretly transported to Area 51 for study the timing made the connection irresistible as Area 51 expanded in secrecy during the Cold War stories of reverse engineered alien technology spread rapidly in the 1980s whistleblowers like Bob Lazar reignited these theories by claiming he had worked at a facility near Area 51 where alien spacecraft were being studied whether or not such claims are credible they helped solidify the idea that Area 51 was not just a military base but also a warehouse of other worldly secrets civilian UFO sightings over Nevada fueled speculation as people reported seeing glowing lights strange saucershaped craft and triangular objects hovering silently in the skies many of these could be explained as test flights of classified military aircraft yet the lack of transparency left space for alien theories to thrive hollywood television and literature embraced these connections portraying Area 51 as the epicenter of extraterrestrial research from movies like Independence Day to countless documentaries the image of alien spaceships hidden in underground hangers at Groom Lake became deeply ingrained in popular culture even today millions around the world believe that the US government uses Area 51 to conceal proof of alien life ensuring the base's reputation extends far beyond military technology into the realm of cosmic mystery the legend of Area 51 was propelled further into the spotlight during the late 1980s largely because of claims made by individuals who presented themselves as insiders the most famous of these is Bob L who in 1989 gave a television interview under a pseudonym later revealing his identity and stated he had worked at a site called S4 allegedly connected to Area 51 according to Liz this hidden facility housed recovered alien spacecraft which he claimed were being reverse engineered by scientists and engineers to unlock their propulsion systems he described flying saucers powered by reactors that bent gravity itself technology he insisted was far beyond anything humans had created although Lazar's academic and employment records have been widely disputed his testimony captivated the public and became a cornerstone of modern UFO mythology other supposed whistleblowers and former employees echoed similar claims alleging that alien craft and even extraterrestrial bodies were stored in underground hangers near Groom Lake these stories whether fabricated or exaggerated blended seamlessly with the secrecy already surrounding the base every light in the desert sky every unusual aircraft shape became possible evidence that Laza and others might be telling the truth the US government's refusal to comment only added fuel to the fire to believers silence confirmed a cover up to skeptics it was simply proof of classified military projects either way the effect was the same area 51's reputation as the world's top alien research site grew stronger even decades later Laz's claims continued to surface in documentaries books and podcasts keeping the mystery alive for new generations the allure lies not only in the possibility of extraterrestrial technology but also in the idea that one of the most powerful governments on Earth might be concealing it from the world this narrative ensures that Area 51 is never viewed solely as a testing ground for advanced aircraft instead it remains forever entwined with humanity's most profound question we alone in the universe although the inner workings of Area 51 remained hidden from the public advancements in satellite technology and aerial photography have given outsiders a glimpse of its continuous growth over the years higher resolution images have revealed new runways hangers and support buildings being added to the Groom Lake complex these expansions suggest that far from being a relic of the Cold War Area 51 remains an active hub of military innovation analysts studying the imagery point to enormous hangers capable of housing aircraft larger than anything previously tested there fueling speculation about next generation bombers or hypersonic vehicles other additions include massive radar arrays new fuel storage facilities and extended runways that can accommodate planes requiring high-speed takeoffs and landings even the surrounding infrastructure such as housing for staff communication systems and security checkpoints has been steadily modernized what makes these expansions so intriguing is the lack of official explanation the government has never disclosed what programs are currently running at the base so each new structure raises questions about what secretive projects are underway locals and aviation watchers frequently report strange lights or silent triangular craft soaring above the Nevada desert sightings that often coincide with construction or testing phases at the base many believe these could be prototypes of advanced stealth drones experimental reconnaissance vehicles or even hypersonic aircraft capable of speeds exceeding Mach 5 the sheer size of the facilities hints at projects that could define the future of warfare yet because no official details are released the line between fact and speculation remains blurred each satellite image is a puzzle piece the outsiders attempt to decode and every unexplained expansion reinforces the mystique surrounding Groom Lake the secrecy itself becomes evidence to believers while skeptics see only proof of military innovation hidden for strategic reasons either way the images confirm that Area 51 is anything but dormant it is a living evolving base quietly preparing technologies the public may not discover for decades while the Cold War birthed Area 51 as a spy plane testing ground today it is widely believed to be home to even more advanced projects shaping the future of warfare experts suggest that current work at Groom Lake includes research on hypersonic aircraft capable of flying at speeds over Mach 5 allowing them to outrun enemy defenses and strike targets in minutes others believe the base plays a key role in developing unmanned aerial systems or drones with stealth features so refined they can slip past even the most sophisticated radar reports of strange silent triangular aircraft seen over Nevada skies are often interpreted as prototypes of these next generation drones beyond flight speed and stealth Area 51 is also thought to be testing electronic warfare systems such as advanced jammers and counter measures designed to disrupt enemy communications and radar this would give the United States a decisive advantage in modern conflicts where controlling information is as vital as firepower satellite images have shown large radar installations and unusual testing facilities that support these theories some analysts even speculate that directed energy weapons such as high-powered lasers may be part of the research given the bases secure isolation and the military's growing interest in such technology while the exact details remain classified the secrecy itself is revealing if nothing important were happening at Area 51 there would be no need for such extraordinary levels of protection the culture of compartmentalization ensures that even those working on these projects know only their small piece making leaks virtually impossible all of this reinforces Area 51's reputation not just as a cold war relic but as a living laboratory where tomorrow's weapons are born whether it is hypersonic jets stealth drones or technologies not yet imaginable to the public area 51 continues to push the boundaries of what is possible in military innovation ensuring the US maintains its edge in a rapidly changing global battlefield beyond its military importance Area 51 has become a cultural phenomenon inspiring movies books television shows and video games that portray it as the epicenter of government secrets and alien mysteries its secrecy combined with decades of UFO lore makes it the perfect backdrop for fiction hollywood embraced this image most famously in the 1996

blockbuster Independence Day where Area 51 was depicted as the site where alien spacecraft were stored and studied countless TV shows from the X-Files to ancient aliens have featured Area 51 in story lines about extraterrestrial life and government coverups even cartoons and comedies such as The Simpsons reference the base proving how deeply it has entered public imagination video games have also built on its mystique with titles like Area 51 and Call of Duty creating fictional missions around the base these portrayals exaggerate reality but help cement Area 51's place as a symbol of secrecy and mystery for many people the name Area 51 no longer just means a test facility means aliens hidden hangers and government deception the fact that the US government denied its existence for so long only fueled these depictions because when secrecy is absolute imagination fills in the gaps beyond entertainment Area 51 has also influenced tourism and local culture nevada highways near the base have become popular destinations for UFO enthusiasts with extraterrestrial highway signs alien themed motel and museums dedicated to alleged sightings the blending of fact and fiction has created a feedback loop secrecy fuels stories and stories reinforce the basis aura of mystery this cultural weight makes Area 51 unique compared to other military facilities while places like Edwards Air Force Base are known for testing they do not capture the same fascination area 51 is not just a base it is

UFOs are "real and they are a national security issue," These were the words uttered by former Pentagon insider Luis Elizondo. In his revealing book, "Imminent:

Inside the Pentagon's Hunt for UFOs," Elizondo offers unprecedented access to a hidden world.

Luis didn't just go in there, look around, and come out with a few boring files. He came back with stories that sound like they could flip everything we thought we knew about the universe upside down. Are you ready to find out what will leave you completely speechless?

Stick with me till the end to get the truth.

Who Is Luis Elizondo and Why His Story Matters Luis "Lue" Elizondo's story was often told as one that sounded almost too unusual to be real. He had grown up as the son of a Cuban immigrant who had fled Castro's regime, and from his earliest days, he was said to have carried with him a strong awareness of what freedom truly meant. People around him would later say that it was no coincidence his life took such a remarkable path, moving from the study of microbiology and immunology at the University of Miami to one of the most secretive jobs inside the Pentagon. How many people could claim that kind of leap in their careers?

His journey was seen not just as a professional climb, but as a story of someone who was shaped by both family history and a deep sense of duty. What would you do if you were in his shoes, if the truth you stumbled on was so unbelievable it could shake everything we thought we knew about our world? Well, buckle up, because you're about to find out. Luis Elizondo didn't just chase shadows or rumors; he walked right into the hidden chambers of Area 51, spent seven unthinkable days inside its UFO program, and came back with revelations that will leave you questioning reality itself. Stay locked in till the very end, because what he uncovered could rewrite the entire story of humanity. After earning his degrees, Elizondo was reported to have joined the United States Army in 1995, stepping into the role of a Counterintelligence Special Agent in South Korea. In those early years, his work was described as crucial, involving counterespionage investigations and the protection of advanced aerospace systems from outside threats. Then came the defining moment of a generation, the terrorist attacks.

Like many others, his career was suddenly redirected. Instead of simply countering espionage, he shifted to counterterrorism. He worked alongside special operations forces in Afghanistan and across the Middle East, managing sensitive sources and taking part in counterinsurgency missions. Those who knew him at the time recalled how he built a reputation as a precise and reliable intelligence professional. Was it fate, or just timing, that placed him at the center of so many pivotal moments in modern history?

By 2008, his life took another surprising turn. Elizondo was recruited into the Advanced Aerospace Threat Identification Program, known simply as AATIP. This was not just any Pentagon project; it was one of the most secretive, backed by 22 million dollars over five years to investigate what the military described as “unidentified aerial phenomena.” By 2010, he had risen to lead the program. Later, he would reveal startling things about what he and his team were observing.

He explained that these UAPs, as they were called, were not only entering tightly controlled airspace and even combat zones, but they were doing so in ways far beyond America’s known technological abilities.

And wasn't that a staggering thought, that something unknown was moving through the skies with capabilities no nation had yet mastered?

Still, Elizondo's career within the Pentagon did not last forever. In 2017, after years of service and secrecy, he chose to resign. His resignation, he explained, was not an act of defeat but one of protest. He felt there was far too much secrecy, too much internal resistance, and too little willingness to share what was being discovered about UAPs. During later testimony, he even stated his belief that the United States was caught in a decades long secret arms race, one fueled by taxpayer dollars but hidden away from elected representatives and the public. For him, that was unacceptable. Why should citizens, who were paying for these efforts, be left completely in the dark about something so potentially world changing? When he finally spoke out, Elizondo said it was because of three deeply held beliefs: that America's greatness depended on a Congress that was watchful, that a responsive executive branch was essential, and that the public deserved transparency. Beyond that, he often mentioned how important it was to dismantle bureaucratic silos, those barriers within government that kept information from flowing where it should. He even admitted that his loyalty to the Secretary of Defense, whom he had once served alongside overseas, had pushed him further toward speaking out.

In his view, the truth about UAPs had to move beyond the shadows of classified files.

What gave Elizondo's voice so much weight was not just what he said but who he was.

Unlike so many UFO researchers, he had the kind of credentials that few could challenge. Before AATIP, he had managed a highly sensitive Special Access Program on behalf of the White House and the National Security Council. His claims weren't made in isolation either.

His bestselling book Imminent: Inside the Pentagon's Hunt for UFOs offered the public a rare look into what had been happening behind closed doors. Through it all, he remained firm in one simple belief: that the American people had a right to know about the presence of UAPs in the skies above them. And wasn't that the question that lingered in so many minds, what exactly was out there, and why had it been hidden for so long? What exactly is out there... and why has it been hidden for so long? Stay with me, because what you're about to hear next takes us deeper into the very core of the mystery, what the Inside Area 51 program actually does.

What the Inside Area 51 Program Actually Does Beneath the familiar fog of alien stories and wild theories that have always surrounded Area 51, there is actually something very different at work, something far more grounded than what most people might imagine. Elizondo's account of the week he spent inside the highly restricted facility painted a picture that was both surprising and revealing. He explained that while the place had often been linked in popular culture with little green men and UFOs, its real purpose was deeply tied to the progress of human engineering and military advancement. In truth, Area 51 was not built to house aliens but to push the boundaries of aviation technology. Many people knew of the famous U 2 spy plane, but not everyone realized that this mysterious base also gave birth to extraordinary aircraft like the SR 71 Blackbird, the A 12 Archangel, and the F 117 Nighthawk stealth fighter. Each of these machines, once considered unthinkable in their design, was secretly developed and tested there. And yet, wasn't it interesting that while the world gossiped about alien ships in the desert, some of the most sophisticated human creations were taking to the skies, hidden in plain sight? Elizondo revealed that this atmosphere of mystery was not entirely accidental. In fact, it was carefully nurtured. He shared a striking story from the nineteen eighties when an Air Force colonel deliberately spread fake photographs of flying saucers in a local bar near the base. The idea, he said, was to make sure the public, and more importantly, foreign intelligence services, looked in the wrong direction.

Rather than suspecting secret stealth aircraft, outsiders were encouraged to think about aliens. Pentagon officials at the time believed this was the perfect cover during the Cold War, when keeping secrets from Soviet eyes was a matter of national security. As Elizondo summed it up after reviewing the files, “the best way to hide something real is to surround it with a cloud of nonsense.” And one couldn’t help but wonder: how many times had truth been wrapped in myth so convincingly that people never thought to question it? He went on to describe how the government collected and analyzed data on unidentified aerial phenomena, or UAPs. Despite what many might assume, the process was not chaotic or random, it was highly organized. Information was drawn from several streams, including satellite images, electromagnetic emissions, eyewitness accounts, and sensor data from advanced equipment. All of this, he explained, was managed under strict protocols by agencies working together, with the Office of Naval Intelligence’s task force playing a leading role in bringing everything together. The irony, however, was that the issue was not the lack of information but rather the overwhelming amount of it. According to Elizondo, valuable data was scattered across different agencies, trapped within silos of classification and bureaucracy. And he asked, almost rhetorically:

what good is information if it is locked away, unable to be pieced together into a full picture?

When asked what separated a credible sighting from mere speculation, Elizondo emphasized that the most convincing cases were the ones backed by multiple forms of confirmation. One example he highlighted was the famous 2004 incident off the coast of San Diego. During this encounter, pilots captured footage of an oval shaped object with fighter jet cameras, while radar systems from different platforms simultaneously tracked the same target.

Cases like this, where different types of evidence aligned, demanded serious attention.

The Pentagon's All domain Anomaly Resolution Office, created in 2022, had been applying strict standards to sift through such reports.

First, they eliminated obvious possibilities like weather balloons, satellites, or drones.

Then, if nothing ordinary could explain what was seen, the case was studied more closely.

What truly made a sighting stand out, Elizondo stressed, was when there were multiple reliable witnesses, especially trained military personnel, combined with radar confirmation, clear video or photographic proof, and flight behavior that went beyond known human technology. In his words, "the truly interesting cases are those where all conventional explanations have been exhausted."

And really, wasn't that the essence of the mystery?

The idea that after stripping away all the noise, some things remained that simply could not be explained?

By the end of his week inside the secretive program, Elizondo's reflections pointed to a larger truth. The heart of Area 51 was never about aliens crashing into the Nevada desert, it was about pushing human limits in technology while cleverly using the alien myth to shield those efforts. And if you think that's shocking, wait till you see what he personally witnessed during those seven days inside, this is where things get even wilder, so stay with me till the very end because you'll want to hear every detail of what he saw.

What I Saw During My 7 Days

The footage that the public has seen of unidentified aerial phenomena, often grainy and low in quality, is said by Luis Elizondo to be only the very tip of the iceberg. He explained, after having exclusive access to information behind closed doors, that what lies beneath the surface tells a story far more extraordinary than anyone could imagine.

People might ask themselves, if those blurry clips already stirred so much debate, then what could the unreleased ones reveal?

Elizondo claimed that the three famous Pentagon videos were actually the least compelling out of everything the government had. According to him, there are videos in ultra high definition, so clear that they would leave no room for doubt. In those unreleased materials, objects can be seen pulling off movements that should be impossible according to the laws of physics: instantaneous bursts of acceleration, hypersonic speeds without even a trace of a sonic boom, and sudden stops so violent that no human pilot could possibly survive them. He suggested that it was not just strange, but also deeply unsettling.

Back in 2014, Navy pilots began to notice these mysterious objects more frequently after receiving a new technological upgrade known as the Active Electronically Scanned Array radar. This advanced system had the ability to detect things that older radar systems had missed for years, almost as if a hidden world in the skies had suddenly become visible.
Pilots began reporting more and more strange encounters, and it was not just their word against silence, there was multi sensor confirmation. Elizondo pointed out that there were different types of evidence coming together: electro optical data like gun camera or FLIR footage, radar returns confirming the visuals, and the testimony of highly trained pilots.
After all, if there is anyone who can distinguish an aircraft at great distance, it is a Navy pilot with years of experience.

Would all of them really be mistaken at the same time?

Lt. Ryan Graves, a seasoned F/A 18 Super Hornet pilot, shared how these craft lingered in training areas not just for minutes but for hours, sometimes even for days. He recalled how another pilot nearly collided with a bizarre object that looked like a sphere with a cube inside it, flying directly between two jets in tight formation.

How could such an object not only exist but operate with such precision?

Between 2014 and 2015, the USS Roosevelt carrier group's pilots faced these encounters regularly, watching objects perform maneuvers no known aircraft could withstand. Graves explained the risk in simple terms: speed alone does not kill a pilot, but sudden acceleration or stopping does. These craft, however, seemed to endure up to 4,000 G forces, a number so extreme that no human body or known material could tolerate it. The pilots knew they were witnessing something far beyond human engineering.

Elizondo later described how, throughout his work, he identified five unique features that consistently set these phenomena apart from anything conventional: instantaneous acceleration, hypersonic speeds, low visibility, the ability to move seamlessly across air, space, and water, and what appeared to be some form of anti gravity lift.

Perhaps the most breathtaking piece of evidence he encountered came when he saw footage of an object shifting from the air straight into the water without slowing down.

He reported that what shocked him most was not just the movement itself but the fact that it showed the same performance everywhere, whether in the atmosphere, in low earth orbit, or underwater, the craft did not seem to struggle. This was a proof that something entirely different from human technology was at play.

By 2023, the All Domain Anomaly

Resolution Office had already gathered 757 new reports of unidentified phenomena between May 2023 and June 2024. Out of these, around 300 cases were explained through ordinary causes, but the rest remained unresolved. Those unresolved cases stood like silent reminders that there are still mysteries beyond current understanding. People who heard Elizondo's words could not help but ask themselves: if even the most advanced military systems and the sharpest observers still cannot fully explain what is being seen, then what exactly are we dealing with? The possibility that humans are not alone, or that unknown technology exists far beyond human reach, hung quietly in the background, waiting for the world to finally catch up with the truth.

And here's the thing, this isn't just about flashing lights in the sky or grainy cockpit videos anymore. No, this is about the bigger story that threads it all together, the one that forces us to zoom out and rethink everything we thought we knew about our place in the universe. That's why you'll want to stay right here till the very end, because once you see how it all connects, you'll never look at the night sky, or even human history, the same way again.

The Bigger Picture: What UAPs Could Mean When people talk about UAPs, or what most still call UFOs, it is easy to get caught up in the mystery of what they might actually be. Yet, beyond the question of their true nature lies something even more pressing, what they mean for humanity's future. Through the revelations brought forward by Luis Elizondo, who once led the Pentagon's Advanced Aerospace Threat Identification Program, a far more complex picture has started to emerge.

These objects are not just curiosities in the sky. They represent challenges, possibilities, and even questions that touch on the deepest parts of human existence.

And isn't it striking that what first appears like science fiction quickly shifts into something that affects politics, security, faith, and even how people view their place in the universe?

On one level, UAPs carry undeniable national security implications. Reports presented during congressional hearings have detailed encounters happening near sensitive military installations.

Witnesses described objects behaving in ways that no known aircraft should, with one chilling account explaining how they could “literally split aircraft formations right down the middle.” Such incidents were not dismissed as isolated misunderstandings but taken seriously enough for the Department of Defense Inspector General to issue a warning.

The Pentagon’s response, they cautioned, had been uncoordinated and inconsistent, leaving gaps in defense at a time when U.S. airspace safety was supposed to be paramount. After all, if something unknown is cutting through the skies undetected, doesn’t that raise a very unsettling question, who or what else might be watching? The issue becomes even weightier when money is brought into the discussion. Rear Admiral Tim Gallaudet testified that by 2025, the United States would spend over nine hundred billion dollars on national defense, yet the country still lacks a complete grasp of what exactly shares the skies above. That figure alone is staggering, and yet, despite all that investment, many official records on UAPs remain locked away.

Officials argue that releasing them might reveal “grave threats to military defense, intelligence operations, or foreign relations.”

So, isn't it ironic that while the world's most powerful nation pours unimaginable sums into keeping its skies safe, it admits that it cannot fully explain what keeps appearing in them?
But the story does not stop at fear or secrecy.

If one looks past the security concerns, UAPs also hint at possibilities that could change science and technology in ways that might feel almost unreal. Even if only a small portion of the sightings are valid, the capabilities described suggest leaps in knowledge so extraordinary that they could spark something like a new industrial revolution.

What if propulsion systems could suddenly defy the rules of physics as humanity currently understands them?

What if breakthroughs in space exploration became possible in ways that were once the stuff of movies?

There is even speculation about advances in quantum computing or materials science that could transform entire industries. NASA has already begun organizing and synthesizing government data into a UAP Records Collection for scientific study, although they still stress that no "credible evidence of extraterrestrial life" has been found. Yet one cannot help but wonder: if the evidence is so inconclusive, why does the effort to study it continue to grow at such a scale?

Beyond science and defense, the presence of UAPs touches something much more personal, even spiritual. People have always asked the question: are we alone in the universe?

If these phenomena eventually point to a form of nonhuman intelligence, it would shake humanity's understanding of itself to the core. Oxford researchers have pointed out that if humans really are alone, then the moral responsibility becomes enormous, because preserving life and consciousness would fall solely on humanity's shoulders. But if people are not alone, then every assumption about creation, purpose, and existence would have to be rethought. Elizondo himself has hinted that UAPs might be connected to something greater than technology or military encounters.

He suggested that what is unfolding may have ties to humanity's spiritual history in ways not yet understood. And this is where things begin to take a truly unsettling turn, because once you start connecting these dots, you begin to see why the silence from those in power isn't just about secrecy, it might be about control. So stay with me, because the deeper we go, the clearer it becomes that the government's silence is not just a pause, it's a message in itself...

Understanding the Government's Silence For decades, the silence of governments around the world regarding UFOs has puzzled the public, leaving many to wonder if the secrecy was simply about hiding the truth or if it went much deeper. When people look closely at the history of this silence, as Elizondo has often pointed out, it becomes clear that the reasons were not one dimensional at all. It was not just about denial or an unwillingness to admit what was going on in the skies.

Instead, it reflected a whole web of motivations, shaped by political, social, and cultural fears.
After all, isn't it strange that governments who freely speak about nuclear weapons, espionage, and international conflicts still tread carefully when it comes to UFOs?
Elizondo explained that the story goes far back into the heart of the Cold War, when secrecy became more than just a habit, it became a strategy of survival.
During the Cold War, information itself was a weapon. Both the United States and the Soviet Union were locked in a race not only for technological dominance but also for control of public narratives.
Secrecy, in this context, was not just about keeping enemies guessing but about making sure one's own population didn't stumble upon truths that might inadvertently reach foreign ears.
According to Elizondo, military officials deliberately allowed UFO rumors to flourish because they worked brilliantly as a smokescreen.
Whenever people spotted strange lights darting across the sky or mysterious shapes hovering at high altitudes, the first thought was rarely “secret aircraft.” Instead, the imagination leapt straight to aliens. Could there have been a more convenient cover? This tactic allowed groundbreaking aviation projects, planes that flew higher and faster than anything known at the time, to remain shrouded in myth rather than exposed to Soviet spies. Isn't it remarkable how the very fascination with extraterrestrials, something often mocked in pop culture, was quietly serving the serious business of national defense?

But the story of government silence was not only about misleading rivals. There was also the question of how ordinary people might respond if confronted with the full truth. The fear of mass panic was never far from the minds of officials.
They knew that people could be fragile when confronted with ideas that shook the foundations of their beliefs. The infamous “War of the Worlds” radio broadcast of 1938 remained a constant reminder of just how quickly chaos could erupt.

Even though that broadcast was fiction, many listeners genuinely believed an alien invasion was underway, and the resulting confusion and panic became a kind of case study in mass psychology.

Elizondo pointed out that this single event hung over government decision making for decades. Officials asked themselves: if fiction alone could cause such hysteria, what would happen if they announced undeniable proof of something unexplainable in the skies?

Would religious institutions fracture under the weight of new realities?

Would scientific communities be forced to rewrite the very framework of human understanding? And most critically, would the public lose trust in the government itself for withholding the truth for so long? These were questions that could not be dismissed lightly.

Over time, the pattern of silence hardened into something like tradition. For generations, secrecy became the default mode, passed down from one administration to the next. To many in power, it seemed safer to maintain control of the narrative than to risk destabilizing society with revelations that might spiral beyond their ability to manage. The irony, as Elizondo often observed, was that the very attempt to protect society by withholding the truth may have only fueled suspicion and conspiracy theories. Isn't it true that people often fear most what they are not allowed to know? The silence, meant to protect, instead created fertile ground for mistrust.

Yet, as history often shows, silence cannot last forever. In recent years, the walls of secrecy have begun to crumble.

The world of 2022 and beyond is not the world of the Cold War. The flow of information today is almost impossible to control, with smartphones, social media, and a culture of instant sharing breaking down the barriers that once shielded governments from scrutiny. Recognizing this, the Pentagon took a step that would have been unthinkable decades earlier by establishing the All domain Anomaly Resolution Office (AARO). This office was designed specifically to investigate Unidentified Aerial Phenomena, what many still call UFOs. At the same time, congressional hearings have begun to shine light on discussions that were once confined to closed rooms and classified documents. Elizondo himself remarked that the very idea that such matters were “off limits” was rapidly eroding. He noted that the shift was not just about new policies but about a broader cultural realization: in today's world, total secrecy is no longer tenable.

This slow move toward transparency has sparked a mix of relief and suspicion among the public. On one hand, many welcome the honesty, believing that open discussion is long overdue. On the other, some wonder if even now the full truth is still being filtered. After all, if governments hid information for decades, why should people believe that the sudden openness reveals everything?

These lingering doubts make the process of trust building more complex. Still, Elizondo emphasized that the very fact conversations were happening in public forums represented a historic turning point. Isn't it fascinating that a subject once whispered about in fringe circles is now being debated in official hearings? What emerges from this long journey of silence, secrecy, and gradual disclosure is a story that says as much about human nature as it does about UFOs themselves. People in power feared chaos, while ordinary citizens feared being left in the dark. Governments tried to balance national security with public trust, and in the process, created a culture of speculation that outlived the Cold War itself. Today, the narrative is shifting, and one can't help but wonder what the next chapter will bring. Will further disclosures confirm long held suspicions, or will they reveal that the truth was more ordinary than the myths that surrounded it? Either way, the fact that these conversations are finally happening out loud means that a new era has begun. Elizondo's insights remind us that secrecy has always been about more than keeping aliens under wraps, it was about protecting military advances, maintaining societal order, and, at times, simply avoiding the unknown ripple effects of truth. The story of UFO silence is, in many ways, the story of how humanity wrestles with mystery. And now that the silence is breaking, society must face the very questions that were once avoided. Isn't that, perhaps, the real challenge that lies ahead? With this, we have come to the end of this video.

you know a lot of people I interview have had fleeting interactions in one-off instances you know they've been abducted by a gray or they've you know interacted with a a tall white or a Nord you've had years of interactions uh with all three but mostly with the tall whites there was this giant white radioactive horse that floated around the ranges at night and was fluorescent the extraterrestrials when they come even if they're your good friends there's always attention because they always come heavily armed today's amazing guest on American Alchemy has seen the inside of a UFO he's a firsthand witness to the collaboration between human beings and aliens from another world he's even made an alien laugh charles Hall was in the Air Force he was also stationed at the notorious Area 51 while stationed there he was in regular contact with an alien race that he calls the Tall Whites for 2 years this conversation is absolutely wild there's a guy at NASA who has a deep interest in these sorts of things experiencers uh his name is Timothy Taylor have you heard of him by any chance um did you say Timothy Taylor he's a good friend of ours we're going to be talking about aliens going to the bathroom what powers a UFO and theories of subatomic physics that overturned Einstein before we get into it I want to introduce our guest Charles Hall hall enlisted in the US Air Force in 1964 when he was just 19 years old he trained as a weather observer measuring wind speeds cloud cover and visibility from 1965 to 1967 he was stationed at Nellis Air Force Base in Nevada his job included long isolated tours at the Indian Springs Gunnery Ranges he was out in the desert doing routine weather observations when he started noticing strange figures tall pale glowing shapes moving at a distance at first he thought they were ghosts or maybe hallucinations brought on by solitude other observers had similar experiences they called it the legend of Range for Harry a ghostly radioactive horse roaming the desert one observer was even injured in an encounter with something and given a medical discharge others flat out refused to return to the post but Hall was very different something about who he was meant that he wasn't going to break like the others had and both his commanders and these tall white beings seemed to take notice in this isolated crucible he began slowly interacting with the tall whites these beings would stalk him and test him appear suddenly and vanish slowly gauging his reactions but he eventually learned this unwritten language and although there were some painful setbacks he gradually developed a trust he saw family groups parents children elders he would even end up referring to one of them as something like a brother hall claims that the tall whites lived in underground facilities at the north end of Indian Springs Valley complete with hangers for their craft a story bearing striking resemblance to that of Bob Lazar he learned about their different flying crafts and as you'll see in our conversation what he saw comports with much of what we've learned about UAPs since 2017 but the tall whites were not the only alien race described in this story hall has talked about the grays the small frail large-headed humanoids that match the classic Roswell image the tall white technology was better than the technology of the grays but the grays come from a planet that's closer than the planet the tall whites come from and the grays got here first and then there are the Nordics what you'll hear refer to as the Norwegians with the 24 teeth hall described them as more patient more diplomatic even benevolent compared to the tall whites some of them could pass among humans in the public sometimes blending into crowds there is no end to the speculation about how these alien species who Hall suggests have been here for thousands of years might have interacted with humanity's evolution or social development if all of this sounds crazy well yeah I don't blame you and trust me we've only scratched the surface here i personally don't even know what to make about this conversation there are things Charles Hall is about to say that feel beyond the pale to me so that's my primer for you without further ado please welcome this week's amazing American Alchemist Charles Hall today's episode is sponsored by Incogn before we dive into today's episode of American Alchemy I want to give a quick shout out to our amazing sponsor Incogn this is a service that I use to make all of my personal information vanish from the sketchiest corners of the internet here's a fun but slightly terrifying experiment google your full name plus your city what comes up old addresses family members court records you didn't even know were public and maybe some bizarre risk profile that makes you sound like a bond villain that's all thanks to data brokers companies you've never heard of quietly buying selling and reselling your personal information to advertisers political campaigns insurers even scammers and Cognney fights them for you they contact over 250 data brokers they demand your data to be deleted and follow up until it's actually gone and now they've launched something called custom removals part of their unlimited plan here's the upgrade if you find your information on any site anywhere on the internet even ones outside of their automated system you just paste the link into your dashboard and incognally get it taken down and you get unlimited requests think sites like whitepages.com trellis.law or unicort.com places you'd never visit but where your data somehow lives rentree i personally use it because I don't have the time or quite frankly the patience to chase down every obscure website that's selling my address for $2.50 and with Incogn so take your personal data back with Incogn use code American Alchemy or go to incogn.com/ameanalchemy to get 60% off an annual plan again that is 60% off an annual plan that's over half the normal price off online privacy isn't about paranoia it's about control and this is one of the easiest ways to get some of that control back so don't put it off take care of your internet hygiene now let's get back into this crazy episode i am here with Charles Hall um it's an honor to have you it's been a long time coming you're the subject of an amazing documentary by uh Emil Marzac called Walking with the Tall Whites uh but you've also uh written a series of amazing books called Millennial Hospitality you have six volumes there's six volumes you have six volumes at this point and uh you've interacted with you know a lot of people I interview have had fleeting interactions in one-off instances you know they've been abducted by a gray or they've you know interacted with a tall white or a Nordday you've had years of interactions uh with all three but mostly with the tall whites and I really want to uh dive into that but first I want to talk about your hall photon theory uh you believe that Einstein is wrong and has limited physics uh stagnated it for the last century and so let's get into that i'm quite certain Einstein was wrong the and I've also written books entitled Beyond Relativity and I've done a Rumble video entitled Mirage Galaxies and Edges in Space edges is spelled with capital letters because it's a zone and I've also done a second um uh film with Amal Marzac which discusses that called walking with the tall whites aftermath and I've also c that's all copyrighted hall photon theory i first copyrighted whole photon theory in 1997 and I'm quite certain that there are many more particles subatomic particles and many more types of force fields avail which exist in the real world and that's why relativity is not correct because relativity doesn't take those into account and for context for the audience uh you are extremely smart you of a master's degree in nuclear physics and you scored off the charts on uh one of these math tests before joining the army and I was in the Air Force and what you say is correct i got one wrong out of 500 on the Air Force math ability test it was the one I was marking as I was marking the correct answer as the clock had sounded and they were ripping the answer sheet from my cold hands if they just given me 10 more seconds I'd have got them all that's amazing but you you told me off air that what inspired this whole photon theory was you actually seeing a craft and realizing it could go faster than light so you were stationed at Area 51 that's correct well I was a weather observer in the US Air Force and I was stationed at Nellis Air Force Base uh from March of 1965 until May of 1967 and Nellis is in charge of the gunnery ranges at Indian Springs and I was a duty weather observer at Indian Springs area 51 is just in the 6 1965 was just the entry area to the areas and the areas went up to number 60 and I've been in all of them the areas were assembled into lands one the most famous land was Dreamland area 51 was not actually Dreamland itself it was merely Groom Lake dreamland was area 53 and 54 which was the northern half of Indian Springs Valley and then the valley to the east Dog Bone Valley and part of the valley to the west including French Peak the biggest shock was not that extraterrestrials were here on Earth and had been ever since at least the ice age the biggest shock that I felt was discovering that Einstein was wrong about relativity the craft that the tall whites and the grays came in the Roswell grays came in could easily exceed the speed of light by many times the tall white technology was better than the technology of the grays but the grays come from a planet that's closer than the planet the tall whites come from and the grays got here first so I would guess that 90% of the time that you see an actual extraterrestrial craft it's one of the gray craft and about 10% of the time it's one of the tall white craft and um the grays are much more numerous for that reason I remember the shock when I really truly understood that Einstein was wrong about relativity i was out at range three and as the duty weather observer what year is this and this was in the mid 1960s this was like in 1965 the late summer and there was a six-w weekek or two-month period where I was certain that the tall white individuals who identified themselves as the teacher and range for Harry and tour guide who were my good friends that they had taken a vacation or a business trip somewhere and that they weren't on this planet and that they had gone to some other inhabited planet orbiting some other star a reasonable guess would have been the star Arcturus or a star near Arcturus then they came back i believed they'd been on a business trip/ vacation type trip now Arcturus is 36 light years away and the nearest star Alpha Centuri is almost four light years away it's a group of three stars and to go anywhere and come back to another star the craft you were on had to travel quite a few times faster than the speed of light like 44 times or something minimum just to go there and come back in 2 months i think a lot of people in the audience might hear that they're coming back and forth from you know a star system that is 36 light years away and want to know some core details as to what you are seeing do you see the crafts coming in and what did they on the night of the on the night of the full moon or a few days before or a few days after but their base at the north end of Indian uh at Indian Springs they were using Dog Bone Lake as their landing field what do the crafts look like like Tik Toks like tic tacs yeah like like eggs like white eggs they were eggshaped are they of the kind of you know David Fraver 2004 the Nimmit sighting where you have a tic tac or was it like the egg that Jake Barber or you know Sakoro New Mexico 64 you know those are two different sh or both both shapes when I first saw him it reminded me the the most of like a large version of a pass of the engine of a passenger train only with with everything rounded like an egg there were no sharp edges no sharp protrusions just smooth and round like a round it was ellipsoidal okay any hieroglyphics or symbols not on the outside when you went on their writing is hieroglyphics more so the their writing if you didn't know Egyptian hieroglyphics some a couple of the guys that were with me who had seen them thought that they were ancient Egyptians who had somehow or another gotten into Indian Springs Valley and trapped there and were still using their own hieroglyphics who thought that uh a couple of the other rangemen yeah interesting and they can stand right there in front of you i speak from direct experience and if they feel like talking to each other using sounds too high for a human to hear they'll do so and and if you didn't know better you'd think they were able to do telepathy cuz they'll be sitting there in total silence and one will laugh and then they'll be going through a complete conversation and of course their electronics also are able to tell what a person is thinking and to put thoughts in the conscious part of their mind by electronic means why do you think that by from direct experience okay did they have a device that could implant thoughts yeah only it was it wasn't a big device that they had to carry in their hands it was one that they carry that would they carry like in on a helmet or whatever you know and what's the broader context here are you sort of this rogue Air Force rangeman or do the other rangemen and superiors are they aware of this ET presence coexisting alongside you guys at this testing complex and is it sort of a there's there's just this kind of awareness that there's this cohabitation there the Pentagon had a tiny handful of people that knew they that interacted with them the range maintenance men a few knew they were there but most of them just knew about the legend of Range for Harry the range the legend of range for Harry was that there was this giant white radioactive horse that floated around the ranges at night and was fluorescent and supposedly was a horse that had gotten too close to the bomb blast at Yaka Plats and you'd see him on warm summer nights from a distance and you could stay but you needed to stay away from him and he was called Range for Harry now there was an actual tall white guy with the name Range for Harry he and the tall whites when they were wearing their protective suits could form up into a for high-speed horse formation like if there were a typical one is if there were two women a couple three kids children and two men the two women would be in front and bend over and at the waist and bend forward and put their arms out like that some usually and they would be the front of the horse and then the three children would whose the remember their suits the technology of them allowed them to float 9 or 10 in off the ground they could float a lot higher if they wanted to but they had to balance themselves and the children would float whose suits were a slightly different design would float would float higher so that they were floating at about the waist level so you'd have the two women in front than the three children then at the back you'd have the two men who had bigger suits and more powerful uh packs and they would bend over the children so if you saw them when they were out in the desert say a/4 mile away when they all turned on their suits the force fields from around those suits merged into one and I speak from direct experience you would swear there was a giant white floating horse coming at you from out in the desert m now that horse could when they were in that formation and the reason I call it the high-speed horse formation is cuz when they I personally watched them when they wanted to go somewhere with out when they were out hiking say like and they wanted to go somewhere fast they could form up into that formation and they could reach speeds of a 100 miles an hour over the desert by floating up above the the ground and just going zoom i I used to watch them play at the runways at Indian Springs Air Base on summer nights as the way to did where they would pretend they were airplanes taking off and then when they got to the end they would lift up and go over the fence around the runway and go out in the desert and turn around and pretend they were airplanes doing touch and goes why do you think they were allowed to operate independently on kind of American military grounds did did so the superiors were kind of the base for them was like a foreign embassy they and uh and they've been here since the ice age do you think it was the nuclear testing that like created some sort of Wheeler tunnel or something that they traveled through or like why there why do you think they they set up shop there um consider I'm certain that the grays got here first and they were here before the last ice age and that the tall whites got here second and they were here by at least the middle of the last ice age and the Norwegians with 24 teeth got here towards the end of the last ice age the 12 whites have the best technology the grays have really good technology the Norwegians are just barely able to travel in space and make it here when you look at the bases and where the tall whites and the grays are you have to look at the way they were in the ice age there's a place out in the deserts of that I was in it's out in what it's out in one of the most desolate sections of the western deserts that you can imagine there's a L-shaped valley with mountains on both desert mountains on both sides and then there's a valley on the northern side but in the southern side the valley is an L-shaped valley and there's a dry lake bed a small dry lake bed on the southern side and a huge amphitheater type set of ground that the grays farmed during the ice age and in the mountain on the west they'd cut 13 tunnels in the in the mountain on the west and they used them as a grainery and the one on the no the first one on the north was larger than the others and it was large enough for their deep spacecraft to come in and pick up grain and the 13th one overlooked the fields and when that the at the top of the L-shaped valley and at the bottom of the L-shaped valley the mountains form a constriction so if you were a gray teenager with a appropriate weapon and you were sitting there you could monitor both entrances and so if any ice age animals came in to eat your the grain cuz they're planteaters the tall whites and the grays do not eat meat they're only planteaters you could keep them out and protect you and protect keep them from eating your food and when you asked and on and when you looked at the valley on the west you could see the ancient water lines from how high the lake had been during different stages of the ice age now central Nevada was never glaciated it was only it was just that in the ice age because the weather was different it rained all lots and lots like it does in Kentucky and so those dry those lake beds were not glacial lakes they weren't glacial carved they were puvial lakes the Latin word for rain and therefore the bottom those lake beds were flat and the land leading into them were perfect places to farm and what you were looking at was a grainery a farm that the grays used during the ice age so it sounds like there are all these unique reasons as to why as an extraterrestrial presence you'd set up shop in that area this is a really interesting point something I kept coming back to while preparing for this conversation was this strange possibility of what if Area 51's weirdness didn't start because it's a military base what if the base was put there because of a pre-existing weirdness in the region as Charles points out the broader pattern is hard to ignore many of the most restricted military ranges and test sites sit in the same kind of landscapes remote deserts mountain valleys and high plains and sometimes Native American burial grounds sure there are practical reasons for this when it comes to testing weapons and spy planes but often these places were tied up in UFO sightings crypted creatures electromagnetic anomalies before military bases were even placed on them many were even seen to be portals to other dimensions maybe it isn't just a coincidence maybe the military wasn't just picking up empty land but claiming ground that was very unusual to put it bluntly maybe military bases often like to collocate themselves with very strange paranormal areas skinwalker Ranch in northeastern Utah is perhaps the most public example i've been there myself and you've no doubt heard the stories it's probably the most scientifically studied paranormal hot spot in the world at least on the civil side multiple UFO sightings glowing orbs cattle mutilations and even reports of orange portals opening up in the air but it also has its former military connections there was a US Army outpost in the region in the 19th century and today it sits not far from Douggeway proving grounds in the 2000s billionaire and government contractor Robert Bigalow received Pentagon funding through the OSAP program to research the ranch why you might ask well folklore from the Utah tribe had already marked the land as cursed prowled by shape shifters that was long before the Pentagon made it a research site and if you zoom out the geography is interesting too you can draw a rough triangle between Area 51 Skinwalker Ranch and Roswell other paranormal hotspots with co-located military activity exist all over the United States for example Sedona Arizona local legends speak of tunnels and gateways hidden in the cliffs where star people pass through shimmering portals the Bradshaw Ranch there became famous for UFO sightings investigated not long ago by Ross Koulthart eventually the site was taken over by the US government a move that raised some eyebrows why seize a random rural property in Arizona unless there was something they felt needed securing to this day locals still report black helicopters circling overhead and interference with drones near the area it fits the pattern land fenced off not just for practical reasons but because of whatever it is said to be in the land itself land that seems full of electromagnetic anomalies and perhaps the same tunnels in land that are occupied by the tall whites and that brings us back to Nevada it's easy to forget that Area 51 isn't just one base it's part of a vast test range anchored by Nellis swallowing up thousands of square miles of desert charles gets into this in just a moment but the history of how this whole area ended up getting claimed by the government doesn't quite add up especially when it became a herd of desert sheep suddenly becoming an issue of national security and it begs the very important question how much of this pattern extends overseas look at where the United States has planted some of its overseas bases diego Garcia in the Indian Ocean pinegap in outback Australia sprawling compounds in Iraq and Afghanistan some of these sites already had their own unusual reputations amongst locals or maybe some other uses to our alien visitors from out of town do you think it's a coincidence then that you get Area 51 and some of the most top secret advanced R&D when it comes to the American military collocated on that area i subscribe to the Marine Corps theory if it happened once it would be a coincidence if it happened twice I'm sorry if it was happened once it would be random if it happened twice it would be a co coincidence but the third time you see it's there somebody planned it okay yeah now remember what else is out there the Desert Game Range National Park okay now the Desert Game Range was set up in the time of Franklin D roosevelt okay it was what n I talk about in my book and it was like 1935 or 1937 for some reason FDR just got up all by himself and after talking with a single Army colonel Army Air Force colonel decided that the desert big horn sheep who live in the mountains like Sheep Peak for which it's named and the mountains to the east must be an endangered species you say "Wait a minute this is 1937 i didn't realize we had endangered species till 1970 or something this was 1937 and by executive order said we got to make that a protected area to protect the desert big horn sheep they're white and if you're out there hiking and you see something in the words of the park rangers that looks like a human looking at you from over the sage brush which may be as tall as 6 feet don't look back especially if it looks like a woman with children cuz the big horn sheep don't like that they'll attack you just look away and walk away and in 1937 in order to protect the sheep in that we're talking before World War II the AR Franklin Roosevelt and the Army Air Force decided that they would station a battalion of anti-aircraft guns with live ammo whoa to protect it okay in case it So it wouldn't be subject to Japanese air attack and it was all that specific area in that specific area right and that was the desert big before there was an Area 51 before there was a Nellis gunnery range before there were was a Camp Mercury or anything there was the desert southwest game range so that's the first and you say that so the sheep are being protected that by an anti-air by anti-aircraft crews that have live ammo and they're open to fire at any airplane that goes across there in 1937 and FDR just said well I want the sheep to be safe and that's why it's called Sheep Peakow and you say when you look at it Sheep Peak seems like a pretty easy place to climb why is it that the first time it is a matter of record that it was climb that anyone climbed it was 1970 okay you say well we didn't we did Mount Everest before that right well it sounds like you know protecting sheep with uh you know anti-aircraft uh technology the most advanced at the time yeah it seems like if you'd fire a few live rounds wouldn't you kind of scare them a little bit right so based on your rule if it's like you know fool me once okay fool me twice fine fool me three times you know it's a that's sort of a you know it's not a coincidence anymore what's the second time is there a second time before Area 51 which gets set up in the 50s um that suspicious military or covert activity occurs in the region that might have to do with the ET presence well remember how good their technology is the technology of the whites and the technology of the grays and I do not exaggerate i speak from direct experience when you say if they came here in the ice age and in order to and they're planteaters and in order for to get a little help with harvesting grain and doing manual labor and things like that there's nobody out in Nevada where would they get that from remember how good their technology is and I speak from direct experience if they wanted to use the scout craft which is oh the tall white scout craft or the gray scout craft which I have both of which I've personally seen and in the time I've been talking if they wanted to say lift off from the backyard and go to the moon and circumn the moon to check up on what's going on in the far side of the moon and return and land in the backyard right here they would have already done so that's how good their technology is one of the things I personally watched them do from a distance cuz if you get too close the fields will burn you like a microwave but like from a distance of say like 2 and 1/2 3 miles was to lift was to go onto the scout craft and sit down in the seats no no seat belts or anything just chairs like this and lift power up and power up the not the outer coils but just the bottom and control coils and lift off until they were floating perhaps as far off the desert or above the sage brush as the height the camera is and then take a few seconds like 30 seconds to power up completely the outer coils it takes a few seconds to do so when they do so before they do so the craft looks the way you're expecting if you saw a helicopter out there you'd see the actual metal of the helicopter but after they've powered up they just look real fuzzy white like a tic tac cuz they're surrounded with force fields you no longer see the actual metal you just see the force field and the way it's fuzzing over light and interacting with it once they're powered up they're ready for high-speed maneuvers let's get in here if they are choose to go straight down the line of sight they can go 7 m at an average speed of 8,000 to 12,000 m an hour stop power down and set down and in the process they would have taken more than 15,000 G's starting and 15,000 G's stopping just sitting there in the room like this and and and in case you're wondering how much that is 10,000 gs will liquefy steel what's the is the speed of light is like 86,000 miles per hour 186,000 186,000 okay miles per second miles per second and they can do So if they're going 8 to 10,000 m per per hour there's still massive difference between that and they're not even in low gear they're not even in low gear yeah not even in low gear wow yeah if they go if they do that and they choose to go sideways they'll go side they'll just seem to blink out you'll be looking there and they'll just seem to disappear before your eyes cuz they will have accelerated and moved to the side so fast your eyes can't follow i speak from direct experience and if you're looking up at uh straight up Indian Springs Valley and they choose to pop over to Dog Bone Valley and come down and then come in one of the northern passes to see what you're doing it'll look like they just blinked out there and magically reappeared over there less than a second or two later if they really in the hands of a skilled pilot a lot of people who still believe in Einstein will mistakenly say they went to another dimension really they haven't they've done it if you were in the way it would run that craft would run into you there would there is no there is no such thing as wormholes or warping space and time what you're warping isn't space and time you're interacting with other force fields that are all matter has and you know the same way that you might have an electric field of different shapes or a magnetic field of different shapes but time never slows down time never runs in reverse time is just time it always goes forward have you ever flown in a craft yes yeah a couple of times I did what was that like well I was in the cargo hold at the time because there was as I described in my books the day they after I thought I'd broken my kneecap and then it healed up there was the next morning when they came down to get me and take me up to their base at up at Area 54 53 to see if I needed a surgery on my knee and it was it the tall whites yeah only And when I got up there the American generals were there and med medical people were up there too and I didn't i just bruised it and but they had to pro the toll whites had to prove to the Americans that they were telling them they're correct or wanted to prove that and so I they came down and grabbed me and put me in the hold of the car cargo shop and I still remember the the trip up there and the trip back where did they go did you leave no they just they just lift they just lifted off and we just went gently up the valley perhaps 100 feet off the ground and I remember flying around range four as I made the turn around range four and then going up the valley to the to they were going to the scout craft the back entrance to their scout craft hanger and the door was open we went in there and then there was a whole bunch up in there there were also American an American generals and some American medical people and the six sergeants that was m chief master sergeants that were the guards for the human generals and the teacher and range for Harry and it was just like sitting here in a chair only in the cargo hold and they didn't do this they didn't totally power up because they didn't have to and it It it was like sitting here in the chair and having the whole room just be lifted up and taken and come back and um it was remarkably unremarkable yeah the the important part was that they thought they'd electronically hypnotized me but their equipment doesn't work if you're sick or if you're angry or if you're really tired and since I was even though my knee was not broken I was still experiencing some pain you know it was still tender it meant that the way my thoughts the blood flow in the brain was was somewhat different than the way it would normally be and so therefore when you use the electronic hypnotism on me that would normally have worked when I was ordinary if I was healthy and well rested it didn't quite do the job it's almost like anesthesia that doesn't work and during surgery or something still awake so speaking of So I got to remember it yeah arranged for a hearing knew that was a case but that was all he could do yeah why do you think they chose you for all of this why do you think you were sort of picked to be endowed with this knowledge one time I asked a different person who was one of the top identified himself as one of the top three psychiatrist at the CIA one of the time I asked him why they chose me okay because I said I thought there were lots of men that were better at going out in the desert and surviving and doing fixing trucks and so on than myself a lot of weather observers with more experience and so on than me and he told me the following he said that and he had like nine PhDs hanging on the wall for different facets of psychiatry and he was a very nice guy he was surprisingly young like in his 30s he said that when he studied psychiatry he was told that there was 105 different psychological defenses that humans might use the most famous is whistling in the dark okay he said that most humans only use one or two at the most that one of the projects that he and the others usually did was trying to train colonels and generals on how to have more psychological defenses they were hoping to get generals to use three or they always wanted him to use three they were hoping they could get them to use four or five this is of the 105 and he said that he had told his the other guys that were with him psychiatrists that some of the there were a couple of there were some generals he was trying to train he thought he was going to get him to learn seven and he couldn't they were going to hang in there at three he said that the first time he met me he was shocked because in the first 15 minutes he saw me use the first 70 out of the 105 and he was ascertain I could use the other hund the other the remainder of the 105 and you can see it in my books he said the 41 men that went out before me who all came back compromised and some of them burned he said the problem they had in his opinion was that they recognized what they were up against or something of what they were up against before they understood how they were going to re had decided how they were going to react okay and he said that in and therefore what happened was in just the first encounter their psychological defenses got destroyed and he said that the reason they sent me he said if there ever was a person to send it would be you he said it's because they'll never lay a glove on you they'll never that you know that no matter what happens you know you have a defense for it okay and they had evaluated that prior to sending you out Yeah to commune with the ET yeah they'll let they they have a you know and you can see it in there in my there was a time when I thought that the extraterrestrials the extraterrestrial lady I was looking at that I was hallucinating and I was kind of surprised because I was kind of thinking that if I was going to hallucinate I was alone out in the desert when I was young and single that if I was going to hallucinate that it would be more like a Las Vegas showgirl and she wasn't you know I thought my god how sick am I not even you know see and she was laughing she cuz she could tell that I was thinking because of her electronic equipment you see see and there was a time when I was there was a time when I thought that it that I must be short on vitamins when they would come into my barracks at India in Springs and I would get up and I would see the children playing and I thought "Golly I knew I should have drank more milk at for supper i must be short on vitamins and milk." And so I would take more vitamins and they would still keep coming there was a time but you're also debriefing with generals who are admitting that this is a phenomena that they're aware of and that they're kind of working alongside these ETs is that right no I'm never debriefed you're never I'm never briefed i'm never debriefed are you not only that's not an accident my orders are I can never be briefed i can never be debriefed and the reason is very simple uhhuh because the tall whites like the teacher can tell what a person is thinking even if they're not talking well if you're debriefed and they're very touchy about their children if a briefing person were to say "What kind of mother is the teacher?" You know how does she treat her little girl i mean she was lost in the sage brush and you read you saved her life how did they let that happen see then they wouldn't have to ask me to tell them about it see they could tell it by just reading my line my thoughts the next thing they would demand is that somebody like that officer be delivered to them out in the desert and he wouldn't live another moment okay yeah and she I wouldn't have to say anything or do anything or say oh because she could just tell oh yeah I read Charlie and I see that happened so when I say that no one could ever ask me questions i could never be debriefed nothing I would do would ever be classified like no one could I mean they couldn't even inspect me if they wanted to talk to me they physically had to come out to the parking lot of the Chow Hall at Indian Springs between noon and 12:30 and I would meet them there if I felt like meeting them or if I didn't then they would just and before they went out they would have to check in with the base commander at Nellis and when they came back they had to go directly from checking on base to the base commander and say yeah he looked healthy and so on and I could and they couldn't come out and inspect my barracks or see anything have you you mentioned the um CIA psychiatrist who said that you had all these psychological defenses and that sort of allowed you to enter into uh relations with the ET it allowed me and come back in time no it allowed me to protect my thoughts the person I am before admitting to myself they are real and I know what I'm going to do have you ever heard the name Kit Green is that familiar to you at all it doesn't ring a bell but I probably heard him but see like see see like like the first thing I agreed the first agreement I made with them was after realizing they were real that I asked him that whenever they came around me that they talk between themselves if they were talking between themselves or with me in a way that I could hear to speak English because it frightened me if they were talking between themselves and it sometimes sounded like horse winnings or bird calls and they agreed and then the second one was that if I saw them out in the desert like if I came over a rise and there was one sitting on a rock I understood that it was easy for me to sneak up on them behind him and surprise them and I didn't want to do that i would just stop where I was and stand where I was and sing a song and let them know I was there and then if they wanted to come closer I would just stand there and they could walk up towards me and stop whenever they wanted to i wouldn't pursue i wouldn't close a gap and if they got too close to me so that it I started feeling intimidated I would start backing away and they would stop and then when we had decided how far apart we were going to be physically then we could communicate your wife Marie Theres mentioned that um you actually were sent out initially initially I was supposed to go to from after doing my basic training at Lackland i then I was put in PAT standing you know that was airmen airmen waiting their security clearance okay and those airmen that were going to get a security clearance and be sent to San Angels Texas for security school 101 were supposed to wait there for like 3 weeks or so okay now the security clearance you're waiting for is whatever the government decides to give you but it's supposed to be the top secret clearance okay now the sec weather the security training the people in who are sent to San Angel's Texas are waiting to get their orders to San Angels Texas however in my case they issued two sets of orders the real ones to San Angel's Texas and the cover orders to the weather training school at Shun Air Force Base Illinois the idea is that the captain who's in charge of those guys who has a safe for classified material that's locked this is 1965 times have all changed since then he's the one that will give out my orders the day sergeant can give out all the rest of the orders okay yeah because the day because my clearance is going to be a higher clearance than theirs well the Friday that they came in the captain is off playing golf now as a military officer he's supposed to be in on duty he's off playing golf and left the sergeant in command the sergeant does not have the clearance to know about my orders so when the clearance comes the orders come in for everybody else and I'm we've all we were all in the same class together at boot camp i think a mistake has been made okay they get their orders i go in with them there's no orders i say "Well because my cover orders are in a different location than their orders but they're not locked up see they're just in the temporary outbox." Well I asked the sergeant i got no orders aren't I going to weather school too so the sergeant goes and gets those orders and says "Oh yeah here's your orders and hands them to me to go to weather's training school." So I go out and I get on the bus you know I got my stuff back now my drill sergeant had made a very special point he said "Anytime you do anything in the military keep two copies of your orders cuz you can't trust your officers." Right genius right i keep two copies right okay so I get in the bus there's I'm not on the travel man but I got orders so what so they throw me on the airplane and I send me to Shun Air Force Base Illinois if you can't shoot them shin them that place okay well I'm in the base and everybody else is getting paid and I'm at weather school and I'm the best student in the class and after like six weeks I still haven't been paid and so I go and I ask the command my media commander can I go see I'm not getting paid he sends me over to the base payroll offices and they look at the their records and they're panicky you're on this base and they send me back to weather school i go back to weather school and two MP air policemen and a dog come in and grab me and march me over to the base commander's office i'm a little terrified and the base commander says "Airman Hall if you have a copy of your orders showing you that you're supposed to be on this space then you're going to be a happy man and the whoever gave you the orders is not going to be very happy but if you don't have a copy of the orders the man who gave them to you is going to be a happy man and you're not going to be a soldier you're not going to be a very happy soldier because the generals tell me "You're too valuable a man to be wasted at this school." I had two copies in my wallet i said "Thank you Sergeant Master

Sergeant Peoples." I grasped his hand and I said "You need another one I can copy this." Right I was a happy man they said "Well we'll they we'll decide what to do." Right so so they'd been looking for me at San Angelo's Texas for six weeks the FBI had been looking for me at my house in London nobody had found me I go back and the sergeant comes out and says "You're going to Dallas." Okay wow yeah they said they gave me a the usual wish wish list when you have your when you finish weather school name three places you'd like to go I said uh Germany England and March Air Force Base Los Angeles and they said "No you're going to Nellis." How how soon after you're stationed at Nellis do you encounter this abandoned weather station and meet your first tall white well the first time that I heard tell of the tall whites at Nellis was at my very first duty session at Nellis with another airman which I describe in my book okay he was the airman that had been on leave for several weeks because he claimed the Nellis weather station was haunted and it was the it's not the one you see there today it was the old one that was the northeast end of the base operations building the base operations building was a very nice building for its day as was the weather station I described in my book and it had something very important it was this military version of an airport terminal and it had something very important it had clean restrooms the next clean restroom was a mile away in a group of barracks they were still building to get to another clean restroom he had to go a mile and a half away okay he claimed that when he was working night graveyard and he was in his he had been in its military he was on his fourth year that he the the previous winner that to that he thought ghosts you and I would say a group of five tall white aliens had come in off the runway off the the tarmac unlocking the p the glass doors between the base operations the interior of the base operations building and the tarmac because one of the force fields will make every piece of material repel every other piece of material and just pop every lock open and that when he came in there was one waiting outside standing guard one holding the door open or and one and then that's two men and then three women one holding open the door to the bath or to the bathroom another one inside holding helping them hold open the door to the bathroom while the third one was using the lady's restroom and that they were rotating so that they'd come in to use the restroom he didn't he although he described them doing that he didn't appreciate what he was describing he thought they were ghosts he panicked immediately and started screaming locked himself in the doorway and in the and called the base air police only to discover that the Nellis base commander said "No the air police cannot come beyond the road junction a mile away he's on his own." Okay now I know from firsthand experience that he was telling the truth because there came a day when I had work I was working graveyard actually a whole bunch of days on Sunday night when everything was empty when that would happen and the reason that they came was cuz they're just like us the bathroom that was a mile down which the mechanics down in that hanger airport hanger thought was was haunted ood was occasionally visited by tall white men who had to go to the bathroom and it was a mess never cleaned okay and if you were out with two men and three women who wanted a clean bathroom and the one a mile and a half down was too far and wasn't suitable and you said "Where do we want to go to the bathroom?" You'd say "I know just the place it's the one in the base stops and on Sunday night there's nobody around there's the weather observer and he's usually sleeping at night like he should okay he's not supposed to but usually they did actually that was a great place to sleep on I did myself didn't but I had too much fun reading books and stuff and so and even and the guy that I was he was my OJT instructor he also claimed that on a different night when he was in there that one of them came and peaked at him around the corner and said "Don't worry the women just want to use the restroom." He screamed and called the base the police again and they wouldn't come and he had a nervous breakdown so you know and that happened to me i said um yeah don't forget the candy bar machine you know you guys may be hungry right and that's what psychological defenses do for you you see that's the difference and and but that's the first one i he told me the story but I didn't actually see the tall whites on that night then a few nights later when he had been given an honorable discharge cuz the men Pentagon insisted that he and I alone in the warehouse on Sunday night alone in the weather station together work at least one duty shift and then he would be given an honorable discharge of section 8 which he was then when I was with my next duty shift my next OJT instructor and he was working a double shift i was working swing shift when I came left at midnight and I was trying to hurry to get to the base up to the base chowo as I was walking back the mile or so to my barracks one of the new ones being built I would in a when I turned around following me was the tall white girl that the 12-year-old and I was about a 1/4 mile down from the b from the weather station and backed by the white elephant was the teacher and two bridge for Harry and another tall white guard happily watching me from a distance and all she was doing was just following me intentionally showing herself at the time I when you talk about what good her psychological defense is at the time I couldn't believe my eyes even though they matched what the guy had told me just a few days before i decided that because I was tired I must be sleepwalking and I said "Well gee I I thought if you slept I didn't realize that you could actually walk and see things when you were sleepwalking." And so I turned and I tried continued walking i expected to hurry and get to my barracks before I had a brain stroke or something and collapsed and I thought and I turned around and after going a few steps and there she was she still followed me and I had been reading a book on the Titanic which I can talk about later and in the Titanic it described a group of angels who came in a craft land one of the lifeboats and landed on the ledge of one of the icebergs and dropped wreaths to for people in the water to use as life preservers which didn't work and I and and when I and one of how one of the angels was good at floating out over the water and dropping her hand and when I turned around and I was just watching her she smiled that girl she lifted up turned on she her turned up the power on her suit lifted up a little bit further till the top of her feet were about as far off the ground as the top not as t almost the top of that chair chair flew over beside the sidewalk which was over the grass and saw and went over the grass a little bit and saw on the grass something that in the a piece of wrapper or perhaps a quarter or something that interested her and with her feet still in the air bent lowered her shoulders reached down on the grass and picked it up assuming the very same position that was described in the book on the Titanic that I had previously read like that night or two nights before described by the lady in the survivor of the lifeboat that was picked up by the Carpathia as described in the book that I was reading and it like she was the very same girl and considering that the tall whites live 600 800 years 10 times longer than we do she could have been okay and when I looked at it I was stunned and I still didn't make the pos the association between those people and extraterrestrials that's what psychological defenses do for you and I decided that I must just be sleepwalking or there must be something with me mentally and I went home and I went back to my barracks and and uh and and and life continued so how let's get into the whole photon theory because and just to set this up for the audience also in the 30s in 1935 Einstein Rosen Podalsski come up with their sort of spooky action at a distance entanglement and it's known as Einstein's dilemma because Einstein had always kind of almost put a governor on reality the speed limit of reality is the you know speed of light and yet with photons observably you see this sort of entanglement effect where optical properties various optical properties seem to mirror one another at vast distances just instantaneously and so how is the half photon theory an update on that and how does that unlock faster than light travel in the form of a spacecraft well to begin with I'd like to thank you for this nice interview and if I don't be having us on your podcast oh I'd like to congratulate you on just out thinking Einstein okay when you say "What's it feel like to be smarter than Albert Einstein?" I say "Well I know a guy it's not just me because what you say is correct." and and and the easiest way to see it is starting with the way Einstein did with the Mickelson Morley experiment of 1887 okay in 1887 which was a failure yes in 1887 everyone thought that a photon of light had only two force fields an electric field and a magnetic field that oscillated together okay they ran perpendicular to one another mhm and then they did the Mo Mickelson Marley experiment and then they wanted to interpret it as though it were a experiment that you would do with little boats crossing a river and going up and down in the river when they didn't know anything about the f they thought they knew everything there was to know about the photon that there was only two force fields so they could pretend that they knew everything about how a photon looks like a little boat going across a river okay when the experiment failed then nobody wanted to say there has to be more structure to the photon than what we know about nobody wanted to do that okay they James Clerk Maxwell had done his equations and they didn't want to say there's more force fields that Maxwell's equations don't include but should okay the more and they oscillate too they wanted to say "We know everything there is to know about the photon." And then they wanted to say "And we know everything about the river and the banks and stuff and the little boats that cross it." So now they had reasoned themselves into a corner so why did the experiment fail and they monkeyed around like that until Einstein and they finally asked Einstein but I think of it as a failure to detect the ether the Michaelsson Morley experiment is that right to think a medium through which photons would be carried that would make sense yeah that there was no ether but then that left the question so why why isn't there at least some change why did the experiment totally fail okay along the way they ignored things about the experiment the first one is that if you do the experiment with one photon at a time in the interferometer you get the same results and that means that the photon has to be split in two for that to work today we call that photon entanglement but back then they said "I don't know spook you at a distance," right and then if you do it with photons of just red light then you get the same results but the bright bands of light are still red light and so therefore the explanation that the photons would constructively interfere and destructively interfere can't be correct because if they constructively interfered they would have to change color blue photons have twice the energy of red photons so that would mean you would be sending in blue light or sending in red light and looking at interference patterns of red light but that's not the case all that's happening in the interferometer is that the photons are being steered into bands of red photons that needs another force field to do the steering so what is if you have uh in traditional electromagnetism classical electronics you have uh an electric field a magnetic field and a wave and they're all sort of running perpendicular to one another what other field types do you think exist in the whole photon theory um a whole bunch okay like what okay to and remember the force fields can be different force strengths the electric the electric force magnetic force field is considered pound for pound to be like what a trillion times I might not have that number right 100 million times more powerful pound-for-pound than the force of gravity yeah it's 10 to the 40th but because the force of gravity is weaker pound-for-pound on the electromagnetic field the force of gravity can move further than light okay so the force of gravity from our galaxy can affect the nearby galaxy the Andromeda galaxy at 2.7 million lightyear whereas the force of electricity from our galaxy cannot right but Einstein wanted to ruin that analogy by saying to protect his own reputation i guess I have no idea why trying to say that nothing could travel faster than light not even gravity but obviously if gravity can travel further than light it must be traveling faster than light if you look at the the symmetry of the Andromeda galaxy and you say well it's it's a what 10,000 100,000 light years 200,000 light years across mhm and that means that and it's so well organized it must gravity must be traveling trillions of times faster than light otherwise if the stars were trying to do that and gravity was only traveling at the speed of light they'd all bump into each other why do so is gravity in your model also orders of magnitude weaker than electromagnetism because if it's traveling that far and having an effect a pulling effect between mass bodies if it's weaker then it can go further and see in the photon how does that hold if it's weaker it goes further because it's like a it's like the a milk truck delivering milk right if it's going to go down a street and hit every house and it's got to stop and interact along the way or at least stand ready to but if it's going to just do one house here and a house 10 miles down the guy can go into high gear but I would think of like attenuation as being you know like a a wave being you know certain the only way it can attenuate The only way a force field can attenuate is there say like grav I'll I'll say like gravity Mhm is for there to be an interaction crosssection put up by another piece of matter or energy somewhere down the road and then when it's traveling it's not trying to interact with the electric field it's trying to interact with another gravity field and those are attractive interactions and if it has and and because it doesn't have to there is no interaction cross-section between gravity and say an electric field that would be traveling through then it could travel much much faster much much further that's what the neutrino is mhm the neutrino we're told can travel through if everything between the center of the sun and here were solid gravity a neutrino could travel through at all and not interact with anything yep so therefore a neutrino can travel many many times faster than light okay however you say well what about the neutrinos that say are measured at the CERN reactor well if they're going to interact using electricity and magnetism then they have to slow to that speed electricity and magnetism to perform the interaction because time doesn't change time is always flying at the same rate they're all in the same time frame do you think we have neutrino detectors that's why neutrinos are so hard to detect yeah but there are rumors that we have neutrino detectors like at the south pole and you know exotic the whole photon theory says that within li that light is a bundle of force fields and there have to there have to be a whole bunch of force fields in the photon okay and you must have to have variations of photons that have different collections of those different force fields because you have photons and neutrinos which you see which are very similar and those photon that means that even though photons that we're used to are limited by the speed of light because it because the electric field and the magnetic field have interaction crosssections that go that you know the per permittivity of free space and so on right okay that it's has to touch base it has to vibrate all those piano wires if you will when you if you have those other force fields be weak force fields like the neutrino is surrounded by weak interaction force fields they don't got to vibrate the electromagnetic wires you see they only got to vibrate their own wires they may not have to do it at all if you say "Well what are the permittivity of free space for those other force fields?" They're much less than the ones for electricity and magnetism therefore when you say "Let me compute the speed of light for those force fields as I do in beyond relativity," you come up with a speed a trillion times faster charles using the Hall photon theory how would you build the UFO and how would you basically propel yourself faster than light well I'll give you some general principles okay based on what I personally saw in the deserts the the first thing is the UFO must be a smooth ellipsoid like an like like an egg or a tic tac because the first the first principle of designing the different force fields and so on is there cannot be any turbulence what about a saucer does that rule that out it depends on how the edges of the saucer are it can't and it can't have anything concave an example of something concave is if like on the camera you have the lens and it's shaped nice and then around it is a ring that sticks out and in between where the lens meets the ring is concave mhm if that were the shape of a of a spacecraft that you were trying to use to propel yourself through space you would be strictly limited to less than about 80% the speed of light because the force fields in that region would obey Einstein's theory of relativity because they're not streamlined in that area they would go turbulent and once they go turbulent the force fields will bump into each other the heating can go to infinity the amount of energy that's lost in that little zone could go to infinity but convex is fine so that convex is fine concave creates this turbulent kind of but but if you but if you took that if you took that lens and made it a complete ellipoidal sphere of glass and you use that shape where there's no sharp edges there's no concave edges where there's just always eggshaped then when you surround it with a bubble of force fields they won't go they won't go turbulent cuz they're streamlined for high-speed travel when you do that and you start accelerating towards the speed of light it'll it'll just continue accelerating as though the speed of light weren't there it'll just go right on through when you hear stories like Ryan Graves Navy pilot talk about a sphere inside a cube or other kind of exotic you know looking objects that do have pointy edges and you know don't always look like your traditional saucer or egg or tic tac in the 2003 time frame uh a large group of Boeing contractors were operating near one of the launch facilities at Vandenberg Air Force Base when they observed a very large 100yard sided uh red square uh approach the base from the ocean and hover at low altitude over one of the launch facilities um this object remained for about 45 seconds or so before darting off over the mountains um there was a similar event within 24 hours later in the evening uh this was a morning event uh I believe 8:45 in the morning later in the evening post sunset uh there were uh reports of other sightings on base including some aggressive behaviors uh these objects were approaching some of the security guards at rapid speeds uh before darting off the force fields interact with light when when when you see and you can see it on the tic tac video the Navy pilots when you look at when you look at the video the first question you have to ask yourself is when you're looking at the edges of the craft you have to ask yourself are you looking at just the force fields that are interacting with light that go away when the craft shuts down or are you looking at the actual physical metal ceramic parts of the craft see and are you looking at a craft that was designed to exceed the speed of light or are you looking at a craft that was just designed for a specialized general kind of purpose here on Earth because remember the the the scout craft that you see like the for the grays and the whites did not make the deep space crossing only the deep spacecraft make the deep space crossing what are the differences what's the main distinction the difference is the scout craft what we use RVs to get around yeah you see the deep spacecraft and I speak from direct observation they can all be individual like ships at sea or they can be general purpose like but one for example looks like well you see how this house is one that I personally saw was a little bit longer than this house a little bit wider than this house about half again as high as this house and it was all totally smooth all around you know in no protrusion or whatever it had the standard double hall and then it had another and the way this house has this room and then on the side it had another set of rooms so it had the double hall on the outside then it had a boundary area where you'd store stuff on both sides and then it had the living area where you had actual cabins the way you do on ships and then up at the front you had the cockpit and the control area up on the top and control lights up on top and then in the back you had the propulsion system and that was meant to put sand out to deep space and head out for stars 100 light years away okay I'm quite certain of that on the other hand see a saucer that you might have for your children to take out to the play area which I also saw it's not meant to go faster than light it's just meant to go like from um Bishop California to Roswell New Mexico in a half hour you know and it could do it in 10 minutes but it's just meant to have a couple of teenagers take charge put in three younger children say eight or 10 and go out and play and just go around places here on Earth so getting back to how you'd build when you build it if you build it for deep space when and and and one that's has like that where you have like a ball inside and then stuff outside like a cube or something you might ask is that really one craft or is it the center ball is the real craft and the outside is some something like a car pulling a trailer you know you see you have to first ask who are they and what did they mean to use that craft for you see because they because they don't just come here in a craft they build them while they're here now the Norwegians with 24 teeth can only repair their craft when they get here at least in 1965 one of the things they wanted to be able to do was to work with the American government and built craft here and that's see so whenever you see a craft you whether it's a deep spacecraft or a scout craft or whatever you have to ask what's it meant for if you really expect to do highspeed like 50 like well like the scout craft that the tall white had that were ellipsoidal one time I asked personally asked range for Harry if that craft could exceed the speed of light he was a very nice guy we were like brothers he was very adamant he said it could but nobody I'm going to use my words in their right mind would ever take it that fast once you got up to about 1% the speed of light you were covering distance so fast in his words that if anything went wrong your friends couldn't find you he and he didn't think it was made very well he wanted he pointed out that to repair it you had to sit down the craft down somewhere like in the desert and go outside and open it up to repair it but that the real deep spacecraft you could repair everything from the inside so the first thing that he thought that a deep spacecraft had to have was in addition to a double hull and fiber optic windings in between those two hulls to carry subatomic particles that would generate the force fields that you were working with that you had to have access from the inside of the craft to repair them you had to be careful they didn't overheat if they overheated you had to have the design had to apply you had to be able to repair that from the inside if you got in trouble you had to have emergency beacons that used the force fields that travel faster than light to send for help because the because those types of force fields that you're using in the design like you could see it in you could see it in the in the Tik Tok video if you're going to control radio uh infrared rays that are traveling at the speed of light you want a to use a force field that itself is traveling faster than the speed of light otherwise you can't catch them and control them the how does the how does you mention um that the engine or the propulsion is the only thing that the tall whites didn't kind of fully give the humans as far as the ability to sort of fly these UFOs uh direct observation so yeah so what do you think as far as how the how does how do these engines work how are the what's the power source and then obviously it's not chemical combustion so what's going on in the engine i'm quite certain that there's more subatomic particles more quirks than the six they know of there's at least two more sets but h how do you get how do you figure that out and when you So you have these like large hydrron colliders it's like super expensive to build cost billions of dollars when when you when you design when you sit down to design a craft there's five subatomic particles that are virtually always used cuz they're close to being stable and easy to work with and what you need is to have ceramic fiber you need your in your engine you have to produce those so you have you you don't have just one engine you have to have a way of producing all five of those and then what you have are ceramic fiber optic cables ceramic fiber optics are 49.6% aluminum 50.2% silicon dioxide that's the same as rocks and the remainder is the semiconductor germanmanium selenium and so on that you use to coat those fibers with to create fiber optics and then you wind those into coils and those are and whether you power up those coils or don't power up those coils that's how you control and propel your craft okay and those five and and how you design those five depends on what you want to do with your craft there's two more types of subatomic particles in that family that are more unstable and are only occasionally used but not for craft that you would ever have children or a family on cuz all of the extraterrestrials travel as families they would only be a you'd only find them on military craft and then there's two more and so far we've talked about a total of nine okay that are so unstable that you would never use them when you were designing your craft you'd only use them if you were designing a military weapon and when you say that number five right and the number seven that seems to ring a bell doesn't it because we're told that when Ike Eisenhower was president that there was a day that we're told publicly by ancient aliens and the US press and so on that there was a day at somewhere the British guys said it was at Edwards other people said it was Alamuardo but they say it was there was a day somewhere where he was taken where they took him out the day he was supposedly golfing at Palm Springs and went was taken to Edwards no cameras no press and uh sitting on the runway at Edwards were five spacecraft with extraterrestrial spyome and that he they were shown to Ike Eisenhower not one ex except for the guy whose name is Charlie looked at that and said that makes perfect sense that they would do five cuz what they were showing him was the general features of how their airplane how their spacecraft were designed and you'd say why five it's because they were showing that there were five different subatomic particles and that when they designed them they first said "I'm going to use this one for this purpose this one the second one for another purpose and so on." And so they were showing them that they had five different purposes for that in the design you see and okay but those who you know who who mean well think that they just arbitrarily showed five another one is the number three see the fiber optics coils melt suddenly at about somewhere between 1,800 and 2200 F not because they're made by aliens but because rocks melt between 1,800 and 2200° F and if they're 52 50.2% silicon dioxide and 49.6% aluminum that's what they are as rocks and if they melt as they and if the fiber optics melt as they did during the Roswell the two craft that crashed at Roswell as described in my book the valley of the grace what you'll see you would think would be melted rocks i know i know ufo people try to pretend that there was one saucer and it was going fast and it bounced and it hit the ground and melted the rocks and then bounced up and went on and my answer is if you haven't you know when was the last time you saw anything bounce against the rocks in a Nevada in a New Mexico desert i never have once they hit the rocks they break when the reason there were melted rocks there is because there were two saucers and the fiber optics were overheating and melting and when they melt they melt like melted glass or lava and they have a big chunk that looks like lava and a big chunk falls and then it hardens and hits the ground and looks like a melted rock so when you see those reports that the geologist came and his son said these are melted rocks and they left them behind then and they say we went out and picked up all the debris and we picked up this metal that resumes its shape i said those were cigarette wrapper those were gum wrappers that did that what you passed over was the stuff you care about okay we found a piece of metal uh about about a foot and a half to 2 ft wide and about about 2 or 3 ft long felt like you had nothing in your hands it wasn't any thicker than the foil out of a pack of cigarettes but the the thing about that got me is that you couldn't even bend it you couldn't bet it even with a sledgehammer would bounce off of it so i knew that i had never seen anything like that before and as of as of now i don't know what it was so you're saying Jesse Marcel that was just like the the sort of memory metal that was just the the kind of exhaust that could have come off from a kid's toy okay yeah because see what you have is what you after you've put in your melted after you've put in your coils then you have to protect them from the weather now when you protect them from the weather you're going to have to cover them with a thin metal sheet okay but you're not going to be able to support the metal sheet with an outside metal strap okay you're not going to be able to protect the metal sheet with an inside metal strap because you can't have turbulence in the force fields and you c and the metal is electromagnetic well screw it up without stray electromagnetism and so on and when you're designing it you're going to start from square one and then three times a day you're going to get up and say i don't want any turbulence in this force field i don't want these coils to overheat you're going to leave if you're a gray designer and you're designing a craft for gray children then you're going to ha as per the Roswell Museum you're going to have something that is missing from their display model on the underside you're going to have a little doorway that the operator of the craft can open anytime he wants and let molten fiber optics fall out okay because he's in desperate desperate mode to save his fiber optics they have overheated and then he can close the door and take off again and if he does he may not be able to use all of his coils so if he's by himself he's in deep trouble as in the craft over the sand plains of San Augustine in 1947 and he's by himself and he's got big trouble cuz but if he's got two craft beside him the fields from their craft and the fields from his craft will join together as i've personally seen range for Harry do with the high-speed horse formation to form a single larger craft when the fields are present and stabilize his craft and now the three together can fly off to someplace safe okay you need to use specific meta materials for these you know very intense uh kind of uh you know environments and uh uh you know a lot of electricity and yeah do you need to use specific materials for the craft before you can know about the materials you have to know about the subatomic particles because the ceramic fiber optics are supposed to contain the do what fiber optics do today what only they do it differently i i've personally seen the fiber optics when as i describe in my book when i was in the sixth the summer after my sixth between my fifth and sixth grade when Ray Palmer the editor I believe that was his name the editor of saucers magazine in a store in London Wisconsin and his childhood friend who ran the store came back from Roswell with a stretch about a yard long and it was it was woven it wasn't a thin strip of metal it was like they took nylon fibers but it wasn't nylon it was ceramic and wound it and then when you float shined the flashlight through it the light would bend without being absorbed now you but before you do it for the craft you first have to know about the particles because you have to know how to build the fiber optics before you can do anything else so Roswell you mentioned the Roswell Graze and you're talking about the Roswell craft the lore is that it made its way to right Patterson right airfield at the time and did you think you're saying it eventually made its way to Area 51 or to the Nevada Test Range i don't know where it made its way to but I don't care cuz I've seen the real one and I know what it looked like according to Jess where did you see it did you see it in Nevada in Nevada i've seen a m craft of that type many times on one as I describe in my book on the valleys of the grace on one cold and snowy night in the fall back in the 60s when I damn near died in the fog and the scout craft with the l young lady in it and some of her friends accompanied by the deep spacecraft and the teenage craft they had gone down to the bend in the road and she alone she was just learning to run the craft so they didn't let her take it up in the air and when I and before the fog moved in when I was walking down there I was on the side of a hill I was alone and she had brought the craft in on the paved on the gravel road she just had the control coils running and she had opened up the door on the side i was very reluctant to approach a craft because I knew from experience that they all have those surround feels surrounding them and then if you get too close it's like walking into the back of a jet engine when the gender engine is running you got to you got to you got to just stay and let them see you and let them come as close as they want or you get your ass burned so I wasn't but she had powered down the outer coils so from her point of view there was nothing keeping me from just walking the final distance and stepping up into the craft and saying hi and meeting her and the others who were on the craft i didn't realize at the time they that the teenager who was the backup pilot he was a young gray they looked just like someone from Mongolia but the other three she and the other three were actually humans they were young Chinese people that the grace had rescued not abducted but they they had been orphaned and the grace had refued and the whole point was that they were trying to return them to human society and but first you ought to find a human who everybody trusts including the children and the human has to be somebody who trusts them in return and the human they had figured that they had chosen had this last name Hall and a first name Charlie okay they're Charles right and you say "Well why didn't they tell me?" And they say "Well that's why we picked him cuz he'll figure it out if we just give him time right why tell him early and scare him?" Right you know that's why we picked him because he's perfect at convergent divergent reasoning and he'll figure it out and that's what they're doing waiting for me to come and what they had was the very same craft that of the three that crashed at Roswell what they had was the very same craft and in the back of that craft do you think we know how to fly these crafts now do you think humans know how to fly them i'll finish this sentence and I'll answer it in the back of that craft was a restroom in the back of all the cra all those people are extra or real physical biological entities they all have to eat they all have to breathe air drink water and they all have to periodically go to the restroom and therefore every craft in the back has a bathroom you see and therefore when you say like the crash at Kingman Mhm the lady that the young lady that survived that the sheriff there said that who after she came out and they were waiting for help to come what did she do his in his own words he said she went back in the craft and stayed in the back and one of the UFO people say it must be a shrine where she was praying and of course I think that's really laughable because having seen the craft there's no shrine back there what there is is a bathroom and if the craft and and there's also food storage and so if the craft has crashed and she's got to wait a while like every other biological entity they're going to fall back on the bathroom you see there's no reason to fall back on the control panels because the craft isn't running that's why they crashed see but the UFO people all have this thing well there was a time they said in all those craft there must be a shrine in the back you know where they go and pray and you say "No no no no i've seen the craft they're going that's a bathroom right?" And I have a whole class of stories in that vein and so when I say my advantage is that I've been there and seen that I say the wreckage that was sitting in the run in the in the hanger at Roswell that was recovered from Roswell when you say what was that like well that wreckage had the bathroom on the other side and so that meant for the part that blew in was blowing in on the food storage you see and so when you went in the wreckage of that I would guess that you'd find on the other side what remained of the restroom which might not be very much and when Okay but now an answer to what was your question that you wanted me i asked if humans you mentioned that these there were these Chinese occupants of the craft do you think that humans can fly these exotic you know ET crafts it's like everything else if they're trained okay it's like if if they have an opportunity to learn if they have a a trainer if they Yeah it's not something you can do naturally for the same reason that a Cessna a Cessna airplane is a they tell me is a pretty simple airplane to fly i've actually flown one as co-pilot for about 45 minutes but not by myself there was a trained pilot i was in the co-pilot seat and the trained pilot was in the pilot seat and it was a nice night and all I was doing was flying straight and level and saying I'm not moving anything okay if you call that fly in well does does the training involve a mind matter connection uh there are rumors that there are no control panels do you sort of psychically connect with the craft you don't do anything psychically everything is electronics the electronics either are adjusted to tell what you're thinking and therefore react because you're thinking or to not work at all it isn't the person that has to change their way of thinking m it's the person who's adjusting the electronics has to adjust it it's unique for each human so how many of these tall whites were out there with you if you had to guess or estimate um it varied with how many ships were in port see the the ba the deep spaceships were would arrive and would come and go on schedule the same way an airport is so they liked to come and go near the night of the full moon and on the night of the full moon the moon is the moon and the earth and the sun all form a line so behind the Earth in its orbit is a you see is a uniform gravitational field and it's going away from the incoming craft so if anything goes wrong they can back off and the earth won't run into them it'll go away this is much different than the Norwegians with 24 teeth who want to do it who want to come in on the front side of the earth because the Norwegians with 24 teeth with less technology must land at any price even if the earth runs into them so that but the grays and the but the tall whites the deep spacecraft of the tall whites want to come in on in the night of the full moon the grays who have a base on the moon come and go at any time they want the the tall whites the craft are come on schedule and they have different schedules some are making a two-month schedule the longest schedule I saw was craft that take five years and those craft with a fiveyear schedule I was told were coming directly from their home planet of course since the craft all the craft travel many times faster than the speed of light I'm not sure where their home planet was but if there was no cra if there were no craft in port then the number of tall whites at the base wasn't particularly large i'm not sure what the number was but it would be rare to see as many as a hundred out in the desert if there were no if there were no ships in deep spacecraft in port on the other hand the night that um Pamela was supposed to pass her test to head up a technology transfer a tallway technology transfer team by dressing up and disguising themselves as by dressing up and disguising herself as a human woman and the other the other 12 white by dressing up and disguising himself as a human man specifically named Charlie Hall and she would specifically pretend to be his wife so they could go into places like Liverour and pretend to be humans and talk to the the scientists i'm guessing Wait explain what you just said in a minute the the night she was going to Are you saying that you're a tall white no I'm not a tall white i was born in Brooklyn Wisconsin my parents all came from England well then but they they mimic you one of the tall whites disguised themselves as you and your wife and then showed up at Liverour Labs I'm guessing i'm guessing and how do you know well where did that come from i've never seen any classified documents i'm guessing only from my personal experience talking with the tall whites they've told you that they kind of used you for inspiration to infiltrate or not infiltrate maybe that's too aggressive a word but to enter American scientific programs i'm just totally guessing but the night she was show them how to uh not be afraid around humans and to act easily when in the presence of humans m that was his whole mo that he was supposed to be there so they cuz they were as terrified of of us as we might have been terrified by them and it was that was the what the program was so what on that night yeah on that night there were more tall white sculpt craft located up the valley and on the eastern side of Indian Springs Valley on what night the night that Pamela was supposed to pass her final exam the crowd that formed of tall whites and a few human generals and bigwigs on the eastern side of the valley there were more than I could count i stopped counting at fif at 35 but I guessed there were at least 70 there there were so many scout craft and tall whites that that whole side of the valley was white fluorescent light people scout it looked like a county fair over there and all they were going to do is watch her Pamela while the teacher and Pamela was they over where the ammunition bunker was at at 3 and 1/2 miles was to was to watch her the teacher and Pamela walk down the paved pathway or onelane road from the ammunition bunker on the east side down to about a halfway way where there was a ridge and then the teacher would wait there and then Pamela with all of her technology turned off okay on totally trusting to that I'm a nice guy to be around okay otherwise totally helpless against me if I'm not was supposed to continue walking down the down the um pathway until she got to the range boards and then while I was working while I was had released the balloon and I was tracking the balloon to just walk over to me um disguised as a human she didn't have to be disguised as a human lady wearing her natural suit totally turned off to just walk over to me the way you and I are and then while I was working walk around behind me and turn her back to me proving that she trusted me just like the scene from the man called horse where the where the guy have where the Indian chief does that to horse t turn around and talk to me with her back turned towards me totally turned off her everything and then walk around to the other with everybody watching and then walk around and say it's been so nice to meet you Charlie and then go on and then then she could leave then and her hus the guy pretending to be me as her husband would then have to do it next okay on that night on that night she failed the test on that night she panicked and got about well she didn't even get down to the quarter mile limit when she panicked and was afraid that I was a truly an ugly monster that she couldn't trust and ran off but there came a night when she had to do that and that's described in my book what do what do you think the tall whites want with humanity do you think they have goals for us or do you think they're just trying to engage in diplomatic relations well they came here in the middle of the last ice age because we for the same reason that we have a base on Guam the sun and the solar system exists in a the middle of a huge void in space the next closest star Alpha Centauri or Proxima Centauri is almost four light years away most stars or many stars have another star within two light weeks okay it's not all unusual for many stars to be not more than a lightyear apart for the sun if you're going to cross that big void in space as you're conducting interstellar commerce for your own good then it's nice to have a place in the middle because that void is therefore something like eight or 10 light years across or six or eight a big long light there it's nice to have a place in the middle where you can stop and get food and water go outside your spacecraft and repair it where you can stop and and rest and but also get minerals or other things that you might need so it's a pit stop it's a pit stop interesting and and of course the reason that there are many of their spacecraft doing that is because there's only is for the same reason that there are many Air Force planes that stop at Guam cuz location what do you make of if you're there it's a big help if you have some locals who grow some food for you they're plant eaters the toolites as the grays are and do the work of harvesting and hand you the food what do you make of rumors stories that Ike Eisenhower you know meeting possibly you know Palm Springs 1954 this this this treaty you know you say five five crafts showed up there's another story um called you know Halman Air Force Base uh where there's a landing and uh there's a possible interaction between you know some generals on the base and uh these these tall beings but they seem to actually have like almost feroic Egyptian uh headdress and uh this was this video I think was promised at one point to Rod Serling and Bob Emmanager who made UFOs past present and future and the video never came but uh I've spoken to you know some pretty interesting people in the UFO whistleblower world who uh do stand by that account that that that was like a real meeting do you do you think that that happened and was it was it tall was it a tall white that came out of the craft at Holman Air Force Base um I'll maintain my policy of never commenting on other people's stories and and the reason the reason is because uh my books are based totally on my own experience y and and it's not based on anything I've read or any they're not based on any any classified material i was never part of any project they're based on what when you say what was life for me and they're and what I'm trying to do in my books one of the major things I'm trying to do in my books is I'm trying to tell my grandkids how it was for me and I'm trying to point out to them that when you're personally dealing with the extraterrestrials you feel differently than when you're personally dealing with your guardian angels your guardian angels are like brothers who love you there's never any fear with the sensation that your guardian angels are there with you and they've because each of us I believe has two guardian angels at least who are always with us and have nothing else to do but keep track of each one of us and and and I get so frustrated when I see so many humans who mean well trying to confuse guardian angels and what God and love and the guardian angels are doing with what the biological entities who are extraterrestrials are doing and so I and that's what I'm trying to do in my book i'm not trying to I don't care what the government wants to classify that's fine with me if they want to classify the recipe for Hershey ch candy bars and say you can have one Charlie but don't tell anybody you know do you miss do you miss the tall whites do you feel an emotional affection towards them you said that you and Range for Harry were like brothers uh do you ever think hey maybe I could contact Range for Harry or go back and speak to him go back to the to the range to Nellis well uh if I let's say if I were out in the desert let's say out by Dale here in New Mexico which is one of the tall white playgrounds let's say if I ever were out there and and let's say I happened to see them if I were to just say "Well I just wanted to you know monkey around and see you or you know whatever." Well that they might say "Well now you've seen us and so go on about their business." See they're very goal oriented even though they like us and it's not that they're being rude it's because remember the teacher in 1965 who had been born when George Washington was born when she was playing with when she was over at range two that Sunday with her daughter who she called the butterfly and the little white girl that she wanted to be friends with her little with her daughter cuz she the little girls could be friends she was standing there on the side in a very n uh they were playing on the skip bomb area and the two the two boys were playing also she was standing a little ways away from him on the higher ground slightly higher ground she was very nostalgic remembering her childhood where she played on the same piece of ground with a little Native American girl who was equivalent to her age five years old at the time but her memories of that little Indian Native American girl that was her very best friend at the time in the time because they lived 10 times longer than we do in the time that passed while she went from see equivalently being say in the fourth grade to the seventh grade for us those are just a few years in that equivalent time the native the Native American little girl grew to adulthood got married had children went through her entire life cycle and died of old age just in the time the teacher had gone through the equivalent lifestyle of from the fourth grade to the seventh grade do you think they feel a fondness for humans like they do they do but on the other hand you from their point of view gee I'm 80 years old right now you know I'll be dead and what for them is the blink of an eye i know even if I live to be a hundred I'll you know it's just two more I only have two more years to live so from their point of view if I say were out there at my age they would you you they might they they might I mean they're friends but you have to remember that socializing and being friends for them with humans is a little bit like us being friends and socializing ing with say a a dog in its old age that we may not have seen for 5 or 10 years there's a guy at NASA who has a deep interest in uh these sorts of things experiencers uh his name is Timothy Taylor have you heard of him by any chance did you say Timothy Taylor he's a good friend of ours oh so you know you know Timothy Taylor mhm tim Taylor this is one of those characters where well if you know you know but if you don't there's probably a reason why the mood shifted here folks tim Taylor was a NASA engineer who became a biotech entrepreneur and according to Diana Pulka's book American Cosmic where he appeared under the pseudonym Tyler D has remained actively involved in launch operations for NASA up until today pulka paints Taylor as an enigmatic figure who led her and Stanford microbiologist Gary Nolan to a UFO crash site in New Mexico by many he's considered a gatekeeper well-connected with access to crash retrieval secrets as well as personally receiving what he termed downloads of information from other worldly sources he claimed these downloads were facilitated by protocols he engaged in protocols that allowed him to communicate with non-human intelligences in Pulka's book Taylor undergoes a profound conversion in the Vatican archives blending technology and the phenomenon in what became a personal revelation and then he decided to convert but also what happens is he changes his idea of what these things are that he's feeling he's getting signals from because we were studying saints who had these experiences and he was thinking that they're more in line with what they were you know experiencing and outside of her account super experimenter Chris Bledso's memoir openly names Taylor as a NASA insider who befriended him after his encounters sometimes Taylor would bring other scientists or officials to witness Bledso's experiences i myself was briefly in contact with Taylor and I'm not sure what to make of him and even though I was shocked that his name came up in this conversation I wasn't necessarily surprised the deeper cut on Tim Taylor is that he himself is some sort of time traveler part of a secret program adjusting timelines this doesn't come from me perhaps my favorite figure aerospace engineer and anti-gravity inventor Thomas Towns and Brown is connected with Tim Taylor this is where the story gets weird thomas Townsen Brown was obsessed with anti-gravity but gravity and time have a tight relationship in general relativity this is just standard physics so the subplot of his great biography by Paul Shatskin the man who mastered gravity is that Townsen Brown was obsessed with time travel he would talk about it constantly with his friends and family apparently Tim Taylor told Ryan Bledsoe Chris Bledso's son that he was part of a secret group in Nassau in the Bahamas that dealt with time travel i would dismiss this out of hand entirely but there are some even more interesting connections between Towns and Brown and Tim Taylor there's an Amazon review that Towns and Brown's daughter wrote on Tim Taylor's biography Launch Fever in that biography Tim Taylor talks about his time traveling back and forth to the Bahamas he spent a lot of time in Nassau towns and Brown also spent a ton of time in Nassau in fact his biographer Paul Shatskin even coined a term for a secret group that used to meet there it was called the Nassau Group and it included the elite of the elite industrialists like Eldridge Reeves Johnson and even the inspiration for James Bond and Church Hill super spy William Stevenson who helped form the CIA so maybe Tim and Townsen are part of a secret time travel group who knows but it is interesting that Taylor seems to consistently pop up around very important experiencers in the United States now back to our conversation how did you guys originally meet Tim Taylor he's sort of this uh very interesting figure you know works with NASA and he's very interested in He came here because he found out about Charles and that was when his daughter the one who had the the baby was like what was she maybe in fifth grade when they came the first time yeah we Why do you think he was he became interested in your story my wife can answer all the questions be because he he realized as far as he was concerned that Charles was the the real article was legitimate and as I say it's really concerned me because I've tried to email other people because he he brought other people to meet us and visit with us they they one of the guys cooked right here in my kitchen and so I tried to contact those people because I had in uh emails for them and I never got a response about what happened to him who who did he bring um let me see king David King wasn't that his name and doc what was the what was the doctor that was um I I think I still have the emails but he brought lots of people here and oh brought them to Las Vegas kit Green dr kit Green maybe no we were at Green's house I believe and he flew He flew us to Yeah atlanta and uh had us meet the Oh what was their last name now i can't remember i know who you mean honey but I don't remember the last we met all his friends they had a whole house full of people and entertained us interesting what What did you get the sense that did they just want to learn or did they What do you They were just big fans but because he introduced uh them to us what did you get this sense of like his job at NASA do you do you know what he does he said that he uh was no longer involved that he went into business but for himself and he would Oh that's the interesting story he'd been all over to the various Air Force bases etc but he'd never been to Creech before and so when he came back from Creech the first time he said he thought that Charles underplayed the strangeness that was going on there he said they were there for a ribbon cutting ceremony and uh he was standing right next to a friend of his oh there were no lower ranking people just all officers and he said to the guy "Um do you mind if I just drive up the road you know a mile or two i won't get out of the car." And the guy said "Oh that would be a very bad idea." And then just that quickly he said "I'm so glad you could make it for this." You know like I didn't say what I just said and uh yeah so he he was really even more um impressed with uh Charles uh account after he finally got the chance to visit Creech for the first time did he ever say where his interest in ETs came from i don't remember that he said that no there were many things we never talked about his work or things of that nature and and um we also never talked about projects that he was associated with or anything like that did he ever ask you about your hall photon theory um yeah I'm sure we talked about it he was interested actually in buying a house and moving out here he he seems to pop in when when um experiencers have anomalous experiences with we never had any trouble getting in touch with him and as I say we the last contact we had was just when he said you know he was looking forward to being a grandfather mhm and that was it he just disappeared we never heard from him since i've heard that from numerous people he did that i mean I had I had very intermittent correspondence with him but he dropped off on me close to Chris Bled so a bunch of other people so it's just that ours went on for so many years you said 15 years I think so yeah wow wow it's so strange that he would just not contact you after 15 years though yeah i I mean we we shared a lot of really personal things and you know of course he converted converted to Catholicism yeah recently in what in 201 like 15 16ish something like that during his trip to the Vatican yeah and he'd been he'd been to Rome several times after that so yeah do you think when he went to the Vatican archives he experienced anything around the ET topic any confirmation of of of that i have no idea but when Charles and I went to Rome if for the first time in uh 200 what was that five six something around there um I took the first three books as a presentation for Pope Benedict and uh a couple you know like two months later when we were home we actually got a thank you note from Pope Benedict really my god yeah that's amazing i We put uh I think we xeroxed it and put it in the in book four maybe wow could we see that i'd love to see his banking note that'd be amazing oh it's in book four okay that's awesome do you believe that Timothy Taylor has ever met an extraterrestrial he certainly didn't say anything about meeting has he shared any personal sightings that he's ever had no but maybe the fact that he disappeared maybe maybe he went off with them somewhere i don't know one night I was out in range three and a group of new arrivals it was after the full moon a week or so and as usual a group of the guards the the permanent the permanently assigned tall white guards at the base at the base at the base up at the north end of Indian Springs Valley brought down a they were using the the tourist model Scoutcraft which had seating for like two dozen and they brought it down brought them down to the to the range tree area so they could see me the first human that any of those tollways had ever seen and while I was there they they came in too close i expect them being new people to stop at least to the quarter mile which was more common but they kept coming in because they were assured that I was a nice guy until they were as close as you guys are well this was new the guard was in position the this was when I was still new and still not completely at ease being around them and since the new people are armed too that meant that you know I was somewhat intimidated and what there was an older lady or a middle-aged lady and and I was at my theatre stand i was tracking a balloon and and so I I said "Well so I just turned to him and I said looked at him and I just said I'm feeling a little scared and you know so I'm just going to put my stuff here and I'm going to go into base and you guys can stay and look around and do whatever you want and have fun." And then I backed away and I went walking not running in Key Point walking to my truck that was parked some distance away on the other side of my the generator shack and as I was walking this middle-aged lady said to the guard she was kind of surprised she said "We didn't do anything wrong did we i mean you know we didn't." And and the you know what's he like and the guard proceeded to tell the tr the group what they thought of I was like the guard said and I quote "Well he seems to talk more than most humans and he seems to eat a lot more than most humans and us but you know you don't worry if you and he scares a lot more easily than most humans." But see he's different he just goes in and talks and eats and then he comes right back out the others once we fried them would never come back and might not eat again for a couple of days and they were all laughing so just wait here he'll be back out after lunch just give him time to eat and talk to some of the other guys he'll be right back wow yeah that's what they thought of me that encapsulates how I wasn't braver than the other guys i scared easier but just let me eat and talk for a while i'll get over it well that encapsulates I think you and how special you are because it it shows in the um documentary that Emil made as well where like initially you are scared and you don't know what to do and I think most people would have a reflexive allergic reaction and kind of run away and your reaction is just to kind of I know 41 men that would agree with you if if the not all of them are still alive right oh interesting so for 41 men who were had nervous breakdowns were sent out before me and came back came back compromised of compromised meaning mentally unstable some of them but some of them just wouldn't go out there again just well the one the guy before me had deserted but the one I remember the one I always felt sorry it's the one I described in my book he was the one that was out at range four one night and when they first sent him out there and the tall whites came in the and I'll use my words not his the tall whites came in the high-speed horse formation and they came from the northwest mountains that when you're in Indian Springs of mount to the north and northwest they came down and they were coming across the dry lake bed at range four and they were very close to where and he was he was at the weather station range for and he couldn't believe they were real cuz they were floating and when he so he went out there and surprised them and he got too close to them cuz they still had their suits powered up and they were still in the tall white for in the high in the floating in the uh high-speed horse formation and he got too close to them and the suits which put out radioactive particles and you could see them and they see when they were turned up high enough they would sparkle you could see the alpha particles and the beta particles and coming out and the other particles you could actually see the decay chains coming off the suits and the suit and his shoulder almost touched one of the shoes and I saw his x-rays and pictures wow at the when I was at the Nellis Space Hospital wow and and it in the it the doctor himself said it it looked like the wounds from the hero victims of the Hiroshima blast and it looked like his whole show the meat the fell everything had been cooked off wow okay yeah had had been cooked off had you know the bone was exploded and he just barely made it back to base alive did you ever did you ever experience any radiation damage due to your interactions with them or No not that I'm aware of and part of the reason was because of part of the reason was because you could see the the fluorescent if they had their suits turned up high enough you could see the radioactive decay particles and of course I recognized them immediately as radioactive decay particles cuz in those days in the early 19 that was in 1965 well see in the early 1950s you could still get radium paint and put it on your watch or your toys and if you had a magnifying glass and you went into a very dark room and waited like 45 or 50 minutes for your eyes to perfectly adjust to the darkness and used a radiation a magnifying glass you could actually see the subatomic particles come off the radium paint the alpha particles of beta particles of gamma rays and see so when I saw those coming off their the suits of the tall whites out in the desert I knew perfectly well what they were i was surprised by how big the part the tracks were and how far they carried when it came off from radium paint the tracks would be coming off just a short distance like that when you saw them out in the desert they would be coming off distances like like that there so those suits had a tremendous power charles this has been an absolute honor i appreciate your time man mhm
